Florence Unlimited Is a Hit; Student Efforts Are Praised

Marymount's first dramatic production, "Florence Unlimited," is living proof of what students can do, given a cause, good leadership, and motivation to work. The Drama Club started out as a student project, organized totally by Lindy Kirk, with the cooperation of Mr. Carrigan and Mr. Hussey from the English Department. The response was overwhelming. A total of about 60 students signed up for the club. The ones that were willing to work remained.

Others were dropped through a system of precise organization. But most members were interested enough to follow directions.

The final performance took place on May 1, 1966 in front of a full house at the Marymount auditorium. The debutante actresses were worthy of Broadway. Janet Hotard, as the Mr. Laughton's quiet secretary, Cheryl Sweeney as his unpredictable, excitable nurse, Jody Wilbert as the "sweet, Southern Belle," who wasn't always so sweet. Joyce Grant as Jewel Jennings, unforgettable for her "fancies." Maria Tucci as Florence D'Arte, and her improvised Parisian accent. Patti O'Brien as the "sweet smelling" Aunt Adie.

They were the visible results of a carefully organized project, originated, directed and successfully carried out by Jennifer Kirk, who deserves unlimited amount of praise, if only for heading the best organized club in the school. All those connected with the play were responsible for making it such a success. Hopefully, this is only the beginning.

Phi Theta Kappa Initiates Ten New Student Members

The installation of new members to the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society took place on April 27, 1966. The purpose of this national organization is to promote scholarship, to develop character and to cultivate fellowship among the students of both sexes at the junior colleges of the United States of America. An index of at least 3.00 in the regular four year college transfer program is required for membership. The following freshmen have been elected to the Xi Beta Chapter of the Phi Theta Kappa Fraternity.

Nancy Lou Babb
Claudia Brown
Jane Calder

Lee Daniel
Suzette Doyon
Joyce Heffernan
J'Lene Mayo
Kathryn Mulroy
Angela Peynado

The officers of the society were also installed that night, at a dinner where Mother de la Croix, Sister Gerard (Sponsor) and Miss Mary Ann Dick (Divisional Chairman) were present.

President, Sheila Maloof
Vice Pres., Lee Daniel
Sec., Elaine Walgren
Treas., Angela Peynado

Membership to this society is one of the highest honors on campus. The new and old members deserve to be congratulated for their achievements.

"You're on in five. . . ." Florence Unlimited proves successful.

Marymount...Evermore

There's something about a good college where your days seem to bud with new life where close friends you've made you will never let fade and the memories you've made bring such joy.

Though we've finished our two years of college and we're anxious for what lies beyond in our heart will abide loyalty and great pride of our college our dear Marymount.

There's something about Marymount college where the lantern of truth is held high where we're taught to hold dear the ideals of our years Marymount, we'll love you. . . evermore.

Students are initiated into Phi Theta Kappa honor society.

Use the Key

For the past two years, we have attended Marymount. We have gone to classes, listened to what the teachers had to say, done the required assignments, and perhaps, if the course was specially interesting, we have done some independent work. But now, with final examinations over, we don't have to worry about grades any longer. We can feel free to forget everything we struggled so hard to remember during the past two years. And no doubt some of us will.

If we do this, we will succeed in making regal fools of the dedicated teachers who actually believed at times that they were teaching us something. We will make fools out of our parents who spared nothing to give us what they thought would be an education to last a lifetime. And of course, we would be the biggest fools of all for wasting two years pretending that we were learning, when we could have been working, traveling or maybe even married.

Except that, without an education, just what kind of work could we possibly be doing? How prepared would we be to become wives? How good would we be at the art of conversation with friends we make while traveling? Obviously, without some education, we wouldn't be prepared for much. In our contemporary society we need an education just to be a good citizen.

Some of us claim, "All I'm going to do is get married." How much more important an education is then! If not for our own sake, for the sake of the children. All they will learn in the first few years the formative years, they will learn through us, their mothers. What kind of a mother will we make when we have nothing to teach them, because we didn't think learning was worth the effort?

