INSTITUTE OPENING.

Began Fall Term Monday With Appropriate Ceremony. The Institute opened Monday with a goodly number of patrons and slightly upward of 175 pupils present.

Men, women, boys, girls and teachers seemed to be in the greatest glee, and nothing but a pessimist could see anything but great hopes and bright prospects for an epoch-making school year.

Among those who delivered appropriate speeches, were Mayor G. S. Johnston, who still sees a way for the public school system in this city; Mr. R. Lee Moore, who talked of the meaning, use and necessity of an education, making an open confession that the public had not done its full duty toward the school; the new principal, Prof. G. B. Franklin, who showed his determination to carry out his part of the program as principal, relative to the city school; Hon. J. A. Brannen, who touched upon the teachers a little and, incidentally the publishers of modern text books, which come short, as he thinks, of the old line of books; and Mr. W. C. Parker, who sees everything hopeful for an up-to-date school.

The spirit manifested at the opening of school seems to indicate that the school is going through a crisis, and will result in a much better system of education in our midst.

All the teachers were not present, but all pupils were assured that ample provision would be made in due time, and patrons would find places and teachers in the school for their children.

The public will find this the best time in the history of the school to stand by it, and show their loyalty, that there is strength in unity and power in harmony.

TO CALL ELECTION.

So Recommended by Mass Meeting at Court House. The board of trustees of the Statesboro institute have been asked to call on the city council for an election on the question of a local school system. This was the unanimous voice of the mass meeting held at the court house Monday night, at which were present more than a hundred voters and tax payers.

So far as shown by the voice of those present, the people are almost unanimous for a school system, to be supported by local taxation.

Instructive talks were made by Commissioner Brannen and Messrs. Howell Cone and A. M. Deal explaining the provisions of the new McMichael school law, which is being adopted all over the state, and those of Statesboro's amended charter. Under the McMichael law a county may adopt the system of local taxation as a whole or by districts. In the event the entire county adopts it, a tax of $5 on the $1,000 may be levied on all property and used by the county school board; but in any county where an incorporated town has a school system in operation, such town shall be independent of the county board and shall retain the management and support of its own schools. Statesboro's local school law provides for a tax of $2.50 per $1,000. This, it is said, will afford a far better system of education in our midst.

Stirring talks as to the benefits of a public school system were made by Mayor Johnston, R. Lee Moore, L. G. Lucas, J. W. Wilson, J. G. Blitch and others, and unless some unforeseen contingency arises, when the election is held under the call of the mayor and council, the system of local taxation will win overwhelmingly.

MURDERER ARRESTED.

Jim Carter Found at Walterboro, S. C., and Brought Back. Sheriff Kendrick returned Sunday from Walterboro, S. C., having in custody Jim Carter, wanted for the murder of his wife near Portal about three weeks ago.

Immediately after the murder, Carter escaped. A $100-reward was offered for his capture, with the result that he was traced to his old home at Walterboro and there held for the sheriff. His trial will occur at the October term of superior court.

At His Old Home.

The writer recently spent three days at his old home in the Blitchton vicinity, after an absence of twenty-two years.

I fished and hunted over the old grounds and in the fishing holes in Black creek, below Barnside's bridge, where brother Dean and myself fished and romped in our boyhood days, with my brother-in-law, Jack Patch, and his sons, who paid me all the attention that heart could wish. We didn't do that with any of the feathered or hairy tribes, but the funny tribe that inhabits abundance. Our last day's fish, Thursday, we caught about forty pounds of trout, among which we angled one that tipped the beam at ten pounds.

I do think that those three days are days that will long be remembered by me. A lot of the ground gone over and fishing holes fished in I recognized as if I only had left them on yesterday, while other places I could not recognize.

I found the people all doing well, and in fact a big improvement since I left from there. J. O. G. NEWMAN.

A Court House Scramble.

As indicated in these columns last week, the movement to call an election on the question of removing the court house from Mt. Vernon to Ailey has materialized. On Monday last the petitions that had been circulated by parties advocating removal were filed with Judge McArthur, ordinary, and he has the matter under consideration at this time. An election will be called if Judge McArthur finds that the required number of signatures of bona fide poll tax payers has been secured. In the meantime, the people will have time to find out the truth as to a number of foolish and ridiculous fakes that have been put into circulation this early in the campaign. If the election is ordered we can only hope that the dirty work which has heretofore attended such contests will not be resorted to in this.—Montgomery Monitor.

With The Churches.

Eld. A. W. Patterson returned Monday from a ten-days' evangelistic tour in Bulloch and Tattnall counties. While at Lyons last Saturday he assisted in the institution of a congregation, to which five members were added by baptism Sunday. Eld. Cribbs is pastor of the new church.

