AMERICANS TO BE MADE SURE OF EXECUTION OF BANDIT LEADERS

Mortal Remains of Generals Rodriguez and Rivas Are to Be Brought to Juarez, Says Commander.

MORMONS REFUSE TO LEAVE CHIHUAHUA

Many Citizens of United States Remain in Mexico and Some Who Flew to Border Are Now Going Back Into Danger.

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] Juarez, Mex., Jan. 15.—A committee to regulate the cost of living here by the fixing of prices and profits was appointed today by Gen. Gabriel Gavira, Carranza commander, who also announced that the bodies of Jose Rodriguez and General Rivas, Villa chiefs, shot at the battle of Carrizal had been defeated at Pearson, would reach the border in a day or two, so Americans might verify the report of their execution.

Patience Is Advised.

"The American people should be patient," said General Gavira. "We shall soon have entire control of the situation. Arguedo, the bandit in southern Sonora has only 1,800 men. We have many thousands at Carrizal, a regiment of troops from Sonora is proceeding westward, under command of Col. Jose Quevedo, of the Mexican garrison of Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz.

Mormons Stay in Mexico.

Mormons in Chihuahua state do not intend to come to the United States, in deference to the advice and counsel of the American government, according to Mexican officials, who received advice tonight stating that the colonists, numbering about 500, were to concentrate under protection of Carranza's garrisons, stationed at Casas Grandes and other points, until the country is cleared of bandits.

Bandits Still a Menace.

Nevertheless, it was manifest that in El Paso, a fear existed that the bandits, who, managed by Carranza, Americans last Monday were still in the neighborhood of Santa Ysabel, awaiting an opportunity to perpetrate further outrages.

There was great uncertainty also regarding the number of Mexicans operating under the orders of the outlawed Francisco Villa and his lieutenant, Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commanding the Carranza forces said to be operating against the bandits.

Federal action over the bodies of two of the three remaining victims of Monday's tragedy will be held tomorrow.

C. D. Watson, manager of the Cuzal Mining company, who was robbed of $10,000 by the bandits here, he was killed, will be interred here. Services for R. P. Macfation will occur this afternoon. The parents of Macfation

NEW PAPAL NUNCIO TO VIENNA TO BE NAMED

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] Rome, Jan. 15 (10:30 p. m.)—It is reported that Monsignor Eugenio Pacelli, secretary of the department of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs at the Vatican, will be appointed papal nuncio to Vienna. The present nuncio, Monsignor Fiaffice Scapinelli, was created cardinal by Pope Benedict at the secret consistory in December and although it is believed he would continue in his diplomatic position, it is rumored that he may soon be recalled to Rome to be put at the head of one of the sacred Roman congregations.

Cardinal Mercier, the Belgian primate, who arrived today, was recipient of the greatest manifestations of homage and sympathy. Letters, telegrams, addresses and cards arrived by the thousands, while his modest apartment the Belgian college was filled with flowers, many coming from anonymous admirers.

GOVERNMENT IS CRITICIZED FOR GRAVE NEGLIGENCE

University of Illinois Has 2,250 Young Men in Cadet Brigade and Can Get Only One Army Officer to Assist.

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] New York, Jan. 15.—President Edmund J. James, of the University of Illinois, colonel of the largest cadet regiment in the United States, appealed to the New York alumni association of the University of Illinois at the annual banquet here tonight, to stand by him and the trustees in their efforts to secure the resignation of the federal government, which is in fact a brigade, the most efficient organization of its kind in the world.

He charged the federal government with gross neglect of its duty towards this work. The state of Illinois has erected at the university an officers' club, which can be used for a training school and a building as headquarters for a battery of field artillery. The university in its turn requires all freshman and sophomore male students to spend three hours per week in military drill.

GOETHALS TO ISSUE STATEMENT ON CANAL

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] Panama, Jan. 15.—Major General George W. Goethals, governor of the canal, is expected to issue a statement relative to the condition of the Panama canal with special reference to the opening of the waterway to light draft vessels at an early date. The statement is expected to be made public just before General Goethals starts for Washington on January 27, where he goes to appear before congressional committees regarding the Panama canal, troops, fortifications and appropriations.

REAL BLOCKADE OF TEUTON PORTS WOULD LEGALLY BE JUSTIFIABLE

Washington Sees No Objection Under International Law to New Policy Announced by British Admiralty.

WOULD REMOVE CONSTANT SOURCES OF IRRITATION

United States Note of Protest Against Orders-in-council to Be Forwarded to London by Secretary Lansing.

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] Washington, Jan. 15.—Enforcement by Great Britain of an actual blockade of the Teutonic ports would, in the opinion of officials here, remove from the field of controversy several international factors which have led to much diplomatic correspondence and much misunderstanding on the part of the public.

One of these is the question that now remains unanswered as to the right of a neutral state to ship to Germany or her allies any goods not prohibited by law. Once a blockade was declared there could be no legal question of the right of the blockading fleet to keep everything out of the enemy's ports.

EFFECTIVE BLOCKADE OF GERMANY VITAL

London, Jan. 16.—Much space is devoted in the Sunday Times to the question of the blockade. A member of parliament, Carlton Bellairs, in a two-column article, accuses the Foreign Office of having been responsible for the failure of the blockade by showing too much consideration for neutrals. The Sunday Times, in editorial comment, says:

"The blockades of Germany can only become an effective weapon when we exert the power we already possess, and decline to allow neutral nations to receive more than a rational allowance based on their actual national requirements of previous years. If it be said that by putting stringency into being, we hurt the feelings of interests of neutral nations, our answer, apart from the examples set by the belligerent nations in the past, is that the lives of the men who are fighting for freedom in four quarters of the globe, are more to be studied than profits and commerce of comfortable citizens of countries at peace."

FORD PEACE PARTY IS HOMEWARD BOUND

[BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE] The Hague, Jan. 15 (via London, 9 p. m.)—The American members of the Ford peace mission, except those associated with the permanent peace board, sailed from Rotterdam today aboard the steamer Rotterdam for New York. A great crowd assembled on the wharves and cheered as the steamer departed. Among those bidding farewell to the visitors were citizens of Norway, Sweden and Denmark, through which countries the Americans had travelled on their peace mission during the past six weeks.

SOCORRO MINERS ARE GIVEN DRUBBING BY SILVER CITY NORMALS

Silver City, N. M., Jan. 15.—The state normal school basketball team defeated the Socorro Normal school basketball team today in a game which was one of the most exciting ever played in the state. The score was 48 to 4. The Miners made only one field goal, the other two points having been gained on free throws. Coffey and Laughram starred for the Normal. The line-ups of the teams follow: Miners—Forwards, Wilson and McKinley; center, Fahrenwald; guards, Montoya and Bishop. Normals—Forwards, Coffey and Gillette; center, Dunlop; guards, Laughram, Blood and Coulson.

WOOLGROWERS TO SEND LOBBY TO WASHINGTON

National Convention Goes on Record for Scientific Tariff Commission to Take Matter Out of Politics.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Salt Lake City, U. Jan. 15.—Delegates to the National Wool Growers' convention subscribed a fund of $10,000 today to send a committee to Washington to work for legislation that will obtain results more satisfactory to wool growers in the administration of grazing areas of the west and for a non-partisan commission.

Resolutions adopted ask congress to amend existing tariff laws on sugar, wool and other products through a non-partisan tariff commission. The department of agriculture is urged to require that all imports of wool and other animal products from countries where the foot and mouth and other animal diseases prevail be sterilized or excluded and similar action by the various states is required. Referring to the prevalence of ticks among coyotes in the west, the convention by resolution asks congress to appropriate $500,000 at once to be used by the biological survey in the eradication of predatory wild animals.

Would Classify Public Domain. Legislation that will enable the department of the interior to classify the remaining public domain as between agricultural and grazing lands and to withdraw the grazing areas from agricultural entry is also requested. The secretary of the interior is asked to establish trails for the movement of livestock from summer to winter ranges.

The convention went on record in the matter of water power sites by declaring itself in favor of a broad and economic policy for the use of water for all purposes authorized by the local laws on the subject and the development of land of the western part of the public domain conforming with the long-established and sound policy of the United States as being opposed to making direct revenue therefrom, beyond the expense of surveying, classifying and disposing of them.

Officers of the organization were elected as follows: E. J. Haenbarth, Salt Lake City, president; A. J. Knoll, Chicago, secretary; H. C. H. Heard, Phoenix, Ariz., vice president; J. P. Cooper, Flagstaff, Ariz., western vice president; S. W. McClure, Salt Lake City, secretary; F. D. Miracel, Helena, Mont., treasurer.

The following executive committee was elected: H. C. H. Heard, Ariz.; J. P. Cooper, Ariz.; F. A. Kellwood, California; Nathan Hicks, Idaho; W. C. Coffey, Illinois; E. O. Selway, Montana; A. E. Kimball, Nevada; P. Miller, New Mexico; J. N. Burgess, Oregon; F. R. Rock, South Dakota; Thomas Austin, Utah; H. S. Coffin, Washington; and Joseph Kenney, Wyoming.

THIRD FIRE DAMAGES AETNA EXPLOSIVE WORKS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 15.—The third fire in two weeks today damaged the Aetna Explosive company's plant, ten miles east of here, causing a loss of $15,000. A large quantity of unfinished powder and machinery were destroyed. It is not believed that the fires were of incendiary origin but were due to the carelessness of inexperienced workmen.

