

The will to win,
the desire to succeed,
the urge to reach your full potential...
these are the keys that will unlock the door to personal excellence.

Welcome to commencement

The key that you are wearing on your tassel today represents the many doors that your education at Lynn will open for you.

During your time here, you were among the first college students in the nation to experience boundless classrooms with iPad-powered learning. You gained a global mindset with peers from 100 countries. And for many of you, that global experience extended well beyond campus as you studied in programs around the world. Some of you earned national championship trophies. Some of you graduated at warp speed through Lynn's accelerated degree programs. Some of you have already connected with your future employers through the career center.

And all of you are now part of a proud tradition of Lynn University graduates who leave here with the intellectual flexibility to achieve your potential and build a better world.

Wear your tassel key proudly, graduate. We hope this memento will help you, our newest alumni, remember your home, your friends and your life-affirming experiences at Lynn University.

Congratulations, class of 2016.

Speakers

Commencement speaker, Distinguished Alumni Award recipient, Lisa Gangel Kerney '04

Lisa Gangel Kerney is an award-winning broadcast journalist and ESPN sports anchor/reporter.

Kerney was born in Kansas City, Missouri, and grew up as one of five children in a sports-minded family. An outstanding student and athlete, she transferred to Lynn University on a basketball scholarship and majored in broadcast communications. In her senior year, she became team captain and was named Scholar Athlete of the Year.

After graduating with honors, she landed her first industry job as a sports producer/reporter/anchor at KXLF-TV in Butte, Montana. While there, she received the Montana Standard 2005 People's Choice Awards: Top Choice for "Best Sports Reporter" and "Best TV Personality."

In 2005, she joined KING-TV in Seattle, serving as weekend sports anchor and Northwest Sports Tonight host. She also was responsible for the national highlight segment of The Jim Mora Show, which aired after Seattle Seahawks games. In 2010, she accepted a position with MLB Network as a sports contributor/reporter. In 2012, she advanced to sports anchor for CBS 2 News This Morning with WCBS-TV in New York. While at CBS/WLNY, she also co-hosted a morning show, The Couch, covering the tri-state area. She joined ESPN in February 2014 as a studio anchor, appearing on various shows across several platforms. She currently anchors SportsCenter.

Kerney is married to Patrick Kerney, former defensive end with the Seattle Seahawks and Atlanta Falcons. They are the parents of three daughters and a son.

A loyal alumna, she generously gives her time and financial support to Lynn University. She is a member of The Leadership Society and the President's Alumni Advisory Council.

"You won't find a more warm and welcoming environment built upon professionals who are thoroughly dedicated to helping students define and foster a vision for success," Kerney says. "I left Lynn inspired and, most important, empowered to go after my dream, and I continue to strive to honor our proud institution that's meant such a great deal to my journey."

Student speaker, Brooke Alexandra Rudisill '16

Brooke Alexandra Rudisill, who hails from York, Pennsylvania, is graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in multimedia journalism.

Rudisill discovered her passion for storytelling early in her undergraduate career. She began her studies at Lynn University as a psychology major, but after one year, she returned to Pennsylvania to attend college closer to home. She soon realized, however, that her true home was Lynn University, and her calling was multimedia journalism. She returned to Lynn and made the most of every opportunity. Her academic adviser and professor, Stefanie Powers, was a major source of inspiration and guidance.

Rudisill gained leadership and journalistic experience from campus activities, study abroad and internships. She was editor-in-chief in 2014 and publishing editor in 2015 of the student newspaper, iPulse. For her work, she earned two honors from the Society of Professional Journalists Florida Chapter: first place for Best Review and third place for Best Page Design (with editors Aisling McEntegart and Kevin Studer).

Rudisill served as a social media volunteer for the 2012 presidential debate and a team leader for the Millennium Campus Network in 2014. She worked in Athletics Communication and as a resident assistant for Housing and Residential Life.

Rudisill studied abroad in Ireland and the Dominican Republic, the latter as a recipient of the CLA (Center for Learning Abroad) Correspondent Scholarship. There, she documented the academic and community service experiences of Lynn students.

Rudisill interned with the Information Television Network, The Florida Communication Association and Young Hollywood. Her work appears in The Huffington Post, Elite Daily, The Palm Beach Post and Young Hollywood.

Rudisill is a member of Lynn's Honor Society and Lambda Pi Eta, the national communication honor society.

Rudisill is now pursuing a Master of Science in Communication and Media—Digital Media in the Eugene M. and Christine E. Lynn College of International Communication. She also works as a graduate assistant in the college and as a social media video editor at Worldwide Business with kathy ireland®.

Traditions

2016 class gift

Each year, members of the graduating class leave behind a gift symbolizing their time at Lynn. The class of 2016 continues this proud tradition, but in a new, impactful way: They have made a substantial contribution toward the $50,000 goal to establish Lynn's first alumni scholarship. Known as the Alumni Pay it Forward Endowed Scholarship, it will be awarded beginning in fall 2016 to a first-year student who is in good academic standing and in need of financial assistance. Because of the generosity of the class of 2016, future generations of deserving students will be able to obtain a Lynn education, regardless of their financial resources. The university is grateful to the graduating class of 2016 for "paying it forward" so that other students can one day fulfill their potential and achieve success in the world.

Academic regalia

The academic robes and hoods worn by the faculty and students lend color to the pageantry of commencement. This regalia dates back into the medieval ages, when it served a functional as well as an ornamental role, separating the learned men from other groups and offering warmth and protection.

