GSC students borrow Statue of Liberty replica

By PAULA BARNETT
 News Writer

A replica of the Statue of Liberty was recently returned from a sojourn on the GSC campus to its home at the Savannah International Airport.

The model was reportedly taken from the American Airlines ticket office in Savannah last month as a college prank, according to the city police department, and no charges were filed by the airline.

Charlotte Parrish, department public information officer, said that two college students (whose names would not be released) apparently got off a plane and decided to take the statue around 1:30 or 2 a.m. on March 25.

"They encountered a security guard and convinced him that they worked for the airline," she said.

According to Parrish, the airline said the police department had given the case much publicity in hopes of recovering the statue, including "Crime of the Week" status in Savannah's Silent Witness program.

"They encountered a security guard and convinced him they worked for the airline."

—Parrish

Following the announcement of "Miss Liberty's" plight by the Savannah media the weekend of April 13-14, the statue was recovered April 15 about 9:30 p.m., she said.

"The boys turned it in and no charges were filed," Parrish said.

SUB Gallery director fails to fulfill duties and leaves job

By MARTY NESBITT
 Managing Editor

SUB Art Gallery Director Andy Hardin was dismissed from his position for failure to adequately perform his duties, according to SGA president Mike Wallace.

A special meeting of the SGA was held on April 10 to review the performance of Hardin and Ken "Boo" Nimmons, SGA vice president of academic affairs. According to Wallace, questions had arisen as to whether either individual was fulfilling the responsibilities of his job.

In Hardin's case, "we looked at productivity based on what he should have done. He could have done more," said Wallace. Only one art show was held during winter quarter as opposed to a three to five show standard, he explained.

Nimmons was also cited for negligence on the job. According to Wallace, Nimmons was not performing his duties nor was he keeping his office hours.

"Ken had too many responsibilities on him," said Wallace. "He was working two jobs, plus the Model U.N., trying to graduate, and SGA. We recognized that in his case." As a result, Nimmons will retain his position minus salary until May 1 when the new SGA officers will assume their official duties.

Falcons star visits

Atlanta Falcon wide receiver Billy "Whiteshoes" Johnson paid a visit to GSC last week, as a highlight of Soberfest '85. He spoke on drug abuse awareness and answered questions at Sarah's Coffeehouse. Billy, who led the Falcon wide receivers in 1983 with 64 catches and four touchdowns, is shown here (center) with the senior members of GSC's 1985 football team.

BOR approves statewide tuition increase

The Board of Regents has approved a 12.5 percent increase in tuition for all schools in the University System, effective fall quarter 1985.

Jacob Wamsley, Regents vice chancellor of fiscal affairs, said the increase is necessary to meet the Regents' goal of having students pay 25 percent of their actual education costs.

Students interested in joining Judicial Board need to apply

Special to the George-Anne

Nominations for student member positions of the College Judicial Board for next year are being accepted now through May 6.

All regularly enrolled students who have completed at least 15 hours of academic credit at GSC are eligible provided they meet the following criteria: 1) they must have no disciplinary record for the last three quarters of college attendance; 2) they must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0; 3) they must not hold the top executive office in any other campus organization; 4) they must be a full-time student; and 5) they must be planning to attend GSC for the entire academic year.

The rules of appointment in the College Judicial Board Constitution require that nominations be solicited from the faculty and student body, and that all nominees be screened by the present College Judicial Board.

All students may nominate themselves or someone else for membership on the Board.

If a student would like to nominate someone, he may pick up a nomination form from the Dean of Students office, or use letter size paper.

All nominations should include the full name, address, and telephone number of the nominee, along with a paragraph stating reasons the nominee will be effective as a member of the judicial board.

All nominations should be submitted on or before May 6 to: Dr. James D. Orr, Jr., Chairman, College Judicial Board, Office of Student Affairs, L.B. 8063, GSC.

Dean Jones moves to Foy

Special to the George-Anne

The office of the Dean of Arts and Sciences has recently been moved to the third floor of the Foy Building to make room for Director of Planning Owen Gaede and others in charge of gathering institutional data.

"Foy was chose because it is a fairly central location for the other departments under Arts and Sciences," explained Dean Warren Jones. "Also a majority of the music and art events are held here."

