Check-Tires-Week Very Important To Motorists

This is national "Check-Your-Tires-Week," instituted by the National Association of Independent Tire Dealers with the cooperation and approval of all government agencies interested in motor transportation. Purpose is to conserve tires by having them repaired or recapped when they need it, not after tires have been ruined. Unless motorists are in the essential classification they likely will be unable to obtain a certificate for a tire, and even an approved certificate is no good unless a tire is available, OPA warned. Here are some of the reasons why new tires will be scarce this year: There are shortages of skilled tire builders, cotton cord and vital chemicals; military re-

County Retailers To Meet April 3

Price Specialist To Explain New OPA Regulations Here
Requirements of the new retail regulation on pricing of apparel and home furnishings will be discussed at a meeting of retail merchants of Caldwell county with representatives of OPA Tuesday night, April 3, at 8 o'clock in the Courthouse, L. C. Lisman, chairman of the County War and Rationing Board, announced this week.

All Caldwell county merchants who sell clothing, shoes, furniture, household textiles or home furnishings of any kind are urged to attend this meeting, Mr. Lisman said. A price specialist schooled in provisions of the new regulations, which became effective March 20, will be present to assist retailers with their problems.

Each merchant should have received a copy of the new regulation (MPR 580) and any one failing to receive a copy should request one from the board office, the chairman said.

Moves To Evansville

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Powers, Locust street, moved to Evansville, Ind., Monday, where they will make their home. Mr. Powers recently retired from his duties as a conductor for the I. C. Railway here.

Decision to have the campaign for a new hospital here was reached last week by the Hospital Board, which also decided to accept the offer of a four-acre plot situated two blocks off W. Main street and at the foot of Short street, which is a part of a field belonging to Dr. F. T. Linton. The lot will be presented to the hospital board without reservation, Dr. Linton said.

It was suggested the new institution be called the Caldwell County War Memorial Hospital as a living, constantly serving monument to the men and women of this community who served in the nation's armed forces during World Wars I and II.

Blue-prints, prepared some years ago, when a similar campaign was in prospect but never developed, were approved by the board and will be used by the builders, unless minor changes are decided upon later, a spokesman for the board said. They call for a 24-bed hospital with complete operating room, nursery and delivery room. Cost of the proposed hospital is $100,000, with $25,000 of this amount to be spent for equipment.

Henry Severson, president of the First National Bank and president of the Kiwanis Club, was named by the Hospital Board to be chairman of the financial campaign, with full power to choose his assistants. Mr. Severson said Monday he had accepted the task and hoped for the full cooperation of business and professional leaders, ministers, farmers, school folk, and men and women in all walks of life who expect to live in Princeton and Caldwell county and who desire to make this a community which offers the best possible safeguards for health.

"A period of a month or two must of necessity elapse before we actually get the drive for funds under way," Gordon Lisansby, president of the Hospital Board, said this week, "during which time we hope to carry on, through the newspapers, an intensive educational program in connection with the need here of a modern hospital.

"A large number of citizens, familiar with conditions under which the present hospital is operated, are aware that it is impossible longer to attempt to give anything like acceptable service there. We have gone on, under growing handicaps, until we were faced with the necessity of deciding whether to abandon efforts to furnish hospitalization in Princeton or to arrange as speedily as is feasible, for a better building and equipment. We could not, in good conscience, (Please turn to Page Four)

James Reece, well known farmer of Princeton Route 3, is formally announcing his candidacy for Magistrate in District No. 4 of Caldwell county today. His statement to the voters in the Democratic primary election to be held Saturday, August 4, follows:
To the Democratic Voters of the fourth District.
After careful consideration, I have decided to announce as a candidate for Magistrate of District 4, Caldwell County, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary election, Saturday, August 4. I would appreciate all your votes and your influence, and promise to treat all of you alike if elected.

Farm Bureau Takes Lead To Help County Schools

The Caldwell County Farm Bureau has included in its program for this year a study of the problem presented by the county schools, looking toward development of a modern system in the not distant future.

This is a real forward step deserving the whole hearted and sympathetic cooperation of every organization and citizen in the community, both town and county, since elementary and high school education is, for the mass of young folk, all they receive.

Kentucky's educational problems are great and the solution difficult to envision, because of the fact that the federal government takes so heavy a toll of the State's chief industries and the Legislature at Frankfort is thereby limited as to revenue producing sources.

