CITY COUNCIL

A MEETING THAT WAS FULL OF GINGER FROM START TO FINISH.

MONEY TOPICS

The Flood Has Caused the City Council to Have Many Busy Days.—The Report of the Condemnation Committee.—What Was Said and Done in Detail.—The Transfer Question.

The city fathers met last night in adjourned session from Tuesday night, with the following aldermen in attendance: Ogle, Parsons, Church, Brooks, Johnson, Wyllys, and when the meeting was about half over Alderman Kinsinger put in his appearance. Mayor Hinkle was present and the meeting was an important one. Much business was disposed of.

The report of the committee which was appointed Tuesday night to report on the debris from the flood and damaged buildings and in regard to condemnation of same, made their report, and the following buildings were condemned and ordered removed:

The Report.

To the Mayor and Council of the City of Roswell, New Mexico.

Your Committee appointed for the purpose of viewing and inspecting the buildings in the city of Roswell that were damaged by the recent high waters, and reporting on them, respectfully report: That we have inspected all buildings known or reported to us as being in a dangerous condition, and we recommend that the following be condemned and ordered down:

Adobe dwelling owned by E. A. Cahoon, Thurber's Addition.

Adobe dwelling owned by Mrs. J. P. Dyer, Thurber's Addition.

Adobe dwelling owned by R. F. Barnett, Thurber's Addition.

Roswell Opera House, owned by Fox, Thurber's Addition.

Olson Bakery building, Thurber's Addition, owned by A. E. Olson.

Racket store, in Thurber's Addition, owned by C. W. Haynes.

The following damaged buildings are in the original townsite:

Adobe dwelling owned by E. M. Smith.

Adobe building owned by the heirs of H. Gaullier.

Old Central Hotel kitchen.

Warehouse, J. Calisher owner. It is recommended that this building be torn down at once, as it is in a very dangerous condition and is liable to fall at any moment without warning.

M. D. Minter residence.

W. M. Ferguson residence in the rear of Joyce-Fruit Co.

The adobe boarding house owned by Mrs. Mehl.

Residence owned by Judge J. T. Evans.

The Frank Ross building, occupied by the Palace saloon.

The Ray Bros. building, formerly occupied by the U. S. Meat Market.

Frank Easton building, west of the E. M. Smith livery building.

This last building is a large one and is in very dangerous condition.

In addition to this the walls between the Wells-Fargo Express office and Gamble & Kirby's Bottling Works should be taken down and rebuilt of stone or brick.

J. P. CHURCH,
R. M. PARSONS,
GEO. L. WYLLYS,
Committee.

I fully concur in the above report.
LUCIUS DILLS,
City Engineer.

The committee recommended that the following be given an opportunity to repair their buildings:

Ray Bros., C. W. Haynes, A. E. Olson, and Frank Ross.

This committee was composed of Messrs. Wyllys, Church and Parsons, and they made their report after a thorough investigation and in connection with the recommendations of City Engineer Dills. (The ordinance in connection with the investigation of the committee was published in Tuesday's Record.)

The committee recommended that the Ray building, the old U. S. Meat Market, be repaired, as they found that contractors had made investigation and found that it would not be necessary to tear the building down, as they could brace it up and make it substantial by putting in a concrete foundation. The committee also recommended that the Olson Bakery building on South Main could also be repaired and the Haynes building in the same block. This building was occupied by a Racket store. The committee also investigated the Ross building which is occupied by the Palace saloon and made recommendation that it could be repaired and ordered that the work should commence at once, as it is a fire-trap at present. It was distinctly understood that all repairs on the buildings mentioned should come under and strictly comply with the fire ordinance.

