BE A BOOSTER.

"Do you know there's a lot o' people
Settin' round in every town,
Growlin, like a broody chicken,
Knockin' every good thing down?
Don't you be that kind o' cattle,
'Cause they ain't no use on earth;
You just be a booster rooster,
Crow and boost for all you're worth.

"If this town needs boostin' boost'er,
Don't hold back and wait to see
If some other feller's willin',
Sail right in, this country's free;
No one's got a mortgage on it,
It's just yours, as much as his
If the city's shy on boosters,
You get in the boostin' biz.

"If things don't just seem to suit you
And the world seems kinder wrong,
What's the matter with the boostin'
Just to help the thing along?
'Cause if things should stop-a-goin'
We'd be in a sorry plight,
You just keep that horn-a-blowin'
Boost her with all your might.

"If you see some feller tryin'
For to make some project go,
You must boost it up a trifle,
That's your clew to let him know
That you're not a-going to knock it,
Just because it ain't your shout,
But you're goin' to boost a little,
'Cause we've got the best thing out."

WHERE THE HAND OF GOD IS SEEN.

Do I like the city, stranger?
'Tisn't likely that I should,
'Tisn't likely that a ranger
From the border ever could
Get acquainted with the fury
And the loud unearthly noise.
Everybody is a hurry,
Men and women, gals an' boys
All a rushin' like the nation
'Mid the rumble and the jar,
Just as if their soul's salvation
Hung upon their gettin' thar.

Like it? No! I love to wander
'Mid the vales and mountains green
In the border land out yonder
Where the hand of God is seen.
Nothin' here but brick an' mortar
Towering overhead so high
That you never see a quarter
Of the overhangin' sky.
Not a tree nor grassy medder,
Not a runnin' brook in sight,
Nothin' but the buildings' shad'er
Shuttin' out the Heaven's light.

Cars and carts and wagons rumblin'
Down the street with deafnin' roar.
Drivers swearin', yellin', grumblin'
Just like lumps from sheol's shore,
Factories joinin' in the chorus
Helpin' of the din to swell,
Auctioneers in tones sonorous,
Lyn' 'bout the goods they sell.
Like it? No! I love to wander
'Mid the vales and mountains green.
Mong the rural districts yonder
Where the hand of God is seen
Even the birds are all imported
From away across the sea;
Faces meet you all distorted
By the hand of misery.
Like it? No! I love to wander
'Mid the vales and mountains green.
In the border land out yonder
Where the hand of God is seen,
Rumblin' railroad trains above you
Streets by workmen all defaced,
Everybody tryin' to shove you
In the gutter in their haste.

Yes I love the western border;
Pine trees wavin' in the air;
Rocks piled up in rough disorder;
Birds a singin' everywhere.
Deer a playin' in their gladness;
Elks a feedin' in the glen;
Not a trace o' care nor sadness,
Campin' on the trail o' man.
Brooks o' crystal clearness flowin'
O'er the rocks an' lovely flowers
In their tinted beauty growin',
'Mid the mountains' dell and bowers.
Fairer picture the Creator
Never threw on earthly screen
Than that lovely home of Nature
Where the hand of God is seen.
—Clipped.

An exchange says: Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from despair, send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity write your correspondence on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

Nobody knows human nature better than the editor. He takes more kicks and cuffs than any other business man in the community and says the least about it. But he learns as the years go by to take people for what they are worth. He measures them up. He places everyone on his roll where they belong. God and the editor knows pretty much about them and gives them their proper rating, be they among the saints or sinners. So when you get puffed up and put on airs remember that all things that are right and just will be measured up to you and those things which are full of folly and selfish pretense are also recorded—though they may not appear in print.—Higgins, Texas, News.

THE GERMAN FLORIST.

She was the lady of his choice and he took no pains to conceal it.

"I'll bet you don't know that day tomorrow is," she announced suddenly.

"Why, Tuesday, of course," he answered in a puzzled tone.

"Oh, I don't mean that kind of a day. I knew you didn't know."

"I don't know. Wat do you mean?" he replied helplessly.

"Well, I guess I'll have to tell you." She pretended she was hurt. "It will be my birthday."

"Congratulations, Alice. Congratulations," he exclaimed enthusiastically. "And how old may"

"That's for you to find out," she answered laughing.

"Well, I bet I know."

"You do?"
"Yes, and I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll send you a rose for every year of your life. How will that do?"

At the florists he found the assistant unoccupied.

