BIG BANK ON VERGE OF FAILURE

Affairs of Mercantile National in Bad Tangle

DOESN'T WANT PRESIDENCY

Comptroller of the Currency Turns Down Invitation to Assume Control.

New York, Oct. 19.—A most perplexing situation is being faced by bankers and financiers who are trying to straighten out the affairs of the Mercantile National Bank and divorce it completely from its association with F. Augustus Heinze, its former president.

With the resignation of its entire board of directors in the Clearing House that institution appeared to control the situation and was committed to the task of putting the bank on a firm footing. For this purpose nine Clearing House banks had promised to contribute $200,000 each to tide the Mercantile National Bank over any distress it might encounter as a result of the suspension of Otto Heinze and Company. It is F. Augustus Heinze's desire to re-establish that firm.

The debit balance of the Mercantile Bank to the Clearing House this morning was one million one hundred thousand dollars.

Stocks declined in the final dealings today, closing weak and at the lowest point of the day in most of the active stocks. The closing quotations on United Copper Common on the curb were 7-8 bid, 9-1-4 asked.

Heinze Calls it Spite Work.

F. Augustus Heinze said today: "I still hold a controlling interest in the Mercantile National bank. I have not parted with a share of my Mercantile stock. I would like to say this about the Clearing House committee and that is they were asked to come into our bank and make a thorough examination. They found it perfectly solvent and said so. Later they added that gratuitous blow about the surplus impairment. You know why they did that. It was for nothing more or less than to induce our depositors to withdraw their accounts. A fine game. They were endeavoring to attract deposits to their own banks."

While the prices of metal stocks declined today the losses were not sensational and the prices of railroad stocks were held better than had been expected.

Ridley Declines Presidency.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Comptroller of the Currency W. B. Ridley today declined the presidency of the Mercantile National Bank of New York.

HITCHCOCK ON TOUR OF WEST

First Assistant Postmaster General Investigating Salary Conditions of Postoffice Employees.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 19.—First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock is expected to visit Denver soon. Mr. Hitchcock is on a tour of the South and West to investigate the salary conditions among the clerks and carriers with the view of embodying this information in recommendations to be urged by his department. He is now in Nevada. Accompanying him as far as Salt Lake was Postoffice Inspector C. A. Macomic, who was formerly connected with the local inspector's office and was called to Washington as the result of the good work done by him in connection with the Lost Bullion case.

Mr. Macomic came on to Denver and remained until last evening. On his return East he stated that Mr. Hitchcock would in all probabilities stop off in Denver. He would have to pass through here anyway and the local postoffice officials say that his stopping off here is an assured fact.

JURY ACQUITS MAGILLS OF MURDER

Courts Instructs Verdict of Not Guilty—Judge Held State Did Not Prove Corpus-Delicti.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 19.—Acting under instructions of the court, the jury last night returned a verdict acquitting Frederick Magill and his wife, Fay, of the charge of murdering the first wife of Magill. Judge Cochran said the state had failed to prove corpus-delicti. The verdict was cheered by the crowd in the court room.

FEAR BALLOON HAS MET WITH MISHAP

Big Gas Bag Manned By McCoy and Chandler, Lost in Mountains of Virginia.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Lack of information today as to the whereabouts of the United States Signal Corps balloon manned by Aeronauts McCoy and Chandler, occasions a feeling here akin to apprehension. The last heard of the balloon here was that it was in West Virginia among the spurs of the western slope of the Allegheny mountains and still headed in an easterly direction. Most aeronauts hold to the view that McCoy and Chandler effected a landing in some remote point in the mountains.

Balloon Lands Safely.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The army balloon which started from St. Louis, Thursday evening landed at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon about three miles from Walton, Roane county, West Virginia, according to a dispatch received by the Signal Service today from Captain Chandler, who is with the balloon. The distance traveled was about 475 miles.

KIBBEY GOING TO SEE ROOSEVELT

Governor of Arizona to Confer With President on Statehood Matters.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 19.—Governor Joseph H. Kibbey, of Arizona, passed through this city yesterday afternoon, it is understood, en route from Phoenix to Vicksburg, Mississippi, where he will meet and have a conference with President Roosevelt on matters relative to Arizona and statehood and politics.

The governor carries with him a fine box of dates, grown on the capitol grounds, which will be presented with the compliments of all Arizona and as a sample of her achievements in a particular line of horticulture in which she excels.

Dates grown in the capitol grounds were distributed two years ago to the Congressmen when they visited Governor Kibbey at his office in Phoenix on their inspection tour of Arizona.

FINAL ROUND IN I. C. FIGHT NEAR

Indications Were That Vote on Directors Might Be Reached Late Today.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A vote on the directors may be reached late today in the meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad. The proxy committee last night had worked through letter "M" and today began with "S." The fact that the transfer books were ordered closed until next Tuesday caused many small stockholders to leave the city with the idea that no vote could be reached until then. Some executed proxies, but many did not and feverish missionary work was in progress on both sides to round up the voters today.

WARNS AMERICAN COTTON CROWERS

English Manufacturer Condemns Speculation

WILL CRIPPLE EXPORT TRADE

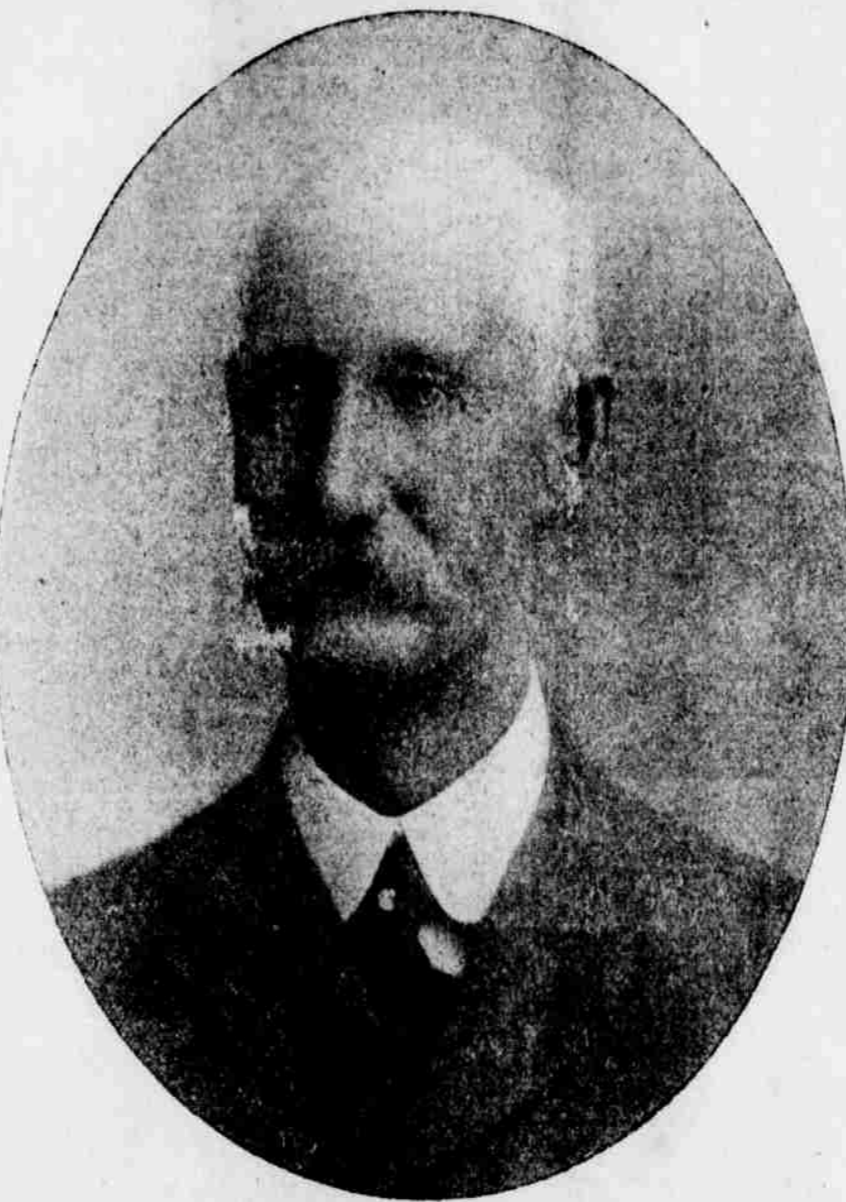

Continued High Prices May Force Other Countries to Develop Industry.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A warning to American growers of cotton that cotton gambling and attempts to maintain prices at an abnormally high level would ultimately result in the crippling of the country's cotton export trade, was sounded last night by C. W. Macara at a banquet given for 175 European cotton manufacturers.

Macara, who is the largest individual cotton manufacturer in the world and president of the English federation of cotton spinners, declared that the continued high price of cotton here would force England, France and other countries to develop the cotton growing industry in their colonies.

MADRIL CASE UP AGAIN NEXT FRIDAY.

Territorial district court of Santa Fe county adjourned last evening until next Tuesday, at the conclusion of taking of evidence in the case of the Territory versus Jose Leon Madrid. Arguments in the case have been set for hearing on Friday.

ABRAM NOTT PRATT, Grand Master of Free Masons of New Mexico.

Abram Nott Pratt was born in Essex, Connecticut. He received a public school education at his home town and graduated from Williams College in the class of 1871.

After graduation he turned his attention to educational matters for some years. His natural inclination to help where help was most needed caused him to take up the work of teaching the deaf, dumb and blind. He taught in institutions of this kind in Faribault, Minnesota and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In recognition of his success in this department of philanthropic education he was made principal of the Minnesota state institution for the Blind, which position he held with credit for some years. Like many other young men the wandering miterobe was in his brain and he started west. He spent several years as the manager of a big sugar plantation in the Hawaiian islands. After traveling extensively in this and other lands he came to the Pecos Valley in the fall of 1892, and engaged in the lumber business. Since that time he has been so closely identified with the development of Carlsbad and that portion of the valley that its history is his biography. He retired from the lumber business a few years ago and spent a year or more in rest and travel. He is now engaged in the hardware business in Carlsbad with W. A. Findlay, another New Mexico pioneer, and Mason.

Mr. Pratt is a militant Republican and down in the southeast corner of the territory with Texas on six sides that means something. He has always been actively engaged in the campaigns of his party and the few Republican victories gained in that Democratic stronghold have been largely the result of his shrewd and forceful management. He was elected county superintendent of schools although the office was a distinct loss to him in a business way. During his term he reorganized the schools of the county, increasing their number and efficiency and placing the system on a better financial basis. He has been interested in irrigation, having become familiar with its wonderful results during his residence in the Hawaiian islands. He was for some years a director in the Pecos Irrigation company and a member of the New Mexico Irrigation Commission, being the chairman of the board for some years. He was made a Mason by Eddy Lodge No. 21, A. F. and A. Masons of Carlsbad, in July 1895, a Royal Arch Mason by Signet Chapter No. 9, at Carlsbad, a Knights Templar by Rio Hondo Commandery at Roswell and a Shriner by Ballut Abyad at Albuquerque. He has been Master of Eddy Lodge, High Priest of Signet Chapter and was Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of the territory in 1905. He was elected Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Masons in New Mexico in 1903; Senior Grand Warden in 1904; Deputy Grand Master in 1905, and Grand Master in 1906.

His present position as head of the craft in this territory is largely due to his painstaking, fidelity and great ability in the discharge of every Masonic duty. In his local lodge he has been a tower of strength, guiding it with wise counsel and administering its affairs with rare ability. His genial personality and high character attracted to it the best men in the community. It was largely through his efforts, assisted by S. I. Roberts, then Master, that Eddy Lodge was enabled to erect the substantial and commodious temple in which next week's session of the Grand Lodge will be held.

TWO KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Manufacturing Plant Blows Up on Outskirts of New Hartford, Connecticut.

New Hartford, Conn., Oct. 19.—A machine used in manufacturing illuminating gas from petroleum in a small structure on the bank of the Farmington river, exploded today with terrific force. Thomas O'Connell, maker of the gas, and his assistant, Michael Donovan, were instantly killed.

The machine supplied gas to reserve from which the upper village of New Hartford was lighted.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS FUSE WITH POPULISTS.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 19.—Secretary of State Junkins today announced that fusion had been accomplished on nearly every candidate by the Democrats and Populists, which he surmounted all obstacles placed under the new primary law.

SECRETARY ROOT BACK IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Secretary of State Root, with his wife and daughter, arrived today from his visit to Mexico. The secretary was looking particularly well.

WANTS RECEIVER FOR STANDARD

Chicago Stockholder in Subsidiary Company Controlled By Oil Trust Files Application.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—George F. Harding of this city today filed a bill in the Superior Court asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the Corn Products company of New Jersey. Harding says in the bill that he is the owner of 500 shares of capital stock of the Corn Products company and its management is practically controlled by the Standard Oil Company.

