THE PRESIDENT ACCEPTS BEST CONGRESS WILL AGREE TO GIVE

Prefers Continental Army System, as Advocated by Experts of War Department, but Can't Get It.

STATE MILITIA LOBBY GAINS ITS DEMANDS

Preparedness Bill for Bigger Army to Be Along Lines Devised by Officers of the National Guard.

Today's conference was described as a friendly exchange of views. The only difference of opinion was on the question of the continental army proposed by Secretary Garrison as a substitute for the national guard in the first line of defense.

Mr. Wilson stated his own preference for the continental plan. He made no effort, however, the White House visitors said later, to sway them in their opinions beyond stating his own.

Why Big Force Is Wanted. The president is understood to have outlined the underlying military reasons on which war department officials have based their request for a force of 400,000 men in addition to the regulars, always under complete federal control.

May Be Needed Outside U. S. While the president's presentation of the situation to his visitors was not disclosed, it is known that war department officials have in view the possibility that American troops might be needed in some southern country to aid in repelling an invader.

Plan for Militia. Both democratic and republican members of the military committee take the position that the continentals would not in any case be available for immediate use outside the country under the training it would be possible to give them in peacetime.

The committee will conclude its hearings tomorrow morning and begin at once drafting its proposal to federalize the militia to a large extent and also to grant the regular army increased training before they could take the field.

THE WEATHER

WEATHER FORECAST. Denver, Colo., Feb. 10.—New Mexico: Friday and Saturday generally fair; not much change in temperature.

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT. For twenty-four hours, ending at 6 p. m. yesterday: Maximum temperature, 72 degrees; minimum, 35 degrees; range, 37 degrees; temperature at 6 p. m., 52 degrees; south wind, clear.

CITY BANK CLEARINGS. Yesterday $72,666.57.

Within a few weeks the civilian advisory board of the navy will be told to what extent the navy can make and how much of it, if the nation should have a sudden call to arms.

Admiral Blue Continues. Before the house naval committee, Rear Admiral Blue, chief of the navigation bureau of the navy, and Captain Bassett, head of the naval militia division, unfolded departmental plans for building up and maintaining an adequate reserve force for the navy which will include members of the merchant marine, officers and men, in its personnel under an elaborate scheme that has been devised.

An untold bill dealing with the whole subject will be worked out by the committee later.

As a direct step toward preparedness, Captain Bassett disclosed that the department is arranging for the first mobilization of the present naval reserve that has ever been attempted. More than half of the present force of 8,000 men will be given two weeks of active service at the fleet next summer.

Preparedness also found its way into the deliberations of the chamber of commerce today from its own committee. The national defense committee submitted its report recommending universal military training, establishment of the American navy as second in the world, and creation of a national defense council to aid industrial mobilization.

TARIFF BOARD AGAIN URGED UPON COUNTRY BY PRESIDENT

Speaking to Chamber of Commerce of United States, Chief Executive Makes Plea for Ship Purchase Bill.

PREPAREDNESS ALSO FEATURE OF ADDRESS

Business Men Cheer Wilson as Policies of Government Are Outlined at Closing Session of Meeting.

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Wilson told the Chamber of Commerce of the United States tonight that America needed a real scientific tariff board and he thought it was going to get it; that it needed a real merchant marine and that it was absolutely necessary some beginning should be made at once to get that, too, and that had it not been for the effectiveness of the federal reserve law, as a business preparedness measure, there was no telling what commercial disaster and ruin would have befallen the United States with the present war of the prospect for keeping the country at peace he said that while no immediate international crisis faced the nation, "we are merely holding our breath at arm's length."

Not Afraid of History's Verdict. "I am not afraid," he said, "of the slow verdict of history with regard to the neutrality of the United States, and I believe we are justified in exercising every degree of patience in making clear what our position is and what our policy is."

Warning to Americans. In view of this situation, American citizens, it is stated, by high authority, now may be warned that they will take positive steps toward merchant ships at their own risk, and be entitled to no more protection from the United States than they can expect on a belligerent warship.

German Position Stated. "The German and Austrian governments will instruct the commanders of their war vessels that from the end of this month they are to regard armed merchant ships of the enemy as auxiliary cruisers. Notice to this effect will be sent to all neutral governments. Please so inform Mr. Lansing immediately."

Rights of Submariners. This memorandum declared it was desirable that merchant ships should be unarmed, and contained an implicit warning to the United States government that it was necessary to take steps to maintain the peace and prosperity of the country these comrades fought to preserve.

Speaks to G. A. R. Men. In his address the president touched upon national preparedness and declared no one could predict the outcome of the European war. He spoke of how the nations of Europe have "pooled their blood" for a cause as one of the patriotic aspects of the struggle.

AUSTRO-GERMANS TO SINK ARMED ENEMY MERCHANT SHIPS WARNED

Position of Berlin and Vienna Formally Stated to Secretary Lansing by Diplomatic Representatives.

IN HARMONY WITH WASHINGTON VIEWS

Americans, Who Travel on Allies' Vessels Carrying Guns, Will Do So at Their Own Risk Hereafter, Is Belief.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Germany and Austria have formally notified the United States that beginning March 1, commanders of their submarines will consider armed merchant ships of the enemy allies to be warships and will treat them accordingly.

High officials of the state department seemed disposed to consider the declaration of Germany and Austria to regard merchantmen as war vessels ever since Italian armed ships began arriving at New York. There were indications that the Austro-Hungarian embassy had received notice of what has now followed.

Warning to Americans. In view of this situation, American citizens, it is stated, by high authority, now may be warned that they will take positive steps toward merchant ships at their own risk, and be entitled to no more protection from the United States than they can expect on a belligerent warship.

man and Austrian governments would force the hands of their enemies.

The view of the departments seemed to be that an enemy submarine regardless of whether it was armed or not, shipmasters would prefer to take their chances on saving their vessels by fighting if they were unable to escape capture by flight.

Confronted by the virtual threat of the United States to classify armed merchant ships as war vessels, and there are not so many in every-where waters more than once in every six months, or to remain more than twenty-four hours it was said at one of the embassies here that if the United States, in the face of the desperate need of ships to carry its products abroad, could afford to exclude from its waters allied merchantmen, the governments owning them could afford to send in only enough un-armed ships to take out goods con-signed to themselves. There seemed reason to believe that the view reflected in the embassy fairly reflected at this time the position of other allied governments.

Would Boycott U. S. Ports. It was said at the embassy that such action virtually would amount to a boycott of American ports. It was also contended that such a course would be far-reaching and disturbing to American trade in general. It was suggested that the United States should not allow allied merchantmen to be met outside the three mile limit by warships and conveyed to their destination, or that the ships themselves might be armed at sea.

In connection with the American memorandum, based upon the understanding that only submarines of the central powers were at sea, a high official was asked whether the reported presence in the Atlantic of the Moore or Panga, captor of the Appian, altered the viewpoint of this government. He replied that it was doubtful that the presence of an oiler would make much difference. It was admitted, however, that should more German raiders make their appearance consideration might be given to changed conditions.

Notice Was Expected. State department officials have been expecting notification of the intentions of Germany and Austria to regard merchantmen as war vessels ever since Italian armed ships began arriving at New York. There were indications that the Austro-Hungarian embassy had received notice of what has now followed.

