TITLES OF PAPERS PRESENTED

Address of the President—The Future of Science, E. J. Cable.....	49
Address of the Guest Speaker—Chemistry and Recent Progress in Medicine, Dr. Julius Steiglitz ¹
Demonstration: The Cathode Ray Oscillograph and Its Application to the Study of Acoustic Phenoemna, Joseph Tiffin and Don Lewis.....

Botany and Bacteriology

Some factors influencing the respiration of Rhizobium, D. Wynne Thorne and R. H. Walker.....	63
Stomatal count of a single leaf of Colocasia, John A. Yarbrough.....	71
Fermentation of artichokes, Howard Reynolds and C. H. Werkman.....	75
Leaf surface of a twenty-year-old Catalpa tree, Franklin M. Turrell.....	79
Trials with a bacteriological method for measuring available phosphorus in soils, F. B. Smith, P. E. Brown, and C. C. Mensing.....	85
The effect of low temperature on the germination and survival of native oaks, J. M. Aikman.....	89
Origin and development of the vascular bundle of Zea mays L., Arthur L. Hershey.....	95
Notes on Iowa mosses—VI, Lucy M. Cavanagh.....	97
Some methods of labeling nature trails, John Moore.....	103
Mosses of southwestern Iowa, Geneva Sayre and H. S. Conard.....	105
A twenty-year's phenological record of the spring flowering plants of Henry County, Ellsworth Dodds and H. E. Jaques (Abstract).....	107
Shortening the rest period of the tubers of the Jerusalem artichoke (Helianthus tuberosus) L., E. S. Haber (Abstract).....	111
The foliar embryos of Tolmiea Menziesii, John A. Yarbrough (Ab- stract).....	111
Some similarities of nuclear organization in the basidium and the animal spermatocyte, J. E. Sass (Abstract).....	112
Notes on the life history of Aphanizomenon flos-aquae, E. T. Rose (Abstract).....	112
The basidium, Donald P. Rogers (Abstract) (Introduced by G. W. Martin).....	112
On the significance of the minor venation of foliage leaves, Robert B. Wylie (Abstract).....	113
Scotch pine (Pinus sylvestris) as a member of the Iowa flora, Guy West Wilson (Abstract).....	113
Inheritance of fruit shapes and sizes in the pepper and tomato, E. W. Lindstrom (Abstract).....	114
A variant of Quercus alba L., J. N. Martin (Abstract).....	114
The distribution and life-history of Trillium nivale Riddell, J. N. Mar- tin (Abstract).....	115

¹ Emeritus Professor of Chemistry, University of Chicago.

Plant cover map of the Lake Wapello watershed, Davis County, Iowa Albert F. Dodge (Abstract)-----	115
Fungi associated with tree cankers in Iowa, I, J. C. Gilman, G. L. McNew, and G. N. Davis (Title)-----
The moss-genus Grimmia in Iowa, Geneva Sayre-----
Geological history of plants: a chart, L. Sargent and H. S. Conard----

Chemistry, General and Physical

The significance of carbon dioxide in making phosphorus available in the soil, H. C. Millar and F. B. Smith-----	117
The heat capacity and the free energy formation of naphthalene, J. N. Pearce and W. B. Tanner-----	123
A comparison of different types of glass electrode for determining the pH of soils, Harold L. Dean and R. H. Walker-----	127
Is there a deficiency of available potassium in so-called alkali soils of Iowa? Hartzell C. Dean (Abstract)-----	133
The influence of salts on the velocity of inversion of sucrose at 25°, J. N. Pearce and Margaret E. Thomas (Abstract)-----	139
The chemical bond in general chemistry, Ben H. Peterson (Abstract)	139
The thermal decomposition of hexane at high pressures, J. N. Pearce and James W. Newsome (Abstract)-----	139
The adsorption of certain ketones and esters by activated charcoal, J. N. Pearce and Arthur C. Hanson (Abstract)-----	140
Some observations of the boiling points of ternary liquid mixtures, John Dunham and W. C. Oelke (Abstract)-----	141
The use of electron tubes as super-sensitive relays, W. C. Oelke (Ab- stract)-----	141
The dipole moments of certain organic compounds, J. N. Pearce and Luther F. Berhenke (Abstract)-----	141
The salt effect of oxidation and reduction potentials, Ben H. Peterson and Jesse L. Burgess-----
Some notes on the early religion of western Indians, Albert B. Reagan
Some observations on the activity of solvent and solute in aqueous solu- tions of strong electrolytes, J. N. Pearce-----

