DEMING GRAPHIC.

VOL. III Entered March 15, 1905, at Deming, N. M., as second class matter, under act of congress, of March 3, 1879. DEMING, LUNA COUNTY, N. M., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1905. No. 41

Thanks.

Thanksgiving day am comin'
Hallelujah-loo!
Roosters am a hummin' Cockadoodle-doo!
Turkey gobbler roostin'
Way up out o' sight.
But Ah guess dar'll be some boostin'
In de stilly night.

Thanksgiving.

Before another issue of the Graphic, Thanksgiving day will have come and gone. On that day about five million turkeys, all young, of course, will yield up their lives, become masticated, "swallowed down" and "assimilated" by the American people as an expression of their gratitude for blessings bestowed. This is perhaps all right from the standpoint of the people, but it does seem to be a little tough on the turkey. Five million turkeys, weighing perhaps forty million pounds, enough to load a freight train twelve miles long; enough so that if they were headed single file for the execution block, as the front gobbler was getting it in the neck, the rear one would be back in the line over 1,300 miles; or, as the front turkey reached Kansas City, the last in the procession would be strutting along the Santa Fe railroad over two hundred miles west of Deming.

The sympathies of good people doubtless go out toward the turkey, but not sufficient to interfere with their appetites when they face the condition of the bird on that particular day. All things are mortal and must pass away, and this occasion seems to be a befitting one to remove the young and tender birds from the temptations, the trials and the vicissitudes of this mortal life.

With the return of Thanksgiving day, as some one says, "For all we have, let us be thankful, and for what we are hustling for, let us be hopeful."

Stock Report.

Special to the Deming Graphic.
Kansas City, Wed. Nov. 22, 1905.
The range country continues to contribute liberally to the cattle supply, although receipts last week dropped off 10,000 head from previous week, to 67,000 head, including 6,000 calves. Colorado shippers had a good deal of trouble getting cars last week, and the supply of 19,000 today contains a larger share of Colorados than usual. The market last week was uneven in cows, closing nearly steady, while stockers and feeders closed about 10 lower for the week, killing steers steady. Conditions on fed steers changed the middle of last week, account of short receipts of them, and prices jumped up 20 to 30 cents after Tuesday. This will revive the feeder business it is thought. Market today is strong and active on cows and country grades, killing steers slow steady. Bulk of the range steers sold last week at $3.00 to $3.50, with a good many sales at $2.50 to $2.90, and choice Panhandle stockers up to $4.00. Cows ranged from $2.00 to $2.60 for bulk of the Southwestern stuff, heavy Colorados at $2.90 to $3.25, including some heifers at $3.15, top Panhandles at $2.90. Heavy range calves sold at $2.35 to $3.75, a few veals at $5.00, bulls $1.85 to $2.15. Liverpool reports American beehives higher today, and encouraging reports also come from the Eastern markets.
Sheep and lambs receipts have been fairly liberal, and markets generally lower, a decline of about a quarter last week. Supply today 6,000, market steady. Best lambs are selling at $6.30 to $7.00, some fed Utahs at $6.55 today, range New Mexicans, 62 lbs., at $5.85 to $6.30.

Son Lost Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. B. Reid, of Harmony, Mo. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a cough or cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reid, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected, and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed at the Palace Drug Store. Trial bottle free.

For Judge Parker's Reappointment.

Below will be found an article clipped from the last issue of the Silver City Independent, every word of which is endorsed, not only by Deming's attorneys, but by nineteen-twentieths of our citizens. We are all in favor of Judge Parker and confidently look for his reappointment:

"Judge Frank W. Parker, the presiding judge of this district, was last week the recipient of an expression of the esteem in which he is held by the members of the local bar in the form of a petition addressed to him signed by every attorney of Silver City and strongly urging that he become a candidate for reappointment to the supreme bench. It has since been understood that Judge Parker will be a candidate for reappointment. In no branch of the government has it become so well established that a good official deserves reappointment as in the judiciary. To the supreme bench in many of the states judges are appointed or elected for life, or at least for much longer terms than the officials of the executive and legislative branches of the government. President Roosevelt in conformance with that policy, has made it a point to re-appoint those judges on the federal bench who have been honest, able and conscientious.

The respect and experience which a good judge gains are of infinite worth to a community and are a government asset which it is public extravagance to discard. It is for these reasons that The Independent advocates and expresses the hope for the re-appointment of Associate Justice Frank W. Parker, of the New Mexico supreme court and presiding judge of the third judicial district, whose term expires next month. Judge Parker's qualifications for the high position which he holds are too well known to require further comment. During the eight years that he has been on the bench he has proved himself an able, conscientious, industrious and just judge, and his services have been most satisfactory to litigants, attorneys and the people in general.

Important.

To all persons who own vacant lots. The Deming City Water Company propose to all owners of unimproved vacant lots, that if the owners will fence in the same, and plant trees and shrubbery; this company will supply the water, and take the best care of the property for one dollar per lot per month, and no further charge to the owners.

This is an excellent opportunity for all owners of vacant lots to improve and beautify the same at a nominal cost. This will not only improve the value of the lots, but those who are intending to build lacer on will have their ornamental shade and fruit trees without having to wait two or three years for them to grow up. 38-4w

Every Ounce You Eat.

Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heart Burn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Palpitation of the heart, etc. W. H. Cook, Tilton, N. H., says: "I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and find it the best remedy for all stomach troubles. It is worth its weight in gold." Palace Drug Store.

A New Territorial Railroad.

Construction work on the grade of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific railway from Elizabethtown, N. M. to Raton, is progressing satisfactorily and rapidly. The contracts for the grade work from Raton to Elizabethtown, seventy-six miles, have been awarded and contractors are procuring teams and men as rapidly as possible.

The mileage of the new road will be according to the located line from Elizabethtown to Raton, seventy-six miles. The line runs from Elizabethtown through the canyon of the Cimarron and crosses the Red river at the old stage station at Clifton, thence to Raton and from that town east, forty-four miles, along the southern edge of Johnson's mesa to a connection with the Colorado and Southern railroad at Folsom.

The entire distance is 120 miles, and it is asserted that the road will be completed by May 1, 1906, and that train service will be in operation about that time.

A good second hand Typewriter for sale cheap. Call at Graphic office and see it.

The drilling contest at El Paso did not result to the satisfaction of the defeated team, and there will probably be another trial at the Arizona Territorial Fair next month.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by all druggists.

Man's Unreasonableness.

is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctor to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and [5] physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by the Palace Drug Store, price 50c.

The Chinese Cases.

The eight Chinese laborers who were here under arrest for violation of the Chinese exclusion acts, were brought before United States commissioner B. Y. McKeyes last Saturday. The U. S. officials present were, Hon. J. A. Leahy, assistant U. S. Attorney, Las Vegas; Geo. A. Kaseman, deputy U. S. Marshal, Albuquerque; Chinese Inspectors J. A. Bryan, W. O. Staver, G. G. Gonzales, all of El Paso; Chinese Interpreter Charley Kee, Tucson.

The trial resulted in the discharge of Wong Chung. The case of Lee Moy, George Chung and Yong Louis were postponed until Dec. 15, 1905, and Ye Hin, Lou Sing, Charlie Sam and Chew Jim were ordered deported.

Deming's New Market Building.

Last Tuesday Mr. Henry Meyers moved his meat market into his new building on the corner of Gold avenue and Spruce street. For seventeen years Mr. Meyers has been in Deming, and in the old frame building where the new one now stands Mr. M. has furnished our people the best in the market in the way of meat, butter, eggs, vegetables, fruit, fish and oysters. Steadily, by fair dealing and correct business methods, his trade has increased until a new and larger building became a necessity.

Taking into consideration the certainty that Deming is bound to become one of the largest and most important towns in New Mexico, and that soon, none but first-class buildings will be permitted on our business streets, Mr. Meyers has just finished one of the finest market buildings in the Southwest; and of sufficient dimensions to meet the business demands of a town of 10,000 inhabitants.

