Within the past few days our good friend Robert Lamb has passed the 30-year mark in his service with the Postoffice Department.

One time Robert sat down and told us some of the funny things that happened. He recalled that he opened a rural mail box one day and to his surprise he found a live chicken, all properly wrapped with the head and feet sticking out of the package and the money beside it to pay the postage to deliver it to a couple of houses up the route. The chicken seemed pretty bored about the whole procedure, but Robert certainly got a big laugh out of that curious parcel.

Then another time he recalls that one of the families living on Route 2 had sick relatives up the road. It was an impossibility for the family to send the sick folks a warm dinner every day since they did not have a car, so they put the warm meal in the box, properly wrapped and with sufficient postage. Robert took it "up the road to the sick folks."

He remembers too that one rainy day he chanced to look out of his car and saw a funeral procession wending its way across a muddy field, with the casket in the back of an open wagon. Pallbearers were in the rear of the vehicle pushing it along, while relatives were in front coaxing the mules on their way.

Members of the Victory Homemakers Club will please note that the club will meet Tuesday November 15 at the home of Mrs. H. C. Brown 10 o'clock instead of the place and time as stated in the news letter. Pot luck lunch will be served at noon. All members are urged to be present.

Gregory Will Recommend Jack Carter As Postmaster

Postmaster General Will Use Discretion In Appointing Carter Acting During Interim Pending Confirmation

Hon. Noble J. Gregory, Congressman for the First District told the News today that he would recommend Jack Carter to the Postmaster General to fill the position of permanent postmaster at Fulton, Ky. Mr. Carter, who headed the eligible list recently released by the Civil Commission was the No. 1 preference by virtue of his grade and his veteran's preference points.

Others on the eligible list were, Clifford Shields, number two and Hendon Wright.

Mr. Gregory, visited the News at press time on Thursday said that after his recommendation, it would become the discretion of the Postmaster General to make Carter acting postmaster during the interim period pending his confirmation by the Senate.

Popular Bill Browning, who has been temporary postmaster at Fulton since the death of Bailey Huddleston said that he would relinquish his duties as soon as word is received from the Postmaster General. Mr. Browning, has made a good record during his term of office.

Mr. Carter is at present principal of the elementary school at Martin, Tenn., and prior to that time was assistant coach and teacher of mathematics in Junior High School here.

TURKEYS, LIONS READY FOR SHOOT

Saturday and Sunday, November 12 and 13 will be rough days for 100 turkeys ordered to participate in the annual Lion's Club Turkey Shoot. Russell Pritchford, general chairman of the event said that all is in readiness for sportsmen to try their skill at winning two turkeys per day during the shoot.

In addition to the rifle and trap shooting, a new attraction has been added this year. Each contestant will use the same gun, shoot the same type of shell, and will fire at a special Turkey target. This target is made in one inch squares on a six by ten inch sheet of paper. Contestants will fire at the target and their score will be determined by the number of pellets piercing the one inch squares. Each square counts different points. Another new feature this year will be the handicap placed on the shooters who are familiar with trap shooting. This is done so as to give the amateur a better chance to win.

VICTORY HOMEMAKERS TO MEET NOVEMBER 15

Members of the Victory Homemakers Club will please note that the club will meet Tuesday November 15 at the home of Mrs. H. C. Brown 10 o'clock instead of the place and time as stated in the news letter. Pot luck lunch will be served at noon. All members are urged to be present.

City's Natural Gas Outlook Is Fine, Council Reveals

The prospects for natural gas for Fulton are looking good, the City Council learned Monday when its Gas Committee reported on last month's Owensboro trip to the central offices of the Texas Gas Transmission Corporation.

President Stephenson of Texas Gas assured the delegation that Fulton could indeed be supplied with gas as soon as a survey was made to determine the capacity needed locally, and pending approval by the Federal Power Commission.

The big transmission line of Texas Gas, extending from Texas to Ohio, will pass within a mile of Fulton's east side. It was further disclosed that Fulton is in rate zone two, and only 50 miles or so from higher priced zone three, and will thus be enabled to buy gas cheaper than, for instance, communities

Carter entered the service shortly after the beginning of the war and entered the Navy as a volunteer. He served for nearly five years and saw combat in the South Pacific and was in many of the major battles of that campaign. He was on the Vincennes when it was sunk in Pacific waters. He was discharged in 1945 with the rank of lieutenant senior grade.