Chemistry, Organic and Biological

The effect of fluorine on blood and respiration, D. A. Greenwood, E. A. Hewitt and V. E. Nelson-----	143
Studies on vitamins B and G, J. F. Feaster and V. E. Nelson-----	149
The removal of fluorine from drinking waters in the state of Iowa, C. A. Kempf, D. A. Greenwood and V. E. Nelson-----	153
Thiele's theory of partial valency in terms of electrons, Francis Earl Ray-----	157
Aluminum in nutrition, H. H. Keil and V. E. Nelson-----	161
Use of copper to increase the yield of ethyl bromide, Philip Hendrix- son (introduced y L. P. Sherman) (Abstract)-----	165
The availability of tryptophane derivatives for supplementing diets de- ficient in tryptophane, Clarence P. Berg and H. Everett Hanson (Ab- stract)-----	165
Orientation in the dibenzofuran series, W. G. Bywater, E. W. Smith, G. E. Brown, and H. Gilman (Abstract)-----	166
A study of total and reduced glutathione with oxygen content and ca- pacity in the blood of pregnant and non-pregnant women, Fred W. Oberst and E. B. Woods (Abstract)-----	166
The oxidation of glucose by Rhizobium meliloti , O. R. Neal and R. H. Walker (Abstract)-----	167
Alcohol motor fuels, Leo M. Christensen, R. M. Hixon and E. I. Fulmer (Abstract)-----	168
Reduction of furan and the preparation of tetramethylene derivatives, Donald F. Starr and R. M. Hixon (Abstract)-----	169
The alkaline decomposition of wood keratin, Mildred Barr and Rachel Edgar (Abstract)-----	170

1934]	PAPERS PRESENTED	19
	Hydrolysis velocity of ketimines-steric hindrance effect, J. B. Culbertson, William Reynolds and Clarence Main (Abstract)-----	170
	Behavior of bromine derivatives of guaiacol toward nitrating agents, L. Charles Raiford and R. E. Silker (Abstract)-----	171
	The acid and alkaline hydrolysis of silk fibroin, Eunice Walde and Rachel Edgar (Abstract)-----	171
	Hydrolysis of phenyl furyl ketimine — the relative negativity effect, J. B. Culbertson and Leonard Hines (Abstract)-----	172
	Pyridine and quinoline derivatives of dibenzofuran and their physiological properties, Willard H. Kirkpatrick and Henry Gilman (Abstract)-----	172
	Some chemical properties of vitamin E, H. S. Olcott (Abstract)-----	173
	Further studies on the nutritive value of alcohol-extracted animal tissues and the supplements required for growth and lactation, Walter H. Seegers and H. A. Mattill (Abstract)-----	173
	The production of kynurenic acid from tryptophane and indole derivatives, Lyle C. Bauguess and Clarence P. Berg (Abstract)-----	174

