A FRIGHTFUL

Passenger and Freight Trains on the Grand Trunk Came Together.

THIRTY PERSONS KILLED

Wreck Caught Fire But Passengers Extinguished the Flames By Throwing On Snow.

the Grand Trunk railroad at Wantsead station, on the Sarnia branch of that The sermon was preached by Most Rev. ports from the scene of the accident, 30 persons were killed and 26 injured. The passenger train was Pacific Express No. 5, westbound. It was running at a high rate of speed, and the freight, which was proceeding east under slow headway, was to have taken the switch at Wanstead to allow the passenger train to pass. Apparently neither engineer saw the danger in time to avert the accident for the two trains came together near the west switch with a frightful crash, over-turning into the ditch.

The baggage and express cars were telescoped into the smoker with appailing results. The wreck was complete and it is thought hardly a person in the smoker escaped injury. The other cars on the passenger train remained on the track. The work of removing the dead and injured was then proceed-

The wreck, shortly after the collis-ion, caught fire, and but for the heroic efforts of a brigade of passengers organ-ized and led by an old man who was himself a passenger on the ill fated train the disaster might have been more disaster ous to those pinned down in the wreck. By his heroic efforts this brigade put out the fire by throwing snow on the flames with their hats and hands. They then turned their efforts toward getting out the wounded who had their sufferings increased by the blinding snow. ings increased by the blinding snow-storm and thermometer near zero. MR. COOPER'S EXPERIENCES

He Was Cordially Received During His Recent Trip Through the East.

To the Editor:

My trip to the east and north, includng a stay of five weeks from which I re. turned last Saturday, was to me an experience that was new and unique, givvicinity, I was received most cordially ings, of which I attended several, could hardly get through asking questions about our territory. Eleven days in Chicago, eight in St. Louis, a week in Kansas City with cold winds, smoke, sleet and rain, were enough to convince pared with Santa Fe, Denver approaching nearest to it. I had the privilege of listening to some of the men who lead the advanced forces of the church outside of my own denomination. I heard Dr. Hillis of Brooklyn, Dr. Dixon of Boston, Herbert Booth, son of Gen. Booth, all of whom are men of power and helpfulness. am more and more convinced that the world is coming to feel and appreciate the gospel of good cheer and love to one another, and as I visited the Pacific Garden Mission of Chicago and found a large number of men listening and entering into that service, I realized that the good work was going on, and as I came to know more of the plans of the late P. D. Armour, who donated more than five millions of dollars for the bettering of the souls and bodies of the poor, I saw how the philanthropic spirit vas still working. Business men told me their sales were never larger or more satisfactory, or col-lections better than this season. The churches are well filled, both as to pul-pit and pew. Some of the largest Presbyterian. Baptist and Methodist churches are in the midst of gracious revivals We hope to collect the balance due on our subscription list and receive from those who have not responded but have expressed a purpose of doing so as quickly as possible that the work may be pushed to a speedy completion. We had oped and even expected ere this to be worshiping in our new church. With gratitude to our many friends who have aided us in many ways, we remain as ever,

EDUCATIONAL

School Conditions In New Mexico as Reviewed by J. Francisco Chaves.

MISTAKE IN ILLITERACY

Great Advance Has Been Made -- What Will Be Asked of the Legislature at this Session.

In the excellent address, delivered before the New Mexico Educational Association at Las Vegas at its recent meeting by Col. J. Francisco Chaves, territorial superintendent of public instruction, on "Educational Work in New Mexico," many of the statements made in the majority report on the statehood bill are refuted. The report of H. A. Carr of the University of Chicago is quoted, comparing the schools of the east and the west, and it is den:onstrated the west stands first in a majority of the subjects investigated. Coming down to present conditions in New Mexico, he said: "We have, on the whole, a pretty good school system; that is, it is good as far as it goes, save in some respects it is not as close to the nearth stones of the great bulk of the rural populace as I think it should be; but this is no doubt attributable to the piece-meal method by which the laws have been enacted and brought into operation, and may be righted without working a hardship in any quarter. It has taken twelve years and nearly 85,-000,000 raised by direct taxation of our people to bring the schools of New Mex-Ico to their present standing." The reports from the several countles for the current year are incomplete on perience that was new and unique, giv-ing me an opportunity of meeting many account of the neglect of some of the vances the price of that commodity to of the most successful business men of school authorities to send in reports; the consumer one dollar per ton, it lev Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chi-cago with some smaller towns. Going as I did with letters of introduction from neighbors and friends at Santa Fe and There are in operation 726 schools, and the average of months taught in all by those basy men, and in most cases schools is seven and in the public even invited into the private office. The schools a fraction less than five. In tried, in vain. To this the Sherman subscriptions received were for the most towns and cities there are about anti-trust law has been applied in its part not large, but when I came to have 9,000 pupils enrolled, in rural schools strongest form, in vain. It has been are in New Mexico. One busy man took $54.30 or $7.57 above the average paid one to ten dollars, manifestly no right thirty minutes talking with me on the question of statehood, after which he gave me a subscription. Pastors' meet-amount expended in improvements of in some way be prohibited. school property was $243,617.