In America in the late 19th century, representatives of colleges and universities held a conference to bring order and system to the custom of academic dress. Since then, there have been periodic conferences to revise or reconfirm existing practices.

Undergraduates wear the black robes with the white collars. Holders of the master's degree wear hoods, which are lined with the colors of the college conferring the degree and trimmed with the color representing the subject in which the degree was earned. The doctoral robe is adorned with velvet and is also worn with the hood suitably ornamented.

Holders of degrees from foreign universities or religious orders wear the entire academic costume as decreed by the conferring institution.

The colors on the hoods worn in the academic procession represent:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Business	Drab

The gonfalons

The gonfalons, a tradition that originated in the civic rituals of 12th century Italy, are a part of Lynn University's academic ceremonial protocol.

Lynn University designed the gonfalons in accordance with the standards established for all colleges and universities, and each bears the college's unique symbolic color. The university seal is presented on each gonfalon to embody the common bonds that unite faculty and students as members of one academic community. The vice president for academic affairs, in consultation with the academic deans, selects the faculty members honored to serve as gonfalon bearers.

The ceremonial academic mace

The academic mace dates back to the 14th century, when royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials carried maces in official processions. The design of the ceremonial academic mace incorporates elements from royal scepters and battle maces, representing both leadership and strength.

During the commencement ceremony, the mace indicates the authority of the university president to award degrees. The chief marshal carries the mace.

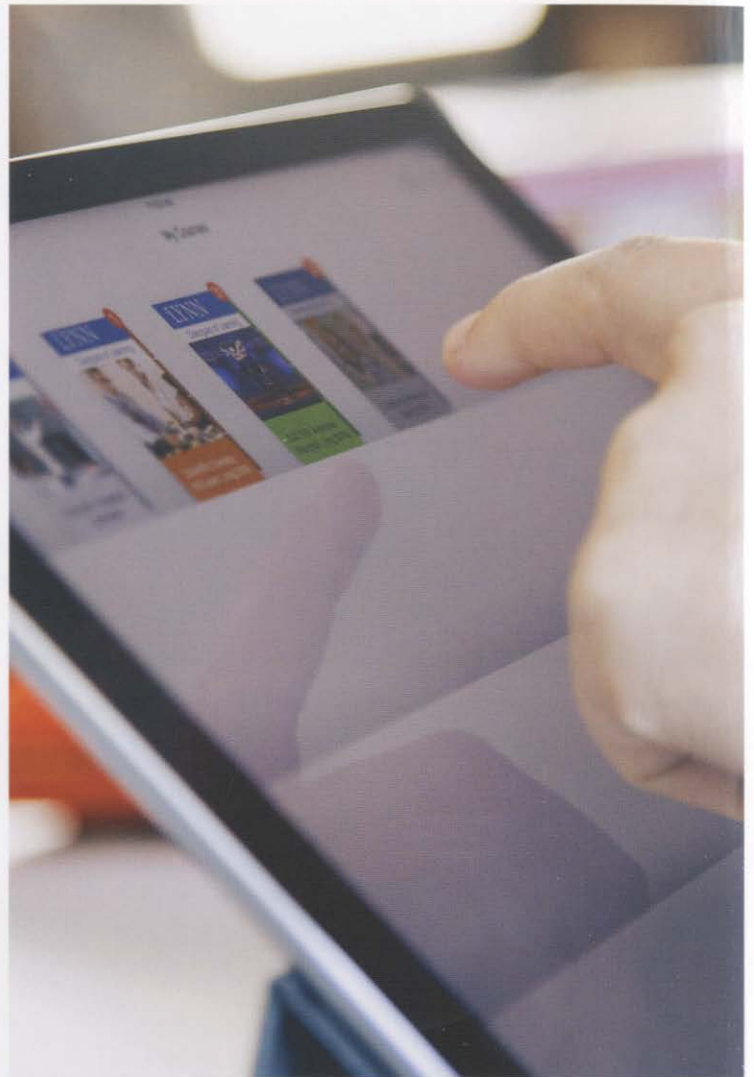

The Lynn University mace consists of a three-foot-tall wood scepter with a bronze cast of the Lynn University seal on the top. It was designed in 2002 by Graphic Design Professor Emeritus Ernest Ranspach, who presented it to then-Lynn University President Donald E. Ross in honor of 30 years of leadership and service.

A once-in-a-lifetime experience:

Lynn University and its students took center stage as host of the third and final presidential debate on October 22, 2012.

College reimaged:

Lynn's faculty, staff and students are revolutionizing teaching and learning through Lynn's award-winning iPad-powered degree programs.

We are the champions (again and again)...

Men's soccer brought home Lynn's 20th and 23rd national titles, and the women's golf team won back-to-back titles to bring home our 21st and 22nd national championships. Class of 2016 graduates helped design a brand new Fighting Knights logo and mascot.

Wearing blue
since 1962.

Founder's Day, with its beloved canoe challenge, is an annual tradition to celebrate our history and remarkable accomplishments.

Alma Mater

Music and lyrics by Joe Carey
Choral arrangement by Rick Krive

Under skies of blue
We've made friends so true
From every corner of the world
Celebrating different cultures
Made us see our world anew.

From this caring place
We will squarely face
The challenge of our destiny
Like our Fighting Knights
We'll lift hearts and sights
And we'll go forth in victory.

And if our blue skies should turn to grey days
Or we misplace a dream or two
We'll remember Alma Mater
And then Her spirit will see us through.

So let's raise our voice
In a proud refrain
Remembering good times we all knew
Hail all hail our Alma Mater
Lynn University ... Here's to you!
