Throw Away Your Eye-Glasses!
A FREE PRESCRIPTION.
You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.
Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses, can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Optona, fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NURSERY FOR THE SPINELESS CACTUS
Deming, N. M., Dec. 22.—The latest thing in agriculture is a strong movement to establish a spineless cactus nursery in the vicinity of Deming. H. A. Longshore, an expert of Atlanta, has been in California for several months looking up the matter, and is making arrangements to establish a nursery here to supply any quantity of this variety of stock food which has proven so profitable in other sections of the arid southwest. Interested with Mr. Longshore are Herman Vestal and Thos. R. Taylor, prominent farmers of this vicinity. It is the purpose of the newly formed organization to get something like a quarter of a million plants to start the movement. It is the purpose of the gentleman to set out at least a quarter section as a starter. The spineless cactus is one of Mr. Burbank's western pets and can be used as a forage crop for all kinds of live stock. Mr. Longshore is authority for saying that it is better for stock than alfalfa, and will produce many fold more than wild cactus that grows in abundance on the mesas west of Deming. It is estimated that 100 tons of the finest kind of spineless cactus can be produced on one acre of land. In fact, this very thing has been done. It is stated on good authority that dairy cows produce 10 per cent more of butter and milk when fed this kind of forage, and that it is the very best food obtainable for hogs, sheep, chickens and other fowls. The plant is very prolific in its growth, as each one of the slabs will produce from six to ten slabs the first six months and about double this number during a year. When properly grown the slabs weigh from 5 to 7 pounds each, and Mr. Burbank has produced them that weigh as high as 10 pounds each. It is interesting to note in this connection that Mrs. Achsa Field has tried raising the spineless cactus this year in her front lawn. One slab was planted in the dry soil and watered once just to get the soil well set around it. Another slab was planted in the same soil and watered frequently. The one that was not watered grew and bore prolifically. The one that was frequently given water died before the season was half over. This was a very good test and shows that the plant thrives without water and that irrigation kills it. Another thing that is agitating the minds of some of our farmers just at present is the growing of cotton. It is conservatively estimated by those who have grown cotton for a number of years that the seeds will pay all cost of irrigation and labor, and that the cotton can be safely set aside as almost a net asset. A good many single stalks of cotton have been raised from time to time in different parts of the valley and have been pronounced by those who are familiar with the raising of cotton to be of the finest quality that can be grown anywhere in the country.
Miss Katherine Wamel has been entertaining her friend, Miss Marion Bishop, of Santa Fe, the latter going from here to California.
Sam T. Clark, Deming's member of the San Diego exposition commission of New Mexico, is spending a few days with the commission at the coast city going over the plans that will be pursued by the board next year. Mr. Clark is planning to make the Deming feature of the exposition one of very great interest.
Dr. A. Ward Miller Tree and soil specialist gave a very interesting lecture at the chamber of commerce Friday afternoon concerning the culture of trees, lawns and the general improvement of civic conditions.
J. G. McRay, of Manitowish, Mich., and H. H. Harlan, of the Pan Handle, Texas, are interested visitors at Deming.

LIGHT SNOW FELL 12 HOURS YESTERDAY

It was 8 degrees above 0 at 6 o'clock this morning.
All Santa Fe shivered for a few minutes, but soon roaring fires were built to keep the people comfortable in their houses and huge coats, many of them fur, added calories of heat to their bodies while outdoors.
It was a dry, stimulating, healthful cold, for all that. It put the elastic in one's step, it shot the sparkle to the eye and painted the roses on the cheek. It was the cold that bids farewell to miasma, noxious vapors and the long-enduring fly.
Santa Feans, who have traveled some, did not complain at this debut of winter, but congratulated themselves that Santa Fe has four seasons of the year so that there is not that monotony experienced in southern California and other places, where Jack Frost seldom visits.
The long stream of people wending their way to the post office, which is the mecca of gift-givers and gift-receivers at this season, suggested that a first class smoker was in progress. The puffs of steamy-smoke from the invisible cigarette which Jack Frost held to the mouths of men, women and children, looked quite "social."

ATTEMPT MADE ON LIFE OF PREACHER

Blairsville, Pa., Dec. 22.—What is believed to have been an attempt to assassinate Rev. Dr. R. E. McClure, pastor of the Blairsville United Presbyterian church and president of the Indiana County Anti-Saloon league, failed late last night when a bullet fired at the minister penetrated a bible, which he carried under his arm, and made a slight abrasion upon his left side. The authorities are searching for two men, one of whom fired two shots at the clergyman and who dropped his hat in escaping. Dr. McClure has been pastor of the United Presbyterian church here for twenty-two years. He is widely known over this section of Pennsylvania through his activities in anti-saloon crusades.

HALF AN HOUR IN A FIERY LIMEKILN

Frederick, Md., Dec. 22.—By catching a crossbeam as he fell into a blazing limekiln near Frederick, Solomon Folge, a workman, saved himself from being burned to death.

