COLONEL ROOSEVELT PUTS IT UP TO MR. WILSON ON TRUSTS

HE ASKS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY TO EXPLAIN HIS FAILURE AS GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST STANDARD OIL CONCERN AND OTHER BIG MERGERS

HE IS A "SAFE AND SANE" MAN FOR THE "INTERESTS" ON HIS RECORD

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt issued a statement today devoted largely to answering Governor Wilson's remarks on the trust question in his speech last Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

"In view of Mr. Wilson's insistence upon the importance of the trust problem," says Colonel Roosevelt, "I desire to call attention to Mr. Wilson's record on the trust question as governor of New Jersey and to his previous attitude."

Colonel Roosevelt quotes from Mr. Wilson's speeches when running for governor and later. "In his first message to the legislature, January 17, 1911," the statement continues, "Governor Wilson renewed with emphasis his promises to deal with the New Jersey trusts. He described some as having 'slipped out of control of the very law that gave them leave to be, and can make and unmake them at pleasure,' and declared: 'We have now set ourselves to control them soberly, but effectively, and to bring them within the regulation of the law. There is a great obligation, as well as a great opportunity, an imperative obligation from which we cannot escape if we would. No man who wishes to enjoy the public confidence dares hold back and if he is wise, he will not resort to subterfuge.'"

"The supreme court of the United States has solemnly declared that the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts have been guilty of fraudulent and unlawful conduct which the New Jersey status declares to be a misdemeanor," says Colonel Roosevelt. "Mr. Wilson now says that he wishes to proceed against the directors and managers of the trusts individually. For twenty-two months he has had, as governor of New Jersey, ample opportunity for thus proceeding against them, but he has never lifted his hand to take it."

"Mr. Wilson has declined to give the legislature a lead in this matter and when these members of the legislature gave him a lead he still declined to lift a finger in their aid. And, naturally, in view of this attitude of passive opposition on his part, the legislature failed to act."

"Through Senator Beveridge, I ask Mr. Wilson certain questions as follows:

"1. Is it not a fact that the laws of the state under which a corporation is organized prescribe its power?"

"2. Are not all the powers of Standard Oil and similar monopolies conferred by the laws of New Jersey?"

"3. Could not these powers have been curtailed by amendments to the New Jersey laws?"

"4. Why has not Mr. Wilson as governor of New Jersey recommended such amendments?"

"In response to these questions Mr. Wilson telegraphed to one of his supporters as follows: 'I authorize you to say that the republic can majority in the legislature made a revision of the corporation laws impossible and no New Jersey official could prosecute or propose a dissolution for breach of federal statutes.'"

"This is no answer at all. Mr. Wilson himself stated that the legislature did with surprising ease what he asked and that republican and democratic members actually introduced bills such as were demanded by Mr. Wilson's explicit promises. The New Jersey legislature of 1911 stood:

"House, 42 democrats and 18 republicans; Senate, 11 republicans and 10 democrats. Therefore there was only one republican majority against him on the senate and one republican senator, Mr. Coalgate, actually introduced an anti-trust bill."

"No wonder that Mr. Wilson was able to mention in his Madison Square Garden speech with modest pride that the 'gentlemen in Wall street are smiling and complacent,' because of their hope for his election and that they are betting heavily on him. I ask that Mr. Wilson's proposals now be tested by his actions as governor of New Jersey."

WILSON RALLY DAY.

New York, Nov. 2.—A feature of the observance of Wilson rally day today was the reading at democratic rallies throughout the country of Gov. Wilson's message to the voters of the United States. This message was read by former Judge Alton B. Parker at a Wilson rally at Pelham Manor, Westchester county, New York, and by other democrats wherever the supporters of Governor Wilson assembled to observe the day.

should be assessed at not less than fifty (50) cents per acre; and classifies such lands in Bernalillo, McKinley, Sandoval, San Juan, Santa Fe and Valencia counties as of substantially the same value, and finds that in those counties they should be assessed at not less than forty (40) cents per acre.

"It is therefore ordered by the board, that the assessment for purposes of taxation of grazing lands in the counties of Colfax, Mora and Union, which have been assessed at less than seventy-five (75) cents per acre, shall be raised to that figure; and that all grazing lands in Chaves, Curry, Dona Ana, Eddy, Lincoln, Luna, Rio Arriba, Roosevelt, Sierra and Socorro counties, which have been assessed at less than sixty (60) cents per acre, shall be raised to that figure; that all grazing lands in Grant, Guadalupe, Otero, Quay, San Miguel, Taos and Torrance counties, which have been assessed at less than fifty (50) cents per acre, shall be raised to that figure; and that all grazing lands in Bernalillo, McKinley, Sandoval, San Juan, Santa Fe and Valencia counties, which have been assessed at less than forty (40) cents per acre, shall be raised to that figure."

"It is further ordered, that the treasurer of each county in the state shall increase the valuation of such grazing lands on the tax rolls in his hands in accordance with the foregoing order, and shall extend the taxes on such rolls in accordance with such valuations. And that this order shall not authorize any reduction in the valuation of such lands, which have been assessed at a higher valuation than those hereinbefore set out."

San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua, Nov. 2.—A wireless dispatch from Acapulco says the Pacific Mail Steamer, City of Panama, has arrived there without suffering injury from the hurricane. Fourteen iron lighters which were sunk in the harbor by the hurricane, are being raised.

Letter Received by Colonel Roosevelt While at Mercy Hospital, Chicago.

For I should be proud to meet you at Mercy Hospital.
Dear Mr. Roosevelt
I hope you are getting on nicely. I'd want you to be our president. If I was a man
I would help you, and work hard for you, and tell the people how good you are,
but I am only ten years old.
I'm sending some money that I made selling flowers, to help you and I want you to keep it. I pray

every night that you will soon be well and I know that God is helping you. My brother he is just the same too.

CHEERS FOR ROOSEVELT MADISON SQUARE BREAKS RECORD

New York, Nov. 2, via Chicago.—his speech because he desires a record next Tuesday in the voting, rather than a record tonight in the duration of the cheers.

Following the frost of Wilson meeting last night when he barely filled Madison Square Garden, Roosevelt and New York state progressive ticket tonight packed Madison Square Garden with seventeen thousand cheering people. As many more unable to gain admission. This is second thirty-six hours' notice. This is second great progressive Madison Square Garden within two days, something heretofore unheard of in New York politics. Democratic National committee today called off their much heralded parade tomorrow afternoon. Everyone believes on account of their inability to muster respectable number of men for parade. Republicans cancelled their advertised meeting for Madison Square Garden. Unless every sign falls Tuesday's election returns in New York will give democrats heart failure.

THEY CHEERED.
New York, Nov. 2.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for the second time in three days, last night addressed an immense audience in Madison Square Garden. There had preceded him to the garden, through the medium of Comptroller Prendergast, chairman of the meeting, a request that no effort be made by the crowd to cheer him beyond the limit of time accorded last night in the same hall to Governor Wilson.

"When Colonel Roosevelt raises his left hand," said Mr. Prendergast, "he asks you to allow him to proceed without regard to their past party affiliations, and with the resolute intention of making this a permanent movement and a movement that shall deal not merely with national but with state and local affairs. For, mind you, friends, the evils that affect our people are evils which can not be dealt with by any one branch of the government alone."

"We can grapple with them only when the national and state and municipal governments alike are in the hands of men whose honesty is above reproach, and who know and understand and sympathize with the needs of the plain people of the country."

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN IS LAID TO REST TO-DAY

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The funeral service over the body of the late Vice President James S. Sherman was held this afternoon. The service at the house began at 1 o'clock and was conducted by Dr. L. H. Holden of the Reformed Dutch church, who is the family pastor. It was conducted in the presence of only a few outside of the immediate family. These consisted of Mrs. Sherman, and her three sons and their wives and of brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman and their families. There was a profusion of flowers.

Dr. Holden did not depart from the prescribed forms of the Dutch church which include scriptural quotations and formulated prayers, the service closing with the Lord's prayer and a benediction. Immediately after the last words fell from the pastor's lips, preparations were begun for the removal of the body to the Presbyterian church and the procession soon began its solemn march thitherward.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Dr. Stryker's address at the funeral of Vice President Sherman was very brief. He said: "In solemn and united mourning, but with calm gratitude and devout hope, we are met in this house of faith to remember him whose form is here in all the mysterious dignity of death."

"The high representatives of the nation and the state meet with us with keen human sympathies to make, however inadequately a sincere tribute of manly regard and affection to the name of a fellow servant and an endeared companion. We mourn the vice president, but most of us mourn the man."

"Even with utmost brevity, I may not recite his consistent and influential career; nor his honors. All these things are legible, written past recall."

"Our hearts review them. Nor can we ever forget. Least of all may I lead you into those sanctities of domestic life where legacy is so endearing here, be it remembered that his sources of courage and patience were deep in that spiritual rock of which he drank. Quietly, but steadfastly for many years, he has confessed his master before men."

"Good servant, great heart, gentle friend, farewell. We the pilgrims of the night still lodging in tents, hail thy sure abode where all shadows are swallowed up of day. Let the mortal put on immortality. Thanks be to God for every good thing ended, for every victory won through pain, for the completion of our salvation, guiding by angel hands 'To where, beyond these voices there is peace.'"

At the church service attended by President Taft and other high officials, Dr. M. W. Stryker delivered the eulogy.

NEW MEXICO MOURNS.

Santa Fe, capital of New Mexico, and seat of many federal offices, today in mourning the death of Vice President James S. Sherman. The flag over the post office is at half mast and other flags are also lowered out of respect.