The revival services at the Methodist church are still in progress, with a probability of their continuing throughout the week. Miss Emma Tucker, who has been in charge of the meeting nearly two weeks, is a woman of wonderful spiritual power, and her readings on various lines are bearing fruit in awakening the church members to a sense of their duty.

Last Sunday was the regular preaching day at the Primitive Baptist church, and a large congregation was out to hear the pastor, Eld. Stubbs, who has been off on evangelical work for several weeks.

Rev. S. W. Du Bose has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church here, and will leave the first of October for Jonesboro, near Atlanta, where he has been called to serve three churches. Just what arrangements his congregation will make for a successor here has not been decided.

At the Opera House.

"In Old Madrid" is the title of the play which will play at the opera house one night, Thursday Sept. 14th. This is a roaring farce comedy in three acts and full of life from start to finish. High class specialties will be introduced between the acts, consisting of singing, dancing and musical. Reserved seats will be on sale in advance at the usual place. If you want to laugh come out. This play is billed under the management of the Dixie Theatrical Exchange, of Atlanta, and is the first they have ever sent to this place. In it something good may be expected.

Strickland-Rackley.

The marriage of Mr. C. A. Strickland and Miss May Rackley occurred at the home of the bride's father, Mr. J. P. Rackley, at Capoto, last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. H. J. Arnett officiating.

The attendants were Mr. Albert Rackley; and Miss Mattie Strickland and Mr. Mitchell Rigdon and Miss Anna Rackley.

Mr. Strickland is a well-known and popular young teacher in this county, and he and his charming bride are now receiving the congratulations of their friends at their home, three miles north of town.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS.

Jenkins and Toombs Have a Great Many Candidates. Our two new neighbors, Jenkins and Toombs counties, formed by the late legislature, are having warm political times. With their primaries only a few weeks off, there is no scarcity of candidates for the various county offices.

In Jenkins county they are announced as follows: For Sheriff—J. J. Edenfield, L. S. Jackson. For Treasurer—Drewry Reeves, W. H. Brunson, W. J. Aarons. For Clerk—R. L. Lewis, H. P. Jones.

For Tax Collector—W. M. Brunson, N. E. Wallace, H. J. Reddick. For Tax Receiver—A. S. Newton, G. W. Belcher. For Ordinary—C. W. Sharpe, J. E. Lambert, B. F. Lanier. For Coroner—S. B. Hargrave. Toombs county comes with nineteen already announced and others to be heard from:

For Treasurer—T. J. Wilkes, W. T. Mayo, F. A. Thompson, Elijah Hughes. For Ordinary—J. H. Clifton, S. P. Smith, Josiah Odum. For Sheriff—C. W. Culpepper, H. H. Sharp, R. F. Scarborough. For Clerk—D. T. Gibbs, Dan Odum. For Coroner—E. M. Goodwin, M. D. Cowart. For Tax Receiver—R. J. Partin, R. A. Higgs. For Tax Collector—J. M. Deas, O. N. Sharpe, J. R. Collins, jr.

Saffold is Candidate.

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Sept. 8.—Hon. H. Saffold, a member of the lower house from this (Emanuel) county, has announced his candidacy for judge of the middle circuit to oppose Judge B. T. Rawlings, the incumbent. He made a brilliant record in the general assembly this year and his standing as a lawyer is well known throughout the state.

DRAGGING. down pains are a symptom of the most serious trouble which can attack a woman, viz: falling of the womb. With this, generally, come irregular, painful, scanty or profuse periods, wasteful, weakening drains, dreadful backache, headache, nervousness, dizziness, irritability, tired feeling, inability to walk, loss of appetite, color and beauty. The cure is

WINE OF CARDUI OF THE FEMALE REGULATOR, that marvelous, curative extract, or natural wine, of herbs, which exerts such a wonderful, strengthening influence on all female organs. Cardui relieves pain, regulates the menses, stops drains and stimulates the womb muscles to pull the womb up into place. It is a sure and permanent cure for all female complaints. WRITE US A LETTER. "I SUFFERED AWFUL PAIN in my womb and ovaries," writes Mrs. Mabel Baker, of Webster Grove, Mo. "As in my right and left sides, my manes were very painful and nervous, and I was unable to do any thing. Address Ladies' Advisory Committee, 100 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Send me a bottle of Cardui." "I never had in my life."

COTTON SEED MEAL

Statement That it is no Better than Sand Strongly Contradicted. SEED NOT WORTH EXCEEDING $12.

Director of the State Experiment Station Refutes the Statement That Extraction of Oil Affects Their Fertilizing Value. "AS TO COTTON SEED MEAL."

