THE LISTENING POST

Let me say quite firmly, as well as truthfully, that paying fifty cents to see the Celtics play basketball has nothing to do with what I am going to say about them and about the game in general. I did pay fifty cents, and it does go against the grain to pay for such things, because I am accustomed to seeing things of this nature on a press pass.

Not that the Celtics can't play basketball. They can and did, and also threw in a lot of comedy with the basketball playing. Also the Union University team is quite a good one. Pitted against teams of its own class I rather believe the Union boys would look like a real team, but against the Celtics they looked like somebody's third string team.

But the thing which they cannot do, and did not do, are the things which I like in my basketball games. They do not, in the vernacular, "give" as do the lads who play high school basketball. They know how good they are; they know they are no use running if walking will do, and many times I saw the Celtics walking down the court after a play as if out for a mere stroll.

Now when a high school player shoots for the basket there is constant and immediate agitation. The lad who fires the ball dives into the scrimmage in an effort to recover the ball. His mates rally around with the same general idea in mind and a sigh of relief goes up from the home crowd if a home boy comes out with the ball safely.

Also when a high school player fires a long shot from about midfloor there is a hush over the crowd as every eye watches the ball in flight. Everybody knows it will be a miracle if it goes in, and what a shout goes up when the miracle really happens.

Knudsen Opposes Laws

Fears Action Might Cause Breakdown As In France

Washington.—William S. Knudsen expressed the belief today that attempts to prevent work stoppages in defense industries by "overall" legislation might precipitate an industrial breakdown such as occurred in France.

At the same time, the director of the office of production management gave part approval of a proposal by Representative Smith (D.-Va.), to require a "cooling off" period in employe-employer disputes before a strike could be called.

Knudsen made the statements in response to questions at a House judiciary committee hearing on labor difficulties in defense plants.

The defense production chief told the committee he based his opposition to "overall" legislation on his own observation of what happened in France when the Blum government fixed wages and maximum hours by decree. The United States has established minimum wages in some industries and does not limit the number of hours that can be worked.

New Stoppages Not Seen Asked whether he foresaw any substantial stoppages for the future, as a result of conditions now developing, Knudsen replied in the negative.

"We can only judge the future by what has happened in the past," he said, "and there has been nothing very serious in the last six months or so."

He mentioned, however, that a new coal wage agreement was "coming up" about April 1.

Questioned about proposals to extend the principle of the Railway Labor Mediation Act, which requires a "cooling off" period before strikes, to defense industries, Knudsen said he thought that would be "desirable."

"I read this morning the bill introduced by Mr. Smith of Virginia that I think contains some very good suggestions," he said. Earlier, Knudsen predicted that the Allis-Chalmers strike at Milwaukee would be settled by tomorrow.

German Radio Asks Criticism, Gets It, Seeks More—Collect

New York.—The Nazi Wireless, which last week asked for—and got—suggestions as to what Americans would like to hear on German radio programs, Tuesday night asked for more.

C. E. S. reported that the wireless, not content with a flood of "special requests" including some for descriptions of Hitler's funeral or the bombing of the Berlin Chancellery, repeated its appeal for Americans to cable their wishes—with charges collect.

"Don't Spare Criticism" "Don't spare any criticism that you may have," the announcer was reported as saying, "and of course if you have any praise, we are only too glad to receive it."

The German announcer directed that requests be sent via Radio Corporation of America addressed to Ameradio, Berlin. The messages must not exceed 35 words.

R. C. A. officials said many of the messages bordered on obscenity and could not be sent, but on the other hand a number of scathing bits of advice had been cabled. They would

South Fulton Wins Trophy For 2nd Straight Year

South Fulton's Red Devils clinched the championship last night for the second consecutive year when they defeated the Fulton Bulldogs in a hard fought game last night at Science Hall, 26-23. A capacity crowd attended the game, which was the second game of the series. South Fulton won the first game played several weeks ago 27-24.

The Bulldogs outscored the Red Devils 10-6 the first quarter and held a lead of 15-13 at the half. Harwood, who was held to one field goal the first half, began sinking his shots and made 10 points in the final half. He was high point man with 13 points. McClellan and Spence shared high scoring honors for Fulton with 6 points each. Fulton held a one point lead, 19-18, at the beginning of the last quarter.

