Gus Browder, Prominent Farmer, Dies Here Last Friday Night

Gus Browder, 85, prominent farmer of the Palestine Community, died Friday night at 10 at Haws Memorial Rest Home in Fulton after a lengthy illness.

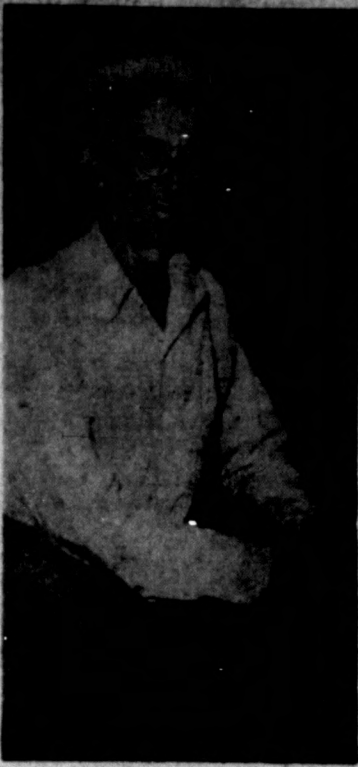

From a long line of pioneer residents of this area, Mr. Gusie, as he was affectionately called, was one of those wholesome rural residents who loved the farm and all the living that went with it. Before he became ill he was constantly busy on his farm and took the greatest pride in every little accomplishment he made.

He loved his home and cherished it as his castle and during his active years the Browder hearth was a gathering place for all his family and his neighbors. With a smile ever on his lips, Mr. Gusie made a "big" event out of everything that happened to him and when his neighbors often surprised him with little events in his honor, there was no bounds to his happiness and his appreciation.

Often he would call us at the News office about some little something that happened out of his way, and we always knew before he told us that it was Mr. Gusie, because that amusing laughter was always in his voice.

We called him our close friend, because he was our close friend, and nothing pleased him more than to know that people loved him because he was that staunch, friendly, devoted Christian that we knew him to be.

Though we did not see him as often as we would like, he was always in our thoughts. Continued on Page Ten

Loss Of Dr. Blankenship Mourned; Beloved Physician Killed In Accident

There was no race, creed or color line among the grief-stricken person who paid their final respects to Dr. M. W. Blankenship this week. When the tragic and untimely news of Dr. Blankenship's death reached Fulton last Friday a pall of gloom was spread over the entire area at the passing of this outstanding and beloved young physician of Fulton.

There can be no estimate of the sorrow and grief that all of us feel in the loss of this young man, whose interest lay not only in the care and attention of the sick, but in the affairs of his church his community as well. The beautiful new addition to the First Baptist Church in Fulton stands as a monument to his vision and his indefatigable efforts to work with other church leaders in bringing about this worthwhile and handsome structure.

Dr. Blankenship was one of those rare young physicians who combined the modern technique of medicine with the old fashioned characteristic of sentiment and devotion to his noble, chosen profession.

A resident of Fulton for just four years, few Fultonians have endeared themselves to so many people in so short a time. With a ready smile, a firm handshake and a sincere interest in the welfare of all with whom he came in contact Dr. Blankenship found a secure place in social, cultural and civic groups everywhere he went. As one leading Fultonian said, hearing of his tragic death in a hunting accident: "Jack Blankenship made every patient and every friend feel that their illness or their welfare was the paramount interest in his life."

And there can be no doubt that Dr. Blankenship felt that strong relationship in every action he took. Continued on Page Eight

Austin Tells How Neighbors Helped Him When He Was Hurt

Union City—Sometimes a fellow just doesn't realize how many friends he has until he gets hurt, at least this has been the experience of Tommy Austin who runs 117 acres of land on the Harris-McConnell road five miles south of South Fulton.

And even though his friends were stopped by bad weather, he at least knew they had done all they could.