"Send Miss Casey eighteen of your best roses tomorrow morning. You know the address. Eighteen. Your best. Understand?" The boy understood.

Half an hour later the proprietor was looking over the order book.

"What did Mr. Graham order today?"

"Eighteen roses, sir," answered Willie.

"Eighteen? He's a pretty good customer. Throw in a dozen more."—Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

TWO SIDES TO EVERYTHING.

A little boy was given too much underdone pie for supper and was soon roaring lustily.

His mother's visitor was visibly disturbed.

"If he was my child," she said, "he'd get a good sound spanking."

"He deserves it," the mother admitted, "but I don't believe in spanking him on a full stomach."

"Neither do I," said the visitor, "but I'd turn him over."—Success Magazine.

AMPLE REASON.

As perhaps every newspaper reader knows, the capital city of Nebraska is "dry." And it claims to be the largest city in America that has abolished the open saloon by its own local option vote. While the campaign was at its height a couple of union men were talking about it in front of the Labor Temple. One of them, a printer, remarked:

"I am going to vote'er 'dry,' this time, and work my head off trying to get other fellows to do the same."

This was a surprise, for the printerman was opposed to the 'dry' policy the year before, although the "drys" won then by a big majority.

"What's your reason for votin' 'dry' this time?" queried the other union man.

"Three new suits of clothes and an overcoat in eleven months" was the terse reply.—Exchange.

Vol. 1, No. 4 of the Briscoe County (Texas) Herald comes to our exchange table this week as a welcome visitor. It is edited by J. M. Hughes, the jolly old-timer who used to be the chief mogul of the Kenna Record office. Jim is an all-right newspaper man and an all-round good fellow, and if he don't make the Herald win out it will be because he is not in a newspaper town, and we do not believe that can be said of Silvertown.

NOTHING ALARMING ABOUT THE COMET.

We did not suppose that any of our readers were seriously alarmed concerning the near approach of the comet. It has made some very near approaches before without any notable effect upon the inhabitants of the earth other than to set some of the ungodly to praying for absolution from their sins, and making a lot of the world's hypocrites wish they had been as good as they had advertised themselves. But from interviews we have recently had, we learn that some of our people who have hearkened to the voices of calamity prophets have become unduly alarmed over the prospect of having to "Shoot the Shoots" through the comet's tail. It is predicted that on or about the 18th., 19th. or 20th. of May the comet will get so near the earth that its tail will swish around us—and something will happen, the prophets not stating specifically what that sometimes will do.

As a matter of fact, according to the mathematical calculations of the trained comet dispatchers, the nearest approach of Halley's comet makes to our New Mexico Homesteads is on the 20th of May, which will be Friday of next week. On that date it will be only about thirteen million miles distant. It seems to us that the tip of its tail (the only part supposed to reach us) will be too far from its head to do much business. If it didn't begin switching its caudal appendage pretty soon after it started this way, which was about 37 1-2 years ago, it couldn't get action on this end of it in time to make any disturbance.

In side of the next few days the comet will make its appearance in the western horizon and will be plainly visible for an hour or two after sundown, very nearly the time in the evening and the place the comet of a month or so ago appeared, and on the 18th or 19th the big show is to come off, when we are supposed to pass through the comet's tail. As the moon however is nearly full at that time it is unlikely we will see much of the flashlight performance if it does occur.

The Stark Year Book for 1910

is ready to mail. It will be sent to any person interested in fruit-growing on receipt of 7 cents to cover postage. The Stark Year Book for 1910 represents an entirely new idea in nurserymen's literature—it is a work of art as well as a catalogue of Stark Nursery products. Within its covers are 32 full-page illustrations of fruits and flowers, representing 175 varieties, done in four colors, and exactly reproducing nature. 84 pages are devoted to descriptions, prices, and records.
Stark Delicious, the apple that has revolutionized orchard planting and established a new standard of apple values (selling at $10.00 per bushel box this year); Stark King David, another apple of wondrous quality and merit; Stark King Philip, a hardy black grape of California grape quality, and dozens of the very best things in the horticultural world are fully described, illustrated, and priced.
To any one planting one tree or many, of fruits or ornamental, this book is of inestimable value—a horticultural text-book—a guide to proper selection.
Stark trees have stood the supreme test of actual planting for 85 years—they are the yard-stick by which all other nursery products are measured—they are the first choice of this country's most successful orchardists. The success of the orchard is dependent on the kind and quality of tree planted. Stark varieties are the best of the best. Our record of 85 years of successful selling is a positive guarantee of tree quality.

