VITUPERATION BLUEJACKETS AND HONORS BURNED AND FOR PEARY SCALDED

ARCTIC EXPLORER HAS UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

Decorated by Foreign Society and Denounced by Fellow Countryman; May Be Sent to Antarctic at Public Expense.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Feb. 14.—Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, had the unique experience today of being decorated by a foreign scientific society and vituperated by a fellow explorer and countryman.

Furthermore, it was announced that congress may supply funds with which the American who has been farthest north will lead an expedition into the Antarctic seas to lay claim to territory uncovered nearly 100 years ago by another intrepid American and over which no flag has yet been floated.

The Italian Geographical society is the organization that has conferred the decoration on Commander Peary.

Secretary Meyer, on whom the explorer called today, announced that if it was decided to have Commander Peary head the expedition to lay claim to territories uncovered nearly 100 years ago by another intrepid American and over which no flag has yet been floated.

Wilkies Land lies far into the Antarctic region and was discovered only in the nineteenth century by Charles Wilkes, an American naval officer.

Neither Secretary Meyer nor Commander Peary would divulge the nature of their conference which occupied more than an hour, but it is probably safe to say that the secretary explained to his caller the reasons for the decision in congress of the attempt to have the explorer retired with the rank and pay of rear admiral.

The house committee on naval affairs which voted a $100,000 per-position has received a number of letters commending and otherwise. One was received today from Captain B. S. Brown, president of the Arctic Club of Wilkes Land.

Another letter from Portland, Me., the home of Peary, written by an executive officer in the naval reserve of the state says:

"It would be gratifying to all thinking citizens that there is a group of men in Washington who, while ready suitably and generously to recognize the distinguished achievements of Mr. Peary, refuse to be actuated or influenced by familial sentimentalism."

Another letter from Boston says:

"Your remarks on statements about Commander Peary seem incomprehensible. All nations are waiting on the United States, by courtesy, before showering honors on Peary. He should be knighted for finding Uruanis, a thousand million miles further away than the north pole and many more thousand times more useless by your code."

Famous Oil Case Decided.

Tumble, Okla., Feb. 14.—The famous oil case of Fremont Cows was finally decided today in a division hearing.

Although $660,000 worth of property and $25,000 court costs are involved it is said both the plaintiff and the defendant are satisfied. The case was that of the United Oil company against S. F. Rathvon, the inland Oil and Refining company, and others.

MURDERER OF PRINCE ITO CONDEMNED TO GALLows

CONSUL PROTESTS IN VAIN AGAINST BOMBARDMENT

Governor Defeat Means Serious Danger of Uprising in Nicaraguan Capital Where Estrada's Friends Are Thick

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Managua, Feb. 14.—Heavy field guns pointed in the hills by the Madrid forces yesterday began a bombardment of Matagalpa, which on February 10 was taken by the revolutionaries under General Chamorro.

Before beginning the bombardment, the government notified the American consular agent at that city in order that the non-combatants could withdraw. The consul protested against the bombardment which nevertheless went on.

The Madrid troops were under command of General Lara, with General Chavarria and General Portu Carrera supporting him. These troops are said to have numbered about 2,000.

Subsequently the attack upon the city was abandoned, but it is likely to be resumed any moment. The bombardment was suspended for a time, the extent of the damage has not been ascertained. The situation in Managua is tense and no one can say what is likely to happen in the next few days, particularly in the event of the government forces failing to defeat the revolutionaries. To add to the serious aspect of affairs at the capital it is known that there are here now ready to take part with General Estrada and the other revolutionary leaders the moment their success is assured.

Captain Constantino Saenz, who was in command of the firing squad at the execution of the two Americans, Groves and Cannon, was shot to death in the streets today by a Nicaraguan soldier.

The identity of the soldier woman said to have been found at Palma, island of Majorca, is not known here.

A dispatch from Palma yesterday said that English detectives had attempted a man there charged with having escaped with Miss Knollys and who was supposed to be either a sea man or a British army officer. The dispatch added that Miss Knollys had been found and placed in the care of her brother.

LACK OF LIGHTHOUSES RESPONSIBLE FOR DISASTER

Paris, Feb. 14.—The French Transatlantic Steamship company asserts that is nothing to confirm the theory that the Great Changzhu became unmanageable and struck the rock, due to the fact that there is but one feeble light on the north coast of Minorca Island, in the lee of which, Captain Cayol sought shelter in the terrible storm.

MISSING MISS KNOLLYS LOCATED IN LONDON

London, Feb. 14.—Miss Alexandra Knollys, daughter of Lord Knollys, King Edward's private secretary, who was recently reported as having eloped, is in London. On last Thursday she attended the dog show in company with Queen Alexandra.

The identity of the young woman said to have been found at Palma, island of Majorca, is not known here.

A dispatch from Palma yesterday said that English detectives had attempted a man there charged with having escaped with Miss Knollys and who was supposed to be either a sea man or a British army officer. The dispatch added that Miss Knollys had been found and placed in the care of her brother.

police and order in reinforcements of army police from Leon.

A large number of political arrests have been made. Among the new prisoners is Alfonso Solaresino, who was then released, and who who yesterday was removed from that post. He is a distant relative of the leader of the group of conservatives who recently captured the steamer Maragana. Who Consul Calder has received a message transmitting the following letter from General Chamorro:

"You know of the battle fought in the last few days by my command in Segas, and San Ramon, and the taking by my troops of Maragana and Jimenez, and also the six hours battle of the eleventh in which so much precious blood was spilled on both sides. Being desirous to stop further bloodshed I authorized you to convey to Madrid my resolution to make peace negotiations. If he accepts notify me and I will notify General Estrada."