Upon the opening of the U. S. district court Leroy O. Moore, Esq., Assistant United States Attorney, announced to the court the death of Honorable James S. Sherman, Vice President of the United States. Thereupon the presiding judge, Hon. William H. Pope, said:

"In the death of Honorable James S. Sherman, Vice President of the United States, the nation has lost a devoted public servant, a zealous patriot, a noble-hearted citizen. His services to our country as a member of the house of representatives and as presiding officer of the senate were

BULGARIANS HURL BACK TURKISH LINES AFTER A DESPERATE BATTLE

LITTLE BALKAN CITIZEN SOLDIERS FOUGHT WITH CONTEMPT FOR DEATH, IN WAY WAR CORRESPONDENT TRIES TO DESCRIBE PERFECT FEARLESSNESS OF FIGHTING MEN OF THE MOUNTAINS

OTTOMAN TROOPS FLYING TOWARDS CONSTANTINOPLE AND MASSACREING

London, Nov. 2.—Negotiations are progressing in London with a view to bringing the Balkan war to an end. The British foreign office, usually one of the quietest places in London, on Saturday, was all bustle this morning.

Sir Edward Grey, the secretary for foreign affairs, who, contrary to custom, is remaining in town over the week end, received the Russian, Austrian, Turkish and Italian ambassadors and the Bulgarian minister.

Constantinople, Nov. 2.—Dispatches from Saloniki dated November 1 say heavy fighting continues on the plain of Vardar and that the Greeks are sustaining severe losses. The Turkish troops are said to have captured twenty-five Greek cavalrymen and two field guns and the Greeks are described as retreating pursued by the Turks.

British and French cruisers have arrived at Saloniki and two German war vessels are expected there. The gunboat Goredel, bringing ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid from Saloniki, arrived here today. Abdul Hamid and the women of the harem are to be placed for the present in Beylerbey palace on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus.

Belgrade, Nov. 2.—The Serbian cavalry continues to sweep Macedonia. The Turks do not offer serious resistance to them anywhere. A column of Serbians has arrived within a few miles of Perlepe, where they expect to join the Greeks. A convoy of 500 wounded Serbian soldiers arrived here today from Velez.

London, Nov. 2.—Only two lines of forts, both known as Tchatalja, one to the northwest of the fortified city of Adrianople, and the other stretching across the peninsula outside of Constantinople, now stand between Turkey and the total obliteration of her power in Europe. On neither of these lines of forts can much reliance be placed in view of what has happened at other places supposed to be strongly fortified.

There now seems to be no escape for the Turks. The Bulgarians are following up their successes with a dash that surprises the world. They are now endeavoring to get a force of their troops from Serai between the routed Turkish army under Nazim Pasha and the Tchatalja lines. This move would fulfill the twofold purpose of putting an end to all Turkish resistance and stopping the defeated Ottoman soldiers from reaching Constantinople, where their arrival is much feared.

If the Bulgarians' plan succeeds, they are likely to go on to Constantinople, where they will dictate the terms of peace. They are not likely, however, to stay in the capital. There is a Bulgarian legend that any nation occupying Constantinople is certain to be in perpetual trouble with its neighbors.

What the Bulgarians always have aimed at is the occupation of the province of Adrianople, which comes down to a line between the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmora near the base of the peninsula.

The Turkish troops might have found a way of retreat toward the Port of Rodosto on the Sea of Marmora, but this is now occupied by the Bulgarians.

Over 12,000 Turkish wounded are reported to have arrived already in Constantinople. The ambulance services of none of the armies are able to cope with the work set for them and while all the countries of Europe have sent contingents to assist in caring for the wounded, the suffering in the war area must be unparalleled.

From all the capitals of Europe come reports of the efforts of the powers to reach an agreement in regard to the form of intervention, but nothing has been definitely decided beyond a general approval of the French premier's proposals.

Meantime the war vessels of the powers are hurrying to the east to protect the Christians among the Turkish population, whose danger, according to most of the correspondents there, is very real.

Graphic descriptions of the week-long battle between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies in the southeastern corner of the Balkan peninsula are now reaching London. It would appear that nearly 400,000 men have been engaged in the life and death struggle, which, according to accounts is still in progress.

The fighting on the left wing of the Turkish army, according to one correspondent, was terribly severe. In their attack on Lule Burgas, the Bulgarians found Torgut Sheket Pasha with his troops in position on the slopes behind the town. The Bulgarians brought up six batteries and shelled the position on Monday evening. They then carried out an infantry attack, which was successful. On Tuesday the Bulgarian artillery settled down to a methodical preparatory bombardment to which the Turkish artillery replied vigorously.

In the artillery duel, no superiority was shown by either side.

On Tuesday afternoon it became clear to the Turkish commander that the Bulgarians were pushing up masses of reinforcements to the firing line to give weight to their attacks. This meant that the position at Lule Burgas was becoming untenable. The Turkish advance line fell back in admirable order to Torgut Sheket Pasha's main position on the left, guarding the iron railway bridge across the river Erkene. The town itself remained unoccupied by either side during Tuesday night and throughout Wednesday, when it was set on fire by the explosion of Bulgarian shells.

Close battle was begun between the opposing forces at dawn on Wednesday and raged with equal fierceness along the whole front for a distance of twenty miles.

The Bulgarians began by a determined effort to take the railway bridge, but the Turkish troops, entrenched near the head of the bridge, drove them back with sweeping force.

Toward noon the Bulgarian artillery concentrated its fire on the center of the Turkish position as a prelude to an assault. The shrapnel fire was perfectly timed and the Turkish infantry suffered heavily.

Long columns of wounded, were passed to the rear after receiving first aid on the field. No description of the later stages of the battle has come through, but reports from Sofia assert that the Bulgarians carried everything before them.

Further dispatches from Sofia say the Turkish troops offered an obstinate resistance. The conflicts continued until late on Wednesday night with wavering. Eventually, however, the Turks gave way all along the line, the Bulgarians capturing the railway station at Muradli and thus commanding the railway line to Saloniki, which is now isolated.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 2.—Bulgarian reports say the Turkish troops during their retreat from Eski Baba to Lule Burgas, massacred 200 women, old men and children in the village of Atvali.

A number of the victims were still writhing in their death agonies when the Bulgarian troops entered the place.

Vienna, Nov. 2.—A fearful battle, the most sanguinary the Bulgarian army has had to sustain before Adrianople, is raging today near the bridge over the Maritza river at Maras, wires the Reichspost's correspondent with the Bulgarians.

The Turks are displaying extraordinary stubbornness, continually bringing up fresh reserves and hustling them into the fight.

The Bulgarians are showing a complete contempt for death.

Vienna, Nov. 2.—The fall of Adrianople may be expected next week, according to a correspondent of the Reichspost, telegraphing from Musapha Pasha.

The capitulation of the city, he says, might be forced sooner by a ruthless bombardment by the Bulgarians, but King Ferdinand has ordered that the city be spared. The siege has been complete for many days past and the fall of Democitla to which place the Turks had taken 30,000 men in their retreat after the battle of Kirk-Kilisesh army at Lule Burgas, removes all fear of an interruption of the Bulgarian siege operations by the Turks.

Athens, Nov. 2.—The Greeks have defeated the Turks in another battle on the road to Monastir. The Turks lost 200 cavalry and 100 infantrymen killed while seven of their field guns were captured.

Malta, Nov. 2.—The British cruisers, Barham, Weymouth and Medea, have been intercepted by wireless and ordered to sail to Levant forthwith. The Barham is to go to Suda bay and the other vessels to places where they will be conveniently situated in case of eventualities.

READY TO GO TO CUBA.

Fortress Monroe, Va., Nov. 2.—The army general staff has ordered four transports in reserve here to be prepared within four days for instant readiness to carry 2,800 troops to Cuba, should disorders arise during the insular elections demanding intervention.

SOCIETY

BY NAN O'NIEL.

WHEN MOTHER VOTES.

We all get up at peep of day
And fret and fume and stew,
While father lays the breakfast cloth
And makes the coffee, too.
He always gets his fingers burned—
I would not dare to quote
The things he says around the stove.
When mother goes to vote.

The cat is sure to steal the cream.
The puppy nabs the steak,
And when we wash the dishes up
A lot are bound to break;
And baby chokes and cries enough
To split his little throat,
And father seems to hate himself,
When mother goes to vote.

Us kids are all as still as mice
And at attention stand,
Prepared to run for curling tongs
And pins at her command;
And father hooks her up the back
And helps her in her coat,
And puts her in a taxicab,
When mother goes to vote.

She's powdered, puffed and manicured,
And fluted, flounced and frilled,
With half a bottle of cologne
Upon her kerchief spilled;
And everything she wears is new,
From veil to petticoat—
You bet it is a social stunt,
When mother goes to vote!

—Minna Irving in Judge.

Did you realize that election day would be over Tuesday? No more stumping this year, no more election literature or buttons or badges, no more comments in the papers, no more bets. We will be a quiet world again for a time. Think of having no more burning political issues in New Mexico for four years.

The curio man will get all the trade since the only other lucrative profession in New Mexico will be out of business.

With two senators and the congressman from New Mexico all decided upon and safely stationed in Washington there will be no excuse left for ink-stained throwing in the legislature.

The most important side of the election seems to be whether or not we will have a new president to appoint new postmasters or whether the present office holders will remain behind their office doors just the same.

Of course it is up to each one's personal convictions as to which of the presidential candidates will be receiving congratulations Tuesday night. The three popular songs seem to be:

"Everybody Lies But Teddy,"
"Everybody's Home But the Tafts," "Everybody's Saying It But Wilson."

There seems to be quite a few suffragettes who are like the man in saying that he was shouting for Teddy, praying for Taft and betting his money on Wilson. Did I say suffragettes? Yes, suffragettes, they are going to vote in the coming election in six states and they are urging the men to let them vote in five other states.

