"We've got bushels of them," says Mrs.

At this Mrs. Brown begins to smell a very big mice. Says sho:

"Mrs. Smith, what kind of beans is them he brought you from Washington?"

"Oh, they are nice beans—twice as large as our white ones, with a pinkish eye."

"I thought so!" says Mrs. Brown. "May I see those beans?"

"Certainly," says Mrs. Smith. "I have them in the bear with the warden seeds.

The beans were produced, still tied up in a piece of Jane Brown's calico dress. This produced an explosion. Brown and Smith at once became entiexplosion. Brown and Smith at once became antiL____, and worked hard to defeat him. Messrs.

The walls of the triclinium are covered with fresco paintings of birds, fruits, flowers, game, and fish of all kinds—the whole interspersed with drawings which lend a charm to the whole not easy to describe. On a table of rare wood carved and inlaid with gold, marble, agate, and lapis lazuli, were found amphorae still containing wine, and some goblets of onyx.

WORKING AND THINKING .- Says Ruskin, "It is Working and Thinking.—Says Buskin, "It is a no less fatal error to despise labor, when regulated by intellect, than to value it for its own sake. We are always in these days trying to separate the two; we want one man to be always thinking, and another to be always working, and we call one a gentleman and the other an operative; whereas the workman ought often to be thinking, and the thinker often to be working; and both should be gentlemen in the best sense. As it is, we make both uncentle, and one envying, the other despising his brother; and the mass of society is made up of morbid thinkers and miserable workers. Now it is only by labor that thought can be made healthy, and only by thought thought can be made healthy, and only by thought that labor can be made happy, and the profes-sions should be made liberal, and there should be

BIDDEFORD, ME., FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 22, 1866.

TO MY WIFE. When on thy bosom I recline, Enraptured still to call thee mine, To call thee mine for life;
I glory in these sacred ties
Which medern wits and fools despise,
Of husband and of wife.

One mutual flame inspires our bliss; The tender look, the melting kiss, Even years have not destroyed; Some sweet sensation, ever new, Springs up and proves the maxim true, That love can ne'er be cloyed.

Have I a wish?—'tis all for thee! Hast thou a wish?—'tis all for me; So soft our movements move, That angels look with ardent gase; Well pleased to see our happy days; And bid us live—and love.

If cares arise—and cares will come— Thy boson is my softest home; I'll hall me there to rest; And is there aught disturbs my fair, I'll hid her sign out every care, A. Al lose it in my breast. Have I a wish?—'tis all her own; All hers and mine is rolled in one— Our hearts are so entwined, That like the lvy round the tree Bound up in closest amity, 'Tis death to be disjoined.

Miscellaneous.

MR. LINCOLN'S RELIGIOUS FAITH

AND CONVICTIONS. It has been more than a year since the death of President Lincoln, and the country still mourne or him scarcely less than during the first month after his decease. The sorrow felt in view of his loss is deepened as we learn more of his true character as compared with that of his successor. The conversation of which the following is an secount, took place in a room recupied by him in the State House at Springfield, Ill., during the fall and winter previous to his leaving for Wash-

