ON EVE OF ELECTION

EYES OF NATION UPON STATE AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS EAST AND NORTH.

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

New York City Leads in Interest.—Ohio State Election Hard Fought.—Tainted Money the Issue in Nebraska.—Negro Disfranchisement Probable in Maryland.—Democrats Support Citizens Ticket in Philadelphia.

New York, Nov. 6.—Today will witness the closing scenes in one of the most remarkable political campaigns in New York City's history. It has been remarkable in many ways. The two old party organizations have been invaded by a new and great force which under the name of Municipal Ownership party and with Wm. R. Hearst as its candidate for mayor, has conducted a campaign so vigorous and so well managed that the city has been astonished at its display of strength. Mayor George B. McClellan, the Democratic nominee, has based his appeal for votes on his record as mayor, while William M. Ivis, the Republican nominee, has made a vigorous campaign, telling his followers that if they hold firm he would be elected on the division of Democratic strength between McClellan and Hearst. Hardly second in interest to the mayoralty has been the campaign of Wm. T. Jerome for re-election as district attorney.

Close of a Hot Campaign.
Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—The hottest campaign in the history of the state closed Saturday with great uncertainty as to the outcome. Democrats claim they will win by 36,000.

Chicago Vote Will Be Light.
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—With a general expectation on all sides that the vote will be light, the managers of both the Republican and Democratic organizations today express confidence of victory at the polls tomorrow. Based on allegations of a more thorough organization, however, the Republican claims are more sweeping.

Both Parties Confident as Usual.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 6.—The day before election finds both parties expressing confidence in the result in Maryland. An amendment to the constitution which virtually disfranchises the negro, will be voted on.

Tainted Money the Issue.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—The Republicans claim the state by pluralities ranging from 25,000 for supreme judge to 32,000 for regents of the university. The fusionists assert that their ticket will be elected, but give no figures. The gift of $100,000 to the state university by John D. Rockefeller has been the only issue of the campaign so far as public agitation is concerned, the fusionists insisting that the gift be returned to him.

Philadelphia Situation.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 6.—The Republican leaders are claiming a victory in tomorrow's election by "good majority." The Citizens party workers have completed a canvass of the city and county showing that they will win by not less than 35,000. The Democrats are supporting the Citizens' party.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Interest in the election here centers in the choice for mayor of Louisville, Paul J. Barth Democrat, and J. T. O'Neal, fusionist, have made an active campaign.

.....
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Both Republicans and Democrats claim to be confident of victory in the city election tomorrow.

A PARTY QUESTION.
Albuquerque Daily Journal (Rep.)
A meeting of the Republican central committee of New Mexico is to be held in the city of Santa Fe on Friday, the 10th inst., for the consideration, as we are told, of important questions now pending, and of great interest to the people and the Republican party.

In this connection the Morning Journal desires to call attention to a matter which it believes to be of more importance to the Territory, and especially to the Republican party, than any of those which the chairman likely had in mind when calling the meeting, and that is the necessity which circumstances have recently forced upon us of taking some positive measures as a party, to relieve ourselves as far as may be in our power to do so, of the unutterable disgrace in the eyes of the whole country, of being represented in congress by our present delegate elect.

It would be idle to indulge in imputations or recriminations about the responsibility for this man's election. It is better for us to acknowledge frankly that he worked the party, just as he worked the dead cashier of the Enterprise bank, and while the Republican party of the Territory cannot wipe out the whole account with a pistol bullet, it can mitigate to a great extent the disgrace it has brought upon itself and New Mexico, and win the respect of the American people, by a resolution of the central committee asking him to resign, and in case of his failing to do so, asking congress to refuse to admit him.

One Stove Heats the Bank.
Now that cold weather is coming on it will be interesting to know what stoves will do when put to the test. The Citizens' National Bank is heated by one stove, and the building is always comfortable, although during banking hours the doors are almost constantly being opened and closed. The stove is one of the smallest sizes of the Cole's Hot Blast make. It was put there last winter by the Ullery Furniture Company, and during the coldest weather last winter, gave entire satisfaction. Always before that the bank had a large, unsightly stove that, in spite of its size, hardly gave satisfaction. This is a good test of the merit of stoves.