Carter is married to the former Jane Dallas and they have one son, Jack Carter, Jr.

CITY OFFERS THIRD OF LIGHTING COSTS

The Fulton City Council has offered to put up one-third of the cost of the purchase of decorations for Fulton city streets, not to exceed $500, provided the balance of the $1500 to $2000 can be raised by local merchants and Civic clubs. It was disclosed at the City Council meeting last Monday, when a delegation of YMBC members consisting of Joe Hall, Gene Hoodenpyle and Harley Neal appeared to discuss the subject.

The Council expressed itself as being in favor of the project, provided that such wiring and lights as may be purchased will become the property of the City and may be properly stored in the warehouse after the Yuletide season for future use.

The YMBC delegation was instructed to proceed with its campaign for raising the balance of the money, prepare plans for location and style of decorations and meet again with the Council as soon as things are worked out.

Among those in attendance from the community were Ed Thompson and Ed Williams, who observed their thirtieth anniversary in Farm Bureau work this year, having been charter members when the County was organized in 1919.

COUNCIL DOINGS

WHAT! NOT READY?

The City Council was somewhat startled last Monday evening when a representative of an engineering firm and two representatives of a bond-marketing firm descended on it with their sleeves all rolled up and ready to start installation of gas mains and selling bonds, right now.

The premature appearance of the representatives was due to a misunderstanding about the status of Fulton's proposed gas system, which is not yet at the stage to go into such details. However, things are moving right along now, and the men were dismissed with the suggestion that they would be invited back shortly.

FINED? THAT'S FINE

If a Fulton policeman grins this week as he writes you out a ticket, don't be surprised. The whole force received a pat on the back this week from the Council, and a raise, come December 1st—coupled with the parting remark that they continue to keep a finger on the law-breakers and keep the fines coming in as long as the law continues to be broken.

And it WAS broken this past year. Fines from July 1, 1948 to July 1, 1949 totaled $12,125; almost paying the entire $12,600 current annual salaries of the whole department, the Council learned last Monday. With $11,438 collected during the same period from parking meters, the Council had good reason to grant a cost-of-living increase to its law enforcement officers.

The new scale is setup - this way:

Chief, $50-month increase to $250 month. Patrolmen, $150 monthly for their first two months in the department; $175 monthly after 6 months' service, and $200 monthly after a years' service. (Current salary is a flat $170).

No Center Parking Action

At its meeting last Monday night, the Fulton City Council deferred the petition request of 20 Lake street merchants to allow center parking on that street during the 30-day pre-Christmas period. Although the requests were not refused, they were criticized on the grounds that the street is not marked for such parking, the State has promised no further parking, and when such a practice is again started, it is difficult to stop.

BEER LICENSES ISSUED

Beer licenses were granted this week by the Fulton City Council to Biggs and Graves at the Drive-In Cafe on Depot street, and to a business located at 119 East Fourth street. Both were previously okayed by State and County authorities.

GETS FINGERPRINT OUTFIT

The Fulton Police Department has been authorized to purchase an outfit that will be used to obtain fingerprints from furniture, autos and other objects to aid in efficient detection of crime. The City Council okayed the purchase after a request by Police Chief McDade.

Highway Department Conducting Two-Week Survey To Check Flow and Density of Motoring Through Fulton

An origin and destination traffic survey, to determine the density and flow of Fulton traffic is being conducted this week and next by the Kentucky State Highway Department. The survey will cover all phases of traffic leading into and out of Fulton and is being done with a view toward relieving the hazards at both the Lake Street Extension underpass and the Reed street crossing.

According to John R. Pulliam, a member of the Highway Department's Planning Division who is here to supervise the survey, State Highway officials are seeking to relieve delay and danger occasioned by truckers in the Reed Street crossing, as well as to do away with indecision as to the height of the underpass on Lake street crossing. (On Wednesday of this week a large truck barely missed destroying the spotlight in front of the Or-

Results of the survey may result in a re-routing of traffic on Highway 45 going south on 51E. If the survey shows that consid-

According to unofficial statements made by residents in the area where the Highway Department has made surveys the proposed re-routing would take traffic off of 45 at the curve just below Bob White's residence, would continue in a southwesterly direction along one side of the ball park and through the Fairgrounds, overpass the I.C.R.R. and effect a junction with U.S. 51 at or near its curve at the Fairview cemetery.