Under the above caption there appeared in the Statesboro News of Sept. 1st an article which, if left unanswered, might be calculated to mislead some farmers who have not, from experience, already been convinced of the inaccuracy of the contents therein contained, and thereby an injury be done our cotton seed oil business without helping in any degree the farmer who might be influenced by the unfounded statements contained in said article.

As to the correctness of the theories advanced by the News, you are referred to a statement from the director of the experiment station, who certainly knows what he is speaking about, as well as to the certificates of a number of well-known farmers, our neighbors and friends, who speak from their experience on the subject. J. W. OLLIFF, Pres. Bulloch Oil Mills.

AS TO COTTON SEED MEAL.

During the past few years it has become a practice of a good many farmers to sell their cotton seed to the oil mills. At first there was a fair price paid for them, but during the past year or two the price has degenerated to such a low figure as to make it ridiculous for a farmer to be caught selling seed.

It is contended by the best and most successful farmers that cotton seed is well worth $20 per ton as fertilizer, and the man who sells the cotton seed off of the soil that produces him a living is robbing that soil of its very life. The oil mill people have reached that class of people by arranging with them to swap them cotton seed meal for their seed, contending that the oil in the seed is worth practically nothing as fertilizer, and the seed is worth as much after the oil is out as they are before.

Now if anyone believes any such argument as that let them try the experiment of some of the mill people. Let them take a sack of white sand as a fertilizer as they will be convinced. One trial will be sufficient.

The seed is carried through some kind of process at the oil mills that every particle of plant food is burned out of them, and a farmer might as well try a sack of white sand as a fertilizer as a sack of this meal.

We know of a number of men who have tried the experiment, and this has been found to be the case. We would advise the farmer to put his seed on his farm in the crude state when he fails to get $20 per ton for them.—Statesboro News.

GEORGIA EXPERIMENT STATION, EXPERIMENT, GA., September 7, 1905. Mr. J. W. OLLIFF, President, Statesboro, Ga.

My Dear Sir: I have yours of the 6th, enclosing clipping from your local paper in regard to cotton seed meal. You ask whether I agree with the ideas advanced in the clipping. In reply I beg to say that I consider the article is wrong from beginning to end. I send you copy of Press Bulletin No. 24 issued in October 1895 (ten years ago) in which you will find a marked article in regard to the comparative fertilizer value of cotton seed meal and cotton seed, in which you will see that I have stated that 800 lbs.

STAGGER NOT A DRUNK.

Decision by Connecticut Jurist on What Constitutes Intoxication. WINSTED, CONN., Sept. 15.—Defining drunkenness, in the Torrington Borough court, Judge Walter Holcomb said: "Simply because a man makes a few mistakes while passing along a street it should not be concluded that he is drunk. A man is entitled to stagger slightly. He may be on the high road to intoxication, but he is still permitted to stagger, as long as he staggers in the direction of home."

Legally a man is not drunk unless he is possessed of a sort of mania, the judge held. Charles Albro, who had been arrested for staggering on the street, was discharged by the court. Potter Gets Mistrial. SANDERSVILLE, Sept. 18.—After being out three days, the jury in the case of Maro S. Potter, the young Napoleon of finance, who was indicted and placed on trial here for the embezzlement of twenty-two thousand dollars from the Davisboro bank, of which he was cashier, this morning reported to the court its inability to reach an agreement and a mistrial was declared. Potter's explanation of the disappearance of the money was that it was due to errors in bookkeeping, on the part of his assistant in the bank. He denied he had taken the money himself.

of Cotton Seed Meal are the full equivalent of a ton of whole cotton seed for fertilizing purposes. The oil of the cotton seed is all that the oil mill takes out of it, and the oil is of no value whatever as a fertilizer, as it does not contain any plant food. In 1894 I performed an experiment with a view to comparing the results from the application of a given amount of cotton seed meal, and the hulls that came from that much meal, with an equal quantity of cotton seed, that is to say, with that quantity of cotton seed which would give the same amount of cotton seed hulls and meal. Of course I added to each enough Acid Phosphate and Potash, to make a balanced fertilizer. The experiment was performed on corn, and the result showed that that I am aware of, and the proof of their continued value as a fertilizer, is the use that is constantly made of them for fertilizing purposes.

4th. Hulls are worth from $8.00 to $10.00 per ton for feeding, and probably will be worth even more one coming winter. They are worth only from $2.00 to $4.00 per ton for fertilizing purposes. Therefore it is perfectly clear that a farmer cannot afford to use even the hulls directly as a fertilizer when they are worth so much for food. This is especially true in consideration of the fact that we can give the manure from the hulls the soil, and get more benefit the first year than he possibly could from the hulls themselves.

