THE BROMIDE MINING DISTRICT

Titles Being Settled, Active and Well Directed Work is Progressing on the Bromide, Tampa. War Eagle, Continental and Other Properties in the Camp.

COPPER, GOLD, SILVER AND LEAD THE PRINCIPAL ORES

The Bromide mining district is one of the most progressive mining camps in this territory and will prove one of the best and richest in the country, as continuous and thorough development is demonstrating that the entire camp is covered with a net-work of mineral veins which, in almost every instance improve both in size and value as depth is gained on them and their permanency assured. The history of the Bromide district is typical of many of the best mining camps in the country, inasmuch as for years it has been known that rich mineral croppings existed in this locality which only required capital and practical development to demonstrate their value, but because of the claims of the Petaca Land Grant, this development was retarded for years. This grant claims to cover what is now the Bromide District and an area of thousands of square miles, but which was cut down by the courts to a small strip of land on the Petaca Creek and the Bromide District declared open for entry as public domain. This decision was confirmed early in the winter of 1899 by the courts of final appeal to which it had been carried by the land grant claimants. Following this decision, capital was interested, chiefly from Wisconsin and Michigan, and a period of unceasing development has resulted in opening up at least two shipping mines and a dozen good milling properties, while numerous prospects are showing better and better values as depth is gained.

LOCATION OF DISTRICT.

The Bromide District is located in the extreme north central part of New Mexico, in Rio Arriba county, and about 15 miles west from Tres Piedras, a station on the Antonito-Santa Fe branch of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. The camp is about twenty-five miles south of the Colorado state line and is in the same range of mountains in which are situated some of Colorado's best mines, thereby proving that the mineral belts so conspicuous in Colorado do cross the boundary into New Mexico, despite the old fallacy so popular with prejudiced persons that "mineral does not exist south of the Colorado state line." The absurdity of this cry is apparent when one considers the enormously rich mines of old Mexico to the south and the fact that the same mountains in which the mineral belts of both Mexico and Colorado are located traverse the entire length of New Mexico. Observing the rapid strides in mine development which are being made throughout this territory, it is not exceeding the facts to say that within a few more years the incomparable richness of New Mexico's mineral regions will be known and recognized as equal to the best America contains, as the building of much needed railroads and general industrial activity is opening the eyes of capitalists to the many advantages of investment in this territory.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT. In no place is this more plainly to be seen than in the Bromide District. Four years ago the entire development in the camp consisted of a hundred feet of sinking with about twice as many feet of drifting and stoping in the Bromide mine and a few twenty to fifty foot shafts on neighboring prospects, and on all of these the work was at that time only done in a half hearted fashion because of the uncertainty of title, while now, on the contrary, there are thousands of feet of development and which is being added to constantly, while titles are assured and perfect. Two mines may be taken to illustrate this difference—the Bromide, the oldest in the district, and the Tampa, one of the youngest.

THE BROMIDE MINE. The Bromide mine is situated near the southern boundary of the camp and lies in a belt of chlorite schist which marks the line of contact between the granite and quartzite in this part of the camp. This contact with its attendant schist extends the entire length of the district in an easterly and westerly direction and forms one of the two principal mineral belts of the district, the other being to the north in the vicinity of Tusas Peak and Cunningham Gulch, where the formation is plutonic granite, diversified by porphyry and other intrusive dikes, and in which the Tampa is located. In addition to these two principal divisions, there are numerous others lying between them and in which the formation shows various types of metamorphism, chief among which is the so called "sugar quartz" lead, which is an enormous dike, several hundred feet in width and of undetermined length, the whole of which runs from four to ten dollars per ton in fine milling gold values.