Takes Boy to Reform School.
Deputy U. S. Marshal W. R. Forbes left this morning for Golden City, Colo., taking with him Olin Nokes, the boy who pleaded guilty to robbing the lock boxes at the Roswell postoffice. The boy is to be placed in the reform school at Golden to serve a sentence of three years at hard labor.

New Teacher at Dexter.
Miss Grace Butler has been forced to resign her position as teacher of the primary department of the Dexter schools on account of the sickness of her mother and sister, and Miss Linda Peterson, a graduate of the Roswell high school, will fill her place. Miss Peterson is a bright and scholarly young woman and will no doubt make a good teacher.

To Drill East of Pecos.
Artesia Advocate.
The Wagner drill, which has been operating near Roswell, has arrived and set up for drilling on the land of Mr. Shawver, across the Pecos river, directly east of Artesia. This will be the first well put down east of the river in the lower valley. If successful, several more wells will be drilled.

RUSSIAN SITUATION.

Papers Appeal for Confidence.—More Quiet in Provinces.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The Official Messenger today prints a strongly worded appeal for confidence. It bears Count Witte's ear-marks. It hints strongly that the empire is threatened with dismemberment unless the people rally to its support, and draws attention to the different characters of representations with which the government is being besieged to quell the disorders in the country, some of them complaining of the zeal of the troops and others of their inaction, some asking for military protection and others for the entire removal of soldiers.

No Action to Help the Jews.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt has decided that no action can be taken by this government at present which will be of any benefit to the Jews of Russia.

Some Satisfied, Others Quiet.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 6.—The imperial manifesto, meeting most of the demands of the Finns, arrived here late last night. The constitutionalists are satisfied, and the Socialists who threatened to make demonstrations, have thus far been quiet.

.....
Troops Charge With Bayonets.

Tomsk, Siberia, Nov. 6.—Troops were forced to charge with bayonets against a mob engaged in pillaging Jewish houses. A number were killed and many wounded. The city is half sacked.

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS.

Several Persons Get Hurt by Automobile Wrecks.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—In an unprecedented series of automobile accidents in Los Angeles during the past twenty-four hours, one person was killed, one perhaps fatally injured, and six others more or less seriously hurt. Mrs. H. T. Austin was instantly killed, and Miss Edith Polley had her skull fractured, while two others were injured by their machine stalling on the street car track in front of a rapidly moving car. Two other persons were run down by an automobile while driving and their horse killed. The other two were hit by an automobile. In addition there was a collision between two automobiles which injured several, who however, proceeded to their homes before their names were ascertained.

SANTA FE CENTRAL STOCK IS MISSING.

Receiver of Enterprise Bank Unable to Find Securities.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—Eighty thousand dollars worth of the stock of the Santa Fe Central railroad, of which the late Cashier Clark, of the Enterprise National Bank, was treasurer, are reported to be missing. Receiver Cunningham, of the defunct bank has not been able to find them.

TRAIN WRECKED BY DYNAMITE.

Engine Damaged Considerably, But No Person Reported Hurt.
Salinas, Cal., Nov. 6.—(Bulletin) .. Overland Limited train No. 9 coming west was wrecked today between Santa Margarita and San Luis Obispo, by the explosion of a package of dynamite lying on the track. The engine was damaged considerably, but so far as known, no one was injured.

DESPERATE CONDITION OF POOR IN LONDON.

Fearing That Bloodshed Will Occur Unless Something is Speedily Done for Relief.

London, Nov. 6.—The desperate condition of the poor in London was brought to the notice of Premier Balfour today by a remarkable deputation of wives and other women relatives of the unemployed, who did not hesitate to tell the Premier that unless something is speedily done to lessen their sufferings there will be bloodshed. "Don't forget that hungry men are desperate men," said one speaker. Enormous crowds of women from all parts of London marched through the streets, headed by the deputation which Premier Balfour received at the office of the local government board. The "Marseillaise" was heard as the procession advanced, perhaps the first time it was ever heard under such circumstances in London.

ROBBED WHILE HE SLEPT.

Roswell Man Has Bad Luck While on a Trip in South Dakota.

J. P. Angell returned last night from a trip to South Dakota, where he went a few weeks ago with a shipment of cattle. While at Brennan, S. D., he had the misfortune to be robbed. One night, while he was asleep in a rooming house, a robber entered his room and took his trousers from under his pillow, while he slept, and stole $38.50 and a watch from the pockets, then stole his overcoat before leaving the place. Mr. Angell considers the trip an expensive one.

