GRANT COUNTY.

SILVER CITY.
From the Sentinel.

Died, in Silver City, June 15th, Virginia Newcomb Batts, aged 5 years and 9 months.

Bob Evans and family have gone to North Carolina, where they will in future reside. This change was rendered necessary on account of the failing health of Mr. Evans.

Postmaster Byron of Deming came up to Silver City last Saturday to visit Mrs. Byron, who is still confined at the Ladies Hospital, but is convalescing.

John M. Wiley returned from St. Louis last Sunday. He says there is no real significance in his returning on Sunday, but the facts are that Silver City possesses a certain attraction for him that no other place in the civilized world can. Of course he refers to the climate.

Dr. R. F. Stogall, formerly of Deming, will be united in marriage to Miss Maud LeNor, by the Rev. Edward S. Cross, at the residence of W. Lee Thompson, on the Mimbres, next Wednesday evening. A large number of Silver City people will attend the ceremony.

Hugh McGregor, who for a long time was an inmate of the Grant County Charity Hospital, and more recently confined in the county jail, was sent to London, Canada, last Friday, where he will at once be put in the insane asylum. At the last regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners an appropriation of $100 was made for the purpose of sending him to some place where he could receive such treatment, and care as his case demanded. Aside from the $100 ordered by the county, several of our citizens made up a purse of $35 to defray the expenses of Mrs. McGregor, who went with him.

Kingston News.

—Miss Anna Boyle left here Monday for Cripple Creek, Colo., to join her sister there.

—The 16 to 1 Dramatic Co. is busy rehearsing its play for the evening of July 3rd, at Hillsboro, and June 29th, at Kingston.

—Rev. Mr. Day has gone to California, to be absent two or three weeks.

—Mr. Cahill, our new postmaster, is anxiously awaiting his induction into Uncle Sam's service.

—George Ray says New Mexico is sarer bread than Colorado, and that he won't try to get away again.

—A. Wohlgeuth and family started Thursday for Prescott, Arizona, on a visit to Frank Kleiner, well known here as the former proprietor of the 'Brewery.' Gus expects to be absent several weeks.

—Charles Kent went out to Freedom—John Bennett's place—last Monday, and since resting from the fatigue of the trip is slightly improving.

George Ray and Joe Bright returned from their trip to Colorado Tuesday. They took in Cripple Creek and other mining camps on their way.

Hermosa News.

—There have been several showers of late, which have caused the Rio Palomas, the Rio Seco of Arroyo Frio, Live Oak gulch and Cokelstone gulch to run with water. The showers have fallen mostly between the Animas and the Palomas, and about six to seven miles east from the crest of the Black Range, so that Hermosa has had its share of the water.

—On Wednesday, June 12th, heavy clouds were noticed above Hermosa, with the rumbling of thunder like distant artillery, and about 11 o'clock a heavy shower of rain and hail descended. Before long all the gulches were pouring muddy streams into the Palomas, which was swelled to a small flood, carrying away the jig, puddling and sluice boxes of J. M. Smith, and washing away his accumulation of concentrates. The whole machine is a total wreck, and only pieces of it can be found strewn along the banks of the Rio Palomas for a distance of three miles.

When the heavy jig tank was carried down stream, it struck the foot bridge which connects the Pelican mines with the Enbolite and Palomas Chief mines, carrying it from its central support and throwing it into the torrent. The bridge was fastened at the shore end by wire ropes and was saved; the tank went bounding over the billowy stream until it came to the falls of the Rio Palomas at the Cloud mine, where it was tossed into the air by the violent rush of the waters over the precipitous rocks which form the falls and disappeared in the seething cauldron below, whence it emerged much the worse for its plunge. It was then swept over the rapids below, tossed against the huge fragments of jagged rocks around which the torrent swirls and over which it plunges, until it was smashed to pieces and tossed out on the banks where the river widens, several miles below the falls. After the flood subsided Mr. Smith started down stream with a wagon to pick up the wreckage, and recovered some of it; but it is supposed some Mexican teamsters appropriated to their own use some of the planks and carried them off to Palomas town.

—“What is the matter with Ayers' sarsaparilla in Hermosa?” asked THE ADVOCATE last fall. Ayers' sarsaparilla is effecting all which is claimed for it, and is producing a good, healthy, invigorating state in the body politic. Sometimes a patient gets beyond all remedies—especially at times of an eruptive epidemic—but care, attention and restoratives will produce their results, and a relapse is not feared. The result of the school board election was as follows: Ayers received all the votes cast; Baucus all but one, and Wheeler all but five. So our school board is Ayers, Baucus and Wheeler, with Ayers at the top of the pyramid.

