THE LISTENING POST

This nation is such a fabulous country these days that nothing seems impossible, and anything is likely to happen. Particularly is this true in Washington, which has become the real capital of the world. Wendell Willkie, in a recent magazine article, said one thing which deeply impressed me. He was calling on all Americans to quit being afraid, but to have the nerve and courage which has always been a national heritage. Said he, in one paragraph: "After the war is over the world capital will be either Washington or Berlin. I prefer Washington."

So do we all, but Willkie is right. Even if England wins, the nation will be impoverished for generations and Washington will certainly be the world capital for all reconstruction after the present war--if there is to be any reconstruction. Washington now is growing at a dizzying pace. Housing is being pushed, new offices are being built, new hotels are going up, but there is always a shortage of offices and houses and hotel rooms. It is practically impossible to get hotel rooms in Washington these days without far in advance reservations, for thousands of men and women pour into this great world capital every day, seeking one thing and another. Hundreds of people commute daily to Baltimore, and there is always an acute shortage of housing. This condition made possible one of the best stories I have ever heard.

Some time ago, so the story goes, a couple of Pittsburgh steel workers went down to Washington on union business. Understand now, these were not big business men. They were ordinary steel workers, carrying battered traveling bags, dressed in their Sunday clothes. Arriving in Washington they tried vainly to get hotel rooms downtown. All the big hotels were packed full, and they had to continue their search in the outlying hotels. Finally they succeeded in obtaining a suite at an outlying hotel, the price of which was ten dollars.

They checked in, with their battered traveling bags, and found themselves in a handsome six room suite. This part of the yarn, I will admit, sounds a bit fantastic, for it seems to me that a six room suite would certainly be priced higher than ten dollars. However, this is my information on the matter, and so it is passed along.

The steel men were hungry after their search for rooms, and when they reached their suite one of them picked up the telephone and asked for room service and then said he wanted six hamburgers and a half gallon of coffee. Here is where the Arabian Nights part of the story starts.

"There must be some mistake," said a modulated voice at the other end of the line. "This is the White House!" The steel worker dropped the telephone in consternation and remarked to his companion that something must be wrong. "I ordered hamburgers and they tell me I am talking to the White House," he said. So the two men sat down to consider the situation carefully.

As they considered, the telephone rang again and the same voice remarked that there was a coffee shop near the hotel, and if the order could be repeated it would be filled. Still in amazement the steel worker told the White

CIO Hits Higher Income Taxes On 'Working People'

Farm Bureau Urges Lower Exemptions On Present Payers

Washington -- Opposing proposals of the Treasury and congressional tax experts for stiffer taxes on small incomes, the CIO demanded today that Congress spare "working people" from wage cuts "in the guise of taxation."

The views of the Congress of Industrial Organizations were made known in a statement by Philip Murray, president, prepared for presentation at House ways and means committee hearings on raising $3,600,000,000 in new revenue.

Murray's statement was released shortly after the American Farm Bureau Federation went on record for cutting present income tax exemptions approximately in half and establishing a flexible system of income tax rates aimed at counteracting the inflationary effects of defense spending.

On the other hand, the C. I. O. proposed that some present income taxpayers be relieved entirely of that levy by a return to 1939 exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married couples. The exemptions are now $800 and $2,000 respectively.

Edward O. O'Neal, farm federation president, suggested lowering these to $500 and $1,000 and recommended that the credit for dependents be cut to $200 from the present $400.

The Treasury and the staff of the joint congressional committee on taxation have proposed that present exemptions be kept where they are. Each group advanced separate sets of income tax rates which would increase the taxes of small and middle-bracket income taxpayers.

Three Injured In Car Accident

Mrs. Murrell Williams, her 16-months old son, Jimmie, and Mrs. John Bates, all of Fulton, were very painfully injured yesterday afternoon in a car-truck collision which occurred about 4:30 o'clock at the West State Line and Morris street intersection.

According to information received, Mrs. Bates, driver of the car, was passing a truck when the truck driver made the turn into Morris street. The truck was a stock truck belonging to Joe Fuqua of Martin.

Mrs. Williams and her son received lacerations about the face and Mrs. Bates sustained a knee injury, lacerations and severe bruises. All were taken to Haws clinic for treatment. They are reported getting along nicely today.

