Georgia Southern University
Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

Georgia International Conference on Information Literacy

Sep 23rd, 2:00 PM - 3:30 PM

Reimagining, Repurposing, Reinventing: Using Libguides for Instruction and Outreach

Camilla B. Baker
Augusta State University, GA

LouAnn Blocker
Augusta State University

Yadira V. Payne
Augusta State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/gaintlit

 Part of the Curriculum and Instruction Commons, and the Information Literacy Commons

Recommended Citation

Baker, Camilla B.; Blocker, LouAnn; and Payne, Yadira V., "Reimagining, Repurposing, Reinventing: Using Libguides for Instruction and Outreach" (2011). Georgia International Conference on Information Literacy. 2.
https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/gaintlit/2011/2011/2

This presentation (open access) is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences & Events at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in Georgia International Conference on Information Literacy by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Reimagining, Repurposing, Reinventing: Using LibGuides for Instruction and Outreach

Camilla Baker, LouAnn Blocker, Yadira V. Payne

Augusta State University

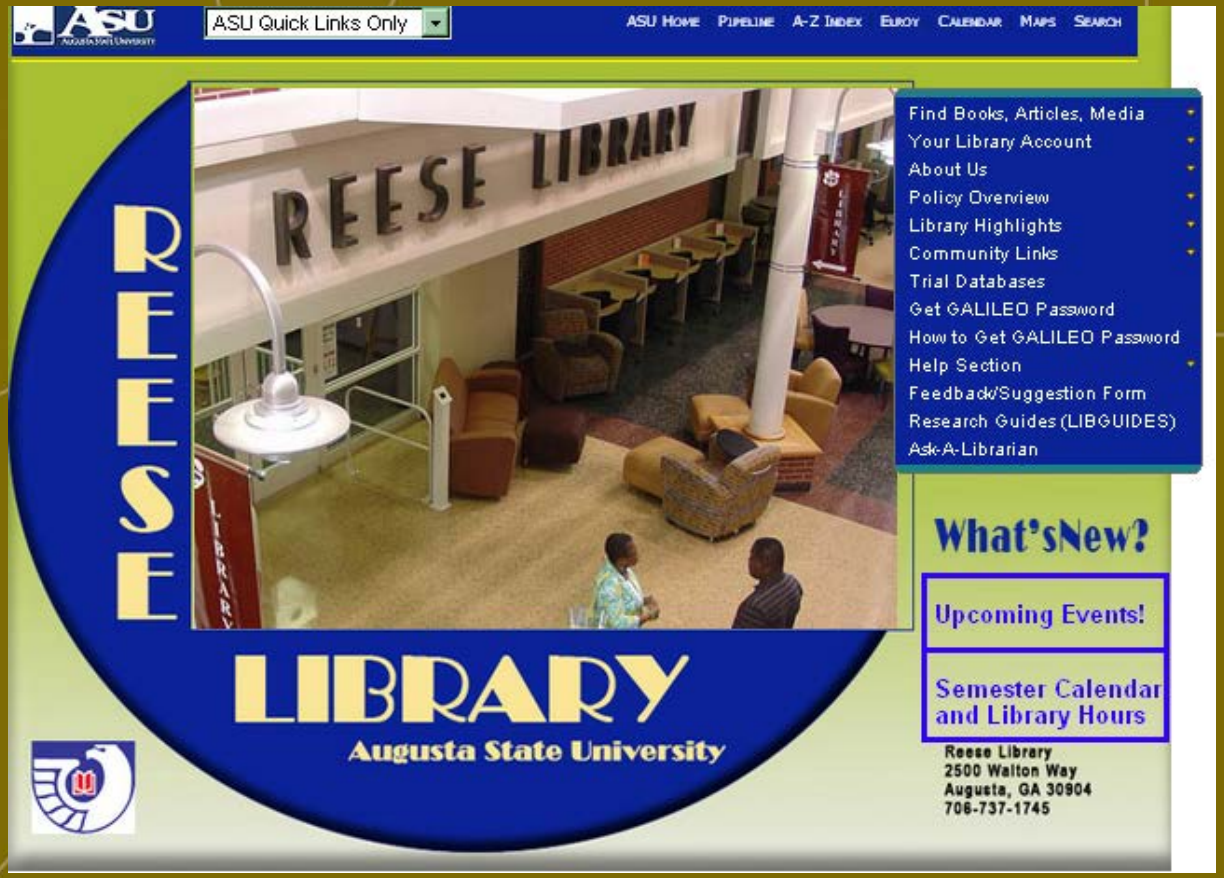
September 2011, Savannah GA

Georgia International Conference on Information Literacy

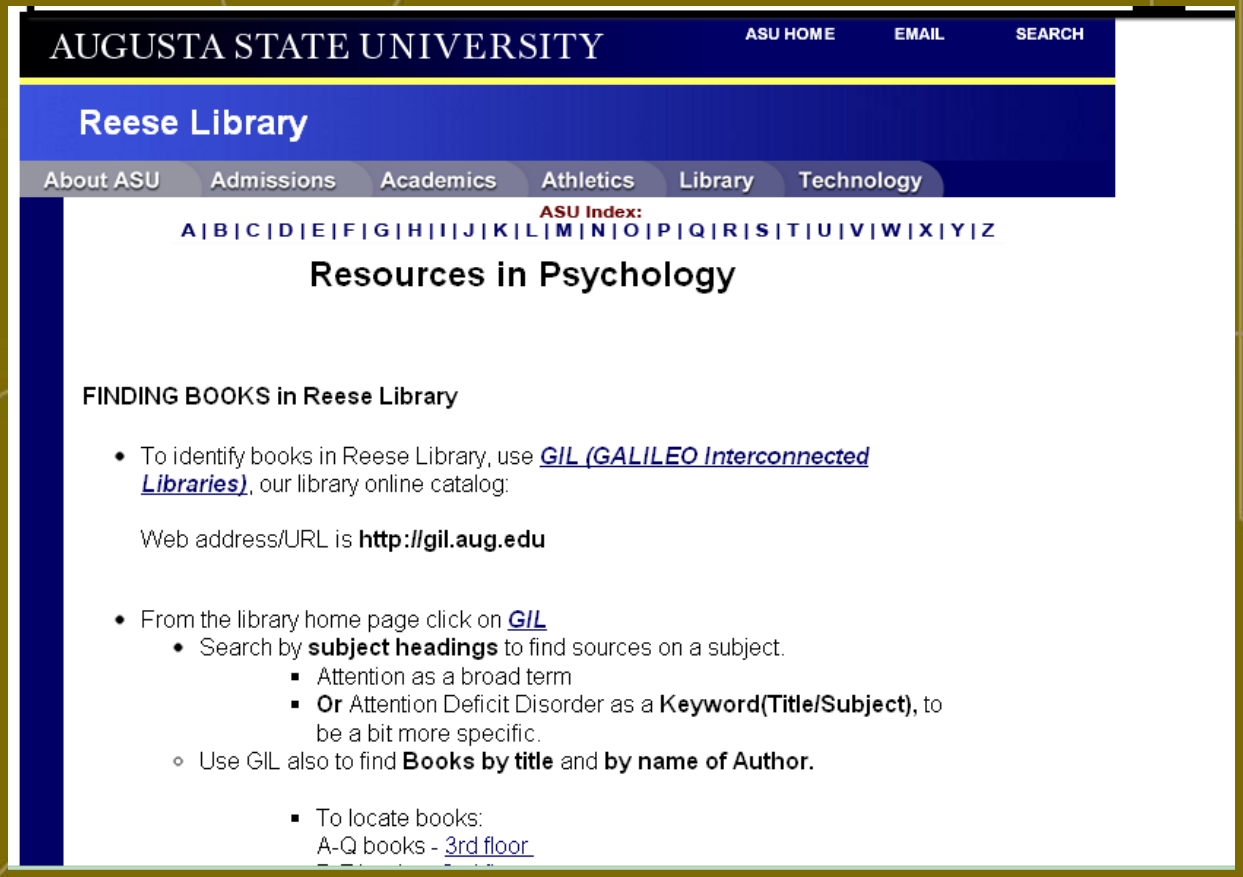
Objectives

- Augusta State and LibGuides