So far the only comment President Madriz has made on this message was that De Savigny, American consul agent, was active in behalf of Chamorro. Rear Admiral Kimball has notified the belligerents on both sides that they will be held responsible for the persons and property of neutrals in Maragana.

American consul at Maragana, Jose Olivares after riding all night arrived today at Metapa twelve miles from Maragana. The consul is accompanying a courier who came here recently and appealed to him to prevent the destruction of American property. Mr. Olivares at once decided to investigate conditions for himself.

AMERICAN ADVENTURERS IN SERVICE OF ESTRADA

Montevideo, N. R., Jan. 26, by messenger to El Paso, Tex., via wire. General Meno's force is small and mobile, including sixty cavalry mounted on mules. All told it does not number 700 but will be increased. The general is now engaged in bringing his last detachment of 200 strong over the trails from Muschida Los Burros.

Gordon is a veteran signal service man and scout of the Philippines. The others are:

ZELAYA THREATENS TO WRITE A BOOK

Fallen Dictator Claims American Mining Syndicate Brought About His Troubles in Nicaragua.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Washington, Feb. 14.—Former President Zelaya intends to publish a book defending his administration in Nicaragua, criticizing Secretary of State Knox and the state department charging that intrigues set about and maintained through Consul General Dunn to the American Legation in Washington in a large mining enterprise were the cause of his downfall.

Just before sailing for Europe from Vera Cruz, Zelaya confided to a friend according to a private advice which found its way to Washington, charged the Butters-Garthwaite Mining interests of Salvador with being behind him.

Mr. Zelaya indicated today that his cross-examination will be a thorough one. The inquiry will proceed tomorrow morning and it is expected for some time to come daily sessions will be held.

Mr. Vertrees referred to Assistant Secretary Pierce's construction of the law of 1908. Zelaya said:

"It was not intended under the influence of Mr. Ballinger, his construction has shown him unfit for office. If he did render it under the influence of Mr. Ballinger, it will show he ought not to be permitted to hold the office he does."

Mr. Vertrees next questioned Zelaya as to an incident connected with the turning over of his office to his successor when Zelaya had turned all the documents over to the revolutionaries. Zelaya said he had declined to give up some of them until he had made copies of them because, he said, he was convinced that "mean and treacherous things might be done."

Mr. Vertrees read a demand that Zelaya succeed him made upon him for certain documents were missing. Zelaya said he turned over all the documents.

The ones that were left were those which he had made copies of them because, he said, he was convinced that "mean and treacherous things might be done."

Mr. Vertrees read letters to him from the attorney.

"No sir, I did not."

" Didn't you leave some of your effects in boxes in the grand jury room?"

"Yes, some bear skins and a camping outfit."

"Now isn't it a fact that you did furnish these letters to this paper, that you placed all the figures in the grand jury room?"

"Yes, I did."

CANNON WARNS INSURGENTS IN CONGRESS

MAJORITY POWER FUTILE WITHOUT ORGANIZATION

Veteran Speaker Mildly Protests Against Newspaper and Magazine Criticism, Much of Which He Says is Unjust.

By Morning Journal Special Leader Wire.
Washington, Feb. 14.—If we lose our position for the time being, there will come in our place better and wiser men who will not lose sight of the necessity to provide for an orderly procedure under which a majority can work its will, where responsibility rests, there must be power with the majority to move on the majority being responsible."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, laying aside his gavel and speaking today from the floor of the House merely as "the gentleman from Illinois," sounded this warning to his colleagues.

Representative Cannon arose for the purpose of lending his approval to the pending river and harbor appropriation bill, but in his speech, which lasted about twenty minutes, he had no occasion to refer again to magazine and newspaper criticism, and to remind the minority members that the power of the majority was fully enforced by a well-oiled machine.

It was while Representative Eddie, demagogue, of New York, had the floor that members were surprised to see the speaker rise from a seat on the floor and inquire,

"Will the gentleman from New York yield to me?"

"I will yield to the gentleman—I believe, from Illinois," replied Mr. Fitzgerald smilingly.

Mr. Cannon told the house that he had voted for the river and harbor bill, and that the administration had explained that he had voted to pass that measure over the president's veto. He said he had had some trouble in justifying that vote before his constituents but said he did so.

"I thanked God this as I thank God now," said Mr. Cannon, "that, notwithstanding agriculture, in it is to help the cotton, crooked with breadth and intelligence, to stand by me at the polls."

As the speaker was enlarging upon the need of breadth of view to obtain approval all over the country for improvement of river and harbor improvements, Representative Dallal of Pennsylvania, who occupied the chair, began hammering the desk before him with the speaker's gavel.

"The time of the gentleman has expired," he exclaimed in more severity.

"Now I have a minute more," pleaded the speaker.

Mr. Fitzgerald then obtained unanimous consent to have his time extended five minutes and Mr. Cannon proceeded. With the eye of prophecy he saw the nation's population growing from ninety to one hundred million.

Referring to his trial down the Mississippi, Senator Taft is in connection with newspaper attacks at that time Mr. Cannon said,

"When I turned to come back from New Orleans from the criticisms I received, and many were received, not founded on current information, it made me wonder whether I was about or elsewhere, whether I was in or outside of the polls."

"I expect we will continue to receive all kinds of protest and take the formation that is based for here and there in order that our great industrial power may continue some of them to day, but the Yanks made his case to me. But I do not say to say the mention on both sides of the house that in the last analysis, out of the two great organizations, the majority from time to time putting the majority on its good behavior, seeking to become the majority will continue to do so, and the majority will appropriate for the greatest good of the people of the republic."