SHAFT HOUSE BURNED. The Bromide mine was opened about 1859 and for several successive years was worked at a good profit for the silver values its ore contained. Being just on the edge of the contested grant, it was enabled to go ahead with its work with but comparatively little opposition from the grant claimants. Shortly after this the company owning it placed steam machinery on the mine and operated it to good advantage, although more attention was paid to getting out all the ore possible than to extensive development. The ore yielded a handsome profit on its silver contents alone, as they received no pay for the copper and gold which it carried and during the four years which it was operated the mine shipped many cars of ore to the Pueblo and other smelters. About 1884 the shaft house, containing the hoist and boilers was burned, supposedly by sheep herders who very much resented being deprived of good grazing land by the miners; and the low prices for silver prevailing at the time offered but little inducement for the owners to again open up the fight with the adverse claimants, together with the expense of new machinery, the property lay idle until 1901, when a lease on it was secured by the Nambas Leasing Company, of Creede, Colo., who put in a new steam plant and reopened the mine, which has operated with considerable profit to themselves, due to the fact that the smelters now pay for the value of the gold and copper contents of the ore as (Continued on Second Page.)

CAT LET OUT OF THE BAG

Immunity Promised Mathews to Testify Falsely in Goebel Case.

HE WAS ASSISTANT SECRETARY

Prosecution Wanted Him to Say He Led Powers in and Out of the Office.

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.—In the Howard trial today, J. B. Mathews, former Republican assistant secretary of state, continued his testimony begun on yesterday. He told further of the breaking open of Powers' office and the search for the assassin. The search continued no further than that room and as soon as he and others there learned what had been done, they began preparing to protect themselves. He did not see Howard in the hall and his recollection was that Grant Roberts and Sam Shepard, clerks in the auditor's office, were the only ones in the hall when he first went out. He said he had been offered immunity by the prosecution when Powers was on trial if he would testify that he led the assassin into and out of the secretary of state's office.

Sprole, First Cavalry, committed suicide at Manila today by shooting himself through the head. It is believed he was temporarily insane. He was appointed to the Military Academy from New York October 17, 1865. He received his commission as second lieutenant in the Eighth Cavalry June 15, 1869; first lieutenant on March 29, 1873 and captain July 23, 1885. He was commissioned major and assigned to the Fifth Cavalry May 6, 1899 and transferred to the Eighth Cavalry on May 23 following. He was commissioned lieutenant-colonel and assigned to the First Cavalry June 28, 1902.

They expect to complete the work today and President Mitchell will return west tonight unless he decides to go to Toronto. He sent notices to the presidents of the coal roads today that District Presidents Nichols, Fahey and Dettley had been appointed as the miners' representatives on the board of conciliation and asked that they make their appointments as soon as possible, so that a meeting can be held.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Damage to Lacrosse Business House Approximates Half a Million Dollars.

Lacrosse, Wis., April 22.—Fire last night completely destroyed the Park store, the largest in western Wisconsin, and did much damage to surrounding buildings, causing a loss of approximately $500,000. The fire started in a mysterious manner in the rear of the store and within thirty minutes the entire plant was ablaze. There was practically no wind at the time, which was the only thing which saved the entire block, which includes property worth $2,000,000, from destruction.

NEW BUILDING DEDICATED.

New York, April 22.—The members of the New York stock exchange announced business today to devote themselves to the ceremonies incident to the dedication of their handsome new building. It is just two years since the work of tearing down the old building to make room for the new was commenced and during that time the members have been accommodated at the New York Produce Exchange. The new building, which presents striking appearance has been arranged solely for the comfort of the members.

FATALLY BURNED.

Mrs. Ella N. Maple of Denver Dropped a Gasoline Can.

Denver, April 22.—The accidental dropping of a gasoline can this morning caused the fatal burning of Mrs. Ella N. Maple and painful injuries to her son, Homer. The accident occurred in the old D. H. Moffat residence at 1210 12th street. The building was damaged to the extent of $100. When Mrs. Maple dropped the can, the fluid spread over the floor and immediately took fire. Her son heard her screams and running into the kitchen, carried his mother out of the room. He managed to extinguish the flames, but not till she was fatally burned.

DULL CARE WAS DRIVEN AWAY

A Most Delightful Smoker Was Given by Hon. W. S. Hopewell Last Evening at the Pennsylvania Club.

