NOT JUST ANOTHER YEARBOOK

Years are filled with many different activities, experiences and memories. This year proved to be not just another year for many things took place in 1983-84 to make it different.

Things happened in as far away places as outer space. In February the astronauts performed a teherless space walk and used propelled back-packs to move about. In May there was a partial eclipse of the sun. The Columbia space craft was launched and returned successfully to earth proving it could be reusable.

Internationally there were many top news stories. In September the Soviets downed a South Korean airliner. In October 240 U.S. marines were mas-sacred by a terrorist bombing in Beirut, Lebanon, and the U.S. backed an invasion of Grenada. In February Reagan ordered the marines out of Beirut following the collapse of the Lebanese cabinet. Soviet President Andropov died on February 9 after a long illness, and Chernenko succeeded him as party General Secretary. In May President Reagan visited China on a journey for peace.

Nationally the 1984 campaigning began. The Iowa caucuses were won by Walter Mondale. In May there were just three Democratic candidates left, Mondale, Gary Hart and the Rev. Jesse Jackson. President Reagan ran unopposed in the Republican race. A vaccine was discovered to prevent chicken pox.

In sports the Los Angeles Raiders beat the Washington Redskins in the Superbowl. The Winter Olympics were held in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, and the Summer Olympics in Los Angeles. In May the Soviet Union pulled out of the Summer Olympics along with Afganistan, Mongolia, Bulgaria, Czecho-slovakia, Laos, Vietnam, Cuba, East Germany and North Korea. In mens' basketball the State Cyclones made it to the NIT Tournament, and the UNI Panthers were undefeated at home.

In entertainment the popular movies included "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom," "Footloose," and "Flashdance." Favorite songs included songs from those movies and "Hello" by Lionel Richie. Favorite TV shows included "Hill Street Blues," "Dynasty," and "The A Team." Some popular entertainers were Eddie Murphy, Michael Jackson, Jennifer Beales and Kevin Bacon. Favorite pastimes included watching MTV, cable TV and playing computer games. Break dancing and Flashdance fashions were popular. Appreciated gifts were the game Trivia Pursuit, telephones, sung-lasses on a cord, ghetto blasters and Walkman headset stereos.

Closer to home Governor Branstad vetoed the lottery bill but allowed Iowa to have horse and dog racing. The "Police" performed at the UNI-Dome. Thunder Ridge Shopping Mall declared bankruptcy and Wal-Mart opened in College Square Mall.

These things made 1983-84 unique, different from every other year. The school year was not just another year either. Extra-curricular activities and academics kept students and faculty discovering new areas and develop-ing new memories. This is why we have decided to make the 1984 year-book NOT JUST ANOTHER YEARBOOK.

A lot of memories will leave with the graduating members of the class of 1984.

The thoughts will include: "Goodbye, My Fancy," the first play the class tried out for. The first speech the members got nerve enough to do. The hours of practicing for the music contests. The week without lights. The opportunity to join BIOMED. The pain, sweat and nerves that accompanied getting ready for the sports seasons. The many trophies brought home from the state cross country and track meets. Studying for the American history tests. The many fund raisers, including the hanging of lawn-care pamphlets all over town. The work and fun of "South Pacific". The uncertainty of prom and the relief when it turned out fine. The trips to Guthrie. The powder puff football teams of 1983. The many friends made and good times had by all.

These and many more memories will be cherished forever.

NOT JUST ANOTHER PERFORMANCE

The Drama Club's annual trip to the Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis was made on September 10, 1983. Nineth-four students gathered at the school early that morning to get a "good seat" on one of the two university buses for the long ride to Minneapolis. The musical was "Guys and Dolls," the first such production ever put on by the theatre. The musical starred Jerry Stiller, Barbara Sharma, Roy Thinnes and Kathy Morath in a performance that was enjoyed by all.

Play dares audience to end senseless wars

The high school band's fall concert included "Cob County Festival" by L. O'Reilly and "Macarena" by Monterde/Kerchner. The second concert featured "Toto's Greatest Hits" and John Zdechlik's "Chorale and Shaker Dance." For the last concert the band worked hard to play a variety of songs in different styles. The concert included "Scottish Rhapsody," "Study in Steel," and "Riders for the Flag." Tom Barry, a music professor at UNI, soloed in the piece "Ballade" by Alfred Reed.