With election day drawing near, men and women working in behalf of woman's suffrage in Wisconsin are receding their energies, kindling enthusiasm, and making a final splendid effort to convince the voters of the state that the word "male" should be stricken from the clause dealing with the subject of the right to vote.

An amusing incident is still spoken of at headquarters in Milwaukee of an occasion when a member of the State Federation of Labor made an attack on suffrage, stating that it would rob woman of her womanliness and make her a less devoted mother. Mrs. Guden immediately answered his objections pointing her remarks with the story of the little girl whose cat neglected her kittens shamefully. Taking the cat's forepaws in her little hands and looking pussy square in the eyes, the child exclaimed: "You're not fit to be a mother. Why, you're hardly fit to be a father."

A wave of enthusiasm for woman's suffrage has swept over Madison. There is a strong league among the women, numbering some of the most prominent leaders in society, club, and university circles, with a men's league as an able advisory support. President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, Prof. Jastrow, Prof. William Bleyer, and many others among the faculty of the university have endorsed it. The co-eds have formed a league, with Miss Lucile Deming as their president, and anti's are scarce among the students. A mass meeting was held on Friday evening, and rehearsals for a suffrage play are now in progress.

Next week practically all the shopkeepers on the square around the capital building will fill their windows with suffrage pennants, arguments, and photographs of leading suffragists in the state.

The most influential suffragist in the entire country is Jane Addams. She has worked, talked and sent out thousands of letters upon suffrage explaining the promises made the suffragists by the progressive party. She was the first woman to have a place on the executive board of a national political party and seconded the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for president.

Led by Miss Addams and Miss Lathrop the suffrage campaign in Illinois has been absolutely thorough. The campaign leaders have left no stone unturned but have secured the cooperation of all prominent people in every walk of life. Madame Schuman-Heineck sang at the headquarters and of course all the curious, as well as those partially interested, went to the headquarters to hear her and stayed to take away campaign literature and doctrines.

In Idaho the women grew tired of continued wrangling with republican bosses and finally nominated their own ticket. Latest reports say they have a good chance of winning out on their independent ticket.

Of course the suffragettes in California claim they will be able to sweep the state for the "Native Son"—Hiram Johnson. The society women of Los Angeles and San Francisco have given up bridge for the more fascinating game of politics. They have even gone so far as to register their correct ages, although they did it in the down town district where they thought none of their friends would see the bulletin. That their friends had thought of the same scheme and that they were all registered, ages and all, at the same place made the situation rather amusing for the judges would stand near enough to hear conversation of the "equal suffrage" voters.

And what have we done in New Mexico? A great many women will hold their hands up in horror and say, "I hope suffragists have done nothing here and never will be able to do anything in our state." Others who have had to go into business circles will say, "Of course I'm for suffrage. All women would be if they had to have any business dealings."

Suffrage for New Mexico was taken up at the meeting of the National Federation in San Francisco last summer and was voted down. As far as I have been able to learn suffrage is not wanted in the state. Perhaps we are not ready for it yet; perhaps we would not like to tell our ages; and perhaps again, the women of New Mexico have simply not thought of it.

Out of the eighty ladies I tried to get over the phone yesterday, only twelve were suffragists. To be called over the phone and have such a question as "Good morning, are you a suffragette?" thrust upon one is hardly fair, I know, but it was very interesting to see the way in which the different women met it. Only half a dozen said "Yes, I am," or "No, I don't believe in it," in a calm, matter-of-fact way. Almost every one said, "What was that?" In such an astonished tone of voice that it made such a question seem funny. Here is the canvass, as far as it was possible to find people at their phones:

Question: "Hello, are you a suffragette?"

Mrs. E. C. Abbott: No, indeed I'm not. Who will I vote for at the board of trade election day party? The man whose button matches my dress, I think. Even politics should be becoming.

Mrs. Frank Andrews: No, why? Do I look like a suffragette? But if I could vote Wilson would be my man.

Mrs. R. F. Asplund: Yes, I'm a suffragist, but I don't believe in suffrage for New Mexico just now. There are too many other things we need first in the way of legislation, etc. I believe in the progressive platform and would vote for Roosevelt.

Mrs. Charles L. Bishop: I don't believe in suffrage at all. I would vote for Taft.

Mrs. Carl A. Bishop: Why, when I'm in the east I always say I'm a suffragette and I always talk for it when anyone talks against it. I'd vote for Teddy sure.

Mrs. F. T. Blandy: I believe in suffrage for school questions only. I'm a Bull Moose—not just because Mr. Blandy is, but because I believe in it.

Mrs. W. F. Brogan: No, I am not a suffragette, but I think I would vote for Teddy.

Mrs. S. G. Cartwright: Why I have the reputation for being a suffragette, I'm a progressive too, and cast my vote for Roosevelt.

Mrs. C. C. Catron: Not a suffragette, but I would like to vote for Taft.

Mrs. E. F. Coard: Sure I'm a suffragette; don't tell but I'd like to vote for Wilson.

Mrs. Lorin C. Collins: Of course, I believe in equal suffrage. I would vote for Governor Wilson.

Mrs. Creamer: I think I would be a suffragette. Of course, I'd have to vote for Wilson.

Mrs. E. P. Davies: No, I am not a suffragette, but I would vote for Taft.

Mrs. J. M. Diaz: No, no, I'm not a suffragette. Whom would I vote for? Well, I know I wouldn't vote for Roosevelt. Why they say that the more that man thinks about his past life, the more he can't remember a single mistake he has ever made.

Mrs. Thomas Doran: No, I'm not a suffragette, but I am a Wilsonite. Wilson and Marshall forever.

Mrs. H. H. Dorman: Non-suffrage; would vote for Wilson.

Mrs. Melvin Dunlavy: Yes, I'm a suffragette and I'd vote for Wilson and the democrats every time.

Mrs. C. F. Easley: I'm not a suffragette because I wouldn't have courage enough to go to jail. I want to see Wilson for the next president though.

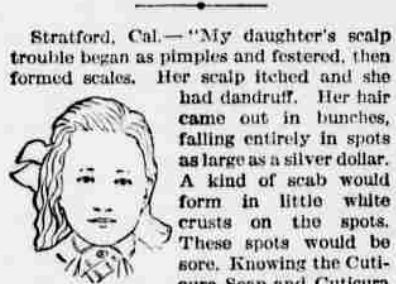

Mrs. C. F. Fairfield: No, I'm not a suffragette and there's no use in voting for it's a sure thing for Wilson.

Mrs. E. E. Friday: Might be a suffragette and would vote for Wilson surely.

Mrs. Julius Gerdes: I don't want to

ITCHING SCALP AND DANDRUFF

Pimples Festered Then Formed Scales. Hair Came Out in Bunches. Scab in White Crusts. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Scalp Cured, Hair Grew.

Stratford, Cal.—"My daughter's scalp trouble began as pimples and festered, then formed scales. Her scalp itched and she had dandruff. Her hair came out in bunches, falling entirely in spots as large as a silver dollar. A kind of scab would form in little white crusts on the spots. These spots would be sore. Knowing the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment were good for the skin and scalp, we washed her scalp each morning with Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment, rubbing it in well with the hands. It helped from the start. I used one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, then her scalp was cured and her hair grew again. It has been more than a year since and her scalp is clear and healthy." (Signed) Hiram Crabtree, Jan. 23, 1912.

Cuticura Soap is best for skin and hair because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective medication, and refreshing fragrance. It costs but little more than ordinary soaps, wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

vote, but I'd like to see Wilson elected.

Mrs. J. Wight Giddings: No, I'm most emphatically not a suffragette; my vote would go for Roosevelt.

Mrs. R. C. Garrett: No suffrage for me. I'd vote for Taft though.

Mrs. K. W. Green: Yes indeed I'm a very ardent suffragette. Of course, I would vote for Wilson. We are all from Virginia, which is rather an inherited reason but it is still good.

Mrs. W. F. Griffin: I don't know I guess I'm on the fence there, but I'd like to see Wilson elected.

Mrs. Addison Hall: To be sure I'm a suffragist and I'm for Wilson too.

Mrs. I. B. Hanna: I am not a suffragette but I'm a progressive and I'd vote for Wilson.

Mrs. R. H. Hanna: Of course I'm for Wilson, but I'm not a suffragette.

Mrs. W. A. Harroun: No, indeed, I am not in favor of equal suffrage. If I should vote my vote would only neutralize the doctor's vote, because I should vote for Wilson.

Mrs. L. A. Harvey: Yes I am a suffragette, I believe in women demanding and asserting their rights. I would vote for Wilson.

Mrs. T. A. Hayden: Suffragette? Mercy, no. I'm suffering but I'm not a suffragette. Vote? Why I'd vote for Wilson, of course, he's from Virginia.

Mrs. C. F. Haynes: I really don't know whether I'm a suffragette or not but I know I'm going to wear a Wilson button at the party.

Mrs. W. G. Hoover: Yes, indeed, I am a suffragist and if I could I would cast my vote for Wilson.

Mrs. E. L. Hewett: No, I don't think I'm a suffragette, but I want to see Wilson win.

Mrs. N. B. Laughlin: No, I am a plain old-fashioned lady and I don't want to vote, but, of course, I want to see Wilson win.

Miss Manderfield: Suffragette? Don't ask me such a thing when I am housecleaning, I'm liable to be any-

LIGHT

IN THESE DAYS OF MODERN METHODS, Electricity plays a most important part. The grandfather would be amazed at the radiance of the modern home—and why all this light? To make the home more homelike—to make the home the most pleasant spot on earth for father, mother and children. Good light that is easy on the eyes is very much to be desired.