The building is of brick, 25x60 feet, with an entire glass front on Gold ave., and about 20 feet glass on Spruce st. The building is finished throughout in the latest style, the interior woodwork is of Texas pine with a natural wood finish, with steel finished ceiling, fifteen feet above the floor. About ten feet of the rear is partitioned for an office and storeroom. The counters are all deeply paneled, marble topped, and will compare favorably in style and finish with similar work in the larger cities of the east.

The brick and stone work in this building was done by M. H. Thompson, the carpenter work by the old and reliable firm of Rosch & Luepold, the electric wiring by the Deming Electric Light Co., and the roofing, steel finish, painting and polishing by J. A. Mahoney, who keeps a small army of workman in his constant employ.

The erection of an up-to-date building in Deming in its present condition is not only an honor to the town but is conclusive proof that the man who put his money into it has an abiding faith in the future of both town and country. Knocking out old wooden shacks and in their places erecting modern solid business houses, will do more than any one thing at present to attract business men, and capital seeking profitable investments.

Democratic Testimony.

We publish below a very remarkable article considering its origin. It appears as an editorial in the New York World, one of the leading democratic papers in the United States, and the paper that championed Grover Cleveland at the last presidential campaign. It is in regard to the trusts, is entitled "Facts," and is as follows:

1. "The Anti-Trust law was framed by a republican, was passed by a republican house and a republican senate, was signed by a republican president.

2. The law remained a dead letter on the statute books during the entire second term of Grover Cleveland, a democratic president. Through those four years of democratic administration all appeals and efforts of The World to have the law enforced were met with sneers, jeers and open contempt from a democratic attorney-general, Richard Olney, who pretended that the law was unconstitutional, and who would do nothing toward prosecuting its violators.

3. The first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt. The first attorney-general to vigorously prosecute offenders and to test the law was a republican attorney-general, Philander C. Knox.

4. The decision of the supreme court of the United States, given as a finality from which there was no appeal, upholding the law as perfectly constitutional and absolutely impregnable in every respect was due to five judges, every man of whom is republican.

5. The dissenting minority of the court included every democratic judge of that tribunal, to-wit: Chief Justice Fuller, of Illinois; Mr. Justice White, of Louisiana; and Mr. Justice Peckham, of New York. All these distinguished democrats not only voted against the constitutionality of the law but denounced it as a danger to the republic.

6. Under these circumstances it does not seem probable that the democrats can make great capital in seeking to monopolize the anti-trust issue and charging the republican party with the crime of being owned body and soul by the trusts.

It is just as well to record some plain truths, however unpleasant or surprising."

Hollow Concrete Blocks.

Here is an enterprise, rapidly growing in public favor, that is worthy the careful attention of Deming real estate owners, and of any who contemplate building either a residence or business house in our growing town.

The comparatively recent advent of hollow concrete blocks into building construction is probably one of the most important innovations in the building industry, and one that is yet in its infancy. The use of concrete as building material is not recent however, as there are still in existence dikes, dams, roadways, etc., built by the Romans, of material corresponding almost exactly with our present day concrete; it is the introduction of the hollow concrete building block machine that has made possible the gigantic strides taken by this new industry. Experiments along this line have been in progress for many years, but it is only in the past few years that the results have been tangible, and the present concrete building block seems to be the recovery of a lost Roman art, with the "hollow" as an American invention, and for building purposes a decided improvement.

A well-made block will easily have a tensile strength of 240 pounds to the square inch and a crushing strength of 1000 pounds to the cubic inch, thus proving itself far superior to brick, while it is now well known that concrete building blocks will outlive any kind of natural stone. On an improved automatic machine four men can make in one day blocks that will equal 6,000 bricks, wall measure. These blocks can be laid in one-third of the time required to lay the same wall measure of brick, and by experienced labor, with one-quarter of the mortar required for the brick, and at a cost considerably below that of a brick constructed wall.

There are now many machines for making these hollow concrete blocks, of which the Harmon S. Palmer Hollow Concrete Building Block Company, of Washington, D. C., ranks among the very best in this country.

Model Farms.

Model farms, conducted under the Campbell dry farming system, are to be established by the Santa Fe Railway Company at points along its line in New Mexico. Definite announcement of this plan has been made at the Chicago office of the big corporation.

J. L. Donahue, vice president of the Colonial Securities Company of Raton, is in Chicago conferring with the officers of the railroad company's plan to demonstrate with model farms what can be done under the Campbell system. These farms will always be open to inspection.

It is predicted by the officials of the Santa Fe that the innovation will result in bringing thousands of settlers to New Mexico and Arizona.

Safe and Sane.

With 600,000 factories, 7,000,000 factory workers and a home market of 82,000,000 people, free from the competition of cheap foreign labor, what have we to fear?

With farms worth $20,000,000,000, and a yearly product worth nearly $4,000,000,000, what have we to fear?

With our diplomacy successful at every turn, with our dollar good in every market of the world, with no entangling foreign alliances, with our national conscience "void of offence toward God and man," with a people strong in purpose and ambition, with an energy born of a short but heroic past, and with our flag honored wherever it waves, what have we to fear?

The Machine of Commerce.

There are now in the neighborhood of 50,000 locomotives in the United States, and all of them are busy. Nearly 214,000 miles of track have been laid to satisfy the growing demand for railroad communication. Over these tracks were last year hauled, as nearly as the combined reports of all the railroads are available, a matter of 750,000,000 passengers and 1,300,000,000 tons net of freight.

The Lid Down.

Roswell is said to be the first town in New Mexico to say to the gamblers, "No you don't, not inside of this corporation." The lid is down, and a majority of Roswell's citizens are sitting on it. There is one lid down to stay.

A New One.

We have received the first number of the Tucumcari News, a solid looking and handsome faced journal that has evidently come to stay. S. R. May is its publisher and manager. May the "Daily News" soon become an absolute necessity in that growing four-year-old town.

A Disastrous Calamity.

Black, who has just been promoted by the Santa Fe railroad to be passenger traffic manager of the entire system, with headquarters in Chicago, was born Oct. 3, 1854, in St. Louis, and has been in the railway service since 1879, beginning as an office boy with the Vandalla at the age of 15 years. He retained his first position five years, when he became rate clerk in the passenger department of the Missouri Pacific. In March, 1886, he was given a similar position by the Santa Fe. He was promoted to chief clerk in the passenger department in April, 1887, and to assistant general passenger agent Jan. 1, 1892. He has been general passenger agent, with headquarters at Topeka, Kan., since Feb. 1, 1897.

TEA

There's a time to remember, a time to forget: it is tea time; remember your joys and forget your sorrows.

"Out of sight, out of mind," doesn't necessarily imply that a blind man is crazy.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 1/2-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. The "Husky" at Home

Fierce Dogs of Labrador Indispensable to Life in the Extreme North

(Special Correspondence.)

As the Labrador mail steamer pushed into the strait one of the officers said: "Now, listen, and you'll hear the Battle Harbor band." In a moment the whistle blew to announce our coming, and almost immediately from the shore arose a strange sound—a blend of song, yell and roar. It ascended along the scale till it suggested a riot. One might fancy cries of rage, screams of command, howls of pain. There was a fierce crescendo then after a time the noise died away into murmur. It was our welcome by the "huskies," or Eskimo dogs. As we approached we could see these wolves, for such they are, seated with their noses pointed straight at the zenith, stinging as if their hearts would break. When we landed, several of them assembled to see us come ashore—not with the slightest hope of advantage, for they are kicked oftener than they are petted. Indeed, I never saw one petted, but drawn by idle curiosity, like the rest of the populace. The husky is a trifle larger than a collie. He is shaggy, has pointed ears, is more or less battered, and there is an adage that if you give a dog a bad name you must hang him. The husky has the most evil of reputations, but he is oftener clubbed and whipped than hanged, because hanging takes time.

Generally Well Behaved.