GUESTS HERE FROM ALL PARTS OF THE TERRITORY

The Germans have two words, "Geselligkeit" and "Gemuetlichkeit," which express better than any two words in English, the keynote to the smoker given by Hon. W. S. Hopewell, vice president and manager of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company, in the commodious rooms of the Pennsylvania Club last evening. Officialdom and business interests of not only Santa Fe were well represented by the 70 or more guests, but there were representatives from Las Vegas, Belen, Roswell, Portales, Las Cruces and other points. It was a delightfully informal occasion, a pleasing journey of a few hours into Bohemia. The blue smoke of the fragrant Havana helped to loosen tongues, it seemed, and promoted sociability, while the arrangements for invoking good cheer were complete and the host saw to it that they were thoroughly appreciated. At 10 o'clock, the guests promenaded across the beautiful piazza, illumined by electric light, into the dining room, where a toothsome and elegant repast was spread. After that there was piano, guitar, mandolin and vocal music by professionals as well as others. A delegation of jolly Elks helped to enliven the occasion by presenting the most interesting musical rag ends of their recent minstrel show, and by singing song songs in which the other guests joined. Monologues and singing by Game Warden Page B. Otero were imitable and were interrupted by explosions of laughter and shouts of applause. The whole company made a visit to the Hamburg Show and the sights seen by the distinguished procession which included judges, bank president, officials and businessmen, were not only amusing but even sensational. There was popping of corks from Mum's Extra Dry later on, and toasts to Mr. Hopewell, the host, proposed by Solicitor General Bartlett in felicitous words, and to Mrs. Hopewell, gracefully proposed by Governor Otero, to which Mr. Hopewell responded briefly, very briefly, but feelingly. Merriment and social intercourse, incident to a congenial stage gathering, brought midnight, when coffee was served in the dining room, or as it was aptly put, in the dining car of the Santa Fe Central Midnight Express. Certainly, no guest departed without the thought uppermost that Mr. Hopewell is a prince of entertainers, as successful in that line as he is in business and in railroad building. Among the invited guests were: Governor M. A. Otero, Judge John R. McPhe, Judge Frank W. Parker of Las Cruces, Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds, Messrs. E. L. Bartlett, Max. Frost, J. H. Vaughn, Fred Muller, W. G. Sargent, J. Franco Chavez, Charles V. Stafford, Morgan O. Llewellyn, H. O. Bursum, A. A. Keen, M. R. Otero, A. L. Morrison, Solomon Luna of Los Lunas, W. H. H. LEE HAS NOW BOBBED UP IN VIRGINIA

Had a Good Time at Staunton, Then Went to Clifton Forge and From There Took a Train for Cincinnati—On a Sightseeing Tour.

GRAND JURY HAS TEMPORARILY ADJOURNED

Staunton, Va., April 22.—The report from St. Louis that Lieutenant Governor Lee of Missouri, whose presence is desired by the grand jury investigating the legislative bribery charges, was in this city, reached here today. An examination of the register of the leading hotel shows that John F. Lee and two ladies were there last Saturday and remained until Monday afternoon, when they went to Clifton Forge and there took the westbound train for Cincinnati. While here Mr. Lee and his companions spent their time sightseeing. Mr. Lee is described as a fine looking man about 55 years old. He had a sandy moustache and pleasant manners and said he was a St. Louis lawyer. TEMPORARILY ADJOURNED. St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—The investigation by the grand jury of the legislative bribery charges, has been adjourned for a time to enable Circuit Attorney Folk to take up the trial of alleged local hoodlums. In the criminal division of the circuit court before Judge Ryan the case of Louis Decker, former member of the house of delegates, under an indictment charging perjury in connection with the evidence he gave before the grand jury in regard to money used to pass the suburban street railroad franchise bill, came to trial today.

BELEN IS BOOMING.

Substantial Buildings are Being Erected and New Stores Started.