The NU Jazz Band brought home three more trophies this year. It placed second in Class B at the 1984 Tallcorn Jazz Festival. At the Northeast Iowa (NEIBA) district competition, it was awarded the first place trophy. This achievement earned the group the right to compete in the Iowa Jazz Championships where it placed fifth in Class B. Recognized repeatedly as outstanding soloists were Gloria Guldager (saxophone), David Delfs (trombone) and Susan Rider (trumpet)

Band prepares extensive repertoire

At its first concert, Nov. 17, 1983, the senior high orchestra performed the overture to "Rosamunde" by Franz Schubert. At the annual winter concert, the group played the overture to "The Dream of Scipione" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart plus other numbers. And to end the year, the high school orchestra put together one of its best concerts performing selections from Handel's "Wassermusik" and Sibelius's "Symphony No. 3, Op. 43." Overall, the variety of music performed showed evidence of a lot of hard work by both the orchestra members and the conductor.

1983-84 Concert Orchestra

Orchestra performs varied programs

Choir blends singing voices

In addition to performing in the High School Choir, the members of the Chamber Choir attended the state music contest and brought home a perfect score and an outstanding performance award.

The choir will probably never forget singing "Froggy," at the fall concert, "Cantique de Jean Racine" in mid-winter, or "Set Down Servant" (with solos by Ann McCalley and Tony Tomlyanovich) and "New York, New York" for spring choral night.

1983-84 SENIOR HIGH CHOIR:

NOT JUST ANOTHER SEASON

Softball team scores high in enthusiasm

1983 was a rebuilding year for us in softball. Many times Coach Kettner changed our positions which, I think, will help our team for several years. Now everybody has had experience at a variety of spots on the field, making us all more versatile. Replacing the seniors we lost at the end of this year will be hard, especially in some infield positions. Beth Ann Finsand was named to the first team All-Conference, and Carol Glascock earned honorable mention. However, to offset this loss, we gained some talented underclassmen who, I am sure, will see a lot of action in 1984. We developed a strong group spirit and lots of enthusiasm which gave our team a special something. It was fun belonging to a team so together. We're looking forward to next season with excitement, and I encourage other girls to give it a shot.

“Wrong length” games plague baseball team

A young team was fielded by first year coaches Dennis Cryer and J. D. Doud. Paul Rider and Steve Keiser were the only seniors. We played good ball in almost every game of the season, but couldn't sustain our best for the full 7 innings. Some games were an inning or two too long, and a late rally would beat us. Other games were too short, cutting off our own rallies. A victory over ranked Grundy Center and a home-run contest at Dunkerton proved the season's high points. I look to next season, when all but two starters will be back, as a season in which the tables will be turned, and the games will be just the right length.

1983 Baseball Team

Quarterback strong but foes stronger

Due to the lack of depth and experience, the NU High Panthers finished the 1983 football season with the disappointing record of 2-7. We played some of the toughest teams in the area including North Tama, Allison-Bristow and Grundy Center who this year were rated among the best in the state. However, we did have our moments of glory which made all the practices in those searing hot, humid days seem worthwhile. Our 8-7 victory over La-Porte in double overtime will always be foremost in our memories. And who can forget the pain of losing to Ackley-Geneva in the last few seconds?

The JV team has shown a lot of improvement in both ability and leadership this year. With their 4-3 season, we think that next year the Panthers will go over the .500 mark.

Congratulations to Calvin Strong who earned first team, All-Conference and honorable mention, All-State; and to Sean Nelson and Tom McGee who earned All-Conference honorable mention. Good luck to the team of 1984!

New coach helps build volleyball strength

This was another year of new coaching and young players for the NU High volleyball teams. The girls were under a great new coach, Cathy Shaw. We didn't do as well as she had hoped, but we built a lot of strong players for the years to come. Many people saw some playing time on the varsity team: Steph Glenn, Kari Nelson, Teresa Osborn, Erin Caldwell, Lori Tyler, Steph Yoder, Susan Hilliard, and Captain Mary Hayes. There were also noteworthy performances from Christa Matter.