It was May 7th last year and Mr. Austin had his cotton land broken and was getting ready to harrow it. He slipped and fell off his truck and one of the points of the harrower section went through his right thigh. His wife, who was with him at the time, could not lift his 200 pound frame off the point so she shielded his face from the hot sun while he raised himself.

A handkerchief pushed in the hole stopped the bleeding until he could be rushed to the Obion County General hospital. The late Dr. Robert Darnel told him his farming for that year was through and that he would do nothing for two months.

It was a week later that he discovered just how many generous friends he had. The first tractor pulled onto the Austin farm at about 5 o'clock. Before the morning was spent, over 18 tractors

Service Deluxe Engineer Runs Burning Train To Fulton Firehouse

In case you live in or near Fulton, that fire alarm you heard Tuesday night was caused by a right unusual fire.

In fact, you might say that the fire was brought almost to the firehouse to be put out!

As passenger train Number four, north-bound, was nearing Fulton about ten o'clock Tuesday night, the steam generator in the forward Diesel engine unit caught fire.

Since the tracks downtown are but fifty feet from the Fulton Fire Station, the engineer brought the train in, stopped it at the Walnut Street crossing and blew frantically for help.

The fire alarm at the city hall was sounded promptly, and the fire truck was on the scene in fifteen seconds.

The fire, streaming from the engine roof-high, was quickly extinguished.

The Fulton Fire Department was called out again at about 6:30 Wednesday morning when a coal house back of the Ford Garage caught fire.

Anderson said he tried to save Cartwright but "barely managed to get myself out."

Interest In Girl Scouts And Brownie Scouts Growing In Area

Each year the interest in Girl Scouting is growing and more and more girls are becoming members of this world-wide organization.

Here in our community, three new troops have been formed this fall.

Last week eleven second grade girls of Terry-Norman held their Investiture Ceremony and received their Brownie Scout pins from their leaders, Mrs. Virgil Barker, Mrs. Charles Fields and Mrs. Charles Browder. Troop 16 of South Fulton was formed when those second graders said their Brownie Scout Promise and were received into Girl Scouting by leaders, Mrs. Harold Holladay and Mrs. William Earl Long.

The mothers were invited to the Investiture Ceremony.

These eager Brownies have already planned and executed a hike to the city park. Carr Institute also has a new Brownie troop. Leaders, Mrs. Roy Carver and Mrs. James Adams, gave twelve new Brownie Scouts their pins and welcomed them into Girl

Scouting and Troop Seven.

Other Brownie troops of the third and fourth grades have been busy making very original posters for the Girl Scout fund drive, which will be held Monday, Oct. 27. Be sure to take notice of them in some of the downtown store windows.

Troop Four has a promising group of interior decorators, seamstresses and painters. They are redecorating a basement room at Terry-Norman, where they hold their troop meetings. They are painting tables, making seats out of kegs and decorating curtains. Leaders, Mrs. Jasper Vowell, Mrs. David Homra and Mrs. Ralph Cantrell, are proud of the good work their twenty Brownies are doing!

Troop 37 has gone hiking and also has done some interesting handicrafts. Brownie diaries were made by the 13 members under the leadership of Mrs. Naylor Burnette and Mrs. Burns Crider. This troop is third graders of Carr Institute.

The Baptist Church is the meeting place for the ten members of Troop 36. Crafts are the main interest. Economical, but useful and decorative jewelry boxes were made from cigar boxes. Leaders, Mrs. Abby McBride and Mrs. Wanda Zickafosse are busy helping the troop with their Halloween plans.

The Brownie Scouts are useful and important members of the Girl Scout organization.

Special Rate For House Heating

A special electric rate for house heating, effective in October, was announced by Kentucky Utilities Company this week.

Customers using electricity in homes or places of business as the primary source of heat will pay only 1 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour for the electricity used between October and April, according to KU Vice-President W. H. Skinner.

The special low heating rate, Skinner said, was made possible by the change in the company's peak requirements from winter to summer. Because air conditioning loads have now made the summer peak higher than the winter peak, generation and transmission facilities already built can be used in winter to take care of additional heating loads.

