ANNOUNCEMENT!

The new goods purchased by S. Spitz, the Jeweler, white east, are now being placed for public inspection. They consist of a fine line of decorated china and glass-ware. New ideas in silver novelties, ebony and leather goods and fancy clocks. These goods in connection with the usual large line of diamonds watches and jewelry always found in his cases will give the Santa Fe public an opportunity for selection seldom found outside of the large cities.

OJO CALIENTE

(HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barranca Station on the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages run to the Springs. The temperature of these waters is from 95 to 125°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 188.23 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon; being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures effected in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidney, Syphilis and Mercerial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc., etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day. Reduced rates given by the month. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 10:25 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 5 p. m. the same day. Fare for the round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7. MERRITT RETURNED

He Denies There Is Any Foundation for Story That Admiral Dewey is Broken Down.

PHILIPPINE CLIMATE NOT BAD

Also, Mortality Among United States Troops Not As Great As Has Been Reported—The General's Bride with Him.

New York, Dec. 17.—Major General Merritt, late commander of the United States military forces in the Philippine islands, from which post he was called to Paris to consult with the American peace commissioners, reached this city today on the steamer Lucania. With General Merritt were his bride and her mother, Mrs. Norman Williams. The general will resume command of the military department of the east. He said: "There is no foundation for the report that Admiral Dewey's health has broken down as the result of his wonderful work in Manila harbor. He was in fine physical condition when I left him, and he was then over the strain of the naval fight. Another thing I would like people to know is that the climate of the Philippines is not by any means as bad as it is said to be. The mortality among our troops sent to preserve order there will not be as great as some would have people believe."

The general said, further: "I think it will take about 30,000 soldiers to hold the islands in case this country desires to keep them, and I see no reason why it should not. With 15,000 United States soldiers in Manila and the remaining 15,000 evenly divided between the Philippines and Spanish, I feel sure the islands could be governed properly and with credit to this country. I did not meet Aguinaldo, but I am satisfied he is a very shrewd man. I did not recognize Aguinaldo nor his troops, nor use them in any way."

General Gomez Dead.

Madrid, Dec. 17.—A report has been received from Havana stating that General Maximo Gomez is dead.

Peace Commissioners Sail.

Southampton, Eng., Dec. 17.—The American peace commissioners sailed for New York on the St. Louis today. Judge Day said the treaty would probably be delivered to President McKinley December 24, but it was impossible to say whether it would be presented to the present senate or to that which comes into office on March 4 next. This is a matter which the president will decide.

"Old Sleuth" Dead.

New York, Dec. 17.—Harland P. Halsey, an author known as "Old Sleuth," died last night of cerebral hemorrhage. He was born in New York 61 years ago, and wrote 125 books. His fortune is estimated at $500,000.

The South Warm Towards McKinley.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 17.—The presidential party arrived in Savannah at 11 o'clock, was welcomed by a large crowd and then driven direct to the reviewing stand under an escort of Georgia Hussars. The military under command of Major General J. Warren Kiefer passed before the president. The program included a trip on the pilot boat down the Savannah river; also, a reception and banquet at night.

More Yankee Troops In Havana.

Havana, Dec. 17.—The 161st Indiana and 24 Illinois regiments marched to Quemados to camp this morning. They aroused considerable enthusiasm. The American garrison now amounts to 5,000 men.

Conferring With Secretary Hay.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Members of the Cuban constitutional delegation, in company with Senator Quesada, called at the State department today and held a conference for half an hour with Secretary Hay.

THIS DOES CUT ONE'S BREATH.

For the First Time in the Country's History, a Foreign Power Comes to America to Borrow.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—James H. Eckels, president of the Commercial National Bank, said today: "I am credibly informed that a great foreign power has sent representatives to the United States, and they are now in New York to negotiate a loan of immense proportions. If the source of my information is reliable, it is the first case in the history of the United States of a foreign power borrowing here."

The Canadian Commission.

Washington, Dec. 17.—When the Canadian joint high commission adjourned today, it was understood that the meeting here on Monday would be the last before the return of the dominion officials to Canada. The date for reassembling the commission at Washington will be January 5, and in less than two weeks thereafter, whatever measures may be agreed upon, will be drafted into treaty form ready for signature.

A DETECTIVE'S GOOD WORK.

He Caught Two Thieves Robbing a Freight Car and Fatally Shot One After Being Wounded Himself.

Columbus, O., Dec. 17.—James S. Foster, of Cleveland, a detective of the Pan-Hawaiian railroad, caught two men robbing a freight car today, and was shot twice. He returned the fire, but fell from loss of blood. An hour later, Fred Deering, a special policeman, went to August Brokawski's home, suffering from a pistol shot wound and died without making a statement. Brokawski was arrested and stolen goods were found in his house.

Small Pickings for the Risk.

Chester, Pa., Dec. 17.—Five men entered the Seaboard Oil works this morning, shot the watchman Joseph Mitchell, in the leg, bound his hands and feet, blindfolded him, and then blew open the safe. The robbers obtained less than $100.

Deaths at Manila.

Washington, Dec. 17.—General Otis cabled today from Manila: The following deaths have occurred since December 10: George O. Larson, corporal, Battery A, Utah light artillery, typhoid fever; James Healy, private, Company I, 18th United States infantry, cerebral hemorrhage as the result of an accidental fall.

Richest Man In Michigan Dead.

Niles, Mich., Dec. 17.—Henry A. Chapin, a multi-millionaire and mine owner, the richest man in Michigan, died last night, aged 86 years. He was estimated to be worth $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Collision at Sea.

New Castle on Tyne, Dec. 17.—The steamers Piermont and Hios have collided in the North Sea. The Hios foundered and the Piermont was badly damaged. It is believed 20 persons were drowned.

Death of Baron Rothschild.