Senate Approves 3 1/2 Billions For Navy And 2-Ocean Fleet

Washington -- The Senate sent to the White House today a $3,415,521,750 naval appropriations bill containing $1,515,000,000 to speed the construction of 729 vessels of all types under way in the two-ocean fleet program.

Adopting a conference report previously approved by the House, the Senate provided for an expenditure of $434,850,000 on naval aviation, of which $350,372,000 would be available for payments on 7,129 planes now on order. Included in the measure were funds to provide an increase in enlisted personnel from 232,000 to 252,000, with 26,126 officers, as well

Forrest Riddle Is New President Of Lions Club Here

Forrest Riddle, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, was elected president of the Lions Club at the election held yesterday. He succeeds President R. E. Sanford, who took office last July and who has had a most successful year as head of the service club. Mr. Riddle will take office on the first meeting day in July. Dr. D. L. Jones was named vice president, and Dr. R. V. Putnam was named secretary-treasurer. Two new members were also elected to the board of directors, these being Aaron Butts and Bill Browning. The retiring president, Mr. Sanford, is automatically a member of the board also.

The new president, Mr. Riddle, has been a member of the club for a number of years and has always worked for the best interests of the organization. He will make a splendid president, and after the election yesterday pledged the best that was in him to successfully carry on the work.

Lawson Roper reported that the minstrel was one of the most successful of all that have been given, with total collections of almost $115.00 to date. The money will be used to furnish lunches for underprivileged children in the high school cafeteria. The cast of the minstrel will be entertained at the next meeting of the club. Several club members are expected to attend the state convention in Louisville on May 12 and 13. Plans were made yesterday for this meeting.

Pvt. Rockefeller's Check Is Good, Car Dealer Finds

Fitchburg, Mass. -- A buck private from Fort Devens drove up to a Fitchburg automobile agency, accompanied by two companions in a rattlerap car, took a spin in a new machine and declared: "I like it. I'll take it."

Astonished at the quick sale, the automobile dealer smiled when the soldier wrote out a check for $900 and signed it, "Winthrop Rockefeller."

Still smiling, he told the private to return next day. He wanted to see if the check was good.

The bank reported the check was as good as gold. The soldier was the son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Mustard Gas Poured On Germany Would Stop Nazis, Chemist Says

Denver -- An Iowa scientist declared Thursday that a bath of mustard gas released over Germany would bring "the blitzkrieg to explosives aimed at civilian populations to a speedy end."

Dr. O. R. Sweeney, head of the Iowa State College chemical engineering department, was asked in an interview why Germany had not resorted to poison gas in the present war.

Boy, 7, Is Killed Trying To Save Brother In Fire

Chester, Penn. -- Ferdinand Guy, just 7, gave his life in a futile effort to save his 2-year-old brother, Alford from a flaming barn.

Another brother, Robert 5, said Ferdinand set the haychoked barn on fire when he fashioned a rude torch to inspect a litter of kittens. "After I got out I saw nothing but smoke," related Robert. "I think Ferdinand was trying to get Alford out because he couldn't run fast."

A. F. L. Says Pay Of Millions Upped In Four Months

Washington -- The American Federation of Labor reported today that nearly 1,000,000 wage earners in American manufacturing and building industries received wage increases in the first four months of this year, with most increases being five to ten cents an hour.

In its monthly survey, the A. F. L. said 46,875,000 persons were at work in the United States in March, "within 700,000 of the all-time peak." It said that though 3,000,000 had gone to work since March, 1940, there were now 7,552,000 unemployed.

Unemployed In March Set 11-Year Low

New York -- Unemployment in the United States fell to 6,142,000 in March, its lowest level for that month in eleven years, the National Industrial Conference Board estimated Thursday. The figure is 3,000,000 lower than the board's estimate for March, 1940, and 887,000 under February, 1941.

At the same time, the research organization said, the Nation's employed rose by 934,000 to a total of 49,373,000, the largest figure since September, 1929, when 49,715,000 persons had jobs. The March figure is 3,500,000 above March, 1940, representing not only the absorption of unemployed but also an increase in the number of employables.

