THE PRESS.

Lyman Trumbull.

After the late "Liberal" Convention in Illinois had been swallowed by the Democratic Convention, Mr. Trumbull, addressing the crowd, according to the report, thus uttered himself: "Nothing is left of the Republican party except the organization, which has fal-len into the hands of men who seek to pros-titute the party to their own selfish ends." These words are like Mr. Trumbull; they are These words are like Mr. Trumbull; they are words of self-righteousness, and imputation upon others. For months he has repeated countless times, "I am holier than thou." Through his many varying phases this idea constantly runs. He is a chronic impugner of the motives of living men in the party he has deserted. Surely, therefore, he is a proper subject for consideration. Whenever a man tenders himself as a witness against others, his own character, credibility and months. man tenders himself as a witness against others, his own character, credibility a.d motives are put in issue. If he be himself guilty of the sins he lays at the doors of others, if he be malevolent in his motives, if he have personal ends and interests in view, his testimony deserves little consideration. Mr. Trumbull deals in a group of accusations, and these he levels at the President, his fellow-Senators, and at all who bear up the Republican banner. He charges disregard of law; he istigmatizes appointments of relatives to office; he denounces as a crime permitting personal or party considerations to influence official patronage; he rails at selfishness in public men;—he thus holds himself out as guiltless in all these things, and he seeks to injure others by his accusations.

We propose to examine the claims of Mr. Trumbull to this right of censorship. A few facts in his career will reveal the value of his testimony.

monstrated, saying that to take Mr. Jayne from his place in the Legislature of Illinois would leave the body to which he belonged without a Republican majority, which, in view of measures essential to carrying on the war, might lead to public injury. Mr. Trumbull was impervious to Mr. Lincoln's objections, and succeeded in carrying his point, and his brother-in-law was appointed Governor of Dakotah.

or of Dakotah.

By this act, as Mr. Lincoln foresaw, the Republicans lost control of the Legislature of Illinois. And here, though out of the order of events, another fact may be stated, connected with this same brother-in-law. The pension agency, at Springfield, Ill., was given by President Grant.

Union soldier, who earned his promotion and lost a limb in the war. Presently Mr. Trumbum coveted the place for his brother-in-law, Jayne, and applied to the President for it. President Grant told him of Bloomfield's services and sufferings as a soldier. He remindvices and sufferings as a soldier. He reminded him that Bloomfield was an unexceptionable officer, that he was an ardent Republican withal, at the same time saying that if any trust was appropriate to a wounded soldier, it was the business of paying to other wound-ed soldiers their pensions; and he appealed to Mr. Trumbull not to ask him to turn out to Mr. Trumbull not to ask hun to turn out such a man, merely because the position was asked for another. Mr. Trumbull met these suggestions with importunate solicitations that the place should be given to his brotherin-law, and in the end the President yielded, and Bloomfield was turned out, and Jayne put in. Turning out and putting in men from favor is a new aversion of Mr. Trumbull; preferring relatives is only lately a sin in his eyes.

After many requests had been complied with, by "taking care of his friends," Mr. Trumbull applied to President Grant to appoint his son Collector of Internal Revenue for the Territory of Montana. The character and career of the young man were such as to render the appointment unfit and unsafe. The President, in several interviews, excused himself to Mr. Trumbull from making the appointment, and at length, when the request was again repeated, positively declined. Here occurred one of the only two instances in which President Grant has been subjected to menace by those seeking patronage. Senator Trumbull betook himself to violent language and gestures, declaring to the age. Senator Trumbull betook himself to violent language and gestures, declaring to the President that "he'd see, before he had done, whether his son could be appointed or not."

Mr. Trumbull's propensity for family politics is not without other illustrations. For ities is not without other illustrations. For years past, a son, and in his absence another near relative, has been at all times kept in the clerkship of the Judiciary Committee, Mr. Trumbull being Chairman and controlling the appointment. Mr. Brown, a very intimate friend and ally of Mr. Trumbull, was brought by him from Illinois, and made Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Mr. Trum-Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Mr. Trum-bull, by efforts often noticeable for their inbull, by enorts often noticeable for their in-tensity and excess, maintained in place this "henchman," as Mr. Grimes once styled him in the Senate. The relationships be-tween Mr. Trumbull and Mr. Brown, taken in connection with various transactions to which both were privy, present a case far outrunning all ordinary instances of getting a friend an office, or of being served by a

Those who know the history of housebuilding by the late Sergeant-at-Arms, and who have heard a reckoning of the collection of books found, on his removal, stored away in the caverns of the Capitol, and who have also heard how these vast piles of documents were suddenly protected by a Senator's label, were suddenly protected by a Senator's label, will appreciate in part these reminiscences.

