AMBLE AND BILL OF RIGHTS.

Section 1.

The name of this state shall be "New Mexico." The boundaries of this state shall remain as follows: Commencing at the point where the 31st parallel of north latitude intersects the 103rd meridian of longitude west from Greenwich; thence running south along said 103rd meridian of longitude west from Greenwich to the point where it intersects the 32d parallel of north latitude; thence running west along said 32d parallel of north latitude to the Rio Bravo del Norte; thence running south with the channel of said river to the point where the parallel of 31 degrees, 47 minutes, crosses the same; thence running due west 100 miles to a point; thence running south to the parallel of 31 degrees, 9 minutes, north latitude; thence running west along the parallel of 31 degrees, 9 minutes, north latitude, to the point where it intersects the 33d meridian of longitude west from Washington; thence running north along said 33d meridian of longitude west from Washington to the point where it intersects the 37th parallel of north latitude, at the southwest corner of the state of Colorado; and thence running east along said 37th parallel to the point of beginning.

ARTICLE II.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Section 4. The state of New Mexico is an inseparable part of the Federal Union, and the constitution of the United States is irrevocably adopted as the supreme law of the land.

Sec. 5. No hereditary distinction shall be granted; and no person holding any office under this state shall accept any office, title, emolument or present from any king, prince or foreign state.

Sec. 6. No person shall hold any office under the state who is not a citizen of the United States, and does not possess the qualifications of an elector.

Sec. 7. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property except by due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation, first being made or secured.

Sec. 8. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to appear and defend in person and by counsel; to be informed of the accusation, to be confronted with the witness against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his behalf, and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed, and shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself; nor shall any person be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense.

Sec. 9. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligations of contracts, shall be enacted.

Sec. 10. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless, when in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety requires.

Sec. 11. All persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel nor unusual punishment inflicted.

Sec. 12. There shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud.

Sec. 13. Suits may be brought against the state in such a manner and in such courts and in such cases as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 14. All lotteries or sales of lottery tickets is prohibited.

Sec. 15. Provisions shall be made by law for enrolling, organizing and equipping the militia; provided no person shall be required to serve in the militia whose religious creed or discipline prohibits the bearing of arms, but such persons shall pay an equivalent for such exemption.

Sec. 16. The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be questioned.

Sec. 17. All rights vested and liabilities incurred shall remain the same as if this constitution had not been adopted; and the enumeration of certain rights shall not be construed to deny others retained by the people.

Sec. 18. The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship without discrimination or preference is hereby guaranteed, and no person shall be rendered incompetent to be a witness or juror on account of his opinion on matters of religious belief, but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not excuse acts of licentiousness or justify polygamous practices or other acts inconsistent with morality or the peace or safety of the state, nor permit any person, organization or association to directly or indirectly aid or abet, counsel or advise any person to commit bigamy, or polygamy, or any other crime. Bigamy and polygamy are forever prohibited.

Sec. 19. The citizens have a right to assemble in a peaceful manner for the common good, or for any other lawful purpose.

Sec. 20. Liberty of speech or of the press shall not be restrained; but for the abuse of that liberty every person shall be responsible.

Sec. 21. The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Sec. 22. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses and effects from unreasonable searches and seizures, and no warrant shall be issued without probable cause, supported by affidavit, describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

Sec. 23. Neither slavery nor voluntary servitude will be tolerated in this state, except as a punishment for crimes whereof the party has been duly convicted.

Sec. 24. No law of primogeniture or entailment shall ever be passed, but the same is forever prohibited.

Sec. 25. Treason against the state shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies or giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the evidence of two witnesses to the same overt act, or confession in open court.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWER.

Section 1. The powers of the government shall be distributed in three departments, the legislative, the executive and judicial.

Sec. 2. The legislative, the executive and the judicial departments of the government shall be separate and distinct; neither shall exercise the power properly belonging to either of the others. No person shall be invested with or exercise the powers of more than one department at the same time.

ARTICLE IV.

Numberless schemes have been devised for the purpose of advertising.

