CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND PUBLIC HOLD IMPORTANT MASS MEETING

Another important meeting was held at the S. A. office Tuesday night which was a continuation of the meeting held last Tuesday a week ago. The School question was brought up and the meeting informed that the annexation of the greater portion of Pleasant View District and a portion of Wagner District to the Roy District had been completed and a definite boundary line established between District No. 33 and District No. 24.

The annexed territory comprises nearly 40 sections of fine farming community and will add an assessed valuation of over $100,000 to the Roy District. The Roy District is one of the largest in the new county and contains practically one sixth of the assessed valuation of the whole of Harding County.

The matter of annexing the Liberty District also several sections from the southern end of Brand District will be taken up by the Board of Education at their meeting Friday night which if annexed will add considerable more wealth to the District.

The work on the New School House was taken up and discussed and the money available for its completion was arranged for and work will be pushed by contractors Brown and Thompson for completion in time for school for the present term. The main building will be erected first and the two wings completed later.

The Road question was taken up next for consideration and the Chamber of Commerce notified that favorable action had been taken by the County Commissioners on the proposed County Road from Roy to Carrizo crossing and thro the Dehaven neighborhood by way of Yatesville and on to the Union County line. This road will be well bridged and the mud holes repaired at once and the whole road graded later.

J. H. Mahoney made a proposition to the Chamber of Commerce that he would grade the road from the section line north of his place to Roy, about five miles, providing that the lumber was furnished for the culverts and the gasoline and oil furnished for the tractor. The proposition was accepted by the Board and Mr. Mahoney told to proceed with the work as soon as possible. It was one of those harmonious meetings for which Roy is noted and was well attended. A large number of farmers were present and showed their interest by taking an active part in the meeting.

Mayor F. S. Brown acted as chairman and S. E. Pafon acted as secretary for the evening. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday evening and everyone is asked to be present and help to thresh out these matters which are of mutual interest to the whole mesa. Remember next Tuesday evening August 2nd at the S. A. office. Be present.

J. E. Busey and some friends arrived from Sedan Tuesday evening. Mr. Busey came over to look after business matters and to visit his son Ray and family while his friend came over to take a once over of the new County of Harding.

LOCAL MASONIC DEGREE TEAM PUTS ON DEGREE WORK AT SPRINGER

The Degree Team of the Acacia Lodge No. 53 A.F. and A.M. of Roy accompanied by several members of the Local Lodge went to Springer last Saturday and put on the Third Degree work for the Springer Lodge. Acacia Lodge has a very strong degree team and their work is equal to any of the degree teams of the State. Those who attended from Roy report a royal time and also state that the Springer members are excellent entertainers.

Quite a number of visitors were present from the different Lodges in this part of the State. After the regular Lodge work was completed, those present listened to a fine address by Past Grand Master R. H. Hanna of Santa Fe who made a very impressive talk on the work of the Masonic Order. Mr. Hanna is an able speaker and his address was listened to with a great deal of interest by the members.

After the address and the closing of Lodge a fine banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star and we might add that this was one of the most important of the evenings entertainment.

Those present from Roy as far as we could learn the names were T. E. Mitchell, F. S. Brown, S. E. Paxton, E. F. Henry, J. M. Coffeen, J. W. Beck, R. Kilmurry, Homer Holmes and Albert Bacharach. They came home Sunday in the mud, worn out from the long trip but glad that they had attended the Lodge and appreciative of the courtesy shown by the Springer people.

A threshing outfit is due here this week from Okarche, Okla. It is an Avery 36-56 Separator and an advance 25 H.P. steam engine and will be in charge of the owner Mr. Bert Standard.

His separator man Mr. D. C. Mack arrived some days ago and is getting a line on the threshing on the mesa. It means competition for the threshing on this Mesa and that the threshing will be finished in record time.

Mr. Standish will bring his cook shack and is just off a 25 days run in Oklahoma and has his rig in the pink condition.

Mr. Mack is out in the harvest fields getting acquainted with the farmers on the mesa and he impresses all who meet him as a thresherman who knows the game.

The County Commissioners of Harding County held a very important meeting at the County Seat the first of the week and disposed of various matters and petitions on file with the Board.

The first matter taken up was the establishing of the Abbott precinct No. 17. The boundaries of this new precinct will be as follows: Beginning at a point on the Red River between sections 21 and 23 of Twp. 22 N of Range 24 East, and thence east along this line to the southeast corner of section 24. Twp. 22 N of Range 27 East, thence north along the line dividing ranges 27 and 28 to the Colfax County line. This will be quite a large precinct but will shorten the distance of travel for those going to vote by several miles, as all the voters in this territory had to go to Mills to vote. J. R. McKee of Abbott, was appointed Justice of Peace of this precinct, and Clyde McCoplin, Constable.

For Precinct No. 4 (Mills) C. J. McClure was appointed Justice of the Peace, and D. D. Hollipeter Constable. In Precinct No. 3 (Roy) F. H. Foster was given the J. P. job and Marshall J. G. Gambrel named Constable. At Buermeyer No. 18, Francisco Garcia captured the J. P. job, and Davis Martinez Constable, and at Mosquero, No. 1, A. H. McGlothlin was made J. P.

The question of assessed valuation of agricultural land in Harding Co. was then taken up and after a thoro discussion the assessed valuation of farming land was put at $7.50 per acre. This assessment will practically make Harding Co. Second Class.

The County was divided into 8 Road Districts and the following are the Districts and the Road Supervisors appointed.

District No. 1 composed of Precincts 1 and 2 (Solano and Mosquero) with J. W. Mackey as road Supervisor.

District No. 2, Precincts 3 and 5 and Twp. 21 N. R. 28 East, with R. C. Grunig as Supervisor. (This is Roy and Kephart Precincts)

District No. 3, Precincts 17 and 4 (Mills and Abbott) with C. F. Leonhard as Supervisor.

District No. 4, Precincts 7, and 8 and the balance of 6; Tony Heiman, Supervisor.

District No. 5, Precincts 9 and 10, Jim Gale, Supervisor.

District No. 6, Precinct 11, Demetrio Cordova, Supervisor.

District No. 7 Precincts 12, 13, and 14, Leonzo Gallegos, Supervisor.

District No. 8, Precincts 15, 16 and 18, Raymond Grossant, Supervisor.

The different Supervisors will be ordered to collect all road tax or see that the same is worked out on the roads. Plenty of road equipment will be ordered as soon as the funds are available.

A County road was established from Rosebud, up the David hill to Mosquero and thence up the E.P. and S.W.R.R. thru Solano, Roy, Mills and Abbott to the Colfax County line.