An interest in obtaining places is not the only interest Mr. Trumbull has evinced in the welfare of relatives. The award of contracts at a Department, where a relative was a bidder, has not always been left to go without the supervision of the Senator. Few men have been more frequent or urgent in demands upon the appointing power. Apart from personal applications and requests, Mr. Trumbull stands recorded upward of one hundred times, after Gen. Grant came in, requesting or suggesting appointments. requesting or suggesting appointments. Sometimes he appears by letter, saying, "I very much desire that—should be appointed Governor of Wyoming, and if not of Wyoming, of some other Territory," Or, he concludes an application by saying, "There are also two or three persons whose appointment as Consuls would be very gratifying to me." These requests were largely ifying to me." These requests were largely granted, and Mr. Trumbull was never found assailing office-getting, or office-giving, or "nepotism," until his own demands grew too great to be complied with.

When the President refused to appoint his son, gratitude changed from a sense of the many favors done to a lively sense of benefits to come from new alliances. The very acts of the President now most bitterly denounced had Mr. Trumbull's full assent. So the acts of Congress which he now assails received his vote. When Mr. Stewart was nominated o confirm him, and when the law was found in Mr. Stewart's way, Mr. Trumbull saw a mode of getting round it. mode of getting round it.

When the acts of Congress now denounced as despotic and centralizing were passed, Mr. Trumbull urged and voted for them—and for the strongest of them. All this, however, was before his vote upon the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, and other acts, had destroyed his prospect of obtaining another Senatorial term from the Republicans of Illipole.

Discredited with his party in his own State, and having obtained from the Administration of President Grant all that could be reached, Mr. Trumbull turned to new combinatious, in the hope, first of a nomination for the Presidency by the "Outs," to be accepted by the Democrats; and, tailing in this, in the hope of getting back to the Senate, by combining the support of all the enemies of the Administration. Disappointed at Cincinnati, he is earning the favor of the disaffected, the disappointed, the mercenary, and at the same time of the Democratic Party, by turning his back upon the professions of years. Reversing position suddenly is nothing new with Mr.

Trumbull. Politics are not the only field in which short and profitable turns mark his plaints incidents, gravel, all complaints incidents, the first profit of the p Here is an instance: The Illinois THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 29, 1872. Central Railroad received vast grants from the United States. One of the conditions of these grants was that in time of war troops and munitions should be carried for the Government free of charge. During the rebellion, in the din and crush of the occasion, the War Department, without reference to this condition, allowed the railroad freights exceeding two million dollars. When time was found to take breath, attention was called to the claim for this great sum, for services which the law exacted in return for the grant, and a bill was introduced into the House of Representatives to save this money to the Government.

Mr. Washburn, of Illinois, a warm friend of President Grant, was a warm supporter of the bill. Other members from Illinois also supported it. Senator Trumbull was quoted for it, when it should reach the Senate, and it threatened to give the railroad serious trouble.

Representatives of the imperiled corporation flocked to the rescue, and suddenly Senator