STATE CHAIRMAN ANNOUNCES ASC ELECTIONS
Roy C. Gray, chairman of the State ASC committee announced today that ASC elections will be held in every community throughout the State on Wednesday, November 12, with county conventions to elect ASC county committeemen on Friday, November 14.

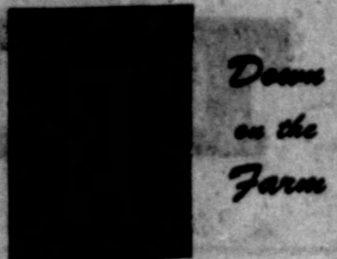

Mr. Gray said that election dates are being announced this far in advance of the elections to give every farmer a chance to think about the names of farmers in their county who would be best qualified to be elected or re-elected as ASC committeemen to administer the farm program on the community and county level for the coming year.

Mr. Gray stressed the importance of farmers participation in these elections by pointing out the fact that out of approximately 210,000 farmers in the State who were eligible to vote in last year's community election only 62,000 voted. Mr. Gray went on to say that it is his sincere desire that every farmer in the state will realize the importance of these elections and will cast his vote when given an opportunity as this is a grass roots farm program which is designed to be administered by farmers who are elected by the farmer.

GET HEIFERS IN MILK EARLY

Most dairymen are gradually accepting the theory that dairy heifers should be bred by weight rather than by age. Yet when an exceptionally fast-developing heifer comes along, some dairymen hesitate to follow the breed by weight theory on the belief that such breeding may in some way endanger the heifers productive potential.

Research and practice have shown that it is advantageous to breed Holstein or Brown Swiss heifers at 750 pounds, Ayrshires at 650 pounds, Guernseys at 550 pounds and Jerseys at 500 pounds regardless of how old the animal is at that time.

If heifers are grown on a proper feeding and management program, they will ordinarily reach breeding weight at 12 to 15 months of age. This puts them in the milking string at 21 to 24 months. Now and then a big growthy heifer may reach breeding weight under 12 months of age. There should be no hesitancy in breeding her under 12 months old if she has reached the proper weight for her breed and if, of course, the dairyman continues to feed and manage properly.

Some dairymen wonder if a heifer is sexually mature at less than 12 months old. Actually, the calf matures sexually, much earlier, but until she has matured physically—as reflected in her weight—she should not be bred. If proper breeding weight is used as a gauge, she will not be judged mature physically before she is mature sexually.

In breeding by weight, the calf must be grown on a sound feeding program which does not allow her to get fat, but which stimulates fast normal growth. Extra income comes to the dairyman who gets their heifers in the milking string early and on a sound basis. Good dairymen everywhere take advantage of the best and most modern feeds and feeding programs in order to develop their heifers fast and economically.

The farm countryside is fast taking on a fall look. As I travel from one area to another, I am impressed by the fall look that some fields are taking on. This is especially true of new seedings and pastures that have the weeds slipped before the seed matured.

All of us enjoy summer and most everything that goes with it, but when fall comes, we know that this is the season of the year when we are able to really "count our blessings". This is the time of year when harvest to most of us means that we can pay our debts, buy the needed items for the family and feel that all our efforts have been worth while.

Mr. Wayne A. Johnston, President of the Illinois Central Railroad recently stated, "A bountiful harvest means more profit for our farmers who are the guiding light to a stronger America."

We have had a very good growing season and with few exceptions things have gone well for the farmer. Most barns are full of hay for our livestock to eat this winter and it seems that the grain crop will also be above average with few exceptions.

As fall season progresses we need to begin thinking about plans for the coming year. Dairying still is out front in the outlook picture so it is always a

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

October bright blue weather had the freshness of spring in the air this week when Cissy and Read Holland came to Fulton for a visit after having been away for two long years. Cissy and Read have been in Indonesia where Read has served on a special professorship at the university there. Coming home the long way around the globe, these attractive young globe-trotters visited in Europe before returning home.

