"Baby Mine."

The production of this well advertised play at the Heywood Opera House, Monday night, was received with much approbation, by one of the largest houses ever seen in this well known play house. The play is a bright sparkling comedy, full of complicated situations that kept the audience guessing how the young wife could explain things to the jealous husband. In this matter she was ably assisted by her intimate friends, "Jimnie" and his wife. Houlton theatre goers are to be congratulated on the fact that plays of this character and reputation are now assured a production in this town, as Manager Connors is striving to give Houlton the very best that can be obtained in the amusement line.

Resolutions.

To the Voters of the Town of Houlton: The following resolution was unanimously adopted at a Union meeting of the Boys Clubs held May 25, 1911. Whereas there is to be resubmitted the question of constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic in the State of Maine, on the eleventh of September, and whereas we feel it would be greatly against the best interests of the young men and boys of our State, morally, educationally, commercially and socially to repeal said amendment to the Constitution. Therefore, be it resolved, That we, the boys of the clubs of Houlton in Union Meeting duly assembled, petition and appeal to the voters of Houlton to vote for and work for the reaffirmation of said amendment to the Constitution. C. O. TURNER, ELTY GUIOU, HARRY HILL, J. A. TENNEY JR., WALDO HAGERMAN, Com.

Green's Picnic.

Probably a happier crowd of boys could not be found in Aroostook County, than the 150 little fellows who assembled in front of B. S. Green's store, last Wednesday afternoon, to take the march to "Garrison Hill." Promptly at 1:30 o'clock the boys formed the line of march by twos, carrying banners and flags, and headed by a drummer boy. Anticipation was written on every face, for the reputation of these annual events given by Mr. Green to the boys, are well known, and each boy was determined to have his full share of everything that was on the program. The games and sports were under the direction of Secy J. H. Piper, and it is needless to say that everything went along smooth, as Mr. Piper knows boys from A to Z. The first contest of the afternoon was a ball game for the prize of $3.00 to the winners, and $1.00 to the losers. This game was hotly contested and finally won by Capt. Earl Astle's team with a score of 8 to 4. The 50-yd. dash was won by Phil McIntyre the prize being a sweater, while Johnnie Hannigan was a close second, winning a cap. 100-yd. dash, 1st, Ulysses Astle, prize 50c cash; 2nd, Guy Carroll, prize necktie. The next event was a laughable one much enjoyed by the spectators. A human wheelbarrow race for boys under 12 years of age, won by Walter Nason and Maurice Dumphy. The wheelbarrow race for boys over 12 yrs. of age was won by Leonard McNeil and Ray Astle. A 1 1/2 mile Marathon race course from the parade grounds to B. S. Green's store; 1st prize, suit of clothes, winner Claude Estabrooke; 2nd prize, pair of shoes, winner Frank Gallagher; 3rd, prize, cap, winner Neville Faulkner. Winning time, 9 minutes. A team was in waiting to carry the contestants back to the grounds where a fine supper was waiting, and soon this happy crowd of youngsters were busily engaged in the record breaking contest, Boy vs Grub, and Boy was a winner by a wide margin. After the event was over, three cheers were given for Mr. Green and Mr. Piper, and a tired, happy crowd marched home voting the 1911 picnic the best ever.

We are reforming our holidays, one by one. The Fourth of July has been put on a fairly safe and sane basis and now we begin to hear about the advocates of a safe and sane Christmas. We do not know along just what lines these reformers will work but if they do away with the make-believe Santa Claus of a highly inflammable nature that will be a step in the right direction.

Why? If local option is the best thing for a community, why is it that the advocates of taking this amendment from the Constitution do not tell us the advantages that will be derived by having local option, the good that will come to the home, the help to the workman's family, the church, the school, the church and the town as a whole?

Another argument which we have heard in favor of removing this amendment is that in the cities it would be better to have the traffic regulated, but statistics show that in license cities there is just as much illegal selling and kitchen bar-rooms as with prohibition. Prohibition may not prohibit in some places, neither will high license compel every dealer to procure a license. When this same man was asked if he would like to have rum shops on our streets said, No! Houlton would never vote for High License, but Bangor would be benefitted by it. We fail to see the value of such reasoning.

Every business concern in Houlton in a good location, who rents the store that he occupies, would be liable to be warned out if a rum-seller wanted it for a saloon, as the liquor dealer could afford to pay much more rent than the merchant. With all the arguments that are used by those who oppose the law as it is, there is not one which shows that a change will help any town, and be of advantage to any community.

Vote NO! On Monday next the voters of the State of Maine will register their vote on the question, "Shall the Amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors be removed from our statute book?" and in voting, every citizen should consider what the result will mean to the town in which we live. Will it be an advantage to have a certain number of rum shops on our business streets, where the temptation will be spread before our men and young men who would otherwise not think of it?