The denominational schools and coltestant faith. The denominations represented are Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational. The property owned is valued at $500,000, and they train annually more than 5,000 pupils. The private sectarian, mission and government Indian schools in New Mexico number 33, employ 110 teachers, have under their care 2,300 Indian youth and own property worth $400,000. •

A gross injustice was done the territory, said the speaker, in the govern-ment figures on illiteracy of the census of 1900. Instead of 30 per cent being unable to read and write, he is satisfied that not more than 15 per cent of the populace can be classed as illiterates. Fully 94 per cent of the population of New Mexico is American born and bred and more than four-fifths speak the English language.

Among the needs of the schools were mentioned three hundred more teachers who speak the English language. but who comprehend Spanish, for work in the rural districts; better school facilities and better school houses in the rural districts; more active work by county school superintendents to enroll 20,000 children who do not attend any school now. Among the things that will be asked of the next legislature are that the many conflicts and inconsistencies in the present school law be remedied by amendment of existing statutes; that provision be made for the better gathering of school statistics; that the scholastic year be so fixed as to be in harmony with the actual school erm; that in some respects the of county school superintendents arged; that a different arrangement be provided for the time and method of lecting district directors; providing the better collection of the poll tax; providing some method for enforcing and Orchard company. They have 1,800 longer school terms in the rural districts acres of land one mile east of Hagerand possibly devising some plan for the introduction of free text books, for the use, at least, of the rural schools; the prompt distribution of all laws on school subjects as soon after their passage as possible, and a complete compilation of all school laws soon after the close of the next session.

A SPECIAL TRIBU-NAL SUGGESTED

C. A. Prouty Thinks a Court of Commerce Should be Created to Pass on Freight Rates and Other Railroad Questions

MEMBERS SHOULD BE AP-J

Philadelphia, Dec. 27.-Before the American Economic Association the following paper on the "National Regulation of Rallways," was read by C. A. Prouty. Mr. Prouty said in part;

"Five years ago the crying evil in railway operations was discrimination; mairly discrimination between individuals, Today this is not true. The vast consolidations of the last few years, the use of injunction to prevent departures from the published rates, the lesson which railroad operators themselves have learned that competition in rates Is always suicide since it does not increase business and does reduce rev enues, have largely eliminated such competition. The discrimination disappears, but in its place comes the danger attending every monopoly, extortion in cession of territory involved, after thorager than the case to the Hague tribundary all especially as all powers concerned are willing. The president adds that as there is no question of national honor or attending every monopoly, extortion in the charge imposed. "As these combinations have proceeded the public has been repeatedly assured that there was no danger of any advance in freight rates. Rates have been advanced and are still advancing. Within the month all grain rates in every direction from the fields to the seaboard have been advanged another 3 cents per 100 pounds. Within the last three years the combination of anthracite coal roads has increased the cost of domestic sizes to the consumer from $1 to $2 per ton. In sympathy, the common stock of the Reading road alone advanced in market velue from July, 390 per cent.

"How shall the public be protected part not large, but when I came to have 9,000 pupils enrolled, in rural schools strongest form, in vain. It has been some real conception of the many demonstrated and support that the injured party might suggested that the injured party might suggested > "It has for sometime seemed to me that we must create a special tribunal, in the leges employ 160 teachers, of whom 72 nature of a commerce court, which are Roman Catholics and 87 of the Preshould be charged with the duty of reviewing and enforcing the orders of a commission, from which appeal upon questions of law, and perhaps those of fact, should lie to the Supreme Court of the United States. The members such tribunal would be appointed United States. The members of life and would therefore possess the conservatism of a court. They would not come in direct contact with the parties in the same way that a commission loes, and hence would be removed from those influences of a quasi-personal na ture. They would stand responsible to public opinion for the proper discharge of their duties. After all, they would speedily become an expert body, even nore familiar with the matters at issue than a commission itself, and would be able to act intelligently and promptly.

"Such a tribunal would not be con fined to reviewing and enforcing the orders of a commission, even though itsduties were limited to the regulation of interstate railways. It happens continually that matters arise which require the application of immediate relief, which can only safely and properly be given through the summary process of a court. It is quite probable, too, that such a court might be available in dealing with monopoly in other branches of interstate commerce than rallway transportations.

A NOVEL CONTRACT

Sixty-Four Thousand Apple Trees Will Be Set Out On 640 Acres of Land.