GARRISON RESIGNS FROM WAR DEPARTMENT OWING TO DIFFERENCES WITH THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS SECRETARY'S INSISTENCE UPON CONTINENTAL SYSTEM MEETS WITH GENERAL OPPOSITION

Republican and Democratic Representatives Are United in Favor of National Guard as First Line of Defense; Wilson Yields, Agreeing to Accept What Can Be Had Rather Than Nothing, but High-tempered Cabinet Officer Quits Rather Than Be Party to Compromise Which He Regards as Fraught With Great Danger to Future of Nation; Charges Representatives Are Guided by Political Interests in Securing Appropriations, for Militia, to Be Spected in Their Respective Districts; Objects to Philippine Measure Now Pending; Assistant Also Resigns.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Washington, Feb. 10.—Secretary Lindley M. Garrison resigned today because President Wilson would not "irrevocably" support the continental army plan and because he opposed the administration's program of setting a definite line for Philippine independence. President Wilson accepted the resignation and did not select a successor. The president himself probably will take personal charge of the administration's national defense plans in congress.

Assistant Secretary Brockbridge also resigned as a mark of loyalty to his chief, whose views he shared. The president accepted his resignation. Both take effect immediately. Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, automatically became secretary of war ad interim.

What Garrison Feared. It is known that one of Secretary Garrison's principal reasons for his conviction that only a federal continental army, instead of a reorganized national guard, could be the main military dependence of the nation was his belief that some day the United States may be called upon to defend the Monroe doctrine and that event he foresaw the national guard might not be available for use outside of the United States before a declaration of war.

Upon the contention on the one hand that the continental army, and on the other that the national guard might not be available for use outside of the United States before a declaration of war.

Garrison Takes No Leave. Mr. Garrison's resignation was a complete surprise to officials Washington generally. He made no personal explanation. Several hours before the official announcement, he had boarded a train with his wife for New York and word had been passed at the war department that he had gone for an indefinite stay.

Mr. Garrison declared further that he had the power of dealing with a subject concerning which "the rest of the house has no knowledge and about which it has never concerned itself, and suggested that Mr. Hay's proposal of settling this matter by voting money to the members of the state troops appeared to be "direct personal political interest of the members."

More Matter of Politics. 6 INDICTMENTS IN GRAND JURY'S FINAL REPORT

German Consul General at San Francisco and Others Charged With Conspiracy to Send Expedition Into Canada.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—A total of six indictments were returned here today in the alleged German bomb and shipping plot cases. Franz Bopp, German consul general, Baron E. H. von Schack, vice consul, Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken and thirty other individuals and firms were named.

Mr. Bopp, Baron von Schack and Baron von Brincken were indicted on a general charge of conspiring to set on foot, provide and maintain a military expedition against Canada from within the borders of the United States. Associated with them in the indictments are Charles C. Crowley, a detective employed by the consuls, Mrs. Margaret W. Cornell, Crowley's agent, and Johannes Heinrich von Koerber, an alleged German agent reported held in a Canadian prison.

Louis J. Smith, a witness for the government, was indicted as acting with the alleged conspirators in their plans.

Other indictments, against all the above except Smith, were voted by the grand jury charging a conspiracy to interfere with and destroy commerce under the Sherman anti-trust act. These indictments, it was reported, were made because the clerical force had been unable to transcribe them. They probably will be presented Monday.

Twenty-six other individuals and firms were indicted in the alleged plot, charging conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States in various ways by furnishing supplies to German warships, making San Francisco a base for such alleged acts and acknowledging false manifests.

NAVAJO INDIANS ARE IN THREATENING MOOD

Flagstaff, Ariz., Feb. 10.—Navajo Indians were dancing their war dance last Monday and threatening to attack white settlers in northwestern Arizona, in retaliation for the slaying of one of their number recently by policemen, according to Frank McNeill and S. C. Jones, cowboys, who have arrived here from Utah. Up to that time, however, the Indians had committed no act of violence.

Chief Dodge, a Navajo Indian, well known as an interpreter, has refused to accompany Thomas Flynn, United States district attorney, to Tulsa to aid in conducting a police parley, according to information received here from Fort Defiance, Ariz.

Frank A. Thacker, superintendent of the Navajo reservation, and United States Marshal Joe Dillon left here yesterday for Tulsa.

MUNICIPAL FISHING HOLE DALLAS' HOPE

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 10.—A municipal fishing hole is the object of a movement launched here today by angling enthusiasts and organizations who are circulating petitions asking for the passage of an ordinance for the lower west side of Pendleton, Ore., where fishermen are barred now, which would be thrown open with certain restrictions, to anglers.

WILLAMETTE RIVER RISING RAPIDLY

Portland, Ore., Feb. 10.—Rising at a rate of one and one-half inches per hour, the Willamette river at Portland passed today a stage of 18.5 feet above low water mark, the record for seven years. Docks and warehouses were flooded, but little damage was done as their contents had been removed.

If the river continues to rise at its present rate it will reach a stage of thirty feet tomorrow. The district weather forecast, however, predicts that the river will subside to a stage of 14 feet by tomorrow and remain nearly stationary Saturday.

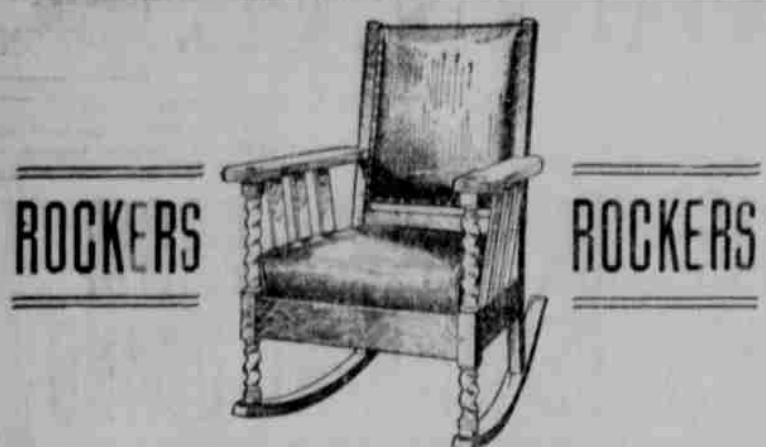

The Snake and upper Columbia rivers and may prove a factor in keeping the Willamette at a high stage.

PHILIPPINE BILL

Mr. Garrison characterized the Clark amendment to the Philippine bill providing conditionally for the independence of the islands with the following amendment: "The independence of the islands shall be contingent upon the payment of the national debt of the Philippines."

The president replied that it was his judgment that the Clark amendment was unwise at this time.

Mr. Garrison declared further that he had the power of dealing with a subject concerning which "the rest of the house has no knowledge and about which it has never concerned itself, and suggested that Mr. Hay's proposal of settling this matter by voting money to the members of the state troops appeared to be "direct personal political interest of the members."

for him to say to a committee of congress that it would have to take his plan or none. He declared that he did not believe members of the house dealing with military affairs ignorant of the military necessities of the nation, but had found them well informed. He said he would welcome a frank interchange of views, but added "no one will expect me to acquiesce in any proposal that I regard as inadequate or illusory."

Should a bill be presented to him which he could not accept as accomplishing the essential thing sought, he said, it would be his duty to veto it and go to the country on its merits.

The views of the president and Mr. Garrison were reviewed in other letters, which culminated in the offering and acceptance of the secretary's resignation.