STATE TREASURER AND NEWSPAPER MAN FIGHT.

Exciting Incident in Elks' Club Room at Topeka, Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 6.—In regard to the Kelley-MacLennon incident in the Elks' club rooms Sunday, Frank P. MacLennon, editor of the Topeka Daily Journal, gave out a statement today in which he said that while he was waiting to be shaved at the Club, Kelley approached him and used abusive language, also claiming that MacLennon had been roasting him (Kelley) in his paper. Then Kelley struck a glancing blow on MacLennon's neck when MacLennon said, "I have some regard for the proprietors of his Club if you have it." Kelley muttered something about what he would do at another time. A half dozen people gathered around the men and one of the State Journal's reporters (MacLennon's paper) shoved Kelley to one side and the incident ended. Kelley is state treasurer.

STOVE TROUBLES

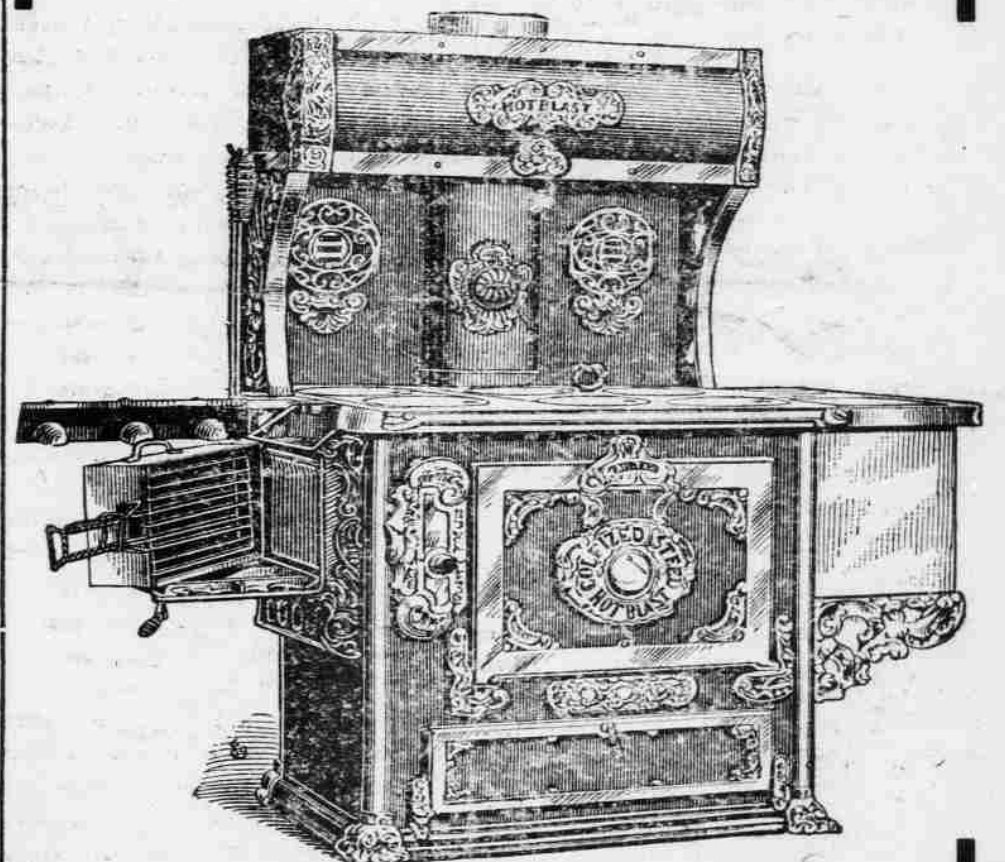

House keepers know the difficulties with ordinary stoves such as dealers handle, ovens are too hot or not hot enough, and the fuel required is a great deal more than needed to furnish the heat necessary for baking, boiling, etc. Then, also, there are troubles in draughts and working of parts.

Cole's Hot Blast Ranges and Heaters are constructed with these stove troubles in the designer's mind. He kept them there instead of putting them into the stove, as in all other makes.

A MATTER OF PUBLIC INTEREST.