The board included in its figures for unemployed 2,472,000 persons enrolled in the C. C. C. W. P. A. and out of school N. Y. A. listed in the employed total, only 2,670,000 persons would be considered without work out of a total national labor force of about 55,500,000.

Duchess Trades All Her Titles For Plain 'Mrs.'

Philadelphia -- "Oh, how wonderful," exclaimed the Duchess, pulling a reverse on Alice-in-Wonderland.

She clapped her hands, happy because she wasn't going to be a Duchess any more just plain Mrs. Elinor Douglas Wise Richelieu.

In a three-minute naturalization ceremony she became what she was born, a citizen of the United States. A minute before she was the Duchess de Richelieu, the Marquise de Jumiehae and the Duchess de Frencaie a French citizen, a stranger in her own land.

Attorney Michael Francis Doyle told Federal District Court the Duchess "wishes to surrender her titles, which are held in esteem throughout the world, as a tribute to our country."

Mrs. Richelieu, daughter of a Baltimore naval officer, is the wife of Armand, Duc de Richelieu, kinsman of the famous Cardinal Richelieu. They fled France two months after war was declared.

Flying Boat Calls Destroyer To Rescue Of Torpedoed Seamen

London -- A flying boat en route to England from the United States was instrumental in effecting the rescue of survivors of a torpedoed merchantman in the Atlantic, the government announced today.

A thousand miles from Britain, Flight Lieut. R. W. Gautrey had descended to 6,000 feet to avoid a strong headwind and, in the semi-darkness of early morning sighted a patch of oil.

"A ship has gone down," said a member of the crew, peering out. The big flying boat already had overhauled the patch when one of the watchers saw flashlight signals from the surface of the ocean.

May Ask Arms Workers Not To Vacation

Bonus System Talked; FDR Urges Full-Time Work On Defense

Washington -- With Secretary of Commerce Jones asserting he did not know "how long England can take the punishment it is taking now," the government made two moves today to expand the production of armaments for that country and the United States.

1. William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, top men of the Office of Production Management, urged that defense industries induce workers to forgo their usual vacations this summer by means of a bonus system. Under the suggested system a vitally-needed worker would usually get a vacation with pay would receive double wages if he stayed on the job. A $20-week man, for example, would get his usual $40 for his two-week vacation period, plus $40 extra.

2. President Roosevelt wrote to Knudsen and Hillman asking that production of machine tools be expedited, that such tools be worked day, night and Sundays, and that the nation be combed for idle machine tools and operatives to be employed in defense production.

Jones' statement was made at a consumers conference called to study price trends. He urged his hearers to impress upon their friends the seriousness of the world situation. The cabinet officer said he did not fear an invasion of this country by the axis powers but that they, nevertheless, "can give us a lot of trouble."

The day brought other developments associated with the defense and aid-to-Britain programs:

Secretary Hull said the question of freezing all foreign assets in the United States was under consideration. The aim of such a move would be to prevent any of the assets from being used for the benefit of the axis.

The War Department announced that a number of junior air corps officers, would be sent to England as observers. Thus, it was said, the Army hopes to build up a group of officers with training in combat service and obtain reports on the performance of Britain and American planes.

House Refuses To Authorize Capital Blackouts

Washington -- The House refused Monday to authorize blackouts in the District of Columbia after several members lampooned the proposal as "ridiculous."

Although Chairman Randolph (D. W. Va.), cautioned against "complicity in this war situation," the House approved by a roll-call vote of 171 to 117 a motion by Representative Dirksen (R., Ill.), to strike out the enacting clause. This in effect killed the bill.

Republican members attacked the legislation as an attempt to "stir up war hysteria" and said it might result in serious accidents.

Sarcastically, Representative Fish (R., N. Y.), proposed an amendment to equip the President, members of Congress and Supreme Court Justices with "dugouts, tin helmets, asbestos suits and gas masks."

TIME TO BREAK A BAD HABIT

Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, in announcing plans for the new 12 billion dollar tax program, has referred to it as "possibly the largest the world has ever known."

The American people have decided that this country must have adequate defense, and they have also indicated a willingness to pay for achieving this national security. Coupled with this, however, they have the right to expect really rigid economy in the non-defense operations of government. Actually, the situation at the present time can scarcely be said to meet the public's wishes in this respect.