An office suite and a seminar room have replaced the painting studio which will be combined with the drawing studio. Neither course requires a great deal of equipment and they are rarely taught in the same quarter.

"We are glad to have the dean here," said Art Department Head Richard Tichich. "We are not merely losing studio space, but gaining the benefit of increased traffic. Now, more people can have a chance to see our art exhibits without making a special trip."

Beer & seduction

Officials were not amused by a raunchy "humor" handbook written and sold by the Beta Theta Pi fraternity at the U. of Florida. The book names several female students and recommends how many beers it takes to seduce them. The book also makes racist remarks about some students. The university has suspended the fraternity and may also investigate "little sister" programs campus-wide.

Asexual massage

Who ya gonna call? At Yale U. and the U. of Pennsylvania, it's Stress Busters, a non-sexual student-run massage service. Founder Steven Douglas, a Catholic U. graduate, plans Stress Busters shops on or near Ivy League campuses. Douglas trains the students who give the massages in holistic techniques. Stress Busters hit some stress themselves at Yale, where the operation had to move off-campus to maintain its profit-making status.

Playing assassin

The Assassination Game (TAG) violates the U. of Arizona code of conduct and students playing the game could be expelled and prosecuted. Participants could face charges of disorderly conduct and endangerment which carries a $1,000 fine and six-month jail term. TAG, or similar games are played on many campus by students who track "victims" trying to be the last assassin.

Hair expression

The unique hairstyles of collegians seem to be a traditional source of friction and the 1980s are no different. The Student Government President at Syracuse U. says he was sent home from his part-time catering job because management disliked his hairstyle which is long in front, short in the back and marlboro red. The student plans no legal action but says he wants to expose the discrimination.

fundraising event which will benefit a scholarship endowment for GSC students.

Spring bug bites

Springtime is finally here and along with this season comes warm weather, pretty flowers, suntans, and colds. Colds?! Yes, it seems many GSC students have fallen prey to a spring bug. The symptoms range from a sore throat to a persistent cough.

If you're feeling a little under the weather, stop by the Health Center's Cold Clinic.

The Cold Clinic allows students to follow a series of steps for self-examination. For example, you can check your temperature and examine your throat. You record the results of each step and then the proper medication is dispensed to you based on your symptoms.

However the best advice the Infirmary offers is that GSC students try to prevent illnesses. Get plenty of rest—at least seven to eight hours per night. Eat foods from the four basic groups, and drink plenty of liquids. Start a daily exercise plan and stick to it. After all, who wants to skip class because of a cold!

Religious activities abound

Just as spring quarter is now going strong, so are the religious organizations that minister to GSC students.

There is a meeting of at least one organization each night during the week, and some nights there are two organizations meeting.

Religious organizations available are: Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA), Wesley foundation, Baptist Student Union (BSU), Campus Crusade for Christ and The Canterbury Club.

Several of these organizations are interdenominational, and although some are denominational, they are open to all GSC students.

Activities at the religious organizations include: sharing testimony and prayer requests, having guest speakers, singing, and fellowshiping.

Campus Security is vital

A favorite pasttime for generations of GSC students is to be critical and apathetic toward the Campus Security force. "They're just a bunch of old men chasing parked cars" is a phrase that rings repetitiously from the lips of students in expressing their opinions of Campus Security. Are these comments justified? Hardly!

As is common to human nature, we are quicker to judge than we are to think. However, the fact that the GSC Security force is a vital part of the college environment is self-revealing. Several points should be made as to the value of the individuals who comprise Campus Security.

First, as does the average police officer, security personnel at GSC are required to attend and graduate from the police academy. One can surmise that once an individual graduates from the aforesaid organization, he is qualified to carry our enforcement responsibilities.

GSC is a small community within the city of Statesboro and the enforcement capacity of the campus security officer is frequently utilized. Preserving order on a campus of thousands of students is not always an easy task but the handful of security officers on campus have performed this task expertly for years. The very fact that GSC is not a college known for its rebellious demonstrations and riotous outbursts as many other colleges are, can be attributed in part to a job well done by Security.