Resignation a Surprise.
The resignation came as a distinct surprise not only to Washington generally, but to members of the cabinet. One cabinet officer said tonight that while he knew there was a difference of opinion between the president and Mr. Garrison over handling the armistice plan, he had not the slightest suspicion that an actual break was impending.

Although Mr. Garrison first suggested that he leave the cabinet last month, Mr. Wilson did not formally accept his resignation until late this afternoon, when informed that Mr. Garrison had left for New York and that rumors of his resignation were current, the president then dictated the letter of acceptance and dispatched it immediately.

It was not until 8 o'clock tonight that formal announcement of the resignation and Brockbridge's resignation was made at the White House.

Secret in General.
Expressions of regret over the turn of affairs were general in administration circles. The president thinks highly of Mr. Garrison's abilities and his name was seriously considered when the appointment of a successor to the cabinet post was under consideration.

Mr. Garrison has been the warm friend of most of the other cabinet members although he and former Secretary Bryan differed radically on many subjects.

Garrison refused absolutely to discuss his resignation as secretary of war, upon his arrival here from Washington at 3 o'clock tonight. He declared all information regarding his resignation must come from Washington.

Asked if he had comment to make on the retirement of his assistant, Brockbridge, Mr. Garrison replied: "Mr. Brockbridge will have to speak for himself. I have troubles enough of my own."

The retiring cabinet officer, who was accompanied by his wife, declined to tell where he was going or how long he was going to stay.

SAY PINDELL IS SLATED FOR GARRISON'S PLACE

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 10.—According to information received here tonight, Henry M. Pindell, publisher of the Peoria Journal, is slated to succeed Lindley M. Garrison as secretary of war.

Mr. Pindell when asked about the reported appointment tonight, said he had nothing to say. Mr. Pindell will depart for Washington on Saturday.

MORE MEN SENT TO HUNT VILLA; TRAIN GUARDED

Horrible Outrages Perpetrated Upon Settlers by Bandits; General Jacinto Hernandez Rescues Captive Women.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 10.—General Louis Herrera, jefe de armas of Chihuahua City, tonight ordered troops commanded by General Cisneros located along the Mexican Northwest railway between Chihuahua City and Mianca, to advance northward and form a junction with troops sent from Madera to co-operate in the pursuit of General Francisco Villa and his band.

Reports from western Chihuahua today located Villa between Las Cruces and Santa Ana, west of the Santa Clara ranch district, and some of his band had burned ranches at San Juan in the Maderera ranch district.

Train Heavily Guarded.
Although every station on the Mexican Central railway from Juarez to Chihuahua City is strongly garrisoned, a passenger train was preceded today for the capital was preceded by a military train carrying machine guns and one hundred soldiers. The rear of the passenger train was guarded by fifty soldiers and a machine gun, and following the passenger train was a military train carrying four hundred cavalrymen and horses.

General Garcia ordered the three trains to travel within sight of each other and to lay over at Mochitlan during the night.

Americans Are Armed.
Three Americans on the train were permitted to carry rifles and ammunition.

Mail delivery from Chihuahua City today brought a revolting tale of outrages practiced on the families of Mexican ranchers in the San Juan Eredia district on the Parral and the Guadalupe railway, and stated that Mexicans of the Magisterial mining camp district were hiding in the mountains and mine shafts. It was said General Jacinto Hernandez, with only twenty men, civilians and soldiers, attacked 300 bandits and liberated the captive women of these families.

Age of German Boat.
Previous to the attack on San Juan Eredia, it was reported Doctor Adam Maurier, an aged German, had been hung by the thorns and beaten by the bandits which visited ranch at Puebla de la Cruz. All the ranches in the vicinity. It was reported, had petitioned for arms to protect themselves against bandits.

Because of the prevalence of smallpox in Juarez, notices were posted on the American side of the international bridge today that every one coming from the Mexican town must be vaccinated or present a medical certificate unless recently inoculated.

TWO POSSES SEARCH FOR RAILROAD BANDIT
Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 10.—Two posses engaged in search for the lone bandit who last night held up and robbed thirty passengers in a sleeping car on an eastbound Union Pacific train No. 18, between Rock Springs and Green River, Wyo., and escaped, early tonight had secured a reward of one thousand dollars for his capture had been offered by the Union Pacific railroad company.

A posse of deputy sheriffs under Sheriff Matt McCort, of Green River, took up the pursuit soon after the news of the robbery reached that place. Later a company of special railroad agents sent from here, began a search. About seventy dollars and a watch constituted the booty secured by the bandit, according to railroad officials. The robber is supposed to have boarded the train at Green River and after ordering the passengers to deposit money and valuables in a box which he forced a brakeman to carry through the car, seized the loot and escaped from the train when word of the robbery spread to the other cars.

MRS. MEYER NOT PLEASED WITH HER SON'S WIFE

Neighbors Tell of Quarrels and Implied Threats Against Daughter-in-law Who Was Found Murdered.

Neighbors told of quarrels and implied threats against the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Ida Meyer, who was found murdered in the bathtub of her home at 1514 E. 2nd St., New York, Feb. 10.—Testimony that Mrs. Ida Meyer had expressed the opinion that Ethel Meyer would die and frequently complained of her daughter-in-law, was given today at the trial of Mrs. Meyer on a charge of complicity in the murder of her daughter-in-law last July 25.

Mrs. Charles Wislizenus, a neighbor, testified she heard Mrs. Ida Meyer or tell her daughter, Wilma Meyer, over the telephone a few weeks before the shooting, "Ethel is lying upstairs on the bed like a sick cow. I wish she would die."

Implied Threat Made.
A telephone operator, Martha Packard, testified she had talked with Mrs. Ida Meyer in June about Ethel Meyer and that the mother-in-law had remarked: "I am very much disappointed in Ethel. Since she and Fred Meyer married they are always going out together and leaving me alone. But there will be a change soon, and I don't care how soon it comes."

Fred Eichner, a neighbor of the Meyers who was working for Fred Meyer on Feb. 15, testified to having heard a quarrel between Mrs. Ida Meyer and her aged mother, Mrs. Georgeheart Storck. Mrs. Storck, he testified, was upbraiding Mrs. Meyer for her treatment of Ethel Meyer. He said he heard Mrs. Ida Meyer say: "This is my home, Fred and Ethel will have to get out."

Dressed Up Too Much.
Mrs. Meyer criticized Ethel for dressing up and entertaining so much and leaving her to do the work," testified Mrs. Tina Lantz, another neighbor.

Albert Kneiper, who was the first person called to the Meyer home after the shooting, said when he entered the room where Ethel Meyer lay dying, he saw a revolver lying on the dresser. He saw no revolver beside the body. The day after the funeral of the slain wife, according to Kneiper, Fred Meyer came to him and said: "Don't say anything about seeing the revolver. N. H. Meyer, another neighbor, corroborated this testimony."

John Neindorf testified to seeing Fred Meyer with a revolver a few days before the tragedy at the Meyer home and John Lenz, who was at the Meyer home August 1, testified he saw Mrs. Ida Meyer pick up some object near the barn and throw it away. He did not investigate to learn what it was, he said.

BREAK IN LEVEE LIKELY TO SAVE ARKANSAS CITY

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 10.—A new break today in the Arkansas river levee south of Yuccapin, in Desha county, relieved the situation at Arkansas City, where a desperate fight is being waged to hold the Mississippi river in levee.