- Using LibGuides for disciplines
- Using LibGuides for specific courses
- Using LibGuides for outreach

History/Background



Discipline vs. Class



AUGUSTA STATE UNIVERSITY

ASU HOME EMAIL SEARCH

Reese Library

About ASU | Admissions | Academics | Athletics | Library | Technology

ASU Index:

A | B | C | D | E | F | G | H | I | J | K | L | M | N | O | P | Q | R | S | T | U | V | W | X | Y | Z

Resources in Psychology

FINDING BOOKS in Reese Library

- To identify books in Reese Library, use GIL (GALILEO Interconnected Libraries), our library online catalog:

  Web address/URL is http://gil.aug.edu

- From the library home page click on GIL
  - Search by subject headings to find sources on a subject.
    - Attention as a broad term
    - Or Attention Deficit Disorder as a Keyword(Title/Subject), to be a bit more specific.
  - Use GIL also to find Books by title and by name of Author.

    - To locate books:
      A-Q books - 3rd floor

Design and denial

Reese Library Library Instruction

Psychology.

FINDING BOOKS in Reese Library

Use GIL, the library catalog, for finding books in Reese Library. A link to the catalog (GIL) is available on the Reese Library Home Page.

Search by subject headings to find sources on a subject:

- Careers as a broad term
- Attention as a broad term
- Or Attention Deficit Disorder as a Keyword (Title/Subject), to be a bit more specific.

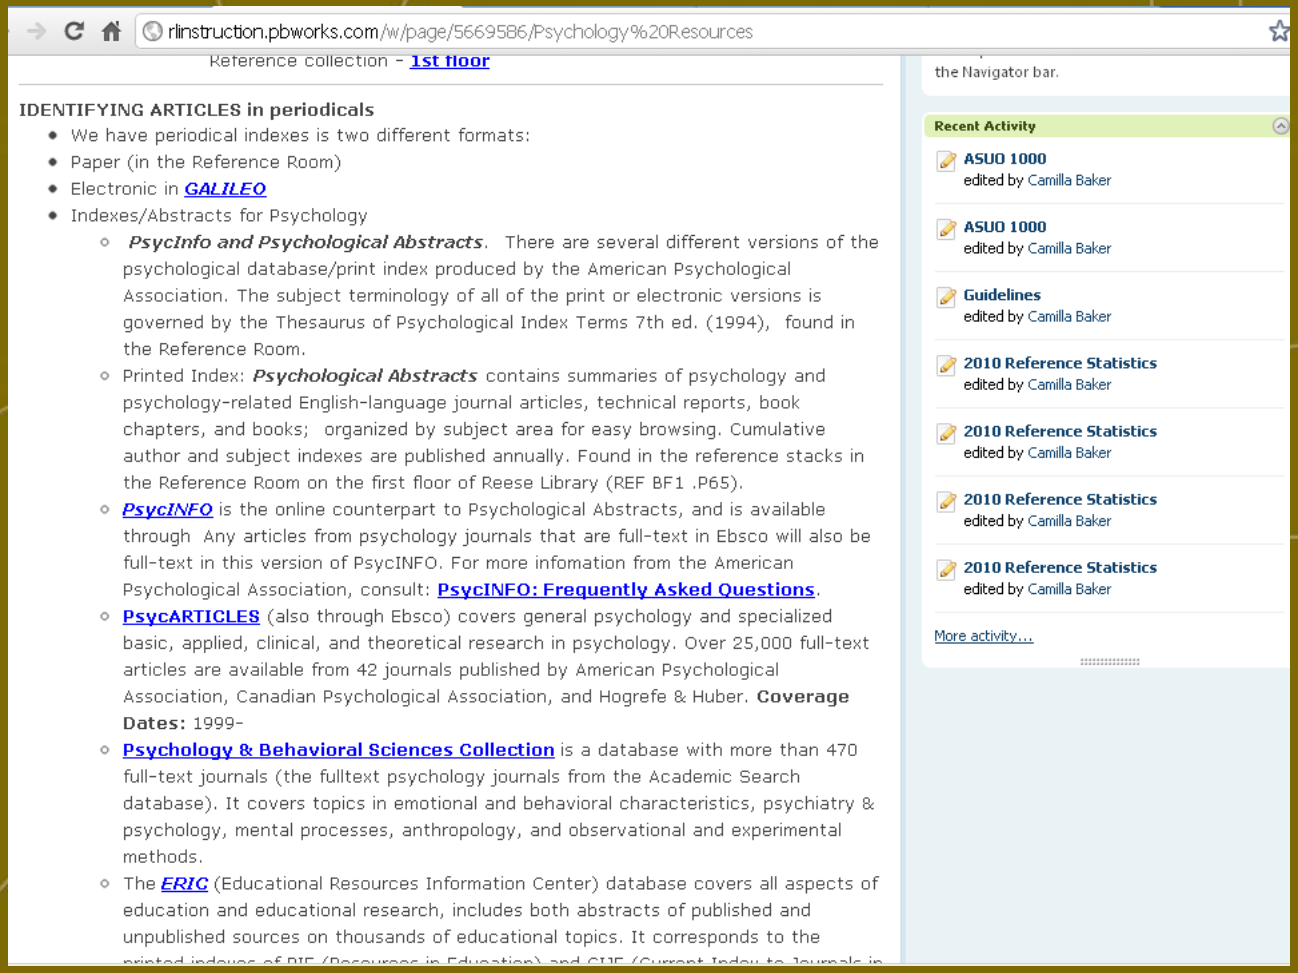
Library collection locations:

- Library collection locations by floorplan.