Weakened by the shock, he hung for ten minutes before he was able to draw himself up. Meanwhile the kiln flames ignited his clothes. They were nearly burned from his body, and his face and hands were terribly scorched. Folge today is in a critical condition.

Folge was trying to repair a stubborn kiln, that had been "stuck" nearly all day. He stepped upon the refractory part to make it descend, and as he did so, it gave way, and he went down with the molten mass. In his fall he clutched blindly upward and grabbed a crossbeam.

The kilns were deserted, and Folge was found almost unconscious about half an hour later.

"WHITE HOUSE ROMANCE" ENDS IT DIVORCE.

MRS. HILDEGARDE MCKENNA PULTZ.

New York, Dec. 22.—The divorce of Hildegard McKenna Pultz, daughter of Justice McKenna, justice of the United States supreme court, from John Leggett Pultz, ends a "White House romance." Mrs. Pultz before her marriage, was a great friend of Miss Alice Roosevelt, and her marriage followed that of the president's daughter.

THRILLING STORY OF THE TERRIBLE

"MARCH OF THE 2000 REFUGEES."

Senorita Caroline Ronquillo, Heroine of the terrible march—Don Luis Terrazas, the Rockefeller of Mexico, surrounded by American soldiers at Presidio, Texas. Taken by Staff Photographer Durborough at Presidio, especially for The New Mexican.

Fainting Women and Children and Despairing Men, Throwing Away their Valuables, Desperate with Fear, Tramp 150 Miles Through Cruel Mexican Desert to American Soil for Safety from Vengeful Rebels. By W. H. DURBOROUGH. (Staff Photographer and Correspondent of The New Mexican.)

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 22.—"The march of the 2,000 refugees," will go down in Mexican history as one of the republic's most thrilling events.

Two thousand men, women and children, wild with fear, without food part of them half-starved with thirst, marched 150 miles in nine days over the desert from Chihuahua City to the Rio Grande river—and safety on American soil.

I came to Presidio to await the arrival of the Caravan. On the afternoon before it reached the river I saw it from a hill with the aid of a spyglass. The caravan stretched out in a snake-like line, fully 30 miles long, back into the cruel desert—automobiles, wagons, buggies, men on horseback many afoot, and, last of all, a body of federal soldiers, the latter fugitives with the rest.

Why this heart-breaking march? When Rebel General Villa beat the federals at La Mesa, Chihuahua City was at his mercy. He announced that he would hang all the bankers of Chihuahua, including the Rockefeller of Mexico, Don Luis Terrazas. He declared he would make the city pay dearly for helping Huerta and the federal army.

Panic seized the people of better means. Don Luis gathered $2,500,000 in gold and placed it with other valuables in three automobiles. Bankers, business men and others followed his example. Two days later the caravan was formed and the dreadful march began.

The supply of food was insufficient. Only a few casks of water were taken along and the desert yielded but little more. There were 4,000 federal soldiers, including the beaten Huerta generals, Orozco, Salazar, Mecado and Caranea, forming a rear guard.

Of the 2,000 in the main body, more than a thousand were women and children and there were over 50 babies. All were people of the well-to-do class, unused to any hardships.

The men were heroic. They gave up food and water for the weaker ones. Horses and mules were killed for food of a value of $100,000 and more.

Twice small bodies of rebels attacked the banks of the caravan. They were quickly beaten off, but this meant lost time and increased fears. The days were hot and the nights were freezing cold. Clothing and blankets thrown away in the day's forced march were badly needed at night and the suffering was intense. There was little wood in the desert and in consequence very few camp fires.

Conditions were pitiful the seventh day on the route. A dozen women where I write. All around me are pathetic sights: faces full of misery, young and old huddled around camp fires, most of them with not a thing left in the world but the clothes they wear.

But safety from the rebel firing squad, safety of women from worse than the firing squad means a whole lot to them.

In anticipation of the arrival of the refugees, Uncle Sam had sent a lot of soldiers to Presidio and they ministered to the sick and exhausted like a band of angels.

Don Luis Terrazas and his $2,500,000 in gold have gone to Long Beach, Cal. He told me he would later tour Europe for his health. He is 85.

The heroine of the terrible nine days was Senorita Carolina Ronquillo daughter of Manuel Ronquillo, fugitive chief of police of Santa Rosalia. She traveled in a wagon 153 miles of the way. She was busy every moment of her time, nursing sick women, taking care of babies, binding up the sore feet of despairing ones, giving her food and water to those who needed the nourishment most.

THE DREAM OF GOLD FADES AS TESTED

Quebec, Dec. 22.—Captain Joseph E. Bernier, Arctic explorer, who has returned from Baffin's Land, said there was no gold there. "The report that there was," he added, "was made to the government without my knowledge by the second mate of the steamer Arctic."