A. V. Thompson, chief of the survey and crew working in and around the city said that before a final report is made more than 5000 motorists will have been interviewed to determine the origin and destination of traffic through Fulton. The survey is conducted from 6 a.m. until ten at night, periods when the traffic is heaviest.

Dimes To Park . . . Books To Read

Sometimes reading the dozens of newspapers that reach our desk each day becomes an awful chore, but then again when we find an item or two that might help us with our problems here, we feel repaid for the effort.

Several days ago we read where the citizens of Greenville, Miss., had devised a wonderful plan with which to collect March of Dimes funds next year.

The City Fathers of Greenville have granted permission to the American Legion
there to solicit funds via the parking meters
— (God Bless 'em). The Legion will warm up to the shoppers who will be able to buy parking time and contribute simultaneously
to the annual March of Dimes.

It works like this. The parking meters,
not designed to accept dimes, will chalk up only 12 minutes if one is deposited—the same amount of time a penny buys. The Legion will pay to the City of Greenville one cent
for every dime taken in by the meters.

The City doesn't lose and the Legion gains.

What'll they think of next. This seems the simplest, most painless way in the world
to collect funds and with a little agitation
it seems that any campaign can go over.

Now, Elva Fall, if you dash over and get the permission of those nice men on the City Council, it seems that your impending Library Fund Drive will have a mighty good start.

The News will gladly print a little card
for each meter that says:

"A DIME TO PARK GIVES BOOKS TO READ"

That is, if the City Council grants permission.

Only Two Years, But Many Deeds

When we first came to Fulton, in the spring of 1947 we recall that one of our first methodical duties was the "covering" of the City Council meetings.

Then, we remember, the meetings were conducted around the desk in the Police department room, with a dim light or two hanging around, and, it seems, a continuous air
of frustration over lack of finances to get anything done.

We couldn't help be reminded of these meetings, a scant two years back, as we sat in last Monday's council meeting. We noted on Monday the businesslike disposition of one project after another around a roomy table, in better quarters, as the present seven men prepare to wind up their two-year tenure of office and hand the reins to their successors.

The meetings these days are pervaded
by an air of confidence, of good feeling, of cooperation, understanding and accomplishment, because the retiring council has done
a good job. Money is coming in, and things are going well.

The police car no longer has $200 monthly repair bills (now there's a new one); the parking meters are paid for and are now returning a substantial income; the water department is working fine, with its new overhead tank, good income, and all; the railroad signals are almost all in and working;
the creek is dredged and being kept in good condition . . . and municipal gas operation is being considered as the next forward step for a forward-looking city.

We were gratified to see the incoming Mayor and his whole new Council on hand
at this week's session, because it shows that they, too, are interested in carrying the ball
right on where their predecessors leave off—
and we are sure that they will continue on in the same businesslike fashion. We know that the citizens of Fulton want their city affairs promptly handled, their councilmen
to be progressive-minded, and their government to stay on a sound footing.

In maintaining an aggressive City Council we held one of the keys to insuring a growing, progressive Fulton.

Reprinted With Pleasure

The editorial below is reprinted from the Lyon County Herald, Eddyville, Ky., dated November 3, 1949. It concerns a community-wide project undertaken by the citizens of that city to equip the private hospital owned by Dr. Sidney Dyer, formerly of this city.
The Dyers, Sid and Dessie, are hard-working, efficient and conscientious members of the medical profession. That they have established themselves so well in their new community and in their hospital, which to them is a dream come true, is a source of much happiness to their hundreds of friends here,
where he formerly practiced.

The editorial follows:

Nothing has so lifted the morale of this entire community in all the years of our experience here as the new hospital.

That this is true is attested by the patronage accorded the health institution by the people of Lyon county and by the fact that even those who have never inspected the place are high in their praise of it and sincere in their acknowledgement of its great benefits.

Now comes the Kuttawa Rotary Club to sponsor a campaign, purpose of which is to provide needed equipment for the hospital.