Electronic Indexes/Abstracts for Education (all resources listed here are part of the database offerings in GALILEO, Georgia's Virtual Library):

- Academic Search Premier (Ebsco) provides abstracts and indexing for over 3,800, as well as full text for over 3,200 scholarly journals and general magazines. Research Library provides abstracts and indexing for over 2,600, as well as full text for over 1,700 scholarly journals and general magazines. Both of these databases are linked directly from the GALILEO home page.
- The ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) database covers all aspects of education and educational research, includes both abstracts of published and unpublished sources on thousands of educational topics. It corresponds to the printed indexes of RIE (Resources in Education) and CIJE (Current Index to Journals in Education). This database is produced by the Office [illegible] Research and Improvement (OERI), U.S. Department of Education. The EbscoHOST [illegible] Scientific, and AskERIC versions of the ERIC database include the searchable Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors. Coverage: 1962 to the present Updates: Monthly.

Wiki wiki!!



rlinstruction.pbworks.com/w/page/5669586/Psychology%20Resources
Reference collection - 1st floor
IDENTIFYING ARTICLES in periodicals
We have periodical indexes is two different formats:
Paper (in the Reference Room)
Electronic in GALILEO
Indexes/Abstracts for Psychology
PsycInfo and Psychological Abstracts. There are several different versions of the psychological database/print index produced by the American Psychological Association. The subject terminology of all of the print or electronic versions is governed by the Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms 7th ed. (1994), found in the Reference Room.
Printed Index: Psychological Abstracts contains summaries of psychology and psychology-related English-language journal articles, technical reports, book chapters, and books; organized by subject area for easy browsing. Cumulative author and subject indexes are published annually. Found in the reference stacks in the Reference Room on the first floor of Reese Library (REF BF1 .P65).
PsycINFO is the online counterpart to Psychological Abstracts, and is available through Any articles from psychology journals that are full-text in Ebsco will also be full-text in this version of PsycINFO. For more infomation from the American Psychological Association, consult: PsycINFO: Frequently Asked Questions.
PsycARTICLES (also through Ebsco) covers general psychology and specialized basic, applied, clinical, and theoretical research in psychology. Over 25,000 full-text articles are available from 42 journals published by American Psychological Association, Canadian Psychological Association, and Hogrefe & Huber. Coverage Dates: 1999-
Psychology & Behavioral Sciences Collection is a database with more than 470 full-text journals (the fulltext psychology journals from the Academic Search database). It covers topics in emotional and behavioral characteristics, psychiatry & psychology, mental processes, anthropology, and observational and experimental methods.
The ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) database covers all aspects of education and educational research, includes both abstracts of published and unpublished sources on thousands of educational topics. It corresponds to the the Navigator bar.
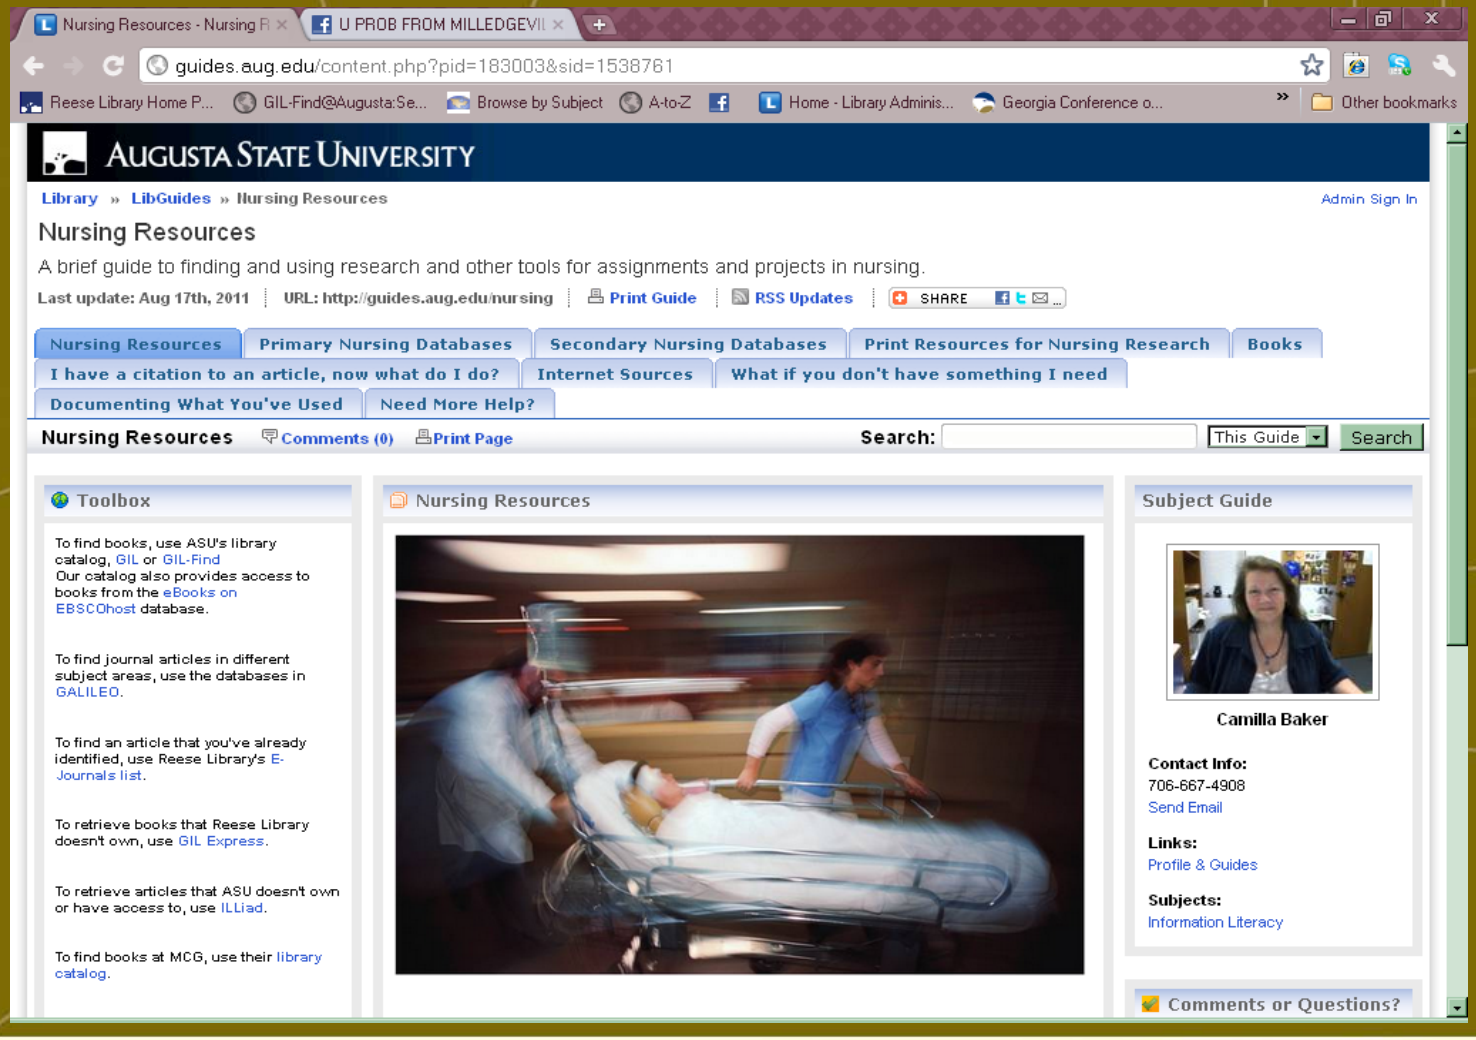
Recent Activity
ASUO 1000
edited by Camilla Baker
ASUO 1000
edited by Camilla Baker
Guidelines
edited by Camilla Baker
2010 Reference Statistics
edited by Camilla Baker
2010 Reference Statistics
edited by Camilla Baker
2010 Reference Statistics
edited by Camilla Baker
2010 Reference Statistics
edited by Camilla Baker
More activity...