POWER

NOTHING IS QUITE SO CONVENIENT as to touch the button and your stove is ready to cook—your iron ready to use, your toaster ready for the hurried breakfast, your vacuum cleaner ready for the fray, your washer ready to cleanse, fan ready to cool the heated rooms. Electricity will do every thing for you. We furnish it at reasonable rates, day and night. Estimates and full information cheerfully given.

thing then, I will vote for Taft of course.

Miss Massie: No, I am not a suffragette. But when I was in Canada last year several of my friends went to hear Mrs. Parkhurst and came away convinced that she was right. I rather wish I had heard her. I'm for Wilson.

Miss Betty Massie: No, indeed, I'm one of those old-fashioned kind of women. I believe in the home, etc. When I was in Canada last year there were several toasts given at a banquet. One man told of the marvelous science and walk of life until at last they were really the equals of men. An old gentleman, with his eyes twinkling, raised his glass and said: "To women—once our superiors, now our equals."

Mrs. J. W. Mayes: Yes, I believe that every woman should have the right to vote. I would certainly vote for Wilson.

Mrs. W. C. McDonald: Yes, I'm a suffragette. I couldn't think of voting for anyone but Wilson. Could I?

Mrs. Angus McGilivray: Yes, I'm a suffragette, but I'd have to vote twice some way to keep peace in the family. Could I vote for Wilson and Roosevelt?

Mrs. John W. March: I've been a suffragette for three years and, of course, I'd vote for Wilson.

Mrs. Leroy Moore: Yes, indeed, I'm a suffragette and I think I will vote for Mrs. Pennypacker, of the national federation.

Mrs. R. J. Palen: Not a suffragette, but would vote for Taft.

Mrs. W. H. Pope: I am not a suffragette and I'm glad I don't have to vote. I've had a Wilson raising, but I'd like to vote for Taft.

Mrs. I. H. Rapp: Theoretically I'm a suffragette. I would vote for Wilson.

Mrs. A. B. Renahan: No suffragette for me; I'd vote for Taft though.

Mrs. J. A. Rolis: Yes, I think I would be a suffragette and I know I would vote for Mr. Wilson.

Mrs. W. A. Sargent: Haven't you desire to be a suffragette. I would vote for Taft.

Mrs. Arthur Seligman: No, I'm not a suffragette, but Wilson's my man.

Mrs. James Seligman: Sure, I'm a suffragette and I'm going to vote for Wilson, of course.

Mrs. Standley Small: I'm very undecided and don't know whom I want for president.

Mrs. Solomon Spitz: I would vote for Taft.

Mrs. C. H. Stauffer: I'm on the fence and I don't dare tell which way I'd like to vote.

Mrs. L. Vickroy: No, I'm not a suffragette. Politics are always the same anyway. The father of a household is always a standpatter and the sons are always insurgents.

Mrs. John Walker: No, I'm not a suffragette, but if it came to voting why, of course, I would vote for Wilson.

Mrs. Jacob Weltmer: Not a suffragette; I wouldn't vote for Taft and I wouldn't vote for Roosevelt in New Mexico, and I would hate to vote for a democrat. This is a hard question, but I suppose through a process of elimination I would have to vote for Wilson.

Mrs. Charles A. Wheelon: I'm not a suffragette, but the whole family is for Wilson this time.

Mrs. F. C. Wilson: Haven't had time to decide whether I am a suffragette or not. I'd vote for Roosevelt. No, I don't care anything about a name-sake being in the White House.

Mrs. T. Z. Winter: I voted in Colorado and took part in the campaign, but I don't care very much about it. I don't know who I would vote for.

Mrs. H. C. Yontz: Non-suffrage, but I'd like to vote for Wilson.

OVERHEARD.

"Was your wife in the suffrage parade?" asked E. C. Abbott, meeting S. G. Cartwright on the street.

"You bet she was," said Mr. Cartwright enthusiastically. "Why, she was the flag bearer for her chapter."

"Do you mean to tell me that that little woman carried that heavy flag all that distance?"

"Well—no," said Mr. Cartwright, "my chauffeur and the boys and I took turns at carrying it."

DANCE.

A most enjoyable dance was given at Library hall Tuesday night under the direction of Joe Berardinelli, who was floor manager. It was an invitation dance and it was largely attended. The music was furnished by Ramirez orchestra and was enjoyed very much, with the up-to-date "rags" and dreamy waltzes.

Among those who attended were: Misses B. Anaya, T. Cortez, L. Baez, L. Chapman, Lucy and Lito Knight, Lucy, Juanita, Amalia and Luisita Sena, A. DuBois, C. Kronz, Lola, Petrita, Pilar and Carmen Delgado, Mrs. J. D. Sena, Mrs. Maurer, Mrs. J. Borrego, Mrs. Hanser, Mrs. Conway.

GHOST PARTY.

The Joy Club held their party last night in the Old Exchange Building and a spookier place could not have been found for Halloween pranks. Uncanny lights burned in the deserted rooms and freak shrill noises, like some unhappy spirit whistling by, made more than one girl scream and jump. A Halloween spread ended the evening in a very happy fashion. When the lights were turned on the slimy horror worms were found to be pieces of cold boiled macaroni and the ghost a sheet and pillow case with phosphorus eyes.

HALLOWEEN.

Halloween has had its share in the revels this week also. There never is a holiday that is more fun than Halloween and all the boys and girls took advantage of that fact to have a merry frolic. Ties and queer wrappings on the window pane let one know that the frolicers were out on a gay expedition. Everything was done in the best of good spirits this year and I have heard of no one who had any complaints to make against the fun-makers.

A great many were at the theatre that night enjoying the splendid representation of The Roseary which was put on Thursday night, and several of the Halloween parties were kept until Friday evening.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL.

The young people of the First Presbyterian church held a social Friday evening at the home of Miss Laura Wood, on Palace avenue. Over fifty young people were present and it is almost needless to say that they had the time of their lives. They were met outside the darkened door by a tall and shadowy ghost who insisted upon shaking hands with each one. Whether it was the current from the spirit world that gave everyone such a shock and grip or not would be hard to say but the spook certainly did leave electric thrills running up and down one's back.

The house was shadowy and spooky with darkly shaded lights and black cats and witches and skeletons peered out from every corner.

The girls were told to look inside a dark door if they wanted to see their future fate. Of course, every one was curious and the shrieks told the story of white grinning skull wagging at them from the blackness.

Doughnuts and waffles and apples and pie and all things dear to Halloween spreads weighed down the big table in the dining room.

At midnight the revelers went home, jumping at every shadow on the way and dreaming of goblins all night.

CARD PARTY.

All of this election dope leads up to the Election Day party which will be one of the largest and most elaborate parties that has ever been given in Santa Fe. It is given by the Woman's Board of Trade and that fact alone will ensure its success. The tickets are seventy-five cents and everyone should buy one whether it is possible for them to go to the party or not, for it is a very small way of helping a splendid cause.

Aside from the question of going for charity, everyone will go for the good time that is in store. The plans are very elaborate and everything that time and energy and planning can do has been done to make the affair one of the most delightful and unique in the history of Santa Fe.

As each guest enters the library hall she will be asked how she wants to vote and will then be given a button representing her favorite candidate. She may also have her choice of playing bridge or five hundred. The Roosevelt, Wilson and Taft followers will play against each other as much as possible in order to see which candidate will pull the highest score at the end of the game.

The hall will be decorated with campaign posters and pennants and pictures of the prominent stump speakers. The tally cards are ballots so that the would-be suffragettes may have the pleasure of really casting a ballot. The prizes will be suitable election favors too. The party will begin at half past two and from early in the afternoon until six o'clock the latest election returns will be read for the benefit of those interested.

After the card games are over an elaborate lunch is planned and the menu is indeed a tempting one.

Of course everyone will be there, for who would miss the chance of voting for the first time for president?

SCHOOL NOTES.

The class in physics under the direction of Prof. Lougee has been doing some interesting experiments the past week determining the density of solids by measuring their displacement of water at standard temperature and purity. This work is proving one of the most popular studies of the high school course, notwithstanding it is one of the most difficult.

Miss Staley is carefully piloting the Sophomore class along the angular road of second year algebra. Under her careful guidance, the class hopes to complete the subject by the end of the first semester and be ready for geometry.

Miss Sena, teacher of Spanish, is doing much thorough work these days in conversational Spanish. This course is very practical and many of the high school boys and girls are Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothurn, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a sallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief."

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited. I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women."

Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old. Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength. Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.

Miss Barton, the eighth grade teacher, was absent from her school a couple days this week with a very bad cold. Her place was filled very ably by Mrs. Dunlavy.

Rev. McCollough was a visitor of classes in the high school Wednesday afternoon. Among the others who have dropped in to inspect the work during the past several days are, Mrs. Roberts and two friends of Barton, President Sena and Dr. Hollis of the board of education, Misses Wood and Arnold, of the mission schools, Mrs. White of the state department, and County Superintendent R. D. Tipton of Otero county.

Friday forenoon R. H. Parker, clerk of the board of education of Lordsburg was at the high school building to inspect the manual training and domestic science departments. The board which Mr. Parker represents is about to erect a new and modern school and proposes to put in this work of the hand in their course of study. Superintendent Wagner explained the system fully and it is probable the new school in Grant county will be similar in many respects to ours.

Miss Clara Palm, the kindergarten teacher, gave a most delightful little Halloween party to her twenty-five little tots Thursday afternoon. The room was darkened and lighted only through the fantastic faces on window seats and mantels. After the little lessons, refreshments were served.

The Santa Fe public schools will be well represented at the state teachers' association at Albuquerque next week. Every teacher in our school is planning to go and with the girls' glee club and our oratorical representative, Miss Dorman, it is safe to state Santa Fe will be there forty strong. Such a splendid representation is made possible only by the progressiveness of the board of education, who at their meeting Thursday afternoon unanimously voted for the vacation and set aside money enough for railroad fares. No city in the entire southwest has a more up-to-date board.