I hope that all the playing time that the younger players got will help them to become the champions I think they can be. Good luck, girls. I know you can do it!

Cross country team ties for state title

This year's cross country team set records in more ways than one. We had a record number of 23 men out, with half of them qualifying for varsity competition at different times throughout the season. From last year's team we had only three returning lettermen. Therefore many of the members had never run cross country before, including Trent Timson, who was the state champion in class I-A. Led by Coach Lee, we had the best season in the history of cross country at NU High. We finished second in the district meet and tied for first at State, with Trent Timson (first) and Steve Budlong (fifth) leading the team as they had all season. Although our point total at State tied for first, we were awarded the runner-up trophy because our fifth place runner came in behind the slowest runner of the championship team. With a large number of lettermen returning next year, the NU cross country tradition of excellence will continue.

Youthful swimmers make fine individual growth

The girls' swim team got off to a slow start this year, but eventually things really fell into place. We were very glad to have Coach Ben Myers back with us this year, for we have a great deal of confidence in him as a coach. As the season progressed, everyone worked harder, the spirit grew and the times got faster. Sophomore Nicole Swann was a real inspiration to the team and just missed qualifying for State in the 100 butterfly and the 100 backstroke. Five freshmen posted their personal best times at the District meet. Junior Renee Bunger was, unfortunately, disqualified in the 50 freestyle at State, but was able to find the strength to win the 100 freestyle. Next year's team will be stronger and more experienced, and I look for more members to qualify for State.

Experience and effort build team unity

The 1983-84 varsity basketball season started out with another new coach, Cathy Shaw. In the beginning there were moments of confusion and frustration, but as the season progressed we improved and learned from Coach Shaw's instructions. By the end of the season, we had turned into a real team.

The players were quite young, with only one returning starter, Debbie Teig. Mary Hayes, Chris Miller and Ann McCalley were the other senior players. Everyone needed and gained experience.

The guard court learned to play as a unit. The quality of play continued whether Shan Gress, Deb Teig, Jodi Nelson, Chris Miller or Steph Yoder were on the floor. Co-captain Deb Teig led the conference in blocked shots and was third in the conference for rebounds. She was nominated for the All-Conference team. Shan Gress was second in the conference for rebounds and was nominated for second team All-Conference recognition.

The forward court had improved by the end of the season. Several people saw playing time. They were Co-captain Mary Hayes, Steph Yoder, Kari Nelson, Sue Hilliard, Mel Reed and Ann McCalley.

With only four players graduating, next year's team will pick up where they left off and continue to improve and build a respectable girls athletic program.

I wish them best of luck.

Senior determination helps team succeed

This year's boys' basketball team was a unit with lack of experience and game playing time. With only two returning lettermen, we were picked to finish last place in the conference. But with head coach Paul Waack, hard work and plenty of "rats," we managed a sixth place finish out of eight teams. The highlight of the season was the night we beat North Tama at Tama without Coach Waack.

The team was led by four seniors, Brad Blough, Steve Baedke, Clark McGrew and Calvin Strong. Strong was leading scorer averaging 20.5 points per game. Blough was the leading assist man, and McGrew was the leader in rebounds. Baedke was our defensive specialty man drawing the best offensive man on the opposing team. We also got good bench support from seniors Matt McColley, Darin Smith, Skeet Scoville and juniors Jack Teatsworth and Tom McGee.

Calvin Strong earned first team All-Conference and honorable mention All-State honors.

With three returning lettermen next year's team should have a strong enough base to have a successful season. Slam dunk the funk!

Swim team makes the mouse roar

The 1983-84 season was one of the most productive in memory. The team finished strong with a dual meet record of 7 wins, 2 losses. Individually the team members did remarkably well. Dan Glascock and Jon Wessels finished the year with good times at the state meet in a number of events. The medley relay also ranked high, despite our small school size.