The matter regarding the Road to Red River bridge from Roy was taken up and was decided to build a good road to the bridge if Mora would fix up the road from Wagonmound to the bridge and the County Clerk was ordered to take the matter up at once with the County Commissioners of Mora County.

The petition from a number of residents of the County asking for the grading and the repairing of the road from Roy to Carrizo and on to Yatesville and Kephart was laid out and the work ordered to proceed as soon as possible. R. C. Grunig will have charge of this piece of road.

A petition for a road from Sawyers Ranch to Bueyeros and Mosquero was presented and passed by the Board. This road leads from the north eastern part of the county to Bueyeros, and to David hill and on to Mosquero.

The Board then adjourned to meet with the County Board of Education and the State Educational Auditor as soon as he could be present. At this meeting the School budgets will be taken up and a number of other tax matters.

MRS. ELIZABETH DODDS PASSES AWAY

A telegram was received by Gerald Dodds Thursday morning from his father I. C. Dodds at Divernon Ill. stating that his mother had passed away at 3.40 Friday morning.

Mrs. Dodds took suddenly ill a couple of weeks ago and her son I. C. Dodds was telegraphed for and he and his wife left last Thursday for Divernon and was at her bedside when she passed away. Mrs. Dodds was nearly 80 years old and had spent her entire life at Divernon near Springfield, Illinois.

The body will be laid to rest in old Cumberland Cemetery near Auburn, Illinois.

The Spanish American extends sympathy to the bereaved.

S. N. Gallegos is in town this week representing the Parisian Art Studio and visiting friends.

Tom Pint who has been spending several days in Roy looking after his large ranch southeast of town returned to Gilbertsville Iowa his new home last Monday. Tom was well pleased with the crop conditions of the Mesa and has an interest in several hundred acres of fine wheat on his ranch. Tom sure enjoyed our cool climate and we know that he will just have to move back here. We need just such families as the Pint family to make this mesa the garden spot of the good old U. S. A. and we will welcome them back any time to the mesa.

A Knights of Pythias Lodge was organized at Springer last Friday evening and a lot of Roy Knights went up in the mud to see that the work was done right. Those that took the degree are satisfied that it was surely done up right.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ORGANIZED

The County Board of Education of Harding County met at Mosquero last Monday and immediately proceeded to form a permanent organization. The meeting was called by the President County Sup't. Edith M. Coffeen and the permanent organization is as follows: President, Edith M. Coffeen; Active President, Myra O. Defrees; Vice president, Oliver M. Warrender; Secretary, W. G. Johnson; Erma L. Leonhard and Luis C. De Baca, Members.

Several important matters were taken up and disposed of at the meeting; among them being the following: All teachers are to be paid on a nine months basis; The boundary line was established between Districts Nos. 24 and 33; A school district map was ordered to be made of Harding County. Arrangements were made for the numbering of all school districts of the County at next regular meeting of the Board. The budgets of the different Districts was left over to be disposed of at the next meeting of the County Commissioners. All Clerks of local boards were ordered to have school census taken during month of August. These and many more minor matters were disposed of by the board. The next meeting will be held in conjunction with the County Commissioners and the State Educational Auditor and which will be the fore part of August.

F. S. BROWN NAMED COUNTY CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

The Republican Convention which was held at Mosquero last Monday was well attended. E. J. H. Roy and B. F. Brown were candidates for the County Chairman of the Central Committee but later they both withdrew and F. S. Brown of Roy was elected chairman and Remigio Lopez Secretary. The Party is completely organized in Harding County and have a strong Central Committee elected which should aid them materially in the coming election.

Elmer Bursick who has been spending the vacation with his sister Mrs. Messner at Raton returned home Sunday Elmer says 'you bet I had a fine time!'

MYRA O. DEFREES TO BE ACTIVE SUPERINTENDENT OF HARDING COUNTY SCHOOLS

Edith M. Coffeen, County Superintendent of the Schools of Harding County has appointed Myra O. Defrees of Roy as active Superintendent.

Mrs. Coffeen's health has been failing the past several months and her physicians have advised her that the heavy work of the office is detrimental to her and asked her to cease the work as Sup't of Schools for the present at least or until she regains her health.

Mrs. Coffeen was appointed by Governor Mechem to the office of County Superintendent last June and has worked hard every day to get the heavy work of her office outlined and on a good working basis. During the few weeks that she has been in office she has held the County Institute, held two teachers examinations and has the County work in fine going order and has also held a meeting of the County Board of Education and also has the Board in fine working condition.

Her many friends will be sorry to learn that her health will not permit her to continue the active work of the office, but glad to hear that she has not resigned as was at first reported over the County.

Mrs. Defrees who will be the active County Sup't is well known all over Harding County as an educator of considerable ability. For several years she was the primary teacher in the Roy Schools and for the past few years has been an employee of the Roy Trading Company. She had been employed by the Roy Board of Education to have charge of the this winter.

We believe Mrs. Defrees is fully competent to handle the work turned over to her by Mrs. Coffeen and that she will keep up the same high standard of work for the Schools of the County as has been outlined and started by Mrs. Coffeen and that with the help of the Board of Education she will place the Harding County Schools in the foreground of New Mexico Educational work.

THE AMENDMENTS

The Spanish-American with this weeks issue begins the publication of the different Amendments to be voted upon September 20th. We are publishing four this week and will publish some each week until all are published. Read them over carefully and decide which way you are going to vote on them. Some are very good and should be adopted while others in our own opinion should be defeated. We will give the public our opinion on these different amendments in a later issue of the S. A.

DRESSMAKER MADE WELL

Followed a Neighbor's Advice and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vernon, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. MARIE GESSLER.

Synopsis.—In a New York jewelry store Philip Severn, United States consular agent, notices a small box which attracts him. He purchases it. Later he discovers in a secret compartment a writing giving a clue to a revolutionary movement in this country seeking to overthrow the Chilean government. The writing mentions a rendezvous, and Severn decides to investigate. Finding the place mentioned in the writing apparently deserted, Severn visits a saloon in the vicinity. A woman in the place is met by a man, seemingly by appointment, and Severn, his suspicions aroused, follows them. They go to the designated meeting place, an abandoned iron foundry. At the rendezvous Severn is accepted as one of the conspirators and admitted. He meets a stranger who addresses him as Harry Daly. The incident plays into Severn's hands and he accepts it. His new acquaintance is a notorious thief, "Gentleman George" Harris. Concealed, Severn hears the girl he had followed address the conspirators. She urges them to hasten the work of the revolution. The girl discloses Severn's presence. She accepts his explanation of his presence and makes an appointment to meet him next day. He tells her his name is Daly. Harris informs him of a scheme he has to secure a sum amounting to $1,000,000, the revolutionary fund, and offers to "split" with him. Severn accepts the proposition. Severn learns it was his new friend and a "Captain Alva" who had lost the box which started him on the trail.