NEVER-TELL.

The Black Range Cornet Band will be in attendance. Marshal of the Day, L. Tressel.

A cordial invitation is extended to the patriotic citizens of every town and hamlet of Sierra County to come and participate in the glorious festivities.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

“Prof. Charlton, who taught music here for several months with indifferent success, is at Hillsboro. THE ADVOCATE says: It is the general impression that Prof. Charlton will be retained as principal of the Hillsboro public schools for the coming term.—San Marcial Bee.

This is all a mistake, Mr. Bee. Prof. Charlton, the music teacher, is at Lake Valley, and has not been in Hillsboro at all, though we learn that he intends to favor our town with a visit. This paper did not say that Prof. “Charlton” would probably be retained as principal of the Hillsboro schools. What it did say was that Prof. Carleton would probably be retained. Charlton and Carleton are two separate and distinct gentlemen. Sabe?

KEAN HONORED.

Says the Kingman, Arizona, Mineral Wealth:
“Kean St. Charles, publisher of Our Mineral Wealth, arrived yesterday morning from the west, enroute to the Memphis Silver Convention. Mr. St. Charles is going as a delegate selected by the citizens of his county. He is well known in New Mexico as a writer and miner of ability. He is well posted in the routine of silver conventions, having acted as an assistant secretary to the southwestern silver convention on two different occasions at El Paso.”

Kean will make a good silver delegate, and his election is very wise indeed. His many friends in Sierra county feel proud for the honor conferred upon him.

Output of Hillsboro gold mines for the week ending Thursday, June 20th, 1895, as reported for THE ADVOCATE:

Tons.
Happy Jack	75
Richmond	85
Wicks Mines	100
Animas Peak and Canon mines	130
Catherine, Key West, Eldorado, Garland and Bull of Woods	200
Total	410

Total output since Jan. 1, 1895, —12,808.

AS OTHERS SEE HIM.

“Hon. W. S. Hopewell, the energetic mining and cattleman of Sierra county, returned last night from Denver, where he took in the races and induced several capitalists to come down and look over the great prospects of Hillsboro and Sierra county generally. The visitors will be here in a few days. Mr. Hopewell stopped over here on business.”—Albuquerque Citizen.

City of Mexico a Summer Resort.

Doubt it? It is a fact. Average summer temperature in the shade, 63 deg. The elevation (7,350 ft.) explains this apparent contradiction of going south in summer to get cool. Join one of the excursions over Santa Fe Route to City of Mexico in July. Tickets on sale July 6 to 20 at about one cent a mile for round trip. Ask Santa Fe route agent for particulars.

Charles Myers got an overdose of powder smoke at the Wicks mine Wednesday, and in consequence took a holiday yesterday.

Prof. James A. Long, of the normal school, leaves this morning for Colorado, where he will spend the vacation. — Silver City Eagle.

Persons raising small vegetables and cultivating flower gardens in and around Hillsboro suffer serious and annoying damages by loose cattle, horses and burros. This ought to be stopped, and it will be stopped, if any more complaints are made to the Justice of the Peace on this account. Owners of loose animals had better look a little out.

It is reported that S. H. Lucas, formerly a jeweler of this place, is making $3,000 a month out of a gold mine in California. — Silver City Eagle.

Charley Pennington has fitted up his beer in tasty style for the Fourth.

Dr. Given is recovering from quite a severe attack of sickness.

Judge Elliott left for a business trip to Silver City, Wednesday.

Horacio, the young son of Don Blas Chavez, fell from a fence the other day and broke his right arm.

Hon. N. Galle is on his way to Chicago and Minnesota, and will be absent from Hillsboro for several weeks.

Dr. Edmundson, of Kingston was in town yesterday and made us a pleasant call.

Contractor Lewis put a skylight in the roof of the Union Hotel this week that makes the dining room both light and pleasant.

Mrs. Louisa Gentz has returned from the ranch to reside in town for several weeks.

Miss Ethel Grayson's private school closes to-morrow, with speeches from the little ones.

A. Beingardt and J. D. Perkins are back from Lake Valley, after converting the school house there into an excellent store building for Keller, Miller & Co.