Who are the people that are advocating the repeal of this law, and who are the ones that are opposed to removing this amendment to the Constitution? The answer to these questions will show that the better element in every community, the mothers and fathers of our State, the preachers of the gospel, the men who are employing men in the different manufacturing interests of our State, the men and women who are interested in the welfare of the young men, are all opposed to removing this amendment to the Constitution.

the Declaration of Independence, which we believe will apply: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed with their rights; THAT AMONG THESE ARE LIFE, LIBERTY AND THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, and whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it and to institute on its principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness."

We feel safe in concluding that inasmuch as the "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" are to be fostered and protected by civil government, the state is acting wholly within her rightful province in prohibiting a business which in reality invades the natural or inalienable rights of the citizen. It cannot be successfully denied that the liquor business is a menace to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Many claim that the arguments of those who favor prohibition consist largely of sentiment. Not only do the facts refute such a claim, but decisions of the United States Supreme Court attest that the question is one of serious importance. In the case of Crowley vs. Christensen (157 U. S., 85) the United States Supreme Court held: "The statistics of every state show a greater amount of crime and misery attributable to the use of ardent spirits obtained at these liquor saloons than to any other source." Again: "It is undoubtedly true that it is the right of every citizen of the United States to pursue any lawful trade, or business, under such restrictions as are imposed upon all persons of the same age, sex, and condition. There is no inherent right in a citizen thus to sell intoxicating liquors by retail. It is not a privilege of a citizen of the state or of a citizen of the United States."

In case of the state of Kansas vs. Zibold & Haholin, 123 U. S. Rep., 633-662, the Supreme Court held: "We cannot shut out of view the fact within the knowledge of all that the public health, the public morals, and the public safety may be endangered by the general use of intoxicating drinks." The United States Supreme Court has also held in License Cases 5 Howard 48 U. S., 573-632: "If a loss of revenue should accrue to the United States (because of prohibition) from a diminished consumption of ardent spirits, she will be a gainer a thousand fold in the health, wealth, and happiness of the people."

AN INTERESTING STORY ABOUT MONEY !

Read every word of it and make up your mind to be my guest on a week end trip to BOSTON WITHOUT A CENT OF EXPENSE TO YOU.

I haven't had a vacation in five years and my Doctor says I need a change of scene, and rest. I am too busy to rest long, but I am coming up to Houlton to visit you a few days. My address from September 6th, will be the Snell House. I want you to call on me personally, or write and I will call and see you.

I am a business man of Boston, specializing in conservative and sound investment stocks. I have been engaged in all forms of investing for more than twenty years—I have successfully engaged in the real estate and investment business. I have been successfully associated with many large and important business enterprises.

Only one man in a thousand knows what stocks and bonds are—few men know the principle of incorporation. The men who know the kind of investments that are sound and remunerative are rare indeed—and most men are content to let their money earn a paltry 3 per cent. in Savings banks, when it might earn from 7 per cent. to 30 per cent. or more. If you want proof, know then that the deposits in this country last year amounted to $25,134,018,251.95, according to the Comptroller of the Currency. Now the people who own that vast sum get 3 per cent. on their investment.

Yet that same large sum is running railroads, operating steamship lines, financing big enterprises, supply the monetary sinews for big and small industrial corporations, making a living for thousands of bankers, building big banking institutions, and making handsome dividends besides. That will give you an idea of the mighty earning power of money—when invested by the money-wise—those who understand the fundamental principles of investment.

The French peasant is richer than the average American. In the United States a man who has $100 carries it around in his pocket, more often than not, it does not occur to him to put it in a Savings bank. In France the equivalent of that sum makes the owner a probable investor. A man in the United States who has $1000 or more usually leaves it with a bank or Trust company with the idea of putting it to use when the time becomes opportune. In France the banker would soon notify such a customer that his money would cease to draw interest. The French banker makes his customer invest his money.

The French peasantry own more than half of the entire wealth of his country. Savings invested make capital, and the French peasants are becoming capitalists. Middle-class Americans should emulate the French investor.

During my short vacation and visit in Houlton, I wish to interest you in the purchase of $20,000 worth of 7 per cent Cumulative preferred stock of the C. H. Batchelder Company of Boston. This company, who manufacture tents, awnings, flags, horse covers, etc., was established in 1895, sixteen years ago. The company is the largest in its line in New England, employing 50 people the year round.

Mr. Batchelder, president and treasurer of the company came to me a short time ago and said:—My business has grown steadily for sixteen years, so I have incorporated it under Massachusetts laws for $80,000, $50,000 common stock and $30,000 7 per cent. cumulative preferred, par value $100. The gross earnings for the year ending June 1st, were $150,000 and the net earnings after all bills etc, were paid was $9,000. The net earnings have averaged from $7,000 to $9,000, for the past ten years.