Learning Curve/ LibGuides



Books - Nursing Resources - L | U PROB FROM MILLEDGEVI

guides.aug.edu/content.php?pid=183003&sid=1807062

Reese Library Home P... | GIL-Find@Augusta:Se... | Browse by Subject | A-to-Z | Home - Library Adminis... | Georgia Conference o... | Other bookmarks

Documenting What You've Used | Need More Help?

Books Print Page

Search: This Guide Search

Toolbox

To find books, use ASU's library catalog, GIL or GIL-Find
Our catalog also provides access to books from the eBooks on EBSCOhost database.

To find journal articles in different subject areas, use the databases in GALILEO.

To find an article that you've already identified, use Reese Library's E-Journals list.

To retrieve books that Reese Library doesn't own, use GIL Express.

To retrieve articles that ASU doesn't own or have access to, use ILLiad.

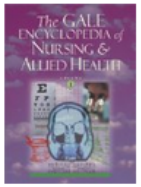
To look for books and other materials -- but not journal articles -- beyond the local region, use WorldCat.

Comments (0)

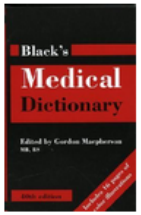
Reference books

Why use books, when there are websites and journal articles available to you? For one thing, a book-length work on a topic of interest to you will probably go into more depth than you anticipate, and will show you how your specific topic is related to its discipline -- or disciplines, in some cases. For topics that are cross disciplinary, look for books with call numbers in the R classification (Health care, broadly), or the RT classification (Nursing, specifically).

Reference books can be great starting places for papers or projects. They provide background information that you can build on to develop a research topic. They can also help you understand how nursing, as a discipline, defines certain concepts. The following are selectedexamples of reference books that you can find in our catalog, GIL:



Gale encyclopedia of nursing & allied health - Jacqueline L. Longe, editor.
Call Number: REF RT21 .G353 2006
ISBN: 1414403747



Black's Medical Dictionary - Macpherson, Gordon, MB.
Call Number: REF R121 .B598 2004b
ISBN: 0810849844
2006 edition also available online through Credo Reference. Search in GIL for the link.

Subject Guide

Camilla Baker

Contact Info:
706-667-4908
Send Email

Links:
Profile & Guides

Subjects:
Information Literacy

AUGUSTA STATE UNIVERSITY

Library » LibGuides » Psychology Resources

Psychology Resources

A brief guide to resources available through Reese Library to support psychology papers and other projects.

Last update: Jun 27th, 2011 | URL: http://guides.aug.edu/content.php?pid=197154 | Print Guide | RSS Updates | SHARE

Home | Primary Databases for Psychology | Other databases | Finding Books | I have a citation to an article, now what do I do? | What If You Don't Have Something I Need? | Documenting What You've Used | Need More Help?

Home | Comments (0) | Print Page | Search: This Guide

Toolbox

To find books, use ASU's library catalog, GIL or GIL-Find
Our catalog also provides access to books from the NetLibrary database.

To find journal articles in different subject areas, use the databases in GALILEO.

To find an article that you've already identified, use Reese Library's E-Journals list.

To retrieve books that Reese Library doesn't own, use GIL Express.

To retrieve articles that ASU doesn't own or have access to, use ILLiad.

To find books at MCG, use their library catalog.

To look for books and other materials -- but not journal articles -- beyond the local region, use WorldCat.

Using Library Resources Effectively

In the pages of this guide, you'll get pointers on how to use the variety of resources available to you in Reese Library and through our website. You'll notice that the toolbox is available on each page; the pages will give you the detailed rundown on why you might want to choose one of these tools, and what it's intended for.

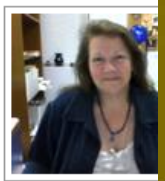
Comments (0)

Beginning the literature review

Once you have selected a topic, how do you begin searching for materials to support it? One way is to search by whatever words you know. Another way is to use the words that database developers use to describe the contents of journal articles and other publications. These "subject headings" are sometimes called DESCRIPTORS in the research databases.