The charge is made that the Standard Oil company, with certain individuals, conspired to wreck the Corn Products company, capitalized at eight million dollars and for this purpose formed a pool or trust unlawfully regulating and fixing and controlling the price of glue, grape sugar and corn starch. The suit is similar to the one filed in the Circuit Court May 4 by the Chicago Real Estate Loan and Trust company, which is now pending in the U. S. Circuit Court to which it was transferred by the defendant.

WISCONSIN MEN HELD FOR FRAUD

Prominent Milwaukee Residents Must Face Jury at Denver On Serious Charge.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 19.—Six prominent Milwaukee men charged with conspiracy to defraud the government out of valuable coal lands in Colorado, were yesterday held for trial at Denver, United States Commissioner Bloodgood having held that the government had made a prima facie case. The men thus implicated are:

Guy D. Goff, Charles F. Hunter, T. J. Perelles and J. M. Perelles, of the Wisconsin Coal Mining company, and Chauncey Jones and Eli S. Arnold of the Federal Coal and Iron company.

They were remanded to the custody of the sheriff here. Meanwhile the defendants secured writs of habeas corpus from Judge Quarles, in the federal court, which are returnable October 28, and will give the attorneys an opportunity to appeal from Commissioner Bloodgood's ruling, and also determined in the defendants' favor to have their trials in Milwaukee, if they where.

The commissioner discharged C. S. Carter, C. E. Canright, W. S. Johnson and H. D. Welghr, against whom indictments also had been returned.

GOLDEN COUPLE ARE MARRIED IN CAPITAL.

Miss Tereza Martinez and Frank Schmitz, both of whom are from Golden, a mining camp in southern Santa Fe county, came to this city to be married, and the ceremony was performed this morning at the church of Rev. Adrian Rabeyrolle, rector of the parish, officiated in the tying of the nuptial knot. The bride is only seventeen years of age, but her father gave his written permission to the marriage.

ARIZONA RIVERS ON RAMPAGE

Big Roosevelt Storage Dam Submerged

OTHER WORKS IN DANGER

Rains Continue and Further Damage is Feared—Railroads Also Suffer.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 19.—Several days and nights of frequent rains, some of them downpours, have placed the Salt river and its tributaries in the flood stage again.

Early this morning about 120,000 cubic feet of water poured into the river from Pinal creek, twenty miles above Roosevelt and submerged the big storage dam under construction there.

This afternoon another flood poured in from Tonto creek, a mile above the dam. Sixty miles below the Verde river began emptying its flood waters.

The Granite Reef diversion dam, a thousand feet long, under construction four miles below the North Verde river and twenty-five miles below Phoenix, will probably be submerged tonight when the Roosevelt flood waters join the Verde flood. The reclamation service at Granite Reef was busy last night removing machinery from the bed of the river.

HUGHES NOT OUT FOR PRESIDENCY

Governor of New York Puts Damper on Rumors

HIS AMBITIONS SATISFIED

Executive of Empire State Makes Brilliant Address at Dinner in His Honor.

New York, Oct. 19.—Governor Hughes last night made a declaration of his attitude toward the presidential nomination when in the course of an address at a dinner given in his honor by the Republican club he said:

"I do not seek any public office. I have not sought nor shall I seek directly or indirectly to influence the selection or the vote of any delegate to any convention, and with reference to the election of any delegate to any convention there will be no suggestion or thought of influence, protest or reprisal in the executive chamber."

It was at this same club that Mr. Hughes announced his acceptance of the gubernatorial nomination, and his speech last night was a review of his administration, particularly with reference to the legislation which had been accomplished for the state control of public service corporations and other important measures with whose creation and support he had been identified. Additional significance was given his speech by reason of the fact that he took occasion to refer to his position in regard to the fusion of the Republicans and the Independent league on the New York county ticket.

STEAMERS COLLIDE IN DENSE FOG

Water-Tight Compartments All That Prevented Another Maritime Horror in Puget Sound

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 19.—In a very dense fog, the Canadian Railway Pacific steamer Tartar, from Vancouver, bound for Hong Kong, collided with the steamer Charmer, of the same line, from Victoria for Vancouver. The collision occurred Friday off the Sandhead lights at the mouth of Frazer river, but on account of the fog the steamers could not get into Vancouver with the news of the accident until today.

The Charmer struck the Tartar squarely on the port bow, cutting entirely through the Tartar's plates and crumpling the Charmer's bows. Both vessels began to fill but the compartment bulkheads kept them from sinking. Both ships started back to Vancouver after the Charmer's passengers had been transferred to the Tartar. They remained outside of port with their pumps going until noon. Both vessels are seriously damaged.

The Charmer has arrived at Vancouver with her bow badly crumpled. The Tartar was beached at Kathaline, near Vancouver, to prevent her from sinking. She has twenty-eight feet of water in her hold. The Tartar was bound for Kobe, Japan.

INDICT ACTORS WHO PLAY ON SUNDAY

Grand Jury in Kansas City Instructed By Judge to Prosecute Violations of Sunday Law.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19.—Judge William Wallace of the Criminal Court will ask the grand jury early next week to indict all stage folk who appear in local theaters tomorrow. This is to be done weekly he says, until the laws are obeyed and the theaters closed on Sundays. Theatrical managers have announced that they will conduct their places tomorrow as usual.

TROOPS RETURN HOME FROM PHILIPPINES.

The Thirteenth U. S. Infantry who has just returned from the Philippines where the regiment has been stationed for the past three years, passed through Lamy today en route to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. Colonel R. H. R. Loughborough is in command of the regiment which numbers 482 enlisted men and 34 commissioner officers.

WEEDS CATCH FIRE NO DAMAGE DONE.

An alarm at noon today called the fire department to the vicinity of Manhattan avenue and Galisteo street. Some weeds which were being burned caused a blaze dangerously near a fence but the fire was extinguished before any damage resulted.

SURRENDER OF CORNWALLIS, OCTOBER 19, 1781.

"Civilization is a plant of slow growth," says the eminent French publicist Guizot; this is true, but it is also true that liberty is a plant of still slower growth. As far back as history reaches there are found tentative efforts at civilizing various peoples and some of those attempts, like those of Greece and Rome, took such deep root as to have survived the storms and revolutions of centuries and still exist in various forms today. On the contrary, human liberty as it is understood, was almost unknown until its dawn in America. The turbulent democracies of Greece, were simple methods contrived by able demagogues for the ostracism and banishment of their rivals and the so-called Roman Republic was such only in name. From the days of Romulus there were incessant and often bloody encounters between the Plebeians and Patricians, until Julius Caesar established the Empire, and ended the Republic. After the invasions of the Barbarians, feudalism, aristocracies, monarchies and despotisms ruled and ruined the world.

At length, in God's good time Columbus discovered the new world, and opened a field of enterprise for the daring spirits of Europe, and from the Danube, the Don, the Shannon, and the Thames, they came to found new homes in the boundless, untrodden West. Almost coeval with the discovery, the feuds and national hatreds which had caused such dire miseries all over Europe were transferred to these virgin shores and from the Mississippi, to the St. Lawrence, every hill and dale resounded with the din of battles in which the people of America had no interest whatever. But as sometimes good springs from evil, these wars had the effect of training the hardy settlers in the science of battle and campaigning, so when the time came to utilize their knowledge in their own cause they were ready for the strife.

The Declaration of Independence was a revelation to the world, containing as it did principles, which to the end of time will be the inspiration of all peoples struggling to the light of liberty. Beginning on the night of April 19, 1775, the war of the Revolution extended over nearly seven years with varying fortune, sometimes the poorly equipped, badly clothed, and worse fed Continentals, seemed on the very verge of utter defeat and again mainly through the splendid heroism and indomitable patience and perseverance of the Father of his country (who really knew no such word as fail), they carried their glorious banner over the enemies prostrate bodies to bravely won and well deserved victory. It is to the closing scenes of this magnificent struggle that the New Mexican calls attention today.

On May 11, 1778, being the spring after the awful winter in Valley Forge, the glorious news arrived in the camp of the negotiation of the treaty with France; from that time everything pointed to a successful termination of the great struggle for liberty. Lack of space forbids any allusion to the stirring events that followed. Lord Cornwallis, who commanded in the south, proved himself to be a savage marauder, and gave free rein to the licentious passions of his hirelings. Losing in his "Field Book of the Revolutions," says: "The conduct of Cornwallis, during his march of over 1,500 miles through the southern states was often disgraceful to the British name. He suffered dwelling houses to be plundered of everything that could be carried off; and it was well known that his private table was furnished with plate thus obtained from private families. It was estimated, from the best information obtainable, that during the six months previous to the surrender at Yorktown, the devastations of his army amounted in value to about fifteen millions of dollars."

The scene of the surrender is thus described by Lossing: "The American army was drawn up on the right side of the road and the French on the left. Washington on his white charger was at the head of the column and Rochambeau was at the head of the French column. Universal silence prevailed as the vanquished troops slowly marched out of their intrenchments, with their colors cased and their drums beating a British tune and passed between the columns of the allied armies. All were eager to look upon Cornwallis, the terror of the South, in his hour of adversity. They were doomed to disappointment; he had given himself up to vexation and despair, and feigning sickness, he sent one of his generals with his sword to lead the vanquished British army to the field of humiliation. Having arrived at the head of the line, the British commanding general advanced toward Washington and taking off his hat apologized for the absence of Cornwallis. The commander-in-chief pointed him to General Lincoln for directions. It must have been a proud moment for Lincoln, for only the year before he was obliged to make a humiliating surrender of his army to British conquerors at Charleston. Lincoln conducted the royal troops to the field selected for laying down their arms, and there the British general delivered to him the sword of Cornwallis; Lincoln received it and then politely returned it to be given to the defeated Earl. The artillery, military stores, and provisions surrendered were very considerable. There were 75 brass and 160 iron cannons; seventy-seven hundred muskets; 28 regimental standards; a large quantity of cannon and musket balls, bombs, carriages, etc., and nearly $11,000 in specie, and 11,800 men.

And thus ended the greatest, and most successful struggle for human liberty the world has even seen. God save the republic.

TERRITORIAL EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM TOP-HEAVY.

The territorial press is beginning to voice emphatic protests against the idiotic plan to cumber the grounds of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque with mud buildings in outline resembling Pueblo communal houses. Three or more of these unsightly buildings have been built at great expense to the territory and they are neither beautiful nor artistic but indicate that the management of the permanent improvement fund of the institution should not be subject to the idiosyncracies of the so-called higher educators. The Pueblo communal buildings have served their day and purpose and were sufficient for the wants of a semi-barbaric people, whose advancement in civilization was creditable, considering the circumstances, but whose ideas of architecture were crude and born of necessities that no longer exist in a civilized community.

For a leading educational institution of the territory to ape this architecture indicates a lamentable paucity of practical or artistic ideas, and seems to fit into the assertion of the Daily New Mexican that the educational system of the territory is top-heavy and therefore impractical. That even the public school teachers realize this can be gathered from the following communication in the Socorro Chieftain of last week and which was written by a teacher:

"Sierra county teachers are wondering. After the usual session of two weeks' institute work, under the able leadership of Mrs. Nora Brumback, of Santa Fe, the teachers underwent two disappointments. The first was the failure of Superintendent Clark to appear before the institute to make an address, as promised; and the second was the non-appearance of the examination questions. Later it was learned that Superintendent Clark had gone to Michigan, and that no questions for Sierra had left the Santa Fe office. While the superficial mind might regard the latter circumstance as cause for rejoicing, Sierra county teachers are made of sterner stuff. Having worked themselves up to the proper pitch, they were ready to try conclusions with any set of questions that might be put before them. Moreover, an address from the territorial superintendent could have proved helpful and inspiring, we doubt not, for Sierra county teachers are ever reaching for the helpful and inspiring things. But 'twas not to be. And now the question arises: Are these teachers to be put to further expense by undergoing a special examination, or will permits to teach another year be granted them? Common sense would appear to dictate the latter course."

Evidently, Governor Curry, who is an intensely practical man, has some important work before him, even in this direction.

During this week the Las Vegas Optic has been rather short on editorials but long on advertisements. The merchants and business men of the Meadow City evidently understand that advertising in the daily paper published in their town pays and the Optic finds that advertisements pay better than editorials.

SUNDAY CLOSING IN NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA.

