JOHN DEERE IMPLEMENTS
The New Deere Sulky and Gang

Built upon practically the same lines with that unduplicated sign of superiority the John Deere Trade Mark. Both sulky and gang fitted with a powerful footlift. This special foot-lift works so easy that anyone can raise or lower the plow with ease. The gang has an auxiliary hand lever. You can walk and stretch your legs, if you like, and still control the plow perfectly. The lever is within easy reach of your hand and it has wonderful lifting power—five times the lifting leverage found on any other gang. A small boy easily lifts the plow weighted down by furrows while at a standstill.

Lightest of Draft

75% of all the friction on a plow bottom comes in front of a line drawn up and down across the mouldboard—a third the way back from the point. The peculiar shape of John Deere plow bottoms enables them to penetrate the soil easiest on that part of the bottom where the friction is heaviest.

Write or call on us. We want to tell you about the other exclusive patented improvements on the New Deere Sulky and Gang such as Adjustable seat—Better steel—Easy management—Dust-proof wheel boxes—Good high wheels—easy running—axles run in oil.

arms. "I—I forgive you! I want you to forgive me. The idea of my giving you even a moment's unhappiness of that kind!"

"Take me home!" pleaded Mrs. Blazes, from the shelter of his shoulder.

The twain, reunited, went slowly down the walk and into the street.

Mr. Medders observed that Harry and Lucy looked as though they had something to say to each other, and said to the count:

"The young man whom they call Pigeon is sitting in the summer house with Carolyn, and Cousin Socrates is again in the attic writing a sonnet. Will thou come in with me and see if these can find a cigar?"

"I thank you, from my heart," the count replied. "But I have some writing to do—and if you excuse me, I go down to der hotel now."

"Then I will say farewell, until we meet again," Medders observed, shaking the count's hand and returning to the house.

Count von Fitz stood before Harry and Lucy a moment.

"I want to say choost dies," he spoke. "I want to say 'Bless you, my children!' And I can't make a present off a hat, but if you will honor me, Mr. Swifton, by allowing Miss Lucy to accept a little token of my good wishes, I will gift her dies."

He slipped his fingers into his pocket and produced a little case, which he opened and then took out a ring—not such a ring as either of the ones he had recovered—but a beautiful cluster of diamonds surrounding a ruby.

"Diss," he said, "is a ring I was keeping to gift to der most beautiful, der sweetest, der truest girl I should find in America. I have found her—and now I lose her, because you found her, Mr. Swifton."

He dropped the ring into Lucy's hand, and was gone.

Harry led Lucy to a seat.

"Now," he said, "I'm ready to explain."

THE END.

Sweet Pea Not Royal Choice.

In vain did gardeners and horticulturists in England try to push the claims of the sweet pea as a coronation flower. Queen Mary has decided that the pink carnation is the blossom she will carry.

The Windsor, which is a deep pink, is the carnation she particularly favors, but the Lawson, a cerise carnation; the Enchantress, which is pale pink, and the Mrs. Joliffe, which is salmon pink, will also be fashionable during the season. The Worshipful Company of Gardeners have begged to be allowed to present the coronation bouquet and the queen has agreed to accept it from them, so they will keep the rarest and most perfect Windsor carnations obtainable for the royal bouquet.

One of her reasons for preferring the carnation to the sweet pea as the flower to be used is that the weather will probably be very warm at the time of the coronation and the sweet pea fades very easily, while the carnation does not droop in the heat.

An Eye to Business.

"John," said the butter dealer, "always put in a couple of sheets of paper when you weigh. Customers will think you neat and cleanly in your business. They don't like to have their butter slopped onto a scale that, for all they know, has never been washed. And, besides, there's a good profit in buying paper at three cents per pound and selling it for 15 cents."

Word of Wise Man.

"The true university of these days is a collection of books."—Candlish.

"Got a father," she said, when I ask her to wed.

