EQUAL OPPORTUNITY POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy of Georgia Southern University to implement affirmative equal opportunity to all employees, students, and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. This policy extends to participation in any of the University's programs. We are committed to the fulfillment of this policy including, but not limited to, recruiting, enrollment and educational practice, hiring, placement, position reclassification, transfer or promotion, terms and conditions of employment, recruitment and advertising for employment, rates of pay and other forms of compensation, selection for training, and layoff or termination.

Responsibility for ensuring continued implementation of this policy has been assigned to Ms. Mary McCoy, Director of Affirmative Action. If you have questions regarding our policy of nondiscrimination, or wish to have accommodations made for you in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, please contact the Office of Affirmative Action at LB 8035, Statesboro, Georgia (912) 681-5136.

HOW TO USE THIS CATALOG

The Georgia Southern University General Catalog is an information book and reference guide dealing with almost all aspects of the University—its policies, facilities, degree programs, course offerings, services, and faculty.

The statements set forth in this catalog are for information purposes only and should not be construed as the basis of a contract between the student and this institution.

While the provisions of this catalog will ordinarily be applied as stated, GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY reserves the right to change any provision listed in this catalog, including but not limited to academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to the individual students. Every effort will be made to keep students advised of such changes. Information on changes will be available in the Office of the Registrar. It is especially important that each student note that it is his/her responsibility to keep himself/herself apprised of current graduation requirements for his/her particular degree program.

*Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution
Georgia Southern does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age.*

THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF GEORGIA

The University System of Georgia includes all state-operated institutions of higher education in Georgia - 5 universities, 14 senior colleges, 15 two-year colleges. These 34 public institutions are located throughout the state.

A 15-member constitutional Board of Regents governs the University System, which has been in operation since 1932. Appointments of Board members, five from the state-at-large and one from each of the state's 10 Congressional Districts are made by the Governor, subject to confirmation by the State Senate. The regular term of Board members is seven years.

The Chairperson, the Vice Chairperson, and other officers of the Board are elected by the members of the Board. The Chancellor, who is not a member of the Board, is the chief executive officer of the Board and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The overall programs and services of the University System are offered through three major components: Instruction; Public Service/Continuing Education; Research.

INSTRUCTION consists of programs of study leading toward degrees, ranging from the associate (two-year) level to the doctoral level, and certificates. Instruction is conducted by all institutions. Requirements for admission of students to instructional programs at each institution are determined, pursuant to policies of the Board of Regents, by the institution. The Board establishes minimum academic standards and leaves to each institution the prerogative to establish higher standards. Applications for admission should be addressed in all cases to the institutions.

A core curriculum, consisting of freshman and sophomore years of study for students whose educational goal is a degree beyond the associate level, is in effect at the universities, senior colleges, and two-year colleges. This curriculum requires 90 quarter-credit-hours, including 60 in general education - humanities, mathematics and natural sciences, and social sciences - and 30 in the student's chosen major area of study. It facilitates the transfer of freshman and sophomore degree credits within the University System.

PUBLIC SERVICE/CONTINUING EDUCATION consists primarily of non-degree activities, and special types of college-degree-credit courses. The non-degree activities are of several types including short courses, seminars, conferences, lectures, and consultative and advisory services in a large number of areas of interest. Non-degree public services/continuing education is conducted by all institutions. Typical college-degree-credit public service/continuing education courses are those offered through extension center programs and teacher education consortiums.

RESEARCH encompasses investigations conducted primarily for discovery and application of knowledge. These investigations include clearly defined projects in some cases, non-programmatic activities in other cases. They are conducted on campuses and at many off-campus locations. The research investigations cover a large number and a large variety of matters related to the educational objectives of the institutions and to general societal needs. Most of the research is conducted through the universities; however, some of it is conducted through several of the senior colleges.

The policies of the Board of Regents for the government, management, and control of the University System and the administrative actions of the Chancellor provide autonomy of high degree for each institution. The executive head of each institution is the President, whose election is recommended by the Chancellor and approved by the Board.

The University System Advisory Council, with 34 committees, engenders continual system-wide dialogue on major academic and administrative matters of all types. It also makes recommendations to the Chancellor, for transmittal to the Board of Regents as appropriate, regarding academic and administrative aspects of operation of the System.

The Advisory Council consists of the Chancellor, the Vice Chancellor, and all presidents as voting members; and it includes other officials and staff members of the institutions as nonvoting members. The Advisory Council's 21 academic committees and 13 administrative committees are made up of representatives from the institutions.

The committees dealing with matters of University System-wide application include, typically, at least one member from each institution. State appropriations for the University System are requested by, and are made to, the Board of Regents.

MISSION OF GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Georgia Southern University, a unit of the University System of Georgia, was founded as the First District Agricultural and Mechanical School in 1906 and became a university in 1990. Throughout its history the University has advanced dynamically from a post-secondary program to a teachers' college, to a senior college, and to its greater mission as a university serving its region, state, and nation. The University offers both a comprehensive undergraduate curriculum and selected graduate programs in liberal arts, sciences, and several professional fields. Georgia Southern provides its students with a scholarly experience that exemplifies its motto, "Academic Excellence". Numerous professional, regional, and national accreditations underscore the University's commitment to excellence.

Georgia Southern, located in Statesboro, extends its service to the region through off-campus sites and offers selected degrees in cooperation with affiliated institutions, Armstrong State College and Savannah State College, and through the Brunswick Consortium. As a residential campus, the University offers a variety of educational, cultural, social, and athletic experiences in a warm and caring environment. As a state-supported university, it assumes responsibility for leadership in the advancement of the region, using its resources to serve regional interests and to enhance the quality of life.

Georgia Southern attracts a student body characterized by intellectual curiosity, creativity, motivation, and ability, and offers challenging programs for scholars of exceptional ability. Although the majority of students are Georgia residents, the University has cultivated an increasingly diverse student body of both national and international breadth.

Georgia Southern University offers high-quality undergraduate and graduate degree programs in a nurturing environment in which personal growth, lifelong learning, and intellectual and moral development flourish. The University is committed to developing each student's ability to make informed decisions and to recognize the ethical dimensions of a decision. All undergraduates share a common educational experience designed to expand their awareness of human potential. They have the opportunity and obligation to explore moral, ethical, and aesthetic issues; creative self-expression; the history of thought and cultures; the implications of personal responsibility in a democratic, pluralistic society in a world of cultural diversity; the physical world and ecology; and the technological and economic environment in a complex world. At a fundamental level, the curriculum stresses reasoning and communication skills. The University experience prepares students to value and do constructive work, to benefit from leisure, and to engage in public service while in the academic setting and outside it. The ultimate purpose of Georgia Southern is to educate students to be responsible, productive, and contributing members of a democratic society within the world community; respecting the rights and the viewpoints of others.

Georgia Southern University encourages an environment where academic freedom and responsibility exist in a community of learning and shared governance. The University strives for a balance of faculty activities in teaching, scholarship, research and creative endeavors, and public service consistent with its assigned role. Faculty devote themselves particularly to teaching and to interacting with students. Georgia Southern upholds a reputation for teaching built on faculty commitment to and concern for the individual student's success and well being. Faculty of cultural and ethnic diversity become positive role models for students. Scholarship and research, which encompass a wide variety of inquiry, discovery, and creativity, are valued for their own sakes, and also for their contribution to superior teaching and public service. Productivity is typically measured by grants awarded, articles in scholarly journals and other publications, presentation of papers, participation in workshops and conferences, and awards and recognition. Equally valued are accomplishments in the fine arts: literary writing, performance, and the visual arts. The University especially encourages and supports work which is relevant to regional concerns and prizes scholarship recognized internationally for excellence.

The University assumes a responsibility for public service to the region, an ideal the institution values. Public service and cultural outreach are oriented primarily to the needs of South Georgia, especially to advancing and assisting the region's economic development. Continuing education provides opportunities for lifelong learning, professional development, and personal growth for children and adults. Academic departments and schools undertake educational, cultural, social, and technical outreach programs in their areas of specialization and through cooperative partnerships with the public and private sector.

Georgia Southern University, dedicated to fostering an appreciation of cultural and ethnic differences, engages in affirmative recruitment and retention of women and minorities among faculty, staff, and students, and offers support to these members of the University community.

HISTORY OF GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

On December 1, 1906, the newly appointed First District Board of Trustees convened in Savannah, Georgia. It was one of 11 such boards created for each congressional district by state legislation that year to build and oversee agricultural and mechanical schools for elementary and secondary students. The trustees were prepared to hear bids from local leaders who wanted the First District A&M School to be built in their communities and were willing to provide the funding to do so. Among the bidders were 50 representatives from Bulloch County, who had journeyed from Statesboro on a train called the "College Special." Their bid of $125,000 in cash and in-kind contributions -- including donation of 300 acres for a campus -- won handily. Early in 1908 just outside Statesboro, the First District A&M School opened its doors with fifteen students, four faculty members, and three buildings.

By 1920 the First District A&M School had 150 students and was fielding teams in football and baseball; the "Aggies" typically won more than half their games in any given season. But by 1921 a combination of rapidly growing debt and drastically declining enrollments almost spelled the end of the fledgling school.

Hard work and commitment prevailed, however, and by 1924 not only were the school's finances and enrollments back on track, but the Georgia Assembly upgraded the school to a two-year college for teacher training and retitled it the Georgia Normal School, one of three in the state. With this first change in the school's status, "Principal" Ernest V. Hollis became "President" Hollis, Georgia Southern's first president. The following year private donors funded the first scholarships for the campus.

In 1929 the General Assembly was persuaded that yet another major institutional promotion was due, and the Georgia Normal School became the South Georgia Teachers College via state legislation, converting the Statesboro campus from a two-year junior college to a four-year teachers college. The Aggies had receded, and the "Blue Tide" had rolled in, bringing programs not only in football and baseball, but also in basketball and track; basketball was played in a tobacco warehouse until the first gymnasium was built in 1931.

Also in that year the long-supportive First District Board of Trustees, like all freestanding boards of college trustees in the state, was dissolved by state legislation. Higher education in Georgia was reorganized into its present form, with all state colleges and universities reporting to a single Board of Regents. Now the Regents, not the General Assembly, was responsible for determining any changes in mission for the college in Statesboro. In 1939 South Georgia Teachers College became Georgia Teachers College by action of the Board of Regents. This new title represented less a change of status for the college and more a recognition by the Regents that the Statesboro campus was the statewide college for teacher education.

When Eugene Talmadge was elected governor in 1940, he remembered, according to some observers, that the electoral district dominated by Georgia Teachers College had voted for his opponent. Within a year the governor had initiated an effort to remove President Marvin Pittman on charges that included advocating "racial equality and teaching communism" (the latter conclusively disproved). President Pittman was fired, and as a direct result of his dismissal, all state-supported institutions of higher education in Georgia lost their regional academic accreditation by what is now the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. In 1942 a new governor was elected, and the Board of Regents was reorganized; a year later Georgia Teachers College and the University System of Georgia were reaccredited, and Dr. Pittman was reinstated by the Board as president of Georgia Teachers College.

This incident, which received international media coverage at the time, was a formative and symbolic experience in the history of Georgia Southern University and a measure of its resilience in the defense of academic and institutional integrity - qualities that remain today.

In 1957 the college in Statesboro was authorized by the Board of Regents to offer its first graduate degree, a Master of Education. In some ways, that benchmark was the beginning of the ultimate evolution from a college to a university.

Only two years later Georgia Teachers College was upgraded by the Board of Regents to Georgia Southern College, a recognition by Georgia's policymakers that the College was now a comprehensive institution with responsibilities well beyond the specialized mission of educating teachers. In 1960 the "Blue Tide" was formally put to rest as the name of the Georgia Southern's intercollegiate teams, and by student vote "The Eagles" were hatched.

The first fraternities and sororities were chartered on the campus in 1967 and 1968. The first three Schools - Arts and Sciences, Education, and Graduate Studies - were established in 1968, followed by the School of Business in 1971, and the School of Technology and the School of Health and Professional Studies in 1980. In 1981 football was reintroduced to Georgia Southern after a hiatus of almost forty years, inaugurating a new winning tradition of Division I intercollegiate sports.

Beginning in the early 1970s, a resurgent effort to acquire university status for the Statesboro campus emerged, culminating in 1989 with the Board of Regents' vote to promote Georgia Southern College to Georgia Southern University. When university status became effective on July 1, 1990, Georgia Southern received its sixth and final name, and was ceded primary responsibility for the conduct of graduate education in the region. Georgia Southern became the first new university of Georgia in twenty-one years and the third largest university in Georgia. In 1992, the Regents authorized Georgia Southern to initiate its first doctoral program, the Doctorate of Education.

The Georgia Southern story is a story of determination to be the best one can be.

ACADEMIC STRUCTURE

The academic credit programs of the university are administered by six colleges. They are the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business, the College of Education, the College of Health and Professional Studies, the Allen E. Paulson College of Technology, and the Graduate College. Each of these is subdivided into departments. A dean directs each college and a chair each department.

The following organizational structure provides for the degrees, fields of study, and courses set out in this catalog:

MINORS

Students in all baccalaureate programs who wish to do so may add a minor to their programs from the following list of minor programs. The Bachelor of Arts degree program requires a minor.

The courses to make up the minor should be planned with the major advisor, unless otherwise noted, and must be approved by the time the student applies for graduation.

Within the twenty hours of course work presented for the required minor in the B.A. programs or the optional minor in any bachelor's degree program, the student must have a minimum adjusted grade point average of "C," with no more than five hours of "D" work. A minimum of fifteen of the twenty hours must be earned at Georgia Southern.

Internship hours may not be applied to the minor.

A maximum of five hours may be taken under the S/U grading system within any Arts and Sciences minor.

Anthropology

Prerequisites: Anthropology 150, Introduction to Anthropology, or equivalent. 20 hours in anthropology from upper-division offerings.

Art

Prerequisites: 151 (Drawing), or 152 (Design), or 252 (Three-Dimensional Design), or permission of the department head. Minor program: 20 hours in art from upper division offerings upon approval of advisor.

Biology

Prerequisites: Biology 151 and 152. Minor program: 20 hours from upper-division course offerings. A maximum of ten hours from the following may be substituted for upper-division courses: Biology 281, 282.

Business

The business minor is acceptable only as a second minor in the B.A. programs or as an optional minor in the other baccalaureate programs. Prerequisites for the minor in business: ACC 260 and ECO 260. Only courses completed after the accounting and economics courses may be used to satisfy the minor. Individual course prerequisites will be strictly enforced. Twenty upper-division hours must be chosen from the following courses: MGT 351, MKT 350, LST 352, FIN 351, MGT 354 and BA 351. Students interested in the Business Minor should consult a School of Business advisor prior to beginning any course work.

Chemistry

Prerequisite: Chemistry 261. Minor Program: Twenty hours in chemistry from upper-division offerings exclusive of Chemistry 380.

Communication Arts

ACADEMIC SERVICES

In addition to the Colleges, there are several other departments or agencies within Georgia Southern University which contribute to the academic functions of the University.

DIVISION OF CONTINUING EDUCATION AND PUBLIC SERVICES

Created in 1968, the Division of Continuing Education and Public Services provides the avenue for the University to meet its service mission. In 1971, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia adopted the following statement:

Continuing Education and Public Service have emerged as an extension of the traditional on campus process, available to adults wherever sufficient interest has been found. Individuals in all walks of life must keep themselves abreast of new knowledge and understand how it can be applied effectively in solving the many problems which they and their communities are encountering. Any system designed to achieve these objectives will be build around an aggressive Continuing Education Program.

The Regent's Policy Manual states:

The Board of Regents is committed to an expanded program of public service and continuing education within all units of the system and to provide resources necessary to accomplish the purpose explicitly in carrying out this responsibility.

The University's mission statement states, in part:

The University assumes a responsibility for public service to the region, an ideal the institution values. Public service and cultural outreach are oriented primarily to the needs of south Georgia, especially to the advancing and assisting the region's economic development. Continuing Education provides opportunities for lifelong learning, professional development and personal growth for children and adults.

Thus, Georgia Southern University is committed to education through the lifespan in an effort to enhance economic development and strengthen this region. The Division of Continuing Education and Public Services' programs of continuing education, outreach, and service address these goals.

To enhance marketing efforts, the Division's Conference Center was named the Southern Center for Continuing Education. To avoid confusion in the market place, the name Southern Center for Continuing Education is used to refer to all the programming efforts of the Division. The Southern Center's mission is: ...to meet the lifelong learning needs of the region. The Center provides a variety of programs designed to improve skills and other professions, to enhance societal and cultural understanding, to facilitate healthy lifestyles and proper use of leisure time, and to address the personal development enrichment needs of the region.

The Southern Center is the University's bridge to the community. Through the Southern Center's programs, activities, and services, the public is exposed to the service function of the University, thereby providing the avenue for the University to extend its resources to numerous groups within the region. The programs and activities of the Southern Center take many forms: short courses, seminars, lectures, conferences, contract in-house training and development programs, technical assistance, and consulting and advisory services. A comprehensive series of programs and services is available on campus and off campus. These activities are designed to meet a vast array of needs and interests including:

- professional growth and development for those in business, industry, health care, teaching, human services, and other professions requiring retraining and upgrading of job skills for adults
- hobby, cultural, recreational, in general interest pursuits of adults and children
- other programs and services designed to provide consulting, technical assistance, and research to improve the quality of life and provide for economic development in Southeast Georgia meeting planning and conference planning services for professional associations, non-profit organizations, and other groups

These programs and services are available throughout the southeastern United States. The programs and activities of the Southern Center provided in accordance with the Commission on Colleges, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and the University System of Georgia's programmatic and fiscal requirements.

Conference Center

In April, 1991, the Division opened a 28,000 gross square feet two-story conference center that has been accepted into the membership of the International Association of Conference Centers, thereby assuring that meeting planning standards are met. The facility contains 11,845 square feet of meeting space, one third of which is contained in a 412 fixed seat auditorium. The facility has eleven rooms (fifteen if rooms are divided), including a 15-station computer training center. It has an excellent inventory of instructional/training support equipment, including audiovisual systems and satellite receiving equipment.

In 1993, a 16 million dollar expansion of the Southern Center will commence. When completed in early 1996, the expansion will result in a two-fold increase in meeting space (22,000 square feet) plus a 1200 seat full performing arts theater with appropriate ancillary spaces. On-site meal preparation will be available in a fully equipped kitchen. An 8,000 square foot multi-purpose room (divisible by three) will accommodate over 600 for banquet functions. In addition to a 100-station tiered meeting room, the Center will contain a 24-station computer training center, an executive board room, and meeting rooms of various sizes. Total meeting planning services and amenities will be available to conferees.

Public Service Institute

In April 1972, the Board of Regents approved the establishment of a Public Service Institute to function in the Division of Continuing Education and Public Services. The purpose of the Institute is to act on the needs and problems of southeast Georgia. A multi-disciplinary approach is used to respond to requests for assistance. This assistance is available to businesses, institutions, and agencies that seek solutions to problems in their communities. The Director of Continuing Education and Public Services serves as the Director of the Institute. A fundamental purpose of Georgia Southern University is to serve those people who request or require continuing professional education in their pursuits in personal development. Additionally, institutions, agencies, and communities that can have their development enhanced by the University's technical assistance, special services, and continuing education programs, can call on the Public Service Institute. The Institute works with a variety of state agencies and area groups to further enhance those entities. Contact with governmental and leadership persons in the area is a major effort of the Institute. These activities enhance the outreach efforts of the University.

Intensive English Program

The Intensive English Program is a unit within the Southern Center for Continuing Education that provides a non-credit program in English as a Second Language. It is designed for those students who have some background in English but do not meet regular English proficiency requirements for the University. Participants must be financially self supporting for this course of study that will occupy five hours of the student's day and will require study and preparation outside of class. Additional information about the Intensive English Program is available from the:

Intensive English Program
Southern Center for Continuing Education
Georgia Southern University
Statesboro, GA 30460-8124
USA

Continuing Education Units

The Continuing Education Unit (C.E.U.) is a national measure of participation in continuing professional education and training and development programs. Successful completion of designated non-credit courses is recognized by awarding continuing education units to participants. One C.E.U. represents ten contact hours of participation in an organized program where there is evidence of qualified instruction, capable direction, and responsible sponsorship.

Permanent records of earned C.E.U.'s are maintained by the University's Registrar in accordance with the requirements of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and the University System of Georgia.

Services

Program Specialists are available to assist in the processes necessary for program development: needs assessment, program planning, program administration and coordination, fiscal management, marketing, and evaluation of program activities and learning outcomes. Furthermore, a full range of meeting planning and conference services assistance is available to individuals and organizations desiring to meet at the Southern Center for Continuing Education or other campus facilities, as well as for those desiring programs in other locations. A full array of in-house contract training programs are available to businesses, industries, institutions, and agencies.

Persons or agencies interested in any of these activities should contact:

INSTITUTE OF ARTHROPODOLOGY AND PARASITOLOGY

The Institute of Arthropodology and Parasitology coordinates an area of interdepartmental research among the departments of Biology, Geology and Geography, Psychology and History. It includes faculty, post-doctoral students, graduate and undergraduate students, technicians and adjunct professors. In August 1990 the U.S. National Tick Collection along with its Curator, was moved from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. and is now part of Georgia Southern. The Collection is housed in the IAP Building. This addition to the institute has made it one of the foremost centers for tick research in the world. Independent research group seminars and lectures arranged and conducted by the group emphasize development, physiology, genetics, cytogenetics, reproductive biology, population biology and bionomics of selected arthropods, nematodes, trematodes and cestodes of regional and international importance. Laboratory and field research is conducted by Institute members.

Current members of the Institute are as follows:

Dr. Sara N. Bennett
 Dr. Gale A. Bishop
 Dr. Jonathan Copeland
 Ms. Ellen M. Dotson
 Dr. Lance A. Durden
 Dr. Frank E. French
 Dr. Daniel B. Good

GENERAL SERVICES THE CENTER FOR RURAL HEALTH AND RESEARCH

The Center for Rural Health and Research (CRHR) is based within the College of Health and Professional Studies. The mission of the CRHR is to facilitate collaboration, policy liaison, research, service and education for health improvement in rural Georgia. The center works closely with different colleges, constituencies and individuals to develop special service departments, projects and research activities relevant to the needs of the rural southeast. CRHR programs support a nine county Senior Companion Program which emphasizes home-based companionship for the elderly, a campus-based physical therapy satellite clinic staffed by Roosevelt Warm Springs Rehabilitation Institute, a Tools for Life Technology Demonstration Center for the Disabled, a rural addiction information office, and a clearinghouse of materials related to rural health research, demography, policy and service. The center also houses historical materials for the Georgia Rural Health Association which has its roots at Georgia Southern. Current research activities include: minority health issues, AIDS in migrant workers, nurse retention, emergency medical care and access to care for rural high risk populations. Encouragement of student participation in rural health care has high priority in the CRHR. Affiliates of the Center for Rural Health and Research also provide leadership in the rural health movement at the regional, state, and national level.

For more information about the Center for Rural Health and Research contact the director at Box 8148, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, Georgia 30460. Telephone 912-681-0260.

LIBRARY

The Zach S. Henderson Library is centrally located on campus in a four-story building constructed in 1975. The library building has 158,000 square feet and will hold 800,000 books at total capacity. The library seats 865 people in the book stack areas. Thirty-eight faculty studies and 88 student lockers are available for the use of individuals engaged in research activities. Additionally, the Henderson Library contains three group study rooms and three seminar rooms.

As of July 1991, the Henderson Library's collections contained 434,715 volumes; 697,828 microform units; 457,538 government documents; and 6,953 audiovisual units. The library also maintains subscriptions to 3,352 serial and periodical titles.

The Library is installing an automated system which will link the catalog, periodical indexes, and circulation functions in one integrated system. The Library's catalog is currently available on-line, and is part of a union catalog for the University System of Georgia. Computer terminals which are used to search this state-wide union catalog may also be used to search other library catalogs and databases located throughout the world via the Internet, a high-speed computer network. The Henderson Library maintains cooperative relationships with many of these libraries, and offers interlibrary loan services to obtain those items which are not available locally.

The library is open 134 hours each week during the academic quarters and on a limited basis during intersession and holiday periods.

LEARNING RESOURCES CENTER

The Learning Resources Center, a department within the Zach S. Henderson Library, is located on the library's first floor. It contains the student Academic Computing Center and Tutorial Center. Services are available without charge to all GSU students.

The Academic Computing Center is heavily used campus-wide. Equipment in the center consists of 100 IBM P/S 2 Model 30 microcomputers networked to an IBM Model 60. Fifteen Apple and Macintosh microcomputers are also available. Many of the microcomputers are connected via telephone to the mainframe computers of the University System Computing Network. Computer software is available in many subject areas. Student assistants are available to help users with word processing, data base management and spreadsheet applications.

The Tutorial Center is available to Georgia Southern students experiencing difficulty with academic assignments or wishing to improve their academic skills. Student tutors provide one-on-one help in English, mathematics, reading and study skills. Cassette tapes, textbooks, and computer assisted instruction are used in the tutoring process. Students are welcome by appointment or on a drop-in basis during scheduled tutorial hours.

The Learning Resources Center maintains the same operating schedule as the Henderson Library. The facility is open 134 hours each week during the academic quarters, and on a limited basis during intersession and holiday periods.

ADVISEMENT

Georgia Southern makes every effort to provide students with academic advising. Students must ultimately be responsible for their own choices, their own program selection and their own deadlines. But the college assumes the responsibility of providing assistance in planning academic programs and guidance.

All students who have not declared a major are advised in the Academic Advisement Center. The center is staffed by faculty members who are knowledgeable about the core curriculum and who are especially interested in helping students explore possible major areas. The center is available to all students for information and assistance.

Once a student declares a major, he/she is advised by a member of that department. It is important that students see their advisors prior to registration each quarter. They should also meet with their advisors at other times in order to plan programs carefully and to be sure that all requirements are being met.

The Director of Advisement is responsible for the advisement of undeclared majors, the overall operations of the Advisement Center and for assistance to departments.

DEVELOPMENT AND UNIVERSITY RELATIONS

The Development and University Relations office is the university's central agency for public relations, resources, community and alumni development, publications and photography. The division works through the media, the Georgia Southern University Foundation, Inc., alumni chapters and other means to keep the public informed about the activities, growth, and development of Georgia Southern University.

The Public Relations Office showcases the activities and achievements of the university and its students, faculty and staff through an organized news service to newspapers, radio and television stations.

Using a variety of projects and campaigns, the Development Office solicits interest and investments in Georgia Southern through the Georgia Southern University Foundation, Inc. These activities provide a base of supplemental funding from the private sector to advance the university's plans and potential.

The Alumni Development Office coordinates the activities of the Alumni Association which provides leadership, service, and information about the university to its 36,000 alumni. The Alumni office sponsors receptions and socials throughout the southeast to maintain ties with Georgia Southern alumni while building their support for the university.

To present a unified image of the university, the Publications Office oversees the production of all Georgia Southern publications including brochures, catalogs and other printed materials.

Photographic Services provides visual coverage of all campus activities and events for use in the news and sports media, campus publications, slide and video productions and a variety of other services.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Georgia Southern University has become one of the dominant athletic programs in the United States in recent times. Across-the-board success over the past six years has resulted in the Eagles winning four national championships, eight conference championships and participating in the NCAA Tournaments in football, men's basketball, baseball and golf.

In 1986-87, only nine schools in the entire country made the NCAA playoffs in football, basketball and baseball. They were Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas A&M, Louisiana State, UCLA and Georgia Southern.

Just this past season, Georgia Southern captured its fourth I-AA national football title by defeating Nevada 36-13 in Statesboro. The victory capped the first season under Head Coach Tim Stowers, who replaced the retired Erk Russell in December, 1989. Stowers became the first I-AA coach to win a national championship in his first season. The 1990 Championship duplicates the 1989 title, giving the Eagles back-to-back trophies for the second time. In 1986 the Eagles defeated Arkansas State in the championship game to become the first team ever to win back-to-back national football titles. Georgia Southern defeated Furman University in 1985 to capture its first national title. Since restarting the football program in 1982, Georgia Southern is 95-25-1.

The men's basketball team, under the direction of Head Coach Frank Kerns, finished 17-11 during the 1989-90 season, but missed the postseason for the first time in four years. After an NCAA Tournament bid in 1987, the Eagles were invited to the NIT in 1988 and 1989.

On the baseball diamond, Georgia Southern finished the 1990 regular season 46-16 and was extended an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament. As the No. 5 seed at the Midwest Regional, the Eagles captured four of five games and advanced to the College World Series in Omaha. An 0-2 finish at its second-ever CWS appearance placed Southern 50-19 on the season. The win total was the highest in school history. Head Coach Jack Stallings is the sixth winningest coach in college baseball history with 960 wins.

The soccer team captured its first-ever Trans America Athletic Conference Eastern Division championship in 1990, posting a school record 15 wins. The team suffered only five losses, the last a 2-1 defeat to Centenary in the TAAC title game.

The golf program has also enjoyed success in recent years. PGA professionals Jodie Mudd, Gene Sauers and Mike Donald helped establish the program that continues today. In 1990 Bo Fennell received an individual invitation the NCAA East Regional, hosted by Georgia Southern at the Savannah-Sheraton Country Club, and missed the national tournament by a single stroke.

Other men's teams fielded at Georgia Southern are tennis, cross-country and swimming.

Georgia Southern women's teams compete in the New South Women's Athletic Conference, a nine-school league of schools in Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The Lady Eagles have dominated on the basketball court, taking championships three times in the last four years. In the NSWAC's five-year existence, GSU has never missed a title game appearance. The 1989-90 squad finished 21-9 enroute to the conference championship.

Softball, tennis, volleyball, swimming, soccer and cross-country teams also represent the school in NSWAC competition. These teams have made great strides as Georgia Southern athletics continue to gain prestige across the United States.

Georgia Southern won the coveted Jessie C. Fletcher Trophy which goes to the out standing overall athletic program in the TAAC. This marked the fourth time in six years that Georgia Southern has won it and the first time it was ever won without the benefit of a single championship.

Overall Georgia Southern has had numerous athletes named all-conference, All-America and academic All-American. Five athletes have been named Player-of-the-Year in various sports and four coaches were named Coach of the Year.

Georgia Southern's athletic facilities are among the finest in the nation. Included are two gymnasiums, a baseball stadium, 15 tennis courts, an 18,000 seat football stadium and an eight-lane pool. Hanner Fieldhouse houses the athletic coaches' offices as well as the pool, gymnastics room, training room and a 5,500 seat basketball arena, which has recently been refitted with new lights, scoreboards and a new hardwood maple floor.

POSTAL SERVICES

The Campus Postal Service is a university owned and operated facility located in the Landrum Center. This activity is responsible for mail pick up, delivery, boxing and window services for faculty, staff and students.

Upon registration a mail box and combination number will be printed on your confirmation invoice. All student mail boxes are located in the Landrum Center. The Campus Postal Service will identify recently assigned mail boxes and provide services within hours after registration.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

PURPOSE

As an integral part of the university's education process, the Division of Student Affairs advances the university-adopted statement of purpose. To accomplish this goal, the staff strives constantly to find and to develop better communication with faculty, students, and the general campus community.

The Student Affairs staff also believes that each student should be provided with a stimulating environment and opportunities for learning designed to promote development that will effect continuing, satisfactory adjustments to life. A student is thus encouraged and allowed to use all resources available within the campus and local community to prepare for life beyond the university.

UNION PRODUCTIONS

Union Productions is the programming arm of the University Union and provides a variety of campus-wide social activities each quarter including movies, concerts, comedians, and other fun-filled events. Union Productions is responsible for such annual events as the Back To School Dance, Homecoming, Alcohol Awareness Week, the Union Birthday, and Spring Fling. Most of these events have a nominal admission fee. Applications are taken each Winter Quarter for the student board members. Board members are responsible for planning and implementing all events and working with the various committees. Joining one of Union Productions' committees is an excellent way to get involved, meet new people, get behind the scenes, and have input on the types of entertainment sponsored by Union Productions.

For additional information, contact Union Productions in Room 207 of the University Union or call 681-5442.

CAMPUS RECREATION AND INTRAMURALS

The Office of Campus Recreation and Intramurals exists to provide access to quality facilities, programs and developmental opportunities to the students, faculty and staff of Georgia Southern University during their leisure time.

The competitive nature and wide variety of structured intramurals and informal recreational opportunities combine to produce a very positive use of students' leisure time. The program offers the opportunity for students to develop social and lifestyle fitness habits from which they will benefit throughout their lives.

"Participate, Don't Spectate" is the motto of the Campus Recreation and Intramural Program where Fun is Number 1. The structured program offers traditional team sports such as flag football, basketball, and softball. Campus Recreation and Intramurals has developed an assortment of special events which are designed as enjoyable non-skill related activities. These activities are "A Ton of Fun" and students are urged to register early.

Informal Recreation provides for self-directed or an individualized approach to participation. This program area accommodates the desire to participate in sports for fitness and fun, often with no predetermined goals except that of the participant.

Indoor facilities include the Hanner Building, which houses the CR/I Program Office, three gymnasiums, two weightrooms, an activity center and the Marvin Pittman Gymnasium which includes a weight room also. In addition the Fitness Extension has joined the ranks of indoor facilities and offers a wide variety of aerobics classes and aerobic bikes for numerous exercise opportunities.

Outdoor opportunities are highlighted by the new multipurpose lighted fields area off of Old Register road. Opportunities include the Sports Complex lighted fields and Oxford field. Eight lighted tennis courts and four non-lighted courts are located behind the Hanner Building, and three additional lighted courts are adjacent to Hendricks Residence Hall. There are six outdoor lighted racquetball courts, four beach volleyball courts, two outdoor basketball courts, and various other facilities available for recreational activities.

The new and exciting Outdoor Recreation program was created to provide students, faculty and staff many different options in regard to getting back to nature. By participating in the programs you will have the opportunity to experience the great outdoors while meeting new friends. Opportunities are available on a year-round basis through the Outdoor Program Office located at the Sports Complex.

The Club Sports Program is a relatively new part of the CR/I Program. A club sport is defined as a registered student organization which may provide a program of instruction, recreation, and/or competition in a specific sport involving gross motor skills. Club sports assume a variety of types and sizes in order to meet many of the sport needs and interests of students, faculty, and staff. Each club establishes its own organizational framework, leadership, and performance levels. Each club sport is a student organization that is administered by its members and is independent of other club sports.

Participation in CR/I sponsored activities is completely voluntary and all participants are urged to have a physical examination prior to participation. Participants are also urged to acquire the necessary medical insurance coverage as the CR/I Program is not responsible for individual coverage.

To use facilities or to participate in activities requires a valid student, faculty/staff ID card. All Intramural Sports student participants must be enrolled for five or more credit hours and must have paid the student activity fee.

COUNSELING CENTER

The Counseling Center provides a wide variety of services and programs to promote personal growth and development and to help students handle day-to-day difficulties. Eight full-time, professional counselors and psychologists furnish assistance which is strictly confidential. Students may request counseling for themselves or be referred by a faculty or staff member. Appointments are preferred, but not required, for the initial visit.

Counseling is available on an individual basis for personal, academic and career development concerns. Students are encouraged to arrive at their own decisions and take responsibility for making adjustments to resolve concerns.

Tests to evaluate ability, achievement, aptitude, vocational interest and personality are available to students and may be recommended as part of the counseling experience. This information is useful in assessing academic potential and progress, as well as personal characteristics, strengths and weaknesses which must be considered in the decision-making process.

Group sessions are presented each quarter on topics ranging from stress management and overcoming test anxiety to deciding on a major, eating disorders and drug abuse awareness. Programs on special topics are provided at the request of student groups.

Career Development

Of particular interest to many students are the services related to assistance with choosing a major, finding suitable careers, gathering information on occupations and preparing for the job search. The career library, computer-assisted career exploration programs and tests of aptitude and interest are a few of the resources on hand.

Minority Advisement Program

The Minority Advisement Program provides special assistance to minority students who wish to be a part of this program. Upper-class minority student sponsors work with new students to aid them in adjusting to the university environment.

Disabled Student Services

Georgia Southern University is committed to assisting students with various learning, physical and/or medical disabilities. Services currently available include counseling and serving as liaisons for students to faculty and staff. Counseling is provided at no charge through the Counseling Center and is available to all students with disabilities. Please contact the Disabilities Counselor in the University Counseling Center at 681-5541, Landrum Box 8011, TTD # 681-5542.

FINANCIAL AID

Georgia Southern University offers a comprehensive program of financial aid for students who, without such aid, would be unable to continue their education. Through this financial aid program, an eligible student may receive one or more types of financial aid. Georgia Southern administers several programs designed to assist students. These programs include assistantships, employment, fellowships, grants, loans, and scholarships. Before you or your parents decide a college education is too expensive, you should investigate the possibility of obtaining financial aid through Georgia Southern University.

Most financial aid at Georgia Southern is awarded on the basis of a student's academic progress and proven financial "need." Financial need is defined as the difference between a family's resources and the total expenses of attending the university. If there is a deficit, the student is considered to be in need of financial assistance. Georgia Southern University uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form provided by the U.S. Department of Education to measure a student's eligibility to participate in the various Title IV programs.

HEALTH CENTER

The University has a student Health Center staffed by full-time health care professionals including physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses and X-ray and laboratory technicians as well as clerical personnel, and a pharmacist. Consultations, examinations, and treatment are available during the time school is in session to those students who have paid a health fee. There is a small fee charged for services not covered by the health fee, such as X-rays, lab work and medications. The Health Center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday when the university is in session.

The health fee covers only these services rendered at the Health Center. Illness or accidents requiring the services of a physician or hospitalization off campus are at the expense of the student. Students may also elect to use a physician other than the college practitioners at their own expense.

PLACEMENT OFFICE/CAREER SERVICES

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT/JOB SEARCH SKILLS

The Placement Office is a centralized facility which assists students and alumni from all academic areas in entering the professional employment market. In addition to the highly visible on-campus recruiting program that attracts well over 100 employers from Georgia and throughout the southeast, the Placement Office offers a wide variety of programs and services to equip students for a successful job search. Professional staff are available to advise students and lead workshops on such topics as preparing a resume, effective interviewing techniques, and general job search strategies. Special career days attended by employers from business and industry, health/human services, education and government are planned throughout the year where students are encouraged to network with employer representatives. A comprehensive resource collection of books, periodicals, video tapes and employer literature is available for students to research not just career fields and jobs, but employing organizations as well.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

Georgia Southern University offers students the opportunity to gain work experience related to their academic majors and earn money for college expenses. This is achieved through the Cooperative Education Program that is provided on an optional basis in most majors in the Schools of Technology, Business, Arts and Sciences, and Health and Professional Studies. The Co-op Program is coordinated administratively by the GSU Placement Office.

The co-op plan may be student, college or industry initiated. Normally students must have completed at least 30 quarter hours of credit, have a GPA of 2.5 or better and be willing to participate in a minimum of two alternating co-op work quarters. Work responsibilities and salaries are both determined by the individual employer. Co-op students register for a designated Special Problems/Co-op course each quarter that they are on work assignment; an S/U grade is assigned for each work quarter on the basis of the employer's evaluation.

CAREER EXPLORATION

The Placement Office can assist students with choosing a major and career field. This process allows students to focus on personal values, interests and skills while gathering information about different academic majors. Once this process is achieved the student can translate general career goals into a specific employment seeking strategy. This service provides self assessment inventories, video mock interviews, resume critiquing and SIGI+, a computerized career guidance system. Campus outreach programming allows students to become knowledgeable about various academic majors, graduate school issues and a host of other career related topics.

STUDENT CONDUCT CODES

Rules and regulations regarding student conduct are found in the Student Conduct Code. It is the responsibility of the student to know and to follow these rules and regulations relating to student life and behavior.

Disciplinary procedures, including appellate procedures and disciplinary penalties, may be found in the Student Conduct Code. The university reserves the right to change these codes at any time when necessary to ensure the orderly and normal operation of the university.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

Part of each student's education is the development of his/her talents outside the classroom through participation in one or more of a wide variety of organizations and activities on the Georgia Southern University campus. The University Union provides services to all recognized student organizations and is responsible for registering and maintaining informational files on student organizations. The program area of the University Union provides leadership retreats, receptions, seminars, and workshops for student organizations. Organizations range from honor and recognition societies, special interest groups, professional and departmental organizations, social fraternities and sororities and religious organizations to the Student Government Association. Activities include those that are academic, literary, athletic and leadership in nature. Information about student organizations can be obtained by contacting the University Union at 681-0399.

Student Government Association is the central student organization on campus. Its five executive officers - president, executive vice president, vice president for academic affairs, vice president for finance, and vice president for auxiliary affairs - are elected each Spring Quarter by the student body. Student Government represents the student body in all phases of student life at Georgia Southern and facilitates communication between the administration, the faculty and the student body. Individuals or organizations desiring input into the total life of the campus should enlist the services of these officers and senators.

TESTING

The Testing Office provides services to students as well as certain segments of the surrounding community. Such examinations as the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), Graduate Record Examination (GRE), Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), Regents' Test, Institutional SAT (ISAT), Miller's Analogies Test (MAT), GED, Nursing Tests, National College Level Examination Program (NCLEP), ACT, Law School Admission Test (LSAT) and Pharmacy Test are administered through this office. The Testing Office also assists students by providing a center for Independent Testing for Correspondence Courses taken at other institutions. There is a $10 charge per test for arranging Independent Study Exams.

Persons interested in further information concerning dates, times, cost, eligibility and sign-up procedures should contact the Testing Office at 681-5415.

UNIVERSITY UNION

The new University Union serves as the official center of student, faculty and staff life. It provides the services, conveniences and amenities the members of the university family need in their daily lives on campus. It offers a cultural, social, and recreational program enhancing the out-of-class experiences and aiming to make free time a cooperative factor with study in education. The union aids in the individual's development of basic qualities of successful leadership and participation. The development of persons as well as intellects is its goal.

Included in the 110,000 square foot University Union facility is: a 900 seat ballroom, a 576 seat movie theatre/auditorium, student office space, 16 meeting rooms, a gameroom, study lounges, music listening lounge, TV lounge, snack bar, retail shops, mini book store, a small restaurant, an information center, a catering kitchen and several open lounges. These facilities support programs such as Union Productions(UP), Student Government, student clubs and organizations, leadership training and homecoming.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAMS

The Educational Opportunity Programs Office provides outreach services designed to promote post secondary education opportunities among area low income and potential first generation college students. The Office is comprised of the Upward Bound and Educational Talent Search Projects. Upward Bound offers 80 high school students the support and assistance needed to generate skills necessary for success at the post secondary level. Services and activities include tutorial assistance, career, personal and academic counseling, cultural field trips, classes in basic skills, assistance with post secondary placement and a six week residential program. Educational Talent Search assists 900 middle school, high school, out of school students and veterans with help in completing high school, enrolling in and completing post secondary educational programs. Services include career and academic counseling, college admissions and financial aid assistance, workshops on self-esteem and study skills, and college tours. The service area includes Bulloch, Burke, Candler, Emanuel, Evans, Jenkins, and Screven Counties. Both programs are funded by grants provided by the U.S. Department of Education and are administered by the Division of Student Affairs.

ADMISSIONS AND HOUSING

HOUSING .....	40
ADMISSION TO GEORGIA SOUTHERN .....	41

HOUSING

FACILITIES

Georgia Southern operates thirteen housing units providing space for approximately 3200 students. The 12 residence halls and two apartment units offer a variety of facilities, services, programs, and costs.

Special facilities and services available in the residence halls include TV lounges, pianos, recreational equipment, laundry rooms and kitchen areas. Student rooms are equipped for two students and include single beds with innerspring mattresses, desks with chairs and closets. Students are expected to furnish their own bed and bath linens including a mattress pad and pillow.

In addition to providing convenient and comfortable housing at a reasonable cost, Georgia Southern also strives to provide a positive environment conducive to the development of its residents. Each housing unit has a Residence Life staff which supervises the activities within the unit, offers educational, social and recreational programs and is available to assist students with personal and academic concerns.

POLICIES, PROCEDURES & REGULATIONS

The Department of Housing has established regulations, policies and procedures to insure the orderly operation of the department and to promote effective group living. Those policies and regulations which are most appropriate for inclusion here are listed below. Additional policies and regulations can be found on the application form, in the Eagle-Eye and in other Department of Housing publications.

Residency Requirements/Eligibility: There is no residency requirement for the 1993-94 academic year. Any student, regardless of their classification, will be allowed to live off campus. To be eligible for college housing, one must be enrolled at Georgia Southern and must maintain a minimum of five credit hours per quarter.

Applying for Campus Housing: Application for university-owned housing is to be submitted after a student has been officially accepted to Georgia Southern. Information on campus housing will be included with the official acceptance letter. One copy of the completed application/agreement form should be sent with a $50 reservation/damage deposit to the address given on the application. The carbon copy is the student's copy.

IMPORTANT! Please note that the application/agreement form used by the Department of Housing binds the student to college-owned housing for the entire academic year or remaining portion thereof. Once the application is submitted, the student is legally bound to the terms and conditions printed on the back of the form. Students whose homes are within commuting distance should decide if they are willing to live in college housing for the full year before submitting their application.

Deposits: The required $50 reservation damage deposit is not applied toward room rent, but will be kept until the student's period of residency is complete. At the end of a student's residency, the deposit will be refunded if all terms and conditions of the agreement have been met. Charges for damages or special cleaning will be deducted from the deposit before a refund is issued. The deposit will also be refunded if the reservation is cancelled by the dates indicated on the application form.

Assignments: Assignments are made on the basis of (1) date of receipt of the agreement and deposit and (2) specific request of the applicant. Therefore new students are advised to request a housing application as soon as they receive their official acceptance. While every effort will be made to honor building preferences and mutual roommate requests, no guarantee can be made concerning these requests.

The university reserves the right to (a) authorize or deny room and/or roommate changes, (b) place additional students in a students' assigned room, (c) consolidate vacancies and (d) re-designate buildings and assignments if it is in the best interest of the overall program.

If a student fails to occupy his/her space by 6 p.m. of the first day of classes without notifying the Housing Office of a delayed arrival, the assignment will be cancelled. Students who enroll without occupying their assigned space will remain liable for housing fees during the period of the housing agreement.

Date of Occupancy: Students may occupy assigned space from the date designated as the official opening of campus housing to the date designated as the end of the term. Campus housing is closed between quarters with the exception of specifically designated units.

Students who withdraw or are suspended for academic or judicial reasons must vacate their assigned space, removing all personal belongings within 24 hours after discontinuance as a student.

Questions pertaining to student housing should be directed to:

Department of Housing
Landrum Box 8102
Georgia Southern University
Statesboro, Georgia 30460-8102
(912) 681-5406

RESIDENCE LIFE

The Residence Life program at Georgia Southern University offers a living-learning environment for the 3200 students living on campus in 12 residence halls and two apartment complexes. Residence hall living provides social interaction and programming that heighten a student's sense of belonging, self esteem and self actualization. Services, activities and other learning experiences include rules, regulations, roommate contracting, floor gatherings, meetings, hall government and leadership training. These experiences provide students with an opportunity to grow, achieve, find autonomy and practice decision making. The Residence Life Office provides quality programming based on the Wellness Concept. Programs are centered around the following dimensions: social, physical, occupational, spiritual, intellectual and emotional.

Coordinating these experiences and programs are highly trained staff members. Staff members enhance the living community by planning the above mentioned activities and programs for students, assisting students in every way possible to ensure that they are happy, safe and making a smooth transition to college life. Four professional staff members (Area Directors: fulltime professional who have a Master's degree in Student Development, Counseling or a related field) live and work in the residence halls; 11 Resident Directors (graduate students) live in the residence halls and are available practically 24 hours a day to respond to any type of situation; and 78 Resident Assistants (upper-class students) live on the floors of the residence halls. Through effective management and programming, the Residence Life staff members create a community environment that is conducive to the academic success and personal growth of each resident and consistent with the goals and objectives of Georgia Southern University.

Students have the opportunity to become actively involved in residence hall living by becoming a member of the Resident Student Association, Residence Hall Association or the Residence Hall Judicial Board.

The Residence Life Office is located on the first floor of the Rosenwald Building. The Area Directors and Resident Directors have offices in the residence halls.

ADMISSION

The university encourages applications from qualified applicants from all cultural, racial, religious and ethnic groups. Admissions standards are designed to identify students whose academic backgrounds indicate they are capable of successfully completing work at Georgia Southern University.

The requirements for admission to the university as a beginning freshman, undergraduate transfer, graduate, or transient student may be found in the appropriate sections.

Information on admission to a particular degree and major program may be found in the appropriate school section.

Applications for admission may be secured from the office of your high school or junior college counselors or by writing directly to the Office of Admissions, Landrum Box 8024, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, Georgia, 30460-8024, (912- 681-5531) and must be submitted prior to the application deadline prescribed for each quarter.

Normally all students who have applied or updated their applications prior to the application deadline for a specific term will be considered for admission. However the university reserves the right to cease accepting applications at any time. Therefore students are encouraged to apply or update well in advance of the application deadline for their intended terms.

The university reserves the right to examine further any applicant by the use of psychological, achievement and aptitude tests. (Each applicant must give evidence of good moral character, promise for growth and development, seriousness of purpose, and a sense of social responsibility.)

The university further reserves the right to require additional biographical data and/or an interview before the applicant is accepted or denied admission. If an interview is required, the applicant will be notified.

The Director of Admissions may refer any applicant to the Admissions Committee of the university for study and advice. The ultimate decision of acceptance or denial will be made by the Director of Admissions subject to the applicant's right to appeal as provided in the policies of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia.

An applicant who chooses not to enroll for the quarter accepted must notify the Admissions Office to update quarter of application, and acceptance may be deferred until further information is received.

IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

In order to comply with University System of Georgia policies, all new students attending Georgia Southern University will be required to submit a Certificate of Immunization for measles, mumps, and rubella prior to registering for classes.

Students who do not present evidence of immunization as set forth above will not be allowed to register or to attend classes until such time as they can present the required immunization certificate. Students who have religious objections and students whose physicians have certified that they cannot be immunized because of medical reasons may be allowed to register with the understanding that they must leave the campus in the event of an outbreak of the diseases mentioned.

The certification must be on a form provided by Georgia Southern and signed by a physician or an official of a County Health Department. This certification form is mailed to all new students admitted to Georgia Southern. If you have questions call the Health Service at (912) 681-5641.

BEGINNING FRESHMEN

*An applicant will be eligible for admission only upon compliance with the following requirements and conditions.

1. Graduation from an approved secondary school or possession of a Department of Education Certificate awarded on the basis of the General Education Development (GED) Tests.**
2. Satisfactory completion of college preparatory subjects in high school which should include the following units:
  - 4 English
  - 3 Social Studies
  - 3 Mathematics (courses should include Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry or Trigonometry).
  - 2 Foreign Language (must be the same language)
  - 3 Science
  - 4 Additional academic courses
  - 16 total academic units (please see College Preparatory Curriculum which follows)
3. Submission of satisfactory scores on the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (S.A.T.) or American College Test (A.C.T.)
4. U.S. Citizens or Resident Aliens for whom English is not their native language must submit satisfactory test results from the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) or the Michigan test which must be taken at a site within the United States or its protectorates.
5. Submission of an official high school transcript directly from the high school to the university.
6. A record of good conduct. Major or continued difficulty with the school or civil authorities may make an applicant ineligible regardless of academic qualifications.
7. Submission of a Medical History (Form provided with an acceptance for admission.) Applicants are usually initially admitted prior to high school graduation once they have completed their junior year of high school and have submitted official high school transcripts including a satisfactory grade point average and satisfactory S.A.T. or A.C.T. scores.

An individual seeking admission as a special student, not pursuing a degree program, but who desires to take courses for personal benefit, must submit a statement as to the type of studies to be pursued and the reason for selecting a special program. The individual must also submit all documents and satisfactory scores on such ability or achievement tests as may be prescribed by the Director of Admissions.

- * Requirements are subject to change. Please contact Admissions Office for current admission requirements.
- ** GED recipients are not eligible for admission before their high school class has graduated.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY CURRICULUM

The following courses are required of students who graduated from high school in the spring of 1988 or later and plan to enroll in regular college programs leading to the baccalaureate degree in institutions of the University System of Georgia: four units of English (including grammar and usage, American and world literature, and advanced composition skills), three units of science (including physical science, at least two laboratory courses from biology, chemistry, or physics), three units of mathematics (including Algebra I, II and geometry), three units of social science (including American history, world history, and economics and government), and two units of foreign language (skills-building courses emphasizing speaking, listening, reading, and writing). The courses required for regular admission to institutions of the University System represent the minimum standards set forth by the Board of Regents.

Additional courses selected from the following areas are also strongly recommended: trigonometry, an additional laboratory course in science, a third course in a foreign language or study of a second foreign language, fine arts (art, dance, drama, music), computer technology, health and physical education and typing.

Students who have completed the required courses of the college preparatory curriculum and who meet all other admission requirements will be admitted to Georgia Southern as regular students. Students graduating with fewer than the required units in the college preparatory curriculum and who meet other standards for admission will be granted provisional status while they complete courses in the areas where they have not completed the required number of units. These are outlined below.

English

Students graduating with fewer than the four required units of English will be required to take the Collegiate Placement Exam (CPE) in English and reading. Based upon the student's score, the student would (1) exempt Developmental Studies English and/or reading or (2) be placed in Developmental Studies English and/or reading.

Mathematics

Students graduating with fewer than the three required units of mathematics will be required to take the Collegiate Placement Examination (CPE) in mathematics. Based upon the student's score, the student would (1) exempt Developmental Studies mathematics or (2) be placed in Developmental Studies mathematics at the appropriate level.

The following provisions apply to the science, social science, and foreign language requirements:

These additional required courses represent course-work beyond the requirements for the program in which the student is enrolled, that is, the student receives credit for the courses, but the credit does not count toward a degree.

The student must earn a "C" or better in each of these courses.

Entering freshmen must enroll in courses to satisfy these deficiencies as soon as we become aware of the deficiencies.

Transfer students must also take these courses immediately upon entering Georgia Southern. The course(s) should be taken with the idea of expanding the student's previous exposure to the disciplines.

Science

Students graduating with fewer than three units of science will be required to take an additional five-hour course in a laboratory science chosen from the approved laboratory science courses in Area II of the core curriculum.

Social Science

Students graduating with fewer than three units of social science will be required to complete one additional five-hour course chosen from the approved social science courses in Area III of the core curriculum.

Foreign Language

Students graduating with fewer than two units of the same foreign language will be required to complete through the second course (Elementary II) of a foreign language at Georgia Southern. Course requirements will be based on the results of a placement exam. Most students with no foreign language work in high school will most likely be required to take the first and second course of a foreign language.

COURSES THAT SATISFY CPC

SOCIAL SCIENCE

One of the following college courses will satisfy the CPC deficiency:

HIS 152 or 153	Development of Civilization
HIS 252 or 253	U.S. to 1877 or Since 1877
ANT 150	Intro to Anthropology
ECO 250	Principles of Economics I
ECO 251	Principles of Economics II
ECO 260	Basic Economics
GGY 250	World Regional Geography
PSY 251	Intro to Psychology
SOC 150	Intro to Sociology

SCIENCE

One of the following courses will satisfy the CPC deficiency:

BIO 151	General Biology I
CHE 171	Intro to General Chemistry
CHE 181	General Chemistry I
GLY 151	General Physical Geology
PHY 251	General College Physics (Requires Trigonometry) Engineering and Mathematics Students (Requires 2nd course in calculus)
PHS 151	Principles of the Physical Universe (Not for students in Developmental Studies Math)

All students are required to complete a ten-hour lab science sequence to satisfy the core curriculum. This is in addition to the five hours from the lab science courses listed above needed to satisfy the CPC deficiency in lab sciences.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The second course in the Elementary Foreign Language sequence satisfies the CPC deficiency:

YOR 152	Elementary Yoruba II
ARA 152	Elementary Arabic II
FRE 152	Elementary French II
GER 152	Elementary German II
JAP 152	Elementary Japanese II
SPA 152	Elementary Spanish II
RUS 152	Elementary Russian II
LAT 152	Elementary Latin II
KOR 152	Elementary Korean II
FUL 152	Elementary Fulani II

PROVISIONALLY ACCEPTED FRESHMEN

Freshmen accepted conditionally must have met SAT/ACT or grade-point average requirements. Students admitted under this provision must also take the Collegiate Placement Examination for placement purposes. See Developmental Studies.

Students who are provisionally accepted to Georgia Southern and/or must take the Collegiate Placement Exam will jeopardize their admission by enrolling at another institution prior to entering Georgia Southern. Then they must exit developmental studies at that institution and complete 30 hours beyond development studies with a 2.0 grade-point average.

DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

Georgia Southern maintains the philosophy that all students who gain admission to the university should be given the best chance possible to succeed. Since students enter at many levels of ability and preparation, the university seeks to give assistance to each student where needed.

The purpose of the Developmental Studies program is to provide those students who have been admitted to the university with inadequate skills in reading, composition and/or mathematics the opportunity to develop those skills to entry-level competency for regular freshman credit courses. Students will be enrolled in a portion or in all of the Developmental Studies curriculum if results of the placement tests and a writing sample reflect a need for assistance in developing academic skills of those who qualify for admission.

Developmental Studies courses carry institutional credit but not credit toward a degree. Institutional credit is not used in computing grade point averages. If the diagnostic tests so indicate, a student may be allowed to enroll in one or more college-level courses for degree credit concurrently with Developmental Studies courses. The student's first obligation, however, is to satisfy Developmental Studies requirements, and a student may not accumulate more than thirty (30) hours of degree-credit courses before completing Developmental Studies requirements.

Students' progress will be assessed periodically, and they may move out of Developmental Studies courses at the end of any quarter provided satisfactory levels of proficiency have been reached. Students must establish proficiency in Developmental Studies courses within a maximum of four quarters.

Students may carry a maximum of 18 hours except in their fourth quarter when they are limited to 12 hours.

Students who apply for or receive financial aid and who are enrolled as Developmental Studies students will receive the same consideration and awards as any other student.

Students who are not required to enroll in a Developmental Studies course may elect to do so under one of the following conditions:

1. They may enroll for institutional credit, in which case they will be classified as Developmental Studies students and must meet the exit requirements for that area.
2. They may enroll on an audit basis, in which case they will be limited to a total of 18 hours including the audit hours. They will be expected to participate in the course and take the tests, but they will not be subject to the Developmental Studies exit requirements.

Applicants accepted for the Developmental Studies Program at Georgia Southern University must contact the Developmental Studies office should they wish to enroll at another college prior to attending Southern. (See policies for Admission as a Transfer Student.)

A Developmental Studies student who is placed on dismissal for failure to exit Developmental Studies may apply for readmission as a transfer student after satisfying Developmental Studies requirements and completing thirty hours of college-level work with a minimum grade point average.

JOINT ENROLLMENT

*A student classified by the high school as a senior may apply for the privilege of enrollment to pursue college credit while attending high school. To be admitted, the student must satisfy the following:

- A. Have an academic GPA of at least 3.0
- B. Must submit SAT scores of at least 900.
- C. Must have a recommendation from the student's counselor or principal.
- D. Must have excelled in the field for which the student is seeking to enroll.
- E. Must have written consent of parent or guardian (if the student is a minor).
- F. Must meet College Preparatory Curriculum requirements except in Social Science and English. If their verbal SAT score is 450 or better, then credit can be counted toward graduation. This is the only instance that dual credit is allowed.

* Requirements are subject to change.

EARLY ADMISSION

*Students who have completed the eleventh grade in high school and have demonstrated outstanding ability to achieve will be considered for early admission. Early Admission Students enroll in college as full-time students prior to graduation from high school. To be admitted the student must meet the following requirements:

- A. Submission of SAT scores of at least 1000.
- B. Must have an academic GPA of 3.5 or better.
- C. Must have a recommendation from the student's counselor or principal.
- D. Must have written consent of parent or guardian (if the student is a minor).
- E. Must meet College Preparatory Curriculum requirements except Social Science English if verbal SAT score is 450 or better.

* Requirements are subject to change.

TRANSFER ADMISSION

* Applicants who have attended any college or university should satisfy the following:

1. Request the Registrar at each institution attended, regardless of length of attendance or amount of credit earned, to send an official transcript to the Director of Admissions.

2. Present a satisfactory academic record from each institution attended. Admission will be evaluated in accordance with one of the following categories, as appropriate:

- a. Generally, students completing an A.A. or A.S. degree with a 2.0 cumulative G.P.A. (4.0 scale) in a college or university parallel curriculum will be offered admission.
- b. Students who have completed 30 or more quarter credit hours of collegiate work:

transfer admission will be granted only if the student has a grade point average of at least 2.0 on all collegiate work attempted or on the most recently attempted thirty quarter credit hours.