"And then, of course, you hunted up Alva?"

"The next morning, before any bank opened. I thought over it all night and got up a peach of a story. I needed it, too, for this Alva was a smooth guy. It took some nerve to get him, but I knew, through Horner's memorandum, some things about him he never supposed was known up in this country; so when I sprung them, natural-like, he quit being offish, and gave me the glad hand."

"Who is he? A crank?"
"Not by a d-d sight. He's a captain in the Chilean army, military attaché to the embassy at Washington, entrusted with certain work. But he's really working to overthrow the present Chilean government—gettin' up a revolution down there. I lied until I was black in the face, but I must have kept within bounds, for he got to liking me real well. He was a high-roller, and I put him onto some things in New York he had never been steered against before. That made it hot with him. There wasn't nothing solid about cashing up all day long, and early the next morning we breezed into a downtown hotel, and went to bed."

"What hotel?"
"Search me. We'd been tanking up on champagne and were drunker in the morning than when we turned in. That's the honest truth. All either of us wanted for breakfast was a cup of coffee. We got that at a little dump on some side street, so as to brace up a little." He paused to laugh at the recollection, helping himself to a third cigar.

"And you actually retain no knowledge of where you spent the night?"

"Not the faintest glimmer. Can you beat it? Alva lost part of a letter somewhere, and a curious sort of box he had picked up in Chinatown. He put them both in his pocket, so he says, but that was the last he ever saw of either. Queer looking box that was; nothing I cared about, but it cost the guy a hundred bucks, and he was daffy over it. Anyhow, that night put me solid with Alva."

"But the money? He's never drawn it?"

"Not a dinky red. He claims the time hasn't come yet, and that it's safer with Krantz. But I've stuck to him like a brother and he's took me in with his gang, so now I know every move that's going on. I'm on the inside, all right, and now it's beginning to get hot."

"Sure; that's what the meeting was about tonight."

"What are they after—ships?"

"Well, they've got to have some, but mostly arms; then there is a guy down there who's got to be crooked. I don't care what it is; when the time comes they won't find a handful of change to act with. I'm some patriot, I am, and I'll put a bigger crimp in their sails than the whole United States government secret service."

"But see here, Harris," soberly, "how do you know you are going to get this? Of course, I see the game the way you've mapped it out, but suppose Krantz pays in check, or draft. That spikes your gun."

"H—I, yes; but he won't. I've sized up this man Krantz. He's in the game for money. He don't care who wins the d—n revolution, for he gets his share out of the pot right away. He's playing the game secretly on his own account. Get that? He expects it may be a year, or perhaps two, before he can cash in on the deal, but when it does come his share of profit will be likely a hundred thousand. That beats bank interest, and the old bird is willing to take the chance."

"Quite likely that's true; no bank would finance such a project."

"Of course not—the directors would throw a fit. Well, now, that kind of a guy, in on a raw deal like this, is going to play safe, isn't he? He isn't going to leave any evidence lying around to hang himself with—any drafts, or checks to pass through the clearing house? Not on your life; he is too wily a fox for that. Krantz knew this was coming, and he's been cashing in for six months or more to be ready for it. And now he's got the currency stored away, nobody knows where but himself. When Alva comes for it, it will be handed out secretly, and that old bird will crumple up the receipt in his pocket and wait till he can cash in through those guys in London. So now it's up to us to locate the dough; we've got to separate it from either Krantz, or Alva—I'm for Alva."

"Why?"
"Because the job looks easier. He's human and no money grubber. He's just as liable as not to carry the whole wad around with him; d—n it. I think that's just what he will do, for he won't dare deposit such a sum anywhere. That's why I have laid back so long, without attempting to strike—I'm banking on the army captain to offer me a soft thing. What do you say?"

I had the whole story now in a nutshell and it was one to think over. That Harris had played his cards well was sufficiently evident. Now I must be fully as cautious in playing mine. I felt the fellow had given me his full confidence; actually believing me to be Daly, and on the same trail with him; desiring to use me in what was probably the biggest job of his life, he had been led into the indiscretion of confiding to me the full truth of his scheme. If I kept my head and nerve, I had it in my power to block everything and thus bring the whole gang to swift justice. I realized the danger of such an attempt, the immediate peril of endeavoring to accomplish this alone, yet at the moment perceived no other way. I must remain Daly and appear eager to obtain my share of the spoils.

"A slick piece of work, Harris," I admitted admiringly, "and so far as I can judge you have figured out the chances about right. They look good. I'm with you, old man—shake!"

"Our hands clasped. "That is what I thought you would say, Harry," more familiarly. "Come on now and drink with me."

I put the stuff down, rather feeling the need of it, and desiring to establish our intimacy more closely.

"Then that's settled, George—yes, I'll have another cigar. By the way," as I lit up, "there was another thing I wanted to ask you about. You said there was a woman here from Washington. What's the idea?"

"D—n if I know, but I guess it's all right. Still I don't quite cotton to the dame. This is how I get it from Alva. Those Junta fellows—the big ones, you know—think this New York bunch is pretty slow; they want some action for their money. So Senor Mendez, who seems to be engineering the deal, decides to send somebody over here to stir up the criminals. But he's watched every minute; secret service men are as thick as flies, and if one of his underlings was to leave for New York, he'd never get ten feet without being spotted. Mendez is wise to this, so he gathers in privately a skirt he believes is all right, and sends her. It's not a decent job for a woman, and that's what makes it safe. He made a good guess, too; that female is as smart as a steel trap. She gave me the cold shivers."

"You don't think she suspects you?"

"No, I don't; there ain't no reason why she should; but she gave me the once over, all right, and I am perfectly willing to know she is on her way back to Washington. I never did play in any luck with a woman in the game—perhaps that's what makes me afraid of 'em."

"What's her name?"

"Gessler, so Alva said—Marie Gessler; South American, I suppose; anyhow, she talked that language like a native. I steered clear of her most of the time. Somehow she got my goat. However, that's nothing to worry over." He glanced at his watch. "The dame's safely off by this time. What do you say—let's go home."

I signified my willingness.

As we passed out together through the narrow passage, extinguishing the lights behind us, the one overpowering desire in my mind was to be once more alone, so as to think over, and piece together as best I might this fabric of villainy with which I was confronted. The situation was fairly clear, yet there were strange lights and shadows in it I found hard to reconcile. Moreover, what should I do? How could I serve best—by immediately telling my story to the officers of the law, and thus washing my hands clean? or by continuing to enact the role of Harry Daly, and in this way entrapping these fellows red-handed? I had had fully enough of Harris for the present. His boastfulness and pride of crime disgusted me. I had no desire to be associated with the fellow, or pretend, even for a worthy purpose, to be his companion. Yet, all this had happened so suddenly and unexpectedly I could not determine the best course to pursue. I remained dazed and confused, the only clear decision being an eagerness to bring him, and these others also, to justice.