I saw no misconduct on the part of these animals myself. They usually gathered about the fish flakes or the rocks, where we made our landings, and watched us narrowly as we went ashore, grinning sardonically with an "I could an' if I would" expression, and sometimes lifting their heads a bit or tossing them one side if they saw a kick coming in their direction. As a rule, the fishermen and "liveries" paid no attention to them, but now and then a man would sheer off a little with a command to "Get out, you brute!" (a command that the dog would obey or not, precisely as he pleased, for the prevalent attitude among the pack would be one of half-concealed contempt). If they dislike the human race, there is reason enough for it. They get hard fare, hard words and hard work from it, and why should they love it? Yet, they tell me that they are fond of the human race, as meat, and I was cautioned that whatever foolishness that I might commit when ashore, it was not to slip and fall, for that would be the signal for the dogs to eat me. This was consoling for one whose shoes had just been cobbled with steel nails, which, being slippery, will guarantee falls anywhere an I ought to be forbid by law. Yet I took these yarns with several grains of salt. I saw no cases of bloody murder while in Labrador, though I believe it is a fact that the little son, aged 3, of the factor in the Hudson Bay post at Cartwright, fell when he was set upon. Before he could be res-tober day come back to de 'ouses." Which is true. The liveries avoid the pecuniary anxiety attendant on feeding them, an anxiety possibly augmented by feeling that they might become a part of the food, and the creatures pick up their rations as they find them. Rats must be a considerable part of their dietary, for I noticed many of these animals scuffling in and out of the ground near the fishing stations, and where fish are cleared the livers and other offcasts must afford many banquets.

In winter the dogs are fed with seal meat, dried fish and whatever else their owner can spare, but they have bottomless appetites. If one of their number is injured the others rend him into strips and digest him before he has had time to recover from his surprise. Between meals they fight, and they are forever disputing possession of bones, and chewing one another's ears, so that the spectators run out with clubs and swat them right and left. No matter how far they may have strayed they run like deer at sound of a dinner call, though for months at a time they do not hear it. One afternoon a fisherman blew a horn at one of the stations. I could hear the answering strain far away among the rocks; it grew louder and louder and presently there came into sight a troop of huskies, bounding over the ledges as if the enemy of man were after them. They probably had not heard the horn before since April, but they instantly associated it with food and came with exceeding vehemence, yelling as they ran. What happened when they found that the horn blower was merely practicing, and not eating, I do not know, but their disappointment was no doubt severe enough to suggest murder.

Fiercest Animal Is Leader.

In sledging, the dog that can whip all the others is chosen as leader and runs two or three fathoms ahead of the troop, which will often number a dozen or twenty. He not only sets the pace, but takes the punishment, for the Eskimo drivers are expert in the use of the whip—a short handled implement with an enormously long lash. So true is their aim that they can flick a pipe out of a man's mouth at a distance of 100 feet—they say. I wouldn't want to smoke the pipe for this experiment, especially if it smelled like the average native kind, but I can believe that, considering the smell, the Eskimo who accomplishes this feat entitles himself to a pension. However, there is no time for experiments of this sort on a sledge journey. The pulls are long and hard, sometimes fifty miles a day through heavy snow with heavy loads, and such spare time as there is the drivers must spend in keeping peace among their animals and making and breaking camp. There is no union among the dogs, but there is an appreciation of advantage that is almost human. In charging up a steep hill the driver piles his whip and the animals take it at a run. Then, when the last pair of them has struggled to the summit he finds that the others are lying down and tranquilly sleeping, leaving all the work to the latest comers.

Without these dogs hardly any one would remain in Labrador. The strength, courage and fleetness, their endurance of weather and hunger, make them as valuable to the settler as the camel is to the Bedouin. When the winter darkness has settled on the land, when ice in the tickles and along the shore has ended navigation for the year, when it is certain that no stranger will set foot on the coast till the waters have opened in the spring, the huskies gather about the poor little cabins of the populace and are willing to reward their keeper with service that often requires their lives.

Greatest Dam on Earth.

Fifteen years ago the highest dam in existence was the Furens dam (in France), the total height of which was 170 feet. Since then three very much larger dams have been built in the United States. These are the Croton dam in New York, the Clinton water works dam at Boston and the water works dam near Denver, on the South Fork of the Platte river, says Crittenden Marriott in November Technical World Magazine. Each of these at present holds the record in one respect or another; the Denver dam is the highest in the world; the Clinton impounds the largest amount of water, and the Croton dam contains the largest mass of masonry. But the Salt River dam, when finished, will exceed each of these in its own specialty; it will be higher than Denver, will exceed the Croton dam in masonry, and will impound twice as much water as all three put together. It will be 270 feet high from foundation to parapet, will contain 300,000 cubic yards of masonry, and will impound more than a million acre-feet of water; that is, more than enough to cover a million acres (1,500 square miles) to a depth of one foot. It will form a lake five miles long and one to two miles wide, covering an area of 14,000 acres. Its cost, with maintenance for ten years, will be $5,000,000 or $4,600,000.

Hudson River Tunnel.

The first tunnel to be driven under the Hudson river between New Jersey and New York City is nearly finished, there still remaining about 200 feet to be accomplished. The excavation is driven through solid, hard rock, soft rock, sand and silt. A second tunnel parallel with the first is well under way, having been begun in November, 1903. It is estimated that progress will be at the average rate of thirty feet per day. This tunnel has been advanced over 1,300 feet within four months.

Great Slaughter of Ducks.

Every duck hunter who went out to the lakes Sunday came home with as many ducks as he could safely carry under the law. The slaughter was one of the greatest known in the history of the state, as the weather was ideal for hunting and the game was plentiful in all parts. One inquisitive hunter, who had his own bag well filled, counted over 800 ducks at the station at Barr, when the crowd was waiting for the train. This did not include the kill made by the members of the Hot Air Club, who came in by a later train, or of those secured by the men who shot Upper Barr lake. The latter usually go to their blinds in automobiles, returning the same way. A safe estimate of the number killed about the Barr lakes is therefore about 1,100. As this is only one of the many places to which the Denver hunters went some idea may be secured of the number of duck dinners enjoyed in this city yesterday.—Denver Republican.

THE SECRET OF YOUTH.

De Soto looked for the secret of youth in a spring of gushing, life-giving waters, which he was sure he would find in the New World. Alchemists and sages (thousands of them), have spent their lives in quest for it, but it is only found by those happy people who can digest and assimilate the right food which keeps the physical body perfect that peace and comfort are the sure results.

"Two years ago I began to use Grape-Nuts as food, and am thankful that I did. It has been a blessing to me in every way. I first noticed that it had restored my digestion. This was a great gain but was nothing to compare in importance with the fact that in a short time my bowels were restored to free and normal action.

"The cure seemed to be complete; for two years I have had none of the old trouble. I use the Grape-Nuts food every morning for breakfast and frequently eat nothing else. The use has made me comfortable and happy, and although I will be 94 years old next fall, I have become strong and supple again, erect in figure and can walk with anybody and enjoy it." THE CHANGE OF LIFE

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland, of Chestertown, Md., in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the change of life. My womb was badly swollen. I had a good deal of soreness, dizzy spells, headaches, and was very nervous. I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me, and I have passed safely through the change of life a well woman."

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

SHOWING THE WORLD'S PROGRESS

Gold from Sea Water.

The dream of the alchemist still lives. Who can make gold from base metals? Who can transform the hidden elements in water? Liversidge has estimated that the ocean contains from 130 to 260 tons of gold per cubic mile, or a total of 100,000,000,000 tons; but if this be divided by 100 the value would still be $697,711,000,000,000. While M. de Wilde, of Brussels, finds that all of the gold mined up to the present time would not form a cube more than thirty feet square, representing a value of $13,559,946,000. M. de Wilde has a new method of separation, from which he expects great results. He treats ocean water with concentrated solution of salt of tin, which transforms the gold into purple of Cassius, an oxide of gold and tin, and this is fixed by hydrate of magnesia, which is liberated from the sea water on adding lime water. The hydrate of magnesia has been charged with as much as 15 per cent. of gold, which is removed with cyanide of potassium solution.

New Shoe Eyelet.

Several new designs in shoe hooks have been patented at different times, but the hook now universally used has proved so practical and useful that attempts to supplant it have proven failures. It would be difficult to improve on its construction, but a Wisconsin inventor thinks he has an improved shoe eyelet, which should be popular. In his design the lower eyelets are the same as those generally used, the improvement being in the upper eyelets. These latter are similar to the round eyelets, except that they are open on the upper side to receive the lacing.