While the great volume of water pouring through the new break will check the receding of the flood which has inundated Arkansas City, this is welcomed, as it is believed that the additional water will exert a pressure against the rear of the Mississippi levee and offset the terrific force of the flood on the other side of the embankment.

A detail of state militia from Dermott with a large supply of tents from the Little Rock arsenal, arrived at Lake Village today to render any assistance possible.

At the flooded city of Clarendon, the White River continues to fall slowly.

CATHOLIC BANQUETERS MADE ILL BY SOUP

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Two hundred of a distinguished list of four hundred banqueters who attended a dinner given tonight to Chicago's new Catholic archbishop, the Rev. George William Mundelein, were taken ill of ptomaine poisoning after the soup course.

The archbishop did not partake of the soup nor did Governor Dunas, who was among those present, and both escaped.

"You will note that the church and state are safe," remarked the archbishop, looking at the governor, when it was possible to resume the meal.

ADMINISTRATION SHIP PURCHASE BILL IN DANGER

Effort Is Being Made to Sidetrack Government Ownership With Subsidy for Private Lines.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Whether the administration ship purchase bill shall stand as drawn, or have written into it a subsidy clause and a time limit on government operation of merchantmen, is the big issue of the measure which was put up to the merchant marine committee of the house today at the opening hearing on the proposed legislation.

Representing opposite views were Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, who endorsed the measure as introduced, and W. H. Douglas, chairman of the merchant marine committee, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who insisted that the country wanted private lines substituted rather than government-owned ships.

Secretary Redfield told the committee the demand for an American merchant marine never had been so great as now. He urged especially that the bill should be enacted into law speedily so that contracts for ships to be built with the proposed appropriation might be let as quickly as possible.

Mr. Douglas declared there was a deep-rooted feeling against the government entering the shipping business but that a subsidy and convention plan would have the hearty co-operation of shippers.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the food waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative" and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

AMERICANS MUST INVEST HEAVILY AFTER THE WAR

Noted International Banker Tells of Problems That Will Face Financier When Hostilities Come to End.

(Associated Press Correspondence) Rome, Jan. 29.—While Europe will have to pay tribute to the United States as the center of the world's wealth after the war, the United States also will be compelled to make large investments in Europe, according to George B. Page, the banker and financier.

Mr. Page, who has been established in Italy for the past quarter of a century, although a Virginian born, and who has perhaps been longer in touch with European business than any other American, during an interview with the Associated Press correspondent on the present and future relations of the United States with Europe, and particularly with Italy, said: "The whole world now considering tariff problems, the Europeans get money to pay interest on their war loans, and the United States to shut out products of foreign industry that it expects will come into sharp competition with its own manufacturers so soon as the war is over.

"I think it will be a mistake on both sides of the water to raise tariffs indiscriminately. The situation is coming to this: The United States is prospering as the only big nation not at war. She is piling up gold and credits against Europe, her customer. As a result she will have too much money soon, so much she won't know what to do with it. On the other hand Europe's energies and money are going into the war. When she gets out of the war, which I believe will be within a year, energies will have to be turned back into business.

Does Not Expect Disaster. "I do not look for any wholesale commercial disaster in Europe, such as the south had after the civil war. I do not look for even a devastated country like Belgium to be permanently ruined. It is an industrial country and its losses will be made up within a remarkably brief period. If Belgium has not been ruined, if you cannot destroy a nation, then it is able to argue that Germany can be destroyed. She, too, will be on her feet sooner than many are willing to admit.

Now, given these two conditions, too much money in the United States and plenty of energy but less money in Europe, there is but one logical conclusion: The United States must send her money, and products representing money, over here to get rid of it, to make it earn something.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish. A harmless, yet very effective, treatment is here given for the quick removal of hairy growths. Mix enough powdered talc and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply paste and after 2 or 3 minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. One application usually is sufficient, but to be certain of results buy the talc in an original package.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN. Pimples are impurities seeking an outlet through skin pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores, the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clean the skin of these eruptions is a water authority, and to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear, cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Summary of War News of Yesterday

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Germany and Austria-Hungary propose to treat as warships after February 29, as armed merchantmen of countries at war with the Teutonic alliance. Berlin already has issued a memorandum to the neutral governments to this effect and Austria-Hungary will immediately do likewise.

Premier Skoufopoulos, of Greece, has informed the Greek parliament that his policy is to avoid trouble for Greece from the approval of a majority of the people and that it would be continued notwithstanding pressures. He added that the forces of the government would be kept intact and used exclusively in the interest of the country.

tariff walls, they won't be able to do business together. It would be the case of a man biting off his nose to spite his face. Italy, for instance, now welcomes and will continue to welcome goods from the United States. Capital from the United States would find good electrical machinery, her agricultural machinery, her utensils for starting factories going. Should the United States put up a tariff wall, Italy will do the same and shut out these products. It suits both parties losers.

"I know there is an immense field in Italy for the United States. Italy has long been neglected and mismanaged, both as to her business and as to her people. Her business men are as honest and reliable as you may find in any well organized country. A failure in business is considered by business a calamity after which they can never lift their heads, and they can never get up again. Therefore business men here pay their bills.

"The government also is honest, and has never tried to repudiate a debt. In 1866 when Italy's rents were down to 42 the government kept right on paying interest. I knew one man, an American living in Florence, who sold out all of his American stocks and bonds and doubled his fortune by re-investing in these rents. Italy's people are hard working, sober and honest. The traditions about their poverty, their impulsive methods, have been handed down for a hundred years from the time when Italy was divided up into little kingdoms and principalities, warring and jealous of each other and does not in the least apply to present conditions. Nobody has ever taken the trouble to correct these old lies.

"Take Italy's attitude in the present war. It too has been misunderstood or misinterpreted. Italy did not want to go into this war. She had just come out of a conflict in Africa and was not prepared to go into another. Then, after a long struggle, she was cementing a real sentiment of union among her people. Much has been said of her manner of going into the war. You say that it has been said that she was apparently trying to see whether Germany or the allies would pay the most for her services. Nothing could be more untrue. In respect to her treaty with Germany, it was not a love affair, but one to preserve the peace of Europe, a peace which she heartily desired. Germany did not ask her consent to go to war, knowing that Italy would immediately try to stop the war.

"The reason Italy did go into the war was not because of the promise of pay from the allies but, reluctantly, as a matter of national defense. While there did not exist a hard feeling between the Germans and Italians there has long been one between the Italians and Austrians. The reason behind these latter countries was such that at any time the Austrians could invade Italy, and Italy could in such case defend herself only with difficulty; a difficulty that is proven by the energy required in the present war. She is not hauling back, but conquering day by day and step by step the difficult nature of the territory in which the advance must be made. She will regain her two old provinces and thereby make impossible a future invasion by Austria.

"If the United States desires to do business here, the right kind of business men must be sent over, those speaking French or Italian, and men who are willing to stay in the country long enough to learn its ways. The only Americans who have ever come here previously were those merely on pleasure, or during the war to sell munitions or food or something of that sort. Frequently these men, because of their lack of proper training, have fallen into the hands of intermediaries of questionable characters, and their ventures have not turned out well.

Calles' Resignation Was Not Accepted. (By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 10.—The resignation of General P. Elias Calles as military governor of Sonora, was received by General Carranza February 2, but was not accepted, according to a statement made here tonight by Roberto V. Pesquera, personal representative of General Carranza. General Calles was prevailed upon to resign his position after the constitutional elections are held, Mr. Pesquera said.