And as was only natural Cissy and Read visited with Mary Davis and John Dicken in Germany and they bring home good reports on the activities of Mary Davis and John in that far off land. Cissy and Read say that Mary Davis really knows her way around the continent and was no end of help to them in getting some of that incomparable merchandise that can only be found in lands away from the good ole USA.

Cissy and Read are off to Dayton, Ohio where Read has received greetings from the Air Force to fly around the country for awhile. We hope that come Christmas time the younger Hollands will be back in the ole home town and if Read has his way, he surely will be. Cissy tells us that Read intended to check in the Air Corps and post haste apply for Christmas leave so he can share those happy holidays with the home folks. We hope so, too.

And of course it was only natural that while in Fulton Cissy and Read should be the inspiration for some lovely gatherings in their honor. Such was the occasion on Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McDade and Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Hunt entertained at "open house" so that Cissy and Read could see all of their old friends.

About two hundred guests attended the affair yesterday. The guests were greeted by Mrs. McDade, wearing a two-piece red wool, featuring a long line embroidered overblouse.

The guests of honor and Mr. and Mrs. Holland received the guests in the living room, which was attractive with colorful arrangements of roses and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Read Holland wore an intricately designed black sheath, featuring a high neckline with a deep V in the back and bracelet length sleeves. Her corsage was a yellow mum. Mrs. W. L. Holland wore a cocktail dress of champagne lace. A taffeta band simulated an extended waistline.

Punch, open faced sandwiches, cookies and party delicacies were served from a beautifully appointed table, overlaid with a lace cloth, and featuring as its central appointment an all-pink arrangement of asters and grapes in a silver tureen. Pink candles in silver holders flanked the arrangement.

Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Ual Killebrew, Mrs.

Horton Baird, Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mrs. Gilson Latta, Mrs. J. R. Hogan, Mrs. Alf Hornbeak, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. Ward Johnson, Mrs. Gene Hatfield, Mrs. Hendon Wright, Mrs. Lorine Hughes, Mrs. Frank Beades and Mrs. W. T. Browning.

Miss Mary Swann Bushart presided at the register.

Out-of-town guests included—Mr. and Mrs. James McAdoo of Union City, Mr. and Mrs. David Critchlow, Union City, Miss Anne Latta of Memphis, Mrs. Frank Butterfield of Orlando, Fla., Mrs. S. W. Booth of Charlotte, N. C., Bob Byars of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hunt of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Creason of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. George Reed of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hornsby of Hickman, Miss Frances Amberg of Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Viron Beard of Martin.

And then on Monday at one o'clock Montez Baird, Mary Nelle Wright (from her bedside at the Fulton Hospital) Florence Beades, Irene White and Mary Ethna Wilson entertained at a perfectly delightful luncheon at the Derby Cafe. About 35 persons enjoyed the hospitality of the hostesses and a wonderful time was had visiting with Cissy. Presented with a corsage and a gift as a memento of the occasion this lovely Kentucky young matron was as charming as could be with all of her Fulton friends, who have known and loved Read since he was . . . well, "so high . . ."

On Tuesday morning Sara Bushart and Mary Swann Bushart entertained with a breakfast at the Park Terrace where good talk and good prevailed. Read, too has been enjoying himself with some first class relaxation and all in all the visit home has made Cissy and Read happy and no end of happiness to the home folks who are mighty glad they're back on good ole US soil.

Drive For Funds To Build Memorial For Dr. Wells Begins

Dr. Rainey T. Wells

A commission of 98 prominent Murray State College Alumni met at Murray Saturday, Oct. 18, to kick-off a drive for funds to build a memorial to Dr. Rainey T. Wells, the founder and former president of the College, who died June 15.

Headed by Dr. Forrest Pogue, former history professor at Murray State and now director of the research center of the General George C. Marshall Research Foundation at Lexington, Va., the group decide on a goal of $25,000 for the memorial, made preliminary plans for the formation of county organizations and committees, and discussed briefly the kind of memorial that should be constructed.