- c. Students who have completed fewer than 30 quarter credit hours of collegiate work:

transfer admission will be granted only if the student meets all current requirements for regular freshman admission to Georgia Southern University and have a minimum 2.0 transfer grade point average.

**Applicants will not be eligible for admission if they are under current dismissal from any other institution. If you have attempted under 30 quarter hours of college parallel credit at another institution and have not met Georgia Southern's freshman admissions requirements and/or enrolled in remedial/developmental studies courses at another college, you will not be eligible for admission until you have successfully completed the remedial developmental courses and have earned 30 quarter hours of regular degree credit with a cumulative 2.0 grade-point average.*

The Director of Admissions will ordinarily determine the applicant's eligibility on the basis of the above requirements but may, however, require the applicant to meet any or all of the following:

1. Present transcripts of high school work and meet freshman admission requirements.
2. A personal interview.
3. Present results for any psychological, achievement or aptitude test that the college may prescribe.
4. Submission of a Medical History. (Form provided with an acceptance for admission.)

Transfer students who graduated from high school in Spring of 1988 or later and have not completed at least 45 quarter hours of accepted transfer core curriculum credits in Areas I, II or III with a minimum of a 2.0 grade-point average must complete the College Preparatory Curriculum requirements of the University System of Georgia.

Transfer students from University System schools are required to complete CPC requirements regardless of hours accepted in transfer.

The applicant possesses the right to appeal the decision of the Director of Admissions to the University Admissions Committee.

* Students who are dually enrolled during high school with a college or university other than Georgia Southern must meet the University System of Georgia's joint enrollment requirements before credit will be awarded.

ADVANCED STANDING

Accepted applicants who have attended any college or university may be granted advanced standing according to the following policies:

1. Transfer credit may be accepted from degree granting institutions that are fully accredited at the collegiate level by their appropriate regional accrediting agency. Provisions may be considered when an institution appeals the policy. However, should the quality of the educational program of the institution attended appear to be mediocre or unsatisfactory, the Director of Admissions has the prerogative not to accept all or any part of previously earned credits.
2. The amount of academic credit accepted in transfer may not exceed the normal amount of credit that could have been earned at Georgia Southern during that time.
3. Credit will be allowed for college courses completed which are college parallel in nature. Below college level (remedial or refresher) courses cannot be accepted in transfer.
4. The Director of Admissions and the Registrar reserve the right to make judgments concerning satisfying requirements for the first three areas of the core curriculum.
5. Credits accepted in transfer by Georgia Southern University may not necessarily apply as hours toward graduation. Final determination with exception of areas I, II and III of the core curriculum, will be made by the appropriate academic advisor and are subject to the regulations of the School and Department granting the degree and major.

6. A maximum of 101 quarter hours of work (including physical education courses) completed in a junior college may be accepted.
7. A maximum of 45 quarter hours of non-resident credit may be accepted for transfer within the following guidelines:
  - a. Grade of "C" or higher required for courses completed by extension or correspondence.
  - b. Fifteen quarter hours credit for military service experience including USAFI and correspondence courses as recommended by the American Council on Education.
  - c. Six quarter hours of credit for physical education activity courses based on a minimum of one year's active duty. The student should furnish a copy of the DD-214 to the Registrar's Office.

TRANSIENT ADMISSION

Subject to the availability of faculty, space, and facilities, a regular undergraduate student in good standing at another accredited institution may be permitted to enroll one quarter at Georgia Southern in order to complete work to be transferred back to the parent institution. The transient applicant should:

1. Present a statement from the dean or registrar of the parent institution to the effect that he is in good standing and eligible to return to that institution. Must also furnish an official transcript from the last institution attended.
2. Comply with all regulations regarding the admission of transfer students, if, in the opinion of the Director of Admissions, there is doubt about the qualifications of the transient applicant.

Transient students applying for admission for Summer Quarter may be permitted to enroll with submission of the "letter of good standing" alone.

ADMISSION AS A POST BACCALAUREATE STUDENT

Applicants for admission with a bachelors degree from an accredited institution but who are not seeking graduate level credit are expected to meet general admission requirements established for enrollment in undergraduate programs.

In addition to the general application for admission form, applicants are required to submit an official transcript to the Director of Admissions, from the institution in which they receive their undergraduate degree. If applicant is seeking an additional degree, official transcripts from all previous institutions will be required.

Individuals enrolled as post baccalaureate students are eligible to take undergraduate level courses only.

ADMISSION AS A GRADUATE STUDENT

Applicants for admission to graduate study are expected to meet general admission requirements established for applicants to graduate programs. The graduate applicant is required to submit two official transcripts of all courses attempted at the undergraduate level. One remains with the Graduate Office; one is submitted to the Director of Admissions.

Admission to the Graduate School is the responsibility of the Dean of the Graduate School; therefore, refer to the section in this catalog headed Graduate School for additional information.

ADMISSION AS AN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT

Georgia Southern University subscribes to the principles of international education and to the basic concept that only through education and understanding can mutual respect, appreciation, and tolerance of others be accomplished.

In addition to meeting the general admission requirements, a prospective international student should satisfy the following:

1. Present TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) scores which demonstrate proficiency in the English language. English language proficiency is necessary to enroll in a full academic course of study which is conducted exclusively in English. Although TOEFL scores must indicate a level of proficiency required for admission, students may be required to enroll in English as a Second Language as determined by the Foreign Student Advisor prior to registration for classes. Students required to enroll in English as a Second Language courses will be allowed a maximum of two quarters to complete these English courses and attain a satisfactory level of English proficiency. Students who do not complete the English courses and attain proficiency will be ineligible to continue enrollment.

2. Provide evidence of student's ability to meet financial requirements while in attendance.
3. Submit an official copy of certificates, degrees, or diplomas awarded, including grade reports.

The Director of Admissions reserves the right to request other information which may be necessary to evaluate the application. This institution also reserves the right to admit only those students who are academically qualified and who have proven their ability to meet the financial requirements while in attendance.

All students must provide proof of adequate health and accident insurance coverage while attending Georgia Southern University.

Applicants needing a student visa may be required to submit a deposit before a Certificate of Eligibility will be issued. Continuation of the visa after the first calendar year requires further proof and certification of the student's financial ability.

International students with a student visa are required to carry a full course of study in every quarter. A full course of study at Georgia Southern University is 15 quarter hours for undergraduate students and ten quarter hours for graduate students.

SPECIAL ADMISSION FOR STUDENTS AGE 62 AND OLDER

Georgia citizens who are 62 years of age or older have the privilege, as granted by Amendment 23 of the Georgia Constitution, of enrolling in the University without the payment of fees subject to the following conditions:

1. Must be a legal resident of Georgia.
2. Must be 62 years of age or older and present proof of age at the time of registration.

3. Must enroll as a regular student to audit or take courses offered for resident credit.
4. Must pay for supplies, laboratory or shop fees.
5. Must meet all Georgia Southern University and University System of Georgia admission requirements including high school graduation, SAT or ACT scores, and participation in Developmental Studies if required.
6. If the applicant has previously attended another college or university, he must satisfy transfer admission requirements.
7. If a course of study is pursued to degree, all Institutional, System, and State legislated degree requirements must be met (see REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION).

SPECIAL ADMISSION FOR MATURE STUDENTS

Applicants applying for admission as a mature student summer quarter and subsequent quarters must meet following requirements:

1. Students who have not attended high school or college within the previous five years and have earned fewer than 20 transferable quarter hours of college credit are not required to take the SAT or ACT. These students, however, shall take the University System of Georgia Collegiate Placement Examination (CPE) and complete any Developmental Studies requirements.
2. Applicants must submit a high school transcript with an academic grade point average of a 2.00 or have successfully completed the General Education Development (GED).

READMISSION POLICY

A Georgia Southern University student who has been out of school one quarter or more (excluding summer quarter) and who desires to be readmitted should submit a former student application. The student should also request that official transcripts from any other institution attended since attending Georgia Southern be sent to the Registrar. The student must be eligible to return to the most recently attended institution in order to be eligible for readmission to Georgia Southern.

RESIDENCY

Regents' Policies Governing Classification of Students for Tuition Purposes: Under the Constitution and the laws of Georgia, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia was created to govern, control and manage a system of public institutions providing quality higher education for the Georgia citizens. The State, in turn, receives substantial benefit from individuals who are attending or who have attended these institutions through their significant contributions to the civic, political, economic and social advancement of the citizens of Georgia.

Because of the overwhelming amount of financial support supplied by the citizens of Georgia, the determination of whether a student is a resident or a non-resident of Georgia is a significant matter. The tuition paid by in-state students covers about one-fourth of the total cost of their education in Georgia. Georgia taxpayers are therefore contributing 75 per cent of the funds for quality education in Georgia.

State colleges and universities often assign out-of-state students a higher tuition rate in an attempt to achieve a partial cost equalization between those who have and those who have not recently contributed to the state's economy.

The courts consider the durational residency requirement (usually 12 months) imposed by most states to be a reasonable period during which the new resident can make tangible or intangible contributions to the state before attending state colleges as an in-state student. The term "resident" confuses many because it can refer to voter registration, driver's license, automobile registration, income taxes and other matters. A student may be a resident of Georgia for some purposes, but not entitled to in-state tuition fees. Courts have consistently upheld the right of these institutions to charge out-of-state students higher rates. The courts have also upheld the institutions' right to adopt reasonable criteria for determining in-state status.

Through the resident and non-resident fees, the taxpayers of Georgia are assured that they are not assuming the financial burden of educating non-permanent residents.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- A. Student Responsibility to Register Under Proper Classification - The responsibility of registering under the proper tuition classification is that of the student. If there is any question of his/her right to in-state tuition status, it is his/her obligation, prior to or within 60 calendar days of his/her registration, to raise the question with the administrative officials of the institution in which he/she is registering and have it officially determined. The burden always rests with the student to submit information and documents necessary to support his/her contention that he/she qualifies for a particular tuition classification under Regents' regulations.
- B. Notification of Change in Circumstances - A student who is classified as an in-state student must notify the proper administrative officials of his/her institution immediately of any change in his/her residency status, or any other change in circumstances which may affect tuition classification.
- C. Official Change of Tuition Status - Every student classified as a nonresident shall retain that status until such time as he/she shall have petitioned for reclassification in the form prescribed by the institution and shall have been officially reclassified in writing as an in-state student by the proper administrative officers. No more than one application may be filed for a given quarter.
- D. Reclassification - Every student who has been granted in-state tuition as a legal resident of Georgia shall be reclassified as an out-of-state student whenever he/she shall report, or there have been found to exist, circumstances indicating a change in legal residence to another state.

REGENTS' POLICIES GOVERNING THE CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS FOR TUITION PURPOSES

1. (a) If a person is 18 years of age or older, he or she may register as an in-state student only upon a showing that he or she has domiciled in Georgia for a period of at least twelve months immediately preceding the date of registration. During this twelve month period, the student must show that he/she has been self supporting and has taken the necessary steps to become a legal resident that would normally be taken when moving into a new state.

- (b) No emancipated minor or other person 18 years of age or older shall be deemed to have gained or acquired in-state status for tuition purposes while attending any educational institution in this state, in the absence of a clear demonstration that he or she has in fact established legal residence in this state.
2. If a person is under 18 years of age, he or she may register as an in-state student only upon a showing that his or her supporting parent or guardian has been a legal resident of Georgia for a period of at least twelve months immediately preceding that date of registration.
  3. If a parent or legal guardian of a minor changes his or her legal residence to another state following his or her legal residence in Georgia, the minor may continue to take courses for a period of 12 consecutive months on the payment of in-state tuition. After the expiration of the 12-month period, the student may continue his or her registration only upon the payment of fees at the out-of-state rate.
  4. In the event that a legal resident of Georgia is appointed as guardian of a nonresident minor, such minor will not be permitted to register as an in-state student until the expiration of one year from the date of court appointment, but only upon a proper showing that such appointment was not made to avoid payment of the out-of-state fees.
  5. Aliens shall be classified as nonresident students; provided, however, that an alien who is living in this country under an immigration document permitting indefinite or permanent residence shall have the same privilege of qualifying for in-state tuition as a citizen of the United States.

WAIVERS

An institution may waive out-of-state tuition for:

- (a) Nonresident students who are financially dependent upon a parent, parents or spouse who has been a legal resident of Georgia for at least 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration; provided, however, that such financial dependence shall have existed for at least 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration;

- (b) international students, selected by the institutional president or his authorized representative, provided that the number of such waivers in effect does not exceed one per cent of the equivalent full-time students enrolled at the institution in the fall quarter immediately preceding the quarter for which the out-of-state tuition is to be waived;
- (c) full-time employees of the University System, their spouses and their dependent children;
- (d) Medical and dental residents and interns at the Medical College of Georgia;
- (e) full-time teachers in the public schools of Georgia or in the programs of the State Board of Technical and Adult Education and their dependent children. Teachers employed full-time on military bases in Georgia shall also qualify for this waiver;
- (f) career consular officers and their dependents who are citizens of the foreign nation which their consular office represents, and who are stationed and living in Georgia under orders of their respective governments. This waiver shall apply only to those consular officers whose nations operate on the principle of educational reciprocity with the United States;
- (g) military personnel and their dependents stationed in Georgia and on active duty unless such military personnel are assigned as students to System institutions for educational purposes.
- (h) selected graduate students at university-level institutions;
- (i) students who are legal residents of out-of-state counties bordering on Georgia counties in which an institution of the University System is located and who are enrolled in said institution.

PROCEDURES FOR OBTAINING GEORGIA IN-STATE CLASSIFICATION

Students who are classified by Georgia Southern University as out-of-state, but who later claim to qualify as in-state students must file a "Petition for Classification as a Legal Resident of Georgia" form with the Registrar's Office. A student's tuition status isn't changed automatically, and the responsibility for proving in-state status is the student's. Out-of-state students or applicants who believe that they are eligible for in-state benefits must apply for this status.

A person's legal residence is defined as the place where a person intends to remain indefinitely. There must be a concurrence of actual residence and the intent to remain at that legal residence.

APPEALS PROCEDURE

Any student wishing to appeal a decision concerning his/her residence classification should file a Notice of Appeal with the Residency Appeals Committee. This Notice of Appeal should be sent to the Registrar.

After reaching the highest level of appeal, if still not approved, the student may appeal to the Board of Regents.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Georgia Southern University is a participant in the Advanced Placement Program and the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) of the College Entrance Examination Board. Under the Advanced Placement Program a student entering the university offers a nationally graded examination as evidence of completion of a college level course taken in high school. Depending on the results of the examination, the student may receive Georgia Southern credit for courses covering similar material. Under the College Level Examination Program, the university grants up to 45 quarter hours of general education credit to those students who obtain the minimum scores defined by university policy.* For further information contact the Director of Admissions.

Georgia Southern also offers the student an opportunity to obtain credit by local proficiency examination. The procedure for securing proficiency examination credit is as follows:

1. Student clears with registrar to determine eligibility.
2. Student petitions department head of the subject area concerned for an examination covering a particular course listed in the catalog.
3. If petition is approved, the student must pay a test fee of fifteen dollars per test to the Cashier's Office who issues a receipt which is the examination admission ticket.
4. Credit will not be awarded for prerequisite courses after higher level courses have been attempted nor will credit be awarded for courses for which credit has already been earned.

5. Credit obtained by proficiency examination will be considered resident credit.
  6. The registrar will make appropriate entry on student's permanent record showing credit was earned by proficiency examination.
- * Credit will not be awarded if the student has previously registered for a similar course or a more advanced course in the same field, of if six months have not elapsed since last taking the test.

AUDITING COURSES

Applicants wishing to exclusively audit a course may be exempt from the necessity of taking the SAT. All other admission requirements must be met and regular fees paid. Audit acceptances will be awarded on an individual basis and at the discretion of the Director of Admissions. Georgia Southern also reserves the right to require the college placement exam. An auditor does not receive academic credit by auditing a course. Students may not transfer from audit to credit status, nor from credit to audit status after the last day of registration.

Students who enroll only to audit courses are approved for one quarter at a time and must be approved each quarter.

Students who register to audit courses and then do not attend class, will receive a W (administrative withdrawal) on the record if the student does not attend 75 per cent of the classes. A grade of "V" (audit) is entered on the record for satisfactory class attendance.

IRREGULAR STUDENTS

Irregular students and all other students of classifications not covered in these policies shall be required to meet all requirements prescribed for admission to undergraduate or graduate programs of work and to meet any additional requirements that may be prescribed by Georgia Southern University.

FEES AND FINANCIAL AID

FEES .....	53

FEES* BUSINESS REGULATIONS

The academic year is divided into three quarters of approximately 11 weeks each and a summer quarter of approximately six weeks. Expenses are charged and payable by the quarter since each quarter constitutes a separate unit of operation. A student may enroll at the beginning of any quarter.

To insure financial operation in conforming to the policies of the Board of Regents, certain regulations must be observed. Fees and charges are due and payable at the time designated on the registration invoice. Fees and charges may be paid in cash, check, or by VISA or Mastercard in the exact amount of the student's bill. Registration is not complete until all general fees have been paid.

The university reserves the right to make changes in its fees at the beginning of any quarter and without previous notice.

Personal checks made out to "CASH - GSU," with proper student identification, may be cashed at the Cashier's Office in Deal or at the University Store in an amount not to exceed $50.00.

*All fees are regulated by the Board of Regents and are subject to change without notice.

RETURNED CHECK PROCEDURE

If a check is returned unpaid by the bank on which it was drawn, a service charge of 5 percent of the face amount of the check or $15, whichever is greater, will be charged. Checks returned unpaid for registration fees before classes begin or during the first three weeks of school will result in a registration cancellation on the next scheduled cancellation date. Checks for tuition are sent to the bank twice for collection.

Fee checks returned unpaid after the last cancellation of the quarter must be cleared within ten days of written notice or the student will be administratively withdrawn and charged for the time enrolled according to the university catalog. A check for anything other than fees must be cleared within ten days of receipt of written notice or the check will be presented to the prosecuting authority of the court for collection or prosecution for criminal issuance of a returned check. A check for anything other than tuition is only presented to the bank once.

When two checks have been returned by any student's bank without payment, check cashing privileges for that student will be suspended.

HOUSING DEPOSIT

All applications for on-campus housing must be accompanied by $50 reservation breakage/key deposit. This deposit will be refunded after the student completes the assigned period of residency and has properly checked out of the residence hall, returned the keys, and left the room in acceptable condition. The deposit will be refunded if the Housing Office receives a cancellation notice thirty days prior to the first day of classes for the quarter. Deposits are forfeited if the student cancels, for any reason, his room reservation in the residence halls during the thirty days preceding the first day of classes. Housing deposit refunds normally require from 8 to 10 weeks for processing. If the student has unpaid obligations owed to the University, these are deducted from the student's housing deposit refund.

MATRICULATION FEE ON CAMPUS

The matriculation fee is charged to all students. Students registering for 12 or more hours will be charged $460.50 per quarter. Students registering for fewer than 12 hours will be charged at the rate of $38.50 per quarter hour.

OUT-OF-STATE TUITION

Non-residents of Georgia registering for 12 or more quarter hours must pay a fee of $921 per quarter in addition to the matriculation fee and all other regular fees. Non-residents registering for fewer than 12 hours will be charged at the rate of $77 per quarter hour. (See Legal Residence).

COLLEGE FEE

Cultural, social and athletic activities as well as good health care are important parts of the university's program and a student's educational environment. In order to provide those activities and services, a quarterly fee of $142 is charged. All students pay this fee unless they are registered for fewer than six credit hours or they enroll in all of their courses at off campus centers. Courses in Statesboro and Savannah are considered to be on-campus.

MEAL PLANS

Four types of meal plans are available. The contract meal plans may be purchased through the normal registration process or at the Food Service Office in the Landrum Center.

Contract Meal Plans

- (1) 3 meals a day, 7 days a week . . . . $570
 (2) 2 meals a day, 7 days a week . . . . $490
 (3) 2 meals a day, 5 days a week . . . . $405

Declining Balance Plan

- (4) The EAGLEXPRESS account is a pre-paid declining balance program which may be used in all Food Service units. The minimum deposit of $50 may be paid in the Food Service Office, the Bookstore, Books Plus, or the Lakeside Cafe.

Entering freshmen who live in residence halls must purchase one of the contract plans. Once this requirement has been satisfied, an EAGLEXPRESS account may then be opened. All other students may purchase any of the four meal plans desired or a combination of EAGLEXPRESS and one of the contract plans.

EAGLEXPRESS

This prepaid declining balance program is more than just a meal plan. EAGLEXPRESS can be used to purchase goods and services at all Auxiliary Service units including the University Store, the Health Center, Housing, Printing Services, Vending, Parking and Transportation, all Union Retail Stores, and all Food Service units.

There is no testing fee for the following if taken on the standard test date:

- Georgia & U.S. History and Constitution Tests
- Foreign Language Placement Test
- Regents' Testing Program
- College Placement Exam (CPE)

• Fees subject to change.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

The University maintains a bookstore where students may purchase textbooks, school supplies, sportswear, novelties, snacks, greeting cards, and other items. The University Store accepts cash, checks, Master Card, Visa, and EAGLEXPRESS for payment. Textbooks will cost about $150 per quarter depending on the courses taken and whether books are new or used.

REFUNDS

Regulations of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia provide for matriculation fee, non-resident fee and mandatory fee refunds when formal withdrawal is approved within a designated period, following scheduled registration.

During the first week . . . . .	80% refund
During the second week . . . . .	60% refund
During the third week . . . . .	40% refund
During the fourth week . . . . .	20% refund
Thereafter . . . . .	No refund

A refund of all quarterly matriculation fees, non-resident fees, and other mandatory fees shall be made in the event of the death of a student at any time during an academic quarter.

When a student vacates a housing assignment during the quarter by formal withdrawal from school, the housing deposit will be returned only if the student has properly checked out of the hall, returned keys, and left the room in acceptable physical condition. Room rent will be returned on a prorated basis determined by the date of withdrawal. Students receive no refund of either housing deposit or room rent if they vacate their housing assignment during the quarter without formally withdrawing from school. If a student withdraws during a quarter, refund of board charges will be made on a prorated basis determined by the date of withdrawal.

A student who discontinues study on any private instruction in music during the second week of a quarter will not be entitled to a refund of music fees.

Refunds will be made only at the end of the quarter.

No refunds for reduction in hours after the schedule adjustment period are allowed unless such reduction results from action of the university.

Outstanding financial obligations to Georgia Southern could be deducted from refund checks.

FINANCIAL AID

Georgia Southern University offers a comprehensive program of financial aid for students who, without such aid, would be unable to continue their education. Through this program, an eligible student may receive one or more types of financial aid.

Most financial aid at Georgia Southern is awarded on the basis of a student's academic progress and proven "financial need." "Financial need" is defined as the difference between a family's estimated resources and the total estimated expense of attending the university. Georgia Southern University uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Students may receive financial aid for up to 45 credit hours of Developmental Studies Program course work. Students may also receive aid when jointly-enrolled in Developmental Studies and regular courses. The 45 hour limit for Developmental Studies credit applies for jointly-enrolled students as well.

Contact the Financial Aid Department personnel at (912)-681-5413, for help with questions and problems.

The Financial Aid Department part of the Division of Student Affairs, is located on the ground floor of Anderson Hall. Mailing address: Department of Financial Aid, Landrum Box 8065, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, Georgia 30460-8065.

There are six (6) forms of financial aid available:

1. Assistantships - The Graduate School has available numerous positions within the various departments on campus. Students

- usually work 15 hours a week, and are compensated with monthly stipends and tuition supplements.
2. Employment - Three employment programs are available to students.
    - The Federal Work-Study Program (FWS) provides jobs to students who qualify for financial aid. Students normally work two hours per day for various wages.
    - The Job Location and Development Program (JLD) provides information about part-time job opportunities available in the Statesboro area. All currently enrolled students may participate in the program as there are no financial eligibility requirements.
    - The Institutional Work Program helps students locate part-time employment with the various departments on campus. There are no eligibility requirements.
  3. Fellowships - Similar in many ways to scholarships and grants, these programs are most often established to assist graduate students and sometimes involve a work obligation.
  4. Grants - Numerous federal, state and privately funded grant programs are available to students enrolled at Georgia Southern University.
  5. Loans - Several loan programs are available from state and federal agencies, civic clubs and private and public foundations. Each incorporates its own eligibility and repayment requirements.
  6. Scholarships - A variety of state and federal scholarship programs as well as a vast array of scholarship programs established and funded through the Georgia Southern University Foundation are available. Two forms of scholarships are available: Academic and Athletic. Contact the Athletic Administration Division (912-681-5376) for information on the athletic scholarship programs.
  3. Complete and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid by April 15th of the year you plan to enroll. You must list Georgia Southern University as one of the schools you plan to attend in Section G question 32.
  4. A number of programs require separate applications. Please note these and request those applications for the program in which you feel you can establish eligibility.
  5. Enrolled students should re-apply for aid by April 15th of each year.
  6. If you have previously attended another Post-secondary school, you must submit a Financial Aid Transcript from each school attended.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

To apply for any Federal TITLE IV aid:

1. Complete and submit an Application for Admission to attend Georgia Southern University.
2. Complete and submit the Georgia Southern Application for Student Financial Aid by April 15th of the year you plan to enroll.

Time Student Employment Office, L.B. 8065, (912) 681-0061.

Federal Work-Study Program - The Federal Work-Study Program (FWS) provides jobs for students who need financial aid and who must earn part of their educational expenses. Students must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and establish financial need to be awarded FWS. Applicants must be enrolled at least half-time in a vocational, undergraduate, or graduate program. The amount of the award depends upon demonstrated financial need and the amount of funds available. The standard award allows the student to work two (2) hours a day during the ten (10) week quarter.

Job Location and Development Program - The Job Location and Development Program (JLD) provides information about part-time job opportunities available in the Statesboro area. All currently enrolled students may participate in the program as there are no financial eligibility requirements. Interested students should contact the Part-time Student Employment Office in order to review the job availability listings.

Institutional Work Program - The Institutional Work Program helps students find part-time jobs in the various departments on campus. All currently enrolled students may participate, and no financial eligibility requirements apply. Interested students should contact the Part-time Student Employment Office in order to review the various on-campus job openings.

FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS

Patricia Roberts Harris Fellowship

Established in 1989, this program offers fellowships to minority and female students pursuing the Master degree. The fellowships are for a 12-month period and are renewable for a second year of study. Degree areas supported will vary each year. Criteria for selection include GPA, GRE scores, undergraduate academic record and financial need. Contact: Office of the Vice President for Graduate Studies and Research, Landrum Box 8008, Statesboro, GA 30460, (912)681-0578.

GRANT PROGRAMS

Law Enforcement Personnel Dependents Grant
The Law Enforcement Personnel Dependents grant is an award for children of Georgia law enforcement officers, firemen, and prison guards who have been permanently disabled or killed in the line of duty.

Students must meet the five basic eligibility requirements listed below:

1. You must be enrolled in good standing or accepted for admission in an eligible non-profit post-secondary college or school located in Georgia (exception: GTEG program).
2. You must be a legal resident of Georgia for a minimum of 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration for the school term for which a state educational grant is being sought.
3. You must be a U.S. citizen or classified as a permanent resident alien.
4. You must not be receiving a scholarship or grant from any state agency outside Georgia during the school year.
5. You must be enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student each school term.

Students must be the dependent child of a law enforcement officer, fireman, or prison guard in Georgia who has been permanently disabled or killed in the line of duty.

The grant is $2,000 per academic year, not to exceed $8,000 during an entire program of study.

Complete the Georgia Student Grant Application, and in the appropriate block indicate that you are applying for the Law Enforcement Personnel Dependents grant. Then request the forms necessary to document your eligibility. Applications should be filed by August, or at least 30 days prior to the beginning of any subsequent school term.

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant is the primary federal student aid program administered by the United States Department of Education. It is intended to be the first and basic component of an undergraduate student's financial aid package. For this reason, Georgia Southern University Financial Aid officers require that a student apply for the Federal Pell Grant.

To be eligible:

You must show financial need.

You must be enrolled in an approved under-usually work 15 hours a week, and are compensated with monthly stipends and tuition supplements.

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant is the primary federal student aid program administered by the United States Department of Education. It is intended to be the first and basic component of an undergraduate student's financial aid package. For this reason, Georgia Southern University Financial Aid officers require that a student apply for the Federal Pell Grant.

To be eligible:

You must show financial need.

You must be enrolled in an approved undergraduate course of study and must not have a bachelor's degree.

You must be a U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen as defined in the instructions of approved Federal Pell Grant application forms.

You may receive a grant each academic year until you receive your bachelor's degree.

Federal Pell Grants range from $400 to $2,300 a year (but many vary pending Federal enactment).

Follow the instructions on the need analysis form to apply for the Federal Pell Grant. Apply for the Pell Grant as early as January, but no later than May 1. Students must also complete the Georgia Southern application for financial aid.

Policy Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988

It is the policy of Georgia Southern University, and the Office of Student Financial Aid, that when the University or the Financial Aid Department is officially notified that a student, who is a recipient of a Federal Pell Grant, is convicted via a court of law of a drug offense during the period of enrollment covered by the Federal Pell Grant, and for which the student had previously certified he or she would be drug free, that individual's violation of the certification statement must be reported to the United States Department of Education Office of Inspector General, in accordance with section 668.14 (g) of the Title IV Higher Education Act of 1965 and its amendments.

Upon the final determination by the Office of the Inspector General, and the notification to Georgia Southern University, the Financial Aid Department will implement the recommendations set forth in their findings, which may include the withholding of all further Title IV and institutional payments to the student. Until a final determination is made regarding fraud on the part of the student, the student will remain eligible for financial aid.

Regents Opportunity Grant for Graduate and Professional Students

The Regents Opportunity Grant for graduate and professional students is a state program for economically disadvantaged students who are enrolled full-time in approved graduate programs at University System of Georgia schools. Awards are either $2,500 or $5,000 per academic year.

To apply, obtain an application from the financial aid office. Complete and return the application to the Georgia Southern Financial Aid Office.

Student Incentive Grant

The Student Incentive Grant (SIG) is a federal and state grant program for Georgia citizens enrolled in approved colleges, vocational-technical schools, and hospital schools within the state.

Applicants must meet all eligibility requirements listed below:

- . You must not have a four-year or a five-year college degree.
- . You must not owe a refund on a previous Federal Student Grant nor be in default on any Federal Student Loan.
- . You must show substantial financial need.
- . You must be maintaining satisfactory progress in the course of study you are pursuing according to the standards and practices of the school you are attending.
- . You must be enrolled in good standing or accepted for admission at Georgia Southern University.
- . You must be a legal resident of Georgia for a minimum of 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date of registration for the school term for which a state educational grant is being sought.
- . You must be a U.S. citizen or classified as a permanent resident alien.
- . You must not be receiving a scholarship or grant from any state agency outside Georgia during the school year.
- . You must be enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student each school term.

SIG awards at Georgia Southern University range from $150 to $450 a year. Awards are not made for summer term. The total number of awards will depend on the amount of funds approved by the Georgia General Assembly for this program.

To apply:

- . Complete the FAFSA Application.

Students must also complete the Georgia Southern University Application for financial aid.

Applications are evaluated on a first-completed, first-served basis as long as funds remain available.

FEDERAL SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY GRANT(FSEOG)

The Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) is a federal program administered by the Financial Aid Department to assist undergraduate students with financial need.

To be eligible:

- You must show substantial financial need by using the FAFSA form.
- You must be eligible for Federal Pell Grant.
- You must be enrolled in an undergraduate course of study or vocational program at least half-time and you must not have a bachelor's degree.

The average grant amount may range from $100 to $800 a year. The federal funding for this program is usually limited; therefore, many schools deplete this fund rapidly.

- Complete the appropriate need analysis form.
- Complete the school's application for financial aid.

LOAN PROGRAMS

FEDERAL AND STATE LOAN PROGRAMS

Perkins Loan Program

The Federal Perkins Loan Program is a federal loan program for undergraduate and graduate students administered by the financial aid office at participating post-secondary schools.

Student eligibility is based upon a predetermined awarding formula using available funds.

- You must be enrolled in a participating school.
- You must show financial need.

Maximum Loan Amounts

You may borrow up to:

$4,000 if you are enrolled in a vocational program or if you have completed less than two years of a program leading to a bachelor's degree.

- $15,000 If you are an undergraduate who has already completed two years of study toward a bachelor's degree. This $15,000 total includes any amount borrowed under the Perkins Loan (NDSL) program for the first two years of study.
- $30,000 If you are enrolled in a graduate degree program. This $30,000 total includes any amount borrowed under the Perkins Loan (NDSL) program for undergraduate study.

Repayment Obligation

Repayment begins 9 months after you graduate or leave school. You may be allowed up to 10 years to repay the loan. During the repayment period, you will be charged 5 per cent simple interest on the unpaid balance of the loan principal. The minimum monthly payment is $40.

Application Procedure.

- Complete Georgia Southern's application for financial aid.
- Complete the FAFSA.

Statement of Rights and Responsibilities Under the Perkins Loan Program: A Federal Perkins Loan is a serious legal obligation. Therefore, it is extremely important that you understand your rights and responsibilities.

1. You must, without exception, report any of the following changes to the Perkins Loan Collections Office, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, GA 30460, 912/-681-5317:
  - (a) if you withdrew from school
  - (b) if you transfer to another school
  - (c) if you drop below half-time enrollment status
  - (d) if your name should change (because of marriage, for example)
  - (e) if your address, or your parents' address changes
  - (f) if you join military service, Peace Corps, or VISTA
2. When you graduate or withdraw from Georgia Southern University you must arrange for an exit interview by calling 912/681-5317.
3. Your first monthly payment will be due nine months from the time you cease to be at least a half-time student.

4. Your minimum monthly payment will be at least $40.
5. The annual percentage rate of 5 percent will be the FINANCE CHARGE based on the unpaid balance and will begin to accrue six months after you cease to be enrolled as at least a half-time student.
6. Cancellation will be granted for certain types of elementary or secondary school teaching: for military service in areas of hostilities; for full-time staff members in Head Start; and permanent disability. You also accept the responsibility to inform the school of such status. In the event of death, family members should contact the school.
7. If you enter the military service, Peace Corps, VISTA or comparable tax-exempt organization; full-time active duty in the Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service, while temporarily totally disabled; or return to at least half-time study at an institution of higher education, you may request that the payments on your National Direct Student Loan be deferred.
8. If you fail to repay any loan as agreed, the total loan may become due and payable immediately and legal action could be taken against you.
9. You must promptly answer any communication from Georgia Southern University regarding the loan.
10. You may repay at anytime. Future interest payments will be reduced by making such payments.
11. If you cannot make a payment on time, you must contact Georgia Southern University Perkins Loan Office.
12. Your loan history will be reported to a credit bureau at the time of disbursement.
13. When you sign the loan agreement, you authorize Georgia Southern University to contact any school which you may attend to obtain information concerning your student status, year of study, dates of attendance, graduation, or withdrawal, transfer to another school or current address.

Federal PLUS Loan (FPLUS)

FPLUS Loans are educational loans authorized by the Federal Government to help parents and their dependent children meet the costs of higher education. Loans are made primarily by commercial lending institutions: banks, savings institutions, credit unions, and life insurance companies.

The borrower must be the natural parent, adoptive parent, or legal guardian of the dependent student.

For FPLUS loans made prior to 10/1/92, the interest rate was variable determined annually but not to exceed 12% per year. There were provisions that allowed, at the lender's option, for deferments of payments on principal and interest commencing 60 days after receipt of the loan proceeds.

For FPLUS loans with first disbursements on or after 10/1/92, the interest rate is based upon the 52-week T-bill as determined on June 1 of each 12 month period; plus 3.1% not to exceed 10% per year. There is no provision for deferment of payment of principal or interest-payments to begin 60 days after disbursement of loan proceeds.

Eligibility Requirements for FPLUS Loans

You are eligible to borrow as a parent if you:

- are a U.S. citizen or non-citizen who can provide evidence of permanent residence status;
- have not defaulted on any Title IV educational loan, or owe no refund on any Title IV educational grant; and
- meet all other FPLUS eligibility requirements prescribed by law at the time your loan application is processed.

The parent is eligible to borrow under the FPLUS Loan program if the student:

- is a U.S. citizen or non-citizen who can provide evidence of permanent residence status and are not attending a foreign school;
- is accepted for enrollment or are enrolled at least half-time at a participating school in a program leading to a degree or certificate (if you are already enrolled, you must be determined by the school to be in good standing and making satisfactory progress.);
- has not defaulted on any Title IV educational loan, and does not owe a refund on any Title IV educational grant; and
- meets all other Title IV eligibility requirements prescribed by law at the time your loan application is processed,

Maximum Loan Amounts

For loans made prior to 7/1/93, they cannot exceed the estimated cost of attendance less other sources of financial aid as determined by the institution. If eligible the parent may borrow up to:

$4,000 Maximum amount for each academic year.

$20,000 The total maximum amount of FPLUS loans for any student. (This does not include amounts borrowed under any Federal Stafford Loan Program).

For loans made on or after 7/1/93, the annual loan limit is the cost of attendance minus other aid.

For loans disbursed on or after 10/1/92, proceeds must be either transmitted by electronic fund transfer or a check copayable to the school and the parent borrower. In instances of copayable checks, the check should be mailed to the school first.

Loans disbursed on or after 10/1/92 will have an origination fee of 5% deducted from the net proceeds.

Application Procedures

Student and parents must complete Free Application for Federal Student Aid.

Must complete a Georgia Southern Financial Aid Application Form.

Locate a lending institution that participates in the program and is willing to make the loan. It is recommended that you first contact lenders with whom your family does business. These loans are made at the discretion of eligible lending institutions and are guaranteed by public or private agencies. If you are unable to locate a lender who is willing to make the loan to you, contact your school or Georgia Higher Education Assistance Corporation for assistance.

The lending institution approving your loan will send the application to the appropriate agency for loan guarantee.

The application deadlines are set by each lending institution. Generally, you should begin the application process two to six months before your expected enrollment date.

Federal Stafford Loan

The Federal Stafford Loan program provides a means for eligible undergraduate and graduate students to borrow funds directly from banks, credit unions, savings and loan associations, or other lenders who voluntarily participate in the program. These loans are guaranteed by either public or private agencies depending upon the lender selected.

Eligibility

- Student must demonstrate financial need for the loan.
- You must be a United States citizen or national, or otherwise meet the requirements prescribed in the Application and Promissory Note for a Federal Stafford Loan.
- Undergraduate students must have applied for and received a determination of eligibility or ineligibility for a Pell Grant.
- Must have completed the appropriate Georgia Southern Financial Aid Form.
- Students must be enrolled at least half-time in or accepted for enrollment at a participating school in a program leading to a degree or certificate. Students already enrolled in school must be determined by the school to be in good standing and making satisfactory progress.
- Students must not be in default on any Title IV loan, nor owe a refund on any federal Title IV grant that you previously received, unless satisfactory arrangements have been made to repay that debt.
- Students must meet all Federal Stafford Loan program eligibility requirements prescribed by law at the time your loan application is processed.
- Students who are in their 1st year of undergraduate program and never had a prior Federal Stafford Loan cannot receive their 1st installment until 30 days after the 1st day of the program of study.

Maximum Loan Amounts

For loans whose first disbursements are made prior to 7/1/93, students may borrow up to:

$2,625 For each of the first two years of academic study at the undergraduate level.

$4,000 For each academic year remaining in the undergraduate level, after the successful completion of the first two years. The total amount of outstanding Federal Stafford Loans for any student cannot exceed $17,250 at the undergraduate level.

$7,500 For each academic year of graduate or professional study. The total amount of outstanding Federal Stafford Loans for any graduate student borrower cannot exceed $54,750, including loans obtained at the undergraduate level.

Students classified as undergraduate in their program fields as follows:

- $2,625 For all students classified as grade level 1
- $3,500 For all students classified as grade level 2
- $5,500 For all other undergraduates classified as above grade level 2; but not graduate level

Students who are graduate level in an approved graduate program;

- $7,500 For loans certified prior to 10/1/93
- $8,500 For loans certified for periods of enrollment beginning with Winter 1994

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan Program (new)

- The program is open to students who may not qualify for subsidized Federal Stafford Loans or may not have qualified for the full Federal Stafford Loan amount.
- Loans under this program have the same terms and conditions as the subsidized Federal Stafford Loan, except that the borrower is responsible for the interest that accrues during the deferment periods (including in-school) and during the 6 month grace period.
- This program is effective for periods of enrollment that begin after 10/1/92.
- Loan amounts are the same as under the Federal Stafford Loan program, except that in combination of Federal Stafford Loan and Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan may not exceed in total, the annual loan limits.

Students may not borrow more than an amount equal to the cost of attendance at your school, minus any other financial aid you receive and minus your expected family contribution.

Before Federal Stafford loan checks are disbursed, students must attend a loan counseling session. After attending one of these sessions students will receive a loan counseling card which they will present to the business office each quarter in order to pick up their check. Students need only attend this session once, unless they lose their loan counseling card. If the card is lost, they will have to attend the session again in order to receive another one. Contact the Financial Aid Office for the dates and times of the counseling sessions.

Repayment Obligation

Repayment is required to begin no later than six months following graduation or termination of at least half-time study. Students must make arrangements with their lender to begin installment payments, including interest at the simple interest rate shown on the loan guarantee and disclosure statement. Borrowers with a loan made on or after July 1, 1988 will have an interest rate of 8 per cent during the first 4 years of the repayment period, and 10 per cent beginning with the fifth year. Interest rate for new 1st time borrowers whose first disbursement was made on or after 10/1/92 is a variable rate capped at 9%.

Application Procedure

- Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and designate the school that is to receive a copy of the results.
- Complete the Georgia Southern Financial Aid Application Form.

State Direct Student Loan/State Sponsored

The State Direct Student Loan program provides service-cancelable loan assistance to Georgia students enrolled in approved fields of study in which personnel shortages exist in the state. (Fields of study and eligibility requirements are subject to change.) The Georgia Finance Authority (GSFA) administers the program as an eligible lender under the Georgia Stafford Loan program. GSFA makes loans to students that are subject to the same eligibility, interest, and repayment requirements as other loans made to students by commercial lenders and guaranteed by GHEAC.

Eligibility

- You must be a legal resident of Georgia as defined by the Georgia Student Finance Authority.
- You must meet at least one or more of the following criteria. There may be additional requirements depending on the field of study:
  - (a) Be seeking a cash repayable loan; or
  - (b) Be a member of the Georgia National Guard; or
  - (c) Be accepted for admission or enrolled in an approved field of study as listed below; or
  - (d) Be accepted for admission or enrolled in an approved degree granting teacher training program as listed below:

Maximum Amounts for Service-Cancelable Loans

Service-Cancelable loan amounts are limited due to the large number of loan requests and a limited appropriation of funds for this program. Loan amounts per academic year are as follows:

Average cancelable undergraduate/graduate loan .....	$2,000
Average cancelable dentistry loan .....	$3,500

Maximum Amounts for Cash Loans

Maximum loan limits are the same as in the Stafford Loan program described above.

Repayment Obligation

The repayment obligation for the SDSL is the same as for the Stafford Loan program with the following exception. A student who has received one or more service-cancelable loans may choose to cancel his loan obligation by practicing in an approved Georgia location 12 months for each academic year of assistance. State Direct Student Loans for eligible National Guard members are cancelable by continued membership in the Georgia National Guard.

Application Procedure

- Complete the appropriate need analysis form and designate the school that is to receive a copy of the results.
- Complete the Georgia Application and Promissory Note for a Guaranteed Student Loan (now the Stafford Loan).
- Complete the GSFA State Programs Loan "Transmittal Letter."
- Have the school's financial aid officer certify your enrollment or acceptance for admission in an approved field of study.
- For priority consideration, submit applications no later than June 1 for any period of study beginning with the fall term and no later than 30 days prior to the beginning of any subsequent period of study.

Application forms may be obtained from the financial aid office of GSFA-approved schools and from the GSFA office.

Federal Supplemental Loans for Students

Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (FSLs) are educational loans, authorized by the federal government, to help independent students meet the costs of higher education. The loan is made primarily by commercial lending institutions: banks, savings institutions, credit unions and life insurance companies.

FSLs Loans provide educational loans to independent undergraduate, graduate and professional students and, in certain circumstances, dependent undergraduate students. Although repayment begins within 60 days of receiving the loan, student borrowers are eligible for a deferment of payment during periods of full-time enrollment. Payment of principal may be deferred, but interest continues to accrue at a variable rate not to exceed 11 per cent per year.

Maximum Loan Amounts

For Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (FSLs) with a disbursement prior to 7/1/83, your loan cannot exceed the estimated cost of attendance less other sources of financial aid, as determined by the school. You may borrow up to:

$4,000 Maximum amount for each academic year.

For Federal Supplemental Loan for Students (FSLs) with a disbursement on or after 7/1/93, the annual loan limits are as follows:

$4,000 For students classified as undergraduate grade levels 1 and 2.

$5,000 For students classified as other undergraduate grade levels.

$10,000 For students accepted in a graduate program.

Aggregate loan limits are:

$23,000 For undergraduate.

$73,000 For undergraduate and graduate combined.

Eligibility Requirements for FSLs Loans

You are eligible to borrow as a student if you:

- are determined to be an independent student under the criteria established by the U.S. Department of Education.
- are a U.S. citizen or non-citizen who can provide evidence of permanent residence status and are not attending a foreign school;
- are accepted for enrollment or are enrolled at least half-time at a participating school in a program leading to a degree or certificate (if you are already enrolled, you must be determined by the school to be in good standing and making satisfactory progress.);

- have been determined eligible or ineligible for a Federal Stafford Loan and, if eligible for $200 or more, have filed an application for the loan. You must also have applied for and received a determination of Pell Grant eligibility;
- have not defaulted on any Title IV educational loan, and do not owe a refund on any Title IV educational grant; and
- meet all other FSLs eligibility requirements prescribed by law at the time your loan application is processed, and you have not already borrowed the maximum amount the FSLs program allows.

Application Procedures

- Complete the FASFA need analysis process.
- Complete the appropriate Georgia Southern Financial Aid application form.
- Complete a FSLs Loan Application and Promissory Note.
- Submit the completed application to the Financial Aid Department.
- The completed application will be certified by the Financial Aid Department and returned to the borrower.
- Locate a lending institution that participates in the program and is willing to make the loan. It is recommended that you first contact lenders with whom your family does business. These loans are made at the discretion of eligible lending institutions and are guaranteed by a state or private agency. If you are unable to locate a lender who is willing to make the loan to you, contact the Financial Aid Office for assistance.
- The lending institution approving your loan will send the application to the appropriate agency for loan guarantee.
- The application deadlines are sent by each lending institution. Generally, you should begin the application process two to six months before your expected enrollment date.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS REQUIREMENTS FOR FINANCIAL AID

REQUIREMENT AND DEFINITION

Students receiving financial aid must be making satisfactory academic progress in accordance with the policies outlined below. Satisfactory progress means that a student is advancing toward his/her degree objective in a manner consistent with prescribed policies of the college.

PROGRAMS AFFECTED

Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, Federal Work Study, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Georgia Incentive Grant, Federal PLUS Loan, and the Federal Supplemental Loan for Student Programs.

SPECIAL INFORMATION

Federal Pell Grants may be received for no more than 15 quarters.

EFFECTIVE DATE

1. Students who entered Georgia Southern University prior to Fall Quarter 1987 must meet the Satisfactory Academic progress for financial aid as published in the 1986-87 academic bulletin (catalogue).

2. Students entering Georgia Southern University Fall Quarter 1987 and after must meet the satisfactory academic progress noted below.

TERMINATION OF AID

i. Academic Suspension or Exclusion (quarterly requirement): Any student who is placed on academic suspension or exclusion at the end of any quarter will have his/her aid terminated. Any student academically dismissed from the Developmental Studies program will have their aid terminated.

ii. Hours Earned (checked at the completion of each Spring Quarter): Students must earn the following minimum number of hours each academic year (Fall through Spring Quarters) depending upon their enrollment status.

(a) Full-time students - 36 hrs. per academic year (12 hrs. per qtr).

(b) 3/4 time students - 27 hrs. per academic year (9 hrs. per qtr).

(c) 1/2 time students - 18 hrs. per academic year (6 hrs. per qtr).

A. 1. Students whose enrollment status varies during the year should follow the quarterly requirements listed above. For example, a student who enrolls full-time the first two quarters but only the third quarter would be required to complete 33 hours (12 + 12 + 9 = 33). Student must inform the Financial Aid Office of a change in enrollment status.

2. Student records will be checked each year for compliance at the end of each Spring Quarter and Summer Quarter. Students who are not meeting the above requirements will be considered ineligible for further aid until the appropriate number of hours are earned.

3. Grades of A, B, C, D, S, and IP will be considered as credits earned. F, I, W, WF, V, FX, and U will not be considered as credits earned.

B. 1. Undergraduate students, in a 4 year program, who have attempted 235 or more quarter hours will have their aid terminated. Degree programs requiring more than 190 hours for graduation will have the 235 hours maximum increased by the number of hours

- above 190 required to receive the degree. A student must have at least a 2.0 cumulative grade point average and is projected to receive his/her degree the quarter immediately after earning the 235 hour maximum will be considered to be making satisfactory progress. A student must advise the Financial Aid office if he/she meets this requirement.
2. Undergraduate students, in a two year program, who have attempted 135 or more quarter hours will have their aid terminated.
  3. Cumulative hours will be checked for compliance at the end of each Spring Quarter and Summer Quarter.
- III. Grade Point Average (checked at the completion of each Spring Quarter and Summer Quarter):
1. Graduate students who have less than a 3.0 grade point average will not receive financial aid.
  2. If an undergraduate students grade point average drops below a 2.0 he/she will be placed on financial aid warning to run concurrently with the academic warning placed by the college.
  3. If an undergraduate student is placed on academic probation, the student will also be on financial aid probation. A student on financial aid probation must earn a minimum quarterly GPA of 2.0 and raise the adjusted cumulative grade point average within three consecutive quarters. Probation is cleared after the adjusted cumulative grade point average reaches 2.0.

TIME LIMIT

A student may not receive financial aid for more than 15 quarters. Part-time students and students required to enter college under the Developmental Studies program may have this limit extended proportionately.

REINSTATEMENT OF AID (PENDING BEING AVAILABLE)

1. A student terminated from aid because of failure to earn the number of hours required by his/her enrollment status may request the reinstatement of aid when he/she attains the minimum number of earned hours. These hours may be earned in the summer or be earned in addition to normal load during the regular year. Students are not eligible during these quarters.

2. Returning students who have been academically suspended or excluded may request their aid to be reinstated when they have completed on quarter with at least 10 quarter hours earned with a 2.0 quarterly grade point average.
3. Graduate students may request aid at any time their cumulative GPA reaches 3.0.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Students receiving financial aid should be cautious in "dropping" courses. The number of hours registered for will determine the enrollment status (full time, etc.). For example, if you register for 15 hours each quarter for three quarters, and drop two five hour courses, over the three quarters, you would earn 35 hours by the end of the third quarter, you would not be eligible for aid until 36 hours are earned.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Transfer students will be treated, in terms of the initial disbursement of financial aid, as a freshman entering the University for the first time. Transfer student credits/hours from previous institutions will be evaluated at the standard evaluation of satisfactory progress time (annual). At that time, if no credits/hours will be accepted from the previous institutions, the evaluation of Standard of Progress for subsequent distribution will be based solely on the student's academic record at Georgia Southern University. However, if credits/hours from previous institutions are to be accepted at Georgia Southern University, then all standards, in terms of number of hours and GPA, will be applied to determine the transfer student's eligibility for financial aid.

WITHDRAWAL FROM SCHOOL

A financial aid recipient who withdraws from school during the refund period of any quarter will not be required to meet the hourly minimum; however, any student withdrawing from school after the refund period will be required to meet the earned hourly minimum. Students may appeal such circumstances as illness, death in the immediate family, etc.

APPEALS

1. A student will indicate in writing to the Financial Aid Office. (a) the reasons why he/she did not achieve the minimum academic requirements and (b) the reasons why his/her aid should not be terminated. The following types of information may be considered. Unusual circumstances such as an extended illness, death in the immediate family, etc.

2. The Financial Aid Department staff will review the appeal and determine whether the financial aid cancellation is justified. The student will be advised in writing of the decision.
3. A student wishing to appeal the decision of the Financial Aid Department may do so, in writing, to the Dean of Students.

CO-OP PROGRAM

Georgia Southern University offers its students the opportunity to gain work experience related to their academic majors, begin the career decision-making process and earn money for educational expenses. This is accomplished through the Cooperative Education program that is provided on an optional basis in most majors and minors in the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Business, Health and Professional Studies and Technology. The Co-op Program is coordinated administratively by the Placement Office.

The co-op plan may be student, college or industry initiated. Normally, students must have earned 45 quarter hours of credit toward their major, have a GPA of 2.5 or better and be willing to participate in no less than three alternating co-op work assignments. Salaries and benefits are determined by the employer and normally increase as the program proceeds. Board and lodging are the responsibility of the student, but in some cases the employers provide assistance in locating suitable accommodations. Dormitory rooms and meal plans are available to students working near the campus.

Co-op students register for a designated Special Problems/Co-op course each quarter that they are on a work assignment. Co-op students within designated majors may receive one quarter hour credit each quarter they are on a work assignment; an S/U grade is assigned for each work quarter on the basis of the employer's evaluation only.

U. S. ARMY ROTC FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Tuition, textbook allowance, laboratory expenses and other educational fees, plus a subsistence allowance of $100 per month are awarded by the U. S. Army to selected Georgia Southern students who qualify under Public Law 88-647 (The ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964). For additional information on available scholarships, refer to pages 76 and 323 or call the Georgia Southern University Department of Military Science at 912-681-5320.

VETERANS' ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Any veteran or eligible dependent of a veteran who wishes to attend Georgia Southern University under any one of the veterans' benefit programs should make application in the usual manner to the Registrar/Director of Admissions. The Registrar's Office advises former service men and women who are eligible for benefits under the G.I. Bill and children of veterans or war orphans who are eligible for VA training allowance benefits. The Registrar's Office makes application for benefits to the Veterans Administration. Certification of enrollment and program of education must be made to the Veterans Administration through the Registrar's Office upon enrollment at the University each quarter.

A full-time veterans' counselor is available in the Registrar's Office to assist students enrolling under the G.I. Bill in processing enrollment forms and with other problems relating to veterans benefits. In addition, a Veterans Administration counselor is available to aid the special needs of the disabled veteran.

Veterans and other eligible persons entitled to Veterans' Administration Educational Benefits may be certified to the Veterans Administration for a total of 45 equivalent credit hours in Developmental Studies. Only 15 hours may be attempted in each of the basic skills.

The need for enrollment in Developmental Studies must be established by testing, counseling, and recommendation of a faculty member.

Veterans are encouraged to take advantage of college credit they may be eligible to receive as a result of their military training, as well as the credit by examination programs.

Six quarter hours of credit for physical education activity courses will be awarded when a student provides evidence (DD-214) that he/she has had a minimum of one year's active military duty. The DD-214 should be furnished to the Registrar's Office.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION

The State of Georgia provides financial assistance (equal to tuition and other regular fees in the College) for residents of Georgia who are physically handicapped. For further information, write directly to the Division of Rehabilitation Services, Department of Human Resources, 878 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Georgia 30309.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

GENERAL ACADEMIC INFORMATION .....	84
ACADEMIC POLICIES .....	87
DEGREE REQUIREMENTS AND HONORS CRITERIA .....	90
CORE CURRICULUM .....	95

GENERAL ACADEMIC INFORMATION

The University is organized on the quarter system with each of the three quarters in the regular session extending over a period of approximately 11 weeks.

The quarter hour is the unit of credit in any course. It represents a recitation period of one fifty-minute period a week for a quarter. A course meeting five periods a week when completed satisfactorily will thus give credit for five quarter hours. Two laboratory or activity periods are the equivalent of one recitation class period.

CLASSIFICATION

Students are classified at the beginning of each quarter on the following basis:

Freshmen	.....	0-44 hrs. earned
Sophomores	.....	45-89 hrs. earned
Juniors	.....	90-134 hrs. earned
Seniors	.....	135 up earned

COURSE LOAD

A student's course load is computed on the credit-hour value of all courses taken for credit during the quarter whether taken on campus, off campus, or by correspondence. A normal load in a quarter is 15 to 18 hours. Twelve or more hours is considered a full-time load for determination of tuition and most financial aid benefits for undergraduate students.

An advisor may approve an overload for 19 - 21 hours.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

The responsibility for setting specific policies concerning class attendance is given to each professor. Professors will clearly state policies to each class and will make clear what constitutes excessive absences. Departments may establish policies concerning class attendance provided there is unanimous agreement by faculty members within the department. The student is responsible for all material presented in class and for all announcements and assignments.

The University does not issue an excuse to students for class absences. In case of absences as a result of illness, representation of the University in athletic and other activities or special situations, instructors may be informed of reason for absences, but these are not excuses.

COURSE NUMBERING SYSTEM

The FIRST digit in the course number indicates the level of the course.

Courses numbered 100-299 are called lower division courses.

Courses numbered 300-599 are structured primarily for upperclassmen (students with junior and senior standing).

Courses dual-numbered 400-600 to 499-699 and 500-700 to 599-799 are open to upperclassmen and graduate students.

Courses numbered 800 and 900 are open only to those who have been formally admitted to Graduate School. The numbers and titles are listed in this catalog. For full description of these courses see the Graduate School Bulletin.

THE SECOND DIGIT IN THE COURSE NUMBER INDICATES THE QUARTER HOURS CREDIT FOR THE COURSE AS FOLLOWS:

0	.....	1 quarter hours credit
1	.....	1 quarter hours credit
2	.....	2 quarter hours credit
3	.....	3 quarter hours credit
4	.....	4 quarter hours credit
5, 6, 7, 8	.....	5 quarter hours credit
9	.....	0 to 15 quarter hours credit

The THIRD digit is used simply to designate that particular course.

GRADES AND GRADE POINTS

The "A" grade may be interpreted to mean that the instructor recognized exceptional capacities and exceptional performance.

The grade of "B" signifies that the student has, for any combination of reasons, demonstrated a significantly more effective command of the material than is generally expected in the course.

The "C" grade is the instructor's certification that the student has demonstrated the required mastery of the material.

The student is graded "D" when his grasp of the course is minimal.

The "F" grade indicates failure to master the essentials and the necessity for repeating before credit may be allowed.

Symbols used in reporting grades and grade points are as follows:

Symbols	Explanation	Grade Points
A	Excellent	4.0
B	Good	3.0
C	Satisfactory	2.0
D	Passing	1.0
F	Failure	0.0
I	Incomplete	0.0
*IP	In Progress (used only for courses designed to extend over more than one quarter)	0.0
W	Withdraw	0.0
WF	Withdraw Failing	0.0
V	Audit	0.0
U	Unsatisfactory	0.0

* IP grades may be assigned only to courses which may extend over more than one quarter. No credit is earned until the course is completed.

An incomplete grade ("I") indicates that the student was doing satisfactory work but was unable to meet the full requirements of the course due to non-academic reasons. The instructor assigning an "I" grade must document on the grade roll the reason for assigning the grade. An "I" must be removed during the first quarter in residence following the quarter in which it was recorded, or a time extension must be requested prior to the end of that quarter. It is the student's responsibility to request a time extension from the instructor. Upon the written recommendation of the instructor, an extension with a maximum time of three quarters in residence may be permitted. The student must complete the requirements of the instructor who assigned the incomplete and should not re-register for the course. If the "I" is not satisfactorily removed at the appropriate time it will be changed to an "F".

A "W" is employed to indicate official withdrawal from a course without penalty. It is assigned in all cases when a student withdraws before the mid-point of the quarter. Beyond the mid-term a "WF" will be assigned except in cases of hardship as determined by the Dean of the appropriate school. A "W" is not considered in computing the grade point average. The "WF" is computed as an "F". A student who withdraws from school after mid-quarter is assigned a "W" if passing at the time of withdrawal or a "WF" if he is failing at that time.

Official withdrawal from a course after the last day of registration (Drop/Add day) must be approved by the student's advisor and by the instructor of the class being dropped. Any student who registers for a course must either complete course requirements or officially withdraw before the mid-point of the quarter. An "F" will be assigned to any student who discontinues attending class without officially withdrawing. To withdraw, a student must present an approved withdrawal form to the registrar prior to the mid-term.

An "S" indicates that credit has been given for completion of degree requirements other than academic course work.

The symbol "U" indicates unsatisfactory performance in an attempt to complete degree requirements other than academic course work.

Neither "S" nor "U" is included in the computation of the grade point average.

The symbol "V" indicates that a student was given permission to audit the course. Students may not transfer from audit to credit status nor from credit to audit status after the last day of registration.