Millions of dollars have been spent in trying to force the public to read advertisements against their will. These dodgers are sprung upon them when they least expect them, and the effect is therefore annoying. It is as if a tramp should ring your front door bell and ask for the loan of a quarter. Advertising in a reliable newspaper is different. People expect to see it there every day. Advertisers, in dealing with the public, should remember that they are asking favors; they should do so in a courteous business-like manner. There is a time and place for everything, and the place for advertising is in a newspaper, and the time—every issue.—HORACE GREENEY.

The many friends of Mr. Felix Levick will be glad to learn that gentleman is now largely interested in a group of mines in New Mexico which bids fair to become something like a bonanza. The property is located in the Magdalena mountains, New Mexico, about eighty miles from the railroad, and contains of five full claims, which are known as the Confidence group. The owners of the property are O. P. Posey, George Crawford and Col. J. H. Dudley. Present development is quite limited, but a contract has been let by Mr. Levick to run a tunnel 600 feet to the river, and two shafts are to be sunk to a depth of at least 100 feet each. The mineral found is a quartz carrying gold and silver and is perfectly free milling. Some of the ore is unusually rich, but it is safe to say that it will all average at least $30 per ton. Mr. Posey and Mr. Crawford have the reputation of being very careful mining men, and they are delighted with the showing made in the Confidence group.—Denver News.

ARTICLE V.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership between Fred Levick and J. W. Keppel, firm name, Levick & Keppel, lumber dealers, is dissolved. Levick will be held liable for each, by J. W. Keppel.

A Picture of Oklahoma Life.

A young lawyer who emigrated from West Tennessee to Oklahoma writes as follows to the Memphis Avalanche:

I wish you would publish this letter for the benefit of West Tennesseans who may have an idea of coming out here. They don't want to come half as bad as they imagine. This paradise is a hollow fraud and most people here have found it out. The soil is not good, and some of it is so thin it is cracked by the heat of the bottomless pit, which is only a quarter of a mile below. No crops are being raised this year and food is brought along distances, but enough hell has been raised in the last three months to stock all the penitentiaries in this broad Union. Water is fairly abundant, but that doesn't count, as only tenderfoot drink it or use it externally. Guthrie has a population of 15,000, composed of 247 lawyers and real estate men, the rest Texans, Indians, cowboys, negroes, and Kansas toughs—the latter in the majority. The principal industry is "claims." All contests over claims are settled by a committee or board, which board, the people say, is rotten, and can be bought, in whole or in part, as may be necessary. The market price per lineal foot, I understand, is low, compared with the cost of other things.

Some queer complications arise in this grab for land. One case I remember. A lawyer settled on a claim which was disputed by another man, who won the suit. When the latter returned he built a dry goods store entirely around the squatter's office. To day the lawyer is skinning clients right in the middle of the store, while the merchant and his clerks skin customers on every side of him. There came very near being a bloody war on the 12th. A house that was torn down that day by the order of the board was rebuilt that night by the citizens, while another crowd armed with Winchester was there to stand off the soldiers. Fortunately no attempt was made to tear the house down again, and the threatened battle was averted.

Swept by the Tide of Popularity
To the utmost pinnacle of success, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands a shining proof of what genuine merit, backed by the living force of proven facts, can attain. The North and South American continents, Europe, Australia, the West Indies, Guatemala and Mexico have all contributed wide patronage and testimony of the most favorable kind—but unsolicited—to swell the reputation of this sterling remedy. Among the maladies for which the most convincing public and professional testimony proves that it is a benign, curative, and safe medicine, are: indigestion, dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervousness, debility, kidney and bladder complaints. It mitigates the tortures of age, habit, intemperance, has a tendency to prevent ill consequences from exposure and exhaustion. Persons of sedentary habits and laborious occupations will find it an ever useful tonic.

Section 1. The name of this state shall be "New Mexico." OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

The Las Vegas Optic and the Kingston Shaft are magwanopy clear through.

What are we going to do for the Albuquerque fair? It is about time a citizen interested himself and gathered up an exhibit.

The trust clause in the Constitution forever settles the fate of "trusts" in New Mexico. It strengthens the Constitution.

When our readers see the account of the Fruit Car in another column and then remember the cry that has been raised about the water question, they will stop and wonder where it all came from.

Among the curiosities of mining the Kingston Shaft tells of salt found on the North Percha which was studded with coarse gold and plastered with horn silver.

The water question does not seem to bother the people of the valley. They had fair crops this year in spite of the river drying up, and so no effort is being made to test for artesian water.