Mr. Newton Bateman. Superintendent of Pub-lic Instruction for the State of Illinois, occupied lic Instruction for the State of Illinois, occupied a room adjoining and opening into the Executive Chamber. Frequently this door was open during Mr. Lincoln's receptious; and throughout the seven months or more of his occupation, Mr. Bateman saw him nearly every day. Often when Mr. Lincoln was tired he closed the door against all intrusion, and called Mr. Bateman into his room for a quiet talk. On one of these occasions Mr. Lincoln took up a book containing a careful canvass of the city of Springfield in which he livel, showing the candidate for whom each citizen had declared it his intention to vote in the approaching election. Mr. Lincoln's friends had, doubtless at his own request, placed the result of the canvass in his hands. This was toward the close of October, and only a few days before the election. Calling Mr. Bateman to a seat at his election. Calling Mr Bateman to a seat at his side, having previously locked all the doors, he said: "Let us look over the book. I wish particularly to see how the ministers of Springfield are going to vote." The leaves were turned, one by and as the names were examined, Mr. Linone, and as the names were extended, at the coln frequently asked if this one and that were not a minister, or an elder, or the member of such and such a church, and sadly expressed his surprise on receiving an affirmative answer. In that manner they went through the book, and then he closed it and sat silently and for some minutes regarding a memorandum in pencil which lay before him At length he turned to Mr. Bateman, with a face full of sadness, and said: "Here are twenty-three ministers, of different denominations, and all of them are against me but three; tions, and all of them are against me but three; and here are a great many prominent members of the churches, a very large majority of whom are against mc. Mr. Bateman, I am not a Christian—God knows I would be one—but I have carefully read the Bible, and I do not so understand this book; and he drew from his bosom a pocket New Testament. "These men well know," he continued, "that I am for freedom in the territories, freedom everywhere as far as the Constitution and laws will permit, and that my opponents are for slavery. They know this, and yet, with this book in their hands, in the light of which human bondage cannot live a moment, they are going to vote in their hands, in the light of which human bon-dage cannot live a moment, they are going to vote against me.—I do not understand it at all."

Here Mr. Lincoln paused—paused for long min utes, his features surcharged with emotion. Then he rose and walked up and down the room in the effort to retain or regain his self-possession. Stopping at last, he said, with a trembling voice and his checks wet with tears: "I know there is a God, and that he hates injustice and slavery. see the storm coming, and I know that His har see the storm coming, and I know that his hand is in it.—If He has a place and work for me—and I think He has—I believe I am ready. I am nothing, but truth is everything. I know I am right because I know that liberty is right, for Christ teaches it, and Christ is God. I have told them that a house divided against itself cannot stand, and Christ and reason say the same; and they wil find it so. Douglas don't care whether slavery is voted up or voted down, But God cares, and hu manity cares, and I care; and with God's help shall not fail. I may not see the end; but it will come and I shall be vindicated; and these men will find that they have not read their Bibles Much of this was uttered as if he were speaking to himself, and with a sad and earnest solemnity of manner impossible to be described. After a pause, he resumed:—"Doesn't it appear strange that men can ignore the moral aspects of this contest? A revelation could not make it plained contest? A revelation could not make it plainer to me that slavery or the government must be destroyed. The future would be something awful, as I look at it, but for this rock on which I stand' (alluding to the Testament which he still held in his hand,) "especially with the knowledge of how these ministers are going to vote. It seems as it God had borne with this thing (slavery) until the year teachers of religion have come to defend it God had borne with this thing (slavery) until the very teachers of religion have come to defend it from the Bible, and to claim for it a divine character and sanction; and now the cup of iniquity is full, and the vials of wrath will be poured out. His last reference was to certain prominent clergymen in the south, Drs. Ross and Palmer among the number: and he went on to comment on the atrociousness and essential blaspheny of their attempts to defend American slavery from the Rible. After this the conversation was con-RELIABLE MEN, made a man firm and immovable amid the wildest excitements. After further reference to a belief in Divine Providence, and the fact of God in his tory, the conversation turned upon prayer. He freely stated his belief in the duty, privilege and efficiency of prayer, and intimated, in no unmistakable terms, that he had sought in that way the Divine guidance and favor.

The effect of this conversation upon the mind of Mr. Bateman, a Christian gentleman whom Mr. Lincoln profoundly respected, was to convince him that Mr. Lincoln had, in his quiet way, found a nath to the Christian stand point—that he had

The Legislature.—Inc.

Tow. Saturday, as will be seen by our report, it disposed of several important matters. The Sentate took up the report of the Special Committee on the Liquor Agency, rejected the minority report which proposes to abolish the Agency and allow importers to sell to town agents, and then indefinitely postponed the whole matter, thus virindefinitely postponed the whole matter.