In general I may say, that the rate of exchange which the mills can afford to adopt when dealing with farmers, will be controlled almost entirely by the price that they can get for the oil. The higher the price of oil, the more liberal an exchange can be offered the farmer by the oil mill. On the whole, I think it had practice to use cotton seed directly as a fertilizer. As already stated, 800 lbs. of meal will give just as good results, one year with another, as a ton of seed. So far as the amount of vegetable matter in a ton of seed is concerned, it is too small to cut any figure in the result.

Very truly yours, R. J. REDDING, Director.

GEORGIA—BULLOCK COUNTY: We, the undersigned citizens of Bulloch county, having used cotton seed meal as fertilizer, testify as to its value. The results from the use of meal we have found to be as good as from the crude seed.

Patent Medicine Dealers Must Have Liquor Dealers' License. A NEW RULING ON THIS SUBJECT.

Not Stated What Medicines Will be Affected, but There Will be Many of Them. Washington, Sept. 16.—The commissioner of internal revenue today rendered a decision that will seriously affect a number of patent medicines composed largely of distilled liquors. He has reversed a ruling of his department many years ago and now decides that the manufacturers of these medicines must take out license as rectifiers and liquor dealers and that druggists and others handling them will have to pay the usual retail liquor dealers' license.

The commissioner, in a letter of instruction to collectors of internal revenue, says that there are a number of compounds on the market going under the name of medicines that are composed chiefly of distilled spirits, without the addition of drugs or medicines in sufficient quantities to change the character of the whiskey. While no statement is made by the commissioner as to the medicines that will be affected, it is believed that several prominent and highly advertised medicines will be affected by the decision. In some instances the medicines have been found to contain as high as 45 per cent. of alcohol, and there are many on the market, it is said, that contain 25 per cent. alcohol. These medicines are said to have immense sales in prohibition communities, figures collected in Massachusetts, recently showing, it is said, that one much advertised compound with a high percentage of whiskey had been bought to the extent of 300,000 in one year in prohibition communities of one New England State.

TWO YEARS FOR A KISS.

Booker Washington Don't Go in Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—John Fedderson, a negro waiter in a suburban hotel was sentenced to two years in jail by a police magistrate yesterday for forcibly kissing Mary White, an Irish nurse maid.

The nurse was employed by a guest of the hotel and was giving the children their supper when Fedderson came up behind her and threw his arms about her and kissed her cheek. Miss White became hysterical. Another negro waiter had warned that Fedderson would not kiss the young woman. The affair caused great indignation among the hotel guests.

Together in Death. WAYCROSS, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Burrell Sweat died last night at ten o'clock. She was the wife of Judge Burrell Sweat, who died yesterday at noon, the deaths of the two being about ten hours apart.

They both were over eighty years of age and their deaths were the result of heart failure, resulting from a slight sickness.

Bequest to Negro Annulled. MACON, Ga., Sept. 15.—Ordinary Charles M. Wiley decided today it is against public policy to allow John L. Boardman's will to stand, inasmuch as it bequeaths a portion of his estate to Margaret Johnston, a negro woman. He says the moral effect is bad and the influence exercised by the negro was undue and demonstrated mental and moral weakness on Boardman's part.

Jap Officials Steal. TOKIO, Sept. 17, p. m.—Information has been made public that three naval paymasters have embezzled $165,000 of Government funds.

The announcement has been calmly received by the public, but the knowledge that the commission of the crime extended over the period of a year without discovery may cause a felling of distrust and uneasiness towards the naval administration and furnish a weapon to the political parties that are opposing the Government.

Nan Patterson Remarries. WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Miss Nan Patterson who was twice tried in New York for the murder of Caesar Young, the well-known bookbinder, was remarried at noon yesterday to her former husband, Leon G. Martin. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George F. Dudley of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, occurred at the Pattersons home and was witnessed only by members of the family and a few intimate friends. The couple left in the afternoon for New York where they will reside. Miss Patterson and Mr. Martin were divorced three years ago.

Cost of Rawlings' Trial. VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 16.—The county commissioners have fixed the tax rate at $5.10 on the $1,000, it was expected that the rate would be reduced to $4.10, which is the lowest in 25 years, but the cost of the Rawlings trial made it necessary to raise an extra $5,000.

The cost of that case up to the present is just about those figures. The stenographers fees alone amounted to $990, the record being one of the longest ever taken in a criminal case in the state. It consists of over one thousand pages, or about 400,000 words.

Strayed or Stolen. From McDougall Bros. & Co.'s still on the 9th inst., a small hound bitch; black back, tan legs, white feet, white ring around neck, white in face. Send information to John Nelson, Statesboro, Ga.

Carload of Ants. AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 14.—A whole carload of ants passed through Augusta last night en route to New Orleans.