"I reached Baffin's Land," said the captain, "August 28, 1912, and learned that the steamer Algonquin had been lost July 16. The crew of four men went on the island and lived in my house and ate all the government provisions there and went away carrying furs valued at $1,000. They were taken off by the Neptune."

"The island is rich in resources. The rivers are full of salmon and the hunting is good. The warm season there is about five months in duration, but there are only two months of real heat. The only drawback is the non-production of vegetables; only flowers grow. There are no trees, but the climate is healthful."

Hudson straits, Captain Bernier said, are navigable four months in the year, with modern safeguards wireless stations and specially constructed steamers.

POISONED NAPKIN SUCCEEDS NEEDLE

New York, Dec. 22.—The deadly poisoned napkin now steps to front rank with the poisoned needle and drugged wine as one of those terrible things that horrid men use to overcome, poor, innocent, helpless young girls.

James Dunleavy, a chauffeur, was held in the West Side Court in $1,500 hail on a story told by Lillian Stephenson, a blonde, who admitted the impeachment of being a waitress.

"While waiting for his order this man called me over to his table and said, 'Don't you want to smell something nice?'" Lillian testified. "I smiled and said I would, thinking that he had some perfume on a handkerchief. He pressed a napkin against my face and a stupefying sensation came over me. I remember all, but faintly, and Mr. Carbone, the night manager, had to go to work over me."

Harry Donohu, who was in the restaurant, also said he smelled the napkin, and it made him feel queer, very queer.

"Hysterical nonsense, pure and simple," asserted the defendant when asked what he had to say.

HENEY LOST INTEREST IN THE LAW

"IT'S ONLY FOR THE RICH," HE SAYS—WANTS TO BE UNITED STATES SENATOR SO HE CAN HELP MAKE JUST LAWS.

(By Jack Junkmeyer.)

San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 22.—Pointing out the invidious part played by many lawyers in fastening upon the American people the dominance of corporate greed Francis J. Heney, noted craft prosecutor and pioneer Progressive, says he has lost his ardor for the law, the profession that has brought him high distinction.

This came upon the eve of his hottest political campaign, while waiting for Governor Hiram W. Johnson to decide whether he wished re-election as executive or aspired to the toga of U. S. Senator Perkins of California.

Heney wanted the senatorship, but had announced that he would run for governor if Johnson decided upon the former goal.

Either way, conservation was to be Heney's major platform plank.

"I have lost my former absorbing interest in the law," he says, "because in serving those from whom the big fees come, I am only helping them saddle their system of dollar dominance with all its corruption upon the people; I am only aiding in the shameful exploitation of the many by the few."

"What I want to do," he continued, "is to help make laws which will remove the causes of corruption and injustice and that great inequality of wealth which brings poverty and misery to the masses."

Conservation, Heney believes, is a necessary foundation for the assurance of equality of opportunity and industrial enfranchisement. He has, therefore, centered his campaign largely on the policies which Roosevelt and Pinchet gave prominence.

"The most fundamental legislation that is today urgent, in addition to currency and trust-curling measures," he asserts, "is that looking to the perpetual ownership by the people of the water power of this country and its development under a leasing system."

"The reason is that the minimum of water power easily available, according to experts, exceeds 200,000,000 horsepower, equivalent to the energy of 2,400,000,000 average men working eight hours a day forever, for water-power is practically inexhaustible.

"Anyone can see what the partial control or the monopoly of this tremendous reservoir of power must mean to the manufacturing or transportation interests and to the general welfare of the country."

Heney is for fundamentals, he declares, "not a doctoring of symptoms."

CHRISTMAS

Your Gift To Her---Or Him

Your little girl or boy has a natural gift for music. Are you spoiling it?

When she hums or sings at play, she is merely expressing this natural gift—her talent. All children have this gift for music. Sometimes parents develop it. Often they starve it.

Often still, they spoil it—spoil it with a poor piano—a piano "good enough to practice on."

The untrue tones of a cheap piano spoil the ear. The delicate brain cells which register sound, pick up the habit of untrue sound—a habit which they cannot unlearn. You know how a singer with a "poor ear" sings off the key and never knows it.

Yet from a good piano the ear will just as readily pick up true sound habits—habits which mean refinement and taste.

Develop your child's natural gift. Give her a chance for a true musical education on a good piano. It will mean happiness in after life—popularity—perhaps a career.

The Learnard-Lindemann Co.

Is the place to buy a time honored instrument. What better Christmas gift to your boy or girl than one of our rich toned beautiful pianos. We have a plan by which you can afford to give your child just such a gift this Christmas—to give him or her a good musical education now, instead of waiting until you have saved up for it. No matter where you live a small payment down will put a new piano in your home.

TESREAU, SUCCESSOR OF ED WALSH, SPIT KING

With Ed Walsh Through, the Giants' Human Atomizer Will Wear Crown in 1914.

