3,000 Alumni Expected For Homecoming Festivities

Over 3,000 alumni and friends are expected to attend the annual Homecoming events at Olivet Nazarene College November 16, 17 and 18, according to the Rev. Ted R. Lee, Alumni Executive Secretary.

The Homecoming Commission has selected as the theme of the gala festivities "All Systems Are Go at Olivet."

Mrs. Nona Powers Kelley of Detroit, Michigan, will speak at the all-school chapel Friday morning at 9:30 in Chalfant Hall.

Bill Pearce, baritone vocalist and trombonist, will give a sacred concert Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Chalfant Hall. Mr. Pearce, whose radio program "Nightwatch" is a regular feature of WMBI-Fm in Chicago and 100 other stations, will be accompanied by Mr. Larry Mayfield.

At the same hour as the concert, the Olivet Tigers will take on the Eagles of Oklahoma Christian College in a home basketball season opener in Birchard Field House on the campus.

Olivet's team defeated OCC last November in the championship finals of an invitational tournament in Oklahoma City which included 7 Nazarene Colleges and OCC.

Alumni and friends will share in a traditional smorgasbord dinner after the concert and game are concluded Friday night. Some 1500 are expected at this event in Ludwig Center starting at 9:00 p.m.

Saturday's events will open with the Homecoming parade depicting the theme. Starting at 10:00 a.m., the parade will move from the Kankakee County Courthouse west to the river, then north on Kennedy Drive, through Bradley to the campus in Bourbonnais. Last year the parade featured 23 floats and marching units of campus organizations.

Four class reunions will be held at the Kankakee Hotel at noon Saturday for members of the classes of 1947, 1948, 1953 and 1963.

The college speech department will offer a drama in Reed Auditorium at 1:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. Saturday.

The second Homecoming concert will be presented by four college musical groups at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Chalfant Hall. Professor Harlow Hopkins, chairman of the division of fine arts, will direct the program which includes the Orpheus, Treble Clef and Viking Choirs together with the Wind Ensemble. Music for the program has been arranged by Professor Ovid Young.

Featured soloists in this concert will be Linda Luttrell Dunbar, Gene Braun and Ray H. Moore.

The ONC basketball team coached by C.W. Ward, will square off against Oklahoma Christian College for their second meeting Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Abraham Lincoln Gymnasium in Kankakee.

Homecoming events will conclude on Sunday with special services in all Nazarene churches in the Kankakee area including College Church in Bourbonnais, Aroma Park, Eastridge, Kankakee First, Westbrook, Limestone, Manteno and Wildwood.

Tickets for the two concerts and two basketball games may be purchased at the Alumni Office in Ludwig Center for $2.50 each. Students are eligible for tickets priced at $2.00.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" To Be Staged On Campus

Kankakee County's first professionally-staged performances of the Christmas musical drama, Amahl and the Night Visitors, will be on Olivet's campus Thursday, November 29.

The Culture Series Committee of Olivet Nazarene College has engaged a professional company of singing actors who will bring their costumes and scenery to the stage of Chalfant Hall on ONC's campus for two performances.

Amahl and the Night Visitors, sung entirely in English, is the touching story of a crippled shepherd boy, Amahl, who decides to give his most valued possession—a simple crutch without which he cannot walk—to the Christ-child, and is suddenly and miraculously able to walk. The "night visitors" are the traditional three kings, Melchior, Kaspar and Balthazar, who stop by the hut which Amahl and his widowed mother call home, to spend the night before continuing their trek to Bethlehem. They bear their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

The production will also involve the 16 voices of the Concert Singers of Olivet as the Shepherds Chorus, and the entire performance will be accompanied by a thirty-piece orchestra. The work was premiered on NBC-TV, in its one act and lasts 60 minutes. David Aiken, who was the original King Melchior in the world premiere cast on NBC-TV, is coming to re-create his role for the Kankakee audience.

The evening performance is set for 8:00 and tickets are available to ONC students, faculty and staff for $1.00.

EDITORIAL

The Christian World View

A seasoned Olivetian phrased it well when he made the following remark: "I feel so betrayed and disillusioned because of this thing called Watergate. I was raised believing that it was impossible for an American president to be a criminal."

And these thoughts echo what so many of us are experiencing at this point in time; disillusionment because we have always held within ourselves certain unobjective viewpoints about our government and our political system.

Our opinions concerning our governmental and political system have been consistently tinged with blind, unswerving, unquestioning patriotism and intense nationalism. Therefore, we have proven ourselves to be defenseless against events of the caliber of Watergate. As a result, we have experienced the helplessness of betrayal and the heartache of disillusionment.

And now that we have descended to the depths of discouragement with the system, paramount in our minds should be a plan for action which would never again leave us in the "sitting duck" position.

In light of this, the GLIMMERGLASS has been hammering away at what we feel to be an appropriate plan for action: "The Christian World View."

