Biddeford, Feb. 20, 1864.

Sanitary Fair and Levee at Kennebunk.

To the ladies of Kennebunk our soldiers are indebted for very many hospital comforts furnished for them with unstinted liberality.

While it cannot be denied that we have made some sacrifices in running up to our work from week to week, while home duties have often been deferred to enable us to do so, while fatigue has frequently put forth its pines in vain for ease, we bear willing testimony to our hearts

As a part of their labor for 1864, those ladies have been at work for some time preparing articles for a Fair, which was held last Monday afternoon and evening in the hall underneath the Unitarian church.

Among the solid articles which attracted our attention at the further end of the room were two bales of hay sown in two, presented by John Roberts, Jr. & Co., owners of the patent right for this country to use the Mormon Beater Press, the machine by which this hay was pressed.

The room was tastefully decorated with wreaths and festoons of green hemlock. On the walls we noticed a fine picture of "John Anderson, my Jo, John," done in worsted in massive gilt frame, and marked "sold for $25.00."

Facing the other end of the hall our eye was first attracted by a dome arch over the gallery with the motto, "Father of his Country, and underneath with a full length portrait of Washington with the motto, Temple of Liberty, over which was a large eagle, shield and coat of arms from this entire gracefully festooned the length of the gallery with rosettes of massive gilt stars.

In passing through the Grey nursery at Montreal, the visitor finds articles for sale, the workmanship of toiling nuns wearing away sacrificed and devoted lives, which trinkets are wrought brilliant to the eye and expensive to the pocket (if you buy).

At these tables the visitor selects from the large variety of worsted, lace or embroidery, the task of willing hands unknown and quietly laboring to bear their proportion of the burden now upon the country.

The border States men all see this. Slavery in the cotton States are also beginning to see and acknowledge this truth. Nobody needs to be convinced that both the political and physical power of slavery are over in the United States.

We cannot take leave of this hastily prepared report without expressing our surprise that the wealthy and enterprising towns of Kennebunk has no better accommodations for lectures, fairs and other entertainments, than that now possessed.

We venture to say that there is not another town in this State, with half Kennebunk's population, that is not as well or better provided for in this respect.

Fireman's Grand Ball.

The Military and Civic Ball which has been advertised in these columns, came off on the evening of the 22nd, and was a complete success in every sense of the word.

On Monday a large flag 40 feet long, was run up to the top of the flag-staff, opposite City Hall, with signal lines running down its entire length.

Within the large hall there was the opportunity for display, and the artist improved it. Passing in at the main entrance the eye is attracted by a grand triumph arch 25 feet high and 20 broad, in front of the stage, while at the extreme back was a picturesque battle scene and in its immediate front was a life sized equestrian statue of Washington.

Washington's birthday has passed quietly, without being characterized by any marked event. The day has not been distinguished by the customary celebration, and has been passed, as if it were a common day.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 22, 1864.

THE WHISKEY BILL.

The great battle which has been pending in Congress for several weeks, between the whiskey speculators and the Government, has at length been decided, and whiskey has emerged triumphant from the conflict.

The natural consequences of levying a tax upon all whiskey which may hereafter be manufactured, would be to increase the value of the quantity now held in proportion to the tax to be levied.

Quite a curious sight was witnessed in this city one day last week, in the streets of Washington, where a party of about forty in number, a portion of Lee's army who had deserted, crossed the Rapidan, and had been admitted to the city of Washington.

In this he not only formally but peremptorily and in the most decisive way declines the use of his name for such a position by any party. He, however, expresses some surprise that a certain element of the democracy should for one moment think that he could accept any nomination from it on its present platform. This may be considered a novelty as to all talk about the great Western battles ever desiring to be considered a Presidential aspirant. It is plain that General Grant's will contented with his present hard-earned fame."

We have a rumor from Sherman's expedition through Southern Georgia, that a battle had been fought at Enterprise, a town on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, about 120 miles east-south-east of Vicksburg. There is also a rumor that Sherman has met the rebel General Polk, fought him, whipped him, and had taken 1200 prisoners. A rebel dispatch of the 14th, reports Gen. Polk at Meridian, and much censured for not attacking Sherman. His force was 10,000 men.

MR. OCEANYAN, THE ORIENTAL LECTURER.—The Oriental lecture and entertainment which is offered to our public by Mr. Oceanyan, of Constantinople, is one of rare interest and full of instruction, being most genuine and authentic.

The East, the cradle of the human race, and the birthplace of Christianity, has preserved until now the distinctive habits of the earliest times, and Mr. Oceanyan's descriptions, interspersed with spicy anecdotes and living illustrations, show the social system and the very habits of the patriarchy themselves, as well as of the Christians and Mahomedans who now dwell in those lands of the most tenacious and traditional institutions.

