THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

A faculty Marshal heads the academic procession. Candidates for degrees, with Master's degree candidates first, are led by Student Marshals. Next in line are the Dean's Party, including members of the Board of Regents and other honored guests, and university officials with platform duties. Then follow Department Heads who also sit on the platform and members of the instructional faculty of the college.

The academic costumes worn trace their origin to the Middle Ages when long-sleeved, hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone colleges. Over the centuries much diversity occurred. To bring some order out of this, in the United States in 1894, an intercollegiate system of academic costume was agreed on and it is now adhered to by more than 760 institutions. According to this code, both the styling and the colors of the regalia have significance.

The design of the gown indicates the degree: The bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The master's gown is much like a bachelor's gown except for the long sleeve which hangs loose. The doctor's gown is more elaborate and worn loosely. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the full sleeve. The color of this velvet may be black or in the color appropriate to the degree.

Hoods, which are worn over the gowns, are similar for all three degrees. The bachelors candidates often do not wear the hood. The hood has a velvet edging which indicates the area of degree. The inside or lining of the hood is satin and indicates by its colors the college or university which granted the degree.

A partial list of degree colors to be found on the edge of the hood or the trimming on the doctor's gowns is as follows:

Apricot—Nursing	Lemon—Library Science
Blue, Dark—Philosophy	Maize—Agriculture
Blue, Light—Education	Maroon—Home Economics
Brown—Fine Arts	Orange—Engineering
Citron—Social Science	Pink—Music
Copper—Economics	Purple—Law
Drab—Business	Scarlet—Theology
Green—Medicine	White—Arts and Letters
Green Sage—Physical Education	Yellow, Golden—Science

The first part of the paper discusses the historical background of the concept of the self. It traces the development of the idea from ancient Greek philosophy to modern times, showing how the concept has evolved and been reinterpreted by various thinkers.

The second part of the paper examines the philosophical arguments for the existence of the self. It considers the views of Descartes, Locke, and Kant, and evaluates the strengths and weaknesses of their arguments. It also discusses the challenges posed by the concept of the self to contemporary philosophy.

The third part of the paper explores the psychological and neuroscientific perspectives on the self. It discusses the work of psychologists like Freud and Jung, and neuroscientists like Penfield and Milner, who have provided insights into the nature of the self through their research.

The fourth part of the paper discusses the self in relation to other concepts in philosophy, such as identity, consciousness, and the mind-body problem. It shows how the self is central to these issues and how they are interconnected.

Finally, the paper concludes by reflecting on the significance of the self in human life. It suggests that a deeper understanding of the self can lead to a more meaningful and fulfilling existence.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O Beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain
For purple mountain majesties above the fruited plain!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream, that sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam, undimmed by human tears!
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea.