The symbol "K" indicates that credit was given for the course by an examination program (See section of catalog headed "Credit by Examination.")

PETITION TO REVIEW/CHANGE A GRADE

The evaluation of the quality of a student's performance is exclusively the prerogative of the instructor. Nothing stated below is intended to place a limitation on the prerogative.

If a student does not understand the reason for a grade, it is the student's responsibility to consult the instructor of the course about the grade. If the student has evidence that the instructor has prejudicially or capriciously awarded a grade in violation of the instructor's own specified grading standards for that class, the student may initiate an appeal according to the procedures given below. The burden of proof will rest with the student.

Procedures are as follows:

1. The student should petition the instructor for reconsideration, giving salient reasons.
2. If, after reconsideration, the instructor does not change the grade and if the student is still not satisfied, the student should consult the Department Head, who will then confer with the faculty member. The student must consult the Department Head within one quarter after the grade has been mailed by the Registrar's Office.
3. If not satisfied after consulting the Department Head, the student should then petition the Dean of the appropriate College. The Dean will consult the instructor and the Department Head and attempt to resolve the dispute.
4. If the dispute has not been resolved, and if the Dean finds that enough evidence exists to suggest that the instructor prejudicially or capriciously awarded a grade in violation of the instructor's own specified grading standards for that class, the Dean shall appoint a committee to hear the evidence and attempt to resolve the dispute.

The committee shall consist of:

- One faculty member from the Department
  - Two faculty members from the School but not from the Department of the instructor
  - One faculty member from each of two other Schools
  - Ex-Officio: Judicial Board Chairperson
- Both the instructor and the student will have the right to challenge for good cause any or all of the members of the committee, and in that event replacements will be appointed and no further challenge will be permitted.
5. If the committee finds that the instructor did prejudicially or capriciously award a grade in violation of specified grading standards for that class, it should attempt to determine what the grade would have been if the instructor grading standards had been consistently followed. The instructor may either accept or reject the committee's finding.
  6. If the student is still not satisfied or if the instructor rejects the committee finding, either may appeal to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Vice President will review the committee's recommendation and either let the original grade stand or assign the new grade recommended by the committee. The Vice President will send a written notice of his action to all parties concerned and his decision will be considered final.

GRADE POINT RATIO

The grade point ratio is the grade average on all work for which the student is enrolled. It is obtainable by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of quarter hours attempted. The grade point average for Georgia Southern students is based only on the coursework done at Georgia Southern.

Students who first enroll at Georgia Southern Fall Quarter 1987 and after or who elect to meet the requirements of the current catalog, will have calculated for them an adjusted grade point average as well as the official cumulative grade point average. The cumulative grade point average is the average of all grades for degree credit courses the student has taken at Georgia Southern. The adjusted grade point average is used for determining a student's academic standing. If a student repeats a course, the last grade in the course counts and only the last grade is calculated in the adjusted grade point average.

WITHDRAWAL FROM SCHOOL

Any student who wishes to withdraw from school during the quarter must present an official withdrawal form to the registrar. Failure to do so will result in the assignment of failing grades in all courses for which the student registered. Withdrawal is not permitted after the last day of class.

MEDICAL WITHDRAWALS

A student may be administratively withdrawn from the university when it is determined that the student suffers from a physical, mental, emotional or psychological health condition which: (a) poses a significant danger or threat of physical harm to the student or to the person or property of others or (b) causes the student to interfere with the rights of other students or with the exercise of any proper activities or with the exercise of any proper activities or functions of the university or its personnel or (c) causes the student to be unable to meet institutional requirements for admission and continued enrollment, as defined in the Student Conduct Code and other publications of the university.

Except in emergency situations, a student shall, upon request, be accorded an appropriate hearing prior to final decision concerning his or her continued enrollment at the institution.

DEAN'S LIST

During any quarter, an undergraduate or post baccalaureate student carrying 15 or more hours and making a quarterly grade point average of 3.5 or higher will be placed on the Dean's List.

TRANSCRIPTS

A complete copy of the student's academic record (transcript) may be obtained by the student presenting a written request to the registrar. Telephone requests will not be honored. Two weeks must be allowed for processing a transcript request. There is no charge for transcript services.

REGISTRATION TIME CARDS (STUDENT INFORMATION FORMS)

Students are admitted to the registration area each quarter by means of a time permit. Times are assigned on the basis of total cumulative hours earned. Students with the greatest number of hours earned receive the earliest times.

Students who have been admitted to the Graduate School are not required to have a time card. Graduate students may register at any time during scheduled registration hours.

TRANSIENT STUDENTS

Georgia Southern students who wish to take coursework at another institution and receive academic credit at Georgia Southern may do so if the following conditions are met:

1. Student is not on academic probation or on academic or disciplinary dismissal (suspension or exclusion) from Georgia Southern.
2. Student must complete a "Transient Form" (available in the Registrar's Office) obtaining the approval of his/her advisor and the registrar.

3. If the student is within 55 hours of graduation, the student must also obtain the written approval of his/her dean.
4. Developmental Studies students must obtain permission from the Head of the Developmental Studies Department.
5. Students may be approved for transient status for only one quarter at the time.
6. Students must make a "C" or better grade to assure that the course will be accepted in transfer.
7. Students attending another institution as a transient student must request that an official transcript of coursework as a transient be sent to Georgia Southern.
8. A student who takes his/her last work for a degree as a transient student during any graduation quarter will not be eligible for graduation.
9. A student must make application to the school he/she wishes to attend.

Note: Courses taken as a transient will not be figured in the grade point average at Georgia Southern University. However, transient work may affect a student's eligibility for graduation with honors.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Students who entered Georgia Southern University prior to Fall Quarter 1987 must meet the academic requirements specified in the catalog in effect at that time. A student who entered prior to the Fall Quarter 1987 who wishes to switch to the most recent academic policies must advise (in writing) the Registrar's Office of his/her desire to switch prior to the beginning of the quarter in which the student wants the change to be effective. A student can not switch back and forth from catalog to catalog.

Students entering Georgia Southern Fall Quarter 1987 or after must meet the academic requirements which follow.

GOOD ACADEMIC STANDING

A student whose adjusted cumulative grade point average equals 2.0 or higher will be considered in good academic standing at the University. A student whose adjusted cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0 will be subject to the policies listed below.

PROBATION

Probation serves as a notice that academic dismissal from the university will follow unless the quality of academic work improves and the terms of probation are satisfied. A student will be placed on probation at the end of any quarter in which the adjusted cumulative grade point average drops below 2.0. Probation status is noted on the student's permanent record.

A student will be allowed to continue on probation a maximum of three successive quarters of enrollment as long as he maintains a quarterly grade point average of 2.0 or better. Probation will be removed at the end of any quarter in which the adjusted cumulative GPA reaches 2.0. If at the end of three successive quarters of enrollment the adjusted cumulative grade point average has not reached 2.0, the student will be suspended from school.

If a student returns to satisfactory status (2.0 or better adjusted cumulative GPA) and later falls below again, he or she will again have three successive quarters to reach an adjusted cumulative GPA of 2.0 if the quarterly GPA is at least 2.0.

DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES PROBATION

Developmental Studies students whose adjusted grade point average in regular credit courses taken in conjunction with developmental courses falls below 2.0 will be placed on probation for the subsequent quarter.

This first probation will continue until the student exits all Developmental Studies requirements or the AGPA returns to 2.0. If at the time of exiting, the AGPA is still below 2.0, then the student begins the second quarter on probation and must meet all regular probation requirements.

ACADEMIC DISMISSAL

Academic dismissal is the involuntary separation of a student from the university for a specified period of time resulting from unsatisfactory academic performance while on probation. A student who is eligible to return to the university following an academic dismissal is readmitted on probation status. Following readmission, the student must earn a quarter grade point average of 2.0 or better each quarter until probation is removed. Probation must be removed by the end of three successive quarters of enrollment.

SUSPENSION

Academic suspension is the first involuntary separation of a student from the university. Suspension requires the student to stay out of school for one quarter to reflect on a very serious academic status. The summer quarter will be treated as any other quarter, including quarters of involuntary separation. Academic suspension is noted on the student's permanent record.

Academic suspension will result from failure to earn a quarter grade point average of 2.0 or better while on probation or failure to remove probation status after 3 successive quarters of enrollment.

Academic suspension will also result when a student is enrolled in 10 or more hours of coursework at the 100 level or above, completes the quarter, receives grades other than "I" or "W" in a minimum of 10 hours of coursework, and fails to earn any credit for that quarter.

RESTRICTED ENROLLMENT

As an alternative to remaining out one quarter on suspension, a student may elect to remain in school with restricted enrollment status. This status means that the student may only repeat courses. Following the election of this option, the student must remain in this category until he/she has attained an AGPA of at least 2.0. A student who elects this option must be under the most recent academic standards and will be enrolled under the condition of probation. Therefore, if the student earns a quarterly GPA below 2.0 while in this status, or if he/she fails to earn an AGPA of at least 2.0 within three quarters, he/she will be excluded.

Restricted enrollment is the only alternative available to students who face suspension. There are no avenues of appeal likely to result in any status other than suspension or restricted enrollment.

Once a student has selected restricted enrollment in lieu of suspension, any proposed schedule which is not all repeated courses must be recommended by the student's advisor and approved by the student's academic dean. For instance, a student who desires to change his/her major may appeal to the dean who administers the new major for permission to include new courses in his/her schedule since repeating required courses in the old major may not be prudent. A student's dean may also approve enrollment in new courses for other reasons which the dean considers to be to the best interest for the student. Students on restricted enrollment may drop courses only with the approval of their academic dean. Students requesting to drop a course required under restricted enrollment may be required to withdraw from school for the quarter. (For "undeclared" majors the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs shall serve as the student's dean for purposes of this policy).

EXCLUSION

An exclusion is an involuntary separation imposed upon a student who having previously been suspended and readmitted (either after involuntary separation or after choosing restricted enrollment status) fails to meet the terms of probation. Exclusion results when a student in this situation either fails to earn a quarterly GPA of at least 2.0 or fails to clear probation by the end of three consecutive quarters of enrollment. The purpose of exclusion is to allow the student time to reflect on the jeopardy of his/her academic status. A first exclusion is for one quarter. The summer quarter will be treated as any other quarter, including quarters of involuntary separation. Any subsequent exclusion is for one calendar year. A student who is readmitted after an exclusion must enroll under the conditions of probation. Academic exclusion is noted on the student's permanent record.

Academic exclusion will also result when a student is enrolled in 10 or more hours of coursework at the 100 level or above, completes the quarter, receives grades other than "F" or "W" in a minimum of 10 hours of coursework, and fails to earn any credit for that quarter.

DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES DISMISSAL

A student who accumulates two "F" grades in any combination of Developmental Studies classes will be dismissed from school and will not be allowed to return except under those policies applying to all students who failed to exit the Developmental Studies program.

A Developmental Studies student who is placed on dismissal for failure to exit Developmental Studies may apply for readmission as a transfer student after satisfying Developmental Studies requirements and completing thirty hours of college-level work with a minimum grade point average of 2.0. Alternately, students may appeal to the Admissions Committee to re-enter Georgia Southern, but only after being out of school for three calendar years.

READMISSION

A student who has been placed on academic suspension or first academic exclusion may apply for readmission to Georgia Southern University after remaining out for one quarter. After a subsequent exclusion, a student may apply for readmission after remaining out for one year. A former student application should be completed for the quarter readmission is desired.

RIGHT OF APPEAL

In all matters concerning academic standing the student may appeal by writing to the registrar and clearly stating the basis for an appeal. The appeal will be considered by the Admissions Committee.

A written appeal must be received in the Registrar's Office prior to 5 p.m. on the first day of classes for the quarter a student is seeking admission or readmission to Georgia Southern University. Individuals failing to satisfy the deadline may submit their appeal for the following quarter.

REQUIREMENTS AFTER READMISSION

Following any academic dismissal and a subsequent readmission on probation, academic exclusion results from failure to earn a quarterly grade point average of 2.0 or better, or failure to remove probation by the end of three successive quarters of enrollment.

REPEATING COURSES

A student may repeat any course and the most recent grade becomes the official grade for the course even if the most recent grade is lower. In computing the adjusted cumulative GPA, only the most recent grade will be used (the earlier grade will remain on the transcript and in the official cumulative GPA). The adjusted cumulative GPA will be used to determine academic standing and graduation GPA requirements.

ATTENDING OTHER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The university cannot request another institution to accept a student during any period of ineligibility at Georgia Southern University. No transfer credit will be awarded for credits earned at another institution during any period of academic or disciplinary ineligibility.

ACADEMIC INTERVENTION POLICY FOR FRESHMEN

All freshmen students whose Adjusted Grade Point Average (AGPA) is 1.5 or below must meet the following conditions.

1. They may enroll in no more than 13 hours until the AGPA is above 1.5. The typical load would be academic courses for 10 hours, GSU 220 for 2 hours (see #2 below), and a Physical Education activity course for 1 hour.
2. They must enroll in GSU 220, Methods of Learning, unless they have completed that course with a C or better. The GSU 220 course is specifically designed to improve study skills and overall academic performance.
3. In addition to these requirements, students are strongly urged to have regular meetings with their advisors for periodic updates on academic progress, for consultation, and for referral to appropriate support services as needed.

Exceptions to this policy must be approved by the Director of Advisement.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS AND HONORS CRITERIA REGENTS' TESTING PROGRAM

The Regents' Test is an examination that assesses the competency level in reading and writing of those students enrolled in undergraduate degree programs in University System Institutions. The following statement is policy of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia:

Each institution of the University System of Georgia will ensure the other institutions and the system as a whole that students obtaining a degree from the institution possess literacy competence.

The Regents' Testing Program has been developed to attain this goal. The objectives of the Testing Program are: (1) to provide system wide information on the status of student competence in the areas of reading and writing; and (2) to provide a uniform means of identifying those students who fail to reach the minimum levels of competence in these areas.

A student must pass all components of the test by scoring above the cutoff score specified for each component. The test may be administered either in its entirety or as one or more components depending on the student's needs. If one component of the Test is passed, that component shouldn't be retaken; this provision is open to all students who have taken the test in any form since the beginning of the program.

A student should pass the Regents' Test before the end of their sophomore year. Students who fail the test must retake and pass it. Each institution will require deficient students to participate in Regents' courses before retaking the exam.

A student holding a baccalaureate or higher degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education will not be required to complete the Regents' Test in order to receive a degree from a University System Institution.

When to Take the Test

1. May take it after completing English 151 and 152.
2. Must take it after having earned 45 hours of degree credit unless English 151 and 152 have not been completed.
3. Must take it after having earned the 60th hour of degree credit regardless of whether English 151 and 152 have been completed.
4. Must take the test or any portion not passed after the 60th hour each quarter in attendance until both components of the test have been passed.
5. Students who are taking the test for the first time or who fail to pass both sections of the test are required to take both sections at one testing.

Who Shall Take the Test

1. All regularly enrolled undergraduate students of Georgia Southern University.
2. Students whose native language is not English will take the test but will be tested separately and given longer (2 hours) on each component of the test under the guidelines of the Foreign Students' policies.
3. Handicapped students will take the test under provisions approved by the Exceptions Committee (see guidelines below).
4. Transfer students who receive 60 hours or more of transfer credit must take the test the first quarter in attendance.

When to Take a Review Course

1. Must take a review or remedial course(s) if the student has earned 75 hours of degree credit until both portions of the test have been passed.
2. Must take a review or remedial course(s) (after earning 75 hours of degree credit) each quarter in attendance until both components have been passed. (See Exception 1.)

Review Courses

English 090 and Reading 090. Each course carries three hours of institutional credit and will be considered a part of the student's academic load. The student may register for only 18 hours or less of degree credit work including the review courses. These courses will meet for four weeks of each quarter for four days and for two hours per day.

Attendance policy: A student must attend at least 75 per cent of the classes and complete at least 75 per cent of the assigned work in order to be eligible to take the Regents' Test that same quarter. Failure to attend at least 50% of the class sessions will result in the student being ineligible to enroll in the University for the subsequent quarter.

Exceptions

1. Students will not be allowed to take the test when they are in violation of policies.
2. Foreign students will be subject to the policies approved by the Faculty Senate. Exceptions to these policies will be dealt with by the Exceptions Committee.

Failure to Meet Review Course Requirements
Students who fail to meet the above requirements will be subject to this action:

A student required to take review courses who does not meet the attendance requirements of the course will not be allowed to take the Regents' Test during the quarter in which he is enrolled. Students who are required to enroll in review courses for the Regents' Test and do not register for them before the first class meeting are in violation of Regents' and Institution policy. Such students will be administratively withdrawn from the University. If a student required to take remedial courses misses 50% of the sessions of the remedial course, he will be suspended from school for the subsequent quarter.

Campus Review Procedure

1. A student may request a formal review of his/her failure on the essay component of the test if that student's essay received at least one passing score among the three scores awarded and if the student has passed English 151 and 152.
2. The review procedure is as follows:
  - a. The student gives a written request to the Director of Testing.
  - b. The request must be received no later than one week after late registration the following quarter.
  - c. The Director of Testing will verify the validity of the review request and will notify the Head of the English Department. He will appoint three members of the English faculty to review the essay. Action of the English Department Review Committee will be final. The review must be completed within one week of the request by the Department Head.
  - d. The Head of the English Department will send the results of the committee's findings to the Director of Testing, who will inform the student of the results.
  - e. If the committee's findings support the student, the Director of Testing will send the appeal to the Board of Regents' office for action.
3. The results of the review by the Board of Regents Testing Office will be final. The student will be notified through the institution of the results. Action on the appeal is generally taken after mid-quarter and after the next administration of the Regents' Test.

Students may appeal to the Vice-President for Academic Affairs if they feel they have a legitimate reason for failure to comply with these policies.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS ON UNITED STATES AND GEORGIA HISTORY AND CONSTITUTION

Georgia law requires that every person who receives a degree or certificate from a state-supported college have passed an examination on the constitution of Georgia and of the United States. Any student entering any unit of the University System after June 1, 1954, must also pass an examination on the history of Georgia and of the United States. These requirements may be met by passing examinations offered each quarter or by receiving a passing grade in certain courses.

Requirements in the separate areas may be satisfied by passing the following courses at Georgia Southern:

History 450 for Georgia History and Georgia Constitution

Political Science 350 for Georgia Constitution History 252, History 253 or Political Science 250 for all requirements (if taken after Spring 1970)

Equivalent courses taken at other institutions may not meet these requirements. Students who transfer courses from other colleges which are thought to satisfy these requirements should have their transcripts evaluated by the registrar no later than the beginning of the senior year.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Subject to the limitations and qualifications stated elsewhere in this catalog, the requirements for the baccalaureate degree are as follows:

Students must have their program of study checked by submitting an application for graduation to the registrar three quarters prior to completion of academic requirements. The application must be submitted no later than the last day of official registration (as stated in the official college calendar) during the final quarter before completing academic requirements.

The graduation fee must be paid and all other financial obligations or "holds" must be satisfied or removed before a student is cleared for graduation.

Student must earn 55 hours of credit in residence at Georgia Southern University.

For the B.A. degree, a maximum of 45 hours of upper division coursework in the major may be allowed to count toward the minimum of 190 hours required for graduation.

For the B.S. degree, a maximum of 60 hours of upper division coursework in the major may be allowed to count toward the minimum of 190 hours required for graduation.

At least half of the courses required in the major must be taken at Georgia Southern University.

At least fifteen hours of the twenty required in the minor must be taken at Georgia Southern University.

The adjusted GPA of all courses (at least 190 quarter hours) applying to the degree must be 2.0.

Students seeking a second baccalaureate degree must satisfy all requirements for the second degree; complete 55 hours in residence beyond the first baccalaureate degree approved by the dean of school granting second degree; (Students may not earn the same degree a second time at Georgia Southern.)

Students seeking a second major within the same degree program must complete the specific requirements for both majors. Both majors will be noted on the transcript.

A student cannot graduate immediately following the quarter he is in attendance as a transient student at another institution unless an official transcript of transient credit is received by the registrar prior to graduation. This policy also applies to courses taken by correspondence or extension.

A student must fulfill all major, minor and special requirements prescribed for the degree and satisfy the legal requirements with regard to evidence of an understanding of the history and constitutions of Georgia and of the United States.

A student must pass the Regents' Test as required by the University System of Georgia. (See Regents' Testing Program) Satisfactory scores will be evidence of competence and shall satisfy the requirement. This is a requirement for graduation.

Students typically satisfy the requirements for graduation when they initially enroll at the university. With the approval of their advisor, they may elect to satisfy the graduation requirements specified in any of the catalogs in effect while they are enrolled. However if a student has been out of school for ten or more calendar years and re-enters, the current catalog requirements (at time of re-entry) will apply. Exceptions to the ten-year provision may be granted in rare circumstances. Any such exception requires the approval of the advisor, department head and the dean.

All students will be required to complete any current requirements beyond the catalog, such as legislative, certification and Board of Regents requirements.

A change of major does not constitute a change of catalog. A student may change to the current catalog at any time if approved by the advisor.

Advisors may recommend course substitutions when deemed necessary by submitting the request for approval to their department head. The substitution is then submitted to the registrar who will review each request in accordance with the Board of Regents and institutional policies.

For non-music majors not more than ten hours in performing groups (MUE) and applied music courses (MUA) may apply toward satisfying the minimum of 190 hours required for the degree.

For non-physical education and non-recreation majors a maximum of six hours in physical education activity courses may apply toward satisfying the minimum of 190 hours required for a degree.

Only two hours of credit from GSU120 or GSU-220 may apply to the 190 hours required for graduation.

Student may take EP 121 a, b, c, and EP 221 a, b, c repeatedly; but, a maximum of four credit hours may be applied to the 190 minimum for graduation.

A maximum of five hours may be taken under the S/U grading system within any Arts and Sciences minor.

Credit for ROTC Courses will appear on the student's record. Six of these credit hours, either transfer or resident, may be applied toward the 190 hours required for a degree provided it meets with the approval of the appropriate advisor and department.

Students must complete English 151 and 152 with a minimum grade of "C." English 151 must be completed with a minimum grade of "C" before the student may enroll in English 152.

SECOND DEGREES

A graduate of any program may receive the baccalaureate degree of any other program by completing the additional studies required in that program and by meeting residence requirements for the second baccalaureate degree. The minimum resident requirement is 55 quarter hours. Eligibility for graduation with academic honors does not apply to the second baccalaureate degree.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

1. Graduating seniors who first matriculated at GSU prior to Fall 1988 will be recommended for graduation with honors on the basis of their cumulative grade point average at Georgia Southern. Only credit earned at Georgia Southern will be considered.
  - a. Only baccalaureate candidates are eligible.
  - b. Only credit earned at Georgia Southern will be considered.
  - c. At least 90 hours of credit must be earned at Georgia Southern.
  - d. At least 75 hours must be credit earned in regularly scheduled academic courses at Georgia Southern in which ABCDF grades are assigned.
  - e. Spring Quarter grades for June Graduation or Summer Quarter grades for August Graduation and Fall Quarter grades for December Graduation will not be used in computing the GPA for honors prior to graduation. (Credit hours earned in the last quarter apply toward the 90 hours minimum.) After June, August, and December Graduations, the GPA is re-checked for honors, which may be added if qualified.

Honors eligibility regulations apply to only first baccalaureate degree candidates. Post-baccalaureate students are not eligible for graduation with honors.

2. Graduating seniors who first matriculated at GSU Fall 1988 and after will be recommended for graduation with honors on the basis of all credit hours attempted. All credit hours attempted and grade points at other institutions will be added to the Georgia Southern hours attempted and grade points (true cumulative hours and points).
  - a. Only baccalaureate candidates are eligible.
  - b. At least 90 hours of credit must be earned at Georgia Southern.
  - c. At least 75 hours must be credit earned in regularly scheduled academic courses at Georgia Southern in which ABCDF grades are assigned.
  - d. Spring Quarter grades for June Graduation, Summer Quarter grades for August Graduation, and Fall Quarter grades for December Graduation will not be used in computing the GPA for honors prior to graduation. (Credit hours earned in the last quarter apply toward the 90 hour minimum.) After June, August, and December Graduations, the GPA is re-checked for honors, which may be added if qualified.

Honors eligibility regulations apply to only first baccalaureate degree candidates. Post-baccalaureate students are not eligible for graduation with honors.

The honors assigned and the scholastic records are:

Cum Laude	3.5	3.6
Magna Cum Laude	3.7	3.8
Summa Cum Laude	3.9	4.0

HONORS DAY

During the latter part of the spring quarter, an annual Honors Day Convocation is held. At this time, students are given recognition for various honors and awards including the Excellent Scholarship, the national Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, Leadership/Service and Special Awards.

To be honored for Excellent Scholarship, the student must have earned at Georgia Southern University a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better. The student must have completed at least 30 hours of resident degree credit at Georgia Southern University. This group will include currently enrolled students, those who have completed requirements for the upcoming graduation and post baccalaureate students working toward a second degree. All these students are to be honored from the stage.

Election to membership in the national Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi will be made on the basis of the following criteria:

1. A grade point average of 3.5 or above.
2. Sound character.
3. Enrollment at GSU for at least one year.
4. Junior or senior status. (Number of seniors and juniors elected may not exceed 10 per cent of the candidates for graduation that year.)
5. Graduate status. (Number of graduate students elected may not exceed 10 percent of students receiving graduate degrees from the University that year)

Selections for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will be made on the basis of the following criteria:

1. A cumulative grade point average of 2.8 or above.
2. Campus and/or community leadership.
3. Campus and/or community service.
4. Junior or senior.

Any member of the faculty, staff, or student body may nominate candidates for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Final selections will be made from these nominations by the Honors Committee on the basis of an approved points system. These awards will be made on stage.

Selections for Leadership/Service awards will be made on the basis of the following criteria:

1. A cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or above.
2. Must not have been selected for Who's Who.

3. Number selected cannot exceed the Who's Who allotment.
4. Points system used in the Who's Who criteria for Leadership and Service will be used.
5. Honors Committee will make final selections.
6. Awards will be made on stage.

Selections for Special Awards will be made by the various organizations and departments in keeping with established criteria. Any organization wishing to present a new award should make application for Academic Affairs through the Vice President.

AWARDS

Each year in May the university honors outstanding students from all disciplines and areas of college life. The Honors Day Convocation highlights outstanding awards such as The Alumni Association Scholarship Award, excellent scholarship, and selection to the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and Constructive Leadership/Unselfish Service. In addition, other students receive special awards from departments and divisions of the school or from business organizations.

BACHELOR OF GENERAL STUDIES DEGREE

The Bachelor of General Studies program provides opportunities for non-traditional college students who are interested in combining a liberal arts background with some degree of specialization. It offers a solid core curriculum program along with the freedom to choose from a wide range of concentrations.

While the General Studies Degree allows for study in several areas, it is organized to provide an academically sound program with carefully planned concentrations. The student who earns this degree will have achieved a broad based education that meets high standards of learning.

The program is administered by the Academic Advisement Center.

Requirements

The degree requires fulfillment of the Core Curriculum (Areas I, II, and III including the requirements for Health and Physical Education).

Area IV

Foreign language through 152 . . . . .	10 hours
One fine arts course . . . . .	5 hours
One computer literacy course . . . . .	5 hours
Social or natural science course . . . . .	5 hours
One interdisciplinary study course . . . . .	5 hours
Total . . . . .	30 hours

The General Studies Degree requires that students complete three areas of concentration, which they may select from a wide range of offerings. Each concentration consists of twenty-five hours, generally five courses, and mostly at the upper division.

The three concentrations add up to a total of 75 quarter hours. Ten of these hours may be at the lower division (100-200) level, but 65 of the hours must be at the upper division (300 or above) level.

The remaining eighteen hours to meet the required 190 total hours will be electives approved by the advisor.

The following concentration areas are available:

American Studies

American Studies 355, American Studies 450 and three courses with significant American Studies dimensions in two disciplines other than the major. The three elective courses must be approved by the American Studies Committee.

Business

The courses required for the business concentration shall consist of one general, representative course from each of the following functional areas. These courses have been approved by the Faculty.

- ACC 260 Survey of Accounting
- MKT 350 Principles of Marketing
- BA 351 Business Ethics
- MGT 351 Principles of Management
- ECO 352 Managerial Economics

Culture and Society

ENRICHMENT PROGRAM

F. Richter, Director

Georgia Southern University regularly provides a generous range of culturally enriching extra-classroom activities, including films, lectures, symposia, music concerts, dance, opera and theatre performances, art and science exhibits, historical and aesthetic tours and field trips. Fundamentally inter-disciplinary and drawing on these resources, the Enrichment Program is structured around a prepared schedule of weekly extra-classroom events selected from among those offered on campus, including museum and gallery exhibits. Classes meet two hours per week. Two hours' credit. No prerequisites.

ENRICHMENT PROGRAM CURRICULUM

EP 121a,b,c.

Enrichment Program.

A combined activity/seminar course designed to engage students in a broad range of extra-classroom intellectual, cultural, and aesthetic events as a regular part of their educational experience.

Students may take the course repeatedly, but a maximum of four credit hours may be applied to the 190 minimum for graduation.

THE ORELL BERNARD BELL AND SUE LOUISE FLOYD BELL HONORS PROGRAM

The Bell Honors Program offers a challenging and innovative interdisciplinary alternative core curriculum for the exceptionally able, creative, and motivated student.

The program provides a context in which such students can make full use of their abilities in intellectually stimulating courses which nurture originality, critical thinking, and a genuine love of learning. The program curriculum meets general education requirements, providing Bell Honors Program Scholars well-prepared entry into any major program or specialization available at Georgia Southern University.

The Bell Honors Program features small classes with high faculty-to-student ratios. The approach is interdisciplinary; classes are team-taught by two or more professors from a variety of academic disciplines. Classes are informal, emphasizing discussion and independent endeavor. These characteristics are particularly prominent in the Freshman and Sophomore Honors Seminars, meeting weekly for discussion of problems-oriented reading. The Honors Colloquia, taken during the junior and senior years, provide continuity of the atmosphere of the seminars while students are involved in their major programs of study.

The Bell Honors Program is governed by an Honors Council composed of ten faculty members, representing all major units of the university, and two Bell Honors Program Scholars, elected annually by their peers in the program. Selection to the program is in the hands of this body.

Each year in the spring a maximum of eighteen new Bell Honors Program Scholars are selected from among applicants who are completing their senior high school years and who will enter Georgia Southern as new freshmen in the ensuing fall quarter. High school seniors with outstanding scores on the SAT or ACT and exemplary high school academic records are invited to apply for admission, but these are not the absolute nor the only criteria of selection. Other evidence of unusual academic promise and creativity will receive full and careful consideration. A personal interview with the Honors Council is the final stage of selection. High school juniors considering early enrollment in college may also apply, but particularly strong credentials are expected of such applicants. All students admitted to the Bell Honors Program receive scholarships covering the costs of tuition, including out-of-state fees for students who are not residents of Georgia.

Prospective students wishing additional information on the Bell Honors Program or wishing to apply for admission to the program should contact:

Professor Hew Joiner, Director, The Bell Honors Program, Department of History, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, GA 30460-8054 (912) 681-5773

Except in highly unusual circumstances, no applications can be accepted later than March 1st.

THE HONORS SEMINARS AND COLLOQUIA

HON 111-112-113. THE FRESHMAN HONORS SEMINAR

An integrated three-quarter sequence of weekly seminars, involving reading and discussion about a focal topic or problem, or about a set of interrelated topics or problems. Approach and content is determined by the instructor whose proposal is selected each year by the Honors Council. (Sequence of three one-hour courses) Fall, winter, spring quarters of freshman year.

The same description applies to: HON 211-212-213, The Sophomore Honors Seminar; HON 311-312-313, The Junior Honors Colloquium; HON 411-412-413, The Senior Honors Colloquium.

Bell Honors Program Scholars are normally expected to take both the junior and senior honors colloquia. However, students who take Junior Years Abroad, who are involved in departmental honors work in their senior years, or have other special circumstances, may apply to the Honors Council for an exemption from one of the colloquia if they wish. Such exemptions must be approved in advance by the council.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The Center for International Studies at Georgia Southern offers a course of study designed to provide students with a basic knowledge of world affairs and how they affect American foreign and domestic policies. One of the main objectives of this program is to prepare students to cope realistically and intelligently with the changing world, a world which is becoming increasingly interdependent and in which vast new multiplications of cultural forces are emerging. Students can minor in International Studies by taking IS 350-Global Issues and IS 360-Contemporary World Cultures and at least two other courses with significant international dimension, in two disciplines other than their major field. The two elective courses must be approved by the International Studies Committee.

For further information please contact:

Professor Zia H. Hashmi, Director,
Center for International Studies,
Georgia Southern University,
Statesboro, GA 30460-8106

FRESHMAN SEMINAR COURSE

GSU 120 - FRESHMAN SEMINAR:

INTRODUCTION TO COLLEGE

This course is designed to help freshmen understand the purpose of a college education, to learn about college resources and requirements, to explore values and interests, to learn to make decisions and realistic choices, to explore career objectives and programs of study, and to establish supportive relationships with faculty and staff. The course is open to interested freshmen during their first quarter at Georgia Southern.*

- * A student may apply no more than two hours credit from GSU 120 or 220 to the 190 hours required for graduation.

LEARNING SKILLS COURSE

GSU 220. METHODS OF LEARNING

This course is designed to promote academic success. Topics include test taking, note taking, improving memory, time management, and other useful learning skills. This course is designed to help students with their other courses. Course is open only to students with fewer than 90 hours except by referral of the Admissions Committee. This course is required of all freshmen with an adjusted grade point average of 1.5 or below unless they have already passed the course with a "C" or better.*

- * A student may apply no more than two hours credit from GSU 120 or 220 to the 190 hours required for graduation.

LIBRARY RESEARCH COURSE

GSU 230. USE OF LIBRARY RESOURCES

Methods of using a library effectively to locate information. The course is designed to be useful to all students regardless of major. Three one-hour class periods per week.

STUDIES ABROAD

Studying abroad enables students to increase knowledge of a foreign language, provides the opportunity to gain insights into and appreciation for the cultures and institutions of other peoples, facilitates the development of relevant career skills, and contributes to personal maturity, a sense of independence, self-knowledge, and confidence.

Georgia Southern offers study abroad programs in a variety of disciplines. Each program is administered by the Dean of the appropriate College. Current programs include:

The Regents' Global Center (RGC) Student Programs Office of the University System of Georgia coordinates many opportunities for students to study abroad while earning academic credit toward completion of degree requirements at their home campus. In 1992 approximately 300 participants enrolled in programs coordinated by the RGC. Summer study abroad programs were offered in Europe, Canada, Mexico, and the Pacific region.

RGC programs are open to all undergraduate students with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5; however, certain programs may require a higher GPA and completion of prerequisites. Graduate students are required to have a 3.0 GPA. Students in the University System of Georgia who are eligible for financial aid may use that aid toward RGC programs.

Information on Georgia Southern study abroad programs, on programs coordinated by RGC, and on numerous programs offered worldwide is available at the Center for International Studies. For further information, contact Zia H. Hashmi, Director of the Center for International Studies and Campus Coordinator for RGC Programs, Georgia Southern University, Statesboro, GA 30460-8016.

WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

Women's and Gender Studies is an interdisciplinary field including courses offered by several departments. C. Schille, Chair.

WGS/CAS 349. COMMUNICATION AND GENDER

This course will introduce students to the literature of communication and gender. It will define the domain of communication and gender studies and consider how men's and women's self-perceptions and resulting communication patterns evolve as a function of cultural influences.

WGS 350. PERSPECTIVES ON WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

A multi-disciplinary course designed to introduce students to the field of women's and gender studies. Students will examine traditional and alternative perspectives on women's and men's experiences.

WGS/HIS 351. WOMEN IN AMERICAN HISTORY

A study of the role of women in the political, economical, economic, social and intellectual life of the United States.

WGS/SOC 355. SOCIOLOGY OF SEX ROLES

An exploration of those aspects of human behavior which society views as influenced by membership in one or the other sex. A sociological analysis of the definition, development and change of sex roles within the various institutions of our society.

WGS/PSY 358. PSYCHOLOGY OF WOMEN

Studies female psychological development throughout the life-span. Examines relevant theory and research. Topics include identity and self-concept, relationships and power, sexuality, parenting, work, mental health and women of color.

WGS/POL 372. WOMEN AND POLITICS

Focuses on the relationship of women to the practice of politics and to political theory-building. The student will be introduced to political behavior, political socialization and selected public policy issues by using a comparative cross-national approach as they pertain to women as a political group.

WGS/HIS 387. WOMEN IN MODERN EUROPEAN HISTORY

This course will examine the impact of economic, social, and political events on women in Western Europe since 1789.

WGS/CA 441. WOMEN AND MEDIA

This course focuses on three essential issues in the study of women and their relationship to the mass media: 1) the representations of femininity and female characters, with emphasis on contemporary film and television; 2) the history and current status of women within media institutions; 3) the reception of media texts by female audiences and the media's role in women's daily lives.

WGS 491. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

Independent study in an area of special interest directed by a faculty member. Open to juniors and seniors minoring or concentrating in Women's and Gender Studies.

WGS/ENG 564. LITERATURE BY WOMEN

This course explores classic, contemporary, and experimental writing by women in all genres, with special emphasis on the polemical and theoretical bases of and critical approaches to such texts.

ORGANIZATION AND OBJECTIVES

The College of Arts and Sciences contains fifteen departments as follows: Art; Biology; Chemistry; Communication Arts; Developmental Studies; English and Philosophy; Foreign Languages; Geology and Geography; History; Mathematics and Computer Science; Music; Physics; Political Science, Public Administration, and Criminal Justice; Psychology; Sociology and Anthropology. Numerous majors are available to students enrolling in the School of Arts and Sciences - anthropology, art, biology, chemistry, communication arts, computer science, criminal justice, economics, English, French, geology, German, history, journalism, mathematics, medical technology, music, physics, political science, psychology, sociology, and Spanish. Minors are available in all fields that have Bachelor of Arts majors and also in computer science, geography, journalism, library science, philosophy, and the interdisciplinary fields of African and African American studies, American studies, international studies, Latin American studies, linguistics, and religious studies. Other minors are offered by various units as second minors in the B.A. programs or as optional minors in the other bachelor's degree programs. (See Minors).

The College of Arts and Sciences takes as basic to its total function the commitment to the liberal arts, those academic disciplines which have as their immediate goal the training of the mind toward the end of understanding people, nature and society. Three areas of knowledge considered essential to achieve this purpose are the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences.

The college recognizes that a vital part of life is the work that one does, and so in addition it encompasses a number of programs that offer career preparation as well. The objectives of the College of Arts and Sciences can be summarized as follows:

1. To offer programs of study in the liberal arts, primarily in the B.A. degree.
2. To offer preparation in professions, many leading toward advanced degrees, chiefly in the B.S. degree.
3. To offer training in particular vocations, such as in journalism and criminal justice programs.

4. To infuse the professional vocational programs with as much of the liberal arts as possible within the demands of the programs.
5. To provide through core curriculum and elective courses a liberal arts base for all the students of Georgia Southern University and in other ways to promulgate humanistic values on the campus.

ADVISEMENT

All Georgia Southern students will complete the core curriculum as outlined in the preceding section. Students are assigned an academic advisor based on their proposed major. Undeclared majors are advised in the Academic Advisement Center. The advisor approves the student's schedule prior to registration each quarter. Final responsibility for meeting degree requirements rests upon the student.

Since Area IV of the core curriculum allows students to begin work on introductory courses in their major, it is advisable for them to make a decision regarding the major by the beginning of the sophomore year. Students who have declared a major should notify the registrar immediately if their degree objective changes.

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

The Bachelor of Arts degree provides a sound liberal education and prepares students for advanced study in the various liberal arts fields and for entrance to professional schools, as well as for specialized work in their selected field(s).*

* Should a student anticipate graduate work in business administration, most B.A. programs have sufficient elective space to permit adequate undergraduate preparation. For example, the following courses are generally required for students entering Master of Business Administration programs: Accounting 260, Economics 260, Finance 351, Law 352, Management 351.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, a minimum of 30 hours in the major field, a minimum of 20 hours in a second or minor field**, completion of the fourth course (intermediate) of a foreign language, three hours of health and four hours of physical education and a minimum 2.0 adjusted grade point average in required upper-division hours in the major discipline. Departments may establish additional grade requirements, and these are listed under the specific requirements for each major. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

In addition to the requirements for the major and the required minor, a student pursuing a Bachelor of Arts degree may choose to complete a second minor. It must be approved by the student's advisor (or the head of the major degree program) at the time the student applies for graduation. This second minor will be listed on the student's transcript.

The advisor must approve all the courses in the major and minor fields. Before registering for the first quarter of the junior year, a student must plan with the major advisor a satisfactory major program. In the major, the 30 hours must be of senior division courses in one subject, 20 hours of which must be taken in residence. No more than 45 hours of upper-division course work in the major may count toward the minimum of 190 hours required for graduation.

In the minor (or minors) the 20 hours must be of senior-division courses in a single field or within an approved interdisciplinary field, 15 hours of which must be in residence. Within the 20 hours of course work presented for the required minor or the second minor, the student must have a minimum adjusted grade point average of "C" with no more than five hours of "D" work. A maximum of five hours may be taken under the S/U grading system within any Arts and Sciences minor. The first minor may be selected from any of the fields in which Bachelor of Arts majors are offered or from the following: African and African American Studies, American studies, computer science, geography, international studies, journalism, Latin American studies, library science, linguistics, philosophy, religious studies. While the first minor in the Bachelor of Arts degree must be in one of the fields mentioned above, the second minor may be one of these or may be selected from a group of non-liberal arts minors identified (as such in the list of minors on pages 24-28. (Students completing other degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences may select any minor from this list as an optional minor.)

** Please note that certain minors may be used only as second minors within the Bachelor of Arts degree. (See minors.)

All students majoring in English are responsible for obtaining from their advisors a copy of the "Requirements of the Major in English."

The English major must have a "C" or above in each of the required courses in freshman and sophomore English and in every course in the English major of 40 quarter hours. An English major who must repeat the same course more than twice to receive a grade of "C" will no longer be considered as a major.

The English major must complete satisfactorily the required courses in freshman and sophomore English before enrolling in an upper-level course in English.

In order to ensure a balanced program for English majors, the department makes the following restriction in the area of upper-level major electives: English majors will not be permitted to take more than two courses within any major literary period (Old and Middle English; the Renaissance; Restoration and Eighteenth Century; Nineteenth-Century American Literature; Nineteenth-Century British Literature; Twentieth-Century Literature).

Only one English 399 or English 599 course may be counted in the English major.

All English majors must take the capstone course English 431 (Senior Seminar) during the winter or spring quarter immediately preceding their graduation.

TEACHER CERTIFICATE WITHIN THE B.A. OR B.S. PROGRAM

Only students completing an approved four-year curriculum designed for a specific school service or teaching field and recommended by the university in which the training is completed are eligible for professional teaching certificates in Georgia. Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees may, through careful planning of their programs, meet degree requirements while incorporating one of the approved programs listed in the teacher education section of this catalog. Students who wish to follow this plan should confer with their teacher education advisement leader within the major department.

BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS DEGREE

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree provides a sound liberal arts education, prepares students for advanced study in the various studio arts, and allows for a concentrated study in a specific studio area.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, completion of a minimum of 30 hours from selected studio art courses, 20 hours of approved Art History courses, 20 hours from a studio concentration.

The advisor must approve all the courses in the selected studio art courses and the studio concentration. All students are required to present a senior exhibition.

A minimum of 23 hours of electives outside of the art department must be completed as well as 3 hours of health and 4 hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum; completion of the third course (Elementary III) of a foreign language*; a minimum of 40 quarter hours of junior/senior courses in the chosen field; three hours of health and four hours of physical education; and a minimum 2.0 adjusted grade point average in required upper-division hours in the major discipline. Departments may establish additional grade requirements, and these are listed under the specific requirements for each major. No more than 60 hours of upper-division course work in the major may count toward the 190 minimum for graduation.

While the Bachelor of Science degree does not require a minor, students may choose to complete an approved minor program and have it so indicated on their transcripts. The approved minors are listed on page 24 of the 1993-94 catalog. The minor must be approved by the student's advisor at the time the student applies for graduation. A maximum of five hours may be taken under the S/U grading system within any Arts and Science minor.

* Students who have questions regarding their proficiency level should contact the Department of Foreign Languages regarding course placement. A student who has completed two years of a foreign language in high school and who elects to study a different language at Georgia Southern must complete the second course (Elementary II) of the second language in order to fulfill the B.S. degree requirement.
 A student not subject to CPC must complete the second course of the second language in order to fulfill the B.S. degree requirement.

Additional 16 hours of upper-division

Communication Arts courses approved by advisor (at least 12 hours must be in Journalism)

Political Science 350

Ten upper division hours from each of two academic areas in Arts and Sciences other than Journalism.

A grade of "C" or above is required for credit on each course in the major.

MATHEMATICS*Area IV - 30 hours

Calculus through Mathematics

265 .....	10-20 hours
Foreign Language .....	5-10 hours
Mathematics 220, Computer Science 230 .....	0-5 hours

Specific Requirements:

Foreign Language
Mathematics 166. Analytic Geometry and Calculus I
Mathematics 167. Analytic Geometry and Calculus II
Mathematics 264. Calculus III
Mathematics 265. Calculus IV
Mathematics 220. Applications of Linear Algebra
Computer Science 230. Introduction to BASIC Programming
Mathematics 320. Sets and Set Operations
Mathematics 330. Introduction to Analysis
Mathematics 332. Introduction to Modern Algebra
Mathematics 334. Introduction to Linear Alge- bra
Mathematics 338. Introduction to Probability
Mathematics 350. Differential Equations
Twenty-five additional hours from upper- division offerings approved by advisor. Ten hours in science at the 200-level or above in addition to the science taken in the core curriculum Area II.
A grade of "C" or above is required for credit on each course in the major.

PHYSICS*Area IV - 30 hours

Physics through 263 .....	5-15 hours
Mathematics 166, 167, 264, 265 .....	5-15 hours
Chemistry 181, 182 .....	0-10 hours

Specific Requirements:

Foreign Language
Ten hours from either of the following lab sequences:
Chemistry 181, 182 or Biology 151, 152 or Geology 151, 152
TD 150. Technical Drafting I
Mathematics 350. Differential Equations
One computer programming course
Forty hours upper-division physics approved by advisor of which 25 hours must be:
Physics 451. Modern Physics
Physics 557. Quantum Mechanics
Physics 561, 562, 563. Fundamentals of Classical Physics

POLITICAL SCIENCE*Area IV - 30 hours

Political Science 260. Introduction to Political Science .....	5 hours

Specific Requirements:

Political Science 250. American Government
Political Science 260. Introduction to Political Science
Seventy hours of upper-division course work. Forty hours including a 400-level course from upper-division offerings in political science to be approved by advisor, with no course grades lower than a "C." Thirty hours in related areas from upper-division offerings approved by advisor. The student must have a "C" average in courses taken in related areas. See Foreign Language.

PSYCHOLOGY*Area IV - 30 hours

Psychology 150 .....	5 hours
Psychology 280 .....	5 hours
Foreign Language .....	0-10 hours
Anthropology 150; Economics 250-251, 260; History 252, 253; Justice Studies 251; Statistics 255; PHY 150; Psychology 284; Sociology 150 .....	10-20 hours

Specific Requirements:

Foreign Language
Psychology 150. Introduction to Psychology
Psychology 210. Careers in Psychology
Psychology 280. Psychological Statistics I
Psychology 380. Psychological Statistics II
Psychology 382. Research Methods in Psy- chology
Psychology 562. History and Systems of Psychology
At least one of the following courses in devel- opmental/personality/social psychology: PSY 371, 374, 375, 376; at least one of the follow- ing courses in experimental psychology: PSY 452, 453, 455, 457; at least one of the follow- ing laboratory courses: PSY 552, 553, 555, 556; and between three and six additional upper division elective psychology courses approved by the advisor.

A maximum of 10 credit hours in one or more of the following courses may be credited toward the major: PSY 391, 491, 492, 493.

A grade of "C" or better must be made in Psychology 280, 380, 382, 562, and in the course selected to meet the laboratory requirement.

SOCIOLOGY

The major in sociology in the Bachelor of Science degree is oriented more toward applied courses than in the Bachelor of Arts degree. Within the major, the student may also choose an emphasis in Social Work.

Area IV - 30 hours

Sociology 150 ..... 5 hours
 Foreign Language ..... 0-5 hours
 Statistics 255; Statistics 256; Economics 250, 251, 260; Anthropology 150; Geography 250; Philosophy 150; Psychology 150; or Sociology 270 ..... 20-25 hours

Specific Requirements:

Foreign Language
 Sociology 150. Introduction to Sociology*
 Sociology 270. Introduction to Social Welfare (Social Work Emphasis only)
 Sociology 380. Sociological Theory (Social Work emphasis may substitute Sociology 370.)
 Sociology 381. Methods of Social Research
 SOC 492, 493, 494. Field Internship (5-15 hours)

Additional 30 hours of upper-division sociology courses approved by advisor.

* Must be completed with a "C" or better before any upper division Sociology courses may be taken.

EMPHASIS IN SOCIAL WORK

This program is the same as the major in sociology as outlined above except that a minimum of 10 hours is required in Field Internship (SOC 492, 493, 494) and that in the 30 additional hours of upper division sociology the following courses must be included.

Sociology 370. Social Welfare Policy and Services
 Sociology 452. Community Organization
 Sociology 453. Social Work as a Profession
 Sociology 480. Sociology of the Family

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN BIOLOGY

The program provides a broad education in the sciences with special depth in biology. It prepares a student for work in biology, and its flexibility permits preparation for entrance to professional and graduate schools.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, a minimum of 48 hours from upper-division biology courses, completion of foreign language through the 153 level, three hours of health and four hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

See Core Curriculum, Areas I, II, and III. Health (3 hours) and Physical Education (4 hours) 7 hours

AREA IV AND SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

Area IV requirements of the core curriculum and specific requirements peculiar to this degree are listed below. (Some of the courses under specific requirements may be used in the core curriculum, especially in Area IV.)

Area IV - 30 hours

Biology 281, 282 ..... 10 hours
 Chemistry 181, 182 ..... 10 hours
 Geology 151, 152; or Physics 251 and 252 or 253; or
 Physics 261 and 262 or 263 ... 0 - 10 hours
 Foreign Language, Level III .... 0-10 hours

Specific Requirements:

Biology 151 and 152. General Biology I and II
 Biology 281. General Zoology
 Biology 282. General Botany
 Biology 370. Cell Structure and Function*
 Biology 431. Senior Seminar
 Five hours from:

Biology 460. Plant Physiology or Biology 481. Animal Physiology
 Biology 472. Genetics
 Biology 473. Ecology
 Chemistry 181 and 182. General Chemistry
 Chemistry 377 and 378. Organic Chemistry
 Mathematics 151 and 152. College Algebra, Trigonometry**

Ten hours in sequence from the following:

Geology 151, 152. General Physical Geology, General Historical Geology
 Physics 251, 252, 253. General College Physics
 Physics 261 and 262 or 263. General College Physics for Science, Engineering and Mathematics Students

Five hours from:

- Mathematics 166. Analytic Geometry and Calculus I
- Biology/Statistics 476. Statistical Methods I
- Biology/Statistics 477. Statistical Methods II
- Foreign Language

Twenty-five hours of upper-division biology. With advisor's approval, these may include Chemistry 586. Biochemistry.

(4 hours) ..... 7 hours

AREA IV AND SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

Area IV requirements of the core curriculum and specific requirements (peculiar to this degree) are listed below. (Some of the courses under specific requirements may be used in the core curriculum, especially in Area IV.)

Area IV - 30 hours

- Chemistry 181, 182, 183, 261 . 10-20 hours
- Physics 261, 262, 263;
- Mathematics 165, 166,167 . . . . 10-20 hours
- Computer Science . . . . . 0-10 hours

Specific Requirements:

Chemistry 181,182, 183. General Chemistry
Chemistry 261. Quantitative Analysis
Fifty-seven hours in chemistry which must include:

- Chemistry 362, 363. Instrumental Analysis I and II
- Chemistry 371, 372, 373. Organic Chemistry
- Chemistry 521. Chemical Literature
- Chemistry 554. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry
- Chemistry 581, 582, 583. Physical Chemistry
- Mathematics 165. Pre-Calculus Mathematics
- Mathematics 166. Analytic Geometry and Calculus I
- Mathematics 167. Analytic Geometry and Calculus II
- CSC 233. Computing in the Sciences
- Ten additional hours in mathematics courses approved by the Chemistry Department (MAT 264, 265 or 350)
- Physics 251, 252, 253. General College Physics or
- Physics 261, 262, 263. General College Physics for Science, Engineering, and Mathematics Students
- Foreign Language (French, German, Russian, or Spanish recommended)

EMPHASIS IN BIOCHEMISTRY

This emphasis is designed for chemistry students interested in the life sciences and the medical profession. Fifteen hours of biochemistry (CHE 586, 587, 588) are required.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN JUSTICE STUDIES

This degree program has been designed to give students a broad knowledge of subjects related to the administration of justice. Students are prepared to converse freely in the operational function of law enforcement, court procedures

In addition to these requirements, students pursuing the Bachelor of Science in Biology degree must have an average of "C" or better for all biology courses.

- * Students who have earned credit for 30 hours of Biology courses must have received credit for BIO 370, Cell Structure and Function, or must enroll in this course and receive credit for it before enrolling in any other Biology courses.
- ** Mathematics 165 may be substituted for Mathematics 151 and 152.

EMPHASIS IN BIOLOGICAL OCEANOGRAPHY

This program is the same as the Bachelor of Science in Biology degree outlined above except for the following specific requirements:
Geology 562. General Oceanography
Physics 251 and 252 or Physics 261 and 262
Ten hours of approved upper-division biology electives must be taken at an approved marine station.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CHEMISTRY

The program of study is designed to give the student broad coverage in general education with special depth in chemistry and supporting courses. The curriculum included in this program follows the recommendations of the American Chemical Society for the professional training of chemists and serves as an excellent Pre-Medical or Pre-Dental program.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, 57 hours of upper-division chemistry, a foreign language, three hours of health and four hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

See Core Curriculum, Areas I, II, and III.

and correctional measures. They should be adequately prepared also to assimilate quickly those mechanical processes required in each of these areas.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, 40 hours of upper-division courses from several disciplines, a minimum of 25 hours of upper-division justice studies courses, 3 hours of health and 4 hours of physical education. The student must have a "C" average in all upper-division requirements for graduation. Within the major, each student is afforded the opportunity to choose from a menu of upper-division level justice studies courses. Selection of courses must be planned carefully with the department head, the program director, or a designated academic advisor. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

* If the student opts not to take internship (JS 491, 492, 493), he/she must take Justice Studies 472 and two upper division courses with consent of advisor.

ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE IN JUSTICE STUDIES

The Associate degree is designed to meet the needs of justice studies practitioners - that is, those who are engaged in full-time employment in a city, county, state or federal agency devoted to law enforcement, courts, or corrections. Upon completion of the program, it is expected that the student will be better equipped to further professionalism in area criminal justice agencies.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

A student may transfer into the program, from an approved college or university, up to 35 quarter hours credit, to include only 15 quarter hours of justice studies in Area IV. The student must complete all courses listed as Specific Requirements at Georgia Southern University.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

Area I - 10 hours

English 151. English Composition
English 152. English Composition

Area II - 10 hours

Five hours of college-level mathematics
Five hours of science or mathematics

Area III - 20 hours

History 253. The U.S. Since 1877
Political Science 250. American Government
Sociology 150. Introduction to Sociology
Psychology 150. Introduction to Psychology

AREA IV AND SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

Area IV of the core curriculum and specific requirements peculiar to this degree are listed below.

Area IV - 25 hours

Speech 251. Fundamentals of Public Speaking Justice Studies 252. Introduction to Corrections
Justice Studies 261. Crimes
Justice Studies 263. Police Administration
Justice Studies 264. Fundamentals of Proof

Specific Requirements:

History 274. The Black American
Political Science 251. The American Legal System
Justice Studies 255. Introduction to Offender Rehabilitation
Justice Studies 266. Issues in Criminal Justice Justice Studies 277. Pre-degree Research Paper

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN MATHEMATICS

In addition to the major in mathematics offered under this degree, the student may choose an emphasis in computer science.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, completion of the third course (Elementary III) of a foreign language*, three hours of health and four hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation. A grade of "C" or above is required for credit on each course in the major.

* Students who have questions regarding their proficiency level should contact the Department of Foreign Languages regarding course placement. A student who has completed two years of a foreign language in high school and who elects to study a different language at Georgia Southern must complete the second course (Elementary II) of the second language in order to fulfill the B.S degree requirement.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

See Core Curriculum, Areas I, II, and III.

Health (3 hours) and Physical Education (4 hours) ..... 7 hours

AREA IV AND SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

Area IV requirements of the core curriculum and specific requirements peculiar to this degree are listed below. (Some of the courses under specific requirements may be used in the core curriculum, especially in Area IV.)

Area IV - 30 hours

Computer Science 480. Scientific Programming

An additional 15 hours in mathematics from upper-division offerings approved by advisor.

EMPHASIS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

For the emphasis in computer science, the specific requirements are as follows:

- Mathematics 166. Analytic Geometry and Calculus I
- Mathematics 167. Analytic Geometry and Calculus II
- Mathematics 264. Calculus III
- Mathematics 265. Calculus IV
- Mathematics 220. Applications of Linear Algebra

- Computer Science 285. File Processing
- Computer Science 364. Data Structures
- Computer Science 385. Assembler Language Programming
- Computer Science 480. Scientific Programming

An additional 10 hours in mathematics or computer science from upper-division offerings approved by advisor.

DUAL-DEGREE PROGRAM

Georgia Southern University offers a dual degree program with Georgia Institute of Technology. The student will attend Georgia Southern for approximately three years studying one of the following areas: chemistry, mathematics, or physics. Then the student will continue his/her studies at Georgia Institute of Technology for an additional two years in any of the engineering fields. At the end of the entire program, the student will receive two Bachelor's degrees, one from Georgia Southern and one from Georgia Institute of Technology. This program gives the student the opportunity to develop a liberal arts background before completing his/her education in a highly technical environment. Students should work closely with the Dual-Degree Program advisor, Dr. Arthur Woodrum, since careful planning of the program is necessary from the beginning.

Dual-degree requirements include:

1. Complete 145 quarter hours at Georgia Southern including core curriculum courses and specific requirements for a major in chemistry, mathematics, or physics.
2. Obtain a recommendation from the Dual Degree Program advisor.
3. Maintain a college GPA which meets the requirements for transfer students of Georgia Institute of Technology.
4. Complete a study program at Georgia Institute of Technology required of juniors and seniors in a chosen field of engineering.

PRE-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS*PRE-LAW

Many students plan to enter law school upon completion of an undergraduate degree. However, there is no degree program or group of courses that will guarantee a student admission to law school. Admission to law school is determined by a combination of a student's grades, courses, letters of reference, life experiences, and score on the Law School Admissions Tests (LSAT). Most law schools recommend that undergraduate students select rigorous, fairly broad programs of study in which a great deal of writing is required. The principal academic advisement is provided by the department within which the student chooses to major. However, Georgia Southern also has three pre-law advisors with current information regarding law schools available to offer additional counsel to pre-law students. They are Dr. Lynda Hamilton, Department of Accounting and Law, and Dr. Michael Reese and Dr. Christa Slaton of the Department of Political Science, Public Administration and Justice Studies. Pre-law students should contact one of the pre-law advisors to assist them in planning a course of study that will enhance their ability to pursue a career in law.

PRE-AGRICULTURE

Georgia Southern University, in cooperation with the College of Agriculture, University of Georgia, has developed joint programs of study for students interested in pursuing a degree and a career in one of the agricultural sciences. The programs are designed to enable students to obtain special training in preparation for careers in agriculture. The student electing a pre-agriculture program of study follows a prescribed curriculum, depending on the intended major, at Georgia Southern University during the freshman and sophomore years (90 to 105 quarter hours). Thereafter, the student transfers to the College of Agriculture, University of Georgia, to complete the program of study in Agriculture (90 or more quarter hours). Dr. David Weisenborn and Dr. Ermit Deal, School of Business, are advisors for students electing one of the following pre-agriculture programs:

- Agricultural Economics
- Agricultural Education
- Agricultural Extension
- Agricultural Journalism
- Agronomy
- Animal Science
- Dairy Science
- Food Science
- General Agriculture
- Horticulture
- Plant Pathology/Plant Genetics
- Poultry Science
- Agricultural Engineering
- Agricultural Mechanization
- Environmental Health
- Entomology

PRE-FORESTRY (TWO-YEAR)

Georgia Southern University, in cooperation with the School of Forest Resources, University of Georgia, has developed a joint program of study for students interested in pursuing a degree and career in forestry. Students selecting a Pre-forestry program of study follow a prescribed curriculum, depending on the intended major. At Georgia Southern University during the freshman and sophomore years, the student completes 103 to 108 hours. This curriculum is designed to qualify students for transfer to the School of Forest Resources in order to complete the program of study in forestry with concentration in any of the following study areas: Wildlife Management, Fisheries, Forest Biology, Forest Business, Forest Policy and Recreation, Soil and Water Resources, Timber Management, and Forest Sciences. The University of Georgia School of Forest Resources accepts students into their forestry program only during fall and winter quarters. Only students with an overall GPA of 2.5 or above are accepted. The advisor to the Pre-forestry program is Dr. Kishwar Maur, Department of Biology.