There was quite an animated discussion in regard to Judge Evans' residence (which is now nearly in ruins). The committee recommended that it be torn down at once, as it was dangerous and liable to fall at any moment. Judge Evans had sent in a verbal statement asking to have time as he was of the opinion that he could save the roof on the building by building up to it. The committee had reported this building in the list of those condemned, and Alderman Parsons was of the opinion that the report of the committee should be accepted. There was further argument that Judge Evans be at least given an opportunity to see whether or not he could repair it before it was ordered down. Mr. Wyllys who was also a member of the committee that made the report on the condemnation of buildings, also was of the opinion that Judge Evans should at least be given an opportunity to repair the house and save the roof. Dr. Kinsinger declared that Judge Evans should be given an opportunity to save his house if possible. Mr. Parsons after a lengthy talk made a motion that the report of the committee be rejected. He did not get a second to his motion. Mr. Parsons declared that the Council was letting sympathy get away with judgment in the matter, as the building was dangerous. Mr. Wyllys replied in characteristic manner: "I don't deny it, neighbor. I would not go near the house for any amount of money, but I believe in giving Judge Evans a show to repair the house if it is possible to do so." Finally after much wrangling, the report of the committee was accepted by a unanimous vote.

A letter from City Physician W. W. Phillips was read and he urged that the debris from the flood be removed as it was a menace to the public health. He also recommended that lime be distributed freely in the many places where the water had settled and was impossible to drain. He recommended that the water be drained wherever possible from under the houses where it had settled and lime be freely used where it was possible to get it under the houses.

At this point Dr. Kinsinger arose and said that he had gone through the flood here in 1901 and the flood at Carlsbad, and that both of the floods were followed by a very healthy winter. He gave as the cause that all dangerous matter had been washed away and only vegetable matter was left after the flood. He said that of course in many places there was a stench, but all that was necessary was to use plenty of lime and the stench would rapidly disappear and the city would be in a more healthy state than before the overflow, as the animal matter which was dangerous had been washed away.

The Marshal was instructed by the Mayor to take a trip over the town and investigate all places where water was standing and order the owners to use lime. Alderman Parsons was of the opinion that the city should also use lime in the alleys and streets as they had ordered the property owners to do so.

Mayor Hinkle brought up the point that many of the transfer men had been charging outrageous prices for hauling passengers and for transfers of various kinds since the floods and were intimidating the men who did not have licenses. There was an animated discussion on this subject, and it resulted in the unanimous consent of the Council to remove all licenses on all forms of transportation until further notice, which will be at least until the next quarter. This includes everything on wheels in the passenger and transfer line of every description, wagons for gravel hauling, etc., even to balloons and airships. If you have an old "one hoss shay" get it out and you will not be taxed one cent until further notice. Mayor Hinkle wanted particular stress put upon this matter, as he is determined to break up the graft that has been practiced in this line in the past few days. Several members of the Council told of how they had been imposed upon by the draymen. One of the main reasons for this action was to get gravel into the city and get it in quick.

Mr. Brooks brought the attention of the Council to the fact that a great amount of timber from the crossings was mysteriously disappearing. True he said that this wood was not of much value, but it likely could be used on crossings where the roads were seldom travelled, and if it could not be used for this purpose it might be sold for fire wood, and if money was coming from it for any use the money should come to the city treasury. At this point City Engineer Dills explained that much of the wood from the old crossings was taken to the city lot in the rear of the Lea marble yard, and that before a new assignment of wood reached there the previous lot disappeared.

Mr. Brooks said he wanted it understood that he had nothing personal against Street Commissioner Pinson, but he did not want the sale of discarded timber to come to anyone except the treasury of the city of Roswell.

City Marshal Rascoe said that he had not the least bit of feeling toward the street commissioner, but felt that he was simply doing his duty in reporting what he knew in regard to the matter. He said that Mr. Underwood had told him that Mr. Pinson had disposed of several loads of wood from the old crossings to Messrs. Wright and Cravens, and the wood was sold to Mr. Cravens at $3 per load in payment of a board bill, also that Mr. Pinson was using some of the wood on his place. Mr. Rascoe wished it understood that he was merely doing his duty in reporting the matter as it had been reported to him.