An enthusiastic group of freshmen stuck with the team, and gave lots of support. We were also lucky to have such a fine coach as Ben Myers who pulled us together and kept us unified throughout the season. We hope he will continue to coach at NU High for many years. I'm anxious to see the progress the Mouse makes in the future, and I'll be back to support my favorite team as much as possible. Good luck, guys.

Golfers rebuild for future success

Under the guidance of a new coach, Scott Justice, this year's golf team surprised a lot of people. We managed to tie for first at the Parkersburg Invitational with Matt Green tying for medalist honors and Steve Baedke and Tom McGee receiving medals for their scores. In our dual meets we were also undefeated, beating all teams in our conference. We played poorly at the conference meet and placed third, although Tom McGee received All-Conference honors. But our biggest accomplishment came as we finished second at sectionals and advanced to Districts.

With the team losing only two seniors, Steve Baedke and Matt McColley, the future looks bright for the golf team. Let's all wish them a successful future.

Girls' team achieves winning track season

With just three returning letterwinners, the girls' track team was blessed with seven hardworking freshmen. In total the team consisted of two seniors, one junior, six sophomores and seven freshmen.

The season started off right when we won our first two meets, and as the team improved the school records began to break. The 4 X 100 relay record was broken with a time of 51.02. Debbie Teig broke with 800 meter run with a time of 2:23.5. The indoor long jump record was broken by Shan Gress with a jump of 16' 1". Suse Scheiber, our dedicated foreign exchange student, proved her ability by breaking the mile run record with a time of 6.01.

We had five runners qualify for the state meet. They were Debbie Teig in the 800 meter run and Susan Hilliard, Melanie Reed, Becky Wilson and Nancy Brasel in the 4 X 100 relay. Debbie Teig got second place and the 4 X 100 sailed to another easy first place.

I wish I could say something about every member, because this year's track team was one in which every runner did her share and all worked together to make the 1984 season a success. With the help of our captain Debbie Teig, we were able to feel like a team, no matter how small we were.

Boys' team captures state runner-up title

1984 was another successful year for the NU High boys track team. We had a good group of men out and eleven seniors to set the pace. Even before earning the second place crown at the State Meet, we came in first in ten of our meets and had many outstanding performances.

New school records were set by Calvin Strong in the high jump and Trent Timson in the mile (1600 meter) run and the two mile (3200 meter) run. Calvin's 6'2" jump tied his own and Darle Mosley's previous record and qualified him for the state meet where he placed fourth. Trent's best mile was run in 4:36.0; his two mile best was 9:34.24. At the state meet he placed first in both events and at the Drake Relays he won the 3200 meter crown.

But the team had more strong competitors. Brian Albrecht qualified for state in the pole vault and Nate Maypole in the 200 meter dash. Clark McGrew's 51.2 in the 400 meter set a new NICL Conference Meet record.

We also had four relay teams which placed at state. The 4 X 200 relay (Darin Smith, Calvin Strong, Brad Blough and Clark McGrew) placed second. The 4 X 100 relay team (Scott Hansen, Blough, Smith, and Strong) came in third. The 4 X 400 relay (Smith, Strong, McGrew, and Blough) placed fourth as did the medley relay team of Hansen, Maypole, McGrew and Timson.

The ten graduating seniors and I would like to thank Coach Lee and wish him and the team good luck in '85. Walk the dog!

Girls' tennis team works for consistency

After losing almost all of last spring's team, it was questionable as to what kind of team we would have. But after all the snow, rain, and wind let up, we put together a very respectable team. There was only one returning letterwinner, and we lacked experience, but we just took that as a challenge and did the best we could. Our goal was to improve as much as possible, mentally and physically, and to gain experience for a stronger team. Because of many rain cancellations and problems getting our strokes and games together, we lost a lot of consistency in our playing. We just needed time to work together and to work things out, which we didn't have.

Laurie Graham was our most consistent player. Ann Becker was our most improved player. Wendy Blackburn was the "happiest" player. And the high point of the season was when Christa Matter won the No. 5 conference singles. Congratulations, Christa! I'm confident that next year's team will take the experience they've gained to build a tougher, stronger, and more consistent winning team. They can do it! Hopefully they'll remember to go for teams like Cedar Falls and LaPorte. And hopefully they'll remember to have fun. That's the most important part of the game. Best of luck!