A frequent argument by students is that Security does nothing all day but write incredulous piles of parking tickets. One must realize that Security's most visible duty on campus is to write tickets for illegally parked cars. This is another necessary and valuable function whether we as students like it or not. Once again it flows back to the fact that we must keep order in our community. Otherwise, students would most likely park their cars anywhere and finding a parking space at the Williams Center would become more impossible than it is presently. The fact is, many students don't understand that law and order are enforced—writing parking tickets is a means of keeping order.

Security performs several other vital services on campus. They get drunk drivers off of the roads—not to ruin a good time as many students are apt to think, but to avoid potential accidents. The same is true for citing students for speeding and reckless driving. One cannot argue that saving lives is an unimportant and valueless function.

Finally, a most valuable function of Security which is seldom seen by the bulk of the student body occurs when a student has been injured in an accident. The officers of Campus Security have been well trained in CPR and other first aid techniques and are capable of protecting the physical well-being of GSC students. Without Campus Security to perform this service on campus, who would we call for a quick response? Who could respond faster than a security unit right across campus?

It is a shame that such a hard-working, and well-trained group as Campus Security is looked upon so unfavorably by the student body. Perhaps we should re-examine our motives for judgement on the officers. We shouldn't judge them only after we have been issued a parking ticket. We should also remember the good things Campus Security does for GSC. They far outweigh what we perceive to be the bad.

Letters to the Editor

Open Sarah's back up on Saturday

DEAR EDITOR:

All right, the Deck Shoppe is open on weekends! Our activity fee is being used towards the culturally enriching activities of sun bathing and chlorine snorting, I mean swimming.

One big heavy sacrifice was made though; they closed Sarah's Place on weekends. Why?

Many students have things to do up on the center of campus on weekends such as working in McCroan Auditorium, research in the library, dj'ing at VGS, and feeding the ducks out at the lake.

I pay heavy activity fees like everybody else. Almost every weekend I am out in the vicinity of the Williams Center and more often than not I feel the need for a cup of coffee. Most of the time all I have is a ten or a twenty on me. Even in the biggest attack of caffeine withdrawal I have

John Clark

Government should help our poor

Circling the skies over New York City two years ago, I was struck by the sheer magnitude and splendor of what capitalism could produce. Two weeks ago the entire GSC Model United Nations delegation, I am sure, was struck with a similar awe at the impressive steel skyscrapers. Looking out of the window on our plane or gazing down from the Empire State Building, I also felt a pang of patriotism, almost extinguished by backward politicians, upon taking in what our society is capable of creating.

Yet there is another side to the city. A side that shook the naive members of our group, some of whom have spent much of their lives in the rural South. For we found, lying at the foot of those mighty buildings, human beings with nothing. People with no money in a capitalistic society and thus people with no self-respect or hope. Some clearly had mental deficiencies either through birth or through the misfortunes of life. But make no mistake; these people, whatever their mental problems, are suffering horribly. From cold, from hunger and from the looks of disgust from well-dressed passers-by, they suffer. What we found was absolute misery, the most sinister side of capitalism in surreal co-existence with capitalism's greatest triumphs symbolized by a smelly dirty human sitting against a Wall Street monument to money.

not been able to get a coke machine to make change.

Open up Sarah's Place again. Use whatever amount of my activity fee that you want. Hell, use my athletic fee also, football season is over! As far as I'm concerned you're wasting my athletic fee spending it on anything else.

Bicyclists should stay off sidewalks

DEAR EDITOR:

This country is full of transportation misnomers. Seems we pay dearly for "freeways." We also drive home on our "parkways" and park in our "driveways."

I guess it only makes sense that we ride our bicycles on the "sidewalk."

Braying during film classic is inexcusable

DEAR EDITOR:

'Tis a pity that GSC doesn't include animal husbandry among its myriad majors because there is a ready-made herd of lop-eared jackasses wanting breeding as evidenced by the herd braying an unremitting reminder of its hairy presence during the Monday night classic movie The Rocking-Horse Winner sponsored by the English department.