We were the last to leave the place, and emerged from the building into the deserted yard, leaving all in silence and darkness behind us. The door closed tightly, secured by a night-latch, and we stood motionless in the drizzle. By that time I was ready with a suggestion, but by good fortune he took the initiative.

"We better slip out of here alone, I reckon," he whispered. "I'll go up this way, and then you take a sneak through the lumber yard. Likely we'll catch the same car going down. If we don't, look me up at Costigan's place—you know where that is?"

"Sixth avenue, isn't it?"
"Sure. Ask for Parker, and it will be all right. If I ain't in, leave a note where I can hunt you up. I got to keep my eye on Alva tomorrow, so he don't get away with the stuff."

"You expect him to draw?"
"Not before night; but, just the same, I want to know for sure. You wait here five minutes, for I've got the longest trip to make. You'll show up all right?"

"You can't lose me; it looks too good."
He chuckled and patted me on the shoulder in an excess of friendliness, evidently feeling to some extent the whisky he had been imbibing so freely.

"That's the talk, Daly. Well, so long."
He slipped out through the gate into the dark of the alley, leaving it slightly ajar for me to follow. I sheltered myself behind the high board fence and listened to the soft slush of his feet in the mud. The sound vanished, and all about was silence and darkness. I waited only long enough to be sure he was safely out of the way, and then followed, eager to be off. One thing was certain, I would make no effort to join him on the car; I would use the remainder of the night to decide the future, working out the problem alone.

To make certain that I avoided any possibility of encountering the fellow again, I passed directly through the deserted lumber yard before emerging upon Gans street. This thoroughfare was at this hour desolate enough, not a light showing in the houses, or a moving figure visible as far as I could see in the dimness of the street lamps. The rain was steady, the pavement shimmering with moisture, the only sound the pattering of the drops as they fell. If any policemen were abroad I saw no signs, and, with collar turned up to my ears, I chose to walk rather than seek the block to the east and the possibility of a street car.

The factory district ended in a row of houses, dark and silent at this hour, but the walking was good, and I pushed forward briskly, so buried in thought as to become practically insensible to the unpleasant surroundings. The night had been a full one, far exceeding my expectations, yet left me more puzzled than ever as to my own duty. So far I knew of no act of crime with which these men could be connected; they were merely proposing a future attack on a neutral government. If, however, I consented to play my part with Harris, I would not only be in ample time to circumvent any danger Alva and his gang might contemplate, but also gain ample evidence for their conviction and expulsion from this country. In addition to this I would be in position to block the daring plans of this international thief. Altogether it seemed to me that the wiser course for me to pursue was to wait, and watch, ready to act at any moment, but keeping my own counsel until certain that the specific moment had arrived.

Nor was I oblivious to the strange impression left upon me by my encounter with Marie Gessler. She had interested me oddly, and I could not drive her memory from my thoughts. Our moment of conversation had been peculiar, and her words and actions remained as a constraint. Why had she stood there, her hand on the door, and faltered to me in that mocking way? Had she a purpose, an aim? Did she believe my explanation? or was her suspicion aroused into a determination to verify it in some way? Although I could not decide, yet doubtless the latter theory was the most probable. That was why I had been pledged to call at "247 Le Compte street," and ask for "Miss Conrad."

This was the same place where Harris had secretly met Krantz. Evidently it was another headquarters for these precious villains. Once there, and safely in their power, the truth of my identity could easily be established. Was that her idea?

DEMAND FOR TANLAC BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Amazing Success Achieved by Celebrated Medicine Not Only Phenomenal, But Unprecedented—Over 20,000,000 Bottles Sold in Six Years—Foreign Countries Clamor for It.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of the drug trade has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout this country and Canada. As a matter of fact, the marvelous success achieved by this medicine is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over six years ago. Its success was immediate and people everywhere were quick to recognize it as a medicine of extraordinary merit. Since that time there have been sold throughout this country and Canada something over Twenty Million (20,000,000) bottles, establishing a record which has probably never been equalled in the history of the drug trade in America.

Fame is International.
The instant and phenomenal success which Tanlac won when it was first introduced has been extended to practically every large city, small town, village and hamlet in North America. Its fame has become international in its scope and England, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Porto Rico and many European countries are clamoring for it.

From coast to coast and from Great Lakes to the Gulf, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it with the most gratifying and astonishing results and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time.

Tens of thousands of men and women of all ages in all walks of life, afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse, have testified that they have been fully restored to their normal weight, health and strength by its use.

Restored to Health.
Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomachs, coated tongues, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and of terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by the use of Tanlac.
Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Get Many Silly Complaints.
Every day the postmasters in the larger cities receive countless letters of complaint. Not unnaturally among so large a number there are many of a frivolous nature. For example, one woman wrote that the carrier who delivered her letters was engaged to a woman twice his own age, and requested that he should be asked to break off the engagement or be dismissed.

DESERT ISLE IN BIG CITY
Woman Writer Satisfied With Her Residence in "Hell's Half Acre" in Philadelphia.
Katharine Haviland Taylor, the novelist, says she's found a desert island and peace right in the middle of Philadelphia. It happened quite accidentally. Recently she went apartment hunting with very little knowledge of the residential districts of Philadelphia. She found an apartment and rented it because there were two limousines out in front, and so she judged that the street was all right. One of those limousines belongs to a broker of rags and paper, she learned later, and the other to an Italian peanut vender. She had moved into the historic district called "Hell's Half Acre."

The Sweet Young Thing did not object when the man alongside read her newspaper over her shoulder, but she drew the line when he commenced to read a note which she undertook later to pencil to an Equally Sweet Young Thing, who was at the moment out of town. The man followed every word of the note with interest until the Sweet Young Thing calmly wrote:

"I was about to tell you the reason why Dot broke off her engagement to Terry, but I cannot do it now because a man sitting alongside me is reading everything I write."
The man alongside turned his head the other way quickly and fidgeted in embarrassment, and at the next station he got out. Then the Sweet Young Thing wrote:
"That finished him, dearie. And as I was about to say when he interrupted me, Dot broke it off because—"

NO EXEMPTION

For the benefit of ex-service men who seem to be laboring under a misunderstanding of the situation, it should be explained clearly that the law at present in New Mexico provides no exemption of any kind save in the case of active members of the national guard.

