The Old Order Changeth— And Sentimentalists Sighed

Sentimentalists always sigh over the passing of old landmarks. Such a feeling pervaded the sale last Friday of the household effects of the late Mrs. Addie Paschall Nolen, who died Jan. 26.

Soon the old Paschall home, the oldest house in Fulton, will have a new owner. The home remains as it was built by Dr. Gideon William Paschall soon after the Civil War.

In 1850, William Paschall, then a young man, went to Philadelphia to study medicine at the Jefferson Medical College. After he received his degree, Dr. Paschall returned to his two-story log home with ideas which he had gathered while living "up east" for building a beautiful large home.

Timber was cut from the wooded areas of the Paschall plantation, which covered much of the land on which Fulton was built. As there were no sawmills, all the lumber for the home was planned by hand. The logs from the original Paschall home, which was two miles north of Fulton Station, were used in building the new home.

After a period of two years, the new house was completed. It was quite a show place, and people came many miles to see it.

Inside the house, the circular stairway was a thing of beauty. Massive pieces of furniture filled the rooms. There was a large piano which is believed by Mrs. Gemma Hopkins Fleming to have been the first one in Fulton, bought by her grandfather, Dr. Paschall. This piano was sold Friday to Mrs. Hazel Scruggs, a relative.

Some other pieces of furniture of great beauty are the large oak secretary and the walnut parlor suite. The latter was bought by Dr. Paschall in New York. It was shipped to New Orleans on a freighter, then up the Mississippi river to Hickman, where Dr. Paschall had it hauled by wagon over the rough roads to his home.

The Paschall home faced the south—East State Line and the plantation lay to the north. Dr. Paschall's office was located in the southwestern corner of the lawn. The old pond was where the Earle Hotel now stands.

The first flour mill in Fulton was owned by Dr. Paschall and stood where Browder's Mill is presently located. Dr. Paschall also owned three other farms and what is now Fairview Park.

When the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad started building tracks through this part of the country, a great dispute arose between Dr. Paschall and a Colonel Gardner of Gardner, Tenn., then a large town, over the route of the railroad. Dr. Paschall wanted it to run through Fulton Station, and Col. Gardner wanted it at his home town. Dr. Paschall won the argument, and donated to the railroad the right-of-way and land for all the stations.

Gardner, Tenn., then virtually vanished from the map. All its residents moved to Fulton Station.

Dr. Paschall, when he donated the land to the railroad company, made the request that all members of his family receive passes which could be used over all the system. Mrs. Fleming said that she never bought a railroad ticket until she entered college.

Now the house, which was the home for five generations of the Paschall family, is empty. The Paschalls all have gone away, and with their departure from the once-stately mansion went the last traces of a glamorous era in Fulton. As Tennyson said, "The old order changeth, yielding place to new."

Kentucky Today

By The Associated Press
 Lancaster—Garrard county's fiscal court put into effect an old-fashioned method to improve its county roads. It called upon property owners to help with labor and equipment. "We are leaving it up to property owners to make it a cooperative affair," said County Judge Delbert Agle. "We have good main roads but it's our side roads that need attention."

Lexington—The Kentucky College of Agriculture declared farmers of the state were losing $3,000,000 annually by keeping excessive male birds in poultry flocks during the breeding season. Only farmers producing hatching eggs are justified in keeping any roosters whatever, said C. E. Harris, member of the college staff.

Spot Cotton Trading Active

South Central Area Sales
 Were 93,830 Bales In Past Week, USDA States

Trading in spot cotton was more active this week than last in South Central Area Markets, according to U. S. D. A.'s Cotton Branch. Sales in the Little Rock, Memphis, and New Orleans markets totaled 93,830 bales this week compared with 81,630 last week and 87,915 for the corresponding week of 1946. Clear cold weather prevailed this week. Spot prices gained ground early in the week. Middling 15-16's reached a peak of 33.30 cents in Memphis on Tuesday, February 11, but weakened before the close of business on Thursday when the price was 32.85 cents. The price for the corresponding day last week was 32.50 cents.

Producer offerings covered a wide range of grades and staples with middling and better grades predominating. Demand was only fair for low grades but good for medium and higher grades especially staple lengths 1 1/4 to 1 3/8". The basis eased about 15 points on most qualities with strict good ordinary and good ordinary off an additional 50 points.

Merchants and shippers demand was fair to good this week for most qualities. Shippers offered more freely and at a slight lower basis than in recent weeks. Buyers reported their stocks somewhat lighter than usual for this time of the year. Although they were in the market, buying was carried on under an air of caution.

Mill inquiries increased slightly over last week. Only a moderate volume of purchases was reported from domestic mills, with delivery specified for most ensuing months thru June. Buying was reported as mostly a "hand to mouth" proposition.

Byrd Flies Over Pole Again, Drops Flag Of United Nations

Aboard the U. S. S. Mt. Olympus in the antarctic, Feb. 16—(delayed)—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd flew over the South Pole today and dropped the flag of the United Nations at the pole, dispatches from Little America announced.