Ex-Gov. Ross and his nephew Ashenfelter have evidently started the Headlight on the "Holler than Thou" platform. This position might work well in other portions of our Territory, but in the law-enforcing citizens of Southern New Mexico it is degradingly hypocritical.

Senator Stewart stated while at Las Cruces, that he considered the law signed by the president on October 2nd, 1888, to withdraw from entry all public lands subject to irrigation. A resolution was attached to the bill making the appropriation for surveys, which, while understood to reserve reservoirs sites, virtually covered all irrigable lands.

The Constitutional Convention crowned the glory of its great work by adopting by a rising unanimous vote its education clause for insertion into the constitution. The committee on revision will make its final report and submit a complete constitution to-day.

The Weekly Republican is a sixty-four column quarto, the largest published in the State, and is devoted largely to the agricultural and pastoral interests of the West.

Notice is hereby given to the holders of funding bonds of De la Ansa county, Territory of New Mexico, issued in accordance with an act of the Legislative Assembly of New Mexico, entitled "An Act Definitively Locating the County Seat of the County of De la Ansa," approved January 19th, 1882.

A few smaller men and their adherents, numbering in all eleven with two in the opposition, met in Socorro and passed resolutions favoring the admission of free land.

San Pedro and Kingston have both come to the front with wonderful rich strikes during the month of September. At Kingston the Comstock, the property of Barton & Rugg, a mine which produced a pocket of ore a few years ago that yielded a half million dollars, is again in bonanza.

Clifford L. Jackson, one of the richest and brightest young men of New Mexico, has been appointed by the receivers general attorney for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad for the Indian Territory, with headquarters at Muskogee, Headlight.

Yes, Clifford was game. The gamey way in which he bled the 2nd judicial district while district attorney through the grace of an appointment made by the editor of the Headlight, will long be remembered by the tax payers of that district.

Keep Posted.

Every farmer and mechanic in New Mexico should take his home paper to get all the local news of his section. He should also take the Denver Republican, daily or weekly, in order to be posted on all foreign and national news.

The Daily Republican is published every day in the year. Subscription price per year, postage free, $10.00; six months, $6.00; three months, $3.50.

Call for Bonds.

Notice is hereby given to the holders of funding bonds of De la Ansa county, Territory of New Mexico, issued in accordance with an act of the Legislative Assembly of New Mexico, entitled "An Act Definitively Locating the County Seat of the County of De la Ansa," approved January 19th, 1882.

WHAT CLASS TO ESCOURGE.

General Farmers and not Specialists Needed to Develop Our Resources.

Editor REPUBLICAN: BARRHAM, N. M., Sept. 16, '89. What class of immigrants should be sought to settle in the Mesilla Valley? As there seems to be at least a dual opinion on the above question, I deem it not inappropriate at the present time to offer a few suggestions which it seems to me should be well considered at this time.

First, there seems to be a growing tendency among our people to hold out inducements only to a class of experts who will devote their entire efforts in the single line of what is considered money crops, to-wit: fruit and alfalfa. Now it is by no means our purpose to discourage the cultivation of the particular crops named, but the present tendency among our people brings us face to face with the question, is it to the best interest of the future of the Valley and Southern New Mexico, to secure the settlement in our beautiful Valley of a class of experts or specialists who necessarily must be expert to the neglect of everything else, or shall we solicit a larger class of housekeepers who for various reasons are seeking homes for themselves, "wives and blue eyed children" in a climate freed from the rigors of the northern winters, or from the malaria or changeableness of the middle and western states, who on a broad and liberal basis will become general farmers on small holdings producing everything possible that is consumed in the family, thus buying little or no necessities that are produced here, and that means about everything that heart can wish or appetite crave.

The theory that many of our people hold and advocate, is that every one should produce only what appears to be the money crop and buy everything else, may look well on paper, or show the balance on the side of the one or two articles produced, but all the figures and the oris are knocked into smithereens when brought side by side with the practical experience of the farmers of the central states. We assert without fear of successful contradiction that the farms in the states freest from mortgage and families freest from anxiety in apprehension of the "wolf" are those who raise everything that can be produced on the farm.