Senator Trumbull resisted all proposals of legislative action with notice-able pertinacity, and, being Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, was a lion in the path. In the absence of legislation, the case pro-ceeded. Mr. Stanton consulted two Sena-tors, neither of whom was Senator Trumbull, as to the propriety of their appearing in the case as council. These Senators found, in the act of Congress forbidding Senators to make any contract with the Government, for services or otherwise, and also in the possible need of legislation in regard to the matsible need of legislation in regard to the matter, insuperable objections to their accepting employment in the case. It turned out, however, the case is the presently went into Court, in December, 1867, and moved to dismiss the appeal for want of jurisdiction, stating the grounds previously insisted on in his conversations with Senators. The Court, at the same time, denied the motion, and decided that it had jurisdiction. On the 2d, 3d, 4th and 9th of the following March (1868) the case was argued on its merits. Mr. Carnenter Next Ten Days! case was argued on its merits, Mr. Carpenter (not then Senator) acting as chief counsel, but Mr. Trumbull also taking part. The court held the case under advisement, and the impression went abroad that the decision would be in McCardle's favor. Thereupon, AT PRICES TO SUIT CUSTOMERS. and within two days, an amendment ousting the Court of jurisdiction was moved in the House to a bill enlarging the jurisdiction of the Court in revenue cases. ter the argument in court. Senator Trum-bull voted for it on the yeas and nays. The bill was vetoed on account of this provision, its object having meanwhile become known to all, and on the 25th of March the veto message was taken up in the Senate. Senator Trumbull urged immediate consideration, unless all would agree to a final vote the next day. An agreement was accordingly made to vote the next day at 6 o'clock, when made to vote the next day at 6 o'clock, when, upon the yeas and the nays, Mr. Trumbull voted to pass the bill over the veto, and it did pass. By whom this amendment was prepared, who carried it to the House, who claimed credit for controlling and fixing the whole affair, cannot be learned from the record; but Mr. Schenck, now Minister to Great Britain, Mr. James F. Wilson, of Iowa, and several others, members of Congress then, could tell. Some of them have told.

For his services Senator Trumbull charged and obtained $10.000 from the Treasury. and obtained $10,000 from the Treasury, apart from his pay as Senator, the bill being presented in his own handwriting.

One thousand dollars was paid him on the 7th of March, 1868, two thousand dollars on the 6th of April, 1868, and seven thousand on the 23d of April, 1868. At the time of this employment, and at the time of each of these payments, an impeachment of Andrew Johnson was pending, and on the 26th of May, 1868, one month and three days after the last payment, Senator Trumbull, differing with payment, Senator Trumoun, differing with the great body of his party, voted to acquit Andrew Johnson. A mind and a heart less malevolent than his might add to the unde-niable ugliness of these transactions an un-pleasant association of dates. Senator Trum-bull sought to becloud his predicament by stating in the Senate recently that the formal stating received the signature of Gen. Grant retainer received the signature of Gen. Grant, retainer received the signature of Gen. Grant, temporarily acting Secretary of War, and by leaving it to be inferred that Gen. Grant or Mr. Stanton, and not Andrew Johnson, really gave him this money making opportunity. Obviously Gen. Grant, obeying the order of the President, and, setting for a few days as locum tenens of the War Department while Mr. Stanton was dispossessed, was not the author or originator of Mr. Trumbull's selection as counsel. Mr. Stanton's known bad opinion of Mr. Trumbull, and the hostility of Mr. Trumbull to Mr. Stanton, leave no reason to believe that Mr. Stanton, leave no reason to believe that Mr. Stanton, who consulted with other Senators as to their being employed and concurred in its impropriety, at the same time asked Mr. Trumbull to disregard proprieties binding all Senators alike. An incident may here be mentioned bearing on the probability of Mr. Stanton's having selected Senator Trumbull as the recipient of such a favor. Only the year after the events we are relating, every Senator to whom it was presented save one signed a letwhom it was presented save one signed a let-tur warmly commending Mr. Stanton to the President for Justice of the Supreme Court. Senator Trumbull alone refused his signature;

that the generous sums are to be looked upon

not as an exhibit of the money actually received by the present honest incumbents of the offices named, but as a suggestion of what might be and would be realized by persons capable of availing themselves of the advantages of the different situations. The Journal looks at the matter in a speculative way

Nobody believes, for instance, that Senator

Hamlin, with his austere simplicity, ever touched a dollar that did not belong to him.

He must have received much less than one hundred thousand instead of twice that sum

for a quarter of a century spent in the service of his country. But in Democratic hands it might have proved far otherwise. Increase of expenses and an advance of salaries are almost invariable concomitants of Democratic rule. No wonder that to an editor who is fresh from the contemplation of the financial achievements of his compatriots in New York

the modest salaries of Republican officials look small. A Tweed or a Sweeney or a Hall would get more than even two hundred thousand dollars out of even one Senatorial term.

Democrats do things on a scale of magnificence that shames our humbler manners.