But we're not only responsible for our immediate family. Our world has shrunk with the advances in communication and transportation. Where a famine in Viet Nam was unknown to us 200 years ago, today it is as much our concern as it is the Vietnamese. The age of nationalism has given way to the citizen of the world. Nations are too close together in our time to allow petty reasons, such as 5 yards more or less on their side of the border, to cause war. War has become too lethal a weapon to be used. We've had two world wars. Supposedly they would stop all future wars. They did not. The next war could. There would not be anyone left to fight.

It is our duty to use our educations, to put all the wonderful theories we've discussed and praised in History class to practice. The fact that we are women cannot stop us anymore, since we have the same legal rights as men. The place to start is at home. Even if women don't make most government decisions, their husbands do. And who has the most influence over a man than his wife? But then again, the wife must understand the crises at hand in order to be able to influence her husband into making the right choice.

If we kept our minds and hearts opened to knowledge during the past two years we should now be somewhat more fit to lead a Christian life. Our education is the key to the gate on the way to this life. We can crawl under or climb over this gate if we want. The smarter ones among us will do it in a better way; they'll use the key.

Pleasant days reflected at Marymount

Improvements for '67?

The Power of Suggestion

By Nancy Babb

From coffee machines to a Student Union to an art center -- freshmen at Marymount have voiced their opinion in the needs they see lacking at the present. Suggestions and improvements for Marymount are only minor, for all have agreed that a more beautiful and modern school could not be found in the area. However, no institution of learning is complete without complaints from the student body. Next year's Sophomores would like to see a few added improvements such as more buses and reduced cab rates if possible for transportation to town and back.

ANN ABBATE suggests, "Next year I hope to see a stronger hand between the freshmen and sophomore classes and by doing this we might have students become more interested and participate more in school functions." Ann also stated that, "rules should be enforced and 'nonsense' rules should be done away with. There should be more concentration on major rules."

SUE SWARTZBAUGH: "Daily and Sunday newspapers in the main lobby of each dorm should be available to the students. Perhaps three major newspapers such as the New York Times, the Miami Herald and the Chicago Tribune would cover the main parts of the country where the girls are from! This should be carried out and not forgotten because it is nice to know what is going on in the world!"

JANE CAULDER: "I think better organization in the administration of this school is needed. Also, the rules are too strict in some cases and too lenient in others -- there is too much of an extreme."

CANDY BROWN: "As far as culture programs are concerned, I think that ones should be introduced other than piano concerts such as a drum concert or one with any other musical instrument spotlighted. We also need music in the dining room at all meals."

TERRY ROGERS: "We should have coffee machines, the juke box should be for free, and I think we should have a list of punishments for a cause instead of being campused for any little thing."

JODI EWALD: "Better notification on coming events, especially for the benefit of the day students is badly needed here."

DEBBI WHITE: "We need water fountains in the dorms."

MARIA AMADOR: "We should have a Student Union which would provide greater class unity, and more freshmen-sophomore communications. Reverend Mother wants to start an art corner -- I think we need it!"

EILEEN ROETTELE: "I think the students need better notification so that we can know what is going on around here."

JANET HOTARD: "There was a lot of confusion last year at registration. I think we should have sophomores present with the advisors to tell the freshmen what the classes are really like and what is required for graduation."

PAT COSIER: "The school should present more of an academic challenge to the students. There is not enough opportunity for creative work. Actually, Marymount needs nothing materially, it's like a country club -- but it does need spirit."

Improvements Expected For L'Azur Next Year

Suggestion towards improvements for next year have been approached in numerous ways. The most important undertermined improvement relates to the continuance of next year's L'Azur. Who will guide the officers for the following issues, is the controversial problem.

The meeting of the extra-curricular activities clubs suggested that a course in Journalism and an experienced counselor is necessary for the successfulness of L'Azur. This naturally would be a great asset towards the continuance of the paper.

This year L'Azur was unable to meet its goal of nine publications. Although it was a good experience for those who contributed, it became a constant burden of not knowing correct procedures. This is why careful guidance is needed in the organization of the co-curricular club. It should not be considered merely an extra curricular activity.