GREAT SANITARIUM; 300 ENUMERATORS CHICAGO DOCTORS WILL BACK IT

WILL TAKE OVER VALMORA
RANCH AT WATROUS

Valmora Industrial Sanatorium Incorporated. Will be One of Great Tuberculosis Sanatoria of Nation.

Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal
Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 14.—Backed by some of the foremost physicians of Chicago, philanthropists and business men of this city, the articles of incorporation were prepared for filing in New Mexico today, for the Valmora Industrial sanatorium.

The plan is one of the most important ever taken toward the eradication of tuberculosis and backed as it is by abundant capital and the personal influence of the physician joiners in the movement its success seems assured. Among the officers is Robert Gifford, who is in charge to the institution and the project is to move forward without any further delay.

The project has been under consideration for some months, having been brought here by Dr. Brown of Watrous, one of the owners of the Valmora ranch property, which is to be used by the corporation as the site for its sanatorium and industrial farm which is an important feature of the project.

Dr. Brown laid the matter before his professional acquaintances here, and with instant interest. A careful investigation was made of all phases of the undertaking and after an examination into the land proposed to be used it received final approval and the hearty backing of a number of the most prominent physicians in the city who have given it their entire backing.

The darkness added terror to the frightful scene. Enormous seas were breaking over the steamer. The sea rippled off a reef, which scores of women and children were clinging.

The Americans as they dispensed water damaged by the roar of the storm.

I saw that it was death to remain and being an excellent swimmer, I allowed myself to be carried off by the next wave. At the moment the sea swept me shoreward, the air was rarefied by a violent explosion, the wreckage shooting over my head, turning to smoke and water. All the General Chaos, and disorganized. The terrible confusion was soon ended and the crew silenced by the heavy storm which remained.

Oklahoma City, Mo., Feb. 14—"It is very kind of the newspapers to keep me informed of what my future actions are to be," said John Kling, the baseball catcher today when shown a dispatch to the effect it was reported he contemplated a suit for $40,000 against the members of the National commission if they do not allow him to play ball for four years. AMERICAN LEAGUE STICKS TO SHORTER SCHEDULE

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The American league will adopt a 154 game schedule at its meeting which begins tomorrow regardless of the action of the National league in New York according to a statement by Sam H. Johnson.

The principal business to come before the meeting tomorrow will be the adoption of the ten year agreement.

The present agreement under which the American league exists will expire in November this year. The American league was in existence at the beginning of 1900 but the agreement was not adopted until later. Apparently the club will continue to maintain this course so far as the circuit for another decade as all the clubs are well satisfied with present conditions.

ASSOCIATION FAVORS THE LONGER ROUTE

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The American association will adopt a 168 game schedule for 1911 at its annual schedule meeting tomorrow. The new date will probably open April 12 and close about September 26. THEORY GENERALLY ACCEPTED AND SUCCESS IS UNIVERSAL

L. T. Cooper, whose theory that the human stomach is the cause of most ill health, and who created a furor in Chicago, St. Louis and other western cities, is meeting with the same remarkable success with his medicine throughout the east. Cooper has sold his product in amounts exceeding $100,000 and has convinced people that his theory is sound and his medicine will do what he claims.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the discussion is that young men in training are the statements made by responsible people who have taken his medicine and have become enthusiastic converts to his beliefs.

The plan of Bartswain Croghan of the Nina to proceed up to within sight of all light ships, only increasing the anxiety of the department officials. If she had been able to maintain this course she probably would have been heard from long ago.

This hope is discounted by the fact that the vessel, being of steel construction, may have gone suddenly to the bottom. She was due to leave the crew time to launch a boat or ship after the failure of the engine.

The plan of Bartswain Croghan of the Nina is characteristic of the widespread faith in Cooper, which has grown up in a comparatively short time. Mr. Witmer says: "I wouldn't take $1,000 to be in the condition I was three weeks ago. I was sick all the time. I am now in excellent condition and feel like a new man."

THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE TO MEET TODAY

GATHERING IN SANTA FE TO TAKE UP STATEHOOD

Suggestions May Be Made as to Changes Desired in Pending Bills But Keynote of Meeting Will Be Organization

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 14.—Members of the New Mexico Republican committee began arriving in Santa Fe this morning and by this evening a considerable portion of the membership had reached the capital. The remainder of the members or delegates holding their proxies are expected here tomorrow morning. Good sized delegations are coming from Las Vegas, Raton, Albuquerque and other points near by and the meeting promises to be well attended.

While it is probable that action will be taken expressing the sentiment of members of the party in favor of statehood in the pending statehood measure, it is plain from the sentiment of the members already on the ground that the keynote of the meeting will be united and vigorous republican action and prompt and effective organization against the coming statehood campaign which will begin with the election of delegates to the constitutional convention.

Chairman Bursum is in New York and will not be able to attend the meeting. All other officers of the committee will be present.

WILL SEND COMMITTEE TO THE CAPITAL

The Santa Fe Commercial club and the Santa Fe Board of Trade have determined to send a committee to Washington to work for the re-establishment in the statehood bill as it may be finally agreed upon of the appropriation of three million acres of public lands to care for the debts of Santa Fe and Grant counties. The omission of this appropriation would mean a very serious handicap to Santa Fe and Grant counties and the omission of the appropriation in the Bevill bill has stirred the people here to unusual activity. The committee to represent the two organizations is composed of former governors L. Bradford Prince, Judge N. B. Laughlin and Levi A. Biggs.

Artesia Republican Club Meets to Make Preparation for the Coming Statehood Campaign

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Artesia, N. M., Feb. 14.—The public club of Artesia met here last night and organized for the coming campaign. The large attendance and the enthusiasm shown proves that Artesia republicans are not at all fearful of the supposed overwhelming preponderance of democratic votes in this vicinity. Indeed the sentiment was freely expressed that in Artesia at least, with united action the republicans will be able to carry the elections.

