THE LISTENING POST

The Old Listening Post does not qualify as a military expert, and has been wrong on more predictions about the war than many of the real experts. That fact, I think, qualifies me to continue to pose as an expert, and being short of ideas for this column today I will do what I always do when I have nothing in mind to write about—that is write a column about the war. The last time I made a positive prediction was when I wrote and said publicly that Germany would roll over Russia in less than three months. I believed that when the Russian war started and the fact that Hitler's boys failed to accomplish this suggests to me that Germany must be running short of some vital thing which is needed to conduct the German style of warfare. What it is I do not know, but I do not believe that the retreat has all been caused by the Valor and ability of the Russians. I am glad that I was wrong about the matter, for Russia has been something which was needed in this war, and while I have no confidence whatever in Stalin or the Russian government, I wish them more power as long as they are destroying Germans.

I hear many people express amazement that the Japanese have knocked off Manila with such apparent ease. They have read many of the things which I have read and evidently failed to understand the basic facts which those articles depended upon. For several months many American newspapers and magazines have told of the strength that was being developed in the Philippines under command of General MacArthur. Then comes the war and the Japs roll all over Luzon and capture Manila in less than a month. The basic fact which so many overlook is that General MacArthur never expected to be called on to defend Manila with merely his army. All his plans were predicated on the presence of the Far Eastern fleet, plus a lot of air power. Whether he expected or planned to secure this air power from airplane carriers or expected them to be based on flying fields in the Islands is something I do not know. I only know that when war broke the Far Eastern fleet was not there, nor did the valiant Island commander have any air strength of consequence. Whether the fleet had been moved prior to the Pearl Harbor attack, or whether it was hastily ordered back to Honolulu after the Pearl Harbor disaster, is one of the secrets of the general staff. It is also one of the general staff secrets as to how much of the Pacific fleet had been transferred in recent months to the Atlantic scene. It is quite likely that a great deal of the fleet strength had been moved into the other ocean, for only a short time ago it was announced that American vessels had destroyed fourteen German submarines in the Atlantic during recent months. It is also quite likely that Japanese intelligence had discovered that American strength had been lowered in the Pacific and judged that it was time to strike. It may well be also that "damage" at Pearl Harbor means more than meets the eye. A bomb dropped squarely on a battleship does a lot of damage and it may be that we still have many ships in Pearl Harbor which are not available for active service. All of those things are in the realm of speculation and only the Navy heads know the true answers. I have an idea that after the Pearl Harbor stroke all available naval strength was ordered back to

American Forces Beat Japanese In Air Battle Off Philippines—One Japanese Destroyer Is Sunk

Three Bomb Hits Are Scored Also On Japanese Battleship

Seaplane Tender Fights Off Seven-Hour Attack By Japs

Washington, — American air forces struck back savagely at the Japanese invaders in the Far East today, sinking an enemy destroyer and scoring three bomb hits on a battleship in a raid on enemy-occupied Davao in the southern Philippines.

The War Department announcement topped a series of official reports of American successes tending to brighten the somber outlook for Gen. Douglas MacArthur's beleaguered Philippine defenders.

The smashing air attack on Japanese naval forces at Davao, more than 500 air miles south of Manila on the island of Mindanao, apparently was made today by heavy army bombers operating from an unidentified base. All returned undamaged from the raid, the War Department said.

Tender Fights Off 7-Hour Attack

It was a third body blow at Japan's overwhelming naval superiority in the western Pacific, tending to restore the balance upset by the December 7 sneak raid on Pearl Harbor and the subsequent sinking of Britain's battleship, the Prince of Wales, and the battle cruiser Repulse north of Singapore.

The 3000-ton Japanese battleship Haruna was sunk off northern Luzon December 11 by army bombs, and navy planes were credited with putting another battleship of the Kongo class out of commission in the same stage of the conflict.

The navy added to the day's score by reporting that the small seaplane tender Heron successfully fought off a seven-hour attack by fifteen Japanese bombers, bringing down one of the attackers and severely damaging another.