The Rotarians ask assistance of churches, business and professional groups, fraternal organizations, school children and all individuals in the community.

They should have this, in full measure.

All over Kentucky, cities and towns are conducting campaigns to obtain large sums of money with which to provide their communities with hospital facilities.

At Princeton, nearly $100,000 was subscribed by an aroused citizenship and a bond issue of the same amount was voted, overwhelmingly. This money, with a grant from the State and another from a federal hospital fund, resulted in start of construction of a hospital there this summer.

In Lyon county we are more fortunate for private individuals have started our hospital, making a large investment of their own money and talents to do so.

We are merely asked to provide money with which to purchase some additional equipment, in order that our hospital may render still more efficient service.

Certainly we should lend ourselves wholeheartedly to this campaign and give to it, as individuals, according to our means and what is needed. In this nobody will be burdened, and our people will be afforded better safeguards for their health.

The Rotary Club deserves to achieve a conspicuous success in this effort; for its purpose is to benefit all the people of the community, as well as an untold number yet unborn.

So Far . . .

In line with our editorial of last week,
wherein we pointed out the vast expansion
being planned by the Atomic Energy Commission it is apropos that we print this article by Harry Snyder, which appeared recently in the Commercial.

The big boom in atomic energy is under way.

TVA is a full-fledged partner in the gi-gantic expansion program and this means that the valley agency will probably hang up a new mark next year for the spending of money for new construction.

Congress is expected to get and pass a whopping big TVA appropriation bill.

If that comes to pass it will mean an expenditure in excess of $167,300,000. That was the amount of appropriated and corporate funds turned loose in 1942 when the agency
was called on to boost its energy production facilities for war industry.

Last year TVA put $50,808,000 in new works and has approval for $72,500,000 in the current fiscal year.

. . . Yet So Near Department

TVA is building an electric power substation southeast of Hickman on a plot recently purchased from Harry Barry. It will consist of 3-500 KVA transformers in a high wire fence enclosure 80 x 150 feet. The enclosure is to be paved with asphalt, and a black top drive will connect it with the Hickman-Union City highway.

This sub-station will insure practically continuous service for the REA electric customers there since it will be connected to Kentucky Utilities transmission lines, and also to Clinton and Troy sub-stations. If one source goes out either of the other two may be switched on, within a few minutes.

The regular source of supply will be the Kentucky Utilities 33,000 volt transmission lines. Through the transformers this will be cut to 13,000 volts on TVA lines.

Local manager, Harold Everett, states that the construction is to be finished not later than March 1, 1950, and that the crew
is considerably ahead of schedule now.

Kentucky On The March

State Forester H. B. Newland, speaking at a conference held
the other day under the auspices of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce to promote better fire protection, said a quarter million acres of Kentucky woodland is burned over annually. He called it a "million-dollar bonfire."

And Governor Clements said
unprotected forests were responsible for 79 per cent of the 4,100 fires last year. The Governor thinks "organized protection" is a remedy for the terrific damage done to the woodlands of Kentucky.

The Chamber of Commerce
gathering was attended by about 500 people representing nearly all walks of life in the state,
which is evidence of a public awakening to the need of forest protection such as the mountain states of the far west already have.

Dick Oberlin:
Oberlin's Observations

By the time most of you read this, I'll be in New York City
for the third annual convention of the National Association of Radio News Directors. That's

what this column will be about,
and I hope that you'll forgive me
this time for being considerably
more personal than we have been since Observations started in The Fulton County News.

There are two reasons for attending a convention. One is to learn something more about your job or business, and the other is to have fun. There will be plenty of opportunity for both in New York. And this time, there'll be extra work for me, because,
as all of you undoubtedly know,
WHAS is going to start television broadcasts soon after the first of the year.

I am emboldened to make a report on this since so many newspapers have taken such a keen interest in television. There is no doubt it will have a great effect on American family life
as it becomes more wide spread,
as new technological developments make it possible to telecast to remote areas which now must depend on luck for an infrrequent pick-up.

As the news director of WHAS,
I will be responsible for what goes on our television newscasts. This is just about the most challenging assignment imaginable, since one station after another of the hundred or so TV stations on the air have started out with ambitious plans for news coverage and gradually
have come down to little or no
news at all.