And she knew that I knew that her father was dead;

And she knew that I knew what a life he had led,

And she knew that I knew what she meant when she said:

"Go to father."

Smith—I understand your father died very suddenly. How did it happen?

Jones—Well, you see, Father was very fond of shows, especially burlesques. He was attending one of these one afternoon, a young woman came out to do a turn and in some manner she tore her tights, stepping to the footlights she invited any gentleman to come up and pin the tear. Poor father was killed in the rush.

"Advertising is no good" said the man in old clothes, "it never helped me none." The mill-on-air merchant smiled, "that is because you tried it John as the Indian tried the feather bed. An Indian took a feather, placed it on a plank and slept on it all night. In the morning he growled: 'Paleface say feather heap soft. Paleface Leap big fool, ugh.'"

The New Mexico State Fair Association has arranged for Curtis aeroplane flights at big expense. They have secured the best biplane and one of the best aviators in the United States. The Fair Association is ready to convince skeptics. Many people really doubt that flights are going to be made. These people especially invited to come to the Fair and be convinced. In addition to the aeroplane flights six baseball clubs will contest for big prizes: Dawson, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Clovis, El Paso and Amarillo. As many of the leagues have finished the season, some of the best players in the business will be seen in action at Albuquerque. Many of them will go to the big leagues next season.

IT WAS ALL RIGHT.

"Sowry, Brown," said the doctor, after the examination. "You're in a very serious condition. I'm afraid I'll have to operate on you."

"Operate!" grasped Brown. "Why, I haven't any money for operations. I'm only a poor Workingman."

"You're insured, are you not?"

"Yes, but I don't get that until after I'm dead."

"Oh, that'll be all right," said the doctor consolingly.

The most pronounced harmony and good feeling prevailed at the continued and concluding session of the republican county convention held at the district court room Wednesday night.

The white-winged dove of peace kept right on brooding even when the mildly progressive platform was adopted, with a trimming after fashion of the insurgents.

James C. Hamilton presided and Fred Miller served as secretary of the convention, having been selected at the first session of September 20.

The chair appointed A. J. Nisbet, T. C. Tillotson and A. D. Hill of Dexter as a committee on order of business, and Chas. De Bremond, W. T. Cowgill and Will Roberson as a committee on resolutions.

The committee on order of business recommended the usual procedure and the committee on resolutions submitted its report which was unanimously adopted.

There were clauses endorsing the administration of Governor Mills and staff, endorsing the state platform and nominees for state offices pledging confidence in their election. District primaries were favored and the publication of election and primary expenses.

Mr. DeBremond submitted the following minority amendment to the resolutions which was unanimously adopted:

That we wish to express our appreciation of the services of the Roswell Register-Tribune and the Kenna Record as republican newspapers in Chaves county, and to say that we are well pleased with their labors in behalf of the party and the people. They have at all times been fair and careful in their statements, and vigilant for the legitimate success and growth of the party.

The only contest in the selection of candidates was that over treasurer, in which D. L. Geyer contested with A. E. Macey of Dexter. Mr. Macey was chosen by a vote of 19 to 11, and the selection was then made unanimous.

A strong effort was made to secure the consent of Charles DeBremond to run for senator, but it was unavailing, and the matter was finally left over to the central committee.

Judge G. H. Peet named DeBremond and there was very evidently no division as to his desirability.

At the conclusion of the convention the following central committee was chosen:

Precinct 1—E. A. Cahoon, J. C. Hamilton, H. A. Ingalls and Charles DeBremond.

Precinct 2—Claude Hobbs, Otto Baumer, C. J. Leland.

Precinct 4—W. W. Elliott.

Precinct 6—T. A. Stancliff.

Precinct 9—John Ririe.

Precinct 11—H. L. Fiscus.

The county committee was empowered to fill any vacancies now existing or that may occur on the committee or the list of candidates, and were also instructed to file the ticket and emblem with the probate clerk, and the list of judges for the election with the county commissioners.