The ants were of the Gantemalan variety and are intended to fight the boll weevil in Louisiana and Texas territory. The ants were all enclosed in glass tubes and were apparently very much alive and ready to devour anything—in fact, in some cases, they had devoured each other. They are being kept a trifle hungry so that they will be anxious to tackle the weevils when they meet. The cargo was in charge of several attendants who kept careful watch over their charges.

TO RIDE IN AUTOS

Negroes of Nashville Will be Given Opportunity. Purpose is to Give Negroes Equal Rights With White People as Passengers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—That R. H. Boyd, president of Pennsylvania Savings Bank, of Nashville, Tenn., had purchased in this city four large automobiles for use on a new street automobile line for negroes in that city was announced today. The vehicles are to be used by the Union Transport Company of Nashville. The Rev. C. N. Parrish, of Louisville, Ky., a negro stockholder in the new company, said: "A law granting the conductors of the street railway power of police to remove passengers from any seat in the car and to arrest whoever refuses, was passed several months ago. It is worded to apply both to the blacks and to the whites, but it is really directed only against the blacks, and since it was passed several negroes have been arrested for refusing to obey the conductors. As a result, the receipts in fares have fallen off $5,000 a week since the law was passed. The negroes immediately organized a company of their own, and began by using wagons. They found that they owned among themselves seventy vehicles which they could use for the purpose.

"The enterprise has prospered, and yesterday I went with Mr. Boyd to purchase four large steam automobiles, which will be run in place of cars. The purpose of the company is to give the negroes of Nashville equal rights with the whites as passengers. It is not our purpose to exclude the whites, and as automobiles are something of a novelty in Nashville, we expect that the whites will patronize our company."

There is some consolation to the south in the fact that after paying an annual fifty million dollars to the pension fund of the United States government, for years, that some of this money is now finding its way back into this section. For years when there were few of the old northern soldiers living south it was a question of all going out and nothing coming back. As it is now Augusta gets back very little of its share of the taxes paid for the support of the federal pensioners, but the state of Georgia does, most especially through the medium of the old soldiers colony at Fitzgerald.

The Knoxville Journal, whose editor was formerly connected with the pension bureau, presents a formidable array of figures showing that the idea is an enormous one. According to these figures there was for the fiscal year ending June, 1904, the sum of $26,035,377 paid to pensioners in the southern states, including over $7,000,000 for Missouri. Pensions for Kentucky are paid from Louisville, and those in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland from Washington, but all the other states are paid from Knoxville. The Journal tells us that last year Tennessee pensioners received $2,813,000; Alabama $1,835,000; Arkansas $1,691,000; Florida $553,000; Georgia $530,000; Louisiana $881,000; Mississippi $656,000; North Carolina $666,000; Texas $1,233,000, all this money being paid from Knoxville. Virginia pensioners received $1,286,000, West Virginia $1,700,000, Maryland $1,696,000, and Kentucky $4,036,000.—Augusta Herald.

There is some consolation to the south in the fact that after paying an annual fifty million dollars to the pension fund of the United States government, for years, that some of this money is now finding its way back into this section. For years when there were few of the old northern soldiers living south it was a question of all going out and nothing coming back. As it is now Augusta gets back very little of its share of the taxes paid for the support of the federal pensioners, but the state of Georgia does, most especially through the medium of the old soldiers colony at Fitzgerald.

The Knoxville Journal, whose editor was formerly connected with the pension bureau, presents a formidable array of figures showing that the idea is an enormous one. According to these figures there was for the fiscal year ending June, 1904, the sum of $26,035,377 paid to pensioners in the southern states, including over $7,000,000 for Missouri. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 20, 1905.

The city of Augusta has increased its local liquor license to $400 and the state has run it up to $500.

There's talk of Sidney Tapp running for governor, too. There is plenty of time for him to get before the people.

Various methods for killing the mosquito are being relinquished in favor of the old plan of tying a weight around his neck and throwing him overboard.

The Columbus man who has filed a suit for divorce after thirty-five years of married life was a long time in finding out that he was being cruelly treated.

An Ohio girl is going all the way to San Francisco to discover why she has ceased to receive letters from her sweetheart. She is undecided whether it is a case of poor mail service or poor male service.

It has been suggested by the Atlanta Journal that cities that are ambitious to increase their population might follow the example of Dr. Dowie, in Zion City, and require each family to produce one baby each year.

The Boston Journal thinks that New York must be hitting a hot pace because according to the census, "an immigrant arrives every forty seconds, a child is born every six minutes, and some one is murdered every two days."

The Marietta Journal figures that it will cost Hoke Smith fifty thousand dollars to continue his present campaign until the primary. The Griffin News thinks that the press comments brought out by his candidacy are worth the price.