A novel contract has been made by H. R. Morrow and R. F. Barnett of the Barnett and Morrow Land, Irrigation and Orchard company. They have 1,800 man and have constructed a dam across the Felix at a cost of $3,000. The dam 3 is 120 feet long, built of tiling and backs the water a quarter of a mile. They have contracted with James Mc-Nicol of Lost Springs, Kansas, for conered by the water that is backed up into an apple orchard. McNicol has taken Scharge of the land and will furnish and plant the trees. He estimates that 64,-000 trees will be required to cover the He will set out a certain number of trees each year and will care for the land for five years from the date of planting. On the expiration of that time he will turn the property that time he will turn the proposer to Barnett and Morrow and receive a deed for one half of it. This year trees will be set out on 160 acres of and and trees that perish after planting will be replaced. The varieties used are the Missouri Pippin, Ben Davis and Wine Sap.

All persons suffering from stomach troubles, rheumatism or kidney ailments ought to go to the Faywood Hot Springs and get well.

Alfred Sublett Killed.

Word has been received from Globe, Arizona, of the death of Alfred Sublett, who was well known through Grant county. About three weeks ago he left Grant county to seek employment in Arizona. The details of his death are not known, but as he was killed by a dynamite explosion it is presumed it was while at work mining.

of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

Extract from the Congressional Record of June 25th, 1902, page 7.842.

President pro tem, of senate: The chair has been requested to restate the proposition, and will nado?" do so.

The senator from Indians, the chairman of the committee on territories, has stated in open senate today, that the committee will report on the territorial bill, so-called, on the third day of the next session of congress. Thereupon the senator from Pennsylva nia asks unanimous consent, that on the tenth day if the senate is in session and on the first day thereafter it may be in session if not on the tenth, the bill shall be and a half centuries has this section of made the unfinished business.

Commence to make your resolutions for the new year. Now is the time.

The fight for statehood for New Mexico must be kept up until successful. That is all there is of it and to it. Success must come sooner or later. The sooner, the better.

The 4,700 engineers and firemen of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad have been given a neat increase in pay by the company. Corporations do seem to be loosening up.

The insurance system of the territory has grown to such proportion as to need special supervision. The 35th this question and pass such legislation house of representatives by the approas will prove for the best interests of priations committee, contains a provisthe people.

the chances for the passage of the omnibus statehood bill are somewhat conflicting, but this paper is very hopeful and believes that the bill will pass towards the end of January and will become law during the short session.

A change in name could not and would not better conditions and the citizens of the territory are willing to take their chances for the future in the state of New Mexico. The editorial from the Times reads nicely and it is gratifying to note that it does not show the usual spirit of malice, venom, falsehood and abuse exhibited towards the territory by many papers throughout the country. For this the thanks of the people of New Mexico are due to that paper, but as for a change of name, none of it, if you

The Indian appropriation bill for the legislative assembly should consider coming fiscal year, as reported to the ion appropriating $15,000 for the putting in of a steam heating plant at the Gov-Reports from Washington concerning ernment Indian school in this city, and also an item of $5,000 for the purpose of drilling for artesian water. The appropriations were recommended by the efficient and energetic superintendent of the school, Professor C. J. Crandall, and were approved by the Commissioner of Indian affairs and by the secretary of the interior. If these items pass, and there It is said that Mr. Cleveland would is every reason to believe that they will, can and will do. It is now crowded to pupils, as the location is one of the healthlest and best in the entire country. Should artesian water be struck on the school grounds, which are owned by the United States, it will prove of the greatest benefit and usefulness, not only to the school, but also to the Santa Fe valley. What can be done at the institution in the way of agriculture is shown in one fact, and this cannot be too often repeated: During this year, on threefourths of an acre, 11,000 pounds of the General Nord, the new president of finest onlons were grown and gathered, the alleged Haytian republic, has taken giving the school a full supply for the tion.

WINTER SPORT.

saw to-day a gladsome sight.

I stood upon a hill
Whose gentle slope extends far down
Beyond the silent mill;
And snow and ice had made the place

Some sleds were shod with shining steel
And decked with red and blue;
And some were made by unskilled hands,
Yet sped right swiftly, too.
And rude toboggans, loaded well
With happy children, made
Their daring trips, the noisy crews
Laughing and unafraid.

I saw six merry little girls
In one unbroken train
Go coasting down without a sled!
I looked, and looked again;
And as they climbed the hill, I saw Each carried in her hand Just this—a kitchen dust-pan, Broad, strong and well-japanned.

Each mounted, and around her feet Tucked carefully her gown,
Then on this cutter, queer but fleet,
Triumphantly rode down,
Safely they rode, with joyous shouts,
They seemed to like it well;

Though how they steered the funny crass
I'm sure I cannot tell.

night. "Where is your memory?" asked Mrs. Cheery-up-heart, kindly.