Among others attending the meeting were Dr. Ralph H. Woods, President of Murray State College; Ray McDonald, President of the MSC Alumni Association; Harry Lee Waterfield, Lt. Gov. of Kentucky; Robert A. Everetts, U. S. Congressman from Tennessee's 8th District; Adron Doran, President of Morehead State College, and Joe Morgan, Commissioner of Education for Tennessee.

The commission decided that every graduate of the college should be contacted and urged to contribute. Also, most of the 40,000 students who have attended the college will be contacted as well as the many other friends of Dr. Wells in the area.

Organizations for the memorial fund drive will be set up in many of the counties in Kentucky as well as in other states in which a large number of Murray State alumni reside.

The Murray State Homecoming this year, Oct. 25, has been designated Rainey T. Wells Day, and a special program between halves of the football game with Tennessee Tech will honor the founder and former president of the college.

The executive committee for the commission consists of Dr. Pogue, Chairman; M. O. Wrather, head of the college department of public relations, and secretary of the Alumni Association; Dr. Woods, Murray State president and Mr. McDonald.

Dr. Pogue who graduated from Murray in 1931, told the commission that the death of Dr. Wells marked the end of a generation of tremendous growth for the college—a period in which more than 5000 students graduated from the institution which his vision made possible. "We, the alumni of Murray State College, should provide a memorial for our founder which will bind each generation of students to the early traditions of the college," he said.

Probably no man of his times made a greater impact than Dr. Wells upon the cultural, political, and civic affairs of West Kentucky.

Look of the future on newest highways calls for concrete
The highway ride of 1975 is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your new Interstate System of super-roads

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever.

It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icers can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat . . . stays flat . . . serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System.

Candidate's Name To Be On Fulton School Ballot November 4

Hickman, Ky.—In spite of considerable confusion over the filing deadline, the name of Archie Kemp will be on the ballot for the county school board election here November 4.

Kemp filed on September 20 in keeping with a notice by the County Court clerk's office that that was the last day. Later the Attorney General Walter Herdman, in an opinion written at the request of County Court Clerk Kathryn Lannom, fixed the deadline at September 19.

Clerk Lannom had issued the September 20 deadline notice on the basis of information from Secretary of State Thelma Stovall, and she notified Mrs. Stovall of the ruling to the contrary.

The secretary of state said she issued the original notice on the basis of information from Herdman.

Kemp, stated opponent of Fulton School Superintendent Bearl Darnell and a member of the board now, said at first that he would request that his name be left off the ballot if the validity of his papers was challenged.

He now is agreeable to printing of his name on the ballot, however, according to the County Court clerk.

He said he would "take a chance" on getting involved in an election contest later.

Veterans Are Entitled To Two Benefits

Veterans eligible for social security disability benefits and Veterans Administration non-service connected pensions now may receive both at the same time. This effect of a new federal law was reported by Director R. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board. Formerly the social security payment of the veteran receiving both benefits was reduced by the amount of the V. A. pension.

Those now receiving reduced social security benefits because of receipt of the V. A. pensions will receive automatic increases from social security, Thomas said.

He added that veterans not receiving V. A. pensions because of former provisions or receiving V. A. benefits should write the nearest V. A. office asking that their claims be re-opened.

Assistance may be received from any representative of the Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, Thomas said.

UK Gets Extension To Aid Indonesia

The University of Kentucky's multimillion dollar contract to provide engineering and scientific aid to the University of Indonesia at Bandung has been re-negotiated and extended, and its value has been increased by $1,119,300.

Signing of the new contract was announced last week by Dr. Merl Baker, coordinator of the agreement, which is between UK and the International Co-operation Administration, an agency of the United States State Department.

Under the new provisions, UK will send 20 professors in various fields of science to the Bandung school. Seventeen are already there. Under the original pact, 12 UK professors went to Indonesia to assist the faculty there.

Quit Worrying About The Rest Of The Country

For some reason or other this has seemed a most unusual year, business-wise.