After January 31 of the coming year saloons in the city of Phoenix, the capital of Arizona, will be closed on Sundays. In other Arizona towns it seems they are wide open. New Mexico is in much better shape before the country in this line. In most of the cities and towns in this Territory the Sunday closing law is strictly enforced. In Albuquerque it is not the case. What is the matter with those high toned, silk-stockinged, kid gloved reformers in the Duke City who always talk about the enforcement of law while their breath smells of cloves? Are they under the dominion of the saloon keepers of the Duke City? Where are all of the agencies of justice there or is the old girl, like the star-eyed goddess of reform recently in New Mexico, too stony to know what is going on? Referring to the action of the city council of Phoenix, the Gazette published there, a very able and decent newspaper says: "The disposition of the Sunday closing of the saloons of the city was accomplished at the meeting of the council last night in a manner that will undoubtedly be satisfactory to all parties concerned. In placing January 31 as the time for the ordinance to go into effect, the question has been settled and at the same time the saloon men have been given time to arrange their business affairs, if any arrangement is necessary."

"The proposition to put the matter up to the people to be voted upon was recognized by both sides as being unwise and also unnecessary. There could be no doubt of the city voting in favor of the closing and the election would have certainly caused some ill feeling, which has now been happily avoided. The council has handled the matter in a spirit of fairness and the saloon men have met this spirit with one equally as conducive to the happy solution of the question."

And now Judge Bernard S. Rodey of the U. S. court for Porto Rico places himself on record as favoring single statehood for New Mexico. The judge is evidently endeavoring to undo the very silly mistake he made two months ago when he unbosomed himself to several reporters to the effect that the people of New Mexico were corrupt, and bad and that political conditions in the Sunshine Territory were very rotten, although the people of that same "rotten" commonwealth had elected him twice to represent them as their delegate in the national congress and had done so without his candidacy costing him any money of the realm. As Judge Rodey is repentant now and believes in single statehood, although he thinks it will not come this time, he may be forgiven.

Representative John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, who will be the next Senator from his state announces that he will devote one full year to study and self improvement in order to fit himself for the duties that will devolve upon him when he assumes a seat in the upper branch of the national legislature. His action may be considered a rather high compliment to the Senate and a genuine swipe at the House of Representatives. Mr. Williams is evidently of the opinion that what he knew while a member of the House of Representatives was ample to make him a conspicuous leader in that body; but to shine in the Senate—ah, that is another story.

The Socorro Chieftain is evidently inclined to be charitable toward the recent fake reform administration as is evidenced by the following editorial remark in a recent issue: "Governor Curry's appointment of Captain John W. Green as superintendent of the territorial penitentiary has met with the approval of even the ex-Hagerman press. This fact may tend to arouse suspicion against Captain Green's political character, but let us be generous enough to believe that the disciples of Hagerman do sometimes recognize political worth when they see it."

Delegate W. H. Andrews is in the national capital and he is allowing no grass to grow under his feet in his work for statehood and for the passage of a bill for an enabling act for New Mexico during the coming session of Congress. He is interviewing U. S. Senators and members of the House of Representatives whenever and wherever he gets the chance and will not take "No" for an answer.

The matter of the illegal sale of liquor to Pueblo Indians in several sections of the territory is becoming serious. In two or three pueblos it is reported that a number of Indians have become quite demoralized by the use of intoxicants. The traffic should be stopped for the benefit of all concerned and that as soon as possible.

Telephone systems and automobile lines are being established in New Mexico these days and that in many sections where, say, three years ago a telephone or an automobile would have been as much of a rarity as a full-fledged Chinese dragon. Progress and improvement are the order of the day in the Sunshine Territory.

"Where there is a will there is a way." Governor Curry has started in with the will and a strong and determined one at that to make a way for statehood for the Sunshine Territory. All patriotic and well disposed citizens regardless of party, regardless of section, should aid him with might and main in the object.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Santa Fe Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Santa Fe are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Hilario Baca, living on Delgado Street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I feel so greatly pleased with the results obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Ireland's Pharmacy, that I am glad to recommend them. Off and on for three or four months I had been subject to pain in my back and felt it severely at times, especially when I stooped or lifted or brought any strain on the muscles of my loins. Owing to the persistence of the annoyance I was led to believe that the cause was due to some derangement of the kidneys and after using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time I noticed an improvement, and before I had finished one box I was cured. I have not had an indication of a pain since using Doan's Kidney Pills, and will recommend them to others as the opportunity presents itself."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

ITINERARY OF TRADE EXCURSION

Where El Paso Boosters Will Go on Trip

LEAVE PASS CITY NOV. 7

Many Towns in New Mexico and West Texas Will Be Visited.

The El Paso boosters' trade excursion which will make a tour of New Mexico and Texas next month will leave the Pass City Thursday, November 7th. It is expected that not less than 100 business men of El Paso will accompany the excursion. The special train will consist of a baggage and commissary car, a diner and three Standard Pullmans and will be one of the finest in point of equipment ever run out of the Texas city. The following is the itinerary of the trip which has just been completed.

Where They Go.

The excursion will leave El Paso on the morning of Thursday, November 7, at 8:30 o'clock and the first day will be spent seeing the Rio Grande Valley and getting over to Deming. Stops are to be made at Mesilla, Las Cruces, Rincon, Nutt and Deming.

The second day, November 8th, the train will run over to Silver City for several hours, and return to Deming in the afternoon, leaving there at 5 o'clock and making a night run to Rincon.

Next day, the 9th, will be spent on the main line of the Santa Fe, visiting San Marcial, San Antonio, Socorro, Belen, Albuquerque, Lamy and reaching Santa Fe at night, remaining there till 5 o'clock next morning.

Sunday, October 10th, will be spent on the Santa Fe Central, with stops at Stanley, Moriarty, McIntosh, Estancia and Willard.
 At Torrance the El Paso and Southwestern road will be reached at 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon of Sunday and the train will then come south to Alamogordo, stopping en route at Corona, Ancho, Carrizozo, Three Rivers and Tularosa and reaching Alamogordo at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Night in Alamogordo.

The train will remain in Alamogordo till 3 o'clock Monday morning, November 11, when it will retrace its trip over the Southwestern, going as far as Santa Rosa and making stops Monday at Duran, Vaughn and Pastura, reaching Santa Rosa at 10:40 a. m. The train will continue on up the line to Tucumcari and Vaughn, where, at 11 o'clock that night it will transfer at the latter place to the Santa Fe cut-off and head for the Pecos valley, stopping at Texico, where a change is made to the Pecos Valley road at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 12.

Tuesday the train will run down the Pecos Valley line and stop at Portales, Roswell, Hagerman, Artesia and Carlsbad. At Roswell they will stay from 10:30 a. m., till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and at Carlsbad they will stay from 5:30 p. m., till 11:30 o'clock that night.

Back to Texas.

Pecos, Texas, will be reached at 4 o'clock in the morning of November 13 and two hours and a half will be spent there, the train leaving at 6:40 o'clock for Barstow, where the time between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning will be spent. On the return trip over the Texas and Pacific Railway into El Paso, stops will be made on that day at Pecos, Texas, Toyah, Van Horn, Sierra Blanca, Clint and Yaleta, the train reaching El Paso at 9 o'clock in the evening of Wednesday, November 13.

How to Cure a Cold.
 The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

"BOOTH'S OYSTERS."
 The very finest in the land have just been received at the Bon Ton Restaurant. These are the very first of the season and can be found only at this place where they are up-to-date in everything. A trial will convince you.

"HO! OYSTERS! HO!"
 The first of the season just received at the only up-to-date short order house, The Bon Ton, where they are being served to your taste. Call and be convinced. They handle A. Booth's New York oysters, which come in sealed cans.

Quinsy, Sprains and Swellings Cured.
 "In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Michigan. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists.

A POOR, RUN DOWN WOMAN.
 Many a woman who is weak and all run down, would thank Dr. Lauritzen from the bottom of her heart, if she would only try Lauritzen's Health Table Malt or Malt Tonic, because it would surely make a new woman of her. For sale by H. S. KAUNE & CO. CITY BOTTLING WORKS, Phone 38.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS.
 We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug Law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. For sale by the Ireland Pharmacy.

OJO CALIENTE HOT SPRINGS.
 These Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellings, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Baranca Station, on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, from which point a daily line of stages runs to the springs. The temperature of these waters is from 90 to 122 degrees. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids, and tourists. People suffering with consumption, cancer, and other contagious diseases, are not accepted. These waters contain 1,686.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon, being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficiency of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilitic and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc. Board, lodging and bathing $2.50 per day; $15 per week; $50 per month. Stage meets Denver trains and waits for Santa Fe train upon request. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 9 a. m., and reach Ojo Caliente at 4 p. m., the same day. Fare for round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7.40. SOCIAL AND PERSONAL Lieutenant Frank W. Ball, U. S. Army, stationed at Albuquerque in the recruiting service, was registered yesterday at the Claire. He was here on official business.

Dr. Howard Crutchen, formerly of Chicago, who is thinking of locating at Roswell, is a visitor in Santa Fe, and during his stay is a guest at St. Vincent's Sanitarium.

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Dye, who are in the east, were in Richmond, Virginia during the present week and Rev Dye attended the triennial Episcopal convocation in session there.

Mrs. D. W. Daley, who has been in the city for several weeks, visiting relatives, left this morning for her home in Ft. Madison, Iowa. She was accompanied by her two sons, Herman and William Daley.

Hon. W. A. Hawkins, general attorney for the El Paso and Southwestern railway, spent the week here on legal business for his road. Mr. Hawkins has many clients who have litigation in New Mexico courts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Rigby and daughter, Miss Rigby, tourists from Independence, Iowa, were arrivals yesterday in Santa Fe. They will be here for several days and are guests at the Palace hotel.

Professor Alfredo M. Sanchez, assistant superintendent of public instruction, will leave next week for El Rito, where he will deliver an address at the Rio Arriba county teachers' institute which is now in session there.

Dr. Charles A. Wheelon and George M. Kinsell, propose to leave tomorrow morning, the weather permitting, for an overland trip to mining property owned by them in the Pecos mining district near the Jones mines. They expect to be back Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert C. Kline, of Jennings, Louisiana, who has been a visitor in Santa Fe for some time a guest at St. Vincent's Sanitarium, will leave during the coming week for her southern home. She has been much benefitted in health by her sojourn here.

Dr. James A. Massie left this afternoon via the Santa Fe Central Railway for Carlsbad, where he will represent Montezuma lodge No. 1, A. F. and A. Masons, as its representative at the meeting of the grand lodge of New Mexico. He is junior warden of the local lodge.

General Manager Arthur G. Wells of the coast lines of the Santa Fe Railway and family, passed through New Mexico during the week en route from Los Angeles for a visit with relatives and friends in the East. They will be absent from Los Angeles for several weeks.

Mrs. Francis C. Wilson and two little children arrived in the city during the week, coming here to join their husband and father, Clerk Wilson of the First judicial district court. They expect to go to housekeeping in a few days, having found a suitable furnished residence.

Mrs. S. Spitz is expected to return home during the coming week. She is at present in Denver, where she is the guest of her brothers and sisters there. Mrs. Spitz has been absent for some time, having gone first to South Bend, Indiana, where she placed her daughter, Miss Florence in St. Mary's institute at Notre Dame, and from there went to Chicago and thence to Denver.

John B. Harper of Durango, Colorado, engineer in charge of Pueblo irrigation works and who is also constructing engineer of the great Zuni river reservoir and ditch system, was in town today on official business. He is en route to Durango for a short visit. The Zuni river reservoir and ditch system has been in course of construction for over three years. It is a tremendous project and will require another year to finish.

Mayor H. O. Bursum of Socorro, has spent the past week in this city, partly on personal and partly on political affairs. He has made a sale of his lambs and will deliver them to the purchasers about November 10. He is still holding his ewe crop for better figures. He expects to leave for his home in the Gem City tonight and thereafter will go to his ranches in the Oscuro mountains for delivery of the lambs which he has sold.

David Gano of Chicago, Illinois, who has been visiting friends in this city and vicinity for the past three weeks, left last night for his home in the Windy City. Mr. Gano put in most of his vacation in hunting and as evidence of his prowess with the gun bagged five wild turkeys and one deer all of which were killed on the Jemez national forest near the Bland lumber camp in Cochiti canon. He is taking the deer skin home with him as a trophy of his skill as a huntsman.

The Saturday Afternoon Whist club met today with Mrs. Samuel G. Cartwright at the Cartwright home on East De Vargas street. Last week the club was entertained most pleasantly by Mrs. Frank W. Shearon at the Shearon home on Chapelle street. Mrs. Shearon is not a member of the club but as she had been its guest several times her entertainment was given in appreciation of the compliment. The viands served by Mrs. Shearon were exquisite so say the ladies who were present.