The eyelets are re-enforced by a tongue which is tapered at the end so that it can be passed through the leather and clenched on the under side of the shoe. A metallic plate being inserted between the outer and inner facings of the leather. This plate corresponds in shape to the eyelet opening in the leather, this consisting of a slot with a bell-shaped mouth. A series of these slots near the edges of the leather from a series of tongues. In lacing up the shoe the lacing cord is drawn through the slots into the eyelets and then across the lacing slit of the shoe to the eyelet on the other side, so that the cord passes under the lower portion of the tongue and over the upper portion. This naturally presses the eyelet against the foot of the wearer and prevents it from being bent out of position. The intervening plate re-enforces the leather around the eyelet and prevents it from tearing out, giving rigidity to the fastening.

Lightning Penetrates Solid Rock.

An English scientific writer, in discussing the phenomenal actions of lightning, says that sometimes when this mysterious electrical element is in action it has a tendency to drill. It will drill the hardest rock—rock which would turn cold steel; and not only drill but vivify it. They have found in Cumberland channels thirty feet deep and from two to four inches in circumference. The interior was hard and glazed where the solid substance had been melted by the stabbing flashes. Artificial experiment has shown that a powerful shock from a battery will vivify freely powdered glass, but not felspar or quartz. The lightning, however, does it in the manner described—not in one place, but in many, showing that before striking the ground it divided into several branches, each strong enough to penetrate and liquify the solid rock.

PROPER HOUSING OF POULTRY

Ideal Arrangement for the Care of Feathered Pets.

Will you kindly give a plan of poultry house for about twenty hens? What is the best method of heating a poultry house?

For twenty hens try a house 16x12 arranged as per pattern above. Three feet is allowed for the passageway. If house is so arranged. By this method of arrangement the cleaning of the platform and collecting of the eggs is done from the passageway. It is the plan adopted by the Truro, N. S., Agricultural college. The passageway should be on the north side of the building, so permitting of the window being on the south side. A curtain of light cotton comes down in front of the roosts for use in cold sections.

Cement Well; Sewer Pipe.

1. How much Portland cement will it take for a round well 4 feet across.
2. How much water will a sewer pipe hold 2 feet diameter, and 2 feet long.
3. Are glazed sewer pipes any good for curbing a well?

1. For a round concrete wall 4x12 wall six inches thick it would take gravel 2 1/2 yards; Portland cement three barrels, mix six part gravel to one part cement.

2. A sewer pipe two feet in diameter and two feet long will hold thirty-seven gallons.

3. Would advise the use of concrete tile for curbing a well, as they are more durable. A good quality of glazed sewer tile will stand frost, but are not generally used for well curbing.

Cost of Cottage.

Will you give as near as possible the cost of a cottage, to be built of cement blocks? Would a frame house be much cheaper? Would you advise having cement blocks or stone for the cellar? Are slates much dearer than shingles?

Would advise that the main body of the house be made 26 feet by 30 feet. This would allow wider verandas and would make the front bedroom large enough for a sitting room if desired. Cement blocks will cost more than either brick or frame, if the work is properly done. It would be cheaper to build the foundation of cement, concrete or stone. When stone is plentiful they are cheapest. Slates will cost more than twice as much as shingles, but if the roof is built strong enough they are more durable. This building could be built of cement blocks for about $1,050.

Cracks in Cement Floor.

Last fall a cement floor was laid down in a stable and more than usual care was given to the preparation of the foundation. It has cracked in two or three places and has left the soil half an inch all the way around. How can the cracks be repaired?

From the information given it would seem that the floor has been cracked by the frost heaving it or else it has settled by not having the grading or filling thoroughly packed down before laying the floor. As to the cracks along sills, these will occur, as cement will not adhere to wood. To fill the cracks, first thoroughly clean the floor and cracks, then, if crack is large, mix two parts sand and one part cement together, having it soft. Dampen crack and fill in with the mortar. If crack is small, use neat Portland cement mixed soft and run into crack.

Will you give a plan for the interior arrangement of ventilation of a poultry house 40 feet by 17 feet to be divided into three or four sections so as to accommodate 75 to 80 birds. This measurement includes scratching shed, the house proper being 16 feet wide. I wish to have a 3x4 feet window in Plan of Alley and Roosting Pen. The roof of the scratching shed, one over each section.

The plan given herewith will give an idea of how to proceed. On fine days in winter the window can be opened. There is wire netting in front of the frame to keep the birds from getting outside.

Havoc in the Alps

Periodical Avalanches Involve Forests, Villages and Mountain Railways in Common Destruction

(Special Correspondence.)

The avalanche season is at its height in Switzerland, says a correspondent writing from Geneva. From all directions come tales of death and wholesale destruction wrought by enormous falls of melting snow, broken ice and torrents of half-frozen muddy debris, containing huge blocks of stone, whole trunks of trees and solid masses of serac and glacier.

The damage already done is immense. Within the past few weeks many forests, villages and mountain railways have been swept away, buried or destroyed. Avalanches have a curious knack of falling on the same ground year after year, and avalanche breakers are often built to protect surrounding life and property as far as possible. In many places avalanche breakers in the form of triangular stone walls have been erected to protect whole villages. There is a breaker of this sort at Frauenkirch, near Davos, where the wall of the church is so constructed that, should an avalanche sweep down upon it, the solid, pointed, plough-like edge of the wall would cut and divide the avalanche and turn it harmlessly aside. Rough timber fences, small zigzag stone walls, and even rows of stakes across steep slopes are used by the Swiss peasants as protections.

The compact snow avalanches, which form in the natural depressions and basins on the steep glacier slopes, high up on the mountains, are, by the time that they reach the valleys, composed of stones, earth, huge masses of roots and trees, all held together by the heavy, half-frozen, muddy snow in which they are encased. A mountaineer who was overtaken by an avalanche of this kind on the Splügen, though he escaped from death, had his coat so firmly frozen into the icy mass that he was stuck like a gnat to a fly-paper and could not release himself until assistance arrived.

Avalanche of 1888.

Often the frozen bodies of chamois have been found quite fit for food in the remains of old avalanches that have fallen many years previously. One of the most famous Swiss avalanches, and one which only falls in very snowy seasons, is the Schwabenrobellawine. In 1888 this avalanche fell near Glarus-Davos, destroying life and property and carrying all before it. The mass was estimated to be over 700,000 cubic feet in bulk, while the tunnel which was afterward cut through it to allow the traffic to pass along the valley road was over 300 feet long and 12 feet high.

The Simplon, always noted for the serious avalanches falling from the Gletschhorn glaciers, was early in July the scene of an immense fall of snow and rock owing to the bursting of a glacier lake on the Bodmer. But, unlike the terrible Simplon avalanche of 1901, this fall, happily, did not cost any human life, though a party of peasants saw their cattle dashed to death, and were only just able to save themselves in time. The cause of this scarcely less dangerous than the spring avalanches, or "grundlawinen," caused by melting snow or the bursting of glacier lakes and reservoirs, are the wonderful ice avalanches, or "Eislawinen," which are among the wonders and perils of the Jungfrau, the Matterhorn, the Piz Bernina, and many other famous glacier-clad mountains. These marvelous falls of glittering, gleaming ice consist of thousands of tons of shattered, twisted seracs, or ice needles, which have fallen from the glaciers and been precipitated down the mountain by the heat of the sun and the action of the weather.

These huge falls or cataracts of ice are a terrible danger to the climber who rashly ventures without a guide into their vicinity after sunrise. Not long ago a party of Zermatt climbers went without guides to admire the seracs of the famous Zmutt glacier. As they slowly moved away they heard behind them a mighty roar like that of the discharge of heavy artillery, which was fiercely echoed and echoed by a thousand crags and peaks. Looking back, they saw countless tons of ice in huge blocks and mighty, splintered columns fall on the very spot where a few moments before they had all been standing.