ATLAS POWDER COMPANY HAS $25,000 DAMAGE

It is declared that King Nicholas and his army and people will continue to fight until the last man.

CHILDREN USE BOMB AS PLAYTHING; 10 DEAD

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Cologne, Jan. 15 (via London, Jan. 16, 2:54 a. m.)—Ten children who were playing in a gravel pit near the local station grounds, were killed today by an air bomb. The children found the unexploded bomb and were playing with it when it exploded. The debris in the vicinity of the area on field had been repeatedly searched after bombs had been dropped by the aeroplanes. It is probable that the bomb found by the children had been driven into the ground and only became exposed by the heavy rains of the last few days.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR HAUSER, IS JURY'S VERDICT

Man Who Murdered Cashier of Woodmen of World, Predicts His Fate Before Trial in Omaha Is Ended.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Omaha, Neb., Jan. 15.—A jury in the district court tonight returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Arthur Hauser, charged with the murder of W. H. Smith, cashier of the Woodmen of the World, on the night of October 16, 1915.

Hauser was sentenced to life imprisonment. Attorneys for the defense gave notice of appeal. The verdict was returned after seven hours deliberation. Hauser, his attorneys, court attendants and newspaper men were the only persons in the court room when the verdict was read.

Hauser was charged with having shot and killed Smith during an attempted holdup when the latter refused to hold up his hands.

Miss Grace Slater, an employe of the Woodmen of the World, who was with Smith when he was murdered, was the state's chief witness. Miss Slater positively identified Hauser as the murderer before and during the trial.

The case was given to the jury at 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon. At that time Hauser, who had asked that the verdict be acquittal of first degree murder, turned to his attorneys and said: "The jury will not deliberate long. Their verdict will be guilty."

The prisoner's aged mother, wife and two children attended him during the trial. They were seated near him when he predicted the verdict.

Hauser had served a term in the penitentiary. He was alleged to have been guilty of minor offenses in several cities for which the police wanted him. At the trial he broke down once and wept as he pleaded with the jury to sentence him to death or acquit him. During the remainder of the trial he preserved an unusual calm.

The killing of Smith precipitated a sensation here and in Woodmen of the World circles elsewhere. The allegation that the murderer had increased Miss Slater increased the feeling against the prisoner.

GETS BACK STOCK BUT MUST PAY BIG FEE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Chicago, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Lorette F. Spreen, who sued Henry M. Walker, an attorney, to recover 500,000 shares of stock in the Morgan Mines company, which has mines in Washington, gets back her stock but must pay Mr. Walker $900 attorney's fees, according to a decision by Judge Baldwin in the district court today.

Mrs. Spreen alleged that Walker, when he learned that she owned a mine, persuaded her to organize a mining company capitalized at $2,500,000, she to receive $1,750,000 worth of stock, $250,000 to be treasury stock, while he Walker was to receive 500,000 shares for selling the treasury stock.

Mrs. Spreen further charged that the attorney took the 200,000 shares but made no effort to sell the treasury stock and that he refused to give them up.

HUDSON MAXIM WARNS COUNTRY OF DANGER AHEAD

Any of Europe's Great Nations, When War Is Over, Will Have Millions of Trained Soldiers.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New Haven, Conn., Jan. 15.—Danger of foreign aggression will confront the United States after the European war, no matter which side wins, Hudson Maxim, member of the naval advisory board declared in an address before the chamber of commerce here tonight. He made an appeal for a larger army and navy, declaring that any of the great foreign nations now at war would "have available several millions of war-trained veterans for a trial at arms with us."

"When the great war is over, whichever side wins, there will be sure to arise between the winners and ourselves serious complications to be adjusted," Mr. Maxim said. "Either Germany or England would have a navy far superior to our own and, consequently, could not successfully be opposed by our navy. Our enemy would be able to land upon our shores at least a quarter million men inside of a month, and after that continually bring reinforcements at the rate of 250,000 a month if they should happen to be required. Our little, poorly equipped army would not be able to offer resistance enough to make a ripple in the line of the enemies' advance. Our army would be just about one good day's killing."

If the enemy landed at either New York or Boston, the speaker said, they would be able in two weeks to capture the area in which the great arsenals, navy yards and munition factories of the country are situated.

Continuing, he said: "These are two ways that are proposed for our salvation. The way that our army and navy men propose and the way that every American who has made a scientific study of the subject of national defense proposes, is adequately to prepare ourselves with a navy big enough and powerful enough successfully to stand against any other navy in the world, and an army big enough and provided with guns and ammunition enough to save the country from the horror of defeat."

"Adequate preparation made in time of peace not only insures the safety of the country if war should come, but also it equally insures against the coming of war. History has taught no surer lesson than that wealth and defenselessness form an indictment posted on the wall of every home for an avicious enemy to break and enter."

VILLA MEN ONLY DEPORTED FROM EL PASO YESTERDAY

Police Escort "Undesirables" to Station Where They Purchase Tickets to California and Board Train.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) El Paso, Tex., Jan. 15.—Miguel Diaz Lombardo, minister of foreign relations in the defunct Villa government of Mexico, who never accepted amnesty, and who was said to have been deported from this city two days ago, did not leave El Paso for Los Angeles until 10 o'clock last night, according to police.

With him a group of Villa military and civilian adherents were escorted to the train by police officials. Although they had tickets for points in California, it was not believed by the police here that all of them would continue to their destinations.

It was said that more than 200 Villa adherents fled from El Paso upon learning that the police were rounding up the remnants of the party and in this manner they escaped deportation.

The departure of Lombardo, announced as of Thursday afternoon, was delayed on the advice of his physician, who declared Lombardo was very ill and could not travel.

Star Who Won't Be "Fashion Plate." It isn't often that an exceptionally charming actress will consent to play parts which put her charms into the shadows.

Francis Bushman, Football Star.

In order to get the proper atmosphere in a real setting for a football game, Francis X. Bushman and five other boys journeyed to Charlottesville, Va., with their company, where they participated in a real game on the University of Virginia campus.

It Doesn't Always Pay to be Fastidious.

This a young actor, much interested in New Gerber, has discovered in his advertising sorrow.

J. Warren Kerrigan remains one of the popular idols of the silent drama.

He has just left the Broadway-University and henceforth will be counted among the stars of the Blue Bird Photo Plays Inc., a new company.

The Gaumont company has been looking for baritone dancers, and has engaged Miss Yvonne Chapelle, whose voice is beautiful.

NEW BUSINESS SPANISH CLASS MONDAY EVENING

Professor Terrogrosa Will Organize a New Class for Beginners at Albuquerque Business College January 17.

ORIENTAL RUG OF FINE TEXTURE FRONTS BIG STORE

Rosenwald Brothers Create Interest by Unique Demonstration on Central Avenue Sidewalk.

The last opportunity for those desiring to take up a course in Business Spanish in the evening school, during the present winter months, will be on Monday night.

Mr. Terrogrosa came to Albuquerque direct from Mexico City, where for a number of years he taught classes in Business Spanish and salesmanship in the foreign language.

Demars to Murgrove Suit.

Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—Attorney General Frank W. Clancy today filed a demurrer in the district court to the suit for $45,000 damages by V. C. Murgrove against J. R. Demars.

Children Sent to Orphanage.

Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—District Judge E. C. Abbott has sent nine indigent children to the St. Anthony's orphanage at Albuquerque, for whom the county must pay $10 a head, per month.

To demonstrate the quality and fastness of colorings, Rosenwald Brothers have placed on the sidewalk in front of their big department store a "Royal Oriental Rug" of the finest quality and most charming coloring.

This rug has just been received direct from the manufacturer in the east, and noted rug connoisseurs have pronounced it the most perfect Oriental rug that has ever been produced.

The class which was organized by Mr. Terrogrosa last October has made very rapid progress.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Better Than Calomel and Can Not Salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quick-silver.

Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your blood, dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your drug dealer sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loosens you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

YOUNG BUSINESS MEN Every young man who starts a bank account and maintains it, is doing something that will surely raise his standing in the community and show that he is "making good."

YOU CAN YET JOIN THE CHRISTMAS BANKING CLUB

The First Savings Bank and Trust company will still permit you to join their "Christmas Banking club." They have already a big membership and will add on more members.

To join the club you only need to put in a nickel the first week—just a nickel. Then you increase your deposit a nickel each week.

It certainly is sure about how these small sums put in week after week regularly amount to such big sums.

Many people who have never banked their money before have taken so much interest in this savings plan that they have made their payments a long time ahead.

It is a good thing for our community that our people are learning the banking habit. The one who saves his money will work harder because at the end of the year he will have a net result for his labor and this will stimulate him to greater effort.

We have a humble lesson in the bee. When it is blossom time the bee works hard, dipping its bill in the blossoms and sucking out the small particles of sweets.

In just this way you can have money—put in a little at the time regularly every week. Then when next Christmas comes you can have money in the bank just as the bee has money in the hive.

This "Christmas Banking club" idea is a winner and it is easy to be a beginner. It takes only a nickel or

SPANISH PLAY AT AUDITORIUM MAKES BIG HIT

Splendid Talent Exhibited by High School Students Under Direction of Miss Dickson; Big Crowd Present.

That the study of Spanish in the Albuquerque high school under Miss Margaret Dickson is one of the most important of all the branches of educational activity in the schools of the city, and that this department of the school is being conducted in a manner to please the most exacting, was amply demonstrated by the rendition of the Spanish play, "Zoraida," at the auditorium last night.