When cattle was king the fine stock breeder perhaps did a good thing for the country in the improvement of stock and if he met with sales at fancy prices perhaps he might find at the end his balance sheet in his favor, but the rule was the expert stock breeder had their bank accounts represented by an interest-bearing note.

Without prolonging this hastily written article we are on record as in favor of doing what we can to induce settlers who will go to work on the broad and successful basis of developing ALL the vast resources of our favored Valley; tending to market everything of every kind not needed for home consumption at the market price and having on hand about all the necessities and luxuries sweetened by the fact that our own hands produced all these comforts, with the assurance that our stomachs will not be endangered by having forced into it articles of questionable wholesomeness.

In short Mr. Editor, when our lovely Valley shall have secured a class of farmers that will produce at home all that the country is capable of producing. Then and not till then it can truly be said, we shall sit under our own vine and fig tree and none dare to molest or make us afraid.

THE NEW DISCOVERY.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial Bottles Free at D. Y. Hadley & Co.'s Drugstore.

Notice to Contractors.

Bids will be received at the office of the county clerk of Dona Ana county, N. M., until 3 p. m. second day of October, A. D. 1889, for a highway bridge across the Rio Grande at Barrham, said bridge to be 784 feet long, with a clear roadway of 12 feet, and to have a capacity of 100 pounds per square foot live load, with four feet of safety of 4. All wood material used in the construction of said bridge must be of long leaf Texas pine and all piles to be of red spruce. Bolder must furnish with their proposals strain sheets and detail plans for the bridge they propose to build.

The Dawson Ranch for Sale.

J. W. DAWSON advertises his fine ranch for sale at a bargain. It is situated a short distance south of La Mesa, and possesses about 100 acres of the choicest land in the Valley, under a profitable state of improvement, with excellent water privileges; fine vineyards of different varieties of grapes, magnificent orchards of various kinds of fruit trees and fields of alfalfa. A great portion of the land is fenced and contains houses, wells of water and all improvements that could be desired. Time given to the purchaser, and best of reasons given for selling.

THE FRUIT CAR.

The Mesilla Valley Advertiser Its Products to the East.

The fruit car starts to-morrow. Every effort has been made by the committee to make as free a display as possible, and they are to be congratulated upon their success. The exhibit of grapes and other products of the valley is such as our people may well be proud of. Every thing is so arranged as to show the various articles, which are tastefully arrayed on shelves, to the best advantage. Luscious bunches of grapes, the prodigious size and weight of which tell of the wonderful productive power of our soil; the Burger, Muscatel and Flaming Tokay vining with each other for beauty, size and flavor. One of the finest displays of fruits made is that of Major W. H. H. Jewell, among which is a bunch of Burger grapes weighing five and one-half pounds. It also has an exhibit of as fine an outlay of apples, peaches and preserved fruit as is to be seen within the car.

New Mexico is noted the world over for the size and beauty of its cactus, and the magnificent specimens of this plant, consisting of the barrel, prickly pear, cholla and cane cactus, will be of undoubted source of wonder to eastern people. A large amount of American also plant attracts the eye. From this plant is extracted the oil, which enters into the manufacture of soaps and medicines. Beside against the blue is a beautiful beige bush, appropriately named Christ's Crown.

S. W. Sherby has donated a large case of honey, consisting of three varieties. The alfalfa being the first in quality; the sunflower second, and the wild flower third; although Mr. Sherby pronounces the wild flower to equal the sun-flower honey in flavor, being only inferior to it in having a darker color. It will perhaps be a matter of surprise as well as pride to our citizens to know that the Mesilla Valley honey commands a higher price and a much more ready market in El Paso than the far famed California honey, bringing 16 1/2 cents a pound while the California honey procures but 14 1/2 cents a pound.

We now come to the different varieties of fruit spread out before us. Apples, whose bluish dyes the painter's finest touch; marjels in size and having a flavor unsurpassed. Luscious pears, equaling the well-known California, both in size and flavor. Quinces, a description of the growth of which would be unbelieved in the less favored portions of this country. The watermelon raised on the farm of E. D. Lacey show what can be done by the farmer who has received a training in our eastern states. Three of these watermelons weighed 145 pounds, being from the seeds carefully dropped by some Mexican boys. They would compare favorably with the finest specimens of the far-famed Georgia melons.