London, Dec. 17.—Baron Ferdinand James de Rothschild, M. P., is dead. The deceased was second son of the late Baron Alphonse de Rothschild. He was a member of parliament in the Unionist interest for Aylesbury.

Banks held $19,973,395 in excess of requirements.

TERRITORIAL SUPREME COURT.

Opinions Handed Down—Judgment of Lower Court in White Ash Cases Affirmed—Adjudged to February 20, 1899.

Territorial supreme court convened this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Chief Justice Mills and Associate Justices McFie, Parker and Crumpacker present. In case No. 175, Francis L. Pierce, plaintiff in error, vs. Willard S. Strickler, defendant in error, error to the district court of Bernalillo county, the motion for a rehearing was overruled. Warren, Ferguson & Gillett for the plaintiff, Childers & Dobson for the defendant.

In case No. 716, Henry Lockhart, plaintiff in error, vs. J. Q. Wills et al, defendants in error, error to the district court of Bernalillo county, motion for fixing bonds for costs granted. Warren, Ferguson & Gillett, for the plaintiff, Childers & Dobson for the defendant.

In case No. 720, W. A. Givens, appellee, vs. John D. W. Veeder, appellant, appeal from the district court of Bernalillo county, the motion to compel defendant to refund costs already collected, granted.

In case No. 770, D. E. Bearup, plaintiff in error, vs. John E. Coffey, defendant in error, error to the district court of Socorro county, an opinion was handed down reversing the lower court and remanding the case. H. M. Dougherty for the plaintiff.

In cases Nos. 777, 778 and 779, Josephine Deserant, administratrix, plaintiff in error, vs. Cerrillos Coal Railroad Company, a decision was handed down affirming the judgment of the lower court. In these cases the lower court held that the company was not liable for damages growing out of the explosion in the White Ash mine some years ago; that all the superior employees in charge in the mines are fellow servants of the deceased coal miners. This decision disposes, so far as the New Mexico courts are concerned, of all the cases which grew out of the explosion. N. B. Field and F. W. Clancy for the plaintiff, R. E. Twitchell for the defendant. After hearing several motions the court adjourned until Monday, February 20.

CONGRESSIONAL

Southern Arizona Railway Granted Right-of-Way Through San Francisco Forest Reserve.

INDIAN EDUCATION FAVORED

Over $2,500,000 Appropriated for That Purpose—Much Vexing Question of Sectarianism in Indian Schools Will Vex No More.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The house passed a bill granting a right of way through the San Francisco forest reserve to the Southern railroad of Arizona.

Mr. Payne, Republican, of New York, called up the bill extending the laws of the United States relative to commerce, navigation and merchant seamen to the Hawaiian islands. Mr. McRae sought to have the bill amended so as also to extend to Hawaii the provisions of the act prohibiting importation of contract labor. Mr. Payne moved the previous question, and this motion was lost. Mr. McRae then introduced his amendment. He asserted that the law concerning contract labor was just as important to the islanders as to any other part of the country.

Mr. Payne made a point that the amendment was not germane and was sustained by the chair. Mr. McRae appealed from the decision, and Mr. Payne moved to lay the appeal on the table. This action prevailed by a vote of 65 to 44. Mr. McRae asked for the yeas and nays, when Mr. Payne, rather than prolong the controversy, withdrew his bill. The house went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Sherman, Republican, of New York, in explaining the provisions of the bill, said that while the appropriation was in excess of the estimates, no items were appropriated not approved by the executive authorities. He said the principal increase was for Indian schools, more than $2,500,000 going for that purpose, and this amount did not include any contract schools, and the question of sectarianism was completely eliminated. Nor did the figures include the New York and Indian territory Indians, whose education is paid for out of their own funds. Mr. Lett, Democrat, of Arkansas, spoke in commendation of the bill, saying it had practically no new legislation in it. He felicitated congress especially upon the fact that the question of sectarianism had been entirely eliminated from the appropriation bills. He also gave notice of an amendment providing money for educating the white children of the Indian territory. The children there were entirely without means of education and the country must either educate those children or allow them to grow up in ignorance or as outlaws.

ALBERT GIFFORD IN TOWN.

He Is in Sheriff Kinsell's Custody—Trouble Due to Drunken Penitents—Quiet Restored.

Deputy United States Marshal Sheridan returned from Taos last night, bringing with him Albert Gifford, whom the friends of Sheriff Trujillo, of Taos county, accuse of shooting the officer.

Mr. Sheridan's story of the troubles in Taos clears up many matters which could not be understood in Santa Fe, and removes suspicion of a race war. The story first sent out that the shooting resulted from the arrest of the two tourists representing Scribner's Magazine for not removing their hats while a church procession was passing, is not a fair statement. The procession was not one held by the church, but one by the penitents, and the facts are that the strangers did take their hats off while the procession was passing, but because they saw fit to leave the street and replace their headgear before the rag-tag and bob-tail of the penitents were out of sight, they were assaulted, insulted and thrown into jail by a drunken sheriff and his intoxicated deputies, all of whom are members of the penitente organization. Gifford, the young man now in Santa Fe, had nothing to do with the matter on the start. After the sheriff had thrown the strangers in jail he started out to kill some one on general principles, and Gifford was the first man he met. Gifford got away from him, but in endeavoring to get to his boarding house met Trujillo again, and the latter opened fire on him. After the second shot, fired by Trujillo, about 20 reports were heard from the crowd that had gathered, and the sheriff felt mortally wounded. Thirteen balls were dug out of the adobe wall that had been fired by the sheriff and others. The reports that the matter had resolved itself into a war between the Americans and native people are unfounded. The real state of affairs is that it was a conflict between whisky infuriated penitents and the rest of the people in Taos.

To Hon. Malquides Martinez much praise is due for preventing a serious riot. In company with friends he prevented a clash between the friends of the sheriff and the other residents of the town.

Gifford is now in the custody of the sheriff of Santa Fe county.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17.