Geology

	Weathering of sandstone in the Iowa state capitol building, C. S. Gwynne -----	177
	The Hampton tusk, E. J. Cable-----	191
	A pre-Wisconsin valley in southwestern Hancock county, L. W. Wood	199
	Some observations on the thermal springs of Southeastern Black Hills of South Dakota, P. Murray Work-----	203
	Cycles of erosion in the central Black Hills, P. Murray Work-----	209
	Utilization of the Navajo country, Albert B. Reagan-----	215
	The "Ledges" and Pennsylvanian problems in Iowa, John E. Smith (Abstract)-----	239
	Geographic control of industries in Iowa, John E. Smith (Abstract)-----	239
	Reconstruction of Iowa's Cretaceous stratigraphy, Charles Keyes (Abstract)-----	239
	Extent of Patrician glaciation, Charles Keyes (Abstract)-----	240
	What is the Loveland Loess? Charles Keyes (Abstract)-----	240
	Terraced deposit of an extinct thermal spring in South Park, Colorado, Don B. Gould (Abstract)-----	241
	A contribution to the subsurface geology of Iowa, A. C. Tester-----
	Metamorphosed calcareous concretions, R. G. Hamilton-----
	Structural significance of metamorphosed calcareous concretions, J. J. Runner -----
	Reclassification of the Cambrian of Iowa, A. C. Trowbridge-----
	Some recently discovered fossil Echinoderms, B. H. Beane-----
	Geological aspects of the occurrence of fluorine in Iowa well waters, C. S. Gwynne-----
	Changes in the geologic time-table, Lee O. Yoder-----
	The place of geology in the elementary and junior high school curriculum, P. Murray Work-----

Mathematics

	The effect of increasing the size of samples in certain distributions, Fred A. Brandner-----	243
	The use of expected numbers in analysis of variance with disproportionate sub-class numbers, G. W. Snedecor-----
	Certain sets of two-squares, W. J. Rusk-----
	The evolution of the function concept, M. E. Graber-----
	History of the notation of mathematics, Catherine Walliker-----
	Iterated functions for the characteristic vibrations of a clamped beam, D. L. Holl-----
	Computation of annuities with nominal interest rates, J. F. Reilly-----
	The international mathematical congress at Zürich, J. S. Turner-----
	Applications of elliptic functions to certain problems in plane cubics, Marian E. Daniels-----

Mechanical grade averagers, Karl E. Gaylord-----
 Convergence of series defined by recurrence relations, C. C. Hurd____
 The circular solutions of the two body problem in electro-dynamics,
 J. S. Turner-----
 Conic sections in the elliptic plane, Dwight Goodner-----
 The dilution method for bacterial census, E. S. Allen-----
 An elementary method for the computation of logarithms, E. W. Chittenden -----

Physics

An experiment in gravitation, W. H. Kadesch and R. D. Huntoon
 (Abstract) ----- 247
 Psychophysical analysis of color blindness, A. A. Benedict (Abstract) 248
 An effect of cathode rays on photographic paper, P. H. Carr (Abstract) 248
 The M-series absorption spectrum of metallic bismuth, W. D. Phelps,
 (Abstract) ----- 249
 A study of the cybotactic group structure in isopentane near the critical point, Carl A. Benz (Abstract)----- 249
 Structure of solutions of strong electrolytes in n-alcohols and water,
 G. W. Stewart (Abstract)----- 250
 Comparison of x-ray diffraction in H₂O and H₂O₂, G. W. Stewart
 (Abstract) ----- 251
 Hyperfine structure and the depolarization of resonance radiation by a magnetic field, A. Ellett (Abstract)----- 251
 A mechanical method for the analysis of complex spectra, J. V. Atana-soff and A. E. Brandt (Abstract)----- 252
 Effect of additions of cadmium on growth of zinc crystals, E. P. T.
 Tyndall (Abstract)----- 252
 Electrical resistivities of zinc single and mosaic crystals, W. J. Poppy
 (Abstract) ----- 252
 Thermal conductivity and Wiedemann-Franz ratio for zinc crystals,
 C. A. Cinnamon (Abstract)----- 253
 The dependence of cybotactic groups on specific volume, Ross D. Spangler (Abstract)----- 253
 Serviceable homemade apparatus, E. H. Collins (Abstract)----- 254
 Change in resistance of bismuth single crystals at the melting point,
 J. H. Schroeder (Abstract)----- 254
 A study of laboratory teaching, J. W. Woodrow (Abstract)----- 255
 Experiments on the effectiveness of lectures in college physics, C. J.
 Lapp (Abstract)----- 255
 Some experiments on the teaching value of talking motion pictures in college physics, C. J. Lapp and W. J. Poppy (Abstract)----- 256
 A study of some transfer values of laboratory versus library projects,
 W. J. Poppy and C. J. Lapp (Abstract)----- 256
 Electron collisions in mercury vapor, the 9.8 volt loss, C. J. Cross and
 A. J. Eldridge (Abstract)----- 257
 Mean free paths of molecules and wave mechanics, J. A. Eldridge (Abstract) ----- 257
 The purpose and content of the course in general arts physics, M. E.
 Graber -----
 Notes on the use of the Weston photronic cell as a photometer, Howard
 Nicolaysen -----