Ex-service men it is said have been refusing to pay poll and road taxes, believing they are exempt.

The Fifth legislature repealed the 1919 law giving service men a $2,000 tax exemption on the ground the law was unconstitutional and to make it constitutional an amendment is to be voted on in September. If the amendment carries, the service men must still wait until the following legislative acts.

There is no law exempting ex-service men from road or poll tax except that exempting all active members of the national guard who produce a certificate from their immediate commanding officer to the effect that they have performed all their military duties for the preceding year.

MEMORIAL TO LEONARD HOSKINS IN STADIUM AT ILLINOIS VARSITY.

Leonard Cunningham Hoskins Las Vegas, New Mexico, who was killed in action June 28, 1918, will have a column in the new University of Illinois Stadium dedicated to his honor, according to a plan adopted by the executive committee whereby columns will be erected to each of the 183 Illini and students who were killed in the World War.

The memorial columns will be directly in front of the Stadium gridiron and will surround a Court of Honor in which is planned a Greek theatre seating 10,000 persons.

In addition to these individual memorial columns for those who died, each of the 75,000 seats in the mammoth new structure may be dedicated to soldiers and sailors of the state and University who fought in the war. Practically $700,000 has already been raised for the Stadium and it is expected that more than $1,500,000 will be pledged in the nationwide campaign during the football season next fall. HOGS ON A DRUNK AFTER TAKING BATH IN MOONSHINE;

A bunch of drunken hogs lead to discovery of a still and about 100 gallons of corn mash at the ranch of Doores Martinez, about 30 miles west of here Saturday afternoon, July 9th. Martinez it is said had been warned of the approach of John Beaver, prohibition agent and poured all the mash into the hog pen before the arrival of the officers, and as the result the hogs not only took a bath in the mash, but filled up on it and when the party arrived they were all staggering around the pen in a hilarious condition. Martinez stated that the mash had been made for the hogs but after a hearing before the U.S. Commissioner he was held to the grand jury under bond of $1,000.

WAGON MOUND TO WATROUS HIGHWAY TO BE REPAIRED

The highway from Wagon Mound to Watrous which is said to be the worst stretch of road in the state will soon be placed in first class condition if the present plans are carried out. A large tractor and other equipment has been taken to the starting point and the work will be started at once with a large force of men. Owing to the heavy rains of the past ten days, the road has been almost impassible in some places and much of the tourist traffic has been obliged to detour on other lines. The work will be done under the direction of District Highway Engineer P. M. Bowen.

NEWS TO FARMERS

John Fields in the "Oklahoma Farmer" states that one farm out of ten in Oklahoma is henless. It would be interesting to know how many are cowless and pigless. We do not care to point the finger of scorn at Oklahoma for this unfortunate situation. Doubtless in dry farming sections of New Mexico, one might find a great many farms where a brood sow would be a curiosity where the cackle of accomplishment from the lowly hen is never heard; and where the milking is done by opening a tin can. Fortunately, this condition is changing. We are learning that the farm should support the family in more ways than by simply producing a crop of grain, beans or hay to be hauled to market. Many a farmer in New Mexico can point to a store bill paid in full, and a well-supplied table, by reason of the fact that a few cows, pigs and chickens have been kept on the farm.

There is no time like the present for improving the general classes of live stock on New Mexico farms. Much has been said and written about improvement that can be effected by the use of purebred sires of good individual quality. Prices of breeding stock are lower than they have been for years. It is true that money is scarce in general, but it is doubtful if there are many purebred sires in the state. Where sufficient oil is used, this means of controlling the sand dunes is very effective, and it is believed that the cost will not be excessive, though exact figures are not obtainable at this time.

Ask your county agent or write to the Agricultural college for a list of the breeders of purebred livestock in the state. Get the better sire now! The principal object of cultivation is to kill the weeds. When one has killed all the weeds, he has done about all that needs to be done in the way of cultivation.

OIL SPRAY SOLVES PROBLEM

Shifting Sand Dunes Form Serious Obstacle to Improved Road Making in Northwest.

Shifting sand dunes which cover up a highway soon after it is completed have formed a serious obstacle to improved road building in some parts of the country, particularly in the Northwest. To remedy the evil, the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture has employed a more extensive application of the agency that has been used in the past to lay dust on ordinary highways—oil.

Fifty-three miles of construction of the Columbia river highway from The Dalles eastward lies through sandy country. In many places of a volcanic ash as light as flour. As fast as cuts are opened up and fills made in this light soil the wind whips out the fill slopes and sand dunes creep into rock cuts, completely blocking the road. Oil is the only agency yet found to stop the trouble. The equipment used to spray the crude oil consists of two supply tanks, or drums, in which the oil is carried from the storage tank at the roadway siding, and a tractor, which draws the oiling rig and supplies the steam through a hose to the compressor tank, which is carried on a trailer. The oil is heated by the steam and forced through a hose with a nozzle consisting of a half-inch pipe. The steam atomizes the oil and sends it in a fine spray for 100 feet or more depending on whether the spray is projected in the direction of the wind or against it. For obvious reasons, spraying is usually carried on in the direction of the wind.

Where sufficient oil is used, this means of controlling the sand dunes is very effective, and it is believed that the cost will not be excessive, though exact figures are not obtainable at this time.

NEW AND GOOD ROADS BUILT

Needs of Commercial Interests, of Tourists as Well as Farmer, Have Been Considered.

Wonderful progress is being made in constructing a great network of good roads throughout the country. The needs of commercial interests, of tourists, as well as the farmer, have been consulted in designing this system. It has long been a reproach that American roads were inferior to those of most European countries but this condition of affairs is now being corrected. In 1916 the government appropriated $75,000,000 to be spent in five installments, the last of which amounting to $25,000,000, was to be released July 1, 1920, and this has since been increased by an additional $200,000,000. Up to May 1 plans had been approved for building 27,000 miles of road on the lines of the Illinois route from St. Louis to San Francisco and of this 13,540 were actually under construction.—Boys' Life.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENJOYS WEINIE ROAST

The Loyalty Class of the Baptist Sunday School enjoyed a weinie roast in the canyons near the Morris Baker home last Tuesday evening. Several car loads of the young folks of this interesting class drove out at sun-set and spent the evening hours in the depths of the canyons picnicking and lurching.

Large bonfires were built which lit up the canyons and made it almost as light as day. Several of the young folks enjoyed the large "swimming hole" and after several hours of pleasure all started for home.

One of the cars tried to straddle a large log on the return trip out of the canyons, but couldn't make it, so the occupants came home with those of the other cars.