There were few vacant seats in the hall when the curtain rose on the first act of the play, and the pleasure of the audience was evidenced by many outbreaks and the ripple of laughter that stirred the crowd throughout the performance. Miss Dickson had drilled the students not only in their Spanish but in their acting, and the success of the play is a tribute not only to her ability but to her versatility.

It would be unfair as well as difficult to undertake to list the special praise on the members of the cast. Every one who took part did well. Even the minor characters were portrayed in a manner that would have done credit to much more experienced players.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Jennie Trot, rendered excellent music in connection with the performance.

Baseball Peace to Cut Into the Salary of the Mighty Speaker

TRIS SPEAKER.
Boston, Jan. 15.—Tris Speaker, the star outfielder who assisted Charles Lamun to win the American league pennant and the world's championship for the Red Sox, will be the first to feel the salary axe, as a result of the declaration of peace between the Reds and the older leagues. Speaker was drawing $15,000 a year for doing little more than the job in the Red Sox outfield and the report says that this will be decreased materially, but fails to say just how much. Speaker has not yet signed for next season.

BREAKFAST WOODS

O, the Cold and Cruel Winter!
O, the Long and Dreary Winter!
When football players cease to play
And experts all have had their say,
There comes a time of woe and pain—
The baseball experts start again.

The Cubs we read, are in the market for trades. By the use of diplomacy and a little force, Mr. Thomas may be able to trade the grandstand to a junk dealer.

CONNIE MACK.
The Cub stand is that it stands.

Playing football for Syracuse University is a pleasant occupation if you like to sleep in Pullman cars.

Connie Mack is out after new material for his ball club. He will go to any expense as long as it doesn't cost anything.

"What's the matter," asks a connoisseur, "with Chicago's ice skaters?" Nothing aside from the fact that there ain't no ice.

It is rumored that Michigan hockey will be placed on a level with Michigan football. Somebody in Ann Arbor evidently has a grudge against hockey.

Football, we understand, will be abolished at Carlisle. Aside from football, why is Carlisle?

One of our valued acquaintances writing about pugilism calls Joe Rivers a Spaniard-American lightweight. What has he got against Joe?

We presume that a member of the Carlisle team would be called an American-American football player.

"Nobody will stop me," says Ford, who evidently does not realize that there are traffic cops on the other side.

Harry Wills outpointed Sam Langford the other night. It is a good thing for Harry that Sam has a pleasant disposition.

Freddie Welsh and Charlie White will not be allowed to fight in New Haven, the chief of police arguing that the students can't furnish enough rough-house stuff.

We are willing to believe the report that Welsh and White will not fight in New Haven. We also believe that they will not fight in Warsaw, Tokio, Vladivostok, Sitka or Shanghai.

Freddie Welsh is not particular who he fights, if his private tastes were consulted he would fight in one of the United States states.

Hockey is a rough game for player and spectator alike. If you play it you get sapped on the head with a bewitched stick. If you watch it you freeze to death.

But there won't be any peace for me next summer when the peanut peddlers walk upon my feet.

"Boxster" is a monstrous word, but whenever a press agent uses it to describe a wrestling tournament it fits.

"Joe Stecher" writes an expert is a tonic to the mat game. What we ask candidly in the "Masked Marvel" to the mat game?

We hope there is no truth in the report that Milwaukee will get the Willard-Fulton match. We were born in Milwaukee and love the old town still.

The "Masked Marvel" having been lured from his father's farm was about to make his first public appearance as a wrestler. Being nervous, he said to his managers: "I don't know anything about the wrestling game." "Never mind," replied his manager. "I do."

DAN SHAY OF BLUES GETS THREE PLAYERS FROM CUBS MANAGER.
Chicago, Jan. 15.—Delegates to the annual meeting of the American Baseball association adjourned tonight to meet in Columbus, Ohio, on February 26, at which time the schedule for the coming season will be adopted.

A resolution has been introduced fixing a fine of $100 on any club that postpones for any reason whatever any regularly scheduled game, the purpose being to force the playing of every game and avoid postponements on posttexts.

It was announced tonight by Dan Shay, of the Kansas City club, that he had closed a deal with Joe Tinker, manager of the Cubs, by which he secured three of the latter's players. The three are C. Beck, first baseman; Al Rhodin, second baseman; and "Hubbale" Harrgrave, catcher. The price for the men, he said, was $7,500.

'DAMAGED GOODS' TO BE SEEN AT CRYSTAL THEATER WEDNESDAY

The management of the Crystal theater has announced for next Wednesday, the 19th, a pictured version of "Damaged Goods," a play that started the entire continent and set men and women all over the world to thinking upon a most serious subject.

The lesson taught by "Damaged Goods" is a most powerful one, and one that should be taken to heart by every thinking person everywhere. It has been taken up by press and pulpit and the play is perhaps the best known and most widely discussed drama that has been produced in the United States in the last generation. "Damaged Goods" will be shown at the Crystal one day only, at matinee and night shows next Wednesday.

BRIEF MARRIED CHAPTER OF HER LIFE IS ERASED

The district court yesterday closed the book on the short and sad romance of Mrs. Jessie Diamond and her former husband, Jack Diamond, with whom she lived less than a week. Her maiden name was Jessie Bailey.

Jack Diamond came here just before the state fair. He passed himself off to Miss Bailey as a friend, whom she had known in girlhood, according to her complaint, and on the opening day of the state fair, October 11, they were married at 611 Albuquerque. On October 16, Diamond deserted her, she said.

Diamond answered in his complaint that she believes Diamond was an impostor.

Another Wife Freed of Marriage.
Another wife was relieved of legal ties yesterday by Judge Reynolds. She was Mrs. Della Richard and is now Miss Della Metcalf. Her husband was Julius Richards, Jr., who was said to be living at Chokolale, Ariz., at the time of the filing of her complaint. He did not appear to contest her suit.

This plaintiff's married life also was brief, although not as short as that of Mrs. Diamond. She was married May 15, 1913, at Tucson, and Richards abandoned her July 5, of the same year, according to her complaint.

The case of the commissioners of Bernalillo county against the Fenwick company was dismissed. The case arose in a road question, the county seeking to open a highway through the Bernabe Montana grant. The commissioners directed the dropping of the case some time ago.

Hubbell Estate Case Dismissed.
The appeal made by the First National bank and Matzeuma Trust company upon decision made by the probate court in the estate of Thomas S. Hubbell was dismissed. The decision exempted to allow the widow $100 a month for six months for maintenance and granted exemption. The appeal was filed in the district court in 1912.

Washington, Jan. 15.—At the end of the fourth week's competition in the National inter-club indoor rifle championship the First club of Bridgeport, Conn., is leading with a total score of 2,577. Kings Mills, O., is second with 2,352 and Bucyrus, O., third, with 2,341.

KLEIN HEARING NOT TO BE HELD TOMORROW NIGHT

The hearing of Chief Jacob Klein upon charges preferred by Mayor Boardman will not be held before Thursday or Friday. John Venable, the mayor's personal counsel, said yesterday that he had argued a case before the state supreme court at Santa Fe early this week and would not be ready to proceed with the Klein fight before the council until Thursday or Friday. He sent City Clerk Thomas Hughes notice to this effect.

The hearing was set by the council for Monday night. Even had Mr. Venable been able to be present at that time it is not absolutely certain that the case would have been started then. At the last meeting, when informed by both Mr. Venable and Judge W. C. Benavoc, representing Chief Klein, as to how long the examination of witnesses would take all the afternoon with one exception, they affirmed their willingness to hold an afternoon session. Mr. Hammond was the exception. An afternoon meeting was suggested by the attorney. Desire was manifested that all councilmen should be present at the hearing.

GOLF AMATEURS CANNOT SELL SUPPLIES, RULING

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Chicago, Jan. 15.—New restrictions upon the activities of golf amateurs were adopted here today by the executive committee of the United States Golf association. The ruling brings the golf amateur to the plane of experts in track and field athletics so far as getting indirect profits as a result of proficiency in the game is concerned. Under it amateurs are prohibited from accepting or holding any position as agent or employee that includes as part of its duties the handling of golf supplies, or engaging in any business where their usefulness or profits arise because of skill or prominence in the game of golf.

BETTER WAY SUGGESTED FOR CENSORING FILMS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Washington, Jan. 15.—A law to prohibit the transportation of objectionable motion picture films through mails was suggested by film manufacturers at a hearing before the house education committee as a substitute for the pending Hughes-Smith bill for federal censorship of pictures. The manufacturers contended that the censorship machinery proposed in the bill was so cumbersome that it would halt the industry for months.

ENEMY WILL BE DRIVEN AWAY IS TURKISH BELIEF

Constantinople Has No Doubt of Ability of Ottoman Army to Clear Gallipoli Peninsula of Allied Invaders.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Constantinople, Jan. 15.—The withdrawal of a large portion of the allied troops on the Gallipoli peninsula has been almost coincident with the arrival at the Turkish front of heavy German and Austrian batteries, which are so formidable that the people of Constantinople believe there is no longer the slightest doubt as to the ability of the Ottoman army to clear the peninsula of the invaders.

As pointed out in previous dispatches, the lack of sufficient artillery and ammunition proved at times a sore problem for the Turkish troops. The Turkish artillery fire-arms were weak, and the allied warships were able to take the Turkish positions under the most gallant fire without running the slightest risk.

Believe Fate L. Sealoff.