For the past ten years we have gone through a local economy that was utterly tied to the condition of our crops: good crops brought on optimism and good business for us; drought and rain brought on poor crops, pessimism, and slackening business.

And comes 1958, with bountiful crops and what should be optimism and good business, but things are rather quiet.

Somewhere back last year or early in this one, they have had a depression out in the hinterlands, according to the reading we have done, and word of it must have trickled into Fulton and caused things to tighten up.

Why? Personally, here in a country trading center, we have rarely taken seriously any of the big-business analyses we have read, as far as their pertaining to us is concerned. In fact, we have long since come to regard the "big business" of this country as being strictly a parasite, feeding off the thousands of orders it gets from the thousands of little communities like our all over the nation. When "big business" skids down to a standstill, it is because we aren't sending it any orders.

And we haven't sent it many, during these last several years of poor crops.

But now, unless everyone has too many old bills to square off, we ought to have good fall and winter business, and next Spring ought to be right cheerful and optimistic.

That is, if we mind our own affairs and quit worrying about what problems they may be having elsewhere in the nation.

Turning Back The Clock—

October 21, 1938

The proposal to construct a municipal light and power plant in Fulton by floating a $110,000 revenue bond issue was a topic which claimed much of the program at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night. Vernon Owen, chairman of a movement sponsored by the Young Business Men's Club to obtain T. V. A. power for Fulton, led the discussion in favor of the plan. Abe Thompson, manager of Kentucky Utilities Co., in Fulton and Tom Goldsmith, presented the utility side of the matter.

Sheriff J. S. Burcham of Obion County and Sheriff O. C. Henry of Fulton County, accompanied by a posse of officers from both counties discovered Sunday afternoon what Sheriff Burcham described as the largest still he has ever seen.

The still was located about five miles north of Clayton, near the Kentucky-Tennessee line, but on which side Sheriff Burcham was uncertain.

Some Boy Scout with a flair for writing a convincing 100-word essay will win a fully paid round-trip air flight and two weeks' visit to Switzerland next July, it was announced by Jack Fox, Scout Executive, of the Four Rivers Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The contest is sponsored by the American Society for Friendship with Switzerland and BOYS' LIFE, the monthly magazine for all boys published by the Boy Scouts of America.

In his essay of 100 words or less on "Why I Would Like to Visit Switzerland as a Scout," the winner will tell how he proposes to build better understanding between young people of Switzerland and the United States.

Entries will be judged on the basis of understanding world friendship in general, and specifically between young people of both nations.

The contest was inspired by the October Boy Scout theme, "World Brotherhood."

Nearly eight million boys are Scouts in sixty-seven countries of the free world, plus seventy-four geographic subdivisions that are protectorates or colonies. There is also a United Nations Troop composed of sons of United Nations personnel in New York.

Swiss-made watches will be presented to the six runners-up to the winner.

Entries sent to the Boy's Life Switzerland Contest at New Brunswick, New Jersey, must be postmarked not later than midnight, November 15, 1958.

Miss Elizabeth Helton, food specialist of the University of Kentucky, will be present for a training school to be held at the Hickman Homemakers club room on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

Mrs. Ruth Kough Dotson, former Water Valley school teacher and a veteran of 31 years of teaching in the public schools of Hickman, Graves and Carlisle counties, was honored at an "open house" at the Carlisle County High School Sunday.

Attending the happy affair were former students, parents of students, friends and teachers with whom she has served.

Mrs. Dotson received many nice gifts. "Miss Ruth" began her teaching career at Hallwell School near Columbus in Hickman County 31 years ago this fall. She spent two years at Hallwell then moved to Graves County to teach six years at Water Valley.

From Water Valley she returned to Hickman County to teach at Moscow for six years, then she moved to Beulah in the north-eastern corner of Hickman County for seven years of teaching there.

Her next move was to Milburn where she has been teaching for the past ten years, retiring at the end of the 1957-58 school term last spring.