General Calles tendered his resignation because of a decree which subordinated the silver pesos as a monetary medium in Sonora to the currency of the de facto government.

CANADA CAPITOL FIRE CAUSED BY INCENDIARISM

Chemical Thrown on Paper in Building Produces Combustion and Dominion Parliament House Is Destroyed.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Intimations that a chemical thrown on papers in the reading room of the parliament building may have caused the fire that partly destroyed the buildings with a loss of seven lives were made today at the opening of an investigation conducted by Dominion Commissioner McTavish and Pringle.

Mr. Pringle declared that it was natural to suspect an enemy hand. He said they knew of such fires in the "country to the south," and had information of one case where a special prepared liquid was thrown on paper and burnt into flames later.

Frank Glass, M.P., for South Waterloo, said he was in the reading room on the night of the fire. He felt a wave of heat and noticed smoke coming from a file of papers.

Commissioner Pringle, in order to ascertain whether chemicals had been used in starting the fire, asked several questions about the color of the smoke. The witness recollected that the smoke seemed to be bright red and suddenly to turn to flames. He heard a loud explosion while rushing along a corridor.

Let it penetrate through every air passage of the head, soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray, of Rochester, N. Y. "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain of the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose, anti-kamnia tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headache of women.

GEN. ARGUMEDO IS PRISONER IN DURANGO CITY

General Murgia, With 3,000 Carranza Soldiers, Dominates Situation; Moriano Arrieta in Jail.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico, Feb. 10.—Train service between here and Durango City has been suspended. The railroad, however, is well guarded. Passenger service between here and Chihuahua City is also suspended pending repairs.

General Murgia with 3,000 troops is in Durango state and operating repair trains to Santiago Papasquiaro. Information received from Durango City indicated today that General Argumedo, recently captured by General Murgia, is wounded and that his subordinate generals, Maroquin and Manchu, are in the hospital here with him. It was said that Jencyly will be shown them in order to facilitate armistice negotiations in progress with Generals Contreras, Canuto, Reyes, Ceniceros and others associated with the opposition to the de facto government.

General Murgia is said to dominate the situation in Durango City, where Donatus Arrieta has approved the imprisonment of his brother, Mariano Arrieta. Mariano Arrieta was appointed governor by the de facto government and it is said he was found guilty of the theft of crop lands. General Murgia has appointed Fernando Castanos, an attorney, governor of Durango.

Other news from Durango City received here stated that General Council Shomley has been ordered to leave the state because of alleged excessive prices placed upon merchandise in his stores.

ATLAS POWDER HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR. (By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) New York, Feb. 10.—The annual report of the Atlas Powder company, which has received large foreign war orders for the year ending December 31, 1915, shows gross sales of $9,288,492 against $5,132,508 for the previous year, a gain of $4,155,984.

Net income for 1915 was $1,674,762, compared with $474,150 in 1914. After payment of dividends on preferred shares, balance of income for the year was equivalent to 35.50 per cent on the common stock against 3.89 in 1914. Total dividends of $659,062 were paid, leaving a surplus of $1,115,704. Disbursements on common stocks during the year amounted to $1,162 per cent against 6 per cent in 1914 and 1-1/2 per cent in 1913.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT PROVES ITS GREAT VALUE IN THE MOST DISTRESSING CASES

Kidney Trouble Wears You Out Unable to Work

I had kidney and stomach trouble for several years and lost over 40 pounds in weight; tried every remedy that I could and got no relief until I took Swamp-Root. It gave me quick relief from anything that I ever suffered. I now weigh 135 pounds and am enjoying the praise of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and recommending its use to all who have stomach and kidney troubles.

Respectfully yours, E. C. MENDESHALL, McNeil, Arkansas. Subscribed and sworn to before me a Notary Public, this 27th day of March, 1915. J. W. RHEA, Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Hinchamption, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Albuquerque Morning Journal, Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

GARRISON'S RESIGNATION.

The resignation of secretary of War Garrison comes as a surprise, and will be resented by the entire country, regardless of politics. Unusually clearheaded, he had grasped the problems of the war department as no other secretary except Elihu Root, and he was striving, with the assistance of highly trained officers of the army, to bring the military strength of the nation up to demonstrated requirements.

But Garrison had the opposition of the national guard officers, who saw in his continental scheme something inimical to their interests. The opposition of the national guard caused opposition in congress, because the guardsmen have votes and the military continental army has none, just as the regular army has none.

Therefore, at the first move made by him to inaugurate an efficient military system, the secretary ran up against the stone wall of practical politics and lost. He is not a very patient man. He has demonstrated before that his temper is brittle, and if he could not get the sort of army bill he wanted he would have nothing whatever to do with it. Hence his resignation.

The president can ill afford to lose the services of Garrison at this time. His cabinet, relieved somewhat by the retirement of Bryan, is still not a strong one. He has left a good secretary of state and a good secretary of the interior. Whether the secretary of the treasury is a glittering success or not cannot be definitely determined at this time. History may write him so, or it may not. Opinions differ but much now for any one to say with certainty.

Of the remainder of the cabinet, mediocrity is the best that can be said of them, and the safety of the country, so far as their departments are concerned, lies in the ability of the president to keep his hand on the lever at all times. He is the administration.

Mr. Bulwar was an able man in his time and country—a man who would measure up well with Porfirio Diaz, or with Maximilian, or with Cabel, but he lacks several miles of being in the class with George Washington.

HUGHES ELIMINATED.

Mr. Justice Hughes has eliminated himself from the presidential race. The letter to Congressman C. H. Slomp, the only republican member of congress from Virginia, may be regarded as conclusive of the whole matter.

Justice Hughes was strangely placed by the presidency. He is a resident of New York, the greatest pecuniary state. He has never had occasion to take sides between the standpat and the progressives. He has been identified as clean in politics and the enemy of boss rule. He had the enmity of the machine in his own state, and had given it such a thrashing that the state was safely democratic from the time he left Albany and Whitman's election in 1914.

Congressman Slomp is a strong man. He has succeeded in holding the ninth district of Virginia against all comers, making it a republican stronghold in otherwise a solidly democratic state. He has had to fight not only the democrats of his district but the strength of the party in Virginia, which has been concentrated against him time and time again.

In addition to being a member of congress, Mr. Slomp is the republican state chairman, and thereby a tale. During the Taft administration he was not able to be on good terms with Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock. And it seems that recently Mr. Hitchcock has undertaken to line up the southern states for Justice Hughes, working through his former appointees to the various southern postoffices. Mr. Slomp regarded the movement as hostile to himself, and he wrote Justice Hughes asking pointedly whether he was a party to Mr. Hitchcock's campaign for delegates in the south.

The justice replied that he knew nothing about it, was not and would not be a candidate for the presidency, and thus ended all talk of himself in that respect. It has been generally understood before that Hughes would not be a candidate. Such an act on his part would be in violation of the traditions of the supreme court, and besides, the republicans objected to another vacancy on the bench which the president might fill with some one quite as unsatisfactory to the republicans as Brandeis whom they have not rejected, because of his nationality and progressive record.

It didn't take the senate committee long to answer the threat of the manufacturers of munitions.

Mr. Bryan isn't hurting to test his drawing qualities against those of the president.

A SECOND CANAL.