In Knox County-the only one Democrats control in the State-they have greatly increased the expenses and the pay of County officers. In Connecticut and New Hampshire, in which they have recently obtained power, they have invariably increased expenses when an opportunity has occurred.

Where they have had the most complete control, there has been the most reckless ex-avagance. Taking all these things into consideration, it is not entirely certain that the "reformers" who want to go to Congress might not, if successful, actually get for a

a few years of public service the $150,000

charged so much in advance to Mr. Frye.

The New York Times contains a proposi from a well known New York merchant to het $1,000 on every State in the Union for Grant and Wilson, not less than $10,000 to be deposited by each party in a trust company o abide the result.

General Banks.

August 29th, 1866, the Argus paid its respects to Gen. Banks in the following vigorous style:

Deering Hall was completely filled by a very strong audience on Monday evening, to listen to the sermons on the state of the country by to the sermons on the state of the country by two dis (exs) tinguished military (?) gentlemen from Massachusetts. GENERAL N. P. Banks, known throughout the rebel army as Jeff. Davis Chief commissary, and throughout our own as the wonderfully incompetent imbecile and universally unsuccessful political General, who never achieved a single victory or accomplished a single thing to aid or encourage the Union cause during the war, was the first speaker announced. Of course, by such an audience, he was greeted with tumultuous applause. Many of the surviving braves of his Red River campaign were present, and one could but notice of the surviving braves of his Red River campaign were present, and one could but notice the shade of sadness that overspread their noble features as the citizens of Portland received, with such expresssions of joy, the incompetent leader and the reckless murderer of the Union soldiers entrusted to his command. His tirade was what might have been expected from such a man. Abuse and vituperation of the South flowed readily and freely from his lips.

The principal point of his address and the one that most delighted his disunion audiences, was this: Suppose Generals Grant, Sherman and others, are with the President in his endeavors to establish that Union for which our armies fought; and suppose that they attempt to enforce the Constitution of the United States with the regular arrny, which he derides as weak, insufficient and feeble, can we not whip them with our volunteers.

we could not but wonder if in such an event as the calling out of our volunteers to whip Gen. Grant and the army of the United States, Gen. Banks would lead them? We thought again of Red River and his famous Virginia retreat and did not even tremble for the safety of Gen. Grant and his glorious army. Mirible dictul" Now, if the Argus or Gen. Banks have not changed, will our neighbor insert this forcible notice in its issue of August 29th, 1872? Says the the sagacious Mrs. Boffiin: "The times do mutantur, and some people mutantur with them."

A Ku-Klux Orator. As the "Liberal Republican Horace Greeler

Democrats" are so loud in their professions of loyalty just now, and so humbly profess their acceptance of the "issues of the war," it would seem to be an act of great carelessness, to say the least, on their part to allow such speakers as Gen. Nickerson of Searsport, to address their fellow citizens. This gentleman spoke at Mt. Desert one night last week to an audience of precisely twenty-seven men and six boys, in Harmon's Hall, and after the usual cant about nepotism, gift-taking and stealing, bitterly intensified to suit the supposed taste of the crowd, (although in fact half of them were staunch Republicans), he proceeded to speak of the late riots in Belfast, and said that although the Irish people were shamefully oppressed, they had scarcely a tithe of causes for complaint that existed among the down-trodden people in the Southern States; "denied the right of suffrage, governed by carpet-baggers, robbed and plundered without stint or mercy, what wonder that there have been some trivial violations of law and order." "Why," said this loyal orator, they talk of ku-klux outrages; I only wonder that the people of the South have not arisen in their might and taken the sword again against their oppressors." After the close of the speech I asked the General to what party he had always belonged, and he said he had always been a Democrat. I told him I would like to ask a Democrat. I told him I would like to ask him some questions in regard to certain statements he had made, and he said, "It is not customary among gentlemen to question a speaker's statements, to him personally. I am much obliged for your politeness in going to hear me if you are on the other side, but I decline to enter into any discussion of my statements, although of course you are at liberty to discuss and criticize them among your personal friends as much as you may choose." Liver Complaint, Jaundice and all bilious disorders arise from torpidity of the liver, causing a flow which the liver is so closely connected. Unhealthy bile in the gall bladder and the liver, still laboring, crowding this unhealthy matter into the blood, and which it then circulates over the body, causing a sallow tinge and torpor of the whole system. Either of the above described derangements of the functions of the liver produces numberless trains of disease, the whites of the eyes yellow, the tongue coated with a feverish white or brown tinge. Where the liver is dillordered, digestion is unhealthy, sometimes a fair appetite and sometimes none at all; the patient will suffer from costiveness or disarrhea, or sometimes both; a general drowsy and melancholy feeling, often watchful and sleepless, great weariness; fantings are often feit. The stomach laboring to digest food, often creates a palpitation of the beart, and is frequently mistaken for heart disease. Frequently the skin breaks out in biles and sores, or marked symtoms of crysipelas, with great itching and insufferable restlessness. The irritation from sorged bile in the blood often produces an irritation of the mucus membrane of the bronchilat tubes, and from a slight cold severe cough follows, with a dry, ropy expectoration; often masses and womiting. This unhealthy bile mixed with the blood passes into the kineys, produces pain in the urinary passages, sometimes pain in the back and darting pains through the shoulder blade, and frequently all through the body; a soreness is frequently felt about the region of the liver, across the stomach and spine. Many dangerous complaints have their origin in a derangement of the livmixed with the blood passes into the kineys, produces pain in the urinary passages, sometimes pain them, one every night, and she is now well; it cured the piles, and her bowels are as regular as they can be.