The Heron, a communicate said, sustained one direct hit and three very near misses. Altogether, the navy said, the foe dropped forty-six 100-pound bombs, and launched three torpedoes.

Commander Wins Navy Cross Admiral Thomas C. Hart, Asiatic Fleet commander, at Secretary Knox's direction, awarded the Navy Cross to the Heron's commander, Lieut. William Leverette Kabler, and recommended that he be advanced immediately to the rank of lieutenant commander.

The action apparently took place at least several days ago.

The scene of the action was withheld, as was the location of the base from which the army bombers operated. They were assumed to be long-range, possibly four-motored craft, which can operate from high altitudes directing bombers to their targets by means of a

Governor Sponsors Plan For Sale Of Defense Bonds To State Men

Frankfort, Ky. — State department heads will be asked to cooperate with a new federal treasury plan allowing employees to buy defense bonds through savings deducted from their pay checks, Gov. Keen Johnson said today.

The plan, to be pushed in all industries of Kentucky and other states, was discussed at the governor's office by Johnson, C. Edward Roth of Washington, Treasury Department field representative; Ben Williamson, Jr., Ashland, state chairman of payroll saving; and J. S. Bates, Jr., Louisville, deputy internal revenue collector.

Meeting Set Monday A meeting of approximately thirty industrialists is planned at Louisville Monday morning to explain the plan.

We've Enough Old Gray Mares, But We Are Shy Of A Lot Of Shays

Chicago. — The old gray mare is all right, but there is a shortage of one horse and two hoss shays, grocers, bakers, dairymen, and other companies affected by the Government's ban on the sale of automobiles were advised Saturday.

Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America, revealed he already has received numerous inquiries as to the availability of horses and mules.

More Than 14,000,000 "This country has enough animals to meet the Nation's needs," he said. "There are more than 14,000,000 head on farms and in the cities."

"But only a few concerns still manufacture horse-drawn vehicles, and when the various companies start to make the change to horses they will find it difficult to obtain wagons of any type."

A case in point are the big heavy wagons which used to rumble down the city streets. At the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago last month, several of

CAR OFFICIAL FLAYS CLOAK OF PATRIOTISM

Labor Leaders Accused Of Having Ulterior Motives

Detroit. — The Automobile Manufacturers Association Sunday night charged that labor leaders, with whom OPM officials and industry representatives are to meet Monday, are hiding "ulterior motives behind a cloak of patriotism."

In full page advertisement in newspapers in Washington and Detroit, the A. M. A. defended its role in the war program, claiming the industry "had to cope with delay after delay in the war production preparation as a result of changing conditions."

"The men who led the original sitdown strikes, who tolerated and encouraged not scores but hundreds of slowdowns, and other forms of production sabotage, now propose that they are the capable ones to guide the greatest single, behind-the-lines responsibility—production for war."

"The attacks on this industry's war work constitute a gross attempt to deceive the American people—raising false hopes and expectations," the A. M. A. alleged. "Above all, they are designed to create division so that certain groups may obtain control of the productive machinery of the United States."

T. T. BOAZ IS NEW MAYOR OF CITY OF FULTON

Well-Known Business Man Succeeds Paul DeMyer As City Head

At the first meeting of the New Year for the Fulton City Council, the Mayor-elect, T. T. Boaz, was sworn into office and took over the duties of the office. The council, which was elected last year took office at the first meeting in December.

Mayor Boaz, who succeeds Paul DeMyer to the office, has been a member of the City Council for the past twelve years and is thoroughly conversant with the problems confronting the city government. He is a friend to practically every person in the city and for many years has operated a grocery business in the city. Friendly, affable in his dealings with all people, he will no doubt make Fulton one of the best mayors the community has ever had, and he goes into office with the united support of the entire community.

Retiring Mayor Paul DeMyer, who has held the position for the past twelve years, has done fine work in the position and many things which Fulton now has as monuments to his energy and perseverance.

Mayor Boaz, in speaking of his new position, said recently: "I know that I want to render real service to the community and I wish to ask the cooperation of all citizens to the end that Fulton may continue to be a good town and make improvements from year to year. With the cooperation of the people I feel that we can do some real work, for I know that we have a good city council and am certain that all are actuated by the best motive for the advancement of the town."