The treaty with Nicaragua by which it is hoped the United States, in consideration of the payment of $3,000,000, is to get the right to construct a second canal connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific and secure a naval station in Fonseca bay is before the senate. There is strenuous opposition led by Senator Borah. Doubt has already been cast upon the Panama canal as a commercial success, and there are those who say now, that it never can be an engineering success because of the slides, and there is always the chance of an earthquake.

Doubters always will doubt until Culebra ceases to slide. That same day it will cease to slide, but until it does there remains the chance that at the most inopportune moment it will slide again. Also Panama is within the earthquake zone, and no engineer can figure against earthquakes.

A second canal may become necessary, some day, on account of these accidental factors. Then there is the possibility that some other nation may take it into its head to construct a canal to the Panama canal in order to serve the interests of commerce or war. Before the war, Suez was so crowded that it was freely predicted another canal would have to be constructed within fifty years in order to accommodate the traffic.

There is little doubt that the location of a second canal might be made through Nicaragua, taking advantage of the natural lakes which are navigable for the largest ships, and the United States would not wisely in securing now an option, exclusive, unrestricted and permanent, on that route.

Of course there is another route, that across the Tehuantepec, which would be more than a thousand miles over California, that is Panama, and over six hundred miles nearer to New Orleans. The Atlantic entrance to that canal would be in the Gulf of Mexico, which is much more nearly an American lake than the Caribbean sea can be, is more easy to defend and already washes our shores.

Some day we shall come to a settlement with Mexico. In that settlement our statement should remember the Tehuantepec. If an option on the Nicaraguan route is good, so would be one in Tehuantepec. It is by such long roads ahead that the future is provided for.

Mexico announces that she can stand alone, also she could stand a loan of about $100,000,000.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The people of the United States will celebrate tomorrow, the birth of Abraham Lincoln, in many respects the most remarkable man who ever appeared upon the American continent. Born 165 years ago, Abraham Lincoln came into the world under the most unpromising circumstances. His parents were the poorest, and his father belonged to the near-do well class commonly spoken of in the south as the "poor white trash."

At best, it was a poor cabin in which he first saw the light. There is even a tradition, not substantiated, that the house where he was born was an open shed with a single room. Whatever the cabin may have been then, in it a man was born, with vision clear enough to see through the mazes of artificial society to the very heart of things. He had traversed the hard road from the Kentucky cabin to the White House and he had talked with all whom he overtook on the way, and found that they were men of like frailties and like questions with himself.

No one could fool him, for he knew, so when the great crisis came in his life he swept aside the superficialities and pierced to the very core of the problem. Wealth, aristocracy, political prestige meant nothing to him when he sought a man to seek him.

Lincoln knew before he died that the joining of the states into a free and homogeneous union was assured. And he must have recognized that the work, which was his work, was one of the most meritorious ever performed by a son of man.

He himself was not too much in love with life; he cannot be said ever to have been happy. Even in the hour of victory, when the north exulted, he sorrowed for the stricken, devastated south, whose people were his own, whose tragedy he sensed. Therefore, to be removed from the scene was probably no affliction to his soul. By Lincoln's death, the south lost its best friend, the north its wisest leader, the whole country

BRITANNIA RULES THE WAVES?

Nancy Hanks Lincoln Holds Converse With Spirit of Present

Nancy Hanks—I see the calendar says it is 1916, nearly a century after my life in the world is ended. I pray tell me, Spirit of the Present, whether any one mortal remembers that I ever lived, or knows my place of burial.

The Present—Or, yes. There is a monument over your grave at Pigeon Creek. A man named Spauldick of South Bend, Ind., went there in 1878 and spent $1,000 in marking it.

Nancy Hanks—When do you point? More money than I ever saw in my life spent on my grave, more than sixty cents after I had made it.

What Indiana Did.

The Present—It was the relative of your. As a matter-of-fact citizen, he thought your grave ought to be marked. Twenty-three years later the state of Indiana erected a massive monument in your honor, 10,000 school children marched in procession to its dedication. The governor of the state, now one of the great commonwealths of the union; was there, with a distinguished general from afar delivered the principal oration. A later fortune than you ever knew, anyone to possess was spent on this monument.

More people than you ever saw together at one time in your life were assembled. And there was chanted on the pedestal, in raised letters the words, "Nancy Hanks Lincoln." Can there be any mistake about that?

Can't you understand it?

Nancy Hanks—That is the wonder of wonders! I realize that my mortal remains, enclosed in a rough pine box, were buried under the trees at Pigeon Creek, and that no number of reason would be able to secure a monument. I suppose that if anybody in all this world of yours would surely be forgotten, and soon forgotten, it would be Nancy Hanks, the woman of the wilderness. My life was a short one—only thirty-five years—and in it I saw little of the great world, and a few little of it, and on going out had little to expect beyond it, but pray speak to me the meaning of this appalling mystery.

The Present—This is the 12th of February!

Corridor of Little Boy.

Nancy Hanks—That was the birthday of my little boy, a slender awkward fellow who had to climb a ladder of wooden pins driven into a log, up into a nest of leaves in the loft, every night, and there to dream. Whatever became of that and little boy? He was not very well when I left the world. He seemed ailing all fall. I hated to leave him. I was afraid his father could not give the care that the frail little fellow needed. Did you ever hear what became of my little 5-year-old boy out in the woods of Pigeon Creek?

The Present—Of course I have heard what became of him. The people who could answer that question of yours are numbered in the hundreds of millions today. There is no land and no tongue in which the information you seek could not be supplied, and usually by the man in the street. Actual millions of people know that the 12th of February was the day you welcomed into your frontier cabin in the frontier wilderness that little boy. His birthday, in twenty-two states of the union, including the great state of New York, is a legal holiday. In most of the other some component, oratory exercises are the expected order. When the great financial market of the world opened in London this morning, it was with the knowledge that the United States of America, the great republic over the seas, would record no stock exchange transactions this day. The words "No Market—Lincoln's birthday" are carried on bulletin boards under every eye, and headlines in the great buildings, forty stories high of New York City, has paused today. So it does at Fort

LITERARY INSINCERITIES.

Picking out the six or ten or twenty greatest books in the English language, or in the world, is still one of the favorite pastimes of literary supplements and reviews.

How many of us, if we were really honest, could make a list of great works that we have tried to enjoy and couldn't rise to?

We have for our own part a greater sin than that on our conscience. There are a number of books that we habitually pretend we have read which we have never read at all. They are great books, we suppose. At least we've heard a lot about them and read a lot about them, and people who assume to know say they are great books. Some of them we have tried to read and couldn't read, but we have pretended at one time or another to have read all of them. Here is our list of shame.

"Tom Jones." We have tried to read it four times and could never get five pages into it.

"The Vicar of Wakefield." We have attempted it at least six times and taken the count in the first round every time.

"Don Quixote." We have read a little of it and we know all the usual things that are said about it, and we went wrote some stuff about it one time, saying all the things that are usually said about it, for which we were paid $25, but we don't really like it; it puts us to sleep; it seems long drawn out and clumsy to us.

We always pretend when we are cornered that we have read Chaucer's "Santbury Tales"; it's odd how far you can go with most people by having looked at a bit of this and a smidgen of that.

And it's odd how many people will force you into these little literary lies by their attitude; the people that force you into them are always the people you can pull a bluff on and get away with it.