Nine athletic young members of the Ski Club, mostly Englishmen, while making an excursion from Lucerne in March, were caught in a bad snow avalanche. One of the party, a Swiss, was hurled over a precipice and killed outright, while the others, after being rolled in the snowy mass for many hundreds of feet, miraculously escaped with only minor scratches and bruises.

Some Recent Disasters.

One huge snowslide on the Jura mountains buried seven children, of whom two were killed, while an avalanche at Lovrina carried away the roof and upper floor of the village inn. A Dutch student named Rijkers, from the Federal College, while gleaning down a steep snow slope at Susse in June, started an avalanche which carried him away and flung him into a rocky torrent, where his body was found with the skull fractured and both arms broken; while within the last fortnight three fatal as well as any number of less serious accidents have occurred owing to avalanches of various sorts.

Only a few days ago the well-known Russian author, Leykow, almost lost his life. With three friends he was endeavoring to scale the highest peak of the Presanella group. He was struck on the head by a large stone, and fell from his foothold, dragging his companions with him. They all fell a considerable distance, but, owing to great good luck, none except Leykow was really seriously injured. An avalanche of stones was also the cause of the death of Prof. Alois Kimmerle, who a few days ago was found dying at the foot of a precipice between Hoctor and Johnsbach, in the Austrian Alps. He had been lying in fall was the formation of a huge lake on the glacier.

As the heat of summer increased, the rapidly melting snow filled this icy Alpine reservoir to repletion, and suddenly, on July 3d, without an instant's warning, it burst its frozen barriers, and in a few seconds discharged thousands of tons of water, ice and snow into the valley below, destroying everything in its way, and never stopping until it reached the Krumbach Gorge, into which it plunged, and in an incredibly short time completely filled it up. In June a somewhat similar fall swept down upon the St. Gothard line between Lucerne and Goldau, stopping all traffic and doing a great deal of damage. No lives were lost by this mishap, but a signal man's house, which was luckily empty at the time, was swept away.

Corn Thirteen Feet High.

Talk about tall corn. H. P. Flint of the avenue brought some stalks to town Monday which measured thirteen feet in height. There is about an old lie about gathering corn in Illinois on horseback. In the case of the Flint corn this would be a literal fact. The highest ear on the stock is ten feet from the ground, and the lowest is five feet, with plenty of good full ears between the two extremes. The corn is of the yellow variety, and the ears are as big as tall corn ears should be. Flint says he has plenty more corn at home equally tall. Who can beat it?—Ventura Free Press.

Haunt of the Poteen

Peasants of the West of Ireland Brew Their Own Whisky in Illicit Stills

(Special Correspondence.)

The wild west of Ireland is the natural home of "poteen," or illicit whisky. This is because the loneliness and remoteness of the spots chosen for making it, almost inaccessible through the mountains and bogs, save to those who know something about the country, are all in favor of the smugglers escaping detection; while its network of mountain lakes and small running streams affords the necessary cold water for condensing the distilled fumes into spirit during the cooling process.

Sweeter and dearer beyond any "parliament whisky"—by which expression he denotes that sort which has paid the tax imposed by the Saxon government—is this fiery fluid to the heart of every true peasant son of Connaught. And in the interests of truth it must be added that those who inhabit the coast counties, from Kerry to Donegal, inclusive, are also fully alive to its seductive merit. Indeed, many doctors (local, of course), will tell you that well made poteen is better in sickness than the adulterated whisky usually met with in the small public houses in this region of poverty; for in the Connemara country, at any rate, the illicit whisky is made of pure malt; though rumor has it that the less particular palate of Donegal, for instance, is satisfied with a fire-water mainly made from molasses.

Idle scoffer, whom I do not believe, once told me that the only two places where you could be really certain to find a drop of the best poteen in Ireland were the priest's house and the police barracks.

When flushed men convey it to its destination in kegs containing several gallons each, carrying them on their backs by night across the bogs and through the unfrequented passes in the mountains, and in truth, it is wonderful how men can cross the rough country with such loads as are some times found on them. They avoid the main roads, a seemingly unnecessary precaution the casual visitor would say, who drives mile after mile through wintry, forsaken Connemara without, as a rule, meeting a human being. Indeed, to realize the general desolation of the greatest part of that portion of Ireland you must remember the saying of the lady who remarked when the first telegraph poles were being put up there, that they would give the country quite a wooded appearance.

IN CLOSE QUARTERS IN SHELL.

Flounder and Oyster Occupied the One Domicile.

C. F. Hildenbrand is the possessor of an oyster shell which contained two inhabitants—an oyster and a fish. He has had the curio preserved in alcohol.

The natural and rightful inhabitant of the shell was dwarfed by the presence of the fish, which was a flounder nearly three inches long, it being only about the size of an oyster ordinarily contained in a shell the size of the one which held the peculiar combination. An oysterman found the strange combination while plying his trade and presented it to Mr. Hildenbrand.

Those who have seen the curio have formed so many ideas of how it all came about that it would be impossible to repeat them all. One of these explanations of how the fish happened in the oyster shell is that it just happened along while the oyster was taking a good breathing spell with its shell open, and that being of a curious disposition the flounder investigated just at the time the shell animal closed up for the evening.

MODEST DRUMMER DID IT ALL.

Real Secret of the Signing of the Peace Treaty.

"Gentlemen," said the drummer as he looked around on the group, "I was away in the West on one of my regular trips when I saw by the papers that the peace conference at Portsmouth was likely to fail. I dropped everything and hired a special train and headed for New Hampshire."

"What for?" was innocently asked. "As soon as I reached Portsmouth," continued the drummer, and treating the inquiry with contempt, "I asked for an interview with White and Komura. It was instantly granted. When I stood before the two of them I said:

"White, you must concede everything but an indemnity."

"I'll do it, Dan," says he—"do it for your sake."

"And Komura," says I, "you must

"I'll do it, Dan," says he, "for your sake."

wave that question on indemnity and give up half the island of Sakhalin."

"If you say so, of course," he answered.

"Then both of you come out and have a drink with me and let us have peace within the next ten days."

"That's what I did, gentlemen," said the drummer, as he puffed away at his cigar, "and whenever you see in the papers that the emperor of Germany, King Edward and President Roosevelt had anything to do with the matter you will know the truth. I am not boasting, but simply relating a little incident, and if you gentlemen—"

But they were silent and he had to go out and buy his own drink.

Great Britain's Oldest Tavern.

The "Seven Stars," Withy Grove, Manchester, claims to be the oldest licensed house in Great Britain, for it was licensed as a hostelry so long ago as 1356, fifty-five years before Manchester received the charter constituting it a free borough, but the smallness of the town may be judged from the fact that the tolls for its fares were a trifle above 30s. There are many traditions connected with the "Seven Stars," one of them being that Dick Turpin and Guy Fawkes visited the place. At any rate, Harrison Ainsworth incorporated this legend into his story about Guy Fawkes. A room on the ground floor bears the words, "Ye Guy Faux Chamber." In 1745 it became the headquarters for the Manchester adherents of Prince Charlie, commanded by Col. Townley. The

CHINA SENDS BRAIN TWISTER.

Absorbing Puzzle of Ping-Pong and the Saucers.

China, as everybody knows, was the birthplace—or one of the birthplaces—for it had many parents—of the puzzle. Many of our best brain-twisters were known to Chinamen thousands of years ago. The following is a fascinating little poser that we picked up in our wanderings in China. It was a favorite recreation of a certain Ping-Pong. The puzzle that he is shown in the illustration to be engaged in solving is simply this: He has placed six saucers or basins of graduated sizes in a pile on one of his four mats, and he wants to transfer the pile to one of the other mats by moving one saucer at a time from mat to mat without ever placing a saucer on one that is smaller than itself. This can be done in seventeen moves if you go about it in the right way. Can you perform the feat? If you can, then try to find the fewest possible moves for removing a pile of ten saucers, and also a pile of thirty-six.

A practical way of trying this puzzle is to use a pile of counters numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., downwards, and never place a counter on another that has a smaller number. When you have found the easy solution for six you will not be satisfied until you have mastered the case of ten. The case of thirty-six is given for the benefit of those readers who like a hard nut to crack.

Solution.