Mayor Hinkle started to refer the matter to the streets and alleys committee, but there was a storm of protest from Alderman Johnson who is a member of this committee. Mr. Parsons made himself heard on this subject and there was a stormy time for a few minutes. Alderman Johnson absolutely refused to serve on the committee, Mr. Parsons gratuitously offered to serve as a committee of one, but the Mayor appointed the following committee to look into the matter: Parsons, Wyllys and Church.

Alderman Church suggested that if there was a mysterious disappearance of wood from the city yards there should be a bull-dog kept on hand to watch the wood pile. The committee was instructed to root out the nigger from the wood pile and report at the next meeting.

Mayor Hinkle resented that his office and the office of the City Clerk should be made the depository of the city tools and pointed to numberless shovels and spades piled up in the corner of the room. It was suggested that a tool box be made. After some discussion it was decided to build a house back of the Lea marble yard for the city tools etc. The house will be about 16x12 and will be built of sheet iron. Alderman Parsons having indicated that he was willing to serve on committees, the Mayor appointed him to serve on the building committee for the new "city hall." The other members of the committee were Wyllys and Church, the same committee that is to look after the wood pile.

Alderman Parsons reported that the engine boiler in the fire house was in water, and suggested that the Fire Chief have a concrete floor put in to run off the water. The Mayor said that the matter had also been reported to him and he was of the same opinion as Mr. Parsons. It was agreed that the floor be put in, and thought that it could be done at a cost of about six dollars.

Alderman Brooks brought up the question of the band instruments and after much discussion the City Attorney was instructed by the Mayor to order that the instruments be replevined at once and have the legal question as to who are the rightful owners of the instruments tested in court. Dr. Kinsinger was of the opinion that the instruments were the property of the city and that many reputable citizens would testify that they had contributed to buy the instruments.

The writ of replevin will be issued today.

As a conclusion to the interesting meeting of the evening it was mentioned that the carrier boys of The Record office had been seen riding on the walks in delivering the Daily Record. Mayor Hinkle spoke up and said that he had given H. F. M. Bear, the editor of The Record permission for the carrier boys to deliver the paper where it was impossible to ride on the streets the right way on the sidewalks to get the paper to the homes of the citizens on time, as he was of the opinion that this was the custom in many of the eastern cities (and it is). It seemed for awhile that The Record would be given the permission as promised by the Mayor, and several of the councilmen were in favor of granting the request and making the carriers show their colors by wearing a Record badge. Alderman Ogle was strictly opposed to the action of the council and expressed himself in such thunderous tones that when the question was put to a vote all coincided with him and voted the Record carriers off the walks. Some of the aldermen did not seem to vote at all, but Ogle's move was a success and The Record representative was instructed to tell all the carrier boys to get off the walks with their bicycles in all kinds of weather. It was suggested that when they got on the side streets no one would see them and they could ride the sidewalks to their hearts' content, but still there is danger of falling into the hands of Justice Peacock and to mention Record there is surely a fine coming.

Adjourned.

OPEN COLUMN.

(Communicated.)

Editor Roswell Daily Record:—In your issue of the 6th inst. I note your comments on the disposition of the Hondo flood water, saying that residents of South Roswell for the most part favored its being turned into North Spring River, and the North Spring River residents preferred its remaining where it was and being there controlled. As to the feasibility of the first proposition let us see. Is it not a fact that in high waters North Spring River has all the water it is able to take care of. At the overflow of three years ago at the entrance of 7th street to Missouri avenue it lacked only about one foot of coming over, and at 6th street about one and one-half feet. Taking into consideration the course of the channel above the Haynes dam which points to 6th street, add the flood waters of the Hondo to that of North Spring River and instead of our troubles being lessened they are doubled, as in such high waters it would enter the town from 6th and 7th streets and submerge all of North Roswell, and the business portion even more than now. This I believe anyone acquainted with the situation will agree with me, and should at once and for all time settle the question of so disposing of the Hondo flood waters, as it will not prevent these overflows but to the contrary it will increase their ravages.