These Pills were invented to assist Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup in curing Consumption when there is constipation of the bowels and a torpid liver, but they are used now for nearly every complaint. They even prove to be a great Vermifuge. Some few weeks ago, a lady called en me and said she had liver complaint for many years. I gave her a box of Pills. She came back in a week, and said she had passed soveral worms ten inches long.

An old gentleman in Baltmore, that had been complaining with a cough, pain in his right side, skin sallow, tongue coated, bowels costive, and a dried up appearance, call on me at my room. I gave him the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. He came back the next week to see me, and said he was much better, and that he had passed thousands of these small worms. He is now well.

About eight years ago, when I was receiving patients at the Marlboro' Hotel, in Boston, a lady called on me and said she had been complaining for a long time with a Tape-Worm, as her physicians thought. She said that she was in great pain; at times something would twist around in her stomach, and even come up towards her throat and bite; and almost set her crazy; nothing would satisfy it but milk; she would have to take a quart every night to bed with her, and when it would begin to move she would take a drink to satisfy it. The lady, when she visited me was a sight to behold, bowels very costive, tangue coated, breath offensive, and a dried up, sallow complexion, very nervous, and almost a subject of the insane asylum. I gave her some Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills in large doses; ten pills for three consecutive nights, and then one each night for three inghts (her bowels being in such a congested state, it required an enormous amount of pills to unlock them) and then to come and see me again. She came and said she was very sick; said she did not crave any milk now. This convinced me that the animal, or w aken idea that a Good Garment cannot be made in

Hale's window Monday, a portrait of a little son of Mr. S. B. Hersey, painted by Miss Skeele, which attracted considerable attention and was the subject of favorable comment. As a likeness the friends of the little fellow speak of it in warm terms, but we judge of it as a distinctive work of art. The pose of the figure is exceedingly natural and easy, and the details of dress and other accessories are treat-ed with conscientious care. In this picture we find another instance of Miss Skeele's skill in figure drawing, especially of domestic animals. In this department she excels any of our local artists. The little black-and-tan puppy in this picture is full of life and motion, while the coloring is critical in its nicety. Those who are familiar with Miss Skeele's pictures of kittens and birds that have been exhibited will remember how strongly this peculiar trait exhibits itself. The subdued colors of the animal's

Resolved, That we hail with delight the nomination of Henry Wilson for the Vice-Presidency, recognizing in him as the Chairman of the Senate Military Committee, the author and champion of those beneficent measures for our relief in the army and for our maimed comrades and the heirs of those who fell in the country's coats and the brilliant plumage of birds are produced with equal effectiveness. Grant. Byron De Wolf, well known throughout the country as the "wanderiug poet of New Hampshire," pitched his stool in Market Square, and commenced the recitation of a poem of his own composition endorsing the claims of Grant and Wilson. Before he had finished, a man in the crowd, thinking probably that he would cause the poet some vexation and perhaps compel him to leave the ground, interrupted him with a question as to how he knew the truth of the statement which he was then making. But found all distinctions between loyalty and treason, but as an outrage upon thousands of maimed heroes, and an insult to the memories of thousands more of brave men who died for the Nation, by debasing to the level of a charity bestowed upon paupers, the pensions which a grateful country cherishes as a sacred debt to its saviors.