The town of Belen is a lively place, according to reports brought from there by Santa Feans. A number of new houses have been erected, but now the buildings are of a more substantial character. Brick is being made and a large new store will soon be put up by a man from California. This store is expected to be as large as the big Blocker store. The latter store is rushed with business from early morning until late in the evening and more than a dozen clerks are kept busy all the time. The temporary bridge across the river is being used for the transportation of materials and supplies, but it is not strong enough to bear a great weight and not more than two cars are taken across at the same time. Work on the permanent bridge has been temporarily suspended on account of the high water. There is now an agitation for the building of a county bridge just below the new railroad bridge, and it would be a great convenience and help to the trade of Belen. Plans are being made for laying out and platting the town, and Pitt Ross, a surveyor of Albuquerque, has been employed for that purpose. There have been enough shooting affairs to furnish ample evidence of civilization but law and order is preserved.

TEN MORE CONVICTS.

Brought to the Penitentiary Today From Bernalillo County—District Attorney Clancy Prosecuted the Cases.

Deputy Sheriff E. C. Newcomb of Bernalillo county, arrived from Albuquerque this noon and delivered the following prisoners to the territorial penitentiary authorities: James P. Denning, aged 30 years, forgery, sentenced to 2 1/2 years imprisonment; Justo Mars, aged 24 years, larceny from a warehouse, 1 1/2 years; Charles Robinson, aged 24 years, forgery, 1 1/2 years; James F. McDaniels, aged 26, forgery, 1 year; Charles Mason, aged 29, larceny from a dwelling, 1 year; James Willis, aged 19, larceny from a store, 1 year; John W. Hickey, aged 30, forgery of a railroad pass, 1 year; Paclida Apodaca, female, aged 28, assault to murder, 1 year; John Dougherty, aged 24, breaking jail, 1 year; Arthur Drake, aged 23, larceny from a store, 1 year. These convicts were tried, convicted and sentenced at the present term of the 24 judicial district court for Bernalillo county at Albuquerque by Judge B. S. Baker, District Attorney Frank W. Clancy being the prosecutor.

The lands withdrawn in New Mexico include one township for the Grand River survey in the Santa Fe district, one township for the use of the Urton lake project in the Roswell district and three townships for the same project and three townships for the Pecos reservoir system in the Clayton district.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22.

Preparations for the President's reception in this city on May 15th next are getting along well and everything in connection with the occasion promises to be a success. This is as it should be.

Coal creates its own market in New Mexico. There is no doubt whatever but that every ton of coal mined in the new coal fields at Hagan, south of Santa Fe, can be placed at a good figure right in the territory itself.

That the Philippine Islands are in better financial condition than ever before in their history is shown by the fact that an issue of $3,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness have been subscribed eight times over by New York bankers, at a handsome premium although the certificates bear only four per cent interest and are to run for only one year.

May 5th is the time and the City of Santa Fe the place where and when the people of the great Sunshine Territory should assemble to pay due and proper respect to the chief magistrate of the nation who will there and then pay New Mexico a visit. Be not backward in coming. The greater the crowds, the better will the President be pleased.

There is revival of the talk that El Paso is within the boundaries of New Mexico, as it is promised a survey of the boundary will show. The New Mexican takes no stock in the report, but should this be the case, then New Mexico will secure a valuable acquisition of taxable property and will present to Texas a handsome bill for back taxes.

The Bromide mining district in Rio Arriba county about 60 miles north of this city, will before long, become a heavy producer and money maker. An exhaustive description of the camp appears on another page of this paper. It is furnished the New Mexican by a very reliable and competent mining engineer who is thoroughly acquainted with the district and its properties.

The "Scenic Road" across the Pecos river forest reserve should not be forgotten. It is strange that so much time must be lost in getting down to the preliminaries. Summer time is approaching rapidly and the hope that part of the road would be constructed before summer has gone, is doing a "glimmering." No wonder the detractors of New Mexico call this the land of manana.

The newspapers of Denver go to a great length to gain good advertising. They not only give away houses and automobiles to subscribers, but two of the papers have brought suits to invalidate the appropriation bill passed by the late Colorado legislative assembly. It costs to advertise in that manner and when newspapers take their own medicine in that line it is certainly an unanswerable argument to merchants that advertising not only pays but is a modern business necessity for success.

