

LYNN UNIVERSITY CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

SEASON

When talent meets inspiration, the results are extraordinary.

Dr. Jon Robertson,
Dean

Welcome to the 2006-2007 season. The talented musicians and extraordinary performing faculty at Lynn represent the future of the performing arts, and you, the patrons, pave the road to their artistic success through your presence and generosity. This community engagement is in keeping with the Conservatory of Music's mission: to provide high-quality professional performance education for gifted young musicians and set a superior standard for music performance worldwide.

THE ANNUAL FUND

A gift to the Annual Fund can be designated for scholarships, various studios, special concerts or to the General Conservatory Fund.

ADOPT-A-STUDENT

You may select from the conservatory's promising young musicians and provide for his or her future through the Conservatory Scholarship Fund. You will enjoy the concert even more when your student performs. A gift of $25,000 adopts a student for one year. A gift of $100,000 pays for an education.

ESTATE GIFT

An estate gift will provide for the conservatory in perpetuity. Your estate gift may be made as a gift of appreciated stock, real estate or cash.

FRIENDS OF THE CONSERVATORY

As a member of the Friends of the Conservatory, you will be involved in an organization that seeks to address the needs of the students and the conservatory as a whole. This organization has just completed its first year and now includes more than 100 members providing major scholarship assistance to the students.

VOLUNTEERING

Become a volunteer. Contact the ticket office manager at 561-237-9000 for more information.

Your contribution to the conservatory is tax-deductible. For additional information, you may call the development office at 561-237-7766, or visit the university's Web site at www.lynn.edu.

Currently, Ms. Rusina is pursuing her Professional Performance Certificate at Lynn University under the guidance of Prof. David Cole.

Oliver Salonga, piano

Hailed for his pianistic power and poetry, Oliver Salonga has enthralled music aficionados in the concert halls of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific. He is being recognized by Filipino musicians to follow the footsteps of the Philippines' most celebrated pianist, Cecile Licad. At the age of 19, he has demonstrated an outstanding ability to communicate with audiences on a deeply personal level that made him one of the most exciting Filipino pianists of his generation.

This summer, he participated in Las Vegas Music Festival and was given an opportunity to play the world premiere of Philippe Bodin's Fling with the Las Vegas Music Festival Orchestra. He had master classes with Ursula Oppens, Nelita True, James Giles, and Jerome Lowenthal. Most recently, Oliver was awarded the Ruth Nelson Kraft Scholarship Award by the Lynn Conservatory for his exemplary talent as a pianist.

In December 2006, he is engaged to perform the Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto Opus 23 in b-flat minor with the Philippine Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Eugene Castillo.

His 2005 engagements were received with critical acclaim. In January, he played the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 2 in c minor with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra under the baton of George Ellis and got a standing ovation and thunderous applause after his performance. In March, he played the Liszt Piano Concerto No. 2 in A major with the Lynn University Philharmonia under the baton of Albert George Schram. In June, he made his debut with the Manila Philharmonic Orchestra playing the Liszt under the baton of Rodel Colmenar and exceeded the expectations of the Manila public. As a chamber musician, he performed the Brahms and Schumann Piano Quintets with the San Miguel String Quartet in the Philippines.

During the summer of 2004, Mr. Salonga concertized in Taiwan and had a national concert tour in his native country of the Philippines. He was the winner of 2004 Lynn Concerto Competition and was a two-time Grand Prize winner in piano of 2003 and 2004 Madelyn Savarick Annual Scholarship Competition of the Centre for the Arts at Mizner Park in Boca Raton, Florida. Most recently, he won the alternate position in the 2005 Florida State Music Teacher's National Association Young Artist's Category. He has played live in WXEL radio station several times. He had master classes with Sarah Davis Bueckner, Yoshikazu Nagai, Rebecca Penneys, Cecile Licad, Jon Nakamatsu, and Philip Evans where he received positive comments and great appreciation. At Lynn University, Oliver is a member of the president's honor society. He is currently in his third year and is pursuing his Bachelor's degree under the tutelage of Dr. Roberta Rust.

Born in Manila, the Philippines on June 26, 1986, Mr. Salonga started playing the piano at age 7 under the tutelage of Prof. Carmencita Arambulo. He gave his first solo public recital at the age of 11 playing the Mozart Piano Concerto in d minor K. 466. He first came to the attention of the Manila's music enthusiasts and gained national recognition when he won the National Music Competition for Young Artists (NAMCYA) twice in a row – 1998 and in 2001. He graduated from the Philippine High School for the Arts and was awarded as the Most Outstanding Graduate Artist for Music and as the First Honorable Mention of his class. After his triumph at the 2001 NAMCYA performing Beethoven Piano Concerto in C Major Opus 15, he appeared in concert halls of Taiwan, Japan, Singapore, Korea, and the Philippines where his emerging keyboard artistry and touch got positive notice.

Brad Tatum, French horn

Brad Tatum is currently in his second and final year of his Masters Degree at Lynn University's Conservatory of Music. He also has a Bachelor of Music Education and Performance Certificate from the Shenandoah University Conservatory of Music. During his summers he has performed with the Shenandoah Summer Music Theatre Pit Orchestra (2002), Rome Festival Orchestra (2004), and the Shenandoah Performing Arts Festival Orchestra (2004). In the summer of 2003 he was a counselor at the Interlochen Fine Arts Camp where he studied horn with Dr. Randall Faust. This past summer (2006) Brad attended the Brevard Music Center as a horn student and head resident. Brad freelances regularly throughout South Florida and has a high interest in both the education and performing aspects of the horn. His primary teachers have included James Vaughn, Dr. Randall Faust, Dr. John Ericson, and Greg Miller.

Tigran Arakelyan, flute

Tigran Arakelyan was born in Yerevan, Armenia in 1987. As a young boy, he enjoyed listening to classical music. Soon after Tigran's 9th birthday, he was enrolled in music school. His parent's chose the flute for him, and after struggling with the instrument initially, he grew to love it.

In 1998, Tigran and his family moved to Los Angeles. There he began his studies at the Lark Musical Conservatory. In 2001 he was one of eight outstanding students chosen to appear as a soloist with the Lark Orchestra. He graduated in 2005 with a Diploma in Performance.

Tigran was the first place winner of the AAAA (Armenian Allied Arts Assn.) Competition in 2002. Professionally, he has performed with the Pasadena Community Orchestra.

Tigran has studied with Paul Taub, Laura Osborn and Christina Badalyan. He now attends the Lynn University Conservatory of Music, studying with Christina Burr.

Charles Swan, Oboe

Originally from Kingsville, Texas, oboist Charles Swan began musical studies on the piano at the age of five, and began playing the oboe at the age of twelve. He is currently pursuing his Masters in Music degree in oboe performance at Lynn Conservatory where he studies with Jared Hauser.

Mr. Swan's orchestral credits include performing as acting principal oboe for the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra, and oboe and English horn with the Las Vegas Music Festival. He has also appeared with the Big Spring Symphony Orchestra, Plainview Symphony Orchestra, Caprock Promusica Symphony Orchestra and the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra.

Prior to moving to Boca Raton, Charles completed his Bachelor's degree in Music Performance at Texas Tech University of Lubbock, Texas where he was as principal oboe with the Symphony Orchestra and Symphonic Wind Ensemble, as well as a finalist in their concerto competition. During his studies at Texas Tech University with Amy Anderson, he played in master classes for Fred Korman, Dr. Stephen Caplan, Ryan Zwahlen, Katherine Hoover (flutist), Henry Schuman, Johanna Cox, and Nancy Ambrose King.
