NIELSON

RATH

Nielson presents semester faculty recital Friday

Mr. Stephen Nielson's semester faculty recital is scheduled for next Friday evening, August 14, at 8:00 p.m. in Chalfant Hall.

The concert promises to be of special interest, as Mr. Nielson will be joined by a young German cellist, Mr. Lutz Rath.

This is Mr. Nielson's third year as Artist in Residence at Olivet, and he has just returned from a summer of study at Indiana University which almost brings to completion his work for the Master of Arts degree.

Mr. Nielson's program will include three short sonatas by Scarlotti; one of the most important sonatas of Mozart, K.457 in C minor; Prokofiev's 3rd Sonata in A minor, a one movement sonata written in 1917 which is marked allegro tempestoso — and requiring, according to Irwin Freundlich, "great power and energy."

Following an intermission, Mr. Rath and Mr. Nielson will perform the Kodaly Sonata Opus 4 for cello and piano; and the Suite Populaire Espagnoli by de Falla for cello and piano.

Mr. Lutz Rath has studied in Munich, and in Switzerland with Eva Janzer. He spent one year with the Munich Philharmonic Orchestra, was cellist of the Munich String Trio, and has given numerous cello recitals in Germany and Rumania. In the United States he has studied with Janos Starker at Indiana University where he was Mr. Starker's student teaching assistant, and where he received the Master of Music degree. This fall he has joined the faculty of Illinois State University at Normal.

Olivet's faculty enlarged by six

Olivet's faculty has been enlarged this fall by the addition of six new professors; two each in the Department of English and the Department of Nursing and one each in the Department of Mathematics and the Department of Psychology.

Mrs. Julia Hannah comes to ONC from Arizona Bible College, Phoenix, where she was Assistant Professor of English. She will serve ONC in the same capacity.

Mrs. Hannah received her B.A. from Greenville College and graduated Magna Cum Laude. She later returned to Greenville where she taught English as well as being Dean of Women for three years. In 1964, she received her M.A. from Arizona State University. While working on her Masters, she taught at the Phoenix Christian High School, Phoenix, Arizona. Mrs. Hannah has done additional graduate work at Southern Illinois University and Arizona State University.

The Hannahs' have three children, Kathleen, 28, married with one son, and teaching Physical Education, Dale, 26, living in Phoenix with his wife and two children and working as an apprentice carpenter and Karen, 24, living in Michigan with her husband and majoring in Social Welfare.

Prof. Hannah is interested in interior design, travel, photography, gardening and antiques.

Until recently, she and her husband were members of the Free Methodist Church, but have transferred their membership to the Limestone Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. Gary Streit has joined the English faculty in the capacity of Assistant Professor of English. Prof. Streit received his A.B. from Trevecca Nazarene College and his M.S. from the University of Tennessee. Streit will also serve as Director of Placement and Supervisor of Student teaching for the Department.

Prof. Streit's teaching experience includes four years of high school English at John Handley High School, Winchester, Virginia, (his birthplace) and two years at at Lonelson Junior High School, Nashville, Tennessee. While in Nashville, he was Resident Counselor at TNC and a member of the Summer faculty. While attending TNC, he and his wife Marla, were very active and prominent student leaders. He was elected to WHO's WHO in American Colleges and Universities and won TNC's annual Citizenship and Dependability Award. In addition, he has recently been honored by being chosen to appear in the 1973 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

Golf is Prof. Streit's favorite leisure time activity. He and his wife (who is presently librarian at Grand Park Elementary) attend College Church of the Nazarene where he is a member of the Chancel Choir. His impression of Olivet: "... strong faculty who seem interested in the individual student" and his impression of Illinois: "Where are the mountains?"

Miss E. Ruth Snider comes to the Department of Nursing from William Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, Kentucky, where she was the Director of the School for Practical Nursing Education. Miss Snider received her B.S.N. from

Super-pebble getting kicked around

Reprinted from GLIMMERGLASS — October, 1966

Olivet's "Kicking Stone" has been getting kicked around. The four-ton super-pebble, originally located just west of Kankakee, was donated and hauled free of charge to the campus last year.