The women themselves, who are everywhere types of social life, are presented to the audience by Mr. Oceanyan, with the most graphic explanations of their peculiar customs, which are Egyptian, Persian, Jewish, Chinese and Arab. Mr. Oceanyan's descriptions of the famous Mahomedan call to prayer; the ladies perform the prostrations of Oriental worship, used all over the East by Christians, Jews and Mahomedans, both of the present and in by-gone days.

This lecture has, by special request of most distinguished gentlemen, divines and oriental travelers, been repeated nine times this winter in the city of New York, and Mr. Oceanyan has everywhere been urged to repeat his lecture, even at a dollar entrance; so that those that did not obtain admission could have an opportunity to witness a spectacle which might not again be offered to the public. But Mr. Oceanyan being pre-occupied for every evening during the season, cannot remain more than one night in a single place; so our citizens must not fail to avail themselves of this their only chance. The press everywhere is unanimous and enthusiastic in its encomiums, and this unique entertainment is adapted to all classes of the community, clergymen, laymen and all lovers of the classics of the Bible, and the beautiful in form and motion. Those who go early will secure the best seats and be entertained by music, until the lecture commences.

THE ART OF MONEY GETTING!

AT

Wednesday Evening, MARCH 2.

P. T. BARNUM'S LECTURE.

Was delivered with great eclat at St. James' Hall in London, England, 17 different times, and repeated 60 times in various portions of Great Britain.

READ THE FOLLOWING NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Troy Daily Times, Dec. 6, 1862.

Mr. Barnum's Lecture.—In the annals of the Young Men's Association we hardly know of a more thoroughly successful lecturer than that of P. T. Barnum last evening. The admission fee of 25 cents did not prevent the accumulation of an audience that filled every seat in Rand's Hall.

Mr. Barnum held them for nearly two hours, without a manifestation of weariness, and sent them home in the best humor, with enlarged ideas as to the art of money-making.

The good points of the lecture are thoroughly unrepeatable. No sketch could do justice to Mr. Barnum's inimitably-told anecdotes and personal reminiscences. The more serious portions of the lecture were admirable in their maxims and advice. They evinced, also, a scholarship and elegance of diction in the manner in which they were put together that few gave Mr. Barnum credit for.

His delivery was deliberate and clear, and was rendered appropriate to each part of the theme. We had known the speaker as a wonderful showman, but, as a successful lecturer, he appeared in a new and triumphant role.

Albany Knickerbocker, Dec., 1862.

BARNUM REBUCKER.—Eighteen hundred of our first ladies and gentlemen crowded Tweedle Hall on Thursday evening, to hear the great showman discourse on the art of making money. This is four hundred more than Henry Ward Beecher drew to the same hall last week. Barnum's lecture gave immense satisfaction. Indeed, it was the lecture of the season. It was not only a great pecuniary triumph for our Young Men's Association, but the shrewd, practical suggestions and rules for success in business, illustrated by the drollest witticisms, and the most original side-splitting anecdotes, were worth double the price paid for admission. The audience was kept in a roar of laughter from beginning to end, and left in the best possible humor.

Troy Daily Whig, Dec. 6, 1862.

Every seat in Rand's spacious Hall was occupied last evening by an audience as refined and intelligent as any that ever greeted a public lecturer in this city. Both speaker and the subject were interesting—the former to be seen, the latter to be listened to. People outside of the Metropolis have heard so much of Barnum, and of the various enterprises—both good and bad—with which he has been connected, that, in the minds of many persons, he had come to be regarded in the light of a "curiosity"—a genuine homo natura. But far from it. Of a commanding personal appearance, a face beaming with good nature, and a countenance remarkable for sharpness and acuteness, the "great showman" looks anything but the humbug or charlatan.

At eight o'clock he made his appearance on the stage, accompanied by the President and Corresponding Secretary of the Association, and met with a good reception. After the customary introduction, Mr. B. proceeded to address an audience in a clear, practical, off-handed manner. We merely present a few of the leading points discussed by the speaker—a full report being impossible, as he spoke for full two hours.

[Here follows a report of the lecture.]

London Morning Herald, Jan. 7th.

Mr. Barnum last night repeated his entertainment at St. James' Hall to a very crowded audience, who entered very heartily into the mass of American jokes, which excited much applause. The hour named for commencing was eight o'clock, but, though we reached the hall at a quarter before that hour, we could not obtain a seat where it was possible to see or hear well.

London Morning Advertiser, Dec. 30th.

