Sustainability

Question:

There has been some publicity for this endeavor, but it is impossible to find the name of the contact person or the coordinates for the office. Can someone direct me please?

Rationale:

If this is a real concern of the university, then it needs some visibility.

Response:

6/23/2009:

Michael,

The University's environmental sustainability manager is Monique Dipple and she is housed in the Department of Environmental Safety. Her contact information is 8-7225 or moniquedipple@georgiasouthern.edu. Let me know if you have further questions.

Ron Core

Moore reported that he had received two rfi's. The first was from David Seaman titled, "Sustainability": "There has been some publicity for this endeavor [meaning sustainability], but it is impossible to find the name of the contact person or the coordinates for the office. Can someone direct me please?" A number of people were willing to direct David, and Dr. Ron Core responded, "Michael, in response to the Faculty Senate RFI, the University's environmental sustainability manager is Monique Dipple and she is housed in the Department of Environmental Safety." Dr. Core then provided Dipple's contact information. His response has been posted.