Charles ("Jeff") Tesreau of the Giants finished the season of 1912 as the best pitcher in the National league—judging pitchers by the method since adopted—which shows the pitcher's actual ability and not that of his fielders.

This year Christy Mathewson ranks first and Tesreau third. In 1914 Tesreau with another year's experience, will be recognized as the spit ball king, Ed Walsh having pitched his last game, unless a miracle is worked in his behalf.

Tesreau was introduced to major league baseball at the age of 19, following months of toil under the tutelage of Wilbert Robinson, while he acquired control of the spitter.

Then, when the Giants were contending with Marquard "blown up" after 19 straight wins, with Mathewson wobbling, McGraw took the blankets off his human atomizer and Tesreau pitched wonderful ball—so wonderful that when the post season games began McGraw sent him in to pitch the opening game against "Smoky Joe" Wood.

Tesreau went to the Giants after a wandering career that makes the travels of Ulysses look like an afternoon's stroll. He played in Perryville, Mo., Houston, Galveston, San Antonio and Austin, Texas, Shreveport, La., and Detroit. For Houston he lost every game he pitched by one run—but he lost. At Detroit he was so wild he was given transportation within two days.

Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club, says he didn't pull a "boner" when he released Tesreau, but that he was unable to devote the time necessary to develop the giant. He considers McGraw fortunate in having Robinson, who also gets credit for making a pitcher out of Rube Marquard.

Following his exit from Detroit, Tesreau went to Shreveport, where he somehow found enough control to induce McGraw to sign him. McGraw gambled on "Jeff's" size and strength, not his past performances.

Just as Ed Walsh spent two years before he became a great pitcher, so did Tesreau spend many months, with this difference—he had in Robinson a splendid coach, who started out with one object and that was to make Tesreau a spit ball pitcher.

Time, hard work and good coaching transformed Tesreau, so that when Marquard "blew" and Matty wavered, he stepped into the breach and withstood the shock of the Cubs' assault.

Tesreau's control was not so good in 1913 as it was in 1912, although he does not admit this. But with two good seasons behind him, Tesreau will return to the game next spring with more confidence than ever. There is no pitcher in sight who can cope with him for the crown as the champion human atomizer of baseball.

incident to the work of a boxer preparing himself for a big fight.

Torres had his turn in the afternoon, and he, too, showed lightning speed and wonderful cleverness in his workout. The local boy realizes that he has a future before him and is determined to make the best of it. If he is able to defeat Matthews decisively he will be in a position to demand some good matches, and he is working for the coming battle as if his life depended on the result.

WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 22.—Traders who went into the market for a turn on the long side last week were disposed to realize today and their offerings held the advance in check.

Weakness of special stocks imposed in the recent market as did foreign selling of Canadian Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated. The preparations for year-end settlements at Berlin, where some money strain was looked for, were responsible for the selling from that quarter of Union Canadian Pacific, which sagged over four points. Western Union was again depressed and Missouri Pacific went to 23 1/4, the lowest point in 20 years.

The range of prices as a whole was narrow, with the average at noon a shade under Saturday's close.

Bonds were irregular. Active bidding for Southern Pacific gave tone to the whole market and prices hardened. Southern Pacific rose to 88 5/8 and the telephone and telegraph stocks rallied 1 to 2 points.

Foreign houses sold 30,000 shares. A more optimistic sentiment was diffused by a brisk rally in the coal stocks. The general average was raised above last week's close.

The market closed strong. The short interest provided a leverage for marking up prices in a substantial manner. Many low priced stocks were conspicuously strong.

Gains from 1 to 2 points were made in many cases.

DEATH RATE IN WEST VIRGINIA IS LOWER

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 22.—One death from accident for every 700,000 tons of coal mined in six of the coal producing counties of West Virginia. In the first eleven months of 1913, as shown in the report of Earl Henry, chief of the bureau of mines, made public today, in ten coal counties, there were no deaths from mine accidents. Total deaths in the mines

KNIGHTS PRESENT CHAPLAIN KUPPERS WITH GOLD CHALICE

Presenting their chaplain, Father Peter Kuppers, with a gold chalice, beautifully engraved, the Knights of Columbus extended him their hearty wishes for success in his new field of labor.

The announcement of the appointment of Father Kuppers, for over a year assistant priest at the Cathedral, to be pastor at Chaperito, 25 miles east of Las Vegas, at first brought sorrow to the priest's many friends here, especially to the Knights of Columbus whose council he organized in Santa Fe. But realizing that the field of labor for the energetic pastor would be broader, the Knights felt gratified at the honor bestowed on their chaplain. So last night they gathered in their rooms on Water street and gave a reception for the departing priest.

Grand Knight E. P. Davies presided and in a short speech expressed the thanks of the knights for all that Father Kuppers had done for them, first in getting the council established and later in serving as the spiritual director.

Then the gift of the council—the superb chalice of gold—was presented to Father Kuppers who was unable for some moments to reply, so great was his appreciation of the souvenir which he will use each day at the sacrifice of the mass.