Therefore residents of North Roswell in justice to themselves and for the best interests of the town at large raise their voices against such a proposition. But let Roswell as a whole make a thorough investigation of the affair and take it in hand and act as is best to dispose of it. This I believe from observation will be accomplished by straightening the bed of the Hondo and giving a channel of 200 feet and embankments on both sides of say 12 or 15 feet high and set them in Bermuda grass to prevent them washing away, and the flood water will be controlled and Roswell freed of all danger of an overflow. This may and will not doubt cost considerable money, but if anything is done will it not be best to do it so it will remain and be of lasting benefit, for money spent on patch work is thrown away. Besides all this the dirty waters of the Hondo will destroy the finny inhabitants of North Spring River of which we are loth to part with, and we cordially invite the South Roswell residents to join us in a fish fry at which we can easily solve the problem.

NO WESTERN UNION WIRE.

Company Again Refuses to Forward Press Dispatches To-Day.

The railroad wire out of Roswell was down this morning, and the Western Union seems to have made no effort to get its wire in working order. The Company again refused to furnish press dispatches to The Record today.

The Record is more than ever becoming convinced that government ownership of the public utilities would be for the general good.

THE TRAINS.

Information Secured This Afternoon at the Depot From the Agent.

A Record reporter saw Assistant Station Agent Reed at the depot this afternoon at three o'clock, and he said that there would be no south bound train this afternoon. He said the train would leave the river at four o'clock and would reach the city about five o'clock local time and would not go any farther south than Roswell this afternoon. A train went south this morning at 9:30 local time, and an attempt will be made to transfer passengers and mail at Carlsbad over the Pecos. About one dozen through passengers left on the morning train besides the Tallmadge crowd who will stop off at Dexter. Mr. Reed could not say positively, but stated that probably there would be a south bound train in the morning. He could not indicate the hour.

ALBUQUERQUE ALL RIGHT.

The Fair Will be Pulled Off Just as Advertised.—Rumors Were Wild.

L. K. McGaffey received a message from Albuquerque this morning saying that the town was all right and but little damaged by the flood. More than that the fair would be pulled off just as advertised.

THE HONDO STONE MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

An Industry That in the Future is to Be One of the Big Things of Roswell.

The article published in another column is taken from "The Southern Industrial and Lumber Review," published at Houston, Texas. There is little doubt but that cement is to be the great building material of the future. Its uses are many, but as a building material it is without a peer. The Hondo Stone Manufacturing Co., that has just recently been established in Roswell is turning out a stone that is already in great demand. As the people of the Valley become better acquainted with the great advantage of using this stone not only in business houses but residences, the sale for it which is already good will be enormous. The men who are interested in this Company are fortunate in getting in on the ground floor early.

Month by month we will see more buildings built of this stone, and it will doubtless be only a short time until its merits will be generally recognized. The many uses it may be put to is well considered in the article referred to above.

Game Postponed.

The game between the Doctors and the combination team of farmers, sheepmen and cattlemen has been postponed until one night next week, the exact date of which will be announced later.

New Coked Hat Balls.

The new balls that were ordered some time ago by express for the Bowling Alley have finally arrived in perfect condition after being delayed on account of the washout. The bowlers say they are nice. You can't keep from hitting the pins. It is a pleasure to roll them.

HONEY, HONEY, HONEY.

In quart jars, each, 25c; in half gallon jars, each, 50c. Everyone can keep sweet at these prices and there is nothing any purer or sweeter. Give us a call.—Roswell Produce & Seed Co.

The Record is very much behind on Territorial news. Yesterday there drifted into the office in a very damp condition a copy of the Las Vegas Optic of September 29th, and it was read with avidity.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw or tetanus is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Receives Recognition at Last.