We will, during the coming fiscal year, spend at least 15 billion dollars for military and naval purposes. Non-military spending will be about as high as in years past, and will take up around 7 billion dollars. In other words, this non-defense, spending will consume about 60 per cent of the revenues that the Treasury Department is now scratching its head to raise.

Non-defense spending in recent years has been partly devoted to various purposes which were defined when first initiated as "emergency" in nature. Their proponents declared that these spending

Guy Snow, well known young business man, has bought the Federal Laundry on Walnut street from Barrett and Merryman and has already taken charge.

Work of improving the streets of the city has started, and all streets will be scarified and then rolled Lake Street property owners are now clamoring for a permanent pavement there, but owing to some bad water mains no permanent work will be undertaken at this time.

A baseball game will be played next Thursday between the Lions Club and the American Legion. Both teams are practicing diligently for the game.

The City Council held a hot discussion as to the use of the fire department outside the city limits. Some members held that the department should be confined strictly to the city limits, while others felt that if good work could be done on the outskirts it should be done. The matter was deferred until the next meeting of the council.

Business was light in city court during April. Fines amounted to only $264 for the month, as compared with almost $900 in March. The bulk of the March business came from fines against local motorists for not having proper lights.

Decoration Day was set for May 23 by the City Council last night.

measures were necessitated by the depression and its accompanying "bad times."

All are agreed that times are far better at present, and it would therefore seem to follow that some, at least, of these "emergency" operations could stand a good washing. With the mounting burden that defense is placing upon the taxpayer, neither his willingness nor his ability to pay should suffer because of wasteful non-defense expenditures which fall in the "habit" rather than the "necessity" category.—Exchange.

SHIPS AND MATERIALS

It is reassuring to hear from William S. Knudsen, chief of American defense production, that our industries will soon be making war equipment twice as fast as "any two countries in Europe you could mention." That is to say, twice as fast as Germany and Britain together. Such production levels are generally expected early next year. Output will be steadily rising from now on.

Industry alone will not win the war, but it is the main factor. The recent fighting has shown, more convincingly than ever the need of military mechanization. There is probably no greater difference in personal fighting ability among German, British, Yugoslav, Greek and American soldiers. On the whole, it is likely to be the guns, shells, bombs and fighting planes that determine the outcome. They greatly reinforce the troops, and to a large extent replace them.

We are training a big army "just in case," hoping that it will not be needed. The faster we rush war supplies across the sea, by all means available, the less need of sending men.

The most important thing of all just now is ships, to carry the stuff we are making. And always haste—haste—haste!—Exchange.

POWDER KEGS

Word from London that five of the destroyers the United States made over to Britain are now manned by men of the Norwegian navy battling for Britain on the high seas shows how certain it is that trouble will be on tap for Hitler in the countries he has occupied the minute he can no longer command enough new initiative to cover up a fading prestige.

The Norwegian seamen aboard the destroyers reflect the resistance latent in the Norwegian civilian at home. Similarly the Polish troops Britain rescued from France last summer, now in the English army, by their fidelity to the British cause evidence what eventually can take place in Poland.

Of the same pattern are the Frenchmen who are adherents of DeGaulle. Ultimately all France will be of their kidney. There can be little doubt that the populations of all Denmark, Holland, Belgium also are resolutely biding their time for an accounting with the conqueror.

When Hitler's prestige breaks all of it can collapse under him quickly and he will find himself not atop one powder keg but a dozen.—Exchange.

AUSTRALIA GIVES AN ANSWER TO HITLER

German propaganda experts have been attempting to create disension between Great Britain and Australia, the Germans charging that the British used the "Aussies" in Africa and Greece to do what they would not do themselves.

In his speech last Sunday, Prime Minister Churchill, referring to this propaganda, said simply: "I shall leave it to Australia to deal with that taunt." Australia has answered.

The acting Australian prime minister, Fadden, speaking to the people of his country, declared that he was proud of the part that troops of the land had played in the African and Greek campaigns, adding that casualties could not have been avoided in a task "carried out with fidelity."

Backing him up, R. A. King, vice president of the Australian Council of Unions, pledged Australian labor to increase war production to the highest peak.