Only recently much has been said and published concerning how far short Kentucky falls in providing for her young folk educational opportunities equal to those of the Nation as a whole. We know that in the list of 48 states, Kentucky stands 42nd in amount spent for each pupil for education.

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky, told the Governor's Postwar Advisory Planning Commission recently that if all the money taken in annually from taxes by the State of Kentucky were spent for education, Kentucky still would rank below states which do a really topnotch job in providing educational advantages for their youth.

Heavy federal taxes on tobacco and whiskey, as well as upon incomes, place Kentucky at a distinct disadvantage in finding sources of taxation which will yield revenues so vitally necessary to proper implementation of our schools and colleges. It is also true that many counties of the State, even tho they assess the maximum for school purposes permitted under the law, still find themselves unable to provide anything approaching modern educational opportunities for their children.

Recently Kentucky colleges and groups organized to work for educational progress have been active in urging federal aid in solving Kentucky's educational problems; but the Governor's advisory commission took a stand against this, a majority of its members expressing the belief that federal aid would mean federal domination of the school system.

The matter is too large to be solved here; yet it bears so urgently upon this community and its future as to command the earnest attention of every citizen.

Our own problems in education, beginning at home, can be solved to some extent at least if groups already constituted and active in Princeton and the county will join with the Farm Bureau and work for such improvement as is possible to us in the circumstances which presently govern here.

Pennyrile Postscripts By G. M. P.

A dashing young driver named Bill, Drove recklessly down a steep hill. Said he: "I'm renowned For covering ground." But, alas, now the ground covers Bill!

John Ed Young, quiet and unassuming insurance man who has won a place high in the regard of the community during his comparatively few years in business here, was receiving congratulations Monday upon acquisition of the Service Insurance Agency. Mr. Young's work as chairman of the Red Cross chapter has gained him splendid standing throughout the county . . . and he owns a reputation as a thoroughly dependable civic asset. May he continue to prosper and grow in every material way.

Young Bill Ryan, a visitor from Paducah, is a fine example of good training in youth. Bill was a spectator at the Boy Scout court of honor at Fredonia Sunday afternoon and impressed boys and adults alike with his manliness, poise and personality. He has been overseas, serving in Italy with the Army; will go soon to Amherst College for a year's specialized training preparatory to entering West Point. He is a nephew of Carl Sparks, district chairman of Boy Scouts, and is visiting his parents on 21-day furlough.

Lois Ratiiff was happy Saturday night when she received some small cans of yellow paint for use in fixing up the Country Club, where already she has achieved wonders of interior decoration. It seems there was no "canary" paint in town but friends found some in a neighboring county seat.

The men's Coffee Club has a rival these mornings . . . some of the women folk having formed the habit of meeting at a Main street place and exchanging news . . . which we wish we could acquire but which, it is strongly suspected, would not do to print.

Grayson Harrison, president, said this week only two more "playing members" can be taken in by the Country Club to reach the 100 limit set by the board of directors. Then only senior memberships will be available, he said. Interest is high in the club this year and many improvements and innovations are planned.

The City Council, Kiwanis Club and churches are again giving thought to a proper observance in Princeton of V-E Day, when Germany finally is beaten. Hope is there will be sober thanksgiving here for the victory . . . and no real rowdyish, as hearts are gladdened by promise of peace to come throughout the world . . . tho we still will have a long way to go.

Economists and experts are warning us that end of the war in Europe will not mean any better supply of much needed war things on the home front; such as tires, sugar, meat, staple clothing. It will take time to get the manufacturing plants

Veterans Get Going On The Button

By Jack Stinnett (Associated Press Features) Washington — There's a mild little storm brewing, already clouding the horizon, in fact, which may become one of those home front gales. It's over the discharge insignia button to be worn by veterans who have been honorably dismissed from the services.

According to Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, Grosse Point, Mich., Democrat, discharged veterans think so little of the button that less than 15,000 of the hundreds of thousands given their honorable walking papers have applied for them.

The lapel insignia is a plastic button, over-stamped with a gold-colored alloy, so that it has the appearance of metal. Its only design is an eagle with wings-tips extended beyond the edges of the button. One complaint is that it isn't different from patriotic buttons which may be bought in novelty stores. Another is that it is so easily counterfeited that if its use should develop into any significance, the right to its possession would be open to doubt.