Hoke Smith will probably fall his leg to the Piedmont bar to Tapp it, and then there'll be some Russell-ing among the other candidates. Howell they'll take their medicine, one can't j'Estill, but Smith and the people will give it to them just the same.

It is estimated that the total wheat deficiency in all parts of Russia amounts to about 9,000,000 tons, which represents fifty million pounds of bread. To meet this deficiency Russia will necessarily have to turn to other countries for supplies. She will have to go outside of Europe, it is generally agreed, for the reason that in several countries on that continent the growing crops are reported to have been severely damaged, in some cases by drought and in other instances by heavy rainfalls.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

As will be seen by reference to a notice from the mayor in another column, the voters of Statesboro will be called upon to say by their ballots, on the 10th of October, whether we are to have a free school system.

It is believed that a two-third majority will readily be secured in favor of the act, and it ought to be so. Statesboro has spent about $15,000 of good money in the building and equipping of a splendid school house. Since its erection five years ago a great deal of hard work has been done by excellent teachers in an effort to maintain a good school here. While these efforts have been successful to a degree, it is realized that if our town would secure a good name for its educational institution, the system of management should be improved.

It is claimed by those in position to know that a tax of $2.50 on the $1,000 worth of property will provide an absolutely free school here nine months in each year. Then let us have the new system.

HON. FRANK SAFFOLD.

Ordinarily Bulloch county would like to work in harmony with her sister, Emanuel, assisting her in her efforts to reward a worthy son. These two counties have pulled together loyally in former contests, and there is a tie between them that will not break, but how are we to stand by her in her approaching struggle to place her son, Hon. Frank Saffold, on the Judge's bench and not prove ourselves inconsistent?

When Judge Evans, of Sandersville, was on the bench and his fellow townsman, B. T. Rawlings, was a candidate for solicitor, we down this way argued persistently and consistently that those fellows there were trying to "hog it" over us. The argument was good, and had the effect of pulling out a majority of nearly five to one in favor of our neighbor Overstreet, from Screven, who made a manful effort to break up Sandersville's little monopoly business. Emanuel was called on to help in the work, but where was she? Did she stand up for our section's claims? Figures say she did not. She is not inconsistent now in asking that the judgeship and solicitorship be given to her town. She voted for Sandersville's monopoly then, and now she wants one of her own.

But what are we to do about it? We fought monopoly then; are we to aid it now? Col. Saffold is a worthy aspirant and Emanuel is justly proud of him; but is he not in the race at the wrong time? It is probably true that he has no hope of winning at the present time, but seeks rather to get in line for a future occasion. But isn't it just a little too much to try to cunch everything in sight? Take one plum at a time and the pie will last longer.

A point against Col. Saffold's candidacy at this time is that Judge Rawlings has not yet finished his first term. Precedent entitles him to a second term if his services shall prove satisfactory to the people. So far they have been such. Unless something yet unthought of should arise against him, he will win again, and he ought to.

MAKING OF HEROES. It is easily within the power of the press to make and unmake heroes at will; to magnify some acts and minify others of equal greatness. The Great Associated Press is in this hero-making business, and it uses its power at will—it is even said with great partiality. With this fact Dr. Jones, writing in the Atlanta News, finds fault. He says: "More than once the Associated Press has been charged with favoritism toward the Roman Catholic Church. When the Pope dies pages are wired and printed on the subject. When Cardinal Gibbons takes a vacation to Rome and returns to his see at Baltimore columns of white paper are printed to tell what ship he went on, how he came back, what he saw and said, what he had for breakfast and whether he was sea sick or not."

THE UNEMPLOYED. Ninety Per Cent. of Men Out of Work Do Not Want It. A representative of an eastern magazine, Leroy Scott by name, has been investigating the unemployed in the United States, and the facts he has found out are both instructive and distressing. He writes away with a stroke of the pen the chimera of sentimentality that for a long time has hedged about the "poor man out of a job," and declares that the problem is not to find work for men, but men for work. He follows this up with the statement that 90 per cent. of the men out of work do not want work. And he goes into details. "Hundreds who patronize free-soup kitchens and missions, who sleep in municipal lodging houses and in police station, are popularly regarded as unfortunates who have failed to find work," writes Mr. Scott. "The Charity Organization Society and the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, both of New York, recently had cards printed addressed to unemployed men, offering work and financial and medical aid. During March and April 28,000 of these cards were distributed to men in bread lines, missions and lodging houses. Three hundred and five responded—a little more than one per cent. It would seem that self-respecting men, eager to work, would seize at such chance. At the two lodging houses of the Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity, the officers clip from the morning papers and post on a bulletin board the advertisements asking for male help, so that the men can read them when discharged at 6 a. m. As a rule, no more than two or three men from a crowd of 100 or 150 glance at the advertisements."