These net earnings have been put back into the business each year and the business was incorporated with a view of security and permanency and to secure liquid assets from the sale of the $30,000 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock to enable me to increase my plant to take care of the large increasing business. I wish to sell this preferred stock,—what can you do for me Mr. Rigglesman? I can do a whole lot for you Mr. Batchelder, I will go out and get the money for you. But before doing so I would like to have a financial statement, also an interview with your bankers. The financial statement was furnished, which shows $50,000 assets with no liabilities; and the company is rated in Dun and Bradstreet's for $50,000.

Before leaving Boston I sold 100 shares $10,000 worth of this stock to one man, Mr. F. G. MacDonald, of Reading, Mass.

He writes as follows:—

Reading, Mass., August 26, 1911.

Mr. Howard Hughes Rigglesman,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

"After meeting Mr. Batchelder and looking his plant over, I have decided to take 100 shares of the 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock of the C. H. Batchelder Company. Herewith, please find my check for $10,000. Since I saw you, I have made further inquiries about Mr. Batchelder and his business and I hear nothing but praise for him on every hand. Under the circumstances, I feel that with the new liquid assets from the sale of the $30,000 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock, that he will build the business up to a much greater earning power and that the investment is safe and a conservative one."

Truly yours,

F. G. MacDonald.

"An interview with his banker, President Ratshesky of the United States Trust Company, Boston brought the following: I cannot speak too highly of Mr. Batchelder, he has been a customer of ours for a great many years. I like him as a man and the way he conducts his business."

Mr. Charles E. Sleeper, manager of the Castle Square Hotel, Boston, says:—

"Mr. Batchelder has done my awning work for a number of years. If I had all of the money I have put into poor investments, I would quickly take the whole issue $30,000 of Mr. Batchelder's preferred stock, so you would not have to look further for the money, because I know him and that it is all right and you can refer any prospective purchaser of the stock to me."

Now just a moments mental thought for computation. The C. H. Batchelder Company is only liable for the 7 per cent. on the preferred stock issue of $30,000, this is $2100. The net earnings have been enough for the past ten years to pay three times this amount and more. Therefore, I say to you, that this is a safe, sound, conservative gilt-edge stock investment—and I believe with the expansion and increase of business that this stock will pay handsome returns.

You cant go wrong in taking advantage of this investment, so call on me during my short vacation and visit with you. I want to get 20 men and women of Houlton and vicinity to take 10 shares each $1,000 worth of this stock—Or ten persons to take 20 shares $2,000 each or more. Then I want all those who have taken 10 or more shares to pack their grips and be my guest on a trip to Boston, to see the C. H. Batchelder Company plant and meet Mr. Batchelder. I will pay all your expenses so that the trip will not cost you one cent. Then if you are not perfectly satisfied, your money will be cheerfully refunded. What could be more fair than this? I will show you a nice time too and you will go back home satisfied and in future years thank me for making it possible for you to make this investment.

Of Interest To Farmers

A Question of Ventilation.

"I'm always half dead in the morning," "I never get up my strength until nearly noon," "I don't feel rested in the morning; I'm as tired when I get up as when I went to bed," etc., etc., are very common expressions among women.

Permitting this kind of sleep without making every effort to remedy it is a slow murder of which no mother should be guilty. Breathing bad air, or re-breathing air, reduces all the processes of the body, and lessens vitality.

Snap Judgments

Snap judgment is responsible for many losses of quality in the breeding pens. If the chicks hatched from choice eggs do not seem all that he expected, the snap judgment breeder will off with their heads, without giving them time to make good.

Some birds never show their quality until mature, possibly are not at their best before two years. It has almost come to the point where one needs to breed for cockerels, and to breed for cocks. The bird which is in show condition at his best as a cockerel may never be an exhibition bird as a cock.

The advantage of being acquainted with one's show birds and of following their course as breeders is that it gives one patience to wait for the chicks that require time to come to their best, and to save the parents of such birds instead of getting impatient at the apparently cull stock they produce, and sacrificing them.

ROB ROY FLOUR. As Good Today As It Was Sixty Years Ago. says Grandma. LUWA COOMES MILLING CO. ROB ROY COLD WATER MILLS.

"ON THE EVE OF BATTLE" A QUESTION FOR THE VOTER.

What is it you are asked to do by those who would repeal the Constitutional Amendment, on the Eleventh of September, next Monday:

Simply this, no more, no less :--

Remove the Amendment out of the State Constitution that now makes it impossible, absolutely impossible, for the saloon to do business in Maine, and make it possible for the saloon to come in and be legalized by your votes.

What voter wants to take this responsibility? To allow or give even the least chance for such a thing?