Before you decide to buy, send 7 cents for the Stark Year Book—do it today before the edition is exhausted.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.
Our body convened on Monday the 2nd of May and held daily sessions on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 9th, 10th, and 11th. During this time, we have investigated thirty eight cases and out of this number we have returned twenty nine "true bills" and nine "no bills." Acting under the instructions of the Court, our body has inspected the Sheriff's office and temporary jail; the County Clerks and County Treasurer's offices and wish to report that we find all books and records kept in a careful and thoroughly systematic manner. We have no recommendations to make, excepting that some fire protection should be provided for at the temporary jail.
We wish to thank the District Attorney for his assistance as also the Sheriff's office for their promptness in having witnesses on hand.
Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) C. A. BAKER, Foreman.

We do not believe anyone need be fearful or apprehensive of danger, unless it be book agents, delinquent subscribers or scandal mongers. If you are a book agent you have one week yet in which to close out your stock; if a delinquent subscriber, you still have a few days in which to square yourself; but if you are a scandal monger your only show is to close up your talk shop and go out of business forever, for if you ever talk about your neighbor again, even in the years to come, that comet's tail will come back and get you, sure pop.

POLITENESS.
In my youth I knew a lad who was most exceedingly smart, and his flippant way of talking often broke the hearer's heart. He was working for a grocer in a little corner store, taking down the wooden shutters, sweeping up the greasy floor, and he always answered pertly, and he had a sassy eye, and the people often ask him if he wouldn't kindly die. On the festive years skedaddled, and the children of that day, now are bent beneath life's burdens, and their hair is turning gray; and the flippant one is toiling in the same old country store, taking down the ancient shutters, sweeping up the greasy floor. In the same old sleepy village live a lad so polite, that to hear him answer questions was a genuine delight; he was working in a foundry where they dealt in eggs and cheese, and the work was hard and tiresome, but he always tried to please. And to day he's boss of thousands, and his salary's sky high, and his manners just as pleasant, as it was in days gone by. It's an idle, trifling story, and you doubtless think it flat; but its moral might be pasted with some profit in your hat.—Walt Mason.

D. W. Houston, of Olive, N. M., made Final Five Year Proof on his claim last Thursday, taking advantage of time for army service. He has 320 acres, and this will be a test case in one respect. He has not strictly complied with the act governing the 320 acre homesteads in the matter of cultivation, as he has not had the required 40 acres under cultivation for three years and addition 40 acres under cultivation two years; but he has had 90 acres under cultivation two years, and believes he has complied with the spirit of the law. We have not learned what decision the local land office has made in his case, but should it be adverse Mr. Houston will appeal to the department. Personally we are in a little doubt, but believe he will be permitted to make his proof apply to the original quarter, relieving him of further residence on the land, as he has fully complied with the letter of law in regard to cultivation. Mr. Houston is 83 years old, and he has found homestead life rather trying.

TOWNSHIP 9, 33.

As usual some complaining. Crops that are planted are up prior to the last rains, are looking fairly good, but that of later planting, just coming up, is fast being destroyed by gofer rats and ground squirrels, and a probability of having to replace the crop of present planting. B. J. F. Gottschalk has been planting some feed stuff and corn on his place the past week, with a view to the future, where he has prepared for the maintenance of a home built for two. Go it Benard, for it is written, that man shall multiply and replenish the earth.

Miss Viola, the handsome young school mistress of Judson, will visit for a week or two in the New Hope neighborhood, among the most of friends and youngsters. (Look out Carl.)

Miss Myrtle Creech of the New Hope community, who has been visiting her brother John at Judson for the past week, returned to her home Saturday to enjoy the Sunday at her home with friends. Come again Miss Myrtle, always welcome in this community.

Messrs. Carl Case and John Creech, the young busy merchants of Judson, were in Portales Friday on business.

Mr. Lonnie Groves and family were in Kenna last Thursday after the rain and came in at a very late hour; not withstanding the late hour, he registers invariably with good company.

All matter intended for publication should reach us as early in the week as possible, not later than Wednesday at farthest, and if by southbound train should be mailed so as to reach us Tuesday evening. In writing names please use care to write them plainly—and do not say "Mr. Smith, Miss Jones or Mrs. Farris," but write it "J. C. Smith, Mrs. A. H. Farris or Miss Hattie Jones," as the case may be, so that the readers may know which Mr. Smith, Mrs. Jones or Miss Farris is the subject of the item, and thus avoid confusion of names and parties.