Spence, center for the Bulldogs, played one of the best floor games of the season, being tight on defense and sinking four free throws with one field goal. Captain McKinney, speedy forward of the Red Devils, also played a sparkling game.

Lineup: Fulton (23) Pos. S. Fulton (26) McClellan, 6 F. McKinney (c), 5 Moore, 5 F. Earwood, 13 Spence, 6 G. Coffman, 2 McCollum, 2 G. Yates, 4 McAllister, (c) 4 G. McConnell Substitution: Fulton—Hannah; S. Fulton—Woodruff, Dyer, 2. Referees, Bland and Phillips.

Pups Win Thriller Seeking revenge for a one-point loss to South Fulton's second stringers several weeks ago, the Fulton High Bulldogs turned on full blast last night and defeated them 26-24, in a game that was a thriller from start to finish. Hassell, playing his best game this year, sank six field goals to be high point man for Fulton, while Wall of South Fulton had five field goals plus three free shots to be high point man with 13 points. Captain Davis of the Pups played an excellent game.

Lineup: Fulton (26) Pos. S. Fulton (24) Reed, 4 F. Finch, 3 Hart, 4 F. Brundige, 2 Davis, (c) 4 C. Brooks, 2 Browder, 1 G. Dalton Hassell, 12 G. Walls, 13 Substitutions: Fulton—Williams, Holloway, 1. Tosh, S. Fulton, Stem, Dyer, 4. Referees, Bland, Phillips.

Albany Night Boat Passes, Victim Of Modern Times

New York.—The Hudson River Night Line, which began when steamboating was young and stamped itself on the Nation in Carrier and Ives prints, riverboat romances and vaudeville jokes, is passing from the American scene. The Navy has taken an option on the last two boats of the New York-Albany night run, the Berkshire and the Rensselaer. If the Navy can use them as ferries or receiving barracks, it will pay a "junk" price of $110,000 for the vessels, built about 1913 at a total cost of $4,000,000. The Hudson Day Line, a separate organization, remains in business.

Victim of Modern Times Modern transport, which cut into freight revenues, delivered the death blow to the 110-year-old line, which opened in the rush of steamboat travel following Chief Justice Marshall's famous decision breaking a monopoly in steam navigation on the Hudson granted by the New York Legislature to Robert Fulton and Robert R. Livingston.

A young man named Cornelius Vanderbilt, later better known as "The Commodore," engaged an orator named Daniel Webster to fight the monopoly in the United States Supreme Court.

The issue became one of nationwide interest, for on the outcome depended freedom of use of the country's inland waterways.

In 1824, nine years after the death of Fulton, the steamboat's inventor, Chief Justice Marshall wrote: "(Steamboats) can no more be restrained from navigating waters and entering ports which are free to such vessels than if they were wafted on their voyage by the winds instead of being propelled by fire. The one element may be as legitimately used as the other for every commercial purpose authorized by the laws of the Union."

Steamboat lines sprang up almost overnight. The town was placarded with gaudy bills. "Runners" for the lines hounded anyone carrying a carpetbag and looking like a prospective customer.

Fares Down to Dime Fares for the Albany trip plummeted from a high of $10 to $7, then to $1, then to 10 cents and for a time to nothing. The profit came from meals and sleeping accommodations, but "runners" said as little as possible about such rates.

Competition extended to racing for records, which became so reckless that in 1852 races were forbidden by statute.

Vanderbilt was in the river trade for 20 years, operating nearly 50 steamboats until discovery of gold in California in 1848-49 took him in search of more profitable runs on the Atlantic and Pacific.

The night line prospered until the depression often carrying as many as 2000 passengers on a single trip.

Five Persons Guessed Score S. F.-F. H. Game

There were five lucky winners in the contest conducted by Harold Thomas, manager of Fulton's Maico theatres, in which those participating were to guess the final score of the South Fulton-Fulton High basketball game, played last night at Science Hall and won by South Fulton by the score of 26-23.

Winners were Martha Helen Reese, Oneal Jones, Helen Buchanan, Mrs. J. E. Thomson and Dorothy Adams, all of whom will receive a week's pass to the Fulton theatre, good for the following pictures—"So Ends Our Night," "Back Street" and "They Knew What They Wanted." Mr. Thomas said today that these passes will be presented when the winners call at the box office.

A great deal of interest was shown in the contest and Mr. Thomas stated that another will be held next week.