WATCHING FOR GUN MEN.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me, but that only made me worse. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like I, too, I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEXA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

GRIFFITH'S THREE BIG REASONS FOR LIFTING 1913 PENNANT

WAGNER IS REAL THING

CLAKE GRIFFITH.

HERE THEY ARE:

- 1—Walter Johnson.
 - 2—Clyde Milan.
 - 3—A team stronger than in 1912.
- Would you be surprised if Washington won the American league pennant next year?
- Stranger things might happen; St. Louis might follow George Stovall out of the second division, for instance.

Because Boston won the flag in the Ban Johnson league, and the world's championship to boot, it is by no means a sure thing that the team will repeat.

Washington pushed Boston right along up to the close of the season this year, and Clarke Griffith is so confident of landing the bunting in 1913 that he is telling friends he will work Walter Johnson in four games against the National league champions.

When you consider the situation, Griffith has every right to be hopeful, at least. He has a team of fast, scrappy, cock-sure youngsters, with a sprinkling of clever veterans who haven't reached the stage where they start slipping; a team of hard hitters, apt to come through and break up a game at any time; clever fielders, good pitchers and a splendid back-stopping department.

But more valuable than all else is Griffith's own ability to handle his men. The shrewd little manager won the admiration of critics this season by the way he worked his pitchers.

Griffith has three big reasons to support his contention that Washington will divide the world's series. First, he has Walter Johnson, one of the greatest pitchers in the world.

Second, he has Clyde Milan, clever fielder, a better than .300 hitter and the best base runner in the league.

Third, his team will be stronger next season than it was this year. It will have the benefit of a year's experience as a team; the recruits will be better equipped to put up a championship fight, and the team should get away to a running start, which it did not do this year.

Had Washington been up among the leaders when it won 17 games in a row, the American league championship pennant would have floated over the home of the senators.

But the team started poorly and had much ground to gain before it was on fighting terms with Chicago and Boston.

With the prospect of a pennant, Clarke Griffith is doing a lot of thinking just now. It would not be surprising if before the winter passes he put over another deal such as took "Chick" Gandil to Washington after other major leaguers passed him up.

If Griffith can pick up one good pitcher and an outfielder who can hit .300 and field like Shanks, Washington will look better than Boston when they line up for the pistol next April.

When the "Gray Fox" spent $10,000 for Gandil, he made Washington a first-division team. There is nothing on the books that says Griffith will not strengthen the spots that are not regarded as strong now before the snows melt.

Griffith has the team pulling for him; he had them fighting like a kennel of bull terriers all summer, but fighting for victory, not among themselves.

Griffith earned the title "Fox." He is without doubt one of the shrewdest men the national game has produced. Which is another pretty fair reason for expecting him to lead the eight-cornered race for the flag next year.

He better equipped to put up a championship fight, and the team should get away to a running start, which it did not do this year.

With the prospect of a pennant, Clarke Griffith is doing a lot of thinking just now. It would not be surprising if before the winter passes he put over another deal such as took "Chick" Gandil to Washington after other major leaguers passed him up.

If Griffith can pick up one good pitcher and an outfielder who can hit .300 and field like Shanks, Washington will look better than Boston when they line up for the pistol next April.

When the "Gray Fox" spent $10,000 for Gandil, he made Washington a first-division team. There is nothing on the books that says Griffith will not strengthen the spots that are not regarded as strong now before the snows melt.

Griffith has the team pulling for him; he had them fighting like a kennel of bull terriers all summer, but fighting for victory, not among themselves.

Griffith earned the title "Fox." He is without doubt one of the shrewdest men the national game has produced. Which is another pretty fair reason for expecting him to lead the eight-cornered race for the flag next year.

HARVARD WINS 16 TO 6 PRINCETON LOST FIRST TUSSELE TODAY

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 2.—Harvard vanquished Princeton in the stadium today by a score of 16 to 6, principally through the line plunging of Brickley and his wonderful field, goal and placement kicking. The big Harvard half back score two goals from the field and then kicked a placement goal of 47 yards for a third score.

In the last few minutes of play, he helped carry the ball to the Princeton goal, where Hardwick made a touchdown. In this last play, Brickley was severely injured and was carried from the field. The Princeton score was due entirely to two beautifully executed forward passes in the second period which netted 57 yards in a touchdown.

No goal was attempted. It was the first Harvard victory over Princeton in a quarter of a century.

The game was resumed with Harvard kicking off.

Princeton attempted another forward pass but Gardner came through and caught the ball. It was Harvard's ball on Princeton's 35 yard line when the game ended.

Harvard and Princeton clashed today in one of the most important football games of the season.

The game started sharp at 2 o'clock with DeWitt kicking to Harvard on Harvard's 15 yard line. The ball was run back thirteen yards. Felton kicked on the first down, out of bounds on Princeton's 45 yard line.

Baker carried the ball on a wing shift and made four yards. Waller made three more and then Captain Pendleton made a first down on a rush around Harvard's left end to Harvard's 40 yard line.

On the next down there was holding by Princeton and a 20 yard penalty sent the ball back into the Tigers' territory. After an ineffectual rush Baker carried the ball and made three yards. DeWitt kicked to Harvard's 28 yard line and Hardwick carried it back to Harvard's thirty-nine yard line.

Harvard started rushing with a three yard gain by Captain Wendell through tackle. Felton kicked to Pendleton on Princeton's 24 yard line where a fair catch was made. DeWitt was thrown back for a three yard loss and then, after fumbling the pass, Waller made twelve yards around Harvard's right end. DeWitt kicked to Hardwick on Harvard's 30 yard line and the ball was run back six yards.

Felton kicked to Pendleton on Princeton's 20 yard line and the Princeton captain dodged six Harvard forwards before he was downed on the Tiger's 37 yard line. Bradley took Wendell's place at full back for Harvard. Waller made two yards through Harvard's right tackle on a wing shift play. DeWitt struggled through for three more. DeWitt kicked to Harvard's 22 yard line, where Brickley fell on the ball without gain. Felton then kicked to Pendleton in the center of the field. The Princeton captain muffed it, but recovered the ball on Princeton's 43 yard line.

Princeton was making good gains when there came a five yard penalty for off side play. On a fake kick, Waller lost ten yards. The first forward pass by Princeton was successful, DeWitt to S. Baker, but there was no gain and DeWitt kicked outside of Harvard's 14 yard line.

Up to this point, Princeton had outrushed Harvard.

Felton kicked and it was Princeton's ball on their 45 yard line. The Tigers could not gain and DeWitt kicked to Gardner on Harvard's 24 yard line.

Felton kicked to Pendleton on Princeton's 12 yard line a punt of 78 yards. Pendleton was nailed without gain, but S. Baker made two yards on a quarterback run, Pendleton four on a triple pass, and another two yards' gain was sufficient for a first down on Princeton's 20 yard line.

Pendleton was hurled back for a loss and the period ended with the ball in Princeton's possession on their 23 yard line.

Score end of first period: Harvard, 0; Princeton, 0.

When play was resumed the ball went up in the air and Baker made a fair catch on Princeton's 35 yard line.

The ball see-sawed up and down the field, Brickley doing most of the ground gaining for Harvard.

On Princeton's 25 yard line for a third down, Brickley tried a goal from the field but missed.

On a fake forward pass formation, Hardwick placed the ball on Princeton's five yard line for a first down.

Brickley made two yards through center, but netted only a half a yard on the next play, so firm was the Princeton line. Then he pushed across the line for a touchdown, followed by a goal. Four men carried Brickley to the locker room.

The ball was brought out to Harvard's 20 yard line where Brickley made four yards on a fake kick on a punge through left tackle.

On a forward pass Andrews hurled the ball to Pendleton and the play netted Princeton 30 yards. On another forward pass, Waller (el) after catching the ball but recovered his footing and dropped over the goal line. Harvard blocked Pendleton's kick out after the touchdown, so no goal was attempted. Period ended with the ball on Harvard's 43 yard line.

Score end second period: Princeton 6; Harvard 3.

THIRD PERIOD.

There was no changes in the Harvard lineup, but H. Baker took Pendleton's place and kicked out to Harvard's ten yard line.

Brickley ran it back ten yards and kicked to S. Baker on Princeton's 40 yard line. Wright went out and Pendleton took his place. Princeton netted five yards on two plunges into center, DeWitt fumbled and Harvard recovered the ball on Princeton's five yard line.

Brickley shot his second goal from the field, from the 15 yard line, tying the score. H. Baker kicked off to Hardwick on Harvard's 20 yard line and the ball was run back five yards. Brickley made a goal from placement kick from the 47 yard line.

A few minutes later Brickley attempted a goal from midfield but the ball was blocked and was then given to Princeton on downs.

The third period ended with the ball in Harvard's possession on her 35 yard line.

Score, end third period: Harvard, 9; Princeton, 6.

In resuming play DeWitt punted without material gain and it was Harvard's ball on Princeton's 32 yard line.

On a series of rushes, coupled with frequent penalties on Princeton for offside play, Harvard brought the ball to Princeton's four yard line. It was the fourth down. Brickley dropped back to the 13 yard line and sent a beautiful drop over the Princeton goal bar for the first score of the game. Walker kicked off to the Harvard 1 yard line. Brickley dashed through the field for 16 yards before he was downed.

Princeton could not gain on line plunges. Felton kicked to Princeton's 15 yard line and Pendleton rushed it back 16 yards to Harvard's 44 yard line. On another variation of the shift, Waller made three yards. DeWitt then kicked over the Harvard goal line.

together and form a stock club and take over the Colonels. However, Barker refused to make any statements about Barney Dreyfuss and his attempts to get hold of the local franchise.