A disgruntled patron

Infirmery does not meet needs

DEAR EDITOR:

I feel that the staff of the infirmery is not suitable to the student's medical needs. On several occasions they have given improper diagnosis or no diagnosis at all. This situation should be checked because there was one case where a student had an ear infection and they gave her Tylenol 3 supposedly for pain. Ten minutes later she had to be rushed to the Bulloch Memorial Hospital. There, they diagnosed the problem as an ear infection and gave her treatment. It would be helpful and healthful if this problem is checked out.

A Group of Concerned Students

G-A should report attacks

DEAR EDITOR:

Why are important "events" like the recent attack on a GSC student not carried in the paper? I realize that you do not want to scare people to death and that the administration had rather keep this kind of thing quiet so that we do not scare off prospective students, but I think the students on this campus have a right to know this kind of information. If they knew this kind of thing could really happen, they might be more serious about their safety on campus. The old adage of safety in numbers is very true and needs to be stressed on a dark campus such as this. This kind of thing can happen anywhere, not just here, but I feel that it does need to be reported, used as a warning, and put in the right perspective. As it is now, it's like a deep dark secret that continues to grow with each telling.

Editor, I am disappointed that you did not, or could not, report this to the sometimes naive students at GSC. We deserve the warning.

Individuality is the key to spring fashions and anything goes for '85

By TINA KICKLIGHTER
Features Writer

There are a lot of options for spring dressing. From the palest of pastels to neon brights, from short skirts to longer lengths which flow above the ankles, and from reserved floral prints to outspoken geometrics, anything goes.

Jill Mock, an employee of the Traffic Light, says of spring's latest trends, "Drop-waist dresses, sweaters, and cropped pants are still big. The feminine look is coming back, and accessories are getting smaller."

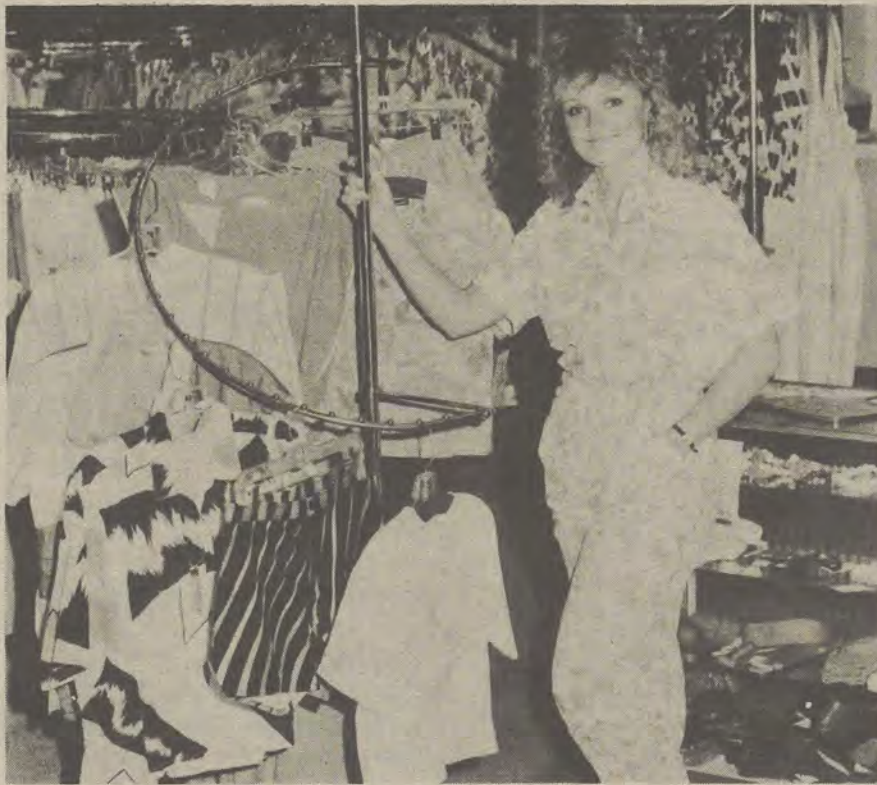

Skirt lengths vary in accordance with their design. Straight skirts look best cut just below the knee, while full skirts look best longer.

According to Debbie Self, who works in the junior's department at Belk's, "Longer, full skirts are popular for a pretty, romantic look, although skirt lengths basically depend on whatever is comfortable."