One day last week some telephone boys were clearing the right-of-way along a highway near Fulton when they discovered what appeared to be a grave. They immediately notified local police officers, who investigated. It was a grave, alright, but contained the remains of some dogs.

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

I arrived in San Francisco on the 11th of October. I flew out here from Memphis. Had a nice trip coming out but there were too many mountains! At present, I am visiting my son, Captain James Edwin Corum and his wife and family, who are stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco, California. Some time ago, Ouida said she wanted to do a piece on my son, James, so here are some of the facts: Captain James E. Corum has been in the Army for 18 years. His first station was in Hawaii where he happened to be on the 7th of December 1941. During most of World War II he was stationed in the Pacific. Some of his other overseas stations have been Germany and France. While in Paris, France, Ouida Jewell was scheduled to visit my son and his family who, at the time, were living in a large home which was owned by the Chief Executioner of France, but she became homesick after one day in Paris and only had time to phone them and say she was going right back to Kentucky.

We're going sightseeing in Chinatown today—going to eat some Chinese Chop Suey. We'll try some California-Mexican food tomorrow and do some more sightseeing this week. I am leaving this week and going on to Portland to visit my wife, Alma's mother, sister and two brothers and then will return to Fulton. I think California is wonderful and the scenery is nice, but not nearly as nice as Kentucky!

Sincerely,
Clyde M. Corum

AUSTIN SPRINGS

Mrs. Carey Fields

Mr. Jim Brooks of Smithland, Ky. who is town marshal of his town, was here in our midst the past week, visiting his sister, Mrs. Houston McGuire, and Mr. McGuire. He called on many of his relatives while down this way.

Mr. Burnett Lintz is building a new corn crib on his farm near here.

Messrs. Grover True and D. A. Mathis are the employed carpenter.

Jackson Bros. Funeral Home in Dukedom, has had a new coat of paint on the outside, which adds much to the appearance of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulan Ray Meacham and children of Fort Worth, Texas are here visiting parents, the Meacham family near Martin, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Anderson.

Rev. Hickerson newly elected pastor of New Salem Baptist Church filled his appointment at 11 a. m. and the evening service at 8 p. m.

All over this area grasshoppers are playing havoc to vegetation, such as late gardens, turnip green, peas, and hopped into the early sown rye fields. Millions covered the corn fields too, granddaddys are everywhere on building, covered the chrysanthemums of your writers, and I don't know why they are helpful. (There are no wasps as compared to former years; of which I am happy over the absence of these pests.) Spiders continue to come and go, and all sorts are seen here, there and everywhere. Our cat has caught and played with a groundpuppy, right at the front doorstep. I'd never seen one of those things, looks like a lizard, yet it has four feet and swift running, is only mildly express his made of travel.

Miss Larnie McClain spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Rube Vincent and Mrs. Aithel McClain in Dukedom.

Mr. Sam Mathis continues to improve and altho he has been visiting among relatives, he remains a bed a portion of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown and children, of Paducah, visited their parents, Mrs. Aithel McClain and the Brown family, of Dist. No. 13 the past weekend. Mr. Brown is an employee of Carbon Carbide Co. of Paducah area.

Mr. Ed McClain has been employed near St. Line Road making tasty sorghum molasses, the only mill in operation thus far reported near here.

Those who have sown wheat in this locality are the following: Mrs. Otis Haley who operates the Eula Nelson farm, Messrs. J. W. Bynum, Burton Lassiter, Doyle Fields, Marvin Turbeville, William Roberts and Sons. A much larger acreage has been sown than in former years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frasier of Martin, Tenn. were Friday night guests of parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lassiter.

Profound sympathy is extended to Mrs. M. W. Blankenship and family, in the tragic death of Dr. Blankenship, from all friends around our village who mourn his untimely passing in Colorado the past week while on a deer hunting trip.

Why Would Anyone Vote Against Siegel Bond Issue

We think that South Fulton, collectively, should be proud of the fact that all of the bonds to finance the new Henry I. Siegel factory building were snapped up eagerly and thus the complete financing of the building is assured... AT NO COST to the corporation and its citizens.