Congressman Rabaut's investigation of the criticism against it in his district has disclosed that in one case a veteran of Guadalcanal wearing the button was publicly ridiculed because he appeared physically fit. He was accused of getting it for regular attendance at a race track. And a man at the war factory where he was working sneered that it's "one of those production pins they give you for raising chickens."

In a survey made by the Detroit Free Press, out of scores of civilians and service men shown the button along with several others on a card, only one man picked out the honorable insignia for what it was: that was a veteran who happened to have one—in his pocket.

It's reported here that American Legion posts are getting behind a move to have the button changed to a more distinctive insignia in some allocated metal that can't be easily counterfeited.

Pressure will be put on the services to change the button before any steps will be taken toward legislative action.

The poll tax may still be the most controversial subject to rear its head before the Senate

(the House, where endless debate and consequently filibusters are verboten, has passed an anti-poll tax bill several times) but what is happening to poll taxes in the states is something else. Little Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia has just made political history of shoving an anti-poll tax bill through there, leaving only seven states that now have a similar restriction against free voting. By the way, write the name of young Gov. Arnall down in your books. Political observers here who can see across the Potomac are saying that he is one of the most interesting political figures to emerge in the south in recent years. He's making news that extends well beyond the borders of Georgia.

Sheep Parasite Control Program
"Phenothiazine Week," held at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington last year, and planned for the second week in April this year, has been postponed because of restrictions in travel, it is announced by Richard C. Miller.

"It is important, however," Mr. Miller added, "that postponing 'Phenothiazine Week' does not cause any let-up in the sheep parasite control program. Phenothiazine was used in probably 70 percent of Kentucky flocks last year. The program enabled thousands of farmers to grow out their late lambs to heavier weights and better market condition, in some instances to 90 to 100 pounds or even heavier. No one who carried out the program had any trouble finishing late lambs.

"Where ewes are rams were dosed in late fall and again after lambing, and flocks kept on the one to nine phenothiazine-salt mixture from May 1 through September, it was not necessary to dose lambs during the summer. Only in a few cases where farms were heavily stocked and where there was little provision for pasture rotation, was it necessary to treat lambs. Even farmers who did not treat their sheep before lambing but dosed them in the spring, and kept the phenothiazine-salt mixture before them during the summer, found the program effective.

"Both from the standpoint of the critical meat situation and financial income to farmers, flocks should be dosed with phenothiazine late in March or in April, and the phenothiazine-salt mixture placed before them not later than May 1 and kept convenient until October.

"While Kentucky produced many of the best lambs in this country, these are mostly lambs marketed before midsummer. Late lambs normally average 10 to 12 pounds less in weight than do early lambs and bring less a pound because of poor condition. The phenothiazine program, if carefully followed, will almost entirely correct this situation, as has been demonstrated in phenothiazine-test flocks, involving thousands of ewes in the past few years."

Canners To Have Pressure Cookers

Keep an eye out for pressure cookers scheduled to appear this spring in local stores in Kentucky, is the advice of Mrs. Pearl Haak, field agent in foods at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, to housewives who will be needing such equipment for canning. Most manufacturers are making two sizes, the smaller holding seven quart jars, and the larger, 14 quarts. All canners are made of cast aluminum, are streamlined and have wooden handles. Made primarily for canning, they have a rack to hold the jars, but also have in- set pans—two half-pans and a full pan—to use in cooking foods. The small size canner is especially convenient for family use for foods requiring long cooking, such as soups, baked beans, cereals and certain cuts of meat.

County Births 264, Deaths 87 In '44

Heart Ailments Caused Most Fatalities, Health Office Reports

Figures released through the Caldwell County Health Department by Mrs. Margaret G. Pettit, registrar of vital statistics, show Caldwell county, with an estimated population for 1944 of 13,016, had a birth rate of 20.3 a thousand, whereas the birth rate for the entire state of Kentucky was 22.6.

Exclusive of stillbirths, there were 264 births in Caldwell county, Mrs. Pettit said. The county death rate is 11.7 a thousand, whereas the death rate for the entire state is 10.1. Total deaths in Caldwell county, exclusive of stillbirths, for 1944 numbered 152, Mrs. Pettit said.

