Miss Suzanne Reynolds

New York, New York

Dear Miss Reynolds:

Recent notices about your unusual TALES OF AROOSTOOK have delighted us: both because there is such material available in print, and because it gives us an opportunity to welcome a new name to the literary roster of Maine.

The Maine Author Collection, for exhibit purposes only, now includes about a thousand inscribed, presentation copies of books written by Maine authors, or about the state; and in connection with the project, we maintain a file of all available biographical, photographic and critical material on our writers.

The present interest in such a collection is great, but the future value is immeasurable; and we have been extremely fortunate in encountering splendid cooperation from our authors.

We do hope that you will wish to make it possible for us to add an inscribed copy of TALES OF AROOSTOOK to the collection; and also that you will be so kind as to supply us with biographical information.

Please accept our best wishes for the success of your book.

Very truly yours

Dear Miss Reynolds:

You are most kind and generous to inscribe and present to the Maine Author Collection a copy of your charming little book, TALES OF AROOSTOOK.

This is a particularly interesting contribution to Maine-iana; and we are very pleased and fortunate to be able to add it to this collection.

Please accept our very sincere thanks for your gift, and our best wishes for its successful reception.

Very truly yours