The attitude of the Republican party of New Mexico has always been consistent on the question of the admission of the territory as a state. We favored the admission of the territory when the Democratic party was united in their opposition against it. We still favor its admission, believing that there is no good and substantial reason for keeping us out of the Union as a state and believe that this can best be accomplished by the election of a delegate to congress who is in harmony with Republican politics and principles.—Republican Platform, New Mexico, 1898.

General Grant said, "Let us have peace." Well, we have got it again, everybody being happy but Spain, and greater even than the problem of effecting that peace are the perplexing questions of how to make the best use of it.

The National Civil Service Association has discovered a mare's nest and after the president with a sharp stick. However, Mr. McKinley will probably survive the shock occasioned by the passage of condemnatory resolutions passed by that organization.

Since the fight over renewing the franchises held by street railways has come up in that city, Chicago is inclined to put on airs and claim possession of all the dishonest aldermen in the country. If such were the fact, the other cities in the country would be more than willing to accord that honor to the big town on the lake, but—

The sultan of Turkey has given assurances to the United States minister at Constantinople that all differences between the two countries will be speedily adjusted, including the payment of an indemnity for American losses in Armenia. The sultan has probably heard the fate of turkey in the United States every Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The quietness which pervades "Coin" Hayes's headquarters concerning that $500,000 campaign fund for 1898, indicates that the gentleman is either so busy receiving contributions that he has no time to take the public into his confidence or that the scheme has proved such a flat failure that it is painful for him to mention it. Now, which is it?

Admiral Dewey is not frightened by any shadows of trouble which may be hovering over Manila and the Philippines. He feels able, with the fleet now at his disposal, to take care of the interests of the United States, no matter what may happen. When he returns home he will learn that in the eyes of the Americans he "is all right."

Spain is still building hopes on the rejection of the treaty between the United States and that country by the senate. "Castles in Spain" are often dreamed of, but seldom found. The Madrid government will save time by preparing all the necessary papers ceding the territory mentioned in the treaty, at once. There will be no hitch in the program on this side of the water.

Colorado Springs is wearing sack cloth and ashes and will not be comforted. The Prince of Wales has announced that he has no intention of visiting the United States the coming summer, or at any other time for that matter. The Springs had been counting on a visit from 'his royal highness, and was already preparing for the honor to be conferred, quietly. Some of the disappointments in this life are terrible.

General Wood is making a splendid governor of the province of Santiago de Cuba, but one of his recent acts is liable to result in making trouble for him with the newspaper men on the island. He caused two Cuban editors to be arrested who had arranged to fight a duel. It would have been better to have had the matter finished on the field of honor (?) than to have wearisome and continued mud slinging contests in the papers over which the gore hunting editors preside.

Senator Vest, of Missouri, should be more careful in the choice of words when he speaks in public. In the senate the other day he said that he would rather leave the public life immediately than to give his consent to what he terms a "wicked and fantastic plan to revolutionize the government." Mr. Vest would not do anything of the kind. The only thing which will remove him from public life is his own accord in the final dissolution of all earthly things for him, and then he will only let loose because it cannot be helped. Mr. Vest should handle the truth a little more respectfully.

If some lunatic should attack the governor's residence in New Mexico, or the house in which some distinguished visitor in the territory was stopping, with brickbats, New Mexico and her people would never hear the last of it. And still, the British embassy in Washington was treated to a shower of missiles the other night by a crazy man and no one thinks of declaring the nation's capital a dangerous city to live in.

Cuban Central Railroad.

The secretary of war has called the attention of congress toward the need of building a new line of railroad the entire length of the island of Cuba, with branch roads leading to the different cities on the coast. It ought not to be necessary to ask the United States government to undertake this enterprise. The $20,000,000 such a road would cost ought to be forthcoming from a corporation of American business men whose commercial instincts should make manifest to them the striking advantages to be derived from a railway system for Cuba. It would, it is true, give employment to thousands of Cubans and teach them, as the secretary says, habits of thrift and industry, of which these people are much in need; but the main thing would be the opening up of the island to quick and ready communication, not only with the capital of Havana, but with all parts of the island, and thus be the means of bringing more and more valuable land under cultivation, filling up noxious swamps, cutting down malarious and obstructive vegetation and making it the more easy for civilizing influences to reach all classes of people. The railroad is ever the harbinger of the glad tidings of enlightenment, it brings in the school house, the church, the trader and countless influences for elevation from those conditions tending to semi-barbarism into which people are liable to fall who are shut off from ready communication with their fellow men, and are liable to deteriorate from mental dry rot. The island of Cuba has within itself the greatest possibilities in the way of minerals, lumber and agricultural products, especially sugar and tobacco, and a railroad would encourage capital to invest in these great natural resources of the island, and make of Cuba a land of untold value. There might be for a while, as has been in the past, fears of yellow fever, but with the building up and Americanization of the country, such wholesome sanitation would be introduced as to banish all fears of yellow fever thereafter. General Wood has driven yellow jack out of Santiago province, and his experience shows that the remainder of the island can be similarly relieved.

The anti-annexationists or anti-imperialists, or whatever they may style themselves, are using some remarkable arguments in their efforts to make a case against the policy of annexation which the administration has undoubtedly adopted, and some of their statements are straining the truth to almost the parting point.

One of the contentions made against the retention of the islands ceded by Spain is that the president, while clearly acting within his constitutional rights regarding the new possessions, is doing so without the advice of the members of congress or ascertaining the desires of the people. Any statement made implying that the president has not learned the desires of the people of the United States regarding this matter is unwarranted and a perversion of facts. McKinley positively refused to commit himself to any policy regarding the Philippines until after he had an opportunity to learn what the majority of citizens really wished to have done with the islands. In his trip through the Central Western states he lost no opportunity to inform himself on the subject, and when he returned to Washington he was satisfied that there was but one course to pursue, and that was to retain the islands. Not only that, but he has talked with many members of congress, and the fact that a majority of the senators are in favor of permanent occupation of the islands, excepting Cuba, is a vindication of the president's course. The president did not take his stand on annexation until he had learned what the country wanted, and having taken his present position, knowing that he was sustained by a majority of the people, he will not take any backward step in discharging the duty which has been clearly defined.