Resolved, That when Horace Greeley declared at Vicksburg in 1871 that he "hoped the time would come when the soldier who fought with Lee and Johnston will occupy as proud a position in the hearts of the American people as the soldier who fought under Grant and Sherman," he forfeited all claim to the support and esteem of the great body of men who maintained the Nation's honor on a hundred bloody fields.

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the objects of the National Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburg, and send them our hearty fraternal greeting. our Greeley friend had roused the wrong man; for Mr. De Wolfe replied so vigorously and efectively that the questioner was silenced by the applause of the crowd which had assem bled, and had no further interrogatories to pro pound. The philosopher's friends were so scarce in that crowd that they made no attempt

THE GREELEY GUARDS.—The Biddeford Times says that when it was learned that the Portland Greeley Guards proposed to visit that city on Tuesday evening, a despatch was sent half-past six in the express. What in the d——I they came for, seemed to puzzle most of the Greeley men, and the only attempt at an answer to this enigma we heard was that of a cynical old Republican, growling on the outskirts of the crowd, who said he guessed "the boys wanted to see the country a little, as they were all small, and hadn't probably been far from home before." They passed the time in marching and counter-marching, and late in the evening they lunched at the Greeley and Brown headquarters in City Building. New York, Aug. 28.—The meeting of the Apollo Hall (anti-Tammany) Democratic Committee last night was fully attended. Judge Spaulding was elected chairman in place of Wickham, resigned. Spaulding made a strong anti-Tammany Greeley speech, and said that the Democracy looked to the Louisville Convention for help. A resolution to appoint delegates to Louisville who shall be instructed to vote for Charles O'Connor for Democratic candidate for President was passed almost unanimously.—During the debate Daniel Luddy said that the action of the Baltimore Convention was the result of an intrigue between the Tammany Ring and corrupt Republicans. Gov. Hoffman was a thief and an ally of thieves, being the moving Tammany spirit. Judge Hogan opposed the resolution, saying that no third Presidential candidate would now have any chance for election and would defeat the action of the Baltimore Convention. The Wool market remains without improvement, manufacturers purchasing only to supply present wants. All desirable grades of foreign are held firm, and with higher prices abroad than are now current here, holders are very confident that current rates will be sustained. Domestic moves slowly, and manufacturers purchase only at low prices.

In New York the market lacks animation, and though the advices from abroad continue to be of a favorable character, yet the market has failed to respond. During the few months past, Wools have ruled below the average prices of last year, yet relatively higher than their products, and manufacturers have, therefore, declined to purchase beyond actual necessities, with the hope that still lower figures may prevail.

A GREAT many families prefer buying their Bread in hot weather, to heating up their houses by baking, provided they can get something different from the common Baker's Bread that is raised so much. I am now baking a new kind of loaf that I think will please any person that likes good sweet home made Bread that has not had its goodness all raised out of it; those that are using it speak very highly of it and say they have never bought any thing like it before. For fifty years I have been troubled with Scrofula. Some fifteen years ago a fearful ulcer broke out on my leg. Three mouths ago it had extended from the ankle joint nearly to the knee. I could not move without great pain. In this condition I commenced taking the University Medicine.

At first it drove out a fearful humor all over me. In a few days the humor began to subside, and the ulcer is now healed and I feel like a new being.

I am satisfied it saveil fit hits atmost to all amintage w. W. ATWOOD, 24 Emery St.

I have been troubled with Scrotula all my lifetime, and Neuralgia in the head seven years and have consulted good physicians from Maine to New York without any benefit whatever. I have taken six bottles of the Cancer Plant and one and one-half of the Neuralgia Elixir, and a little of some other kinds and I now feel better than I ever was before in my life. I cannot say with Mr. Munsey, that I feel twenty years younger, being only twenty-eight, but can say I never felt so young to my knowledge in my life.

I think the worth of the Medicine cannot be esti-ated in words or money.