Tired of having the local representatives in the American association making such a poor showing when Louisville is at least the second best baseball city over the entire circuit, the local business men want to help put a good team in the field, inasmuch as the franchise is worth every bit of $100,000 and with a winning team will earn half that much clear.

Grayson says he will sell if he can get his price. Those who are interested in the baseball know that a change would be beneficial, as under present conditions a team like the one of the past season would not survive through next season.

BALLOONISTS CAN NOT BE FOUND ANYWHERE

Berlin, Nov. 2.—A feeling of profound anxiety reigns here as to the fate of John Watts and Arthur Atherholt, American men who have been missing with the balloon Duesseidort II since they started October 27, in the international race for the Gordon Bennett balloon cup.

It is felt that news should surely have been received unless the balloon descended in a remote part of the wilds of Lapland.

The managers of the race say the aeronauts may have been made prisoners in Russia and are unable to communicate.

TWO PERISH IN BIG FIRE IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 2.—One man, W. C. Douglas, a local financier, and an unknown woman were burned to death and twenty other persons were injured, three receiving fractured skulls, in a fire that destroyed the Berlin hotel, after midnight this morning. One hundred and fifty guests of the exclusive family hotel were forced to flee in their night clothes, or jump from windows.

The body of a woman, identified as that of Mrs. C. H. McFadden, was found in the ruins this afternoon. The hotel proprietor, however, said the body was that of another guest.

CONSERVATIVES IN CUBA WIN OUT

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 7.—The sweeping victory of General Marie Menocal and Enrique Jose Varona, the conservative candidate for the presidency, and for the rest of the conservative ticket for the executive officers of the Cuban republic appears to be fully confirmed by the returns received in the provinces today.

HUBBY WAS ANGRY.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Olive H. Spencer, testifying today in her divorce suit against Harlow B. Spencer, commission man, son of late Corwin H. Spencer millionaire grain speculator, said her husband had a way of inviting his friends to his home to drink, and when one of them, a married man tried to kiss her and she repulsed him, her husband thought it strange she was not "nice" to his guest.

At theaters Mrs. Spencer said her husband had a habit of turning around and looking at women.

Spencer told his friends, he wanted her to be the best dressed woman in St. Louis, but when she bought clothing he refused to pay the bills. The court took the case under advisement.

PUT IN QUARANTINE.

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Smallpox and fate's decree brought to the altar to Miss Hazel Bomberger and Paul Van Sickle, of Morrow County, after the bride had broken her engagement to another.

Several months ago Miss Bomberger started for Cleveland, where she was to marry Harvey Marmon, a railroad. She stopped here enroute to visit a sister, Mrs. Frank Dennis, and was placed in smallpox quarantine.

She was to have been married to Marmon the following Sunday, but before her release she changed her mind and later returned to her Morrow County home. Today's marriage took place at the Marengo Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. F. A. Gilmore officiated.

Two were killed. On a warship. Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—H. W. Horan and H. W. Cramer, two firemen on the battleship Vermont, were so badly scalded when the head of a boiler blew out last night that they died today on the hospital ship Solace.

Four others were injured but not so seriously. A board of investigation has been ordered.

The others hurt were R. M. Wagner, J. W. Newberry, M. W. Green and C. K. Hotelling.

Later in the day R. M. Wagner, another fireman, died from his injuries, making three victims as a result of the explosion.

COLUMBUS GIRL HEROINE.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 2.—The sinking of the Titanic in the Atlantic last spring resulted in a romance in which a former Columbus society girl, now residing in New York, is the heroine.

She was Mrs. Helen M. Newson, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Beckwith, and granddaughter of Mrs. William Monypeny, of this city. She resides with her mother at 100 Riverside drive in New York.

MAY SELL THE COLONELS. Louisville, Nov. 2.—Chances of the Louisville baseball club changing hands before the opening of the 1913 season have caused some revival in the interest in the national pastime here. Tom Barker, attorney of the local ball team, has been smoked out, and in a statement this week said that local business men are trying to get

PIERCE OWNS WATERS-PIERCE OIL COMPANY

New York, Nov. 2.—Announcement was made this morning that the Standard Oil interests had sold to Henry Clay Pierce all their holdings in the Waters-Pierce Oil company, thus ending the litigation that has been in the courts for some time.

Negotiations for the sale has been under way for several days past, and pending their culmination the hearings before a commissioner here, through which the Waters-Pierce interests sought to oust the Standard Oil from control, were adjourned from day to day.

By the terms of the sale, Mr. Pierce acquires all the stock in the Waters-Pierce Oil company held by John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, John D. Archbold, Charles M. Pratt, the Pratt estate; also the holdings of Colonel Oliver H. Payne and the holdings of the Harkness family and those of a large number of others.

The stock, with Pierce's present holdings, gives him absolute control of the Waters-Pierce Oil company.

The price paid per share was not announced, although it is understood about $3,000,000 was involved.

CONWAY GIVEN SILENT TREATMENT

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—Efforts by the police to wring a confession of the guilty knowledge of the murder of Sophia Singer, were beginning to tell, they said, today, on Charles Conway, accused of the crime in a statement made by his wife yesterday.

Under the "silent treatment" in which no one is allowed to speak to the prisoner or answer his questions, save the police captain, Conway grew nervous and irritable as the day wore on.

Every hour, the police captain, who yesterday announced a confession of the crime from Conway's wife, Lillian Beatrice Conway, walked by the men's cell and asked: "How are you, Charlie? Did you want to see me?"

"No I don't," finally answered Conway.

Previously he had said he would talk to the captain whenever the latter sent for him.

BANKS HAVE MORE MONEY THAN BEFORE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency today issued a statement indicating that the resources of the banks in the United States—national, state and private, are the highest in history.

According to reports of their conditions on June 14, the comptroller announced 25,000 of the 29,000 banks in the country shows aggregate resources of $24,956,000, an increase of $1,324,000 over the resources of 24,000 banks in 1911.

The total individual deposits amounted to $17,012,000,000, an increase of $1,105,700,000.

SCOTCH WHISKY PREFERABLE TO SCOTCH WOMEN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Scotch farmers, husbands and lovers, members of St. Andrews society of the District of Columbia, are practically in hiding today as a result of their decision last night to abolish women from their official banquet because their presence would necessitate the absence of Scotch whiskey at the function. Indignant Scotch women are threatening reprisals. The vote for whiskey as against women was virtually unanimous and was taken after a heated discussion at the annual election of the organization.

BLOOD OF DAUGHTER.

Fremont, Ohio Nov. 2.—Five ounces of blood were taken from the arm of strong and healthy seventeen-year-old Lucy Theren today and injected into the almost lifeless form of her mother as a last resort to save the woman's life.

The transfusion of blood was resorted to when it was believed the mother was dying from the effects of hemorrhages following an operation, during which she lost quantities of blood. Her pulse had nearly stopped.

Tonight it was stated the woman had a chance to live.

LABOR LEADERS WERE REALLY PEACE MAKERS.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 2.—Beginning the defense today of Joseph J. Etor, Arturo Giovannitti, and Joseph Greco, in their trial on charge of murdering Anna Lopiz during the Lawrence textile strike, Edward Riley, the first witness, a member of the strike committee, declared that the leaders never advised violent action. The witness testified that Etor and Giovannitti urged the strikers not to start any trouble with the police or soldiers and to keep away from the mills.

HE ESCAPED FROM PRISON ONLY TO GET MARRIED.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—Elmer S. Lewis, an escaped federal prisoner, who crawled five blocks through a fifteen-inch iron sewer pipe, to get free and be married, was started back to Port Leavenworth penitentiary in care of detectives, after having been taken from his bride early this morning.

ELKS' DANCE

The Elks began their series of delightful monthly dances last Wednesday night when the attractive new home was thrown open to the Elks and their wives and friends.

An informal reception took place from 8:30 to nine o'clock in the handsome living room on the first floor. At nine the dancing began in the beautiful chapter room and continued until the early morning hours. Morrison's orchestra played their very best and liveliest music and, of course, everyone enjoyed themselves immensely, and thanked the Elks for their gracious hospitality. Mrs. Blandy was hostess assisted by a number of local society ladies.

HALLOWEEN LUNCH

Miss Florence Spitz was hostess Tuesday at a charming luncheon given in honor of Miss Dorothy Meyers of Gallup. The Halloween idea was carried out very effectively in all the decorations and dainty appointments for the table. The place cards were old witches riding a broom. Jack O'Lantern candle shades smiled from each corner of the table and yellow hokobollins were favors at the plate. A huge hollowed out pumpkin served as a bowl for a mass of yellow cranberries in the center of the table.

Those present besides the hostess and the guest of honor were Miss Edith Perrenot, Miss Margaret Parker, Miss Lucy Grylla, Miss Nellie Harrison, Miss Kate Mueller and Miss Ruth Laughlin.

MUTT AND JEFF HERE

Yes they were, they were up at Alfred Rolfs' party Thursday night and they had a mighty good time, too. They felt perfectly at home for Foxy Grandpa was there and the Newbyweds and the Katzenjammer Kids and even Happy Hooligan came out to enjoy himself. All these funny paper characters were masked and it was very hard to find out just who Mut and Jeff were at school that morning. There were twenty masked characters and it was a long time before even Alfred had them all "spotted."

After the masks were off they played Halloween games and bobbed for apples and ended up with a lively dance. They will remember Alfred's Halloween party, and the fun they had for a long time to come.