Heir To Riches Says He Led Pauper's Life

Brockton, Mass.—Attempting to break a "spendthrift trust," Henry F. Waitt, 39, of Wayne, Maine, heir to a $600,000 cigar fortune, contends his father "lived like a prince while I lived like a pauper."

He testified in Probate Court yesterday that he worked in engine rooms and fire rooms of merchant ships to support himself while his father, the late Albert H. Waitt, spent thousands of dollars on yachts.

While his father gave parties in a Cape Cod summer home, Waitt added, he worked as a bellhop in a resort hotel.

He claimed he was given no specific sum by the trustees and that they only paid bills for him. At a preliminary hearing, the court directed the trustees to pay Waitt $500 a month pending outcome of his petition.

Waitt testified he sold eggs for twelve to eighteen cents a dozen and shoveled snow in Wayne to support himself.

Special Train To Be Here March 6th.

The Illinois Central "Soil Special", which is being operated in cooperation with the Universities of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee, will be in Fulton Thursday, March 6th from 3:15 p. m. to 6 p. m. This train will come from Gibsland, La., on February 17th and will visit 68 towns in 16 days.

Special features to be shown on the train will include moving pictures for children, youth and adults; illustrated lectures with slides; winter cover crops and grasses adapted to southern condition will be on exhibit and growing luxuriantly; miniature pasture and luscious strawberries growing in the exhibit-car.

Bring Soil Samples Farmers of this section are invited to visit this special train and to bring samples of soil from their farms to be tested and analyzed by professors from the Universities. This will be done free of charge. They hope to get 20,000 samples of soil to test. Farmers are asked to take samples of top soil and sub-soil, put them in separate containers and bring to train. Two or three ounces of each will be sufficient.

This "Soil Special" will prove both helpful and educational to the farmers of the community and interesting to the public. Everyone is extended an invitation to attend the exhibition.

Union City Man Commits Suicide

Union City, Tenn.—Despondent because of ill health, William Thomas Doxey, 65, fired a pistol shot into his head about 3 o'clock Tuesday night. He died an hour later in the Union City Clinic.

Mr. Doxey shot himself on the platform in front of the storehouse entrance of the Canvas Decoy Co. The pistol was owned by Frank Graham, night watchman at the plant.

The two were friends, and Mr. Doxey, who occasionally assisted Mr. Graham, had been with him in the office of the building Tuesday evening. Mr. Graham left the building on Doxey's suggestion a few minutes before 8 o'clock. A note addressed to Mr. Doxey's family was found in an inside coat pocket.

Southerners Support Lease Bill In Senate

Washington.—Three southern Senators backed the lease-land bill today, and one of them, Bailey (D.-N. C.), asserted that the utmost help should be given to England even if the ultimate result is war.

"I am hoping this intervention may not mean war," he told a suddenly hushed and solemn Senate. "But if it does, I am ready for it."

Great Britain is standing virtually alone against a combination of forces whose one purpose is world revolution, he said. And if Britain falls, he added, America, "a lone republic in a totalitarian world," will be in peril.

"Are we capable," he asked, spacing his words to give them emphasis, "of sitting here as a great country—we as Senators and the country—are we capable of sitting here with money and guns and planes and ships, saying we will build up our defenses at home but we will bide our time; we will take the chance of being the victims of a totalitarian triumph in which the world will be divided amongst three nations not one of which has ever cared for the rights of men?"

Proponents Have Say The day was devoted to speeches favorable to the bill. Senators Hill (D.-Ala.), and Connally (D.-Tex.), urged its passage, the latter calling on America to face its foreign problems as "a united people."

Later in the afternoon, the Senate ran out of speakers who were prepared to go ahead with their addresses and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader, proposed that the Senate proceed to action on amendments offered by the foreign relations committee. Opponents of the bill objected that there had not been sufficient time for consideration, and the Senate then recessed until tomorrow.

4,000 Mile Journey Wins Job With United States Army Force

Camp Robinson, Ark.—Jean Iladore Greaux, 22, son of a Virgin Islands fisherman, planned to leave here today for Jefferson Barricks, Mo., on the last leg of a personally-financed 4,000-mile clipper and train journey to get into Uncle Sam's Army.

He enlisted in the Army Air Corps here yesterday and said he wanted to become an aerial photographer.

His trip resulted from a correspondence friendship with an Arkansas stamp collector and the fact he couldn't enlist in the Regular Army Air Corps in a United States possession.