Regrets Irish Movement

Editor Morning Journal—A few days ago I read a notice of a meeting of citizens of Irish lineage, in New York to induce America to side with Germany in substance. It is much to be regretted for the sake of Ireland when her demand for justice is so near being granted, that the sympathies of Irish lineage should be alienated by inconsiderate action. It is also to be regretted because of the doubts that may give rise as to the loyalty of citizens of foreign birth. The question of our foreign relations is a serious matter in the midst of a great world-wide war and distrust. Citizens of foreign extraction have a right to sympathize with the land of their birth, but their duty is to their land of adoption.

The only good American is one who places loyalty to America first and needs no qualifying byphen. When danger threatens or exists it is time to divide on questions of origin, race, creed, or party allegiance. American rights and interests alone should control. ROBERT WINN. AT ALL STAGES OF LIFE

The Woman's Medicine. Good for All Ages. Mrs. Harold Smith's Experience.

Clarksburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine."—Mrs. HAROLD M. SMITH, 470 Water Street, Clarksburg, W. Va.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, and curing backache, nervousness, uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains.

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND DROPSY

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headache, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. This is the time to try "An-uric." During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "An-uric," the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney trouble and backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and Insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination—this is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Cavalry Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's "Urinals" Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Assisting Physicians will inform you truthfully.—Adv.

STOCK EXCHANGE SCORES ANOTHER SHARP ADVANCE

Coppers, Among Them Chino, Push to Front, Making Record Gains on Increased Demand From Europe.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New York, Feb. 10.—Metal shares assumed a commanding position in today's broad market, a majority of the better known coppers, including Chino, Butte and Superior, Chino and Grandy selling at highest prices in their history. Anaconda led that group in point of activity but failed to equal its high quotation of the preceding month. The upward swing in metals followed a further sharp advance in the price of metal abroad.

Among the other active issues were United States Steel which added a substantial fraction to yesterday's advance, only to yield later on selling of other leaders. Lackawanna Steel, Republic Iron and American Car, New York Airbrake, Railways Steel Springs and kindred stocks were firm to strong at times but shares with Mexican interests were heavy. Mexican Petroleum, Texas Company and American Smelting being under constant restraint.

There were some spectacular gains in a few specialties and utilities. Rails lagged in the early dealings but came forward later under lead of Canadian Pacific, which made an extreme gain of 3/4 to 1 1/2.

Total sales amounted to 725,000 shares.

United States Steel's tonnage report for January showed only a nominal increase but put the total of unfilled orders within close range of the record for over five years.

Light on the prosperous steel conditions was afforded by the Lackawanna Steel annual report wherein the 1914 deficit was replaced by a balance of almost $4,000,000.

The Bank of England reported another gain in its gold holdings, a moderate strengthening of its liability reserves.

Bonds were firm with further activity in Anglo-French 5's at a slight recovery from yesterday's low quotation. Fiscal sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $3,745,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Renewal of export buying helped to rally the wheat market today after a sharp break that was due to an unusual whirl of speculative stop loss orders to sell. The close was nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2c down, with May at $1.27 3/4, July at $1.26 1/2, Corn gained 1/4 to 1 1/4c. Oats 1/4 to 3/8c and provisions 1/2 to 2c.

Emphasis to the foreign demand for wheat was given by an opinion from a leading authority that the world's import requirements this season would be 25,000,000 bushels in excess of the total as figured two weeks ago.

Predictions were also current that shipments from Argentina and Australia would remain light. There were forecasts, too, of continued smallness of domestic arrivals in the northwest and of even more danger in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

Corn developed strength owing to bearish hints that export transactions were under way. Oats hardened with corn.

Provisions received increased attention, especially ribs. Throughout the session the market had an upward slant, influenced by higher prices on hogs and by reports that cash trade had improved.

Closing prices: Wheat—May, $1.27 3/4; July, $1.26 1/2. Corn—May, $1.18 3/4; July, $1.14 1/4. Oats—May, $1.02; July, $1.00. Pork—May, $20.52; July, $20.65. Lard—May, $10.27; July, $10.45. Ribs—May, $11.30; July, $11.45.

KANSAS CITY GRAIN.

Kansas City, Feb. 10.—Wheat—No. 2 hard, $1.19 1/2; No. 2 red, $1.20 1/2. Corn—No. 2 mixed, 69 1/2; No. 2 white, 69 1/2. Oats—No. 2 white, 49 1/2; No. 2 mixed, 46 1/2.

Notes of Interest From State Museum

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL. Santa Fe, Feb. 10.—The United States surveyors surveying townships all over the state will be glad to cooperate with the museum and report all unappreciated things they find in their work, said United States Examiner of Survey W. B. Douglas today. This will assist the museum greatly in the map it will prepare for prehistoric New Mexico.

'We can remain only ten minutes,' declared Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Institution, and Robert W. de Forest, president of the Metropolitan Museum of New York yesterday. They stayed almost two hours and then left reluctantly because train time was approaching.

Cony T. Brown, of Denver, the well-known mining engineer, today became a charter member of the New Mexico Society of the Archaeological Institute, and so did O. S. Emblem of Santa Fe and Mrs. and Mrs. T. Harwood of Paris, France.

Miss Maud Woy of Denver today returned the lantern slides of the cliff dwelling region, which she used in three lectures at Denver last week. Miss Woy has been in attendance at the summer school for the past few years.

The following registered at the museum: Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ginn, Cimarron, N. M.; H. E. Fairley, C. L. Hart, Montalvillo, N. M.; and Mrs. Robert W. de Forest, Eva McAllister Pritchett, Henry L. Pritchett, A. Barber, C. Jacobson, J. E. Clifford, J. W. Forman, New York City, Fannie Hines, Ed Exams, New York City, Fannie Hines and Jane, Chicago, Louis Pitts, W. H. Thorp, Silverton, Colo.; W. S. Merrick, Vero, Tex.; Thomas S. Atkins, Pueblo, Colo.; Edwin Hirsch, Denver; H. C. Schroeder, Kanab, Colo.; Mrs. E. J. Lehman, Sidney, Ill.

Director Edgar L. Hewell arrived yesterday afternoon from San Diego and expects to remain until Sunday or Monday morning before leaving for the east.

To Show Boy Scout Pictures.

Santa Fe, Feb. 10.—Dr. J. A. Roll and T. P. Reed of the forest service, addressed the Boy Scouts at the Old Palace. Arrangements were made for bringing to Santa Fe the five reel film, 'The Adventures of a Boy Scout,' in which the Boy Scout activities are woven into a thrilling story. President Woodrow Wilson appears in the film.

AFTER LAGRIPPE—WHAT?

Count that 'hang on' after lagrippe exhaust the strength and lower the vital resistance. F. G. Prock, Bedford, Ind., writes: 'An attack of lagrippe left me with a severe cough. I tried everything. I lost in weight and got so thin it looked as if I would never get well. I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and two bottles cured me. I am now well and back to my normal weight.' Foley's Honey and Tar gets right at the trouble. It is a safe, reliable remedy. Sold everywhere.