Rev. Besset, Successor. The council elected Father A. Besset as chaplain, succeeding Father Kuppers. Father Besset is pastor of the church of Our Lady of Guadalupe and joined the local council of Knights when the council was organized here. Father Besset is very popular with the Knights and they are much gratified that he accepted the post of chaplain.

VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT IS THE CHARGE

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 22.—Coal mining operations at the properties of the Royal Gorge Coal company of Canon City, are at a standstill because of a controversy between the miners and officials, according to information received here today by local operators. The Royal Gorge company entered into a contract with the United Mine Workers of America two weeks after the Colorado strike was called and has been in full operation since then. The miners walked out following a dispute over the wages of one of their number and because of this, the operators charge violation of the contract. The mine employed 65 coal diggers.

SUIT BROUGHT TO FIX BOUNDARIES OF COAL LANDS

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 22.—A suit involving the title to several thousand acres of valuable coal land situated near the Colorado-New Mexico line was instituted today in district court by J. M. John against the Wooten Land and Fuel company, owned by J. Pierpont Morgan interests, Fisher's Peak, or Raton Mountain, a historic landmark of the Southwest, is located on the disputed territory. All of the land was formerly a part of the Maxwell Grant and the dispute is over the location of the boundary lines.

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL ON THE STAGE

PARISIAN ARTIST SAYS VERA MAXWELL IS WITHOUT A PEER ON THE AMERICAN STAGE, AS FAR AS BEAUTY IS CONCERNED.

Miss Vera Maxwell.

The most beautiful girl on the American stage has been found—Miss Vera Maxwell!

She has just been voted to the pinnacle of the American beauty column in Paris, the home of the connoisseur.

A full-page colored portrait of Miss Maxwell appeared in one of the Paris newspapers lately. It was after a painting by Paul Hellen, the noted artist, who unqualifiedly declares she is the star of all American stage beauties.

FOOTBALL RULES NOT TO BE CHANGED IN 1914.

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—There will be few, if any, changes in the football rules for 1914. The intercollegiate code gave more general satisfaction throughout the season just closed than ever before in the history of the game. The principal criticisms made against the 1913 brand of football was directed rather against the lack of inventiveness by coaches than the rules under which the game was played. If the game as played by a particular university or in a given section was dull and uninteresting, the fault was not with the rules.

LEVY'S CHRISTMAS PRESENT WILL BE A HUMMER.

The Christmas present which Director Mark Levy will give to the fight fans of Albuquerque Thursday afternoon will take the form of one of the best boxing cards that the sports of the city have ever had the pleasure of witnessing. That the fight fans appreciate this fact is shown by the large advance sale of seats for the event.

Both Matthews and Torres, the principals in the main event, are working hard for the Christmas mill. Torres had the floor of the gymnasium in the afternoon yesterday, and Matthews at night. Matthews took on Al Spaulding and Barney Kurtz in several fast rounds, in addition to going through the various other stunts

"TAKE THE ODD JOB AND YOU'LL COME OUT EVEN!"

Says Movie Star Who Started in Doing "Odd Bits of Work."

MISS MARGUERITE CLAYTON.

"Take the odd job when it is offered and you need not worry about coming out even."

This is the philosophy of a brand new arrival in filmdom who has proved her own argument, conclusively, in very short order.

She is Marguerite Clayton, a Salt Lake City girl, demure, petite and beautiful!

Quite by chance, one day, she picked up a home town paper and read an "ad" asking for a girl to do "odd bits of work" for a moving picture company.

"Guess I'll try that," she announced to the astonished family, and off she went.

To be sure, you know, without being told, that this same Marguerite Clayton, not yet 18, by the way, has been playing all the best parts opposite the ever-popular Broncho Billy for several months at Niles, California.

And now, they say, she is going to alternate her picture-playing with real parts at the new Broncho Billy Galey theater in San Francisco.

A mighty quick climb and it started with just an "odd job" ad.

JACK COOMBS GOES TO MAINE TO SPEND WINTER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 22.—Joan W Coombs, the Philadelphia American league club's pitcher, who was unable to play with the team last season because of illness, left here last night for his home at West Kennebunk, Me. He plans to spend the winter on his farm and expects to join the Athletics in Philadelphia about June. He will not accompany the team on the spring training trip.

"I have been cautioned to take my time this winter," said Coombs, before leaving last night. "I am gaining weight rapidly and feel fine, now that I can walk and run a little. As a result of my illness, I am one-eighth of an inch shorter, but I am ten times the man I was six months ago."

Coombs' physician stated yesterday that there was no reason why Coombs should not be as good as a pitcher this year as ever he was.

FEDERAL LEAGUE HAS THIRTY BIG LEAGUERS.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 22.—Thirty big league players have been signed to play next season with the Federal league, President James A. Gilmore of the Federals, said here today. Full plans of the league for next year will be given in a detailed statement next Monday, said Gilmore.

