Georgia Southern University
Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

National Youth-At-Risk Conference Savannah

Mar 2nd, 10:30 AM - 11:45 AM

Reaching vs. Teaching: How to Connect with Youth in a Way that Changes Behavior

Jackie Brewton
CEO of MotivationN3D, jackie@jackiebrewton.com

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/nyar_savannah

Part of the Public Health Education and Promotion Commons

Recommended Citation

"Reaching" vs. "Teaching": How to Connect with Youth in a Way that Changes Behavior

National Youth at Risk Conference

Savannah, GA

March 2, 2015

jackie BREWTON

www.jackiebrewton.com

I. _____ must come along with

_____.

II. How to make a "Connection"

1. You must show some level of _____.

2. Youth must _____ your _____.

3. Youth must _____ you _____.

4. You must be _____and know their _____.

III. What I've learned…

1. There must be a _____ _____.

   a. Teach _____ _____ instead of

     _____ _____ _____.

2. Youth must know about _____-_____ and _____ as indicators of _____.

3. Youth must know about _____ _____ _____ and the importance of _____ _____ when making major _____.

4. You must give specific _____ for _____change.

5. Talk about the impact of their _____ on their _____

_____.

IV. Effective teaching strategies…

1. Make them _____.

2. Use _____.

3. _____ the students' _____.

4. Make them _____ instead of _____ them how to

_____.

5. Use _____ to engage the _____.

6. Tell _____.

7. Let them _____ from other _____.

V. What students appreciate…

1. Being _____ as young _____ and not _____.

2. Not being _____.

3. Not being _____.

4. Being _____ and _____ to do the _____ thing

5. Being _____ with the _____.

6. Being _____ to.

7. _____ talk with no _____ _____.