

Seattle Pacific University
Digital Commons @ SPU

University Strategic Plans

Office of the President

January 1st, 2004

2014 Blueprint for Excellence

Philip W. Eaton
Seattle Pacific University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.spu.edu/president_strategicplan

Recommended Citation

Eaton, Philip W., "2014 Blueprint for Excellence" (2004). University Strategic Plans. 1.
https://digitalcommons.spu.edu/president_strategicplan/1

This Report is brought to you for free and open access by the Office of the President at Digital Commons @ SPU. It has been accepted for inclusion in University Strategic Plans by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ SPU.

About SPU

Mission, Signatures, & Vision

Our History

Statement of Faith

Seattle & Pacific Northwest

The Campus

SPU Facts

Office of the President

University Leadership

University Leadership

Press Room

News

Events Temp

Events

Community Resources

2014: A Blueprint for Excellence

In 2004, Seattle Pacific University published 2014: A Blueprint for Excellence, a strategic plan that cast SPU's vision forward 10 years.

"We sought to answer these questions," Philip Eaton, then SPU president said. "How best can we be faithful to God's call for this institution, in this place, and for this time? How can we become a world leader at equipping people to engage the culture and change the world?"

The plan began by defining what it is that makes Seattle Pacific unique, and then setting a standard of excellence and specific goals. The goals in the Blueprint were ambitious, but in many areas we have already met and even exceeded them, as described in Next Steps for the 2014 Blueprint. This is the plan that laid the foundation for our work.

Explore the Blueprint now.

The demand for SPU undergraduate and graduate programs has steadily grown since 2004. By 2010, Seattle Pacific had seen an 8.8 percent increase in the number of enrolled students.

3307 3rd Ave West, Seattle WA 98119-1997 [\[MAP\]](#)
 206-281-2000 | Contact | Emergency Info

Connect With Us

Founded in 1891, Seattle Pacific University is a leading Christian university that equips people to engage the culture and change the world. Learn more