Psychology

An analytical study of the common elements in silent and oral reading,
 Donald E. Swanson----- 259
 An analysis of the functional timbre variations of the violin, Arnold
 M. Small----- 263
 Some supplementary devices for improving laboratory results, M. R.
 Jones ----- 265
 Stimulus-response factors in infantile plantar phenomena, Thomas W.
 Richards ----- 269

1934]	PAPERS PRESENTED	21
An experimental study of social maturity in young children, Harold M. Williams.....		271
Measurement of aesthetic interests. Alvhh R. Lauer.....		275
A criterion of driving ability, Earl Allgaier.....		281
Course content and objectives, R. H. Sylvester.....		285
The relative importance of intensity and time stress in singing, Harold G. Seashore.....		287
A case of art ability following sight recovery in seven-year-old child blind from birth, Norman C. Meier.....		291
A new departure in mental measurements, D. D. Feder.....		295
Tone quality of orchestral instruments, D. A. Rothschild (Abstract)...		299
A photographic study of the use of intensity by superior speakers, Max D. Steer and Joseph Tiffin (Abstract).....		300
The effectiveness of learning programs designed to change attitudes toward self-reliance, Ralph J. Ojemann.....
Critique of pitch factors in experiments on audition, Scott N. Reger...
Making use of a general objective in educational research, W. A. Saucier.....
Childrens preferences among play materials as determined by paired comparisons of pictures, Thomas H. Vance and Louise T. McCall....
The effect of diet on intelligence and learning, M. F. Fritz.....
Development of sitting and standing in infants (motion pictures), Orvis C. Irwin.....
A method of teaching psychology, V. E. Stansbury.....

Zoology

The general morphology of the Elasmobranch hypophysis, H. W. Norris and Jack Maxfield.....		301
A progress report of a survey of the insects of Iowa, H. E. Jaques...		305
Notes on the hatchability and infectivity of refrigerated eggs of Fasciola hepatica Linn., Wendell H. Krull.....		309
Effects of ultracentrifuging on certain cell structures, R. L. King and H. W. Beams (Abstract).....		313
Respiratory mechanism of blocked and normal embryonic cells (Orthoptera), J. H. Bodine and E. J. Boell (Abstract).....		313
Seasonal variation in birds, Emil Witschi (Abstract).....		314
Some factors in radiosensitivity, T. C. Evans (Abstract).....		315
The development of the Pronephros in the California newt (Triturus torosus), Gardner M. Riley (Introduced by E. Witschi) (Abstract)		315
Studies of the electromotive force in biological systems: IV. The effect of carbon monoxide on the E. M. F. of frog skin, A. B. Taylor and E. J. Boell (Introduced by J. H. Bodine) (Abstract).....		316
A study of the inheritance and the physiological behavior of dwarfism associated with an eye defect in rats, A. Sciuchetti and W. V. Lambert (Abstract).....		317
A new character of the guinea pig — "silvering," W. V. Lambert (Abstract).....		318
Further studies on selection for resistance to Salmonella aertrycke in mice, H. O. Hetzer (Abstract).....		319