At last the Board of Education has taken a definite step to secure much needed modern school houses for Santa Fe. The plans for the new high school building show it to be one worthy of the Capital and the New Mexican will be greatly gratified to give credit to the present Board of Education for its work if that building becomes a reality before the present board goes out of office.

Andrew Carnegie has given in the last ten years $67,212,923 for libraries, colleges and charitable purposes. This is giving on a magnificent scale, and Carnegie would deserve a halo if it were not for the thought so often expressed that no man can honestly acquire over a million dollars in a life time, and that to every dollar that Carnegie gives away there clings the remembrance of sweat and laborious toll of men who worked away their lives in the Carnegie mines and mills and died in poverty or distress.

There exists a fine state of affairs in the good old Democratic state of Missouri. Lieutenant Governor Lee says he will return to the state and testify before the grand jury of St. Louis county concerning the legislative hoodlums cases if he is permitted to tell but a part of what he knows concerning corruption in the assembly. It is probable that from the lieutenant governor's standpoint this is a very reasonable request, should he tell all he knew concerning political and legislative corruption in the state, the reputations of so many Democratic politicians, statesmen and officeholders, would be blasted, that an entirely new set would have to be brought to the front in the Democratic party of that state.

The construction of the New Mexico Eastern Railway across Abo Pass is one of the most difficult pieces of railroad work in the west. The pass will be bridged seven times by high steel trestles and the cost of the few miles of railroad through the pass exceeds the cost of any similar length of line in any part of the Southwest. Long after the work along the line is completed, construction will be still in progress at Abo Pass. This shows that when a railroad really wants to build a line, obstructions in its path do not count for very much.

In a speech delivered at Kansas City yesterday by Colonel William J. Bryan, he hotly and without mental reservation or equivocation, asserted that as far as he was concerned he wanted no more Clevelandism in the Democratic party. He was tired of reorganizers and the like and wanted no more men in the Democratic party who call themselves Democrats but voted to put Republicans into office as did Mr. Cleveland and his friends in 1896 and in 1900. The Colonel has again thrown down the gauntlet and the situation is decidedly interesting.

The suggestion is made that climatologically and topographically the Estancia plains south of Santa Fe are especially well adapted to the raising of tobacco. In fact, the soil is said to be such as to promise that the very finest grade of tobacco can be raised in the section between Antelope Springs and Estancia. It would not be a bad idea for the Santa Fe Central Railway Co., which is bent on developing the section through which it passes, to establish an experimental farm of a few acres at Estancia simply to demonstrate what can be done on the Estancia plains in the line of raising tobacco, alfalfa, celery, asparagus, vegetables and fruit, not to speak of fattening hogs, cattle and lambs.

Former Senator David Bennett Hill, he of the "I am a Democrat" sentence, believes that the Democratic party should come out in favor of immediate tariff revision and reform. That sounds very nice, but Mr. "I am a Democrat" does not exactly show the people how this can be done. Even were the Democratic party to be successful in the 1904 presidential and congressional elections, no change in "tariff reform," as Mr. Hill is pleased to call it, could be made until the assembling of the 60th congress, as the Republicans have a safe majority in the United States senate until that time. Of course no well informed or honest politician will today predict that there is a good chance for Democratic success in 1904. Where then does Mr. Hill's "immediate revision of the tariff" come in?