We salute thee as thou comest to us in the name of the Lord-radient in the sunshine of that dawn which broke over nature's achieved work-marching downward in the track of time, a pillar of refreshing cloud and guiding flame, interweaving with all thy light, new beams of discovery and promise, until thou standest forth more fair than when reflected in the dews and imbibed by the flowers of Edenmore awful than when the trumpet rung in Sinal. And never, since the tomb of Jesus was burst open by Him who revived and rose, has this day awakened but as the light of seven days, and with healing in its wings. Never has it unfolded without some witness and welcome, some song and satutation. It has been the coronation day of martyrs, the feast day of saints. It has been from the first until now the sublime custom of the church of God. Still the out-goings of its mornings and evenings rejoice. It is the day of heaven upon earth. THE STATE LIQUOR AGENT VINDI-CATED. Hon. Edward F. Porter, now one of the Aldermen of this city, more than six years ago was appointed State Liquor Agent, to keep pure liquors ness habits and integrity of character, made him the choice of the friends of temperance for this brother.

P. S.—Once more I ask you all, forgive me. I wish you much happiness and many blessings, the choice of the friends of temperance for this provisions illegal, the men illegally engaged in and pray for me. the liquor traffic have been persistently hostile both to the agency and the agent. No pains have been spared by the active emissaries of rum to agent; but from all their false charges he has been | been proved against him. We publish the following extracts taken from papers some of which are by no means friendly either to the prohibitory law or to any engaged in efforts to sustain it: Liquon Law.—The former law partner [11. 5]. Spolford, Jr.] of the distinguished counselor retained and employed by the so called "Public Safety (Liquor) Association," is making quite a noise in the Legislature. We wonder if he is also retained by that Association with an understanding that he is to make his pleadings in the House ing that he is to make his pleadings in the House of Coursel saves: "On Suntained by a blow on the head."

Legon Law.—The former law partner [11. 5]. Spolford, Jr.] of the distinguished counselor retained upon the enemy. The snake was not turned upon the senemy. The snake was not turned upon the senemy. Some courage—faced about and began to retreat. Boy now pursued, and hit the enemy a blow across the back. Snake turned upon the boy again and was killed by a blow on the head.

Conclusions from the State Agency In-Mr. EDITOR:-We think the greatest argument ever made in favor of the present liquor law is in the fact that Mr. Porter has sold over a million dollars worth of spirits and wines during his addollars worth of spirits and wines during his administration of the office, which have been pronounced pure and unadulterated by Dr. Hayes; one of the State Assayers. Dr. Hayes testified be fore the Legislative Committee that he had visited Mr. Porter's place of business once or twice a week since Mr. P. took the office, and examined the liquors and wines to be sold at the agency.

Notwithstanding the persistent efforts that have been made by the able counsel and feeble witnesses to find something to the injury of Mt. Porter, and for a damaging effect against the law, no and for a damaging effect against the law, no evidence has been introduced that any but pure and unadulterated spirits and wines fit for med-icinal purposes have been sold at the agency; that these were sold at the cost or a low market

"healing art."

Upon charges made by Omar Binney, the management of the agency was investigated in the summer of 1804, by a committee of Gov, An drew's Council. Binney had then just left the Liquor Commissioner's office, full of disappointment and indignation because Mr. Porter would not increase his salary, and with every motive to break him down, as therein lay Binney's chance of keeping from public exposure his embezzlement of $2,200. After this investigation was closed, Gov. Andrew stated that Mr. Porter had carried out the law as well as any man could do; that Gov. Andrew believed this no one will doubt, else he would not have continued Mr. Porter in office. 'healing art." he would not have continued Mr. Porter in office. Gov. Andrew must feel great satisfaction at the course he took in the matter; he will also, doubt-less, be pleased that the recent investigation provcd nothing against Mr. Edward F. Porter.

That Omar Binney should have the effrontery to reiterate statements last Friday evening, that had only a few minutes before been flatly contradicted by the testimony of the Hon. Dwight Foster, shows the desperate position he occupies.
Whether or not much capital will be made, by the investigation, for the Hard-Fisted Democrat from Newburyport, or whether or not the reverend gentleman from Chelmsford is likely to get a License Law for his friends by the part he has taken in the matter, is somewhat doubtful.—

The State Liquor Agency.—The State Liquor Agency has been of late the subject of Legislative scrutny by a committee holding its sessions in the Green Room. No disclosures of any particular interest to the public have been made. Quite a number of witnesses have been examined, and attorneys have appeared on the side of the investigation, and in behalf of Mr. Porter of the Agency.