Health 131 . . . . . 3 hours

Physical Education activities (4 courses)* . . . . . 4 hours

Speech (CAS 251) . . . . . 5 hours

Other electives:

Biology 281 or 282**, Chemistry 377**, or Physics 251 or 252** . . . . . 5 hours

* May be taken at the University of Georgia
 ** Any one of these courses may be substituted for Physics 252; Bio 281, 282, 283; CHE 262, 353, 380; CSC 281; GGY 350 or 360; GLY 151, 152; MAT 155, 167, 467

PRE-MEDICINE, PRE-DENTISTRY, AND PARA-MEDICAL PRE-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Students intending to prepare for medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, medical technology and other para-medical fields should conform to the course of study covering their respective pre-professional requirements as prescribed in the catalogs of the institutions in which they plan later to enroll. The following programs are suggestive only; program details should be worked out with the assistance of the appropriate faculty advisor considering the student's personal plans.

Students planning to complete the medical technology program are advised by Dr. David Foulk, Department of Health Science. These students complete the program described later in this catalog.

Students interested in pre-pharmacy typically do not complete a bachelor's degree program at Georgia Southern University, but take courses appropriate for admission to professional schools. Students interested in pre-optometry typically complete a bachelor's degree program, but some may complete all of the course requirements in three years. For students in each of these areas, the University provides advisors who assist them in planning their schedules. Advisors also write letters of recommendation for them to the professional schools. These advisors are:

Pre-Pharmacy . . . Dr. Robert Boxer, Chemistry
Pre-Optometry . . . Dr. Donald Drapalik, Biology

Students intending to prepare for medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine must select a course of study leading to a bachelor's degree in an academic area. Any major may be selected as long as the student is careful to complete courses recommended by the professional schools as well as those required for completion of the student's bachelor's degree program. Students must be advised by an academic advisor in their major area. These advisors are:

Pre-Medicine:
Biology majors . . . . . Dr. Sara Bennett
Chemistry majors . . . . . Dr. Bill Ponder
Physics majors . . . . . Dr. Arthur Woodrum
Other majors: . . . contact specific department
Pre-Dentistry:
Biology majors . . . . . Dr. Wayne Krissinger
Chemistry majors . . . . . Dr. Bill Ponder
Physics majors . . . . . Dr. Arthur Woodrum
Other majors: . . . contact specific department
Pre-Veterinary Medicine
. . . . . Dr. Frank French, Biology

Additionally, students in the pre-dental and pre-medical programs will work closely with Dr. Sara Bennett, who maintains liaisons with dental and medical schools.

All students in para-medical disciplines other than pre-medicine and pre-dentistry should, when seeking admission to their respective schools, contact their advisors for letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation for pre-medical and pre-dental students are prepared by the Medical/Dental Admissions Review Board, as required by most medical schools. Students desiring letters should contact the chair, Dr. Sara Neville Bennett, Department of Biology, to arrange for an interview with the board. Interviews normally are held during spring and fall quarters of the year preceding the year of entry into the professional school. Students anticipating participation in early acceptance programs should advise Dr. Bennett of their intentions and should be interviewed during spring quarter. Under no circumstances will letters be written for students by individual members of the Board. Competition for admission is such that favorable letters cannot be written for pre-dental students with less than 2.8 grade point average nor for pre-medical students with less than 3.0 grade point average except under unusual or extenuating circumstances. Pre-medical students should also have a satisfactory score on the MCAT. The foregoing are minimum criteria for an application to be considered favorably by dental and medical schools. These minimum criteria do not ensure acceptance into the respective schools.

PRE-PHARMACY (TWO-YEAR)

After three (3) quarters of attendance, a pre-pharmacy student must have earned a minimum of 2.5 GPA (unadjusted) to remain in the program.

PRE-OPTOMETRY

The requirements for admission into the various optometry schools and colleges are not identical. Contact the pre-optometry advisor, Dr. Donald Drapalik, for the specific requirements of each school. Typically, the requirements include courses in biology, calculus, chemistry, English, physics, psychology, and the social sciences.

The pre-optometry course requirements represent a minimum of three academic years of study. However, students are encouraged to obtain a four year degree prior to application for Optometry School.

Direct individual inquiries are invited by the American Optometric Association, Department of Public Affairs, 243 N. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, Missouri 63141 (Telephone (314) 991-4100).

Courses in anthropology are offered by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

R. Branch, Chair

Professors: R. Branch, C. Black, L. Bourma (Emeritus), R. Greenfield (Emeritus), H. Mobley (Emeritus)

Associate Professors: S. Moore, R. Persico

Assistant Professors: S. Hale, B. Hendry

ANT 150. INTRODUCTION TO ANTHROPOLOGY

An overview of general anthropology including its major sub-disciplines: cultural anthropology, archaeology, linguistics and biological anthropology. The course is a comparative study of humankind as a whole. It draws examples from the widest possible sample of peoples, cultures, and time periods to determine and explain the similarities and differences among peoples of the world.

ANT/FL 350. INTRODUCTION TO LANGUAGE

See FL 350 for course description.

ANT 351. WORLD ARCHAEOLOGY

Introduction to the archaeology of selected communities of the Old and New Worlds and the beginnings of cultural development. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT 352. BIOLOGICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

The interaction of biological and cultural forces in shaping human behavior and physical diversity. Key areas of study include biocultural evolution, primatology and racial differentiation. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT 353. CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

The study of culture as the principal adaptive mechanism of human societies: its nature, structure and dynamics. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of the instructor.

ANT 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN ANTHROPOLOGY*ANT/AS 453. NORTH AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

An introductory course on the archaeology of North America. Concentrates on the archaeology of native Americans, with emphasis on the southeastern United States. Prerequisite: ANT/AS 455.

ANT/AS 455. HISTORICAL ARCHAEOLOGY

Introduction to the field designed to provide a background in basic research methods in historical archaeology and ethnohistory. Emphasis will be placed on regional studies of the southeastern United States. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of the instructor.

ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT 456. GEORGIA ARCHAEOLOGY

A basic background in archaeology, specifically centered on the state of Georgia. It examines the archaeological record from earliest times through the antebellum period in an attempt to place Georgia in the larger archaeological setting of the southeastern United States. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of the instructor.

ANT/SOC/AS/AAS 457. THE RURAL SOUTH

A study of the lifeways and social organization of rural society with emphasis on the South. Examines social institutions, community dynamics, social change and the cultural distinctives of the region. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or SOC 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT/HIS 459. AMERICAN MATERIAL CULTURE

Vernacular and polite architecture, ceramics, mortuary art, community and settlement patterns, dress, diet, and disease are among the topics that will be discussed. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT/AS 481. INDIANS OF THE SOUTHEASTERN UNITED STATES

A study of the lifeways of the native peoples of the southeastern United States from the time of European contact to the present. The focus will be on understanding the culture system as an integrated whole. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of the instructor.

ANT/AS 462. NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS

A study of the lifeways of the Native North Americans. The focus will be on traditional Native American cultures from the period of White contact to the present. Emphasis will be on understanding the variety of Native American cultures in different parts of the continent and their changing character. Prerequisites: ANT 150 or permission of the instructor.

ANT/HIS 463. FOLKLIFE

A survey of the creation and persistence of tradition in societies and of the process of change, as demonstrated in such aspects as narrative, music, song, celebration, festival, belief and material culture. Emphasis will be given to understanding the multi-ethnic nature of the traditions in American life. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT/SOC 464. CULTURE AND PERSONALITY

See SOC 464 for course description.

ANT/AAS 465. PEOPLES AND CULTURES OF AFRICA

A comparative study of the lifeways of African peoples south of the Sahara. Traditional cultures, modern development and the course of culture change in various regions are covered. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT 468. CULTURE AND PSYCHOPATHOLOGY

Examination of mental illness from a cultural and social perspective. Epidemiological evidence relating to cultural and social variation in definition, identification and treatment. The subcultures of psychosis and treatment systems. Examination of theories of the relationships between culture and psychotic syndromes. Prerequisite: PSY 364 or permission of the instructor.

ANT 470. APPLIED ANTHROPOLOGY

A survey of the fields of applied anthropology including career options. Concepts and knowledge from all areas of anthropology are brought to bear on social and cultural issues and problems accompanying change, development and modernization. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT 475. ETHNOGRAPHIC FIELD METHODS

A study of techniques of gathering, recording, ordering, and utilizing ethnographic data in the field. Prerequisite: ANT 150.

ANT 481. METHODS AND THEORY IN ARCHAEOLOGY

Designed to augment Anthropology 491 but may be taken singly. Examination and application of current topics in archaeology relating to excavation strategy and interpretation. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and ANT 150, 351 or 352.

ANT 491. FIELD SESSION IN ARCHAEOLOGY

On-site participation in the excavation of an archaeological site including training in the physical and observational techniques of the extractive processes of archaeological excavation. Responsibility for excavation, analysis recording, and interpretation of archaeological materials is provided. Prerequisite: ANT 150, 351 or 352. Permission of instructor. Group limited. Credit 10 hours.

ANT 499. DIRECTED STUDY

Independent study under faculty supervision. Prerequisite: Consent of supervising faculty.

ANT 552. PRACTICUM IN ARCHAEOLOGICAL ANALYSIS

Offered on demand. The application of archaeological interpretative techniques to a specific site or analytical problem. Individual research projects in the interpretation of archaeological data and the conservation of artifactual finds with special attention to the care and storage of collections, display in the museum setting, and the presentation of archaeologically derived information. Prerequisite: ANT 150 or permission of instructor.

ANT/CA/ENG 563. SOCIOLINGUISTICS

See ENG 563 for course description.

ANT 582. COMPARATIVE SOCIAL STRUCTURES

A cross-cultural examination of design in the social structure of societies; problems of comparative ethnography and the minimal structures for societal maintenance and survival. Prerequisite: ANT 150.

ANT 583. ETHNOLOGICAL THEORY

The study of the major theories of culture: evolutionary approach, culture area, historical analysis, functionalism, role structures and comparative methods. Prerequisite: Anthropology 150.

ANT 591. FIELDWORK IN HISTORICAL ARCHAEOLOGY

This course is designed to familiarize students with basic archaeological field techniques within the context of an ongoing archaeological excavation. Students will participate in mapping, field drawing, excavation, processing and cataloging artifactual materials from a multicomponent site. The fieldwork will be an intensive introduction to practical archaeology.

This advanced painting class uses the studio experience to further the student's understanding of paint as an expressive medium. Emphasis is on the cultivation of personal imagery and creative exploration as informed by a knowledge of traditional and contemporary art. Prerequisite: ART 250.

ART 351. LIFE DRAWING

The human figure is used as a source for composition. A variety of drawing media are employed. Prerequisites: ART 151, ART 152 or consent of instructor.

ART 352. LETTERING AND LAYOUT

Study and application of layout, lettering, display and illustration, as used in advertising, fashion design and interior design. Experimentation in various media. Prerequisite: ART 151, ART 152, or consent of instructor.

ART 354. PRINTMAKING II

Study of various printmaking processes with emphasis on one process. Exact content of the course will be determined individually between the instructor and the student. Prerequisite: ART 254.

ART 355. CERAMICS II

Intermediate instruction in selected areas of construction techniques, glazing and firing. Emphasis will also be placed on historical and aesthetic concerns. Prerequisite: ART 255, ART 356.

ART 356. SCULPTURE II

Advanced work in the concepts and processes of sculpture. Prerequisite: ART 256 or consent of instructor.

ART 358. PHOTOGRAPHY II

An exploration of creative self expression through black and white and/or other photographic media. Prerequisite: ART 258 or consent of instructor.

ART 359. DESIGN OF ENVIRONMENTS

This course provides the student with the tools for solving problems inherent in environmental design. Prerequisites: ART 151, ART 152 and ART 252 or consent of instructor.

ART 370. ART FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

An examination of the artistic development of the child and the preadolescent. Class experiences prepare the student to teach in the areas of art history, art criticism, aesthetics and studio production.

ART 371. ART FOR ADOLESCENTS

Theory and methods related to teaching visual art in the secondary schools including studio production, art history, art criticism and aesthetics.

ART 380. ANCIENT ART HISTORY

Study of the architecture, sculpture, painting and applied arts of major civilizations in the Middle East and the Mediterranean world from prehistory to the fall of Rome. Prerequisite: ART 280 or consent of instructor.

ART 381. MEDIEVAL ART HISTORY

Study of the architecture, sculpture, and painting in Europe and the Mediterranean world from the fall of Rome to the thirteenth century. Prerequisite: ART 280 or consent of instructor.

ART 382. RENAISSANCE ART HISTORY

Study of the architecture, sculpture, and painting from the fourteenth through the sixteenth centuries with emphasis on developments in Italy and Northern Europe. Prerequisites: ART 280 and ART 281 or consent of instructor.

ART 383. BAROQUE AND ROCOCO ART

BIO 151. GENERAL BIOLOGY I

An introductory course in the basic principles of biology. Areas considered are the organization of life at the molecular, cellular, and organismal levels. Four lecture and two laboratory hours per week.

BIO 152. GENERAL BIOLOGY II

An introductory course in the basic principles of biology. Areas considered are genetics, reproduction and development, evolution, behavior and ecology. Four lecture and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Biology 151.

BIO 165. PEOPLE AND THE ENVIRONMENT
A consideration of environmental issues including human impact on the earth, population growth, conservation, energy production, and pollution. Importance of maintaining the earth's support systems will be stressed.

BIO 271. HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY I

An introduction to the basic biological processes and the form and function of the human body, followed by an integrated study of the skeletal, muscular, nervous and endocrine systems. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Chemistry 172 or permission of instructor.

BIO 272. HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY II

A continuation of the study of the form and function of the human body, with integrated studies of the cardiovascular, respiratory, digestive and urogenital systems. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Biology 271 or permission of the instructor.

BIO 281. GENERAL ZOOLOGY

A general survey of the major phyla of the animal kingdom with emphasis on biological processes, life histories and phylogenetic relationships of animals. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 151 and 152.

BIO 282. GENERAL BOTANY

A general survey of the major divisions of the plant kingdom with emphasis on biological processes, life histories, and phylogenetic relationships of plants. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 151 and 152.

BIO 284. MICROBIOLOGY

Fundamental principles of microbiology dealing with health and nutrition. Topics will include structure, physiology, and economic importance of microorganisms. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: five hours of biology and CHE 172.

BIO 353. GENERAL ORNITHOLOGY

An introduction to the study of birds, emphasizing field identification, classification, and life histories of Georgia species. Structural, physiological, and behavioral adaptations are also considered. Field trips required. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: ten hours of biology. Biology 281 recommended.

BIO 355. FIELD BIOLOGY

A field introduction to plants and animals of the Georgia Coastal Plain. Lecture, laboratories, field collections, identification, and natural history are included. Week-end field trip required. Three two-hour lecture-laboratories and one-hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: ten hours of biology.

BIO 363. FIELD BOTANY

An introduction to plant taxonomy with primary emphasis on identification and classification of local flora. Two lecture and six laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282 or permission of instructor.

BIO 364. FIELD ENTOMOLOGY

A two-week, concentrated, introductory study of insects (held off campus). Collections, identification, field laboratory and lecture included. Credit toward the biology degree may be received for BIO 364 or BIO 454, but not for both. Prerequisites: ten hours of biology and permission of instructor.

BIO 370. CELL STRUCTURE AND FUNCTION

Structure and physiology of cells and subcellular organelles. Topics include membrane transport, DNA, RNA and protein synthesis, cellular respiration, photosynthesis, and the secretion, synthesis, and function of macromolecules. Four lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282 and ten hours of chemistry.

BIO 381. INVERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY

A survey of free living invertebrates including their anatomy, taxonomy and phylogeny. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282 or permission of instructor.

BIO 382. VERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY

A study of the vertebrates with emphasis on classification, identification, evolution, distribution, and life histories of local vertebrate faunas. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282 or permission of instructor.

BIO 383. NON-VASCULAR PLANTS

A general survey of the algae, fungi, lichens, and bryophytes stressing the identification, morphology, life cycles and economic importance of selected common forms with special emphasis on their role in the ecosystem. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282 or permission of instructor.

BIO 384. VASCULAR PLANTS

A general survey of the vascular plants including life histories, morphology, ecology and identification. Time will be devoted to studying the common plants on campus. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282 or permission of instructor.

BIO 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN BIOLOGY*BIO 431. SENIOR SEMINAR

A group study of selected biological topics held in conjunction with the normal seminar schedule of the Department of Biology. Current concepts in biology will be discussed during the quarter. The selected topic or topics, which will vary each quarter, will be led by members of the faculty and invited lecturers. Required of all biology majors. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisites: 35 hours of Biology.

BIO 450. BASIC PHYSIOLOGY

Emphasis on understanding basic physiological principles through demonstrations and experiments suitable for the elementary and secondary grades. Prerequisites: 20 hours of science which must include at least 5 hours of mathematics.

BIO 451. COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE EMBRYOLOGY

Embryonic development of the chordates with emphasis on interpretation of experimental procedures. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 454. GENERAL ENTOMOLOGY

Phylogeny, morphology, physiology, and ecology of insects and their relationship to man. Collection and identification of local insects are included. Two lecture and six laboratory hours per week. Credit toward the biology degree may be received for BIO 364 or BIO 454, but not for both. Prerequisites: BIO 281 and 282.

BIO 457. PARASITOLOGY

General principles of parasitism and the classification, morphology and life cycles of parasites of vertebrates. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281, 282, plus five additional hours of biology.

BIO 460. PLANT PHYSIOLOGY

A study of the life processes of plants with emphasis on higher plants. Two lecture and six laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281, 282, and 370.

BIO 461. PLANT ANATOMY

A study of the comparative anatomy of vascular plants. Consideration is given to cell types, tissues, and tissue systems. Prerequisites: Biology 281, 282, and 370.

BIO 464. HERPETOLOGY

Phylogeny, morphology, life history and ecology of reptiles and amphibians. Field identification of local species will be emphasized. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 465. EVOLUTION

Concepts and mechanisms of evolution including origin and history of life, variation and population genetics, natural selection and speciation. Prerequisites: 15 hours of biology or consent of instructor.

BIO 466. MAMMALOLOGY

Classification, evolution, distribution, and life histories of mammals with emphasis on mammals of Georgia. The laboratory includes identification and preparation of specimens and the practice of field techniques. Field trips required. Four lecture and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282. Biology 382 recommended. Offered in alternate years.

BIO 472. GENETICS

The study of inheritance at the biochemical, cytological, organismic and population levels in sexually reproducing organisms. The laboratory is investigative in nature. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIO 370 or consent of instructor.

BIO 473. PRINCIPLES OF ECOLOGY

A study of the relationships of plants and animals to the environment. Laboratory work deals with methods of ecological analysis. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 474. POPULATION BIOLOGY

Analysis of the dynamics of wild populations, including single-species growth models, predation, competition, and mutualism. Prerequisites: MAT 151, BIO 281 and 282 or permission of the instructor.

BIO/STA 476. STATISTICAL METHODS I

See STA 476 for course description.

BIO/STA 477. STATISTICAL METHODS II

See STA 477 for course description.

BIO 480. ANIMAL ANATOMY

A study of the structural systems of mammals. Special emphasis is given to the primates and the interrelationships between microscopic and gross anatomy. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282. Biology 370 recommended.

BIO 481. ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY

A comparative study of the function and regulation of the major organ systems in animals. Emphasis will be given to the physiology of mammalian systems. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 151 and 152. BIO 370 and 480 recommended.

BIO 484. BACTERIOLOGY

A survey of bacteriology with emphasis on fundamental techniques, microbial physiology, medical applications, and contemporary aspects of applied bacteriology. Three lectures and two two-hour laboratories per week. Prerequisite: Biology 370 or organic chemistry.

BIO 490. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN BIOLOGY

Well prepared biology majors may be permitted to carry on independent study upon the recommendation of the instructor with whom the student wishes to work. The recommendation must have the approval of the head of the biology department. Limited to five hours credit.

BIO 491. FIELD INTERNSHIP IN BIOLOGY

Qualified biology majors may acquire practical experience by working with a government agency that specializes in the proposed area of study. Faculty members of the biology department will act as consultants. Internships must be approved by the head of the biology department. Limited to 15 hours credit.

BIO 532. CYTOGENETICS

A study of chromosomes, chromosomal aberrations, and cytological maps. Consideration is given to mitosis and meiosis as bases of genetic stability and recombination and genetics of species formation. Three one-hour lectures per week. Prerequisites: Biology 472 and 20 additional hours of biology.

BIO 534. ENDOCRINOLOGY

A study of endocrine mechanisms, their evolution, and their importance to various levels of biological organization. Primary emphasis is on the vertebrates. Three one-hour lectures per week. Prerequisites: Chemistry 378, Biology 481, and 20 additional hours in biology.

BIO 535. BIOLOGICAL SYSTEMATICS

The needs, aims, and methods of biological taxonomy will be considered. The botanical and zoological rules and methods of nomenclature will be discussed. Three one-hour lectures per week. Prerequisites: 25 hours of biology

BIO 550. MEDICAL-VETERINARY ENTOMOLOGY

An intensive study of the role of insects and closely related arthropods in the transmission, dissemination, and causation of diseases of man and animals. Consideration will be given to the identification of vector arthropods, the diseases for which they are responsible, arthropod survival mechanisms, the ecology of vector species, and modern vector control. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 364, 381, or 454 and 25 additional hours of biology.

BIO 552. GENERAL ACAROLGY

An introduction to the morphology, systematics, physiology, behavior, and ecology of mites and ticks. Special emphasis is placed on ticks and parasitic mites and their relationships to man, other animals, and plants. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: 30 hours of biology and permission of instructor.

BIO 553. IMMUNOLOGY

A detailed study of the structure and biology of antigens, immunoglobulins and complement, and of methods for their detection. The cellular basis of the immune response is studied in depth. Immediate and delayed hypersensitivity and immunization and its consequences are discussed. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIO 370, 472 and CHE 378 or consent of instructor.

BIO 564. MYCOLOGY

A study of the fungi, stressing classification, identification, structure, economic importance, and symbiotic relations with other organisms. Dermatophytes will also be emphasized. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282. Ten hours of chemistry recommended.

BIO 566. PLANT PATHOLOGY

A detailed study of representative common plant diseases and disorders with emphasis on concepts of diagnosis, causes, epidemiology, and methods of control. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 571. BIOLOGICAL MICROTECHNIQUE

A study of basic techniques for the preparation of biological material. Two lecture and six laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: 20 hours of biology including Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 578. HISTOLOGY

A study of the origin, development, structure and function of vertebrate tissues. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: Biology 281 and 282.

BIO 590. ADVANCED FIELD ECOLOGY

A field expedition involving ecological investigations of a major biome or natural area of North America. Expeditions normally require four to five weeks in the field, depending upon the habitat selected and the type of travel required. In addition to tuition, students must bear all travel expenses while in the field. Offered during summer quarter. Prerequisites: upper-division standing and consent of instructor. Ten hours credit.

CHEMISTRY

Courses in chemistry are offered by the Department of Chemistry.

B. W. Ponder, Chair

Professors: R. Boxer, M. Cain (Emerita),

C. Colvin, B.W. Ponder

Associate Professors: R. Fitzwater (Emeritus), C.

Kellogg, R. Nelson

Assistant Professors: M. Hurst, W. Lehman, R.

Mauldin, J. Orvis, N. Schmidt, B. Wojciechowski

Temporary Assistant Professor: T. Deal

Temporary Instructor: J.N. Orvis

CHE 160. CHEMISTRY AND THE ENVIRONMENT

A general course designed to familiarize the non-science major with the existing relations between fundamental aspects of chemistry and man's environment. Emphasis will be placed upon the chemical nature and physiological effects of some materials considered pertinent to human existence as well as those considered pollutants in the environment. Topics discussed include air pollution, water pollution, drugs, plastics and nuclear power. Four lectures and one two-hour laboratory per week.

CHE 171. INTRODUCTION TO GENERAL CHEMISTRY

First course in the two-course sequence, CHE 171 and CHE 172. The course stresses the basic laws of chemistry: principles of reaction, chemical bonding, and acid-base equilibria. Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory per week.

CHE 172. INTRODUCTION TO ORGANIC CHEMISTRY

Second course in the two-course sequence, CHE 171 and CHE 172. The course consists of a brief survey of the principles of organic chemistry with emphasis on compounds of biological interest. Can not be used as a prerequisite for upper level chemistry courses except for CHE 380. Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite CHE 171.

CHE 181, 182, 183. GENERAL CHEMISTRY
A three-quarter sequence for science majors, stressing the fundamental principles and the quantitative aspects of chemistry. Topics considered include: atomic theory, chemical bonding, kinetic-molecular theory, solutions, kinetics, equilibria, electrochemistry, and descriptive inorganic chemistry. CHE 183 includes qualitative analysis. Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory per week.

CHE 261. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

A study of the principles, techniques and calculations of quantitative determinations in volumetric and gravimetric analysis. Four lectures and one four-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisite: CHE 183.

CHE 362, 363. INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS I AND II

A two-course sequence of instrumental analysis involving a study of the principles, theories and applications of chromatography, electro-chemistry, spectroscopy and other techniques in modern instrumental analysis. Four lectures and one four-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisite: CHE 261.

CHE 371, 372, 373. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY

A study of the aliphatic and aromatic series of carbon compounds designed for the chemistry major, emphasizing relationships between structure, mechanism and reactivity. Four lectures and one four-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisite: Chemistry 182, or consent of instructor.

CHE 377, 378. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY

A study of the aliphatic and aromatic series of carbon compounds emphasizing descriptive chemistry of functional groups. Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisite: Chemistry 182.

CHE 380. INTRODUCTION TO BIOCHEMISTRY

A study of the intermediary metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, and nucleic acids with emphasis upon common and regulatory pathways and upon the related functions of vitamins, hormones and minerals. Four lectures and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: Chemistry 172, or consent of instructor.

CHE 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN CHEMISTRY

CHE 499. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN CHEMISTRY

A course in which independent research problems may be undertaken with the permission of the chemistry faculty and the instructor under whose direction the student wishes to work. Not more than 5 quarter hours may be counted toward the major.

CHE 521. THE LITERATURE OF CHEMISTRY
A two-hour course in the effective use of the library resources in chemistry: journals, abstracts, reviews and other reference works of importance. Two lecture periods per week. Prerequisite: Chemistry 362, 373, or consent of instructor.

CHE 522. SCIENTIFIC GLASSBLOWING
A laboratory course designed to develop fundamental glassblowing skills required for construction of glass apparatus used in scientific investigations. Two two-hour laboratory periods per week. Prerequisite: Upper division (sophomore +) science major.

CHE 551. NUCLEAR AND RADIOCHEMISTRY
A study of the structure and properties of the atomic nucleus, radioactivity, and modes of radiation decay, interactions of radiation with matter and radiation detection and measurements. Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory period per week. Prerequisites: MAT 166, CHE 373 or 378, or consent of instructor.

CHE 554. ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRY
A study of selected topics in inorganic chemistry. Among the topics discussed will be atomic structure, chemical bonding, the periodic law, acid-base theories, coordination compounds and organometallic chemistry. Four lectures and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: CHE 371-373, CHE 581-583 or consent of instructor.

CHE 581, 582, 583. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY
A three-course sequence covering fundamental principles. Chemistry 581 covers gas laws and the fundamentals of chemical thermodynamics. Chemistry 582 covers chemical and phase equilibria, electrochemical phenomena and kinetics. Chemistry 583 covers quantum chemistry, photochemistry, spectroscopy and structure (crystals, solids, macromolecules). Four lectures and one three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: CHE 261, MAT 166-167, PHY 251, 252, 253 or 261, 262, 263.

CHE 586, 587, 588. BIOCHEMISTRY
A three-course sequence covering fundamental principles. Chemistry 586 is a survey of the biochemistry of proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, membranes and enzymes with emphasis on their structure and functions in major metabolic pathways. Chemistry 587 will emphasize intermediary metabolism involving a survey of the pathways of degradation and synthesis of carbohydrates, lipids, and amino acids. Chemistry 588 will emphasize nucleic acid chemistry, including replication, transcription, translation and related topics. Four lectures and one four-hour laboratory per week in CHE 586 and CHE 587. Five lectures (no lab) per week for CHE 588. Prerequisites: CHE 371, 372, 373 or CHE 377, 378.

COMMUNICATION ARTS

Courses in communications, broadcasting, film, journalism, public relations, speech and theatre are offered by the Department of Communication Arts.

D. Addington, Chair

Professors: D. Addington, M. Shytle (Emerita)
Associate Professors: G. Dartt, D. Gibson, R. Johnson

Assistant Professors: P. Bourland, H. Fulmer, C. Geyerman, B. Graham, D. Kluever, B. Merrick, K. Murray, P. Pace, V. Rowden, M. Whitaker, J. Williams, E. Wyatt

Temporary Assistant Professor: M. Jeffries, P. Lewis

Instructors: D. Burns, T. Carter (on leave), J. Clayton, C. Yarbrough

Temporary Instructors: R. Bohler, B. Fields
CA 210. COMMUNICATION CONVOCATION
An entry-level course for those pursuing the Bachelor of Science in communication arts and journalism. It is intended to acquaint the student with the variety of subject matter available in the discipline and with the faculty of the department.

CA 250. INTRODUCTION TO MASS COMMUNICATION

An introduction to print and electronic mass communication as well as media-related professions. The course surveys the media's historical development in the United States, structure, social roles and theories. Prerequisite: ENG 151.

CA 252. INTRODUCTION TO HUMAN COMMUNICATION

A beginning course designed to help students understand the nature of the communication transaction in its various forms: interpersonal, public, small group, theatrical, etc. Prerequisite: ENG 151.

CA 254. VOICE AND PHONETICS

Fundamentals of vocal acoustics, anatomy, and voice production as well as practice designed to aid the student in using the voice more effectively and efficiently. The course also includes study and practice in the use of the International Phonetic Alphabet.

CA 349. MEDIA CRITICISM

This course is intended to familiarize students with dominant paradigms currently used in television studies. Particular emphasis will be given to theories addressing the social context of the media and criticism as a rhetorical act.

CA 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN COMMUNICATION ARTS

CA 440. THEORIES OF MASS COMMUNICATION

Theories of Mass Communication examines the development of mass media systems and the resulting theoretical perspectives. The course encourages theory application as a means of understanding and explaining what happens to us individually and as members of a society as mass communication became possible and now as media systems are being adapted. Prerequisite: CA 250.

CA/WGS 441. WOMEN AND MEDIA

This course focuses on three essential issues in the study of women and their relationship to the mass media: 1) the representations of femininity and female characters, with emphasis on contemporary film and television; 2) the history and current status of women within media institutions; 3) the reception of media texts by female audiences and the media's role in women's daily lives. Prerequisite: CA 250 or consent of instructor.

CA 442. ADVANCED LAW AND ETHICS

An evaluation of contemporary media regulations/law and ethical issues by way of case analysis along with study of the evolution of media regulation for understanding of past, present, and future media performance. Prerequisite: CAB/CAJ 345.

CA 497. CONTEMPORARY COMMUNICATION APPLICATION

Communication perspectives are offered for the analysis of a selected contemporary topic. The course includes discussion of appropriate communication models and their analytic applications to a selected contemporary topic (e.g. communication and the family). Course may be repeated a maximum of two times for credit. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

CA/ANT/ENG 563. SOCIOLINGUISTICS

See ENG 563 for course description.

CA 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN COMMUNICATION ARTS

BROADCASTING

CAB 340. TELECOMMUNICATIONS

A study of the operations of electronic media with emphasis on an emerging information-based economy. This course offers theoretical and practical knowledge towards understanding and forecasting the roles of new and evolving media technologies, rationale for federal controls, and intra-inter-media operations. Prerequisite: CA 250.

CAB 344. BROADCAST PROGRAMMING

A study of programming techniques used in radio and television broadcast stations.

CAB/CAJ 345. LAW AND ETHICS OF MASS COMMUNICATIONS

A survey of freedom of speech and press and its limitations by laws governing libel, privacy, copyright, contempt, free press, broadcast regulation, fair trial, and reporter's shield. Broadcast industry self-regulation and ethical concerns of mass communication will be discussed.

CAB 346. BROADCAST MANAGEMENT

A study of the organization and operation of broadcasting station policies and procedures. Prerequisites: CA 250.

CAB 347. RADIO PRODUCTION

An introduction to basic radio equipment, programming, and principles of studio operation; emphasis is on the production of laboratory programs with students participating in the various jobs involved in studio production.

CAB/PSC 369. POLITICS AND THE MEDIA

See PSC 369 for course description.

CAB 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN BROADCASTING

CAB 414. BROADCAST PRODUCTION PRACTICUM

Practical experience in broadcast production. The student will take an active part in the production of radio and television programs. Prerequisites: CAB 445 or CAB 448.

CAB 415. BROADCAST NEWS PRACTICUM

Practical experience in broadcast news operations. The student will take an active part in the production of radio and television news programs. Prerequisite: CAB 446.

CAB 416. INDUSTRIAL VIDEO PRACTICUM

Practical experience in industrial video production. The student will take an active part in the production of industrial video programs. Prerequisite: CAB 449.

CAB 417. NEWS FEATURE PRACTICUM

Practical experience in news feature production. The student will take an active part in the production of radio and television programs. A maximum of five hours may be applied toward a degree. Prerequisite: CAB 446.

CAB 418. BROADCAST SALES PRACTICUM
Practical experience in broadcast sales and commercial production. The student will take an active part in the production of radio, television and cable commercial productions and analysis. Prerequisite: CAB 425.

CAB 419. BROADCAST ENGINEERING PRACTICUM

Practical experience in broadcast engineering application. The student will take an active part in the daily production engineering of radio, television, and cable productions and system maintenance. Prerequisite: CAB 424.

CAB 422. LIGHTING AND VIDEO PRODUCTIONS

This course will analyze the techniques, materials, aesthetics, and problems of video lighting for application to illumination of products, people, location situations, and studio situations. Prerequisite: CAB 444.

CAB 424. VIDEO ENGINEERING

Study with emphasis on application of video systems design, video signal elements, troubleshooting signal problems, and maintenance of equipment. Prerequisite: CAB 444.

CAB 425. COMMERCIAL APPLICATIONS: ELECTRONIC MEDIA

A study of commercial application, both the analytical and creative, unique to the various electronic media. Students will gain a working knowledge of the skills needed for successful commercial objectives. Prerequisites: CAB 444 and MKT 351.

CAB/CAT 426. DRAMATIC VIDEO PRODUCTIONS

This course will study the aesthetic techniques and application of the video medium for dramatic productions. Prerequisites: CAB 444 or CAT 255.

CAB 444. TELEVISION PRODUCTION

An introduction to basic television equipment and elements of studio operation. Students will participate in various studio jobs while producing several laboratory programs.

CAB 445. ADVANCED TELEVISION PRODUCTION

A course to offer project work for advanced students in various facets of television production. Students will produce and direct various types of programs. Prerequisite: CAB 444.

CAB/CAJ 446. RADIO AND TELEVISION NEWS AND INTERVIEWING

A laboratory course designed to provide the student with techniques and experiences in facets of presentation of news and interviews for radio and television. Prerequisite: CAJ 252.

CAB/CAJ 447. RADIO AND TELEVISION SCRIPT WRITING

A practical course providing the principles and techniques necessary for adapting the principles of writing to radio and television.

CAB 448. ADVANCED RADIO PRODUCTION

A course for advanced students to increase proficiency in radio production techniques. Students will produce commercials and simulated-live programs in the style of professional broadcast stations.

CAB 449. INDUSTRIAL MEDIA PRODUCTIONS

This course will study the application of video productions to industrial settings. Students will study the objectives of production as well as the methods of production development. Students will also study the interrelation and utility of multi-media presentations. Prerequisites: CAB 445 and CAB 447, or permission of instructor.

CAB/SM 455. SPORT BROADCASTING

A course designed to teach broadcasting techniques specific to sports. Includes lecture, discussion, and simulated broadcasts by students.

CAB 491. INDIVIDUAL PROBLEMS

Designed to offer students an opportunity to design and carry out an independent research and/or performance project in their areas of special need or interest. May be taken one to five times with credit depending on the complexity of the proposed project ranging from one to five hours credit. A maximum of five hours credit may be earned in independent study.

CAB 493, 494, 495. INTERNSHIP I, II, III

May be taken only by Communication Arts majors whose emphasis is Broadcasting. Provides practical experience on a full-time basis in a radio or television station.

CAB 541. BROADCAST FEATURE REPORTING

This course is designed to prepare students for the research needs, styles of presentation, applications to differing topics, and methods of producing video feature reports for differing broadcast markets. This course is a continuation of CAB 446 with focus on the news feature. Prerequisite: CAB 446.

CAB 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN BROADCASTING

FILM

CAF 256. INTRODUCTION TO THE CINEMA

A study of the basic elements of effective film production including screenwriting, photography, performance, music and sound, editing, and directing. Selected scenes from great films will be shown and discussed.

CAF 350. ART OF FILM

A detailed analysis of selected masterpiece films, emphasizing aesthetics. The course will encourage students to understand films better and will deepen their appreciation of the art of cinema.

CAF 351. DOCUMENTARY FILM

An exploration of the documentary film as an art form and as a medium of communication. Landmark films, such as Nanook of the North and Triumph of the Will, will be screened and analyzed.

CAF 352. HISTORY OF AMERICAN CINEMA

A survey of film history, with emphasis on American cinema. Screenings of significant historical films will be included.

CAF/ENG 355. THEMES AND PATTERNS IN LITERATURE AND FILM

See ENG 355 for course description.

CAF/PSC 360. FILM AND POLITICS

See PSC 360 for course description.

CAF 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN FILM

CAF 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN FILM

JOURNALISM

CAJ 252. INTRODUCTION TO JOURNALISTIC WRITING

A pre-professional course designed to provide fundamental instruction and practice in writing for the mass media. Prerequisite: ENG 151.

CAJ 343. NEWS REPORTING AND WRITING

Basic instruction and practice in news gathering and news writing with special emphasis on style and successful completion of reporting assignments. Prerequisite: CAJ 252.

CAJ 344. COPY EDITING

Instruction and practice in fundamentals of news editing including copyreading, headline writing, makeup, photo editing, and typography, with special emphasis on editing the weekly and daily newspaper. Prerequisite: CAJ 252.

CAJ/CAB 345. LAW AND ETHICS OF MASS COMMUNICATIONS

See CAB 345 for course description.

CAJ 346. HISTORY OF JOURNALISM

A study of the history of journalism from its beginning to the present day, with emphasis upon its correlation with political, economic and social trends.

CAJ 347. CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

A survey of contemporary U.S. newspapers, emphasizing a number of the more important dailies and trends in the business.

CAJ 348. MAGAZINE WRITING, EDITING, AND PRODUCTION

Introduction to magazine journalism, from writing and editing to production techniques, circulation, art, advertising, and business. Emphasis on style, interviewing skills and examination of various staff roles. Prerequisite: CAJ 343 or permission of instructor.

CAJ/PM 350. GRAPHIC ARTS TECHNOLOGY II

See PM 350 for course description.

CAJ/MKT 351. PRINCIPLES OF ADVERTISING

See MKT 351 for course description.

CAJ 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN JOURNALISM

A course in handling photographic assignments for the printed and broadcast media, with special emphasis on editing pictorial material for newspapers, magazines, and television.

CAJ 442. ADVANCED REPORTING

Instruction and practice in reporting public affairs, with emphasis on the responsible news coverage of city, county and state government. Prerequisite: CAJ 343.

CAJ 443. SUBJECTIVE JOURNALISM

An analysis of the role of opinion in journalism, including editorials, columns, and cartoons; and exposure to the processes of researching information and writing subjective journalism. Prerequisite: CAJ 343.

CAJ 445. FEATURE WRITING

The preparation for and writing of special feature stories and in-depth news stories for newspapers and magazines, emphasizing research, investigation, and interview techniques. Prerequisite: CAJ 343.

CAJ/CAB 446. RADIO AND TELEVISION NEWS AND INTERVIEWING

A laboratory course designed to provide the student with techniques and experience in facets of presentation of news and interviews for radio and television. Prerequisite: CAJ 252.

CAJ/CAB 447. RADIO AND TELEVISION SCRIPT WRITING

A practical course providing the principles and techniques necessary for adapting the principles of writing to radio and television.

CAJ 492. INDIVIDUAL PROBLEMS

Designed to offer students opportunities to design and carry out independent research and/or projects in their areas of special need or interest. May be taken one to five times, with credit depending on the complexity of the proposed project ranging from 1-5 hours credit. A maximum of five hours credit may be earned in independent study. Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

CAJ 493, 494, 495. INTERNSHIP I, II, III

Junior or senior standing with a 3.0 grade point average is recommended. Prerequisite: recommendation of the journalism faculty and approval of the department head. Credit: 1-15 quarter hours as determined by the faculty.

CAJ 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN JOURNALISM*PUBLIC RELATIONS*CAP 3, 411, 412, 413. PUBLIC RELATIONS PRACTICUM

This course will provide limited practical experience in public relations projects and campaigns. The course is limited to those who are in the Public Relations Emphasis. A maximum of five hours may be applied toward a degree.

CAP 340. INTRODUCTION TO PUBLIC RELATIONS

An introductory study of the history, theories and principles of public relations and the role and practice of public relations in various communication contexts.

CAP 342. COMMUNICATIONS PROGRAMMING FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS

Part-time Instructors: E. DeLoach, B. Warchol

Description of the program (see Developmental Studies).

Description of GSU 220, Methods of Learning (see Learning Skills Course).

RDG 090. REGENTS' TEST INTENSIVE READING SURVEY

Designed to prepare students for the reading section of the Regents' Test. Classes are structured so as to offer intensive work in the reading skill areas tested on the Regents' Test, including vocabulary and literal, inferential, and analytical comprehension. Students who have not passed the Regents' Reading test by the time they have earned 75 hours of degree credit shall be required to take this course. Institutional credit only, 3 hours.

RDG 099 a,b,c, d. READING DEVELOPMENT

Designed to prepare students for college-level reading, Reading Development emphasizes expanding vocabulary, improving comprehension and increasing the reading rate. Efforts also will be made to help students cultivate effective study skills. A student may exit at the end of any quarter by passing the course and achieving a satisfactory score on the exit examination. Institutional credit only, 5-20 hours.

ENG 099 a,b,c,d. COMMUNICATION SKILLS
Designed to help students develop language skills necessary for entering regular college English courses. Communication Skills emphasizes grammar, sentence structure, paragraph and short theme writing. Because the courses are developmental, a student may exit at the end of any quarter by passing the course and achieving a satisfactory score on the exit examination. Institutional credit only, 5-20 hours.

MAT 096. ALGEBRAIC CONCEPTS

This course is designed for students who are not required to enroll in Developmental Studies mathematics but who need some review prior to entering the core curriculum mathematics course. Algebraic Concepts consists of a study of the real number system, first and second degree equations and their applications, rational expressions, exponents and polynomials, radicals, graphing, and functions. This course carries only institutional credit.

MAT 098 a,b,c. ELEMENTARY ALGEBRA

The first of two courses designed for students who are not prepared to enter a college core curriculum mathematics course. Elementary Algebra consists of a study of the structure of the real number system, properties of real numbers, first degree equations and inequalities, applications, exponents and polynomials. Students will be placed in MAT 098 or MAT 099 according to results of a sub-score on the CPE or a placement test administered by the department. Students will be allowed a maximum of three quarters to meet exit requirements for Math 098. Institutional credit only, 5-15 hours.

MAT 099 a,b,c,d. INTERMEDIATE ALGEBRA

A study of polynomials, rational expressions, graphs in a plane, systems of equations and inequalities, roots and radicals, second degree equations, and functions. A student must demonstrate mastery of MAT 098 prior to taking MAT 099. A student may exit at the end of any quarter by passing the course and by achieving a satisfactory score on the exit examination. Institutional credit only, 5-20 hours.

Temporary Assistant Professor: R. Hulbert

Adjunct Associate Professor: C. Schuberth
GLY 151. GENERAL PHYSICAL GEOLOGY

An introductory study of the origin and structure of earth materials, processes modifying earth's interior and exterior. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week.

GLY 152. GENERAL HISTORICAL GEOLOGY
Origin and geologic history of the earth. Methods of interpretation, fossils, geologic time measurements, time scale, physical and organic development of the earth. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151 or permission of instructor.

GLY 165. PRINCIPLES OF ENVIRONMENTAL GEOLOGY

An introduction to geologic processes, including flooding, coastal erosion, volcanoes, and earthquakes, and their effect on our environment. The origin, global distribution, use, and reserves of the earth's basic resources, including soils, water, minerals, rock deposits and energy resources are investigated. The role and effect of these components on our daily lives are discussed.

GLY 321. BASIC SCIENTIFIC PHOTOGRAPHY

This course will cover basic history, theory and techniques of communicating concepts of science by photography. Techniques of black and white photography will be applied to recording field data and the preparation of illustrations for publication. Techniques of color photography will be applied to recording field and laboratory data for presentation in technical talks. One hour laboratory per week.

GLY 351. ELEMENTARY*CRYSTALLOGRAPHY AND MINERALOGY

An introduction to morphological crystallography, and the study of the genesis, occurrence and uses of the common metallic minerals. Laboratory work consists of study of common crystal forms and the physical and chemical identification of minerals. Three lectures and four laboratory hours a week. Prerequisite: GLY 151 and CHE 181-182.

GLY 352. SILICATE AND OPTICAL MINERALOGY

An introduction to the genesis, occurrence, uses and optics of common silicate minerals. Laboratory work consists of the study of the internal structures of minerals, mineral identification and the use of the petrographic microscope. Three lecture and four laboratory hours a week. Prerequisite: GLY 351.

GLY 353. PETROLOGY AND PETROGRAPHY

An introduction to the origin, occurrence and classification of common rocks. Laboratory work consists of combined megascopic and microscopic study of rock. Three lectures and four laboratory hours a week. Prerequisite: GLY 351, 352.

GLY 355. FIELD METHODS IN GEOLOGY

Instruction in the use of the basic tools and techniques used in compiling geologic maps and cross-sections. Geologic surveying by means of pace and compass, planetable and alidade, aerial photographs, basic geophysical equipment and other commonly used instruments will be emphasized. Three lecture and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 152 and MAT 152.

GLY 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN GEOLOGY*GLY 411. INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH

The process of geological research will be studied from the scientific method through the process of writing a scientific proposal. Construction of a technical paper and the technical oral presentation will be examined and practiced. Usages of geologic terms will be explained and learned. A proposal for a research project will be selected or assigned, a proposal written and an oral presentation of the proposed research will be made. Prerequisite: junior standing and permission of the instructor.

GLY 421, 422, 423.

MUSEUM METHODS IN GEOLOGY A, B, C

Practical experience in curation of geological museum specimens. Techniques include cataloging, preparation, reproduction, exhibiting and interpreting of geologic materials. Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

GLY 424. APPLIED GEOPHYSICS:*GRAVITY AND MAGNETICS

An introduction to gravity and magnetic methods in geophysics. Magnetic data will be collected in the field. Gravity and magnetic data will be reduced and interpreted in conjunction with the known geology. Prerequisites: MAT 152 and permission of instructor.

GLY 425. APPLIED GEOPHYSICS:*RESISTIVITY AND REFRACTION

An introduction to electrical resistivity and seismic refraction methods in geophysics. Field collected data will be reduced and interpreted in conjunction with the known geology. Prerequisites: MAT 152 and permission of instructor.

GLY 426. APPLIED GEOPHYSICS:*REFLECTION

An introduction to seismic reflection methods in geophysics. Field collected data will be reduced and interpreted in conjunction with the known geology. At least one other geophysical method will be utilized to support the reflection data. Prerequisites: MAT 152 and permission of instructor.

GLY 451. INVERTEBRATE PALEONTOLOGY

A study of the morphology, classification, and geologic significance of invertebrate fossils. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151-152, BIO 151, or approval of instructor.

GLY 452. STRATIGRAPHY

Introduction to the principles and application of stratigraphy and biostratigraphy. Emphasis is placed on concepts of time, time-rock, and rock units; sedimentary facies; guide fossils and fossil range; and description of rocks in time and space, their correlation and interpretation. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151 and 152; GLY 451 and 459 strongly recommended. Spring quarter.

GLY 453. STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY

A study of geologic structures resulting from rock formation and deformation. Attention will be given to recognition and solution of structural problems. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151 and MAT 152.

GLY 459. SEDIMENTATION

Introduction to the principles of sedimentation, petrologic interpretation and basic laboratory techniques. The origin and distribution of sedimentary rocks is examined from initial weathering, through erosion and transportation, to environments and mechanisms of deposition. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 152 recommended.

GLY 494. SELECTED PROBLEMS IN GEOLOGY

Independent field and laboratory investigation under faculty supervision. Written report required. Prerequisites: senior standing and permission of the instructor.

GLY 512. SEMINAR IN GEOLOGY

The process of scientific communication will be investigated and practiced. A final paper on the student's senior research topic will be written and an oral presentation made in a formal "Technical Session" format. The student will learn to prepare visual aids to illustrate his/her paper and talk. The "Technical Session" will be organized and run by students. Prerequisites: GLY 494 or permission of the instructor.

GLY 551. GEOCHEMISTRY

The application of chemical concepts to geological problems. Five lecture hours a week. Prerequisite: GLY 151-152, 351-352, CHE 181-182 or approval of instructor.

GLY 552. INTRODUCTION TO VERTEBRATE PALEONTOLOGY

A study of the morphology, classification and geologic significance of vertebrate fossils. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151-152, BIO 151 or approval of instructor.

GLY 555. EARTH SCIENCE

A systematic study of the earth as a planet, including aspects of its atmosphere, oceans, lithosphere, soils and physiography. Laboratory will emphasize the location and utilization of local, as well as regional materials for earth science teaching and learning. Three lectures and four hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisite: a foundation course in geology is recommended. Permission of instructor.

GLY 561. INTRODUCTION TO MICROPALAEONTOLOGY

Principles, techniques of preparation and classification of microfossils with emphasis on foraminifera, ostracodes and other animal groups smaller than 200 microns as well as spores and pollen. Three lectures and four laboratory hours a week. Prerequisite: GLY 151-152, GLY 451, or BIO 151 or permission of instructor.

GLY 562. GENERAL OCEANOGRAPHY

An integral approach to the study of oceans with special emphasis on the biology, chemistry, and geology of ocean basins. Studies will include the ecologic, physical, and geologic features of ocean basins, as well as chemical composition of ocean water and oceanic circulation processes. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIO 151, CHE 181, 182 or permission of instructor.

GLY 571. GEOMORPHOLOGY

A systematic study of land forms and the processes which create and modify them. Four lectures and two laboratory hours a week. Prerequisites: GLY 151 or GGY 350.

GLY 572. GEOLOGIC EVOLUTION OF THE COASTAL PLAIN

A study of the agents of weathering, transportation and deposition of sediments and the development of coastal plain landforms. Includes a study of Mesozoic and Cenozoic stratigraphy and paleontology with special emphasis on the Gulf and Atlantic Coastal Plains. Four lectures and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: GLY 151, 152; GLY 571 recommended.

GLY 592. REGIONAL FIELD GEOLOGY

A field expedition involving geological investigation of a major geologic region of North America. Students will be expected to make geological observations through such techniques as mapping, measuring sections, collecting scientific samples, or other standard techniques, then to analyze and interpret their observations or measurements. A scientific journal or notebook will be used by each student to record data and observations. A final report will be required. Students usually will bear tuition, travel, and living expenses in the field. Prerequisites: introductory geology course and/or permission of instructor.

HISTORY

Courses in history are offered by the Department of History

J. Fraser, Chair

Professors: P. Cochran (Emeritus), J. Fraser, H. Joiner, C. Moseley, G. Rogers (Emeritus), F. Saunders, G. Shriver, R. Shurbutt, J. Smith (Emerita), D. Ward (Emeritus)

Associate Professors: A. Bailey, R. Barrow, V. Egger, C. Ford (Emerita), C. Thomas, A. Young

Assistant Professors: F. Brogdon, F. Manchuelle, C. Malone, T. McMullen, D. Rakestraw, P. Rodell, C. Roell, A. Sims, J. Steinberg, T. Teeter, J. Woods

Temporary Assistant Professors: A. Downs, R. Feiman

Temporary Instructor: J. Brautigam

Part-time Instructors: E. Mallard, K. Sinisi

HIS 152. DEVELOPMENT OF CIVILIZATION

The first course traces the development of civilization from prehistoric times to the dynastic and religious wars of the seventeenth century.

HIS 153. DEVELOPMENT OF CIVILIZATION

The second course begins at 1660 with a study of the old regimes in Western Europe, the French Revolution and its aftermath, the western democracies in the nineteenth century and a survey of power politics in the twentieth century.

HIS 252. THE UNITED STATES TO 1877

A survey of American history from its colonial origins to the end of Reconstruction.

HIS 253. THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1877

A survey of American history from the end of Reconstruction to the present.

HIS 274. THE BLACK AMERICAN

A systematic study of the history of the Black American with emphasis on his attempt to gain political, economic, social, and legal justice in the United States.

HIS 350. AN INTRODUCTION TO HISTORY

An examination of the dimensions and techniques of history including the processes of research and style.

HIS/AS/WGS 351. WOMEN IN AMERICAN HISTORY

A study of the role of women in the political, economic, social and intellectual life of the United States.

HIS/AS/AAS 352. AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY TO 1877

African American History to 1877. African background to Reconstruction. This is a study of the history of the thought and actions of people of African ancestry in the United States from their origins in Africa to 1877.

HIS/AS/AAS 353. AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY SINCE 1877

African American History since 1877. This course is a continuation of History 352. The focus of the course is the history of the African American experience since 1877. The emphasis will be on two transitions: from rural America in the fifties and from segregation to civil rights.

HIS 357. HISTORY OF GREECE

A survey of Greek history from the Minoan and Mycenaean civilizations to the Roman conquest. Prerequisite: HIS 152.

HIS 358. HISTORY OF ROME

A survey of Roman history and society from the beginnings to the fall of the empire in the West, with special attention to the period from the late Roman Republic to the early Roman Empire. Prerequisite: HIS 152.

HIS 359. THE RENAISSANCE

This course focuses on humankind's greater emphasis upon explorations of the past, the geographic world, and the capacity to create.

HIS 361. HISTORY OF ENGLAND TO 1688

A survey of English history from the Roman invasion of Britain in 55 B.C. to the "Glorious Revolution" of 1688.

HIS 362. HISTORY OF ENGLAND, 1688 TO THE PRESENT

A survey of modern British history from the "Glorious Revolution" of 1688 to the present.

HIS 364. SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY: PYRAMIDS TO NEWTON

A survey of science and technology, covering early scientists, key discoveries and inventions, and how science changes and technology develops. Prerequisite: HIS 152.

HIS 365. EUROPE SINCE 1914

A study of causes and results of the First and Second World Wars with emphasis on political, social, economic and cultural problems in the two postwar periods.

HIS 366. GERMANY: 1648 TO THE PRESENT

A survey of modern German history, outlining the origins of Prussia, Bismarck's power politics and the rise and fall of Hitler's Third Reich.

HIS 368. DIPLOMATIC HISTORY: 1870 TO THE PRESENT

An overview of European diplomatic development, centering its attention on the First and Second World Wars and the postwar efforts toward international stability.

HIS 370. AMERICAN MILITARY HISTORY

A general study of American military activities in war and peace, including policy, administration, and the role of armed services in American history.

HIS/LAS 371. LATIN AMERICA: THE COLONIAL PERIOD

A survey of the discovery, conquest, and colonization of Latin America by the Spanish and Portuguese from the pre-Columbian era to the struggles for independence.

HIS/LAS/AAS 373. MEXICO AND THE CARIBBEAN

A study of the conquest and establishment of Hispanic culture in Mexico and the Caribbean, with particular emphasis on developments in Mexico, Cuba and Hispaniola since their independence.

HIS/LAS 374. A.B.C. POWERS

A survey of the political, economic, social, and cultural development of Argentina, Brazil and Chile from their struggles for independence to the present.

HIS 375. ISLAMIC CIVILIZATION

A study of the institutions and cultural achievements of the Islamic world from Morocco to Indonesia, with special emphasis on the origins and distinctive characteristics of Islam as both religion and ideology.

HIS 377. RUSSIA TO 1917

A survey of the evolution of the Russian people from their Kievan origins to the Revolution of 1917. Emphasis will be placed on the elements of continuity between Czarist Russia and the Soviet Union.

HIS/AS 380. AMERICAN SOCIETY AND THOUGHT

Fashions and fads, manners and morals, the impact of a sense of mission, mobility, puritanism, slavery, Darwinism and Freud on the American mind and character through the 1920's.

HIS/RS 381. INTRODUCTION TO THE HISTORY OF RELIGION IN THE UNITED STATES

A survey and analysis of the major religious patterns in the United States with special attention given to belief systems, institutional forms, social composition and historical development.

HIS/RS 384. HERESY AND DISSENT IN WESTERN RELIGIOUS HISTORY

A careful study of minorities and heretics in western religious history with special emphasis on belief systems, historical continuity, intolerance and persecution and the unique contributions of minorities to the dominant society.

HIS/AAS 385. HISTORY OF SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA I

A survey of the history of Sub-Saharan Africa from the origins to 1800, including developments in culture, society, politics and foreign relations, especially with the Islamic and Western World.

HIS/AAS 386. HISTORY OF SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA II

A survey of the history of Sub-Saharan Africa from 1800 to the present, including developments in culture, society, politics and foreign relations especially with the Islamic and Western worlds.

HIS/WGS 387. WOMEN IN MODERN EUROPEAN HISTORY

This course will examine the impact of economic, social, and political events on women in Western Europe since 1789.

HIS 389. 19th-CENTURY EUROPE

A study of the main political, social, economic, and cultural developments of the nineteenth century, with emphasis on the problems of nationalism, industrialization, revolution and the cultural movements of Romanticism and Realism.

HIS 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN HISTORY*HIS 450. GEORGIA HISTORY

A detailed study of all aspects of Georgia history from colonization to the present. A field trip is made to places of historic interest in the state.

HIS/RS 451. THE AGE OF THE REFORMATION

The study of the history of Europe in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries, with special emphasis on the great religious upheaval of that period and its interrelationship with other aspects of history.

HIS 452. THE CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION

An analysis of the causes of the Civil War and a study of domestic affairs and foreign relations during the war period with special emphasis on the political, social and economic aspects of Reconstruction.

HIS 453. THE AGE OF REFORM: POPULISM, PROGRESSIVISM AND THE NEW DEAL

An examination of the reform movements in the United States from the 1890's to World War II, with special emphasis on agrarian discontent, progressivism, the impact of foreign policy, the Great Depression and the sweeping changes of the New Deal period.

HIS 454. MEDIEVAL HISTORY

The restructuring of western society on a fundamentally Germanic, Latin and Christian foundation.

HIS 455. THE YOUNG REPUBLIC

A survey of the Federalist and Republican administrations and diplomatic growth of the United States, 1789-1828.

HIS 456. NATURE AND CONSEQUENCES OF SECTIONALISM

A study of the political, economic, social, and cultural differences of each section, 1840-1861, with emphasis on the South.

HIS 457. THE EASTERN FRONTIER: 1607 TO THE INDIAN REMOVALS

A study of the moving frontier with emphasis placed on the physical advance into the wilderness, the Indian wars, fur trade and cultural and social developments which characterized the westward migration.

HIS 458. THE NEW SOUTH

The historical background and the political, economic, and cultural patterns of the twentieth-century South are studied with particular emphasis on Georgia's place in the regional picture.

HIS/AS 459. AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY

A study of the major political, social, and intellectual figures who made outstanding contributions in the development of American history.

HIS 460. THE AMERICAN WEST

A study of the expansion and settlement of the West, including the fur trade, territorial expansion, pioneer life, spread of statehood, mining and cattle frontiers, western railroads and Indian relations.

HIS 461. HISTORY OF THE SOVIET UNION

A history of the Bolshevik Revolution and of the Soviet Union to the present day. Domestic political events will be related to the social and economic bases of Russia and the Soviet Union. Moscow's place in world affairs will be examined.