The officers elected for the coming year are: president, Harry W. Hamilton; vice presidents, C. A. Sipe and William Ulmer; secretary, W. F. Schwartz.

A state mail route has been established between Haynes and Heaton, N. M., on February 12. Service will be rendered but not more than twenty-four hours away several weeks while friends and relatives in Texas.

Moore, Ed., and James Martin, who came to the state from Oklahoma, have authorized the state auditor to remit the state money that they will send to a hotel building there.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN GRANT COUNTY MINING DISTRICT

NEW RAILROAD OPENS UP BURRO MOUNTAINS

Philips-Dodge People to Commence Shipping From Enormous Bodies of Low Grade Copper.

(Special Correspondence to the Morning Journal)

Silver City, N. M., Feb. 14.—Mining operations in the southwest part of the territory have during the past year been rather quiet on account of most of the better mining properties taken over by companies who have only been doing a certain amount of development work and in many cases not shipping a pound of ore.

The present outlook for mining operations on a big scale by some of these big companies would indicate that within the next few months Grant county will be heated from a mining way. The completion of the Burro Mountain railroad from the properties of the Burro Copper company owned by the Philips-Dodge people, who just recently purchased this big copper property at an enormous figure, will be the starting of shipping of the enormous bodies of low grade copper ore which have been blocked out by this company for several years past, to various milling points.

Rumor has it that two of the big companies will construct two big mills at Whitewater and that the branch railroad from the Burro will connect with the Santa Fe at that point. The mills would be concentrators and the only ones standing in the way of the project is the supply of sufficient water to operate mills of the large capacity they would want to construct.

At the present time the Chemung company has a force of men at work with near Whitewater and has secured quite a flow of water, but this company gives nothing out for production and just what their actual plans are for the future is not known.

Another big copper company has recently purchased to the east of Whitewater quite a large amount of land containing valuable water rights and have men on the ground doing the flow of water to interest capacity and it should only be a very short time before copper around Whitewater should be extremely busy.

SILVER CITY TO HAVE FARMING SEASON IS HANDSOME NEW SCHOOLHOUSE OPEN ON LOWER PECOS

Citizens Vote $25,000 Bonds for Purpose; Sewer Bond Election Scheduled for Next Month.

(Special Correspondence to the Morning Journal)

Silver City, N. M., Feb. 12.—This little city up in the mountains is fast becoming one of the most cosmopolitan outside of Albuquerque, in the territory. Just recently the voters voted the issuance of twenty-five thousand, five per cent school bonds for the erection of a handsome new public school building. The board are now looking into the various plans furnished them and the work of construction will be commenced within a short time.

The city council has called an election on the 8th of next month for the voters to vote on the question of issuing $25,000 of sewer bonds. There has been on the ground experienced engineers from the end who furnished plans, estimates, and surveys. The proposed sewerage system to the city council, which the bond issue carries with it, no doubt will, there be at once installed a complete sanitary sewerage system in all the principal sections of the city.

TEXT OF BILL FOR NEW MEXICO HATCHERY

Measure in Which New Mexico Sportsmen are Deeply Interested Has Passed the Senate.

Following is the text of a bill introduced at the request of Delegate Andrews in the senate and which will be of great interest to New Mexico fishermen who are viewing with alarm the rapidly diminishing supply of game fish in the mountain streams. The bill has passed the Senate. It follows:

In the Senate of the United States, June 8, 1899. Mr. Penrose introduced the following bill, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Fisheries. February 1, 1910. Reported by Mr. Bourne, without amendment.

A bill to establish a fish culture station in New Mexico.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the establishment of a fish culture station in New Mexico, including purchase of site, construction of buildings and ponds, and equipment said station to be located at a point to be selected by the secretary of commerce and labor.

YUMA INDIAN BEAT TO DEATH BY COUPLE OF BOOZY COCOPAHS

Yuma, Ariz., Feb. 12.—Jerry, a Yuma Indian, about twenty-five years old, was killed by two Cocopahs a short distance below the Yuma bridge near Yuma the other night. The Indians had come to deal with an iron instrument in the hands of his assailants and his head was frightfully mangled. One of the Indians who did the killing was arrested by the Mexican authorities, the other remained in the brutal murder scene. Police were allowed to take the scene and found the body of the dead Indian lying on the ground where it had fallen, covered with blood and dirt. Jerry and the two Cocopahs who accused him of killing him had been drinking heavily, Jerry saying to the Indians, "We are the Cocopahs, not me." The last time they were in the same place he was kept in Maricopa himself, which was known to Jerry and eight days later there was no money about him when his dead body was found a couple of miles later. The Cocopahs had evidently rifled his pockets after killing him. The single bottle on his head indicated with which the Indian had been inflicted. It is probable that Jerry refused to get any more liquor for his Indian comrade or at least wished to wait awhile and in the quartel that followed the bottle was used as a club to bring him to the Cocopahs' way of thinking.

When Jerry's relatives and friends heard of his death they sent a procession from his home in a body to the "mazze," or the house of the Justice of the Peace, where the Indians who had been arrested was being held under arrest, and demanded that the prisoner be given up to them. Had the Indians complied with their demands there would have been a hot encounter. Murphy had expected some such action and had also heavily armed himself with him. They were surrounded to let the law take its course.

Twenty Indians recently died in Williamson valley, Arizona, with influenza and diphtheria, which it is said was brought from Texas.

CARLSBAD FEELS STIRRING OF THE EARLY SPRING; HAS A PARK COMMISSION AND A NEW BRASS BAND.