Governor George Curry will leave tomorrow for Roswell, accompanied by his son, Charles Curry, who will enter the New Mexico Military Institute, which is located at that place. From Roswell Governor Curry will go to Carlsbad to be present at the meeting there next week of the Masonic grand lodge of the territory, and thence he will go to Lincoln, Carrizozo, Tularosa, Alamogordo and other points in southeastern New Mexico. He is expected to be absent from the Capital about a week or ten days.

Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa has left for Carlsbad to attend the sessions of the Masonic grand bodies which will meet there next week. Thereafter he will go to Roswell and return to Santa Fe with Mrs. Jaffa and their two younger children. They expect to reach Santa Fe about the latter part of the coming week and will then take up their abode in the Luckenbach residence on upper Palace avenue, which they have rented.

James P. McNulty, of Cerrillos, superintendent of the American Turquoise company, left last evening for Carlsbad to attend the Thirtieth Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons of New Mexico, as a representative from Cerrillos Lodge No. 19, at Cerrillos. Mr. McNulty is Senior Warden of the Lodge. The Cerrillos Lodge is in good condition financially and has considerable Masonic work on hand. Petitions of four candidates are being considered at this time.

Mrs. Amsden is chaperoning a party of school teachers and a few of their friends who left today on horseback and in vehicles for the cliff dwellings near the Buckman lumber camp where they will remain until tomorrow evening. Besides Mrs. Amsden, others enjoying the outing are Miss Boyd, Miss DuVal, Miss Walker, Miss Condon, Miss Griffin, Dr. Lord, Hugh DuVal and Frank Newhall. Miss Griffin and Mr. DuVal joined the party at Buckman, the others having left early in the morning, while the latter started at noon.

A. A. Keen of Albuquerque, for eight years territorial land commissioner and a faithful and efficient official, left the Duke City this morning for Carlsbad, Eddy county, to attend the sessions of the Masonic grand lodge of New Mexico which will be held there next week. He is the grand secretary of the lodge and has been in that position for twenty-two years. His record is first class. He is also secretary of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons and grand recorder of the commandery of Knights Templar. These bodies will also meet in Carlsbad next week in annual session.

SIXTY YEARS OF FREE MASONRY IN TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO

ORGANIZATION OF GRAND LODGE IN 1877

Montezuma No. 1 at Santa Fe Commenced the Work in Vast Extent of Territory.

GREAT GROWTH OF CRAFT IN RECENT YEARS

Thirty-Four Lodges and Over Eighteen Hundred Members--Thirtieth Annual Communication in Carlsbad.

(Historical Sketch By Max Frost, 33, Past Grand Master.)

The thirtieth annual communication of the grand lodge of New Mexico of Free and Accepted Masons will meet Monday, the 21st day of October in the beautiful town of Carlsbad, the county seat of Eddy County. Grand Master A. N. Pratt, of the Carlsbad lodge, will call the grand lodge to order. The majority of the lodges will be represented, although Carlsbad is not easily accessible.

The grand master's report will show that Free Masonry is in a very flourishing condition in the Territory.

First Appearance in New Mexico.

The first appearance of Free Masonry in New Mexico was made with the arrival of the American troops which reached Santa Fe in 1846, under the command of Brigadier General Stephen W. Kearny. Part of this corps consisted of Missouri and Illinois volunteer regiments. Within a very short time after arrival in Santa Fe, Hardin military lodge, under dispensation, was organized in the fall of 1847 by authority of the grand lodge of Missouri, and set to work. Colonel John Ralls of the Fourth Missouri Volunteer Cavalry, was master of the lodge and its officers and members were first taken from the officers and men of the American volunteers. Soon many of the citizens applied for membership and Hardin lodge grew to goodly proportions. This lodge was in active operation for about three years and its minute book was for many years in the possession of Montezuma lodge No. 1, of Free Masons of this city. It was a priceless relic which, however, has disappeared. It was loaned by the lodge to one of its members, William G. Ritch, for many years secretary of the Territory, but could not be found to be returned to the lodge at the time of his death.

First Regular Masonic Work.

The first regular work of Free Masonry was commenced in Santa Fe, then capital of the Territory. For about a year the Masonic brethren had canvassed the institution of a lodge and petitions to that effect were sent to the grand lodge of Missouri which, on May 8, 1851, granted a charter to Montezuma lodge, No. 109, to do Masonic work. This lodge is in existence and is No. 1 on the New Mexico register. In those days it was the only Masonic lodge in all the vast section now comprised from the Mexico line on the south to the Canadian frontier on the north and from the Missouri river and Texas west to the Pacific coast except a Masonic lodge in Salem, Oregon, which had been formed by American Masons who went to Oregon during the '40s.

Ten years Montezuma lodge was the only Masonic body in what is now New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona. The records show that many of its members traveled for hundreds and hundreds of miles through a very dangerous Indian country and experienced much hardship to attend the Masonic lodge meetings in this city. Its members were principal officials and military officers and many of its leading business men and citizens. Many a name illustrious in New Mexico affairs is found in its register.

Second Lodge Organized at Taos.

Taos in those days was a very important trading town and many Americans settled there. This brought about the formation of Bent Lodge, No. 204, at Taos, chartered by the grand lodge of Missouri, June 1, 1860. The Civil War changed the course of trade and Taos dwindling in importance and population the lodge surrendered its charter in 1865, and ceased work.

The next lodge was Chapman lodge at Fort Union, which was formed in 1862. It was evidently under dispensation granted by the Grand Lodge of Missouri, although no record of this can be found. Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of the state of Missouri in 1863, however, show that Chapman lodge had done work in 1862 and prayed for a charter. This was not granted on account of irregularities in the work. On May 25, 1865, the grand secretary of the Grand Lodge of Missouri was directed to issue a charter to Chapman Lodge as soon as the master and wardens were qualified for the work. The location of this lodge was changed from Ft. Union to Las Vegas. The number of the lodge was 95 which was the number of Acacia Lodge at Cape Girardeau, Missouri, and which became extinct during the Civil War.

Bent Lodge having been closed, the third lodge organized was at Las Cruces, Dona Ana county. A dispensation was granted June 4, 1866, and a charter on October 19, 1867, also by the Grand Lodge of Missouri. Its number was 108. This was the number of the Masonic Lodge at New Madrid, Missouri, which was chartered in 1849, and also ceased during the Civil War.

Lodges at Elizabethtown and Cimarron

Thereafter lodges were constituted as follows by the Grand Lodge of Missouri: Kit Carson Lodge, No. 326, at Elizabethtown, on October 12, 1869; this lodge flourished during the palmy days of Elizabethtown when for several years that place was one of the richest and principal mining camps in the Southwest. The charter was arrested in 1878, by the then grand master of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico, as Elizabethtown had lost all of its importance and had dwindled from a population of several thousand to less than a dozen people. Elizabethtown also had the distinction of having been the first incorporated city in New Mexico.

Cimarron Lodge, No. 348, was chartered at Cimarron, on October 14, 1875, by the Grand Lodge of Missouri. Cimarron was then a lively and bustling town and mining camp and when its best days went by, the population decreased and its charter was surrendered in 1878. The Cimarron of today with all of New Mexico, generally, is again coming to the front and is now a booming, bustling, growing town.

Silver City in Grant county by 1873 had become quite a mining camp and the Masons there asked for a dispensation for a lodge which was granted by the Grand Lodge of Missouri on May 1, 1873, and a charter was given October 16, 1873, under the name of Silver City Lodge, No. 465.

Union Lodge, No. 480, was next granted a charter by the Grand Lodge of Missouri, on October 15, 1874. The lodge was located at Tiptonville near what is now Watrous, in Mora county, a bustling and prosperous place.

Organization of New Mexico Grand Lodge.

Five lodges then appearing in working order in 1877, a call was issued by four of the lodges for the holding of a Masonic convention in the city of Santa Fe on August 6, of that year, for the purpose of forming a grand lodge. Delegates from three of the lodges, namely, Montezuma No. 109, at Santa Fe, Chapman No. 95, at Las Vegas, and Aztec No. 108, at Las Cruces, were present and met in the hall of Montezuma Lodge then situated at the northwest corner of the Plaza in the second story of the building now occupied by the New Mexican Printing Company in this city and the Grand Lodge of New Mexico was duly organized. The then governor, Samuel Beach Axtell, called the convention to order, and the first grand officers elected were: William Washington Griffin, cashier of the First National bank, Santa Fe; grand master, William Logan Rynarson, then a leading lawyer and territorial district attorney, Las Cruces, senior grand warden; and George William Stebbins, deputy internal revenue collector at Las Vegas, junior grand warden; Willie Spiegelberg, of Santa Fe, grand treasurer, and David Jefferson Miller of Santa Fe, grand secretary. All of whom have gone to their long home except Mr. Spiegelberg.

Grand Lodge Sovereignty Established.

Constitution and by laws were adopted and charters were ordered issued to the four lodges, namely Montezuma at Santa Fe, Chapman at Las Vegas, Aztec at Las Cruces and Union at Tiptonville, which had joined in the formation of the grand body. No delegates were present from Silver City, No. 465, that lodge declining to surrender its charter from Missouri, or to join the Grand Lodge of New Mexico just formed. The session lasted four days and closed on the evening of August 10th, during which a Masonic reunion and a banquet were held at which many prominent Masons and citizens from various sections of the Territory, who had arrived during the session, were present. The banquet was held in the dining room of the historic "Fonda," at the corner of San Francisco and Shelby streets, which had been the leading hotel in New Mexico for twenty-seven years, (but which is now only a relic) and which has been the scene of many interesting events. On the evenings of the 9th and 10th, of August the degree of a Master Mason was conferred upon Colonel Max. Frost and Captain Frederick Freeborn Whitehead, commissary of subsistence, U. S. Army, then stationed here as chief commissary of subsistence of the military district of New Mexico.

Annual Grand Communications Commenced.

The first regular annual communication of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico convened in the hall of Montezuma Lodge in Santa Fe, on January 6, 1879, and thereafter up to date regular grand communications have been held yearly. Lodges were then constituted as follows:

White Mountain Lodge, No. 5, July 5, 1880, at Globe City, Arizona, and Temple Lodge No. 6, at Albuquerque, November 11, 1880. Upon the organization of the Grand Lodge of Arizona several years thereafter Globe City Lodge naturally joined the Grand Lodge of its own political subdivision. On April 25, 1880, an edict was issued by the then grand master of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico forbidding all Masonic intercourse with the members of Silver City Lodge No. 465 which had declined to take part in the formation of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico and arresting the charter of the lodge. By that time the Grand Lodge of New Mexico had been fully recognized as a legal and sovereign Masonic Grand body by nearly all of the Masonic grand lodges of the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Ireland and other English speaking countries, the Grand Lodge of Missouri, however, refusing such recognition and standing by what it was pleased to call the rights and prerogatives of its daughter lodge at Silver City.

The Grand Lodge of New Mexico settled the matter pre-emptorily within its own sovereign jurisdiction by granting a charter to Alpha Lodge No. 7, at Silver City, during the session of 1881, a dispensation to the lodge having been granted by the then grand master, Simon Bolivar Newcomb, of Las Cruces, on August 8, 1881. On March 20, 1882, a charter was granted to Silver City Lodge No. 8, the membership of which was formed from Alpha Lodge No. 7 holding a charter from the Grand Lodge of New Mexico and from Silver City Lodge No. 465, which surrendered its charter to the Grand Lodge of New Mexico, and by this action peace and harmony in the Masonic craft were restored. The Grand Lodge of Missouri then formally recognized the Grand Lodge of New Mexico as a free and sovereign independent grand body within its territorial limits.

This closed a memorable and important occurrence in Masonic jurisprudence, and especially established the fact that a Grand Lodge could be legally formed within any political subdivision by three lodges therein, provided the usual Masonic laws and regulations were complied with, New Mexico, even in the Masonic world, had to fight for its rights and privileges as it has fought for recognition and for statehood for sixty years and is doing today and now with the hopes of speedy success.

More Lodges Chartered.

Lodges were then chartered as follows: Socorro Lodge, No. 9, at Socorro, on December 20, 1882; Mimbres Lodge No. 10, at Georgetown, on December 20, 1882; Gate City Lodge, No. 11, at Raton, on December 12, 1883; Deming Lodge, No. 12, at Deming, on December 12, 1883; Hiram Lodge, No. 13, at San Marcial, on November 11, 1885; Western Star Lodge, No. 14, at Chloride, on November 14, 1887; Animas Lodge, No. 15, at Farmington, on November 14, 1887; Kingston Lodge, No. 16, at Kingston, on January 15, 1889; Chama Lodge No. 17, at Chama, on January 11, 1889.