HIS/AS 462. AMERICAN ECONOMIC HISTORY

A study of the economic growth of the United States and an analysis of the factors which have shaped this development including the role of financial and business organizations.

HIS 463. DIPLOMATIC HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

A study of the background of American diplomatic history with analysis of revolutionary shifts in policy and action brought about by continuing crises of the Atomic Age.

HIS 464. IMPERIALISM AND DECOLONIZATION, 1875 - PRESENT

During the period 1875-1920, the industrialized nations of the West carved out territories in most of Africa and Asia, only to lose almost all of them by 1970. This course analyzes the historiographical treatment of causes of the "new imperialism," the debate over imperialism's effects, and the process of decolonization.

HIS/AS 465. THE BIRTH OF THE REPUBLIC

A detailed examination of the colonial and revolutionary periods of American history.

HIS 466. AGE OF JACKSON, 1828-1848

A history of American politics, life, and society from the political advent of "Old Hickory," Andrew Jackson, through the administration of "Young Hickory," James K. Polk.

HIS 467. MAJOR THEMES IN WESTERN RELIGIOUS HISTORY

A thematic approach to the history of religion in the West. Such themes as church-state relations, the quest for authority, the development of religious institutions, the role of heresy and dissent and attempts at unity will be emphasized.

HIS 468. RISE OF AMERICA TO WORLD POWER, 1775-1900

A survey of American foreign policy from the Revolution to the aftermath of the Spanish-American War. Prerequisite: HIS 252.

HIS 469. WORLD WAR II

The Second World War from its origins to its consequences. The military campaigns are covered, but there is also emphasis on the personalities, the technology, the national policies and the effect of the war on the home fronts.

HIS 471. AMERICA AS A WORLD POWER SINCE 1900

A survey of American foreign policy from the aftermath of the Spanish-American War to the present. Prerequisite: HIS 253.

HIS 472. WAR AND SOCIETY, 1618 TO THE PRESENT

An analysis of how warfare molds society and is in turn molded by it - from the days of the matchlock to the age of the guided missile.

HIS 473. NAVAL WARFARE: FROM THE ARMADA TO THE ATOMIC AGE

A survey of the policies and practices of modern naval warfare from the Spanish Armada to the advent of nuclear vessels.

HIS 475. THE URBANIZATION OF THE UNITED STATES

A survey of the process, progress and problems of urban growth in the United States from the eighteenth century to the present.

HIS 476. RECENT AMERICA: UNITED STATES SINCE 1945

The history of the United States since World War II, including developments in American society, economy, politics and foreign policy.

HIS/AAS 477. HISTORY OF AFRICAN NATIONALISM

A survey of the history of modern African nationalism since the 19th century. The course will examine the anti-colonial struggle, the recovery of national independence and post-colonial problems.

HIS 478. MODERN SPAIN AND PORTUGAL

A cultural and political history of Spain and Portugal from 1700 to the present.

HIS 479. READING FOR HONORS IN HISTORY*HIS 480. HISTORY OF THE ANTE-BELLUM SOUTH

The development of southern economic, social, and political institutions to 1860.

HIS/A8 481. CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The development of American constitutionalism from the colonial period to the present with emphasis on the adaptation of the federal system to changing social, economic and political demands.

HIS 482. FROM LOUIS XIV TO NAPOLEON, 1660-1815

An investigation into the political, social and cultural currents of the Old Regime, the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Era.

HIS 483. FROM EMPIRE TO REPUBLIC, 1815-1914

An investigation of continuity and change in the political, social and intellectual currents of nineteenth-century France.

HIS 484. TWENTIETH-CENTURY FRANCE, 1914 TO THE PRESENT

An investigation into the political, social and intellectual currents which have shaped the French experience in the twentieth century.

HIS 485. TUDOR-STUART ENGLAND

A study of England's constitutional, political, religious and social development from Henry VII to the end of the reign of Queen Anne.

HIS 486. MODERN BRITAIN

An intensive analysis of the political, economic and social history of England beginning with the Reform Bill of 1867.

HIS 488. MEDIEVAL ENGLAND FROM THE CONQUEST TO 1450

Medieval English history from the conquest to the Tudor period.

HIS 489. THE MODERN MIDDLE EAST

A study of the Middle East since World War I. Major topics include Zionism, nationalism, and Islamic revolutionary movements.

HIS 496. TOPICS IN BUSINESS HISTORY

Various topics allow a broad survey of significant issues in business history or an intensive treatment of a specific theme. Prerequisites: HIS 252 or HIS 253 recommended but not required.

HIS 499. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN HISTORY

Independent study for advanced students in history. Prerequisite: approval of department head.

HIS 550. SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY: NEWTON TO APOLLO 15

A survey of the history of modern science and technology. Covers key scientists, scientific discoveries, inventions, and how science and technology interact. Prerequisites: HIS 153.

HIS 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN HISTORY

Professor: G. Cox

Associate Professors: M. Reese, R. Waugh

Assistant Professors: F. Ferguson, S. Tracy

Temporary Assistant Professor: D. Sabia

Part-time Assistant Professor: M. Classens

JS 251. INTRODUCTION TO CRIMINAL JUSTICE

A survey of the history, philosophy and principles of Criminal Justice. The student will explore the organization and administration of enforcement, adjudication and corrections.

JS 252. INTRODUCTION TO CORRECTIONS

To introduce the student to all phases of the field of corrections from its development to its prospects for the future. Introduces the student to correctional problems and the diversity of emphases being placed on correctional programs. It will also serve as a survey course of jurisdictional objectives and practices.

JS 255. INTRODUCTION TO OFFENDER REHABILITATION

A study of the processes used in probation and parole as well as evaluation of confinement. Rights and responsibilities of the offender and court decisions affecting rehabilitation and treatment. Field trips will be attempted as class-load permits. (JS 255 may only be taken for credit by JS/AAS degree candidates or as an elective.)

JS 261. CRIMES

A study of the theories in criminal law. Seeks to establish the relationship of criminal law to the prevention of criminal behavior and to rehabilitation. Introduces the student to techniques of legal research and interpretation of the penal code and other criminal statutes, with special emphasis placed on the Georgia Criminal Code.

JS 263. POLICE ADMINISTRATION

Investigates the principles of organization, administration and duties of police agencies. Examines ideas such as lateral entry, team policing, neighborhood police, central staff control and professionalization.

JS 264. FUNDAMENTALS OF PROOF

Case presentation as it pertains to the officer in court. The nature and degrees of evidence are examined. Handling and preservation of evidence as well as the introduction and admission, or exclusion, of evidence into trial will be thoroughly researched. (JS 264 may be taken for credit only by JS/AAS degree candidates or as an elective.)

JS 266. ISSUES IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Review of basic principles and practices of law enforcement. A course designed to bring the practitioner and the various subject areas into sharper focus. (JS 266 may be taken for credit only by JS/AAS degree candidates or as an elective.)

JS 277. PRE-DEGREE RESEARCH PAPER

A supervised program of research into a subject or problem in the student's field of interest resulting in a research paper. (JS 277 may be taken for credit only by JS/AAS degree candidates.)

JS/SOC 354. GANGS, DRUGS, AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Students will explore the links between gangs and the drug culture and will trace the development of gangs in U.S. society, examining how the criminal justice system might respond. Prerequisites: JS 251 or consent of instructor.

JS 361. EVIDENCE

A course designed to acquaint the criminal justice practitioner with the nature, kinds and degrees of evidence. The importance of proper handling for preservation and authenticity for admission at trial are examined, as are rules governing admission and exclusion of evidence; judicial notice; presumptions; demonstrative, circumstantial, illegal evidence; the hearsay and best evidence rules; the competency, examination, impeachment and privileges of witnesses; and the burden of proof. Prerequisite: JS 251.

JS 362. CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

An introduction to the relationship, official and unofficial, between police agencies and prosecuting offices. Includes a survey of techniques and methods of each. The student discovers the functions and procedures of the courts - judges, lawyers and juries - with emphasis on Georgia jurisprudence. Prerequisite: JS 251.

JS 363. JUVENILE JUSTICE

An overview of the basic philosophy and procedures of the juvenile justice system; focus on types of juvenile offenders and factors associated with status and delinquent offenders. Past and present processes of the juvenile justice system will be examined.

Landmark cases, Kent, Winship, and Gault will be scrutinized for their impact on the system. Current practices will be studied, particularly the treatment of status offenders, females, gang members and substance abusers within the system. Prerequisites: JS 252 or consent of instructor.

JS 364. COMPARATIVE INDUSTRIAL SECURITY

A study of security problems in banks, campuses, computer centers, hospitals, public conveyances, as well as personnel safety and security in business, industry and government. Attention will be given to employment opportunities in safety and security as a career field.

JS 365. ADVANCED CORRECTIONS

The principles and practices of probation and parole, emphasizing constructive methods of correctional processing within the formal scope of community based corrections as well as an overview of the development, philosophy and operational manifestations of institutional corrections and the subsequent classification and programming. Prerequisite: JS 252 or consent of instructor.

JS 367. ADVANCED CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION

An analytic approach to criminal investigation, from the point of detection to offender apprehension. Students learn about the search, recovery and preservation of forensic material recovered at the crime scene. Additional focus is given to crime laboratory use and fingerprint classification.

JS 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

JS 453. OFFENDER COUNSELING AND SUPPORT

This course is designed to explore the role of treatment in the correctional setting through an investigation of the counseling process and the impact it has on the persons affected. Treatment processes will be explored using case studies and counseling methods now utilized as well as those under study. Emphasis will be placed on specific problems, e.g. AIDS, conjugal visits, incarcerated females, violent offenders, and links to the outside community. Prerequisite: JS 252 or consent of instructor.

JS 461. SEMINAR

A seminar designed to bring together the various subject matter areas covered by the Justice Studies major. Students will be assigned specialized research topics in their fields of interest.

JS 472. SENIOR PROJECT

A program of readings and research in a subject or problem of the justice studies spectrum resulting in a senior paper.

JS 491, 492, 493. INTERNSHIP I, II, III

A major involvement with judicial, corrections, law enforcement, or related agencies. Student will work with an agency a full quarter and will receive five quarter hours credit for each internship course. A maximum of 15 hours credit may be earned as internship credit. A course summary will be required from each participating student. Prerequisite: permission of the program director.

JS 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

Latin American Studies is an interdisciplinary field including courses offered by several departments. R. Shurbutt, Chair

LAS/GGY 460. GEOGRAPHY OF LATIN AMERICA

See GGY 460 for course description.

LAS/HIS 371. LATIN AMERICA - THE COLONIAL PERIOD

See HIS 371 for course description.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

CSC 230. INTRODUCTION TO BASIC PROGRAMMING

BASIC language structure with applications and concepts. Prerequisite: five hours of mathematics.

CSC 232. INTRODUCTION TO FORTRAN PROGRAMMING

Basic concepts, logic and syntax of the FORTRAN programming language. Prerequisite: five hours of mathematics.

CSC 233. COMPUTING IN THE SCIENCES

Use of microcomputers to solve science problems. Includes BASIC programming language, statistical analysis, modelling using spreadsheet and word processing. Prerequisite: restricted to science majors.

CSC 281. PRINCIPLES OF COMPUTER PROGRAMMING I

An introduction to data representation and computer system organization. Algorithm development using simple data types and control structures. Further development using procedures, functions, and structured data types.

Prerequisites: Knowledge of MAT 151 and one of the following: knowledge of a programming language; CIS 251; MAT 166.

CSC 283. PRINCIPLES OF COMPUTER PROGRAMMING II

A continuation of CSC 281. Emphasis will be placed on advanced structured programming and an introduction to data structures. Prerequisite: CSC 281.

CSC 285. FILE PROCESSING

Creation, use, sorting, and modification of sequential-access and random-access files. Continues the development of the design, implementation, testing, and documentation skills begun in CSC 281, with emphasis on algorithm development. Prerequisite: CSC 281.

CSC 287. UNIX AND C PROGRAMMING

A study of the UNIX operating system and the C programming language. Prerequisite: CSC 283.

CSC 351. THEORETICAL FOUNDATIONS

Language definition, grammars, parsing, finite-state machines, recursive function theory, computable functions and Turing machines, and computational complexity. Prerequisites: MAT 251 and CSC 283.

CSC 364. DATA STRUCTURES

Applying algorithmic design techniques to data manipulation and an introduction to algorithm analysis and memory management. Prerequisite: CSC 351.

CSC 385. ASSEMBLER LANGUAGE PROGRAMMING

Computer structure and machine language; symbolic coding and assembly systems; program segmentation and linkage; interrupt-handling. Prerequisite: CSC 283 or consent of instructor.

CSC 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

CSC 450. COMPUTER ALGORITHMS

An in-depth study of the design and analysis of computer algorithms. Prerequisites: MAT 334 and CSC 364.

CSC 453. THEORY OF PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES

A study of the formal description of programming languages. The features of modern programming languages will be studied and various languages used for examples. Prerequisites: CSC 364 and a programming language in addition to Pascal.

CSC 480. SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMMING

Introduction to numerical methods and concepts for application to scientific problems on the computer. Prerequisites: MAT 334, CSC 283, and a knowledge of FORTRAN.

CSC 482. OPERATING SYSTEMS

A study of operating systems for various size computers. Emphasis will be placed on the management of devices, processes, memory, input/output, and files. Prerequisite: CSC 385 or equivalent.

CSC 483. COMPUTER ARCHITECTURE

Computer systems organization, conventional machine architecture, CPU architecture and organization, input and output. Four hours lecture and one two-hour lab per week. Prerequisites: CSC 385 and MAT 251.

CSC 486. DISCRETE SIMULATION

Introduction to discrete simulation models and their implementation on computers. Topics include modeling techniques, experiment design, analysis and validation of results. Students will be exposed to one or more computer simulation languages. Prerequisites: CSC 281 or MGT 381; MAT 338 or MGT 354 or BIO/MAT 476.

CSC 487. DATABASE SYSTEMS

The fundamental concepts of database management systems (DBMS), with emphasis being given to the design and development of DBMS. Several types of systems will be studied, with primary consideration being given to relational DBMS. Prerequisite: CSC 285 and 364.

CSC 491. INDIVIDUAL PROBLEMS

Designed to offer the student an opportunity to carry out an independent research project. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor.

CSC 499. SPECIAL PROBLEMS/CO-OP

Work experience in computer science through the CO-OP program. A student may enroll in this course more than once, but cumulative credit may not exceed five hours. Variable credit, zero to five hours. Prerequisite: Acceptance as a CO-OP student in the area of computer science.

CSC 550. ADVANCED PROGRAMMING IN BASIC

Advanced topics in computer science using the language BASIC. For teachers and prospective teachers of high school computer science. Prerequisite: CSC 230 or consent of instructor.

CSC 580. COMPUTER GRAPHICS

Graphic fundamentals. Two-dimensional geometric transformations, elementary shading techniques, three-dimensional graphics, curves and surfaces. Prerequisites: CSC 364 and MAT 334.

ntine equations, continual fractions and quadratic residues. Prerequisites: MAT 167 and either CSC 230 or CSC 281.

MAT 560. FUNDAMENTAL IDEAS OF CALCULUS

A review of the principal ideas of calculus.

Prerequisite: MAT 167.

MAT 565. FUNDAMENTAL IDEAS OF ALGEBRA

The elementary theory of groups, rings, and linear algebra. Prerequisite: five hours of mathematics above the 200 level or one year of teaching high school mathematics.

MAT 570. FUNDAMENTALS OF SET THEORY AND TOPOLOGY

The elementary theory of sets and an introduction to Topology. Prerequisite: five hours of mathematics above the 200 level or one year of teaching high school mathematics.

MAT 595. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN MATHEMATICS

Topics of special need and interest to mathematics teachers will be studied. Prerequisite: consent of instructor.

MAT 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN MATHEMATICS

STATISTICS

STA 255. STATISTICS USING THE COMPUTER I

An elementary course in statistics at a level which does not require a knowledge of calculus. An interactive computer statistical package will be used to solve problems and simulate situations. No computer knowledge required. Prerequisite: five hours of mathematics.

STA 256. STATISTICS USING THE COMPUTER II

Two sample tests of hypothesis and topics in regression and correlation. A survey of computers and data processing principles. Use of large statistical packages such as SPSS, BMD and SAS. Prerequisite: MAT 255.

STA 472. MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS

Random variables, density functions, mathematical expectation, discrete and continuous distributions, moments and moment-generating functions and limiting distributions. Prerequisite: Math 338.

STA/BIO 476. STATISTICAL METHODS I

The following topics are covered: descriptive statistics, normal distribution, sampling experiments, distribution of sample means, tests of significance, parameter estimation, sampling distribution, confidence intervals, linear regression and one-way analysis of variance.

STA/BIO 477. STATISTICAL METHODS II

Topics covered: analysis of variance with multiple classification, factorial experiments, analysis of covariance, multiple regression analysis, and transformations.

STA 480. SAMPLING AND SURVEY METHODS

Design of sample surveys, biases, variance, and cost estimates. Comparison of simple random sampling, stratified, systemic, cluster, and multistage sampling. Emphasis on appropriate sample type and estimation of parameters. Prerequisite: STA 476.

MUSIC

Courses in music are offered by the Department of Music.

R. Marchionni, Chair

Professors: S. Adams (Emeritus), H. Arling, J. Broucek (Emeritus), N. da Roza, J. Graham (Emeritus), D. Graves, R. Marchionni, D. Mathew
Associate Professors: M. Braz, D. Pittman, J. Robbins, D. Wickiser

Assistant Professors: L. Clonitti, G. Harwood, J. Hoffacker, S. McClain, W. Schmid

Temporary Instructor: M. Fallin

Part-Time Instructors: P. Barry, L. Najarian,

D. Orbovich, C. Purdy

Staff Accompanist: J. DeLoach

The Department of Music is a full member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Students wishing to pursue a degree in music must complete an application for admission to the Department of Music as well as pass an entrance audition.

PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS

Recital Requirements: Prior to performing a Junior, Senior or Invitational Recital, the candidate must pass a recital approval examination no less than three weeks before the recital date.

Performance majors in the Bachelor of Music degree plan are required to perform a full public recital in both their junior and senior years. Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree with an Emphasis in Applied Music Studies may be invited to perform a full public recital in their senior year on their primary instrument. Performance majors with elective studies in business must perform a full public recital in their senior year. Candidates for a degree in Music Education and Composition may be invited to give recitals upon the recommendation of the applied instructor. A full public recital of original compositions by Composition majors must be presented during the candidate's senior year.

All candidates for a music degree must complete applied music proficiency-level requirements appropriate to the candidate's specific degree plan as well as fulfill other performance requirements consistent with the degree plan or individual course objectives. The appropriate applied music teacher will assist in this area.

A jury examination will be taken on the major applied instrument during the examination week or shortly before the end of each quarter. Students not majoring in music and who take applied music lessons may take a jury examination upon the recommendation of the applied music instructor.

PIANO CLASS AND THE PIANO EXIT EXAMINATION

All freshman and sophomore music majors must pass the piano exit examination. A maximum of six hours credit of Piano Class is allowed toward graduation requirements.

MUSIC THEORY AND EXIT EXAMINATIONS

A placement examination in music theory is required of all transfer students. Freshman music majors may elect to take the placement examination. Placement exam results are for advisement purposes only.

Each major must pass (70 per cent or better) the music theory exit exam. No student may register for any upper-level theory course unless the theory exit exam is successfully completed.

The requirements stated above for exiting the lower-level theory sequence apply regardless of grades received in the lower level theory courses.

DEPARTMENTAL GRADING POLICY

Music majors must earn a minimum grade of "C" in each music class which applies toward graduation. In addition, students must earn a grade of "C" or better in a prerequisite course prior to registering for an advanced course in the same subject area.

ADVISEMENT

All students are assigned an academic advisor by the department chair.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES

See the Department of Music Handbook for additional policies governing degree programs in music.

Enrollment in any applied music course, including Junior Recital Preparation and Senior Recital Preparation, by permission of instructor and/or department chair of music only.

APPLIED MUSIC (PRIVATE LESSONS)

Instruction in various instruments and voice is offered. The fee for receiving one hour credit (25-minute lesson per week) is $12.50 per quarter; the fee for receiving two hours credit (50-minute lesson per week) is $25.00; the fee for receiving three hours credit (50-minute lesson per week) is $37.50.

These courses carry the letters MUA and are numbered in sequence: 100, first year; 200, second year; 300, third year; 400, fourth year; 800, graduate credit. Percussion is 13, 23 or 33; piano is 14, 24 or 34; string instruments are 15, 25 or 35; voice is 16, 26 or 36; woodwind instruments are 17, 27 or 37; brass instruments are 18, 28 or 38. MUA 301 - Junior Recital Preparation - and MUA 401 - Senior Recital Preparation are taken during the quarter the student performs the Junior or Senior Recital. The student enrolled in the recital preparation class will receive one hour credit and a twenty-five minute extra lesson per week. There is no applied music fee for registering in either of the recital preparation classes.

The above MUA sequential numbers are for music majors on their primary instruments only. Music majors taking a secondary instrument and non-majors wishing to take applied music must register for one of the following course numbers: MUA 191N, MUA 192N, MUA 391N or MUA 392N.

MUSIC ENSEMBLES

Ensembles of various types are available. Participation in any specific music ensemble may require a brief audition. See individual directors as to audition requirements.

Group activities for which credit is given carry the letters MUE and are numbered at the 300 level for undergraduate credit and at the 800 level for graduate credit. The ensembles are as follows: 303 Vocal Ensemble, 304 Opera Theater, 305 Woodwind Ensemble, 306 Brass Ensemble, 307 Percussion Ensemble, 308 Wind Ensemble, 309 Jazz Ensemble, 310 String Ensemble, 311 Collegium Musicum, 312 Jazz Combo, 320 Chorus, 321 Symphonic Band, 324 Orchestra, 325 Marching Band, 328 Piano Ensemble.

Note: For non-music majors: not more than 10 hours in performing groups and applied music courses may apply toward satisfying the minimum of 190 hours required for a degree.

TECHNIQUES AND CONDUCTING

MUS 110. MUSIC SEMINAR

This course is required for those pursuing degrees in music and is open to other interested students. It acquaints students with a wide variety of topics not normally addressed in other music courses and with the faculty of the Department of Music. Music majors must enroll in the course during their first fall quarter in the program.

MUS 111 a,b. BRASS CLASS

Emphasis on acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of brass instruments. This approach includes instructional application through playing and the study of methods and materials.

MUS 112 a,b. PERCUSSION CLASS

Emphasis on acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of percussion instruments. This approach includes instructional application through playing and the study of methods and materials.

MUS 113 a,b. STRING CLASS

Emphasis on acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of string instruments. This approach includes instructional application through playing and the study of methods and materials.

MUS 114. VOICE CLASS

Emphasis on acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of the vocal instrument. This approach includes instructional application through singing and the study of methods and materials.

MUS 115 a,b. WOODWIND CLASS

Emphasis on acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of woodwind instruments. This approach includes instructional application through playing and the study of methods and materials.

MUS 116 a,b,c. PIANO CLASS

The study of elementary piano music, scales, transposition, harmonization of diatonic melodies and simple open score reading. Required for all non-keyboard majors each quarter until the piano proficiency is passed.

MUS 119. GUITAR CLASS

Group instruction in guitar. Open to majors and non-majors.

MUS 126 a,b,c. PIANO CLASS

The study of scales, arpeggios, cadences, transposition, harmonization of diatonic melodies and sight-reading of Bach Chorales, and open score reading. Required of all keyboard majors each quarter (for a maximum of six hours credit) until the Piano Exit Examination is passed.

MUS 216 a,b,c. PIANO CLASS

The study of intermediate piano music, scales, cadences, transposition, harmonization of diatonic melodies and sight-reading of Bach Chorales, simple compositions and open score. Required for all non-keyboard music majors each quarter until the Piano Exit Examination is passed. Prerequisite: MUS 116c.

MUS 220 a,b,c. JAZZ IMPROVISATION

Theory and techniques of jazz improvisation with emphasis on functional harmony, melodic form, special scales, tune studies, ear training and development of style.

MUS 221. Diction for Singers

The course will approach diction for singing through the study of the International Phonetic Alphabet and its application to Italian, French, German, English, Latin, and Spanish song literature. Recommended for singers or for pianists with an interest in vocal accompanying.

MUS 229 a,b. PIANO PEDAGOGY I

A study of learning and teaching styles relative to piano teaching. Survey of methods and materials.

MUS 321 a,b,c. ACCOMPANYING

Practical training in the tradition, interpretation and execution of accompaniments in both vocal and instrumental areas. Required of all students in the Bachelor of Music with a major in performance, piano sequence.

MUS 325 a,b,c. ADVANCED JAZZ IMPROVISATION

Theory and techniques of advanced jazz improvisation with study of materials and methods for improvising and extemporaneous playing. Emphasis on performance of "standards" by memory and the reading of chord symbols. (Infinite content course on a continuing basis.) Prerequisites: MUS 220 a,b,c or permission of instructor.

MUS 329 a,b. PIANO PEDAGOGY II

Survey of literature for elementary to moderately difficult levels; lesson planning and performance practice.

MUS 429. MARCHING BAND TECHNIQUES

This course provides the necessary skills required of an instrumental school music teacher. The course combines elements of the following: (1) field rehearsal skills (marching); (2) drill creation; (3) charting skills; (4) parade marching; (5) auxiliary unit techniques; (6) high school band camp planning; (7) leadership and motivation within the marching band.

MUS 439. PIANO PEDAGOGY III

Observations of lessons and master classes. Practice teaching under faculty supervision. Adjudication techniques.

MUS 443. VOCAL PEDAGOGY

Development of the teaching of singing through the study of its history and the investigation and application of research in vocal production and pedagogy. The course will involve supervised teaching of applied lessons by students and a survey of teaching materials. Prerequisites: MUS 221 or permission of instructor.

MUSIC HISTORY AND LITERATURE

MUS 152. INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC

An introduction to selected masterpieces of music studied against a background of lives and times of the great composers.

MUS 251. HISTORY OF MUSIC I

History of music from antiquity to 1750. Prerequisites: MUS 152 or consent of instructor.

MUS 252. HISTORY OF MUSIC II

History of music from 1750 to present. Prerequisites: MUS 152 or consent of instructor.

MUS 324. VOCAL LITERATURE:

ITALIAN/FRENCH

A chronological study of the Italian and French song literature focusing on selected works of representative composers in each stylistic period. Recommended for singers or for pianists with an interest in vocal accompanying. Prerequisites: MUS 221 or permission of instructor.

MUS 326. VOCAL LITERATURE: ENGLISH/GERMAN

A chronological study of the English/American art song and German lied focusing on selected songs of representative composers in each stylistic period. Recommended for singers or for pianists with an interest in vocal accompanying. Prerequisites: MUS 221 or permission of instructor.

MUS/AS/AAS 360. HISTORY OF JAZZ

The study of the principal movements, schools, performers and peripheral aspects of American jazz music from its origins to the present. A jazz survey course which emphasizes the historical, musical and chronological development of jazz music.

MUS 454. SYMPHONIC LITERATURE

A survey of orchestral literature from the Venetian School to the present with analysis of selected works. The development of musical instruments, instrumentation and performance practices are also considered. Prerequisite: MUS 152, MUS 227c, MUS 231c or consent of instructor.

MUS 520 a,b,c. PIANO LITERATURE

A historical and stylistic survey of piano literature from the early 18th century to the present.

MUS 551. MUSIC OF THE BAROQUE PERIOD

A survey of the vocal and instrumental music from 1600-1750 with special attention to selected works by Monteverdi, Carissimi, A. Scarlatti, Vivaldi, Schuetz, Bach and Handel. Prerequisite: MUS 251.

MUS 552. MUSIC IN THE 19TH CENTURY

A survey course with special emphasis on symphonic literature, the art song and piano literature. Selected works are analyzed as autonomous works of art and as manifestations of the Romantic spirit. Prerequisite: MUS 252.

MUS 553. MUSIC IN THE 20TH CENTURY

Analysis of selected works illustrating the main trends of music since about 1890. Post-romanticism, impressionism, primitivism, expressionism, neo-classicism, experimental music, electronic and aleatory music. American music since 1900. Prerequisite: MUS 252.

MUS/AS 554. MUSIC OF THE UNITED STATES

A historical survey limited specifically to music and musical practice in the United States from the Colonial Period to the present. Particular emphasis is placed on typically American types such as jazz, folk songs and musical plays.

MUS 555. HISTORY OF OPERA BEFORE 1800

A chronological survey of opera to 1800. Florentine, Roman and Venetian; French; English and German; Neapolitan; Gluck and opera reform; Mozart and the climax of 18th-century opera.

MUS 558. HISTORY OF OPERA AFTER 1800
A survey of opera in the 19th and 20th centuries. Italian opera, German Romantic opera, Wagner's music drama, Verdi, nationalism, verismo and expressionism; opera in America.

MUS 559. MUSIC OF THE CLASSIC PERIOD
A critical study of the Classical style in musical composition from the time of C.P.E. Bach through the early works of Beethoven including analysis of selected compositions. Emphasis is placed on the works of Haydn and Mozart. Prerequisites: MUS 251 and MUS 252.

MUSIC INDUSTRY

MUS 455. MUSIC INDUSTRY I

A course to prepare interested and qualified students for positions in all areas of the music industry. This course combines the elements of (1) Music in the Marketplace, (2) Songwriting, Publishing, Copyright and (3) Business Affairs.

MUS 456. MUSIC INDUSTRY II

A course to prepare interested and qualified students for positions in all areas of the music industry. This course combines the elements of (1) the Record Industry, (2) Music in Broadcasting and Film and (3) Career Planning and Development.

THEORY AND COMPOSITION

MUS 190. REMEDIAL THEORY

This course offers the student an opportunity to review and practice skills necessary to MUS 127 a,b,c; 131; 132 a,b; 227 a,b,c; and 231 a,b,c. No credit.

MUS 127 a,b,c. SIGHT-SINGING AND EAR TRAINING

A beginning course in sight-singing and the melodic, harmonic and rhythmic aspects of ear training. To be taken in conjunction with MUS 131, 132 a,b.

MUS 131. FUNDAMENTALS

A practical course in music and terminology. The first course in a sequence of MUS 131, MUS 132 a,b.

MUS 132 a,b. THEORY I

A study of the basic diatonic harmonies employed in musical composition and culminating with dominant seventh harmonies. Prerequisite: MUS 131 or approval of instructor.

MUS 227 a,b,c. SIGHT-SINGING AND EAR TRAINING

Develops aural perception and sight-singing skills to parallel the work in MUS 231 a,b,c. Emphasizes melodic and harmonic dictation and sight-singing. To be taken in conjunction with MUS 231a,b,c. Prerequisites: MUS 127c and MUS 132b.

MUS 228 a,b,c. INTRODUCTION TO COMPOSITION

Creative writing for small ensembles and soloists with emphasis on notation, form and individual stylistic development. Performance of works stressed. Prerequisite: MUS 132b.

MUS 231 a,b,c. THEORY II

A study of traditional and chromatic and 20th-century harmonies. Prerequisites: MUS 127c and MUS 132b.

MUS 328 a,b,c. COMPOSITION

Creative writing using techniques of various historical periods including those of the early 20th century with emphasis on larger forms and individual stylistic development. Performance of works stressed. Prerequisite: MUS 228c, or approval of instructor.

MUS 356. COUNTERPOINT

Practical writing experience in species, 18th-century, and 20th-century counterpoint. Prerequisite: MUS 231c and MUS 227c, or consent of instructor.

MUS 357. INSTRUMENTATION

The study of traditional instrumental notation, ranges, and technical capabilities. Basic instrumental scoring techniques. Prerequisite: MUS 231c and MUS 227c or consent of instructor.

MUS 358. ANALYTICAL TECHNIQUES

A study of form and structure in tonal and non-tonal music. Prerequisites: MUS 231c and MUS 227c.

MUS 361. MUSIC THEORY FOR THE NON-MAJOR

A course in basic music theory with emphasis on note reading, understanding scales and rhythms, simple chord formations and their applications, basic relationships between melody and harmony and reading melodies at sight.

MUS 428 a,b,c. ADVANCED COMPOSITION

Creative writing using techniques of the present including electronic music, multi-mixed and intermedia, theater music and computer music. Performance of works stressed. Required of B.M. students with composition emphasis during final recital preparation. Prerequisite: MUS 328c or approval of instructor.

MUS 450. JAZZ STYLES AND ANALYSIS

The study of most of the major jazz styles which have been documented in recordings.

Emphasis in post-1940 styles of big band, jazz combos and various rhythm sections, and in the musical analysis of those jazz styles.

Prerequisites: MUS 227c; 231c; 360 or permission of instructor.

MUS 460. ELECTRONIC MUSIC

A study and application of the techniques of analog and digital sound synthesis and of recording techniques.

MUSIC EDUCATION

MUS 351. MUSIC FOR TEACHERS: EARLY CHILDHOOD (K-4)

A laboratory course for education majors specializing in early childhood which provides experiences in singing, movement, playing rhythm and accompanying instruments, and music skills for teachers. The emphasized materials of music education are for kindergarten through grade four.

MUS 352. MUSIC FOR TEACHERS: UPPER ELEMENTARY (4-8)

A laboratory course for education majors specializing in upper elementary grades which provides experiences in singing, movement, playing rhythm and other instruments, and music skills for teachers. The emphasized materials of music education are for grades four through eight.

MUS 461. CHORAL CONDUCTING AND LITERATURE

Development of conducting techniques and skills through the study of literature appropriate for all levels of choral ensembles.

MUS 462. INSTRUMENTAL CONDUCTING AND LITERATURE

Development of conducting techniques and skills through the study of literature appropriate for all levels of instrumental ensembles.

MUS 451. MUSIC IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

A course designed for the music specialist in the elementary school, with an emphasis on materials and methodology used in kindergarten through grade eight. Restricted to music majors.

SPECIAL COURSES

MUS 255. MUSIC IN RECREATION

Introduces the musical concepts of rhythm, melody, and harmony from both a theoretical and a performance-based approach. Emphasis is placed upon the application of acquired musical skills to the areas of public, therapeutic, outdoor, and commercial recreation. For recreation majors.

MUS 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN MUSIC

MUS 491. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN MUSIC
Individualized topics for independent study. Registration for this course available only after approval of Chair, Department of Music.

MUS 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN MUSIC

PHILOSOPHY

Courses in philosophy are offered by the Department of English and Philosophy.

Assistant Professors: P. Brown, J. Parcels, S. Weiss

PHI 150. SURVEY OF PHILOSOPHY

An introductory course which surveys the ideas of some of the great philosophers of the Western world, focusing on issues about religion, ethics, reality and ways of knowing.

PHI 350. LOGIC

An introduction to both traditional and modern logic placing emphasis on developing the capacity to reason and think clearly. Topics include logical validity, formal and informal fallacies in reasoning, the syllogism and a brief introduction to the propositional calculus.

PHI/ECO 351. HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT

A study of the development of modern economic analysis as evidenced in the writings of Smith, Ricardo, Malthus, Mill, Marx, Marshall, Keynes and others with attention to the historic and philosophic context. Prerequisite: ECO 250, 251.

PHI/RS 352. GREAT MORAL PHILOSOPHERS

An introduction to some of the moral points of view of the main ethical philosophers from antiquity to modern times. Readings will include selections from Plato, Aristotle, Hobbes, Hume, Kant and Mill as well as selections from the most influential contemporary philosophers.

PHI 354. AESTHETICS

A survey of two main problem areas: the Philosophy of the Arts and the Philosophy of Taste. Topics include the possibility of knowing what art is, the role of emotion in artistic creation and experience, and the possibility of proving judgments of aesthetic and artistic value.

PHI 356. CONTEMPORARY MORAL PROBLEMS

A course in applied ethics which provides a philosophic discussion of the most salient ethical problems of the day. Typically the course will cover such topics as abortion, animal rights, euthanasia, capital punishment and suicide.

PHI/PSC 365. ANCIENT AND MEDIEVAL POLITICAL THOUGHT

See PSC 356 for course description.

PHI/PSC 366. MODERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

See PSC 366 for course description.

PHI/RS 370. WORLD RELIGIONS

The teachings concerning people and their relation to God and the world found in the major world religions. Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Confucianism, Jainism and Buddhism are among the religions studied.

PHI/AS 375. AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY

A survey of the work of the most important American philosophers, including William James, John Dewey and B. F. Skinner.

PHI 380. EXISTENTIALISM

A study of the existentialist movement in philosophy from its origins to the present, showing how and why the movement began, what its authors advocate, and how it has been assessed by contemporary critics. Readings will include selections from Jaspers, Heidegger, Sartre, Marcel and others.

PHI 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHILOSOPHY*PHI 450. GREAT THINKERS OF THE WEST I: SOCRATES THROUGH ST. AUGUSTINE

The main ideas of Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics, the Epicureans, Plotinus and St. Augustine and a consideration of how those ideas apply to our lives. Prerequisite: ENG 152 or sophomore standing recommended.

PHI 451. GREAT THINKERS OF THE WEST II: DESCARTES THROUGH KANT

The main ideas held by philosophers in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, tracing many of the positions that lead us to think as we do today. Thinkers included are Bacon, Hobbes, Descartes, Spinoza, Leibniz, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Kant, Galileo, Kepler and Newton. Prerequisite: ENG 152 or sophomore standing recommended.

PHI 458. PHILOSOPHERS OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY: THE ROMANTIC REVOLT

A survey of the main philosophers of the nineteenth century emphasizing their specific contributions to the history of ideas, including Hegel, Marx, Schopenhauer, Kierkegaard and Nietzsche. Prerequisite: ENG 152 or sophomore standing recommended.

PHI 478. CONTEMPORARY PHILOSOPHY

A survey of the main philosophical movements of the twentieth century primarily in the English-speaking world. The course will stress the importance of language in thinking about some of the traditional problems of philosophy, such as what can be known and what exists. Readings will include selections from Russell, Wittgenstein, Moore and others. Prerequisite: ENG 152 or sophomore standing recommended.

PHI/RS 553. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

An in-depth examination of religious teachings and basic philosophical problems associated with them. Topics considered will include creation, salvation, life after death, the origin of evil, religious experience and God.

PHI/PSY 562. HISTORY AND SYSTEMS OF PSYCHOLOGY

See PSY 562 for course description.

PHI 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHILOSOPHY*PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Courses in physical science are offered by the Department of Physics.

PHS 151. PRINCIPLES OF THE PHYSICAL UNIVERSE

An elementary course dealing with selected topics in physics as an aid to understanding our modern age. Four one-hour lectures and two laboratory hours per week. No credit allowed if taken after any other college physics course. May not be taken by students enrolled in developmental studies mathematics.

PHS 152. GENERAL ASTRONOMY

A study of the motions and constitution of the solar system, stars and other celestial bodies. Theories of evolution of celestial bodies and the universe are considered in addition to the instrumentation used by astronomers.

PHS 575. HISTORY OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE

A study of the development of man's knowledge of the physical universe, primarily in the fields of chemistry, physics and astronomy. Emphasis is placed on the development of ideas, men who made major contributions and philosophical implications of man's knowledge of the universe. Prerequisites: one year of chemistry and one year of physics or consent of instructor.

PHS 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE*PHYSICS

Courses in physics are offered by the Department of Physics.

A. Woodrum, Chair

Professors: M. Payne, A. Woodrum
Associate Professors: W. Grant, V. Hassapis,
C. Moblely, J. Rogers (Emeritus)

Temporary Associate Professor: J. Zhang

Assistant Professors: C. Dean, L. Deng,
M. Edwards (on leave)

Temporary Assistant Professor: P. Elbert
PHY 251-252-253. GENERAL COLLEGE
PHYSICS

A three-quarter sequence which provides a working knowledge of the basic principles of physics. Four lectures and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: MAT 152. PHY 251. Mechanics. PHY 252. Heat, Sound and Light. PHY 253. Electricity and Magnetism. PHY 251 is a prerequisite to PHY 252 and/or PHY 253.

PHY 254. GENERAL COLLEGE PHYSICS

Calculus no more advanced than MAT 167 is applied to a sampling of the problems of PHY 251, 252, 253. With this course, the whole sequence of PHY 251, 252, 253 and 254 is equivalent in credit to PHY 261, 262, 263. Five lectures per week. Prerequisite: MAT through 167.

PHY 255. A SURVEY OF ACOUSTICS

Physical characteristics of sound, problems of recording, amplifying, transmitting and reproducing sound. Four lectures and one two-hour laboratory per week. Not accepted as a part of the requirements for a major in physics.

PHY 256. PHYSICS FOR THE HEALTH SCIENCES

A survey of elementary physics with applications to problems dealing with the health sciences. Topics will include forces, energy, fluid behavior, thermometry and heat, electricity, medical instrumentation, physics of vision and hearing, and radiation. Four lectures and two hours of laboratory per week.

PHY 261-262-263. GENERAL COLLEGE
PHYSICS FOR SCIENCE, ENGINEERING AND MATHEMATICS STUDENTS

A three-quarter sequence designed for students of science, engineering and mathematics. Four lectures and two laboratory hours per week. If these courses are taken, credit will not be allowed for Physics 251, 252, 253. Prerequisite for PHY 261: MAT 167 (may be taken concurrently). PHY 261 is a prerequisite for PHY 262 and/or 263. PHY 261 - Mechanics, PHY 262 - Heat, Sound and Light, PHY 263 - Electricity and Magnetism.

PHY 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHYSICS

PHY 451. INTERMEDIATE MODERN
PHYSICS

A presentation of modern physics at an intermediate level. This course complements the instruction in General College Physics where the coverage of modern physics is minimal. It will follow the historical development of modern physics. Early models of the atom, atomic radiations, and interaction of electrons with matter will be followed by a study of the nucleus. Four lectures and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: General College Physics (PHY 251-252-253 or PHY 261-262-263.)

PHY 452, 453. ELECTRONICS

A two-quarter course in intermediate electronics with emphasis on circuitry. Topics included are power supplies, amplifiers, oscillators, pulse and wave shaping circuits and comparison measurements. Three lectures and six laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: PHY 253 or PHY 263, and MAT 167.

PHY 456. STUDIES IN PHYSICS FOR SECONDARY TEACHERS

A course designed to acquaint the student with some of the problems encountered in high school physics presentations. PSSC and Harvard projects are studied. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: PHY 251-252-253 or PHY 261-262-263.

PHY 457. METEOROLOGY AND WEATHER FORECASTING

Emphasis will be placed on weather observation, applicable thermodynamics relationships, meteorological controls and techniques and problems of weather forecasting. Discussion and application for the latest meteorological concepts resulting from satellite use and International Geophysical Year Investigations will be included. Prerequisite: General College Physics (PHY 251-252-253 or PHY 261-262-263).

PHY 458. PHYSICAL ASTRONOMY

The physical nature of the solar system, stars, and galaxies will be studied in detail. Principles of physics will be used and illustrated, especially in the areas of mechanics, thermodynamics, physical optics and spectral analysis. Laboratory work will include instrumentation of the astronomer, telescopic observations (weather permitting) and experience in such areas as stellar spectral analysis, interferometry and velocity determination by Doppler shift. Prerequisite: PHY 251-252-253 or 261-262-263.

PHY 459. SOUND WAVES AND ACOUSTICS
A study of the production, transformation, reflection, absorption, and general effects of vibration and sound. Four lectures and two laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: PHY 252 or 262, and MAT 167.

PHY 461. OPTICS

An intermediate course stressing theoretical and experimental work on refraction, reflection, interference, diffraction and polarization of light. Prerequisites: PHY 252 or 262 and MAT 167. Four hours lecture and three hours laboratory.

PHY 468. APPLIED MATHEMATICS (See Mathematics 468)

Theory and application of mathematical methods such as power series, Laplace Transforms, vector calculus, Fourier series and integrals and partial differential equations. The Departments of Mathematics and Physics will teach the course alternately once per year. Prerequisite: MAT 350.

PHY 553. HEAT AND THERMODYNAMICS

An intermediate course which includes temperature and its measurement, specific heat, thermal expansion, transfer of heat, states of matter and elementary thermodynamics. Four lectures and three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: PHY 252 or 262 and MAT 167.

PHY 556. SPECIAL THEORY OF RELATIVITY

An introduction to the special theory of relativity with emphasis on relativistic mechanics. The Michelson-Moreley experiment, Lorentz-Einstein transformations, time dilations, Doppler Effect, scattering theory and spaces with four dimensions are representative of topics included. Five lectures per week. Prerequisite: MAT 264. PHY 451-651 is desirable.

PHY 557. INTRODUCTION TO QUANTUM MECHANICS

A study of the basic postulates of quantum mechanics with solutions to Schrodinger's wave equation for simple applications; the techniques of calculating position, energy and momentum with operators; and the elements of perturbation theory with application to atomic spectra. Five lectures per week. Prerequisite: MAT 350. PHY 451 and 468 are desirable.

PHY 559. SOLID STATE PHYSICS

This course includes the elastic, magnetic and thermal properties of solids. Sample topics covered are crystal structure, X-ray diffraction, color centers, thermal and electrical conduction, spin resonance, photoelectric effect, superconductivity and general theory of solid state electronic devices. Five lecture/demonstrations per week. Prerequisites: General College Physics and MAT 166.

PHY 561, 562, 563. FUNDAMENTALS OF CLASSICAL PHYSICS

A three-quarter sequence designed to provide physics majors and students of applied mathematics and engineering with the fundamentals of analytical mechanics and electromagnetism. Five lecture periods per week. Prerequisites: sophomore-level physics and MAT 350; PHY 468 is desirable.

PHY 571. INTRODUCTION TO BIOPHYSICS

The physics of living organisms. Emphasis on physical support, movement, sensory perception and the physical properties of plant and animal processes at the molecular and organismic levels of organization. Prerequisites: BIO 151-152 and PHY 251-252-253 or consent of instructor. Recommended 10 hours of chemistry.

PHY 590. DIRECTED STUDY IN PHYSICS

Independent study and laboratory work under faculty supervision. Topics of special need and interest to physics teachers and physics majors will be covered. Prerequisite: consent of instructor.

PHY 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHYSICS

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Courses in political science are offered by the Department of Political Science.

L. Van Tassell, Chair

Professors: G. Cox, J. Dally, Z. Hashmi, J. Mann (Emerita), R. Pajari, D. Speak (on leave), L. Van Tassell

Temporary Professor: S. Hashmi

Associate Professors: R. Dick (Emeritus),

G. Harrison, M. Reese

Assistant Professors: F. Ferguson, C. Gossett, S. Jallow, D. Moskowitz, C. Slaton, L. Taylor (on leave), E. Ugorji

Temporary Assistant Professors: L. Kelly, S. Ratan, D. Sabia

Part-time Assistant Professors: M. Classens, G. Wood (joint appointment with Augusta College), F. Willis

Temporary Instructor: K. Cook

Part-time Instructors: K. Milikin, S. Moskowitz

PSC 250. AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

A study of the American government process with emphasis upon current problems and their roots in the past.

PSC 251. THE AMERICAN LEGAL SYSTEM

A study of the American legal system depicted as a subsystem of the American political system. Interrelationships between legal and political institutions will be developed and the American system of justice examined from this perspective. Open only to students in the Associate Degree in Justice Studies. Credit will not be given for this course and Political Science 355.

PSC 260. INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL SCIENCE

Introduction to the history, scope and methods of the discipline of political science. Required of all majors and minors in political science.

Note: Prerequisite to all Political Science courses numbered 300 and above, unless otherwise noted, is PSC 250. All majors and minors must also complete PSC 260.

PSC 350. STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT

The forms of organization, the functions and the operations of the 50 state governments. Special attention will be given to the growing problems in the urban areas such as the interplay of politics, pressure groups and community power structures.

PSC 351. PUBLIC OPINION AND POLITICAL BEHAVIOR

A review of the role of political parties, interest groups, political socialization, public opinion and election in the American system.

PSC 352. POLITICAL PARTIES AND ELECTIONS

This course focuses on the institutions that connect individual voters to governmental structures. Specific attention is given to the evolution and function of the political party system and to the structure of the electoral process (at and below the presidential level).

PSC 353. PRESIDENCY

An analysis of the political, constitutional, behavioral, administrative, symbolic and policy roles of the President. Attention is also paid to the linkages between the Presidency and the other major branches of government.

PSC 354. CONGRESS AND PUBLIC POLICY

A study of the structures and processes at work in Congress and their influence on the content of national policy. Attention is also given to the connection between Congress and the other major branches of government.

PSC 355. THE JUDICIAL PROCESS

An introduction to the judicial process which analyzes and evaluates the main institutions and considerations affecting the administration of justice under law. Cannot be taken for credit if student has already taken PSC 251.

PSC/AS/AAS 356. AFRICAN AMERICAN POLITICS

Course develops a basic appreciation of the nature, processes, structures, and functions of African American politics in the domestic and international arena and how they differ from dominant assumptions, theories, approaches, and models in American politics. Focus on how to seek and maintain empowerment.

PSC 357. PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

An introduction to the study of the administrative process in American government with special attention focused upon the points between political branches and administrative agencies.

PSC 368. CONSTITUTIONAL LAW I (GOVERNMENTAL POWERS)

A study of the constitutional development of the national government through landmark Supreme Court decisions. Topics include: judicial power, federalism, interstate commerce and equal protection.

PSC 369. CONSTITUTIONAL LAW II (CIVIL LIBERTIES)

The study of the Bill of Rights through landmark Supreme Court decisions. Topics include: freedom of speech, press and religion; search and seizure; and right to counsel.

PSC/CAF 360. FILM AND POLITICS

Consideration of how the art of film has contributed to an understanding of major twentieth-century political events, processes, and thoughts. Topics addressed include war, revolution, racism, nationalistic militarism, presidential politics and campaigning, propaganda, mass media and politics, populism, and the ethos of democracy. Prerequisite: PSC 250 or consent of instructor.

PSC 363. SCOPE AND METHODS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

An introduction to the major theoretical models currently used in political science and to the major research techniques and methodologies. Students will have direct experience in data gathering, statistical analysis, data processing and research reporting. Prerequisites: STA 255 and STA 256 or consent of instructor.

PSC/PHI 365. ANCIENT AND MEDIEVAL POLITICAL THOUGHT

An introduction to political theory using original texts drawn from the ancient and medieval period of Western and Non-Western Traditions. An exploration of important political concepts (e.g., citizenship, obligation, authority).

PSC/PHI 366. MODERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

An introduction to political theory using original texts drawn from the modern period. An exploration of the founding of modern ideological traditions (e.g. conservatism, liberalism, Marxism).

PSC 367. RECENT AND CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL THOUGHT

An introduction to political theory using original twentieth century texts. An exploration of important political concepts (e.g. class, democracy, authority).

PSC/AS 368. AMERICAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

Major contributions of American political thinkers and the relationship of these ideas to the institutional framework and socio-political forces in the United States. The course will explore the nature of some enduring questions and concepts which have influenced the origin and development of competing American ideologies or philosophies.

PSC/CAB 369. POLITICS AND THE MEDIA

An examination of the role of mass media in the political process and the effects of the media on political attitudes and behavior. Prerequisite: PSC 250.

PSC/AS 371. NATIVE AMERICAN LAW AND PUBLIC POLICY

A study of the legal and political status of native American peoples and tribal governments. Topics include political and legal jurisdictional relationships among federal, tribal and state governments; the Indian Civil Rights Act; tribal hunting, fishing and water rights; and tribal economic development.

PSC/WGS 372. WOMEN AND POLITICS

Focuses on the relationship of women to the practice of politics and to political theory-building. The student will be introduced to political behavior, political socialization and selected public policy issues by using a comparative cross-national approach as they pertain to women as a political group.

PSC 373. COMPARATIVE POLITICS: THEORY AND APPLICATION

This course is designed to acquaint students with certain key concepts and methods of the comparative perspective. A comparative framework will be applied cross-nationally through the study of political institutions and of political behavior in Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, China, and Japan.

PSC 374. COMPARATIVE POLITICS: MODERNIZATION AND DEVELOPMENT OF NEW NATIONS

This course will examine various analytical and comparative approaches to the nature of political change and stability in the Third World. It will focus on the political, economic and social factors conditioning the organization, administration and development of emergent nations.

PSC/LAS 378. LATIN AMERICAN POLITICS

An examination of the major domestic and international actors in comparative Latin American political systems. Special attention and detail is given to the political systems of Chile, Brazil, Colombia, Mexico and Cuba.

PSC/AAS 379. AFRICAN POLITICS

Salient themes and background information on contemporary African political systems. The emphasis will be on government and politics of modern Africa bearing on the emergence of post-colonial states and their regional and global ramifications.

PSC/AS 380. INTRODUCTION TO INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Provides basic information and the necessary conceptual tools to allow an understanding of the nature of international politics, the instruments of foreign policy, and the interaction of "great powers" in the modern nation-state system.

PSC 381. THE UNITED STATES AND MAJOR PROBLEM AREAS: GEOGRAPHICAL AND FUNCTIONAL

A study of specific problems of major concern for United States foreign policy in the late and mid-twentieth century. This problem approach permits an intensive study of the world's chief centers of power and civilization such as Western Europe, Russia, China, Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Latin America.

PSC 384. POLITICS OF THE MIDDLE EAST

A study of comparative foreign policy of the states in the Middle East and the political and economic forces that shape the United States, Soviet and Chinese policies in this region.

PSC 390. READING FOR HONORS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

PSC 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

PSC 450. SEMINAR IN AMERICAN POLITICS AND POLICY

For students with several 300-level courses in American politics. This course focuses on major themes and issues in American policy.

PSC 460. SEMINAR IN POLITICAL THEORY

An advanced course for majors focusing on selected theoretical topics.

PSC 470. SEMINAR IN COMPARATIVE POLITICS

A systematic review of the empirical and theoretical literature concerning the structure, functions, and problems of contemporary government. Prior course in American Government or Comparative Politics is recommended.

PSC 480. SEMINAR IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Designed to familiarize students with the works of leading theorists of international relations.

PSC 481. INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

An analytical study of the organization, powers, and problems of global and regional international agencies with particular emphasis upon the European Economic Community.

PSC 482. INTERNATIONAL LAW AND DIPLOMACY

This course will expose the advanced student to three important and interrelated areas of international relations: 1. the basic theories of international law; 2. a survey of the history and basic techniques of diplomacy; 3. the application of law and diplomacy as evidenced by current practices in the United Nations.

PSC 490. PROBLEMS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

A service offered to senior majors. One to five hours.

PSC 491, 492, 493. INTERNSHIP I, II, III

Designed to give practical experience in a governmental agency to qualified students. Internship credit must be earned in addition to the 40 hours of senior offerings required for the major in political science. No more than 5 quarter hours can be applied towards a minor in political science. Each internship course will afford 5 quarter hours credit with a maximum of 15 hours credit possible. Prerequisite: permission of the department chair.

PSC 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

PSYCHOLOGY

Courses in psychology are offered by the Department of Psychology.

M. Lloyd, Chair

Professors: W. Jones, P. Kleingirna, M. Lloyd, G. McClure, G. Richards (Emeritus), R. Rogers, G. Watson (Emerita)

Associate Professors: J. Kennedy, D. Webster

Assistant Professors: R. Dewey, W. McIntosh, J. Steirn

Temporary Assistant Professors: B. Bell,

E. Enekwechi, J.-W. Jou, M. Womack

Temporary Instructors: D. Marshall, C. Sinial

Part-Time Assistant Professor: C. Cone-Dekle

Part-Time Instructor: C. E. Kennedy

PSY 150. INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY

This course provides a survey of the basic sub-fields in psychology, emphasizing major principles and vocabulary in order to prepare the student for advanced courses. The student is encouraged to apply the principles to the understanding of human behavior in everyday life. Prerequisite for all upper-division psychology courses.

PSY 210. CAREERS IN PSYCHOLOGY

Reviews relevant research and theories of college student development; familiarizes students with career options in psychology at bachelor's, master's, and doctoral level; helps students clarify personal interests and career goals; and prepares them for job searching or admission to graduate school. Required of all psychology majors; course should be taken in sophomore year. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 280. PSYCHOLOGICAL STATISTICS I

An introduction to descriptive statistics for applications in psychology. Topics covered include frequency distributions, graphical presentations of data, measures of central tendency and dispersion, bivariate correlation and regression. Microcomputers are used for computational exercises. Required of all majors beginning fall, 1992. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 284. MICROCOMPUTER APPLICATIONS IN PSYCHOLOGY

This course acquaints the students with the ways microcomputers are used in the study and practice of psychology. The basic information necessary to the effective use of microcomputers is taught. Applications of word processing, spreadsheets, graphics and data base management are presented through laboratory and out-of-class assignments. In addition, the uses of microcomputers for simulation of psychological processes, conducting laboratory research and testing are presented. Laboratory. Psychology majors only. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 350. PSYCHOLOGY OF ADJUSTMENT

The study of factors that promote psychological adjustment, with emphasis on self-help techniques. Topics include stress, self-concept, interpersonal relationships, love, sexuality, psychopathology and psychotherapy. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY/RS 357. PSYCHOLOGY OF RELIGION

An introduction to the literature of the psychology of religion. Topics include the origins and functions of religiousness, types of religious experiences, religious motivations, altruism and the relationship between religion and mental health. Emphasis will be placed on empirical studies. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY/WGS 358. PSYCHOLOGY OF WOMEN

Studies female psychological development throughout the life-span. Examines relevant theory and research. Topics include identity and self-concept, relationships and power, sexuality, parenting, work, mental health and women of color. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 362. APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

A broad introductory survey of the many and varied fields in which the principles of psychology have been applied. This course is designed to acquaint the student with the role and function of psychologists in such applied settings as hospitals, college placement centers, community mental health centers, drug abuse clinics, industry and business and similar employment situations. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 365. CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

The study of psychological theories, research, and application of psychology, as it relates to the social and cognitive development of the child from conception through adolescence. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 367. INDUSTRIAL/ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

An introduction to the research and methodology used by psychologists in the study of human behavior in industrial organizations, including the specific application of psychological principles to such areas as personnel testing and selection, human factors, motivation and performance and psychological problems associated with work adjustment. Psychological factors involving inter-personal relations which influence morale, production and job satisfaction are examined. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 369. PSYCHOLOGY OF ADOLESCENCE

Examines relevant theories and research on physical, cognitive, emotional and social development in adolescence. Attention is given to identity, parent-adolescent relationships, peer interactions, sexuality, psychopathology, drug use and abuse and delinquency. Prerequisite: PSY 150. This course will not satisfy the requirements in adolescent psychology or educational psychology for teacher certification.

PSY 371. ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

An introductory presentation of the concepts of "normal" and "abnormal" behavior, the traditional categories of psychopathology, and the etiology of psychological disorders. Traditional and contemporary approaches to treatment and prevention are examined. Prerequisite: PSY 150. PSY 372. BEHAVIOR MODIFICATION

A broad introductory survey of the application of learning principles and procedures used in the establishment, maintenance and modification of complex human behavior in clinical situations as well as the natural environment. Topics include contingency management, token economies, modeling, imitation, desensitization, cognitive behavior therapy and assertiveness training. Particular attention is given to ethical issues associated with the use of behavior modification techniques. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 373. PSYCHOLOGY OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE

An intensive and critical analysis of the normative and deviant use of various substances. Emphasis is placed on the psychological correlates of substance use and abuse. Topics include physiological addiction and/or psychological dependency on such substances as marijuana, nicotine, alcohol and the so-called "hard drugs." Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 374. SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Studies the social determinants of human behavior and surveys current theories and findings in such major content areas as attitudes, attitude change, prejudice, gender roles, conformity, obedience, interpersonal attraction, pro-social behavior, aggression, social and person perception and group influences on individual behavior. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 375. LIFE-SPAN DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Comprehensive overview of normal human development from conception through old age. The roles that genetics and experience play in social and cognitive development are emphasized. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 376. PERSONALITY PSYCHOLOGY

An introduction to major areas in the field of personality: approaches to personality theory, methods of assessing personality, personality development and research findings on selected aspects of personality. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 377. PSYCHOLOGY OF HUMAN SEXUALITY

This course provides an overview of the psychological and physiological factors in human sexual and reproductive behavior, including the psychology of sexual motivation and functioning, anatomy and physiology of the reproductive systems, prenatal development, contraceptive techniques and psychological aspects of sexual disorders. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 378. PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS AND MEASUREMENTS

An introduction to basic measurement concepts used in the constructing and standardizing of psychological tests and an examination of tests of intelligence, personality, attitudes, and special abilities. Particular attention is given to the development of an understanding of the functional relationship between measurement and evaluation. Standardized psychological instruments are critically analyzed in terms of the Technical Recommendations for Psychological Tests and Techniques of the American Psychological Association. Ethical issues in psychological testing are considered. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 380. PSYCHOLOGICAL STATISTICS II

An introduction to inferential statistics for applications in Psychology. Topics covered include probability, sampling distributions and the logic of statistical inference, t-tests, analysis of variance, correlation, multiple regression, and nonparametric statistics. Microcomputers are used for most computational exercises. Required for all majors beginning fall, 1992. Prerequisites: PSY 150 and a grade of "C" or better in PSY 280.