The rock was the object of an urgent search by Jim Bliesner and Herb Alfree, members of the 1965 Social Committee. The Committee had intended to place the stone on the campus quadrangle as a project of May Day celebration in '65.

However, many thought the rock unsuitable for the spot and positioned it at the west end of the football field until a better location could be found.

On May 1, the boulder was unveiled during the May Day celebration. It was dedicated by Dr. Fordyce Bennett as Olivet's official "Kicking Stone." The rock remained there until June of this year when it was transported to its present position on the old tennis courts. There it hides among the petunias.

The idea for a "kicking stone" was not an Olivet "first," but was copied from Earlham College in Indiana. The purpose of the rock is to accept and bear, without complaint, all kicks and gripes of frustrated students. These might otherwise be borne by a friend, prof., building, tree, etc. The "kicking stone," which seems not to coincide with Quaker doctrine, was favored more by the faculty than the students at Earlham.

The reaction to the rock at Olivet has been one of "take it or leave it." Many believe the cinnamon colored stone adds novelty and decor to the campus. An attempt was made by the Social Committee to identify the stone with a bronze plaque. However, that attempt has been bottlenecked, thus to date, Olivet's "kicking stone" remains firmly implanted, but anonymous to those unoriented as to its origin or purpose.

WELCOME FRESHMEN AND TRANSFERS

EDITORIAL

WELCOME! SOYEZ LE BIENVENU! WILLKOMMEN!!

While we genuinely desired that everyone should receive a warm cordial welcome, it seems the Weather Department has overreacted on the warm phase of our wish. Nevertheless, these greetings come to each of you with sincere good will and good wishes for a meaningful and happy year.

We are delighted to welcome so many from other countries. We are thrilled that you chose Olivet. Although you are thousands of miles from your homeland we trust that you are already beginning to feel at ease among us. Olivet is culturally enriched because you are here. Our college is honored to have students from Australia, Asia, the Orient, Europe, Africa, South America, the Middle East, Central America and the West Indies. The Olivet Family is a world family.

While there are scores of you who have transferred to Olivet from other colleges and universities, and we congratulate you upon your choice, we especially wish to acknowledge the large group coming from Mount Vernon Nazarene Junior College, Mount Vernon, Ohio. To one and all we say: Welcome!

God Bless You!
Have a good year!

The door of my office is always open to you. If I can be of help, never hesitate to call. May you find "It's Great to Be an Olivetian!"

Graves encourages cooperation

As we come back from a bustling summer full of bureaucratic bangles, the brunt of blotched blemishes, and the brutal brigade of blind date brush-offs, let us turn to the Christ-like concepts of a Christian College and crash all conventional criticisms with a cry of co-operation. Writing for the first time this year, I am not going to make any mention of problems, plans, or please your palate with pleasant platitudes. Instead I want to give a few featherly thoughts from a faltering human with a forgiving, fantastic Father.

In all seriousness, my summer was a strange one but with all of the victories and stumblings I finally came out on top. Jesus Christ is more real to me now than He has ever been. I will always serve Him as my Lord. E. Stanley Jones in his book, "The Way" over and over again points to the fact that Jesus Christ has not come to give just a good spiritual life but a well-balanced life in all areas, mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual (and political). We all need growth in each area and certainly a happy medium concerning all of them.

This year Associated Student Government will be involved in this type of growth. We are desiring to let Christ love and live through us in any area of service that we can make available. Whether you are a member of the Body of Christ or not we want to serve you as individuals, as living souls.

Subscription rates (to defray the cost of postage) are three dollars per year. The opinions expressed in the GLIMMERGLASS are those of the writers and are not to be interpreted as opinions of the administration nor the Associated Students of Olivet Nazarene College. '73-'74 paper policy announced

Welcome to the vast, diverse readership of YOUR college newspaper, the GLIMMERGLASS. If you're new to ONC you will probably find the GLIMMERGLASS somewhat different from most campus newspapers. Even if you are an Olivetian of "long" standing, the '73-'74 GLIMMERGLASS will be unlike any of preceeding years; as individuals evolve, so do institutions and newspapers.