Carlsbad Feels Stirring of the Early Spring; Has a Park Commission and a New Brass Band.

(Special Correspondence to the Morning Journal)

Carlsbad, N. M., Feb. 12.—The lower Pecos valley is entering upon a very busy season. The farmers are taking steps to grow greater varieties of crops and organizing for the purpose of handling the surplus product to advantage. The growers association at Lakewood is fully organized, and is ready to go to work and grow cantaloupe, tomatoes, and other crops on a large scale. The Melton Growers association under the leadership of the townsmen has organized a large brass band. The organization is to begin to act business. This association will grow among other things, 400 acres of cantaloupe. The association at Lakewood may even surpass this acreage. The largest commercial firms in the United States are negotiating with these associations for handling their crops.

The mayor and city council of Carlsbad, which last evening appointed G. H. McLoon, H. M. Thorn and J. L. Linn to the park commission. The women's club has been agitating the matter for some time past, and succeeded in arousing interest enough to have the commission appointed. Plans have been formulated for making immediate improvement of the city park, and also for beautifying the streets and parks.

Carlsbad is now the proud possessor of first class band. Under the direction of Professor Ranch the band has become very efficient. M. S. Grove has built a neat band stand in the courthouse yard, where the band is now dispensing sweet music twice a week.

WORK ON TREMENDOUS COLORADO SIPHON PROCEEDS RAPIDLY

Yuma, Arizona, Feb. 12.—The work on the siphon under the Colorado river goes steadily on and every day shows an increase in depth on both sides of the river. On the Arizona side the shaft is down 25 feet. Up to Monday the pumps were handling the inflow of the water satisfactorily, lifting between five and six hundred gallons of water out of the shaft every minute. Monday evening the work was stopped to let the night shift be laid off and work suspended until the new pump, which is on the road and expected to arrive today, is installed.

The sand at the sixty foot depth is clean sand and does not even stain one's hands when picked up. In the walls of the shaft 2,000 tons of concrete have been used. The work has progressed a little more than thirty days. Work is slow and no accidents than that shift will be completed early in March. On the California side the shaft is down only ten or twelve feet. It is now ready for the steel point and forms. Much of the machinery has been placed. During indicates that water will not be struck until a depth of 40 or 50 feet has been reached.

The work of putting the siphon under the river is a tremendous undertaking and the way it is being done is a revelation.

BOYHOOD CHUMS MEET IN PRESCOTT AFTER SIXTY YEARS

Kansas Stateman Says Some Things About Claims; Booker Washington Loses Influence at the White House.

Morning Journal Bureau, 612 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.

When a bill came in to the Senate to reimburse a postmaster for money spent in an emergency for clerical assistance, Senator Bristow of Kansas took occasion to call down the postmaster department for its methods practiced in settling such claims. Furthermore, he has held up final consideration of the claim until the postmaster department can give an account of its action.

The case in question was a bill presented by Senator Nixon of Nevada which carried in, coming from the state of Washington, the western border. He was sent to the western border to aid himself to the Empire of Mexico, and began his journey to the state of Mexico.

Three thousand dollars, $3,000, was stashed in the same sash. He remained in the native state and made his fortune there. When he came back to the states he was poor, but his fortune was passed, and the people who in their boyhood days had been inseparable companions, heard little of each other and never saw each other.

Yesterday they met at the depot, their first meeting in a score of years.

Mr. Bristow and his estimable wife are here to pass the time away, for a few weeks before they continue their annual journey to see the beauties and attractions of the family.

John Hays Hammond, one of the greatest living authorities on mining, gives some good sound advice to the people of the country about mines—the list of "don'ts" for novices.

"Don't be deterred from a mining investment because some other friend became bankrupt through that means. Don't allow any slick, dishonest man to employ a short and ugly trick to convince you that your successful in your own line are therefore competent to judge the value of a mine."

"Don't buy stock in a mine because it has produced millions in the past. It is that much poorer."

"Don't buy just because the mine is in a far off country."

"Don't buy simply because it adjoins a good mine."

"Don't buy without an unqualifiedly favorable report by a mining expert of integrity, ability and experience."

"Don't buy unless you are sure the directors are honest and competent."

"Don't abandon common sense just because the subject of investment happens to be mining."

SENATOR BRISTOW CALLS DOWN THE POSTOFFICE

HIGHER STANDARDS OF CITIZENSHIP OUR NEED

WAY TO REMEDY FOR ALL POLITICAL ILLS

Less Partisanship and More Thought on Public Questions, Says Ralph C. Ely to the Republican Club.

The need of more careful consideration of public questions; more thoughtful study of public men, for higher standards on the part of the individual citizen toward his party and its leaders; this was the keynote of the address delivered to the Republican club of Albuquerque last night by Hon. Ralph C. Ely of Denver, an address which is conceded to have been one of the strongest ever delivered here. The club rooms of 12th West Silver Avenue were fairly well filled, although theaters and other attractions
kept away many who would otherwise have been present. Mr.
Ely, however, met with a cordial welcome and audience asked as he entered home points after point in a careful thought out, perfectly clear manner to show the imperative need of more attention to our public affairs, to our territory, state and national, on the part of the individual citizen and voter.

"It is a waste of time to send a political speech every year," Mr. Ely said, this nation having attained a point where four years it becomes virulent. But between times we can rest."

"I like to talk politics," he said, in the midst of the campaign. Then one issues are clearly defined. It is nearly before us for what the Republican party stands and for what the democratic party stands and what they will do. But in times like these it is for us to consider carefully and thoughtfully the grave questions which confront the nation."