The installment of the heavy German and Austrian guns will make it necessary for the British monitors, torpedo boats and cruisers to keep at a respectful distance after this. With the allied trenches also exposed to the fire of heavy mortars, it is declared that the fate of the British and French troops on the Gallipoli peninsula is sealed. In fact, say the Turkish authorities, to take them away while there is yet a chance would be an act of mercy.

Although tens of thousands of the Turkish infantrymen fought for some time with rifles of the antique type, they have all now been equipped with modern models, notably the rifles taken from the Russians. The great security of machine guns in the Ottoman army is also a thing of the past. Everything that could tend to place the Turkish army on an equal footing with the best organization in Europe has been rushed here since the opening of traffic on the Danube.

NATIVES OFFER TO FIGHT MEXICO IF NEED ARISES

Resolutions Passed in Santa Fe Take a Shot at "Certain Elements of the Public Press"; Mention No Names

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.) Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—At a mass meeting at the courthouse last evening, attended only by Spanish American County Clerk Marcelino A. Ortiz offered the following resolution with a stirring speech, declaring that for one, he would answer his country's call, leaving work and home, to join the distant front lines in Mexico who, in cold blood, shot down innocent American citizens.

Whereas, certain elements of the public press of this state have by a course of conduct tended to create racial prejudice in the minds of the uneducated and thoughtless among a large proportion of our people who are not of the so-called Anglo-Saxon descent; and

Whereas, the recent brutal murder of American citizens in the Republic of Mexico by a band of outlaws and bandits of that country, may justly be regarded as an outrage against individuals or groups of individuals in different parts of this nation to doubt or question the loyalty of those Americans who trace their lineage from Spanish or Mexican forbears; and

Whereas, gross injustice has thus arisen and unfriendly prejudice pervades against the citizens of Spanish and Mexican blood in the minds of those who are not informed of the facts of those citizens, as demonstrated by their voting up their lives, their health, their homes and their fortunes in vain wars, the civil and the Spanish-American; and

Whereas, it is desirable that we express ourselves at this time of trouble and tension to the end that prejudice shall not exist between our citizens of so-called Anglo-Saxon and so-called Spanish-American descent, and to the end that there shall not be fomented any racial question between the classes making up the body of our people, and to the end that the harmony and congeniality which has existed amongst them for so many years may be preserved.

Useful, Health-Saving Furnishings for the Parlor, Library, Living and Sewing Room, the Kitchen and Laundry Sold at SCHEER'S

FURNITURE

You will see at Scheer's one of the largest and most complete stocks ever carried in Albuquerque. It is unusually interesting because it includes many special designs of very high-class furniture, such as you would expect to find in the most exclusive stores of the big eastern and western cities, and yet some of the pieces offered here for sale cannot be duplicated.

The far-reaching value of Scheer's display of furniture and other house furnishings, however, lies in the collection of moderate-priced goods of dependable workmanship, making the Scheer store one that all should visit, that they may be informed of the reasonable prices at which the best and most desirable furniture may be purchased.

PRICE IS AN IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION

But far more important is it to know beyond a reasonable doubt that EVERY PIECE YOU PURCHASE IS ABSOLUTELY AS REPRESENTED, and that's the reputation of this store. You will find Quality, Dependability and Prices that are right at

ANNOUNCEMENT

To All Prospective Purchasers of

1916 Cars

The following letter was received yesterday by N. M. Cudabae, president of the Albuquerque-Buick Company, and is self-explanatory:

To All Buick Dealers:

We believe it proper at this time to advise you that the Buick Factory will continue to build its present line of pleasure cars and trucks throughout the 1916 selling season and that PRICES WILL NOT BE REDUCED.

Ever since the 1916 models were announced the demand has been so extraordinary that we have not been able, even up to this time, to get a single car, except one sample of each model, for Oklahoma City stock. Dealers have taken our share of the factory production as fast as it has been available for shipment. The present demand indicates a pronounced shortage during the coming spring months and without doubt Buick cars will be as hard to secure when the weather moderates, as they have been during the past summer and fall.

With these two thoughts in mind, we feel sure you will consider it good business to immediately order in as many cars as you can find storage for, even though it should be necessary to arrange for additional funds.

The profit on one sale lost on account of your inability to make delivery at the time your customer demands, will more than cover the extra expense in taking care of all the cars you can get during the balance of the winter season.

Unusual storms in the northeast and northern parts of this country, have tied up traffic to such an extent that our factory cannot secure proper freight equipment to make shipments into those sections, hence, we are able at this time to secure a few additional cars for shipment direct to our dealers.

You will remember how difficult it was to secure deliveries during the past summer and fall and your past experience, we believe, will prompt you to make unusual efforts at this time to take every car that you can get your hands on regardless of model and thus be prepared for the spring demand which will be on us probably before we realize. Yours very truly,

THE MEXICAN SQUABBLE.

The Journal is in receipt of a large number of communications from readers regarding the recent developments in Mexico. Many of them are from old Mexico Mexicans in which attacks are made upon each other, showing that the deep and bitter feeling which exists south of the border has been brought with them into the United States.

What the Journal has tried to make clear is that up to this time there has been no occasion for intervention in Mexico by the United States. Unless Carranza is able to restore order there may come a time when such intervention cannot be avoided, not for annexation or Mexican territory but to save the millions of innocent, orderly-living, well-intentioned Mexicans from the elements of disorder which have been rampant in that country for the past five years.

We should not disguise that fact that most of the element in the United States clamoring for intervention is inspired by a desire for the annexation and the exploitation of the rich mining territory of northern Mexico and the rich oil lands of the Tampico-Tuxpan district. For this injustice, the president of the United States will not stand, and if republicans wish to make his policy a campaign issue it will be welcomed by him and his supporters who believe that a sense of justice and fairness dominates the sentiment of a majority of the people of this nation.

But there is another side to the matter. The people of the southwest will look with considerable impatience upon a policy which permits men, who have committed all sorts of crimes in Mexico against the peaceful rights of Mexicans and of Americans in Mexico to seek safety in the United States where they may spend their looted wealth in luxurious living.

A gentleman, writing from Las Vegas informs us that Salazar, who he murdered Captain Fountain over the warning of President Taft, did not kill an American citizen. He says Fountain had become a naturalized citizen of the Mexican republic.
That makes absolutely no difference.
Salazar ignored the warning of the president and would have murdered Fountain just the same if he had been an American citizen.

Salazar should not be permitted to find safety under the American flag, but should be turned over to the responsible authorities in Mexico to be dealt with as they see fit. The same is true of Castillo, and a number of other refugees who have ruthlessly inflicted death upon others and deserve death for their crimes. This land should not become a refuge for murderers and bandits when the land in which they have perpetrated their crimes becomes too hot for them.

Senator Weeks, after his denunciation of the shipment of munitions to the allies and his recent hostility to war, should explain just why he wants us to engage in war with Mexico at this time. Possibly his strong pro-German sentiments have something to do with it.

THE FORD PEACE PARTY.

The Ford peace party has ended its spectacular and futile trip to Europe. A permanent peace board has been named, of which William J.
Bryan is the most prominent member, unless that position should be assigned to Henry Ford himself.

The purpose of Mr. Ford is righteous but impractical, and the composition of the expedition has caused ridicule to be heaped upon it. From first to last, there was a sort of cat and dog peacefulness in the peace party from the time it left New York harbor until the final selection of the American representatives on the permanent board. Only day before yesterday, the most acrimonious of all squabbles occurred. The leaders of the party seem to have been a high-strung lot, as temperamental as a lot of prima donas and as emotional as neurotics usually are. Mr. Ford left the party with the growing respect of all sane members of it, including the newspaper men.

A college professor says that after the war is over women will be a drug on the market. Men have been more or less addicted to the drug habit for several centuries.

THE ETHICS OF FORCE.

Is not the controversy between those who maintain that physical force rules the world and those who affirm that spiritual concepts dominate, somewhat a matter of misunderstanding of words? And can such a discussion ever lead to a conclusion so long as it remains in the abstract region and refuses to deal with the facts of history?

It is undeniable that order is enforced in a community by the physical force, real and potential, of the police power. But it is also obvious that only in a community that insists upon justice will an order of things in harmony with justice be enforced.
What is merely the corruption of the police in New York and Chicago, for example, is merely a reflection of a corresponding laxness in the moral concept of a large and, to some extent, dominating part of the community.

The peace between nations is also enforcement. The righteous decree of a nation is enforced by arms, but the arms merely obey the moral imperative of the nation. Where force of arms is wrongfully employed, the employment is at the behest of a wrongful national morality. The specific instances of enforcement by arms of a national will are some of them directed by righteous concepts, some of them by immoral ones, the greater portion by concepts that are mixed with good and evil.

To suppose, as some of our pacifists do, that righteousness will get itself enforced without use, actual or potential, of force, is absurd. But to suppose, as some of our ultra militarists seem to do, that force is a purpose, without backing of morality, dominant, is also absurd.

Force is the instrument. It is not the director. Good will employ force. That force has been used by righteous determination to establish righteousness is likewise undeniable.
The progress of the world lies in the degree of superiority of good over evil. That there is such a margin and that the margin increases, we believe to be capable of demonstration.

But it is the madness of sentimentality to fancy that force in the service of right can ever be dispensed with in a world such as ours. The moment force in such service is dismissed, that moment evil, armed with force, regards as its victim the unarmed righteous man or righteous nation. To take the policeman, who represents force, off the streets would make thieves and strongarm men lords of the street.

