Candidates for ASG President

Dave Flack

Qualifications:

HIGH SCHOOL (Student Government) Sophomore representative to Student Council
 Sophomore Class Secretary
 Junior Class Vice-president
 Senior-Student Council Camp
 Senior-Student Body President
(Student Activities)
 Citizenship Award at graduation
 Teen Representative to Central Ohio District Council-2 years

COLLEGE (Mt. Vernon Nazarene College)
 Vice-president of Freshman Class
 Representative to NSLC-2 years

Olivet Nazarene College
 Junior Class Council

Platform

- I. Establish a "hotline" to the Student Body President's office for both minor and major complaints from students. This making it possible for students to express themselves more directly, and with more direct action to complaint.
- II. Establish an information center at head desk in Ludwig that would include every student's schedule, as well as his phone, residence, and box number.
- III. Investigate possibility of having a head director of all recreation and social affairs on campus in Ludwig Center. This person would have a full-time job co-ordinating all campus social events, and also be in charge of the game facilities of Ludwig. This would get rid of the present red tape a club or organization must go through to schedule a social event.
- IV. Investigate the possibility of having a "Clean-Up Day" or "Purple and Gold Day." One day per semester when all classes are dismissed and faculty and administrators as well as students work together for part of the day cleaning up campus; picking up litter, raking leaves, general work to improve campus grounds. Students could be divided into groups by societies or class, each group given a designated area to clean. This would give students as well as faculty a chance to relax and get to know one another. It would also serve as a break from the routine of college life, and perhaps a day to catch up in some studies. The day could be ended with an all-school party.

As Vice-president in Charge of Social Affairs I would strive to give our Social Committee the kind of leadership needed to bring about a year of campus activities filled with both creativity and quality of programming. To this end I present you my platform in three stages.

Stage One—involves the inworking of the Social Committee and the refining of its organization.

Having to a great extent proved its worth, the Social Committee workshops held each semester would continue to help orient committee members to the duties at hand and at the same time work to compile ideas for future use.

In years past the need for a better filing system of all campus activities has made itself increasingly evident. This could be done by a combination of two processes. One, by the creation of a specific form to be filled out with all the necessary details of each activity and having this form filed in an organized manner so that it may be used for future reference, and two, by assigning each member of the Social Committee a section of the present filing system to be organized in a prescribed manner.

This year it has been brought to the attention of the Social Committee that too many activities on campus are presented without giving the students sufficient time to plan their activities. I feel this can be resolved by setting a deadline for the scheduling of campus programs on any given weekend so that each student will have plenty of time to adjust their weekend activities. Because of the time and effort involved in presenting a quality activity I would ask each class to add three members-at-large to their own class committee. These members would attend each planning session of each class activity.

Because of the aforementioned difficulty in producing quality activities I feel that it may be good for groups or classes with similar ideas or activities in mind to combine their capacities, thereby fulfilling both their desires in one well-planned program.

Stage Two of my platform deals with the interaction of the Social Committee with the student body.

Before the student can have interest in the activities on campus he must know what, where and when these programs are. To do this most

ASG Candidates for Vice-President Of Spiritual Outreach Program

Mark Forgrave

Qualifications

Current Chairman of Campus Ministries Committee
Former President of Spiritual Outreach Organization of MVNC. For this work, received the Service Above Self award, the school's highest honor.

Platform

Next year we want our Spiritual Outreach Organization to continue to be an instrument of God's. Here are some ideas that can help us.

- I. Quality Improvement
 - A. Screen and have training sessions for all preachers.
 - B. Have all music groups sing before member of the music staff
 - B. Have all music groups sing before member of the music staff before they go out the first time.
 - C. Each team select a member of the faculty to be their advisor.
- II. Merge Lay Witnesses and Gospel Crusaders.
 - A. Permit all of these teams to stay on campus the three revival weekends.
 - B. Would not require them to go out more than 5 times a semester.
 - C. Guarantee at least two weeks advanced notice of an assignment.
- III. Improve communication between constituency, administration, and students.
 - A. In August send all churches on the educational zone, and others who would like our services, information about our organization.
 - B. Clearly instruct these to make specific requests of jobs to be done.
 - C. Have applicants make requests at least two weeks in advance.