Mr. Ely went on to refer briefly to the problem of the purchasing price of the dollar; the question of the relationship of labor and capital, the question of how to deal with trusts. He did not undertake to discuss any of these problems, but brought them out merely to bring home a forcible argument that it is the duty of each citizen to study them for himself so that when the political campaign does arise, the individual may side with the party which more nearly represents his own individual convictions.

He was proud, he said, of the achievements of the republican party. He was equally proud of the achievements of the democratic party in the past. They were all the achievements of Americans, but for us of the present day party politics was not a matter of past history but of present conditions and future issues. The party he contended which faced these future issues most squarely and forcefully would prove the dominant party, and rightly so.

From the broad ground that party affiliation could not be maintained or converted rather than by heroism and prejudice, Mr. Ely passed to the question of consideration of public men and political leaders. No man, he said, had his weaknesses and the greater the man the more likely his weaknesses to be emphasized and misunderstood.

He urged thoughtful consideration of charges against public men before condemning them. Much railing, he said, was as popular as gossip, and in a stinging phrase or two he classified them together. But he held with equal firmness that the people had a right and it became their duty to demand the highest standards of the men who hold high political leadership. No leader, he said, who placed personal aggrandizement and personal interest above the interest of these who he led, could hope for a continuation of leadership for any length of time and he predicted freely that it would come to be more and more the case in the United States.

Party choosing its leaders most carefully from the highest classes of men, would gain and hold the confidence of the country.

"I have heard much about harmony," said Mr. Ely, "but harmony can only come with the proper leadership. Harmony at the expense of principle or decency comes at too high a price." The people of New Mexico have a right to demand these things of their leaders."

"If your leaders do not measure up to the standard, it becomes your duty
not to follow them."

He went on to prove with equal force that it is the duty of every citizen to consider carefully and thoughtfully the charges made against public men and to be sure of proof before believing.

"Let us have the best possible
leaders," he said. "Then give them
the best support you can give."

Mr. Ely concluded with some reference to the pending statehood bills and the duties confronting the citizens of New Mexico in the formation of a constitutional government.

He argued against too great haste
in drawing and approving the constitution. Pointing out that it required fourteen years to draw the constitution of the United States, he urged those impatient for immediate statehood and the immediate election of public officials to have a care against too great haste to give time enough to the constitution so that it when completed and adopted we can live under it the rest of our lives and hand it over to our children as a useful document.

He showed that in the framing of the constitution and equally in the problems of establishing the new state of New Mexico has more need of statesmen than of politicians in the general sense accepted by the public. He urged that thought be given first to those principles most likely to give greatest and surest stability to our institutions, then to the character of our leadership. "The party," he said,
"that stands for the best things will win." It was an address in which every sentence carried weight and was heard with deepest attention throughout.

Mr. Ely will find a cordial reception whenever he appears in public here.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman John A. White, who apologized for having called the meeting when there were so many conflicting engagements, but explained that it was the only night when the speakers were available.

He then introduced Mr. H. H.
Sims of Las Cruces, who, before proceeding with his speech, called attention to the presence in the room of the hull of Major Llewellyn of Las Cruces, H. D. Bowman of Las Cruces,
National Committeeman Solomon
Luria and others. Each was requested to say a few words, all declining to make speeches. Mr. Sims then proceeded with his speech, in-terpersed with stories which brought hows of laughter from the audience.
Between stories he scored some sound advice to republicans and particularly to the younger generation to whom he pointed out that political matters now are not of the past but of the present and future and that it is wise to be informed as to what the political world is doing. He said much of the heavy encouragement to the Republican club for its aggressiveness and enterprise and predicted the steady appearance of similar clubs throughout New Mexico. With such organizations, he said, there would be no question of republican supremacy in New Mexico.

The Learned and Lindemann Boys
Band gave several excellent selections
during the evening and a quartette also appeared in the program. The meeting was a success in every way and will serve to increase the interest in future meetings to be held from time to time.

FINE EXHIBIT OF PHOTOGRAPHS AT K. G. HALL

The Witchery of Kodakery is Shown in Splendid Display of Amateur Pictures by Eastman Company.

The Knights of Columbus hall yesterday was the mecca of a large number of amateur photographers, the attraction being the splendid exhibit of amateur work being made by the Eastman Kodak company of Rochester, N. Y., under the auspices of local kodak dealers.

The exhibit contains many beautiful and artistic kodak enlargements
in black and white and royal sepia, attractively arranged upon large screens and extending the entire length of the spacious parlors. Nearly all these enlargements are from photos of amateurs and include many exceptional specimens.

The exhibit and demonstration are of much value as an educational feature to amateurs, demonstrating the new and up-to-date methods for the complete process of taking, developing and finishing a picture in 15 minutes, the process used extensively by the large newspaper offices of the country. Many of the pictures exhibited are enlargements from photos taken by the Brownie camera and the popular Brownie enlargement appa-

ADMINISTRATION MEASURES.

Last reports from Washington tell us that Mr. Taft is taking a very active interest in the status of those bills now before congress which are commonly known as "the administration measures." Representative Townsend has in charge the bill for making amendments to the interstate commerce act, and being called to the White House a few days ago, a long conference in regard to the standing and prospects of this bill ensued, having reference especially to the progress that the measures has made in the committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

It is said that Mr. Townsend informed the president on this occasion that it was the intention of the committee to grant hearings to various interests affected by the bill, and that it would not be possible to report it to the house in less than two weeks, and probably not under three weeks.

