A RUSSIAN DEFEAT

GEN. KUROPATKIN SUSTAINS FRESH REVERSES.

THE RUSSIANS RETREAT

Are Driven From Their Position on the Taitse River.—Mukden is Threatened.—The Police are Powerless and the Terrorists are Supreme in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—(6:55 p. m.) The Associated Press learns from a high source that General Kuropatkin considers his position on the Shalke river to be menaced to such an extent by General Kuroki's success on the left flank as to necessitate the immediate withdrawal of his army to Tie pass, and has so advised the emperor. No confirmation of this is obtainable in military circles here, it being pointed out that with the Japanese pressing the whole Russian line such operation must inevitably end in disaster of first magnitude.

Tokio, Feb. 28.—Official reports of the battle of Tsinkpetchen indicate that severe fighting occurred. The Japanese attacking force began the occupation of points on the left bank of the Taitse river on Feb. 19, but the topography of the country, with steep hills, river and deep snow delayed the attack. The first line attacked Tsinkpetchen at noon on February 23, assaulting fiercely. The Russians held strongly fortified positions with obstructions protecting them and resisted determinedly. The fighting continued through Feb. 23 and was resumed at dawn Feb. 24. At ten in the morning the two lines closed and the attackers and defenders exchanged hand grenades. While continuing their frontal attack the Japanese executed a flank attack with the result that the Russians abandoned and burned the town and fled northward in confusion. The Russians left 150 dead on the field. The Chinese estimated the Russian losses at 1,000. The Japanese captured three machine guns, many rifles, a quantity of ammunition, a number of maps and 24 prisoners. The reports say that none of the Japanese suffered from frost bite in spite of the intense cold.

Fragmentary Reports.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—Fragmentary official and press reports of the fresh reverses sustained by General Kuropatkin are inadequate to draw any conclusion as to the magnitude of General Kuroki's success against the Russian left, but the public here as usual is ready to believe the very worst, and the city is already full of reports that a big disaster has again overtaken the Russian army, according to which Mukden has been outflanked and is untenable and Kuropatkin is withdrawing from his position on the Shalke river. That such reports are exaggerated is beyond question, but the officials of the war office are plainly discouraged at the fashion in which Kuroki is able to drive in and turn the Russian extreme left, his advance column actually crossing the Shalke river. Should Kuroki cross the Hun river the high road to Tie pass, forty miles above Mukden, would be open and Kuropatkin's retreat threatened. Further news is awaited with great anxiety. Anything like a decisive Japanese victory would probably end the war.

Kuropatkin's Story.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—General Kuropatkin in a dispatch to the Emperor, dated today, says: "Ten attacks made by the Japanese battalions and some cavalry west of the village of Tansintong have been repulsed. The Japanese renewed the attack on the morning of Feb. 27 and were again repulsed. They left a hundred corpses in front of our position. The Russian loss was six men."

Japanese Defeat the Russians.

Tokio, Feb. 28.—It is reported that the Japanese attacked and defeated the Russians on Feb. 23 at Tsinkpetchen, 25 miles north of Simachi on the extreme Japanese right. The Russians numbered 12,000 and their losses are estimated at two thousand. The Japanese losses were slight.

Police Utterly Impotent.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—The utter impotence of the police in the face of the increasing boldness of the latter all over St. Petersburg. Even on public buildings notices of Grand Duke Sergius' death were found. The Grand Duke Vladimir, whose name is high on the list of those condemned to death, has been failing in health for over a year, and is now a complete wreck. For a time the entreaties of his family and the warnings of the police sufficed to keep him within the walls of the palace, but since the funeral of the Grand Duke Sergius he has shaken off all restraint, declaring he will not show cowardice, and not only drives around in a carriage, but on Sunday last walked for a short time up and down the quay in front of the winter palace. At his side, however, on each occasion was the Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, his wife, who hopes to protect him by her presence. Today the Grand Duke received a letter informing him that his sentence was temporarily suspended. It is believed this is done to see what effect the death of Sergius will have.

Gorky is Banished.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—Maxim Gorky, who was released from the fortress yesterday will not be allowed to live in St. Petersburg. He was banished late last night to Riga on the Baltic sea. According to the official statement Gorky himself asked to be sent to Riga and the request was granted.

General Kuroki's Headquarters.