Right is not defenseless in the world. It is less defenseless and better endowed with power to take care of itself than it was a century ago.
And the hope of the world is that in days to come right will have at its service so much the preponderating force that wrong will not dare to lift its iniquitous hand in defiance of the righteous will of the majority.

Somebody sunk a Japanese steamer and the Japs have written no notes about it. They are preparing a different variety of note.

STUDY OF GRAMMAR.

That the English is a grammatical language is very nearly a true statement. Yet there is a difference between "who" and "whom," between "shall" and "will." And the difference between the latter pair may still be trusted to puzzle most of us, and the difference between the former is not always nicely observed even by newspaper writers. General Grant, when he wrote his "autobiography" used "will" and "shall" indiscrimi-nately, or nearly so, showing something of a preference for "will."
Strange to tell, his publishers had sense enough not to disturb the grammatical construction of the famous American warrior and president.

What inflections the English language possesses need to be retained, not in the interest of grammar, but in the interest of understanding.
Without them, indeed, few as they are, the sentences tend to flow both ways, or no way, and to express not the clearest meaning. The study of English grammar in the schools does not present the logic for those indications that remain to the language.

To be sure, English spoken spontaneously as the result of its acquire-ment by the child in the home, is the ideal manner by which correct speech is to be had, but correct speech is still the possession of a minority of parents, and there would seem to be still a reason for instruction in the schools as to the structure of the language in daily use.

If a child is not unconsciously the possessor of correct speech, the reason for form, which he should learn in the study of grammar, helps him.
Besides, it is the best of mental discipline.

The fact is that the educated class,
so called, tend to corrupt the purity

Says Fire Can't Be Started by Cigarette

Editor of the Journal—Some time ago I noticed in the Journal a statement to the effect that a fire was started by a lighted cigarette, carelessly thrown away. Now I am a cigarette smoker and I remember at the time that I discussed with a friend the possibility of this happening. I offered to bet him that it couldn't be done and I based my contention on the following incident:

The summer before last, two friends and I were on a camping trip. After smoking several cigarettes while out on a joint one morning, we got back ground men with only one match left, in trying to light a fire for our lunch that last match went out. All I had was a lighted cigarette in my mouth.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER.

Father was getting along well in years, frowzy-gray, and wrinkled deeply across the back of the neck.
Born cigar work in the great days when people did not pay so much attention to their apparel or how it fitted them, but to creases, father was not especially attractive as regards his self. He had forgotten to shave that morning or was waiting for Saturday night, when he attempts to that detail of his toilet, so he was not as sleek nor as well groomed as he was thirty years ago when he led the daughter's mother to the altar. But he had a kindly face, and an honest one, and he frankly owned a picture of that sort.

Daughter was about 29 dressed in the height of fashion, delicate in form and feature, sweet as the season, cradled in the gentle art of department, glowing with early womanhood —an soft combination it seemed, to the passengers upon the train, for the rugged, unkempt man in her side.

But they were father and daughter, there was no question about that. And the devotion between the two—the anxiety of the one for the other—was inspiring.

There isn't any moral to the little picture dimly painted here of this

HUGHES AND THE PRESIDENCY.

It has been said that if Charles E.
Hughes, once governor of the state of New York and now associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, would permit the use of his name in connection with the republican nomination for the presidency he would have little opposition for that honor. Admittedly one of the strongest men in the country, and one of the most frequently in all sections of the country—he nevertheless would encounter the opposition of those leaders who feel that his exceeding distinguished might obstruct the party organization.

Justice Hughes might well be described as a militant statesman. It was he who started the reform of big business by his energetic inquiry into the large insurance companies of New York as ordered for the commission which made the investigation. He believes in republican principles. He is a professionalist. He differed with the leader of his party in New York, holding the governor was the real leader of the people when he occupied that office.

His influence upon legislation eliminating gambling from the race tracks was that some counties in New York did not gamble at all. This kind confounded him he carried his argument direct to the people. It was Charles E. Hughes who really discovered the latent power of the people, who found that the people were mightier, by far, than any bosses, possibly could be. He is rather unending and cold. He is not the kind of a man to whom a politician could talk "practical politics."

Use Peruna---Forget Sickness

TEXANS RESCUED BY WONDERFUL REMEDY
Find Swift Relief From Ailments of Years' Standing With First Dose of Treatment.
Many Texans needlessly suffer from stomach ailments and disorders of the digestive tract which appear to be particularly prevalent in the South. Many others have found a way to health by the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy.
The first dose of this remedy proves what it will do.
T. B. GOODPASTURE, 802 Sabine St., Houston, Texas, wrote: "I took your treatment last spring. I don't think I will have to take any more—it completely cured me."
E. L. RANDALL, Laredo, Texas, wrote: "I have just finished my fifth bottle of your treatment and passed several gall stones. Your preparation has worked simply wonderfully during my course of treatment."
Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALES

A Gigantic Mid-Winter Clearing Destined to Overshadow Any Previous Sale of Its Kind Launched by This Store

It is the time when thrifty buyers reap the great harvest. It is our store clearing time, when the merchandise we must dispose of immediately is marked to its lowest ebb. Midwinter apparel, fabrics of all kinds and needs for the home—all short lots, odd numbers, all muddled goods, all broken assortments must go. Merchandise of every character must bow to the unyielding clearance mandates. Price reductions without parallel are invoked to achieve our one purpose of quick riddance. Savings of a fourth, a half and still greater are in evidence throughout.

Be assured that some of the most important events of the year's calendar are scheduled to start promptly at 2 o'Clock Tomorrow Afternoon. Plan to be here early for first picking from these great offerings.

"CASH" is the Watchword---Never before have so many money savers been concentrated in a page of an Albuquerque newspaper

The Verdict

Youth pouring out its ardent life with smiles
That, buoyantly self-guarded by its dreams
Laughs where the hell of anguish rages streams
Down shell-and-shrapnel's shrieking, murderous miles—
Manhood that with the self-same valor shines
But on whose face the dread, uncertain fate
Of those who waitfully and vainly wait
Has etched entrant's front, hopeless lines—
The womanhood crowned in eternal gray
That from the sowing of the glittering spears
Must reap the harvest bleak of bitter tears
So long as dawn and evening are the day—

Across the sweep of time this verdict rings,
Through every clime, from zone to farthest zone,
A verdict rendered from the great white throne:
Of such the glory and the power of kings.

—Exchange.

A True Story

Once upon a time there was a society editor who didn't have very much brains. Of course, it isn't ordinarily expected that a society editor should have any brains at all, but just how little brains this particular society editor had may be judged from the fact that she started out to make the page different from any other and still, here at a society page, she made no effort to be clever—she knew that was impossible—but she did want to be distinctive.

She thought it might help a little to throw in some masculine stuff once in a while and to preach a little pseudo-sermon once in a while, and she went every day and then did better things every day. And she and her page set sail with high hopes and for a while breezed along as if nothing lay ahead but brick walls and fair skies.

The poor idiot! It wasn't long before she found that she had said about all that she knew how to say. And then she began saying it over and over again, trying to dress it up a little differently. And when she had said it all over the second and third times she suddenly awoke to a realization of the fact that her page was getting tiresome even to herself.

Of course, when a new story would break it wasn't so hard; for whenever there is a new story there is always something new to say about it or some new way to say an old thing. But it wasn't often that new stories broke. There would be the same old people, the same old things, the same old events, and what in the name of all the little tin gods of society journalism was there to get up about them that presented a single original idea?

And having pondered the subject deeply for she still had brains enough to ponder one in a while—this society editor came to the conclusion that there is no such thing as a distinctive society page. She drew up her impotent rage in the depths of a not sudden and sudden, she hereafter she would tread the beaten paths and not try to do anything that hadn't been done at least a million times before.

Because, what's the use?

Bobbe—What's the use?

Bobbe—I wish I could get my wife to come home, but she'll stick till the last dime is over.

Bobbe—'ll tell you how to do it.

Bobbe—How?

TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS.
How thoroughly preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors to the convention which is to meet here the first three days in March is shown by the fact that a committee of prominent society women has already been appointed for the purpose of looking after the social features of that gathering and entertaining the feminine contingent that will accompany the delegates to the convention.

Just what functions will be given for the women is a matter that is yet to be determined, but the personnel of the committee is a sufficient guarantee that whatever in line will be done will be done well. Mrs. R. K. Pollock has been named chairman and the other members are Mrs. A. B. McMillen, Mrs. May Nordhaus, Mrs. W. S. Hopewell, Mrs. Thomas Ross, Mrs. Edward

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

No juster children's party has ever been given in Albuquerque than that given by Mrs. Isaac Lutz yesterday afternoon to celebrate the fifth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Iona. The spacious living room of the fourth home at Sixth and Bona was turned into a real grown-up ball room and the occasion developed into a veritable dancing party. During the afternoon Iona, the talented daughter of Mrs. Ida McChune Donovan sang and gave recitations which were a distinct feature of the entertainment.