Current rumor says, the railway interests having learned that it is the intention of the administration to put the bill through without regard to protests, have concluded to let the measure become a law without the usual fight against it. They have sounded congress, it is said, and have learned enough to satisfy themselves that the republican party in both houses is solidly behind the president in his demands, and that a fight by them against the bill would be very likely to lead to more radical legislation than that which is proposed by the bill as it now stands, hence, unless they change their plan within the next few days they will allow it to go through without saying anything about it. There is some question in the minds of members of the committee as to whether or not electric railroads should be included in the operations of the law, and Mr. Townsend is reported as having said that these roads will have to be dealt with sooner or later, and it might be just as well to begin with them now.

NOT GUILTY.

So far as the price of meat is concerned, the present tariff, like Tony Weller, can take advantage of the "allergy." Under the Dingley tariff law, the duty on hams and bacon was five cents per pound, while under the present law, it is only four cents per pound. Under the Dingley act the duty on all kinds of fresh meats was two cents per pound, while under the present law it is only one and a half cents per pound. The duty on live stock remains the same as before. The rise in the price of fresh and salt meats within the past year has been two or three times the amount of the duty. Now, if the tariff is responsible for the rise in prices, the increase must have been during or prior to the life of the Dingley act. To lay the increase to the present tariff law, when the tariff has been lowered, is childish nonsense, but it is no more false or nonsensical than the general run of free-trade arguments.

TO LOAD IT ON THE GOAT.

The average reader will probably not agree with the following from the Boston Post, but at the same time the average reader will be forced to admit that it is what Mr. Greeley would have called "highly interesting reading," and though he may concur in the sentiment, he will sigh at the irony of the author of himself. The Post says:

A noticeable sign of the times is the disposition upon the part of the republican statesmen to make a good of Gove Jim Curtis that amiable and amorous general. All the verbal and antagonistic talents of the proslavery politicians are grouped together under the generic name of Curtisism. Even Mr. Aldrich seems content at times to pose as Uncle Joe's helpless sort, forced to do his errands bidding. As for the rank and file, the rascals and scoundrels, they frankly resign all claim to separate entity. Their crimes of omission are laid to the Danville tyrant, and will contrast him in the public mind with those of Curtis' trumpeted words.

Cong. 200 has all the qualities of a successful goat. There is even some dim suggestion of the mettlesome animal in his physical aspect. He has the beard that goes with the species; he has a gaudy gold; there is even a hint of goat-herd in his long-mane mane.

On the physical side the simulating gatheres strength, for Joe shows the world how, the imperial courage, the talent for tyranny of all healthy goats. A goat has been known to deviate himself calmly to the camp in the presence of a lion. In the same fashion Joe sneers away in the gay afternoons while Murdoch roars and flaps his wings and La Follette, at the other end of the capital, sweeps for the plain people. When his nap is over he quietly reaches out, knicks a few heads together and then goes to sleep again.

Guthrood belongs to Joe by tradition as well as election. He is naturally goutish, with a healthy appetite, a keen sense of humor and no fear of the devil. He thirsts for dissipation, no other man joins for praise. The lamentations of the insurgents make music to his ears. He would rather be the head of the most sinful political party in human history, and burdened with all its interminable infelicities and misdeemours, than superintendent of the largest Sunday school in America.

A STAND-OFF.

Judge G. A. Richardson, Mayor of Howell, is thoroughly convinced that the Morning Journal is in error as to what should go into the constitution of the state of New Mexico. And the Morning Journal is just as thoroughly convinced that Judge G. A. Richardson, Mayor of Howell, is equally in error in regard to what should go into the constitution of the state of New Mexico.

This makes it a stand-off, the one neutralizing the other, and therefore, in the matter of framing a constitution for the state of New Mexico, the people will have to grope along without the valuable advice of either of us.

HIPS TO BE IN STYLE AGAIN.

A Washington special tells us that hope gleamed once more on the confidence of 2,000 straight-fronted women who gazed at the new style corsets displayed at the National Clotheshop there at the Arlington hotel. The owners of the hipless, buttonless, blemishless forms saw that the feminine waist line is again coming into its own. Faint protuberances indicated that hips and busts will again be de riguer.

Every woman at the show listened in captures to the talk of the lady exhibitor in charge of the corseta.

"Dr. Lovett of the Harvard Medical School is right in declaring that corsets of the right kind are helpful for modern women," she said. "No woman need have a bow back, a bulging stomach or a flat chest if she wears the right kind of corsets. The day of the cruse for the straight up and down in feminine figures has passed. You'll see hips and busts this spring."

HE WANTS TO FIND OUT.

Senator Brewster has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for a special election by the women of New York State to decide whether they wish the ballot.

There may be reasons, legal and political, says the World, why such a vote is inadvisable—though Mr. Brewster is a good lawyer and something of a politician. But one would suppose that women suffragists would jump at the chance to stand up and be counted.

No Bull Against Halleys Comet.

The statement that Pope Calixtus III issued a papal bull against the Halleys comet in the fifteenth century, which is found in most of the astronomical works, is a fabrication.

The famous Epius' move of Galileo (which the Pisan scientist did not alter, but which is attributed to him because he might have said it) and others an edifying example of the transmutation of a text may undergo when it comes the germ of the story of the war against the Turks.

The first printed edition of the story is found according to G. P. Chambers in the Annals of the Bureau of Longitudes for 1822, and is from the pen of Aragon, who cites no authority, relates that Pope Calixtus was so frightened by the comet that he ordered public prayers to be offered in all the churches and that an moon every day except the Turks were excommunicated.

Some that time this legend has been repeated with divers variants by a horde of astronomical writers belonging essentially to the species called popularists, probably without any of them having an idea of asking what the source might be. One has seen that the source might be the New York Herald.