Oversized shirts are also a hot item. Perry Ellis' striped collection is popular. Esprit's spring line includes layered, oversized clothes for a casual, carefree look.

Color is another issue. Marlin Hargrove, a GSC student who spent spring break in New York, noted that the color there was bright. "Everything had a lot of design and print. There was an overall more daring look. The clothes were striking and caught your eye whether you liked them or not," Hargrove stated.

Audrey Sweat models a spring floral print pants outfit at Levigate.

Bathing suits, although as skimpy as ever, are also taking a more daring path. According to Seventeen magazine, "This season the designs are so dazzling and the colors so hot, you practically need sunglasses to look at them."

Alabama/40 Hour Week/RCA

For Alabama fans, it should come as no surprise that their new album is as consistently good as their last five.

The boys from Fort Payne, Alabama, are still harmonizing their way through some of the country music's best lyrics. "There's No Way," which was released as a single, is a beautiful ballad as is "Down on Longboat Key."

"Louisiana Moon" captures all the flavor of creole life on the Mississippi River.

"I Wanna Know You Before We Make Love" followed by "Fireworks" provides two different views of relationships between men and women, one tender and slow, the other hard, fast, and driving.

The title track pays tribute to the American worker, the one who toils not for "fame or fortune" but for the satisfaction of a job well done.

It is satisfaction that comes through in all of Alabama's music; these boys really do enjoy what they do, and they should because they do it so well.

"Desperately Seeking Susan"

All blondes may be equal, but some are more equal than others. Take Roberta and Susan for example.

Roberta, a bored New Jersey housewife, just wants to have fun. Desperately.

Susan, a free-spirited freeloader, has fun. Loads of it, as Roberta discovers from reading the personal ads through which Susan and a lover communicate.

It is out of Susan's real life that Roberta fashions a fantasy life for herself. Desperately, she begins following Susan and dressing like Susan and finally, thanks to a bump on the head, being Susan.

What follows is a very funny, very complicated screwball comedy of errors. Roberta's borrowed life turns out to be even more dramatic than the real Susan's.

Rosanna Arquette is a heart-winning heroine by any name. Madonna makes a sexy slyly funny Susan.

Directed by Susan Seidelman and written by Leora Barish, "Susan" is spunky, funky, funny and wise. It is a tale of two women who represent the two sides of each of us.

The film is reflective, in more than one sense: Roberta's surname is Glass, and she reads about her alter ego in the daily Mirror. Roberta steps through her looking glass lightly and discovers the fairest one of all: herself.

A delightful assortment of urban and suburban nuts fleshes out the two worlds of the film. Roberta's husband, for example, hawks hot tubs on TV and has a "respectable affair" on the side.

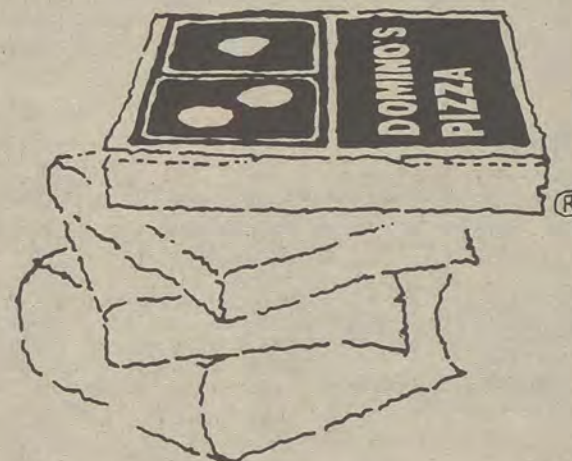

The film is as visually rich as a cluttered antique-and-junk shop. There are also plenty of one-liners to remember and quote, for people who like that sort of thing.

Written, directed, and produced by women, primarily about women, "Susan" is not for feminists only. There is more poetry than rhetoric here, more of the laugh box than the soapbox.

The makers of this film have succeeded brilliantly in keeping its body and soul together. Madonna's popularity should guarantee for the movie the all-important youth audience, while the critics' favor will attract more discriminating types.