"Oh, I have the poorest memory in the world," returned Mrs. Way-down-blue, dolefully. "Nothing ever stays in it unless it be unpleasant things I wish to get rid of and they stick like burrs. The happy, pleasam crowding them in at the other."

"Do you mean to say that you have no control over your ideas?" asked Mrs. Cheery-up-heart, very much astonished.

"I never mean to work them too hard, but just let them come and go as they will. No one could have been more indulgent to their ideas than Homer Hall, of West Point, Ia. Listen I have been," and at this Mrs. Way-

"Perhaps I can help you to recall some of these happy ideas," said Mrs. Cheery-up-heart, brightly. "Do you spangled tissues which our good Mother Tongue left with us to clothe our ideas? "Oh, bother Mother Tongue!" cried Mrs. Way-down-blue. "I never had the patience to open that great roll."

"Then you have never known what fun it is fitting out one's ideas in neat little jackets and gowns. You should have seen one that came to me in a friend's letter this morning. It was just sparkling.'

"Oh, you may fuss if you like," re torted Mrs. Way-down-blue. "I shall not take the time to make up things when I can borrow of my neighbors. or send round to the second-hand shop. I always tack on something blue so people will know they are my ideas, and they run their errands just as well."

"But, my dear," urged Mrs. Cheeryup-heart, "it is useless to send abroad ideas likeragamuffins, for they receive so little consideration. Ideas are like people; when they are well dressed they feel so much happier and more agreeable, and they can travel round so much better."

"Do ideas travel; that is, outside the village?" questioned Mrs. Waydown-blue, opening her eyes.

"Ideas are great travelers, and when witty and clever enough they often go round the world. Stop and dine with me, Mrs. Way-down-blue, and I will introduce you to some of these clever ideas. You may like to take a few of them home with you."

Being sadly in need of entertain-ment, Mrs. Way-down-blue willingly consented, and was presently amazed at the number of gentle, well-behaved idean waiting upon Mrs. Cheery-upheart in her own home. So bright and pleasant they were that Mrs. Way-down-blue was even in danger of forgetting that her name was Blue as one gracious company came after another bearing lighted tapers and roses to the guests, while others fol-lowed with little pots of honey from the well-filled hives in memory's gar-

Mrs. Cheery-up-heart also called upon her guests to introduce any ideas they might have brought with them, and one, clapping his hands, brought a set newly arrived from dis-tant travel. These ideas unfolded be-

Who ever heard eign lands, which furnished material of such nonsensel" exclaimed Mrs. for much worthy conversation. The eign lands, which furnished material ment of songs and stories, while all were provided with jests and repartee that flashed back and forth so rapidly Mrs. Way-down-blue was fairly dazzled with their brilliance.

Strange to relate, Mrs. Way-downblue's own ideas now came flocking back to her, and she opened her mouth once to speak, but perceiving that her ideas in ragged, ill-fitting jackets would be received with sur prise by the company, the poor lady remained miserably silent.

"What were you about to say, my neighbor?" and Mrs. Cheery-up-heart turned to her hospitably.

"I was thinking," returned Mrs. Way-down-blue, humbly; "I would like to know where you keep all this company of ideas.'

"We keep them in idea gardens, or you might call them memory gardens. In these gardens we shelter our ideas carefully, train them to obedience and cherish them as we would cherish our friends, for they are indeed friends, these good ideas who bring us both riches and happiness."

"But where do you find them— these ideas so beautiful and so good?" asked Mrs. Way-down-blue.

"We find them around us, if we only know how to look. But these ideas have odd ways of hiding in unexpected places. They may be cunningly wrapped up in a flower bud or a drop of water. They have been found in a bit of coal or even curling in merry wreaths out of the spout of great pains to throw nets over the stars to catch ideas, and one learned philosopher found an extraordinary idea in a falling apple."

"Is there nothing more you can tell me about these ideas?" asked Mrs. Way-down-blue, with growing inter-

"There is one more secret, as terrible as it is beautiful. Ideas never come alone; they bring their asso-ciates with them. Cherish one evil, lawless idea, and seven more wicked than itself will surely come with it. These will call in more and more until presently you find yourself en-slaved, bound hand and foot, and the end"-here Mrs. Cheery-up heart whispered a word to her neighbor, at which both ladies turned pale and shivered.

"On the contrary, cherish one good idea and this idea will call in a whole family of relatives, also good and beautiful." "That is well worth knowing," mused Mrs. Way-down-blue,

"Yes, good ideas have a way calling in more and more, for ideas are like children and always come clasping each other's hands. So one idea calls in another until you find yourself surrounded by a shining host which, like angels, attend your waking hour and your dreams and