A teacher in the Roswell public schools said to the editor of The Record Saturday: "The people of Roswell do not seem to take any interest whatever in their schools, except to criticize and find fault with the teachers once in a while when some boy gets a whipping. The people ought to stand by the teachers and encourage them in the enforcement of discipline, as well as visit the schools and show an active interest in their work."

Further, the teacher called our attention to the fact that instead of serving notice on Prof. Carroon in the complaint against him for unduly punishing a pupil, an officer was rushed to the school house during the session of school and the teacher placed under arrest and taken away from his classes, as though it were a murder case and he might make an attempt to escape. Then when the case came up for trial the prosecution asked for more time, which was granted and the case postponed until Monday, thus breaking into another school day and greatly interfering with the work of the schools. The justice, we are informed, frankly stated that he did not consider it necessary to consult the convenience of the schools. The justice may be warranted by the law for disregarding interference with a public institution of much greater importance than his own petty office—but the spirit alleged to have been displayed by him was discourteous, not only to the defendant, but to other teachers present as witnesses, who are compelled to leave their classes again to testify in this case.

As to the statement of the teacher in regard to the people of Roswell taking too little interest in the welfare of their schools, isn't there just a little too much truth in this. We make some big talk once in awhile about getting other educational institutions, and brag in print of the ones we have—but do we take a practical every day vital interest in promoting the best interests of the public schools, or even in the proud possession of the New Mexico Military Institute? Very few towns the size of Roswell would have allowed their public schools to suffer such an experience as they had last spring in being closed for lack of funds. The Military Institute also deserves earnest and united support, and five or ten thousand dollars secured for increasing the capacity of the Institute would be of more benefit to Roswell than twenty thousand dollars spent in the effort to establish a new school of any kind. The schools are absolutely the most important interest of any community—the very foundation of the American system of free government—and the teachers are performing a service to us upon which the future of our children depends. Some of us are the parents of pretty "tough" boys—and having only one or two to contend with, we are often tempted to whip them harder than we should. Then how much more trying must it be for a teacher to handle a dozen or half a hundred of them. The writer feels himself in position to say that we should stand by the teachers in the matter of administering reasonable punishment, and not fly off the handle until we know something of the circumstances and the provocation. It was our own boy who was knocked, pushed or "kicked" partly down stairs at the Central building last winter for getting out of the line of march. We were pretty warm at the time, but did not make any complaint, and were finally convinced that the boy had exaggerated or that his fall was partly accidental. We are informed that Prof. Carroon is one of the best instructors in the schools, and he should not be condemned off-hand for a little outbreak of temper. At least there is no call for upsetting the whole school while inquiring into the merits of the case.

WHAT SUGAR BEET RAISING DOES FOR WORTHLESS LAND.

George Carpenter, Formerly of El Paso, Declares There is No Reason Why, With Adequate Irrigation, the New Mexico Valleys Should Not Duplicate the Success of Colorado. From El Paso Herald, Nov. 1.

There is no reason why the triumphant advance of the sugar beet in Colorado should not be duplicated in New Mexico and Texas.

So says George Carpenter, formerly of this city, who is making a short stay in El Paso. Mr. Carpenter joined the ranks of the sugar beet growers in Colorado five years ago, when the industry was in its infancy and he was hooted as a madcap gardener. Since that time the industry has grown in proportions until those who jeered at him as a freak have become enthusiastic converts.

In place of a single sugar beet factory, which seemed in danger of failing for lack of sufficient raw material for the production of sugar, there are six enormous factories in Larimer county where he lives. One plant is valued at upward of two million dollars, and others are but little below that figure.

The success of the sugar beet movement has been phenomenal, Mr. Carpenter says. The railroads are taxed to handle the product of the farms, and the profits are ample for all those who are connected with the industry, whether in the culture of the sugar beet or in the reduction of the saccharine juices of the plant to sugar.

Worthless Land Used.

The lands which have been employed for the culture of the sugar beet were rejected as practically worthless by those farmers who came before the sugar beet era. The land was alkali, of a strong seepage nature which rendered it unfit for most purposes. Potato raising had been the one great industry theretofore. The land was pronounced unfit for the cultivation of the tubers which have made Colorado famous, and therefore so the agriculturists declared, it was altogether worthless.

When Mr. Carpenter first planted beets on a few acres of this class of ground, he had hardly a dozen companions in his seemingly foolhardy venture.