More than two years ago, Oliver M. Blackford of Walnut Ridge, Ark., began corresponding with Greaux about postage stamps and photographs.

The youth, an emigrant to a Civilian Conservation Corps camp at St. Thomas, saved his money and bought passage to Walnut Ridge to call Blackford and take him to Camp Robinson.

WAR IS A GRIM BUSINESS

Unlike private and personal fighting, war is a grim business which attacks the weakest point of an enemy without mercy and without any sense of fair play. The present plight of Greece is a fair example of such conditions. Greece was attacked by Italy without any reason whatever. Mussolini believed he could overcome the tiny nation without trouble and thus give himself and his Fascists a lot of glory which had failed to materialize. Experts think that Mussolini took this step without the consent or agreement of his partner in crime, Hitler. It was to a dramatic coup, bringing quick glory and prestige to Italy, which had entered the war when Mussolini really thought the war was about over. Like the jackal, Mussolini waited for Hitler to make the kill and then hurried to join the victory feast. With France prostrate it was the general belief that England would collapse within a few weeks, but this failed to happen, and Italy was confronted with a long war for which no preparations had been made.

So Mussolini looked over the scene and decided he would whip Greece thoroughly and give his people an opportunity to rejoice over the valor of his Fascist legions. The only trouble was that the Greeks refused to cooperate. When the Italians started to invade their country the Greeks refused to wait and let the invaders and in a matter of weeks had Mussolini's armies rocking back on their heels, with Greece still very far away. Then, to make matters worse, the pesky British took a notion to do something about Italy's armies in Africa, and what they did was plenty. They rolled them up; they pulverized them with artillery, they captured them in such large numbers that it was a problem to feed the captives and in general upset all plans of the Italian High Command. At the present time the British hold a major part of Italian generals behind barbed wire as captives.

Herr Hitler finally got around to helping Mussolini. Perhaps he did not greatly wish to help him, but it was more or less necessary, and with proper pressure, backed by tanks and artillery, he forced Bulgaria to grant his request for passage of troops in order to attack Greece. He also managed to get a promise out of Turkey that the Turks would remain out of the war unless attacked. Then he planned to serve notice on the Greeks that if peace be not made with Italy at once Greece must suffer the consequences.

sequences. In other words, after Italy has been soundly beaten, a greater power comes along and tells Greece that unless she bows her head to Italy, which has never been done yet, German troops will invade Greece at once.

The grim and bitter facts are that Hitler can probably do what he threatens to do. He appears to have the power. While the Greeks have proved they can whip Italy; as a matter of fact, they have already done this job, they must now acknowledge defeat or suffer war at the hands of Germany. There is a bare chance that England might get troops into Greece, but in any event, the nation would suffer a disastrous war on her own soil, with victory being quite uncertain.

However, Mussolini is not out of the woods even yet. It appears that Hitler has rescued him from the Green adventure, but he still faces some hard going against the British. They have wrecked his African army, and some of the coastal cities of Italy are now feeling the weight of British naval metal. Mussolini is still in deep trouble.

MARSHALL DECLARES PLAN READY TO MAKE ICKES PRESS CENSOR

Chicago. —Verne Marshall, chairman of the No Foreign War committee, declared today "there is a plan for Secretary Ickes to take over the authority now exercised by the federal communications commission and to undertake to assume administrative censorship of the news wire service."

Marshall, speaking at the 57th annual meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association, said he learned of the "plan" Sunday in Washington, and added:

"Mrs. Roosevelt knew exactly what she was" saying yesterday when she warned the American people that they shortly would be unable to purchase new automobiles and when she said the day before that before long the government may be telling us what to eat and how to prepare it."

T. V. A. Bill Wins Backing At Frankfort

Frankfort, Ky. —A bill to enable Kentucky cities to acquire T. V. A. power is the first proposal for 1942 legislation that has engaged the active interest of official Frankfort.

The Administration's interest was caught first when the Court of Appeals on December 20 held that Kentucky cities are without authority to contract for T. V. A. current under existing statutes defining their powers to acquire utilities. It responded next to civic demands from the Gilbertsville Dam area that a T. V. A. enabling act be passed in 1942.

Close Survey Ordered The Public Service Commission already has directed its chief consultant, Hugh Bearden, to make a close survey and analysis of T. V. A. legislation passed by various Southern States.