Feb. 28.—The Japanese on Saturday achieved a signal victory over the forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. Ren nenkamp. While this victory is important in itself, it is more so because of the strategic advantage gained by the Japanese. The Japanese now hold strong lines extending from the southwest to the northeast and partly eastward of the Taitse river, threatening the Russian left flank. On Friday night the Japanese took Tekteki Hill; which is south of the Shalke river and a short distance north-west of Waltao mountains.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 27.—Printed copies of the briefs of findings of counsel for James H. Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Senator Kearns of Utah, whose term expires next Saturday, created a sensation in the Senate this afternoon by a bitter attack on President Smith and the Mormon church, whom he accused of defying the laws of the nation, setting up a social autocracy, and establishing a business monopoly in Utah.

He said that polygamy was boldly practiced. He accused the Mormons of establishing a social autocracy headed by President Smith and the church hierarchy. "Smith affects a regal state. Parties are nothing to the Mormons. They are Republicans when Republicans control the nation, but ready to be Democrats if Democrats win. Judge Swayne is not guilty.

The last day of winter, and tomorrow the springtime.

With the coming of spring, the Jap and the Russ are at it once again.

How would it sound to have New Mexico known as "The Leper Colony?"

That Sanitarium located at Roswell would start several railroads racing into the Pecos Valley.

It might be a good thing to move Thomas W. Lawson to New Mexico, and test our new libel law.

Denver is now after the National Fraternal Sanitarium and will make a strong effort to secure it.

The man who advertises never spends his days shooting away the flies, he hasn't the time to do so.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory will probably crawl into the Union under the protection of an appropriation bill.

The moisture this winter has been rather trying on the old timers, but it will start things a hustling in the spring.

The people of New Mexico will remember Speaker Cannon as the man who stood between them and their just dues.

Should the President come to New Mexico he must not miss seeing the garden spot of the Southwest, the Pecos Valley.

Tomorrow the free mail delivery service begins in Roswell, and this city takes another step toward her rightful place at the head of all the cities of New Mexico.

A company has been organized at Roswell to manufacture patent cement shingles. This is sorrowful news for the youth of Roswell. The old style pine shingle was severe enough when wielded by an angry mother.—Sunshine.

The joint protest of the house and council against the establishment of a leper colony in New Mexico, is a strong article, and should carry conviction to the house of representatives that this Territory is not a public dumping ground.

The joint statehood people asked for any kind of a state rather than no state, the single statehood people said it must be single statehood or nothing, and now they have the nerve to reproach the any-kind-of-a-state people with the failure of single statehood.

Roswell should send in a strong and energetic protest against the location of the leper colony in this Territory, and particularly at or near Ft. Stanton. Such an institution located in the Territory would give it such a name throughout the world that it would be known as the leper territory, and receive the most undesirable advertising. Poor old New Mexico. It is hard enough to be refused statehood, but to be turned into a leper colony is too much.

CAPT. JAMES ON CREAMERY.

Practical Farmer and Stock Raiser Favors the Proposition and Would Make it Co-operative.

The matter of starting a creamery in Roswell having been agitated recently, the proposition has taken hold on the minds of many of the farmers and butter-producers of the vicinity. The ideas and opinions of a well known citizen who is authority on the creamery question will be of interest, and, realizing this fact, a Record reporter called at the home of Captain Jason W. James this morning to learn his opinion of the new move and to glean whatever information he might give on the creamery question.

Captain James is an old resident of this section of the Valley and to the older citizens needs no introduction. To those who have come here lately it may be said that he has long been a citizen here, and for ten years he has been engaged in the general agriculture and cattle-feeding business. Only recently did he sell his farming interests on account of ill health, and move to town. Two years ago Captain James spent one month in Missouri, studying the creamery business and he is thoroughly informed along this line. To the reporter Capt. James said:

"I am an enthusiastic advocate of the proposition of starting a creamery here. I favor it because I am in sympathy with the interests of the farmers, and because of the economy a creamery provides in a community. It brings a much greater amount of money into a community for the same amount of milk produced, and saves an immense amount of labor to the individual farmer. I favor the opening of a creamery here, especially because of the fact that the necessary feed for milk cows is very cheap here, because the roads in this country are exceptionally good, taken as a whole, and because there is always a strong demand here for the product."

"It would be a co-operative creamery that I would establish. The farmers themselves should own the creamery and reap all the benefits. I know a creamery in Missouri that pays the contributing stockholders more for their milk than they could make out of it by doing their own churning, and the factory makes 49 per cent besides. This is accomplished by the better machinery of a factory, which takes every bit of the butter fat from the milk and churns the butter at the proper time and in the proper manner, and by the higher prices which selling in large quantities brings."

"The co-operative plan holds the farmers in the enterprise until it has enough time to get steady on its feet and keeps up their interest in getting the best milk cows and feeding properly."