"The Christian World View," although having many other diverse facets, will in our opinion prove a solution to, and remedy of the "sitting duck" position. Gerard Reed feels that the "Christian should have a moral perspective enabling him to neither praise nor blame in toto" our government, our political system and America in general. This is, for sure, one aspect of "The Christian World View."

Therefore, we strongly urge your personal adoption of "The Christian World View."

The Lord of the Universe is willing to remove your blinders, enlarge your vision and make you truly a world citizen. With such a perspective, clearer understanding and brighter hope will take the place of any sense of betrayed vulnerability.

-D. George

Editor's Note: For further recent readings complimentary to "The Christian World View," please consult the October 10th issue of the Herald of Holiness for Gerard Reed's article, "Reflections on Watergate" and also the October 12th issue of Christianity Today for "The Arts-a Bridge between the Natural and Spiritual Realms."

Editor's Note: The Homecoming Issue of the GLIMMER-GLASS will break November 16th. All submissions are due Tuesday, the 13th.

This issue will be 12 pages in length including a four page insert. The insert will contain a full page sized picture of the 1973 Homecoming Queen. Featured as well on other pages will be the Court and the 1973-'74 Tigers.

The pictures of Queen and Court should prove to be of special interest as they were staged and shot in the home of President and Mrs. Harold W. Reed.

HOLES IN THE HEAD

Salem Kirban's 666

reviewed by Marlys

McClintock

Prominent in the conversation of people today is the topic of the Second Coming of Christ and all the prophecy surrounding this event. Salem Kirban's book 666 is a novel which deals with the Rapture, Christ's return and the end of the world.

Mr. Kirban portrays these events in the story of a newspaper reporter, George Omega, whose family is taken in the Rapture. George soon becomes the right-hand-man of Brother Bartholomew who, in the novel, plays the part of the Anti-Christ. George, his daughter and son-in-law have a Bible which they read continually, and through their studying of the Word, they realize that God is the answer to their problems so they refuse to accept the Mark of the Beast. Thus, all through the tribulation they are persecuted.

Kirban describes the Great Tribulation as a time of terrible fear and anguish of spirit. The prophecies of Revelation, Daniel and other portions of the Bible which seem of the essence of fairytales to us become logical and scientific in 666.

Salem Kirban's 666 is a novel which emphasizes the emotional aspect of the Second Coming of Christ.

THE PRESIDENT'S ULTIMATE POWER

With Ron Hendren

A YOUNG VIEW OF WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—As incredible as it may be, Richard M. Nixon seems bent for leather on his own destruction. His actions on the home front day in and day out reveal an abandonment of even the most elemental common sense.

Even his most ardent supporters in Congress and elsewhere are now beginning to turn from the problem of how to save the President to the question of how to save the presidency.

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) late last week set the stage for what could prove to be a wholesale desertion of the administration by Republican members of Congress. The President, said Goldwater, "has reached an all-time low from which he may not be able to recover." Goldwater again suggested that Mr. Nixon appear voluntarily before the Senate Watergate committee, and pointedly added, "I feel now more than ever that this may offer the only way out."

His statement left the door of conservative support open for Mr. Nixon, to be sure, but more importantly, it clearly paved the way for Goldwater to go the last painful mile and do what two other senators have done—call for the President's resignation.

If that should happen, the Republican rush to Goldwater's corner would look like the opening day of a one-cent sale at Macy's. An already crumbling White House would surely collapse entirely.

The presidency is too vitally important to permit that to happen, but sad to say, only one man now has the power to prevent it, and that man is Richard Nixon himself.

It is a power I believe he will in the final analysis exercise, for Mr. Nixon understands power as well as any politician and better than most. I believe he will exercise it because I genuinely believe the President when he says he loves his country. I believe he will exercise it because I do not think, as his attorney general designate once said, that the President has "taken leave of his senses." I believe he will exercise it because his past actions over many years in political life show him to be a pragmatist and a realist. (He could, after all, have challenged the Illinois returns in the 1960 election which put John F. Kennedy in the White House by the narrowest of margins. Indeed, he was urged to do so by Republicans of many ideological colors. He refused, citing the stability of the government and the continuity of the presidency as overriding the partisan consideration of challenging the election.)

The power, of course, is that of resignation. I do not believe he will undergo, or suffer the nation to undergo, "impichment", the word the Russians coined in their first public reference last week to the possibility that Mr. Nixon will not finish out his term. He will not undergo impeachment because

Varsity Roundballers Win Two Scrimmages

Although the Olivet Nazarene College Fighting basketball Tigers do not officially open their 1973-'74 season until next Friday, they have engaged in two intercollegiate scrimmage games already this fall.

Oklahoma Christian College invades Kankakee next weekend to try to spoil the ONC Homecoming activities. But Coach Butch Ward and his Tigers are busy getting ready to conquer the invaders.