Indeed here and abroad will be greatly interested in and not a little surprised at the engagement announced yesterday by Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander of her daughter, Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, and Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., eldest son of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. While young Mr. Roosevelt has frequently been a guest at the entertainments of the queen, there has never been a rumor of an engagement.

They do not, Mrs. Mackay sarcastically asks what difference her opinion would make, as she is only a woman. Mrs. Blatch says: "It is merely a trick of the opponents of suffrage to postpone action. They know already that the majority of women demand franchise."

They do not know this. No one knows what the majority of women desire. Mr. Brewster does not know.

Mrs. Blatch cannot possibly know. It would be interesting to find out. All that is needed is to write the ballot for women to prove that they want it.

Roosevelt, and she frequently visited the White House.

While no date has been mentioned for the wedding, it will not take place before the return in June of Colonel Roosevelt from his shooting trip in Africa.

One of the common drinking exp on railroad trains, in railroad stations, in the public and private schools of Wisconsin, is prohibited by a rule of the state board of health, which upon official publication will have the force of a law. The rule will be submitted to the attorney general for approval before being used in the official state paper.

Grip is again epidemic in New York city, and is bringing in its train an increased death rate. It finds as usual, rest resistance in systems untouched by chronic trouble of the heart, respiratory organs or kidneys. Every district in the city yields its quota of victims.

Will the Panama Canal Be Too Narrow?

The lock canal at Panama is in some parts, and for a total distance of three and one-eighth miles, only 119 feet wide.

Once built, these three and one-eighth miles of narrow channels between solid walls cannot be widened, unless demolished first and rebuilt after years of interruption of service, at a cost more than prohibitive; thus limiting, perhaps forever, the size of vessels to that narrow dimension of 119 feet.

In this connection it must be noted that naval architects are now considering battleships of over 198 feet total width; that Germany is making the locks of the Kiel canal 217 feet wide, with unlimited length; that the locks we are building at St. Mary's Falls for our Indian navigations between lakes will be 146 feet wide; and yet we are building this great maritime highway, not between lakes, but between oceans, not for one country, but for continents; not for a few years, but for centuries, only 119 feet wide. Too narrow before it is even finished for vessels now under construction.

The proposed sea-level canal will be in absolutely no place less than 159 feet wide at the bottom and 210 feet at its water level in its narrowest part. A sea-level canal, built at first of that or whatever other width, can be at any time enlarged to any width and depth that future conditions of navigation may require, without interfering or even inconveniencing the service, and, above all, without destroying any pre-existing part. This has been done at the Suez sea-level canal without interrupting navigation, and, it may be added, out of surplus earnings after paying 25 per cent dividend annually. It is intended it will be gradually enlarged to keep up with the ever-increasing dimensions of marine architecture.

In a sea-level canal of Panama this gradual enlargement of the waterway could be done with extreme economy, on account of the great quantity of excavating machinery that will remain on the ground, after its completion, and which can be utilized—or continued—in operations—without further capital disbursement.

This facility of gradually enlarging the sea-level canal, whenever needed, gives it a desirable element of perpetuity not to be found in the lock canal.—Julio F. Sarzano in Van Nostrand's Magazine.

Indeed here and abroad will be greatly interested in and not a little surprised at the engagement announced yesterday by Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander of her daughter,

Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, and

Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., eldest son of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. While young Mr. Roosevelt has frequently been a guest at the entertainments of the queen, there has never been a rumor of an engagement.

They do not, Mrs. Mackay sarcastically asks what difference her opinion would make, as she is only a woman. Mrs. Blatch says: "It is merely a trick of the opponents of suffrage to postpone action. They know already that the majority of women demand franchise."

They do not know this. No one

knows what the majority of women

desire. Mr. Brewster does not know.

Mrs. Blatch cannot possibly know.

It would be interesting to find out.

All that is needed is to write the ballot for women to prove that they want it.

They do not know this. No one

knows what the majority of women

desire. Mr. Brewster does not know.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 14.—The principal feature of the stock market today was its return, in large part, into the hands of the professional element.

The element had been impressed on Friday with assertions put in circulation regarding the contents of President Taft's speech, then in prospect for Saturday night. The perusal of the speech disclosed no sign of the re-tractions which had been broadly insinuated in the press. Friday's report and the professional element in stocks promptly retraced the steps they had taken Friday before the two-day holiday interval in the market. This was the cause of marking back of prices from 1 to over 3 points in the opening transactions in stocks.

The stabilizing effect on prices and the scanty offerings of stocks caused fresh intimidation to the bear party and they sought to cover with increasing energy. The shrinkage in the volume of today's transactions demonstrated the small selling pressure at any of the day's price levels.

Foreign markets had held Friday's price level for American stocks better than was done when the New York stock market opened. Foreign banking bears testimony to an appreciable growth of foreign trade for corporation bonds, outside the ordinary channels of the stock market.

Western railroad traffic officials reported a large tonnage moving, but took pains to give credit to December averages for their part in the showing. Northern Pacific's December earnings statement bore testimony to the severe effects of the storm blockade, in addition to the switchmen's strike in that territory.

The described activity of the market is referred to the purpose to await more explicit information on sundry subjects.

With the receipt of the supreme court's opinion on the weekly conjecture on a possible decision in the American Tobacco case is expected to reassess influence. The large deliveries of copper into consumption during January are regarded as being due to the fact that in an agreement among producers to restrict output there is apprehension that this buying of stocks will curtail the later demand for that metal. CURING CATARRH

Accept Our Advice and Try this Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is one way, say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been affected ceases to perform its normal function as it were intended it should. The result is good health upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Regal Muco-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy will entitle one to believe.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Regal Muco-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistency for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or reticence we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is the kind of faith in our product that anyone could make and without affect our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store. The J. H. O'Reilly Co.