Mr. Barnum's lecture breathes a wholesome, healthy air, is varied in subject, and delivered in such a genial and pleasant style as to constitute an intellectual treat which one does not meet with every day even in London.

GO EARLY!

It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and of listening to his intensely interesting lectures. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before eight, and it was estimated that more than 3000 persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall in Cooper Institute, New York, on the evening of the lecture, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. Y., and Springfield, Mass., every seat was sold days before the lecture. That all may have an equal chance to obtain a good seat on the evening of the lecture here,

Doors will be open at 6 1/2 o'clock, although the lecture will not commence until 8. To save confusion, and avoid the crowd at the door, it is advisable that as many as possible should pass their tickets at the Bookstore before the evening of the lecture.

Residence at the West or upper end of the hall. There will be no postponement on account of the weather.

TICKETS 25 CTS.

For sale at the Bookstore and at the door.

THE ART OF MONEY GETTING!

AT

Wednesday Evening, MARCH 2.

P. T. BARNUM'S LECTURE.

Was delivered with great eclat at St. James' Hall in London, England, 17 different times, and repeated 60 times in various portions of Great Britain.

READ THE FOLLOWING NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Troy Daily Times, Dec. 6, 1862.

Mr. Barnum's Lecture.—In the annals of the Young Men's Association we hardly know of a more thoroughly successful lecturer than that of P. T. Barnum last evening. The admission fee of 25 cents did not prevent the accumulation of an audience that filled every seat in Rand's Hall.

Mr. Barnum held them for nearly two hours, without a manifestation of weariness, and sent them home in the best humor, with enlarged ideas as to the art of money-making.

The good points of the lecture are thoroughly unrepeatable. No sketch could do justice to Mr. Barnum's inimitably-told anecdotes and personal reminiscences. The more serious portions of the lecture were admirable in their maxims and advice. They evinced, also, a scholarship and elegance of diction in the manner in which they were put together that few gave Mr. Barnum credit for.

His delivery was deliberate and clear, and was rendered appropriate to each part of the theme. We had known the speaker as a wonderful showman, but, as a successful lecturer, he appeared in a new and triumphant role.

Albany Knickerbocker, Dec., 1862.

BARNUM REBUCKER.—Eighteen hundred of our first ladies and gentlemen crowded Tweedle Hall on Thursday evening, to hear the great showman discourse on the art of making money. This is four hundred more than Henry Ward Beecher drew to the same hall last week. Barnum's lecture gave immense satisfaction. Indeed, it was the lecture of the season. It was not only a great pecuniary triumph for our Young Men's Association, but the shrewd, practical suggestions and rules for success in business, illustrated by the drollest witticisms, and the most original side-splitting anecdotes, were worth double the price paid for admission. The audience was kept in a roar of laughter from beginning to end, and left in the best possible humor.

Troy Daily Whig, Dec. 6, 1862.

Every seat in Rand's spacious Hall was occupied last evening by an audience as refined and intelligent as any that ever greeted a public lecturer in this city. Both speaker and the subject were interesting—the former to be seen, the latter to be listened to. People outside of the Metropolis have heard

FROM THE RICHMOND WHIG.

The Charleston Courier makes a timely suggestion in recommending the attention of our government to the naturalization and cultivation of Calisaya, for the preservation of the health of our soldiers. This article has a peculiar effect upon the liver, and guards the system against disease by exposure and irregular diet. It is said that the great success of the Plantation Bitters of Dr. Drake, which, previous to our unhappy difficulties, was found in most Southern homes, was owing to the extract of Calisaya Bark, which it contained as one of its principal ingredients. "In confirmation of this, we have heard one of our most distinguished physicians remark, that whenever he felt unwell from ordinary dietetic or atmospheric causes, he invariably relieved himself by Plantation Bitters. Now that these Bitters cannot be obtained, a substitute should be prepared. We understand our government has opened negotiations with Dr. Drake, through a secret agent, but with what truth we do not know."

PLANTATION BITTERS.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS, which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and most superlative all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required. They purify, strengthen and invigorate. They cure a healthy appetite. They are an antidote to change of water and diet. They overcome effects of distention & late hours. They strengthen the system and enliven the mind. They prevent miasma and intermittent fevers. They purify the breath & acidity of the stomach. They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. They cure Diarrhoea and Cholera Morbus. They cure Liver Complaint & Nervous Headache. They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wild ginger, assafoetida, roots and herbs, all prepared in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle. Beware of impostors. Examine each bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unimpaired over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not filled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c. who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is sufficient to convince persons of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores. P. H. DRAKE & CO., 202 Broadway, N. Y.