With six saucers, first make a pile of the three smallest (five moves), a pile of the next two (three moves), remove the bottom saucer (one move), replace the two (three moves) and replace the pile of three (five moves)—altogether seventeen moves. With ten saucers you must first make a pile of six (seventeen moves), a pile of three (seven moves) and proceed as before. This will take forty-nine moves. Thirty-six saucers may be removed in 1,793 moves, by making piles of twenty-eight (769 moves) and seven (157 moves).—London Tri-Bits.

Bet Herself on a Ball Game.

As the result of the loss of a wager in which the stakes consisted of the promise of her hand in marriage provided the Okolona (Miss.) baseball team defeated her home town's team, Miss Beatrice Jamison, the pretty daughter of Col. A. J. Jamison, postmaster at Houston, is the wife of Joseph S. Williams. They met the first time when Houston's team played the Okolona recently. They formed an attachment at once, which ripened into a proposal. Both are baseball enthusiasts, and when the Okolona team visited Houston Miss Jamison agreed to the proposition to wager herself that Houston would win. Okolona enjoyed a decisive victory, and the nuptials were performed after the game.

Intelligent Monkey in Hospital.

A performing monkey named Dolly is being treated for pneumonia at the Charing Cross Hospital, London. When she was brought to the hospital a Dr. Strickland asked her where the pain was. She placed her hand on her chest. The doctors say she is "very human," though they add that "she does just what she is told and is most grateful," which is somewhat contradictory.

Nervy Thieves in Connecticut.

A daring robbery is reported at Torrington, Conn., where thieves entered the premises of Clark Weed during the absence of the family and killed an ox. The animal was butchered at the farm and the beef and hide carried away by the marauders.

Paul Dresser of New York, author of "Banks of the Wabash" and many other great song hits, writes:

Gentlemen: I wish to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. In the hope that my endorsement will be read by some of the many thousands of sufferers from kidney complaint, I was so wretched from this malady that I could not sleep, rest nor eat, and had a weak and aching back. Doan's Kidney Pills effectually cured me, and I wish that others may know.

Marvelous Railroad Statistics.

There are now in the neighborhood of 50,000 locomotives in the United States, and all of them busy. Nearly 214,000 miles of track have been laid to satisfy the growing demand for railroad communication. Over these tracks were last year hauled, as nearly as the combined reports of all the railroads are available, a matter of 750,000,000 passengers, and 1,200,000,000 tons net pounds of freight.

America's First Locomotive.

It is only seventy-five years since the first steam locomotive was built in this country. It was the diminutive "Tom Thumb," which Peter Cooper first ran in Baltimore, in 1830, and the difference between it and the marvelous forces of today are marked to a wonderful degree.

In the limited period of three-quarters of a century American inventiveness and American mechanical genius to put it more accurately, has developed locomotive building from an experiment into the wonderful system that is really the foundation of the marvelous industrial progress of the country.

STRENGTHEN THE STOMACH

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Really Cure Indigestion Instead of Merely Relieving Symptoms.

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas on the stomach and can smother nervous sensations and induce artificial sleep. You can humor your stomach by giving it predigested food. But when you take your next meal all your trouble begins afresh.

There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and do away with the necessity for drugs and artificial foods. The best remedy ever found for this purpose is the one that was used by E. E. Strong, of Capleville, Shelby county, Tenn.

"For years," he states, "I suffered greatly from indigestion. I tried many different remedies and some of them would relieve me for a time, but the trouble always came back. About six months ago I had an unusually severe attack, and while I tried everything I had ever heard of, I found that none of the ordinary remedies would reach the difficulty this time.

"One day I read in a Memphis paper how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured a Michigan woman, a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia of a most stubborn type. I then tried the same remedy and it proved just as successful in my case. I took only three boxes, and was cured. I have not had the slightest symptoms of indigestion since."

The tonic treatment has a sound principle as it classifies and abundant success in actual use. Multitudes of cases that had defied all other remedies have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This pills actually make new blood and strike at the root of all diseases caused by bad blood. They contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. Every dyspeptic should read, "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy.

TORTURING HUMOUR.

Body a Mass of Sores—Treated by Three Doctors but Grew Worse—Cured by Cuticura for 75c.

"My little daughter was a mass of sores all over her body. Her face was eaten away, and her ears looked as if they would drop off. I called in three doctors, but she grew worse. Neighbors advised Cuticura, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's skin was as clear as a newborn babe's. I would not be without Cuticura again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby. Mrs. G. J. Steers, 761 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio."

RATHER LONG PERIOD TO WAIT.

Joshua Wanted Boiled Wheat, but He Was No Cook.

"Lucinda," said Mr. Melstrum, who had just returned from a visit to a farmer friend in the country, "while I was at Longley's I ate some whole wheat, boiled. I like it better than anything I ever tasted. He gave me a small paper sack of the wheat, so we could cook some ourselves. How long will it be before supper is ready?" "About half an hour," answered Mrs. Melstrum.

"Well, we'll have some boiled wheat, if you please. Here's the paper sack."

"But, Joshua, it will have to be cooked in a double boiler, and—"

"I don't care how you cook it. I'm hungry for some more boiled wheat."

"But see here, Joshua! It will take—"

"It will take a lot of cream and sugar; I know that. But we've got plenty of both. Put it on right away, will you?"

Without another word his wife took the wheat, washed it, emptied it into the "double boiler," and set it on the fire.

At the end of half an hour Mr. Melstrum became impatient.

"Lucinda," he called out from the sitting room, "isn't that wheat ready yet?"

"Not yet," responded Mrs. Melstrum. "How much longer is it going to take to cook it?"

"About eleven hours and a half. That's what I was trying to tell you, but you wouldn't give me a chance. Do you want to wait for it?"—Youth's Companion.

Opposed to Self-Healing. Little Paul's grandfather is a physician, and in Paul's eyes he is the greatest hero that walks the earth. Recently the doctor resolved to take a trip to Europe for the benefit of his health. Paul was almost frantic to think that he was to be separated from his idol, and tried by every means within his power to dissuade his grandfather from going.

"I don't see why you need to go away for your health, grandpa; you're a doctor!"

"Well, Paul," replied the old man, "it is because I am a doctor that I know what is best for my health. As a doctor I have examined myself and found that I need a rest and change. I have advised myself to take an ocean voyage, and when a physician tells you what is best for you, you ought to obey his instructions, or else what is the use of doctors?"

Paul sadly pondered over this weighty argument for a few minutes, and then his face lighted up and he said eagerly:

"Why don't you try another doctor grandpa?"

Why do you like a board as well As desk inlaid with tortoise shell? Why write alike amid the bloom Of garden and your cog's room? In fine, lest you get somewhat mixed, Why haven't you your habits fixed?

Could Flop His Own Eggs. J. S. Anderson of South Dakota was at one time buying grain in Dakota. He stopped at a hotel in one of the small out-of-the-way towns and ordered fried eggs for his supper. The waitress brought them to him fried only on one side.

Mr. Anderson said to her: "I wish you would please take these out and turn them."

With a pert toss of her head she replied: "Oh, flop 'em over yourself."

It Looked Like a Drug Store. The captain of one of the Boston harbor tugboats, while traveling to New Boston one night, was compelled to place a green man on watch, with instructions to call him if he saw anything in their course. The captain was aroused from his slumbers by the new man shouting, as he started for the deck.

"Well," replied the watcher, "I have a green light and a red light, and sure I think it's a drug store."

WEALTH OF ALASKA.

Territory Has Paid for Itself Many Times Over.

When the proposed purchase of Alaska from Russia for $7,200,000 was being debated by Congress, General Butler of Massachusetts made the sarcastic suggestion that the United States pay Russia the amount stated as a recognition of her friendship during the Civil War, and ask her to retain Alaska. He said that no sane man could favor the purchase of a vast region of ice and rocks on the terms proposed by Secretary of State Seward, who had negotiated the deal. There was a hot debate, in the course of which several other Congressmen expressed views similar to those of General Butler, but it ended by the United States paying Russia $7,200,000 in gold for the territory. One reason for the serious opposition to the purchase was the fact that the amount named represented about $10,000,000 in currency at the time, and many of the Republican leaders thought it dangerous, when the paper money of the government was at a heavy discount, to engage in such a speculation.