The new council announced the following appointive employees: Police: K. P. Dalton, Chief, G. J. McDade, W. H. Boaz and Paul Nandey.

Mary C. Chapman, City Clerk. James Warren, City Attorney. E. W. Bethel, Fire Chief. R. T. Wilkins, Chief Engineer, water plant. E. H. Davis, Cemetery Caretaker.

Civil Air Patrol May Ferry Military Planes Inside Nation

Washington, — The possibility that the newly organized Civil Air Patrol can provide pilots for military plane ferry operations within the United States was stressed today by leaders of the patrol.

James Wiseman of Memphis, Tenn., formerly of Fulton, has been called to the army and is leaving Memphis tonight for St. Louis, Mo., where he will go into aviation training, to be stationed at the present time at Jefferson Field.

Since moving from Fulton to Memphis several years ago James has been a valued employee of the Bruce Lumber Company there and has been very active in church and scout work. He will be in Fulton tonight for a short time, enroute to St. Louis.

In England the task for ferrying planes from factories to strategic centers largely has fallen on non-military pilots, leaving the military fliers free for actual war duties.

The purpose of the Civil Air Patrol, organized under the Office of Civilian Defense, General Curry explained, is to utilize civilian aviation personnel and facilities not employed in commercial service or in the war effort.

A major function of the patrol will be to serve state and local defense requests made through governors and their defense organizations.

Approximately 300,000 application blanks and booklets already have been distributed.

It has been generally understood, of course, that through the course of years the Russian people developed a rather high degree of immunity against typhus which the Germans, with their much lesser experience with the disease, do not enjoy.

that base in order to build up a defense against Japanese forces that might penetrate past that point and create grave trouble in waters much nearer the United States.

If such has been the case it is not surprising that General MacArthur could do little against the invaders. Had he possessed naval strength it seems highly unlikely that a Japanese fleet of 80 transports would have anchored offshore and sent an army of 100,000 men ashore.

ordinary field artillery to oppose such landings, and it is not likely that he had too much of this equipment.

It hardly appears in the cards for MacArthur to be able to continue field activity very long. He has a small army, he has few tanks, little artillery, no air strength, and his only hope is to fight a delaying action and inflict the heaviest possible losses on the Japanese.

New York Mayor Makes Answer To Many Critics

New York.—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, listing steps taken to prepare the civilian population of New York City against possible war catastrophe, asserted Sunday there had been a "mountain of accomplishments."

In a statement answering recent criticism of his dual role as head of the Nation's largest city and national director of civilian defense, the Mayor disclosed that 509,170 residents here had been enrolled for volunteer emergency work.

The report said that 155,996 had been trained for special duty and another 163,752 were in training. Others have been assigned to tasks which require no special training, such as knitting and bandage rolling.

The enrolled volunteers, the report said, included 210,552 air raid wardens, 47,935 auxiliary fire fighters, 1200 plotters, 960 doctors to teach first aid, 647 motor corps workers, 1157 nurses' aids, 977 disaster canteen workers, 18,475 home nurses, 65,000 for surgical dressing and sewing work, 6103 staff-assistants, 75,000 first aid workers, 4475 for nutrition work 58,869 for water safety and resuscitation work and 18,000 blood donors.

The emergency medical service, the report added, had established field units in 90 hospitals "all prepared for action."

SPORT TALK

Coach Giles returned Friday from a trip to Harlan, where he spent the holidays with home folks, and began putting his Bulldogs through some hard practice sessions yesterday afternoon in preparation for the tough games which now confront them. Some of the boys have been practicing a little, but little real work has been done and some hard sessions will be necessary to get the boys in shape for the game in Bardwell Friday night. This game marks the first game away from home, and the Bulldogs will not play any more games on their home floor until Mayfield comes here on the night of January 27. One game will be played in Fulton before that date, but it will be played on the South Fulton hardwood, thus giving the Bulldogs a long string of games away from the home floor. Beginning Friday night in Bardwell, they play next in Clinton, then in Cayce and then in the South Fulton gym. After this there will be four home games, with Mayfield, Hickman, Bardwell and Clinton.