There were about sixty children present, among them being Louise Mann, Ruth Mann, Dannie Marpherson, Robert Marpherson, Margaret White, Nesbit Wilkerson, Gibson Wilkerson, Arthur Everett, Virginia Lee Williamson, Evelyn Stern, Fay Strong, Fran Strong, Junior O'Leary, Fred Bergmann, William Vaughn, Emmett Vaughn, Bertram Bacon, Fred Hornby, Frank Stortz, Ernestine Hunsing, Jane Hunsing, Della Sorrell, Elizabeth Nordhaus, Robert Nordhaus, Frances Stern, Leo Lewinson, Junior Weisman, Wilson Keenan, Kevin Peck, Rowden, Billie Howden, Harry Teal, Sidney Rosenwald, Edith Sinclair, Paul Sutton, Elyell Melandros, Arnold Rosenwald, Joseph Wolf, Nina Sandval, Donalota Sandval, Henrietta Heller, Jennie Heller, Emma Heller, Dorothy Heller, Franklin Schweinik, Edward Alf, Tom Teal, Dolores Benjamin, Joseph Benjamin, Jack Clark, Billy Clark, Mary Sue Moore, Mary Elizabeth French, Margaret Shortle.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The meeting of the Woman's club Friday afternoon was in charge of the child welfare department, with Dr. Margaret Good as leader. The program was one of the most interesting and instructive that the club has ever had.

From 2 to 3 o'clock there was a clinical test, conducted by Dr. Good, Dr. Evelyn Peck and Mrs. Joseph Brown, at which a number of babies were shown to the club members and a practical demonstration was given of just what a baby should be and should not be. Character-forming possibilities of home life was the subject of an exceedingly interesting paper by Mrs. J. S. Easterday. Mrs. J. A. Miller explained what the children's bureau is doing for children, and the program was concluded with some excellent dancing by little Virginia Lee Williamson. The musical number given during the afternoon were of an exceptionally high character.

The child welfare department is planning a concert to be given on February 17, for the purpose of raising funds with which to carry on the work that has been outlined for the present year. Some of the best local musical talent will be engaged and a program of unusual merit is assured. Old-fashioned songs rendered in old-fashioned costumes will be the feature of the concert, which is in charge of Mrs. John W. Wilson.

The feature of the meeting of the club next Friday will be an address by Professor Hill, of the faculty of the University of New Mexico, on New Mexico history.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

Just because the Fortnightly Music club has been silent for some time—not literally, of course, but in the way of heralding or reporting its doings—is no sign that it has been idle. On the contrary, there is most decidedly something going in the club and has been for some time. Probably the best program ever given by the Fortnightly was that of the home of Miss Louise Nichols in late December, when two piano numbers were featured by Mrs. Nichols, Mr. Stanley Seder, and Mrs. Mabel Stevens Himee. In addition, a splendid violin and piano trio was given by Mrs. R. M. Henderson, Mr. Bruno Duckman, and Mrs. Himee. During the holidays, the club had charge of several hospital musicals, and then, nothing daunted by its previous failures—financially—it took a notion to do something big.

The club is going to bring Maud Powell, the greatest woman violinist in the world, to Albuquerque, and for extra good measure, heaped up and running over, Mr. Charles W. Harrison, whose beautiful versatile tenor voice is well known throughout the East. Then, that the public may not complain of failure to get in money's worth, the club itself is going to present the "Hawabwa" cantata.

All these plans were thoroughly and enthusiastically discussed at the home of Mrs. Robert H. Pollock last Tuesday evening on the occasion of the regular meeting of the club and within twenty-four hours the members had already made a good start at putting them into execution. That Albuquerque wants to hear something really good is proved by the encouraging early sale of season tickets. Mrs. Powell will appear here February 14, and no better way of spending St. Valentine's evening could be devised. Mr. Harrison will come February 23, and the cantata will be given March 28.

The program at Mrs. Pollock's was of the usual Fortnightly standard and was thoroughly appreciated. It was given as follows:

Chopinade
Mrs. John M. McPeck
Gounod
Canti. Rudi Dorn
Liszt
L. Diani
Mozart
R. H. Pollock
Kreisler
Papini
The Bee
Schubert
Hubert
Heide Kott
Mr. L. L. Tello
Micaela's Aria from "Carmen" Bizet
Mrs. S. B. Miller
The Fauns
Chopinade
L. Diani
Scherzando
Chopinade
Mrs. George Everett
Popular Songs of the Eighteenth Century
Ballettes
Les Deux d'Espagne
Pauze
Miss Louise Horne
Mrs. M. S. Himee and Miss Louise Nichols were the accompanists.

My son! said the father, impressively, suppose I should be taken away suddenly, what would become of you?
Why, I'd stay here. The question is—What would become of you?
The Boy Builder.

SURPRISE PARTY.

The friends of Mrs. H. A. Murphy were hosts at a delightful surprise party in honor of the latter Wednesday afternoon at her new home on New York avenue, the affair being in the nature of a house warming. Five hundred was played and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Miss Nannie Fisher, Miss Margaret Jenks, Miss Julia Mason, Mrs. James Votaw, Mrs. James Votaw, Jr., Miss Henrietta Lewis, Mrs. L. K. Able, Mrs. E. J. Ploutz, Mrs. Will Thomas, Mrs. A. Goodrich, Mrs. Mary Shafter, Mrs. J. H. Collier, Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. Minnie Gottford, Mrs. Will Schaefer, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. McNeil and Mrs. King.

"When a man does anything well he ought to get credit for it," remarked the generous-minded hostess.

"Not always," replied Franco Bob. "Me an' Philo Pete got the reputation of being such good poker players that the least attractive feature of the entertainment."

LIVE HUNDRED CLUB.

The Tuesday Five Hundred club met last week with Mrs. M. L. Grissam at her home on South Third street. A most enjoyable afternoon at cards was spent, the prizes being won by Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Israel. An appetizing luncheon was not the least attractive feature of the entertainment.

Those present were Mrs. G. H. Sweeney, Mrs. George R. Craig, Mrs. S. Anderson, Mrs. W. W. Dowers, Mrs. F. H. Coyne, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. A. Peterson, Mrs. A. Redmon, Mrs. C. P.

AT THE LIBRARY.

It is a far cry from Liege, Belgium, to Albuquerque, New Mexico, isn't it? Those of us who know that Alice M. Williamson, who is A. M. of the C. S. & A. M. Williamson literary company, always personally travels through the places which figure in her novels, in order to give the local color necessary, have perhaps wondered why she was here doing the curious room at the station some time ago. Now we have found out—it is all told in her latest book, "Secret History, Revealed" by Peggy O'Malley. This partnership is rather interesting, by the way, as she tells it herself. The feminine partner does the writing and some days she writes as many as thirty words without ever having had her middle finger. Her husband is the consulting engineer. He tells whether the hero really would fall in love by broad daylight or whether he would need the softening influence of the moon. He supplies information on objects of technical nature which women never seem to get, but which men have tucked away in their brains. Often he even rises up dummies on certain scenes can be acted out to insure realism.

This latest story, a combination of aviation, Mexican border troubles and the European war makes "Secret History" an up-to-the-minute affair, full of surprises and sensational episodes. Lady Peggy O'Malley, the pretty heroine of the tale, is a clever Irish girl, whose father is a poor aristocrat and whose elder sister, Lady Diana, is a beauty determined to marry money. This she does, after a trip to America which results in the father's marrying a wealthy widow and Peggy (who is brought along simply because "she can do it" better than a maid and is much cheaper than one) acquiring a suitor of her own. Much of the story takes place near a fort in Arizona and later on in El Paso. Part of the party take a motor trip to California while the rest pass through Albuquerque on their way to El Paso where the climax in the life of the hero is reached. Afterwards some glimpses of the war in Belgium are worked into the story, and the scenes where Peggy works as a nurse at Liege and in the relief camps in London have a good deal of realism and interest in them. Like all the stories of these writers, the tale is told with humor and considerable cleverness but we can not help but wonder if all heroes are as helplessly hoodwinked by a beautiful woman as was Captain Engleton March by the beautiful Diana, or if when possessed of a pal as square and true as Peggy, a man as keen as Eagle March, would have taken so long to discover for himself that all he had not got that glittered in the eyes of young Joe was a young girl with her hero or heroine. In the case of "The Lark," Thea Kronborg, emerges into our life with the visit of Doctor Archie to the home of her father, a minister in a settlement on the Colorado desert. The seven-year-old girl he discovers has pneumonia and he sews a plaster on her. To Doctor Archie, Thea is always an inspiration and a puzzle, yet it is he who understands her best. Her mother, too, in her placid, fatalistic way, notices that she is different from the rest of the placid Swedish flock and holds high hopes. Thea herself dreams nobly with the score of a grand opera under her pillow. Finally leavay of $800 from a young railroad who

JOINT INSTALLATION.

The Woman's Relief corps held a joint installation with the G. A. R. in their hall at South Third street, Wednesday afternoon. After installation of officers a musical program was rendered consisting of the following: Mrs. Shoemaker rendered instrumental solos consisting of patriotic airs. Miss Charlotte Blixner rendered several vocal selections. Mrs. W. Horton rendered a whistling duet with piano accompaniment. There were several short talks by W. W. McDonald, Rev. Harwood and Governor Stover.

The old officers were given a vote of thanks for the work they did during the past year. The W. R. C. is doing a wonderful work in the city of Albuquerque. The following officers were installed:

President, Emma C. Whitson; senior vice president, Mary Hall; junior vice president, Frances Sherer; secretary, Martha Brixner; treasurer, Emma L. Horton; chaplain, Lotie Diehl; conductor, Ida Seth; guard, Alice Isherwood; patriotic instructor, Martha J. Kendall; press correspondent, Margaret Diehl; musician, Alice Shoemaker; assistant conductor, Josephine Strain; assistant guard, Ida Landon; color bearer, No. 1, Barriet Wheeler; No. 2, Hester Rutherford; No. 3, Ester Smith; No. 4, Mary Caldwell. The officers were installed by an elaborate banquet was served by the ladies.