The Loyalty Class is one of the largest Classes of the Baptist Sunday School and they meet every Tuesday evening either for a social or business session and in this manner keep up the interest of the Class in social work as well as Christian work.

CHAMPION BALL TEAM DANCE A SUCCESS

The Baseball dance given by the Champion Ball Team Thursday night at the Roy Theater was well attended and the Ball boys realized a nice sum of money from the dance. COUNTY SEAT NEWS

Notwithstanding that the wheat is down pretty bad after the heavy rains harvesting is proceeding nicely and the greater part of the crop will be saved. The rain seems to have let up for a few days and the farmers are literally making hay and especially wheat while the sun shines but are keeping a watchful eye on the little clouds that gather on the horizon.

It has been a very busy week at the County Seat this week. The County Commissioners were in session. The County Board of Education also met and the Republican County Convention was held at the same time.

Quite a lot of sickness in the neighborhood at the present writing. There seems to be an epidemic of stomach trouble and the doctors are kept on the jump the greater part of the time. Dr. Daniels himself took to bed Tuesday and selected one of his better tasting medicines and tried them out on himself with apparently good results as he reported his patient as "rapidly improving under expert medical attention" soon afterwards.

We received an invitation from that Mills correspondent to a Sunday School Convention to be held at Solano and incidentally a dinner at the same time and place. We do not believe in that old saying of beware of Greeks bearing gifts and are going if we have to walk, swim or wade mud and we are going to fast three days before going and forget our manners and ask for two pieces of pie and just have one of the "bestest" times whatever.

The Commissioners took up one of the first crying needs of the new county the matter of better roads. They established a few County roads, divided the county into road districts, appointed district road supervisors and requested them to get busy and try to get things lined up for good road work in the near future. If you are not getting the proper road attention in your community get busy and see your road supervisor and if his district is so large that he can not give you the proper attention get busy with a petition and get you a road district created which must comprise two or more school districts, recommend a suitable person for supervisor and take the matter up with the county commissioners. You have got a body of men that are honestly trying to give you actual service with the limited means at their hands and the handicap of a new organization but if you will just cooperate a little and let them know what you need you will get results with a capital R.

At the commissioner meeting a petition signed by a number of citizens from Addott was presented asking for the creation of a new precinct and the Abbott precinct was accordingly created taking a strip off of the north side of the Mills precinct from the river to the Old Union Co. line. If you have to travel too far to vote under present conditions get up a petition to the commissioners, describe the lines of the precinct as you desire it created and careful not to work a hardship in any way on the voters of the old precincts from which the territory is taken and have it signed by fifty or more legal voters of the territory covered and present it to the commissioners.

We have been so busy a part of the time and so sick the balance of the time that we have not been able to give much attention to our items for the last two weeks in fact we are seriously thinking of resigning as editor-in-chief of the County Seat items and let some better correspondent take our position. There isn't much joy in it any more, any how. The Mentras Club busted up. The editor of the Clayton News went quarrel with us any more, Irvin Ogden gets peevish and pouts and wont scrap and wanders off into the mountains with us and the Mills correspondent invites us to a picnic dinner so that we do not dare to pick on her any more for fear that she might withdraw the invitation so what's the use of corresponding anyhow.

Owing to the heavy rains throughout the country that rendered the roads almost impassible the Republican County Convention was not as well attended as had been expected there being but eleven precincts out of the seventeen officially represented with delegates.

Enthusiasm was great, however, and an organization perfected that promises to sweep the Republican Party to a glorious victory at the next election in September. The principal event of the convention was the election of the county organization. Benj. F. Brown announced himself as a candidate in opposition to E. J. H. Roy. Considerable feeling had been worked up over the matter and Senator Mitchell suggested that in order to avoid any hard feeling in the party it might be policy for both candidates to withdraw and have a third party nomination instead. Brown then made a short speech stating that his only reason for offering himself as a candidate was the fact that he did not think it proper that a person who had been elected to office on a fusion ticket should at this time head the Harding County Republican Central Committee and that if M. Roy was withdrawn as a candidate that he would gladly withdraw. The Committee then went into executive session and Mr. Fred S. Brown of Roy was unanimously elected Chairman on Motion of Benj. F. Brown. Mr. R. Lopez was elected Secretary, the various precincts assigned their members on the committee and the meeting adjourned after recommending for appointment as probate judge in place of Candelari Vigil, resigned, Mr. Julian Padilla, of Bueyeros.

The Methodist Church announce that they will have special services at Mosquero, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Gardner, as follows: Sunday night, July 31st, "Christian Unity", Monday, Aug. 1st, "The Church and What it is". On Tuesday night a sermon for men only on "Personal Purity" a sermon entitled "A Plain Talk to Men" and on Wednesday night the "Greater Freedom". Everybody cordially invited to attend.

The Democratic County Convention will be held at Mosquero next Saturday at which time they will select the "Goats" for their great defeat at the September election. All good Democrats are expected to attend and make this event a howling success. In order to insure a full attendance it would probably be a good idea for a few Republicans to drop in and help make up a quorum. (Mr. Editor don't blue pencil this, they wont get mad and stop their subscription, they'll just consider the source and let it go. If they dont just blame it on to me.)

If you readers of these witty and sage items don't believe that Harding County has the best set of county commissioners and the County Board of Education of any county in the state, just drop in at some of their meetings and bring your troubles along and watch them work. Now honestly arent you glad that you are in the new county, even if the county seat is not just where you would have located it if it had been left up to your own judgement or the county officers not the same ones that you would have appointed if the matter had been left in your hands? If you aren't, it's because you haven't been down and sized the bunch up and saw them "digging in" and trying to remedy some of the evils that you have been suffering while under the governments of a couple of counties that were acting as your step-mothers in a maternal half-hearted sort of way.

DIED—at Mosquero on Tuesday night, July 26th, at 9.00 P.M. Mrs. Maria Garcia, wife of Francisco Garcia, after a long and lingering illness of several months duration. Mrs. Garcia was about sixty years of age at the time of her death and leaves to mourn her departure, a husband, three grown children. Interment was made in the Catholic Cemetery at Mosquero on the 28th.

Mrs. Ollie D. Jones, formerly Mrs. Ollie Williams, an old resident and homesteader of near Solano, for several years a teacher in the Mosquero Schools and later a teacher in the State Reform School at Springer, is visiting old friends and looking after business interests in Mosquero and vicinity this week. Mrs. Jones still owns the place she homesteaded near Solano, and while here completed arrangements for leasing it on a three year contract. She now resides in Kansas where she is happily married, has a nice home and is getting along nicely. But the cool breezes and pleasant climate of New Mexico have an attraction for her that will probably cause her to locate with us again sometime in the distant future. She reports things as prosperous in Kansas although the wheat crops will not be nearly so good as on the Mesa. Her Kansas home is up near the Nebraska-Kansas line.