Maurice Berglin is preparing to renew operations on his Sterling claim in Rowley Pay Gulch.

Mrs. J. A. Winram and daughter May left for Chloride Tuesday, to spend a week or two on their ranch.

Miss Mable Jones, after serving nearly a year as compositor in this office, resigned her position on last Saturday and will go to El Paso to work on a paper there. Her many friends wish her abundant success.

Will Kinsey is back from Las Cruces Collage, to spend his vacation.

To the delight of her very many friends, Mrs. A. A. Neal is steadily recovering from her dangerous sickness.

W. H. Wayland has gone to Bennett's ranch, in the Kingston mountains, to engage in the tanning business.

Mrs. G. B. Peers of Hermosa, who has been visiting in Hillsboro for a couple of weeks past, leaves for home next week accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Gas Duvall.

Miss Effie Bruton of Socorro will arrive here in a few days, on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Otto E. Goutz.

Judge Jas. R. McFie, who has been very ill for a week past at his home at Las Cruces, is able to be up and around again. This will be welcome news for the Judge's many friends throughout New Mexico.

From and after today, until further notice, THE ADVOCATE carrier system will be abolished and all papers for town subscribers put in the postoffice.

LA BELLE, N. M., ITEMS.

From The Cresset.

The first car load of ore ever shipped from La Belle goes forward next week. The shippers have authorized us to say that they are not playing any Howlet tricks, nor shipping country rocks.

Among the many shameful things happening, upon the street nose is more so than the habit of men and boys indulging in what they term the sport of tin canning dogs ninety nine out of every hundred dogs has more affection, honor or principle, and manhood, about them than the wretch has, that would tie a tin can to his tail.

Two weeks ago a party from Mid-eight City accused us of not properly writing up the advantages of the govt. side. God help us if we are guilty after receiving such a splendid support from Anchor. We mean H. L. Thompson paid us a six months subscription in advance his time will soon expire leaving us without a single subscription on the govt. side. Midnight Cavestro, and Anchor, are great towns on paper.

Unfortunately some difficulties has sprung up between the saw mill men of La Belle. Mr. Miller in a moment of undue haste, having with drawn from the firm of Miller Wells and Co. the business will here after be conducted by H. L. Pratt whose well known business ability and integrity insures to the people of La Belle a square deal in all transaction.

Reports have been circulated in Trinidad that the mines at La Belle were not panning out equal to expectation. We tried to trace the libel to its source, and we were not long in doing so. It appears that one of the Howlet Brothers shipped a quality of very common country rock from Comanche Creek broken off from a ledge most accessible another brother gets the returns abandons his hardware business and lets it go into the hands of a receiver. In order to more profitably employ his time black-listing La Belle, not with standing the best men and miners in camp advised and begged them not to ship this worthless stuff. We advise Howlets to go back to their original job raising potatoes, and leave mining to men with some sense.

The Ribbon Weekly is owned by a number of the patriotic citizens of the junction town. When they started the paper they engaged a man by the name of Ford as manager. It seems that Ford could not stand prosperity and responsibility. He recently filled his tank with the usual antidote for Rio Grande river water and then took the trail of the gospel car which recently passed through the town. The Weekly missed an issue, but appeared last week, brighter than ever and without a “manager”.

CAPT. CUNNINGHAM, a veteran of the Spanish war, died recently at Marine's Harbor, Staten Island, of pneumonia. Capt. Kohler was born in 1825 in Philadelphia.

VICTOR HUGO sold his "Hae d'Islande" for 375 francs. The manuscript of "Rosa et Blanche," by George Sand and Jules Sandeau, was sold to the publisher for 300 francs.

CHIEF WINDMILL, a noted Cheyenne warrior, died near Fort Reno, O. T., the other night. The old chief was one of the most noted fighters of all the Indian bands until after the final treaty at Medicine Lodge.

THE AMERICAN INDIAN.

THERE are 5,301 Indians in New York. The Cherokees of North Carolina number 2,885.

The word Esquimaux means "Raw Fish Eaters."

The Indian reservations amount to 212,500 square miles.

THERE were 239,373 Indians in this country at the last census.

ALL the American languages are singularly lacking in abstract terms.

In all Spanish America the Indians form the great mass of the population.

No INDIAN tribe north of Mexico had domesticated any animal but the dog.