A representative of the sugar mill had begged him to plant a few acres in beets, declaring that the return would justify his action. The representative of the company was a good talker. He had to be. Otherwise he probably would not have enlisted the aid of Carpenter and his few associates. His words, however, were alluring, and he had the desired effect on the growers.

Mr. Carpenter admits that for a time he feared that he had bought a gold brick. He was ready to sell out at a low figure all the prospects of his beet crop. He was practically convinced that the profit had been misrepresented.

Scoff at the Beet.

Beet raising was a new departure after growing alfalfa or potatoes. Beet growing demanded too great a quantity of labor to appeal to growers who had become wonted to modern mechanical methods. They found that leaning over a row of beets with a hand cultivating tool was too much like picking posies in a green house, to rank, to their minds, with actual farming. Consequently they derided the "gardeners."

Mr. Carpenter admits that he felt that his critics might be in the right, but that he pulled a straight face, stuck bravely to his knitting, and showed a trick or two to the men who had saved their choice roasts for him. He was able to place them on the griddle in turn, until they renounced their former views and came out as open advocates of sugar beet culture.

Small Acreage Needed.

Mr. Carpenter is located on a ranch some little distance from Ft. Collins, Colo. He owns a quarter section of land. Only a comparatively small portion of this land is devoted to beets. The remainder is in hay and other products. Mr. Carpenter finds—as do the other growers of that district—that scientific nurture of the ground calls for a combination of industries. Consequently, with sugar beet growing are combined the growing of hay and the feeding of sheep. The hay is partly utilized in feeding the sheep. The sheep bring a neat figure in the Chicago or Omaha markets, and furnish manure which is of prime importance in preparing the ground for raising sugar beets.

"Beet culture has done wonders for Colorado," declared Mr. Carpenter.

Return is Certain.

"The growers are paid five dollars a ton for their beets, under a contract made with the sugar factories at the beginning of the season. There is no room for doubt as to the price to be paid for the beets. That is named in a hard and fast contract before ever the seed is planted, and the returns are sure.

"In our immediate district in Larimer county not less than 400,000 tons of sugar beets will probably be marketed this season. At $5 a ton that means a neat $2,000,000 to be distributed among the growers—not a bad sum. There are six factories which handle this output. Larimer county is divided, in a general way, into districts, each of which sends its product to a single mill. All of the mills are under the control of the sugar trust.

"The business has grown to such proportions that we have difficulty in securing men to do the work. This year I had a crew of Mexicans from El Paso who did my hand labor. The industry is bringing in much business. People are coming to the district rapidly, and much capital is being invested.

"Five years ago I was induced to plant a single acre in sugar beets. There were about a dozen others who went into it at the same time. We all suspected that we had been duped but we kept a stiff upper lip, and told ourselves that we would come out all right at the end of the season—albeit we only half believed it.

"The neighbors took a lot of pleasure in roasting me.

"Well, George," they'd say, "how do you like your gardening?"

"The beets need much the same care as onions, and they called it gardening instead of farming. We put in a small acreage and we were obliged to give it a good deal of care.

Incredulous are Converts.

"Well, I made some money that year, and the example seemed to have a good effect on the others. Some of the very people who were loudest in laughing at me, planted 50 and 60 acres within a few years. I have 21 acres under cultivation this year, and hope to have more next year.

"The beet is an extremely hardy plant, and the loss from crop failures is practically nothing. We have many hail storms in our part of Colorado, but the beets weather them finely. The beets are a far more reliable crop than potatoes. They need less water and the return is more sure. The land that I used had been found to be useless for potatoes. It was strongly alkali and was of a seepage nature.

"The beet is economically utilized. There is no waste. The pulp, even, is disposed of. We find that sheep feeding is profitable.

Mr. Carpenter waxed enthusiastic as he told of the advantages to be gained from the sugar beet culture, and he urged that persons who visited that portion of Colorado where the sugar beet is under cultivation should investigate the industry carefully before leaving.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From the Napier New Zealand Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for colds, coughs, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Man's Unreasonableness. But is often as great as a woman's. But Thomas S. Austin, Manager of the "Republican" of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. Instead he says, "We concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her house hold duties." Guaranteed by Roswell Drug and Jewelry Co. Price 50 cents.