The members of the City Board of Education at a meeting of the board held Monday evening, took up the question of a bond issue from the proceeds of which two new modern school buildings, one for a high school and one for a ward school, are to be erected this year. Plans and specifications for these buildings will be called for and the board concluded to issue the necessary amount of bonds not to exceed $25,000 on June 1, the date fixed in the law passed by the 25th Legislative Assembly. This action of the board meets with the approval not only of the tax payers and property owners of the city but also of all good citizens who have the welfare of the community and the interest of the education of the youth and of this city at heart. The construction of these buildings and the repair and modernizing of the Second Ward school building will prove of the greatest advantage from every possible standpoint to the town. The New Mexican has made a strenuous fight for the accomplishment of this object and will have more to say upon it in due course of time. The members of the board who were present and acted favorably on the question are: T. B. Catron, president of the board; Edward L. Bartlett, George W. Armijo, Edward Andrews, John Shoemaker and Pedro Roybal. The members absent were Celestino Ortiz and Manuel Delgado.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.
Current Topics Discussed By the Territorial Press.
GOOD WORK OF THE NEW MEXICAN.
(Las Vegas Record.)
The Santa Fe New Mexican is booming the mining and other possibilities of the territory in a way that cannot fail to be productive of beneficial results.
.....
TOO TRUE.
(White Oaks Eagle.)
The Alamogordo and Sacramento Mountain railway is extending further into the timber belt of the Sacramento and the area of timber lands is fast diminishing. The spring floods from off the barren sides of these mountains will soon admonish the inhabitants of that section of New Mexico that the lumber business is an expensive luxury.
(Carlsbad Argus.)
The newly appointed Territorial Bureau of Immigration organized in Santa Fe this week by electing W. B. Bunker of Las Vegas, president; Granville Pendleton of Aztec, vice president; Joseph W. Bible of Hanover, treasurer. The commendable and proper action of the board, however, was the unanimous re-election of Colonel Max Frost as secretary of the bureau. With any other man in the secretary's position the bureau would be sadly disarranged. Colonel Frost fits the position, works, and gets results, and the latter is what counts. The benefit the bureau has been to the territory as a whole is due to the energy, resourcefulness and knowledge of conditions with which Secretary Frost has discharged his duties, and his continuation guarantees further successful immigration work. The Argus and his Pecos Valley friends are pleased with his re-election.

well as the silver and which was not the case when the mine was formerly worked. Following this, another leasing company secured a lease on the property and clashed with the Nahama people, causing another shut down but the difference between the rival lessees has finally been adjusted and the Bromide opens this year without friction or contest and with rich returns to the operators assured.

THE TAMPA MINE.
The Tampa was acquired early last spring by the Tusas Peak Gold and Copper Company, who at once began work upon it and followed good surface indications with the shaft, which at the fifty foot level showed a good vein of ore. Drifting was done on this vein and sinking continued in the shaft. At the present time they have what is probably the largest body of high grade ore opened up in the district, their vein being twelve feet in width, of which six feet is of shipping value and the remainder of good milling ore. The Tampa mine is located on the north slope of Tusas Peak, near Cunningham Gulch, which locality contains some of the best properties in the district. The Tampa is equipped with all conveniences for mining the year round, with modern steam machinery, good shaft house and commodious buildings for the miners. At the present time the shaft is below the 150 foot level and work is continuous and has been for the past year with never a day's idleness since the ground was first broken in the shaft last May. The vein has been opened up at the 50, the 100 and the 150 foot levels, with cross-cutting and drifting on the vein at each level and which thoroughly demonstrates the value and possibilities of the mine. It is the intention to continue sinking and running of levels each 50 feet, while ore for shipment is also being stowed out in the upper levels. This company has lately acquired a millsite on Las Tusas Creek, within three miles of their property and on which they expect to erect a suitable mill this coming summer. This is a very advisable move, for their ore is a sulphide which will concentrate to advantage and thereby save the heavy freight charges to the Pueblo smelters.

THE WAR EAGLE.
The War Eagle is another property in the near vicinity of the Tampa from which big results are expected. It is owned by the Mexican King Gold and Copper Mining Company of Milwaukee, Wis., and shows at the 60 foot level, a 4-foot vein of high grade copper sulphides with values from $30 to $50 to the ton. The vein is a true contact and can be traced for a long distance on the surface and is between the granite, the predominating country rock of this district, and a gabbro dike which intersects it. Sinking in the shaft is going on steadily and it is expected that the vein will pitch into the shaft at about the 100 foot point, and when it is reached, extensive drifting will be done on the vein and ore blocked out for shipment. This company also owns the Butterfly, near the War Eagle, and on which a wide vein of medium grade ore has been exposed, which it is the intention of the company to thoroughly develop with a view of later building a mill to handle both the Butterfly and War Eagle ores.