> The Boston Journal says: "On Sunday morning an infant, apparently about ten days old, was found abandoned in a field in Holden, near a locality very properly called Sodom. The child had lain so long on the ground, the Worcester Spy says, that the grass under it had withered and become yellow, and its face and arms were burnt almost black by the hot sun. It was heard to cry on Tuesday morning by parties who supposed the bleating of a lamb. The child was alive at last accounts. The demons who could thus abandon an infant to a lingering death leserve the execration of all mankind, and as gnominious a death as ingenuity can devise.

The recent disagreement among the Fenians gave them prominence. O Mahoney favored a movement on Ireland, but did noththat these were sold at the cost or a low market price was proved. This evidence fully compensates for the expense to the State of the examination, and is, undoubtedly, a source of deep regret and mortification to those who were so free in grave charges against the agency. Friends of the law in the country have, for the past six years, felt obliged to use, for medicinal purposes, the articles delivered to the town agents by Mr. Porter the State Liquor Commissioner. They have, by the State agency, been protected from the use of vile and poisonous mixtures and adulterations, oftener calculated to kill than cure when used in the "healing art."

ELECTIONEERING.

I am an old resident of Oregon, and was for many years a constituent of Jo L.—, at one time Oregon's greatest politician. I propose telling the curious reader one of his electioneering dodges, and how nicely he got caught at it. Uncle Jo was about to make a speech to the unterrified of Long Tom, and stopped at Tom Brown's for dinner. He knew Tom to be a little shaky—in fact, quite inclined to be anti-L. and Uncle Jo determined to bring him over. As soon as he entered the house he commenced his usual tactics: "Well, God bless you, Mrs. Brown'how do you do, and how are all the little ones?" After kissing the dirty brood all round, he asks for mother's pipe. "If there is anything I do like, it is to smoke mother's pipe; it's got some strength into it, and does a fellow some good. By-the-by, Mrs. Brown, they say Tom is going to vote agin me. I hope he won't. He and I have fit Indians tegether up on Rogue River, and camped out in the mountains, and been good friends and Dimerorats ever since we came to Oregon."

Presently dinner is ready, and they have pork and beans, of course. Mr. Brown is sorry they have nothing better. But says Uncle Jo, "You could have nothing better; bless Your soul, we don't have anything half so good in Washington. Why my friend, the President, would give half his salary to get such beans as these. Have you got a pint you could spare? I would so like to take them to him for seed."

"We've got bushels of them," says Mrs. Brown.

At this Mrs. Brown begins to smell a very big

THE AMENDMENT.

The Constitutional Amendment adopted by Congress as a plan for the pacification of the country, and the basis of a return of the lately rebel States to their former political relations, i now before the people. Its ratification by the States will remedy all the disputes concerning the condition of the conquered communities, guaranteeing to all citizens of the republic their full civil rights, prohibiting the repudiation of our war debt, or the payment of the rebel debt, as well as claims of slave holders for emancipated slaves. These are conditions precedent to the re-admission of the conquered people who were in arms against their country, concerning which there can not be two opinions among the well wishers of the nation. In regard to the suffrage question the final sion of Congress is peculiarly gratifying to us. That decision we have urged precisely as adopted from the first agitation of the subject. The universal enfranchisement of the blacks at the pres ent time, no matter how desirable per se, we have ever regarded as a needless waste of opportunities by Congress in the condition in which the counplaced, and as a measure calculated to injure rather than benefit the negro and keep alive those animosities which, however may be their scillation in the face of a pressing necessity. will refused to be appeared when no such necessity appears. As a punishment for their great crimes, and a further security that the same influences which caused our rebellion shall never cause another, the people guilty of treason are shorn of the political representation which their property in slaves gave them, and the basis of representa tion is changed from persons and property to voters or enfranchised persons. But the remedy for a loss of such representation is left entirely with those most interested to regain it, while self interest and love of power are thus made to contribute to the success of duty. If the blacks are to be represented, they shall have a chance in selecting their representatives. If denied this, they shall not be made to contribute to the success of

New Hampshire will be the first State to ratify the Amendment. Every Republican Legislature in the nation will follow suit, while we believe that without much delay those States mostly affected by its adoption, will come to the support of a national reconstruction having for an object, and one which cannot fail, the proper pacification of the country upon a basis that shall unite all sections in a tie stronger than ever before felt, recalling those threads of affection dropped in the bitter events so cruelly woven into our his tory, only to be taken up again to unite us more firmly, when, laying saide the sin which hath so greviously beset us, we hand in hand march on to a high national destiny.