The anti-administrators also take the position that if the Philippines are annexed to the United States, the "open door" policy must be maintained; that all nations must be accorded the same commercial privileges that are granted the merchants and manufacturers of this country. A more absurd proposition was never before placed before an intelligent people. It is free trade run mad. For what is this government paying $20,000,000 to Spain, after having defeated that nation in war, if the advantages to be derived are to be surrendered to every comer? The house of representatives has just passed a bill extending the customs and revenue laws of the United States to the Hawaiian islands, and upon the formal assumption of power in the Philippines the same measure should be applied to those islands. The senate will ratify the action of the house in regard to the Hawaiian islands, and will act in the same manner when the laws are extended to the Philippines. The only "open door" policy that can be pursued by the United States in the territory acquired under the treaty with Spain recently signed is that of giving American producers the right to ship goods in as is now done between the states and territories, and if other nations desire to compete in the new markets let them pay for the privilege as they now do in the United States. If protection is of benefit, which has been proven by actual trade conditions, to one part of the country governed by the United States, it is of benefit to the others; if free trade is damaging to one section, as has also been proven, it will be damaging to all sections.

Any inconsistencies in the revenue laws and in protection cannot be permitted, just because one portion of the country is separated from the rest by several thousand miles of salt water. The men who are opposing the extension of territory and trade are not only inconsistent in their arguments, but they are attempting to impose sophistries upon the people for facts.

The Old Abe coal mine, located in Lincoln county, is now supplying the gold mine of the same name with fuel for operating the mining and mill plant. Operations were temporarily suspended last week, pending the arrival of powder for blasting work.

A sample carload of marble was shipped from the Alamogordo quarry to El Paso last week.

The output of Hillsboro gold mines for the week ending Thursday, December 8, 1898, was: Vicks, 40 tons; K. NEW MEXICO MINES.

COONEY DISTRICT. The Helen Mining Company is arranging a pipe line system, which is destined to furnish the Confidence mine with power for the hoisting and milling machinery and electrical plant for lighting the mine and 20-stamp mill. Fully 500 horse power will be generated. The Confidence group is producing 70 tons of $30 ore per day. During the past two years the production has reached the 50,000 ton mark. The development work consists of a 1,000 foot tunnel, about the same amount of drifts, winzes, etc., and 1,800 feet of shafts.

A tunnel is being run on the Cooney property which will give a distance of 900 feet and tap the ore chute at a depth of 650 feet. Since 1880, this mine has produced 10,000 tons of ore valued at half a million dollars.

The Maude S will be reopened shortly and again placed in the rank of active shippers. The mine was closed in 1887 because the character of the ore changed, and the 15-stamp mill was ascertained to be losing the values. The property has produced over $900,000 in bullion, the ore above permanent water level being remarkably free. The lower levels show high grade copper ore which is amenable to treatment.

BALDY DISTRICT. A tunnel is being run on the Aztec property 100 feet lower than the old workings, which will cut the ore chimney that produced $2,000,000 in early days and made the property famous. The Aztec 20 stamp mill has been repaired and is being supplied with low grade ore from the many minor veins that have been opened.

The Wallace placer field, embracing 10,000 feet of ground on the South Ponil river, Colfax county, was sold last week to Colonel Mathews, of Hutchinson, Kas. The dirt will yield from 20 to 70 cents per yard, occasional rich spots giving much higher values.

CENTRAL. An influx of water has caused a temporary suspension of operations on the St. Helena property. The Texas shaft has reached a depth of 500 feet and a cross-cut is being run to cut the vein.

HANOVER. The Hanover No. 2 has increased its force to eleven men. The Philadelphia is now a regular shipper to the Silver City Reduction Works. The ore is copper pyrites.

Twenty miners are employed in extracting zinc ore from the Mineral Point Zinc Company's properties. The product is shipped to Mineral Point, Wis., where the company owns zinc works. Twelve miners are employed by J. W. Bible in extracting zinc ore from the several claims managed by him on contract. The product is sold to the Mineral Point Zinc works and shipped to Wisconsin for treatment.

The Southwestern Coal & Iron Company is doing the annual assessment work on the Bear, Star, Whiffle, Tip Top, Sadie, and Blue Jay claims. The Indians shaft at a depth of 87 feet shows $20 fine milling ore. The vein varies from 18 to 30 inches in width. An attempt is being made to interest capitalists in the property, with the view of securing money for development work and the erection of a mill.

The Montezuma G. M. & P. Co., now has 24 employees on the pay roll. The vein shows a width of 60 feet at 130 feet, and the shaft is being sunk in search of high values. Kansas City people are back of the enterprise. C. A. Dorn has let a contract for working the tunnel in the Cannon Ball property 500 feet. Work will be resumed by the Hematite Tunnel Company next week.

SANTA RITA. The Santa Rita Copper & Iron Company is making regular shipments of iron ore to the Pueblo smelters. The Hearst syndicate has increased the force of men employed in the Santa Rita copper mines to 120.

On the Carrasco mine, the shaft now being sunk has attained a depth of 205 feet, and will be continued to the 300 foot level, when drifts will be run for the purpose of exploring the ore body. HILLSBORO DISTRICT. Chapman Bros., of the Eureka, are operating another whim, and are increasing their force of men. In the Schultze process, which is being tested at the Warren mine here, the gold ore, without being crushed or roasted, but just as it comes from the vein, is put into a furnace, oxidized by steam, purified by gas, hydrated by steam, disintegrated into powder, and concentrated by a pneumatic concentrator. The experiments are being carried on quite successfully on a small scale.—Advocate.