SUNMOUNT SPOOKS

The spooks were even playing around Sunmount Halloween night and they seemed to have a merry time out there. Mrs. Mera and Mrs. Gilbert sent them special invitations to be present at the Halloween party that they had planned for all the guests at Sunmount and they came and made merry. One special spook was an old witch who brought her kettle in the large assembly room and hung it over the fire in the corner. As she stirred the ghoulish contents and murmured some weird incantation that sounded like, "Boil and bubble, caldron bubble" fortunes slowly boiled to the top and were fished out for each of the thirty guests. Queer rhymes they were, too, revealing the future and the fate that would come to each one.

All kinds of good eats were set forth for a Halloween supper and when at last they thought it was time to go home, they declared it was the jolliest part of the year.

SANTA FE TO LADIES! SEND FIFTY EDUCATORS

MEN AND WOMEN WHO PRESIDE OVER THE TRAINING OF YOUTH REGARDLESS OF ITS RELIGION OR RACE WILL REPRESENT THIS CITY AND COUNTY AT NEW MEXICO EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

Santa Fe will take a prominent part in the New Mexico Educational Association convention in Albuquerque next week. Both the city and county plan to have a large attendance. There will be five representatives from the capital alone, including the superintendent, the assistant superintendent and chief clerk of the department of education; all of the city teachers will also go as the city board of education is paying their car fare. The Santa Fe High school will send a delegation of twelve singers to chant before Dr. Jordan delivers his address Wednesday. There will be a dozen county teachers headed by Professor J. V. Conway, county school superintendent. Then there will be twelve more teachers representing the U. S. Indian Industrial school and other Indian schools throughout the country. This is the first time the Indian department of education has been invited to attend one of these state educational conventions and the department of the Interior has arranged for the teachers to take the trip. The matter of Indian education will receive special attention during the convention, having a "section" all to itself. St. Michael's College will be represented by Ven. Brother Edward, the director, and one or two other Christian brothers. The Allison Mission school will also have delegates in Rev. and Mrs. Schaub at the head of the school. The New Woman's Club of Santa Fe, represented by Mrs. J. W. Mayes, will take part in the convention.

Col. George W. Priehard is in Albuquerque where he will deliver an address before the progressive meeting tonight.

John B. McManus, superintendent of the New Mexico penitentiary, has gone to his home in Albuquerque where he will remain until after election.

Jake Levy has been seriously ill for the past week at his home on Grant avenue, but is reported out of danger today. He is under the care of Dr. J. B. Sloan.

James S. Black, one of the owners of the Albuquerque Herald and a well known newspaperman, was here yesterday on business. He returned to the Duke City last night.

County School Superintendent J. V. Conway, accompanied by Mrs. Conway, has made arrangements to leave Tuesday evening for Albuquerque to attend the New Mexico Teachers' association meeting.

J. H. McHughes, of the New Mexico Mounted Police, and one of the best shots in the New Mexico National Guard is here from Cerrillos. He has been in the western part of the state on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hull who has been visiting Judge and Mrs. William H. Pope, left this morning for their home in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Hull is a charming Southern girl, formerly a resident of New Orleans.

Judge William H. Pope leaves on the 8th day of November for Oklahoma, where he will hold court in that district for a month, not returning to Santa Fe before the 8th or 9th of December. This statement is made so that those who have business before his court may attend to it before his departure next week.

ROBERT LAW LOSES

SUIT FOR $24,000.
Judge E. C. Abbott, of the district court, handed down a decision this afternoon against Robert Law who sued the New Mexico Central railway for $24,000 for two years' back salary alleged to be due him. Judge Abbott declared that there was no evidence of a contract that the railroad was to pay Mr. Law $12,000 a year, as alleged by the plaintiff. The railway company did pay $7,000 to Mr. Law, he pointed out, and the judge considered that the company had fulfilled its obligations. Mr. Law was president of the New Mexico Central railroad some three years ago.

LAKE STEAMER SINKS WITH ALL BUT FOUR ABOARD

Montreal, Nov. 2.—During a storm last night the steamer Cecilia, which plied between Montreal and Valley Field, was hurled on the rocks and sank at Isle Perrot, in Lake St. Louis, ten miles west. At least sixteen people were drowned, the lost comprising men, women and children. Only four passengers were saved, all men. The cries of the people in the water attracted the attention of Alexander Leonard, a farmer who put out in a small boat and picked up the four clinging to the wreckage.

LASHED TO THE RIGGING.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—With two of her crew lashed to the rigging and others undoubtedly lost, an unknown schooner lies today stranded, three-quarters of a mile southeast of the new inlet life saving station, being battered to pieces in a thirty-eight mile gale. Lines have been shot from shore over the ship, but the two men appeared to be too weak to seize them.

The ship must have been caught and driven upon the reefs by the terrible gale that swept the coast about Hatteras last night and tried the resistance of heavier craft. Many other small ships must also have suffered.

The lookout of the New Inlet Life Saving Station, patrolling the beach at dawn, sighted the wreck struggling under the crashes of the giant combers which swept her and threatened to send her ashore in bits. The tail end of last night's gale, still traveling at 80 miles an hour, kept the wreck shrouded most of the time behind a curtain of waves and spray, but through glasses the life savers could see two forms, evidently men, lashed high on the masts of the ship, which were stooping under every assault of the sea. Below them no human being could live.

Life savers could not even launch a boat in the heavy surf, which pounded down on the beach and the best that could be done was to shoot out a line. From the shore the two figures lashed in the rigging could be seen to move, but they did not grasp the line which repeatedly was shot within their reach. It appeared that the two survivors were so weakened that they could not take the aid sent out to them.

The wrecked schooner later was identified as the three masted John Maxwell of New York. The Maxwell, commanded by Captain Godfrey, was bound from Norfolk to Savannah with a cargo of coal.

One of the men in the rigging of the schooner, struck by a mountainous wave, dropped into the ocean and perished. His sole surviving mate, almost dead from exhaustion, still clung to the rigging. The schooner was being pounded to pieces. The schooner carried a crew of six.

LIVING ISSUES NOW.

Old political bugaboos that have so long kept honest men divided are losing their power to hold us in superstitious dread. We are learning to look at the real live issues with open eyes and open minds, and no longer blindly and aimlessly to troop along in party ruts at the heels of politicians.

We are at last awakening to the vital fact that, the world over, social misery comes less from inequality of political rights than from inequality regarding property.

The founders of the republic had the hard task of building, in the midst of boundless natural resources and industrial plenty, a national fabric that would be secure against political usurpation. They left a precious legacy, and so inordinately have their descendants appreciated it that we ever since have been divided into hostile partisan camps, noisily contending over political abstractions.

Meanwhile, precious industrial and commercial rights were being secretly and steadily stolen from us.

To this condition we have been greatly helped by the happy circumstances surrounding the early conquest of the continent. The deep, rich soil of our wide domain, which once offered free homes to the industrious, and the boundless natural resources, which once offered unlimited opportunity to enterprise, saved us for a time from both the killing competition and the crushing monopoly that crowd the masses down and give to organized greed its great advantage.

Failing to comprehend from what we derived our prosperity, we attributed all the good we enjoyed to our "free institutions," as we call them, and proceeded to cut from under our good fortune its foundation. We invited the overcrowded populations of the world to our shores, donated whole territories of our precious domain to corporations, created endless special privileges and pampered infant industries into conscienceless giants.

And now, with the same conditions that have so long afflicted the rest of the world, we begin to wonder that our "free institutions" seem to have lost their charm.

We are learning at last that the citizen may enjoy security of free speech, free religion and a vote, and still be robbed outrageously under cover of the law.

We are learning that changing conditions bring us problems of our own as grave as those which confronted our fathers, that our highest civic duty is in dealing with the commercial and industrial wrongs of today as patriotically and as masterfully as they dealt with the political wrongs of their time, and that there are rights of man to be now asserted and maintained which are as sacred to human honor and as important to human progress as were those declared in the immortal document of 1776.

Of the quickening public spirit there is coming a new statesmanship—one that deals with the vital problems of today and the day before.

THE OLD ARGUMENT.

"Is it not advisable," said Mr. John Wanamaker on behalf of Mr. Taft's candidacy, "to put influence and property together and look around for a sure footing, for four years, for the good of the working people as well as for capital already invested?"

That sounds very state and looks exceedingly threadbare to the average reader in the present great crisis in America's political affairs.

The working people are not so sure of their "footing" as John Wanamaker is of his.

As the Taft adherents plead prosperity and sure footedness the common citizen cannot forget little incidents of recent political history.

He can but recall the big meeting in New York City when Taft was telling what his administration was doing and had done, and the workingman arose, telling of the 60,000 hungry people in the big city, asking how Mr. Taft's administration was going to arrange this "sure footing" for them.

Neither can the common citizen forget the answer, as the president of the United States threw up his hands in a gesture of desperation and answered, "God knows!"

The oratorical platitudes of past campaigns are no longer valuable or influential. The people have great interests at stake, and these interests have been disregarded.

Gradually they have been overlooked and grown to be unworthy of consideration, being overshadowed by the big interests which meant so much more to the political bosses and the legislators who had come under their powerful influence.

To give the common people a "sure footing" is the object of the progressive movement. The time has come for a consideration of their interests.

The day of the boss and corporate control is fast fading away.

A new day is dawning. It is the day of freedom for the American people. The atmosphere, clouded by chicanery and political intrigue, is fast clearing under the sunlight, glorified by the principle of an honest equality and a square deal.

A VOTE FOR THE PROGRESSIVE PARTY.

A vote for the progressive party is a blow at the machine and boss-ridden system that has shamed us for a generation.

A vote for the progressive party is a blow for modifications in the machinery of government which will help the people control more effectively the acts and agencies of their own government.

A vote for the progressive party is a blow for a definite program of social and industrial justice, reaching the living and working conditions of toiling men and women.