In flying over the pole, Byrd duplicated his feat of Nov. 29, 1929. The dispatcher did not state how far his plane had flown into areas never before beheld by human eyes.

Byrd returned to little America at 11:45 A. M.—which is 5:45 P. M., eastern standard time—after a flight of nearly 13 hours.

His plane took off accompanied by a second craft and returned with it, but it was not immediately announced whether both had flown over the pole.

Byrd sent a personal message to Admiral Chester Nimitz, U. S. Chief of Naval Operations, written while he was circling over the pole.

KU Employees Work Safely

Win Accident Prevention Contest Sponsored By Chicago Bureau of Safety

Local employees of Kentucky Utilities Company were congratulated today by K. U. President R. M. Watt for their part in winning the accident prevention contest sponsored by the Chicago Bureau of Safety.

K. U.'s 1200 employees finished 1946 with the unusually low frequency rate of 3.2 lost time accidents per million man hours worked, Watt said. They also placed second in the motor vehicle accident prevention contest with less than one accident per 100,000 miles driven.

This is the third time since 1942 that K. U. has won the accident prevention contest, and the sixth consecutive year they have been among the first three in the motor vehicle contest. Watt attributed the consistently high standing to the workmen's experience, pointing out that more than 500 K. U. employees have been with the company for 10 years or longer.

Harry Hutchens, Lexington, is director of K. U.'s safety program, assisted by James R. Thompson.

Truman Sends First Request For Money To GOP Congress, Committee Trims It 56 Percent

Death Transport Lacked Only 6 Ft. Of Clearing Peak

Bogota, Colombia, Feb. 17—(AP)—The transport plane on which 53 persons were killed Saturday in commercial aviation's deadliest accident lacked only six feet of clearing towering, cloud-shrouded El Tazaco, an examination disclosed today.

The mark of the shattering explosion of the plane against the 9,000-foot summit was marked clearly in the thin layer of earth covering the rocks.

The main body of the DC-4 fell 1,000 or more feet down onto La Sabana plateau.

Three mangled bodies were recovered last night.

Bill Dealt Only With Deficiencies Of Current Year

BUDGET UNAFFECTED

Washington, Feb. 17—(AP)—The Republican-controlled House Appropriations committee swung a legislative meataxe today at President Truman's first money request for 1947—chopping it more than in two: from $315,546,600 to $139,360,000.

Of the entire 56 percent reduction of $176,186,600 recommended by the committee, the first supply bill sent to the house floor since Republicans won control of congress, $175,683,500 was applied to the Veterans Administration. The committee promised, however, to review that agency's detailed needs later.

Today's action is not related directly to the proposed $6,000,000,000 slash in the President's $37,500,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year. The bill deals only with deficiencies in funds already appropriated for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Coupled with the measure were recommendations for the cancellation of $706,148,578 in appropriations already made and for liquidation of the Civilian Production Administration by June 30 instead of December 31.

In the case of another war-born agency, however—the office of defense transportation—the committee recommended a two-months extension of life—from the end of April to the end of June—because of the crisis resulting from the shortage of freight cars. The cancellation of $53,885,215 will be exhausted by the end of this month. The agency had asked for $307,258,000.

The committee agreed on $136,200,000 as a stop-gap fund for the Veterans Administration, which said its original allotment of $53,885,215 will be exhausted by the end of this month. The agency had asked for $307,258,000.

"Existing conditions in the veterans administration," the committee said in explanation of its action, "require very careful hearings and exhaustive study before the appropriation of the amount proposed."

The committee said it is not at all satisfied that the veterans administration is taking proper precautions to conserve the government's funds in the cost of administration and desires to secure full information on this point.

The amount recommended, the committee said, should carry VA until the end of March. To help finance the cost of handling checks for payments of income tax refunds and for allotments to veterans attending school, the committee approved an additional $3,000,000 for the treasury's division of disbursement.

The report said earlier estimates of the number of payments fell far short of actuality. There are nearly 2,800,000 eligible veterans, with an expected 670,000. Also the first estimate was for 7,000,000 tax refunds by June 30 but, the committee said, there will be in excess of 30,000,000 by then due to a speed-up in repayment plans.

OUR READERS SAY: Progress, Past and Future

I visited the City Water Plant Feb. 4 and found that a permanent chlorinator had been installed to replace the temporary one that had been operating since Dec. 23, 1946.

I want to congratulate the City officials for this improvement which assures the citizens of Fulton and the many visitors who come to the city annually of a safer water supply.

Chlorine is added to a water supply for the purpose of killing any harmful bacteria that might enter from the well supply, from repairs on the water system, cross connections, and faulty water pipes.

One of the first questions asked by factory representatives who are seeking a new location is, "Is the water supply safe and adequate?" Oftentimes they contact the State Department of Health for this information.

You, the people of Fulton, can help your city cut operating expenses by keeping your water faucets free of leaks and conserve water in every way possible. If you don't know how to save water ask someone who has a water meter.

The garbage collecting system could give more efficient service if the people would burn all paper, boxes, leaves and trash. Raw garbage should be placed in approved garbage containers with tight lids. Your local hardware stores have them in stock.