The trouble is that TV news,
if it's done right, is just impossibly costly. The payroll alone for a single television news crew for 10 or 15 minutes or news a day will run from $400 a week up. In addition to that, there is, of course, the cost of movie film, of developing it, of putting the stuff together and getting it on the air. In very few places is impossible to get by

with a real newsreel just skimming the cream of local news for less than seven or eight hundred dollars a week. And, remember,
that's just overhead!

It's going to be my job to see if we can't find some way to bring Kentuckians viewers a TV newsreel. A practical way. One that isn't so outrageously expensive. I don't know whether we can do it or not, but we're going to try.

To that end I'll spend all next Monday with the Columbia Broadcasting System television
news crew which puts together a daily 15-minute newsreel. The following day I'll be in Baltimore to see how a local station
there tackles the problem.

At the NARND convention
we'll have several panel discussions on TV news problems. And we'll hear discussions of news by such top men in the business as Ed Murrow, winner of two Peabody awards; Elmer Davis, former director of the Office of War Information; Erwin (Spike) Can-
ham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and others.

We radio news directors are going to get a dose of our own medicine, too, I am co-chairman of a committee of the association which this past year has studied the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service and wrote a sharply critical report on their shortcomings.
At the convention, Spike Canham
will analyze the kind of job radio news has been doing and tell us where we fall down on the job.

If we can take it as well as we dished it out, we'll learn something.

Fulton High

By Patsy Green

For this week I would like to present the Senior candidate for Carnival Queen, the attractive Ann McDade. Ann was born in Ridgely, Tenn., and came to Fulton when she was 2. She started at Terry-Norman school at the age of 6. She then moved to West Fulton on the corner of Park and Third street and entered Carr Institute in the 3rd grade. The next year she moved up on the corner of College and Third where she is still living. She went into High School in '46 and became a majorette in the Fulton High Band. Her hobby is sports and her favorite sport is football. She is going to college, but hasn't decided which one she will attend. She is a very pretty 17-year-old Senior. She has blue eyes and blond hair. We, the Senior Class are in hopes of seeing our candidate walk down the aisle, on November 18th, wearing the royal colors. We would like the support of the town to make this come true.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

We have elected our King and Queen for the class and we are very proud to say that they are Nancy Bredom and Don Mann. We are going to work for them very hard and we will appreciate any amount of money that people give.

Who was that cute girl that was with B. C. at church Sunday night? It couldn't be N. S. C. from South Fulton could it? P. C. sure is going after a certain Junior boy.

It seems that P. M. and D. P. are going together again.

Why are all the Sophomore girls staying around the Freshman class? It couldn't be because there is a cute blonde headed boy in their class could it girls?

FRESHMAN NEWS

Monday morning was an exciting morning for all classes of high school and especially the Freshman because this is their first time to elect a king and queen. Our king and queen for this year is Virginia Forest and Bobby Buckingham. We are very proud of them and would like very much to see them march down the aisle as royalty in the

For our first money making project we had a chili supper. Many of our friends attended and enjoyed the homemade food and entertainment put on by the pupils themselves. We wish to thank those who took part in our supper and those who attended.

We are very glad that Bobby Buckingham is back with us and we wish him luck in winning the king of the Carnival.

Does S.R. have any other interest besides Latin and music. Come on, Shirley, get in the groove.

Wonder who M. D. W. was with last Thursday night. Couldn't be B. S. C. could it, Mary?

Wonder why J. B. is always waiting in study hall? Could V. M. be the answer?

Seems like V. F. is really in there at all of the ball games lately.

S. L. has joined the woman hating union. What happened?

N. C. had a flame at the chili supper Tuesday night. Was it A. B. from South Fulton?

The Freshman class will be selling pom poms Friday afternoon and night for the ball game. It is our last home game and we know every one will want to have one. Besides, it certainly will help our king and queen. All for only a dime.