RECONSTRUCTION REPORT.

Mr. Fessenden submitted to the Senate on Friday the final report of the Reconstruction Committee, the substance of which we give below. stitutional Amendment founded upon this report is now before the States for adoption or rejection :

1. That the States lately in rebellion, were at the elose of the war, disorganised communities, with-out civil governments, and without constitutions or other forms, by virtue of which political re-lations could legally exist between them and the Federal Government.

II. That Congress cannot be expected to reorganise as valid the election of men from disorganised communities, which, from the very nature of the case, were unable to present their claim to representation under those established and reorganised rules, the observance of which has ren hitherto required. III. That Congress would not be justified in adling such communities to a participation in government of the country without first proriding such constitutional or other guarantees as rill tend to secure the civil rights of all citizens of the republic, a just equality of representation, protestion against claims founded in rebellion and crume, a temporary restriction of the right of suffrage to those who have actively participator surrage to those who have actively participat-el in the effort to destroy the Union, and the ex-elusion from pontions of public trust of at least a portion of those whose crimes had proved them ensures of the Union and unworthy of public

RECONCILIATION.—The New York Times RECONCILIATION.—The New York Times of Tuesday gives a prominent place to a long political letter from Washington, signed "R." We can hardly go wrong in guessing Mr. Raymond to be the author of it. The letter declares that the political situation is encouraging; that the differences between the President and Congress are less "pronounced" than hitherto, and that only one point of difference remains. This is the question as to the right of the Bouthern States to representation. And this point the letter urges may be met by Congress by refraining from passing be met by Congress by refraining from passing the bill for admitting the representatives upon condition, and by admitting "even a single member or members from a single State like Teamessee," who can meet the test of loyal-

This law is binding upon every officer of the United States-upon citizens and residents-upon courts and juries.

It was impossible that such acts as have occurred could be permitted to proceed, if the President obeyed the injunction of the Constitution to take care that the laws be faithfully execut-"to take care that the laws be latitudly execut-ed." It is impossible that Courts and Grand Juries should pass them by so long as they con-scientiously discharge their duty. In whatever light the parties concerned may regard them, the law treats them as a crime—"a high misdemean.

All who have been instrumental in any way, as by furnishing men or money, arms, provisions, clothing, means or materials of any kind, for such clothing, means or materials of any kind, for such military expeditions or enterprise, knowing the use to be made of the same, would be liable to the penalty of the statute. And there can be no doubt that any coniribution of a similar character made for the common object, after such expedition or enterprise was set on foot, would also come under its provisions. All material aid given, whatever form or guise it might assume, whether as already mentioned, or forwarding men, arms, money, provisions or means of any description, by those knowing the unlawful purpose, would clearly fall within the scope and spirit of the law. In fine, it reaches all similar sets, whether done in the preparation, completion, or in material aid and comfort afterward of any such military expedition or enterprise as is described in the section.

It follows from what has been said, that every person, citizen or resident, of these United States, and under the protection of their laws, who have seen concerned directly or indirectly in these military expeditions, prepared here to be sent to Canada, has been wanting in the duty he owes to this government and nation.

THE REPORTED INDICTMENT OF BRECKINGIDGE .-The report that John C. The Times calls him "one of the most eminent Americans

We doubt if, saving and excepting General Lee. there is a single Confederate leader more endeared to the hearts of the Southern people that John C. to the hearts of the Southern people that John C. Breckinridge. There is scarcely one whose influence for good among them would be greater in these troublous times. Him life has been devoted to his country, and of him that great lawyer and good man Chief Justice Taney once said, "he never knew a purer public man." Those qualities of heart and soul that excited the admiration of and called forth that remark from Judge Taney, are well known to and find response in Andrew Johnson. It is this fact which excites the apprehension of the radicals, and renders them clamerous for his outlawry and exile. They well know that in John C. Breckinridge the President would find a fast friend and firm supporter in the wise and statesmanlike policy he is pursuing for the restoration of the courty.....