Gov. Keen Johnson declined to make specific commitments, but he is known to favor a T. V. A. enabling act if one can be worked out to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, such as the State, the cities, the T. V. A. and the Public Service Commission.

"To tell you the truth," the Governor said, "I thought the present law covered T. V. A. contracts until the Court of Appeals ruled it didn't."

Lieut. Gov. Rodes K. Myers, presiding officer of the Senate and chairman of the legislative council, said he believed an enabling act ought to be passed if the cities want it.

Jobless Pay Drop Reflects Increase In Employment

Frankfort, Ky. —A 30 per cent increase in jobs in private industry in Kentucky has been reflected in a 7 per cent drop in unemployment compensation benefits.

The Federal Social Security Board's report that the Kentucky employment service led the Nation in finding work for men and women last December was followed today by the State Unemployment Compensation Commission's announcement of the decrease in these applying for aid.

In December $326,156 was paid in benefits to those who lost their jobs, compared to $352,534 last November.

The employment service found jobs for 4,098 persons during December, 3,921 of which were in private industry.

No War Unless U. S. Starts It, Nomura Says

Washington. — Stressing that Japan was seeking "economic expansion" by peaceful means but refusing to rule out a resort to force, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, new Japanese Ambassador, said Wednesday there would be no American-Japanese war unless the United States took the "initiative."

The admiral told his first press conference in Washington that the same applies to Great Britain.

Mentions East Indies Japan "will expand southward peacefully and economically" to obtain necessary supplies nearer home, he said.

"I cannot say with absolute definiteness that Japan will not resort to force, but she is doing her utmost to avoid this." He mentioned as areas for "economic expansion" French Indo-

China and Thailand, where Japanese influence already is strong, and the rich Netherlands East Indies, with which negotiations for increased oil and other supplies are in progress.

"I believe there cannot be any cause that should bring our two countries (the United States and Japan) into war," the Ambassador said.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

Death

Two former residents, Robert Angel of Mayfield and W. Farrell Hasey near Water Valley, passed away at their respective homes on the same day, Saturday, February 15, following a long illness. Both were victims of tuberculosis.

Funeral services for Robert Angel, 36, were held at Obion Sunday with Rev. Pryor of Mayfield, officiating. Five years ago he suffered a broken hip and a crushed shoulder in a bridge accident. The following July (1937) he went to bed with tuberculosis and has been an invalid since that time.

He is survived by his wife and two children, Erma Lee, 15, and James Roberts, 12; his mother, Mrs. Addie Angel of Clinton, and two brothers, Orvin of Clinton and Horace Angel of Fulgham.

Funeral rites for W. F. Hasey, 42, were held at the Water Valley Baptist church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Novel in charge, and interment was at Camp Beauregard cemetery.

Farrel was the only child of the late George and Mary Ann Hasey and was left motherless at an early age. He was then reared in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Jack Price, until her passing. When he was 11 or 12 years old Mr. and Mrs. Wood Cunningham gave him a permanent home with their love and devotion. At various times he had employment in Detroit and was given treatment there in a Sanitarium, returning home less than a year ago.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rubye Robey Coleman Hasey, and two children, Richard, 15, and a daughter, 2. The deceased was Sunday School Superintendent of Bethel when the family resided here.

Program

Twenty men were here Monday night in rehearsal for a short 2-act comedy to be presented Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association.

The program is an original stunt in which each man "airs his particular grievance" against his wife and announces his own plan for checking or eliminating the one fault that mars his "peaceful and happy home." The second act is a "demonstration" of how well they succeed. The public is invited and all couples in need of advice are urged to come. Admission is free.

Chapel Exercises

Rev. H. F. Clayton of Clinton holds chapel exercises for the Fulgham grades every two weeks on Friday a. m. One hundred little children look forward to and anxiously await his coming.

Did You Know

That there has been 15 car accidents on the Locke curve on highway 58 in little more than two years, an average of one every seven weeks? The most recent one happened last Sunday when Cecil Scott's car turned two or three flips and was badly wrecked. The occupants escaped with minor injuries.

Surprise Gift

E. R. Winslow, rural carrier on Route 1, out of Wingo, was presented with a beautiful friendship quilt made by the women on his route in both Graves and Hickman counties. He has served the section between here and Wingo for nearly 30 years and the gift is a token of appreciation for the type of service rendered.