1. Write down your topic and select important keywords to search for. Include synonyms for each keyword.
2. Select the best database to begin your search in. Be prepared to use more

Subject Guide



Camilla Bak

Contact Info:
706-667-4908
Send Email

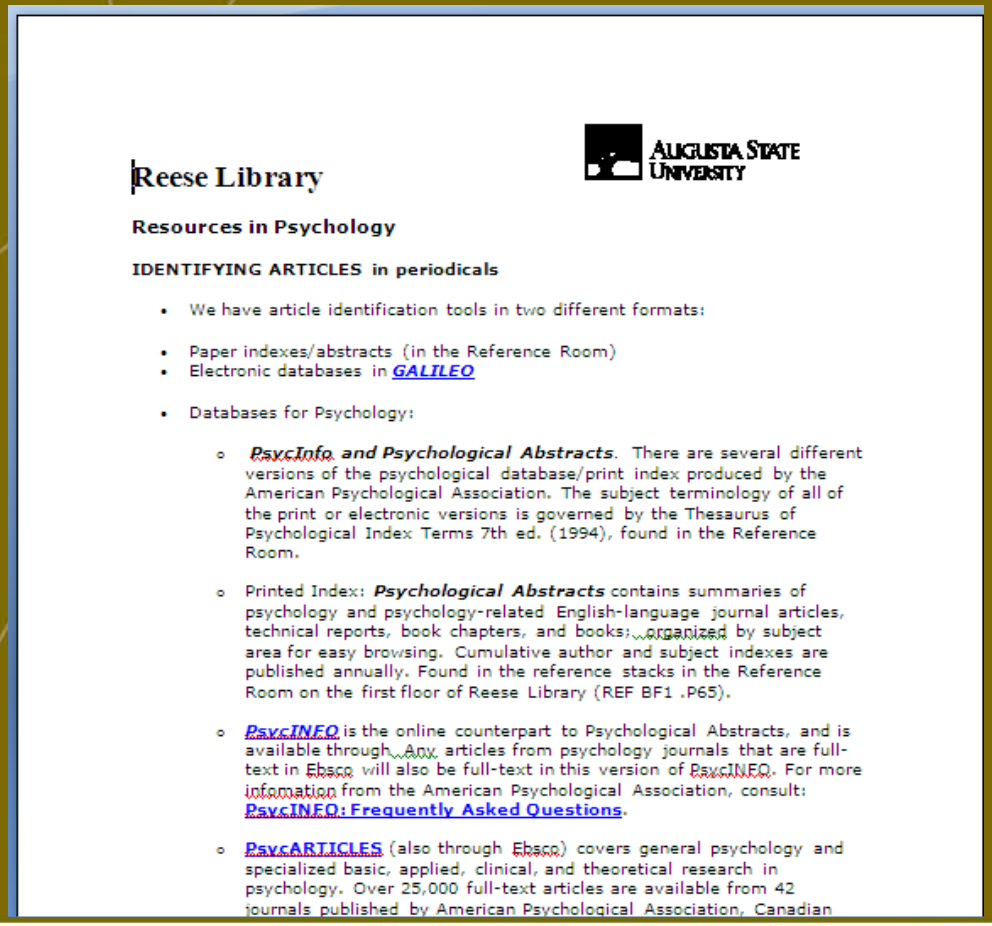
Links:
Profile & Guides

Subjects:
Information Literacy

Feedback

Was this information

Repurposing what you already have



Reese Library

Augusta State University

Resources in Psychology

IDENTIFYING ARTICLES in periodicals

- We have article identification tools in two different formats:
- Paper indexes/abstracts (in the Reference Room)
- Electronic databases in GALILEO
- Databases for Psychology:
  - PsycInfo and Psychological Abstracts. There are several different versions of the psychological database/print index produced by the American Psychological Association. The subject terminology of all of the print or electronic versions is governed by the Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms 7th ed. (1994), found in the Reference Room.
  - Printed Index: Psychological Abstracts contains summaries of psychology and psychology-related English-language journal articles, technical reports, book chapters, and books; organized by subject area for easy browsing. Cumulative author and subject indexes are published annually. Found in the reference stacks in the Reference Room on the first floor of Reese Library (REF BF1 .P65).
  - PsycINFO is the online counterpart to Psychological Abstracts, and is available through Any articles from psychology journals that are full-text in Ebsco will also be full-text in this version of PsycINFO. For more infomation from the American Psychological Association, consult: PsycINFO: Frequently Asked Questions.
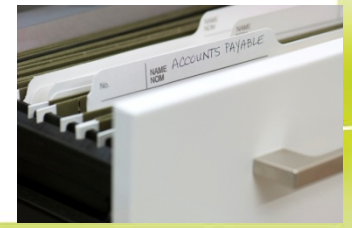
  - PsycARTICLES (also through Ebsco) covers general psychology and specialized basic, applied, clinical, and theoretical research in psychology. Over 25,000 full-text articles are available from 42 journals published by American Psychological Association, Canadian

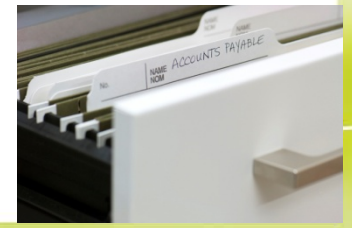
More guides evolution

- Augusta State LibGuide creators have each done things our own way.
- Next step: look at the ‘best of’ and come up with some conventions or rules.



Guides for specific courses

- Efficient—use materials you've used to prepare for the class session.
- Use other general materials you've prepared and link them to course guide.



Guides for specific courses

- Help students determine extent of information needed.
- Explicit instructions help them learn the mechanics of information retrieval.

Example from MGMT 3500

broaden your search. In ProQuest, once you're in ABI Inform, look for the 'change' link at the top of the page to choose more databases. In EBSCO, look for the blue 'choose databases' link above the search boxes. In H.W. Wilson, open Business Full-text, then expand the database selection area.

Comments (0)

Guide Feedback

Was this information helpful?

Yes No Don't know

How useful is this content?
(1 = Not so much, 5 = Extremely!!)

1 2 3 4 5

If you want to use an article from your textbook, use the GALILEO find cited article feature under Journals A to Z http://www.galileo.usg.edu/scholar/aug/journals/ to see if Reese Library has access to the electronic format. If not, check the Library catalog http://gil.aug.edu to look for a paper copy.

Examples for a few topics, from both GALILEO and GIL. GIL is the library catalog where you look for books on your topic. Look at the Finding Books tab on this guide to get tips for searching the catalog.

Company diversity/pluralism. In ABI Inform, try workplace diversity, advantages as a subject, and use the scholarly article limit. Then try workplace diversity, disadvantages.

GIL: Use exact subject Diversity in the workplace

Needed communication skills. In Wilson Business Full-text try business communication as a subject, and recessions or financial crisis as a subject. Then try searching one as a subject, and one as smart-text searching, and then switch them

GIL: Use exact subject Business communication

Historical changes in management or leadership styles: in Business Source Complete, try management styles or leadership styles or authoritarianism in any field, and history or social change as a subject.

GIL: Use exact search Management Employee participation, or Organizational Change, or Management by Objectives.

To find an electronic journal in our collection, enter the name of the journal in the Search for Periodical Titles box located below and click search. You have options to limit the search type by Contains, Begins With, or Exact Match. If we have a title in our collection, you will be presented with a list of different ways to access the journal, including the coverage dates.

Recommended journals for your paper are listed here. Those that are accessed through Academic Search Complete, Research Library and Wilson Omnifile databases are relatively simple to search. For the others, detailed instructions are provided below.