"A creamery should not be started with less than 400 cows and a prospect of more. All the farmers within a radius of four or five miles could bring their milk to the Roswell creamery every day and take the separated milk home for calves and pigs. Others farther out could have hand

You may travel far for better grades than we sell, but we know you will have to admit that you cannot find anything better than we have, if as good. separators and do their own separating. Skimming stations could be established at towns up and down the railroad and they could send in their cream every day.

"Later I will tell the farmers what feed should be used for the best results, how this feed should be raised and other information I may be able to contribute along this line. Or I will answer through the paper any questions the farmers may ask. What one may want to know will be interesting to all."

THE OLDEST LAND OFFICE.

Established in 1810, Nine Years Before the Admission of Alabama.

Huntsville, Ala., Feb. 28.—The oldest land office in the United States passed out of existence today when the Huntsville office was abolished and its business transferred to the land office at Montgomery. The office here was established in 1810, nine years before the admission of Alabama into the Union. During the ninety-four years of its existence there were nearly 30,000 homestead entries, approximating 3,000,000 acres, besides thousands of cash purchases of Cherokee Indian lands. There are only about 75,000 acres yet to be entered. The discontinuance of the office is due to that provision of the federal statutes which stipulates that when the government lands in a land office district amount to less than 100,000 acres, the office shall be discontinued. There remains in the entire state of Alabama only about 175,000 acres of government lands, 100,000 of which lies in the Montgomery division.

Special To The Record.

Artesia, N. M., Feb. 28.—The recent change of time table and the exclusive passenger train are greatly appreciated by the Artesia people. The sending and receiving of the mail is at a much more convenient time.

There were two deaths here Sunday, and two funeral services yesterday. One was a Mrs. Gessler whose home was in the country south of town, and whose body was sent to her former home in another state. The other was Mrs. Kavanagh, the daughter of Mr. Morrison. This service was in charge of Rev. Ray at the Methodist church and interment was made in the new cemetery.

Mr. J. F. Patterson and Miss Mabel Patterson came down from Roswell Saturday. Mr. Patterson transacted business and employed two days in seeing this part of the country, leaving for home this morning. Miss Patterson will be here for a week, as the guest of Miss Helen Mitchell and other friends.

The roof is raised on the new Christian church building and the work is pushing. The house is to be completed in about six weeks. A meeting of the congregation was held Sunday afternoon and plans made for ordering the furniture. No arrangements for a preacher have yet been made.

The beautiful weather Sunday morning called out a full house at church service. Rev. James, of the Baptist church preached in the Methodist church. He is a friend of Rev. Gore and is here for the benefit of his health. Rev. James is a graduate of the William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo. He is a scholarly young man and his sermon was heard with appreciation. At night Brother Ray preached one of the best sermons he has ever delivered here. He will hold service every evening this week.

Little Miss Evelyn Welch celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday from 2 o'clock till 5. Mrs. Welch had provided appropriate plays and the afternoon was a continual round of childish happiness. ## TO LAUNCH THE WASHINGTON

The New Armored Cruiser Will Be Ready in Three Weeks.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—The navy department has received word from the New York Shipbuilding Co. at Camden, N. J., that the armored cruiser Washington will be ready to launch three weeks from next Saturday, and this date has been definitely fixed for the event. It was originally intended to have the launching on Washington's birthday, with Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt as sponsor, but the State of Washington, for whom the cruiser is named, would not forego its rights. The legislature of Washington will adjourn next week and it is expected that many members of that body, together with the Governor and other state officials, will attend the launching.

The cruiser Washington is designed to be one of the fastest and most formidable vessels of her type in the new navy. In nearly every respect, she will be an exact counterpart of the West Virginia. With a displacement of 14,500 tons and a speed of 22 knots, she will be armed with four 10-inch breech loading rifles and sixteen 6-inch rapid fire guns in addition to a supplementary battery of smaller weapons. The navy expects her to be ready to go into commission within a year.

Meeting of Noted Educators.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—The Davidson theatre, spacious though it is, was scarcely able to accommodate the scores of men and women who filled it this morning at the opening of the annual meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Educational Association. Occupying seats of honor upon the stage were such leading lights of the educational world as President Elliot of Harvard University, United States Commissioner of Education W. T. Harris, Superintendent Albert G. Lane of Chicago, Miss Jane Adams of Hull House, and Professor George E. Vincent of the University of Chicago. More than twenty states, including several of those south of the Ohio river, were represented by their state superintendents of public instruction. Of principals and city superintendents there were several hundred in attendance.

The session was called to order shortly after nine o'clock by President Edwin C. Cooley of Chicago. After several selections of music and the exchange of greetings and responses the convention listened to review of the educational features of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This feature of the programme, which occupied the entire forenoon, compris-