Thereafter charters were granted to Roswell Lodge No. 18, at Roswell, on January 29, 1890; Cerrillos Lodge, No. 19, at Cerrillos, on January 20, 1890; White Oaks Lodge No. 20, at White Oaks, January 20, 1890. Charters were granted to Eddy Lodge No. 21, at Carlsbad, on October 2, 1894; Lebanon Lodge No. 22, at Gallup, on October 2, 1894, and to Clayton Lodge No. 23, at Clayton, on October 8, 1895; Sacramento Lodge, No. 24, Alamogordo, October 16, 1900; San Juan Lodge, No. 25, Aztec, October 21, 1902; Portales Lodge, No. 26, at Portales, October 20, 1903; Tucumcari Lodge No. 27, at Tucumcari, October 18, 1904; Artesia Lodge, No. 28, at Artesia, October 18, 1904; Felix Lodge, No. 29, at Hagerman, October 16, 1905; and Lordsburg Lodge, No. 30, at Lordsburg, October 16, 1906.

Increasing in Strength and in Number.

During the year which ended September 30, 1907, dispensations were granted to four lodges located as follows:

At Estancia, Torrance county; at Texico, Roosevelt county; at Elda, Roosevelt county, and at Hope, Eddy county.

If the work of the lodges done during the year under dispensations, and their financial condition as well, prove satisfactory to the Grand Lodge, charters will be issued to them.

The following lodges are extinct and charters have been recalled for various reasons:

Bent Lodge, at Taos; Cimarron

Lodge, at Cimarron; Alpha Lodge, at Silver City; Western Star Lodge, at Chloride; White Oaks Lodge, at White Oaks.

The register for August 31, 1906, shows a total membership of 1,628 Master Masons and 26 lodges in actual and good working order; the register for the year ending August 31, 1907, shows a membership of 1,800 Master Masons, being an increase of 180 members during the year, and thirty lodges 26 of them being chartered and four having been formed during the year under dispensation. This is a very gratifying showing and indicates clearly that Free Masonry in New Mexico has enjoyed and is experiencing a steady and satisfactory increase in the number of lodges and in members.

The register of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico in August, 1877, at the time of its organization, showed 172 members, divided among four lodges. This year's register shows 1,800 Master Masons, belonging to thirty lodges.

The following are the grand officers who served during the term just closed and in whose places successors will be elected:

Grand Lodge Officers 1906-7.

A. N. Pratt, Carlsbad, Grand Master; J. W. Willson, Roswell, Deputy Grand Master; C. D. Stevens, Raton, Senior Grand Warden; C. F. Easley, Santa Fe, Junior Grand Warden; A. J. Maloy, Albuquerque, Grand Treasurer; A. A. Keen, Albuquerque, Grand Secretary; Robert Kellahin, Roswell, Grand Lecturer; W. D. C. Clayton, Albuquerque, Grand Chaplain; Frank Johnson, San Marcial, Senior Grand Deacon; M. R. Williams, East Las Vegas; Junior Grand Deacon; W. B. Walton, Silver City, Grand Marshal; A. D. Goldenberg, Tucumcari, Senior Grand Steward; R. F. Hare, Las Cruces, Junior Grand Steward; J. P. McNulty, Cerrillos, Grand Sword Bearer; A. M. Whitcomb, Albuquerque, Grand Tyler.

It is generally the rule in elections that the grand officers succeed to the highest stations in regular order as the deputy grand master succeeds the grand master; the senior grand warden the deputy grand master; the junior grand warden the senior grand warden. The junior grand warden, is selected from such members of the grand lodge as are worthy and well qualified and with a due regard to geographical location. Under this rule, Deputy Grand Master James W. Willson will succeed the present Grand Master A. N. Pratt, at the election, which will be held Tuesday next.

Montezuma Lodge No. 1, Santa Fe.

Montezuma Lodge No. 1, Santa Fe, the mother lodge of Free Masonry in this Territory, and for that, in the Southwest, has a glorious record. For twelve years it was the only Masonic body in this Territory and it worked under great difficulties. Many of its members traveled hundreds of miles to attend its regular communications. There were no railroads and but few stage coaches, but Indians were plentiful.

A copy of the by-laws adopted December 1, 1862 and printed by P. M. Pinchard, St. Louis, Missouri, in the register of its members shows many names of prominence in New Mexico history as follows:

Jesus Gil Abreu, a member of the well known Abreu family of northern New Mexico; Jacob Amberg, of Santa Fe, a leading merchant and Santa Fe trail trader; Merrill Ashurst, a leading lawyer and a member of the Territorial Supreme court; George T. Beall, an officer in the United States Army; Joseph McBell, officer in the United States Army; Kirby Benedict, lawyer and member of the Territorial Supreme Court; Charles Blummer, territorial treasurer at one time; Robert T. Brent, who affiliated from Hardin Military Lodge U. D., and was killed by Indians; Horace Brooks, officer in the United States Army; James Henry Carleton, Brigadier-General of the United States Army and commanding the Department of New Mexico; Christopher Carson, the great scout, then Brigadier-General of the U. S. Volunteers, whose rifle was left as a heirloom to the Lodge and is now in its possession. A memorial shaft to Christopher Carson now stands in front of the federal building in this city; Charles H. Clark, surveyor-general of the Territory; James Conklin, father of the present Charles M. Conklin, of this city; Cyrus H. DeForrest, United States Army, assistant adjutant-general of the Department of New Mexico; Albert Elsberg, then a prominent merchant and Santa Fe trail trader; Julius Freudenthal, merchant and Santa Fe trail trader; Joseph E. Garey, U. S. district attorney and afterwards judge in Chicago; James M. Giddings, governor of the Territory; John Greiner, secretary of the Territory; William W. Griffin, then a surveyor and afterwards president of the First National Bank of this city, and first grand master of the grand lodge of New Mexico; Lafayette Head, pioneer, trapper, first lieutenant governor of the state of Colorado after its admission; Jacob Houghton, lawyer and member of the Territorial Supreme Court; William T. Magruder, then in the regular army of the United States, afterwards an officer in the Confederate Army; David J. Miller, for thirty years chief clerk in the U.

S. surveyor-general's office here, and first grand secretary of the grand lodge; Henry O'Neill, merchant and Santa Fe trail trader; Miguel Antonio Otero, delegate to congress and Santa Fe trail trader, father of the present ex-Governor Miguel Antonio Otero of this city; Albert Henry Pfeiffer, who made a brilliant record as colonel of the New Mexico Volunteers during the Civil War; Levi Spiegelberg, merchant and Santa Fe trail trader, founder of the mercantile firm of Spiegelberg Brothers, which firm did business in New Mexico for forty years; Thomas Sheridan Tucker, printer, who, in company with William Henry Manderfield, commenced the publication of the New Mexican; Pickney R. Tulley, merchant and Santa Fe trail trader; Charles Emil Wesche, who was an officer in the New Mexico Volunteers and for many years a well known citizen of Las Vegas.

SIGHTS OF SANTA FE

(A brief outline of Points of Interest in and about the City of Santa Fe. A Guide for Tourists.)

(July, 1907.)

The Plaza.—Under the care of the Woman's Board of Trade. Here Onate camped and set up the banner of Spain in 1598. Here the Pueblos in the uprising of 1680 burned the archives and historical records of the Province. Here De Vargas halted in triumph after taking the city from the Pueblos in 1692. Here General Kearny planted the Stars and Stripes in 1846. Most of the thrilling historical and gala events for the past three hundred years have centered here.

The Old Palace.—Without doubt the oldest governmental building in the United States. Date of construction variously set from 1598 to 1607. Occupied as executive building by Governors under the Spanish, the Pueblo, the Mexican and American regime, last occupied as a residence by the present Acting Governor James Wallace Raynolds. Ceded by the Federal government to the Territory, the present owner, but which has voted to recede it to the Federal government as a National Monument. It is at present occupied by the postoffice, the Historical Society Museum, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Territorial Republican Central Committee.

The Historical Society Museum.—In Old Palace. Open free to visitors, from 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. on weekdays, and 2 to 4 p. m. on Sundays. Contains fine collection of New Mexico antiquities and the most complete library of books relating to the history of the Southwest to be found in the United States outside of the Congressional Library.

Ben Hur Room.—In Old Palace. Here Lew Wallace, while Governor of New Mexico, completed Ben Hur. Key given to visitors at the postoffice.

Soldiers' Monument.—In Plaza. Erected by the Territory. Much criticized because it refers to the Confederates as Rebels.

Lamy Fountain.—In Plaza. Erected by Woman's Board of Trade in memory of the late Bishop Lamy, who introduced the orchard industry at Santa Fe and surroundings.

Masonic Building and Hall.—On south side of Plaza. Oldest Masonic Lodge in the Southwest. Many interesting historic relics in lodge room. Kit Carson was a member of this lodge.

The Kearny Monument.—In Plaza. Erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Fonda.—At southeast corner Plaza. End of the historic Santa Fe Trail. Now Exchange Hotel.

WITHIN FIVE MINUTES' WALK FROM PLAZA.

Roman Catholic Parochial School.—On Water Street.

Public Library.—On Washington Avenue. Built and maintained by the Woman's Board of Trade.

Federal Building.—Headquarters of Federal Land Office, Internal Revenue Service for New Mexico and Arizona, Surveyor General, Weather Bureau, Forest Supervisor of Pecos, Jemez and Taos National Forests, U. S. Attorney for the Pueblo Indians, and other Federal officials.

Cathedral.—On Cathedral Square. Original structure commenced in 1612, destroyed in 1680. Modern structure not complete. When complete to have twin steeples and to be cruciform. Contains a number of paintings by old masters. Reredo behind altar was erected by Governor del Valle and his wife in 1761. Fine old paintings and rich vestments in rear of Cathedral. From here start annually the famous Corpus Christi and the historic De Vargas processions. In rear of altar two Franciscan Friars, murdered by the Indians, are buried.

Loretto Academy.—On College Street. Oldest School for Girls west of the Missouri. Quiet cemetery in rear.

Kit Carson Monument.—In front of Federal building.

The Court House.—On Palace Avenue. Contains County Offices and Court Rooms.

Loretto Convant.—On College Street. Occupied by Sisters of Loretto.

Saint Vincent's Sanitarium.—On Palace Avenue.

Saint Vincent's Orphans' Home.—

On Palace Avenue.

Saint Vincent's Hospital.—On Palace Avenue.

Loretto Chapel.—On College Street. One of the most perfect specimens of Gothic Architecture in America. Built from design by French architects.

Bishop's Residence.—On Cathedral Street. Ajoining is the beautiful "Bishop's Garden" with historical spring, lakelets and fine orchard.

Archbishop's Residence.—On Cathedral Street.

TEN MINUTES' WALK FROM PLAZA.

Santa Fe Race Track and Baseball Park.—Laid out in 1907 southwest of the city, not far from Indian School.

San Miguel's Church.—On College Street. Believed to be oldest church building in the United States still used for public worship. Built either in 1598 or 1607. Destroyed in 1692. Rebuilt in 1710. Renovated in recent years. In rear of auditorium stands bell cast in Spain in fourteenth century. Vespers Sunday evenings at 6 o'clock, attended by Christian Brothers and pupils of adjoining Saint Michael's College. At other times, admission 25 cents. Adjoining is the oldest cemetery in the South-west.

Presbyterian Mission School for Girls.—Grant Avenue.

The Mary James Mission School for Boys.—On Federal Street.

The Santa Fe High School.—On the Old Fort Marcy Military Reservation famous in military annals and after abandonment granted to the City of Santa Fe for public school purposes.

The Garita.—On the hill below and west of Fort Marcy. Ancient Spanish fortress along walls of which traitors and traitors were executed. Adjoining oldest cemetery in the United States.

Saint Catherine's Indian School.—Opposite National Cemetery. Conducted by Sisters of the Holy Sacrament. Indians from many tribes in attendance.

United States Indian Industrial Training School.—South of the city. One of the large Federal Indian Schools of the United States with almost 400 pupils, representing a score of tribes.

Sunmount Tent City.—At the foot of Talaya Mountain, southeast of the city and overlooking it. A Sanitarium successfully conducted for the cure of consumptives.

The Territorial School for the Deaf and Dumb.—This is the third of a trio of important public institutions, situated just south of the city boundary, but within the boundaries of the Santa Fe Grant.

Nagel's Pinecroft Ranch.—Adjoins Sunmount Tent City and is charmingly situated amidst pinon and cedar.

Guadalupe Church.—On Guadalupe Street. Over a century old. The altar paintings and those in the sacristy are of especial interest.

Saint Michael's Coniège.—On College Street. Oldest school for higher education of boys west of Missouri. Campus includes athletic grounds. Conducted by Christian Brothers.

The Capitol. Dedicated 1900 replacing that destroyed by incendiaries in 1892. All Territorial offices and Territorial library in building. Fine view of city and mountains from dome. In Capitol park are to be found larger variety of trees than in any other park in New Mexico.