WILLIE ON A JAUNT.

THE OFFICE BOY TAKES A TRIP TO NEW YORK.

And Has a Few Interesting Experiences in a Pullman Car En Route, Which He Relates With Some Unwarranted Pride When He Returns.

Willie took a vacation a few weeks ago. He is the copy boy on the night watch, and, after the managing editor, rules the office. Now, Willie has not trotted the wide world over. He is a plain, go ahead, every night boy, and the pride, as well as the despair, of the whole office.

So when Willie announced that he was going to New York the office threw up its hands and gasped. The reporters gathered around the adventurer and told him many things; also they gave him advice. The baseball editor, with a singleness of purpose that was touching, took him aside and gave him some valuable hints. Willie, being a little doubtful on the etiquette of Pullman cars, sought information.

"Now, whatever you do you mustn't be a farmer," said the baseball editor in his fatherly way. "If any smart guy tries to sneak your shoes, you know what to do, don't you?" Willie thought he knew. "And another thing, you don't want to roll out of your berth and have the laugh on you. You'd better sleep in the hammock. Most travelers do. I do myself."

He also told him other things, to all of which Willie promised to pay strict regard. The literary editor advised what books to read on the journey, the society editors on chance railway acquaintances. Then he went. He wrote cheery letters back, said he escaped the bunko steers and was having a great time; even had his tintype taken in a bathing costume. So the office breathed more freely.

When Willie came home, as he did in the fullness of two weeks, he was ready to talk. "Have any trouble on the train, Willie?" said the baseball editor as he pounded his typewriter. Willie went over very close to the baseball editor and said: "Say, I couldn't get into that hammock. It was too short."

"Couldn't, eh? What did you do?" "I staid up and talked to the conductor. Say, I caught a guy trying to cop my shoes, and I didn't do a thing to him. He said he wanted to shine 'em, but I was dead on to him."

"Well," and the baseball editor looked innocent. "Did you tip him?" "Say, there's the only place they got the best of me on the whole trip. I gave the dingy a half dollar, and when I asked for change he only gave me back 5 cents. Was that right?"

"No," said the baseball editor. "It wasn't. You got the worst of it." "Then I did have a rough talk with a fresh conductor, who accused me of stopping the train. It was this way: When I went to bed, of course I took off some of my clothes. Oh, I was too slick to undress altogether. Something might happen, you know. Well, I took off my coat and vest and threw them across the clothesline that was along near the upper berth. They were pretty heavy, and, of course, pulled the rope a little. It made a hissing noise, and in a minute or so the train stopped and everybody got up to see what was the matter."

"The conductor came rushing through the train and said he guessed we were held up. Everybody looked for a gun or an ax, but no robbers were found. Then the conductor came back, looking mad, and said some smart guy was monkeying with the bell rope. He saw my coat and vest on the clothesline and raised Ned, but I told him I knew my business. Then he and the porter and a fresh traveling man giggled for an hour so we couldn't sleep. Yes, I had a great time."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

$5,000,000 Lost on Horse Race.

It is stated that a man won and lost $5,000,000 on horse races. For twenty years he kept at it, and most of the time he was successful. At last fortune turned against him, and today he is penniless. Gambling is a good deal like long time, but in the end it is disastrous. Fortune is harder to restore than health. The first step toward winning back lost health is to restore the digestive organs to a normal condition. For this purpose Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is far ahead of anything else. This remedy is a specific for indigestion, dyspepsia, fever, ague, nervousness, and sleeplessness. It is a wonderful tonic. Drugists sell it everywhere.

Tommy Gets the Best of It.

Mamma—Well, Tommy, you know no one will love you if you are so naughty. Tommy—Satan will. He loves naughty boys best.—Fun.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. Sold by A. C. Ireland.

Greatness.

Other Man—He's great rascal, don't you think? Chicago Man—No, only mediocre. —Detroit Journal.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it? Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best? If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

English.

He—They say that 116,000,000 people now speak the English language. She—I wonder how many of them say it "he done it" and "I have saw". —Chicago News.

Mr. Hardin Norris, clerk of the drug store of R. Shoemaker, Perry, Ill., says: "A man came into our store the other day and said, 'I want a bottle of that stuff that saves children's lives. I read in the News about it. The children may get sick when we can not get the doctor quick enough. It's the medicine you sell for croup.'" He alluded to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and bought a bottle before he left the store. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

The Southern Standard.

No man can enter heaven who prays "Let Thy kingdom come, good Lord," and at the same time neglects to give 16 ounces to the pound and 36 inches to the yard. —Boston Georgia Journal.

Pains in the chest when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the chest over the seat of the pain will promptly relieve the pain and prevent the threatened attack of pneumonia. This same treatment will cure a lame back in a few hours. Sold by A. C. Ireland.

Why They Wait.

Mr. Fuddleson—I wonder why it is that girls don't get married as young nowadays as they use to? Miss Cutting—It's because they have to wait for the men to grow up. Why one rarely sees a few new ones who are capable of earning their own living before he's thirty-five or forty. —Chicago News.

Had Other Chances.

I wouldn't have refused that young man if I'd been you, said a maiden aunt to her young and frisky niece. I don't think I would either if I'd been you, retorted the saucy maiden. —Harper's Bazar.

This Is Your Opportunity.

On receipt of ten cents, cash or stamps, a generous sample will be mailed of the most popular Catarrh and Hay Fever Cure (Ely's Cream Balm) sufficient to demonstrate the great merits of the remedy.

ELY BROTHERS,

56 Warren St., New York City. Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mont., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement. "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed." —Rev. Francis W. Poole, Pastor Central Presb. Church, Helena, Mont.

Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for catarrh and contains no mercury nor any injurious drugs. Price, 50 cents.

A SPRING BLIND.

