Stojo Miserlioski started playing clarinet at age of 11 with professor Buzeski Dragoljub at the primary school in Prilep. He continued his studies with Professor Tatarcevski Pande at "High School for Musical Art" in Bitola. During his four years of high school he won many national and international competitions both for solo clarinet and chamber music. Among others: National Clarinet Competition 2002, National Chamber Music Competition 2003, Sofia International Chamber Music Competition

2003 (Sofia, Bulgaria), International Clarinet Competition 2004 (Lazarevac, Serbia). He has also participated in many master classes with world wide renowned clarinetists, like: Nicolas Balderou (Paris Conservatory), Petko Radev (principal, Scala Opera House), Franc Cohen (principal Cleveland Symphony Orchestra), Ante Grgin (principal Serbian Philharmonic), Daniel Silver (University of Colorado), and others. In 2003 he attended Interlochen Summer Camp in Michigan. Currently Stojo Miserlioski is working toward an undergraduate degree in music performance with Professor Paul Green at Lynn University Conservatory of Music.