The great temple of the sun at Cuzco, in Peru, was attended by 4,000 priests.

The average height and weight of Indians are no greater than of other peoples.

The only trading Indians, at the time of the discovery, were the Huron Iroquois.

At the coming of the whites, tattooing was almost universal among the Indians.

THERE are few instances of full-blooded Indians entering the learned professions.

TREES AND PLANTS.

The climate of Mexico is so varied that in that country can be raised any product of the tropics or the polar regions.

PARLATIS the largest cactella in existence is at Pinalis Castle, near Dresden, Germany. The tree is about twenty-four feet high and annually produces about 50,000 blossoms.

The "witch tree" of Nevada and southern California exudes or exhales a phosphorescent substance which makes every branch, leaf and section of its bark visible on the darkest night.

For many years green glass has been used for the roof of the Kew Gardens, London. A recent experiment with white glass demonstrated that the plants thrived much better with glass of this tint, and the green is to be discarded.

FACTS IN FEW WORDS.

Observing barbers declare that men with heavy beards are most apt to be bald.

It is not illegal to deface coins, but it is illegal to deface them fraudulently. The American flag may not be used lawfully as an advertisement.

The breeches worn during the reign of Henry's I. were often two and one-half yards in circumference and stuffed with lard or sawdust.

A 400 in a coat or trousers is one inch in underwear, two inches in a sock, an inch in a collar, half an inch in shoes one-sixth of an inch in gloves, a quarter of an inch in hats, one-eighth.

RAILROAD FIGURES.

It is said that at least 400 car fender patents have been taken out.

Of the 101,000 miles of railroad in the United States in 1889, 71,000, or nearly one-half, were west of the Mississippi river.

The length of new railroad built during the year ended on June 30, 1893, was 440 miles, and during the next succeeding year 28 miles.

In nearly all the American cities the street railway companies say that the rapidly extending use of the bicycle has hurt their business greatly.

During the past 19 years nearly 10,000 miles of narrow-gauge railroad have been either converted to standard gauge or abandoned entirely in the United States.

The new shops of the Baltimore & Ohio and the yards to be built at Cumberland, Md., will be the most extensive in the country. The buildings alone will cover 650,000 square feet.

IF IN SEARCH OF A NEW SENSATION.

Try the effect of a mud bath at Las Vegas Hot Springs, New Mexico. Other forms of baths may be had there, all especially beneficial in rheumatic troubles and diseases of the blood. The cool, dry, tonic air of this resort is just the thing for tired nerves, and there is nothing so restful as New Mexico sunshine, especially when supplemented by such fine service as is given at the Hotel Montezuma, reopened June 20. This famous inn cannot be excelled anywhere in the South west.

GUN AND SABER.

GRAY HORSES are considered stronger than brown ones, and heretofore only gray ones are to be used for artillery purposes in the Russian army.

LIEUT. HENSON, of the French navy, has invented a compass which does away with a steersman, as the compass steers the vessel itself.

RINO, GEN. THOMAS L. CASEY, just retired from the regular army at the age of sixty-four, has for the last seven years had supervision of all the river and harbor improvements in the United States.

The sultan of Morocco likes to look on the faces of his foes—when they are dead. He lately received, at Fez, two cart loads of salted human heads, the remains of Bahama rebels. They are to adorn the city walls.

Commons POTTER, the railing officer of his grade in the navy, has just been placed on the retired list of the navy upon reaching the age limit of sixty-two years. He has been in the navy since February, 1859, having been appointed from Illinois through a native of New York.

GEN. JOHN B. GONNOR, who has been delivering his famous lecture in Arkansas and Texas, has had to content himself with four hours' sleep out of the twenty-four, owing to the brands made upon his time by old comrades, who insisted on keeping him up half the night to talk over the war.

MAJ. JOE BORTCHERS, of Virginia, in a talk about the battle of Fredericksburg before the National Geographic Society the other evening, expressed the opinion that the famous stone wall where the northern riflemen checked the advance of the Irish brigade was probably the scene of the greatest slaughter during the civil war.

FOR WOMEN'S WEAR.

Collars of ribbon and lace are in general use. The one object in making up these collars is to evolve some original idea either in shape, trimming or combination.

GAUZE ribbon neckties are very much liked for trimmings, especially in black or dark materials. There is nothing softer and prettier than a gauze necktie of black for the collar of a cape or a wrap.