Old House.—On De Vargas Street opposite San Miguel Church. Tradition has it that it was built by Pueblo Indians long before Spanish occupation and was occupied by Onate in 1598. It has been continuously occupied since but upper story was removed in recent years while interior has been frequently renovated. Without doubt the oldest continuously occupied house in the United States.

WITHIN THIRTY MINUTES' WALK OF PLAZA.

Fort Marcy.—Ruins of old fort erected on hill overlooking Santa Fe from north. Elevation 229 feet above Plaza. Commands fine view of city and surroundings much admired by President Roosevelt upon his visit to Santa Fe several years ago. Good wagon road to the top.

Perez Monument on Agua Fria Road.—Marks spot where Governor Perez was assassinated August 9, 1837, by Santo Domingo Indians.

Rosario Chapel and Cemetery.—Chapel was built in commemoration of retaking of city from the Pueblos in 1692 by DeVargas. This is the terminal of the DeVargas procession held each year in June.

National Cemetery.—Beautifully located commanding a fine view of city. Burial place of veterans of the Mexican, Civil and Indian Wars. The only National Cemetery in New Mexico and Arizona. Upon gravestones may be read the names of many warriors famous in Southwestern history.

The Territorial Penitentiary.—South of the city. Well worth half a day's visit.

Fairview Cemetery.—Owned by Fairview Cemetery Association, but under care of Woman's Board of Trade. Large wrought iron gates brought overland on Santa Fe Trail in 1864, for Masonic Cemetery. In Masonic plot are buried number of distinguished military officers and prominent residents of the Territory. Adjoining is Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

WITHIN FIVE MILES OF SANTA FE

Aztec Springs.—Four miles from Plaza, one mile north of large reservoir. Mineral springs and ruins of old hotel, fashionable in the days of Santa Fe's military glory.

Reservoirs of Santa Fe Water and Light Company, the large reservoir being at mouth of Santa Fe Canon and forms a considerable lake. Three miles from Plaza.

SANTA FE CHURCHES.

Besides the Roman Catholic churches mentioned, there are Protestant churches as follows: Church of the Holy Faith, with rectory on Palace Avenue, Protestant Episcopal; First Presbyterian, with parsonage, on Grant Avenue; First Methodist, on Don Gaspar Avenue; Spanish Presbyterian with parsonage, on Cathedral Street; Spanish Methodist with parsonage, on San Francisco Street; Congregational, abandoned, with Whitin Hall, near Union Depot.

Bishop's Ranch.—In sheltered spot north of Santa Fe with private chapel of the late Bishop Lamy. Romantic surroundings. Good wagon road going by coal workings and lime quarries.

Small Box Canon on Bishop's Creek.—In the heart of the mountains amidst the tall pines and spruce. Good wagon road to bottom of canon in which are located silver-zinc-copper mines. Coal mines and lime quarries are passed on the road.

Arroyo Hondo.—South of Santa Fe. Largest tributary of the Rio Santa Fe. Has beautiful canon and on its banks are situated several mounds, the remains of prehistoric Pueblo villages upon which are scattered fragments of ancient pottery and where excavations have brought forth many interesting relics.

Tesuque Valley.—Dotted with lovely orchards, prosperous homes and ruins of a prehistoric village. North of Santa Fe and reached by a fine high way that offers superb views of the mountains.

The Scenic Highway.—A Territorial road that crosses the Sangre de Cristo Range in its most rugged parts and at present terminates within three miles of the Pecos River. It begins in the Santa Fe Canon, three miles from the Plaza, and winds over the Pecos Forest Reserve and in thirteen switchbacks mounts the Dalton Divide at an elevation of 10,000 feet passing down the Macho Canon through dense pine forest and at every turn revealing magnificent vistas of mountains, forest and streams. One of the wonders of the Southwest. It is twenty-two miles long as far as constructed.

Agua Fria.—An ancient Mexican village, south of Santa Fe. On the opposite side of the river from the village is a huge mound and the remains of a very large prehistoric village, the surface being covered with fragments of ancient pottery.

WITHIN TEN MILES OF SANTA FE. Monument Rock.—In Santa Fe Canon and on the Pecos Forest Reserve. Reached by the Scenic Highway. At its foot is the Montezuma gold mine, now abandoned. Just beyond it, the Scenic Highway winds in thirteen switchbacks over the Dalton Divide and the Santa Fe River emerges from a picturesque but almost impassable canon. Nine miles from Plaza.

Tesuque Pueblo.—Nine miles northwest of Santa Fe. The Indian Pueblo nearest to town and one of the most interesting, reached over a scenic highway of great natural beauty.

Tesuque Box Canon and Sawmill.—From seven to nine miles from town. Leads straight into the heart of the over 12,000 feet high. Good wagon road all the way.

WITHIN TWENTY MILES OF SANTA FE.

Nambe Falls.—The most beautiful falls in the Southwest and near the quaint Indian Pueblo of Nambe, sixteen miles northwest of Santa Fe. Very interesting trip.

Tributary Canons of the Pecos.—The Macho, Dalton, Indian Creek and Holy Ghost. Reached by the Scenic Highway.

Summit of Lake Peak.—North of Santa Fe. Elevation 12,360 feet. Vast and perfect crater in which are located crystal lakes, sources of Santa Fe and Nambe Rivers. An easy mountain climb. Good wagon road for twelve miles. Horse trail for remaining six miles.

Turquoise Mines and Mount Calchuiti.—On good road, southwest of Santa Fe, about seventeen miles. Here the Tiffany's of New York secured most of the turquoise they sold in recent years. The workings are the oldest mines in the United States. Nearby, abandoned mining camp of Bonanza with house still standing in which Governor Lew Wallace wrote part of Ben Hur. The quaint villages of Cienega and Cieneguilla nearby. Fine springs at these points.

Battle field of Glorieta.—Beautifully located in Glorieta Mountains, southeast of Santa Fe on the old Santa Fe trail going over historic Apache Hill and by old Canoncito Church. Ruins of old way house. Famous well dug by federal government.

Crater.—Fourteen miles west of Santa Fe. In midst of lava field.

The White Rock Canon.—Twenty miles west of Santa Fe, rivaling the Grand Canon and Royal Gorge in grandeur and exceeding them in human interest on account of the cliff dwellings flanking it on the west.

Pecos Church.—Just beyond battle field of Glorieta. An abandoned Pueblo village and one of the historic mission church ruins of the Southwest.

The Cliff Dwellings.—The most wonderful prehistoric region in the United States. Twenty thousand caves and communal dwellings abandoned by a prehistoric people; vast quantities of broken pottery of prehistoric ware scattered all about. A region also of great scenic beauty, forests, mountains, canons, waterfalls. Its entrance is at Buckman's eighteen miles west of Santa Fe and easily reached by wagon road in five to six hours. However, the region extends fifty miles north and south and ten to twenty miles east and west and is well worthy a week's camping trip the Tsankawee mesas, the Frijoles, and Alamo Canons, the Painted Cave, during which the Puye, the Pajarito, the Stone Lions of Cochiti and the lumber camp of the Ramon Land and Lumber Company should be visited.

OTHER TRIPS.

There are many other delightful, interesting and instructive excursions that can be made in one day by railroad, by wagon or on horseback from Santa Fe.

The Upper Pecos region rivals the Alps of Switzerland and has a number of mountain resorts, the romantic village of Pecos, the mining camp of Cowles, a dozen peaks over 12,000 feet high, hunting and fishing, good roads and picturesque trails that lead into mountain fastnesses of wondrous beauty.

The Valley Ranch.—Twenty-six miles from Santa Fe. A charming summer and winter resort set amidst the most beautiful mountain scenery on the upper Pecos. Historic ranch house and famous old land grant. Good trout fishing in summer and hunting in winter.

Espanola Valley.—Thirty miles north of Santa Fe. The garden spot of New Mexico, with orchards and rural settlements, the Indian villages of San Ildefonso, Santa Clara and San Juan with ancient mission churches; Battle Mesa, the site of a famous battle between Spaniards and Indians, the mission church at Santa Cruz, the most perfect type of mission church in New Mexico, and wagon roads leading to the Puye, the Shufine, the Tsankawee and other cliff dwelling communities, the Santa Clara Canon, Chimayo, Sanctuario, a locality famous for its miracles, and up the Chama Valley to Abiquiu. Here is also Chamita settled by the Spaniards in 1598, before they founded Santa Fe.

Santo Domingo and the lower Rio Grande pueblos reached by good wagon road over La Bajada Hill and especially worthy a visit on August 4, the day of the Santo Domingo Corn Dance.

The Estancia Valley.—South of Santa Fe, with mysterious salt and alkali lakes and from which the beautiful Manzano Mountains, the ancient apple orchard of Manzano, the mysterious ruins of Gran Quivera, Abo and other old Pueblo settlements and fabled treasures and other noteworthy sights are easily made.

Old and New Placers.—The Cerrillos mines and smelters, including the Mina del Tierra, a mine over a hundred years old, the mining camps of Golden and San Pedro with large copper mines and smelter, the Madrid and Hagan coal fields and Tijeras Pass in the rugged Sandia Mountains.

Farther away but still tributary to Santa Fe are the Ojo Caliente, the Wamsley, the Jemez, the San Antonio and other Hot Springs, nearly all of which have nearby prehistoric ruins and wild mountain and forest scenery; the Pueblos of Taos and Picuris, the most northernmost and in some respects the most interesting pueblos; the Penasco region in the steep Sierras, the Truchas and Taos peaks over 13,000 feet high, and the highest peaks in New Mexico, the Cochiti and other mining districts.

Many More Points of Interest.

This is but an indication of what is noteworthy in and about Santa Fe. Not one nor even two summers' stay will exhaust the points and regions of interest immediately tributary to Santa Fe and reached from it without inconvenience or hardship. Added to this, the cool summer climate, the sunny winters, the health giving aroma from pine and spruce, the exhilaration of the pure and rarefied air, and it can be said without exaggeration that Santa Fe has the making of the most famous summer and winter resort in the United States.

The New Mexican Printing Company has prepared civil and criminal dockets especially for the use of justices of the peace. They are especially ruled, with printed headings, in either Spanish or English, made of good record paper, strongly and durably bound with leather back and covers an canvas sides, have full index in front and the fees of justices of the peace and constables printed in full on the first page. The pages are 10 1/2x6 inches. These books are made up in civil and criminal dockets, separate of 32 pages each, or with both civil and criminal bound in one book, 80 pages civil and 320 pages criminal. To introduce them they are offered at the following prices: Civil or criminal.....$2.75 Combined civil and criminal....$4.00

The New Mexican Printing Company has the largest, most modern, and best arranged book bindery in the Southwest. Its best kind of work only turned out. Prices very low and satisfaction guaranteed. If you have books to bind, whether the largest ledger or journal, or magazines and pamphlets or need any other binding call for figures, samples and prices of the New Mexican Printing Company. The company is anxious to serve you and will give you satisfactory rates.

When in need of anything in the printing line, such as wedding cards, invitations, briefs, call on the New Mexican Printing Company, where all work is guaranteed.

BRAIN AND BULLET.

What Happens When the Skull is Pierced by a Shot.

The results of firing a bullet at a flat brittle bone and into a soft substance like the brain are very different. The bone is pierced, and the lateral displacement of its particles is very slight, but the brain is thrown aside in all directions. The difference is due to the different degree of cohesiveness of the particles composing the two bodies or, in other words, to the greater fluidity of the softer structure.

Next, the importance of fluid contents in intensifying the effects of a bullet fired through a closed receptacle is shown by one of Kocher's experiments. Two identical tin canisters were filled with equal quantities of lint, which in one was dry and in the other saturated with water.

A bullet of moderate velocity fired through them simply perforated the dry one, but caused the wet one to burst explosively. Kocher also filled a skull with water and found that a bullet fired through it caused bursting of the sutures.

Very remarkable is the shattering that results when skulls that have been filled with water or with wax are treated in this way, and if they are compared with others showing the effects of bullet wounds under normal conditions it is easy to appreciate that the variations presented are dependent, in part at least, upon the difference in the character of the contents.—Current Literature.

SPONGE FISHERS.

The Greek Girl Divers of the Island of Himla.

"We were cruising in the Mediterranean in the late fall," said a globe trotter, "and on a golden afternoon we stopped beside a little fleet of sponge divers. Nearly nude, the divers sat on the edge of the boat. They held big stones that would help them descend. One at a time they inhaled three or four long breaths and then plunged with their great stones into the blue water.