Boys' team gains valuable experience

Once again the '84 boys tennis team had a lot of fun, though most of it was off the court. The team lacked the consistency needed for a winning season, but much improvement was made. Tom Jacobsen, Jim Lorenzen and Dennis Pedersen provided a solid 1-2-3 punch for the team. At the Conference meet, Matt Little won the No. 4 single title and Mike (Broken Arm) McColley captured the ever-tough No. 6 singles honors. No one advanced at the district meet due to some sub-par play and bad luck in the draws. However, with the improvement made and the valuable experience gained, next year's returning letterment Tom, Dennis, Matt and Tim, should provide solid leadership for a winning season. Best of luck, Jebronies!

Because our 1983 eighth grade team was undefeated, the 1983 NU boys were the football team every opponent was out to beat. However, Coach Aldrich's team, using the single-wing offense was ready for them and posted a winning season. The players are anxious to prove themselves as high school panthers, beginning in '84.

The week of homecoming at NU High is traditionally a busy, fun time filled with excitement.

In 1983 many activities were planned and carried out. This year's schedule included Black-and-Orange Day, Eldora-Get-Up Day and Dress-Up Day on which students became involved and showed their school spirit. The Pep Club sponsored a hall decorating contest which gave the school a festive air. Winners of the contest were the ninth graders.

For the people who could get up early enough on Wednesday morning, the breakfast put on by the juniors added more fun to homecoming. The Student Council bonfire was held on Wednesday evening. The cheerleaders led cheers and a snake dance followed the bonfire rally.

Queen Debbie Teig and Honorary Queen Suse Scheiber were announced at the coronation ceremony Thursday night. The Lettermen's Club performed a skit for the queen and her court and entertained all present.

Friday brought a disappointing loss to Eldora, 6-12, in the homecoming football game, but spirits rose again at the dance on Saturday night, which featured the band East Side Jets.

All of those involved with homecoming and those who caught the spirit realized that the year had just begun and nothing could stop them now.

(9) Kristin Teig and Joy Dueda decorate the front lobby for homecoming. (10) Susan Graham and Kari Nelson show spirit on Western Day. (11) The cheerleaders lead the snake dance at the bonfire.

The major responsibility for Pep Club each year is homecoming. The club is in charge of most of what goes on, including the decorations, coronation night, homecoming buttons and locker signs. The second annual hall decorating contest, sponsored by the club, was highly successful. Each class, including the junior high, decorated its own hallway in the spirit of homecoming with the winner announced at the pep assembly on game afternoon.

With president Ann McCalley, vice-president Ingrid Scott, secretary Chris Miller and pep club's sponsor Dianna Briggs, the year turned into another great one for all who were involved with sports and spirit.

This year, the fall cheerleaders worked up some very well-rehearsed dance routines. But the memorable Mr. Legs Contest overshadowed the debut of their performances. The NU High Booster Club became more active at all activities. Their All-Sports Recognition Banquet, held in April, honored all senior athletes and cheerleaders for an outstanding sports season.

Delegation represents United Kingdom

(5) Devin McKinney concentrates on the issue at hand. (6) Tanya Elsbury and Dr. Rose await the opening of the session.

This year's NU Model UN delegation represented the United Kingdom, which is one of the big five nations, together with China, France, the Soviet Union, and the United States. Although this delegation was one of the youngest in NU's history of Model UN delegations, we felt we worked together very well and were successful. For the first time, NU had veto power on the Security Council and this enabled us to make more demands and take an even more active part in the debates and negotiations. The special political, disarmament, economic and social and political and security committees also felt that success was achieved. The whole delegation will agree that this year's Model UN was not only a great learning experience, but also a lot of fun.

Travellers discover new people and places

Twenty NU High French students spent 15 days visiting France in March 1984. They visited Paris, Normandy, Bretagne and the Loire Valley before their five-day family stay in the greater Paris area. The group was led by Jim and Jeannine Becker under the Vistas in Education program.

