What Went Wrong?

A Few Things ...

Too Little Time

What's needed:
A different approach (not just at the end of the semester)

Some new approaches...

Create a citation with students in class!

“The APA annotation was very helpful. It gave us students correct examples to use toward our own assignment because not all citations online follow the APA guidelines properly and could have thrown us off.”

Some new approaches...

Reach out to those who also teach students about citation and plagiarism

What opportunities exist for collaboration?

Thank you!