All tin cans should have both ends cut out and mashed together and placed in a separate garbage container. This will greatly reduce the number of truck loads of cans and also prevent the breeding of mosquitoes on the dumps where they are emptied.

The rat and fly population is thriving and raising large families that destroy thousands of dollars worth of property and commodities every year from the banqueted fed them by the housewives, groceries, and restaurants. This condition can be corrected if everyone, rich and poor, will cooperate in keeping the city free of garbage. Let's all make Fulton a cleaner, healthier place to live.

Harry A. Barry, Sanitarian,
Fulton and Hickman Counties Health Dept.

Friendship Cross

Bloomington, Ill.—(AP)—Jacob Shinabarger, night fireman for a heating plant, didn't know what he was starting when he adopted two mice to help him while away the lonely hours.

The mice would come out of their hole and eat bread from Shinabarger's hand. He named them Susie and Tommy.

He called them out again the other night, as usual. Out came Susie, then Tommy, and then two squeaking offspring.

"I don't know," mused Shinabarger. "Guess you can overdo a good thing." However, they're still friends and Shinabarger shares his lunch with all four.

VIRGINIA KHOURIE WEDS FRED KHOURIE SUNDAY IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Khourie of Cairo, Ill. The Rev. Aaron C. Bennett read the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of members of the families and close friends.

Following the pledging of vows, a program of spiritual music was played by Mrs. C. L. The traditional Wagner "Bridal Chorus" was played for the processional and the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" for the recessional. The sanctuary presented a beautiful scene with baskets of white carnations and white tapers silhouetted against the gold drapery of the altar setting. Festive groups of cathedral candles arranged in groups added glowing light to the occasion.

The cake was encircled with white satin bows and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra. Punch, ice cream and cake were served the guests.

IF YOU THINK A WATCH IS COMPLICATED

LOOK AT THIS TELEPHONE JOB

PROGRESS...

Despite shortages!

In Kentucky during 1946, the Telephone Company installed more facilities than at any other time in history. 34,000 miles of exchange wire, 518 miles of long distance circuits, and 35,303 telephones were added. 76 local and long distance central office additions were made and the number of employees increased 30 per cent.

Watch telephone service grow, for as it grows so does its value to you. That's because you can reach so many more people!

Providing more and better telephone service is a time-consuming, painstaking job. Much of the equipment is as complicated as a fine watch.

Thousands of tiny telephone connections must be soldered together, each in its precise place. Banks of delicate electrical relays set up. Miles of wiring laced into intricate switchboards. Cables laid. Poles erected. Wires strung. And sometimes a whole new building constructed.

"Get the job done!"

That's our slogan. And that's exactly what we are doing as fast as we can get scarce materials and then install the equipment.

Telephone folks are working for you night and day, hustling along with the Telephone Company's program to improve service.

Wall Street Report

New York, Feb. 17—(AP)—Steel stocks acted well in today's market while many leaders in other departments still had to contend with light profit taking. Dealings were quiet from the start. Initial gains running to a point or so were reduced near midday and the minus column was well filled. Bullish sentiment again was bolstered to a certain extent by the flow of pleasing dividends and earnings statements. A rally in the London market was helpful. Youngstown Sheet was up better than a point following a boosted quarterly payment. Ahead part of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Western Union "A", General Motors and U. S. Gypsum. Backward at intervals were Chrysler,

THE ARMY GROUND FORCES— WORLD'S GREATEST SCHOOL FOR LEADERSHIP

"FOLLOW ME!" The ringing battle-cry of the Infantryman is the stirring command of the leader. And nowhere else in the world—in war and in peace—are so many great leaders developed as in the Army Ground Forces. The American ground soldier is known for his ability to carry out any assignment with resourcefulness and initiative—the qualities that make leaders in civilian life as well as the Army. The Ground Forces can not only teach you leadership—they can equip you with fine job training to go with it. In peacetime, the Army is a gigantic school-going organization—with training available in many valuable skills and trades. Remember, too, that increased Army pay scales are now in effect, and that you receive 20% additional pay for overseas service. Thousands of outstanding young men, able to meet the new higher standards required, are enlisting in the Regular Army. And because of the special advantages offered, the majority of them are enlisting for 3 years. If you are looking for the road to a profitable future, your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station can furnish all details. Highlights of Regular Army Enlistment 1. Choice of any branch of service which still has quotas to be filled, and of certain overseas theaters which still have openings, on 3-year enlistments. 2. Enlistment age from 18 to 24 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service. 3. A enlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge. 4. Leave credit accrues at the rate of 30 days per year of service. 5. Mustering-out pay for all men eligible therefor, when discharged on enlistment. 6. Educational benefits under GI Bill of Rights for men who enlist before official termination of war and remain in service 90 days or more. 7. Family allowances for dependents of men enlisting or reenlisting continue until 6 months after official termination of war. 8. Enlistments for 1, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.) 9. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 25 years' service. All previous honorable active federal military service counts toward retirement.