In June 1984 David Delfs left to live in Japan as a summer YFU exchange student. Before departure, he spent two weeks at Stanford University in California studying the Japanese language and culture.

Laura McGrew was selected by the Rotary International for one of their year-abroad scholarships. She will spend 1984-85 living and attending school in Belgium.

Susanne (Suse) Scheiber from West Germany was the 1983-84 YFU Exchange student at NU High. A tiny, vivacious 16-year-old senior, Suse lived with the Marc Yoder family. While in Cedar Falls, she was active in volleyball and track and served on the stage and publicity crews in drama club. Her classes included language arts, advanced art, biology, and American government. She has requested her many friends to write or visit her at her home address: Suse Scheiber, Gartenstrasse 12, 6104 Seeheim-Jungenheim, West Germany.

The YFU Carnival, planned annually by the student council, is designed to raise money to help send an NU High student abroad. Going to Japan in the summer of 1984 was David Delfs.

(7) Mura Goyal and Katie Franken prepare Indian dishes. (8) The "Oompah" band, Matt McColley, David Delfs, Melissa Rohrbaugh, Mr. Ellis and Susan Rider. (9) Wade Anderson uses his sales abilities in the general store. (10) Joel Shepherd helps at the taco stand. (11) Jackie Stockdale browses. (12) Kari Nelson makes a perfect crepe.

This year NU's Foreign Language Festival brought in over 45 schools and close to 1,000 students. Various activities were held to let the students use the language they were learning. Foreign language teachers Jim Becker, Larbi Oukada, Argelia Hawley and Rosa Findlay helped the day run smoothly. Activities included food demonstrations, games, conversation and culture centers, a 16-team soccer tournament, speech contest, quiz bowls and the "Tour de Cedar Falls" bike race. Students earned money by participating and then spent it on the donated souvenirs and prizes in the general store or auctioned off at the end of the day. The 1984 theme, designed by Tanya Elsbury, "Discover Another World: Learn a Foreign Language," served its purpose well. Students learned they could communicate in a language other than English.

Senior Sadies recreate Dogpatch

The traditional Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae theme brought many students to school on March 30, dressed in flannel shirts, overalls, bandannas and straw hats. That Friday was the opening of the Sadie Hawkins festivities.

Before the dance on Saturday night, the senior girls and escort put on an assembly. The candidates, Steve, Brad, Chip, Brendan and Calvin put on a skit titled "Shaving Cream." The senior girls and escorts performed another skit, "County Gossip." Several contests created competition between the candidates, including a pie eating contest and bobbing for apples. Each contestant was also asked "Why do you think you would make the best Sadie Hawkins King?"

The girls asked their fellas to the dance following the assembly where the band "Dreams" played. Marryin' Sam was there to perform the ceremonies for any couple who wanted to get hitched.

Chip Koch was named Sadie Hawkins King, and the dance came to an end. But the memory of Sadie Hawkins will return each time there's a smell of fresh hay in the air or a twang of Southern accent is heard.

Prom 1984: We've got tonight

As guests entered the Holiday Inn, the first thing seen was the mirrored corner of the lobby where the guest book, with plumed pen, sat waiting to be signed. Surrounding the book were the cream-colored programs printed in green.

In Greenstreets, the restaurant of the Holiday Inn, the band, "Baby Moon and the Whitewalls," was set up along the west wall. Two wingback chairs awaited the honorary queen and the queen with white benches on either side for the court. The theme banner, hung above the set, read

"We've Got Tonight." The columns in the restaurant were also wrapped in peach and deep green ribbons.

Curiosity ran high as the six candidates and their escorts waited for Ferd Reichmann to announce the 1984 prom queen. A few minutes earlier, honorary queen Suse Schieber was escorted in and seated. Then Jill Kulper was named the 1984 queen. She and her escort lead a dance to the night's theme.

After the dance, guests went bowling from 1 to 4 am, (daylight savings time made it a two-hour outing). Then, bowlers dragged themselves to NU to watch the movie "Class." At 6 am, most of the guests called it a night.