"To tell you the truth, old fellow, I never understood why with your capacity for domestic enjoyment, you remained an old bachelor. Early disappointment in love?" "I vowed to marry her or not at all, and she..." "Just at that moment the spring roller blind of a house that faced directly on the sidewalk flew with a sudden 'B-z-z' and a snap. Both the men looked around, and both were just in time to catch sight of a remarkably pretty girl's face with a pout of vexation on it. The blind had evidently slipped out of her fingers and rolled itself up when it was not asked to." "Who is that girl?" Guthrie asked.

"I'm afraid I don't know her, old fellow," said Bean. "She's a very pretty girl, I should say. We'll ask my wife when we get home. Now go on with your secret."

"You didn't stay there more than a year, did you?" "No, I haven't. Oh, by the way, I think I do know! Unless I'm mistaken, that's old Calthorpe's place. He's a fellow commutator of mine, and that's about the full extent of our acquaintance. But she isn't the young lady of your secret, is she?" "That's just it," said Jeff, with a puzzled expression. "She can't be, and yet that face for the moment looked—"

"Like her?" "Was her name Calthorpe?" "No, her name was Sargant." "How long ago was it?" "Seven years." "Well, one of the few things I happen to know about old Calthorpe," said Bean, laughing, "is that he comes from Rhode Island."

"Oh, no, not!" Guthrie interrupted. "Miss Sargant is dead, old fellow." "The two walked on in silence for some time. "It isn't a long story," Guthrie presently continued. "She taught school there in that faraway little village among the hills and the mines. I was interested in her from the first and tried to win my way into some sort of acquaintance with her. But she seemed disinclined to anything like society."

"You didn't stay there more than a year altogether, did you?" "Much less than a year. I never exchanged more than six words with her in all the time we were both in that village. Don't laugh at me, Maurice. You didn't suspect me of being so romantic, did you?" "There?" "Yes, there. Somehow the sadness of it struck deeply into me, and now—this girl!"

"So much like that it wouldn't be remarkable even if they were twin sisters." "Which, of course, is impossible," said Bean.

A twin sister of hers would be nearly 80 by this time. "And the young woman at the blind is not more than 19, I should judge. It is curious, though." Guthrie's visits to the home of his married friend were all much alike in one very pleasant feature—he always returned with two out of three children, while the youngest—the baby—looked on and crowded and jerked itself about enviously.

"Now, what is it?" Mrs. Bean asked, turning to her husband when Allie and little Jeff had both been finally silenced under the bedclothes. "Oh, it isn't my affair," said the husband.

"No—I wanted to ask if you know a Miss Calthorpe here, living in that new red brick house at the end of the corner," said Guthrie. Mrs. Bean shook her head. "No Miss Calthorpe lives there," she said. "Miss Calthorpe lives there."

"Oh," said Bean, "was that old woman Calthorpe's sister?" "She isn't really old, dear. She's younger than Mr. Calthorpe. There's one daughter, I believe." "But that night Mrs. Bean said to her husband: 'Leave me alone for two days, and I will know all about your window blind young lady. Then make Jeff Guthrie come home and stay overnight.'"

The next visit of Jeff Guthrie was planned for a Saturday evening, with express arrangements for a stay over Sunday. After church this subtle woman insisted on lingering about the porch until a gray haired lady came out, and with her hand on the girl who had pouted at the window blind.

"Mrs. Perry, let me introduce our particular friend, Mr. Guthrie, and this is Miss Perry." "Nothing could have been more properly conventional than this introduction, and that was why Guthrie was so angry with himself for turning red and becoming confused. Mrs. Bean had, unknown to Guthrie, expressly invited these two ladies to dinner beforehand.

"Tell me, have you any relative—had you, I should say—of the name of Sargant?" "The girl's face changed in a moment. She was pale and bit her lip. "Oh, Mr. Guthrie," she said, "you must ask mother that! I don't know about it. It was only a little girl of 10 when poor Margaret left us and married that..." "She checked herself; then, after an embarrassing pause, went on, lowering her voice to a whisper and glancing round at her mother: "Did you know her—him?" "I once knew a Miss Sargant—very slightly."

MY LADY'S GIRLIE.

The Latest Form of This Much Employed Accessory. The newest girlies have a large square buckle at the back, which holds them expanded, while they are tied in front. It is a rather juvenile style, suitable to slender figures only, but that is the case with most fashions. All fashions are designed for the ideal fashionable figure, which is...

slender and well rounded, rather wide at the hips and shoulders and rather small at the waist. Just so far as the actual figure deviates from the fashionable standard, just so far must the fashions be modified. To return to the new girlies black velvet, with a buckle of dull finished or oxidized silver, is much liked with light colored gowns. Genuine silver is meant, of course. The ordinary "oxidized silver" is not at all satisfactory and is now replaced by gun metal, which is more costly, but also stronger and more durable in every way, besides being made in superior designs.

The illustration given herewith shows a tailor made bodice of red cloth. It is slightly pointed in front and has rather long cutaway sleeves. The flaring collar and the revers are faced with black grosgrain silk, and stitched straps of black grosgrain form the decoration of the corsage and sleeves. The revers open over a white plique vest, white collar and black cravat.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Drying Wet Apparel—Toilet and Household Items. When one is caught unprepared in a shower, one's attire is usually damaged to the point of uselessness. Judicious drying, long hanging and pressing will sometimes rehabilitate garments, however. Care should be taken not to hang the wet skirts and wrap near a hot fire, as the material is then very apt to shrink. If they are allowed to dry slowly in a cool place, the effects are less injurious.

Lemon juice possesses the property of making the finger nails transparent, but is inclined to dry the skin around them. This difficulty may be obviated by rubbing the nails with a little oil or cold cream after using the lemon juice.

Table napkins should be folded quite plainly, with the embroidered cipher or initial on the outside. Fanfolded napkins, such as are seen in restaurants, are quite out of form for private houses. A piece of bread is no longer placed on or in the napkin when the table is laid. All the bread is arranged in a basket, which is passed to the guests by the servant. Now that pears, peaches and apples are so large it is customary to cut these fruits in quarters before offering them, a fork being provided for taking the pieces from the plate.