"One boat interested us. Its divers seemed so graceful and young. We drew nearer, and, by Jove, the divers were all girls. They were young Greek girls from Himla, an island near Rhodes. It seems that in Himla the sponge diving is carried on by girls altogether. These girls seemed very expert. Their dark hair knotted on their shapely heads, they reclined on the sun warmed deck till their turn came. Then, graceful as stage dancers, they leaped overboard and in the sea's dim green depths tugged at the black sponge growths.

The captain said the Himla girls were not permitted to marry till they had brought a certain quantity of sponges from a certain specified depth."—New York Press.

Queer Chinese Belief.

It is a common belief among Chinamen that if one commits any crime against certain animals—cats, for example—the soul of that animal will take possession of the wrongdoer until the offense has been purged. A servant girl, according to the oriental tale, unmindful of tradition, put to death a cat and its three kittens. She was taken violently ill. Her mistress, suspecting the cause from the fact that the maid was scratching and mewing, apostrophized the body of the dead cat, demanding to know why it thus tormented the girl. The spirit of the cat, speaking by way of the girl's mouth, denounced the quadruple murder. The whole story was told by the girl in the character of the cat. Then she expired in violent convulsions.

Elephants Can Carry a Grudge.

A Hindoo mahout was employed with a working elephant in Bangkok, Siam, and frequently used a steel goad in defiance of all warnings. The result was that his elephant made frequent attempts to kill him, and finally the man was discharged. Nearly four years afterward, by a most remarkable coincidence, both elephant and mahout met again in Maulmain, Burma, and no sooner was the big tusker out of sight of the sawmill and well into the forest than he curled his trunk up backward, seized his old persecutor by the neck, hurled him to the ground, and in an instant a mighty forefoot had crushed out his life.

Bewitched.

Morrison, an English traveler of the seventeenth century, while at Dantzic, Prussia, says he "saw a mill which, without the help of human hands, did saw boards. It had a great iron wheel, which did not only drive the saw, but which did also hook in and turn the logs on to the saw." Dr. John Dee must have seen a similar mill at Prague. Of it he says, "I saw me a mill at Prague of which I verily believe the devil himself was master."

The Result.

Magistrate—What! Do you mean to say your husband struck you and he that physical wreck? Mrs. Malouey—Yes, yer honor, but he's only been a physical wreck since he struck me.

Specimens.

Mrs. Newedde—Certainly, you may take some of those biscuits to your friend. Is he hungry too? Weary—No, mum; he's a geologist!—New Orleans Picayune.

Mathematics.

Mother—Jean, give half of your apple to your little sister. Remember that a pleasure shared is doubled. Jean—Yes, mother, but an apple shared is halved. —Nos Loisirs.

Affectation in dress always misses the end it aims at and raises contempt instead of admiration.—Steele.

ALASKA SALMON.

Procession of the Four Varieties of This Superb Fish.

"There is nothing more curious connected with the funny tribe than to watch the doings of the salmon family in Alaska," said an Alaskan dealer.

"The most singular thing of all is that after the females deposit their spawn their earthly career terminates, and I have seen the bottoms of creeks covered with their dead bodies. They give birth to thousands of their kind and immediately die. The young ones are then taken care of by the male salmon, and it is a well known fact that in three years from their birth the offspring reappear on the very ground of their origin. There are four varieties of this superb fish which make their appearance in regular order of succession.

"The spring the first to arrive is the magnificent king salmon, which weighs all the way from fifteen to ninety pounds. About June 1 comes the sookoy or red salmon, which visits our shores in enormous numbers and which is the common canning variety. A little later appears the log salmon, which only the Indians will eat, and finally, in August and September, the beautiful silver salmon arrives, the prettiest fish in all the world and one of the most palatable.

"When the salmon enter the fresh water by a curious trick of nature their skin becomes red, but this pink hue does not affect the whiteness of their flesh. It is seldom that salmon will journey up a glacier stream, but the streams that have lakes at their heads literally swarm with them."—Washington Herald.

ATTACKING A SYSTEM.

It Involves Attacking the Men That Uphold the System.

On every side I hear strange insistence upon the fact that it is only the system that is wrong. I hear people utter the following extraordinary words: "We do not attack individuals." What, in the name of the seven planets, can you attack except individuals? How can one fight a system? If a system came into this room, what would you do to it? Would you take a gun or a fencing foil or a butterfly net or a horsewhip or a disinfectant?

A system only exists in the minds of men, and if there is a very vile system in the minds of men there must be something very vile about their minds.

I do not say that they may not have other virtues along with the qualities that make the bad system. I do not say that the upholders of any bad system are without any moral merits. I do not say that Italian brigands are without any moral merits. But, however good or evil may be mingled in the character of an Italian brigand, nobody ever said that in dealing with persons of that profession you were not to attack individuals.

You do not, in dealing with brigands, say that you merely attack the system. You attack the brigands—that is, supposing that you are in possession of the adequate bodily courage.—C. K. Chesterton in Illustrated London News.

Thackeray's Pantomime.

William Makepeace Thackeray was always too genial, too generous, too open handed, to be an accumulator of this world's goods, and in spite of the large earnings of his pen he died a poor man. Shortly before his death his friend, John Leech, the cartoonist, called upon him and found him in his study writing—writing and sighing at the monotony of his work.

"Why don't you have a holiday," said Leech, "and take your girls to the seaside?" The great novelist made no verbal answer, but, rising slowly, plunged his hands to the very bottom of his pockets, brought these receptacles out, shook them vigorously without eliciting a rattle of coin, replaced them and then resumed his seat.

Strength of the Condor.

The enormous strength of the condor is only equaled by his voracity and boldness. This immense bird often pounces upon small animals, but from the shape and bluntness of his claws he is unable to carry anything very heavy, so he contents himself with fixing it against the ground with one of his claws, while with the other and his powerful beak he rends it to pieces. Gorged with food, the bird then becomes incapable of flight and may be approached, but any attempt at capture is furiously resisted.

Cure for a "Nagging" Woman.

Having advertised as a widower in search of wife No. 2, a man of St. Gall, Switzerland, showed the fifty replies and photographs which he had received to his wife, and stating that if she did not want him there were others who did, he effectively cured her of her "nagging" habits.—Petit Parisien.

He Read the Signs.

"And now, little boys," said the pretty Sunday school teacher, "we have seen that it is ordained that every human being must some day come to his death. And what comes after dying?" "Cleaning and pressing," yelled a boy who was familiar with window signs.—Chicago News.

Influence of Scotchwomen.

It is not surprising to find that those qualities—intellect, grit and strenuous endeavor—that have brought the manhood of Scotland to the front should also be a marked characteristic of Scotchwoman.—Englishwoman's Review.

When we read, we fancy we could be martyrs; when we come to act, we cannot bear a provoking word.—Hannah More.

WHY DID YOU COME WEST?

To rest, recuperate, hunt, fish, breathe fresh, pure air, see mountain scenery, get a change, live a new and fascinating life under new conditions, and get food that needs no pure food law.

That's why you came west!

There is a beautiful little valley that nestles between the highest mountains of the Rockies on the upper Pecos river; ideal altitude, 7,000 feet, and temperature identical with Santa Fe. Its streams swarm with trout and the woods and ranges are filled with game large and small. The ranchers live the life of the west. There are mountain lion, bears, deer and wolves for the hunter. There are saddle ponies to be had for the asking, rooms in a big, rambling ranch house with wide verandas, tent rooms or a cabin if you want it. The days are never dull. You see a great ranch and the genuine western life. Fresh milk, butter and eggs—all you can drink and eat. Sleep in blankets at night—fish in your shirt sleeves during the day. You couldn't spend more than $9 a week if you tried. It's the place you are looking for. Accommodations for both men and women.

MINES AND MINING

Despite the present low price of copper the mining camps of New Mexico with one or two exceptions are running full time and are prosecuting development work on an extensive scale. Perhaps the most active districts are those in Grant county. The Silver City Independent in its issue of this week contains the following interesting correspondence from the various camps in its section:

Mogollon.

The Ernestine Company at Mogollon under the able and efficient management of Theodore W. Carter, consulting engineer, is making rapid progress in the installation of new boilers, new machinery and new tanks, which when placed in position, by January 1, 1908, will increase the capacity of the mill from 60 to 100 tons daily. The mine was never in better condition than at the present time, and is producing largely of the ore which has made it famous as a mining proposition. A new lodging house with accommodation for 25 men, has just been completed. A contract for 540 feet, sinking and drifting on a No. 1 ore body has been let, which is east of the cross cut tunnel intersection of the Last Chance vein. Drifts will be run east and the great ore channel of the Last Chance will be fully developed in this direction. Drifting on the No. 3 ore body west, in the direction of the Top mine, is being prosecuted vigorously and will soon be at the end line of these rich and valuable claims. Over 1,000 cords of wood have been piled up for winter's use, which is an insurance against loss of time owing to bad weather. The operations of the mill and mine are systematic and methodical, and is due, in a great measure, to the foresight, energy and mining knowledge of the present management.

The Deadwood mine, under the management of Earl Cleveland, is rapidly improving both as to quality and quantity of output. The breast of the drift running west towards the Last Chance is all in smelting ore of high grade. The workings throughout evidence careful management on the part of Mr. Cleveland, who has shown exceptional ability as a mining engineer and mining man.

Burros.

The Martinburg claim, adjoining the Comanche group on the south side is making a fine record as a prospect. At a depth of 60 feet the shaft bottom, five by eight feet in the clear, is solid sulphide ore, carrying ten per cent copper and up. The claim is one of a group of nine, and belongs to Brown and company, on Cherry Creek who combine merchandising with mining and are making a success of both.

Chloride Flat.

The recent purchase of the Iron Hill iron mines insures to the Comanche Smelting company an unlimited supply of iron and lime for all time to come. Besides its value as a mining agent, every ton of the ore contains an amount of silver, almost sufficient to pay the cost of smelting a ton of ore into commercially valuable matter. Mining matters generally in this district are looking up; the first of the year will see a large force of miners actively engaged in the extraction ores which in times past have made this locality famous as a silver district.

Steeple Rock.

Three well known claims on the old and famous Carlisle lead have recently been transferred under lease and bond to H. C. E. Spence of Steeple Rock. The claims in question are respectively named the Pennsylvania, the east extension of the Carlisle, the Center and extension of the Pennsylvania, and the Star of the West, a westerly extension of the Carlisle. The three claims mentioned in the transfer have been rated as among not only the best, but the equal of the old Carlisle, which has yielded so much treasure in times past. The new management will develop their new acquisition, and open up territory that will yield millions in gold to the new proprietors.

Hanover.

Development on the Philadelphia continues unabated, notwithstanding the falling price of copper. The main shaft has now reached a depth of 215 feet, and the bottom is rock heavily mineralized, and contains values equal to one and a half to two per cent copper per ton. This mineralized condition in the Philadelphia is a positive indication that a large deposit for which this mine is noted will soon be encountered. The 100 foot drifts are in ore, as well as two uprisings which show and produce large quantities of commercially valuable ore. The mine throughout is in ore, and present developments indicate, that the Philadelphia is maintaining its well earned reputation as a constant producer. Will Fletcher, a young miner of promise and energy, has charge of the underground working, and is opening the mine for extended and economical work.

Santa Rita.

On the Treasure Vault, belonging to the Hermosa company, a new hoisting engine is being installed and the development of this property being pushed as rapidly as possible. Ed Burch is the mining foreman in charge, a guarantee that mining activity will prevail in the broadest sense of the term.

East of the principal workings of the Santa Rita company's property, the Columbia Copper Mining company own upwards of thirty claims in this portion of Central district, but are confining their operations to five in this immediate locality. A new galvanized frame has just been erected, and machinery ordered to develop and place their property in the list of productive mines. The claims are well located and in the great copper belt of Santa Rita, which has added so many millions of wealth to the treasure of the world. G. Adams is in charge and will open the property in shape for a generous output of ore believed to exist within a very few feet of the workings of the shaft.

San Jose.

The Osceola property, owned by Walter Rogers of El Paso, is being opened up with gratifying results. The present working shaft is sixty-five feet in depth and shows a well defined and strong vein of copper bearing ore. Preparations are now being made to place hoisting machinery on the property to open and develop this claim in shape as the ore shipper it is destined to become with the expenditure of a little time and money.

BERNALILLO COUNTY SHORT OF TEACHERS

Special Examination Is to Be Held in Attempt to Fill Vacancies—Other News of the Duke City.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 19.—Professor A. B. Stroup, county superintendent of schools, will conduct an examination for those who desire to apply for schools in Bernalillo county. Although the school term is well on in this county a number of the districts are unable to procure teachers to fill the vacancies. Eight schools are at present wanting pedagogues in this county.