Police Practice and Research—indexed in Academic Search Complete
Crime and Delinquency—Sage; access through Electronic Journals by Title list
Policing—indexed in ProQuest Research Library
Policing: A Journal of Policy and Practice—Oxford University Press; access through Electronic Journals by Title list
Crime and Justice—indexed in LexisNexis Academic Criminal Justice Review— indexed in Wilson Omnifile
International Journal of Police Science & Management—Academic Search Complete

For Crime and Delinquency, click on the Sage link which will take you to the publisher's site. Click in the 'search this journal' box and add your keywords, or use the advanced journal search to target different fields to search in. When you find an article, you may print, save or use the 'email article to a colleague' feature to email the article.

LouAnn Blocker

Contact Info:
Electronic Resources and Serials
Reese Library
lblocke1@aug.edu
706-667-4907
Send Email

Links:
Website / Blog
Profile & Guides

Guides for specific courses

- Useful during the class session
- Useful for students later
- Effects on learning, information overload, and library anxiety

Guides for specific courses

- Has affective purpose of making students feel you've done something just for them.
- Student feedback useful for evaluation/assessment.
- Assists colleagues at reference desk.
- Builds relationship with instructor.

Yadira V. Payne
Government Information Librarian

OUTREACH OPPORTUNITIES

My Approach to Outreach

The Borinqueneers

http://guides.aug.edu/borinqueneers

The Film | The History | The Controversy | Government Resources | Additional Information

The Film Comments (0) Print Page Search:

Monday Night Film Series

The Monday Night Film Series will be showing The Borinqueneers on Monday, November 8, 2010, at 7 p.m in University Hall, room 170.

For more information about the Film Series, please visit their website:

- Monday Night Film Series

Comments (0)

The Borinqueneers (2007)

Their toughest fight was not on the battlefield.

The Borinqueneers chronicles the never-before told story of the Puerto Rican 65th Infantry Regiment, the only all-Hispanic unit in U.S. Army history. Through compelling interviews and rare archival footage, this film explores the unique experience of the 65th, culminating in the Korean War and the dramatic events that would threaten its very existence. Bound by a strong cultural identity, the men of the 65th were determined to prove their mettle, in spite of discrimination within the Army and curtailed rights in their own land, where to this day they can be drafted but cannot vote in U.S. elections. But in the fall of 1952, the 65th would face its toughest challenge when dozens of its soldiers abandoned their positions and were tried in one of the largest courts martial of the war.