There will be a cake sale Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock in front of Weaks store. Just think, homemade cakes and pies and you won't have to wor-

A Very Tall Fish Tale

While fishing at one of "Danny boy Tucker's" favorite fishing holes Danny had completely given up hope of catching anything but a minnow from Kentucky Lake, etc. He had fished with every kind of bait reasonable and unreasonable but glancing about he noticed a snake with a nice size frog in its mouth and decided that the frog might make a good bait. He yanks the snake conks him on the head and takes the frog. After a bit he decided how cruel he had poured some of his favorite whiskey down the snake and the snake soon left the boat. Tucker fished quite a while and then felt a slight tugging on his pant leg and to his great surprise the snake had returned with another frog. (ahem).

Dear Patricia:
I am in love with a man that has been married and has three children and I have two children. My children doesn't approve of this man and his children doesn't approve of me. What should we do?

Dear M. C.:

The best thing you can do is forget this man or else both of you will have to forget your children or else live in hell.

which you can date and think of boys.

Dear Patricia:
I had a dog killed about two weeks ago. Can you tell me anything about it?
J. P.

Dear J. P.:

You have a family living with in throwing distance of your house and they gave the dog glass which killed him.

Dear Patricia:
I am a girl 18 years old and am in love with a boy and I thought he loved me too but a boy told me he was going with another girl. What must I do?
B. T.

Dear B. T.:

Don't believe everything you hear. Wait and see for yourself. Be sure as I don't think he is going with anyone else.

Dear Patricia:
I am a woman 41 years old and have been going with a man 32 years old. Do you think he loves me?
T. T.

Dear T. T.:

He might like to go out with you right now but as for being in love with you and you and he marrying and getting along and living happy ever after is clear out of the question. As there is too much difference in your ages, my advise to you is for you to find someone nearer your age to fall for.

Mary Neal Jones, Harold McRae Are Wed In Beautiful Ceremony

In a strikingly beautiful setting of bridal white and green, Miss Mary Neal Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones, Sr., of Fulton, became the bride of Harold McRae of Memphis, son of F. K. McRae of Tishomingo, Miss. The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized at the First Methodist Church in Fulton on Saturday afternoon, November the fifth at five o'clock Rev. C. E. Hawkins, pastor of the church officiated.

Preceding the exchanging of the nuptial vows Mrs. H. N. Strong, soprano sang the Cadman "At Dawning" and the D'Hardelot "Because." Mrs. C. L. Maddox, organist played the Dubois "Cantilene Nuptiale," and the "To An Evening Star" from Tannhauser. Immediately before the entrance of the wedding party, the wedding hymn "O Perfect Love" was played on the chimes. The traditional "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional and a Nevin "Nocturne" was played softly during the ceremony.

The lovely young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a stately formal wedding gown of gardenia white slipper satin. The nylon tulle decolletage portrait yoke was applied to the princess bodice in dainty scallops. Long sleeves buttoned from the elbow to petal points over the hand. The princess style of the bodice snugged the diminutive waist and graduated in width at the hips where godets emerged between each gore developing into folds extending into the cathedral train. The voluminous skirt was posed over period hoops. The bridal veil of misty French illusion, triple tiered with fingertip cape, fell from a halo cap of shirred illusion and pearlized orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a dainty lavalliere of pearls centered with an aquamarine. She also carried an heirloom handkerchief and a bridal bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and white orchids.

Mrs. Aaron C. Polk of Monroe, Louisiana, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and Miss Dorothy McRae of Memphis, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. The attendants wore identically designed dresses in American Beauty slipper satin. Fred Schwanke of Monticello, Indiana, served the groom as best man. The ushers were Dr. J. L. Jones, Jr., the bride's brother, A. C. Polk of Monroe, Louisiana, William Moritz of St. Louis, and W. L. Carter, brother-in-law, cousin and uncle of the bride, respectively.

Little Mary Eleanor Polk, niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl dressed in pale blue taffeta with a ruffled bertha and a diminutive hooped skirt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jones chose a dinner dress of royal blue sheer crepe featuring a side draped skirt. A diagonal of rose and crystal beads extended from the shoulder to the skirt drapery. She wore a small evening hat of black sequins and tulle and elbow length white gloves. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Jones, Sr., entertained with a lovely reception at their home. The reception rooms were decorated with large bouquets of bridal white flowers. The reception line stood before the large bay-picture window.

Assisting in receiving were Mrs. H. C. Thomas at the register, Misses Betty Thomas, Louise Roberson and Dorris Kirk, all of Memphis, who served in the dining room.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. McRae left for an extended wedding trip after which they will be at home in Memphis.