Fortunate indeed. They were in the conservatory alone. "Aren't you glad," she said suddenly, looking up into his eyes, "that it is no longer the fashion to powder the hair?" "I am most devoutly thankful," he replied as her head settled back in its accustomed place.

Truly, the dark and shadowy corners of our conservatory would lose half their value if it were still the fashion to use powder on the hair. We of modern times hardly realize all our blessings.—Chicago Post.

Appearances Deceitful. "I struck a new one the other day," said the man who is about to move, "when I went to see a house of which a faithful Irishman was custodian. 'Too small, too small,' I said as soon as I saw the place. 'Go aisy, sor,' he replied, 'till I show yez t'rough. Yez'll find the house much larger on the inside than it is on the outside, sor.'—Detroit Free Press.

The artist who is in search of attitudes descriptive of suffering, need not go to the streets of London, or to the asylums of the old. If he could only see through the walls into tens of thousands of homes all over this land, he would see women undergoing tortures in silence without complaining, before which the brief ordeals of the martyrs pale into nothingness.

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill health and pain because of disorders and derangement of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. One of the worst effects of trouble of this kind is upon the nervous system. The tortures so bravely endured completely and effectually shatter the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It makes it strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, builds up the system and soothes pain. It checks exhausting drains and tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

Since my last child was born, thirteen years ago, I have suffered from uterine trouble, writes Mrs. Paul Devereux of Jellico, Campbell Co., Tenn. "I consulted several doctors and took much medicine, but found no relief. I had very bad health for twelve years. Every month I was in bed a week before the monthly period and a week after. I was so weak that I could not get up for four months last summer. I was just like a corpse. I lost twenty-six pounds in four months. I was emaciated and could not be considered in consumption. I suffered severely from pains in my back, bearing down pains in the womb, chills and cold sweats. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my coughing stopped, and after six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my periods became regular and were passed without pain. Now I am as strong as I have ever before. My neighbors are surprised to see me in such good health after having seen me so low."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

SCIENTIFIC CONSCIENCE.

A Little Incident Told by a Geologist Pointing a Moral.

Happening to know two men who were deeply interested in geology and who did not know each other, a Detroit man brought the two scientists together recently at the house of one of them and then left them to enjoy the occasion. A day or two later he met the host in the case and heard this strange story from him.

"Well, Mr. Cooper, that was a fine man you brought out to see me the other night—a fine man. Why, he's as crazy about geology as I am, if not a trifle crazier. We sat up together until after midnight looking over my specimens and talking about them, and I'm going down to see his case. He tells me he has almost bankrupted himself indulging his taste for rare and beautiful fossils. A funny thing happened the other night too. He's a great one—that man! On my library table I had one remarkably beautiful fossil—too choice to be hidden away in a case and yet too valuable to be left lying around. I needn't tell you what it was, for you don't know one from another. Your friend does, however, and he returned again and again to admire this particular specimen. Of course I enjoyed his enthusiastic appreciation of it, and when he was about to go I said: 'Mr. Badger, you admired this fossil so much I'm going to give myself the pleasure of parting with it to you. Please add it to your collection.' So saying, I extended my hand for the fossil, and, behold, it wasn't there. On the table and under the table I looked, behind the lamp, and under papers. No fossil. A mysterious disappearance. I felt nonplused and looked at my guest. He looked sheepish, fumbled in the side of his sack coat and said: 'Well, I'm glad you are going to give me that fossil. I already have it in my pocket.'"

"As I had often done the same trick myself, I couldn't utter a word of protest. 'Well, well,' I said, 'take it along and heartily welcome.' 'I've annexed fossils myself. Art has no conscience.'—Detroit Free Press.

THE SMOOTHEST TRAIN IN THE UNITED STATES.

On Sunday, November 20, the Burlington Route made a radical change in the schedule of the Chicago Special, its finest and fastest Denver-Chicago train. Heretofore, this train has left Denver in the morning—immediately after the arrival of D. & R. G. and Colorado Midland trains from the west. It now leaves at 1:40 p. m., arriving at Omaha in time for breakfast next morning, and at Chicago at 8:15 p. m. the same day.

In other words, it runs 1,046 miles in 29 1/2 hours—an average rate of speed of about 36 miles an hour. There are not half a dozen long-distance trains in the United States which are scheduled faster than 36 miles an hour. And there is not one—not a single one—which has as good a record as the Chicago Special for being "on time all the time."

The equipment of the Chicago Special consists of one sleeping car, one dining car, one library and two chair cars. The cars are of the newest design, and have been in service less than six months. All of them have the new wide vestibule, and are lighted with Pintsch gas. The sleeper is upholstered in peacock-blue, and contains twelve sections and a drawing-room. The toilet rooms are unusually roomy—a circumstance to which much of the train's popularity is due.

In each of the two reclining-chair cars are seats for 56 persons, ladies' and gentlemen's toilet-rooms with soap, marble wash-basins, comb, brush, towels, and an abundance of water, both hot and cold, and a smoking-room upholstered in leather.

Of the eleven dining-cars operated by the Burlington Route, none is finer than that on the Chicago Special. It is as bright as a new pin. The linen is spotlessly clean, the service is prompt, and on every table is a gorgeous bouquet of American Beauty roses, one of which the waiter affixes to your coat when you have finished your meal. Best of all, the a-la-carte plan prevails—you only pay for what you order.

The library car is the men's favorite retreat. It is a veritable club-house on wheels, a place where comfort reigns supreme, and where the necessity for exerting one's self is reduced to a minimum. If you want anything—today's paper, the monthly magazines, a cigar, a bottle of apollinaris, or a pillow—bring a button and the smiling attendant brings it to you.