MOSQUERO SCHOOL BONDS

Mosquero School Bonds Carry by Solid Vote

At the school election held at Mosquero last Monday when a $23,000 bond issue was voted on the bonds carried by a solid vote. There were 69 votes cast and every vote was cast for the bonds. The bonds will be sold as soon as possible; the erection of a fine new school house will be started. The board is figuring on selling the old school house to the County to be used as a temporary court house and with the entire funds available then they should be able to erect at least an eight room school house. The Board is figuring on donating a 2 acre tract. Mosquero is deserving of a fine new school house and the vote of Monday is surely evidence that they want one.

Messrs. Burford Moran and Jewel Hernden of Gould Oklahoma have been visiting at the Gilstrap home this week. They report the hottest summer in Gould seen for many years.

We were told by a number of Wm. Hill's friends at the meeting last Monday evening that William was figuring very strongly of going into the perfume business. However we cannot vouch for it, but his neighbors say that he made an excellent start on the way to town that evening.

Mrs. L. M. Wyatt arrived in Roy from Wichita Falls, Texas last Tuesday and will spend a few weeks visiting old time friends on the mesa.

We were mistaken in last week's issue when we said that L. N. DeWeese brot his Fordson up to the Beck Ford Hospital for repairs. Instead of bringing his old Fordson up for repairs he came up and bot a new one and will run two Fordsons instead of one this fall. Fordsons scarcely ever need hospital attention and we make this correction accordingly.

LIBERTY

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mitchell July 18th, a son. All parties are reported getting along nicely.

A number of invited guests spent a pleasant evening at the L. N. Woodward home last Saturday.

Geo. Lucas purchased a No. 15 DeLaval Separator of the J. E. Busey Co. of Roy. last week.

Mrs. Robert Holmes and daughter Helen, visited her mother near Roy last week.

W. Fred Ogden, who has been spending his vacation at the parental Ogden home, went to Dawson Sunday to visit friends enroute to his home in Brighton Colorado.

The continued rains are greatly interfering with the wheat harvest, despite the good its doing to the corn and bean crops, just now we would appreciate a few dry sunny days.

GOOD ROADS

BUILDING OF BETTER ROADS

Highway Educational Work Extending Its Scope in Various Sections of the Country.

The extent to which the people of the United States are committing themselves to a definite policy of highway development is shown by reports reaching the federal highway council from all sections of the country.

In the face of high cost for both materials and labor, and the fact that in some states construction programs must be altered somewhat to meet existing labor and material conditions, there is no tendency upon the part of the people to slow down in their plans to place the nation's highways upon a higher plane in the country's transportation system. Tersely stated, "they are sold to the heels" on the proposition to construct highways that will release rather than restrict traffic, and they are dismissing labor and material problems with curt instructions to their official servants that it is up to them to deliver the roads.

A curious fact in connection with construction problems at the present moment is that the building of roads is seriously hindered by the same evil which they are designed to remove—lack of transportation. According to authoritative information, production is halted to a greater degree by inadequate transportation facilities than by labor shortage. At least this is true, it is claimed, in the production of materials for road building.

Highway officials—state and county as well as national—are facing their duties with patience and tact, and out of a maze of trying situations construction is going ahead at a fairly satisfactory rate. But as Paul D. Sargent, state highway engineer of Missouri and president of the American Association of Highway Officials, pointed out in a meeting at Philadelphia recently, when the people finally decide to authorize the development of any particular road project, they are prone to expect the work done almost overnight.

WHAT GOOD HIGHWAYS MEAN

Enable Farmers to Get Their Different Crops to Market at Least Possible Expense.

"Farmers are business men and to order to conduct their farms in a businesslike way and cope with other business men in the state they must devise ways and means of reducing the expenses of operation," said L. E. Birdsall in submitting a resolution to the Illinois Agricultural Association. He added: "In no way can the expense of farming be reduced as completely as by securing good roads running by the farms which will enable the delivery of crops to market with the least possible expense."

That is good sound sense and coming from a practical farmer it shows that farmers are keenly alive to the need and value of improved roads. Mr. Birdsall lays further emphasis on the need of selecting the most competent men for highway officials so that the best talent may be available for road building and repairing.

ROAD DRAINING AND GRADING

Highways Out of Commission but Few Days in Year When Cared for by Good Patrolman.

The first step in road improvement is to grade and drain the dirt roads thoroughly. It is surprising, after driving over some of our neglected earth roads, to see what a splendid road can be made by draining and grading alone, and how few days during the year it is out of commission when cared for by a good patrolman.

Eighty Years of Rumely Experience Guards the Oil Pull User

For over eighty years power farming machinery bearing the Advance-Rumely mark has set a standard for honest construction and dependable operation.

This is demonstrated in the Rumely Oil Pull tractors. First made in 1909, Oil Pull tractors have back of them the accumulated manufacturing experience of these 80 years—experience that enabled the designers to start with a design of dependable, practical features.

And this design has not been fundamentally changed. You will find the same dependable features in the new product, oil burning, oil cooled, two cylinder heavy duty motor, spur gear transmission, straight membered frame—all features that have stood the test of over 12 years' field service. True, improvements have been made. Parts have been strengthened, the design has been refined, and season after season, the performance has steadily improved.

The result as seen today, is that an oil burning, oil cooled Oil Pull, as a real power farm unit, is equaled only by another Oil Pull.

There is a size for every farm—12-20, 15-30, 20-40 and 30-60 H. P.

We will be glad to explain these dependable features.

WEAK VALVE SPRINGS

Weakening of the springs which close the valves is a common cause of faulty engine operation. Whenever the valves are taken out the springs should be examined to see that they are all of the same length, or rather that all of the inlet set are of the same length and all of the exhaust, as the exhaust springs will probably be a little longer than the others. If one spring is shorter than the others in its set it should be stretched or else a metal plate must be put under it to bring tension up to equality with its fellows.

United States navy, was awarded a de-

Rookie Policeman Averts Loss of Life
New York.—The foresight of Pa-trolan Richard Faye, a rookie policeman, prevented disaster in Brooklyn when he roped off two streets near Borough hall less than an hour before a corner three-story brick building he considered dangerous, crashed to the street. Adjacent streets were crowded with home-goers.

After Five Years of use of the streets and alleys for telephone service, without payment of a cent of rental, the Mountain States Telephone Company entered an agreement with the City Council of Loveland to pay 2 per cent of the gross receipts from the 1,300 phones coming into that exchange as an occupation tax. The payments are to be made semi-annually.

the output was cut by twenty-five

The state board of health at Phoenix reported that 8,045 babies were born in Arizona during the past year. Of this number, 4,265 were boys and 3,840 girls. There were 117 pairs of twins born.