LANGFORD EASILY WINS FROM JOE JEANETTE

Paris, Dec. 22.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight pugilist of Boston, was awarded the decision on points over Joe Jeanette of Hoboken, N. J., at the end of a twenty-round contest here Saturday night. The bout was considered in France to be for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Langford forced the fighting throughout the battle. Jeanette took a count of nine three times in the thirteenth round and at the end of the twentieth round was barely able to stand. In the twelfth, fifteenth and nineteenth rounds Jeanette landed hard blows on his opponent, but they were ineffectual. Jeanette's gameness, frequently brought cheers from the spectators.

WELTERWEIGHTS TO MEET IN CONTEST AT GALLUP

Gallup, N. M., Dec. 22.—What promises to be the best boxing contest ever staged in northwestern New Mexico is that scheduled for Christmas afternoon, when Rube Smith, of Denver, and Bob Evans, of Mexico City, welterweights, clash in a ten-round bout. Both men are training hard for the clash and their admirers are about evenly divided, though Smith's record is the more familiar to local fans.

SCENE FROM "THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS," TO BE PRESENTED AT THE ELKS THEATER TOMORROW NIGHT, TUESDAY, DEC. 23.

There is a character in "The Shepherd of the Hills" the dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's novel, which comes to the Elks theater tomorrow night, called "Preachin' Bill." Despite the roughness of his character, he has a brand of philosophy that in its way is quite equal to that of "David Harum." Some of his sayings are: "Some fellers can do mighty big things in a durned little way." "Every hound has his strong points but some has more of 'em." "There is a bond of fellowship in sorrow that knows no conventionalities." "God 'mighty fixed it somehow so th' birds and varmints don't make no mistake, but left hit plumb easy for men and women t' make durned fools of themselves." "Hit's good for a feller t' be down in the back out in a while, if hit warn't for that we'd git to standin' so durned proud and straight we'd go plumb backwards." "In his face was the look of one who had done fought his fight to the finish and war too dead beat t' even be glad it war over."

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Loss To Shepherds.

During the recent heavy snow storms and severe cold weather, the sheepmen of Taos county have been heavy financial losers with their sheep.

Bonifacio Fernandez, of Taos, has lost 700 sheep over in Chico, Union county.

Nicholas Romero, of Canyon, reports a loss of 1550 sheep in the same place.

Thomas Martinez lost 1050 sheep near Folsom, Union county.

None of these three sheepmen can afford to have such severe reverses as these heavy losses. They certainly have our sympathy.—Taos Recorder, STATE

Does It Revert.

Information was given out this week that the St. L. R. M. & P. Ry. company will again take over its holdings and operate the road as it did up to August 1, this year.

It was stated that while on his recent trip to Holland, J. Van Houten was successful in making negotiations whereby he secured loans with which the company can settle its affairs with the Santa Fe, and operate the road as previously. It is understood that the Santa Fe was given the option of either reverting the property back to its former owners or extend the line westward on to Gallup from Ute Park, and connect with its main line at that point.

In the event that the Santa Fe does not revert the property to its former owners, construction work must be commenced by March 1, next year.—Raton Reporter.

A Near Accident.

Dr. S. M. Johnson and his son, Rodrick, arrived in the city from the case are that at the October term of the district court for this county. Hal H. Major was indicted for the murder of his daughter and he is now awaiting trial on the charges thus presented to the court at the adjourned session which will open here on January 5, 1914.

Having waited one year, Mr. Major and his son, Mitchell, the beneficiaries under the policy, have sued the company for the amount due—$2500, together with the interest to the date of settlement. Mr. Major is represented by Edward A. Mann, of Albuquerque, and Herbert B. Holt, of Las Cruces.—Alamogordo News-Advertiser.

Looks Bad.

We are informed that the buildings of J. P. May some 4 miles north of town were burned a day or two after he and his family left for Texas. It is very evident that the fire was of incendiary origin, as there had been no fire around the place for two or three days, and from the further fact that the stables were so located with relation to the house that the fire could not be communicated from one to the other, but must have had a separate origin.

We regret very much that this should have occurred, not only on Mr. May's account, but also for the reason that it looks very bad for the country if settlers cannot leave their improvements for a short time without their being maliciously destroyed. Such occurrences as this will do more to delay the development of this region than any dry season or other natural disadvantage.—Vaughn Reporter.

JUST ONE DAY'S COURT STORY

Ida M. Tarbell publishes in the January American Magazine a thrilling description of the work of the Court of Domestic Relations in Chicago—a court which settles disputes between husbands and wives. Following is a story of a wife beating case that Miss Tarbell saw settled:

"In a touching case a woman of 50, gentle, hard-working and respectable, had served a warrant on her husband for beating her. They had no children; he never drank. He worked regularly, and regularly beat her up. 'She wasn't strong as she used to be,' she said apologetically, and 'she could not stand it.' The judge looked at the big, brut, surly-faced fellow, and broke out in wrath. 'You've got to go to the Bridewell, that's the place for you, a man who will beat a woman like that!—all worn out, and a good wife, anybody can see that. You'll go to the Bridewell for a year.'