RIBBON neckties are made by plaiting two or two-and-a-half-inch ribbon in box plait at one edge. This is set upon wide turned-over collars of velvet. Some of these collars have revers extending to the waist line, and the ribbon plaiting is graduated to about half its width as it extends down the front.

The use of ribbons is universal, and the variety to choose from is endless. Striped or banded gauze edged velvet ribbons, velvet-edged gauze ribbons, banded in velvet, and tulle with banded ribbons are among the novelties. The Dresden ribbons are growing more popular, and summer dresses of silk and wool will be profusely trimmed with them.

WORKS OF NATURE.

SPECIES of snakes that are enemies of one another in captivity will coil up into their winter sleep in the same bundle.

Daw is not attracted by some colors. Place a yellow board beside a red one and a black one; while the yellow one will be covered with dew, the other two will be perfectly dry.

The Arctic fox changes the hue of his coat to note the change of season. In summer his fur is dark blue; as the cold weather approaches, the shade changes until in winter it is snow-white.

PROF. C. V. RILEY thinks he has discovered satisfactory evidence of telepathy among insects—that is to say, a sixth sense, by which they are able to communicate ideas from one to another at great distances.

The snipe has a nerve reaching down to the tip of its bill. It is the only bird thus provided, and this contrivance illustrates the beneficence of nature in enabling the snipe to detect the presence of its food in mud and water, where the creature's eye is of no use.

SUBJECTS OF QUEEN VIC.

MR. W. T. STEAD, it is reported in London newspaper circles, has acquired a proprietary interest in the Echo, and will become its editor.

GLADSTONE'S trip to the Riviera appears to have restored him to vigorous health. Some of his friends say that he has not looked better in several years.

LORD ROSEBURY and Mr. Balfour, Lord Elgin and Mr. Rhodes—the four men who between them guide and govern the British empire—are all under fifty years of age.

It is said that the duke and duchess of Fife still present in their daily life the interesting spectacle of a married couple who have not yet left their courtship days behind them.

VICENT VALENZIA, who has just been elected to parliament from Oxford City in place of the late Gen. Sir George Chesney, makes the eighteenth oldest member of the house of commons. One of them is a liberal.

FROM OVER THE OCEAN.

The sale of alcoholic beverages is controlled by the Swiss government. Last year it made over $1,000,000 by this monopoly.

The Russian crown was made by an old-time Genoese court jeweler named Piazzi. It was first worn by Catherine the Great. It is worth $5,000,000.

IRELAND sent out 33,529 emigrants in 1894, 12,357 less than the year before. It is the smallest number recorded since 1851, when the statistics of emigration were first collected.

When a person is suffering from a contagious disease in Holland it is usual to announce the fact to intending visitors by tying a piece of white muslin or ribbon on the bell handle.

THOUSANDS of people left Odessa at Easter time on account of a prophecy that the city would be swallowed up by an earthquake, falsely attributed to Father Ivan Scripoff, of Constantinople.

MUSIC AND ART.

PAIS has a new prima donna in Miss Lafarge, who has recently won a brilliant success as Desdemona in Verdi's "Otello" at the Grand Opera.

Several Egyptian harps have been recovered from tombs. In some the strings are intact, and give forth distinct sounds after a silence of three thousand years.

Mrs. ALICE SHAW, the whistler, who was once all the rage in London and Paris, is now pecking her lips for the entertainment of the habitués of a Berlin music hall.

EUGENE D'ALBERT, the pianist, has been appointed court harpist to the Emperor at Weimar, the position can hold by list. He is the first musician of British birth to hold such an appointment in Germany.

AUBREY BEARDLEY is an odd in appearance as he is his exaggerated drawings. He has red hair, which he wears a la Bretonne, and a face thin and pale. He is five feet nine inches in height and long and lanky in build.

FREDERICK ROBERTSON has excited enough interest to induce a photographer to make special carbon photographic reproductions of his trophies, carbons and the like. Black and white effects are very well preserved by the process.

F. HOPKINSON SMITH, whose valuable collection of water colors was destroyed by fire in Milwaukee, will go to Europe this summer, and expects to take forty-nine pictures in fifty consecutive days, which will bring him an annual revenue of twenty thousand dollars.

The petrel crane has given an impetus to miniature rings and buttons; these last are particularly fashionable and effective when set in rhinestone and jet.