PSY 381. PSYCHOLOGICAL STATISTICS

An introductory course designed to acquaint the student with the use of descriptive and inferential statistics in psychological research. Emphasis is placed on selecting appropriate procedures and interpreting results. Microcomputers are used for the computational exercises. Required of all majors entering prior to fall 1992. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 382. RESEARCH METHODS IN PSYCHOLOGY

A laboratory course that provides the student with an understanding of fundamental principles underlying research methods in psychology. The student is acquainted with basic experimental procedures through classroom and laboratory instruction involving both class and individual research projects. Required of all majors. Prerequisites: PSY 150 and a grade of "C" or better in PSY 280 and PSY 380 (or PSY 381).

PSY 391. RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Student works with a faculty member engaged in research in progress. Experience obtained varies depending on nature of project and stage at which student joins project. Variable credit: either 2 or 3 hours per quarter (3 hours experience per 1 hour of credit); maximum of 10 hours may be credited toward major. Prerequisites: PSY 150; permission of instructor.

PSY 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY

This course is scheduled on an irregular basis to explore special areas in psychology and will carry a subtitle. Check in the Psychology office to learn of topics currently planned. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 452. COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Surveys current theories and research concerning human information processing. Includes such topics as perception, language comprehension, motor coordination and problem solving. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 453. MOTIVATION AND EMOTION

The study of motivation and emotion, dealing with such topics as methods of measurement, physiological mechanisms, theories of motivation and emotion, arousal and stress and the effects of learning. In-depth analysis of human sexual motivation, competence and aggression. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 454. SENSATION AND PERCEPTION

Presents the fundamental data, basic processes, and research methodologies in the study of the various human senses. Examines perceptual processes of vision such as the perception of color, depth, form and shape, as well as constancies, illusions, and individual differences in perception. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 455. PRINCIPLES OF ANIMAL LEARNING

An introduction to the basic principles of animal learning and the scientific study of learning in nonhumans. Limited laboratory experience will introduce the student to equipment used in animal learning research as well as provide experience with laboratory animals. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 456. ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

A survey of the study of animal behavior, dealing with such topics as the diversity of behavior, the development of behavior and ecology. Attention is given to the adaptiveness of behavior and evolutionary approach to human behavior. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 457. PHYSIOLOGICAL PSYCHOLOGY

In-depth analysis of the anatomy and physiology of the nervous system; examination of the functional relationship between the nervous system and behavior. Surveys contemporary biological contributions to general psychological theories. Emphasis is placed on studies of the biological basis of memory, learning and emotions. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 471. PSYCHOPATHOLOGY OF CHILDHOOD

An examination of the psychological and biological factors associated with behavioral dysfunctions of childhood and adolescence such as autism, childhood schizophrenia, anxiety, depression and psychosomatic problems. Various types of child psychotherapy are presented including individual group and family therapies. Prerequisites: PSY 150 and either 365, 371, or 375 or permission of instructor.

PSY 473. HEALTH PSYCHOLOGY

A survey of the role and function of the discipline of psychology in the field of behavioral medicine and health psychology. Included will be consideration of the psychological factors associated with such disabilities as paraplegia and epilepsy; the psychological trauma associated with body altering surgeries; and the psychological components of life-style decisions involving smoking, alcoholism, obesity and cardiovascular dysfunctions. Attention is given to the application of psychological principles in the treatment and prevention of health-related problems. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 475. PSYCHOLOGY OF AGING

Examines developmental psychological processes in later adulthood, including changes with age in perception, intelligence, learning, memory and personality. Attention is given to prevention and treatment of psychological dysfunction in the aged. Prerequisites: PSY 150.

PSY 476. THEORIES OF PERSONALITY

An in-depth exploration of major theories of personality. Examines representative theories of the psychodynamic, trait, behavioristic and humanistic perspectives. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 491. FIELD EXPERIENCE

Opportunity to gain practical experience through volunteer field work in applied settings in mental health, business, or education with which department has formal agreements. Student supervised on site and by instructor; weekly conferences with instructor. Arrangements with instructor should be completed in quarter prior to registration. Variable credit: minimum 5, maximum 10 credit hours per quarter (15 hours experience per week per 5 hours of credit); maximum of 10 credits counted toward major. Prerequisites: Psychology major with junior or senior standing, at least 15 hours of upper-level psychology courses, minimum 2.5 grade-point average; permission of instructor.

PSY 492. DIRECTED RESEARCH

An introduction at the undergraduate level to student-conducted research. Under the sponsorship of his/her advisor, the student participates in all phases of a research project, including planning, execution, data analysis and report writing. Prerequisite: PSY 150; junior or senior standing in psychology; permission of instructor.

PSY 493. DIRECTED STUDY IN PSYCHOLOGY

Substantive reading in area of special interest directed by a faculty member. Review paper required. Maximum of 10 hours may be credited toward major. Prerequisites: junior or senior standing in psychology; permission of instructor.

PSY 552. ADVANCED COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

A laboratory course that presents some of the topics of Psychology 452 (Cognitive Psychology) in a more research-oriented approach. Students learn methodological and ethical principles in this area through classroom lecture and discussion, laboratory exercises, and individual research projects on such topics as human learning and memory, attention, language, and problem solving. Prerequisites: PSY 150, either PSY 381 or PSY 280 and PSY 380, PSY 382, and PSY 462.

PSY 553. ADVANCED ANIMAL LEARNING AND COGNITION

A study of the fundamental principles of conditioning and learning including experimental techniques and the analysis and generalizations of scientific findings. Students examine the theoretical basis for behavior change, and the principles of learning that underlie such an approach. A laboratory component provides directed and systematic exposure to an application of conditioning principles. Prerequisites: PSY 150, either PSY 381 or PSY 280 and PSY 380, PSY 382, and PSY 455.

PSY 555. EXPERIMENTAL DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Laboratory course that provides the advanced psychology student with an understanding of methodological and ethical issues underlying research in developmental psychology, provides exposure to important research areas within the field and fosters skills for critically evaluating research. Prerequisites: PSY 150, 280 and 380 (or PSY 381), 382 and either 365, 375 or 475 or consent of instructor.

PSY 566. EXPERIMENTAL SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

A laboratory course that provides an in-depth examination of selected content areas treated in Psychology 374. Methodological and ethical issues in research will be emphasized.

Prerequisites: PSY 150, 381, 382 and 374 or consent of instructor.

PSY/PHI 562. HISTORY AND SYSTEMS OF PSYCHOLOGY

The study of the development of experimental and clinical psychology, including major contemporary theories. While part of the course emphasizes the historical roots of psychological concepts, there is also emphasis on understanding contemporary viewpoints in the various areas of psychology.

Required of all majors. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 571. BEHAVIORAL PATHOLOGY: ADULTS

An examination of the psychological, ecological, and biological factors associated with psychological dysfunctioning in adults; feeling, thinking, and behavioral aspects of neuroses, psychoses and personality problems of adulthood are considered. Systems and models of intervention strategies with adults are reviewed. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 575. PSYCHOLOGY OF DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

An examination of the psychological and behavioral characteristics of the developmentally disabled. Special consideration is given to the various categories of developmentally disabled persons and to their psychological requirements and adjustment needs in the home, community and institutional settings. Prerequisite: PSY 150.

PSY 583. SENIOR SEMINAR

A review and integration of major ideas in psychology. Examination of opposing viewpoints on current controversial psychological issues. Psychology majors only. Prerequisites: PSY 150; senior standing.

PSY 585. HONORS SEMINAR

Intensive reading and discussion of primary sources in psychology. Open by invitation to junior and senior majors and minors with high academic standing. Prerequisites: PSY 150 and permission of instructor.

PSY 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Religious Studies is an interdisciplinary field including courses offered by several departments. G. Shriver, Chair

RS 450. SEMINAR IN RELIGIOUS STUDIES

An interdisciplinary exploration of topics in Religious Studies. The seminar, at times employing the team-teaching method, will encourage students to pursue specific problems encountered in their minor curriculum and to relate their major and minor disciplines. Students must complete fifteen hours of electives in Religious Studies before enrolling in this course.

RS/ENG 559. THE BIBLE AS LITERATURE

See ENG 559 for course description.

RS/HIS 381. INTRODUCTION TO THE HISTORY OF RELIGION IN THE UNITED STATES

See HIS 381 for course description.

RS/HIS 384. HERESY AND DISSENT IN WESTERN RELIGIOUS HISTORY

See HIS 384 for course description.

RS/HIS 451. THE AGE OF THE REFORMATION

See HIS 451 for course description.

RS/HIS 467. MAJOR THEMES IN WESTERN RELIGIOUS HISTORY

See HIS 467 for course description.

RS/PHI 352. GREAT MORAL PHILOSOPHERS

See PHI 352 for course description.

RS/PHI 370. WORLD RELIGIONS

See PHI 370 for course description.

RS/PHI 553. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

See PHI 553 for course description.

RS/PSY 357. PSYCHOLOGY OF RELIGION

See PSY 357 for course description.

RS/SOC 455. SOCIOLOGY OF RELIGION

See SOC 455 for course description.

SOCIOLOGY

Courses in sociology are offered by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

R. Branch, Chair

Professors: C. Black, R. Branch, R. Greenfield (Emeritus), H. Mobley (Emeritus)

Associate Professors: H. Kaplan, T. Scott (Emeritus), B. Wejnert (on leave)

Assistant Professors: J. Crutchfield, D. Hill, G. Pratt, J. Strickland

Temporary Assistant Professor: C. Edwards

Adjunct Associate Professor: D. Gantt

SOC 150. INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY
Introduces discipline of sociology and the sociological perspective as a tool for understanding one's culture. ## COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

PURPOSE AND ORGANIZATION .....	190
BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION .....	190
BACHELOR OF ARTS IN ECONOMICS .....	196
COURSE DESCRIPTIONS .....	196

PURPOSE AND ORGANIZATION

As the economy of this nation grows in both size and technical complexity, so does the need for young men and women who are trained and qualified to move into positions of business leadership.

The College of Business Administration is accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, the national accrediting agency for collegiate schools of business, at both the baccalaureate level and the masters level.

The College of Business Administration of Georgia Southern University is unusually well equipped to provide its students with preparation that will enable them to obtain employment and to handle the challenges of the modern world of business. The college has a faculty composed of outstanding teachers who have exceptional educations and practical experience in both industry and government. Further the college has the facilities and equipment to match the teaching staff and a curriculum that is constantly being adapted to keep pace with an expanding industrial complex.

The college offers the Bachelor of Business Administration, the Bachelor of Science in Economics, and the Master of Business Administration.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the College of Business Administration are: to provide outstanding teaching to its students; to provide services to its constituents; and to provide the research to support the activities of the college.

BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

A student enrolling in the Bachelor of Business Administration program may major in Accounting, Economics, Finance, General Business, Information Systems, Management, or Marketing. In addition, the following areas of emphasis may be chosen: Public Accounting or Managerial Accounting (major in Accounting), Agribusiness or International Business (major in Economics), Entrepreneurship/Small Business Management, Human Resources Management or Production/ Operations Management (major in Management), Advertising, Fashion Merchandising, Retailing Management, Sales and Sales Management or Transportation and Logistics (major in Marketing), Banking, Risk Management and Insurance or Real Estate (major in Finance).

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

GENERAL BUSINESS

This major is designed to give the student a background in the broad field of business administration without specializing in any particular functional discipline. The student in general business must, with the approval of an advisor, select 35 hours of upper division business courses to complete the major requirement. Courses must be taken in at least two different functional areas (accounting, economics, finance, information systems, management, and marketing), and no more than 20 hours may be taken in a single functional area.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS

The computer has become a major factor in modern business organizations; correspondingly there has been an increasing need for information systems personnel. A student may elect a major in information systems which is designed to provide him or her with an in-depth knowledge of the use of computers in organizations. The information systems major stresses the management of the data function, the tools and techniques of systems analysis and computer programming and the development of information systems. The requirements for a major in information systems are shown below:

MGT 370. Organizational Behavior and Organizational Politics .....	5 hours
CIS 381. Introduction to Computer Programming .....	5 hours

MANAGEMENT

This major emphasizes the integrative nature of the management discipline in planning, organizing, directing and controlling contemporary profit and non-profit organizations. The program includes the study of both qualitative and quantitative contributions from the management sciences to provide the student with modern analytic concepts, tools and techniques which can be used as aids to managerial decision-making. The impacts of the international environment and of the social responsibilities of managers receive special attention across the broad range of management courses. Various teaching methods are employed in an effort to bring reality into the classroom considerations of relevant business problems. The student who wishes to major in management can select one of four options: (1) the management major without any area of emphasis; (2) the management major with an emphasis in entrepreneurship/small business management; (3) the management major with an emphasis in human resource management; or (4) the management major with an emphasis in production/operations management. Each of these options is described below.

THE MANAGEMENT MAJOR WITHOUT AN AREA OF EMPHASIS

The management major without an area of emphasis allows the student to take an integrative group of courses selected from those offered by the Management Department.

Because of the flexibility allowed by this degree, it is imperative that the student develop a close relationship with an advisor who can provide specific guidance as to the selection of individual courses. This degree requires that the follow-

- ing courses be included in the major:
- MGT 370. Organizational Behavior and Organizational Politics . . . . . 5 hours
- MGT 475. Management Information Systems . . . . . 5 hours
- Upper Division Management Electives (Approved by an advisor) . . . . . 25 hours

THE MANAGEMENT MAJOR WITH AN EMPHASIS IN ENTREPRENEUR-SHIP/SMALL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

This emphasis is designed for persons who have career aspirations that entail developing, starting, and managing businesses for profit. The distinguishing characteristic of the emphasis is that it will focus on teaching students how to assume total profit responsibility for a business enterprise. This necessarily entails the calculation of profit for a business operation as a whole. This emphasis will especially appeal to those who are self-motivators and who enjoy thinking for themselves and expressing their own ideas in their environments. This emphasis requires that the following courses be included in the concentration:

- MGT 370. Organizational Behavior and Organizational Politics . . . . . 5 hours
- MGT 371. Human Resource Management . . . . . 5 hours
- MGT 375. Entrepreneurship . . . . . 5 hours

 MGT 475. Management Information Systems . . . . . 5 hours
 MKT 375. Business Logistics . . . . . 5 hours
 MGT 477. Management of Quality . . . . . 5 hours
 An OM Elective chosen from the following (approved by an advisor) . . . . . 5 hours
 IM 352. Statistical Quality Control
 IET 451. Plant Layout
 IET 452. Introduction to Robotics and CIM
 IET 453. Industrial Systems Simulations
 An upper division elective (approved by an advisor) . . . . . 5 hours

MARKETING

Preparation in this area will provide the student with an awareness of the marketing problems confronting today's business firms, some knowledge and experience in application of the tools and techniques of marketing problem solving and a more detailed acquaintance with one or more specific areas of the marketing discipline. Students may choose to major in general marketing or in one of the five emphasis areas under marketing. No MKT/FM course in the 360 series will qualify as a marketing elective in this major.

THE MARKETING MAJOR WITHOUT AN AREA OF EMPHASIS

The general marketing track is the least specialized and supports the largest number of career opportunities in the field of marketing.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN ECONOMICS

These requirements are listed for this major in the College of Arts and Sciences section of this catalog.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Carl W. Gooding, Dean

William B. Carper, Associate Dean

To achieve efficiently both a sound liberal education and substantial professional education at the undergraduate level, it is necessary that students preparing for careers in business administration take all courses listed in the curriculum in regular sequence.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

The specific transfer credits which will apply toward a degree program in business administration are determined by the Dean of the College of Business Administration. The transfer credits approved by the Dean of the College of Business Administration will in no case exceed those credits allowed by the Director of Admissions. Allowance of transfer credit by the Director of Admissions does not mean necessarily that all such credit will be accepted toward a particular major within the College of Business Administration.

Transfer students with advanced standing not having credit for lower level courses should expect to make up any deficiencies at the earliest opportunity.

A junior or senior level course taken when the student is a freshman or sophomore will not be acceptable, unless approved by the Dean of the College.

PURPOSE AND FUNCTIONS

The College of Education was created in January of 1969 with the following purposes:

To aid in focusing the total college resources in the human and social advancement that improved education and recreation can bring to the Georgia Southern area.

To provide for the preparation of those who hold school positions in instruction, services, administration, and supervision.

To give guidance to the field practitioners in the further development of the education professions.

To create a center both for the study of education and for the dissemination of educational developments that will improve the public schools.

To provide greater opportunity for the school personnel preparation program to be academically strong, distinctively creative, geographically influential, and genuinely effective.

To maintain and give counsel regarding the program for preparation for each type of school work for which the institution wishes to prepare school personnel.

Programs are approved by the Georgia State Department of Education, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

The College of Education offers undergraduate and graduate programs to prepare personnel for work in public education. All programs to prepare personnel for work in public education are developed through the College of Education, administered by a dean. (For graduate programs, see the Graduate Catalog.)

TEACHER PREPARATION

At the undergraduate level the teacher education programs lead toward the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. Each teaching field program has been certified by the State Board of Education of Georgia and by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education as an "approved" program.

The standard credential for teaching in the public schools in Georgia is the Teacher's Level Four Certificate. To qualify for this certificate one must complete the approved four-year curriculum for a specific school or teaching field and must be recommended by the College of Education.

Although a student is ordinarily expected to be graduated under the requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of his matriculation, certification requirements of the Georgia State Department of Education do change and, therefore, affect teacher education program requirements. For this reason, the program of study enabling a student to be eligible for a recommendation for certification may change.

ADVISEMENT

All students will complete the core curriculum. Each student in Education will be assigned to the Advisement Center in the College of Education for course planning and scheduling. In order to meet the requirements of the teaching field, professional education and certification, it is advisable for the student to declare an intention to prepare for teaching by the end of the sophomore year.

DEGREES AND MAJORS OFFERED

The College of Education offers undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in Education degree and the Associate of Applied Science in Education. The undergraduate programs offered in the Bachelor of Science in Education degree are in the following areas:

ART

This major prepares students to teach art in grades K-12 and to receive the Georgia Level Four Art (K-12) Professional Certificate.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

This major prepares students to teach grades K-4 and to receive the Georgia Level Four Early Childhood (K-4) Professional Certificate.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE EDUCATION

This major prepares students to teach German, French, or Spanish in grades K-12 and to receive the Georgia Level Four (K-12) Certificate in French, German or Spanish.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The teaching areas within Secondary Education are: Business, English, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Science, Social Science, and Speech. Graduates are eligible to receive the Georgia Level Four (7-12) Professional Certificate.

SPECIAL EDUCATION FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

This major prepares students to teach in grades K-12 and to receive the Georgia Level Four Special Education (K-12) Professional Certificate.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY

This major prepares students to teach vocational technical subjects in grades 7-12, as well as in post-secondary institutions.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE

The undergraduate program offered for the Associate in Applied Science in Education degree is designed for persons interested in becoming teacher aides. The 90-hour undergraduate program includes coursework and practicum experiences planned to develop a proficiency in working as an aide in the classroom setting.

CERTIFICATE ENDORSEMENT PROGRAMS

The College of Education offers the Driver Education, Gifted Education, English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) and the Media Specialist endorsements which can be added to the Level Four Certificate. Course requirements for each of the areas are stated in the program description of this catalog.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Requirements for the degree include fulfillment of the core curriculum, a teaching field with a minimum of 30 quarter hours at the junior/senior level, 30 to 45 quarter hours in professional education and seven quarter hours in health and physical education. At least half of the courses required in the teaching field must be taken at this institution. Neither correspondence nor extension credit may be used to satisfy professional education and content requirements.

In addition to these requirements, a student pursuing the Bachelor of Science in Education degree is required to:

1. Be admitted to the teacher education program
2. Have a grade of "C" or better on all courses in Area IV of the Core Curriculum, the teaching field and in professional education

ADMISSION TO THE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

In order to be recommended for certification, a student must complete the approved program in teacher education. Students must make formal application for admission to the teacher education program. The following criteria are required for admission to the baccalaureate-level program:

1. An adjusted grade-point average of 2.5 or better on coursework done at GSU. (For transfer students, a grade point average of 2.5 on all credit hours attempted at other institutions plus those hours attempted at GSU is required. Additionally a GPA of 2.5 is required on all work attempted at GSU.)

2. Successful completion of the Regents' Testing Program
3. Grade of "C" or better in the introduction to education course (FED 251)
4. A grade of "C" or better in a 100 or 200 level course in mathematics.
5. Demonstration of competence in use of oral and written language currently determined by: (1) subjective evaluation during FED 251 of speaking ability and (2) grade of "C" or above in English 151 and 152
6. Sophomore standing or above

ADMISSION TO STUDENT TEACHING

Student teaching is required in all teacher preparation programs at the undergraduate level. In order to participate in the student teaching program, a student must:

1. Be admitted to the teacher education program
2. Have an adjusted cumulative GPA of at least 2.50 upon entering block as well as upon entering student teaching.
3. Make application to student teaching, in the winter quarter prior to the school year in which registration for the course occurs
4. Meet admission requirements for student teaching no later than one quarter prior to enrollment for the course
5. Have met the university and departmental prerequisites for majoring in the field
6. Have a disciplinary record clear of any actions which might be a detriment to successful performance in the classroom
7. Possess mental, emotional, and physical health compatible with the expectations of the profession
8. Participate in the orientation to student teaching included as part of the various methods "blocks."
9. Complete the professional education program and courses in the teaching field with a grade of "C" or better. (Includes courses in Area IV of the Core Curriculum which are appropriate to the selected education major.

TEACHING CERTIFICATES

The programs offered by the College of Education at the graduate and undergraduate level are designed to prepare teachers and school administrative and supervisory personnel for several types of certificates including the Georgia Levels Four, Five, and Six certificates for graduates who are holders of bachelor's and higher degrees.

The College of Education, in accordance with the regulations of the State Board of Education, provides courses for individuals who wish to reinstate expired certificates, add fields, and update certificates.

All graduates of the university who plan to teach in Georgia after graduation must file applications for teaching certificates on special forms. Students enrolled in student teaching are given an opportunity to make application at a prescribed time.

All candidates for a teaching certificate must have transcripts reviewed by the Office of the Dean and must be recommended to the State Department of Education for certification. Forms for this purpose are available in the Office of the Dean.

Early Childhood Education (EC)
EC 291. INTRODUCTION TO INDIVIDUALIZING CONTENT FOR THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The course is designed for para-professionals or other students working at the undergraduate level to establish Elementary Education or Early Childhood Education as a teaching field. Instructional and supervisory strategies will be adapted to helping the student develop and/or strengthen basic skills in individualizing instruction for elementary school pupils.

EC 453. EARLY CHILDHOOD SOCIAL STUDIES

This course is designed to prepare students for teaching social studies in grades K-4. The goals and definitions related to the early childhood social studies program will be considered. The content of early childhood social studies will be reviewed. Students will become acquainted with appropriate teaching methods, materials, and organizational techniques for providing children with successful learning experiences in social studies. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

EC 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

This course is designed to promote specialized training appropriate to the needs of in-service school personnel. Attention will be given to a range of specific problems as they reach special significance in local school systems.

EC 454. KINDERGARTEN AND PRESCHOOL INSTRUCTION

This course is designed to provide the preservice teacher with experiences in the kindergarten settings. Students will observe children in a learning situation and plan and teach lessons in those classrooms under the guided supervision and with the evaluative processes of the college staff member and the classroom teacher. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education, Senior standing or permission.

EC 455. LANGUAGE ARTS FOR THE YOUNG CHILD

This course is designed to explore materials and methods of teaching language arts in the early childhood classroom consistent with theories of growth and development. Special attention is given to nature and functions of language and to providing special instruction to the "linguistically different" child. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

EC 457. MATHEMATICS APPROACHES FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

A study of the role of mathematics in the education of elementary school children, with emphasis on the understanding of curriculum content, current trends in teaching, use of appropriate teaching materials, planning for instruction and evaluation of instruction. This course is designed to give the prospective teacher understanding of how children learn mathematics and have at his/her disposal methods which will facilitate this process for each child. Prerequisite:

EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

EC 460. EARLY CHILDHOOD CURRICULUM

This introductory course acquaints students with the components of the early childhood education (K-4) curriculum and current practices in the elementary school. Emphasis is placed on how schools might implement a developmentally appropriate program for grades K-4 that includes all curriculum areas. The goals and philosophies of educational programs for young children are discussed. The ability to write instructional objectives and lesson plans is developed. Attention will be given as to how the goals and the objectives of an educational program influence the curriculum and the organizational patterns of classrooms. Prerequisites: FED 251 and FED 260.

EC 463. SCIENCE IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Methods of teaching science in the elementary school are presented. This includes activities that foster the development of the process skills, integration of the use of the computer in the science classroom, familiarity with current science resources, familiarity with models of instruction, awareness of various curriculum content areas designated by national, state and local groups, and the importance of science in social and environmental issues. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

EC 464. CREATIVE ARTS FOR CHILDREN

This course combines elements of the fine arts - music, art and drama - to provide teachers of grades K-8 with a cumulative sequence of experiences that will foster continuous growth in their understanding, skills and knowledge. Appropriate methods and materials will be emphasized for teaching specific learning in each of these areas. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

EC 466. INTEGRATING CHILDREN'S LITERATURE INTO THE EARLY CHILDHOOD CURRICULUM

This course is designed for the preservice and/or inservice teacher who has not taken previously a course in children's literature. Foci include becoming acquainted with the selection of literature, print and non-print, incorporating literature into the curriculum and guiding children's reading for a lifetime habit. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

THE EARLY CHILDHOOD BLOCK:

Early childhood (K-4) majors are required to schedule a block of thirteen hours concurrently: EC 461, EC 462, EC 437. Prerequisites: EC 460, admission to Teacher Education and senior standing or permission.

EC 461. EARLY CHILDHOOD METHODS

One of three courses included in the "Early Childhood Block," the course is organized to facilitate the study of techniques of teaching appropriate for young children. A major emphasis is the planning of a portfolio teaching unit. Prerequisites: EC 460 and Admission into Teacher Education, senior standing or permission.

EC 462. SENIOR SEMINAR

This course is designed to provide early childhood education majors an overview of the principles of classroom organization and management, assessment in the primary grades, and school law for the practitioner. It is one of three courses in the "Early Childhood Block." Prerequisites: EC 460 and Admission into Teacher Education, senior standing or permission.

EC 437. LABORATORY SCHOOL PARTICIPATION

This course which is part of the "Early Childhood Block," is designed to provide early childhood education majors with observation, planning, teaching and evaluation experiences in a classroom setting. Prerequisites: EC 460 and Admission into Teacher Education, senior standing or permission.

EC 491: STUDENT TEACHING

Student Teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the student, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages more or less directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibilities. Prerequisites: Completion of teaching field and admission to student teaching.

Reading (RDG)

RDG 459. THE TEACHING OF READING

An overview of the basic program of reading instruction in the elementary school. Considers the stages of a child's reading development, teaching techniques, and organization for instruction. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education.

RDG 430. PRACTICUM IN TEACHING READING

This course is designed to provide early childhood education majors observation and actual teaching experience in a supervised classroom setting. Prerequisites: EC 460 and admission into Teacher Education; concurrent enrollment in RDG 459.

REG 550. THE READING PROGRAM IN THE SCHOOLS

A study of the range of reading programs in the schools, grades 1-12, encompassing developmental, remedial, corrective and adaptive programs as well as programs for the disadvantaged. Methods and materials of reading instruction are studied (including techniques for classroom management).

RDG 552. DIAGNOSIS AND CORRECTION OF READING DIFFICULTIES

A study of the diagnosis and remediation of reading difficulties in the upper elementary and junior high grades. Provides practical experiences in the use of diagnostic techniques and remedial procedures involving pupils with reading difficulties. Prerequisite: Approval of instructor.

RDG 553. MATERIALS IN THE TEACHING OF READING

A wide variety of materials are examined including series, labs, machines, games, computer software and teacher-made materials. Diagnostic and evaluative materials are considered. Prerequisite: Approval of instructor.

RDG 560. MIDDLE AND SECONDARY SCHOOL READING STRATEGIES

This course addresses the development of reading skills needed by students in grades 4-12. Instructional strategies are presented designed to help students transfer reading skills into content subjects.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATIONS AND CURRICULUM

Professors: J. Page

Associate Professors: D. Battle, G. Gaston, D. Rea

Assistant Professors: K. Cruikshank, B. Deever, M. Griffin, R. Warkentin

FOUNDATIONS OF EDUCATION (FED)

FED 251. FOUNDATIONS OF EDUCATION

First course in the professional sequence: required of all who plan to teach. The course affords opportunity for the prospective teacher to examine information concerning the teaching profession as well as the philosophical, sociological and historical foundations of teaching. Sophomore standing required. Double period for participation required.

FED 260. HUMAN GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

Provides an introduction to the study of growth and development of the person from conception through adolescence. Emphasis is placed on physical, social/personality, emotional, intellectual and moral development and the relationship of these aspects of development to learning and achievement in school classrooms.

FED 361. EDUCATION PSYCHOLOGY: TEACHING AND LEARNING IN CLASSROOMS

Students examine psychological principles of learning, cognition, motivation, behavior, and the practical implications of these principles for teaching and learning. The development of skills to interpret behavior and classroom interaction within a framework of psychological theory will be a major feature. Prerequisite: Junior standing is required. Students must have completed FED 251 and FED 260.

FED 351. DEVELOPMENT AND LEARNING IN THE YOUNG CHILD

The growth, development, and learning of young children are studied in this course. Particular emphasis is placed upon factors that influence early development and learning in children. Educational practices are evaluated in terms of their effects upon the development of children. Laboratory, three times per week.

FED 352. EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

Develops understanding of the application of the principles of learning to school situations. Particular emphasis is given to motivation, discipline, individual differences and evaluation. Prerequisite: EDL 251, junior standing.

FED 453. DEVELOPMENT AND LEARNING IN THE MIDDLE GRADES

The study of the growth and development of children from pre-school through adolescence. Major emphasis will be placed on understanding the nature, diversity and curricular needs of middle childhood and early adolescence (Grades 4-8) within a broader context of development.

FED 454. LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

Provides for a coordinated study of educational psychology and human growth and development for those who will teach pupils in grades 1-12. Prerequisite: EDL 251, senior standing, and admission to teacher education. Laboratory, four hours per week.

FED 551. ADOLESCENT PSYCHOLOGY

A study of the growth and development, adjustment, and capacities during the change from the period of childhood into adulthood and the resultant physical, mental, social, emotional and communitive growth and development and its implication for guiding an adolescent toward a more wholesome realization of his potential.

FED 563. COMPARATIVE EDUCATIONAL THOUGHT

Description and analysis of the manner in which education is arranged and conducted in other nations. Emphasis is on the differences and similarities of various educational systems and on the relation of educational processes to cultural, economic, and political life. The comparisons are the basis for deciding what can and can not be incorporated into our own educational systems.

FED 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN FOUNDATIONS OF EDUCATION

Group study of selected topics in educational foundations or curriculum.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP, TECHNOLOGY AND RESEARCH

R. Davison, Chair

Professors: R. Davison, M. Katz, H. Pool

Associate Professors: J. Bennett, F. Brocato, S. Jenkins

Assistant Professors: K. Clark, E. Downs

EDT 430. INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY FOR MIDDLE AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS

An introduction to the effective uses of instructional technology. Students will select, produce, and utilize media materials for planned teaching units. The course will correlate with middle grades and secondary education pre-service experiences.

EDT 450. INTRODUCTION TO INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

This course introduces students to computers, video, and other audio-visual media as tools of instruction in the classroom. A systematic approach to selecting, producing, and utilizing various instructional technologies will be taught.

EDT 453. REFERENCE AND INFORMATION SOURCES

Designed to provide a working knowledge of standard reference works and associated information technology.

EDT 462. PRODUCTION OF INSTRUCTIONAL MEDIA

Basic techniques are provided through direct laboratory experiences in the design and preparation of instructional materials. Experiences include mechanical and electronic technologies.

EDT 471. CLASSIFICATION AND CATALOGING

Study of the principles of organizing and cataloging the collection of book and non-book materials. Includes the use of technology in the cataloging and processing phases.

EDT 473. ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE SCHOOL MEDIA PROGRAM

An introduction to the functions of the school media center and the role of the school media specialist. Topics include program planning and development, budgeting, supervision, and public relations.

EDT 483. LOGO

This course involves hands-on experience in programming in the LOGO computer language, a language developed as a vehicle for children, enabling them to learn about computer programming, problem-solving, and other areas of "formal knowledge." Participants will learn the LOGO language and some of its applications in the classroom. The educational uses of the LOGO language are emphasized. Prerequisite: EDT 580; or permission of instructor.

EDT 489. COMPUTERS IN THE CONTENT AREAS

A course devoted to using the computer as an "instructional tool" in the classroom. Prerequisite: EDT 580; or permission of instructor.

EDT 490. INTERNSHIP IN EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

The course will provide, through direct field experience, an opportunity for students to become familiar with specific functions of the media technology program. Prerequisite: Permission of Department.

EDT 550. SELECTION AND USE OF INSTRUCTIONAL MEDIA

Covers applications of instructional media and technology to the teaching-learning process. An emphasis is placed on the systematic approach to the design of instruction and the communicative uses of media and technology.

EDT 580. INTRODUCTION TO THE USES OF COMPUTERS IN EDUCATION

An introduction to the use of the computer in the instructional process. The course focuses on the use of the computer as a medium of instruction and is designed to meet the needs of pre-service teachers. No previous knowledge of computers is necessary.

EDT 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

This course is designed to promote specialized training appropriate to the needs of inservice personnel. Attention will be given to a range of specific problems as they teach special significance in local school systems.

DEPARTMENT OF MIDDLE GRADES AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

R. Sheppard, Chair

Professor: P. Bishop, F. Page, R. Sheppard, J. Strickland, J. Van Deusen

Associate Professors: M. Allen, B. ElLaissi, Assistant Professors: M. Schriver, J. Stephens, C. Stewart, D. Thomas

K-12 (EMS)*EMS 391. CURRICULUM AND METHODS IN ART: K-12

A study of various curriculum trends and methods for teaching art at the early childhood, middle grades, and secondary school levels. Opportunities will be provided for observing, planning and teaching in the early grades, middle grades and secondary school levels. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361, Admission to Teacher Education.

EMS 392. CURRICULUM AND METHODS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE: K-12

A study of various curriculum trends and methods for teaching foreign language at the early childhood, middle grades, and secondary school levels. Opportunities will be provided for observing, planning and teaching in the early grades, middle grades and secondary schools. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361, Admission to Teacher Education.

EMS 393. CURRICULUM AND METHODS IN HEALTH AND PE: K-12

A study of various curriculum trends and methods for teaching health and physical education at the early childhood, middle grades, and secondary school levels. Opportunities will be provided in observing, planning, and teaching health in the early grades, middle grades and secondary schools. A field component in physical education will also be provided in a public school classroom. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361, Admission to Teacher Education.

EMS 394. CURRICULUM AND METHODS IN MUSIC: K-12

A study of various curriculum trends and methods for teaching music at the early childhood, middle grades, and secondary levels. Opportunities will be provided for observing, planning and teaching in the early grades, middle grades, and secondary school classrooms. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361, Admission to Teacher Education.

EMS 491. STUDENT TEACHING

Student teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the student, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages more or less directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibilities. Prerequisites: Completion of teaching field, completion of methods and curriculum, Admission to Teacher Education, and Admission to Student Teaching.

EMS 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN K-12 PROGRAMS

The student, under the direction of the instructor, will identify and develop topics relevant to the teaching of art, foreign languages, music or health and physical education. Ample flexibility will be provided regarding instruction and evaluation of course content.

Middle Grades (MG)

MG 450. LITERATURE AND WRITING FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

An in-depth study of appropriate literature and language concepts for the middle grades. Emphasis will be placed on the connections between composition, language and literature in grades 4-8. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452.

MG 451. INTRODUCTION TO THE MIDDLE GRADES

An introduction to the middle school concept with emphasis on the social, emotional, physical and intellectual development of the early adolescent. Structured observations and interactions with middle school students will be aranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

MG 452. MIDDLE GRADES CURRICULUM

A study of the organization, curriculum and instruction patterns present in the middle grades, with emphasis on the growth and development needs of early adolescents. Topics will include foundation issues, school organization patterns, teacher roles, instructional delivery systems and special programs for early adolescents. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

MG 453. SOCIAL STUDIES FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

A study of the role of social studies in the education of early adolescents, with emphasis on understanding the historical and philosophical foundations of social studies, curriculum organizations, planning and evaluation of instruction, social studies techniques and materials appropriate for early adolescent learners and current trends in social studies. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452, and Admission to Teacher Education.

MG 455. INTEGRATED LANGUAGE ARTS FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

A study of integrating reading and writing across the curriculum in the middle grades. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452, and Admission to Teacher Education.

MG 457. MATHEMATICS FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

A study of content, teaching methods, materials, and trends in middle grades mathematics. Content areas in mathematics include: addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division algorithms; geometry; fractions; decimals and per cent; measurement and data analysis; special topics such as calculators, computers and problem solving. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452, and Admission to Teacher Education.

MG 463. SCIENCE FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

An overview of the basic program of science instruction in the middle grades. Considers child development and needs, trends in science instruction, teaching techniques and organization for instruction. Emphasis will be placed on knowledge of scientific concepts and principles and their application in technology and society. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452, and Admission to Teacher Education.

MG 491. STUDENT TEACHING

Student teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the student, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages more or less directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibilities. Prerequisites: Completion of teaching field, MG 492, Admission to Teacher Education, and Admission to Student Teaching.

MG 492. PRACTICUM AND METHODS IN THE MIDDLE GRADES

A field-based course designed to explore, develop, and implement appropriate methods for the development of the early adolescent. Students will experience interdisciplinary team planning and teaching, as well as special planning and teaching in the selected concentration areas. Prerequisites: Completion of teaching field methods courses, FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452, Admission to Teacher Education.

MG 493. ART WORKSHOP FOR THE MIDDLE GRADES

A workshop that provides a variety of experiences in art as part of the total middle grades program. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG451, MG 452.

MG 495. HEALTH AND MOVEMENT CONCEPTS: MIDDLE GRADES

A study of the unique and changing physical characteristics of the early adolescent, especially the impact of these changes on the social and emotional development of each child. Special focus on the relationship of the student's physical characteristics to the total school curriculum. Emphasis will be placed on appropriate curriculum materials and teaching strategies for the instruction of health and physical education. A field-based component will be arranged. Restricted to Middle Grade majors. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, MG 451, MG 452.

MG 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN MIDDLE GRADES

A study of current trends and issues in middle grades education. The focus of the course will be tailored to meet the needs of pre-service teachers.

Secondary Education (SED)*SED 350. METHODS FOR TEACHING TRADES AND INDUSTRIES

An introduction to various methods and materials for teaching trades and industries in the secondary school. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 352. METHODS FOR TEACHING HOME ECONOMICS

An introduction to various methods and materials for teaching home economics in the secondary school. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 353. METHODS FOR TEACHING INDUSTRIAL ARTS

An introduction to various methods and materials for teaching industrial arts in the secondary school. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 354. METHODS FOR TEACHING BUSINESS SUBJECTS

An introduction to various methods and materials for teaching business subjects in the secondary school. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 355. METHODS FOR TEACHING SECONDARY LANGUAGE ARTS

A study of methods and materials appropriate in teaching composition, literature, and oral expression in the secondary school English program. Emphasis will be placed on the writing process, teaching grammar through writing, and literature for grades 7-12. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 356. METHODS FOR TEACHING MATHEMATICS

A study of teaching methods and materials, curriculum content and trends in secondary school mathematics. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 357. METHODS FOR TEACHING SCIENCE

This course is designed to assist students in understanding the purpose of science in the secondary curriculum and becoming familiar with trends in science instruction. Skills are developed in using classroom, laboratory, and field experiences in planning and evaluating science instruction. A major emphasis is on the planning of a resource unit. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 358. METHODS FOR TEACHING SOCIAL SCIENCE

A study of social sciences in secondary schools with emphasis on foundations and curriculum issues, planning social science instruction, methods and materials appropriate for older adolescents and topical issues in teaching social science. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260.

SED 454. SECONDARY SCHOOL CURRICULUM

A study of the secondary school curriculum. Emphasis is placed on the goals and philosophies of the various disciplines and the implementation of these goals. The relationship between curriculum content and process will be examined. Taken with EDT430 the quarter nearest student teaching. A field-based component will be arranged. Prerequisites: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361, admission to Teacher Education.

SED 491. STUDENT TEACHING

Student teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the student, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages more or less directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibilities. This course is for all secondary majors. Prerequisites: Completion of teaching field, completion of methods and curriculum, Admission to Teacher Education, and Admission to Student Teaching.

SED 591. SPECIAL TOPICS IN SECONDARY EDUCATION

A study of current trends and issues in specific teaching fields in the secondary schools. The focus of the course will be tailored to meet the needs of pre-service teachers.

DEPARTMENT OF STUDENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

J. Bergin, Chair

Professor: J. Bergin, R. Freeman

Associate Professors: C. Alexander, E. Brown, P. Butterfield, A. Chew, P. Dixon, S. Heggoy, N. Lanier, R. Martin, W. Peach

Assistant Professors: D. Grant, L. Hemberger

School Psychology (EDP)*EDP 468. CLASSROOM BEHAVIOR MANAGEMENT (See EXC 468)

This course is designed to initiate the classroom instructor in basic procedures for classroom behavior organization using behavior modification techniques based on instructional objectives as well as instructional techniques designed to meet the needs of the group and individualized instruction.

EDP 894. SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY INTERNSHIP*EDP 895. ACTION RESEARCH IN EDUCATION*Counselor Education (CED)*CED 451. GUIDANCE IN CAREER EDUCATION

This course concentrates on group guidance in career understanding. It includes learning how to assist students in planning, competing and evaluating career educational progress on an individual basis; and methods in establishing simulated and/or real work experience programs.

CED 558. INTRODUCTION TO GUIDANCE AND HUMAN SERVICES

The student is introduced to guidance and counseling services in schools and a variety of helping agencies. Community resources, referral procedures and delivery of human services will be explored in convenient locations.

CED 591. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN COUNSELING

This course is designed to promote specialized training appropriate to the needs of in-service school personnel. Attention will be given to a range of specific problems as they reach special significance in local school systems.

Special Education (Exceptional Child - EXC)*EXC 450. IDENTIFICATION AND EDUCATION OF EXCEPTIONAL STUDENTS IN THE REGULAR CLASSROOM

A survey course in the identification and education of students who have special educational needs. These include students who are intellectually gifted, intellectually disabled, physically handicapped, speech handicapped, behavioral disordered, hospital or homebound, handicapped by a specific learning disability, multi-handicapped, autistic, hearing impaired, visually impaired or other areas of specific needs which may be identified. Note: This course meets certification requirements mandated by H.B. 671.

EXC 451. INTRODUCTION TO EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

A review of the characteristics of exceptional children. This includes: specific learning disabilities, speech-handicapped children, the intellectually gifted child, children with low intelligence, the mildly intellectually disabled child, the moderately intellectually disabled child, children with auditory handicaps, the visually handicapped child, neurologic, orthopedic and other health impairments, children with behavior disorders. Designed for EXC majors.

EXC 452. APPROACHES AND METHODS OF TEACHING THE INTELLECTUALLY DISABLED

This course involves the presentation of curriculum approaches which can be used in class for the intellectually disabled with concurrent review, demonstration and preparation of programs, methods and materials for individual and group needs. Prerequisite: EXC 457.

EXC 453. NATURE OF INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY

A review of syndromes, characteristics, causes, behavior and special problems with intellectual disabilities with implications for education and training.

EXC 454. LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT OF EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

The purpose of this course is to introduce types and causes of problems in the acquisition of language by exceptional children. This course centers on diagnosis and remediation in the four basic areas of Language Development.

EXC 456. APPROACHES AND METHODS FOR TEACHING THE SECONDARY INTELLECTUALLY DISABLED

A review of methods of implementing secondary curriculum materials and procedures, with special emphasis on cooperative work agreements and Vocational Rehabilitation. Field experiences required. Prerequisite: EXC 452 or consent.

EXC 457. DIFFERENTIAL EDUCATIONAL DIAGNOSIS I

The purpose of this course is to introduce standardized evaluatory tools and teacher-made criterion reference tests for the evaluation of exceptional children. Laboratory experience in the use of these instruments and case studies with specific recommendations are part of course content.

EXC 461. CHARACTERISTICS OF LEARNING DISABILITY

A review of different types of learning disabilities and the theories and systems related to their identification, assessment and remediation.

EXC 462. APPROACHES AND METHODS IN TEACHING THE LEARNING DISABLED

Emphasis is placed on an individualized approach to analysis of the learning problems and to the method of instruction used. This includes procedures for assessing the learning disabled child's level of development as well as academic skill, selection of appropriate instructional tasks and classroom/resource organization and management.

EXC 467. SPECIAL PROJECT

Content will consist of action research and special study planned by instructor and student. Course content to be determined by the needs of the registrants.

EXC 468. CLASSROOM BEHAVIOR MANAGEMENT

Content of this course is designed to initiate the classroom teacher in the basic procedures for management for the exceptional child. Emphasis is placed on the use of behavior modification (reinforcement therapy) and transactional analysis as well as instructional techniques designed to meet the needs of the group and individual.

EXC 470. EXCEPTIONAL CHILD PRACTICUM I

This course is designed to provide EXC majors with exposure to educational procedures used in clinical teaching of at-risk and special needs students. The students will demonstrate skills in the areas of: assessment prescription, implementation and evaluation with emphasis on application of these skills under supervision. Prerequisites: Admission to Teacher Education: EXC 450, EXC 468.

EXC 471. CLINICAL PRACTICUM

The purpose of this practicum is to implement programs, methods and materials presented in other courses. The type of behavior problem to be remediated, the evaluatory tools to be used and therapeutic procedures are contingent upon the preparation of the student. (Students are limited to five hours.)

EXC 473. CHARACTERISTICS OF BEHAVIOR DISORDERS

Characteristics of the types of behavior disorders encountered among children are reviewed along with currently accepted theories and systems for their behavioral and educational management. Also included: identification of the behavior disordered child and assessment of the extent of his special needs.

EXC 476. APPROACHES AND METHODS FOR TEACHING THE BEHAVIOR DISORDERED

Individualized and group methods of teaching the behavior disordered are analyzed as they relate to the specific needs of the individual. A developmental approach to behavioral and educational needs is emphasized. Prerequisite: EXC 473.

EXC 478. COMMUNICATING WITH PARENTS OF EXC CHILDREN

This course is designed to provide pre-service teachers with skills to communicate effectively with parents and teachers of exceptional children. Prerequisites: EXC 450, EXC 457, EXC 468 or permission of instructor.

EXC 491. STUDENT TEACHING IN SPECIAL EDUCATION

Student teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the students, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibility. Prerequisite: Completion of teaching field and admission to student teaching.

EXC 591. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN EXCEPTIONAL CHILD EDUCATION

This course is designed to promote specialized training appropriate to the needs of in-service school personnel. Attention will be given to a range of specific problems as they reach special significance in local school systems.

EXC 592. INTERNSHIP IN TEACHING THE INTELLECTUALLY DISABLED

This course involves the implementation of the content of differential educational diagnosis and methods for teaching the intellectually disabled. Requirements for five hours include six "mini" research projects implemented in the student's full-time teaching setting (classroom) with a minimum of three site visits by the college supervisor, and three seminars on the college campus. Not to exceed 10 hours credit.

EXC 593. INTERNSHIP IN TEACHING THE BEHAVIOR DISORDERED

This field course involves classroom implementation of the content of differential educational diagnosis and methods of teaching the behavior disordered. Requirements for five hours include six "mini" research projects implemented in a full-time teaching setting with a minimum of three site visits by the college supervisor and a minimum of three seminars on the college campus. Not to exceed 10 hours credit.

EXC 595. INTERNSHIP IN TEACHING THE LEARNING DISABLED

This field course involves classroom implementation of the contents of differential education diagnosis and methods of teaching children with learning disabilities. Requirements for five hours include six "mini" research or precision teaching projects implemented in a full-time teaching setting, a minimum of three site visits by the college supervisor and a minimum of three seminars on the college campus. Not to exceed 10 hours credit.

Adult Education (AED)

551. ADULT EDUCATION

This course presents the field of Adult Education as a coherent whole to graduate students so that persons interested in the field can grasp the scope and magnitude of the movement.

AED 552. TEACHING THE DISADVANTAGED ADULT

This course presents a specific sub-area within the field of Adult Education with background information about the disadvantaged adult, environment and culture of the disadvantaged adult, and special instructional methods.

AED 557. FOUNDATIONS OF ADULT AND HIGHER EDUCATION

To assist in becoming acquainted with the research and literature that has contributed to the development of adult and higher education. Prerequisite: study in adult education.

AED 591. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN ADULT EDUCATION

This course is designed to promote specialized training appropriate to the needs of in-service school personnel. Attention will be given to a range of special problems as they reach significance in local school systems.

Business Education (EDB)

EDB 251 BEGINNING KEYBOARDING

A beginning course incorporating basic keyboarding skills and techniques of learning successful touch keyboarding. Included are introduction to business letters, forms, tables and short reports; proofreading skills, punctuation and word division and acceptable material arrangement. Significant individual time in a keyboarding lab will be required. This course is open to business education majors and non-majors.

EDB 351 INTERMEDIATE KEYBOARDING

The application of skill to letter arrangements, composition of letters at the keyboard, business forms, tabulated reports and manuscripts are stressed. Speed and accuracy in keyboarding are further developed. Learning to work without constant direction is also emphasized. Significant individual time in a keyboarding lab will be required. Prerequisite: EDB 251 or equivalent.

EDB450. WORD/INFORMATION PROCESSING

This course presents the history, concepts and definition of word processing. The evolution of the information processing cycle from the traditional office through the automated office will be studied. Students will be introduced to and will use various kinds of word processing application software. Prerequisite: EDB 251 or equivalent.

EDB 451. OFFICE PROCEDURES

This course is designed for students preparing to teach office procedures at the secondary school level. Emphasis is placed on principles and practices used in transcription, dictation, records management, filing, office management and use of electronic calculator and copying equipment. Prerequisites: EDB 251 or equivalent.

EDB 491. STUDENT TEACHING IN BUSINESS EDUCATION

Student teaching is a period of guided teaching during which the students, under the direction of a cooperating teacher, takes increasing responsibility for leading the school experiences of a given group of learners over a period of consecutive weeks and engages directly in many of the activities which constitute the wide range of a teacher's assigned responsibility. Prerequisite: Completion of teaching field, completion of methods and curriculum, Admission to Teacher Education, and Admission to Student Teaching.

Technology Education (TED)

TED 250. INTRODUCTION TO TEACHING TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION

This course introduces the prospective teacher to the field of Technology Education. It highlights origins, movements and leaders that have shaped Technology Education. The goals, objectives, content and competencies of Technology Education will be explored through didactic and practical methods.

TED 350. LAB DESIGN, MANAGEMENT, MAINTENANCE, OPERATION AND SAFETY

This course includes the essentials of designing an appropriate Technology Education facility and managing such a facility in a public school setting. Program development and equipment procurement are included. This course also includes the essentials of maintaining tools, equipment and the facility. In addition, the operation of the Technology Education program in a public school situation and the necessary safety precautions are included.

TED 450. CURRICULUM CONTENT FOR TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION

This course presents problems, techniques and procedures in the preparation, selection, and organization of Technology Education curriculum materials for instructional purposes. Emphasis is on methods, techniques, theories of learning, preparation of materials, sequencing, laboratory safety, evaluation and teacher liability in Technology Education settings. ## PURPOSE AND FUNCTIONS

The College of Health and Professional Studies has charge of providing student preparation and experience in several interrelated areas. The school's general purpose is the assimilation, expansion and application of the bodies of knowledge commonly called Family and Consumer Sciences, Health Science, Nursing, Physical Education and Recreation. To achieve these goals the college strives to provide and produce excellence in teaching, student counseling, scholarly research and community service.

Specifically the college has the following major functions:

1. To produce health professionals who are prepared to serve as health education specialists in existing and emerging positions with governmental, municipal, industrial and commercial, pharmaceutical, voluntary health and health care delivery organizations.
2. To produce professionals who serve individuals as family members and consumers in the marketplace.
3. To produce nurses at the undergraduate and graduate levels whose education will provide a basis for the improvement of health in the rural population.
4. To produce, in cooperation with and under the supervision of the College of Education, teachers of health education and physical education at the undergraduate and graduate levels.
5. To educate recreation professionals who will possess the management and leadership skills, technical knowledge, and environmental awareness to sustain and enhance the leisure service industries.
6. To provide a basic physical education service program and a basic health education service program for all students.
7. To provide an intramural program designed to allow opportunity for leisure activity, competition, skill development and physical and emotional release.

These functions are incorporated in the individual purposes of the five departments of the college: Family and Consumer Sciences, Health Science Education, Nursing, Recreation and Leisure Services and Sport Science and Physical Education. Students who wish to pursue programs leading to teaching certification may major in home economics or health and physical education. Upon successful completion of this program, they will receive the Bachelor of Science in Education. Students pursuing majors in Health and Fitness Promotion, Community Health Education and Sport Management will receive a Bachelor of Science in Health Science. The Bachelor of Science in Health Science is also an excellent avenue for those students wishing to pursue degrees in a variety of allied health professions. Students majoring in Nursing will receive the Bachelor of Science in Nursing and will qualify to take the State Board Examination for licensure as a registered nurse. Students majoring in one of the areas of Recreational and Leisure Services will receive the Bachelor of Science in Recreation. Students majoring in one of the six programs in the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences will receive the B.S. degree in Family and Consumer Sciences.

PRE-PHYSICAL THERAPY

The requirements for admission to colleges and universities that offer physical therapy are not identical. Georgia Southern follows guidelines and requirements recommended by the professional schools in Georgia. This is not a major or degree program.

For additional information contact Departmental Secretary, Health Science Education, Health Science Building, Room 106 or phone 912-681-5266.

PRE-OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Admission requirements and programs of study are similar to, but somewhat less demanding than, those for pre-physical therapy. Interested students should contact Departmental Secretary, Health Science Education, Health Science Building, Room 106, or phone 912-681-5266.

PRE-NURSING

Since various nursing schools have a variety of requirements and a student's course of study must conform to the respective school, students interested in pursuing studies leading to a baccalaureate degree in nursing at institutions other than Georgia Southern must write that school. If a school has not yet been selected, the following course of study may be followed:

Chemistry 171, 172 . . . . . 10 hours

English 151, 152, Literature of the Western World .....	5 hours

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES

The Bachelor of Science in Family and Consumer Sciences is designed for students wishing to prepare for careers in (1) Apparel Design, (2) Consumer Studies; (3) Family and Child Studies, (4) Foods and Nutrition, Dietetics and Hospitality Administration; (5) Interior Design and Housing; (6) Restaurant, Hotel and Institutional Administration; (7) Fashion Merchandising. Majors are offered in each of these fields.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, completion of major requirements in Family and Consumer Sciences, three hours of health and four hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

While the Bachelor of Science in Family and Consumer Sciences does not require a minor, except for the majors in Apparel Design and Restaurant Hotel and Institutional Administration, a student may choose to complete an advisor approved minor program and have it indicated on the transcript. The approved minors are listed in this catalog (see Minors-General Information section).

Correspondence or extension credit will not be allowed to satisfy the requirements for major courses in the Department. A minimum grade of "C" is required on each course in the major. Students wishing to take upper division courses in their major should have credit for 90 hours in core requirements and should have an average grade of 2.0. In cases presenting exceptional schedule conflicts, registration in upper division courses by students who have failed to complete core requirements and maintain a 2.0 GPA will be allowed only by permission of the department chair.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the Core Curriculum, a minimum of fifty-five hours in biology and chemistry, senior year in approved school of medical technology, three hours of health and four hours of physical education. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation. A grade of "C" or better must be earned in each course taken to satisfy the specific requirements peculiar to this degree, regardless of where each course is applied to the degree program.

ADVISEMENT

Students planning to complete the requirements for the medical technology degree program are advised by faculty in the Department of Health Science, 912-681-5266. Electives appropriate to this major will be recommended during advisement.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

Upon completion of the program, the graduate will be able to provide quality nursing care to individuals, families, groups and communities in a variety of rural and urban settings in a manner acceptable to the diverse and multicultural populations of rural south Georgia.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN RECREATION

This program, designed to meet the need for trained personnel in the field of recreation services, is offered in the Department of Recreation and Leisure Services. The program consists of general education and an interdepartmental major from the fields of business, humanities, social science, physical science, health, and physical education. A student may choose as an area of specialization one of five emphases: recreation administration, therapeutic, resort and commercial, natural and cultural resource management, or travel and tourism management.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The Bachelor of Science degree in Recreation requires the fulfillment of the university core curriculum, completion of the Recreation core requirements, including the successful completion of the two professional field experiences (practicum and internship) and a grade of at least "C" in all recreation coursework. Recreation majors follow an introductory sequence of major courses comprised of 151, 152 and 252. These courses serve as prerequisites, and as a foundation, for the practicum as well as the upper division core. Students should enroll in the practicum upon completion of this initial sequence. The practicum must be successfully completed by the end of the junior year or by the time the student has accumulated 135 credit hours towards graduation.

The internship is normally set up and approved during the student's last quarter of enrollment in academic coursework. The internship is a supervised 400 hour work experience in an approved leisure setting. The purpose of the internship is to assist in the transition process from the theoretical and conceptual aspects of recreation to the practical application of knowledge in a professional leisure agency or industry.

To enroll in either the practicum or the internship a student must have a minimum adjusted grade point average of 2.0.

Dr. Frederick K. Whitt, Dean

DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES

Dr. John J. Beasley, Chair

Professors: J. Beasley, B. Lane (Emerita)
Associate Professors: D. Cone, D. Pearce, T. Moore
Assistant Professors: V. Brinkley, E. Brown, S. Darrell, B. Fields, M. Kettler, C. Martin, S. Smith, D. Turner, P. Walton, S. Whitener (Emerita)
Instructors: K. Gaston, K. Kaufman, V. Richards
Laboratory Teachers: C. Ellis, J. Fortner

The professional programs offered by the unit are Apparel Design, Consumer Studies, Family and Child Studies, Foods and Nutrition, Interior Design and Housing, Restaurant, Hotel and Institutional Administration, Fashion Merchandising. The Foods and Nutrition Program has received approval by the American Dietetic Association Plan IV/V Competencies in the Dietetics Emphasis. Students may also choose the Hospitality Administration Emphasis.

APPAREL DESIGN

AD 250. SOCIAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF CLOTHING

The cultural, social, psychological, and economic aspects of clothing which affect the selection and usage of clothing by the consumer. Prerequisite: PSY 251 or SOC 150 or ANT 150 or ECO 250 or ECO 260.

AD 168. INTRODUCTORY CLOTHING

Emphasizes selection, buying problems, construction and care of clothing. Experiences in the newer methods of construction and fitting. Two lectures, six laboratory hours weekly.

AD 350. PRINCIPLES OF TEXTILE/APPAREL DESIGN

Development of basic drawing skills as related to functional, structural and decorative textile/apparel design. Prerequisites: ART 150, AD 168, FM 360.

AD 362. ADVANCED CLOTHING CONSTRUCTION

A study of social, psychological, and economics aspects of clothing. Provides an opportunity to gain experience in advanced construction skills. Prerequisite: AD 168.

AD 365. HISTORY OF COSTUME

Chronological survey of the development and characteristics of historic costume from the ancient Egyptian culture to the present. Prerequisites: HIS 152/253 and 252/253.

AD 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN APPAREL DESIGN

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in Apparel Design and will carry a subtitle.

AD 420. PATTERN GRADING

The study of sizing in ready-to-wear with emphasis on grading techniques necessary for developing production patterns. Prerequisite: AD 460 or consent of the instructor.

ADM 430. APPAREL TRADE AND REGULATIONS

Student will become familiar with internal and external controls and limitations of the apparel industry. Field trips will combine with lecture and discussion techniques and presentations by appropriate industry management. Prerequisite: FM 364.

AD 450. ADVANCED TEXTILES/DESIGN

Course will investigate traditional and new developments in yarns, fabrics and fabric finishes. Activities will include lecture and demonstration techniques supplemented by field trips to local plants. Prerequisite: FM 364.