The enormous traffic on the Santa Fe Railway on account of the special colonists rates is shown by the fact that one day this week No. 1 ran in four sections, No. 7 in three sections and No. 9 in two sections. While many are simply tourists to California, a greater number are prospecting in New Mexico.

S. M. Folsom, general manager of the Mutual Life Insurance company for New Mexico and southern Colorado, has been inspecting his agencies in this city. Mr. Folsom, who was for a long time a resident of this city and who was located at El Paso until the recent drastic insurance laws of Texas went into force, has now removed his family to Trinidad, Colorado.

Rev. R. W. Crichton, of Chetopa, Kansas, has arrived in the city. Mr. Crichton has been engaged as Presbyterian missionary for the Presbyterian church. His temporary home will be in this city.

Mrs. Gordon, the mother of Professor C. H. Gordon, who was for some years professor of geology in the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, passed through the city yesterday on her way to Knoxville, Tennessee, where she will join her son and his family who are now making that city their home, Professor Gordon being a member of the college faculty at that place.

Miss Christine Johnson has returned after an absence of several months during which time she visited Boston, where she formerly lived, and other New England points.

Dr. W. S. Harroun returned this afternoon from Albuquerque where he attended the annual meeting of the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Assistant U. S. Attorney E. L. Medler left Albuquerque today for Roswell where the fall term of the U. S. district court of the Fifth judicial district will be called Monday by Judge W. H. Pope.

District Attorney Louis O. Fullen of the Fifth judicial district court will be in Roswell Monday next to represent the Territory in criminal cases before the district court of Chaves county. Mr. Fullen although but six weeks in office is making an enviable record in his new position.

Mrs. Jackson and Miss Madden, aunt and cousin respectively of Governor Curry, who arrived in the city a week ago from Oakland, California, are cozily domiciled at the executive residence on Grant avenue. The ladies have not yet decided upon a receiving day but are ready to receive callers.

Mrs. Frank F. Jennings of Willard left yesterday for Enid, Oklahoma, her former home, where she will visit for some time. Mrs. Jennings was a member of the Woman's Federation at Enid, while a resident of that city and she will read a paper while there having for its subject the work of woman's clubs in New Mexico.

Mrs. T. B. Catron will leave tomorrow on her trip around the world, accompanied by Mrs. E. M. Slayton, of Chicago, who is now a guest at the Catron residence. Mrs. Catron and Mrs. Slayton will sail from San Francisco on Tuesday, October 29, having engaged passage on the Japanese line steamer Aki Maru, and their first stopping place will be Yokohama. Mr. Catron will join them in Japan a month later.

Hon. and Mrs. James W. Reynolds who spent the past four weeks at Omaha, Nebraska, guests at the home of the father of Mrs. Reynolds, visited New York City during the past week and will start from there on their Canadian trip about the 24th instant. During their sojourn in New York they were guests at the Waldorf-Astoria. They are greatly enjoying their outing.

E. A. Cahoon, cashier of the First National bank at Roswell, a financial institution which has been brought to the top amongst the banks of the Southwest by the ability, financial acumen and thorough attention to business of Mr. Cahoon, will leave his home tomorrow evening for Carlsbad to be present at the Masonic doings there next week. Mr. Cahoon is past grand master, past grand high priest and past grand commander and a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason. It is plain therefore that he has "run the Masonic gauntlet."

Mrs. E. A. Fiske and little daughter Norma, left this morning for Las Vegas, and from there will go to Chicago, where they will visit for some time. Mrs. Fiske was joined at the Meadow City by her mother, Mrs. E. D. Franz who has been visiting there for some time and together they will proceed to Chicago, where Mrs. Franz will make her home in the future. Miss Adelaide Franz, a sister of Mrs. Fiske, who has also been visiting in Las Vegas for some time, is now in Chicago. Both Mrs. Franz and Miss Franz were visitors here several times during their sojourn in the Meadow City.

Major R. C. Van Vliet, 10th U. S. Infantry, stationed for some time at Camp McKinley, near Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands and for the past year at Ft. Lisicum, Alaska, has returned to the United States and will visit Santa Fe at an early date. Major Van Vliet was stationed in this city as a lieutenant in the Tenth U. S. Infantry for several years in the latter eighties and early nineties. He has many warm friends here who still remember him pleasantly. His son, Stewart Van Vliet, has been in Santa Fe and in the Pecos national forest for the past six months and has recently made the purchase of the John C. Lewis ranch property on the upper Pecos.

Ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince who is in the east and who has attended the triennial convocation of the bishops and lay delegates of the Episcopal church at Richmond, Virginia, as a delegate from the Church of the Holy Faith in this city, writes that he has had a most pleasant, but also very busy time. The sessions of the convocation were lengthy and also held during evenings. While in Richmond he visited St. John's Episcopal church and stood upon the exact spot where Patrick Henry stood when he uttered his historical declaration: "Give me liberty or give me death!" He has also visited the Jamestown exposition and has been in Washington, where he did work for statehood. He will be absent probably two weeks longer.

Re-Union of Fifteen Club.

A very pleasant re-union of the Fifteen Club of this city occurred last Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. S. Harroun. This club which was organized on the 14th of October, 1891, is the oldest literary association in New Mexico. It has met on the days assigned continuously from October to June, each year since its formation.

It was started by Miss Nellie Smith, daughter of the late General G. A. Smith, and Mrs. W. S. Harroun, with Mrs. Frances W. Seeds, wife of Judge Seeds, formerly of this district, as an assistant.

Mrs. Seeds was chosen as its first president and Miss Smith as its first secretary.

For over two years the meetings which were at first held weekly and later bi-monthly met at the residence of Mrs. Harroun.

Mrs. M. J. Warner, Mrs. Harroun and Mrs. Jacob Weltmer took part in the first program.

To Miss Allison, of the Allison Mission school, of this city, was assigned the honor of naming the club. "The Friendly Fifteen," was selected from numerous names which were offered. After two years the name became simplified, and has since been known as "The Fifteen Club."

Its motto, "For Question and Research," was suggested by Mrs. Weltmer. Its flower is the yellow cactus.

At the exhibit of the Women's Federation of Clubs, at the World's Fair in 1893, the program of this club was the handsomest one exhibited. Its cover was beautifully painted by Captain I. W. Littell, of the Tenth U. S. Infantry, then stationed in this city, and the programs for the previous years were exquisitely printed by hand, by Miss Hughes, sister of Hon. Levi Hughes, of this city.

Of the fifteen charter members, but six are now living in Santa Fe. They are Mrs. W. S. Harroun, Mrs. M. J. Warner, Mrs. Jacob Weltmer, Mrs. George Marsh, Mrs. L. B. Prince, and Mrs. B. M. Thomas.

On reading some of the records of former years, old memories were stirred, recollections of those who were "loved long since, and lost awhile," of the tender and generous feeling which exists today between all of the members of this band of women, and, above all, a spirit of thankfulness for the blessings vouchsafed the club as a whole, prompted one of its members to visit each of those now associated with the club, and ask them to meet at the residence of Mrs. Harroun on Monday, October 14th, at 3 p. m., the place where just sixteen years before the first meeting occurred.

Each one who attended brought a bunch of flowers, with her card attached, and most of them contained an affectionate and appreciative sentiment.

A brief resume of the history of the club and its work was given and as a silent tribute to the founders of this club, who have gone before, and a grateful tribute to the living, a silver loving cup, bearing on its face "The Fifteen Club, Oct. 11th, 1891," and on its reverse "1907" was presented to Mrs. Harroun by the entire club.

As the first member who participated in its literary work, Mrs. M. J. Warner was selected to make the formal presentation.

After refreshments and a talk of other days the members departed, all feeling happy over the little halt in life's feverish journey to recognize the founding of this most delightful and helpful organization.

"PROGRESSIVE SUPPER" GREAT SUCCESS

"A Trip Around the World" Given By Presbyterians Provided Unique Entertainment.

"A Trip Around the World," the name given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church to their "progressive supper" last evening, proved a great success not only from a financial standpoint but from a social one as well. The ladies cleared between $75 and $80 as a result of their efforts and the public was the recipient of a gastronomic treat.

The supper was served in courses, each course representing a nation. The respective nations represented were Ireland, at Mrs. T. C. McConnell's, Germany at Mrs. David Knapp's, Mexico at Mrs. Morgan O. Llewellyn's, Japan at Mrs. John H. Walker's and America.

Each home was decorated characteristic of the country represented and the decorations were especially unique and pretty. The supper was elegant and the ladies were deserving of the liberal patronage accorded them.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY ADJOURNS TO MONDAY.

The United States grand jury of the First judicial district which has been in session here all week adjourned at 2 o'clock this afternoon until Monday morning. No true bills have as yet been returned but it is expected several indictments will be found before the grand jury is finally discharged.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY MEETS

Twenty-Nine New Members Elected—Steps Taken to Secure Branch of National Organization Here.

The Archaeological Society held a well attended and interesting meeting last evening in the law offices of Judge N. B. Laughlin in the Laughlin block. Judge John R. McFie presided and Secretary Paul A. F. Walter was at his post. The following were admitted to membership by unanimous vote: Ex-Governor E. S. Stover and Dr. George W. Harrison, of Albuquerque; John W. Corbett, of Estancia; District Attorney Alexander Read of Tierra Amarilla; Frank Ellis, of Taos; Major R. J. Palen, District Clerk F. C. Wilson, Professor A. M. Sanchez, Rev. Edgar C. Anderson, Jacob Weltmer, H. H. Dorman, E. F. Coard, Thomas P. Gable, N. C. Flint, J. S. Candelario, P. M. Lienau, Charles W. Dudrow, L. F. Montenie, Miss DuVal, Harvie DuVal, Hugh F. DuVal, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McMillan, Mrs. J. P. Victory, E. P. Shields, Henry Krick, J. H. Blain, Manuel Valdez and John Fielding. One application for membership was rejected.

The report of Treasurer A. H. Brodhead showed that after all bills for advertising had been paid, there still remained in the treasury a considerable balance. The advertising campaign during the past summer was quite extensive and has resulted in bringing many tourists to Santa Fe. Last evening was exhibited a handsomely framed mat with three large photographs of cliff dwellings and suitable inscription, of which a number of them are to be placed in the city offices of railroad companies in the large cities and also in depots and postoffices where they will attract much attention. In addition, there have been distributed 200 large cards enumerating the interesting sights of Santa Fe; there have been contributed articles to newspapers and magazines; there have been sent out a thousand circulars explaining the objects of the Archaeological Society, while much individual work has been done in the same direction. Last evening it was decided to have printed a series of souvenir postal cards with views of the Cliff Dwellings near Santa Fe and C. E. Linney, John K. Stauffer and Mrs. J. E. Wood were appointed a committee to select the views and make arrangements to have the cards printed and placed on sale.

A. H. Brodhead and Mrs. J. E. Wood were appointed a committee to select and have manufactured an emblem for the society, an emblem which is also to be characteristic of the traditions and folk lore of the Southwest and therefore will find universal acceptance. The emblem is to be copyrighted and sold for the benefit of the society by jewelers, etc.

Paul A. F. Walter and Mrs. B. M. Thomas were appointed a committee to negotiate with Custodian R. P. Ervieu for that part of the Old Palace, known as the Ben Hur and adjoining rooms, and if successful, to have these rooms refurnished in a manner typical of the Southwest. For that purpose local merchants and other residents will be asked to donate or loan articles of furniture and decoration. An initial appropriation of $25 was made for the purpose. The Ben Hur room, strange to say, is visited by more tourists than any other place in or around Santa Fe and it has been a disgrace to the city that the rooms have been neglected and present such an unkempt appearance. The society proposes to make these rooms its headquarters, to install the nucleus of a museum of antiquities therein and to keep them open to the public.

A number of informal but interesting reports were made; the result of the excavations on the Puye by Professor Edgar L. Hewett and class this summer was discussed and was also a plan to organize a branch of the American Institute of Archaeology in the Territory which would result in the retention at Santa Fe of specimens of all articles excavated from New Mexico ruins. If fifty members can be secured to pay $10 a year each, a branch of the institute will be established at Santa Fe; if 25 members are secured, a group, appendant to the Southwest Society, will be secured. No definite action was taken but it was the sense of the speakers that it is necessary to form such a group or branch in this Territory since the federal government gives no permits for excavations to any other organizations or individuals and unless such a group is formed none of the articles excavated will remain here.

OFFICIAL MATTERS

Governor Fills Vacancy in Commissioners of San Miguel County.

Governor Curry today appointed Hon. John S. Clark of Las Vegas as a member of the board of county commissioners of San Miguel county, filling a vacancy in the third district there which was caused by the resignation of Major R. C. Rankin who has removed to California. Mr. Clark qualified for the position this afternoon, so as to be able to participate in the deliberations of the board at its meeting Monday.