Nurturing Current Relationships

Image From: guernsey.osu.edu

Women's Studies

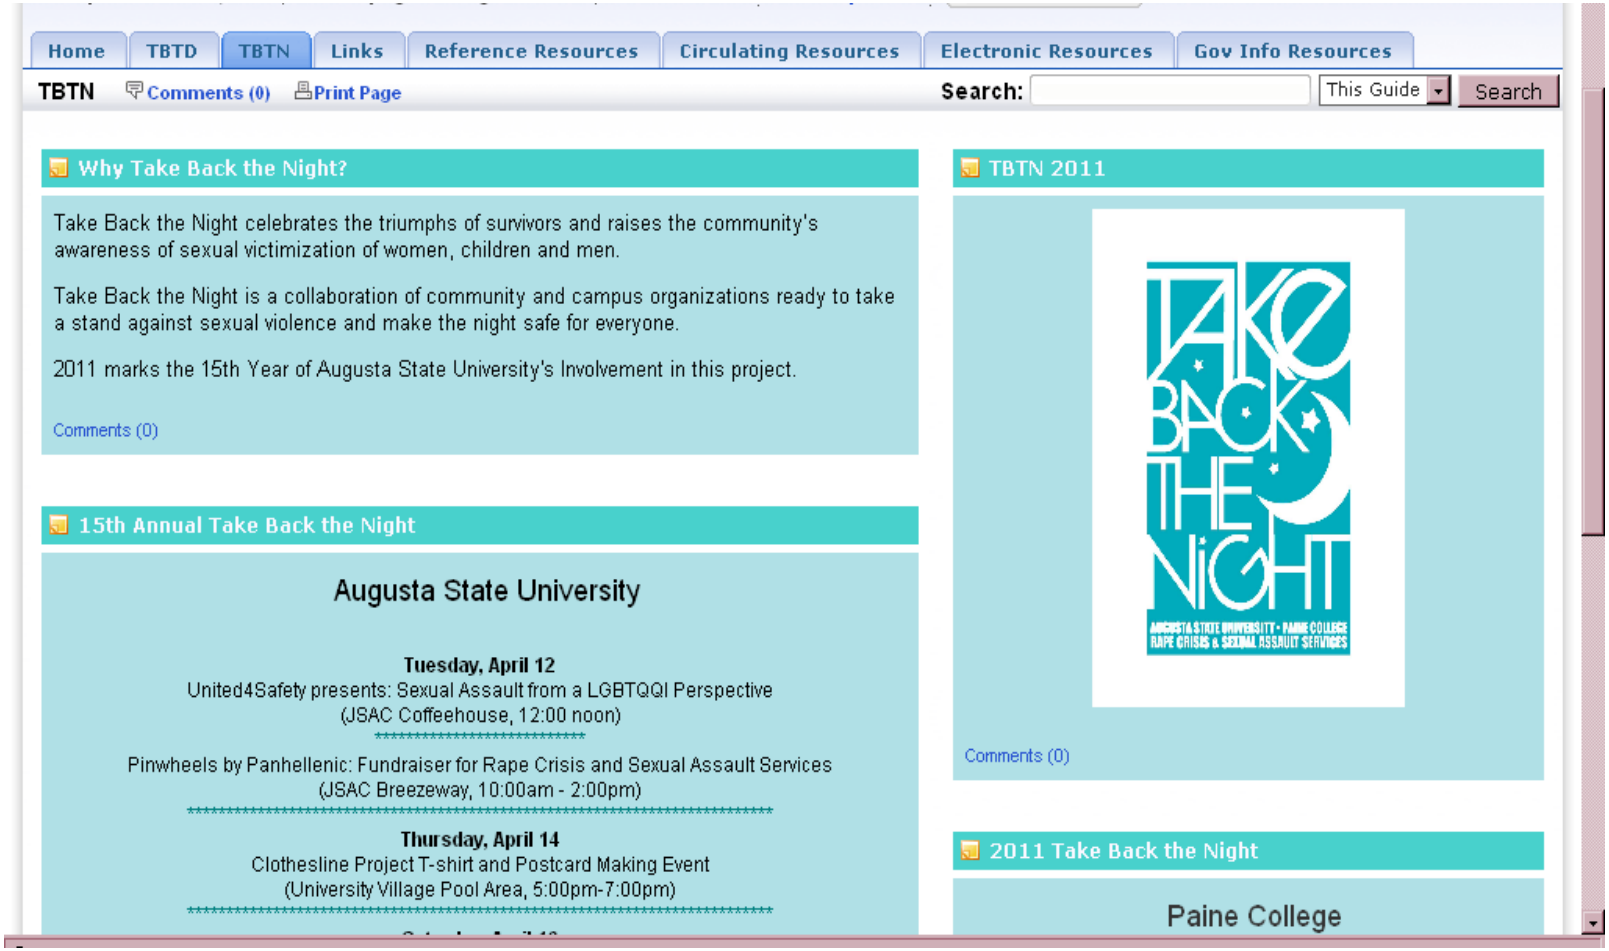
http://guides.aug.edu/womens_studies

Watch the Ripple Effect

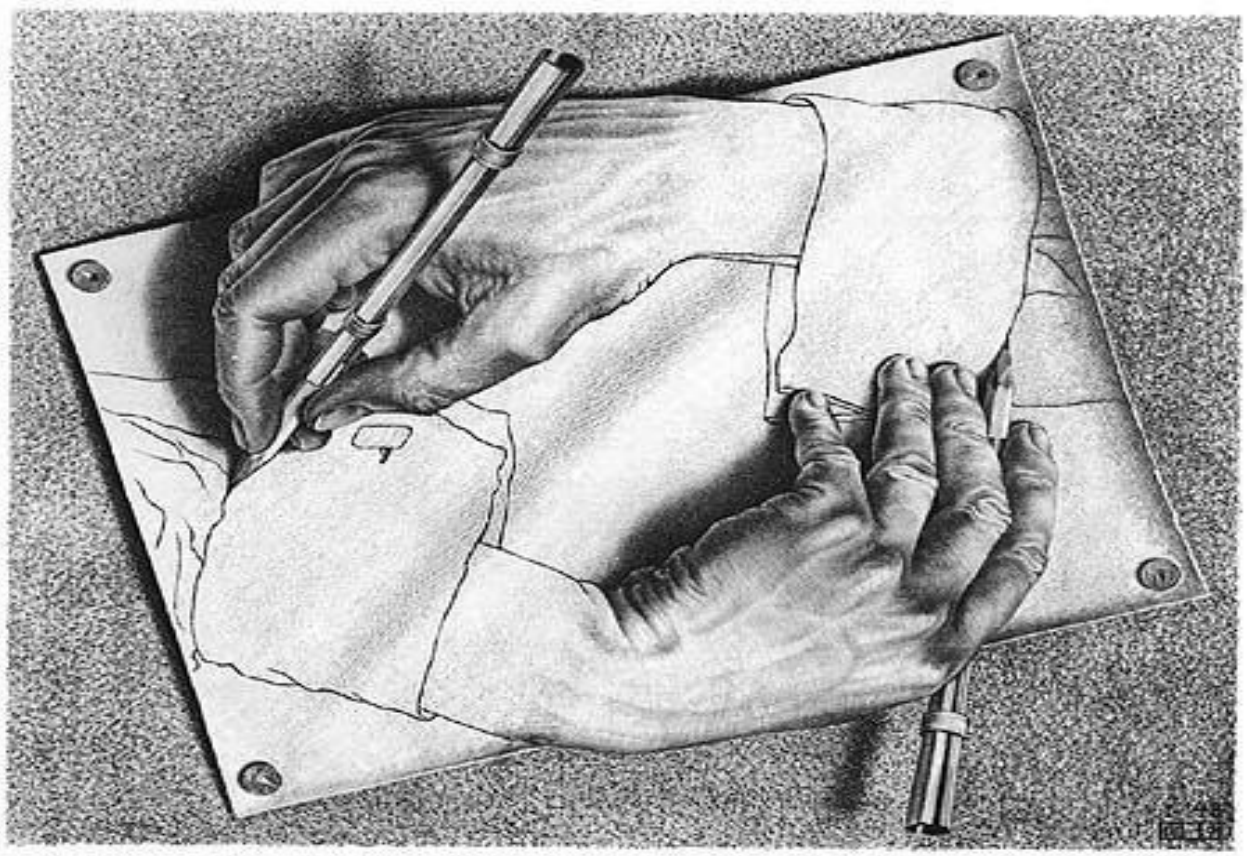
Image From: jeditraining.wordpress.com

Take Back the Night

http://guides.aug.edu/saam

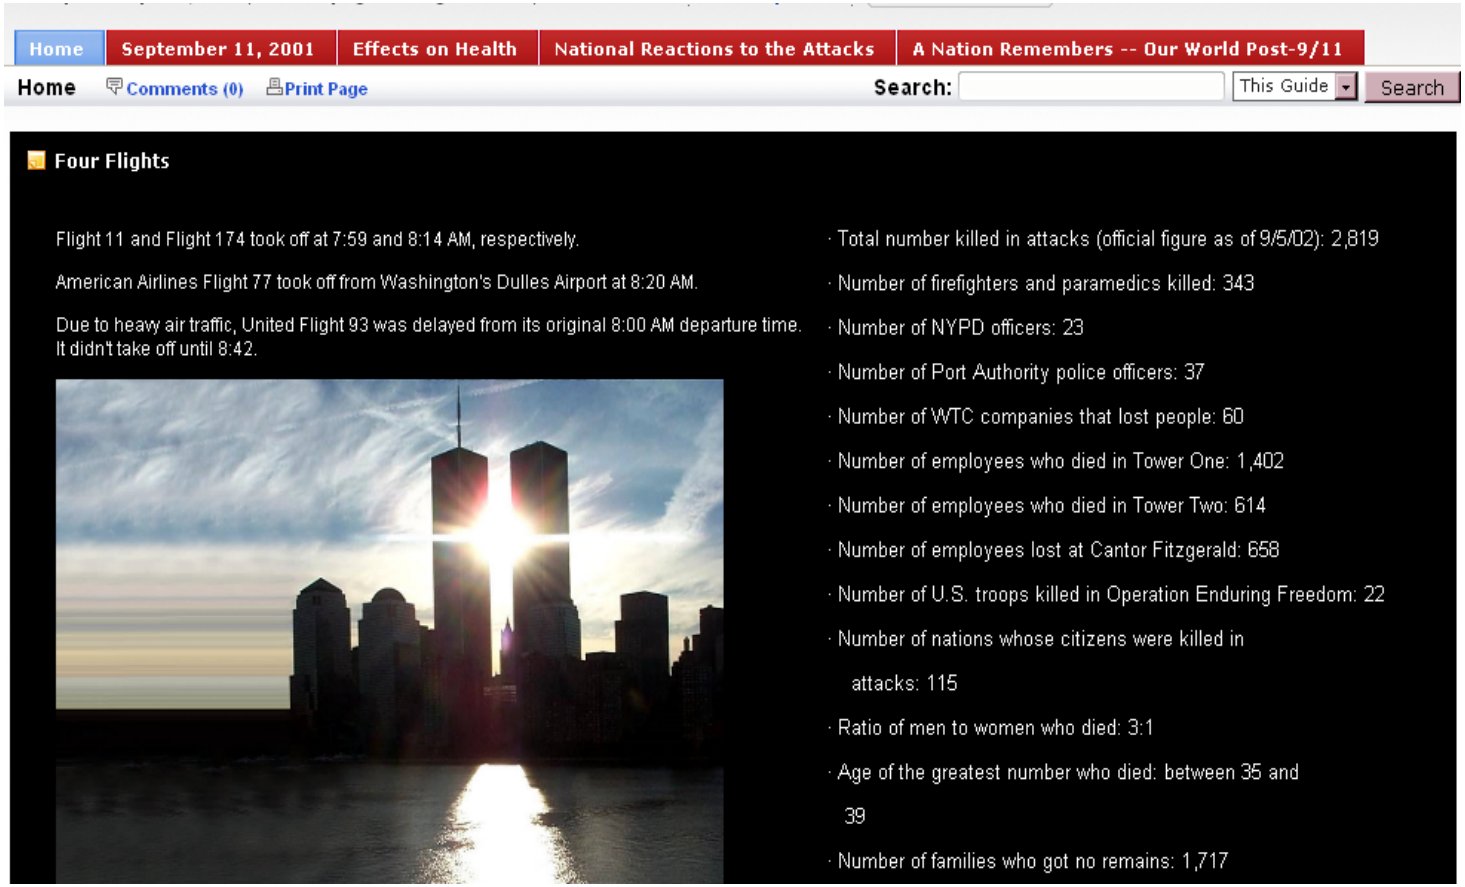


Borrowing is Complimentary