*ADM 452. ADVANCED APPAREL PRODUCTION

The study of garment development and manufacturing including costing, cutting room processes and trim selection. Prerequisites: ADM 350 and ADM 351.

*ADM 454. QUALITY CONTROL/TESTING

Investigation of performance and quality control standards of textile fibers, yarns, fabrications, finishes and the resulting apparel. Actual fabric performance tests will be conducted. Prerequisites: FM 168, FM 364, ADM 430, ADM 450, ADM 451.

AD 460. APPAREL DESIGN ANALYSIS I

Application of principles involved in designing apparel using flat pattern techniques. Prerequisite: AD 168.

AD 462. COMPUTER AIDED APPAREL DESIGN I

An investigation of the diverse applications of computer technology in apparel design and production. Field trips and computer laboratory experience. Prerequisites: AD 350, AD 420 and AD 460.

AD 470. APPAREL DESIGN ANALYSIS II

Application of principles involved in designing apparel using draping techniques. Prerequisite: AD 460 or consent of instructor.

AD 472. FUNCTIONAL APPAREL

Application of design strategies used in developing or acquiring garments suitable for functional limitations. Prerequisite: AD 460 or consent of instructor.

AD 491. INTERNSHIP IN APPAREL DESIGN

Supervised work-study program in an apparel design business selected by the student and pre-approved by the student's advisor. Students enrolled in the program must agree to abide by regulations governing all employees of the sponsor. 10-15 hours credit. S/U Grading. Prerequisites: 2.0 GPA; 60 hours in major course work with "C" or better grade; approval of advisor.

AD 562. COMPUTER AIDED APPAREL DESIGN II.

Advanced work in computer aided design including pattern development and sketching. Prerequisite: AD 462.

* These are taught in the Industrial Technology Department. The other courses are taught by the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences.

FAMILY AND CHILD STUDIES*FCS 271. INTRODUCTORY FAMILY RELATIONS

Designed to give background in current concepts of the family and the developmental tasks that occur at each stage of the family life cycle.

FCS 371. LIFESPAN DEVELOPMENT

Investigates human development throughout the lifespan as influenced by the family and society using a practical holistic approach. Designed for majors in the health-related disciplines. Prerequisites: junior standing; SOC 150, PSY 251, BIO 271 and 272. Four hours lecture and two hours lab per week.

FCS 433. PRACTICUM IN CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Observation and participation in the Family Life Center Child Development Laboratory with scheduled seminar discussion groups. Designed as a companion course for Elementary Education 454. Preferred: FCS 471. FED 260 accepted.

FCS 471. CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Studies of growth patterns from conception to six years of age are made. Students observe and participate in the Family Life Center Child Development Laboratory. Prerequisites: PSY 251 and/or SOC 150 and FCS 271, or permission of instructor. Four hours lecture and two hours lab per week.

FCS 472. CHILDREN'S CREATIVE ACTIVITIES
Principles in selecting and presenting a variety of creative and practical experiences for young children (art, music, rhythm, dance, creative movement and drama) in the Family Life Center Child Development Laboratory. Three lectures and four laboratory and/or participation hours per week. Prerequisites: FCS 471 or permission of instructor.

FCS 474. PARENTING: FAMILY-CHILD INTERACTION

Emphasis on understanding the child in his/her own natural setting...the family. Methods of studying families, parent education, and teaching aids are explored. Prerequisites: Majors: FCS 271, FCS 471; Non-majors: PSY 251, or permission of instructor. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week.

FCS 475. ASSESSMENT OF THE PRESCHOOL CHILD

Developmental assessment and research as related to the preschool child. Supervised observation and participation in the Family Life Center Child Development Laboratory and the community. Prerequisite: FCS 471. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week.

FCS 476. ADMINISTRATION OF THE PRESCHOOL PROGRAM

Emphasis on direction and administration of child care centers in family and group settings. Personnel, space, physical facilities and food-service are studied. Supervised trips to child care centers. Prerequisite: FCS 471 or permission of the instructor. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week.

FCS 479. AGING, LIFESTYLES AND ADAPTATION

Designed to interrelate life's losses, gains and growth processes. Investigates how value structure and goals impact lifestyles and how learning and coping strategies can enhance the quality of life. Prerequisite: Upper division status. Four hours lecture and two hours lab per week.

FCS 491. INTERNSHIP IN FAMILY AND CHILD STUDIES

Supervised work-study program in Family and Child Studies. Students are expected to interview for positions in businesses which are pre-approved by the internship professor. Students enrolled in the program must agree to abide by regulations governing all employees of the sponsor. Prerequisites: Approval by advisor and Division Director. 10-15 hours credit.

FCS 571. DEVELOPMENT IN INFANCY

Emphasis on development from prenatal period through the first twenty-four months of life. Laboratory experiences relating to child rearing practices and prediction of behavior. Prerequisite: FCS 471 or permission of instructor. Four hours lecture and two hours lab per week.

FCS 572. PRECEPTORIAL IN CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Application of knowledge and skills in directing experiences for preschool children. Students develop programs through planning, implementation and evaluation of daily activities. Ten laboratory hours required each week for each five hours credit. Prerequisite: Consent of Director of Division.

HEC 573. CHILDREN: DEVELOPMENT AND RELATIONSHIPS

Concentrated study of child growth and development from conception to age six years. Films, video tapes and unsupervised experiences with children outside of child development laboratories supplement classroom activities. Primarily for employed public school teachers seeking certification in Early Childhood Education. Not for resident student. Prerequisite: Senior or Graduate standing. Not a substitute for FCS 471 without prior approval from head of major program.

FCS 575. THE MIDDLE CHILD AND ADOLESCENT

Normal development of the child from age six through the teenage years with an emphasis on current issues that relate to these years; role of parent(s), family, and other adults in fostering their development. Prerequisites: Majors - FCS 271, PSY 251, FCS 471; Non-majors - PSY 251, or permission of instructor. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week.

FCS 576. DEVELOPMENT IN LATE STAGES OF LIFE CYCLE

Adjustment of individuals and families to internal and environmental changes during middle age and aging years. Prerequisites: Majors - FCS 271, PSY 251; Non-majors - PSY 251, or permission of instructor. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week.

FCS 577. FAMILY LIFE PROGRAMS

An emphasis on programs, procedures, techniques, resources and counseling skills needed to promote an understanding of family life education through the life cycle. Designed specifically for persons who are providing education in family life and in human sexuality.

FCS 578. READINGS IN FAMILY LIFE AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT

A study of current and classic research drawn from the behavioral sciences concerned with the family and its members. Special focus on changes in society and technology.

FOODS AND NUTRITION - DIETETICS - HOSPITALITY ADMINISTRATION

NFS 151. INTRODUCTORY FOOD SCIENCE

Develops basic understanding in the principles of food science and techniques of food preparation. Applies basic principles and skills involved in food preparation for use by individuals, families and volume foodservices. Examines the nutrient composition of food and appropriate sources of data. Prerequisite for advanced food science courses and an elective to general personal enrichment. Three lectures and four laboratory hours per week.

NFS 251. NUTRITION AND HEALTH

Considers the basic principles of nutrition and the relationship to the maintenance of physical fitness and the sense of wellness of the individual. Computer use for nutritional analysis is studied.

NFS 252. NUTRITION AND DIET THERAPY

The acquisition of knowledge and understanding of the principles of nutrition and the application of the principles to the nutritional needs of individuals and families in both good health and disease. Prerequisites: 10-hour laboratory science sequence. Five lecture hours per week.

NFS 253. NUTRITION MANAGEMENT FOR FOODSERVICE

The basic principles of nutrition are discussed from the standpoint of how the foodservice industry must assume responsibility for providing a healthy nutritional food supply. Prerequisite: NFS 151.

NFS 326. FOODSERVICE SANITATION

Principles of sanitation for institutional and hospitality foodservice facilities. Studies of food spoilage and foodborne illness, maintenance of sanitary food facilities, equipment and supplies and sanitation regulations and standards. Emphasis on establishing and managing procedures that ensure food safety in purchasing, storage, preparation and service of food. For Hospitality Administration emphasis, Foodservice Management minors, and Hotel and Tourism students only. Prerequisites: NFS 151, NFS 251 or 253 or permission of instructor.

NFS 351. NUTRITION

Considers fundamental principles of human nutrition and their application in selection of recommended diets for individuals and families. Three lectures, four laboratory hours weekly. For majors. Prerequisite: CHE 171, 172.

NFS 352. MEAL MANAGEMENT

Develops competencies in organization, management of time, menu planning and food service for various occasions while utilizing principles of nutrition and quality meal service. Studies are made of principles in the selection and arrangement of table appointments. Three hours lecture and four hours lab per week. Prerequisites: NFS 151, 251, or 351, or permission of instructor.

NFS 353. FOOD PRESERVATION TECHNIQUES

Methods of preserving foods are studied; experiments conducted. Recent developments in food technology reviewed. Prerequisite: NFS 151, 251; CHE 171, 172.

NFS 354. NUTRITION THROUGHOUT THE LIFE CYCLE

Emphasis on the role of nutrition and dietary needs in the growth, development and maintenance of health of individuals from birth to aging. Discussion of the impact of physiological changes on nutrition needs. Application of computers in nutritional analysis. Fundamentals of nutrition care delivery in community programs. Prerequisites: A five-hour course in nutrition (NFS 251, 252, 351) or consent of instructor; BIO 271, 272 desirable.

NFS 451. NUTRITION EDUCATION STRATEGIES

Emphasis on innovative communication of latest nutrition knowledge as it relates to developmental stages and learning. Integration of nutrition concepts into curriculum development for grades K-12. Development, selection and evaluation of nutrition education materials. Identification of community/regional resources, agencies and legislation regarding nutrition. Principles of education and effective teaching methods studied. Prerequisites: Five hours of undergraduate nutrition and/or consent of instructor.

NFS 452. ADVANCED NUTRITION

Considers nutrition principles at an advanced level with respect to requirements, functions and metabolism of various nutrients. Prerequisite: BIO 271, 272; CHE 380; NFS 251 or 351, or consent of instructor.

NFS 453. THERAPEUTIC NUTRITION

Study of modification of normal diet for therapeutic purposes. Application of computer use for dietary analysis and nutritional assessment, planning, intervention, and evaluation examined. Effective communications, documentation, counseling and interviewing studied. Quality assurance investigated. Prerequisites: BIO 271, 272; CHE 380; NFS 251 or 351, NFS 452 or consent of instructor.

NFS 454. EXPERIMENTAL FOOD SCIENCE

Study of chemical, physical and biological properties of food and ingredients. Investigation of relationship of methods and techniques and proportions of ingredients and their effect on the quality of the product. Emphasis on basic concepts of research methodology, statistical analysis and technical report preparation. Three hours lecture and four hours laboratory weekly. Prerequisites: NFS 151; CHE 171, 172; NFS 251, STA 255 or consent of instructor.

NFS 455. CULTURAL AND SCIENTIFIC ASPECTS OF FOOD AND NUTRITION

Analysis of food as applied to the individual and the community. Examines the influence of socioeconomic, cultural and psychological factors of food and nutrition behavior. International food patterns examined. The provision of world food supplies and consequent nutritional problems are studied. Prerequisites: NFS 151 and five hours of nutrition.

NFS 457. QUANTITY FOOD PRODUCTION

Application of principles of food science and techniques of food preparation to volume food production for foodservice facilities. Menu planning for nutrition of individuals and groups in health and disease is studied. Food production, distribution and service are emphasized. Laws and regulations affecting food production are considered. Computer use as a production control is examined. Three lectures and four laboratory hours weekly. Prerequisites: NFS 151, NFS 326 or BIO 284, CIS 251 or permission of instructor.

NFS 459. FOODSERVICE MANAGEMENT PRACTICUM

Supervised practicum with selected agencies which perform educational services directly related to the precepts of the Foods and Nutrition major. Work sites will be selected by the faculty member directing the practicum and will be with business, institutions or governmental agencies performing services related to the major. Students enrolled in the program must agree to abide by regulations governing all employees of the sponsor. Permission of the instructor.

NFS 467. CATERING AND BEVERAGE MANAGEMENT

Application of food science and management principles to quantify food preparation for special events, both on- and off-site. Principles of planning, production, service, presentation and evaluation of catering activities will be emphasized. Two lecture hours, six laboratory hours per week. Pre-requisites: NFS 151, NFS 457, or permission of instructor.

NFS 491. INTERNSHIP IN FOODS AND NUTRITION

Supervised work-study program in a selected foodservice management facility. Students are expected to interview for jobs in facilities which are approved by the College. Students who apply for the preceptorial must agree to work for the entire quarter, 5-15 hours credit. This course does not substitute for a post-graduate American Dietetic Association Accredited Internship. Prerequisites: NFS 456, 457, 458 and consent of Division Director and Instructor.

GENERAL HOME ECONOMICS

HEC 210. PERSPECTIVES IN HOME ECONOMICS

A study of factors and individuals influencing the history of Home Economics; present status of the discipline; future directions; and career opportunities.

HEC 222. SOCIAL SURVIVAL SKILLS

A study of etiquette and social interaction as they relate to social gatherings, the work environment and daily living. Students will be encouraged to incorporate the principles of professional and personal courtesies into their lifestyles. Course is appropriate for all majors.

Class will meet one evening session during the quarter.

HEC 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN HOME ECONOMICS

HEC 490. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN HOME ECONOMICS

Fits needs of transfers and advanced undergraduate students. Content designed to add depth to the student's planned program. Individual projects required. Prerequisite: permission of Division Director. Variable credit.

HEC 491. INTERNSHIP IN HOME ECONOMICS

Supervised work-study program with selected agencies which perform professional services related to the precepts of Home Economics. Work sites will be selected by students and approved by the student's advisor. Students enrolled in the program must agree to abide by regulations governing all employees of the sponsor. Prerequisite: Approval by advisor and Division Director. 5-15 hours credit.

HEC 580. PROMOTIONAL TECHNIQUES

Materials and techniques applicable to the major's professional performance.

HEC 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN HOME ECONOMICS

HOME ECONOMICS EDUCATION

SED 352. METHODS FOR TEACHING HOME ECONOMICS

An introduction to various methods and materials for teaching Home Economics in the school. Prerequisite: FED 251, FED 260, FED 361.

HEC 536. HOME ECONOMICS PROGRAMS FOR ADULTS AND OUT-OF-SCHOOL YOUTH

A study of techniques and materials, structure and content for instruction of adult, school and community groups. Prerequisite: SED 352.

HEC 538. RECENT TRENDS IN HOME ECONOMICS IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL

Designed as an institute for secondary teachers of Home Economics. Development, direction and evaluation of learning experiences for youth. Prerequisite: Teacher Certification.

HEC 559. CONSUMER EDUCATION WORKSHOP

Analysis, review and development of curriculum guides, learning packages, and materials are focus of course. Designed for public school personnel, grades 1-12, concerned with implementing Consumer Education Programs. Three-week session. Fifty hours contact. Prerequisites: Admission by recommendation of State Department of Education.

HEC 595. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Analysis, review and development of instructional materials, strategies for Home Economics programs within specified content areas. Emphasis upon individualization of instruction and evaluation of curriculum materials. Admission upon recommendation of State Department of Education. Five hours credit each quarter with maximum of fifteen hours permitted toward degree requirements.

INTERIOR DESIGN AND HOUSING*IDH 281. HOUSING AND INTERIORS

Emphasizes aesthetic and economic values of home planning, building and furnishing. Laboratory work comprised of practical experience and experiments. Three lectures, four laboratory periods per week. Field trips.

IDH 282. PRESENTATION IN INTERIOR DESIGN

While planned specifically for fashion merchandising majors, other interested persons who qualify for admission may participate. Prerequisites: FM 360 or consent of instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH SCIENCE EDUCATION

David Foulk, Head, Professor

Assistant Professors: L. Bryant, P. Carr, R.

LeFari, M. Okeke

Associate Professor: F. Radovich

Instructor: L. Wolfe

The Department of Health Science Education serves the undergraduate population with health service courses, offers professional health education requirements, and provides the Bachelor of Science in Health Science degree with majors in either Community Health or Health and Fitness Promotion.

HEALTH SCIENCE COURSES

HTH 131. PERSONAL HEALTH PROMOTION

Emphasis is placed on critical health issues. This course is designed to enable the student to evaluate his/her present health status and learn how to achieve an optimum level of health.

HTH 259. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN HEALTH

A course designed to service the graduate and undergraduate student through Coastal Area Teacher Education Service. Students receiving graduate credit are required to perform above and beyond the level expected of the undergraduate.

HTH 320. FIRST AID

Theory and practice of administering first aid to victims of accidents and sudden illness. American Red Cross "Standard First Aid and Personal Safety" and "CPR" Certification.

HTH 321. MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY

Provides a working knowledge of the elements of terms related to the human body in health and disease. Descriptive definitions and applications of practical significance are included with emphasis on the meaning of word roots and combining forms.

HTH 350. ADVANCED HEALTH PROMOTION
Based upon the most current and accurate health information, this course is designed to enable the individual to make decisions concerning personal health behavior. Prerequisites: HTH 131 or BIO 271.

HTH 450. HPER FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

HTH 451. PUBLIC HEALTH

Designed to equip the learner with an overview of public and environmental health concepts. Contemporary issues are discussed including health services, health promotion, politics of health care and a variety of other public health issues.

HTH 491. INTERNSHIP IN HEALTH SCIENCE

Supervised work-study program in a health related, fitness, or wellness setting. Students are expected to interview for positions which are pre-approved by the internship supervisor. (a 2.0 GPA and completion of all other coursework is required to enroll in this course.)

HTH 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

An opportunity for advanced student to pursue a health oriented problem.

HTH 531. HEALTH FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Introduces the student to the basic phases of the elementary school program from grades K-8. It is designed primarily for teacher education but should be of interest to educators in general and community health workers in clarifying problems as they relate to the elementary school health program. One-hour lecture and two two-hour laboratories per week.

HTH 550. GENERAL SAFETY AND FIRST AID

An analysis of the nature and scope of the accident problem. Special emphasis is placed on accident causation and prevention. Also, the theory and practice of administering first aid to victims of accidents and sudden illness. American Red Cross "Standard First Aid and Personal Safety" and "CPR" Certification.

HTH 555. ORGANIZATION AND MATERIALS OF THE SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAM

This course involves the student with three phases of the school health program, health education, health services and the healthful school environment, as they relate to grades 9 through 12.

HTH 556. ORGANIZATION AND DEVELOPMENT OF SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAM

A course designed to involve the student in the concepts of the total school health program including historical and legal basis, general organizational aspects and principles and trends of the field.

HTH 557. HEALTH PROMOTION PLANNING AND RESEARCH

This course is designed to give an overview of lifestyle patterns and problems. Lectures and small group discussions are topically oriented, and will provide opportunity for learning skills in decision making and behavior change. Prerequisite: HTH 350.

DEPARTMENT OF NURSING

M. Christine Talmadge, Acting Chair, Associate Professor

Professor: M. Coleman

Associate Professors: J. Alberto, C. Hanson, K. Koon, C. Simonson

Assistant Professors: S. Abbott, K. Barger, P. Collins, W. Daniels, D. Ernst, Al Garrigues, B. Hamilton, E. Hilde, D. Hodnicki, S. Horner, P. McGinnis, S. Merrifield, R. Ryan, C. Shriver
Instructors: J. Ambrogne-Smith, N. Bryant, S. Lynn, A. Rushing

Georgia Southern University's Department of Nursing offers degree programs at the baccalaureate and masters levels. The Nursing faculty is committed to helping meet the nursing care needs of the multiethnic underserved rural population of the region by providing high quality nursing educational programs.

The nursing faculty stress caring as a central concept in the curriculum and as the essence of nursing practice. The Department of Nursing programs incorporate high academic and ethical standards, and a caring, learning environment for students.

The Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing (BSN) is a four year program that is fully accredited by the Georgia Board of Nursing and the National League of Nursing. Graduates of the program are eligible to take the National Council of State Board of Nursing Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

The program of study for the BSN degree requires 13 quarters of full time study. Coursework includes 101 credit hours of general education and support courses and 99 credit hours of nursing courses. Degree requirements include both classroom and clinical experiences. Clinical course settings include large urban hospitals, smaller rural hospitals, nursing homes, and community health care agencies such as public health departments, home health care agencies, industrial settings, schools, clinics, and physician offices. Students are responsible for their own transportation to and from clinical settings, some of which may be as far away as 50 miles from campus. Required clinical experiences include both day and evening hours beginning with the junior level nursing courses.

BSN nursing program applicants must meet the University entrance requirements as described in the University general catalog. Once admitted to the University, students are assigned as academic advisor from the nursing faculty. The faculty advisor will assist the student in planning a program of study that will meet the requirements for the BSN degree.

Students are eligible for admission to the first nursing course if they have completed 45 specified credit hours of core curriculum prerequisites. The student must have completed the second chemistry course with a "C" or higher grade and must have completed or be enrolled in Biology 271 (Human Anatomy & Physiology I) the quarter before they begin the first nursing course. Admission policies and applications forms may be obtained from the Nursing Department.

Space is limited in the nursing program. Not all eligible students may be admitted. Priority may be given to eligible students who are from rural Georgia and who express a desire to live and work in rural areas after graduation. Consideration is also given to insure a balanced student body representative of the racial and ethnic mix of the rural southeast. Licensed professional nurses, licensed practical (vocational) nurses, corpsmen or transfer students from other nursing schools are individually evaluated for transfer credit. Depending on individual background and experiences, students may be eligible to earn credit in some nursing courses by proficiency examination. Check with the Department Head for eligibility requirements.

Additional Expenses:

Selected practicum experiences and field trips are held at off campus locations. Transportation and the students expenses are the student's responsibility. The summer session courses in Tertiary Care Nursing are held in an urban tertiary care center. Transportation, moving and maintenance costs are the student's responsibility. Students must purchase uniforms, white shoes and hose, stethoscope and sphygmomanometer. Selected achievement test fees during junior and senior years are additional. Graduation expenses will include the cost of a nursing pin, academic regalia rental and state board license examination fees.

Focus of course is the concept of illness and the impact of illness and hospitalization on the individual and family. Includes common manifestations of illness and nursing responses to these manifestations. Content includes the roles and functions of the nurse in relation to ill clients. Prerequisites: Level 1 Nursing courses and NUR 351, NUR 341 and NUR 321. Corequisites: NUR 342 and NUR 322.

NUR 353. NURSING PROBLEMS II

Focuses on the nursing care given in response to health problems related to lifestyle, fluid and electrolyte, energy and self-image problems. Prerequisites: Level 1 Nursing courses, NUR 352 and NUR 342 and NUR 322. Corequisites: NUR 343 and NUR 323.

NUR 355. URBAN TERTIARY NURSING PRACTICUM

Provides practicum in an urban tertiary health center focusing on clients with acute multi-system problems. Students apply the nursing process and nursing skills with clients with acute multi-system problems. Prerequisites: NUR 342, NUR 343, NUR 322 and NUR 323. Corequisites: NUR 391.

NUR 391. URBAN TERTIARY NURSING

Content, which is correlated with Nursing 355, is derived from nursing care responsive to problems and manifestations related to urbanization, shock and pain, disturbed sensorium, oxygenation, and lifestyle changes. Prerequisites: NUR 352, NUR 353, NUR 322 and NUR 323. Corequisite: NUR 355.

NUR 395. INTRODUCTION TO PROFESSIONAL NURSING CONCEPTS

This course introduces the Registered Nurse student to the philosophy and conceptual framework of the Department of Nursing. The student explores four major schools of thought which have influenced the development of nursing and examines the nursing process. Three conceptual tools, health and wellness promotion, communication and interpersonal relationships and caring for self and others, used by professional nurses are examined.

NUR 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN NURSING

Study of selected nursing topics. Course credit varies from 1 to 15 credit hours.

NUR 421. NURSING TOOLS 3: TEACHING/LEARNING

The concepts and skills of teaching and learning with emphasis on assessing the learning needs of clients using principles of learning according to major learning theorists. Practice in passive and active teaching strategies provided. Prerequisites: NUR 321, 322 and 323 or permission of the instructor.

NUR 423. HEALTH CARE OPTIONS

Explores the variety of alternative health care measures utilized by the people in the rural South. The non-scientific health care options chiefly chosen in rural Georgia are systematically examined, and ways to combine scientific and folk medicine, other health options and non-traditional health care providers are studied. Prerequisites: Second level nursing, NUR 445 or permission of instructor.

NUR 448. NURSING RESEARCH

The analytical tools of research will be the focus of this course. The student will develop a knowledge of the research critique and evaluate nursing research articles. The relationships of nursing research to nursing theory and nursing practice is explored including epidemiology and grounded theory. Focus on reading and critiquing research as well as exploring ways of using research findings in practice. Prerequisites: NUR 321, 322, 323 and 421 or permission of the instructor.

NUR 441. RURAL PRIMARY CARE NURSING PRACTICUM

Practicum corresponding to NUR 456. Clinical experiences will be provided in rural community health care settings such as clinics, health departments, home health agencies, field trips, industries, health fairs, etc. Client systems will include individuals, families and communities. Prerequisites: Second level nursing. Corequisite: NUR 456 and NUR 421.

NUR 443. NURSING PEOPLE AT RISK, PRACTICUM

Practicum corresponding to NUR 457. Guided experiences in various mental health agencies, acute care hospital and public and home health agencies. Nursing interventions for reducing risk factors that contribute to health problems are emphasized. Prerequisites: Second level nursing, NUR 456, NUR 441 and NUR 421. Corequisite: NUR 457, 422.

NUR 463. NURSING MANAGEMENT AND INTERDISCIPLINE COLLABORATION, PRACTICUM

Practicum corresponding to Nursing 458. Experiences as leader-coordinator with secondary and tertiary settings. Prerequisites: Second level nursing, NUR 421, 448, 423, and 445. Corequisites: NUR 441 and 443.

NUR 470. HEALTH AND THE AGING PROCESS

This course is designed to explore the aging processes and health promotion and health maintenance activities. Theories of aging, the effects of aging on the psychosocial health status, common health problems and health services and resources are examined. The cost of health services as it relates to prevention of illness and health promotion to maintenance of health and restoration of health are also explored.

NUR 495. INDEPENDENT STUDY

This course is designed to allow the individual student to study or investigate an area of interest under the direction of a faculty member. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Credit hours vary from 1-5 credits.

NUR 499. SELECTED PROBLEMS IN NURSING

Independent field and laboratory investigation under faculty supervision. Faculty and students collaborate to formulate the objectives and requirements (1 to 15 quarter hours).

NUR 550. PHYSICAL ASSESSMENT ACROSS THE LIFESPAN

A foundation course for assessing physical wellness. Students will explore methods of data collection, assessment procedures and will analyze findings relating to health histories and physical examinations across the lifespan. This course will be used as a prerequisite course for the Master of Science in Nursing.

DEPARTMENT OF RECREATION AND LEISURE SERVICES

H. Eisenhart, Chair, Professor

Professor: P. Thomason

Associate Professors: W. Becker

Assistant Professors: L. Blankenbaker, M. Morgan, D. Shelar, I. Oh, J. Bigley, T. Perry

The Department of Recreation and Leisure Services offers graduate and undergraduate emphases in Public Recreation, Therapeutic Recreation, Commercial Recreation, Outdoor Recreation and hospitality and Tourism Management.

REC 100-411 a,b,c. RECREATION CONVOCATION

Provides an opportunity for the freshman through senior student to interact with practitioners from public, private, commercial and other recreation agencies.

REC 151. INTRODUCTION TO RECREATION

Designed for both majors and non-majors, this course examines cultural and personal recreation attitudes and behaviors, as well as the rapidly growing field of leisure services in America. Commercial, outdoor, therapeutic, public, volunteer agency, military, church, industrial recreation and hotel and tourism management areas are explored.

REC 152. RECREATION LEADERSHIP

Deals with the philosophical and practical aspects of program construction, leadership skills and methods.

REC 252. PROGRAM PLANNING

Provides methodology, philosophy, and experiences in program development for recreation agencies.

REC 365. OUTDOOR RECREATION

Designed to help the student gain an understanding of various alternatives in management of human behavior in the recreation setting and an understanding and appreciation for how and why people perceive and respond to physical, social, and managerial aspects of the environment. Examples of topics include: value and future demands for outdoor recreation, conflicts between user groups and social carrying capacity.

REC 322. FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT MAINTENANCE

Familiarizes the student with systematic and preventive maintenance approaches. Concentration is on maintenance problems frequently experienced with facilities and equipment in each of the recreation curriculum emphases.

REC 366. INTERPRETIVE METHODS.

Designed to help the student answer three main questions: What is environmental and historical interpretation? How does one become an effective interpreter? How can the effectiveness of interpretation be measured?

REC 367. NATURAL RESOURCE RECREATION MANAGEMENT

Familiarizes the student with the development of recreation resource policy; furthers an understanding of the biological and physical sciences that underlie sound land use planning and management; furthers acquisition of knowledge and understanding of ecology, preservation and uses of natural resources. Includes evaluating the multiple uses and impact, including the trade-offs, in balancing recreation use with natural resource uses.

REC 351. ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC RECREATION

Provides the student with philosophies and foundations for the organization and administration of public recreation agencies.

REC 352. SURVEY OF TRAVEL AND TOURISM

Introduces the student to Travel and Tourism Services as an Area of Study and as a professional opportunity.

REC 353. SUPERVISION IN RECREATION

Provides for understanding, experiences and methodology for roles as supervisors in the recreation field.

REC 354. CAMPING AND OUTDOOR RECREATION

Trains students for positions as camp leaders and counselors; includes camping skills; nature and outdoor activities and camp counselor techniques.

REC 356. RECREATION AND PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

An introduction to the provision of recreation services to persons with disabling conditions in clinical, community and transition settings.

REC 362. COMMERCIAL RECREATION.

A study of the commercial recreation setting. Topics covered include a comparison of profit and non-profit recreation settings interrelationships between recreation, food services, sales, accommodations and facilities maintenance.

REC 372. HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT

Introduces the student to hotel management, including: guest services and support functions, special events operations and career opportunities.

REC 358 a,b,c. PRACTICUM

Places the student in a leadership position with a leisure service industry or agency. Prerequisite: REC 151, 152, 252. (Student must have at least a 2.0 GPA to enroll in this course.)

REC 398. PROBLEMS IN RECREATION

Selected topics related to leisure and recreation services.

REC 451. RECREATION RESEARCH

Covers locating and understanding recreation research. Additionally, the student is introduced to hypothesis generation, research methodology and statistical analysis as applied to recreation and leisure services.

REC 452. FACILITIES PLANNING

Introduces the student to methods currently used to predict recreation demand, utilization of demand projections in long-range master planning and the relationship between master plans and specific site development projects.

REC 453. PUBLIC RELATIONS

Provides an understanding of the concepts and techniques of effective public relations for the promotion of public recreation services.

REC 454. INTRODUCTION TO THERAPEUTIC RECREATION

Provides an introduction to the field of therapeutic recreation services, with emphasis on the delivery of appropriate leisure services to individuals with special needs in clinical, transitional and community settings.

REC 455. THERAPEUTIC RECREATION PROGRAMMING

Clinical Setting. Provides an in-depth study of the principles and procedures of therapeutic recreation program development, design, implementation and evaluation.

REC 456. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN THERAPEUTIC RECREATION SERVICES

An in-depth examination of special problems in the field of therapeutic recreation services. Areas studied include establishing professional service relationships with clients, conducting individualized diagnostic assessments and evaluations of client ability and disability levels, and designing and implementing individual and/or group leisure education strategies and methodologies.

REC 457. THERAPEUTIC RECREATION AND OLDER ADULTS

This course explores the role of therapeutic recreation services with the older adult as both client and potential service provider. Aging stereotypes and age-related activity myths are examined as well as strategies and techniques for the therapeutic use of recreation in helping older adults to achieve and maintain quality living experiences in community, transitional, and institutional settings.

REC 459. RECREATION MANAGEMENT

A study of techniques and procedures in a recreation program as applied to finances, budgets, records, reports, office equipment, clerical details, personnel policies and public relations.

REC 491 A & B RECREATION INTERNSHIP

For Recreation majors. Students work in a professional recreation program under a qualified recreation director for three months as a full-time worker in the program. (Student must have at least a 2.0 GPA to enroll in this course.)

DEPARTMENT OF SPORT SCIENCE AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

P. Cobb, Acting Chair, Professor

Professors: J. Blankenbaker, D. Cotten, S. Gallemore, W. Spieth

Associate Professor: J. McMillan, D. Wagner

Assistant Professors: G. Floyd, B. Joyner, M. Li, L. McCarthy, D. Ramsey, J. Stallings

Instructors: R. Austin, K. Pruitt

Students enrolling in the Bachelor of Science in Education may major in physical education. This major prepares the student for public school teaching and coaching.

A second major, Sport Management, is listed under the Bachelor of Science in Health Science. This major is also administrated by the Department of Sport Science and Physical Education. This course of study combines the business and sport related fields.

The general student is required to complete HTH 131 and four Physical Education Activity courses. Students who are 26 years of age, or older, may substitute other courses for the physical education activity courses. Six quarter hours of credit for physical education activity courses will be awarded when a student provides evidence (DD-214) that the student has had a minimum of one year's active military duty. The DD-214 should be furnished to the Registrar's Office.

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

PEA 100 CANOEING, BEGINNING

Provides the student with canoeing skills, knowledge of water safety, and the hazards associated with the sport. Field trip required. For men and women.

PEA 101 DANCE, CLOGGING, BEG.

Includes basic clogging used in clogging dance routines. For men and women.

PEA 102 DANCE, BALLET, BEG.

For men and women.

PEA 103 DANCE, FOLK, BEG.

Includes folk dances from foreign countries and from the U.S. For men and women.

PEA 104 DANCE, MODERN, BEG.

Interpretative dancing. For men and women.

PEA 105 DANCE, MOD. & BAL., ADV.

For men and women.

PEA 106 DANCE, SOCIAL, BEG.

Includes all steps and dances used in ballroom dancing. For men and women.

PEA 107 DANCE, SQUARE, BEG.

Includes basic square dance movements and selected American folk dances which include square dance movements. For men and women.

PEA 108 DANCE, TAP, BEGINNING

For men and women. (Students must furnish shoes.)

PEA 109 FENCING, BEGINNING

Students must furnish fencing glove. For men and women.

PEA 110 FENCING, TOURNAMENT

Emphasizes the use of basic skills in tournament situations. Prerequisite: PEA 109 or permission of the instructor. For men and women.

PEA 111 FOOTBALL, TOUCH

For men and women.

PEA 112 KARATE, BEGINNING

For men and women.

PEA 115 SOCCER, BEGINNING

For men and women.

PEA 116 TUMBLING, BEGINNING

For men and women.

PEA 117. FUNDAMENTALS OF WESTERN HORSEBACK RIDING

This course is designed to teach students basic skills in western horseback riding. This includes safety, grooming, feeding, conditioning, saddling and riding a horse in the walk, jog, and lope gaits.

PEA 118. FITNESS WALKING

For men and women. Credit: 1 hour.

PEA 119. TRAILRIDING

This course is designed for the horseback rider who enjoys open area riding, rather than confinement to a riding pen. This class will give the rider the opportunity to enjoy nature from the back of a horse. Prerequisite: PEA 117 or permission of instructor.

PEA 293 OUTDOOR EDUCATION

A variety of outdoor activities: canoeing, backpacking, repelling, orienteering and others. Field trip required.

PEA 295 SCUBA, BEGINNING

For men and women. Special fee required.

PEA 296 SCUBA, ADVANCED

This course is designed to provide the novice diver with a structured, well-supervised means to gain the practical experience needed after initial certification. Prerequisite: PEA 295 or permission of instructor. Special fee required.

STRENGTH & ENDURANCE TRAINING

PEA 200 AEROBIC DANCE

For men and women.

PEA 201 BODY CONDITIONING

For men and women.

PEA 202 FITNESS SWIMMING

For men and women.

PEA 203 JOGGING

For men and women.

PEA 204 WEIGHT TRAINING

For men and women.

LIFETIME SPORTS

PEA 205 ARCHERY, BEGINNING

For men and women. (Students must furnish arrows.)

PEA 206 BADMINTON, BEG.

For men and women. (Students must furnish racquets.)

PEA 207 BADMINTON, ADVANCED

For men and women. Prerequisite: PEA 206 or permission of instructor.

PEA 208 BASKETBALL, BEG.

For men and women. Beginners only.

PEA 209 BOWLING, BEGINNING

For men and women. Special fee required.

PEA 210 GOLF, BEGINNING

For men and women. Special fee required.

PEA 211 RACQUETBALL, BEG.

Students must furnish racquet and balls.

PEA 212 RACQUETBALL, ADV.

For men and women. Prerequisite: PEA 211 or permission of instructor.

PEA 214 SOFTBALL, BEG.

For men and women. (Students must furnish gloves.)

PEA 215 SWIMMING, BEG.

For non-swimming and beginners only. Men and women.

PEA 216 SWIMMING, INT.

Develops various strokes and diving techniques. Men and women.

PEA 217 TENNIS, BEGINNING

For men and women. (Students must furnish racquets and balls.)

PEA 218 TENNIS, ADVANCED

For men and women. Prerequisite: PEA 217 or permission of instructor.

PEA 219 VOLLEYBALL, BEG.

For men and women.

PROFICIENCY TESTING

Credit by examination is described in the catalog under General Information. The proficiency for P.E. activity classes has the following policies and regulations.

A. Written and skill tests are required.

B. Proficiencies may be attempted only in the following:

Badminton

Advanced Badminton

Basketball

Bowling

Golf

Racquetball

Advanced Racquetball
Soccer
Intermediate Swimming
Tennis
Advanced Tennis
Volleyball

MAJOR COURSES - PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PE 230. DANCE AND AQUATICS

A techniques course designed to acquaint the student with various dance and aquatic activities.

PE 231. TUMBLING AND TRACK AND FIELD

Theory in calisthenics movement. Includes stunts and basic tumbling and pyramid building with emphasis on procedure in teaching these activities.

PE 232. ATHLETIC TRAINING

Prevention and correction of accidents in athletic activities; the use of proper personal and field equipment, support methods, conditioning exercises, the medical examination and the therapeutic aids.

PE 320. COACHING SWIMMING AND DIVING TECHNIQUES

A course designed to introduce techniques and methods of competitive swimming and diving.

PE 328. THEORY OF SPORT CONDITIONING

A course intended for students preparing to undertake responsibilities in the areas of coaching fitness programs and/or related areas. Two two-hour labs per week.

PE 330. MODERN AND SOCIAL DANCE

Provides opportunity for skill development and teaching techniques of the two types of dance.

PE 331. PRINCIPLES OF OFFICIATING

Designed to give prospective High School Coach and Recreator a knowledge and understanding of the principles and basics techniques of officiating in a wide variety of sports and recreation activities.

PE 332. LIFEGUARDING

Course meets the requirements of the American Red Cross and qualifies the individual for certification as a lifeguard. Prerequisite: Lifeguard swim test.

PE 333. WATER SAFETY INSTRUCTION

Meets the requirements of the American Red Cross and qualifies the individual for certification as a water safety instructor. Laboratory and assisting periods to be arranged.

PE 334. COACHING FOOTBALL

Deals with fundamentals. Consideration given to rules, team strategy, both offensive and defensive and training procedures. One lecture and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.

PE 335. COACHING BASKETBALL

Similar to 334, except that basketball is the sport considered. One lecture and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.

PE 336. COACHING BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL

Similar to 334, except that baseball and softball are the sports considered. One lecture and four one-hour laboratory periods a week.

PE 337. PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD K-4

Develops skills, techniques, and methods for teaching in the elementary schools (K-4) grades. One lecture and two two-hour labs per week.

PE 338. PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR MIDDLE GRADES 4-8

Develops skills, techniques and methods for teaching in the middle schools (4-8) grades. One hour lecture and two two-hour laboratory periods each week.

PE 339. PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS 9-12

Develops skills, techniques and methods for teaching in the secondary schools (9-12) grades. One hour lecture and two two-hour laboratories per week.

PE 352. FOUNDATIONS OF HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

An introduction to the fields of health and physical education. Biological, physiological and sociological principles of health and physical education are stressed. Past and current trends also receive emphasis.

PE 354. ANATOMY AND APPLIED KINESIOLOGY

A study of anatomic systems as they relate to the mechanical principles of the analysis of motor skill activities. Three one-hour lectures and two two-hour laboratory periods per week.

PE 355. COACHING PRACTICUM

Advanced coaching experience in any of the varsity sports. Includes observation, practicum and seminar work in the sport. Prerequisite: beginning coaching course in the sport.

PE 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Topics of special interest to P.E. will be studied.

PE 432. COACHING MINOR SPORTS

Introduces the student to the responsibilities of the coach in five sports: tennis, golf, swimming, gymnastics and track and field.

PE 434. ADVANCED THEORY AND PROBLEMS IN ATHLETIC TRAINING

A combination of advanced theory and practical application on the treatment of athletic injuries. Prerequisite: PE 232 or the equivalent.

PE 435. PRINCIPLES AND MOTIVATIONAL ASPECTS OF ATHLETICS

The course is designed to study various motivational aspects and approaches to coaching athletics. Anxiety and arousal interaction will provide the theoretical base for developing a specific inventory.

PE 436. FOLK AND SQUARE DANCE TEACHING TECHNIQUE

A course designed to introduce teaching techniques for folk dance (American and International) and square dance with emphasis on proper skill execution as well as appropriate content methodology for elementary, middle grades, high school and adult students.

PE 493. DIRECTED INDIVIDUAL STUDY

Permits the undergraduate student to study or investigate an area of interest under the direction of a faculty member. Permission required.

PE 536. PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

This course will deal with the organization of the physical education curriculum. Special attention is given to the selection of activities in light of desired outcomes. Prerequisite: PE 352.

PE 551. ADAPTED PHYSICAL EDUCATION, RECREATION AND SPORTS

Examines the importance of physical education, recreation and sports in the growth and development of impaired and disabled children and presents specific strategies and techniques for implementing adapted activities and programs.

PE 553. RESEARCH IN PE AND SPORT TECHNIQUES

A study of recent research findings directly concerning various selected sports.

PE 554. FITNESS AND WELLNESS PROGRAMS

Deals with all phases of fitness and wellness programs: including administering fitness tests and evaluations and developing objectives for the programs, program organization, and content.

PE 555. PHYSIOLOGY OF EXERCISE

Physiological changes in the human organism due to physical exercise in stress situations. Four one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory periods per week.

PE 556. RESEARCH STRATEGIES IN EXERCISE AND SPORT SCIENCE

An introduction to an application of methods involved in conducting experimental research in exercise and sport science and related areas. Students will collectively carry out at least one experimental investigation. Prerequisite: PE 555.

PE 558. ADMINISTRATION AND LEADERSHIP OF P.E. AND SPORT

Deals with administration and leadership of P.E. programs, the interschool athletic programs and the intramural and school recreation programs. Prerequisite: PE 352 or SM 350.

PE 561. TESTS AND MEASUREMENTS IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Lectures, laboratory, and computer experience in the development, evaluation and application of tests in Sport Science. Four one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory period each week. Prerequisite: PE 352.

MAJOR COURSES - SPORT MANAGEMENT*SM 250. INTRODUCTION TO SPORT MANAGEMENT

The introduction to administration principles as they relate to sport will be examined. The need for highly trained sport managers who can function successfully in complex and varied sport settings is also explored.

SM 351. SPORT MANAGEMENT PRACTICUM

Each student receives practical Sport Management experience in a sport-business related department in his/her area of interest. Practicum will be done on campus or locally.

SM 450. SPORT ENTERPRISE OPERATION

A course designed to enable the student to learn how actual sport enterprises are operated. Includes health and fitness centers, racquetball clubs, country clubs, civic centers and professional sport clubs.

SM 451. SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC INFLUENCE OF SPORT

A course designed to introduce the student to the study of sport as a science. Includes an in-depth look at the social and economic effects of sport.

SM 452. RISK MANAGEMENT IN SPORT

The course focuses on identification of and correction of risks that lead to accidents and/or lawsuits.

SM 453. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Examines day to day operations to long range planning for the entire athletic program of an institution.

SM 454. SPORT PROMOTION AND MARKETING

its value to the overall success of any sports related business dealing most specifically with intercollegiate athletics will be examined.

SM 455/CAB 455. SPORT BROADCASTING

A course designed to teach broadcasting techniques specific to sports. Includes lecture, discussion, and simulated broadcasts by students.

SM 456. SPORT FINANCE AND FACILITY MANAGEMENT

This course will examine the fundamental concepts and theories of finance applicable to the field of sport management as well as the principles and procedures involved in sport facility management

SM 493. DIRECTED INDIVIDUAL STUDY

Permits the undergraduate student to study or investigate an area of interest under the direction of a faculty member. Permission required.

SM 550. LEGAL PROBLEMS IN SPORT MANAGEMENT

This course is designed to help the student to develop an understanding of selected problems in sports and to develop approaches for avoiding and/or solving these problems.

SM 551. ATHLETIC GOVERNANCE

This course will deal with the constitution and bylaws of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Special emphasis is given to rules compliance, Title IX compliance, and rules education.

SM 591. SPORT MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP

This internship allows the senior in Sport Management an opportunity to receive practical experience in selected athletic or sport related settings. Normally, the internship is one quarter and will pay the student the prevailing wage level for the job preferred. Prerequisite: Junior-Senior standing and consent of the Department Head.

SM 599. SELECTED TOPICS

Topics of special need and interest to Sport Management will be studied.

PURPOSE AND ORGANIZATION

Technology is the study of mankind using mind, materials and energies for purposeful change. The student is involved in problem analysis and solution, designing and experimentation, creating and construction using the tools, materials, processes, products and energies currently available. The programs cover a large part of the technological spectrum, providing relevant education to meet the aptitudes and needs of students as they prepare to become future designers, planners, managers and implementors in their field of specialization. The programs also provide a formal base of higher education in the various areas of technology.

The Allen E. Paulson College of Technology consists of three separate departments and an Engineering Studies Office. The Department of Engineering Technology administers the following programs: Bachelor of Science degrees in Civil Engineering Technology, Electrical Engineering Technology, Industrial Engineering Technology and Mechanical Engineering Technology. The Department of Industrial Technology administers the Bachelor of Science degrees in Construction, Manufacturing (with majors in Apparel Manufacturing and Industrial Management), and Printing Management. The Department of Military Science administers the Army ROTC program which leads to a commission as a second lieutenant at the time of graduation. In addition, both the Regent's Engineering Transfer Program and the Two Plus Engineering Transfer Program are administered by the Allen E. Paulson College of Technology and coordinated by the Engineering Studies Office.

The Allen E. Paulson College of Technology is a member of the Engineering Technology College Council of the American Society of Engineering Education. The Allen E. Paulson College of Technology is also affiliated with the Georgia Society of Professional Engineers. Students' professional development are furthered through membership in student chapters or clubs of: the Georgia Society of Professional Engineers; the Society of Black Engineers, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, the American Society of Civil Engineers; the Society of Manufacturing Engineers; the National Association of Home

Builders; the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; the Printing Industry Association of Georgia; the Institute of Industrial Engineers, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The Civil Engineering Technology, Electrical Engineering Technology, Industrial Engineering Technology and the Mechanical Engineering Technology programs are accredited by the Technology Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology. The Building Construction and Contracting, Industrial Management and Printing Management programs are accredited by the National Association of Industrial Technology.

Advisement and Degree Requirements

Each student is assigned an advisor according to their proposed major. The advisor's responsibility is to review, offer suggestions, make recommendations and approve the student's registration plans and progress toward the degree goals.

This catalog is the official description of degree program requirements. It is the student's responsibility to: (1) know and meet these requirements; (2) prepare a schedule of classes each quarter and obtain the advisor's approval before registering; and (3) keep the advisor informed on any problems that may arise.

Students must complete the core curriculum as outlined. All majors have specific mathematics and science requirements. Therefore it is to the student's advantage to fit these specific requirements into the core curriculum whenever possible. In this way both the core curriculum and the requirements of the major may be met.

Transfer credits accepted by the university will be used to satisfy major requirements at the discretion of the major advisor. Upon request proficiency examinations may be given in those areas of the major for which student has no college credit. Upon successful completion of the examination, the student will receive advanced placement credit. A minimum of 45 hours of upper division credit must be earned at Georgia Southern.

CO-OP PROGRAM

The Allen E. Paulson College of Technology offers its students the opportunity to gain work experience related to their academic majors, begin the career decision making process and earn money for educational expenses. This is accomplished through a co-op plan that is provided on an optional basis in all technology majors.

The co-op plan may be student, college or industry initiated. Normally, students must have earned 45 quarter hours of credit toward their major, have a GPA of 2.5 or better and be willing to participate in no less than three alternating Co-op work assignments. Salaries and benefits are determined by the employer and normally increase as the program proceeds. Board and lodging are the responsibility of the student, but in many cases the employers provide assistance in locating suitable accommodations. Dormitory rooms and meal plans are available to students working near the campus.

Co-op students register for GT 499 Special Problems/Co-op, one quarter hour credit, each quarter they are on a work assignment. An S/U grade is assigned for each quarter on the basis of the employer's evaluation only.

No commitment is made by either the student or employer for full-time employment upon completion of the co-op program. However a company may offer career employment upon graduation.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

Degree Programs:

- Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering Technology
- Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering Technology
- Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering Technology
- Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering Technology

The Bachelor of Science degree in the several fields of engineering technology is the academic requirement for engineering technologists who, working alongside engineers, utilize state-of-the-art equipment in engineering applications. Graduates of the degree programs enter the occupational spectrum which ranges between the technician and craftsman on one end and the engineer and scientist on the other. The engineering technologist's training parallels that of the engineer and entry level positions are found in design and development, technical operations, plant operations, project/process planning, production, technical services or sales.

The academic programs are four-year, calculus-based technical programs. Applications of technical knowledge to current industrial problems are stressed.

High school preparation for the engineering technology program should include English composition, algebra, trigonometry, geometry, chemistry, physics, and biology. In addition subjects such as drafting and computer programming are useful.

ADMISSION CLASSIFICATION

Students will be assigned to the major of their choice at the time of admission. If a student does not select one of the four majors, he/she will be assigned to the Pre-Engineering Technology classification. The student can remain in the Pre-Engineering Technology classification for two quarters, by which time he/she shall transfer to a specific major.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CIVIL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

The program of study is designed to give the student a broad coverage in general education and technical subjects with special depth in the area of civil engineering technology. The curriculum follows the recommendations of the Technology Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology and permits the student to develop depth in at least two of four areas structures, surveying, environmental, transportation.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum, completion of a basic technical core of courses, completion of eight required CET courses designed to provide exposure to code-based design, government permitting and regulations, and basic surveying measurements, additional CET and approved technical elective courses to develop depth in the student's chosen areas. At least 45 hours of approved engineering technology courses must be taken at Georgia Southern. A minimum of 45 hours of upper-division credits must be earned at Georgia Southern. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

The program of study is designed to give the student a broad coverage in general education with special depth in the basics of applied electrical engineering technology. The curriculum follows the recommendations of the Technology Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology and permits specialization in electronics or power technology.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum and completion of the courses prescribed below, including 60 hours of upper-division Electrical Engineering Technology courses. Forty-five hours of approved upper-division credits must be earned at Georgia Southern. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

The program of study is designed to give the student a broad coverage in general education with special depth in the applications of classical industrial engineering principles together with computer analysis techniques. The curriculum follows the recommendations of the Technology Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology and stresses application of basic engineering science and computer methods to solution of problems in engineering economics, motion and time study, plant layout and materials handling, production planning, statistical quality control and industrial safety. Electives include robotics and simulation.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

This degree requires fulfillment of the core curriculum and completion of the courses prescribed below. At least 45 hours of approved engineering technology courses must be taken at Georgia Southern. A minimum of 45 hours of upper division credit must be earned at Georgia Southern. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY*Degree Programs:

- Bachelor of Science in Construction
Major: Building Construction and Contracting
- Bachelor of Science in Manufacturing
Major: Apparel Manufacturing
Industrial Management
- Bachelor of Science in Printing
Management

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS:

The Bachelor of Science degree in the various fields of Industrial Technology requires the fulfillment of the core curriculum; completion of the courses prescribed for each major; three hours of health and four hours of physical education. Forty-five hours of upper division work must be taken at Georgia Southern University. A minimum of 190 hours is required for graduation.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:

Students admitted to the majors must meet all general college admission requirements.

Transfer students and change of major students must also be in good academic standing. Students with less than 2.0 GPA will be accepted only on a provisional basis. Upon completion of 2 successive quarters of work at a GPA 2.0, provisional students will be accepted to the major.

High School Preparation

High school studies should include algebra, geometry, trigonometry, chemistry and physics. Courses in drafting, computer programming, accounting, psychology and sociology are also recommended.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CONSTRUCTION
BUILDING CONSTRUCTION AND CONTRACTING MAJOR

The Building Construction and Contracting major prepares students for careers in both residential and non-residential segments of the construction industry. The successful graduate can anticipate employment within the construction industry as a manager, building estimator, professional contractor, planner, supervisor, manufacturers' field representative or a host of other building-construction related jobs. The program is accredited by the National Association of Industrial Technology (NAIT).

NOTES:

1. These courses may be used to complete Areas I, II and III requirements. However, additional technical electives may be required to satisfy degree minimum of 190 hours.
2. ACC 260 and ECO 260 must be taken as prerequisites to an elective business minor. The 300-400 level business courses will not be allowed in minor if taken ahead of ACC 260 and ECO 260.
3. Seminar credits may not be applied toward graduation requirements.
4. The BCC student can earn a minor in business with no additional required coursework by choosing MKT 350 Principles of Marketing and two other upper division electives from different business departments.

- PM 432. Printing Production Systems . . . . . 3 hours
- PM 434. Quality Control in the Printing Industry . . . . . 3 hours
- PM 451. Industrial Practicum . . . . 5 hours
- PM 452. Graphic Arts III . . . . . 5 hours

PM 453. Color Reproduction . . . . .	5 hours
PM 455. Estimating . . . . .	5 hours
PM 499. Internship (max. 10 hrs) . . .	5 hours
IM 351. Introduction to Industrial Management . . . . .	5 hours
MKT 350. Principles of Marketing . . .	5 hours
MKT 351. Principles of Advertising . . .	5 hours
IM 471. Industrial Supervision . . . . .	5 hours
GT 165. Technology, Science and Environment . . . . .	5 hours

NOTE: Grade requirement: A grade of "C" or better is required in each of the courses listed under Area IV and Specific Requirements.

Additional hours of approved electives to total 190 hours is required for a Bachelor of Science in Printing Management.

The Printing Management major can earn an optional minor in business by choosing 15 or more hours from the courses listed below:

MGT 354
LST 352
FIN 251
MGT 375
MGT 376 or LST 358 or FIN 350
MGT 377 or LST 451 or FIN 451

NOTES:

1. Courses may be used to complete Areas I, II and III requirements. However, additional technical electives may be required to satisfy degree minimum of 190 hours.
2. ACC 260 and ECO 260 must be taken as prerequisites to be an elective in the business minor. Upper level business courses will not count in minor if taken ahead of ACC 260 and ECO 260.

U.S. ARMY RESERVE OFFICER TRAINING CORPS PROGRAM

The Army Department of Military Science is a Senior Division Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) Instructor Group staffed by Regular Army personnel. The department provides a curriculum that qualifies the college graduate for a commission as an officer in the U.S. Army, United States Army Reserve or the United States Army National Guard. Enrollment is open to all students who are eligible to pursue a commission in the U.S. Army.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps program is designed to provide students with knowledge and practical experience in leadership and management that will be useful in any facet of society. Additionally each student is provided a working knowledge of the organization and functioning of the Department of Defense and the role of the U.S. Army in national security and world affairs.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps program is divided into two main phases: the basic course which is normally pursued during the freshman and sophomore years, and the advanced course which is taken during the junior and senior years.

Basic Military Science

The Military Science Basic Course teaches the organization and roles of the U.S. Army and introduces essential background knowledge of customs and traditions, leadership, map reading and small unit organization. These courses have the objective of developing the student's leadership, confidence, self-discipline, integrity and sense of responsibility. There is no service obligation or obligation to continue in Reserve Officer Training Corps as a result of taking any Basic Course classes. However the Basic Course classes need to be taken to qualify for entrance into the advance program. If all the basic course classes are not taken, the student may elect to attend Camp Challenge to qualify for the advance program. (See Two-Year Program versus the Four-Year Program.)

Advanced Military Science

The Military Science Advanced Course is taken during the junior and senior years. Students learn land navigation, communications, small unit tactics and patrolling, military management, staff operations and logistics, army administration, military law, ethics and professionalism. Additionally students must satisfy Professional Military Education (PME) requirements with courses in the following areas: written communication skills, human behavior, math reasoning, computer literacy and Military history (one five hour course each). Further, ROTC scholarship students must complete a five-hour course in a foreign language. Courses mentioned above, taken in pursuit of your degree will satisfy these PME requirements (e.g. ENG 151 Written Communication Skills). Students must meet eligibility requirements and sign a contract for commissioning with the US Army.

The general objective of these courses is to produce junior officers who by education, training, attitude and inherent qualities will be the future officer leadership of the US Army, US Army Reserve or the Army National Guard.

Advanced Summer Camp

Students contracting to pursue the advanced courses are required to attend advanced summer camp, normally between their junior and senior academic years. Students attending this camp are paid and given travel allowance from their home to camp and back.

Eligibility for Advanced Course Enrollment

For selection and retention in the advanced course, a student must have completed the basic course or received placement credit for the basic course (see paragraph below). The contracting student must be physically qualified, be an academic junior, have a GPA of 2.0 or better and must demonstrate a potential for further leadership development.

Veterans and JROTC graduates with at least three years of high school JROTC, and students who have completed military science courses in military preparatory schools and junior colleges are eligible for advanced placement. The entire basic course may be credited. The amount of credit to be awarded is at the discretion of the Professor of Military Science. Completion of or placement credit for the basic course is a prerequisite for admission into the advanced course.

Students who are given placement credit for any portion of the basic course must be academically aligned as a junior (90-130 quarter hours) in order to contract into the Advance Course.

Two Year Program Versus the Four Year Program

The Reserve Officer Training Corps program is designed as a 4 year course of study. However, students who are not eligible for advance placement and who have not completed the basic course program may still become qualified for the advance program. They must satisfactorily complete a basic summer camp, of six weeks duration, during the summer between their sophomore and junior years. Students attending this basic camp (Camp Challenge) at Fort Knox, Kentucky are paid and given a travel allowance from their home to camp and return.

Obligation

There is no obligation for participating in the basic course. Prior to admittance in the advanced course the student agrees to complete the advanced course and to accept a commission if offered one. The options as to the obligations after commissioning are numerous and varied. The most esteemed achievement is to receive a Regular Army commission which incurs a four year active duty obligation. Those offered a Reserve commission with active duty serve three years. Other options include a Guaranteed Reserve Forces Duty which calls for three months to one year on active duty at an officer's basic course and 8 years service (monthly weekend drills and two weeks annual training with the United States Army Reserve or National Guard). Another option is the Individual Ready Reserve which requires attendance at the officer's basic course, but not active duty, United States Army Reserve, or National Guard service. Graduate delay programs are also available.

Financial Assistance

All contracted advance course cadets are paid a subsistence allowance of $100 per month while enrolled in the advanced course. This amounts to $2,700.00 when including advanced camp payment.

Scholarship Program

Each year the U.S. Army awards two-, three-, and four-year scholarships to outstanding young men and women participating in the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps program who desire careers as Army officers. In most cases, the Army pays tuition, fees, books and laboratory expenses incurred by the scholarship student and, in addition, each student receives $100 per month for the academic year; Based on the tuition cost of the school the scholarship cadet attends, there is a limit of $8000 annually or 80% of the tuition, whichever is greater. Individuals desiring to compete for these scholarships should apply to the Army Military Science Department at Georgia Southern University.

Some students who are enrolled in highly technical academic discipline programs and who qualify for Reserve Officers Training Corps scholarship benefits may be required to take an academic course load that will necessitate more than four academic years of study prior to graduation. It is possible to extend the Army Scholarship benefit to cover this additional period.

ROTC students successfully completing Advanced Camp may compete for Civilian Sponsored Scholarships awarded during their senior year. National winners receive $1,500 and Regional winners receive $1,000 during their senior year. Contact the Georgia Southern University, Department of Military Science at (912) 681-5320 for further information.

Refer to page 70 for information on the Bathwell A. "Snag" Johnson ROTC Honors Scholarship.

Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Uniforms, Books and Supplies

Students enrolling in the Army ROTC program will be issued U.S. Army uniforms, military books and supplies by the Military Science Department. Uniforms must be returned before commissioning or upon disenrollment from the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

ENGINEERING STUDIES

Programs Available:

Regents Engineering Transfer Program (RETP)

Two-Plus Engineering Transfer Program (2+)

The Engineering Studies Office of the Allen E. Paulson College of Technology operates two distinct engineering transfer programs designed to be compatible with the undergraduate programs of a large number of engineering schools. These programs feature courses commonly offered in the first two years of engineering work, including mathematics, chemistry, physics and fundamental engineering science courses. Additional work in English, the humanities and social sciences round out a solid base of studies geared to achieve a smooth transition to upper level studies at the engineering school of the student's choice. Through careful guidance and high-quality instruction, the programs seek to optimize the student's opportunity to successfully complete an engineering degree in their chosen discipline.

Both programs follow essentially the same curriculum. The RETP, however, is specifically designed to provide transfer to the Georgia Institute of Technology and has entrance requirements specified by the Board of Regents, which are outlined below. The two-plus program does not use the same entrance requirements, but it demands the same level of performance in the same courses as does the RETP.

Each year a number of Gulfstream Scholars scholarships are available to individuals entering or in Engineering Studies. Successful applicants receive direct scholarship support of $2,000 per year. Additional information may be found under Scholarships.

Schools such as Auburn, Clemson, University of Florida, Florida State/FAMU, University of South Carolina and Mercer stand ready to accept transfer students from either one of these programs. Each school has its own criteria for accepting transfers and students who maintain a good level of performance in either of these programs should be able to transfer with relative ease.

Still a third program is available at Georgia Southern which ultimately leads to an engineering degree. This is the dual degree (3+2) program administered by the Department of Physics (see Dual Degree Program).

REGENTS ENGINEERING TRANSFER PROGRAM

Qualified students seeking a Bachelor of Engineering degree may begin their college studies at Georgia Southern through the Regents Engineering Transfer Program. Upon successful completion of the pre-engineering curriculum, students may transfer to the Georgia Institute of Technology to complete the degree requirements. Students in this program, like other Georgia Tech graduates, will normally require four to five and a-half years to complete the degree requirements, depending on their pre-college preparation, involvement in extra curricular activities and engineering major.

To be admitted to the Regents Engineering Transfer Program at this institution, students must have achieved at least:

1. 550 on the mathematics portion of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT); and a
2. 450 on the verbal portion of the SAT: and a
3. 3.0 high school grade point average.

This institution's faculty members have worked closely with Georgia Tech's faculty to assure a curriculum which is well-coordinated with that of Georgia Tech.

Regents Engineering Transfer Program students who satisfactorily complete the pre-engineering curriculum and apply for transfer will be accepted to Georgia Tech. However admission to the most popular majors, as for other Georgia Tech students, will be based upon overall grade point average, performance in the required prerequisite courses and availability of student spaces.

Your work at Georgia Southern will also be compatible with engineering programs at institutions other than Georgia Tech where conditions for selection of major and length of program may differ from those described above.

Two-Plus Engineering Transfer Program

The Two-Plus Engineering Transfer Program offers an alternative to the aspiring engineering student who may not meet all the entrance standards required for the Regents Engineering Transfer Program. The course of study is basically the same as for the RETP and should take two years, but some students may elect to follow an optional three-year plan of study which will strengthen their math and science preparation and reduce the course load taken each quarter. Qualified students who complete this program may apply for transfer to a number of engineering schools in the southeast including Georgia Tech.

The intent in offering this program is to widen access to an engineering education as much as possible, so entrance standards are less selective than those described above for the RETP. Students must understand that transfer to an engineering school completing the course work in this program will usually require an excellent academic record with a grade point average of 2.7 or better.

CURRICULUM

Course content of both the RETP and Two-Plus programs is essentially the same. The curriculum consists mainly of math, physics, chemistry and introductory-level engineering and engineering-related courses designed to provide the essential technical background for junior and senior level programs in a variety of engineering disciplines. These are augmented by a number of English courses and other core courses which help fulfill the non-technical course requirements of the typical engineering program. The course recommendations are listed below. Some of the engineering and engineering-related courses are recommended for all students, regardless of intended major discipline. Others are oriented toward particular disciplines and are intended mainly for those students planning to study a particular area of engineering.

COURSES REQUIRED FOR ALL MAJORS:

- CHE 181. General Inorganic Chemistry I . . . . . 5 hours
- CHE 182. General Inorganic Chemistry II . . . . . 5 hours
- EGR 130. Introduction to Engineering . . . . . 3 hours
- EGR 132. Computer Applications in Engineering . . . . . 3 hours

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ALLEN E. PAULSON

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY

Dr. James E. Manring, Dean

DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

Chair: R. Hanson

Professors: J. Manring, D. Fowler, G. Jones, S. Laskin,

M. Degyansky, J. Karrh, J. Wallace

Associate Professors: K. Long, R. Redderson, R.

Hanson, G. Clark, V. Kouch, J. Wang

Assistant Professor: M. Davoud, N. Das

Courses in Engineering Sciences, Civil Engineering Technology, Electrical Engineering Technology, Industrial Engineering Technology and Mechanical Engineering Technology are offered by the Department of Engineering Technology.

ES 121. INTRODUCTION TO ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

An introduction to the field of engineering technology. Includes speakers from different areas of engineering technology practice, individual student presentations on an engineering technology area/project, introduction to problem definition and standard computational techniques, and presentations on professional registration and professional ethics. Two lecture hours.

ES 231. DIGITAL COMPUTATION

An introduction to digital computation, designed to acquaint the student with the fundamentals of computing techniques. An appropriate programming language is used. Three single lecture periods. Prerequisite: Math 151-152 or 165.

ES 251. STATICS

The study of force systems on bodies at rest or in non-accelerated motion; resultants and equilibriums of force systems; centroids and moments of inertia; trusses and frames and machines; friction. Five single lecture periods. Prerequisite: Math 165 or Math 152, TD 130, and ES 121.

ES 252. DYNAMICS

The study of kinetics and kinematics of particles and rigid bodies; work and energy; impulse and momentum as applied to particles. Five single lecture periods. Prerequisites: Math 167 and ES 251.

ES 253. STRENGTH OF MATERIALS

Stress and elastic deformation under axial, torsional, flexural and combined loading, beam deflection; materials testing. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab. Prerequisites: Math 167 and ES 251.

ES 351. THERMODYNAMICS

An introduction to thermodynamics. First and second law analysis of thermal systems. Use of property charts and tables and equations of state in analyzing common thermal processes of technological importance. Four single lecture periods and one 2-hour lab. Prerequisites: Math 166; Corequisite: Math 167.

ES 354. FLUID MECHANICS

Fundamentals of fluid statics and fluid dynamics; fluid properties, static and dynamic forces, flow losses, flow measurement, closed conduit and open channel flow. Four single-lecture periods and one two-hour lab. Prerequisite: ES 251. Corequisite: Math 167.

ES 355. INTRODUCTION TO ELECTRICAL CIRCUITS

For non-electrical engineering technology majors. An introduction to AC and DC Electric Circuits with topics in power, rotating machinery, and other areas commonly encountered in Civil, Industrial and Mechanical Engineering Technology. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: Physics 263.

ES 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN ENGINEERING SCIENCE

This course is designed to provide for study of engineering science topics not generally offered by the department. One to 15 credits.

ES 450. COMPUTER METHODS IN ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

Application of computer methods to problems in engineering technology; use of BASIC and FORTRAN languages on microcomputers for technical problem solutions; DOS, word processor, and spread sheet applications. Prerequisites: ES 231 and senior standing.

ES 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Specialized study in the area of engineering science not otherwise offered in the engineering technology program. Credit: 5 hours—may be taken for repeated credit up to 15 hours.

CIVIL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY*CET 343. CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS

An introduction to fundamental construction materials in civil engineering technology with emphasis on laboratory testing. Analysis and design of base courses; design of portland cement concrete mixes; design of asphalt concrete mixes. Two lecture hours and two two-hour labs. Prerequisite: ES 253.

CET 345. INTRODUCTION TO ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL

Pertinent legislation and agencies addressing environmental protection; chemical and bacteriological principles as applied to environmental control; stream sanitation and DO sag; principles of solid waste systems and hazardous waste control; standard laboratory tests. Three single lecture periods and one three-hour lab. Prerequisite: CHEM 171 or 181.

CET 351. ELEMENTARY SURVEYING I

Use of the level, transit, and EDM; taping, stadia reading, notekeeping and computations. Three single lecture periods and two two-hour labs. Prerequisite: Math 152.

CET 352. ELEMENTARY SURVEYING II

Topographic mapping; control surveys; triangulation; trilateration; state plane coordinate systems; astronomical observations for azimuth; subdivision and plat requirements; deed search at courthouse. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab. Prerequisite: CET 351 and ES 231.

CET 353. ROUTE SURVEYING

Application of techniques of route location; vertical, horizontal, and spiral curve calculation; earthwork computation techniques; mass diagram; stake out of final design. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab. Prerequisite: CET 351.

CET 361. SOILS AND FOUNDATIONS

A practical introduction to soil mechanics and foundations; formation of natural soil deposits, soil exploration, stress distribution in soil, consolidation of soil and settlement, shear strength of soil, spread footings, piles, and lateral earth pressure. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour period for laboratory exercises. Prerequisites: ES 253, ES 231.

CET 363. STRUCTURAL ANALYSIS

Review of fundamental design and analysis of determinate structures and introduction to indeterminate plane structures. Classical slope deflection and moment distribution. Introduction to computer analysis of frames with microcomputers. Prerequisite: ES 253 and ES 231.

CET 364. STEEL DESIGN

Introduction to building code (LFRD-AISC) specification for design. Characteristics of structural steels. Tension members. Columns. Beams. Beam-columns. Connections. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour design/computational laboratory. Prerequisite: CET 363.

CET 365. REINFORCED CONCRETE DESIGN

Introduction to building code (ACI) specifications for design. Characteristics of materials. Structural mechanics of flexure. Strength design and deflection of beams. Strength design of columns. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour design/computational laboratory. Prerequisite: ES 253 and ES 231.

CET 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN CET

This course is designed to provide for study of civil engineering technology course topics not generally offered by the dept. One to 15 credits.

CET 451. TIMBER DESIGN

Introduction to the design of wood structures in accordance with the National Design Specification for Wood Construction. Topics: Properties of wood, beams, columns, connections, and glulam members. Five single lecture hours. Prerequisites: ES 231 and ES 253.

CET 452. TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM DESIGN

A treatment of the fundamental principles of the planning, design, and analysis of highway and railway systems. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour design/computation laboratory. Prerequisites: Junior standing in CET.

CET 455. COLLECTION AND DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS

Design of a wastewater collection system; Hardy-Cross analysis and design of a water distribution system; pumps and pumping stations in distribution and collection systems. Computer applications. Four single lectures and one two-day design/computational laboratory. Prerequisite: ES 354 and ES 231.

CET 456. TREATMENT PLANT DESIGN

Sources and characteristics of water and waste water; principles of designs for units and processes in water and wastewater treatment plants; EPA and state requirements. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour design/computational laboratory. Prerequisites: CET 345 and ES 354.

CET 458. TRAFFIC ANALYSIS AND CONTROL

A fundamental treatment of the elements of traffic studies and data collection, geometric design, capacity analysis and evaluation, and control, operations and management.

CET 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Specialized study. Prerequisite: junior standing, definition of problem and permission of instructor six weeks prior to beginning of quarter.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

EET 210. INTRODUCTION TO ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

An introduction to electrical engineering technology with elementary digital logic, and an introduction to laboratory equipment, measurements and technical report writing. One three-hour lab. Prerequisite: MATH 166 Calculus I.

EET 350. CIRCUIT ANALYSIS I

An introduction to basic circuit analysis including DC and AC circuits, network theorems and Kirchhoff's Laws. Course is designed for and restricted to engineering technology majors. Non-majors may be admitted only with the instructor's approval. Four single lectures and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: PHYS 252, EET 210, and MAT 167.

EET 351. ELECTRONICS I

An introduction to basic solid state devices including diodes, BJT's and FET's and their applications in rectifiers, amplifiers and power supplies. Four single lectures and one three-hour lab period. Corequisite: EET 350.

EET 352. PROGRAMMABLE CONTROLLERS

A study of sequential programmable logic controllers (PLCs) as applied to industrial processes with emphasis on ladder diagrams, input/output devices, application programming of design of beginning through advanced functions, systems and networking. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisites: EET 350.

EET 353. CIRCUIT ANALYSIS II

A continuation of EET 350. Topics include AC Power, Polyphase Circuits, Transformers, Resonant Circuits, LaPlace Transforms incircuit Analysis, Transfer Functions, Fourier Analysis Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 350 and Math 264.

EET 354. ELECTRONICS II

A continuation of EET 351. Topics include FET devices and amplifiers, power amplifiers, operational amplifiers, multistage amplifiers, feedback amplifiers, oscillators, tuned amplifiers, and regulated power supplies. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisites: EET 351 and EET 353.

EET 360. RF AMPLIFIER DESIGN

An introduction to modern techniques for RF amplifier design. The course concentrates on lumped element circuits in the frequency range 1-1000 Mhz, RF amplifiers, oscillators and mixers, and RF receivers. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 351.

EET 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN EET

This course is designed to provide for study of electrical engineering technology course topics not generally offered by the department. One to 15 credits.

EET 420. ADVANCED INSTRUMENTATION

A study of various types of oscilloscopes, logic analyzers, data acquisition methods, spectrum analyzers, and instrumentation interfaces. One hour lecture and one two-hour lab. Prerequisite: EET 462 and Senior standing.

EET 450. INDUSTRIAL ELECTRONICS

Industrial applications of electronic devices including SCR's, Triacs, switching circuits, timers, motor controls, and optical devices. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 351 and EET 353.

EET 451. ROTATING MACHINES

DC and AC (single and polyphase) motors and generators, energy converters and transformers. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 353.

EET 452. ELECTRICAL DISTRIBUTION

A study of electrical power distribution, primarily the national electrical code-residential and industrial, with emphasis on services, feeders, branch circuits, metering, voltage drops, sizing of conductors, demand limiting, etc. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 451.

EET 455. ENGINEERING MEASUREMENTS

Theory and practice of engineering measurements. Transducers, computer-aided signal acquisition, conditioning and analysis. Thermal, mechanical and fluid measurement applications, report writing. This course is cross listed with MET 455. Three single hour lectures and two double hour labs. Prerequisites: EET 350 or ES 355, and Senior Standing.

EET 456. DIGITAL CIRCUITS

A study of basic asynchronous and synchronous logic circuits. Topics include logic functions, Boolean operations, logic families, combinational logic, flip flops, counters, registers, and memory systems. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab period. Corequisite: EET 351 or permission of the instructor.

EET 457. COMMUNICATIONS ELECTRONICS

A study of the devices and circuits within modern electronics communications systems. Basic RF transmission and receiving systems, antennas, audio signal processing, and other selected topics are included. Four single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 354.

EET 458. MICROPROCESSORS

A study of operation and application of Z80 Microprocessor. Course topics include microprocessor architecture, memory, peripheral devices, interfacing and microprogramming. Four single lectures and one two-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 456 or permission of instructor.

EET 459. CONTROL SYSTEMS

An introduction to feedback control theory including block diagrams, transfer functions, stability properties of feedback, and classical design methods. Five lecture periods. Prerequisite: EET 353.

EET 462. OPERATIONAL AMPLIFIERS

An introduction to operational amplifiers, including ideal amplifiers, basic feedback structures, op-amp characteristics, regulators, filters, and non-linear circuits. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 351.

EET 465. ELECTRONIC ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY SENIOR PROJECT

Individually applied "Product Design and Build" project that includes specifications, scheduling, computer-aided engineering and design (CAE/CAD), printed circuit board fabrication and performance testing. Other requirements are weekly progress reporting, oral presentations, and a comprehensive written report. Two double lecture periods and one two-hour lab period. Prerequisite: Senior Standing in EET.

EET 467. ELECTRIC POWER SYSTEMS

A study of electric power transmission systems that includes basic energy principles, synchronous generation, power transformers, and load short circuit analysis. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab period. Prerequisite: EET 451.

EET 477. FIBER OPTIC COMMUNICATIONS

Fiber optic technology as applied to communication systems. Study of various types of optical fibers, laser and LED, photodiodes, optical connectors and optical systems. Five lecture periods. Prerequisite: EET 354 or permission of instructor.

EET 490. DIRECTED INDEPENDENT STUDY

An individualized study involving research and applications pertaining to electrical engineering technology. Credit 1-5 hours. Prerequisites: senior standing and definition of project six weeks prior to enrollment.

EET 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Specialized study in areas of electrical engineering technology not otherwise offered in the elective program. May be taken for repeated credit up to 10 hours.

INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY*IET 320. INDUSTRIAL SAFETY

Development, programs, and practices of safety in modern industry. Two single lecture periods. Prerequisite: None.

IET 333. INTRODUCTION TO INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

An overview of the field of industrial engineering technology including its historical development and its application to the usual industrial organization. Many of the topics considered will be further developed in specific major courses that follow. An integral part of the course will be guest speakers and field trips, some of which will involve additional time beyond the scheduled class hour. Three single lecture periods. Prerequisite: ES 121.

IET 335. JOB EVALUATION

A survey of the basic principles and significance of job evaluation. An analysis of current practices and techniques used in job analysis, job descriptions, and job evaluation. Prerequisite: IET 333. Three single lecture periods.

IET 352. PRODUCTIVITY MEASUREMENT AND IMPROVEMENT

A study of various methods and tools used in industry and business to measure and improve work productivity. Content areas include: motion study, time study, predetermined time standards systems, work factors, work sampling, incentive systems, ergonomics, and other special topics for methods improvement and work measurement. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab.

IET 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN IET

This course is designed to provide for study of industrial engineering technology course topics not generally offered by the department. One to 15 credits.

IET 422. PROJECT PLANNING AND CONTROL

The study of project scheduling and management, including program evaluation and review technique (PERT), critical path methods (CPM), line balancing techniques, job scheduling, and related problems. Computer applications will be used for selected topics. One lecture period and one two-hour lab period. Prerequisites: Math 152 or 165, IET 333 or permission of instructor.

IET 431. SENIOR PROJECT

Directed work on individual projects for senior industrial engineering technology students. Prerequisite: Senior standing in IET.

IET 450. PRODUCTION PLANNING

Planning, tooling, production, and material problems involved in the manufacture of products. Five single lecture periods. Prerequisite: IET 451.

IET 451. PLANT LAYOUT AND MATERIALS HANDLING

The fundamental theories, practices, and methods for the design of manufacturing and service facilities; materials handling equipment and services. Three single lecture periods and two two-hour labs. Prerequisites: IET 320, IET 352, or consent of the instructor.

IET 452. INTRODUCTION TO ROBOTICS AND COMPUTER INTEGRATED MANUFACTURING

An introduction to basic robotics and computer integrated manufacturing and their applications in industries. Lab experiments are designed to give students the hands-on experience on the programming and integration of robots and CIM technologies in real manufacturing systems. Five credit hours. Three single lecture periods and two two-hour labs. Prerequisite: Math 152, ES 231, or consent of the instructor.

IET 453. INDUSTRIAL SYSTEMS SIMULATION

The modeling and analysis of real-world industrial systems by discrete and/or continuous simulation methods. Some popular simulation software packages will be taught and used as the modeling tool. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory. Prerequisites: One computer programming course, ES 231, CSC 232 or equivalent.

IET 481. ENGINEERING ECONOMY

The principles and techniques needed to make decisions about the acquisition and retirement of capital goods; the output and life of equipment, its operating costs, its depreciation rates and its economic selection. Five single lecture periods. Prerequisite: Math 152 or 165.

IET 490. DIRECTED INDEPENDENT STUDY

An individualized study involving research and applications pertaining to Industrial Engineering Technology. Credit 1-5 hours. Prerequisite: Senior standing and definition of project 6 weeks prior to enrollment.

IET 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Specialized study in areas of Industrial Engineering Technology not otherwise offered in the elective program. May be taken for repeated credit up to 15 hours.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

MET 340. KINEMATICS OF MACHINES

Kinematic analysis and design of the basic machine components and an introduction to mechanism synthesis. Three double periods. Prerequisite: ES 252.

MET 343. MATERIALS PROCESSING

Traditional as well as modern processing techniques. Limitation on the use of different materials and their processing, metal-casting processes and equipment, forming and shaping processes and equipment, material-removal processes and machines, joining processes and equipment. Should be taken simultaneously with the laboratory course MFG 333 - which provides Lab experience on the above topics.

Four single lectures weekly. Prerequisites: MET 451.

MET 352. APPLICATIONS OF THERMAL SCIENCE I

Technological applications of thermodynamics including production of power, refrigeration, air conditioning, and combustion. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab. Prerequisites: ES 351 and ES 354.

MET 354. AUTOMATION & COMPUTER INTEGRATED MANUFACTURING SYSTEMS

Fundamental concept in manufacturing, automation, and various topics in production and related control systems. These include numerical control, industrial robots, computer integrated manufacturing systems and flexible manufacturing systems. Four lectures and one two-hour lab weekly. Prerequisites: TD 130, TD 120, ES 231.

MET 399. SELECTION TOPICS IN MET

This course is designed to provide for study of mechanical engineering technology course topics not generally offered by the department. One to 15 credits.

MET 435. MACHINE COMPONENT DESIGN

The detailed design of components such as gears, bearings, clutches, brakes, springs and cams. Prerequisite: MET 456.

MET 446. HEAT TRANSFER

An introduction to basic energy transport by conduction, convection and radiation. Applications to extended surfaces, heat exchanger, etc. Three single lecture periods and one two-hour lab. Prerequisite: MAT 167.

MET 451. MATERIALS SCIENCE

Study of engineering materials such as metals and alloys. Atomic structure and arrangement; control of the microstructure and mechanical properties of materials; mechanical testing, metallography, cooling curves, and phase diagrams. Four single lectures and one two-hour lab weekly. Prerequisite: CHE 171.

MET 452. APPLICATIONS OF THERMAL SCIENCE II

A continuation of MET 352. Air conditioning, refrigeration, and heating pump cycles. Calculations of heating and cooling loads in accordance with ASHRAE practices. Design projects are included. Four single lecture periods, one two-hour lab. Prerequisite: ES 351.

MET 455. ENGINEERING MEASUREMENTS

Theory and practice of engineering measurements. Transducers, computer-aided signal acquisition, conditioning and analysis.

Thermal, mechanical and fluid measurement applications, report writing. This course is cross listed with EET 455. Three single hour lectures and two double-hour labs.

Prerequisites: EET 350 or ES 355 and Senior Standing.

MET 456. MACHINE DESIGN

Principles of mechanical design\the design of machine elements with consideration given to strength requirements, fatigue, material properties and modes of failure. Computer applications are stressed. Prerequisite: ES 253.

MET 457. MECHANICAL SYSTEMS DESIGN

A senior design course requiring that the student call upon all of his academic preparation in the solution of mechanical systems problems. Five double periods. Prerequisites: MET 456, MET 435 and MET 340.

MET 459. VIBRATIONS

Free and forced vibrations of one, two and multi-degree-of-freedom systems. Theory is developed and applied to practical cases. Four single lecture periods and one two-hour lab. Prerequisite: ES 252.

MET 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN MECHANICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

Individual and specialized study in areas of mechanical engineering technology not otherwise covered in the student's program.

Prerequisite: senior standing, identification and definition of a problem or study area and approval of the instructor six weeks prior to the beginning of the quarter.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY

Professors: K. Hickman, Chair; D. Ross and S. Williams

Associate Professors: T. Belanyi, L. Fine, J. Holmes, W. Meeks, C. Perry, L. Selvidge, and D. Williams

Assistant Professors: S. Altayeb, C. Beard, G. Duncan, H. Mortensen, and J. Stoudt

The Department of Industrial Technology is responsible for the following course offerings:

APPAREL DESIGN AND MANUFACTURING

ADM 257. BASIC STITCHOLOGY

A study of seam types, stitch formations and their application to various garment construction features. Five single periods. Prerequisite: MFG 150.

ADM 430. APPAREL TRADE AND REGULATION

Student will become familiar with internal and external controls and limitations of the apparel industry. Field trips will combine with lecture and discussion techniques and presentations by appropriate industry management. Prerequisite: TFM 364.

ADM 452. ADVANCED APPAREL PRODUCTION

The study of garment development and manufacturing including costing, cutting room processes and trim selection. Prerequisites: ADM 350 and ADM 351.

ADM 454. QUALITY CONTROL/TESTING

Investigation of performance and quality control standards of textile fibers, yarns, fabrications, finishes and the resulting apparel. Actual fabric performance tests will be conducted. Prerequisites: TFM 168 & 364, ADM 430, 450, 451, 452 and 453.

ADM 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN APPAREL MANUFACTURING.

Individual research in the technology associated with apparel manufacturing. Variable credit. Prerequisites: Definition of the problem and permission of the instructor prior to the beginning of the quarter.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION AND CONTRACTING

BCC 230. CONSTRUCTION STATICS

A study of statics as focused on the needs of the builder. Topics include analysis of coplanar determinant static forces, bending moment and shear diagrams, friction, trusses and frames, and centroids and moments of inertia. Prerequisite: PHY 251. Two single periods and one double period.

BCC 240. CONSTRUCTION STRENGTH OF MATERIALS

A study of applied strength of construction materials. Topics include stresses and strains; property of materials; shear, bending moment, and deflection in beams; and column analysis. Prerequisite: BCC 230. Three single lecture periods and one double period lab.

BCC 251. CONSTRUCTION SURVEYING

An introduction to the equipment and techniques used for construction layout. Topics include taping, leveling, angle and bearing determinations, traverse computations, topographic surveying and project layout. Prerequisites: MAT 152, MAT 255 and BCC 252. Three single-lecture periods and two double-lab periods.

BCC 252. ARCHITECTURAL GRAPHICS AND PRINT READING

A study of construction working drawings. Sketching techniques for the presentation of floor plans, elevations, sections, and building components. A study to familiarize the student with the use of computer aided drafting and design in the development of construction drawings. Three single lecture periods and two double lab periods.

BCC 332. HISTORY OF ARCHITECTURE AND CONSTRUCTION

A study of architectural history and construction. Topics include architectural styles, historically significant buildings, construction methods, and notable architects and builders. Prerequisite: ENG 271, BCC 252 and satisfy Area III History requirements. Three single lecture periods.

BCC 340. WOOD STRUCTURES

A study of materials, systems, construction methods, and structural analysis of wood as it applies to building construction. Topics include: fundamental properties and characteristics of wood; strength analysis of wood and wood fasteners; introduction to wood framed systems; and an analogy of the methods used in the design, production and erection of wood construction. Prerequisites: BCC 250, CHE 171. Four single lecture periods.

BCC 341. SITE CONSTRUCTION

Fundamentals of site and foundation layout, earth movement and equipment, protection of excavations and adjacent buildings, foundation types and horizontal construction on building sites. Prerequisites: BCC 240, BCC 251, CHE 171, GLY 15. Two single-lecture periods and two double lab periods.

BCC 342. QUANTITY ESTIMATING

A study of construction estimating with emphasis on quantity take-off and specifications including the techniques of interpreting and visualizing construction drawings. All 16 divisions of the CSI Master Format will be covered. Prerequisite: BCC 350. Two single lecture periods and two double lab periods. (CSI-Construction Specifications Institute).

BCC 343. ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT AND SYSTEMS

A study of Electrical Equipment and Systems as related to the building construction industry. Topics include principles of electrical power, lighting and signal systems and electrical codes. Prerequisite: PHY 253 and BCC 252. Three single lecture periods and one double lab period.

BCC 350. BUILDING MATERIALS AND SYSTEMS

A study of materials, systems, and methods of construction. Topics include material properties, selection and application criteria and construction processes. Covers divisions 7-14 of CSI masterformat. Prerequisites: BCC 250, BCC 252, CHE 171. Five single lecture periods.

BCC 351. MECHANICAL EQUIPMENT AND SYSTEMS

A study of Mechanical Equipment and Systems as related to the building construction industry. The course is composed of two parts. Part one addresses thermo flow and ventilation characteristics, air handling systems, and mechanical codes. Part two addresses domestic water and waste systems, fire sprinkler and standpipe systems, and plumbing codes. Prerequisites: MAT 152, PHY 252 and BCC 252. Five single lecture periods.

BCC 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION AND CONTRACTING

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to allow the exploration of undergraduate topics within building construction and contracting. Course offerings shall carry a subtitle for topic identification. Prerequisite: Instructor permission.

BCC 420. CONSTRUCTION SAFETY

A study of safe construction site management techniques. Topics include hidden costs of accidents, workers' compensation, OSHA regulations, construction disasters, safe construction training and planning. Prerequisites: Senior class standing in BCC. Two single lecture periods.

BCC 431. BUILDING CODES

A study of codes used in the building construction industry with special emphasis on the Standard Building Code and the Life Safety Code. Prerequisites: ENG 271, BCC 350, BCC 440, BCC 441 or consent of instructor. Three single periods.

BCC 432. PROJECT CONTROL

An integrated budget-schedule project control during the entire life of the project, with more emphasis on the construction phase. Topics include the concept of Work Package Breakdown Structure (WPBS), resource loading within work packages, updating budget forecasting. Prerequisites: BCC 443 and BCC

444. Three hours lecture.

BCC 440. CONCRETE AND MASONRY STRUCTURES

A study of materials, systems, and construction of concrete and masonry as it applies to building construction. Topics include fundamental properties of concrete; formwork design and construction; concrete reinforcing and accessories; concrete handling, finishing, and curing; field testing of concrete; masonry and mortar materials and accessories; and masonry construction. Prerequisite: BCC 340. Three single-lecture periods and one double-lab period.

BCC 441. STEEL STRUCTURES

A study of materials, systems, construction methods, and the structural analysis of steel as it applies to building construction. Topics include fundamental properties and characteristics of steel; strength to steel framed systems; and an analogy of the methods used in the design, production and erection of structural steel. Prerequisites: BCC 240 and CHE 171. Three single-lecture periods and one double-lab period.

BCC 442. WOOD STRUCTURES

A study of materials, systems, construction methods, and structural analysis of wood as it applies to building construction. Topics include: fundamental properties and characteristics of wood; strength analysis of wood and wood fasteners; introduction to wood framed systems; and an analogy of the methods used in the design, production and erection of wood construction. Prerequisites: BCC 240, BCC 252 and CHE 171. Four single lecture periods.

BCC 443. CONSTRUCTION COST ESTIMATING

Course topics include direct and indirect costs, labor and equipment analysis, price adjustments, purpose of cost estimates and review of related finance topics. The students are introduced to the cost estimating manuals and software in the preparation of cost estimates. Prerequisites: BCC 342. Four single lecture periods.

BCC 444. PROJECT PLANNING AND SCHEDULING

Fundamentals and techniques of scheduling and planning for construction projects. Topics include bar charts, critical path method using both arrow and precedence networks, CPM calculations, lags and leads, cost-time trade-offs, PERT, resource leveling, and updating schedules during construction. Students will be introduced to the use of the scheduling software. Prerequisites: Junior or senior status in BCC program. Four single lecture periods.

BCC 454. SENIOR PROJECT

An exercise in the total planning of a simulated building construction project utilizing major elements of the BCC program as evidenced by the production of written and drafted information and the completion of standardized documentation. Primary emphasis is on the development of building and the compliance with building code and handicap access requirements, coordination of engineering elements, completion of typical construction documentation and production of a project estimate and schedule. Prerequisites: All BCC 300 and 400 level coursework or consent of instructor. Required BCC coursework may be taken concurrently with this course. One single-lecture period and four double-lab periods.

BCC 490. SEMINAR IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

A seminar designed to expose BCC students to pertinent advances and relevant topics of the construction industry. Presenters from the faculty and the construction industry host seminar sessions designed to enhance the professional development of BCC students. All BCC students must enroll each quarter after achieving junior class standing. Credits may be applied to graduation requirements. Prerequisite: Junior class standing BCC major.

BCC 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

Individualized study in the area of building construction and contracting not otherwise available in the student's program. Credit variable from one-five quarter hours depending on magnitude of study. Prerequisites: Permission from instructor six weeks prior to beginning of quarter in which study is to take place.

GENERAL TECHNOLOGY

GT 152. MAN, TECHNOLOGY, AND TRANSPORTATION

The methods and means for employing energy in land, water, air and space transportation systems.

GT 165. TECHNOLOGY, SCIENCE AND ENVIRONMENT

A systematic investigation of the constructs of technology in terms of their bases in scientific principles and their impact on the global environment.

GT 199. SELECTED TOPICS IN TECHNOLOGY
This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in technology and will carry a subtitle.

GT 353. METHODS AND MATERIALS OF CONSTRUCTION

A survey of the construction enterprise and fundamental exploration of the commonly used building materials and methods.

GT 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN TECHNOLOGY
This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in technology and will carry a subtitle.

GT 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN TECHNOLOGY

Individual research in technology. Variable credit. Prerequisites: Definition of the problem and permission of the instructor prior to the beginning of the quarter.

GT 499. SPECIAL PROBLEMS/CO-OP

One credit hour

GT 599. SELECTED TOPICS IN TECHNOLOGY

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in technology and will carry a subtitle.

INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT

IM 351. INTRODUCTION TO INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT

The development, organization and operation of manufacturing industries.

IM 352. STATISTICAL QUALITY CONTROL

The application of statistics for the control of quality. The study will include quality systems and audits, techniques and procedures in the manufacturing environment. Emphasis is placed on statistical process control, sampling procedures, design of experiments, quality costs, and reliability. Three lectures and four hours laboratory. Prerequisites: Math 255 or consent of instructor.

IM 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in Industrial Management and will carry a subtitle.

IM 451. SENIOR PROJECTS

An application course in manufacturing projects including planning, controlling, and cost estimating as well as selection of materials and processes suitable for efficient production. Prerequisites: MT 450, IET 450, IET 422 or consent of the instructor.

IM 452. MANAGEMENT PROBLEMS IN INDUSTRY

A senior level industrial management seminar treatment of actual problems related to industrial production, quality control, quality assurance, and other related industrial management areas. Prerequisite: IM 332, senior standing or permission of instructor.

IM 471. INDUSTRIAL SUPERVISION

The practical problems of front line supervision and the application of manufacturing management and leadership principles to individuals and groups. Prerequisite: IM 351.

IM 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT

Individual research in the area of industrial production. Prerequisite: definition of the problem, permission of the instructor six weeks prior to the beginning of the quarter and a "B" or better average in IM 351 and 452. Variable credit.

IM 550. ERGONOMICS

A study of the application of human factors and employee input in the design, planning, control and operation of industrial systems. Emphasis will be placed on participatory ergonomics as it relates to the involvement of workers in decisions which directly affect their well-being. Topics include a broad scope of physiological and psychological factors and how they relate to the successful operation of a system. Five single lecture periods per week. Prerequisites: IET 320, IM 471, 5 hrs. Psychology.

IM 551. COMPUTER INTEGRATED MANUFACTURING

The design and development of manufacturing processes into an integrated system for flexible control of automated production. Prerequisites: ES 231, MFG 450 or consent of instructor.

IM 552. INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE

A study of occupational health approaches for anticipating and avoiding harmful situations in an industrial environment, which may have an adverse effect on the employees health, comfort and performance. Five single lecture periods. Prerequisite: 5 hours Chemistry, MFG 150 or IM 351, or IET 320, or consent of instructor.

IM 553. HAZARDOUS WASTE MANAGEMENT

This course describes hazardous waste substances and their management by combining planning, organizing and control techniques with a knowledge of generation, storing, transporting, treating, recycling and disposing of hazardous waste so potential manufacturing or industrial management problems can be solved. Regulations, legal aspects, and technical controversies surrounding today's hazardous waste management for a cleaner environment are also presented. Prerequisite: Five hours Chemistry.

IM 554. HUMAN RESOURCE PROTECTION

A study of the fundamental theories, practices, and methods of protecting the human resources within the industrial work environment. Emphasis is placed on the management of a variety of protection programs including: hazard recognition and control, fire protection, OSHA compliance. Five hours lecture.

MANUFACTURING*MFG 150. THE MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISE

A study of the activities common to manufacturing companies in the free enterprise system. Students are engaged in academic study paralleled with organizing, owning and operating a simulated company which develops, produces, and markets a competitive product for a profit.

MFG 250. THE INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISE

A study of the historical, present, and future perspective of the technology man has created as part of the free enterprise system. The integration of people, machines and materials into production systems to meet mankind's needs and wants for goods and services.

MFG 333. MACHINING, FORMING AND FABRICATION PRACTICUM

A general study and practicum of machining, forming and fabrication techniques utilized in industry including conventional machining, CNC machining, layout development, bending and forming press work, foundry, mechanical assembly and welding. One single-lecture and two double-lab periods. Prerequisites: TD 120, TD 130, and MET 354 Corequisite: MET 343.

MFG 350. INDUSTRIAL PROCESSES AND MATERIALS

A study of the manufacturing processes utilized by industry to cut, shape, form, fasten and finish materials into industrial products. An emphasis is placed on the properties of common industrial materials such as metals, plastics, ceramics, etc. and their manufacturing appropriateness and adaptability to various manufacturing processes. No prerequisites.

MFG 351. INDUSTRIAL MAINTENANCE PRACTICES AND PROCEDURES

A study of the industrial maintenance practices and procedures necessary in a manufacturing production environment. Topics include preventive maintenance, maintenance scheduling, mechanical systems maintenance and electrical electronic systems maintenance.

MFG 352. METAL MACHINING

A study of metal working machine tool technology in manufacturing. Knowledge about and skill development in the machining arts of grinding, drilling, turning, milling and the related areas of meteorology, tooling and metallurgy. Three single periods and four hours laboratory. Prerequisite: TD 150.

MFG 353. METAL FORMING AND FABRICATION

A study of metal forming and fabrication techniques including layout, development, bending and forming presswork, metal castings, mechanical assembly and welding. Three single periods and four hours laboratory. Prerequisite: TD 150.

MFG 354. ENERGY/POWER SYSTEMS

The conversion, transmission, storage and control of energy in industry and in modern means of transportation. Three single and two double periods. Prerequisite: TD 150, Math 151.

MFG 355. FLUID POWER

The principles and applications of hydraulics and pneumatics as a means of operating and controlling fluid devices and to multiply force and transmit energy. Four single and one double period. Prerequisite: Math 152, TD 150.

MFG 356. ELECTRICAL TECHNOLOGY

A study of basic electrical concepts and their application. D.C. A.C. and elementary electronics topics are included. Prerequisite: Math 151. Three single and two double periods.

MFG 357. ELECTRONICS TECHNOLOGY

A beginning level electronics course designed for those desiring a practical/applied knowledge of electronics such as that commonly needed in areas of Industrial Technology, Industrial Arts and Vocational Education. Course topics stress solid state electronics devices, electronics test equipment and commonly encountered electronics circuitry. Prerequisite: MFG 356, or permission of instructor.

MFG 358. WOOD TECHNOLOGY

The kinds, nature, and properties of wood, the tools and processes common to the wood using industries. Three single and two double periods. Prerequisite: TD 150.

MFG 360. WORLD CLASS MANUFACTURING

A comprehensive study of World Class Manufacturing precepts of Just-In-Time Production, Total Quality Control, Total Productive Maintenance, and Total Employee

Involvement. Manufacturing systems are developed, and trial runs are conducted, and evaluated. Prerequisite: MFG 150 or permission of the instructor. Three lecture and four lab hours per week. Prerequisite: MFG 150 or permission from instructor.

MFG 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN MANUFACTURING

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in manufacturing and will carry a subtitle.

MFG 450. COMPUTER AIDED MACHINING

A study of modern industrial metal working technologies with emphasis on computer aided manufacturing, computer aided design and numerical control machining. Three single periods and four hours laboratory. Prerequisites: ES 321, MFG 352.

MFG 490. MANUFACTURING PRACTICUM

A team-taught, applied manufacturing-production course in which the student applies the concepts of efficient productivity and manufacturing. Five single periods and ten hours of laboratory. Prerequisites: ES 231, MFG 358, MFG 356, MFG 353, IM 351, and senior standing. Variable Credit.

MFG 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN MANUFACTURING

Individual research in the technology associated with manufacturing. Variable credit. Prerequisites: Definition of the problem and permission of the instructor prior to the beginning of the quarter.

PRINTING MANAGEMENT

PM 250. GRAPHIC ARTS I

This course is an introduction to the printing processes such as flexography, photo-offset, screen process, and gravure. Also includes the related areas of graphic design, composition, photography, presswork, paper and ink, binding and finishing operations. Three single and two double periods.

PM 332. PRINTING INKS AND SUBSTRATES

This course is an introduction to the dynamic relationship between printing inks and the materials on which they are printed. Areas of concern include the manufacturing processes and characteristics of inks and papers, testing procedures and various other substrates. Three single periods. Prerequisite: PM 250.

PM 336. DESKTOP PUBLISHING

This course will cover basic desktop publishing procedures for the printing and publishing applications. Word processing, graphics, and page assembly applications in a variety of computer environments. Will be including two hours lecture and two hours lab per week.

PM 345. LAW AND ETHICS OF PRINTING INDUSTRY

A survey of laws governing the printing industry including discussions of First Amendment issues, libel, copyright, obscenity, business regulation of advertising, the environment and labor and ethical concerns and decision making.

PM 350. GRAPHIC ARTS TECHNOLOGY II

This course is a study of films, chemistry, equipment and photomechanical methods of the printing industry, including line, halftone and special effects. Three single classes and two double laboratory sessions. Prerequisite: PM 250.

PM 365. IMAGE PREPARATION

Image Preparation is a study of layout and composition techniques used in the printing industry. The specific topics include hand and mechanical processes, photo-mechanical processes, and computer generated composition (electronic publishing). Three single classes and two double laboratory sessions.

PM 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN PRINTING

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in printing and will carry a subtitle.

PM 432. PRINTING PRODUCTION

A systematic and analytical approach to achieving an efficient production system in all areas of printing. Topics include elements of plant layout, work simplification, work measurement, and related areas. Three single periods.

PM 434. QUALITY CONTROL IN THE PRINTING INDUSTRY

An introduction to the technical quality control methods and systems used in the printing industry. Quality control production standards, targets, procedures and theories are included along with statistical process control methods specific to the printing industry. Three single periods. Prerequisite: PM 432.

PM 451. INDUSTRIAL PRACTICUM

This course is designed for direct observation and work experience with the local printing industry. The student is exposed to problems, practices, management structures and work ethics. Eight contact hours/work. Prerequisites: PM 350 Majors ONLY.

PM 452. GRAPHIC ARTS TECHNOLOGY III

This course is designed to introduce the student to film assemble and presswork. Topics: Imposition layouts, film assembly, platemaking, proofing systems, and press operation. Three single classes and two double laboratory sessions. Prerequisites: PM 332, PM 365, and PM 350.

PM 453. COLOR REPRODUCTION

This course is an exploration of professional color reproduction concepts and procedures including color theory and copy evaluation, special techniques, production variables, photographic and electronic separation methods and an introduction to digital scanning. Three single classes and two double laboratory sessions. Prerequisites: PM 452 and PM 365.

PM 455. ESTIMATING

This course is designed to acquaint the student with various types of estimating practices found in the printing industry. Prerequisite: PM 453.

PM 456. IMAGING SCIENCE I

Imaging Science I is a course in digital imaging as it relates to the printing and publishing industry. The course will cover a variety of computer environments including the Macintosh and MS-DOS. Specific topics include various DOS systems, file transfers between systems, related hardware, software, input and output devices, and advanced computer aided publishing procedures. Three single classes and two double lab sessions. Prerequisites: PM 336, Desktop Publishing; PM 365, Image Preparation.

PM 457. IMAGING SCIENCE II

Imaging Science II is a course on color imaging using the computer. The course focuses on digital imagery related to the creation, editing and proofing of commercial quality color for the printing and publishing industry. Various kinds and qualities of compute input including scanning, still and motion imagery will be covered. Electronic and digital output devices for proofing, film and plate generation will be studied. Three single classes and two double lab sessions. Prerequisites: PM 456 and PM 453.

PM 460. PRESENTATION GRAPHICS

Presentation Graphics is a study of digital (computer related) imaging for presentations. The course will cover the creation of digital visual images such as slides, overheads, transparencies, video import, animation, and simulation used in industrial applications related to printing technology. Three single classes and two double laboratory sessions. Prerequisites: PM 365 or PM 336 or permission of instructor.

PM 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS

This course is designed for individual research in printing management. Variable credit. Prerequisites: PM 452 & PM 365; definition of the problem prior to the beginning of the quarter. Permission of instructor.

PM 499. INTERNSHIP

This course is designed for students to receive practical work experience with an approved printing firm. A total of 400 contact hours with the printer is required. Approval of internship coordinator required. Prerequisites: PM 451. PM Majors ONLY.

TECHNICAL DRAFTING AND DESIGN

TD 130. TECHNICAL DRAWING

A basic drafting course with emphasis on manual drafting skills and projection theory and practice. Two single and one double period.

TD 150. TECHNICAL DRAFTING

The fundamentals of planning and drawing with emphasis on drafting skill and technique applied to graphical and technical analysis. Three single and two double periods.

TD 152. ARCHITECTURAL GRAPHICS

A study of graphics used to represent architectural applications including building plans, sketching, blueprint reading, perspectives and other techniques. Three lecture and two double-lab periods.

TD 220. COMPUTER DRAFTING

A basic computer aided drafting course. One single period and one double period. Prerequisite: TD 130 or equivalent or permission of instructor.

TD 231. DESCRIPTIVE GEOMETRY

The fundamental theories underlying the graphical description, in geometrical terms, of the shape, size and space relationships of geometrical magnitudes. One single and two double periods.

TD 330. TECHNICAL ILLUSTRATION

A study of techniques used for preparation and illustration of technical data and devices in industrial, scientific, educational, and consumer service. One single and two double periods.

TD 333. COMPUTER AIDED DRAFTING AND DESIGN

Computer aided drafting (CAD) and design. One single-periods and two double-period. Prerequisites: TD 150 or TD 152, or TD 130 and TD 220.

TD 334. INDUSTRIAL DESIGN

Design as a process; planning and creative decision making activities; use of basic concepts and the manipulation of technical knowledge for the purpose of creating new knowledge. Prerequisites: TD 150, MK 350, WT 350.

TD 350. INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION DRAFTING

A sequel to TD 150 concentrating on technical drafting from the production-manufacturing standpoint. Topics include detailed working drawings, tolerances, jigs, fixtures and the like. Three single periods and four hours laboratory. Prerequisite: TD 150.

TD 399. SELECTED TOPICS IN DRAFTING

This course is scheduled on an infrequent basis to explore special areas in drafting and will carry a subtitle.

TD 495. SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN TECHNICAL DRAFTING AND DESIGN

An opportunity for individual research and experimentation in design or drafting. Prerequisite: Definition of the problem and permission of the instructor six weeks prior to beginning of the quarter. Variable credit.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY SCIENCE

Professor of Military Science: Lieutenant

Colonel George Kockeisen

Assistant Professors: Major Randy Cox, Captain Don Police, Cyprien Laporte

Senior Instructor: Master Sergeant Usher Appling

Instructors: Sergeant First Class Frederick Wright, Sergeant Suk Park

The Department of Military Science conducts the Department of the Army Senior ROTC Program which is divided into two phases. The basic course, consisting of the courses listed immediately below is normally open to freshmen and sophomore students only. Basic course students incur no service obligation and are provided an opportunity to sample ROTC and U.S. Army offerings. Basic course students are eligible to compete for two and three year academic scholarships. Scholarship recipients receive full tuition costs, fees, a textbook allowance, plus $100 a month for up to 10 months each year.

All students entering Military Science courses should have a statement from a physician attesting that the student is capable of participating in strenuous physical activities. This statement must be no more than one year old from time of entry.

The advanced course is recommended for students who have completed the Basic Course and desire to pursue a commission in the US Army.

BASIC COURSE (MS I AND II)

MS 101. INTRODUCTION TO MOUNTAINEERING

Instruction and practical exercises introducing the fundamental of mountaineering (climbing, rappelling, belaying, and rope-bridging techniques). Emphasis is placed on knot-tying, safety procedures, and the use of group dynamics to expand the learning experience in a wilderness environment. Basic first aid subjects are included in the course. One weekend field trip is required. Acceptable as a P.E. requirement. Credit: 1 hour.

MS 102. INTRODUCTION TO MILITARY SCIENCE

Instruction provides a basic understanding of the U.S. Army and its role in national defense. The course includes the following subjects: The role of the U.S. Army in national defense, organization and branches of the U.S. Army, map reading, customs and traditions of the service, military writing, implement a personal physical fitness program, leadership, role of the ARNG and USAR, and the role of the noncommissioned officer. Credit: 1 hour.

MS 103. BASIC MILITARY LEADERSHIP

Instruction covers the fundamentals of Army leadership and management techniques. This is accomplished through lectures and discussions on leadership and management theories, special readings and student presentations. Credit: 1 hour.

MS 201. LAND NAVIGATION/MAP READING

Instruction on the skills required to accomplish cross country navigation using a compass and/or a map. The course will incorporate the use of military map symbols and identification of terrain features depicted on a military map. Credit: 1 hour.

MS 202. INDIVIDUAL MILITARY SKILLS

Instruction in various individual military skills and professional knowledge subjects to include basic first aid, survival, and communications. Credit: 1 hour.

MS 203. BASIC TACTICS

Instruction on the mission, organization and composition of small unit teams, principles of offensive and defensive operations stressing firepower, movement and communication techniques; and introduction to troop leading procedures. Credit: 1 hour.

ADVANCED COURSE (MS III AND IV)

MS 324. ADVANCED TACTICS I

Instruction on the fundamentals of leadership and the leader's role in directing individuals and small units in offensive and defensive tactics. Emphasis is placed on developing and executing orders under a given scenario, and troop leading procedures. Land navigation and communication subjects are also included in the course. Credit: 2 hours.

MS 325. ADVANCED TACTICS II

Instruction on the fundamentals of leadership and the leader's role in directing small and large units in offensive and defensive tactics. Emphasis is placed on squad tactical reaction procedures, patrolling techniques and conducting after-action reviews. Credit: 2 hours.

MS 326. ADVANCED LEADERSHIP

Instruction on management, leadership and motivation techniques which relates to both civilian and military environments. Emphasis is placed on green tab leadership and leadership assessment. Subjects deemed necessary as final preparation for advanced summer training are also included in the course. Credit: 2 hours.

MS 424. COMMAND AND STAFF OPERATIONS

This class provides the MS IV cadet with instruction in the Army Command and Staff Functions. Military and professional knowledge topics include writing in the Army style, write an after-action report, oral communications, conduct briefings, prepare to conduct training, evaluate training and the Leadership Assessment Program. Credit: 2 hours.

MS 425. LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

The course consists of study of Military Law, the Law of War and basic professional knowledge an individual needs in order to be a professional officer. Credit: 2 hours.

MS 426. TRANSITION TO LIEUTENANT

To prepare and assist MS IV cadets in their transition from cadet/student to commissioned officer/professional. Credit: 2 hours.

ENGINEERING STUDIES

Dr. Gerald Jones, Director

Courses with an EGR prefix are designed for the engineering studies programs and enrollment is restricted to students admitted to these programs. On occasion other students may enroll in these courses. In the course descriptions that follow, numbers in parentheses indicate corresponding Georgia Tech courses.

EGR 130. INTRODUCTION TO ENGINEERING

An introductory course for freshmen engineering students. Topics include engineering calculations, analysis, modeling, design, and engineering communications. (ESM 1101)

EGR 131. INTRODUCTION TO VISUAL COMMUNICATION AND DESIGN

The objectives of this course are to teach the principles of graphic expression and the use of computer-aided drafting and design (CADD). Two single lecture periods and one three-hour lab period. (EGR 1170)

EGR 132. COMPUTER APPLICATIONS

Introduction to computer applications in engineering. Topics include PC operating procedures, word processing, spreadsheets, "TK solver," and "quattro" software applications. (AE 1600) Prerequisite: Any introductory computer experience.

EGR 133. COMPUTER & DIGITAL DESIGN FUNDAMENTALS

To introduce the fundamental concepts of digital systems including digital computers. Course topics include basic logic gates, logic minimization, logic hardware, and computer hardware organization. (EE 1300)

EGR 190. FRESHMAN ENGINEERING SEMINAR

A seminar designed to expose the freshman engineering student to various non-technical aspects of the engineering profession. These topics include careers in engineering, the engineering curriculum, ethics and other professional responsibilities, and other related topics. Required of all freshman engineering studies majors. One single lecture period per week for three quarters. (ESM 1101)

EGR 241. STATICS

Elements of statics in two and three dimensions, centroids, analysis of structures and machines, friction. Text at the level of McGill and King, Engineering Mechanics: Statics. (ESM 2201) Prerequisite: PHY 261, Corequisite: MAT 264.

EGR 242. DYNAMICS

Kinematics and kinetics of rigid bodies in plane motion. Text at the level of McGill and King. Engineering Mechanics: An Introduction to Dynamics. (ESM 3201) Prerequisite: EGR 241, Corequisite: MAT 265.

EGR 323. INSTRUMENTATION LABORATORY

Introduction to instrumentation equipment, techniques and practice. Operation of oscilloscopes and meters. Measurement of parameters of devices and components. Two lecture hours and one three hour lab period. (EE 3400)

EGR 330. INTRODUCTION TO ELECTRONIC SYSTEMS

An introduction to electric circuit elements and electronic devices and a study of circuits containing such devices. Both analog and digital systems are considered (EE 3710). Prerequisite: PHY 262.

EGR 331. ELEMENTS OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING I

An introduction to basic concepts of circuit elements, circuit models and techniques for circuit analysis. (EE 3200)

EGR 332. ELEMENTS OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING II

Course topics include time-domain analysis, ac circuits, two-port and multiport network. (EE 3250)

EGR 340. THERMODYNAMICS I

An introduction to thermodynamics. Thermodynamic properties, state postulate, work interactions, steady state and transient energy and mass conservation, entropy, and the second law (ME 3322). Text at the level of Hartley and Black, Thermodynamics. Prerequisites: PHY 262, MAT 249.

EGR 353. MECHANICS OF DEFORMABLE BODIES

Definition and analysis of strain and stress, applications to axially loaded elements, torsion of circular shafts and bending of beams. Introduction to simple plasticity and to column stability. Text at the level of Popov, Introduction to the Mechanics of Solids. (ESM 3301) Prerequisites: EGR 241, MAT 265.

MASTER OF TECHNOLOGY

Dr. David Williams, Director

1. Minimum of three quarters (one academic year) or three summer sessions in residence.
2. Satisfactory completion of a program of study that includes 40 quarter hours of course work and research.
3. A thesis.
4. A terminal examination.

For unqualified admission to the Graduate

School to pursue graduate work leading to the Master of Technology degree, the applicant must have:

1. Completed requirements for the bachelor's degree in a college accredited by the proper regional accrediting association.
2. An average of "C+" (2.5 grade point average) or higher on all undergraduate work.
3. A score of no less than 900 on the Graduate Record Examinations, Verbal and Quantitative. A student may be granted provisional admission with a minimum score of 800 on the GRE accompanied by a better than 2.5 (4.0 scale) cumulative grade point average on undergraduate college work.
4. An undergraduate major or the equivalent in the proposed field of study.

COLLEGE OF GRADUATE STUDIES

Responding to increasing needs for graduate-level services in South Georgia, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia approved the establishment of Georgia Southern University, effective July 1, 1990. In addition to the conversion of Georgia Southern College to "university" status, the change brings together the graduate-level instructional and research activities in South Georgia by "affiliating" the graduate functions of both Armstrong State College and Savannah State College with Georgia Southern University. Armstrong State College and Savannah State College maintain autonomy as undergraduate colleges but participate in graduate activities under the auspices of the College of Graduate Studies at Georgia Southern University. While all undergraduate degrees continue to be awarded by the three participating institutions, all graduate degrees are now awarded by Georgia Southern University.

PURPOSE AND ORGANIZATION

Graduate programs are designed to provide students with the opportunity and resources to enhance their educational, professional, and cultural backgrounds while improving their professional skills and competence. Graduate programs encourage scholarly inquiry through the appropriate application of valid research methods.

All graduate programs are administered and coordinated by the Vice-President and Dean for Graduate Studies and Research who serves as Chairman of the Graduate Council. The Graduate Council is an inter-institutional advisory body composed of representatives from Georgia Southern University, Armstrong State College, and Savannah State College. The Council provides policy direction to the Vice President on all matters related to graduate programs.

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Georgia Southern University offers the following graduate degree programs:

- Master of Arts
- Master of Business Administration
- Master of Education
- Master of Fine Arts
- Master of Public Administration
- Master of Recreation Administration
- Master of Science
- Master of Science for Teachers
- Master of Science in Nursing
- Master of Technology
- Education Specialist Degree
- Doctorate of Education in Educational Administration

Georgia Southern University offers the following graduate degree programs in Savannah in affiliation with either Armstrong State College or Savannah State College (Additional graduate courses are taught in Savannah in support of other programs of study.):

Armstrong State College

- Master of Arts - History
- Master of Education
- Master of Health Science
- Master of Science - Criminal Justice
- Master of Science in Nursing

Savannah State College

- Master of Public Administration
- Master of Social Work (currently under development)

OFF-CAMPUS GRADUATE CENTERS

Resident graduate credit is offered on off-campus centers at Brunswick and Fort Gordon (Augusta). Students in Brunswick may pursue Master of Education (M.Ed.) programs in: Early Childhood Education, School Administration and Supervision, Special Education for Exceptional Children, and Middle Grades Education or Public Administration (M.P.A.), while Fort Gordon students may pursue programs in either Adult Education (M.Ed.) or Public Administration (M.P.A.).

Off-campus admission and degree requirements are identical to those of the on-campus programs. Information can be obtained at the off-campus sites as well as the on-campus sites listed above.

GLOSSARY

ACCREDITATION. Recognition granted schools and colleges upon examination by groups of visiting professionals based upon objective standards developed by interested professional agencies. An accredited school or college has measured up to the standards of quality imposed by professional groups and accrediting agencies.

ADJUSTED GRADE POINT AVERAGE. When courses are repeated, the last earned grade is the official grade and is the grade that is calculated to determine the adjusted grade point average. The adjusted GPA is used to determine academic standing.

APPROVED ELECTIVE. A course chosen by the student with the approval of the advisor.

An approved elective usually relates to the student's major or minor field.

AUDITING STUDENT. A student who enrolls in but earns no university credit for that course.

CORE CURRICULUM. Those courses required of all students in any given area of study. The core curriculum usually is completed in the freshman and sophomore years and gives the student a basis for advanced study in the junior and senior years.

CUMULATIVE GRADE POINT AVERAGE. The cumulative grade point average is the grade average on all work which the student has attempted. It is obtainable by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of quarter hours attempted.

CURRICULUM. The body of courses taught in a college or division, e.g., "the curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences."

DEFICIENCY, SCHOLASTIC. Incurred when the ratio of grade points to hours falls below the standard required for graduation, or some other specified standard, e.g., continuation of academic standing.

EXCLUSION, ACADEMIC. The second involuntary separation of a student from the University because of failure to meet academic standards. The only way a student may return after exclusion is through a successful appeal to the Admissions Committee after one full year.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA). The average attained by dividing the number of quality points earned by the hours attempted.

GRADUATING AVERAGE. A grade-point average of at least 2.0 is required of each candidate for a degree in approved courses totaling at least the number of quarter hours required by the school in which the student is registered.

MATRICULATION. Enrollment in the University.

ORIENTATION. Designed to help the new student become acquainted with the University, its campus, its ideals and traditions. It is also a period for tests and examinations that provide the faculty with a basis for advising and assisting students in planning their program.

PREREQUISITE. A requirement beforehand. Usually a course, examination, or some other condition which must be met successfully before another course may be taken.

PROBATION, ACADEMIC. A result of unsatisfactory scholarship. Probation is not a penalty, but a warning and an opportunity to improve.

PROBATION, DISCIPLINARY. The middle status between good standing and suspension or dismissal. The student remains enrolled but under stated conditions according to University policies.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY. Groups of courses designed to qualify a student to receive a specific degree or reach a designated academic goal.

QUALITY POINT. A numerical value assigned to the grade a student receives in a course in order to provide a quantitative determination of the student's scholarship. Used in computing grade-point average.

QUARTER SYSTEM. The scheduling of four periods of academic study within a calendar year. Each quarter provides for a minimum and maximum amount of scholastic work. Each quarter begins with registration and concludes with examinations over that period's work. Three quarters constitute an academic year.

SUSPENSION, ACADEMIC. The first involuntary separation of a student from the university because he has not met the academic requirement. The penalty is one quarter out of school.

TRANSCRIPT. A certified copy of credits which a student has earned.

TRANSIENT STUDENT. A student who has taken work at another college or university may apply for the privilege of temporary registration. Work earned at Georgia Southern will be transferred to the institution where previously enrolled.