Platform

- I. In looking at the overall program of Spiritual Outreach I can see at least six areas in which problems have developed. The following list spells out the problem and gives a possible solution or solutions which I believe might work.
 - A. The first problem is the fact that there seems to be an apathetic attitude growing on campus toward the Spiritual Outreach program. This is due to some basic weaknesses in the programs, and a breakdown of communications between Spiritual Outreach and the student body.
 - 1. I propose that a detailed study of the entire program be initiated and action taken accordingly.
 - 2. I also propose to keep the Student Body informed of what Spiritual Outreach is doing through the use of campus communications media.
 - B. Another problem is that there has been little communication between Spiritual Outreach and the on-campus ministries (Collegians for Christ, Missions in Action, and Ministerial Fellowship).
 - 1. I propose to keep in close contact with the leaders of these organizations in regard to their various activities.
 - 2. I also propose to draw as many of their members as possible into helping with the various Spiritual Outreach programs.
 - C. Third there is the problem of unity. This involves the individual teams as well as the entire program.
 - 1. I propose to put in writing the responsibilities of the different team members so they will know exactly what is expected of them.
 - 2. I also propose to make the orientation sessions on as much of a personal level as possible, and
 - 3. I will encourage each team to form a prayer cell.
 - D. Fourth is the problem of last-minute planning.
 - 1. No "make-shift" teams will be sent out.
 - 2. Teams will know well in advance when they will be going out.

- V.
Establish a program that would assist in community-college relations. People in community could volunteer jobs around their homes for students to do. Students who are willing to work for part of or all day (some designated Saturday) would do this work for these community people; the money could then be donated to some organization such as Spiritual Outreach. (Also, the increased functioning of the Circle K Club.)
- VI.
Investigate the idea of making a hose available to students who wish to wash their cars because of the muddy conditions that often exists because of our parking lots.
- VII.
Investigate the possibility of sidewalk improvement in areas that are extremely rough or damaged, and in areas that flood during rainy seasons. Also, better salted walks during snowy seasons.
- VIII.
Establish a renewed program or programs in recruitment to draw more students, increasing enrollment, enabling our college to function in a much more stable manner financially, to the students' advantage.
- IX.
Investigate the possibility of highlighting our international students in either a chapel service, a night of entertainment, or both. (Sharing native dress, foods, sports, language, etc.)
- X.
Establish programs on WKOC that will draw more student listeners.
- XI.
Investigate the possibility of transportation to away intercollegiate games for students. Our teams need student support.
- XII.
Investigate our chapel services; make an attempt to direct chapel periods toward what students like and appreciate most, while also being worthwhile and beneficial; helping students spiritually and socially.
- XIII.
A carry-through of the restructured system of the student-faculty committees by the Ten Year Study Commission. However, define more specifically the purpose, duties and goals of the Student Council's Standing Committees.
- XIV.
Investigate the possibility of a printed Dormitory Guidelines booklet, which would explain the rules of the dorm, hours, room check, information on who and what R.A.'s are; and other general information concerning dorms.
- XV.
Continuation of: work on Student Handbook; distribution of Leadership Handbook (with changes needed); printed school calendar (with possible changes making it bigger and more useful); other programs and activities sponsored by Student Council for student use and concern, (workshops, social events, etc.)

I would like to see the Student Council of Olivet be a true representative organization of the student body, that would work with as well as for all students, and also be a true communicating organization between students and administration.

Bruce Brian Platform continued from p. 2

- H. to provide bus transportation for more away games.
- I. sponsor a Fine Arts exhibition, contest and banquet on a class level.
- J. form a handbook to leave for succeeding officers with information on:
1. where in town to locate free materials (wood, cardboard, poster board, paper etc.)
 2. merchants who have provided us with extra service and help in the past.
 3. names of people in the community who sometimes allow use of garages and basements for float building, campaign headquarters and class parties.
 4. a directory of "who to contact for what" on campus (electricians, ground crews, maintenance, etc.).
- K. a thorough investigation and possible reorganization of the Valentines Party. With questions asked about:
1. is too much money spent on too few?
 2. continuation of a "sweetheart" couple.
 3. using restaurants in Chicago for the party.