For the first time in history the agricultural interests have received due recognition at a World's Fair, and at St. Louis the largest building on the grounds is devoted to this great foundation of all prosperity—prosperity. Nearly twenty acres are covered by this one building containing every conceivable exhibit of farm products, the methods by which the same are produced, the latest facilities for handling them afterwards—in fact to visit this building is the same as taking a post graduate course in farming.

Then there is Machinery Hall, a mighty structure covering acres, containing every known implement, ancient and modern.

Many have already gone home from this greatest of Expositions with ideas that will help them better their condition many times.

You ought to go. Your children ought to go. Better than years of school will it be for them, for the whole world has placed its achievements in array for their inspection. Your wife should go. She has worked hard with you for all these years, and earned a change. She will never get through thanking you for the opportunity you provide her of seeing perhaps the last World's Fair for many years.

The rates are low. It don't take long to go. See our display advertisement in another column. The Rock Island is the favorite route. Write to

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

Floods Have No Effect on the Irrigation Business.

The Tallmadge Southwestern Land Co. arrived in the city this morning with a special train load of prospectors and homeseekers from the northwestern states. This was the first train that had come over the Canadian. They got over by mule train and crossed the Pecos in the same way. The train was in charge of C. L. Tallmadge, and all on board congratulated him on his able management in getting his passengers through the flood. He is a natural born hustler and it requires a little more than water and washed out bridges to stop him in the conduct of his immigration business. The passengers were entertained this morning at the Grad Central for breakfast and then went south on a special train to inspect the lands near Dexter.

Cement and its Uses.

Visionary as may appear the most extravagant views as to the future place cement and its product, manufactured stone, are to occupy in the building world, the most sanguine of these expectations is likely to be realized, if we accept the advancement of the past decade as a standard of progress. The trade in cement in this country alone reached something over $30,000,000 last year, and its adaptability as a building component is but in its infancy. According to a report on the cement industry in the United States for 1903, issued by the United States Geological Survey, the total production of Portland, mineral rock and slag or Pozzuolana cements amounted to 28,450,140 barrels, an increase of 2,700,636 barrels over the preceding year. Nearly 21,000,000 of this amount was Portland, over 7,000,000 natural rock and a little over half a million barrels of slag. Scientific experiment is being constantly made to bring this material to a higher degree of perfection and to render it efficient for the numerous possibilities which present experience suggests for its use. Reinforced and strengthened by steel rods, cement has caused something of a revolution in building. By its use, in this form, the architect and the engineer have new problems presented, the mastery of which is expected to produce radical changes in the buildings of the future. Prejudice against this innovation is rapidly declining and evidences of the utility of steel reinforced concrete are shown in the numerous structures which are completed or are in course of erection. In an age like the present, when electricity forms an important element in modern buildings, concrete minimizes the danger from fire from imperfect insulation or other causes and the material itself being fireproof and susceptible of withstanding intense heat, suggests itself as thoroughly safe and satisfactory. But, perhaps the most important of the illustrations of the adaptability of cement is its use in the manufacture of artificial stone. It has passed beyond the experimental stage, the difficulties of accomplishment having been overcome and defeat converted into a triumph of industrial art. Factories are being established for the manufacture of artificial stone in this country and in Europe, and its demonstrable utility is overcoming prejudice and doubt. Its susceptibility to be moulded in any form enables it to meet the demand for plain or ornamental work as the architectural plans demand, either for exterior construction or interior finish. So perfect is the imitation of the quarried and dressed article that the likeness of the counterfeit to the real article baffles experts. In its texture, art has copied nature, and produced a substance superior in endurance in withstanding the effects of fire, water or frost. The use of manufactured stone will continue to increase for these reasons: It is far cheaper than natural stone; it may be produced in any form even to the most ornate mouldings; it hardens with age, consequently is more durable; it is unaffected by changes of temperature and the action of frost or corrosion; it is absolutely fireproof and will withstand any degree of heat, which is itself a reason why it is to be preferred in the construction of fire-proof buildings, bridges, sea walls and other uses in which cement may be advantageously employed.—Southern Industrial and Lumber Review.