The Denver Republican calls the Chicago Special the "smoothest train in the United States." The phrase describes it to a nicety. It is a smooth train—inside and out. Its furnishings are in admirable taste, and the track over which it glides is perfection itself. Fortunate is the traveler who goes east on it. Kings fare no better when they travel, than he.

Death of Mrs. McPherson.
Mrs. H. P. McPherson died at the home of her brother-in-law, W. J. McPherson, on Don Gaspar avenue at 10:30 this morning, of Bright's disease. She was born in Dayton, O., about 40 years ago, and came to Santa Fe with her husband from Kansas City some two months ago, residing with her brother, her husband practicing law in this city. Mrs. McPherson was a good Christian woman and a consistent member of the Presbyterian church all her life, and in the short time she had been in Santa Fe made friends of every one who met her. The bereaved husband is prostrated with grief.
The funeral will take place at the residence tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., Rev. Mr. Moore, of the Presbyterian church, officiating, and the interment will be in Fairview cemetery. The pallbearers are Judge McLaughlin, William H. Pope, Charles Bishop, Mr. Sidebottom, J. E. Wood, William M. Tipton.
Mr. and Mrs. McPherson were married at Dayton in October, 1888, and had no children. Mrs. McPherson came here to be a mother to little Bessie Miriam, daughter of W. J. McPherson. She leaves a large number of relatives and friends in Dayton and Kansas City. Her maiden name was Carrie L. Miller.
Fresh vaccine at Fischer's.
Notaries Public Appointed.
Acting Governor Wallace has appointed E. L. Bartlett, of Santa Fe, Santa Fe county, and Theodore Maxwell, of Gallup, Bernalillo county, notaries public in and for their respective counties.

Madam Rumor has it that before the New Year has long been past three weddings will occur in Santa Fe in which society young ladies and young men will play very prominent parts. Active preparations for these important events are said to be under way, and it is semi-officially announced that at the proper time the friends of the couples will be taken into the secret and told all about it.
Yesterday noon Mrs. I. H. Rapp gave a luncheon in honor of Mrs. J. E. Hurley and Mrs. Van Patten, of Las Vegas, who were in the city for the day. The reception and dining rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow and white, and the function was one of the prettiest given in the city for some time past. There were present Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Van Patten, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Spieser, Mrs. Money, Mrs. Lynch and Miss Young.
Rev. Father Francolon, of Manitou, Colo., who has been spending a few days in this city on ecclesiastical business, returned north this morning over the D. & R. G. While here he spent some time looking over the ancient collection of relics at Gold's, and found a really fine painting of the head of St. John, the apostle. The painting was at least 250 years old, and much obscured with the grimy accumulations of decades. The visitor, who is a connoisseur in art matters, took pains to clean this all off, and was much pleased with the result of his labors. Father Francolon believes the work was of Spanish origin.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wisner, of Detroit, who are stopping at the sanitarium, leave next week for their Michigan home to spend Christmas there.

Novena masses are being said daily at the cathedral for nine days as preparatory to the Christmas festival.
Henry White, of Creede, arrived last night from the south en route north to Colorado and registered at the Exchange hotel.
Last night's D. & R. G. came down with a double-header, the extra engine returning north, light, this morning ahead of the passenger.
There will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning as the pastor is to administer the communion at the Spanish church.
There was not a pound of coal in town this morning, but Superintendent Hurley promised that if he could find the cars he would send a special coal train to this city today.
J. A. McDalruid and Thos. Waters, of Guelph, Ont., arrived from the east last night on a trip through the western country, and are guests while in town at the Exchange. They may remain here for a week.
There was to have been a meeting yesterday of the Mary Mining and Smelting Company, but President Wisner was sick, so the meeting was postponed until this afternoon. Nearly all of the 600,000 shares of stock are represented, and the stockholders here have been over the claims and the plant and are much pleased with the outlook. J. S. Buler, of Evansville, Ind., M. Balce and F. C. Buell, of Cerrillos, are in town to attend the meeting.
As the New Mexican goes to press the football game between the teams of the Albuquerque and Santa Fe Indian schools is in full blast. The day has been threatening; snowing a little this morning, and promising rain this afternoon,

IT WILL CONDUCE TO ROSY CHEEKS AND GOOD HEALTH.
W. H. GOEBEL, Agt.

but the impending storm is holding off, as the clerk of the weather is obliging today, and does not want to disappoint the boys. There is a good attendance, and a lively interest in the contest.
The report that the White Ash coal mine is played out is vigorously denied by Superintendent Dugan and Mr. Dudrow, who say that the prospects for a fine output from the mine are better than ever. Twenty-five additional miners will be here tomorrow night from Pennsylvania, and 15 more are en route from Pittsburgh, Kan.
Rev. R. P. Pope, a missionary Baptist, who came up to Santa Fe from Weed, N. M., to do some special work among the convicts at the penitentiary, will preach at the St. John's M. E. church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.
The city council will meet next Monday night, for the first time since the removal to the new quarters on the plaza. M. Balce and F. C. Buell, of Cerrillos, mining men, are registered today at the Claire on business.
The local office of the weather bureau has received word from Professor Moore, chief of the bureau, that hereafter New Mexico will be included in the district over which the "norther" signal will be displayed. The "norther" signal is a red flag with a black center, and when displayed indicates a forecast of high northerly winds accompanied by snow, with temperature below freezing. Heretofore this signal has been used only in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Indian territory, Oklahoma and Texas. Warnings of "northers" are unusually accurate for the plain countries, and are of immense value to cattle men, who usually get from 24 to 48 hours' notice of the approaching storm, and are thus enabled to take precautionary measures for the protection of their stock. Remember the signal, a red flag, with a black center.
Yesterday the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 36 degrees, at 4:00 p. m.; minimum, 19 degrees, at 12:40 p. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 28 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 64 per cent.
U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Threatening weather with light rain in southern portion tonight and Sunday.