THE CONTINENTAL.
Between the War Eagle and the Tampa is the Continental, the vein of which apparently extends through the property of both the former companies. The Continental ore is the first lead ore found in the camp in any quantity, being a galena with a high percentage of lead and running from 20 to 80 ounces of silver to the ton. The vein is three feet in width and is in a gray granite. There has been enough development to assure its permanency and the vein will be further opened up by drifting on it when the 100 foot level is reached by the inclined shaft now being sunk.

Between the Continental and the War Eagle is the property of the Cunningham Gulch Mining Company, which consists of several claims which have excellent showings and will be developed this summer. This is a new company, and a comparatively new property, but has every indication of developing into a good one.

LADY GAY GROUP.
Adjoining the Tampa and supposed to be an extension of it, is the Lady Gay group, which consists of three claims which are as yet undeveloped, but show on the surface all the indications as good if not better than the Tampa showed before development. Good results may be looked for from this prospect before the season is over, as the owners will start work upon it this summer, and push it until decisive results are obtained. The Admiral and the Blue Bird groups, near the head of Cunningham Gulch each have very good mineral showings, and are being developed by means of an incline on the Admiral and a shaft on the Blue Bird, each of which is now over 100 feet in depth and will be continued this summer, while cross-cuts will also be run on the Blue Bird from the shaft to cut their ore at the 100 foot level.

COPPER KING.
In the southeastern part of the district, on the slopes of Kiowa Mountain are a number of very good properties. The best of these is perhaps the Copper King, owned by the Anaconda-Eureka Mining Company, but on which development has been retarded because of controversies over the title. The Copper King shows very high values in silver and copper throughout the width of a 30 foot vein. This vein has been opened by means of several shafts, from 20 to 60 feet in depth, two tunnels and several open cuts, all of which tend to show that the ore values are permanent and that it will prove a mine of great value.

PONTIAC MINING CO.
The Copper Mountain Tunnel Site, also on Kiowa Mountain, has a tunnel of over 400 feet into the mountain, with 100 feet of drifting in the vein, which is the largest in the camp, being at least 500 feet in width and yielding values of three to four per cent copper throughout it. This tunnel is controlled by the Pontiac Mining Company, which also owns a large group of claims at the junction of Spring Creek and the Las Tusas. These claims are being developed by means of a tunnel destined to cut the entire group, and which will likely prove a remunerative property, as they have every facility for milling their ores at the mouth of the tunnel.

To the east and west of the Bromide, on the schist belt before spoken of, are located many good properties. To the east of the Bromide, 1,500 feet, is the Last Hope group which is being developed by means of a shaft which is now down over 100 feet and with considerable cross-cutting at the 100 foot level. The shaft is being sunk on a two foot vein of high grade copper sulphides, while the cross-cut shows a 17-foot vein of low grade gold bearing ore on which tests have demonstrated that the cyanide process will yield good profits from it.

THE STRAWBERRY GROUP.
A little to the north of the Last Hope is the Strawberry group. This property is well equipped with steam hoist, pump and machine drills. The shaft has been sunk 120 feet on a good vein of copper ore, with drifting at the 100 foot level. In addition a cross-cut is now being run from the shaft to go north about 150 feet to cut into the "sugar quartz" lead at the 100 foot level. A number of companies own claims on this vein, which is fully five miles long and of great width. Several shafts of the depth of 100 feet or more have been sunk on this lead, with cross-cutting in proportion and from the exposures in them demonstrated that the values improve and the vein holds its width with depth.

THE PRINCESS GROUP.
West from this is the Princess group with a 100 foot shaft and an equal amount of cross-cutting and drifting from it, a 200 foot tunnel and also several shafts of lesser depth. Near there are the Big Four and the 7 come 11 groups, with an incline and a shaft each of 100 feet in depth, also other workings of 50 and 60 feet depth.