"The Real Issue in Maine"

So we ask every voter in Maine, to consider carefully, what it is that he does next Monday at the polls. It is, perhaps, the most serious voting he has ever done or ever will do in his lifetime. The grand old State of Maine has kept this deadly foe to home and school and church and true human happiness both to men and women, out of its borders as a legalized thing, for over fifty years, and the saloon forces and rum traffic, with characteristic boldness and persistence, have been trying to break down these barriers in Maine, and today think it is within easy reach of its diabolical desire.

This it does in the most indirect and covert ways. It never comes out into the open to advocate the merits of the business, but by casting reflections on the law, seeking to bring it into disrespect, ill-repute and contempt, it seeks to bring about such conditions as will make it possible to set itself up in business, and once established, it well knows how difficult it is to be dislodged.

Therefore we ask our voters everywhere to beware! Beware of the the apparently sound, but really false arguments that will be advanced, why we should TAKE it out of the CONSTITUTION.

"The Battle in Maine"

There is not one argument advanced so far, or can be advanced by any of those who advocate the repeal, that cannot be met, if time and opportunity were given, and shown to be false to the very core. Some of them sound well, but on examination are seen to be false and misleading.

For example, it is said "If it is out of the Constitution, then each locality becomes self-governing in the matter."

Now who is there who does not know, that when all the localities of the whole State of Maine put the matter into the Constitution, as they did in 1884, they were self-governing just as much as in dealing with it locality by locality. Nay, more so, for the whole State became a locality, as it really is. This is absolutely free self-government, and nothing else. So with all the arguments.

And so our petition is simply this:— Let every voter feel absolutely sure of his ground, before he casts a "Yes" ballot on this all important and vital matter, which is going to mean so much to our great State.

An Absurd Idea

One other argument, so frequently urged by the liquor forces,— "The Prohibition law," they say, "is violated so much, and not enforced, better have a change."

Now in the name of all that is good and great, who are the ones who violate this law? Is it not those who sell the stuff? and are not the ones who fail to enforce the law, simply the friends of the ones who violate it? And if we should put into the hands of such persons, a license law, could we expect anything but violation and non-enforcement still? Especially as we make them pay a large sum of license money each year. This is the repeated experience in other license states.

So far, we have not learned of one good, solid, substantial reason why the amendment should be taken out of the Constitution, and until we do learn of one, it surely is our part to "let well enough alone" and not tinker with our present Constitution in any uncertain way. As one good Democrat in upper Aroostook said only last week, "I guess it would be better to leave the law as it is; look at our bank deposits and general prosperity today."

In the next place, who is it that is asking the voters to make the change? Is it the ministers of our churches? Is it the teachers and professors in our schools and colleges? Is it the Superintendents and Presidents of these institutions? No indeed! For very well do these leaders and trainers of our young people know, that there is nothing that so nullifies and destroys their work, as the liquor traffic and the open saloon.

Is it the mothers of our homes? that great army of heroic, devoted, self-sacrificing women?

No! but it is the cheap, or played-out politician, the man of easy virtue and soft self-indulgence, the parasite on society, and the fellow who hopes to earn an easy livelihood in the sale of that stuff that flourishes as it trades upon the weaknesses and besetting sins of our poor humanity,— and others, perhaps good men, who have been led astray by the specious arguments of the traffic.

Below will be found the testimonies of several of Maine's leading citizens, and others in "high places," whom we delight to honor, and whose word we should heed.

I stand for state-wide prohibition in the state of Maine.—L. R. Daniels, Pastor Unitarian Church, Yarmouth, July 26, 1911. Formerly pastor in Houlton, Me.

In my opinion the principle should be retained—James Archibald, Houlton, July 19, 1911.

I have always believed in the principle of prohibition for Maine—Wm. T. Haines, Attorney General 1897-1901, Waterville, July 15, 1911.

So far as my personal views and proposed action are concerned, or may be of interest, I intend to vote in September for the retention of the prohibition amendment, and shall do this because I believe that a vote to that end is the best contribution I can make to the moral, social, and economic welfare of Maine.—William T. Cobb, Governor, 1905-8, Wholesale grocer, Rockland, July 15, 1911.

So to each and every voter, we would say:—Beware of the arguments which will be advanced at the last hour by cunning and designing men, to swerve you from doing the thing that in your best judgment you feel ought to be done, and let us pile up such a majority vote of "NO's" on the date of September 11th,—on this very important matter, that shall make the enforcement of the law an assured thing in the future, and make all enemies of the sobriety and welfare of our fair State forever know, that the people are determined to have the thing that they see is for the best interests of all the people,

The Saloon is Out now with all its brood of attendant evils. A "NO" majority means that it must stay Out. VOTE NO!