CAMOS are again fashionable; and the handsome old shell cameos, brooches, in white and tan, with quaint designs of overgrown rooms or classical heads, are especially effective when without most any cutstone in brown or tan.

Women and Snakes.

"Where are the snakes?" asked a plump little blonde beauty of eighteen summers. "We want to see the snakes."

"We ain't got no snakes," bluntly replied the showman.

"What? No—no—why, Sally, he says they haven't any snakes! I thought they had everything."

"That's the way," muttered the worthy man, giving the bygone a rap on the nose that made him wince. "Sally is always after snakes. Show me a pretty girl with blue eyes as big as saucers and golden hair down her back, and she never seen nothin' but the living world, and the first thing she'll ask for when she comes here is 'where's the snakes?' Fact! And show me an old maid what's afraid of a mouse and looks her door four times afore she looks under the bed, who always brings a whole raft of somebody else's children to the show and this 'em up to bust on peevish and pink bonnets, and the thing she wants is snakes. And so the children want what she wants and cry for snakes. Snakes! What's a woman got to do with snakes? That's what I want to know. You never hear of a man asking for snakes, not much."

Hereditary Needles.

Needles have never been supposed to be hereditary, but a recent case reported by a physician of eminence offers undoubted evidence to the contrary. A lady accidentally ran a needle into her foot thirty years ago and it lay apparently dormant in her system for many years that its existence was almost forgotten. In 1915 she was married, and a year after the birth of her infant daughter the needle made its appearance in the infant's shoulder. There could be no doubt that it was the original needle by which the mother had been attacked in 1844, for it was of peculiar and now obsolete pattern, and the mother distinctly remembered that needles of that pattern were in use at the time of her attack. There could be no doubt that the infant inherited the needle from her mother and that hereditary physicians will expect to find a natural tendency to needles in the tissues. As it is asserted that people have died from needles, although there are very few such cases on record, the insurance companies will doubtless add to the questions which they put to candidates for insurance: "Did your father or mother ever swallow needles and, if so, how many, and of what kind—surgical, dining or carpenter?—Space Moulds."

How a Crowd gathers.
"Ever see a crowd gather?" asked the man with chin whiskers, as he lit a cigar.

"No, can't say that I ever did."

"I thought not. The crowd was there when you came along, but I helped form this one."

"What did you do?"

"I stopped to admire a cute little sherry in a baby-car. The child was playing with a small dog, and the two made a picture."

"But about the crowd?"

"Some ladies stopped to look at the baby, then some children to play with the dog. That made a gathering on the sidewalk, and others wanted to see what they were looking at, and there was soon a big crowd that couldn't see anything."

"Meanwhile you were obstructing the sidewalk."

"But you never saw a crowd dispersed as quickly."

"No, indeed." That baby wrinkled up its nose and began to cry. In two seconds there wasn't a soul in sight. The crowd had melted into thin air.—Detroit Free Press.

One Point of Difference.

"Yes, indeed," said the old man, thoughtfully, after his wife had delivered a dissertation upon the progress of the sex, "the new woman is vastly different from the old."

"I thought you would realize that in time," she returned, rather sharply.

"I have just been reading," he went on, "how girls used to be sold by their parents, and some of them brought fancy prices."

"But there's none of that now, thank heaven!" exclaimed the new woman, proudly. "Woman has asserted herself, and—"

"No, there's none of that now," interrupted the old man. "That's all past. A man does not buy a wife in these days."

"I should think not!"

"Certainly not. It's all changed; all changed. Now, he has to be paid to take her, and her poor, old father has to wreck his bank account to provide the dowry. Yes, I admit that the new woman, Maria—"

Then the door was slammed, as she indignantly left the room.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Another Application.

A certain schoolmaster occasionally compares achievements of his pupils with the work of noted men in their boyhood days, much to the scholars' disadvantage.

"Now, John, have you solved the problem?" asked the teacher, the other day.

"No, sir," replied the boy. "I can't."

"How old are you, John?"

"Sixteen," was the answer.

"Sixteen!" repeated the instructor. "Sixteen, and can't solve a simple problem like that? Why, sir, at your age George Washington was surveying the estate of Lord Fairfax."

The pupil looked thoughtful, but made no reply.

After the class was dismissed a classmate inquired of him if Washington ever did anything else remarkable when he was sixteen?

"I don't know," responded the boy. "He was a surveyor when he was as old as I am, and when he was as old as our teacher he was president of the United States."—Philadelphia Call