For example: we have increased our publication schedule from 15 issues to 28, our format has been changed extensively, our goals have been reaffirmed and reviewed and we have completely revamped our organizational structure.

In addition, our Editors have realized the importance of the "Christian World View." As a result we shall attempt to convey to our readership the desirability as well as the responsibility of becoming world citizens, with an awareness enlarged beyond the United States.

Not only have we adopted the "Christian World View" but we have also decided to really try to stimulate intellectual fervor on our campus. Therefore we have added the book-review as a regular feature. Our feeling is that, if the college student is to be well-read, it is imperative that he be selective. The book-review is a means of guiding the discerning student, of helping him budget his valuable time towards worthwhile literature.

However, not all within these pages will be of a serious vein. You shall see features that will entertain and uplift and hilarious cartoons by your fellow-students as well as syndicated cartoonists.

Timely news "scoops" will be our trademark. Olivet will see many events of major importance this school year, and the GLIMMERGLASS will endeavor to obtain first priority for the announcement of such happenings.

Finally, the Editorial page will be the meeting place of concepts and ideas and the sounding board for RESPONSIBLE student opinion. Send the GLIMMERGLASS your opinions but, in so doing, steer clear of the bent towards constant negativism. Do not allow yourself to stoop to the regurgitation of the pros and cons of trite issues.

Yes, the GLIMMERGLASS is really here to serve you. Use it to your advantage and at your convenience. Meanwhile the staff will be striving to more accurately reflect your Olivet as well as the "Christian World View."

Spiritual Life reaches in and out

by Dave Skelton
ASG Vice President

"Reach In and Trust; Reach Out and Touch" is the theme of Olivet's Spiritual Life organization.

Spiritual Life Directors will present their programs in Chapel Monday, September 17. This will mark the beginning of a "Spiritual Life Emphasis Week." On the weekend of September 21, a special orientation session will be held to prepare students for many areas of service.

In the past there has been a somewhat apathetic attitude concerning the Spiritual Life program. In view of this we should realize that Spiritual Life is more than an organization with a few starry-eyed, idealistic programs. However, we must also understand that without the leadings of the precious Holy Spirit we will do little if anything toward accomplishing our goals.

For this reason we must create an attitude of love and concern for our fellow Olivetians. All of the programs we could ever possibly plan will not bring this love unless the Holy Spirit is allowed to work through our lives. We should be concerned that this be a year of total involvement in the Spiritual Life program for the student body of our Olivet. Everyone should be involved in some aspect of this endeavor, if only to pray and offer suggestions when needed.

We should begin while here at ONC to become concerned and less wrapped up in our individual world. Let's make this a year of giving rather than receiving.

Miss Snider will be an Assistant Professor of Nursing at Olivet, and her area of specialty will be Psychiatric Nursing.

Also new to the Department of Nursing is Mrs. Anita L. Saldeen. Mrs. Saldeen was previously instructor at Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Springfield, Illinois. Her position at ONC will be Assistant Professor of Nursing and her specialization will be Medical-Surgical Nursing.

Prof. Saldeen received her B.S. from the University of Nebraska and her M.A. from Sangamon State University.

The Saldeen's live in Reddick, Illinois where Rev. Saldeen is pastor of the United Methodist Church. They have two sons, Paul, 10, and Melvin, 8.

Richard Wirt was Instructor of Math at Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts and comes to ONC as an Assistant Professor of Math and Chairman of the Mathematics Department.

Dr. Wirt received his B.S. from Bethany Nazarene College and his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma.