One day Mr. Scott sat listening to the talk between clerks and applicants. Job after job was refused because the applicants were not pleased with the work or wages. A typical case was that of a young fellow who was offered a good opening in an office at $12 a week. He refused because he wanted to start at $15. On the previous day this agency found a job for a man whose family was being supported by a charity society. The man went to his new work in the morning; in the afternoon he was back at the agency. "They only wanted to pay me $1.75," he said, "and I will not work for less than $2 for anybody."

Now every man has the right to choose his field of endeavor, if he desires to exercise such a right, and much can be said against reducing the market value of labor by underselling and thereby crippling the earning capacity of fellow-laborers; but in the instance cited by Mr. Scott, the discrimination in the kind and the refusal of the price were not due to wholesome motives; rather did they arise from downright worthlessness of the men themselves—their preference of idleness and vagrancy for themselves and penny and hunger for their families, to the expenditure of the effort that would produce relief.

In throwing this light upon an interesting subject, Mr. Scott does not surprise many people, for they suspected these conditions. Rather does he disappoint them in showing that their suspicions have a good foundation.—Macon News.

For Sale. An acre and one-half of land on East Main street, containing two houses and room for four more. Both houses rented to good tenants. Apply at this office for particulars.

Colored Farmers' Convention. The colored farmers of Bulloch county met in convention at the first Baptist church in Statesboro on Saturday, 16 inst., only a small number of members being present. Prof. Geo. W. Carver, of the Tuskegee Normal Institute, was the speaker of the occasion, and spoke interestingly on the cultivation of potatoes, peas and corn, and the tilling of the soil generally, especially worn out soil. He stated that lime, leaves and bark of any kind are good soil builders. Prof. Carver spoke pleasantly of his impressions of this town. He said he had been told that it would not be well for him to come to Statesboro, but that he had been pleasantly greeted by whites as well as blacks here. He also expressed pleasure at finding such interest among the colored people in educational matters and declared that as his people give more attention to education and industry they will come to be better citizens. D. E. DICKERSON, Statesboro, Ga., Sept. 18.

Mill Ray Lodge F. & A. M. Mill Ray Masonic lodge held an unusually interesting session at their meeting last Friday, two candidates receiving the E. A. degree and one the master's. A number of visitors from other lodges were present, and dinner was spread on the ground. District Deputy Saffold was expected to be present, but was unable to attend. J. W. Olliff Co. buy wagons, buggies, plows and disk harrows in carload lots, and are in a position to sell you cheaper than our competitors.

Little Locals. For first-class shoe repairing go to J. G. Mitchell's shop. Bugging, ties and twine a specialty at J. W. Olliff Co's. Remember that J. G. Mitchell does harness-making and repairing. Attendance at the Statesboro Institute is steadily increasing, the beginning of the second week witnessing an enrollment of 210 pupils. Ginner's supplies of all kinds—waxing gin-wrapping, belting, glue and tacks—for sale by J. W. Olliff Co.

An abundant water supply will enable the Bulloch Oil Mill to handle your cotton this fall at the rate of 35 bales a day. No delay. As pretty load of corn as has ever been brought to this town was that shown on the streets yesterday by Mr. George Deal. The load contained ten bushels, and, though taken as gathered from the field, would yield a bushel of shelled corn to each 100 ears.

Circulating Library, and Books for Sale. A full line of library books—three hundred new ones just received, including works of Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Fifty cents per month gives the privilege of our library. A lot of cheap books for sale, 25 cent books for 15 cents. A nice line of gift books, from the best works of the best-known writers for grown-ups to the cheap picture and story books for children.

At the Churches. At a conference of the members of the Presbytery church held last Sunday, the resignation of Rev. S. W. DeRose, who has accepted a call to Jonesboro, was received and a committee appointed to arrange for a successor. At present it is thought the plan will be to secure the services of one of the Savannah pastors for a mid-week service until better arrangements can be made.

The revival services at the Methodist church closed Sunday night, having continued four weeks. Miss Emma Tucker, the bible reader, and Miss Mary Wright, the sweet singer, were both the recipients of a liberal thank offering, which expressed to some degree the high appreciation of their successful labors with the church. From here it is understood that the young women will go to Claxton to engage in a similar service next week.

We sell the celebrated Summer's Barnesville buggy. The best in the world. J. W. Olliff Co. The entertainment, "In Old Madrid," at the opera house Thursday night though poorly attended was well enjoyed by those present. It is pronounced a clean show and Mr. Fields informs us that the standard of plays at his house this season will be higher than heretofore. The next play, to be here in about a month, will consist of over twenty characters.