Stamping Yuma as the premier al-falga seed district of the world, Mulford Winsor in Phoenix declared that Yuma county, Arizona, will produce the biggest seed crop in its history this year.

Suffering from the effects of a wound received when a revolver he was cleaning was accidentally discharged, Rosalio Martinez, a young man of Bernal, near East Las Vegas, N. Mex., is dead.

Fees collected by the state motor vehicle department of Arizona during the first six months of the present year amounted to $187,454.75, according to an announcement made by Ernest R.
Hall, secretary of state.

The Clayton, N. Mex., postoffice has been officially notified that, beginning September 20, the city will have free mail delivery. Plans are now being made for the new service, and an examination will soon be held for carriers.

Producing mines in the state of Arizona were valued at $418,082,785, or 9 per cent. less than a year ago, in a report made public by the state tax commission. The valuation placed on producing mines in 1920 was $453,094, 846.26.

According to word received by her parents, residing in Las Vegas, Mrs.
Perilla Tenoria committed suicide by pouring kerosene over her clothing and lighting it. She died at Schomberg, eighty-five miles from Las Vegas, N.
Mex. A quarrel with her husband is alleged to have been the reason for her act.

If the present plans are carried out, the mining district of the Tres Her-mans mountains will soon have one of the largest concentrators in the southwest. The big plant will be built to take care of the low-grade silver-lead ores from the mines, and will be erected under the supervision of eastern capitalists.

Walter Hudson, one of the two men arrested at Solomonville, Ariz., when they surrendered Orval McKinstry, 11-year-old Lakin, Kan., boy to officers, confessed to Sheriff J. C. Hillyard of Lakin that he kidnaped young McKinstry, according to that officer. Orval McKinstry was spirited from Lakin, Kan., after the fatal shooting of his father, a prominent rancher.

A thief who must have been a steeple jack and who undoubtedly must have possessed information concerning the nature of his prospective haul, recently got away with $400 worth of platinum adorned the topmost points of the four

What will probably be the largest herd of high-grade dairy cattle in the United States will soon be placed on a tract of land, 64,000 acres in extent, the southern boundaries of which lie a few miles north of Deming, N. Mex.
The United States public health bu-plans to place on the tract about 3,000 head of the finest dairy cattle in the country, together with all the equipment which goes to make up an industry of this kind.

The workmen's compensation act passed by the last Legislature of Arizona, creating the state industrial commission, is invalid, according to a decision handed down by the State Supreme Court. The decision upheld the finding of Superior Judge R. C. Stanford, who issued a permanent injunction restraining the commissioners from exercising any of the powers given to them by the act and directing the state treasurer and auditor to prevent the commission from spending any of the state's money.

Efforts of the Santa Fé and of the Southern Pacific railroads to force the Arizona corporation commission to put in force in intrastate business rates authorized by the Interstate commerce commission have failed. Sitting in bank with Judge William H. Sawtelle and Oscar Trippe, Circuit Judge Erskine Ross in Los Angeles denied the motion of the railroads for an injunction to restrain the Arizona commission from interfering with the application of the intrastate rates to intrastate traffic, indicating that before granting such an injunction it would be necessary to go into the merits of the matter.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Small Girl About Right, if Bad Man Did His Full Duty Without Fear or Favor.

As Mason Mount, superintendent of the Howe button factory, of Petersburg, was reading his evening paper, his little daughter, Mary, age six, was playing on the floor. Tiring of play, she crawled to her father's knee and asked him:

"Does the bad man get all the people who are bad?"

The father, not looking up from his paper and a little provoked by the interference, replied, "I suppose."

The child studied for a minute, and then said:

"Does he burn them all up? Some little boys told me he did."

Again the father replied that he supposed he did.

Again the child, not satisfied, asked the father where they went after he burned them all up.

The father, irritated, replied that he supposed they all went to ashes.

The child studied for a few minutes, and then said: "Gee, he must have an awful job carrying out ashes."

Not Very Serious.

Mary Garrett Hay, of the National League of Women Voters, said in a New York address:

"We women are out to fight the bosses. The bosses have a bad time coming. They think we are not to be taken seriously. In their eyes we are like the young bride in the anecdote.

"A young bride wept bitterly on her husband's return from his first business trip.

"Why, darling, what's the matter?" he asked.

"Oh, I know you don't love me truly," she said. "You wrote me a letter every day you were away—that I admit—but in your sixth and ninth letters you didn't send me a single kiss. Boo-hoo!"

"I know I didn't, love—I know I didn't," said the young bridegroom.
"You see, on the sixth day I had beef steak and onions for dinner, and on the ninth I'd been smoking a nasty pipe."

When the projected trans-Australian line from Oodnadatta to Port Darwin is completed the traveler on it will be confronted with what will be, probably, the dreariest railway journey in the world. The greater part of the route lies through a desert region, practically devoid of life, and utterly uninteresting.

Perhaps He Was a Bolshevik.

A cantankerous person, says the London Morning Post, told the vicar whom he had come to see on some local matter that he was an atheist.

"But surely," said the vicar, "you consider the Ten Commandments, broadly speaking, to be an excellent rule of life?"

"No, I do not," replied the man almost savagely.

The vicar rang his bell. "John,"
said he to his servant, "show this man to the door and keep your eye on him until he is beyond the reach of my hat and coat in the hall."

Certainly Not.

Inte Parent—While you stood at the gate bidding my daughter goodnight, did it ever dawn upon you—

The Sultor—Certainly not, sir! I

Ex Editor Ogden is sure getting a good coat of tan on his smiling face while assisting in harvest. We will bet his wife will not know him when he returns to Mora. It is sure a good thing that it rains 5 1/2 days each week as Mr. Ogden gets plenty of rest so there is no danger of him becoming overworked or overheated.

During the rainstorm Wednesday, Jack Mahoney and others of the crew of harvesters took shelter in the G. R. Abernathy's granary in his wheat field. Jack held his team at the door and, when it stopped raining he stepped gingerly out on the high places to the wagon and climbed in with dry feet, he did not see the four inches of water in the wagon box until he stepped in it. What did he say? Oh well, you know JackFix it up your best and he had it more expressive of the situation.

A farmer from 35 miles north east of Roy came in Tuesday night with a broken casting on his header, and J. D. Wade one of our congenial blacksmiths rolled out of bed and fixed the casting in the night and the farmer was ready for work early Wednesday morning.

G. R. Abernathy met his mother and some lady relatives from the east at the train Wednesday. They came to visit the Abernathys for a few weeks.