The film itself succeeds on more than one level and should appeal to a variety of tastes. It is, in the best sense, a small film which deserves a big audience.

GSC signs recruits

By CHRIS NAIL
Sports Editor

The GSC Eagles recently completed the most successful basketball season in the school's history with a 24-5 record, but now one must look toward next season and wonder what kind of team Coach Frank Kerns will be able to put on the floor.

All five starters of last season were seniors, therefore Kerns will have to replace a lot of talent. Finding players to replace Reggie Watson, Ron Jefferson, Bill McNair, Morris Hargrove and Quinzel Chestnut isn't an easy task, but assistant Coach Mike Backus thinks that the eight recruits he has signed will be able to contribute a lot.

"We look for immediate help from the junior college transfers," Backus commented. "It will take the freshmen a while to adjust, but overall I think it's a very good recruiting class."

Of the eight players signed, four are from junior colleges.

Most basketball fans will recognize the surname of one recruit, Sean Alford. Alford a 6-1 point guard from New Castle, Ind., is the brother of Indiana University All-American and Olympic team guard Steve Alford. Alford has been described as a coach on the playing floor and should fit in with Kern's system very easily. "It'll take some time to refine his play," Backus said, "but Alford has a lot of basketball tradition. Also, he's used to playing in front of 9,000 to 10,000 people."

Sports

Other recruits are: Jeff Sanders, a 6-9 center from Augusta who is considered a real coup. "Sanders is a good find," Backus stated. "I think the reason we were able to get him is he didn't attend any basketball camps during the summer. He decided to work instead."

Sanders averaged 22 points, 15 rebounds and six blocked shots a game this past season for Josey High School. He has been named an honorable-mention All-American by U.S.A. Today.

Also Duane Turner, a 6-7 forward from Albany Westover; Mark Voitik, a 6-3 guard from Seminole,

Fl; Anthony Graves, a 6-7 forward from Florida Junior College; Brian Newton, a 6-7 forward also from Florida Junior College; Ken McGee, a 6-7 forward from Central Florida Junior College; and Bryon Mack, a 6-3 guard from St. Petersburg (FL) Junior College. "We've never had a 6-3 point guard," said Backus. "He should be a real help."

Hopefully, these recruits along with veteran returnees Ben Bailey, Charles Earls, Anthony Forrest (eligible after red-shirt year for transferring), Phil Hoke, Freddy Jones, Allen Sims and Michael Stokes will make GSC a team to be reckoned with next season.

SCHENKEL FIELD ANNOUNCED

The 15th annual Chris Schenkel Invitational Collegiate Golf Tournament will have one of its best fields ever this season, as 17 teams will travel to Statesboro to participate in one of the college golf's most elite events.

In addition to GSC, the teams coming for the event on April 26-28 are five time winner Oklahoma State, Tennessee, North Carolina State, Mississippi State, Georgia, Wake Forest, Auburn, Alabama, Miami, Florida State, South Carolina, Clemson, LSU, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Oklahoma and William and Mary.

The Cowboys of Oklahoma State will be looking for their sixth straight Schenkel title. The last team other than Oklahoma State to win the title was Florida State in 1979 when they edged out Georgia Southern for the title.

Benton finishes third in Tar Heel Invitational

By MARTIN CAFFEY
Sports Writer

The GSC Eagle golf team finished in seventh place out of 12 teams at the Tar Heel Invitational in Chapel Hill, North Carolina held April 12-14.

North Carolina won the three day event with a total of 859. Tennessee finished in second place and Florida finished third.

The Eagles were led by freshman sensation Fred Benton, who shot even par for the tournament. Coach Doug Gordin was real pleased with Benton's play. "Fred had an excellent tournament for us and is starting to play real well," said Gordin. "He is going to be a great player."

Benton fired rounds of 73, 71, 72 for a 216 total and finished in third place in the individual category. He was followed by captain Marion Dantzler who had rounds of 72, 70, 77 for a 219 total. Billy Bulmer shot 72, 75, 77 for a 224 and Sonny Trammell had rounds of 78, 80, 74 for a total of 232. Rusty Strawn finished with rounds of 81, 78, 78, for a 237.