He declared: "We are determined to stand shoulder to shoulder with the workers of Britain to defeat Hitlerism and prevent it from bijecting out freedom and civilization." The influential Sydney Sun has joined in answering the German efforts, saying editorially:

"Neither in any newspaper in Australia nor in any public utterance from any public man has there ever been the slightest suggestion and Australia is not in the war with Britain and the empire to the end. Sink or swim the empire is indissolubly one. We are brothers in arms, ready to live or die together."

These answers indicate that German propaganda efforts seeking to split the British Commonwealth of Nations are doomed to failure. They tried the same tricks in World War I, and got nowhere. Australia made a great contribution to the victory then having 80,456 of her men killed and 154,722 wounded. Canada and New Zealand, now fighting with England, were in the thick of it in the other war, too. Canada losing 62,818 men and New Zealand 18,212. The people of the British Empire are bound together by ties of blood, sentiment, tradition and other things that are not easy to sever, and we have a feeling that German propaganda can never do it, for Heer Goebbels doesn't understand that kind of loyalty and devotion.—Sun-Democrat.

"A Friend To Industry"

It has been said, and probably truly, that a nation's prosperity is linked to the soil—that when farmers are prosperous, the country is prosperous. The farmer, with his various agricultural products, helps keep industry moving.

As a business enterprise, we realize the farmer is a friend to industry. Out of our willingness to cooperate with the farmer, we have offered a field service for a number of years. The idea has been to promote better poultry and livestock through select breeding and, of course, proper feeding. Our field representative is qualified to advise you on such problems. You may feel at liberty to call on him at any time.

ANNOUNCEMENT DINNER FOR MISS ANN COCHRAN GIVEN LAST EVENING

At seven o'clock last evening Mrs. R. V. Smith of Gleason, Tenn., assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. E. Cochran, was hostess to a beautifully planned announcement dinner at the home of Mrs. Cochran, Jefferson street, announcing the engagement of their sister and daughter, Miss Ann Lee Cochran, to James Lacey Mullinex, Fulton. Sixteen of Miss Cochran's friends were present for the occasion, which was very beautifully planned.

Miss Cochran was attractively attired in a spring frock of green printed silk jersey with white trim.

Huge baskets of iris and wisteria were tastefully arranged in the reception room and throughout Mrs. Cochran's apartment were lovely bouquets. In the living room the engagement announcement was made in a unique manner. A small table, covered with a white cloth, held a mirror centerpiece, in the middle of which a miniature bride stood. White tapers glowed on each side and above this scene was a note reading, "This is the way Ann will look on May 29 when she becomes Mrs. James Lacey Mullinex."

For the dinner four tables were placed in the living room, each centered with a low bowl of cut flowers. Miniature corsages and place cards in the bridal motif were used in marking the place of each guest. A delightful two-course menu was served, and the remaining hours were spent informally.

Those attending with Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Cochran, and Miss Cochran were Mrs. Atilla Hemphill, Mrs. Edward Pugh, Mrs. J. B. Manley, Mrs.

Tillman Adams, Mrs. Guy Robertson, Mrs. W. E. Flippo, Mrs. Dick Bard, Miss Almada Huddleston, Miss Mignon Wright, all of Fulton; Mrs. Floyd Pierce, Mrs. Robert Fry, Mrs. Leon Fuller, Miss Janie Sanders, Miss Vera Adams, Miss Mary Crabtree and Miss Christine Johnston, all of Union City.

MULLINEX-COCHRAN

Mrs. C. E. Cochran announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Ann Lee, to James Lacey Mullinex, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mullinex, Madisonville, Ky. The marriage will be solemnized on the evening of May 29, 1941, at six o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Flippo, 714 Walnut street.

CIRCLE NO. 4 TO MEET AT MCCONNELL

Circle No. Four of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Parrish in McConnell. All members are asked to be at the church at two o'clock promptly, and cars will be provided for all.