AUDITORIUM PACKED TO HEAR TWITCHELL LECTURE ON MISSIONS
 Ordinarily one would not expect a very large crowd out to hear a lecture on archeology. The subject sounds dry, and the natural supposition is that only high-brows are interested in it. Certainly, there is nothing to lead to the belief that such a lecture would arouse any great amount of enthusiasm in a mixed audience.
 But, contrary to all preconceived notions in regard to such matters, the auditorium of the high school, with the largest seating capacity of any hall in Albuquerque, was packed to the doors last night to hear Col. Ralph E. Twitchell deliver his lecture on "When the Women Built the Temples" and contrary to any lines that may be entertained as to the supposed dryness of archeology as a subject of discussion, the lecturer held the closest attention of his audience from beginning to end and was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause.
 Colonel Twitchell knew his theme as a preacher knows his bible, and he told his story in such an entertaining manner that there was no opportunity for anybody to become bored. The antiquity of the mission churches of New Mexico, the struggles of the early friars in planting Christianity among the Indians and the customs and traditions of the aborigines, including the fact that all building work was done by the women while the men were soldiers, and husbandry and spinning and weaving were related in such a delightful manner that the audience was not only instructed but charmed.
 The speaker made an eloquent plea for the preservation of the historic ruins of New Mexico, and called attention to the fact that the ruins of a mission church near Los Angeles was visited last year by 125,000 tourists, whereas the church of San Felipe de Neri in Old Albuquerque far surpasses it in antiquity, in interest and importance.
 The lecture was illustrated by a remarkable collection of lantern slides, the lantern being operated by Jesse Nausham, of Santa Fe, one of the leading archeologists of the state, who had personally secured many of the photographs from which the slides were made.

ASK CONTINUANCE IN CASE OF MRS. WILLSON AGAINST ALBUQUERQUE
 T. J. Mabry, of Barth & Mabry, yesterday in the United States district court asked for a continuance in the case of Mrs. Matilda Willson against the city of Albuquerque. Mrs. Willson is sick and at her home in Pennsylvania, he said.
 City Attorney Thomas N. Wilkerson, objected to the granting of a continuance, saying that because the defendant will not be able to be present in court and yet no had not been notified of their intention to ask for postponement. Judge Pollock allowed the plaintiff's attorney until Monday to state whether they will proceed. The plaintiff must stand the costs if the case is put off beyond this term.
 The jurors were excused until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

STATE CAMPAIGN FOR PROHIBITION TO BE OPENED HERE SUNDAY
 The second mass meeting of the campaign for statewide prohibition will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Lead Avenue Methodist church, at which time the fight to carry New Mexico dry will be formally opened. This meeting will be held in pursuance of a meeting held in the high school auditorium late in January, at which a committee was appointed to arrange for the fight to carry New Mexico dry. This committee consists of H. S. Lithgow, Francis E. Wood, D. A. Porterfield, Pitt Ross and John E. Shimmis.
 Edward D. Halsey, a prominent citizen of Phoenix, Ariz., will be the principal speaker at the meeting Sunday afternoon, and local speakers of prominence will also be heard. Good music will be provided and the public is cordially invited to attend.

RITCHIE WILL PULL TEN BIG FLOATS BY STRENGTH OF NECK
 "Texas" Albert B. Ritchie is looking for 100 Albuquerque girls to be his guests on the evenings of February 12 and 13. The girls are to ride on ten big floats through the streets, and Ritchie will pull the floats by the aid of a steel band about his neck. The young women will be dressed in the latest fall fashion creations.
 In addition to "Texas" and his combination of floats, a number of other floats will be a five-reel feature in which Nance O'Neil, America's foremost emotional actress, is given ample scope for her remarkable talents.
 The admission for children under twelve years of age will be ten cents, and for adults twenty-five cents.

SMUGGLING CHINESE LEADS TO INDICTMENTS
 San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Twenty-seven indictments against William F. Boyce, assistant United States immigration commissioner, here today, after immigration officers, employees of the Pacific Mail company and a San Francisco custom house broker charging them with conspiracy to smuggle Chinese into the United States, were returned today by the federal grand jury to Judge M. T. Deeding in the United States district court here.
 The indicted persons included thirteen whites, whose names have previously been made public by the United States district attorney, and fourteen Chinese. The bond in each case was fixed at $1,000. No arrests will be made, it was announced, until tomorrow.
 The indictments followed an investigation by the grand jury into the Mongolia when that vessel arrived here October 17, 1915, from the Orient.

YAQUI INDIANS ARE SEVERELY DEFEATED
 Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 10.—The capture of a large number of Yaqui Indians and the disposal of the remainder of a band of several hundred that raided San Fernando, Sonora, several days ago, was effected last night at a place called La Palomas, twenty-five miles west of Toluca, by troops under command of Col. Jesse Aguirre, according to advices received here tonight by Mrs. G. Levelev, consul for the United States government.
 Many horses, mule equipment and a large quantity of loot taken by the Indians in the raid was recovered by the Carrizosa soldiers, the message said. The troops had pursued the band for two weeks toward the Arizona border, it was said. Consul Levelev said.

PROHIBITION GREAT SUCCESS IN COLORADO
 Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 10.—Prohibition in Colorado since January 1, 1915, has been successful in many parts, according to Governor George A. Carlson, of that state, who addressed the Wyoming Y. W. C. A. here today.
 The first month of the year has the most prosperous in many years, Governor Carlson said. Eight principal banks of Denver showed an increase of $275,000 in savings deposits over January, 1915, and over 2,000 new saving accounts were opened during the month. The governor also said that the postal savings deposits had broken all records.

INDIAN SQUAW IS DEVoured BY WOLVES
 Fortralgo, Colo., Feb. 10.—A Navajo squaw was attacked and devoured by a pack of hungry wolves, west of the Carson mountains in New Mexico, according to reports brought here today from the Shiprock, N. M., Indian agency. Indians were told that the Indian had fought the pack with a club after she was overtaken.
 Wild animals in southwestern Colorado and northwestern New Mexico have suffered greatly from hunger recently, owing to the heavy snows of the past few weeks.

BUSINESS MEN FAVOR NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS
 Chamber of Commerce of United States on Record for Bigger Army and Stronger Navy.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States here today, after the adoption of resolutions calling upon the railroads and their employees to adjust their wage controversy by arbitration and the publication of a program for national defense which proposed universal military training, an increased navy and the creation of a school of tactical defense to utilize when needed all the nation's forces, including industrial, commercial and scientific.
 Other resolutions adopted provided for a referendum to the chamber's membership of 200 business organizations throughout the country on the desirability of providing pensions for federal civil service employees and of amending the federal constitution to permit the president to veto specifically being of appropriation bills. Elimination of objectionable riders to these bills, which the president cannot veto now without disapproving the entire bill, it was urged, would be accomplished through such an amendment.
 All of this afternoon's session was devoted to a discussion of national preparedness. Secretary Daniels made an address defending the navy program, which he said was sure to be adopted, and advocating upbuilding of an American merchant marine. Charles Nagel, former secretary of commerce and labor, declared that the "army and navy are only the point of the arrow," and that national preparedness consisted of the mobilization of all the country's resources.
 Secretary Garrison, who was to have spoken, cancelled the engagement following his resignation from the cabinet. President Wilson addressed the chamber at its annual banquet tonight.
 The annual election of officers by the chamber's board of directors, on the program for today, was deferred until tomorrow.

HIGH HONORS FOR MEN WHO RAIDED ENGLAND
 London, Feb. 11 (5:39 a. m.).—Reuters Telegram Copenhagen correspondent says that the German emperor has bestowed the highest German military decoration, the Order Pour Le Merite on the commander-in-chief of the Zeppelin raiding squadron which recently attacked English towns.