For Gen. Grant and Gen. Curtin were recommended as candidates for the offices of President and Vice President, by the Soldiers' Convention of Pennsylvania, which met at Pittaburg on the Sak. It is not a bad tightet, and in respect to strength it is a grand tight. The Convention was decidedly radical in its expression of sentiments. Men who fought for the Union, and who myed it from destruction, have no sympathy with rebels, and believe that treason should be punished, and made odious.—Traveller.

Lewis Cass was born in Exeter, New Hampshire, October 9, 1782 After such education as he could pick up in the common schools of that day, young Cass, at the age of seventeen, set out to seek his fortune. He sought a home in the then unsettled West, and crossed the Alleghanies on foot, settling down at Marietta. Ohio, where he studied law and entered upon a successful practice. At the age of twenty-five he was elected to the Legislature of Ohio, and it was he who framed the bill which arrested the proceedings of Aaron

It seems needless to add that when rebellion threatened the nation, the old servant and soldier of the Republic,—whose life was contemporary with that of his country—manifested the greatest solicitude for the success of the Federal cause and contributed by his example, his means and his influence to secure that success, Mr. Cass, notwithstanding the active nature of his political career, devoted some attention to literary purpoles. The work of removing the remains of Union soldiers, buried in and around Washington, is now very nearly completed, and it is said that by the last of the month all of the bodies within a radius of twenty-five miles from Washington will be exhumed and interred in the National Cemetery at Arlington,

Congress is beginning to evince a desire to finish up the business of the session and adjourn. Mr. Morrill gave notice in the House on Saturday that it would be the last speech-making day, and the Speaker obtained permission for all who had prepared speeches which could not be delivered to print them in

LOCAL & COUNTY INTELLIGENCE.

Among the list of Patents issued from the United States Patent office for the week ending June 12, 1866, we notice Joseph C. Thomas of Kennebunk, for improvement in planting clamps.

The members of the Saco Dashaway Club No. 1 held a meeting on Friday evening last and voted to disband. Want of encouragement from temperance men of the place was assigned as the reason. We hope the Good Templars now being organized with encouraging prospects will meet with better success. Mr. Woodbury, known as the Thrashing Machine, lectured to a large audience last Monday evening at City Hall. We only heard a part of the lecture, but concluded from what we heard, that the rummies got a pretty had thrashing. We hope the old machine will be kept running.

Rev. J. Boyd having recently closed his postoral relations with the church at Boothbay, has accepted an invitation to the pastorate of the Free Baptist church of this city; and has already entered upon his duties with encouraging prospects. Good News.—Everybody will be glad to learn that a new Express is contemplated between this place and Boston. We understand that our en-terprising townsman J. S. Locke has secured the steamer Enterprise for that purpose, if it is arranged so that she can run regular between this Saco Democrat.

Ground is broken at the corner of Main and Alfred streets for a new building to be built forthwith. Said building will be of wood, two and a quarter stories high, 72 by 50, four stores below and eight offices above. This will in a measure relieve the pressing want now felt for more business rents.

Forty carpenters and thirty caulkers have been discharged from the Kittery Navy Yard for refusing to work upon a merchant ship let into the dry dock. We understand, however, that the matter has been satisfactorily arranged at Washington; the ship has been removed from the dry dock, and the men will probably be re-mustered. Thursday morning commenced the Ministerial Institute, a new organization just inaugurated, designed for the benefit of ministers, though the exercises were open to all, which consist of a course of lectures and discussions upon different topics. The lecturers are Rev. Messrs Wood. Butler, Shailer, Bosworth, and Prof. Hovey. It was to continue two days.