According to age groups, there were 66 deaths in Caldwell county in 1944 of persons more than 70 years old; six from 1 to 70 years, and 15 under 1 year.

Diseases of the heart accounted for 38 deaths, cerebral hemorrhage, 20; cancer, 12; nephritis, 12; accidents, 6; influenza, 5; pneumonia, 7; tuberculosis (all forms) 5; diphtheria, 2; infantile paralysis, 1; diarrhea and enteritis (under 2 years) 1; maternal deaths, 1, according to the record in the County Health office.

WHO'S THRILLED NOW!—St. Sgt. Theodore R. Balbo Rye Leads Cover Crop Test

Balbo rye is far ahead of other grains in a cover-crop demonstration on Arthur Wood's farm at Cherry Grove, Grant county. Thorne wheat, oats, common rye, balbo rye, burley, vetch and crimson clover are growing in strips along the roads where all interested farmers may see them. Here are some comments of County Agent Robert Hume:

"The small grains also show the advantage of a cover crop seeded early in the fall. Erosion on all sides of the plot is many times greater than in these grains. Mr. Wood seeded ordinary wheat in the rest of the field about a week after demonstration plots were seeded.

"It will be seen that vetch alone fails to control erosion and that some grain should always be sown with it. Vetch has not been recommended for erosion control, but a few farmers have tried leaving out the grain. Vetch's job is to build fertility."

A flock of 180 New Hampshire Reds belonging to Fred Kirk of Bell County averaged 21.5 eggs during one month. Edmonson county farmers, finding that kobe lespedeza makes more hay and pasture on low ground than korean, have sowed more than 7,000 pounds this spring. In Breathitt county, 516 girls and 451 boys are enrolled in the 4-H club projects of corn, poultry, swine, grapes and clothing. Certified tobacco seed was used by all farmers in Lee county last year. Thanks to Retonga I have gained ten pounds and feel like a different man," declares C. M. Gilley, well known resident of 117 Warren St., Minnville, Tenn., one of the most substantial citizens of his town. Discussing Retonga Mr. Gilley gratefully continued: "I had my share of distress from sour stomach, indigestion, sluggish elimination. Sometimes the gas in my stomach was so severe I felt like I had screamed. I had to take something after practically every meal to try to settle my stomach. My head ached at times like it would split, and I had to constantly dose myself for sluggish elimination. I was under weight, complexion was sallow, and I felt rundown to where I could hardly stay on the job. Retonga began relieving me promptly. I sleep restfully all night and all that distress from gas pains, constipation, acid indigestion and headaches have been entirely relieved. I am back at my normal weight, and I feel better than in fifteen years. The best favor I can do anyone suffering as I did is to tell them about Retonga." Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Retonga may be obtained at Dawson's Drug Store. —(adv.)

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
1 Taken like a tonic, it stimulates appetite, aids digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic spasms.
Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—in risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—and constantly tired, nervous. All work out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body wastes. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by physicians everywhere. Ask your druggist!

Brave little Hearts that will Never Forget!

Hard and cruel have been the lives of young ones in war-torn countries. Children like these—30 million of them—are hungry, homeless, nearly naked. Deaths from exposure are often as many as deaths from starvation. Tuberculosis and typhus run rampant among them.
Never will their brave hearts forget the horrors of war. Never will their grateful hearts forget your gift of the clothing they so sorely need—clothing which now hangs unused in your closet—or reposes forgotten in your attic.

And remember, these pitiful children of today will be our proud partners of tomorrow in keeping the permanent peace we are all fighting for! Isn't their everlasting friendship worth your spare clothing?
America must help clothe about 125 million men, women, and children in Europe alone. This month, America must collect 150 million pounds of serviceable used clothing to take care of part of their needs.
Some of that clothing must be yours—as much as you can spare.
Will you do your share today?

What YOU Can Do!
1 Get together all the serviceable used summer and winter clothing you can spare. This includes: Men's, women's, children's, and infants' wear, and shoes. Overcoats, topcoats, suits, dresses, shirts, skirts, jackets, pants, work clothes, gloves, underwear, sleeping garments, robes, sweaters, shawls, and all knit goods. Also blankets, bedclothes.
2 Take your contribution to your Local COLLECTION DEPOT now or arrange to have your LOCAL COMMITTEE collect it before April 30th.
3 Support your Local Committee not only with your clothing contribution but also with your time, effort, and energy.