We are not going out of business. We have just commenced. Come and see for yourselves. J. W. Olliff Co. The Taylor-Canady buggy is one of the best on the market. J. W. Olliff Co. handle them.

Personal Points. Geo. Williams, of Adabelle, is a new entry at the Institute. P. Williams, the new Metter merchant, was in town yesterday. Mr. Homer Parker left yesterday for Macon to enter Mercer college for the ensuing term. Mr. Sam Crouch, jr., will leave next week for Atlanta, where he will enter a pharmaceutical college. Mr. G. W. Spitz, of Egypt, has been spending several days this week visiting Mrs. W. D. Davis. Mrs. H. C. Parker, of Ludowice, is visiting the family of her son, Mr. W. C. Parker, for several days.

Mrs. Enoch DeLoach, of Claxton, visited her daughter, who is attending the Institute, Saturday and Sunday. Messrs. G. F. Sutton and R. D. Smith, the naval stores merchants from Register, were visitors to this office Monday. Mr. S. F. Olliff's many friends regret to learn of his quite serious illness, but are glad to know that he is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirkland, of Savannah, who were visitors to Statesboro last week, left Saturday for a ten-days' visit to Emanuel county. A party of young students who left Saturday for Sharon, Ga., to attend school this fall are Sidney Smith, Grady Franklin and Will and Charlie Preoturus.

Among the Statesboro young men who left for college this week were Jessie and Harvey Brannen, Walter McDougald, Doy Jones and Allen Bruce, for Athens, and Geo. Lively for Atlanta. Misses Ola and Lee Franklin and Eva Olliff were among the young ladies who left last week to attend school at Athens; while Misses Sallie Rigdon and Lola Anderson went to Milledgeville.

Supt. D. N. Bocat, of the S. & S., arrived last Saturday and at once assumed his new duties. He has been connected with the S. A. L. for many years, and is thoroughly familiar with railroad work. Mrs. Jane Davis, of Portial, is visiting relatives in this community, having spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Webb, and is at present at the home of her brother, Mr. John Wood. Mrs. Davis and Mr. Wood are among Bulloch's oldest citizens, the former being 83 years old and the latter 87.

CHAPTER OF MISHAPS. Elevator Runs Away and Store Shelving Falls Down. A couple of incidents which occurred at the Turner-Glison new store Monday, brought consternation among the employes in that establishment for a few moments without, however, doing much damage. In the forenoon Mr. L. G. Lucas, the piano and organ dealer, whose place of business is on the second floor, was bringing down a nice new 700-pound piano which he had sold to Mr. Harley Jones when the freight elevator got loose and ran down to the second floor, tearing up the floor for a considerable space around. Thanks to the solidity of the piano, it was uninjured except for the loosening of one key, though the instrument rebounded at least a foot when it struck the floor.

In the afternoon, while the Turner-Glison people were engaged in opening out their new stock of dry goods, a section of shelving extending the entire length of the store crumbled under the weight of fifteen tons of goods, and again there was consternation. No damage was done to the goods, and the shelving having been rebuilt more strongly, it is not expected that there will be any more great drops, unless it should be in the price of goods, for which announcement you may watch these columns.

When you go to buy Groceries, you want the best for the least money. We are determined to win a part of your trade, and to do so we will give you prices like the above. Gone to Athens. Prof. R. J. H. DeLoach left Saturday for Athens to assume his duties at the State University, where he will be employed the ensuing term. Of him the Athens Banner says: Prof. R. J. H. DeLoach will be a new member of the University of Georgia faculty this year. He has been chosen by the board of trustees to assist Professors Park and Sanford in the department of English, and will be on hand to take up the duties of his new position with the beginning of the college session. Prof. DeLoach is a graduate of the University of Georgia in the class of 1898 and is one of the ablest young educators in the state. His friends predict a great success for him in his new position.

Restaurant Open. With a first class cook I have opened my restaurant, adjoining the bakery, and am prepared to serve choice meals at all hours. B. P. MAULL. A VALUABLE PATENT. J. F. Cox is offered $50,000 for His Invention. Mr. J. F. Cox, a citizen of Statesboro, stiller for McDougald Bros. & Co., has this week received letters patent on a rail-joint which promises to bring him a small fortune; in fact, he has already had three offers for the purchase of his patent, one for the magnificent sum of $50,000. As yet, however, he prefers to hold for better terms. The invention in itself is a simple thing. It consists of a wedge-shaped fish-plate for joining railroad rails and a wedge-shaped key the length of the plate, which tightens the joint when driven in under the heads of bolts extending through the rails and plates. Thus the joints are made tight by a blow on the key with a sledge hammer instead of with a wrench as at present. Mr. Cox claims by this new appliance one man can do the work of ten.