Gary Voss Platform continued from p. 3

- E. Fifth is the problem of the budget.
1. I propose to study the financial records of past years
 2. From this study I propose to set up a budget for each of the programs withing Spiritual Outreach, and work within that budget.
- F. Last is the problem of overorganization. Lay Witness, Gospel Crusaders and Missionary Involvement Teams are expected by the pastors to perform basically the same functions.
1. I propose that all of these programs be united into one group of traveling teams.
 2. All of these teams would be expected to be prepared to perform any of the functions that each of the former groups emphasized.
- II. As far as my personal responsibilities to Spiritual Outreach are concerned, if elected I will do my best to do the following:
- A. Post and keep regular hours.
 - B. Be prepared to talk at any time with members of Spiritual Outreach about problems concerning their involvement in the program.
 - C. Listen to suggestions from anyone in the Student Body on how Spiritual Outreach can be improved.
 - D. I will cooperate with the entire Associated Student Government and the administration of the college in every possible way.

students must go out of their way to the student body office and check the activities calendar. To solve this problem I would have a monthly activity calendar posted in the foyer of Ludwig Center. By doing this I feel that the student body can more readily be kept in touch with the activities going on around them. I would also work with the Intercollegiate Sports Committee in an effort to present halftime activities for each home game.

I would also work closely with Saga and their once-a-month special dinners to make these meals times of enjoyment. I would also work toward not only better all-school activities but special activities for smaller interest groups, so that more personal interaction between students might be realized. A student opinion form would be made available so that each student who desires to complain about or praise a certain activity might do so and be effectively heard.

I would strive to make Social Committee not only a source of entertainment but also a bureau of information to the different classes and groups, to tell those interested where to obtain or purchase different items and also give program ideas to all who ask.

Stage Three of my platform deals with the improvement of the Social Committee as an activity organizer.

So many times during this and past years there has been a clash between the different programs and activities on campus, for instance, the donkey basketball game was held on the same weekend as the Senior Advance and I could name several more instances I'm sure you would all remember but that is really not important. What is important is that our student body should have more knowledge of what, where and when activities are going to be on campus so that unnecessary misplanning can be avoided.

If elected to serve you I would, with the other members of the Social Committee, initiate and organize a scheduling council made up of the leader of all campus groups. The work of this council would be to schedule a well-rounded year of non-conflicting activities. Any groups would go through this council before they went to the Dean's office for clearance, so that our Social Committee would have full knowledge of all future campus activities.

So many of our fellow students would like to participate in the Spiritual Outreach program but are unable to because of social activities each weekend which require their presence. If elected I would ask for an "off-weekend" during which there would be no major social activities to hinder anyone from participating in the Spiritual Outreach program. This would be once every four weeks, to allow greater spiritual activity throughout the year.

I would also ask that Social Committee be given a personal faculty sponsor so that we might work with a greater degree of closeness with the administration.

I would ask that the Social Committee start a regular column in the school paper so that students might make public their approval or critical analysis of our campus functions.

I would strive to establish a regular communication with the other Christian colleges so that our school might be aware of their activities and benefit from their ideas.

I would make special effort to see that the new facilities being built in Ludwig be made available to the Social activities on campus, such as after-game entertainment.

I would initiate a drive toward a fund-raising campaign to give the students some of the things they want on campus, such as more tennis courts or a bus for away games, etc.

Along with this platform I pledge with God's help and your prayers to bring Olivet the best year of Social Activity it has ever known.

Religion Department Announces Scripture Reading Contest

The American Bible Society has given the Division of Religion and Philosophy a beautiful loose-leaf New Testament to be awarded to the student who shows "excellence in the public reading of the Scriptures." This Bible has the Greek text, the Today's English Version, and space for notes.

A contest for this award will be held April 18 and 25, at 9:30 a.m. to determine the winner. Judges will be Dr. Brown, Dr. Perry, and Rev. Irwin.

This contest is open to all majors in Religion. The first thirty to register in the Divisional office will be given the opportunity to compete. Instructions for preparation will be given at the time of registration. Deadline for registration will be 4 p.m., April 15, with the Religion Secretary.