"The man looked up in real alarm—'But what will she do, Judge? We ain't got much ahead. She ain't got anybody but me. How'll she live?' His concern for her was perfectly sincere. 'She's nobody but you, you, and you beat her,' exploded the judge. The man seemed like one wakened from a stupor. 'I'll never do it again, on my honor—I won't. I didn't know she was sick; I didn't realize. Things got so hard—nothing but slave, and I just got into the habit, guess I took it out on her. I'll never strike her again in this world.'

"The woman behind him, with the tears streaming down her face, said: 'He won't, Judge. Don't send him away. He won't beat me if he says he won't. He has had it hard.'

"Well, they went off happy and I, for one, do not doubt his keeping his word."

FORMAL CONFESSION OF CRIME MADE

THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE AT ITS WASHINGTON MEETING ACKNOWLEDGED BY ITS ACTION, THE WRONG DONE AT CHICAGO.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—The Republican National Committee has at last made formal confession of the crime it committed at the national convention in Chicago in June, 1912. In its meeting here it rejected by a vote of 35 to 14 a resolution covering the "compromise and amalgamation" proposition of Senator Cummins and others for an early national convention to revise the basis of representation in future national conventions and to effect other reforms in party procedure. Almost immediately thereafter it adopted unanimously another resolution to effect these reforms by its own action, subject to ratification by the states in some manner yet to be devised.

Each resolution carried the confession of the crime of 1912 in specific terms, the resolution adopted as well as the one rejected. The resolution voted up provides that the delegates to the national convention in 1916 shall be selected in conformity to the laws of their states, as the resolution voted down provided for the selection to the proposed special convention in 1914, which will not be held. In both cases the primary laws of the states are specifically recognized as paramount to the hitherto all powerful and sufficient national committee, even in cases where such primary law provides for the election of all the delegates from a state at large. This was the case in California last year, and it was on this pretext that the same national committee stole two votes from that state. Both resolutions further provide for the seating on the temporary roll of the national convention of delegates who hold certificates of election issued under the law of any state.

Fully one-half of the men in attendance at the meeting personally took part in the outrage at Chicago last year. In personnel and influence they easily dominated the session. Yet they joined with the new membership of the committee in the unanimous vote by which they openly confessed for all time that their action of last year was wrong and unjustifiable.

At the same time the meeting demonstrated that the Republican remnant of today is as badly divided in its own ranks as was the Republican party before the great split of last year. And it is made more certain than ever that there is no genuine basis for believing that the two factions of the remnant ever will be able to "get together" in the harmony for which so many of them pleaded so forcefully at the meeting.

GIRL KILLED BY BOMB SENT TO HER EMPLOYER

scoundance of Hunt, who was at the station to meet her.

Hunt had paid her fare and had a cab at the station, and they were driven to the cripple's store, where he usually slept in the rear room. Miss Muir began to grow suspicious and demanded to be allowed to depart, but Hunt insisted that she go to his boarding house, which he called his home, and to this the pretty girl consented. He attempted to engage a room for "himself and wife," but the occupant of the house objected, and the girl was kept alone over night and Hunt left.

Hunt, who it is alleged has enticed many girls to his place of business, was given his choice either to stand a charge of "white slavery" and to go to the county home, or to accept the offer of an indefinite period, agreeing never to return to Downingtown. Miss Muir was sent back to Cleveland. She formerly was a saleswoman in a Reading, Pa., store.

CUPID KNOCKS OUT POSTMASTER GENERAL AND POSTMISTRESS STILL HOLDS JOB.

BRIDE UPSETS DEPARTMENT RULE AND BREAKS TIME-HONORED PRECEDENT BY RETAINING HER POSITION AFTER MARRIAGE.

Port Orchard, Wash., Dec. 22.—Cupid wins over Postmaster General Burleson in the first round. And he scored a clean K. O.

Postmistresses can now marry and hold their jobs.

Kid Cupid and the P. M. general went to the mat over the marriage of Ethel Joslin, postmistress of Port Orchard, appointed under the new administration.

No one knows why, but it seems to have been an unwritten law that when a postmistress became a wife she lost her job, so when the department heard that Miss Ethel had changed her name to Hanks, orders to appoint her successor were issued. W. E. Pitcher, cashier of the Port Orchard bank, decided he would like the job.

Ethel told hubby she thought it was real mean to fire her when she had plenty of time to distribute the letters. Hubby agreed and told her to go to and upset these department rules.

Mrs. Hanks wrote to the central committee-man and he called. A deputization of Port Orchard folks—mostly women—were on hand and told him that the Democratic party would find itself in bad with a lot of perfectly good voters if it discriminated against the wives.