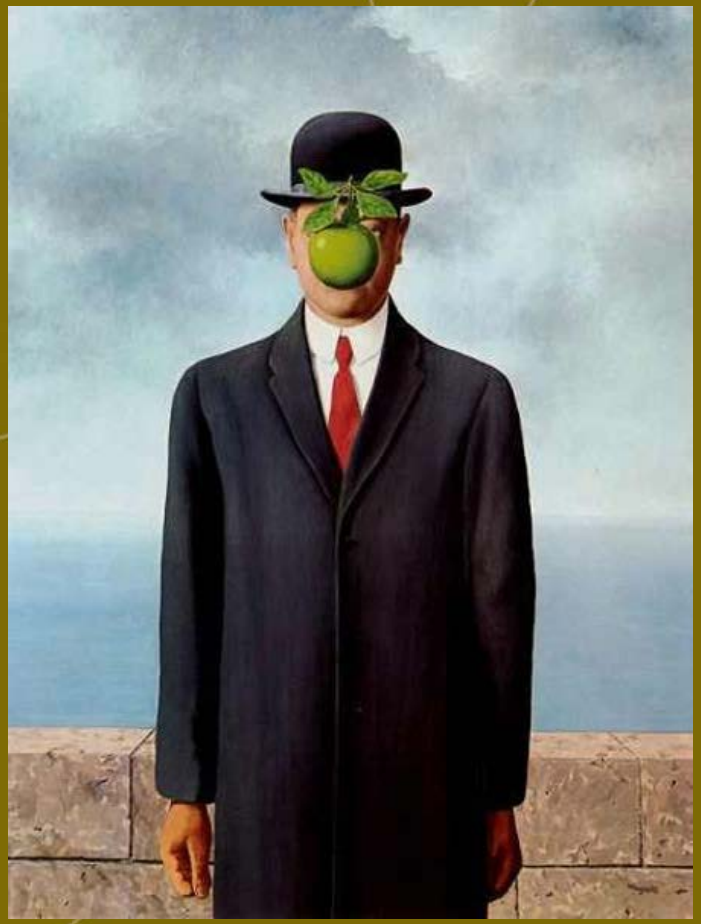


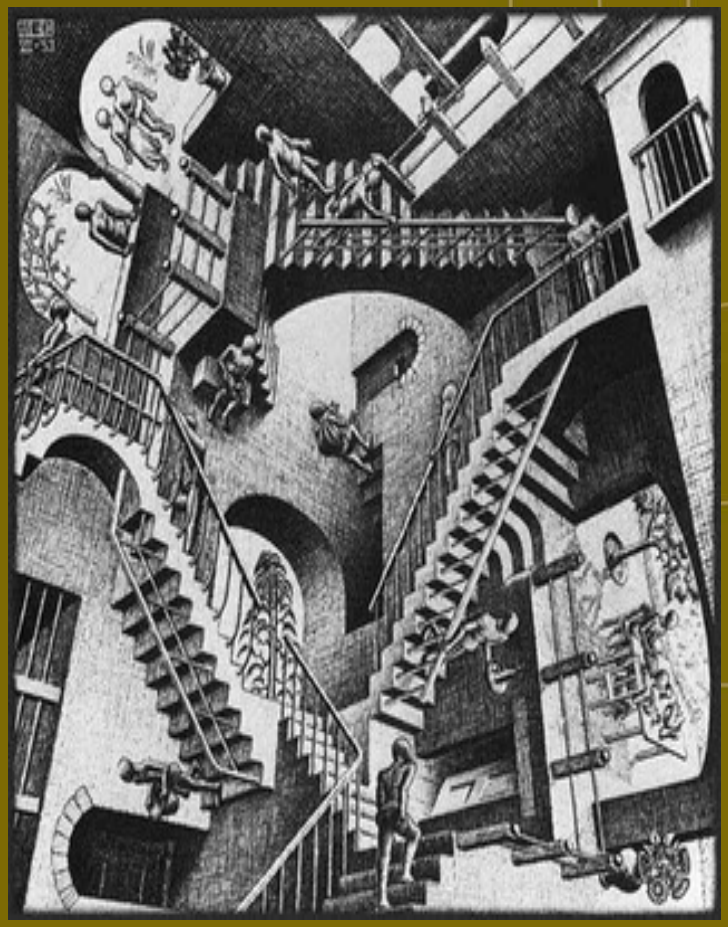
9/11: We Will Never Forget

http://guides.aug.edu/9-11



How I View Creating the Guides





Gene Wilder from Young Frankenstein

Meebo: Gov Info_Docent

ypayne@aug.edu

THANK YOU

Questions and Discussion

Camilla Baker, cbaker@aug.edu

LouAnn Blocker, lblocke1@aug.edu

Yadira Payne , ypayne@aug.edu, Gov Info_Docent

http://guides.aug.edu