Out of town guests for the wedding and reception included—Mr. and Mrs. Royal H. Grissom, F. K. McRae, Mrs. Kenneth McRae, of Tishomingo, Miss. Miss Dorothy McRae of Nashville, Mrs. H. C. Thomas of Clarksdale, Miss. Fred Schwanke of Monticello, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gun Carrying In Field Prohibited From Nov. 5-19

Since the filing with Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher of an emergency regulation banning the use and carrying of shotguns in the fields for the period beginning midnight November 5 to midnight November 19, the Division of Game and Fish plans to enforce this regulation, Earl Wallace, Director of the Division, said today.

Previously, Assistant Attorney General Owen Keller gave an opinion that the Game and Fish Commission and the Director of the Division lack authority to take such action, since ordinary regulations must be filed and advertised 60 days before the regulation becomes effective. However, Mr. Wallace points out that this regulation is an emergency and as such may be filed up until five days before it becomes effective. The emergency act was filed with the Secretary of State on Wednesday, October 26, and advertisements on this regulation were carried in three papers of statewide circulation on Sunday, October 30.

Following the filing of the act under the emergency status, the Assistant Attorney General made no further comment.

The Division Director declared that the emergency regulation was necessary to prevent out-of-season hunting of rabbits and quail before the opening of the season on November 20 and after the end of the squirrel season on November 5. He declared that many hunters take to the fields during that period and when accosted by conservation officers declare that they are hunting ground hogs or crows. He declared that, by this ruse, many of the early hunters escape punishment and that they formerly could be arrested only when they had either rabbits or quail in their possession. Under the emergency regulation, the Director declared, these violators will have no escape methods, since the use and carrying of shotguns will be barred during the above mentioned period.

In drawing up the emergency regulation the Commission and Director declared that excessive destruction of game during the November 6-November 19 period threatens the continued supply of game. There is nothing in the regulation that bars the use of shotguns at trap or turkey shoots, or the carrying of shotguns on the public highways or the use of the shotgun by a farmer in the control of predators.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5 1/2 billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a canner. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9 1/2 billion dollars in their last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes. The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly. Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers. WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS. The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

- • • • like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.
- • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.
- • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.
- • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business. . . IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

- • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.
- • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

*Mr. Simpson was named "Grocer of the Year for 1948" by the National Retailer Owner Grocers' Association.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them. We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices. Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary. We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight. We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

SCHWEGMANN BROTHERS
GIANT SUPER MARKET

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P. Frankly, we don't like it. A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices. So What . . . And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laugh. We . . . at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices. Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.

Mississippi Plantation Life: The Writings Of Mattie Dear

Well, I thank the Lord Jesus that I'm so much better this week than I was last week. My health is fine I am only feeling my age. I made my way to the Travels Rest M.B.C. Church pastored by the Rev. W. B. Barns. His subject was "The Endurance of God." He preached a good sermon.

Sister Missouri Taylor sung a solo title "Alright Now." She sung until I got happy. When she was singing I thought about David. You know singing is the chief worship of God but let me tell you all one thing it is prayer time.

I am trying hard to get through picking before the weather gets too unfavorable but any way the Lord do is alright. I was proud of the birthday present that I received from the Westpheling family. I thank you all so much.

Well, aside from that now a few words about the Lord Jesus Christ. He never intended for no one race or nation to be ruler of all others. God wants us to love each other make no difference about the color. He said, "Love."

This world is in a bad condition and the only thing to bring it out alright is earnest prayer. My brother whom I had not seen in 45 years he was to see me in 1948 the second Saturday in November. He stayed two nights with me and I ain't seen him since but the Lord is in the plan. So here is another poem.

Mother

The dearest home that I know, Is the home where I was born; Where mother hugged me to her breast, And taught me right from wrong.

With reverent hands she rocked my cradle, It never grew too dark or cold; Out of all the things God made on earth, He never made a dearer soul.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 13, 1949.

The Golden Text is: "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God." (Rom. 9:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." (Rom. 8:16).

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Timmons have returned to their home in Chicago after attending the funeral of his father, Lee Timmons.