During 1966-1968, Dr. Wirt and his wife Lynda were high school teachers in the Peace Corp. Their field of endeavor was the U.S. Trust area of the

"Jesus Rediscovered" reviewed

A man was a socialist, an atheist, a skeptic, a cynic ... his wit was clear, keen, often caustic ...

his appetites were well-developed for things like pleasure and fame - and he got those (his name is widely known) ...

but he also craved truth - "What is it all about?"

Now he says: "... now the only great joy is understanding. This means being attuned to God, to the moral purpose of the universe, to the destiny of the human race that I belong to, to the things that are good ..."

Now he says: "... now that we live to the extent that we die. That the purpose of life is to love God and our neighbor."

Now he says: "I think Christ provides an answer, which I find completely satisfying."

Malcolm Muggeridge: Famed British columnist, widely known in the communications field, now becomes "a shining light."

He wrote it down: "Jesus Rediscovered," the story of a glowing awareness of an inescapable Personality

- and (thanks to the friend who loaned me this book) one of the fine things I remember about this summer.

Rev. Lowell T. Flint is new to ONC as an Assistant Professor of Psychology. However, Prof. Flint will be teaching courses within the Religion Department first semester. He is commuting from Rosehill, North Carolina, where he is presently the Pastor of the Wesleyan Church. Rev. Flint will begin teaching in the Department of Psychology second semester.

Flint has pastored congregations for 14 years in both Carolinas and Ohio. While at John Wesley College, Greensboro, North Carolina, he was Instructor of Bible, Homeletics and Theology.

Prof. Flint received his A.B. in Religion from Marion College, Marion, Indiana; his M.Ed. in Guidance and Counseling from the University of North Carolina and his Ed.D. in Counseling from Duke University. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

The Flint's have three children, ages 15, 6, and 2 years. Flint's interests include church work, especially involving the youth; and travel, which he has done in 36 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Haiti, Dominican Republic, St. Thomas and St. Croix. He also enjoys wood-working, carpentry and photography.

Tigers announce fall baseball schedule

Bringing an innovation to Olivet this semester is Coach Larry Watson, who recently announced that the Tigers will have a Fall baseball schedule.

Watson says that the baseball diamond will be in use six days a week with the following schedule:

- Monday Rookies Practice
- Tuesday Rookies vs. Veterans Game
- Wednesday Veterans Practice
- Thursday Rookies vs. Veterans Game
- Friday Batting Practice
- Saturday Intercollegiate Doubleheader

Watson's purpose for the program is twofold: He hopes that through this schedule he can get a preview of next Spring's Varsity team. He also wants to give any athlete a chance to participate in a baseball program without the usual pressures involved in a try-out situation.

Throughout the four-week schedule beginning Sept. 10, attendance at practices and games will not be required. Participating men are to miss no classes. Coach Watson says that everyone will be given a chance to play. "We just want to have fun and play good baseball!"

The Veterans will be in good shape this year with about 14 members of last year's conference-winning team returning. Only two seniors were lost by graduation last year.

Coach Watson has contacted three colleges and set up the following intercollegiate schedule:

September 15	St. Francis (2)	Away	12:00
September 22	Kankakee Comm. Col. (2)	Away	12:00
September 29	St. Francis (2)	Here	12:00
October 6	Lincoln Christian (2)	Here	12:00

College Six appear in concert September 15

The College Six will be appearing in Concert September 15 at 7 p.m. in Chalfant Hall. As in the past no admission will be charged but a free will offering will be taken. Albums will be available at $5.00.

Intramural activities looking good

Intramural Director Gary Newsome reports that the society athletic activities look good for the Fall semester.

Intramural softball will begin Monday, Sept. 10. In past years intramural baseball has been played in the Fall, but due to the Fall baseball schedule, softball has been substituted. According to Newsome, a 16-inch softball is to be used. This ball, says Newsome, requires the use of no gloves and should add a little variety to the game.

Later in September the Flag Football League will get underway.

Each student at ONC is automatically assigned to a society upon enrollment. He remains as a member of that society during his entire stay at Olivet. The six societies are: Beta, Gamma, Delta, Zeta, Kappa, Sigma.