And in this connection one wonders if the Rhode Island turkey, weighing fifty or sixty pounds, or thereabouts, annually sent to the occupant of the White House as a Thanksgiving offering, will taste as good this 28th day of November to big Bill Taft as the one he fed on a year ago when he thought the people were slumbering under the soporific influence of his mild-mannered administration.

A New York engineer is planning to move the world by building a little $150,000,000 jetty up on the Newfoundland coast, and turning the warm Gulf stream up among the icebergs. Other men have tried to handle the world, too, but not by means of jetties or the melting of icebergs.

William J. Bryan wrote the democratic platform at Baltimore, and it went through without a change. William J. Bryan has declared emphatically that he is in favor of free wool, free sugar, free iron, free lumber, the four most important American products. Eh? What?

We wish to shape our conditions so that a greater number of small men who are decent, industrious and energetic shall be able to succeed and so that the big men who are dishonest shall not be allowed to succeed at all.

There are many who do not prosper enough and of the few who prosper greatly, there are certainly some whose prosperity does not mean well for the country.

Everything possible should be done to better the economic condition of the farmer, and also to increase the social value of the life of the farmer, the farmer's wife and their children.

Think over the tax situation in New Mexico, Mr. Voter. Are you satisfied with it?

Are you afraid of the future of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA if Mr. Taft and Mr. Jaffa are not elected?

Do you think a "Business administration" consists in turning over your legislature and your law making powers to a handful of corporation attorneys?

Do you APPROVE of the present taxation system whereby the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific can bond property for $15,000,000 in New York and return it for taxation at $250,000 in NEW MEXICO?

"Wal I hev got hum," says the Old Coder, "en I am glad to git yere for they air no place that I hev liked no more than Santa Fe although they air lets ov other places besides Santa Fe, in this yere state whut I never knowed much ov befur I went to hunt in subskriptshuns fur mistur Cutting. When you are twenty-one years old you get a vote. Also you are supposed to know enough to be an AMERICAN citizen and to think for yourself. If you are twenty-one years old, THINK the situation over and VOTE your HONEST CONVICTIONS because that is the FIRST DUTY of an AMERICAN citizen.

MORE HEAVY HUMOR!

Tiffin, Ohio, Nov. 2.—As the result of what is said to have been a practical joke, in which, it is said, George W. Alford, an employee of the United States Glass Factory, was seriously burned by the application of hot irons when asleep, Vernon Garmen, engineer of the plant today was made defendant in a suit for $1,000 damages.

S. R. Mass, Beachley, Texas, says: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup, and we thought we would lose him. But one bottle of Foley Hony and Tar Compound pulled him through. We would not be without it in our house." For sale by all druggists.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

DOWN AGAIN.

Following our suggestion a few days ago about the speed limit and the desperate necessity of getting across the garden plot, corner of Grant and lower Palace avenue, with all possible haste, Professors Wagner and Lougee repaired the broken fence surrounding this little square.

This morning it is down again.

I wonder why. Is it just a desire to be obstinate on the part of the speed loving pedestrians? Is it just to show that they can do as they like with public property, or is it the frantic necessity of reaching a destination a minute sooner than could be done by going on to the corner?

I am free to confess, I do not know. Do you? I do not think I am uncharitable in taking the view that those who fear down the fence as fast as it can be reconstructed, are doing it just to show what they can do.

In one sense it is funny and in another sense it is silly, and in another sense it is offensive. The little patch of ground is under charge of the board of education.

It was seen fit, and wisely I think, to make of it a garden last summer, for the school children. It did them good. It was the right thing to do. It was in keeping with present day progress and conditions. Why not help instead of trying to hinder?

The spirit of speed ought to be restrained in the present instance, it seems to me, and the restraint ought to be of a nature that would be effective.

It is an offense against law, you know, to tamper with public property and injure it. The fact that this injury is done at a time when no one sees it and by those who do not apparently wish to be discovered, is prima facie evidence that they are in the wrong.

Let desire for speed give way to a desire to be decent and law abiding.

A MOST ATTRACTIVE SPOT.

While we are advertising the beauties of New Mexico and particularly those adjacent to Santa Fe, we have some of us overlooked the Valley Ranch. Sometimes I wonder if it is not better known by people living at a distance than by residents of Santa Fe.

It seems to me that it is bound to become in the very near future one of the most attractive points found not only about Santa Fe, but, indeed, in the whole west.

I do not believe that it is realized by very many of our people that the Valley Ranch has 25 cottages, each equipped with a bath, most charmingly located, surrounded by fields and mountains and woods covering 5,000 acres, nor do they realize what delights one can find by a season spent with Mr. and Mrs. Miller, where the guests gather in a big dining room in that large building which represents the central point on this beautiful ranch, nor do they know that Mr. Miller himself has built his own cottage out of native red cedar, constructed red cedar furniture with which this pretty cottage is equipped and polished in a manner equal to the furniture sent out by the big factories in the east. Neither is it fully realized that the most charming hospitality is extended there and everything done to give delight to the guests within their gates.

After election 10 cottages have already been engaged by those who intend to take a few days or a few weeks recreation hunting and enjoying the pleasures that can be found on this ranch, and annually they come to spend a season there, knowing that nowhere else can be found just the same pleasures that are so freely extended here.

As it becomes better known, I believe there is nothing in the neighborhood of Santa Fe that is likely to attract more people than the Valley Ranch.

GAME SEASON.

The sports are out as the bird season has opened, and I am told that there are more quail this season than have ever been known in the mesas and fields before.

This is due to just two things, viz: stocking the state with these game birds and then enforcing their protection. The present plentiful supply came about because the game warden during the past three years or so shipped in a large number of Gambel quail and bobwhites. Of course the former were here already, but it is as necessary to look after keeping up the supply of game birds as it is necessary to restock our streams with trout, and then, in both instances, give adequate protection.

The bobwhites, which are among the finest game birds in the world are protected by law until 1917, and the law covering them is as it should be. By the time this protective provision has run out they will have so increased that they can come under the same provisions that now cover the Gambel or mountain quail, but the supply will have to be augmented from time to time to keep up with the demand.

Another matter important at this hunting season time is the matter of licenses.

I happened to hear during the last few days, a little conversation here and there, and gathered the impression that our hunters were willing to pay if all paid, but they did not care to appear in the character of the goat, and do it all.

Of course, the position is correct. If the license law is good for any it's good for all, and should be enforced against any or against none. This is a matter that is up to the game department.

New Mexico must not lose its reputation as a game state. It is one of our assets, and a big one. Vigilance is the first law in game protection, and then a scheme of restocking both on the mesas with our game birds, but, without fail, every season, our streams with trout.

We want to retain this most attractive feature of New Mexico, which aids in bringing outsiders here.

TELLS THE WHOLE STORY.

To say that Foley Hony and Tar Compound is the best for children and grown persons and contains no opiates tells only part of the tale. The whole story is that it is the best medicine for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Stops la grippe, coughs and has a healing and soothing effect. Remember the name, Foley's Hony and Tar Compound, and accept no substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice for New Mexican Readers

Many a woman endures with nobly patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored and contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's kidney pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Santa Fe woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Bernarda R. de Escudero, 106 Griffin St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "I have just as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I publicly recommended them in January, 1907. For about a year I was bothered by dull ache and weakness across my loins and kidneys. I tried easily and any exertion brought on severe pains in my back. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, I was induced to try them. The results proved beyond a doubt that this remedy lives up to representations. The cure it has brought has led me to praise it on more than one occasion."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

REJECTS APPLICATION.
State Engineer James A. French rejected the application of the Pecos Toyah Lake Irrigation company of Texas for 2000 second-feet from the waters of New Mexico as the law does not permit this state to grant such applications from another state. The Mimbres valley people are filing applications for the use of waters of the Mimbres river, and not trusting all of their irrigation projects to the pump system.

PICTURE OF GRAND CANON.
The corporation commissioners may henceforth gaze at the Grand Canon, a large framed picture of that wonderful sight having been sent by the Santa Fe road. Why some artist does not paint the "great divide" as seen from the center of the circle drive and which may say equals, if not surpasses, the Grand Canon view, is a mystery in these days when "something new" is the clamor. What a good advertisement it would be for Santa Fe, not the railroad alone, but for the city and county.

The temperature ranged from 24 to 42 degrees yesterday; the humidity from 57 to 78. The thermometer stood at 29 at 6 o'clock this morning. Yesterday was a clear, cold day with a mean temperature of 33 degrees or 11 degrees below the normal for the day. The warm sunshine in the afternoon made the day a delight to those who took exercise out-of-doors.

Bon Fires—The autumnal leaves form a canopy of brown over the streets. The passersby hastily walking by hears their rustle and heave a sigh that summer is past. Then the man who has a back yard where he has been growing things for the past few months finds time heavy on his hands. So he builds a bon fire and watches with semi-savage glee the up-curling smoke.

The Epworth League of St. John's M. E. church held its regular monthly business meeting at the church last night. The meeting was a very interesting one. Two new members were accepted and the business incident to the beginning of the conference year was transacted. A social hour followed the business meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson on Hillside avenue, the first Tuesday in December.

Here Is Where The Draft
Enters

The most perfect draft ever discovered is the patent Hot Blast Down Draft of the Wilson Heater. The only draft that secures perfect combustion and prevents waste.

This draft is found only in the Wilson
HOT BLAST
Heater

The air enters at the top, drives the combustible gases into the fire where they are burned—prevents the escape of heat up the chimney—doubles the heating power of the fuel.

In other words, only half the amount of fuel used in ordinary heaters is necessary. The Wilson is air-tight, making perfect combustion possible and a fire can be held 24 hours.

We sell Wilson Hot Blast Heaters for either wood or coal.