Maudie—How does your family like your new feller?
Mabel—Not at all. Mama says he will run if you say "Boo" to him and papa says he will run if you say "Hoo" to him.

LIVE HUNDRED PARTY.

Mrs. J. S. Beaven, Mrs. J. Korber, Mrs. A. Coleman, Mrs. Felix Eaca and Miss Heckman will be hostesses at a big Five Hundred party to be given in Old Fellows' hall Tuesday evening, for members of the Immortal Conceptor party and their friends. The affair will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock. For those who do not care to play cards, there will be dancing, beginning at 9 o'clock and lasting until after midnight. The party is one of several planned for the winter months by the party.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Mrs. G. L. Brooks, who is enjoying a visit from her sister, Miss Julia Wilson, of Chicago, will leave Wednesday for her guest for California. Miss Wilson was the honor guest at a number of functions during the past week, among them a supper given by Colonel and Mrs. W. P. Metcalf last Sunday evening, a drive and dinner by Mrs. T. S. Woolsey, Jr., and a luncheon by Mrs. W. S. Hopewell. Mrs. Frank Wilson will give a family dinner tonight in honor of her sister-in-law.

Mrs. J. B. Herndon entertained the members of her card club Wednesday. Special guests for the afternoon were Mrs. W. W. Strong and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Miss Hazel Maloy left Thursday for Baltimore to visit friends at her alma mater, Notre Dame college. While in the east she will visit in New York and will go to Mobile, Ala., to act as bridesmaid at the wedding of a former Notre Dame classmate.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. A. Vaughn are enjoying a visit from Mr. Will Vaughn, of Los Angeles, who is returning to his home after a visit to New York.

Mrs. Harry Simms returned to her home in El Paso Sunday to join her husband, who came up from Chihuahua the day previous.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. P. Campbell of 714 South Third street, were given a delightful surprise by a number of their friends Monday evening, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. There were games and music, and delightful refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Putney returned yesterday from a three weeks trip to the east, most of the time being spent in New York. They were witnesses to the carnival of society on Broadway on New Year's eve.

Mrs. P. J. Correll was an informal hostess Monday afternoon for Mrs. Apple, who left Monday evening for Fort Bliss to join her husband, Captain Apple, of the United States army.

Mrs. S. (Hilfelder), of 217 West Roma avenue, had a number of friends Friday afternoon to meet her sister, Miss Goldsmith, of Denver, who is visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Manger, of 701 West Roma avenue, gave a children's party in honor of the tenth birthday of their son, Harry, last Saturday afternoon. Following the party there was a six o'clock supper.

A Hint to Mothers of Growing Children

A Mild Laxative at Regular Intervals Will Prevent Constipation.

ROLAND LEE TURNER.

A vital point upon which all schools of medicine seem to agree is that normal regularity of the bowels is an essential to good health. The importance of this is impressed particularly on mothers of growing children.

A very valuable remedy that should be kept in every home for use as occasion arises is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of simple laxative herbs that has been prescribed by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., for more than twenty-five years, and which can now be obtained in any well stocked drug store for fifty cents a bottle.

In a recent letter to Dr. Caldwell, Mrs. H. C. Turner, 344 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., says, "I bought a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for my baby, Roland Lee Turner, and find it works just like you said it would. It is fine for the stomach and bowels."

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Pepsin should be in every home. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 354 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Lungs Weak?

Generous Offer of Tuberculosis Sufferers of Trial of Europe's Remarkable Remedy, SANOSIN.

World's noted medical scientists—Doctors Danielius, Sommerfeld, Wolff, Noel, Leese—declare SANOSIN the most effective treatment for Pulmonary ailments yet discovered. Santa Fe Society Notes

DORCAS AND PRISCILLA.

Lent is still so far off, that it can't be ascribed to its influence that society is turning from bridge to sewing and finds the exercise with the thread and needle more fascinating than dancing. The fact that generally quite an elaborate supper is served to the hostesses, or at least a cup of tea and wafers, may have something to do with it. There is a satisfaction in getting something worth while done," is the reason that one young matron gave, but that would hardly be a compelling cause that would change suddenly the trend of society in a community. "One can't play bridge with some twenty or thirty others jabbering," is the way another matron put it when asked her reason why she goes to the sewing afternoon rather than to the bridge club. Be that as it may, one afternoon after another is being taken up with sewing parties while bridge and dancing to the light in the eyes, the inviting permeation of the spirit of youth. Again in the portrait of Mrs. Hewitt, there is the perfect likeness that every friend recognizes immediately, and beyond that, just a gleam in the eyes, an imperceptible smile of the lips, a subtle mystery that distinguishes the portrait from the best production of the skilled photographer and gives it life. How the artist treats a more difficult subject is illustrated by his portrait of Miss Beatrice Seligman of the Santa Fe high school, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. James L. Seligman, whose portrait has a place of honor in the exhibit.

In his portrait of Indians, Cassidy is especially happy. He has such an array of Indian types in this exhibit. The most pretentious is "The Artist," a splendid Indian figure studying a piece of pottery. The arrangement, the harmony of blues, the luminous yellows and warm browns in the foreground, and the dimness of the sky proclaim the picture a masterpiece. "Juan Domingo," an Indian with a red blanket wrapped about his shoulders, was exhibited in the American Water Color society and traveled with the American Federation of Arts exhibits for which only the best and most representative paintings are selected. Most people, perhaps, will like "Firelight, Taos," best for its subtlety, cheerfulness and careful workmanship. "Acoma Path," carrying a panoply, is a decidedly pleasing composition, both as to portraiture and the land background. It is a water color, "Apache Boy Against Wall," and "Hugh of Orabbi," are two sketches that appeal. "The Laughing Girl," is an appealing bit of color to which one turns repeatedly just to catch the contagion of that smile. "The First Dancing Lesson," "Boy With a Bow," "Tessie Man," "Acoma Man," "Big Sister," "The Corn Dancer," "Apache Boy," a striking portrait of a boy evidently afflicted with trachoma giving the face an expression that is so characteristic that it might be called a medical study. "Big Mike," and "The Shepherd," are all well done and would earn of them add a touch of beauty to any home.

Charles L. Freer, the famous millionaire art connoisseur and American foremost critic, recently bought one of Cassidy's more ambitious works. Mrs. Christian of Minneapolis, the well known art lover, has been another heavy purchaser. Of particular interest to Santa Feans, are the series of studies of the cliff dwelling and Pueblo Indian region, made for the great mural paintings of Cassidy in the Indian Arts building at the Panama-California International Exposition. There is prehistoric Santa Fe, the Puye and other familiar landscape features of the Pajarito National park, all of them exquisitely done, with plenty of atmosphere, sunshine and desert. Of the mural decorations exhibited, is one of the "Tip Van Winkle" series for Dr. Crump of New York City. The mural will find a place in the doctor's Catskill bungalow which is in the region of Washington Irving's magic pen. The mural occupies an entire wall in the reception room of the old Palace and shows Rip Van Winkle after his long sleep gazing at the lovely valley beneath him. The painting is in a high key and would glorify any home or palace. Another large composition is "The Shepherd," sold to a Denver purchaser, and "Hopi Land," sold to a Minneapolis buyer. Both are southwestern landscape studies with all the rich coloring and sunshine characteristic of this region.

"Santa Fe River, Snow Scene," gives a glimpse of the Capital city scenery that is unusual. One can readily see how this landscape with its bright splashes of color would brighten up a room in which it was hung. "Old California House," is pleasing and "Sketch of Pajarito Mountains," visualizes the grandeur of the country round about Taos.

Perhaps it is in his marines, that Cassidy reaches the greatest perfection of his art. One hesitates to choose among such splendid paintings as "The Sheep Trail, Avasca Island," "The Fog Bank," and "Sand Dunes," the last being sold. The possessor of any of these three could deem himself fortunate. "Sea Beach" is an admirable little sketch and so is "San Diego Bay and Point Loma." Mr. Cassidy does not exhibit his great mural "San Juan Capistrano," just completed for the Hotel Gramatan, New York but it is still in the Parsons studio and will not be sent east for some time. The exhibit is a most satisfying one, not only to the art student, but to the average laymen besides. Cassidy's versatility, is nothing short of marvelous, but in this case versatility does not go with immodesty; it is merely an indication of a stupendous industry and comprehensive genius.

Before leaving the exhibit, one should turn again to the sketch of the home of his ancestors and the inscriptions on the rock, a younger man, his probable successor as historian of the tribe, listening in rever-

THINGS WE SIGH FOR.

Ge! I want a blooded pup And a silver loving cup. Or a painted yacht to sail upon the deep. Let me have a blue-eyed maid Just to fan me in the shade— These are some of the things I sigh for in my sleep.

I want smokeless cigarettes. Like-wise smokeless suffragettes; I ought to have two looks before I leap. I want a limousine That don't drink up gasoline— These are some of the things I sigh for in my sleep.

I want laws that I can twist; I would have Jess Willard's fist; I should like Dave Warfield's art to make me weep. Let me have Curcio's voice; Morgie's purse would be my choice. These are some of the things I sigh for in my sleep.

THE CASSIDY ART EXHIBIT.