During the last fiscal year five shipments of Alaskan gold to this country, as shown by the records of the customs houses, were $9,276,585. Official estimates for the year 1905 place the territory's output of gold at $10,000,000. Thus the "barren waste of ice and rocks," as the wise statesman of 1867 termed it, is producing more than its purchase price in gold every year. In the thirty years following the purchase the value of the fish taken from Alaskan waters has exceeded $60,000,000, and in twenty years the sales of furs were $35,000,000. The duties paid into the federal treasury by fur-traders long since exceeded the cost of the territory.—Colorado Springs Gazette.

ALCOHOL IN MOST MEDICINES.

Indispensable Requisite in Compounding of Some Prescriptions.

It is of course true that some proprietary medicines contain alcohol and nearly all liquid medicines prescribed by physicians contain it. No honest man will defend the sale of intoxicants under the guise of medicine; but every honest man should protest against a system of wholesale denunciation born of malice, or ignorance of pharmaceutical principles, and fostered by selfish interests. It is assumed that alcohol is the cause of intemperance; but there is a great difference between alcohol and whisky. If a substitute for alcohol could be found for use in the manufacture of medicines, its discoverer would render a great service to the profession of pharmacy and the science of medicine, for alcohol is a very expensive ingredient and a cheaper substitute would be gladly accepted. Unfortunately the word alcohol, in the minds of many people is associated exclusively with bar-rooms, drunkenness and all forms of degradation and vice. This is due to a lack of knowledge by the general public of the fact that alcohol is an indispensable requisite in drugs, tinctures and fluid extracts. All fluid extracts and tinctures on the druggists' shelves contain from 20 to 90 per cent of alcohol; and of all liquid medicines prescribed by physicians more than 75 per cent contain it in large proportions.

Alcohol is required to preserve organic substances from deterioration and from freezing, and it is also required to dissolve substances not soluble in water, while it contributes to their preservation when dissolved. Diluted alcohol is largely employed in fluid extracts; and whenever a greater strength of alcohol is required as a solvent (for extracting medicinal principles) the medicine is of such a character as to preclude a large dosage; and for this reason preparations, even if containing 50 per cent or more of alcohol, are practically less intoxicating than beer. In such cases the character of the medicinal constituents is such as to absolutely forbid the taking of the medicine in any way except in very small doses and at stated intervals only. To assume that any great number of proprietary medicines are used as beverages is the veriest absurdity.—Exchange.

If you should turn backward, O time
 In your flight,
 And make me a child again, just for tonight
 Would my mother draw me again
 To her knee,
 And with her slipper put ker-bosh in
 to me?
 Would she take the fine comb and examine with care,
 This old cocoon that used to grow
 in my hair?
 Would she plow up my scalp and plow
 for keeps,
 And if I objected slap me to sleep?
 Turn back to the time when I was too young to vote.
 And the bank wasn't pushing that sixty day note;
 Take from my muscles this rheumatic pain;
 Take it and give me my childhood
 again;
 I have grown weary of dust and decay,
 Weary of humping day after day,
 Weary of sowing for others to reap,
 But I don't need anybody to rock me to sleep.—Ex.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald:
 Two years the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had, and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most so common to most purgatives," says

ALL DEALERS KEEP THEM

Opposes One-sided Legislation.

"In the consideration of the whole question of railroad legislation," in the opinion of the Railway and Engineering Review of Chicago, "it is to be regretted that attention is given to one side only of the case. There is just as much need—in fact greater need—for the protection of the railway against unfair and unremunerative rates as for the people against exorbitant or preferential rates. The measure of unreasonableness in a rate is only half bounded by a maximum limitation. It is impossible for any person or tribunal to declare with exactness when a rate is or is not reasonable; the best that can be done is to determine the point above which a railroad may not go, and, co-relatively, a limit should be established below which it will be unlawful to charge.

"The first is necessary to the end that commerce may be untrammelled, and the second is equally required in order that the instruments of commerce may not be injured. It being manifest that exact reasonableness can not be determined, it follows that both a maximum and minimum boundary line should be provided, between which railroads could find room for necessary adjustments. There is no other way by which justice to all concerned may be established, if the government is to interfere at all.

"One of the characteristics which has endeared the President in the hearts of the people is his determination to give every one a 'square deal.' Probably, it needs only to be shown that under the law, and because of its limitations, railroads are powerless to protect themselves, to enlist his good offices in securing justice for them.
 Aside from this question of justice, the interests of the people and the railroads are too closely interwoven to permit injury to one without seriously affecting the other. For this reason, if no other, any legislation which ignores this proposition will be radically defective."

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. Sold by all druggists.

No Charge for Insects.

Anent the curious habit of the famous naturalist, Francis T. Buckland, who was usually accompanied on his travels by his pet monkey, the following story is told:

At a certain railway station the naturalist applied for a ticket for the animal. The man at the booking office looked carefully over his schedule of charges for animals.

"Cows is cows," quoth he, "and so is donkeys. Cats is dogs, and fowls is likewise. Sir, that'll have to go as a dawg," pointing to the monkey.

"Well, what will this go as?" laughed the naturalist, pulling a live tortoise from his pocket.

As to this the schedule did not afford any information, and the clerk turned in scorn from its perusal.

"We don't charge nothink for them" he said, "they ain't nothink. They're an insect."

"I Thank the Lord!"

cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Araica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I have suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds.

Accident to Hen.

Hen Weatherby, prop. of our general store, met with an accident last week that was as unexpected as it was painful. The details are as follows.

Hen was weighing out 1 Lb. of sugar for Mrs. Ransie Perkins who had sent little Lizabeth Gookins to the store for it, and while Hen was taking a few grains out of the scale to put back in the bowl so as the durn scale would balance a rat run along the top shelf above Hen's head and upset a qt bottle of blueing which fell and struck Hen right on top of the head and broke all over to smash, and the blueing run down all over Hen's face and over his shirt, which he had put on clean only that

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I was a great sufferer for six years and doctored all the time with a number of physicians but did not receive any benefit," writes Mrs.
 George Sogden, of 641 Bond Street, Saginaw (South), Michigan. "I had given up all hope of ever getting better. Thought I would write to you. When I received your letter telling me what to do I commenced to take your Favorite Prescription and follow your advice. I have taken ten bottles in all, also five vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Am now regular, after having missed two years and suffered with pain in the head and back. I was so nervous, could not eat or sleep. Now I can thank you for my recovery."

Don't hesitate to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids'
 Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., if you want good medical advice from a fully qualified physician as to your personal good health. Such letters are always answered free of charge and confidentially.

A medicine which has outlasted all others for women in the past third of a century and being recommended by all those who have used it, is a good remedy to tie to. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is purely vegetable and does not contain a particle of alcohol to destroy the blood corpuscles and weaken the system.
 Do not permit the dealer to insult your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good," because he makes it himself.

morning, and into the sugar in the scale and the thing scared Hen so bad that he threw out his arms and upset the scale on the floor breaking them so they will never be any good to weigh anything on again, and they never was anyhow, because everybody who deals with Hen says his scales always weighed light anyhow. Little Lizabeth was so scared that she run home crying, and Hen has been trying ever since to get the blueing off his face, but it ain't no go, and Hen calculates he will hafta to let it wear off. He's an awful looking sight. Bige Barker says if Hen would only wear a red sash around hisself he would be red, white and blue like the American flag is.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

KILLINGER & Co.

The Williams Hotel, on North Silver avenue, has about all the transients the house can accommodate every night.

Mr. Walter Russell sold a bunch of cattle to the Diamond A Company, and, with his family, left for California today.

Mrs. Goforth, who has been occupying a portion of the Rabb house, returned to the ranch on the Mimbres on Tuesday.

Mr. Sam Lancaster, of Uniontown, Ky., was here last week visiting Judge Chapman and family. He is looking for a business location, and is at present in the northern part of the territory.

If our editorial in reference to hollow brick interests any of our local readers, they can get further information from Mr. W. F. Cobb, Mr. Swanzy's assistant at the lumber yard. Hollow bricks are coming this way, and will soon become part of building material.