WILL ATTEND TEACHERS MEETING

A meeting of Obion County teachers was held this morning at ten o'clock at the court house in Union City. Those attending from the South Fulton faculty were Mr. and Mrs. Will Craven, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Haynes, Miss Allie D. Williams, Mrs. Elbert Lowery, Miss Sarah Pickle, Mrs. Malcolm Smith, Mrs. J. E. Thomason, Miss Blanche Howard, J. C. Goode, Miss Elsie Brewer, Miss Mary B. Jones, Mrs. Joe Mack Reed, Miss Martha Roach, Mrs. Sam Atkinson and Mrs. Roger Kirkland.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN INTERESTING MEETING

The Fulton Woman's Club held its last meeting of the club year yesterday afternoon at 2:30 in the club home, with a large attendance. The club room was beautifully decorated with displays of flowers from various gardens in Fulton, a real garden in itself. Pages for the afternoon were Mesdames Roy Latta and Ray Graham. Mrs. I. H. Reed presided at the register. The meeting was opened and presided over by the president, Mrs. Mansfield Martin. During the business session Mrs. Martin welcomed eleven new members who will come into the club in October.

Minutes of the last meeting and of the May board meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. James Warren. Mrs. Chas. Gregory read the librarian's report in the absence of Mrs. Wilmon Boyd. Mrs. Gregory also gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Lynn Phipps has been added to the library board. Mrs. Martin announced that the Drama Department had won the $5 award for the highest percentage of attendance at the general meetings during the year. The Drama Department ran a close second with 48 per cent. Mrs. Martin welcomed the out of town visitors from Dyersburg, Mrs. L. C. Fumbanks, Walker Salenfriend and Stutts; from Union City Mesdames Robert Fry, Walker Martin, Robert White, James Brice and Joe Fry, Mrs. W. R. Butt, Frankfort and Mrs. Oakley, sister of Mrs. Vester Freeman.

The president presented Mrs. Joe Page of Barlow, Ky., District Governor of Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. Page, in a charming manner, opened her talk with a very appropriate remark as the Garden Department was host for the afternoon, with an old Chinese proverb: "If one should be happy for an hour, get drunk, if one would be happy for a day, get it one should wish to be happy forever, plant a garden."

Mrs. Page, in a very persuasive manner, told the club women that they should help preserve faith in America. She said that ideals of women have become ideals of government and the home is the first line of defense, for the "hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world."

Mrs. Martin, then presented Mrs. Clint Reeds, chairman of the Garden Department. Mrs. Reeds welcomed the visitors and members in behalf of the Garden Department. Mrs. Reeds presented Miss Betty Goldsmith in a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Margaret Goldsmith. Mrs. Reeds then introduced

Mrs. L. C. Fumbanks from the Civic Department of the Woman's Club of Dyersburg. Mrs. Fumbanks gave valuable suggestions for planting, watering and fertilizing a garden. She asked Mrs. Walker from Dyersburg to read "Ploughshares Into Swords," a message to garden clubs from House and Garden Magazine. At the end of this informal talk, Mrs. Reeds presented Mrs. Fumbanks with a lovely arrangement of tulips and roses in a beautiful pottery vase. At the end of the program the audience was invited to see the unusual and interesting picture display of ornamented grounds at the homes of Mrs. Fumbanks and Mrs. Walker. This proved most interesting.

At a late hour the acting hostesses, Mesdames Vester Freeman, R. M. Bellow, S. R. Mauldin, Fred Worth and F. H. Riddle served punch, sandwiches and cookies from a lovely tea table, which had for its central ornament a fantastic arrangement of a Maypole made of spring flowers and ribbons.

ANNIE ARMSTRONG CIRCLE WILL MEET

The Annie Armstrong Circle of the Baptist church will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. V. A. Richardson at her home in Martin. LEAVE FOR KENTUCKY DERBY Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiggins and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Varden left Fulton last night for Louisville where they are attending the Kentucky Derby this afternoon.

LISTENING POST

(Continued from Page One) House what he wanted, and in a few minutes the hamburgers and coffee came. Asking for the bill, they were told there was no charge. "This is on the White House," the waiter said.

The steel workers could not make sense out of the situation, but they ate the food with relish and went to bed. The next day the cashier of the hotel gave an explanation. The suite the two men had occupied was held in reserve for Secretary of the Navy Knox. He was out of town and so the hotel leased the suite. The telephone was a direct line to the White House, and so the steel workers enjoyed a midnight lunch on the White House.