L'Azur graciously thanks the Boca News and Mr. John Opel in aiding the publication of our college newspaper. Without their help, our editions would have been at a tremendous loss.

From '66 to '67 - Sophomo

We the Sophomore Class of 1966, being of questionably sane mind, and undoubtedly sound bodies, do hereby bequeath to the Freshman Class the following items:

Vicki Baker wills to Anne Hockensmith an engagement ring to replace the one that disappeared. . . ?
to Cheryl Sweeney, an extra strand of beads, a pair of loop earrings bigger than her own, the artistic job of painting all the "Keep off the Grass" signs, and the lead role in "Where the Boys Aren't."
to Debbie White, the only outfit missing in her wardrobe, a transparent plastic bikini trimmed in gold to attract attention.

Gaby Bazan leaves to Panchita Arias the "Cafe de los Gitanos," and a "hot" date with Adriano, to J'Lene Mayo, her proof of 21, so she'll be able to drink all the Cutty Sark she wants.

Gilda Beliveau leaves many decisions to make to Margie Houlihan, to Sugie Mann she leaves a Holy Cross friend,
to Ruth McQuinn, many vacations in Maine.

Kathy Brodigan gladly bequeaths: to Margo Casey a volume of history books and admiration for all history courses.

Joanne Budds leaves her ability to do accounting to Terry Geisen.

Fefa Cabrera leaves Pat Fritze her sun tan oil, to Marilyn Spallino, a new towel to put on her hair for government class.
reluctantly wills to Fran Piperno her talent to pierce ears. Hope business is as good for you as it was for me!

Judy Calandra wills to Maria Amador, the FAU parties, to Mary Murray, her "swinging times" in Boca Raton,
to Joyce Heffernan, her height.

Mary Campbell leaves Joanne Buklad an extended two month campus.

Diane Carey leaves to Alice Murphy a telephone call from Texas,
to Ann Abbate, her love and admiration for Miss Webber,

Lynn Carson leaves Pam Griesedick all the Delray Beach Lifeguards -- keep trying. . .
Diane Catsman, her overpowering voice.
Jane Beattie, the wild life of Peyton Place South, along with Nancy Quinn, she leaves Bonnie Thompson the Columbus Hotel in Nassau, bedbugs and all!
to Mary Fitzgerald and Mary Sheehy, the hope that they'll get together.

Ruth Corcoran leaves Janet Butler, the kitchen help, to Denise Sullivan, the honor of setting & cleaning up at mixers next year, to Carolyn McGrath, a bottle of No-Doz for next year.

Magda de Armas wills Kathy Sansone her streaks.

Judy de None bequeaths Margie Waldron a ticket to see Frank Sinatra, to Ret Louis, the organization of the hostesses at Parents Weekend for next year.
to Carol Hollingsworth her boldness and loud mouth and all the duties attached with the blue bus.
along with Charlotte Iovino and Arlene Jansack, leaves rooms 3 and 4 of Cynthia's Manor in Ft. Lauderdale, and 20 cases of Busch beer.

Joanne Donnelly leaves Alesia Cruchley a bottle of Platinum Plus, and a $3,00 IOU, to Joan Donnelly and Margo Donnelly, the Donnelly name -- hope you have better luck with it than I did,
to Kathy Foley a case of Bacardi and a few chuckles in 2-26, to Hope McAdams the saying -- "Here today, gone tomorrow" . . .
to Kathy Kelly a little sister as nice as her,
to Valerie Lang, her quiet personality.

Pat Doran leaves Cinny McFadden a box of quinine tablets.

The sign led to Marymount

The news had just been told

Who would argue the facts?

We tried to celebrate the occasion

We fought over who would be in first

Jean's attitude was exotic!

Our insanity was a true downfall

Although it was hard to concentrate

A mythological approach was added

A toast to a speedy recovery

Finally at the end

There was a lot of pride

The pool! - One great night it happened