A young man by the name of Benj. F. Curtis 22 years of age was drowned at the Goose Rock in Kennebunkport on Saturday evening last. He was seen about sunset on that day in a boat alone. Not returning on Sunday morning, search was made, and his body found on the beach. He was an adopted son of Joseph and Rachel Curtis.

She perished in the flames.

The River and Harbor Improvement bill, origi nally reported in the House, and passed by that body about six weeks ago, has been passed by the Senate with some amendments to which the House will undoubtedly agree. The following items are in the bill :- For the improvement of the Kennebec River, between Sheppard's Point and Augusta, $20,000; for continuing the repair of piers in the Saco River, $10,000; for extending the breakwater at Portland Harbor, $105,101 05.

One of the most heartrending and singular cat-astrophes which we have ever been called upon to record, occurred at the village of Bamberg, on the Augusta branch of the South Carolina railroad, seventy six miles from Charleston, between three and four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, by three and four o'cleck Tuesday afternoon, by which nearly every family of that village has been thrown into the deepest gloom and mourning. The scene of this distressing occurrence was about three hundrel yards from the depot in a two story frame building, known as Allen Lodge of Freemasons, lately used as a school house by Mr. Robert Seabrook and his sister, the former having charge of the male and the latter the former declared the school of the male and the latter the former declared. charge of the male, and the latter the female de partment. Into this building some eighteen of partment. Into this obtained some eighteen of the scholars, boys and girls, had assembled about three o'clock, for the purpose of joining in a fea-tive party given by the young misses to their youthful male friends. While in the act of spread-ing a table with refreshments, candies, cakes, &c., the building was struck by a violent gale of wind or tornale from the West which person the or tornado from the West, which passed over the village, taking a Northwesterly direction, sweep ing trees, fences, and everything else before it The chimney was carried away at the same time If the chimney was carried away at the same time that the roof was rent asunder. An attempt was made by George W. Patrick, one of the older boys, to open the door, but that was found to be so jammed as to defy rem.val. Another of the youths, Charles Stewart, then proposed to escape by the window, and jumped out for the purpose of assisting the others, when the whole building fell, killing young Stewart and five others instantive and wounding ten others, one of whom swriters. ly, and wounding ten others, one of whom expired shortly after reaching home. Only two of the ed shortly after reaching home. Only two of the party escaped entirely unhurt. A little Miss Urbanna Rentz, who was carried home in a dying condition, bore her sufferings with unusual fortitude. She retained her consciousness until the last, and after telling her mother not to weep, that she was going to Heaven, requested that her body might be taken to Orangeburg and deposited alongside of her father who died but a few months before. Most of those who were saved were found where they had crept under the school benches, upon which the timbers had rested after the falling of the building. tary of the State of Maine:

Mr. J M. Todd-Der Sir -- You have desired me to make a statement in relation to the effect of your Hungarian Baim upon my head, and I most cheerfully do so.

From my early boyhood I have been afficted with an investrate disease of the scalp, which as finness has been so severe that the top of my head has been a complete mass of ranning core, accompanied with intolerable itching, producing an abundant crop of dandruff, and causing my hair to fall of. I have tried nearly all the numerous compounds advertised for the cure of such diseases, with no preceptible good effect, and efform made the disease worse, until I gave up in despair. But a short time since I was induced to give your Hungarian Baim a siral, and after using it but a few weeks I am happy to say my have the stopped falling out, and the virulent humor that has troubled me so many years is almost entirely stadies, and I am astisted, with an occasional application of your truly valuable preparation, will wholly disappear. There are many persons in every community who are afflicted as I have been, and I am convinced that such will find your beautiful compound to accomplete all you claim for it. tary of the State of Maine :

CONSTITUTION

LIFE SYRUP

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases origi-nating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

SCROFULA. GLANDULAR SWELLINGS. STRUMA, ULCERATION, KING'S KVIL SALT RHEUM ERYSIPELAS,

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED,) filling life with untold misery, is, by all usual medical remedies RHEUMATISM.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign remedy, it is in rhoumation and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated —enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of twenty or thirty years standing, have been cured.

NERVOUSNESS.

SHATTERED NERVES. NERVOUS DEBILITY, LOSS OF POWER, ST. VITUS' DANCE,

CONFUSION OF THOUGHTS, Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing — directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises. MERCURIAL DISEASES.