Mr. W. F. Tossell, who has been visiting in Deming and El Paso in the past two months, returned to San Diego this week. The old city of "bay and climate" at the southwestern extremity of our domain is good enough for him. In many respects San Diego is a most desirable location for a home.

I. W. Freeman.

Many of our readers, in Rincon, Hatch, Deming, and up the Mimbres Valley, will remember Mr. Irving W. Freeman, a hustling gentleman who used to come in contact with the people of this region in a business way.

He left here for California two years ago, and is now located at Redlands where he is the manager of Armour's fertilizing works. He has a good position, a comfortable home, and both he, Mrs. F. and daughter are enjoying life in the land of the vineyards and orange groves.

Christmas Display.

Since we have been in Deming there has been no such display of Christmas goods as are now on exhibition at the store of Kinnear & Co. Some of the articles are of more value than are usually found away out here in the great Southwest; but this is because the people are prospering and demand more costly articles for Christmas presents than in former years. Every one will find something in that extensive stock that will correspond to their ability to purchase, be it little or much, less or greater. Now is the best time to examine the goods and make investments for beautiful and appropriate Christmas gifts.

Improved Order of Red Men.

Their next "improvement" will occur on Thanksgiving Evening Nov. 30, 1905, and will consist of a masked ball, given under the auspices of the Huachuca Tribe No. 18.

There will be prizes for both ladies and gentlemen for the finest costumes and best sustained characters, the music will be first-class, and a good time is assured to all who attend.

See advertisement in our columns, and small bills. This is the annual ball, and no pains will be spared to make the occasion entertaining and enjoyable.

All for one dollar. Spectators 50 cents. 29-3w

Married.

At Findlay, Ohio, Nov. 14, 1905, Miss Mary Bonham, of Findlay, and Mr. R. Swanzy, of Deming.

Now we know why the young ladies of Deming failed to make any impression on Mr. Swanzy. He was here but his heart was two thousand miles away. Well, he is all here now, and we wish Mr. and Mrs. Swanzy a long, happy and prosperous career in the great southwest.

Deming needs a hundred more live young men with their wives to come here, "wake up" the town and make it go and grow. New life, new energy, a new lot of hustlers with new homes, all ambitious and determined to win, would soon work a wonderful transformation in Deming.

Merrill sells coal at $7 per ton.

Jap-a-lac, new stock just received at Merrill's.

We learn that Mrs. Rabb, who has been absent several weeks, is expected home next Sunday.

Mr. Ed. Merr is down with pneumonia, but is improving. We are glad to know that he is out of danger.

Call and see samples of corn raised on the Gorman ranch in the Mimbres valley, without cultivation or irrigation.

Samson windmills and Cushman engines are world beaters.

KNOWLES & ROLAND, Agents
Deming, N. M.

Miss Faulkner, of New York, is spending a few days with Miss Waddill, while en route from Oregon home. Mrs. Ely entertained in her honor last Tuesday evening.

That Photograph Plant.

Over on Silver avenue is the place to get your photos for Christmas presents to your wives and sweethearts. Mr. Baker has no superior as an artist in the southwest. Call and examine his work.

The Victoria.

Mr. Cain, the proprietor, seems to be very fortunate in his efforts to fill his house with the cream of the tourists, and traveling men who visit our town on business bent. True, the house being up-to-date, with first-class accommodations, has its attractions, but to get strangers to select that particular house on a first visit here, requires a peculiar talent, which Mr. Cain possesses, and he knows how to use it to make it win.

Don't Miss the Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette.

The program rendered by the Schubert Co. is entirely devoid of waits. Pleasing the people is a trade with this famous organization, and they know tiresome waits are not a part of an enjoyable program. Although their program is bright and entertaining and contains a great deal of pure fun, it is so refined in character and the laughs so wholesome, that it is selected and patronized by the most select people everywhere. Hear them Nov. 30th, at the Presbyterian church.

Concerning this organization, Grafton, (W. Va.) lodge No. 31, I. O. O. F. says: "Every number presented was a gem and the performers were applauded to the echo. The entire entertainment appealed to the good taste of the large and appreciative audience and was a success in every particular."

The program begins at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets and reserved seats, 50c and 75c at Palace Drug Store.

Birth Day Party.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Frank Thurmond gave a dinner in honor of Mr. Thurmond's sixty-fifth birthday. Dinner was served at six o'clock, covers being laid for sixteen.

The table decorations were white. The center-piece was a cut glass vase filled with white roses, resting upon a mirror, upon which were strewn white chrysanthemums, their reflected beauty giving the impression of water lilies in a pond of water. The number 65, outlined in deep red chrysanthemums, was very effective on the white background. The house was decorated with palms, potted plants, and a profusion of chrysanthemums.

The place cards, clever water-color sketches by Dalrymple of Chicago, had on the reverse side, in rhyme, a "hit" on some fad or peculiarity of each guest. These rhymes, the production of the versatile pen of Mr. Jordan, were read between courses, causing much amusement.

Mrs. Moir read a clever prophecy of the position in life each guest would have attained at the age of 65. Miss Hays presented sketches of how each guest would look when he or she had rounded out 65 years.

Near the end of the feast, a birthday cake, ablaze with the light of the 65 candles upon it, was placed before the host.

Dr. Swope, as toast-master called upon the different guests, who responded with toasts suitable to the occasion, which were drunk in champagne.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing "High Five." Mrs. Moir winning the lady's prize and Mr. Pollard the gentleman's prize.

The following guests were present—Mr. and Mrs. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Stecker, Dr. and Mrs. Moir, Dr. and Mrs. Swope, Mr. and Mrs. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, and Miss Olive Hays and Mr. Jordan.

Religious Services.

At the Presbyterian church on Sunday the theme of the morning sermon will be "Walking in the Light," evening theme, "Christ the Door." All are cordially invited to these services.

Baptist services at Odd Fellows Hall Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Methodist-Sabbath services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. F. W. Kille, who was called to Brookfield, Mo. some time ago by the death of her brother-in-law, Robert N. Arnold, returned home last Sunday.

The robbers who raided the tent at the sanatorium site last Friday have not yet been captured. However, a reward has been offered, and doubtless the thieves will be apprehended. They made away with guns, watches and jewelry, and will easily be located by trying to dispose of these articles.

Now it is "Dr. Moir & Stovall," see change in professional card. Dr. Stovall needs no introduction to Deming. He has formerly resided here, ranked among the leading physicians of New Mexico at the time, and "Excelsior" was his motto during the years he has been absent. With our present array of physicians, and their standing in the medical profession, it seems as if Death will have to "hump himself" in Deming to make a success of his business.

Last Saturday afternoon the ladies of the Society Circle rendered a farewell reception to Mrs. Mary Smith who has just left town to make her home in California, after a nine years' residence in Deming. The reception was given at the home of Mrs. U. Francis Duff. Lunch was served to which thirty persons sat down, and Mrs. Smith was presented with a beautifully engraved napkin ring and a gold brooch, as a slight memento of the esteem in which she is held by the rest of the members of the society. The affair was a very enjoyable one. The table was spread to represent autumn, with chrysanthemums and colored leaves scattered upon its surface.

Married.

On Wednesday evening, November 15th, at the Victoria, by Judge Chapman, Miss Susie Stalker, of Topeka, Kansas, and Mr. Arthur Sutherland, of Guerneville, Cal. Mr. Elmer Swartzel, of Missouri, was best man, and Mrs. Swartzel, Miss Vita Kater, of St. Louis, and Miss Rose Waugh, of Kansas City, were bridesmaids on the happy occasion.

The bridal parlor of the Victoria was very tastefully arranged for the occasion, and "mine host," his family, and all the hotel guests were present, consisting of S. E. Hamilton, and D. McKinley, of Kansas City; J. C. Tanner, El Paso; J. S. Curley, Boston; R. C. Dillim, Albuquerque; Jas. Grace, Ind.; Joe Baer, New York; P. Maxwell, St. Louis; Wm. Manta, Albuquerque, and A. J.