After the adjournment of the convention sine die, the county committee met and re-organized for the next five years by electing E. A. Cahoon chairman and Fred Miller secretary.

EXPLODING A THEORY.

"It takes money to run a newspaper," St. John (Kansas) News.

What an exaggeration! What a whopper! It has been disproved a thousand times; it is a case of air fancy. It doesn't take money to run a newspaper; it can be run without money: It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robber. A newspaper is a child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on and on, when any other concern would be in the hands of a receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the windows.

It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gull to run a newspaper; it takes a scintillating acrobatic imagination and a half a dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money—Heavens to Betsy and six hands around, who ever needed money in conducting a newspaper? Kind words are the medium of exchange that does the business for the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out; he likes to swap.

Then when you die, after having stood around and sneered at the editor and his jim crow paper for years, be sure and have your wife send in for three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, forewarn your wife to not send fifteen cents to the editor, it would overwhelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks, then he can thank the grocer.

But money—scorn the filthy stuff. Don't let the pure innocent editor know anything about it. Keep it for sordid tradespeople. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He'll take care of the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as a doorman for the community and he'll get his paper out somehow and stand up for you when you run for office, and go about your pigeon-toed daughter's tacky wedding and blow about your big-footed sons when they get a $4-a-week job. He will weep over your gasping body and smile at your wife's giddy second marriage. He'll get along—the Lord knows how—but somehow!—Ex

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

TANNING SKINS,

The following receipt is a good one for tanning skins with the hair on:

Alum, 3 pounds; salt 1/2 pound. Soak the skin in water 1 day; then remove all the meat, fat, etc. Dissolve by boiling the salt and alum in sufficient water to cover the skin—this amount to cover a deer, dog or sheep skin—pour in a tub, and when only lukewarm put in the skin and let it soak 4 days, working it with a pounder or square-ended stick of wood every day; then lay in its shade. Then heat up the tan liquid again and re-soak it before, after which wash the skin and beat it until quite soft; lay again in the shade, rubbing it frequently with the hands. If this is properly done you will have a soft pliable skin suitable for any purpose for which such skins are used.

USING OPPORTUNITY.

By C. First Johnson,

Lack of success is not caused by a dearth of opportunities. Men grow their opportunities, but they fail to harvest the crop. Every day has its own particular kind of fruit of opportunity, which must be gathered on that day, if ever.

Opportunities beckons ability. She stands with open arms. She offers prizes for effort and development. Train yourself—don't envy success. It comes with constructive work. Opportunity says to the worker:

"They do me wrong who say I come no more,
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win,
Wait not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane;
Each night I burn the record of the day,
At sunrise every soul is born again."

The world has always been full of opportunity. It exists everywhere for those who, with hands, eyes, ears and brains are seeking to render service that serves.

Whatever has been done in the world's history can be done again through the operation of the same laws and forces. We can be men and women of power or we can be men and women of importance. The moment one grasps the fact that he can rise, he will rise, and he can have no limitations except those he sets himself in the efficiency of his work.

NO COURT HERE.

SHORTAGE OF COURT FUNDS WILL NOT ALLOW DISTRICT COURT TO CONVENE IN NOVEMBER.

For the first time in the history of Chaves county the regular November term of court will fail to convene. The reason alleged is after the trial of James O. Lynch October 9, at Carlsbad for the murder of City Marshal Roy Woofter, there will not be sufficient funds for holding the regular term.

William H. Pope, judge of the fifth judicial district has issued an order that further service of the grand jury venire issued for the regular November term of court be withheld and that the jurors already summoned be excused from attendance.

The petit jury venire has never been drawn.

In the same order Judge Pope, requires that the special grand jury held over from the special term last spring, be required to appear before the District court on Monday, October, 23 at 9 a. m. and then and there serve as grand jurors until discharged by the order of the court.

There are several territorial cases to come up before the grand jury. It was necessary to have some jury act on them so the special grand jury will serve.—Register-Tribune.