The bonds will be retired COMPLETELY out of rentals paid by the Siegel Company on the new building; we cannot see why 100% of the South Fulton citizens wouldn't okay the bond issue, to be voted November

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Call It Anything But Stealing

By Antonette Bosco, contributor to "Information" and other magazines

IT USED to be that if you pilfered, wasted, or damaged another's property, you were guilty of stealing. The modern conscience has decided that it is not the case.

People go to restaurants or hotels and walk off with towels, soap, spoons, napkins, ash trays and other "souvenirs." On these items alone, owners lose millions of dollars yearly.

THE SOUVENIR HUNTERS would protest violently if you said they STOLE these items. They are only taking a memento of their visit. If you convince them that taking these items really is stealing, you get an answer such as I did recently, "The hotel expects these losses and wants them for income tax deductions."

Certainly, those without a "tender conscience" justify walking home with merchandise, even things that have a pretty high value. They have names for their action, such as "squatting accounts," "taking souvenirs," "being smart," or "raising take-home pay." In fact, they call it anything but stealing.

WHO ARE some of the people involved in this modern shoplifting craze? Surprisingly enough many "respectable" people are listed among the guilty. In a men's clothing store, the following people were picked up for shoplifting within twenty days: an insurance company executive, a lawyer, a doctor's wife, a factory owner, the manager of another store and a federal employee. Many shoplifters are teenagers who lift goods "for a lark," or to avoid being called "chicken" by friends.

Last year, market owners in four

4th. It will cost them nothing on the building; the bonds are "revenue" bonds.

We learn from apprehensive individuals that there are certain citizens of South Fulton who do not favor the bond issue for the Siegel building, and intend to vote against it.

For the life of us, we can't understand why. In our opinion they would be doing the other residents of their community a real injustice by voting against the issue just to be contrary, and there can be no other reason.

southern California counties had over a million and a half dollars worth of shopping carts stolen—some 55,000 of them—mostly by customers who pushed them home.

What is behind this sudden surge of stolen goods?

SHOPLIFTERS and pilferers simply want something for nothing. Many people subconsciously believe the world somehow owes them a living. They often have the muddled idea that taking something from a big company really isn't stealing. They don't see until they are caught that they are breaking God's commandment—THOU SHALT NOT STEAL.

HOW CAN WE teach honesty to a materialistic society which is "broad-minded" in its interpretation of the morality found in the Ten Commandments? We must teach honesty—the strict honesty of Thou shalt not steal—by the way we live and by what we say. We won't be popular because of our stand on honesty, but we must convince the "something for nothing" crowd that the real word for their actions is STEAL, and stealing violates the law of God.

As Father James Keller of the Christophers has written, "Honesty must be in a man's conscience. If he is to show an abiding respect for the property of others, despite all temptations, he must realize in his own heart that God sees all that he does, and that one day he must render an account of his stewardship."

Funds Will Aid Kentuckians If Hit By Enemy

The State is prepared to provide its people emergency financial assistance in event of enemy attack within the borders of Kentucky.

According to a plan of operation of state government in an emergency, issued by the Kentucky Civil Defense, the Kentucky Department of Economic Security has been authorized by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to dispense this assistance.

Under the plan, C. D. assumes that in case of enemy attack large numbers of people will suffer personal, financial and property losses. Income and payments of all kinds will be disrupted.

D. says, and not intended to restore individuals to their circumstances and to replace all their losses. The plan states:

"Services rendered will largely be of the short-contact type, aimed at easing the immediate stress of the emergency experience and assisting affected individuals to use their capabilities and available resources to re-establish themselves and their families."

The services, C. D. says, will make it possible for people to obtain the necessities of life, to manage their own affairs and to contribute to national recovery.

The economic security department will administer the emergency program from the alternate capital at Danville. Applications for assistance will be processed by representatives of the agency's district offices.

The program is temporary, C.