What next attracts the visitors attention are the various small trees, artistically arranged within the car. The beautiful foliage of the fig, pecan and almond in full growth with its fruit hanging to its branches, speak in a language stronger than words of a climate where no wintry blast or chilling frost find a lodgment. Here is also to be seen the Chinese umbrella tree whose odd but artistically shaped leaves are a fitting type of the people whose country is its home, also several species of the acacia plant and the wonderful century plant, as well as the alfalfa, the "king of grasses," and grama hay, corn 14 feet in height, 7 feet to the lowest ear and 4 inches in circumference at the root. Onions 11 inches in circumference and between 2 and 3 pounds in weight will entitle New Mexico to be as the same implies, "The Savoy of America."

The firm of Wood, Parson & Lawrence have contributed a fine selection of sweet potatoes of the pink Bermuda variety, weighing each five pounds, and a select lot of yellow namamoot. A small case with glass front and divided into sections, contains samples of hand picked wheat and oats, is attractively displayed, while an empty section contains that species of the amphibious family indigenous to this particular part of the United States—the horned tad—paradoxically speaking, hideous, yet beautiful, whose outward form is to the art connoisseur the perfection of beauty, and will undoubtedly be a great attraction in its travels.

The gentlemen in charge have taken with them samples of tea, a large cotton plant with cotton in full bloom, raisins dried from the mission grape and a Mexican squash weighing 40 pounds, which will add other jewels to the crown already worn by the Mesilla Valley. The car is covered on the outside with canvas on which is attractively painted the well known motto: "New Mexico is the coming country and the Mesilla Valley is its Garden Spot."—Dona Ana, the Banner County. "A car-load of arguments in favor of Statehood," also fruit pieces at each end, and the great seals of the Territory.

The car is in charge of Eli Newsum, whose well-known energy, pluck and executive ability is a guarantee of the success of the enterprise. He is accompanied by J. K. Livingston who represents the Territorial bureau of emigration. Mr. Livingston being thoroughly posted upon all portions of the Territory, will give an impartial report concerning the advantages of every section of New Mexico. Both these gentlemen will do all in their power to carry out the purpose of our citizens, in sending the fruit car throughout the country, and no better choice, in our judgment could have been made. One end of the car has been neatly fitted up as a sleeping apartment, neatly carpeted and a place set apart for advertising matter, and table for writing purposes. They will first visit Denver, possibly stopping at Colorado Springs and Pueblo; thence proceeding to Hutchinson, Wichita, Newton, Emporia, Topeka, Lawrence and Kansas City. After leaving Kansas City they will visit Galena, Illinois, and points from there to Chicago, not yet decided upon. We should have spoken of various curiosities that will be taken to these places, and which will be of great interest to the visitors to the car, and which will be to them a source of surprise, as well means of information regarding the modes-of-life-of the Mexicans of to-day; Adobes, mistakes for grinding grain, tortillas, plover and other Mexican productions and utensils. While writing this article we were informed by Mr. Livingston that he has just received a draft from the bureau of Emigration for $100 to be appropriated toward paying the expenses of the enterprise. Like the waves of the ocean beating upon the rock, gradually lowering it from its fastenings, so enterprise like this remove prejudices and foster information as to the internal condition of our Territory; causing capital (so much needed) to flow in, developing our resources and inhabiting our land with an intelligent and much to be desired population. Every person who has the well being of the Territory at heart should lend a helping hand. This should be the work of the many, not of the few.

You Need.

The most effective medicine, for the cure of any serious ailment. If you are suffering from Scrofula, General Debility, Bronchitis, Liver, or Kidney disease, try Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the safest, best, and most economical blood purifier in use. For many years I was troubled with Liver and Kidney complaint. Hearing Ayer's Sarsaparilla very highly recommended, I decided to try it and have done so with the most satisfactory results. I am convinced that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best Remedy ever compounded, for diseases caused by impure blood.—Edward W. Richardson, Milwaukee, Wis.

I have found Ayer's Sarsaparilla a more effective remedy, in the various forms of Scrofula, than any other we possess.—James Lull, M. D., Foston, N. Y. I have taken, within the past year, several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and find it admirably adapted to the needs of an impoverished system. As a blood purifier, and as a tonic, I am convinced that this wonderful preparation has no equal.—Charles C. Dams, Pastor Congregational Church, Andover, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.
