Dear Miss Cochrane,

Greetings from the Maxfields!

You didn't see us last summer and probably won't do so this year — for the depression has made a luxurious summer impossible, with the young man of the family about to enter college after five years in preparatory school. We trust the hard times have not seriously affected you.

I wanted to ask you a question.
Do you suppose the State Library would care to have copies of the various articles (in reprint, and covered) I have published during the past ten years? It occurred to me that publications by a son of the State of Maine might suitably be deposited in your stacks.
If you desire them, let me know, and I will send them on.

Cordially yours,

Erskine Maxfield

My dear Dr. Maxfield;-

Thank you for sending us your photograph. We are glad to have it to add to the Maine Author Collection files.

Very truly yours,

My dear Dr. Maxfield;-

We are very glad indeed to have in our library the extremely interesting collection of papers and articles by you which you recently sent us.

As you may know, we have at the Maine State Library an exhibition collection of the works of Maine writers, both those who were born here and those who have lived in Maine during their creative years. It is a pleasure to number you among our authors and to add your work to our collection. Thank you for sending it to us and for taking the trouble to autograph the various items.

In connection with the collection we have assembled biographical and critical material about our authors. Will you send us some time biographical data about yourself and, if possible, a picture?

Very truly yours

Dear Mr. Maxfield:

Thank you very much for remembering the library with a copy of your exceedingly interesting Barlow item. We are adding it to the Maine Author Collection, with appreciation for your kindness and generosity.

Very truly yours