THE PAYROLL.
Between Burn Mountain and Tusas Peak is the Payroll, which has an inclined shaft 250 feet in depth, with about 200 feet of cross-cutting. Near here is located the Sardine-Rusty Bucket group, with several shafts, the deepest of which is at present 90 feet, but which is being deepened with the intention of doing extensive cross-cutting and drifting on the vein at the 100 foot level. A large boiler with steam hoist and pump has lately been installed on this property and assists the work materially, as much water is encountered which made progress slow.

THE WHALE.
Still further west is the Whale, owned by the Belle Royal Mining Company and which shows a large and rich vein of high grade copper ore and on which extensive development has been done. Steam machinery is ordered for this property and will be installed this spring, when work will be re-commenced and sinking continued. The Whale has shipped several carloads of ore and is expected to again begin shipping this summer. In this vicinity are located the Minneapolis group, the 16 to 1, the Capt. Jinks and the Danbury, on all of which considerable development has been done and good ores opened up. In addition to the foregoing properties, there are a great number of prospects which show good mineral and which are being developed by private parties. The value of the camp as a whole may be judged from the fact that there are at least 30 patented claims in the district, and half as many more applications for a patent now pending, and on all of which the development has been done in the last four years.

ABUNDANCE OF TIMBER.
The camp has every facility for economical mining, there being an abundance of timber for fuel and mining timbers, while the Vallecitos and Las Tusas Creeks provide good mill-sites within a few miles of any point in the camp with plenty of water for concentrating or reduction plants. The heavy freight and hauling charges prevent any but the very best grades of ore being shipped to the smelters, so that many companies are developing their properties with the intention of building mills for treating their ores on the ground. It is commonly reported that the Denver and Rio Grande will extend a spur from near Tres Piedras out into the camp within the next year. If this is done, it will greatly benefit the camp in every way, and the facility it will offer for shipping ores will greatly increase the tonnage of this line, as there are many properties in the camp with great bodies of ore blocked out which a reduction of a few dollars in freight would enable to be shipped at a profit. When it is considered what has been done in development in this camp in the last four years, and with more work now going on than ever before it is easily to be seen that before the next four years are past, the Bromide district will rank with the best camps in New Mexico in the value and amount of its ore tonnage.

C., are expected in this city this evening, called by the serious illness of their sister, Miss Margaret Mary O'Donoghue, who is at the home of Judge A. L. Morrison, having come here for a visit with his daughter, Miss Mary A. Morrison. Father O'Donoghue and Rev. Father Rabeyrolle, priest of the Guadalupe church in this city, were classmates at college.

FELL OVER 100 FEET.

Francisco Griego Dropped to the Bottom of the Santa Fe Coal Company's Shaft.

Francisco Griego fell to the bottom of the shaft which the Santa Fe Coal Company is sinking three miles northeast of this city, this afternoon about 2 o'clock. He was being lowered to the bottom and had descended about half of the distance when the rope broke, precipitating him to the rock covered bottom, a distance of over 100 feet. The shaft is over 200 feet deep. Those at the top called to Griego after the accident and he answered. One of the convicts engaged in helping with the work then mounted a horse and hastened to the city for surgical aid and not waiting to see how seriously Griego was injured. The work of sinking the shaft is being done by prisoners from the territorial penitentiary and Griego was superintending the work. As the New Mexican goes to press word was received that Griego had died.

Sale of the Las Vegas Record. The news reaches this city from Las Vegas that the Las Vegas Record, a daily published by the Record Publishing Company in that town, has been purchased by Professor J. Graham McNary, and that the paper will be consolidated with the Las Vegas Optic, which will be on and after July first under the editoria management of Professor McNary, who will devote his entire time to it. The proposition under proper direction is bound to be a paying one, as one daily paper in the Meadow City will have the field to itself. This is quite extensive and can be made profitable from a newspaper and job printing standpoint.