As portrait painter, Gerald Cassidy, whose exhibit opened at the Palace of the Governors this week, is cutting himself a niche high in the Hall of Fame. He catches with almost uncanny precision the spiritual light that reveals the soul. It is a wizard of drawing, color and the indefinable something that men call genius whether it is manifested in poetry or in music or in painting. There is no doubt that most people by applying themselves diligently may acquire facility in drawing, even learn the technique of great painters, but just beyond that lies the spiritual flame that makes the artist, the poet, the composer. And Cassidy is in that company of select ones in whose pictures, even the layman recognizes the touch of genius. Take his portrait of Miss Ruth Rollins, the daughter of the famous fellow artist. Its loveliness is not due altogether to the fin drawing, to the composition,

Archaeological Parlor Meeting

That the intellectual and the social go very well together in a hospitable home, was demonstrated on Tuesday evening, when the Archaeological society of New Mexico held its first parlor meeting at the residence of Judge and Mrs. N. H. Laughlin, somewhere else they would have called it a "salon" perhaps, or a "salon," but in Santa Fe it was merely the gathering of a hundred or so congenial people, who listened to two excellent papers on archaeology, spent the rest of the evening in delightful social intercourse and the enjoyment of the good things for the inner man that the hostess had prepared, at the same time becoming better acquainted with each other.

Birthday Party

Miss Sadie Norman entertained, most charmingly in celebration of her birthday on Saturday afternoon. A number of young friends sat down to a daily collation after an afternoon full of play and fun.

Club and Classes

The Monday club was the guest of Mrs. Leslie O. Gillette. The Wednesday club was entertained by Mrs. Gardeski at the spitz home on East Palace avenue. The Saturday club met with Mrs. E. Spitz, in addition to Mrs. Wells and Mrs. French.

Two Parties at Staples

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staples entertained at dinner. Dr. S. Locke of Springer, A. C. Thompson of LaPlata, John Joerns of Eaton, on Friday evening, the men's and the women's Bible classes of the First Presbyterian church, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Staples.

Coming and Going

Frank J. Lavan has returned from a trip to Los Angeles, where Mrs. Lavan is visiting for the winter.

The End of the Trail

The end of the trail. And the dark has come. What lies through this night of woe? Is it a chain that yawns and falls or a whirling river that moans and calls? Or mistle sands, sunken?

Mrs. Spitz Also Surprised

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. E. A. Spitz at her home on Don Gasco avenue entertained a party of friends among them Mrs. S. Spitz who was unaware that the gathering was in her honor and to celebrate her birthday anniversary.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—of a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over. Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes, its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

SCHLITZ AGENCY NOW HANDLED BY BACHECHI COMPANY

Announcement is made elsewhere in today's Journal that the Bachechi Mercantile company, doing business at the corner of Tijeras avenue and First street, has been made the district agency for the famous Schlitz bottled beers—the same brands that made Milwaukee, Wis., famous, and are now prepared to take orders, local and otherwise, in any quantities desired. Mr. Franchini stated last night that his company will not be found wanting but have perfected arrangements whereby all who favor Schlitz in the "brown bottles" will be supplied in prompt order. This company has also the local agency for the Manitou springs waters.

EAST CENTRAL'S HUMP IS BEING TRANSFERRED

Killing two birds with one stone has nothing on the county road board. The hump which is to be removed from East Central avenue is being used to improve two other roads. Sixty wagon loads of dirt daily are being taken off East Central avenue. Since Wednesday, when the work was started, the dirt has been hauled to the road leading to the Rio Grande industrial school for girls. Later, according to John K. Boyer, chairman of the road board, the dirt is to be taken to the Barlasa bridge to widen the east approach. An automobile went off the narrow approach several weeks ago, plunging into the river and throwing the driver into the water.

Supreme Court Proceedings.

Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—In the state supreme court today the cases of George W. Prichard, appellant, vs. J. H. Palmer, Jr., et al. appellee, from Lincoln county, on a motion to quash citation, as well as John Stanford et al. plaintiff in error, vs. Josephine A. Clothier, defendant in error, from Colfax county, were argued and submitted. The case of the American National Bank of McAlester, Okla., appellee, vs. George A. Davidson, et al. appellants, from Chaxas county, on motion to dismiss appeal, was submitted on briefs.

Suit Against Miss True On.

Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—In the federal court the case of the United States vs. Clara D. True was taken up. Federal Judge Pope overruling a motion for continuance. The government seeks to recover $1,000 which it alleges Miss True owes as disbursing officer at the Mark Indian school, California. Miss True denying in toto any indebtedness.

Governor Appoints Notaries.

Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—Governor McDonald today appointed the following notaries public: C. Perrin, Alamo, Benham, Union county; Gertrude A. Jones, Chavis; E. J. Dickman, Albuquerque; Lawrence P. Hudson, Willard.

BAD COLD? TAKE 'CASCARETS' FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

They're Fine! Liven Your Liver and Bowels and Clear Your Head.

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by straining the bowels to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

SPRING STYLES FORECASTED BY FASHION WRITER

Skirts Will Be More Full and Just a Little Longer; Lawn and Organdy Collars and Cuffs Worn With Suits.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL. New York, Jan. 15.—Comfort and convenience—these are the two qualifications attributed to sport clothes since the first woman dared don a skirt short enough to uncover the hip on her foot. Would these same sport clothes be quite so generally favored, think you, if these were the only words with which to commend them? If there were not something particularly youthful and becoming in the

of these same sport togs, their sale would be quite limited I am sure. Wool Jersey for Suits and Frocks. One of the most attractive of the new materials for suits and dresses is the latest phase of Jersey cloth. It is being used for the dressier frocks and the semi-tailored, for afternoon wear, indoor skating, tea, dancing, calling and like purposes, as well as for the regulation sport suit. It comes in all the new shades, blue, green, brown, and the various other tones now modish. Often on the more trimmed of these Jersey costumes there is a touch of taffeta or a bit of braid. These suits are fashioned after the belted Russian models, the smart flared coats and skirt, and for the strictly correct sport suit along the Norfolk lines combined with an equally severe skirt. The New Cape Appeals. Among the new features which, of course, are but a revival of the old, is the cape. This appears upon all types of frocks and suits in the form of the shoulder cape, sleeve cape and cape collar. The full-skirted, simple-bodied frock of taffeta, worn at an afmong the season's attractive Ensembles. Marring Width of Skirts. Paris is reported as practically losing her head over the width of the skirt. She gave up the pleasing diction of—a trifle more length, just a white eye, and proceeded straightway to offset it by adding to their breadth. Many of the new skirts on Paris models, it is said, are gathered material in about the waist with regard whatever to the figure beneath, in fact a woman wearing such a skirt or frock has such the appearance of an animated barrel or something equally ungraceful. The medium skirts with just a bit of fullness about the waist, combined with the simple quaint bodices now smart, are dainty and becoming, suggestive of the grace of the fairs beneath, as they are. The new models assemblage of the days of 1820 and 1830, are full of charm if extravagance are not indulged in. Waist Collars on Tailored Suits. Collar and cuff sets of organdy, batiste, linen and other like fabrics, are to be worn for spring with dark tailored suits and dresses. They serve to brighten the costume and add a fresh touch which is dainty and graceful to the wearer. Colored sets, in Russian embroidery, are particularly pretty. Neckwear in general is simple and plain. Combination of Sheer and Heavy Fabrics. The popularity of using a sheer fabric and one somewhat heavier in the same frock or blouse, is a notion that is attractive and economical. Crepe Georgette combines well with crepe de chine, taffeta, or faille in blouse and frock. Serge and satin or taffeta, broadcloth and satin or faille, are favored combinations for the street dress, the touch of silk or satin in the same, or a contrasting shade, adding much to the beauty and the becomingness of the model. A simple serge frock gains much by the addition of a tiny fur-trimmed collar, or a small collar of satin. Often the entire upper section of the skirt or bodice in the more dressy gown is entirely of taffeta or satin, while the lower section is of serge, broadcloth, or subar-dine. PYTHIANS DIVIDED ON SANATORIUM MATTER

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL. Santa Fe, Jan. 15.—Supreme Representative Hugh H. Williams of the Knights of Pythias today received from the supreme keeper of Pythias and seal, Fred E. Wheaton, the details of the battle by the different domains on the founding of a Pythian tuberculosis sanatorium which will be located probably somewhere in the southwest. Twelve delegates approved the proposition, ten rejected it. Fifteen deferred action until the next meeting six rejected the proposition to their supreme representative with power to act, six took no definite action and from six no report has been as yet received. Mrs. O. L. Owen and son Joseph left for Hillsboro, Tex., today to settle an estate and will be gone three weeks.

UNWRITTEN LAW WINS ACQUITTAL FOR ORTIZ

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL. Los Lunas, N. M., Jan. 15.—At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon a verdict was directed by Judge M. C. Mechem in the murder trial of State vs. Antonio Ortiz. It developed in the defense that the deceased, Abram Hernandez, was shot by the defendant while the deceased was making an attack on the wife of Ortiz. The main witnesses for the defense were Contradid P. Ortiz, the wife of the defendant, and Ortiz himself. The story as told by the wife was that Gonzalez came to the house of the defendant at Mesquite on the night of September 29, last, while her husband was supposed to be off on his sheep range, and there attempted to commit an offense against her person. During the struggle of Mrs. Ortiz, the defendant arrived on the scene and the shooting followed. The testimony of the defendant was