Party leaders sat up and took notice. It was the women who elected a Democratic governor in Washington last year. An investigation proved that Pitcher, the new appointee, was a Republican.

"What, put out a Democratic postmistress to give a Republican a job? Never!"

The postmaster general was deluged with letters. In the meantime the senate had confirmed the appointment of Pitcher but the department held up his credentials and now comes the announcement that Mrs. Hanks will be retained, either by new appointment or by changing her name on the record.

QUEER TALES FROM ANIMAL KINGDOM.

The "King of Birds," owes much of its majestic, fearless mien to its unblinking eyes. To enable the Eagle to concentrate its vision from aloft without interruption nature had provided its eyes with a second, transparent lid; though this lid may be moving frequently, it is not apparent to one looking at the bird. The Eagle's eyes are shaded by heavy brows to enable it to concentrate its gaze upon its prey many feet below it.

JUDGE NEBLETT, SITTING FOR JUDGE MEDLER, SUSPENDS THE COUNTY CLERK AND THREE COMMISSIONERS PENDING THEIR TRIALS IN MARCH, 1914.

NUMEROUS DELAYS IN GETTING A JUDGE

Acasio Gallegos, formerly assistant state superintendent of public instruction, under the last territorial administration, and for the past year county clerk of Torrance county, and county commissioners, Lorenzo Zamora, Juan Cruz Sanchez and Librado Valencia were suspended about 10 o'clock Saturday night at Estancia, by Judge Colin Neblett, of Silver City, sitting for Judge E. L. Medler, pending their trial at Carrizozo, in March on presentments returned by the Torrance county grand jury in October, charging them with incompetency and neglect of duty under Chapter 36 of the Laws of 1909.

The case had been pending in the court for the past two weeks, Col. G. W. Pritchard, of this city, and Herbert W. Clark, of Las Vegas, representing the four county officials. Legal questions caused a postponement over Sunday a week ago, while counsel looked up certain points, and when the case was called last Tuesday, counsel for the defendants then filed objection to Judge Medler on the ground that he was prejudiced. A change of venue had previously been denied. Judge Medler then adjourned the case from day to day until he could secure another judge to sit in the case. Various district judges were communicated with but none could be secured until Judge Neblett was asked to come from Silver City. He agreed to come and reaching Albuquerque attended to reach Estancia by auto from the Duke City, but became snow bound and had to return to Albuquerque. Finally he took the train Saturday to Kennedy and arrived in Estancia late Saturday evening. The case was immediately called but the defendants objected because by this time they were without counsel for some reason or another. They were reminded that the case had simply been adjourned from day to day until another judge could be secured, and the cases were called, resulting in all four being suspended pending their trial on the charges contained in the presentments.

A copy of the suspension order was sent to Governor McDonald yesterday afternoon, and he stated today that he might make interim appointments before the day closed.

Want Roads in Western Socorro Co.
 Members of the Magdalena board of trade, cattlemen and stockmen of western Socorro county, at a meeting with Gov. W. C. McDonald and State Engineer J. A. French, held Saturday night at the Alvarado hotel in Albuquerque, made a plea for the construction of roads in that district.

The western Socorro county people are chiefly interested in the building of a road from the Ocean-to-Ocean highway at Dátil to Tularosa. Reserve and Mongollon. R. A. Morley, chairman of the Socorro county board, said that this road was necessary to cattlemen, stockmen and homesteaders. There are few miles of railroad there and the only outlet for their stock and produce is over wagon roads, he said.

The roads delegates thought that more of the state's receipts from the forest service should be turned over to road building in that part of the county. They said that people of that section contributed considerable to the forest service's receipts in grazing fees.

In the Socorro county delegation were W. M. Borrowdale, of the Magdalena board of trade; Jose Y. Aragon, James W. Medley, N. O. Field and H. T. Mayberry, besides Mr. Morley.

Motion to Dismiss.
 A motion to dismiss was argued in the supreme court this afternoon in the case of Childers vs. Lanham, E. W. Dobson and E. C. Wade, Jr., being the opposing attorneys.

Hearing Adjourned.
 The taking of testimony in the boundary suit between the state of Texas and the state of New Mexico, which has been on at El Paso for several weeks, has been adjourned until Tuesday, December 30th, according to Attorney General F. W. Clancy, who has been representing New Mexico's interests.

Auto Licenses.
 The applications for 1914 auto licenses are beginning to pour into the secretary of state's office in great numbers, and before the first of the year, it is estimated that a considerable proportion of the auto owners of the state will have applied for next year's licenses.

New Highway Launched.
 The Panhandle-Pacific Highway association, to build a road from Amarillo to Albuquerque, was formally launched at Clovis Saturday at a well attended meeting of good roads boosters from eastern New Mexico and west Texas. L. C. Mersfelder, of Clovis, was elected president; D. K. B. Sellers, of Albuquerque, first vice-president; J. L. House, of House, N.