Coach Gordin is encouraged going into the Eagles' next tournament which they will be hosting this weekend, the Chris Schenkel Invitational. "We are peaking and I hope we can put it all together for this tournament," said Gordin. "All of our players have shown signs of playing better and better."

"All of our players have shown signs of playing better and better."

—Gordin

Hopefully this is a good sign for the Eagles. GSC has never won the prestigious Schenkel which they host every year, although they have finished second twice.

GSC's rugby team defeats Parris Island

The GSC Rugby team traveled to South Carolina this past weekend to play the Parris Island Marines. The Southern team has won their last four games and were looking for number five.

The first half was a hard hitting half which saw one of the Parris Island players having to leave the field due to injury. Southern scored first when David Harris and "the Chipper" dove on the ball in the endzone. The first half ended after 40 minutes of near stalemate play. The score stood 9-6 in an exciting manner. Southern drove to the Marines' goal line and they turned the drive around into a Marine 80 yard scoring drive. This gave them the lead for the first time, Parris Island 12, Georgia Southern 9.

Captain Craig Entwistle and vice-captain Scott Thompson called their troops together and it seemed to be all the team needed. The final 30 minutes of the game were spent in the Marines' half of the field.

On a Marine mix-up play, rookie Doug Livesay broke through with an interception and scored the try Southern needed to take the lead for good.

Entwistle added an additional three field goals and the final score stood at 22-12.

GSC's rugby team is on a roll with five consecutive victories. Their next game is this Saturday against the Savannah Rugby Club at Oxford Field at 2 p.m. Bring your coolers and have some fun.

There's no doubt you're going to make it in the real world, but what about your car?

Con't. from p. 12

Steve Stringer's record fell to 4-4 on the season and the club finished the series at 28-13. Although GSC was on the short end of two very close games, the team's play was very impressive. But as Coach Stallings commented, "We've made some mistakes we haven't made earlier in the season."

Eagle fans celebrated the return of Billy Brooks, who returned from elbow surgery in the summer and pitched 1 2/3 innings of hitless ball against a tough Seminoles squad.

Eagles sweep Samford

STAFF REPORT

The GSC Eagles received outstanding pitching over the weekend to sweep a three-game series from the Samford Bulldogs. Scott Luman, Phil Dale, Frank Merkel and Kenny Roberts combined to hold Samford to just four runs and 11 hits as GSC won by scores of 6-2, 10-1 and 8-1.

April 19:

Jim Cunningham blasted two home runs to lead GSC to the 6-2 victory.

Cunningham's homers came in the fourth and sixth, and both were towering shots in the exact same place, just to the left of the 367-foot sign in left centerfield. Craig Cooper also launched a gargantuan blast that just missed hitting the lights in left by no more than 10 feet.

The Eagles scored runs in each of the first six innings. In the first, Greg McMullen walked and advanced to third on an error by the Samford catcher, who not realizing the umpire had called ball four to the next batter, threw the ball down to second base on what he perceived to be a steal attempt by McMullen. The ball went into centerfield since there was no one covering the bag because of the walk to the batter, rightfielder Mike Shepherd. Shepherd then moved into scoring position by stealing second. Bobby Aiken then bounced out to the second baseman, allowing McMullen to score the Eagles' first run and tying the score.

The Eagles got a run in the second on Cooper's seventh round-tripper of the year. In the third, McMullen led off by reaching second on a shortstop throwing error, moved to third on a single to right by Shepherd and scored when Aiken hit into a double play. The one run in the fourth was attributed to Cunningham's first homer to left center.

Shepherd's hitting with power for Eagles.

GSC's fifth run came in the fifth inning when McMullen grounded into a fielder's choice after Luis Ramos had laid down a bunt single. McMullen stole second and touched the plate on Aiken's RBI single to rightfield. Cunningham rounded out the scoring in the sixth inning with his second homer. Luman picked up the victory to move his record to 7-1. He recorded 11 strikeouts and allowed just five hits.

April 20:

The first game of a doubleheader saw Dale handcuff the Bulldogs by allowing just three hits as GSC won 10-1. Dale, who raised his record to 7-2, was given plenty of support by Ramos, McMullen, Shepherd and Scott Hardy.