ROTTING OF BONKS. ALIVATION, ACHES IN BONES. BAD COMPLEXION, PEELING OF WEARINESS, DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the sys tem entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY ving the Bad Breath, curing the Weak Joint and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums, and secure the Teeth as firmly as ever. CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

RAPID IN RELIEF, SOOTHING IN EFFECT, SAFE IN ITS OPERATION, IT IS UNSURPASSED! while as a preparation, free from obnexious ingredients, poisons or minerals; uniting skill, selence an medical knowledge; combining all that is valuable in the vegetable kingdom for this class of disease, is IS INCOMPARABLE! and is entitled, merits and receives the general con dence of the public.

From R. Fellows, M. D., of Hill. N. H.

"Although I have generally a great objection to patent medicines. I can but say, in justice to Dr. Wistar's Rolsam of Wild Cherry, that it is a remedy of superior value for Pulmonary Diseases.

I have made use of this preparation for several years, and it has proved to be very reliable and efficacious in the treatment of severe and long-standing Coughs. I know of one patient, now in comfortable health, who has taken this remedy, and who, but for its use, I consider would not now be living." Unselicited Testimony.

Unselicited Testimony.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Jan. 21, 1864.

Gentlemen: I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear tostimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used itwhen I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Threat—for many years, and never, in a single instance, has it failed to relieve and cure mellowed forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hearseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I commend it to my brothren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the branchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed.

Entirely unsolicited, I send you this testimonial, which you are at liberty to use in any way you choose. Entirely unsolicited, I send you this testimona, which you are at liberty to use in any way you choose. Perhaps the Balsam does not affect all persons alike, but it always removes my hoarseness, and fits me for the minister's hard working—day—the Sabbath.

NEW STEAM BAKERY

INIE subscribers having completed an extensive STEAM BAKERY in this city, invite the attention of the public to the choice and excellent articles of their manufacture, which they confidently believe will meet the wishes of all who may be disposed to favor them with their patronage. Our celebrated "Nutritive Crackers" have obtained a wide celebrity, and been manufactured by us for a long time at Saco, Maine. Their reputation in this and every place where known is firmly established, and they are invariably of the same excellent quality. These Crackers are the discovery of our Foreman, Mr. F. H. Haskill, and are the only Crackers to be found in New England that are compounded and prepared upon correct chemical principles. Instead of rotting the dough into a state of loathsome and disgusting putrescence, thereby utterly destroying the saccharine and nutritive principles of the Flour, as is universally the caseat present, our processes cause us to make use of the dough in a perfectly sweet and healthy condition, thereby producing not only our Crackers, but all the varied and much esteemed articles of our production, in a proper and satisfactory condition to be used as food by mankind, who are declared to be "only a little lower than the angels."

In addition to the common kinds of Cake, we call particular attention to the many kinds made from our own receipts, which, we feel quite safe in saying, will prove perfectly satisfactory to all who become acquainted with them. Among these we enumerate our highly prized

Pound, Sponge, Queen, Fruit, Pancy, Tea CALIFORNIA DROP, JENNY LIND COOKIES, and NEW YORK CREAM CAKES. and NEW YORK CREAM CAKES.

We also keep on hand superior Egg Biscuit, from an English receipt. This Biscuit is a great luxury. We also make promptly to order
RICH POUND. CITRON, ALMOND, SILVER, COCOANUT,
Fancy Sponge, Gold, Bride's, Rich, and Chess
Cakes,—also, Fancy Creams, Rich Jumbles,
Fancy Rounds and Spanish Drops.
In closing, we desire to say that we spare no pains to meet the wants and wishes of our patrons. We use invariably the best Flour the market affords. All the other articles consumed by us in our manufactures are carefully selected and of the choicest descriptions. Our Bakery is constantly kept scrupulously neat and cleanly, and our workmen partake of the same general character as the rest of the establishment, and are masters of their business. We fully believe that your acquaintance with us will but confirm the impression we have feebly endeavored to convey, and we respectfully solicit your patronage