1984 PROM COURT: David Lebeda, Shawn Usher, Terry Timmerman, Chris Miller, Dan Glascock, Ann McCalley, Tony Tomlyanovich, Honorary Queen Suse Scheiber, Brad Blough, Queen Jill Kulper, Todd Timmerman, Mary Hayes, Cam Robinson, Laurie Graham.

(10) A row of graduates contemplate the future.

Commencement exercises for the forty-five members of the class of 1984 began at 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 20. The girls, dressed in wine-colored caps and gowns, and the guys, in grey, filed into the university auditorium as "Pomp and Circumstance" was played by the NU High orchestra.

The invocation was given by the Reverend Thomas Wegner of Faith Lutheran Church in Waterloo. Chip Koch, class president, gave a speech on how hard it was going to be to go on our separate ways after spending so much time together. Then he introduced the speaker, the Reverend Homer Larsen from Nazareth Lutheran Church. Larsen urged the class to keep only the best of the traditional, and discard the bad and useless. He said that change should not be feared. His message was short but realistic to the graduating seniors.

First-year principal Dr. Charles Moore presented the class of 1984 to Dr. Ross Nielsen, head of the Department of Teaching, who then awarded the diplomas.

With Les Hale directing, a small section of the choir sang the alma mater with the audience, and the Reverend Wegner gave the benediction. As the graduates filed out, the orchestra played the Grand March from "Aida."

The graduates congratulated each other on the front lawn while waiting for relatives and friends to appear. Lots of tears and smiles accompanied the class as it commenced into the future.

The 1983-84 school year was a unique one, as all are. The senior class upheld its duties as leaders and also added its own touch at being as individual as any other class.

Additions to long-standing traditions accompanied the year. The bonfire and snake dance added a certain amount of flair to the homecoming activities. The winter cheerleaders also added a new twist by adding two males to their squad.

The NU High news page was published in the new city paper, The Cedar Falls Sun. The paper served a worthy cause as students continued their hand at writing news stories about NU activities and students.

The Lettermen and Letter Club initiations were scaled down eliminating the traditions of "slaves and masters" for both groups. The Lettermen were limited to pranks outside of school, while the Letter Club kept a lot of its old methods.

Prom, traditionally held at the UNI Commons, took another unusual turn as the elegant dance was held at the Holiday Inn. The traditional attire was still honored, and the dance was a success nevertheless.

Despite doubt over how the year would turn out, the seniors' leadership stuck, and it was not just another year to remember.

(8) Cindy McHone, Chris Miller and Sean Nelson contemplate their futures.

NOT JUST ANOTHER MEMORY

PANTHER BOOSTER

The NU Panther Booster Club was organized:

To support, promote and maintain a high standard of integrity and good sportsmanship in all activities of Northern University High School.

To foster goodwill and fraternal spirit among the members.
To promote and encourage better attendance at all activities by parents, friends, students and faculty of the school.

To encourage more young men and women to get involved in activities.

High school secretary retires after 25 years

Mildred Bundy, NU High office secretary, retired at the end of the first semester. After 25 years of service under five principals, Bundy spent her last week writing notes to whoever might take over the job and receiving good wishes from those who would miss her. The students would miss her selling them meal tickets or sending out transcripts. The parents would miss her answering the phone to excuse their children's absences or to take messages. The faculty would miss her bookkeeping services and her help and reminders of meetings and due dates. And Dr. Moore, who had just settled into the principal's office, would miss her most of all, for she was his font of knowledge regarding school policies and procedures and the secretary who took all his dictation and prepared his correspondence.

(1) Student council president David Lu presents Mrs. Bundy with a giant card signed individually by all members of the student body. (2) Mrs. Bundy reads the card accompanying her farewell gift from the faculty and staff. (3) Listening to a catalog of her achievements, Mrs. Bundy tries to keep her emotions hidden. (4) At a pep gathering, Mrs. Bundy thanks the student body for making her job an enjoyable one. In return, she was presented with a lifetime pass to athletic events. (5) The principals' secretary and her bosses, Ross Nielsen, James Albrecht, Charles Moore, Paul Brimm and Jerry Dueda.
