Dr. James H. Oliver, Jr., featured in Discover Magazine On-line

November 12, 2013

Dr. James H. Oliver, Jr., former director of the Institute for Arthropodology and Parasitology (now the Institute for Coastal Plain Science) at Georgia Southern University, is featured prominently in a recent exclusive article published in Discover Magazine On-Line. The article traces the story of Lyme disease in the southern U.S. Dr. Natasha Rudenko, who is a Senior Research Scientist from the Czech Republic, who collaborates with Dr. Oliver and works at Georgia Southern University several months a year, is also featured in the magazine.