MRS. A. O. W. FOSTER, Wilton, Me.

SOUTH PARIS, Feb. 2, 1872.

DR. STAPLES,—Dear Sir:—The medicine I got at your place, Jan. 2d, has done wonders for me. It is all you recommended it to be.

You may make any use of the above you think proper.

Yours truly,

SETH MORSE.

The above case has been treated for the past four ears by different physicians for cancer.

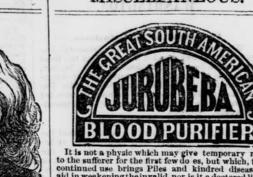

se in existence. S. C. MUNSEY, 27 Chestnut street.

Since giving the above certificate I have been per-fectly free from Catarrh though I have been contin-ually exposed to wet and cold.

I guarantee the above certificates to be genuine, I will forfeit $1000 to any one that will find them otherwise.

Fy Agents wanted in every town in the State. It has been about one and one half years since the University Medicines were introduced into this State. Notwithstanding the opposition from the Faculty the sale is daily increasing. Thousands of certificates can be presented it necessary, but if the following are not sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical, 10,000 additional ones would be useless.

CATARRH (the mother of consumption.) Scrofula, salt Rheum, and many other diseases hitherto considered incurable, readily yield under treatment of the University Medicines.

FEMALE DISEASES treated with perfect success. Having treated over two hundred cases within the last three months, I consider it safe to warrant a perfect cure to 95 cases out of every one hundred, without cauterization or the least exposure.

SPERMATORRHEA, the greatest destroyer of humanity on the face of the Globe. How many bewail the loss of precious vitality without having the slightest idea of the cause, their manhood is daily vanishing and they are gliding into a state of hopeless decay. I have treated over five hundred cases of this malady within six months, with the University Medicines with perfect success.

Persons afflicted with diseases will please call or send and get a book, (free), wherein they will find their diseases explained, and necessary remedies.

Some two years ago my daughter, seven years old, had a severe attack of rheumatic and pleurisy fever, which left her in a very dangerous condition. Her liver inactive, no appetite to eat, general debility and sinking daily. We employed good physicians without benefit. After having nearly despaired of her recovery we decided to try the New York University Medicine. In two months she was able to go to school, and has not been compelled to lose a day since on account of ill health.

Some three months ago I was persuaded by my wife to take the University Medicines. My health and mind were so badly affected that my friends became alarmed for my safety. In a week after commencing to take the Medicine I felt great relief. I am now as well as any other man. My wife has been for a long time afflicted with disease that has baffled the skill of our best physicians; some of whom pronounced the case incurable. Under treatment of the University Medicines her health has greatly improved. Any one doubting will please call at No 6 Lincoln street, or at repair shop Grand Trunk depot.

Portland, Aug. 5, 1871. Greenleaf, Norris & Co.. For five years I have suffered with Catarrh, a bad consumptive cough and pain in my left side. I had employed several physicians and have paid them over $50 without the least benefit. I have used six dollars' worth of the University Medicines, and am relieved from the above troubles.

For twenty-five years I have suffered with Scrofula and Salt Rheum, (or Tetter.) Have paid out hundreds of dollars, and been treated by several first-class physicians without benefit. Some four weeks ago, I commenced using the University Medicines. At the time my forehead and head were covered with sores and scaliness of the skin; also my tongue was covered with small ulcers. I am to-day free from all the above troubles, and can heartily recommend these medicines to the afflicted.

S. C. MUNSEY, 27 Chostnut Street.

Portland, January 24, 1870. THE WORKING CLASS, male or fem-

As certain individuals have reported that the above certificate is false and my disease as bad as ever, I wish to say, at the time I gave the above certificate, the story was not half told. In addition to the above my leg and back were covered with sores. I am now well and feel at least twenty years younger than I did before taking the remedies.

My advice to the afflicted is to give the medicine a trial and not to be deterred by the cry of humbug. It cured me, it has cured many others. I believe the extract of cancer plant will cure any blood disc se in existence. For Coughs, Colds and Hoarseness.

Caution.

I had the Catarrh so bad for several years that my hand became confused and painful. I was obliged to get up several times a night to keep from choking. I employed some of the best Physicians without benifit. I was perfectly cured with the University Medicines in three weeks.