Some time in February the county tournament will be played at Hickman, and Coach Giles will be pointing his team for these games during the next two or three weeks.
One tough team, in addition to Hickman, will be Western, a team which does not play the Bulldogs in the regular season. Western has won some games from teams that are considered quite good, and recently gave Clinton a trimming.
The Bulldogs believe that they have a pretty good chance of winning in the county matches, and Coach Giles will be trying to whip together the best combination during the next few games.

What chance the Bulldogs have against the South Fulton Red Devils is problematical. Neither team is as good as pre-season estimates, but the Red Devils appear to have come along pretty fast in recent games. The Bulldogs have never showed enough defense to qualify as a strong team to date, and not enough scoring power to make up for weak defense. These two points will come in for lots of attention during the next week or so, and it is hoped to tighten up the defense quite a lot. With a tight defense the Bulldogs could do lots of damage, for they have a good deal of scoring ability and handle the ball quite well. It is known, however, that the team yields too many points and unless this weakness can be corrected the boys will have to do a lot more scoring than they have done thus far.

CARTER GLASS SAYS
VICTORY COMES SOON

Veteran Virginia Senator Expects
Swift Victory

Washington, — Senator Carter
Glass (D., Va.), 84 years young Sunday and every inch a scrapper, is looking forward to the time when the United States will "shoot Japan off the map."

The Virginian does not agree with those who believe this will be a long war.

In fact, he believes that the tide will be running decisively against the Axis by next January, when he hopes to take the oath of office for his fifth term in the Senate, and that in 1943 the knockout punch will be given Japan. Germany and Italy.

But Senator Glass, who served as Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the Treasury in the difficult period following the last war, concedes that whipping the Axis is going to be expensive, and that taxes will have to go higher than they ever were before. Linked with this, he said, must be the most rigid sort of economy in non-defense expenditures.

The Virginian made little fuss about his birthday. He spent it quietly at his hotel suite here with Mrs. Glass.

GETS INTO MOVIES AT 76

Hollywood — Edward J. Donnelly, 76, has been police chief on the RKO-Radio lot for 23 years.
Came time for his retirement.

"Before I leave," he suggested,
"I'd like to work in a movie."

Harold Lloyd, producing a new Kay Kyser picture, obliged. He wrote in a part for Donnelly as a waterfront cop.

Every Citizen of the United States can and Should Do His Part

HERE ARE SOME FOOD FACTS:

The President of the United States says, "There is enough food for all of us and enough left over to send to those who are fighting on the same side with us."

There is no occasion for fear of food shortage or runaway prices due to the declaration of war with Japan, Germany, and Italy.

Adequate supplies of all necessary foods are available to meet normal needs in addition to supplying our Allies.

Consumers buying more than normal requirements create a false demand with temporary dislocations in supply and price.

WE PLEDGE—

1. To maintain efficient, economical food distribution;
2. To avoid speculation and unjustified price increases;
3. To maintain stocks of dependable quality foods and to advise customers of substitutes should temporary shortages develop;
4. To cooperate with Government, producers, and consumers.

WHAT YOU AS A CONSUMER CAN DO—

1. Buy the same quantities you usually buy.
2. Disregard rumors, which may be spread by agitators or enemy agents.
3. Reduce waste to a minimum.
4. Co-operate with local Civilian Defense Committees.

WE WILL CONTINUE OUR BEST SERVICE

We know and you know that merchandising will be difficult in this coming year. National defense requirements will have much effect on consumer needs in many lines, and these defense requirements must come first. This store, however, will continue to render the best service possible at all times, subject, of course, to these defense requirements. Our customers may rest assured that we will endeavor to meet needs that can be met.

service which has long characterized this the coming war year will bring many difficulties, but the public may rest assured that our best efforts will be continued in giving the best service possible. The needs of our Nation must come first, we all agree, but this store will do its best to render the best merchandising service possible.