Last week our roundballers were hosted by the Illinois Institute of Technology and promptly proceeded to mash them by a score of 89-62. The Tigers made a fine show in their first intercollegiate show, outscoring and outrebounding the IIT team. Five ONC players scored in double figures. Barry Stephenson dumped in 14, Dan Fowler hit for 11, and Ralph Hodge, Ron McClean, and Jim Shoff all collected 10 points.

Tuesday night, Birchard Gymnasium (the "Pit") was the site of a scrimmage between Olivet and Trinity College. Olivet once again showed its scoring power as the Tigers ripped Trinity 106-60. Wendell Towns, a junior transfer from Mount Vernon Nazarene College, led the team in two categories with 18 points and 13 rebounds. Ted Allen was responsible for 16 personal points, Ron McClean added 15, and Ralph Hodge and Jim Shoff both chipped in 12 points.

Trinity managed to pull down only 29 rebounds. Number 32, a guard, was high-point for the visitors with 15. Number 40, who received much recognition from the Olivet crowd, scored 13 points.

Coach Ward is happy with the performance of his men so far but is dissatisfied with the way this year's team has been overrated already. No doubt this is one of ONC's finest squads in a long time, maybe ever, but "the way some people talk we should be playing UCLA." Ward just wants his courtmen to play their own schedule and win games.

Next week we'll have a full report on the '73-'74 teams, varsity and junior varsity, with a preview of the Homecoming games with OCC.

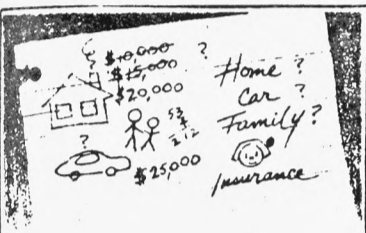

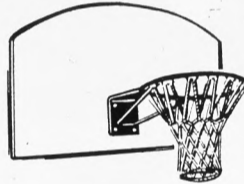

As a matter of interest, the ONC swimming pool is open to girl swimmers during the following hours:

whether or not the Senate convicted him would have become—indeed, has very nearly already become—a moot point because he has already lost almost entirely his ability to govern. The aftermath of an impeachment, even if he won, would leave him scarcely the power to turn the lights off and on in the White House. Such a position is as untenable for Richard Nixon as it is for the office he now holds.

That is why the Senate and House should bear in mind what many members must already perceive as they scrutinize the qualifications of Gerald Ford to be vice president of the United States: that they are confirming the nomination not of a vice president, but of a president.

Cross Country Team Ends Season, Looks Ahead

Cross Country ended on an encouraging note for Coach Frank Wilson and his six varsity harriers.

On October 21 the team traveled to Naperville for the District 20 competition at North Central College. In a field of 15 teams, the Tigers managed to finish eighth. Aurora placed first in the district championship.

One-hundred and ten runners competed over a five-mile course, and ONC's Dave Leatherman hustled to the finish line in 12th place. Leatherman ran the five miles in 26:59, his best time of the season which qualified him to enter national competition. Kent (Keno) Lamb, who finished 18th with a time of 27:15 also qualified to run in the national meet.

The four other members of this year's CC team and their results in the District meet look like this:

33	Randy James	27:48
65	Dave Veanes	30:51
70	Dave Skelton	31:04
78	Al (Gal) Kayanek	33:01

Even though his team finished with a 4-8 record for the season, Coach Wilson is happy with his men's performances. James is the only sophomore on the team; the other five men are freshmen. Wilson has much to look forward to, and is very optimistic about next year's schedule.

Athletic Dept. Sponsors Women's Volleyball Team

Nine co-eds have been involved for over a month in Olivet's inter-collegiate volleyball program.

Dorothy Acord coaches the girls' volleyball team, and already this year they have completed six matches. The team had their first matches on October 18 when they played Joliet and Aurora Colleges in a tri-meet. At present the "Lady Tigers" have a 1-5 record.

This year's team members are:

Seniors-Carol Albaugh, Marcie Miller, and Barb Gibbs; Junior-Kris Kelley; Sophomores-Carol Skalak and Linda Rigg; and Freshmen-Terry Johns, Beth Miller, and Rosie Reinhart. Two years ago ONC also sported a women's varsity volleyball team. Back from that squad are Ms. Albaugh, Ms. M. Miller, Ms. Gibbs, and Ms. Kelley.

In a match, the girls play the best two out of three games. The game goes to 15 points, with a team winning by two points. There are six players per team during a game, three on the front row and three on the back, with the player in the right-back position serving. The net height is 7 ft. 4 1/4 inches and the court is 30' X 60'.

Three matches remain for the women against Elmhurst, Rockford, and DuPage Colleges. Coach Acord expressed her dissatisfaction with the lack of suitable facilities for a home volleyball court and regretted that only one match was on the ONC campus. However, she is happy with the talent displayed and the fun and opportunity that volleyball gives to the girls.