Ramos had three hits, including a double, and scored three runs. McMullen continued his torrid hitting with two doubles and a single, and three RBI's. Shepherd had a double and a single and three RBI's. Hardy had two doubles and three RBI's.

GSC scored three runs in the third inning, five in the fourth and two in the fifth.

In the second game, Merkel and Roberts combined to allow only three hits and one unearned run in the 8-1 victory. The victory gave Merkel a 4-1 record.

Shepherd hit his seventh home run of the season to lead the Eagles offensively. The red hot Shepherd also added two doubles and scored three runs.

GSC came up with two runs in the first inning, one in the second, three in the fifth and two in the sixth.

The three victories improved GSC's overall record to 31-13, and their TAAC mark to 8-0.

GSC falls to Seminoles

By DON WEBB
Sports Writer

Last week the GSC Eagles played host to 25th ranked Florida State University in a series that matched all the publicity that it received. Both teams entered the series ranked in the ESPN collegiate poll, with FSU off to a 40-17 record.

The first game of the series saw 875 spectators participate in "Pack the Park", night at Eagle Field, with everyone in attendance from the KE Commandos to our prestigious Dr. Dale Lick. And through five innings of play the game followed the format of many of GSC's victories.

Phi Dale had pitched five innings of scoreless baseball and the Eagles held a 3-0 lead with the help of a third inning home run by Mike Shepherd. However, in the top of the sixth the Seminoles struck for three quick runs to tie the score at 3-3.

In the seventh inning the Eagles manufactured three runs on just two base hits to take a 7-4 advantage. After Garv Supinski reached on an error, both Luis Ramos and Greg McMullen added bunt singles to load the bases. Consecutive walks to Shepherd and Bobby Aiken scored runners from third, and GSC added one more run on an error.

FSU again fought back with two runs in the eighth and ninth innings to go ahead 8-7, and force GSC into the bottom of the ninth. After FSU receiver Richie Lewis struck out the first two batters of the inning, Jim Cunningham drew a walk to put the tying run on base, but Craig Cooper bounced into a fielders choice to end the game.

Kenny Roberts pitched 1 2/3 innings in relief and saw his record drop to 8-1. For the game, Luis Ramos went 3-5 and Mike Shepherd helped the Eagles' cause with 3-4 hitting with one home run and two RBIs.

In the game Wednesday night, Florida State jumped out to an early 3-0 lead on a big GSC error, and after six innings the lead had stretched to 6-1. Jeff Shireman's run scoring single and a fielder's choice brought the Eagles to within three at 6-3, and after holding the Seminoles scoreless in the eighth and ninth, GSC found themselves with one more chance to pull the game out.

With one out, Craig Cooper hit a home run to deep left that was followed by consecutive singles by Shireman and Rusty Melcolm. But Luis Ramos's grounder up the middle was scooped up by shortstop Bien Figueroa for an inning ending double play.

Former Georgia Bulldog star Herschel Walker seems to have returned to his old form of running the football. Walker has gained 342 yards in his last two games to lead the New Jersey Generals to consecutive victories. Included in the total is a United States Football League single-game rushing record of 233 yards he set against the Houston Gamblers. Walker also broke his USFL record of longest run from scrimmage (83 yards) when he galloped 88 yards for a touchdown in the game against the Gamblers.

The signing of quarterback Doug Flutie has taken a lot of media pressure off of Walker, and he can now concentrate on playing football.

What will the Continental Basketball Association come up with next? The CBA (the minor leagues of basketball) has already tried all kinds of different promotions in their attempt to gain publicity, and now they're planning to use a playground concept.

In the CBA exhibition season next fall, one team will wear the usual uniform jerseys while the opponents will go "skins" (shirtless). The "skins" will be identified by large numbers on their shorts. No number tattoos will be allowed. Ballots will be distributed at each game in order to get the reaction of the fans.

One wonders if this will increase the number of female fans.

For the third time in its storied history, the Masters had a foreign player as its winner. West Germany's Bernhard Langer beat Spain's Seve Ballesteros by two strokes to win $126,000 first prize in golf's most prestigious event. Ballesteros and South Africa's Gary Player are the only other foreign players to win the coveted Green Jacket.
